" not appear to me poſſible that any further Expectations can be anſwered in the preſent Year.

" Having given my Opinion upon the Honourable Board's Requiſition for further Tunkaws, as " far as I could judge from the Abſtract, and the beſt Information I could obtain, I beg your In" dulgence while I lay before you the following Obſervations.

" Under the Head of Mootina, or Expences of Troops ſtationed with the Aumils for the Pur" poſe of enforcing the Payment of the Revenues, there appears a Sum of 53 Lacks of Rupees.
" Tho' from the natural State of this Country, where the Zemindars take immediate Advantage " of every Relaxation in the Government, and continually avail themſelves of the Removal of " the Forces from their Diſtricts, by raiſing Troops of their own, building Forts, and withholding
" their Rents, ſuch a Charge is always neceſſary, yet the Amount of it here ſeems very exorbitant;
" and the Purpoſe for which theſe Sums are allowed appears not to be anſwered, becauſe when" ever the Aumils are preſſed, they have always Recourſe to the Honourable Company's Battalions.
" Some Regulations might be made to put theſe Forces on a reſpectable Footing, anſwer all the " Ends of this Government, and ſave a conſiderable Sum of Money. This, I imagine, might be
" accompliſhed in the enſuing Year; the preſent is too far advanced to admit of a new Regulation.

" As the Firſt Object muſt ever be, to ſecure ſufficient Sums in the Beginning to anſwer the " Exigencies of the whole Year, it appears neceſſary, that the Eſtimate, having been ſubmitted to
" the Honourable Board, ſhould be returned with ſuch a Letter through him to his Excellency,
" as to ſhew him that the Reſident has no Authority to diſpenſe with any Part of it, and that he acts
" in ſuch Demands agreeable to their Injunctions. This Letter ſhould at leaſt be written a Month
" before the Concluſion of the old Year, that private Tunkawdars may be totally excluded till the " Honourable Company's Claims are ſatisfied. This has occurred to me from the Conviction,
" which the Nabob in all his Converſations appeared to have, that the Honourable Board would,
" upon his Repreſentation, diſmiſs the Eſtabliſhments paid by Mr. Wombwell. In this Idea, his " Excellency would not hear of another Demand, until he ſhould receive the Honourable Board's
" Anſwer to his Refuſal. The Change in the Reſident was a Delay of a Month and a Half in ob" taining the additional Tuncaws. The Reference afterwards to your Honourable Board, waiting
" the Reply, and then ſettling the Agreements and Accounts with the Aumils, loſt full Five " Months of the Year. The Kerreef Harveſt, ſmall as it was, owing to the Drought, was loſt;
" and the realizing of the Company's Tuncaws upon a Collection of Eight Months depended " on a Six Months Source, the Rubbee Harveſt. Another peculiar though unavoidable Circum-
" ſtance has occurred to oppoſe my ſtanding in ſo fair a Light in my Collections as my Prede-
" ceſſors, and that is, that my Predeceſſors were allowed to keep their Accounts till the Collec" tions of the Month were cloſed, which did not happen till a Month after: They did not cloſe
" their Collections and ſend away their Accounts at the End of the Month; this makes their " Collections in the Accounts appear uniform, while mine, under the late Regulation, are ſent
" away at the End of each Month, and the Kiſts having, from invariable Cuſtom, never been
" paid till near the End of the enſuing, my Accounts muſt always have a Balance of a whole Kiſt.

" I have the Honour to ſubmit to your Honourable Board an Eſtimate of the Receipts and Diſ-
" burſements of my Treaſury for the paſt Seven Months of the Year. The Troops are all paid
" up to the preſent Time, and I calculate, that the Amount required for the neceſſary Diſburſe-
" ments of the Remainder of the Year, excluſive of all Contingencies, will be about 30 Lacks
" of Rupees.—This is about the Sum I expect will be realized in the Courſe of the abovementioned
" Period, after deducting the Batta between Fyzabad 16 Sun Sicca Rupees and the ſeveral
" Species which are collected from the Country. The Eſtimate of 30 Lacks I cannot declare to " be juſt, becauſe the Paymaſters have not furniſhed me with their Accounts Current with the " Military Paymaſter General, to the preſent Period, which alone could ſerve me in my Calcula" tion. The Want of theſe Accounts prevents my keeping my own with the Regularity I could " wiſh.

" Lucknow,
" 30th April 1780.

I have the Honour, &c. &c.
(Signed) C. Purling."

" Ordered, That the Incloſures in the above Letter be entered after the Conſultation (a)."

N. B. The Nabob Vizier, by including the Country of Fyzullah Khaun among his Jagheers, makes their Amount appear to be 43½ Lacks of Rupees; but if the 15 Lacks are deducted, the whole Amount of the Jagheers will not be more than 28½ Lacks; Half of which is about the Amount of the Tuncaws granted by the Nabob.

Lucknow, the 30th of April 1780.

Errors excepted.

per C. Purling.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read the Order of the Board to Mr. Purling, upon this Repreſentation to reſtore the Jaghires.

Read, the following Extract from the ſame Conſultation, beginning at Page 501, of the ſame Book.

☞ ["Agreed, That the following Letter be written to Mr. Purling.

"Sir,

"We have received your Letters of the 31ſt of April and 22d of May, with their ſeveral Incloſures.

"At this late Period of the Year, and in conſequence of the ſtrong Objections made by his Excellency the Vizier, added to the Teſtimony which you bear to the Truth of the Account given of the State of his Finances, we are compelled for the preſent to wave our Claim to the additional Aſſignments, which in our Letter of the 3d of April, we required you to obtain for the whole Amount of the Company's Demand upon him; but we hope, that at the Commencement of the Year enſuing, your Efforts, not only to provide for the Exigencies of that Year, but to ſecure the Payment of the Balance due from his Excellency at the Concluſion of the preſent, will be more ſucceſsful."]

§ ("The Expence attending the Collection of the Nabob's Revenues, ſtated in the Account "accompanying your Letter under the Heads Mootaina and Aerajaut and Mahl Charges, "amounting in all to the Sum of Rupees 57,92,954. 6. is ſo enormous and unreaſonable, that "we know not in what Manner to account for it, without ſuppoſing ſuch unlimited Abuſes to be "committed by the Perſons in Charge of the Collection as require the moſt deciſive Exertion of "his Excellency to put an End to them. We direct, that you furniſh us as ſoon as poſſible with "the Particulars of theſe Articles of Expence; and we deſire that, at the approaching Settlement "of the Revenues for the Year 1188, your Attention may be particularly directed to the Dimi-"nution of it, and that you recommend in the ſtrongeſt Manner to the Vizier the Neceſſity of "his applying the moſt effectual Remedy to the Abuſe, and a principal Means of effecting it, "the total Reduction of the Mutaina Troops.

"We have attended to the Explanation and Particulars which you have tranſmitted to us of "the private Jaghires, and authorize you to reſtore the Aſſignments on them to the Proprietors.

"Fort William,
22d June 1780.

We are, &c.") §

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read a Paper from Mr. Haſtings's Defence delivered in at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons, to ſhew that, after thoſe Treaties had been tranſmitted to Calcutta, and recorded by Mr. Haſtings there, he himſelf mentions, that both the Begums were poſſeſſed of Treaties and Guarantees from the Company.

Read, the following Extract from the Manuſcript Defence, beginning at Page 232 of the ſame.

"No Injury was intended or could poſſibly ariſe to the Begums, from the Reſumption of the Jagheers; they were found deſtructive of the Nabob's Revenue, and dangerous to the very Exiſtence of his Government; they had been made the Sources to feed a Rebellion. It was neceſſary therefore to reſume them; and the only Change which the Begums Situation could undergo from it, was the Subſtitution of the Nabob's Agency, with the pledged Security of the Company's Reſident, in lieu of that of their Eunuchs Jowar and Bahar Ally Cawn. No Stipulation was made in Favour of any other Jagheerdars, becauſe the Faith of the Company was not concerned in it (a)."

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, They would next read another Paſſage to the ſame Purpoſe; in which the Houſe would obſerve, Mr. Haſtings repreſents the particular View of the Nabob at the Time of the Treaty of Chunar, to be the Reſumption of the Jaghires of his Mother and Grandmother.

Read alſo, the following Extract, beginning at Page 237 of the Manuſcript.

"When the Nabob ſo earneſtly deſired my Sanction for the Reſumption of the Jagheers, he certainly had in View only the Begums, and a few others of Magnitude, which he conſidered protected either by the Guarantee or Favour of the Company. He could not be ſuppoſed to aſk my Sanction to the Reſumption of Grants, in which the Company's Faith was no Ways concerned;

but being aware that his Excellency intended a partial Reſumption, reſerving the Jagheers of his particular Favourites, who from their Characters and Conduct ought to be the firſt proſcribed, I determined to defeat the Deſign by adviſing him to make the Reſumption general, and he engaged to follow my Advice. The Conſequence of this his Excellency did not at the Time advert to; but when he diſcovered that, by the Spirit of the Agreement, and my determined Adherence to it, he was precluded from ſhewing any Partiality; and moreover, that the Produce of the Jagheers, when reſumed, inſtead of coming immediately into his Poſſeſſion, was to be appropriated to the Liquidation of his Debt to the Company, for which I expreſsly ſtipulated, he became indifferent, and even apparently averſe to the Reſumption (a)."

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, They had been informed by Mr. Goring, One of the Witneſſes examined on Tueſday laſt, that there was a Circumſtance in his Evidence, which, upon having Recourſe to his Papers, he diſcovered to be in ſome Degree erroneous, and was therefore very deſirous of correcting. For this Purpoſe, they ſhould requeſt Mr. Goring might now be called to the Bar.

Accordingly, Mr. GORING was called in; and aſked,

Q. Do you wiſh to explain any Thing in the Evidence you gave to the Houſe upon Tueſday laſt?

A. Upon my firſt Viſit to the Begum, I recollect her having taken Notice of the Power granted to me by the Supreme Council of Bengal: She then ſaid, if ſhe was to be removed from the Nabob's Palace, ſhe would go to Calcutta: I aſſured her, that as that Power was principally in me, ſhe need be under no Apprehenſion whatever; that I ſhould treat her with the utmoſt Reſpect and Attention as long as I continued there. I informed your Lordſhips, the laſt Time I was examined, that the Begum had taken no Notice of the Power granted to me till the laſt Viſit I paid her; but I find, upon referring to my Papers, ſhe did take Notice of it upon my opening my Commiſſion to her.

Q. (by Counſel.) I underſtood you to have ſaid, upon your laſt Examination, that you ſaw the Widow of Surajah Dowlah, and that ſhe reſided at Moorſhedabad: I wiſh to aſk, Whether you are, at this Day, poſitive that there was any ſuch Perſon exiſting at the Time you mentioned: At what Time was it you ſaw this Lady, whom you ſuppoſe to be the Widow of Surajah Dowlah?

A. When I went up to Moorſhedabad upon this Commiſſion, which I received upon the 10th of May 1775, I cannot now preciſely tell the Day, I paid Viſits to every Perſon of Rank and Conſequence; but I had neglected to pay a Viſit to this Lady: She ſent her Eunuch to me, to inform me who ſhe was; and I underſtood, from the Meſſage the Eunuch brought me, that ſhe was the Widow of Surajah Dowlah.

Q. Have you any other Reaſon for believing the Fact to be ſo, except that Meſſage?

A. Undoubtedly; for I paid her a Viſit at her own Houſe; as I had done to every other Perſon of Conſequence.

Q. Was the Perſon of whom you ſpeak, generally reputed, in Moorſhedabad, to be the Widow of Surajah Dowlah?

A. I have not the leaſt Doubt of it. She lived in a very magnificent Manner, had a very large Palace there, and conſequently muſt be a Perſon well known. The Women do not appear in Publick there.

Q. Was there any Thing peculiar to the Stile or Appearance of the Widow of Surajah Dowlah, ſo as to diſtinguiſh her from other Perſons of her Rank and Condition?

A. I do not very well comprehend the Queſtion.

Q. Is there any Thing in their Houſes, or any Thing particular in their Mode of living, ſo as to diſtinguiſh them?

A. I only ſaw the Size of the Houſe, and the Number of Attendants.

Q. Is there any Thing in the Appearance of their Houſes, or Families, or Eſtabliſhments, that diſtinguiſh Ladies belonging to the Firſt Family either of Surajah Dowlah, or of other Nabobs, from other Women of Diſtinction and Opulence?

A. No; nothing that I know of.

Q. (from a Lord.) I wiſh him to be aſked, if he ever heard that this Lady was not the Widow of Sujah Dowlah?

A. Never.

Q. How long did you continue at Moorſhedabad after the Time of this Viſit?

A. Some Months.

* Vide ſupra, Page 416, Par. 2.

Q. Had

Q. Had you any other Occaſion to pay your Compliments to her?
A. She did me the Honour to invite me to her Houſe; gave me a very magnificent Entertainment, and offered me conſiderable Preſents, which I refuſed; as I did every Preſent that was offered to me.

Q. (from a Lord.) I wiſh the Witneſs to be aſked, if he ſhould have thought himſelf authorized, under the Orders he received, to have diſpoſſeſſed the Begum of her Palace by Force, in caſe ſhe had refuſed to comply with thoſe Orders?
A. I certainly would have made uſe of every Means in my Power before I would have come to ſuch Extremity as that, if I would have done it at all; but I do not think I ſhould.

Q. Were your Inſtructions written Inſtructions?
A. Yes.

Q. Where are they?
A. They are upon Record.

Q. (by Counſel.) I abſtained, the laſt Time the Witneſs was examined, from aſking as to the Purport of thoſe Inſtructions, underſtanding they were upon Record, not thinking it proper to examine him to a Paper in Exiſtence; I wiſh to have the Fact from the Witneſs, whether the original Inſtructions are or are not in his Poſſeſſion?
A. I believe they are.

Q. Have you thoſe Inſtructions with you at this Time?
A. I have not.

Q. When did you ſee them laſt;—you ſay you believe they are;—I wiſh to know whether you are not poſitive they are?
A. I have not the leaſt Objection to produce them, nor any Paper in my Power.

Q. (from a Lord.) From whom had you your Inſtructions?
A. From the Governor General and Council.

Then the Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then CHARLES PURLING Eſquire was called in; and being ſworn, was examined as follows.

Q. In what Situation was you in India in the Year 1780?
A. I was the Reſident upon the Part of the Company at Lucknow.

Q. Do you recollect when you went to reſide in that Character?
A. In November 1779.

Q. How long did you continue there?
A. A Year; till November 1780.

Q. What Negociations had you with the Nabob Vizier, or his Miniſter, reſpecting the Reſumption of the Jaghires in general?
A. The Jaghires were never reſumed.

Q. But what Negotiations had you upon the Subject of their being reſumed; was there any Propoſal for reſuming them?
A. No Propoſals for reſuming them.

Q. If there was no Propoſal whatever for reſuming them, what was the Propoſal made by you reſpecting the Jaghires?
A. That they ſhould be taxed in a certain Proportion.

Q. Do you mean a Tax that was to fall only upon the Eſtates called Jaghires, or upon other Land-holders beſides?
A. Only upon the Jaghires.

Q. Whether the Nabob was averſe, or otherwiſe, to that Propoſition; how did he receive the Propoſition?
A. I think, upon my firſt Negotiation for additional Tuncaws upon the Company's Debt, the Nabob propoſed the taxing the Jaghires; but afterwards, when I propoſed to him to Tax them, he was very much averſe to it; that was ſome Time after he propoſed himſelf at firſt to Tax them.

Q. Then your Negotiations began by demanding Tuncaws, or Aſſignments, upon the Revenue Lands, for the Company's Debt.
A. Yes, upon the Revenue Lands.

Q. Give your Account of the Tranſaction?

A. Upon my firſt going to Lucknow, I found it neceſſary to demand from the Nabob additional Tuncaws to what Mr. Middleton had already obtained from the Nabob for the yearly Expences and the Company's Debt.

Q. Do you mean the Vizier's yearly Expences—was you to take Tuncaws for the Vizier's Expences?

A. By no Means; the Vizier's Expences were thoſe incurred for the Company's Troops in his Provinces.

Q. What was the End and Extent of your Demand of the Tuncaws?

A. To pay the different Troops, on the Part of the Company, ſtationed in his Dominions, and for the Civil Expences at Lucknow.

Q. What is your Deſcription of the Civil Expences?

A. The Reſident's Expences.

Q. That was your Reaſon for demanding the additional Tuncaws?

A. Yes, and for the Company's Debt.

Q. Give an Account of the Progreſs of that Negotiation, according to your Memory of it?

A. Upon my firſt Meeting with the Nabob, he granted additional Tuncaws for Thirty Lacks of Rupees, or 300,000 l. beyond what Mr. Middleton had obtained before my Arrival at Lucknow; and the Nabob then ſuggeſted, that if more ſhould be demanded that the Jaghires might be taxed: I think ſo, to the beſt of my Recollection; and I ſhould be very glad to refer to the Records, to ſee whether I did not mention this to the Council at Calcutta—I do not recollect whether I did or not.

The Managers for the Commons were aſked, how that was in point of Fact?

The Managers for the Commons ſaid, they would read a Paſſage to the Witneſs, which he perhaps would recollect.

The Houſe obſerved, That the Examination of the Witneſs was to a Matter which he conducted as an Officer of Government Eight or Nine Years ago; that he was willing to give a full Account of it, as far as his Memory went; but having tranſmitted the Fact to the Company, he wiſhed to be aſſiſted with the Account he gave of it at the Time, to refreſh his Memory; which was but reaſonable; for if he had taken Notes of it at the Time, he could refer to thoſe Notes for that Purpoſe.

" Extract of a Letter from Mr. Purling to the Governor General and Council.

" I have now the Honour to inform you, that his Excellency has been pleaſed to grant Tuncaws for 37,80,000 more, which makes, with the former Grants, about Rupees 1,06,62,000. I beg Leave to encloſe the Account Eſtimate of Demands made on his Excellency and the General Kiſtbundee. I hope the Sum granted will be more than ſufficient for the Exigencies of the Year, though inferior to that of the Eſtimate, which amounts to 120 Lacks, including the Balance of the Honourable Company's Account current with the Vizier to the End of Baudun 1186. Out of this Eſtimate I have omitted the Demand for the Donation to the Army, and the Six Lacks eſtimated Loſs on the Exchange; for the Nabob declares an utter Impoſſibility to provide more Money for the preſent Year; and, indeed, the Situation of his Excellency's Affairs at this Period are ſuch as demand my faithful Repreſentation of them, and a very ſerious Conſideration on the Part of Your Honourable Board; and Sir Eyre Coote, who has an Opportunity of judging on the Spot, has required it of me as a Point of indiſpenſable Duty. To be enabled to provide ſo large a Sum upon the reduced State of his Finances, when Half the Year is elapſed, and One Harveſt totally deſtroyed for want of timely Rain, his Excellency is now certainly getting rid of a great Part of the Animals he has kept, either for his State or for his Diverſion; has reduced Part of his Troops which attended his Perſon, has diſbanded many of his Battalions raiſed for his Collections, has diſcharged a large Number of the Servants of his Houſehold, among whom are included many old Attendants of his Family, and has put an entire Stop to his Buildings. Notwithſtanding theſe Retrenchments, his Excellency has been obliged to give Aſſignments upon his Jagheerdars to the Mr. Purling.

Amount of near 15 Lacks of Rupees. The only Means of relieving the Nabob from his preſent Diſtreſs is, by ſuſpending the Demand of the Balance of the laſt Year's Account current with the Honourable Company, which, I have Reaſon to believe, his Excellency will be ſatisfied with; and there is no Doubt he will be able to pay in the enſuing Year, if the Misfortune of a Second Drowth does not prevent his reſuming the large Deductions he has been obliged to give his Collectors. If your Honourable Board are pleaſed to give your Aſſent to this, the Accounts of the Grants will ſtand thus:

Amount of the Tuncaws for the Year 1187,				—		1,06,62,000 — —
His Excellency's Balance at End of the Year 1186,				20,60,608	2 1
Deduct Amount, at this Time, in the Hands of the ſeveral Paymaſters, viz^{t}.
Mr. Oliver, temporary Brigade,	3,52,433	9	5
Mr. Champion's Cavalry, D^{o}	71,842	4	—
				4,24,275	13 5
						16,36,322 4 8

(Signed at the End of Conſultation)

Warren Haſtings,

Q. Is that the whole Account that was tranſmitted, reſpecting the Part of the Tranſaction that you are now giving an Account of?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember any other Circumſtances relative to that Tranſaction, except thoſe you have mentioned.

A. Nothing more, than that the Nabob propoſed to me to tax the Jaghires.

The Managers for the Commons ſaid, the Witneſs having ſtated, that he propoſed to the Nabob the Jaghires ſhould be taxed, they wiſhed a Paragraph to be read, which would ſhew what Sort of Temper the Nabob was in at that Time, and explain upon what Ground he made that Propoſition.

Read, the following Extract of a Secret Conſultation of the 22d June 1780, beginning at Page 530 of the ſame Book.

" Fort William, the 22d of June 1780.

" At a Council; Preſent,

" The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;

" Extract of a Letter from the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah to Mr. C. Purling.

" I have in no Reſpect failed in my Compliance with the Pleaſure of the Council, or my Friendſhip for the Company, as far as I have had Ability; and I have acquainted you very fully with the State of my Country, and the Sources of the Revenue; and I have even put a Stop to the Expences of my Table, and the Animals which I ought to keep, and the Jagheers of my Servants and Attendants; and there are Aſſets of 98,98,375. After this I wrote the Jagheers of my Grandmother, and my Mother, and of the Nabob Pallar Jung, and of my Family, and the Sons of my Uncle Mirza Ally Khan, which were granted them for their Livelihood; and they amounted to the Sum of 7,63,625 Rupees. By this Means has the Buſineſs been done; but they all poſſeſs Engagements. And I have made over in Aſſignment the Expences of my Table, which I have put a Stop to with this View, that the Gentlemen of the Council, underſtanding my diſtreſſed Situation, would ſhew me their Friendſhip. I at firſt oppoſed the aſſigning the Jagheers of my Grandmother and Mother, and my Uncle. Now that the Council have, upon ſuch a Repreſentation of my Diſtreſs, written that there ſhall not be leſs Aſſignments than 1,06,62,000 Rupees, and that the Balance of 1,36,62,188 muſt be given, I am acquainted with the Particulars of the 1,36,62,188. If the Gentlemen of the Council, or you, Sir, will inform yourſelves from the Accounts, you will find it is not to be obtained. Whatever in Juſtice can be obtained from the Accounts, have been granted; but at this Time Aſſignments are demanded of me. The Buſineſs of the World is eaſy, and paſſes away; and the Gentlemen of the Council ſhould, in every Thing that is juſt, be my Guardians and my Friends. I do not put my Life in Competition with Friendſhip. Whatever Aſſets were in the Country, with even my Table, my Animals, the Jagheers of my Servants and Attendants, are granted in Aſſignments, amounting to 98,98,375 Rupees. Beſides ſides theſe, the Jagheers of my Grandmother, Mother, and my Uncles, the Nabobs Mirza Allee and Sallar Jung, which were granted them for their Maintenance, are at your Diſpoſal. If the Council have directed you to attach them, do it. In the Country, no further Sources remain; and I have no Means, for I have not a Subſiſtence. Alas! I have Elephants, Horſes, and Houſes; if they will ſerve the Purpoſe of my Friends, they are ready for them. The Country and the Aumils are at Hand: Wherever Aſſets can be found, take them; I do not oppoſe it. In this Situation, I am in Want of a daily Subſiſtence. I feed upon the Hope and Expectation of Tranquillity. Upon this the Council's Order is arrived. Whatever proceeds from Friendſhip, is good. My Situation is no Way concealed. How long ſhall I dwell upon my Misfortunes!—I have written ſufficient."

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Whether he had any Reaſon to believe this Repreſentation of the Nabob to be untrue?
A. No.

Q. You will proceed, as far as you remember, with the Account of your Negociations with the Nabob, relative to the taxing the Jaghires?

A. As far as I recollect, after the Nabob had propoſed to tax the Jaghires, he became very much diſſatisfied, which, I ſuppoſe, was the Occaſion of that Letter. He allowed the taxing of all the other Jaghires, but he did not like thoſe of his own Family ſhould be taxed; and though he granted Tuncaws for them, I never could make any Collection upon them.

Q. Whether, in the Expreſſions uſed by the Nabob of Diſſatisfaction at the Jaghires being taxed, any particular Alluſion was made to the Jaghires of the Begums?—Was there any other Expreſſion of Averſion to the Reſumption of the Jaghires of his Mother and Grandmother, except that his Faith was pledged, as he had given them Agreements?

A. He once appeared to me to be in violent Anger, in a Converſation I had with him upon it.

Q. Upon what Subject?
A. Upon my urging him to tax the Begums, as well as the reſt of the Jaghiredars.

Q. What Circumſtances were mentioned reſpecting the Begums having Guarantees from the Eaſt India Company for their Security?

A. He informed me that his Mother and Grandmother had Agreements from him, and that they were ſigned by Mr. Middleton and Mr. Briſtow; and he directed his Miniſters to give me Copies of them, as far as I can recollect.

Q. Did they do ſo, according to your Recollection?
A. They did, as well as I recollect.

Q. Did you ſend any Account of them to the Company?
A. It appears upon the Records.

Q. From whom did you obtain them?
A. From the Nabob and his Miniſter.

Q. Whether, after you had ſeen theſe Treaties, you did deſiſt from, or perſevere in, the Idea of taxing the Jaghires of the Begums, Mother and Grandmother of the Nabob?

A. The Nabob granted Tuncaws upon thoſe Jaghires, but I did not make any Collections upon them.

Q. Were thoſe Tuncaws demanded upon your Part, or granted by the Nabob after the Time of your having ſeen thoſe Copies delivered to you by him or his Miniſters?

A. The Tuncaws were granted before thoſe Agreements were given me.

Q. Whether, after you had ſeen thoſe Agreements, you continued in any Manner to preſs for the Execution of the Tax?

A. I did not—I made a Repreſentation of it to the Council at Calcutta.

Q. Whether, at the ſame Time the Copies of the Guarantee to the elder Begum were delivered to you, you did not receive a Copy of the Guarantee, under Mr. Briſtow's Hand and Seal, to the Bow Begum?

A. I did.

Q. Do you know what thoſe Copies were that you ſo received?

A. I was informed the Copies were Copies of Agreements between the Nabob and the Bunnee Begum, and the Nabob and the Bow Begum, not to moleſt them in the Poſſeſſion of their Jaghires; and that one of them was granted by Mr. Briſtow, and the other by Mr. Middleton.

Q. By whom was you ſo informed?
A. By the Nabob and his Miniſter.

Q. You had Copies of them?
A. I had.

Q. Were

Q. Were they in Perſian?
A. They were in Perſian.

Q. Do you underſtand that Language?
A. I do not.

Q. Did you get them tranſlated?
A. I did.

Q. Did you ſend thoſe Tranſlations to the Company?
A. I did, to the Council at Calcutta.

Q. It will appear then whether they were or were not ſigned in that Manner?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever ſee the Originals?
A. I never did.

Q. You have already ſaid, they were delivered to you as ſubſiſting Treaties?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you or not, when you tranſmitted them to the Council, conſider them as ſubſiſting Inſtruments?
A. I did.

Q. Were there Two different Copies tranſmitted by you to Calcutta, or only One?
A. I really do not comprehend the Queſtion.

Q. You have given an Account of Copies having been delivered to you by the Nabob and his Miniſter. The Queſtion put to you before was, whether Tranſlations of thoſe Copies were by you tranſmitted to the Government at Calcutta? I underſtood you to ſay they were?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you find in your Office when you came there any other Papers, purporting to be Treaties or Copies of Treaties?
A. When I firſt went to Lucknow?

Q. Or at any Time when you were there?
A. No, I did not.

Q. Whether you ever heard any Objection made upon the Part of the Governor General and Council to that Treaty, reſpecting the elder Begum, or ever heard that it was in any Reſpect doubted?
A. I did not.

Q. Where was Mr. Middleton at the Time you tranſmitted thoſe Treaties to Calcutta?
A. I believe Mr. Middleton was in Calcutta; I am not certain.

Q. (from a Lord) I wiſh to aſk, whether you know of any Inſtance in the Province of Oude of ſuch a Meaſure as the Reſumption of the Jaghires, or of their being taxed?
A. Not in the Manner it was propoſed in the Year 1780; but I have ſtated upon the Records here, that the Nabob has reſumed Jaghires at his own Pleaſure, whenever he choſe.

Q. Have you referred to any Inſtance of it?
A. They are particularly mentioned upon the Record.

Q. Tranſmitted by you to Government?
A. Tranſmitted by me to Government. I have alſo ſaid, that the Exerciſe of his Power with reſpect to the Jaghiredars has always been arbitrary, as far as I recollect.

Q. Whether there is not ſome Diſtinction with reſpect to the Title of the Jaghires?
A. I cannot comprehend the Queſtion.

Q. Do you know of any Diſtinction with reſpect to the Title of the Jaghires, whether they are all held from the Nabob?
A. All the Jaghires of the Nabob's Country are certainly held of the Nabob.

Q. (from the Managers.) Whether you have not heard that many Jaghires are confirmed by Sunnuds from Delhi?
A. I have.

Q. Do you mean in the Province of Oude, or any other Place, and where?
A. In all the Provinces of Indoſtan.

Q. Whether you have not heard that Lord Clive's Jaghire was ſo confirmed?
A. I have heard it was.

Q. Whether you have yourſelf known any Inſtance of the Reſumption of the Jaghires, previous to this Reſumption by the preſent Nabob?

A. I do

A. I do not recollect any; but from the Form of the Government in Hindoſtan, I have no doubt there are many Inſtances of it. I have no Doubt: but I cannot recollect any.

Q. Thoſe Reſumptions, according to your Knowledge of the Form of Government, from the Obſervations you made, were they regarded as Acts of Violence, or as having been done in the ordinary Courſe of Things?

A. Towards People of high Rank, I believe it would be conſidered as an Act of Power; but it is generally conſidered in Hindoſtan, that the Power which can confer a Subſiſtence of that Kind can take it away again.

Q. Whether you know if there might not be a Difference between the Tenure of the Jaghires, and that ſome are expreſſed during Pleaſure, and others during Life?

A. I believe they are.

Q. Whether you do not know, or have not Reaſon to believe, that the Jaghires of the Begums were granted to them for the Term of their Lives?

A. I do not know from what Period it originated; but I ſhould conceive that People of their Rank would have Jaghires of that Kind for Life.

The Managers for the Commons were aſked—If there was no Account tranſmitted to Calcutta of the Nature of the Begums Jaghires?

The Managers for the Commons made Anſwer—The Begums themſelves, and their Miniſters, conſtantly aſſerted they were for Life; ſome of them were not derived from the preſent Nabob, particularly the elder Begum's.

Q. Whether the Nabob made any Complaints of the Jagheerdars, in general, in his Dominions, that they were hoſtile to his Government, and brought Diſtreſs and Confuſion upon his Affairs?

A. I never heard he did.

Q. Whether you remember the Nabob's repreſenting, that the Begums were in Enmity with him?

A. I have heard of occaſional Diſputes between the Nabob and his Mother and Grandmother, but never that they were hoſtile.

Q. Whether the Tenure of the Jagheerdars, in reſpect of the Troops and Forces they might keep up, were repreſented by the Nabob as bringing Confuſion into the Affairs of his Government?

A. By no means.

Q. Whether you had any Reaſon to believe, that either of the Begums were diſaffected, or entertained hoſtile Deſigns towards the Britiſh Government?

A. I never heard ſo.

Q. Nor were diſaffected?

A. Not while I was there.

Q. Do you not think, or have you not Reaſon to know, that the Begums depended upon the Britiſh Government, and looked to them for Protection, and treated with you accordingly, as Reſident?

A. I never had any Negotiation with the Begums at all; but from what paſſed with Mr. Middleton, I have no Doubt but they looked to the Government for Protection.

Q. They looked to the Government for Protection?

A. I have no Doubt of it.

Q. Whether you conſidered yourſelf as in the Confidence of Mr. Haſtings, and in the Secrets of the Britiſh Government, while you were Reſident at Lucknow?

A. From what Judgment I could form, I believe I was not.

Q. Had you an Aſſiſtant Reſident there?

A. I had.

Q. Who was he?

A. Mr. Bathurſt.

Q. Whether you have any Reaſon to think Mr. Bathurſt had his Confidence?

A. I really cannot tell; I do not think he had.

Q. Whether there were any other Gentlemen Aſſiſtants in the Reſident's Office there?

A. There were Two more.

Q. Who were they?

A. Mr. Hill and Mr. Holt.

Q. In what Character was Mr. Richard Johnſon there?

A. He went up with Sir Eyre Coote, in his Family.

Q. In what Light did you conſider Mr. Johnſon there; as Aſſiſtant to you in the Government, or as a Spy upon you? Was he in the Reſident's Office at all?

A. He

A. He was not at that Time.

Q. In what Light did you conſider Mr. Johnſon's being there?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Witneſs's Opinion.

The Houſe obſerved, that the Witneſs had ſaid he went up in Sir Eyre Coote's Family; the proper Queſtion to put therefore was,

Q. Whether he was there in any other Character?
A. I do not know of any other Character he had, at that Time.

Q. Had he any other Character?
A. He had not, at that Time.

Q. (by the Managers.) For what Purpoſe do you imagine he was there?
A. I have ſaid, he was there in Sir Eyre Coote's Family.

Q. Whether he did not interfere in the Government, in the Affairs of your Miſſion?
A. Mr. Johnſon had frequent Conferences with the Nabob's Miniſters; and I certainly conſidered that as an Interference with my Office.

Q. Did Mr. Johnſon communicate to you the Subject of thoſe Conferences?
A. He did not.

Q. (by the Counſel.) Whether Mr. Johnſon, at the Time you ſpeak of, was not in Sir Eyre Coote's Family at Lucknow?
A. I mentioned he went up in that Family.

Q. You have been aſked, Whether you obſerved any Inſtance of the Begums diſturbing the Nabob's Government; I wiſh to know whether you returned into the Country of Oude at any Time after the End of 1780?
A. Never.

Q. You have been aſked, whether the Nabob had ever expreſſed any Apprehenſion reſpecting the Power and Authority of the Jagheerdars in his Country; I wiſh to know whether you recollect writing a Letter, in which there is this Paragraph:—"Though from the natural State of this Country, where the Zemindars take the immediate Advantage of every Relaxation in the Government, and continually avail themſelves of the Removal of the Forces from their Diſtricts, by raiſing Troops of their own, building Forts, and with-holding their Rents;"—Do you recollect ever having made a Repreſentation to that Effect?
A. No Doubt I did.

Q. Do you know that the Nature and Extent of the Power and Authority of the Jagheerdars was ſuch as to give them an Opportunity, if they pleaſed, of making any Diſturbance in the Government of Oude?
A. No Doubt, where large Sums of Money can be raiſed, People may raiſe Troops; but I did not hear there was any ſuch Intention at that Time.

Q. The Queſtion was not about Intention; I will make it intelligible to you if I can: What Quantity of Troops were kept up by the Begums or the other Jagheerdars, do you know that?
A. No, for the Jagheerdars are exempted from the Inveſtigation of the Affairs of Government; and as they pay nothing to Government, they can have no reaſon to be in Contention with the Government, reſpecting any thing to pay them.

Q. Not being reſponſible to Government, they can have no Diſpute with them, about what they are to pay?
A. No.

Q. And you do not know, what Number of Troops are kept up by any of thoſe Jagheerdars?
A. No.

Q. Do you know of any other Means of their raiſing a Diſturbance in the Government there?
A. No other, than by having Sums of Money at their Diſpoſal.

Q. Whether the Circumſtance of their being exempt from the Authority of Government prevents their being able to deſtroy that Government?
A. I did not ſay they were exempt from the Authority of Government.

Q. Do you know whether the Grants of the Jaghires are in Writing, or at the Pleaſure of the Prince, by Parole?
A. I underſtand they are always given by Sunnuds, under the Signature of the Prince; there is ſome Mark he makes, I forget the Mark.

Q. I wiſh to know whether you ever ſaw any of thoſe Inſtruments with the Mark you mention?
A. I think I have; but I cannot at this Time deſcribe it.

Q. But

Q. But you take them to be Grants in Writing?
A. Yes.

Q. Is there any Difference, in point of Form, between the Jagheers granted to a Perſon of high Rank and Authority, and the Jagheers granted to one of inferior Rank?
A. I do not know.

Q. The Witneſs was examined to a Letter written by the Nabob, which, I think, he ſaid, he conceived to be a true Repreſentation; I would wiſh to know from the Witneſs, whether he meant to repreſent, that the Whole of that Letter is to be taken literally as true, and particularly this Paſſage in which the Nabob ſays, "If the Council has directed you to attach them, do it: In the "Country no further Reſources remain. I have no Means, becauſe I have not the Means of Sub-"ſiſtence (a)." Do you take that Repreſentation to be true?
A. I could not doubt but the Nabob muſt have a Subſiſtence in the Country; but he meant by that Paſſage to repreſent a great Diſtreſs in his Circumſtances; that is what my Imagination of it was.

Q. Whether you mean, when the Nabob ſays, I am in want of daily Subſiſtence, that at that Time he was not living in a Princely State, as uſual?
A. I think they ſaid he had diſbanded ſome of his Troops, and diſmiſſed ſome of his Servants, at the Time; but he had much the ſame State.

Q. He had diſmiſſed ſome Troops; to what Amount?
A. I do not know: ſome of both were diſcharged.

Q. I do not know whether I underſtand the Witneſs, with reſpect to that Agreement with the elder Begum, whether there was any Copy of that in the Reſident's Office, before it was given by the Nabob to Mr. Purling?
A. I never ſaw any.

Q. (from a Lord.) If I have not miſunderſtood the Witneſs, he ſaid Mr. Johnſon went up in the Suite of Sir Eyre Coote; he afterwards ſaid, that Mr. Johnſon held Conferences with the Miniſter, which he conſidered as trenching upon his Office as Reſident, and of which Mr. Johnſon gave no Account to him. At the Time he held thoſe Conferences, did he conſider Mr. Johnſon as being in the Suite of Sir Eyre Coote; did he remain in the Suite of Sir Eyre Coote the whole Time he was there?
A. He did the whole Time; he continued in it all the Time he was there.

Q. Do you know what the Amount of the Savings was, by the Reductions you have ſpoken of, of the Troops and the Servants; did they amount to 93 Lacks a Year, or any other Sum?
A. I do not know a Syllable of it.

Q. (from a Lord.) I think you ſaid you had tranſmitted a Copy of the Agreement with the Begums, which Mr. Middleton had ſigned and ſealed, and which was Yeſterday called the Firſt Agreement, and that you had received it, and tranſmitted it to Calcutta?
A. Yes.

Q. I alſo underſtand you to ſay, you had tranſmitted a Copy of the Agreement with the Nabob, to which you alſo underſtood there was Mr. Middleton's Signature and Seal; did you ſend any other Copies of any other Inſtrument, which you underſtood to be ſubſiſting Agreements between the Nabob and the Begums?
A. They were two different Agreements, One between the Nabob and his Grandmother, and the other between the Nabob and his Mother.

Q. Were both thoſe Agreements given you by the Miniſter of the Nabob?
A. They were, both.

Q. You ſent them both?
A. I ſent them both.

Q. Were there any other beſides?
A. No; they were each of them in two Parts; I think there are two Papers of each upon Record.

Q. Each in Two Parts, and conſequently Two Papers of each?
A. Two Papers of each.

Q. Did you ſend any other Papers beſides theſe?
A. I believe there is a Letter from the Nabob to the Uncle Sâlar Jung, in which he tells him, he will not moleſt him in his Jagheers.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, There was ſuch a Letter as that, but they did not inſert it in their Evidence here, becauſe it was not to the preſent Purpoſe.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 491.

Q. Are

Q. Are you aware of a Paper conſidered as a conditional Agreement with the Begum, to obtain a Treaty from the Nabob in her Favour, that Mr. Middleton tranſacted with her?

A. That is One of the Papers I ſent down, with my Obſervations upon it, relative to the Jaghires.

Q. That being One of the Papers that you tranſmitted to Calcutta—Was it One of thoſe Papers that was delivered to you by the Nabob or his Miniſter?

A. Thoſe Papers were both delivered to me, as a Ground for exempting the Begums from any Collection being made upon their Jaghires.

Q. By whom?

A. By the Miniſter of the Nabob.

Q. So that the conditional Agreement, as well as the other, was delivered to you by the Nabob or his Miniſter?

A. By his Miniſter.

Q. Were they delivered as different Papers?

A. They were delivered together.

Q. In your Memory, from the View you had of thoſe Papers, do you know whether Mr. Middleton's Signature was to both.—Did theſe Copies appear to have the Signature of Mr. Middleton and the Nabob, or either of them?

A. I do not recollect whether they had or not. They were ſaid to be under the Signature of the Nabob, and the Guarantee of Mr. Middleton; but I don't recollect ſeeing any Thing elſe.

Q. Whether you ever heard of that conditional Treaty with the Elder Begum, previous to the Communication of that Paper from the Nabob?

A. I might have heard of it a Day or Two before, but I do not recollect it at preſent.

Q. Do you recollect, in fact, that you did hear of it a Day or Two before?

A. No; I do not.

Q. Whether you ever applied to ſee the Original, either of the Agreement, or of the ſubſequent Treaty?

A. I never did.

Q. Whether you did not receive the Treaties from the Nabob as complete Inſtruments; and whether the Nabob did not conſider them as Inſtruments by which he was bound?

A. I did.

Q. Whether it is uſual in the Reſident's Office in India, that there ſhould be Books of Record kept of the Proceedings of that Office?

A. There is a Letter Book; but there is no Appearance in the Letter Book that denoted ſuch a Tranſaction to have taken Place.

Q. Whether thoſe Letters, that were recorded in your Reſident's Office, were tranſmitted alſo to Calcutta?

A. This Letter Book uſually contained the whole Correſpondence of the Reſident to any particular Army Stations, or on any other particular Buſineſs.

Q. The Queſtion is, whether in that Letter Book, or from any Knowledge you had, there were any Traces of this Agreement, between the Nabob and the Begum, to be found?

A. I did not ſee any.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that in Corroboration of the Teſtimony of the Witneſs, relative to the Diſtreſs of the Nabob, they would next proceed to read Two ſhort Extracts: One an Extract of a Letter from the Nabob, ſtating his Diſtreſs; the other, an Extract of a Letter from Mr. Purling, vouching for the Truth of the Circumſtances ſo repreſented by the Nabob.

Read, the following Extract of Appendix to a Conſultation, on the 13th of December 1779, from Book 112, already delivered in, beginning at Page 912 of the ſame Book.

" Extract of Tranſlation of a Letter from the Vizier to the Reſident, C. Purling Eſquire, at his Court, being an Encloſure in his Letter to the Board, dated Lucknow, 19th November 1779.

" The Situation of my Affairs reſpecting the preſent Time, I informed Mr. Middleton of, both by Writing and Converſation, and I now proceed to lay the Whole before you.

" During theſe Three Years paſt, the Expence occaſioned by the Troops in Brigade, and others commanded by European Officers, has much diſtreſſed the Support of my Houſehold, inſomuch that the Allowance made to the Seraglio and Children of the deceaſed Nabob has been reduced to One Fourth Part of what it was, upon which they have ſubſiſted, in a very diſtreſſed Manner, for theſe Two Years paſt. The Attendants, Writers, Servants, &c. of my Court have received no Pay for these Two Years; and there is at present no Part of the Country that can be allotted to the Payment of my Father's private Creditors, whose Applications are daily pressing upon me. All these Difficulties I have for these Three Years past struggled through, and found this Consolation therein, that it was complying with the Pleasure of the Honourable Company, and in the Hope that the Supreme Council would make Enquiry, from impartial Persons, into my distressed Situation; but I am now forced to a Representation."

Read, the following Extract of a Consultation of the 3d of April 1780, from Book 26, already delivered in, beginning at Page 61 of the same Book.

"Extract of a Letter from C. Purling Esquire to the Board.

"Dated Lucknow, February 9th 1780.

"Out of this Estimate I have omitted the Demand for the Donation to the Army, and the Six Lacks estimated Loss on the Exchange; for the Nabob declares an utter Impossibility to provide more Money for the present Year; and, indeed, the Situation of his Excellency's Affairs at this Period are such as demand my faithful Representation of them, and a very serious Consideration on the Part of your Honourable Board; and Sir Eyre Coote, who has an Opportunity of judging on the Spot, has required it of me as a Point of indispensable Duty. To be enabled to provide so large a Sum upon the reduced State of his Finances; when half the Year is elapsed, and one Harvest totally destroyed for Want of timely Rain, his Excellency is now certainly getting rid of a great Part of the Animals he has kept either for his State or for his Diversion; has reduced Part of his Troops which attended his Person; has disbanded many of his Battalions raised for his Collections; has discharged a large Number of the Servants of his Houshold, among whom are included many old Attendants of his Family; and has put an entire Stop to his Buildings. Notwithstanding these Retrenchments, his Excellency has been obliged to give Assignments upon his Jagheerdars to the Amount of near Fifteen Lacks of Rupees.—The only Means of relieving the Nabob from his present Distress, is by suspending the Demand of the Balance of the last Year's Account current with the Honourable Company."

Q. That is the Representation you gave at the Time, upon your Recollection?
A. Yes.

Q. Do you think that Representation to have been correct?
A. Yes.

Q. Was the Treaty signed by Mr. Bristow, with the Younger Begum, the same Species of Instrument with that which was signed by Mr. Middleton, with the Elder Begum?
A. No; I believe not: But both Treaties are here, and may be read: They will give Information better than I can.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the House, that as they conceived they had laid sufficient Evidence before the House, respecting the Treaty with the Elder Begum, they should next call Mr. Middleton to examine him relative to the Treaty with the Younger Begum.

NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Esquire, was accordingly called in, and examined as follows.

Q. Was you, or was you not, a Second Time at Fyzabad in the Year 1778?
A. I think I was.

Q. Have you any Doubt about being there in the Year 1778?
A. I have a Doubt about the exact Time; but not as to being there a Second Time.

Q. Some Time in the Year 1778 or 1779, or at what Time?
A. Some Time thereabouts I was.

Q. Answer as near as you can, whether you was at Fyzabad either in one Year or the other?
A. I was in the Year 1778, as far as I can recollect.

Q. Whether, the Second Time of your being there in the Year 1778, you signed any Treaty or Guarantee, of any Kind, with either of the Begums?
A. I think, the second Time I was there, the Nabob Vizier was also there; and, according to my Recollection, there was some Sort of an Agreement between him and the Younger Begum, the Bhow Begum, to which it is very likely I gave my Signature.

Q. Whether, according to your Recollection, you did, or did not, give your Signature to a Treaty at that Time?
A. I think I did. It will appear upon the Records if I did: I refer to them, and think, according to the best of my Recollection, I did.

Q. Did you tranſmit that Treaty, the Original, or a Copy of it, to the Governor General and Council at Calcutta?

A. I ſhould apprehend I did; but I beg Leave to refer to the Records.

Q. Whether you had not Authority or Sanction from Mr. Haſtings, for executing and ſigning that Treaty?

A. The Bhow Begum was always conſidered to be under the immediate Protection of the Company, therefore any Negociation between her and the Nabob, to which I became a Party, I conceive I was authoriſed in, from the ſeveral Inſtructions of the Company. I do not recollect I had any expreſs Orders for the Act to which I am now alluding.

Q. Had you any Communication with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject of this Treaty, which, according to your Recollection, you had ſigned, after you had ſigned it?

A. I do not believe I had.

Q. Did you not apply to the Secret Committee, ſince your Examination Yeſterday, for Permiſſion to refreſh your Memory, by looking at the Books of your whole Correſpondence while at Lucknow?

A. I did.

Q. Have you been employed in looking over thoſe Books this Morning?

A. For about Ten Minutes I was.

Q. At what Time was you informed the Books would be ready for you?

A. Mr. White called upon me laſt Night, to ſay I might inſpect the Books any Time this Morning. The Note was left at my Houſe when I was not at Home.

Q. When did you receive the Note?

A. I received it laſt Night, but was not at Home when it came.

Q. Have you inſpected them, ſo as to receive all the Information from them that you want, upon this Subject of the Treaty?

A. The Purpoſe of my Reference to the Books of Correſpondence was, to give your Lordſhips a more perfect Account of the Treaty with the Elder Begum than I was able to give Yeſterday, and my Reſearches were entirely confined to the Letters upon that Subject.

Q. Had you a ſufficient Opportunity to refreſh your Memory upon that Subject?

A. As far as the Correſpondence would ſerve to refreſh my Memory, I have.

Q. Was you not examined to this Subject alſo Yeſterday, and a Letter from the Bhow Begum relating to the Treaty read to you?

A. I recollect a Letter being ſhewn to me from the Bhow Begum, which, I underſtood from the Honourable Managers, referred to the Elder Begum.

Q. Whether you have adverted to that Letter, and to a Letter from Mr. Haſtings upon the ſame Subject, To-day?

A. I have no Copy of that Letter from the Bow Begum.

Q. Have you read that Letter To-day?

A. No, I have not.

Q. Have you read a Letter from Mr. Haſtings upon the ſame Subject To-day?

A. I have read a Letter, in my Books of Correſpondence, from Mr. Haſtings in his official Capacity of Governor General, upon this Subject.

Q. Upon the Subject of all the Treaties?

A. Upon this Subject of the Treaties ſubſiſting between the Nabob and the Begums, to which the Engliſh were Security.

Q. Whether the Begum did not conſider the obtaining your Signature to the new Treaty in 1778, as an additional Security to her?

A. No Doubt ſhe did. I believe it will be found the additional Treaty contains ſome additional Articles which were not mentioned, and Stipulations which are not expreſſed, in the original Treaty.

Q. The Treaty of October 1778, you mean?

A. Yes.

Q. It contains other Articles than you mentioned before?

A. Yes; other Articles and Stipulations not mentioned in the original Treaty; I believe it does; I have no Copy of the Treaty.

Q. Do you recollect whether you ſigned this Treaty?

A. To the beſt of my Belief I did ſign it.

Q. Do

Q. Do you remember whether the Elder Begum is not mentioned in that Treaty?
A. I do not recollect whether ſhe is or not; I beg Leave to refer to the Treaty.

Q. Whether you conſidered that Treaty as binding upon you, and upon the Government of Bengal?

A. If it was ſanctioned by the Governor General and Council, I certainly ſhould; I am not certain of the Fact: But had it been ſanctioned by the Governor General and Council, I moſt certainly ſhould.

Q. The Queſtion is, Whether you, in your future Proceedings, treated, and conſidered and acted upon that as a binding Engagement, conſequently as a Sanction, or not?
A. Certainly it depends upon the Terms of my Signature;—poſſibly it might be only to exert my Influence with the Nabob, upon all Occaſions in which he ſhould attempt to infringe the Rights of the Begums.

Q. Do you, or not, recollect whether, in your ſubſequent Dealings with the Begums, that Treaty was conſidered by you as a ſubſiſting and binding Engagement?
A. Yes; I ſhould think it was.

Q. You think it was?
A. I think it was.

Q. Did you conſider this as a regular, ſolemn Engagement, the Treaty of October 1778?
A. Certainly.

Q. Do you know whether this Treaty had any Date?
A. I do not recollect, but I ſhould imagine it had.

Q. Whether you recollect, or have as good Reaſon to believe that this Treaty had a Date, as that the Treaty with the Elder Begum was without a Date? Have you any Reaſon to believe upon that Subject either this Way or that?
A. I know it is uſual to date Treaties; what I ſaid reſpecting the Treaty with the Elder Begum Yeſterday, I took from the Book.

Q. Have you ſeen this Treaty upon the Book?
A. No, I have not.

Q. The Witneſs ſaid, he knew of no Inſtance of a regular Agreement being without a Date; the Witneſs has now ſhewn, that it was without a Date.
A. I ſpoke from my own Knowledge; no Inſtance had come to my Knowledge of a Treaty without a Date.

Q. Do you recollect any now?
A. None.

Q. What are the Circumſtances, which enabled you to recollect ſo much reſpecting this Treaty in October 1778, with the Bhow Begum; and which did not lead you to recollect any Thing of the Negociations of the Nabob with the Elder Begum?
A. I have not a very perfect Recollection of that Treaty with the Bhow Begum; I have only a general Recollection, that it was to terminate ſome Diſputes upon new Matters that had occurred between the Nabob and the Begum, which could not have been Matter of Diſpute, if they had been inſerted in the original Treaty.

The Counſel for the Defendant requeſted, before any new Examination was gone into, that the Treaty might be put into the Hands of the Witneſs, that he might be able, from the Inſpection of it, and his Recollection, to give a better Account of it.

The Houſe obſerved, that the Witneſs had been examined to the whole Progreſs of the Treaty, before he was ſhewn the Treaty; therefore, if there were any particular Circumſtances relative to that Tranſaction, upon which it might be explained, it was fit he ſhould ſee the Treaty, to have an Opportunity of refreſhing his Memory.

The Treaty was ſhewn to the Witneſs; and the following Queſtion was put to him.

Q. You have been underſtood to ſay, you have had an Opportunity of looking into ſome Books? What Books were they; do you recollect them?
A. They were Letter Books; Letters of Correſpondence.

Q. Was it your Letter Book, or a publick Letter Book?
A. A publick Letter Book; my own publick Letters to Government.

Q. Having had that Opportunity, is there any Explanation you are deſirous to give to the Houſe further, of the Depoſition you made Yeſterday?

A. I examined the Books for that Purpoſe to refreſh my Memory, to endeavour to give your Lordſhips a more perfect Account than I could Yeſterday.

Q. What is the Account you would now give?

A. I found the ſeveral Letters read by the Honourable Managers in the Courſe of this Proſecution: I found alſo one from the Board, in which they declined giving me any Authority for concluding the Treaty with the Elder Begum; aſſigning their Reaſons for it: I alſo found a Letter from myſelf to the Governor General and Council, mentioning, that the Nabob Vizier had refuſed poſitively to ratify the Agreement with the Elder Begum. That is all that appears upon the Correſpondence, with reſpect to the Matter. I am, however, inclined to believe, that the Agreement was entered into and ſigned by the Nabob and the Elder Begum; and, I think, it is very probable (I ſpeak from Probability only, without the ſmalleſt Recollection of the Fact), it is very probable I did give my Signature to it: I ſpeak from Probability, not from any Recollection I have now of the Matter, more than I had Yeſterday.

Q. Is that the Whole of the Explanation you mean to give, of the Evidence that you delivered Yeſterday?

A. That is all that I am able to give.

The Managers for the Commons obſerved, That the Witneſs had mentioned having received a Letter from the Board, refuſing to become Guarantee for the Elder Begum: That they denied that Letter to be any Authority from the Board; and deſired it might be now read. But Firſt it would be neceſſary to read Mr. Middleton's Letter.

Read, from Book 76, already delivered in, Extract of a Conſultation of the 9th February 1778, beginning at Page 437 of the ſame Book.

" Honourable Sir and Sirs,

" I had the Honour to addreſs you under Date the 25th inſtant, acquainting you with the Subſtance of the Converſations which had paſſed between the Old Begum and myſelf on the Subject of her propoſed Expedition to Korbûlla. I now do myſelf the Pleaſure to forward you a Tranſlate of a Writing ſhe had preſented to me, containing her ſeveral Requiſitions and Claims, which ſhe expects ſhall be complied with and guaranteed to her by the Company; ſo that it may not be in the Power of the Nabob at his Pleaſure to annul any of the Conditions, or deviate from any of the Proviſions therein ſpecified. That the Honourable Board may be clearly informed of the Nature and Propriety of the Begum's Expectations, I have ſubjoined ſhort explanatory Obſervations to each ſeparate Article; and if the Honourable Board ſhall be pleaſed to conſider them after in the Light it appears to me, I hope to be favoured with their Permiſſion to ſanctify the Agreement in the Manner the Begum requires, in my Publick Character. I have referred the Subject to the Nabob for his Conſideration and Approval; but I have little Expectation that he will of his own Accord acquieſce in the Begum's Propoſitions, however moderate and reaſonable they may appear; and if he ſhould, his Aſſent alone, without the Ratification and Guarantee of the Engliſh, will not be accepted as any kind of Security by the Begum. If however his Excellency approves of theſe Propoſitions, and gives them the Sanction of his Signature, I apprehend there will be no Impropriety in my becoming a Surety for their Performance; in which Caſe, the direct Interpoſition of the Honourable Board will not be neceſſary; but if, on the contrary, he ſhould refuſe his Concurrence, I beg Leave, with humble Submiſſion, to ſuggeſt the Neceſſity of an immediate Exertion of their Influence to ſecure the Begum, whatever they may be pleaſed to conſider her undiſputed Rights; when I doubt not I ſhould be able to prevail upon her to relinquiſh her Deſign of a Pilgrimage to Korbûlla altogether, though ſhe at preſent declares her Intention of proſecuting it at the Expiration of Two or Three Months, even admitting her Requiſitions are complied with. Indeed I have great Reaſon to believe ſhe has no ſerious Intention of undertaking ſo arduous a Taſk, and that her View is only to withdraw herſelf from theſe Dominions, where the Treatment of her Grandſon ſeems to have rendered her Reſidence diſguſting and irkſome to her, and to accept of an honourable Retreat, which I am informed has been offered her, for herſelf and Family, both by the King and Nudjiff Cawn. I am the more confirmed in this Belief, from her extraordinary Partiality to a young Man, who ſhe has bred up from a Child, and adopted as her Son, and who ſhe means ſhall inherit the Reſidue of whatever ſhe may be poſſeſſed of, after deducting from it what ſhe may conſider an adequate Proviſion for her own Family, and immediate Dependants; which Intention ſhe thinks ſhe cannot ſo well execute in this Country, as the Vizier, no doubt, conſiders himſelf the legal Heir to her Property, and if unreſtrained, I am certain, would pay very little Attention to any previous Diſpoſition ſhe might make of it. I form this latter Opinion upon ſome late Declaration which the Nabob has made, importing, that if the Begum was bent upon abandoning his Dominions, in Oppoſition to his Will, it was his Determination that ſhe ſhould not carry more with her than her Wearing Apparel.

" I have, &c.

" Fayzabad,
27th January 1778.

(Signed) N. Middleton,
Reſident at the Vizier's Court."

Then

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Did you refer to a Letter from the Board as a Foundation for ſurmiſing that this Guarantee was not ratified?

A. Yes.

Q. What is the Date of the Letter from the Board?

A. It is dated the 23d of March 1778.

The Houſe directed that Letter to be read.

Read, Extract of a Conſultation of the 23d March 1778, from Book 77 already delivered in, beginning at Page 5 of the ſame Book.

☞ [" We have duly conſidered your Letters of the 25th and 27th January, 2d and 3d February, on the Subject of the Complaints and Requiſitions of the Old Begum and Bow Begum.

" We can have no Right to interfere between the Vizier and his Relations or Subjects, for the Redreſs of any Grievances which they may ſuſtain from him, except by Remonſtrance, or in Caſes that we ſhall deem of a Nature ſo groſs and enormous as to caſt a Reproach on the Company, and to involve and affect the Dignity of the Britiſh Name, by withdrawing ourſelves from ſuch a diſhonourable Connection; we muſt therefore decline giving you Authority at preſent to inſiſt on the Nabob's immediate Reſtitution of the Property claimed by the Old Begum, and by the Family of the Nabob Sheer Jung, deceaſed; but as we approve of the Means you have taken to conciliate the Differences that have ariſen with the former, and diſſuade the Nabob from the Act of Oppreſſion which he intended to commit on the Eſtate of the latter, we deſire you will repeat your Remonſtrances to the Vizier on both theſe Points in the Name of this Government; repreſenting to him the Conſequences of ſuch an arbitrary Proceeding; the Reproach to which his Honour and Reputation, as well as ours, from being connected with him, will be expoſed by ſuch Acts of Cruelty and Injuſtice; and the Right, which we derive from the Nature of our Alliance with him, to expect that he will pay a Deference to our Remonſtrances.

" If he ſhall perſiſt in his Refuſal after this to agree to any reaſonable Terms, you are to take no further Steps till you have adviſed us thereof, and of every Circumſtance attending it, that we may give you our final Orders for your Guidance.]

§ (" Having given the Old Begum ſuch a Proof of our Deſire to aſſiſt her, and to obtain Security " for her in her preſent Situation, we hope ſhe will be ſatisfied to continue where ſhe is, as we can " by no Means encourage her Wiſh to remove with her perſonal Wealth from the Nabob's Do- " minions.

" With reſpect to the Bow Begum, her Grievances come before us on a very different Footing; " ſhe is entitled to our Protection by an Act not ſought by us, but ſolicited by the Nabob him- " ſelf, and granted in Compliance with his and her Requeſt; we therefore impower and direct " you to afford your Support and Protection to her in the due Maintenance of all the Rights ſhe " poſſeſſes in virtue of the Treaty executed between her and her Son, under the Guarantee of " the Company, and againſt every Attempt that may be, directly or indirectly, made to infringe " them: At the ſame Time, that we recommend the greateſt Delicacy to you in every Caſe of " this Nature, we deſire that you will act with Firmneſs and Reſolution, and, as far as you can, " with Effect.") §

Then the Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Did you proceed, upon that Letter, with the Elder Begum, upon the Notion of its being, or not being, a Ratification of any Agreement made between her and the Nabob, and guaranteed by the Company?

A. I do not recollect I did.

The Counſel for the Defendant requeſted, That an Allegation in the Defendant's Anſwer, in which he denies, that any Guarantee of the Britiſh Nation was ever pledged to the Elder Begum for her Protection, might be read.

The ſame was read, as follows:

" And the ſaid Warren Haſtings does not know or believe, that any other Interferences, Powers, or Authorities, were made, given, granted, or confirmed, by the ſaid Governor General, and the ſaid Council, for the Purpoſe aforeſaid: And he denies that any Guarantee of the Britiſh Nation, or any Guarantee of any Kind whatever, was, by the Reſident, under the Authority of the ſaid Warren Haſtings, ever pledged to the ſaid Elder Begum for her Protection."

Q. (from a Lord). What do you underſtand by the Words of the Council " approving of " the Means you had uſed?"

A. The Step I had taken in going to Fyzabad, to endeavour to reconcile the Diſputes between the Nabob and his Mother and Grandmother.

Q. Did not the Nabob, at the Time of executing the Treaty of 1775, where ſhe gave 56 Lacks, in Lieu of all Demands made upon her, give her a Coulnama, as a Pledge upon that Occaſion?

A. I underſtood he did.

Q. Was that Coulnama tranſmitted to Calcutta, or any Copy of it?

A. I was not at Lucknow at that Time.

Q. (by a Manager.) Where was you in March and April 1780?

A. I was at Calcutta, or ſomewhere very near it.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings demand any Explanation from you at that Time with reſpect to the Treaty tranſmitted by Mr. Purling?

A. No.

Q. (by a Lord.) With regard to your Proceeding ſubſequent to the Receipt of the Letter from the Board, I wiſh to know whether you did ſignify to either of the Parties, namely, to the Begums or either of them, or to the Nabob, that the Company would not guarantee the Agreement between them?

A. I don't remember that I made any Communication of that Sort.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would now proceed to examine the Witneſs upon the other Heads of Evidence.

Q. Whether, during any Part of the Year 1778, you ſaw or knew of any Diſaffection or hoſtile Temper in the Begums towards the Britiſh Government?

A. I did not.

Q. Whether you did not uſe your utmoſt Endeavours to perſuade the Elder Begum to forego her Intention of quitting the Nabob's Dominions?

A. I certainly did.

Q. Whether the Begums did not conceive they had many powerful Enemies at the Nabob's Court?

A. I do not recollect they made me acquainted with their Conceptions.

Q. Did they make any Complaints to you of the Treatment which they received, either from the Nabob, or any of his Servants, or Perſons employed in his Government?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection, they complained of Interference with their Right by different People of the Nabob's Government—of occaſional Interferences.

Q. Whether or not you underſtood them as looking to the Britiſh Government for Support and Protection?—When they made thoſe Repreſentations to you, with what View did you ſuppoſe they made them?

A. To get them redreſſed.

Q. That is, to you as Britiſh Reſident?

A. Yes, to uſe my Influence with the Vizier to get them redreſſed.

Q. Whether they addreſſed themſelves to you to uſe your Influence which your being Reſident for the Britiſh Government gave you with the Vizier, or did you underſtand them to apply to you with a View of going to your own Government for further Aſſiſtance?

A. I conceive they meant I ſhould uſe my Influence to procure this Redreſs, both with the Vizier and my own Government.

Q. Did you know of any other Power or Connection in India, to which the Begums looked with greater Confidence than to the Britiſh Government, to afford them Protection?

A. No, I did not, at that Time.

Q. (by a Lord.) I wiſh to aſk, as to the Time when you ſigned this Treaty between the Nabob and the Begum, whether it was before or after the Receipt of the Letter from the Board?

A. May I aſk, with which Begum?

Q. The Elder?

A. I have informed your Lordſhips, I do not recollect poſitively ſigning that Treaty at all.

Q. Whether the Tranſaction of that Treaty, ſuch as it was, was before or after the 23d of March?

A. I think it muſt have been after that Letter, if I did ſign it.

Q. (from a Lord.) How came you to ſign the Treaty after that Letter, underſtanding it as you underſtand it?—or did you ſign it?

A. I am not certain I did ſign it: If I did, I ſaid before, it was probably as pledging myſelf to uſe my Influence with the Nabob, as far as I could, to prevent his infringing upon the Begum; but not as looking upon myſelf as having any Authority from the Government under which I ſerved.

Q. I deſire

Q. I desire to know, whether you did not, upon another Occasion, declare that if you had signed such a Paper, you must have had an Authority for it?

A. If I signed it as a Guarantee upon the Behalf of the Company, I do take it for granted I must have had an Authority for it.

Q. Whether you made use at that Time of any such Qualification?

A. I don't recollect I did.

Q. Whether, having excused yourself upon the Weakness and Imperfections of your Memory, your Want of the Power of resorting to Materials, and the Length of Time that has passed since those Transactions, you did not, early last December 1787, apply to a Member of the Secret Committee for Leave to inspect your Books of Correspondence?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Whether, in consequence of that Application, the Committee did not order that you should be permitted to have Access to, and to take Copies from, your Books of Correspondence, laid before the Committee the last Sessions, upon the Impeachment of Mr. Hastings, and left at the India House?

A. They gave me Permission to inspect them as far as I found necessary.

Q. Did they give you Permission to take Copies?

A. I do not recollect whether the Permission expressed that; but I imagine it did.

Q. Whether you did not know that an Impeachment against Mr. Hastings was depending in the House of Commons, in which those Treaties were charged as existing?

A. I heard there was an Impeachment depending before the House of Commons, but I cannot say I remember particularly the Articles of it.

Q. The Question is, Whether you remember that one of the Articles turned upon the Existence of the Treaty with the Elder Begum, or not?

A. Not that it turned upon the Existence of the Treaty with the Elder Begum; but with the Younger Begum, certainly.

Q. Whether you were not employed in drawing up or furnishing Materials for an Answer to that very Charge?

A. I believe I informed your Lordships Yesterday, that I did furnish some Materials to Major Scott respecting that Article of the Charge.

Q. Do you remember whether any of the Materials related to this particular Point of the Treaty with the Elder Begum in that Article of the Charge?

A. I do not recollect particularly; but I take it for granted they did.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether you have ever read that Article of the Charge?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. (from a Manager.) Was you consulted upon drawing any Part of Mr. Hastings's Defence as presented to the House of Lords.

I do not recollect I was; I informed your Lordships Yesterday that I was occasionally at Drapers Hall, and that the first Time I went there was by Accident. I think it necessary to confirm that Declaration to your Lordships, and to inform you how it arose: the Occasion of my Visit there was from a Note that came from Major Scott (Mr. Hastings at this Time was not in London, but in Scotland)—Major Scott informed me that Mr. Hastings's Business was going on at Drapers Hall—that they were preparing for the Trial at Drapers Hall, and whenever I went into the City he wished me to call in there—The first Time I did go into the City I did call in, as he had desired, at Drapers Hall.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether a Visit in consequence of a written Appointment and Note, is your Idea of an accidental Calling? Whether that was the Idea you meant to convey of an accidental Calling by a Note from Major Scott informing you that Mr. Hastings's Business was going on?

A. Yes; it requesting I would call in whenever I went into the City.

Q. That was what you meant by an accidental Calling?

A. Yes.

Q. How soon was your first Visit into the City after you received that Note from Major Scott?

A. I do not recollect, but I think it was some Days after.

Q. Whether you do not know that Major Scott was the professed Agent of Mr. Hastings?

A. I did not know that he was the professed Agent of Mr. Hastings; I knew he was a Friend of Mr. Hastings, and attended there to assist Mr. Hastings's Business all in his Power.

Q. Whether you do not know that Major Scott came over from India to be the Agent of Mr. Hastings in England?

A. I have

A. I have heard ſo; but I ſuppoſe, of courſe, Major Scott's Agency ceaſed upon Mr. Haſtings's own Arrival in England.

Q. Whether the Witneſs did not go to Drapers Hall with Mr. Scott the firſt Time?
A. I do not believe I did, but I cannot ſay poſitively—I do not believe I did.

Q. I underſtand Mr. Smith has a Houſe at Drapers Hall?
A. Yes.

Q. He lives there?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you go to his Houſe?
A. Yes.

Q. And who did you inquire for?
A. I generally inquired for Major Scott.

Q. When you went to Mr. Smith's at Drapers Hall, did the Converſation, or not, turn upon the Subject of this Charge at any of the Times?
A. No doubt, it did every Time I went there.

Q. How did it happen, that frequently converſing upon this important Subject, which was a Matter of Charge before this Court, you never took any Means of refreſhing your Memory till this Morning? Did you take any Means to refreſh your Memory till this Morning?
A. I do not recollect particularly; I ſaw all the Papers and Books from Time to Time, with reſpect to this Buſineſs, at Drapers Hall.

Q. (from Counſel.) With regard to the Books you have mentioned, whether they were public or private Letters which the Honourable Committee took under their Charge?
A. They were Copies of public Letters, I believe.

Q. Were thoſe Copies of Letters that were before the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, Copies that were made by you, or who were they made by?
A. They were made by me, or by Perſons employed by me.

Q. Do they alſo appear upon the Bengal Conſultations?
A. I believe they do.

Q. Whether the Books were the Property of the Eaſt India Company, or your own Books: Were they Copies for your own Uſe, or for publick Authority?
A. Copies taken for my own Uſe.

Q. How came you diſpoſſeſſed of them?
A. They were produced by me to the Committee of the Honourable Houſe of Commons, who detained them.

Q. Do you mean the Committee of Managers, or the Committee of the whole Houſe of Commons?
A. The Committee of the whole Houſe.

Q. Were they depoſited with the Committee of the whole Houſe at your Deſire, or by the Authority of the Houſe?
A. I was required by the Houſe to bring them, which I complied with, and they were left there.

Q. Did you deſire to have them back?
A. Not formally.

The Counſel for the Defendant acquainted the Houſe, that as they underſtood the Witneſs was to be called again by the Managers for the Commons, they would defer their Examination of him till ſuch Time as the Examination on the Part of the Managers for the Commons was fully cloſed.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether the Witneſs had any Acceſs to thoſe Papers while they continued in the Cuſtody of the Houſe of Commons, and whether he had not Permiſſion to examine them?
A. I have already informed your Lordſhips I had ſuch Permiſſion from the Houſe of Commons.

Q. Whether you had not Acceſs to them previous to the Time of their being referred to the Committee of the Managers upon this Impeachment?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay when they were referred to the Committee of the Managers; upon my firſt Application, Mr. Burke, One of the Honourable Managers, gave me Permiſſion to have Acceſs to them whenever I pleaſed.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you had not Acceſs to them whilſt they were in the Cuſtody of the Clerk who keeps the Papers of the Committee of the Whole Houſe?

A. I had Acceſs to them.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they had now cloſed their Evidence, ſo far as it related to the Rights of the Begums, and the Guarantee of the Company; and they ſhould now proceed to the Infractions of thoſe Rights: For the better underſtanding of which it would be neceſſary previouſly to explain the preliminary Steps and whole Conduct of Mr. Haſtings, with reſpect to the Nomination of Mr. Middleton to be the Reſident, and in fact his private and confidential Agent, at the Nabob's Court at Lucknow.

Then Mr. Hudſon, being again called in, produced Book 106, intituled, "Bengal Secret Conſultations, from the 25th October to the 28th December 1774."

"At a Council; Preſent,

"The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;

The Honourable George Monſon,

Philip Francis, }

"The Board proceed to the Conſideration of that Part which reſpects the Political State of Affairs in India.

"Read the General Letters of laſt Year to the Court of Directors as far as relate to the Treaty of Benaras and the Rohilla Expedition.

"Read the Treaty of Banaras, and the Vizier's Requiſition for the March of the Brigade.

"Read the Governor's Report on his Return to Banaras.

"The Commander in Chief propoſes, that the Governor General be deſired to lay before the Board his original Correſpondence with the Reſident at the Vizier's Court, and with Colonel Champion commanding the Troops acting in Conjunction with the Army of the Vizier.

"The Governor obſerves on this Propoſition, that he will lay before the Board all ſuch Extracts of the Reſident's and Colonel Champion's Letters as regard the Conduct of Public Affairs; but as they may contain many Things in the Courſe of a free and perſonal Communication, which might not be proper for a public Record, and as he believes that many of them do contain ſuch, he begs leave to decline laying the original Letters, or the Whole of the Correſpondence, before the Board.

"The General, in Reply to the Governor, offers the following for the Conſideration of the Board.

"In order that the Board may judge of the Nature and Extent of the Engagements which have been contracted with Suja Dowla, and how far they have been fulfilled by the taking of Futtergur, and by the entire Reduction of the Rohillah Country, and with a View to our claiming the 40 Lacks of Rupees ſtipulated by thoſe Engagements, and conſequently whether it will be ptoper to ſend an Order for the immediate Recall of the Brigade, or to leave it there, till Suja Dowla pleaſes to ſend it back, it appears abſolutely neceſſary that the Whole of Mr. N. Middleton's and Colonel Champion's Correſpondence, which the late Preſident maintained with them, they being both employed on a Public Service, ſhould be communicated to this Board; and for the Reaſons above ſtated he moves, That the Governor be deſired to lay the Whole of the Correſpondence with the Reſident and Colonel Champion, according to his firſt Propoſal, before the Board.

"The Majority of the Board agree in the General's Propoſition, and reſolve, That the Governor be deſired to give in the Letters moved for by the General accordingly.

"The Governor enters his Diſſent to this Reſolution of the Board, for Reaſons which he will deliver in Writing To-morrow (a)."

" Fort William, the 26th October 1774.

" At a Council; Preſent,

" The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;
Lieutenant General John Clavering,
The Honourable George Monſon,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis, } Eſquires.

" The Governor delivers in the Minute in Diſſent to the Reſolution of the Majority of the Board Yeſterday, which he then promiſed, as follows:

" I diſſent from the Reſolution of the Board, becauſe I do not think the Whole of the Correſpondence which the Commander in Chief deſires to have laid before the Board, is neceſſary for their Information, and becauſe, as I have already declared, there are ſeveral Parts of Mr. Middleton's, which comprehend an unreſerved, and confidential Communication of his Opinion, and of ſuch Occurrences as he judged neceſſary for my private Information, entered into, and carried on by him, on my repeated Aſſurances that I would not reveal any Part of his Correſpondence, which might ſubject him to ill Will or Inconvenience.

" That I had a Right to give Mr. Middleton ſuch Aſſurances at the Time I delivered him his Inſtructions, cannot be doubted; and it will be found perfectly conſonant to the Truſt repoſed in me by the Adminiſtration. It was the Condition and expreſs Declaration of the Board in his Appointment, that he ſhould be my Official Agent in the Maintenance of that Intercourſe with the Vizier, which the Honourable Company had committed eſpecially and ſolely to my Charge, and for which I alone was reſponſible; ſuch were the Ideas and the Practice, with no Exceptions which could invalidate the Rule, of every Adminiſtration in Bengal, from the Year 1757 to the Diſſolution of the late Government, and I will venture to appeal to the Members of the laſt Council, whether they did not underſtand that I was allowed to employ the Services of Mr. Middleton with the Latitude I have deſcribed.

" If the Latitude allowed to me in the Exerciſe of theſe Conſtitutional Powers by the former Adminiſtration, ſhould be deemed under the New Government too extenſive, it depends on them to retrench it; but I conceive that Engagements of whatever Nature contracted by me during that Period, underſtood to be conſiſtent with the Rules of the Service, and the Powers veſted in me, can loſe no Part of their Obligation by a Change of Government. If theſe Engagements were legal, no Power on Earth can authorize me to violate them; much leſs ſhall I ſubmit to an ex poſt facto Law of ſo ſudden Formation: if they were not legal, I ſhall patiently ſubmit to the Cenſure of thoſe to whom only I am accountable.

" I muſt be permitted further to obſerve, That to me the whole Proceeding in this Buſineſs carries the Air of an Inquiſition into my perſonal Conduct, in my Negociations with the Vizir. After having ſolemnly declared to the Board, that I would lay before them every Part of the Correſpondence required, which could give any Information upon Public Affairs; without waiting for this Communication, without knowing whether it would furniſh them with every Light that could be deſired, or whether any Chaſm would be found in the Intelligence, for want of the Reſt of the Correſpondence, they arbitrarily reſolve, That I ſhould expoſe to them all the Minutiæ of a confidential Correſpondence, and betray into public Record the unreſerved Opinions of a young Man, hazarded only on the moſt ſacred Aſſurances of Secrecy, from the only Perſon to whom he looked upon himſelf as accountable in that immediate Duty. I muſt declare, that I regard this as prejudging a Matter not yet compleatly laid before the Board, merely to convey a Cenſure on my former Adminiſtration, in the Branch of Correſpondence with the Foreign Powers, and to introduce the Change propoſed with every Circumſtance of Mortification to me.

" I will conclude with a few Words, which I think neceſſary, reſpecting Mr. Middleton, for obviating any Conſtruction to his Prejudice which may be drawn from what I have ſaid of the ſecret Nature of Part of his Correſpondence. I therefore now declare, that I never either expected or received from him any Information reſpecting Individuals, which the ſtricteſt Honour could not juſtify, nor has he ever conveyed to me an Opinion or a Word reflecting upon the Character of any Gentleman in the Service, unleſs the Letters which I ſhall lay before the Board ſhall be conſtrued to have ſuch Tendency. As to the reſt, I am certain that the whole of Mr. Middleton's Management, including even his moſt ſecret and confidential Correſpondence, whenever it ſhall be publicly known, will reflect Honour, both on his Principles and Abilities, and recommend him to the Notice of his Employers, in a Manner that will be favourable to himſelf, and do Credit to me in the Choice I made of him.

" I have now formally to acquaint the Board, that all the Official Letters of Mr. Nathaniel Middleton, and ſuch Parts, even of his Private Correſpondence, as I can with Propriety ſhew, ſhall be laid before them; a Copy alſo ſhall be delivered of my Letters addreſſed to him, in which I ſhall obſerve the ſame Reſervation.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXIX. (b) Vide Appendix, N° XXX. (c) "All

" All Colonel Champion's Official Letters, ſhall be laid before the Board, with Copies of mine to him if required; but ſuch as have paſſed between us of a familiar and friendly Communication, I do not think myſelf authorized to produce, becauſe they were written only for our mutual Information, and his are expreſsly marked with a diſtinct Mode of Addreſs, for thoſe which are intended for Official, and for thoſe which he intended as confidential. I am the more obſervant of this Rule towards Colonel Champion, becauſe our Correſpondence has not been altogether cordial on many Points; and we have ſeveral Times expoſtulated with each other on theſe Topicks, with the Freedom of private Friends, and in a Stile which though decent in every Degree, is yet different perhaps from the formal Addreſſes of Official Correſpondence.

" (Signed) Warren Haſtings."

" The General thinks it proper to proteſt againſt the Governor's Refuſal to deliver up the Whole of the Correſpondence, and will deliver his Reaſons in a Minute To-morrow.

" Colonel Monſon the ſame; and

" Mr. Francis the ſame.

" Colonel Monſon propoſes the following Queſtion to the Board:

" Whether or not Mr. Middleton ſhould be continued Reſident at the Court of the Vizir, the Governor having refuſed to lay before the Board the Whole of his Correſpondence?

" This Queſtion being accordingly put;

" Mr. Francis thinks that he ſhould not be continued.

" Mr. Barwell thinks that it would be improper to remove him at this Juncture.

" Colonel Monſon thinks that Mr. Middleton ſhould not be continued there.

" The Commander in Chief alſo thinks that he ought not to be continued.

" The Governor objects to the Removal of Mr. Middleton.

" Reſolved by the Majority of the Board, that Mr. Nathaniel Middleton be not continued Reſident at the Vizir's Court.

" The Governor enters the following Diſſent to this Reſolution:

" I diſſent from the Reſolution of the Majority of the Board, for the Diſmiſſion of Mr. Nathaniel Middleton from his Employment; and I hereby enter my ſolemn Proteſt againſt all the Conſequences of ſo violent a Meaſure, which proclaims to all the Powers of Hindoſtan, in almoſt the firſt Public Act of the new Adminiſtration, the total Abolition of the Authority which they have hitherto ſeen exerciſed by me, either in Perſon or through my Official Agent, as the firſt and executive Member of the Government of Bengal, an Authority which has been confirmed to me, by an Act of the Britiſh Legiſlature, and eſpecially aſſigned me by the Inſtructions of the Honourable the Court of Directors, in the Clauſe appointing me the ſole Channel of Correſpondence with the Princes and Powers of India.

" (Signed) Warren Haſtings (a)."

Then the Witneſs delivered in Book 39, intituled, " Bengal Secret Council."

11. " Upon the moſt careful Peruſal of your Proceedings of the 2d December 1776, relative to the Recall of Mr. Briſtow from the Court of the Nabob of Oude, and the Appointment of Mr. Nathaniel Middleton to that Station, we muſt declare our ſtrongeſt Diſapprobation of the Whole of that Tranſaction.

12. " We obſerve that the Governor General's Motion for the Recall of Mr. Briſtow, includes that for the Reſtoration of Mr. Nathaniel Middleton; but as neither of thoſe Meaſures appear to us neceſſary, or even juſtifiable, they cannot receive our Approbation.

13. " With reſpect to Mr. Briſtow, we find no Shadow of Charge againſt him. It appears that he has executed the Board to the entire Satisfaction even of thoſe Members of Council who did not concur in his Appointment. You have unanimouſly recommended him to our Notice; Attention to your Recommendation has induced us to afford him Marks of our Favour, and to reannex the Emoluments affixed by you to his Appointment, which had been diſcontinued by our Order. And as we muſt be of Opinion, that a Perſon of acknowledged Abilities, whoſe Conduct has thus gained him the Eſteem of his Superiors, ought not to be degraded without juſt Cauſe, we do not heſitate to interpoſe in his Behalf, and therefore direct that Mr. Briſtow do forthwith return to his Station of Reſident at Oude, from which he has been ſo improperly removed (a)."

Motion from Mr. Francis,

" Mr. Francis moves, That the 11th, 12th, and 13th Paragraphs of the Company's general Letter of the 18th July 1777; and the 149th Paragraph of the general Letter of the 23d December 1778, be now read.

for the Re-appointment of Mr. Briſtow at Lucknow.

" Mr. Francis moves, That in Obedience to the Company's Orders, Mr. Briſtow be forthwith appointed, and directed to return to his Station, of Reſident at Owde; and that Mr. Purling be ordered to deliver over Charge of the Office to Mr. Briſtow, immediately on his Arrival, and return himſelf forthwith to the Preſidency.

" Alſo, That the Governor General be requeſted to furniſh Mr. Briſtow with the uſual Letter of Credence to the Nabob Vizier."

Read alſo, from the ſame Conſultation, Extract of the Governor General's Minute, beginning at Page 64 of the ſaid Book.

" I will aſk, Who is Mr. Briſtow, that a Member of the Adminiſtration ſhould, at ſuch a Time, hold him forth as an Inſtrument for the Degradation of the Firſt executive Member of this Government? What are the profeſſed Objects of his Appointment? What are the Merits and Services, or what the Qualifications which entitle him to ſuch an uncommon Diſtinction?—Is it for his ſuperior Integrity, or from his eminent Abilities, that he is to be dignified at ſuch Hazards of every Conſideration, that ought to influence Members of this Adminiſtration? Of the former I know no Proofs; I am ſure that it is not an Evidence of it, that he has been enabled to make himſelf the Principal in ſuch a Competition: and for the Teſt of his Abilities, I appeal to the Letter which he has dared to write to this Board, and which I am aſhamed to ſay we have ſuffered. I deſire that a Copy of it may be inſerted in this Day's Proceedings; that it may ſtand before the Eyes of every Member of the Board, when he ſhall give his Vote upon a Queſtion for giving their Confidence to a Man, their Servant, who has publickly inſulted them, his Maſters, and the Members of the Government to whom he owes his Obedience; who, aſſuming an Aſſociation with the Court of Directors, and erecting himſelf into a Tribunal, has arraigned them for Diſobedience of Orders, paſſed Judgement upon them, and condemned or acquitted them as their Magiſtrate and Superior. " The Removal of Mr. Middleton, my Agent at the Court of the Nabob of Owde, was the firſt Act of a Majority of this Adminiſtration, in the Year 1774, to proclaim the Annihilation of my Authority; and the Effect moſt completely anſwered that Intention; for, from that Moment, I was conſidered, both at the Court of Owde and in every other Court which had any Connection with this Government, in no other Light than as the conſtrained Inſtrument of exerciſing an Authority, which had been eſtabliſhed on the Ruins of my own. Such muſt be the evident Effect of the preſent Queſtion, if it ſhall be carried againſt me (b)."

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, K. B.

" The Governor General delivers in the following Minute:

" I cannot, conſiſtently with what I conſider due to the Dignity and Authority of my public Station, and to my own Character and Feelings as a Man, conſent to affix my Signature to the Letters of Credence or Inſtructions of Mr. Briſtow, as Reſident at the Court of Oude. The Court of Directors, after having, in their firſt Inſtructions to this Government, expreſsly enjoined every Member of the Board not only to be guided by the Voice of the Majority, but alſo to ſubſcribe to all Letters, Orders, Acts, and Meaſures, reſulting from the Deciſions of ſuch Majority, have ſince thought proper to compliment General Clavering and Mr. Francis upon their Departure from this Rule, in Inſtances where their Sentiments have not accorded with thoſe of the other Members of the Board. This will be a Juſtification to me in the Reſolution I have taken; for whatever Law is binding an ane* Member of the Adminiſtration, muſt certainly be ſo to the Whole; and although it is a Latitude I neither approve or ſhould in general wiſh to avail myſelf of, yet in this very particular Inſtance I truſt I ſhall ſtand acquitted, not only to my Employers, but to the whole World. I muſt therefore deſire that the Board will deviſe ſome other Means of notifying Mr. Briſtow's Appointment to the Vizier; and as they have thought it incumbent on them, as a Point of official Duty, to revive and put in Force an antiquated Order of the Court of Directors in Favour of Mr. Briſtow, which, for the Reaſons aſſigned in my Minute of Yeſterday, will neceſſarily be conſidered by all the Country Powers as a Superceſſion of my Authority, I am yet willing to hope that the Board will not only liſten to, but afford me their Support, in a Motion which I ſhall beg Leave to make, with a View to repair the Injury which I conceive my public Station has ſuſtained, and avert in ſome Degree the prejudicial Effects which this Meaſure cannot fail to produce on our Affairs. * Sic in Orig.

" I propoſe that Mr. Briſtow's Appointment be limited ſolely to the Conduct of ſuch political Negociations, Correſpondence, and Tranſactions, as this Government may now, or at any future Period, be engaged in with the Vizier, and in no Shape whatever to interfere in any Matters reſpecting our pecuniary Engagements with his Excellency. That a ſeparate Agent be appointed by us to that Truſt, whoſe Duty it ſhall be to receive, collect, and manage the Tuncaws, or Aſſignments, which have been, or may hereafter be, granted by the Nabob for the Liquidation of the Claims of this Government upon him. That he be entruſted with the Adjuſtment of all Accounts relative to theſe Claims with the Nabob, and his Miniſters, with all Diſburſements to the Paymaſters of the Company's Troops ſtationed in the Dominions of the Vizier; as alſo to his Excellency's own Military Eſtabliſhment under Britiſh Officers, &c. remitting the Reſidue of his Collections immediately to us, and that he be directly amenable to our Authority and Orders, and in no Reſpect whatever dependant on, or connected with the Office of the Reſident: And as Mr. Purling cannot continue with a diminiſhed Commiſſion, and as it now becomes more than ever neceſſary that I ſhould have a Perſon in Station in thoſe Provinces, not only in whom I can confide, but who is publickly known to be attached to me, I propoſe Mr. Middleton for the above Office, hoping to meet with the Concurrence and Support of the Board.

Sir Eyre Coote.—I agree to the Governor General's Propoſal of the Appointment of Mr. Middleton to the Office mentioned, not becauſe Mr. Purling may not continue at Lucknow with Debates.

a diminiſhed

a diminiſhed Commiſſion, but becauſe Mr. Nathaniel Middleton is a Perſon publickly known to be attached to the Governor General. The Neceſſity of the Times requires an Appearance of that kind.

Mr. Wheler.—I object to the Queſtion.

Mr. Francis.—The Office deſcribed in the Motion, is the ſame which Mr. Briſtow held before, and which has been held ſince, by Mr. Middleton and Mr. Purling. I know no Reaſon why it ſhould be diminiſhed, and ſo materially altered when it is given to Mr. Briſtow. I therefore cannot conſent to the Propoſition. At the ſame Time, it is a Matter of Indifference to me, by whom the Duties propoſed to be veſted by Mr. Middleton are exerciſed.

" The Governor General's Motion carried in the Affirmative.

" Reſolved accordingly, That Mr. Briſtow's Appointment be limited ſolely to the Conduct of ſuch political Negociations, Correſpondence, and Tranſactions, as this Government may now, or at any future Period, be engaged in with the Vizier; and that he, in no Shape whatever, interfere in any Matters reſpecting our pecuniary Engagements with his Excellency.

" Reſolved, That Mr. Nathaniel Middleton be appointed Agent on the Part of this Government for receiving, collecting, and managing the Tuncaws or Aſſignments which have been or may be granted by the Nabob, for the Liquidation of the Claims of this Government upon him; that he be entruſted with the Adjuſtment of all Accounts relative to theſe Claims with the Nabob and his Miniſters, with all Diſburſements to the Paymaſters of the Company's Troops ſtationed in the Dominions of the Vizier, as alſo to his Excellency's own Military Eſtabliſhment, under Britiſh Officers, &c. remitting the Reſidue of his Collections immediately to us; and that he be directly amenable to our Authority and Orders, and in no Reſpect whatever dependant on or connected with the Office of Reſident.

" Mr. Francis moves, That as the Governor General declines ſigning the Letter of Credence for Mr. Briſtow, Mr. Briſtow's Appointment may be communicated to Mr. Purling by the Board, with Directions to make it known to the Vizier.

" Agreed to.

" Ordered, That Mr. Charles Purling be directed to deliver over Charge of all the Papers of the Office hitherto held by him, which have a Relation to the Office to which Mr. Briſtow has been appointed, to Mr. Briſtow; and that he be directed to deliver over Charge to Mr. Nathaniel Middleton of all the Papers and Accounts of the Office hitherto held by him, which have a Relation to the Office to which Mr. Middleton is appointed, together with the Balance of Caſh in his Hands (a)."

" The Governor General finds himſelf under the diſagreeable Neceſſity of reviving the Subject of Mr. Briſtow's Appointment of Reſident at the Court of the Nabob of Owde, and of moving that he may be recalled. His general Reaſons for this Motion have been recorded very fully in various Parts of the Conſultations, and particularly in thoſe of the 2d and 3d of October, and the 14th of January laſt. To theſe a recent Motive is added in the Neceſſity of removing every Circumſtance which may contribute to leſſen his Influence on the Effect of any Negociations in which he may be engaged in the Proſecution of his intended Viſit to Lucknow, and in the accompanying Letters juſt received from the Nabob Vizier to the Governor General, and to his Miniſter Raja Govindram."

" He was appointed Reſident at Owde in December 1774. In December 1776 he was recalled without the Shadow of a Charge being exhibited againſt him. By our Letter of 4th July 1777, we ſignified our Diſapprobation of the Proceedings againſt Mr. Briſtow, and directed that he ſhould be reſtored to his Station; which Direction we confirmed by our ſubſequent Letter of the 23d December 1778. Mr. Briſtow arrived in India in February 1780, and in October of the ſame Year, it was reſolved by your Board, that Mr. Briſtow ſhould return to Owde; but that his Appointment ſhould be limited ſolely to the Conduct of Political Negociations; Mr. Middleton being at the ſame time nominated to ſettle pecuniary Matters with the Vizier. On the 21ſt of May 1781, upon receiving a Letter from the Vizier, expreſſing his Deſire, that Mr. Briſtow ſhould be removed from his Court, he was again recalled. But without entering into the Conſideration of this Matter, and in order to vindicate and uphold our own Authority, we do hereby poſitively direct, that Mr. Briſtow do forthwith proceed to Owde, in the Station of our Reſident there. We do not mean in the leaſt to reflect on the Character and Ability of Mr. Middleton, who muſt be immediately recalled from thence; but it is a Duty incumbent upon us, thus to maintain the Reſpect due to the Orders of the Court of Directors. You are likewiſe to obſerve, that we ſhall not ſuffer any other Perſon to proceed to Oude, for the Management of the Finance, one Perſon being in our Opinion ſufficient to tranſact our Buſineſs there, as Principal in both thoſe Departments; and we expect our Orders reſpecting the Succeſſion to that Reſidency be fully complied with."

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, that they had thought proper to trace, and to ſubmit to the Houſe, the Steps with which the Defendant appeared to have purſued one Object indefatigably, namely, that of appointing Mr. Middleton to be his private confidential Agent at Lucknow, in order to fix the Reſponſibility afterwards upon the Defendant himſelf; and deſired Leave to obſerve, that the Moment in which he propoſed to recall Mr. Briſtow, and to deliver the Whole of the Papers to Mr. Middleton, was the Day upon which he himſelf propoſed to leave Calcutta and go to Oude. underſtood than I have taken up and ſtated it, I need not ſay I ſhall be ready to conform to whatever you may preſcribe, and to take upon myſelf any Share of the Blame of the (hitherto) Non-performance of the Stipulations made on Behalf of the Nabob; though I do aſſure you, I myſelf repreſented to his Excellency and the Miniſters, conceiving it to be your Deſire, that the apparent Aſſumption of the Reins of his Government (for in that Light he undoubtedly conſidered it at the firſt View), as ſpecified in the Agreement executed by him, was not meant to be fully and literally enforced; but that it was neceſſary you ſhould have ſomething to ſhew on your Side, as the Company were deprived of a Benefit, without a Requital; and, upon the Faith of this Aſſurance alone, I believe I may ſafely affirm his Excellency's Objections to ſigning the Treaty were given up. If I have underſtood the Matter wrong, or miſconceived your Deſign, I am truly ſorry for it; however it is not too late to correct the Error; and I am ready to undertake, and, God willing, to carry through whatever you may, on Receipt of my Publick Letter, tell me is your final Reſolve.

" If you determine, at all Events, that the Meaſure of reducing the Nabob's Army, &c. ſhall be immediately undertaken, I ſhall take it as a particular Favour if you will indulge me with a Line at Fayzabad, that I may make the neceſſary previous Arrangements with reſpect to the Diſpoſal of my Family, which I would not wiſh to retain here, in the Event either of a Rupture with the Nabob, or the Neceſſity of employing our Forces on the Reduction of his Aumils and Troops. " I am happy in hearing a Gentleman named for this high Office, to whoſe Appointment I can ſafely give a poſitive Approbation. I know him to be a Man of Senſe, Induſtry, and Judgment; I have poſitive Reaſons to think that he underſtands the Perſian Language, as well from the Aſſiſtance he has favoured me with in the Letters I have received and anſwered, as from his public Office of Tranſlator to the Khalſa: This Office implies, Knowledge of Buſineſs, Knowledge of Accounts, and Knowledge of Language. Die Martis, 29° Aprilis 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons informed the Houſe, that before they proceeded with an Article of written Evidence, which they were about to ſubmit to the Houſe, they requeſted Mr. Middleton might be called to hear it read, it being his own Wiſh to have an Opportunity of hearing it read before he ſpoke to it.

Mr. MIDDLETON was accordingly called in.

Then the Managers for the Commons ſtated, That the Paper juſt mentioned was a Third Treaty, and Guarantee, ſigned by Mr. Middleton, which it was not their Intention originally to have brought forward as Part of their Evidence; but, finding from ſome Anſwers of Mr. Middleton on a former Day, that it was extremely material, they would now lay it before the Houſe; and, by Way of Elucidation, firſt read a Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Board, previous to his going a ſecond Time to Fyzabad in the Year 1778.

Then a Book, intituled, "Letters to the Board from 1777 to 1782," and marked with the Letter B, was delivered in, and acknowledged by the Witneſs to be one of the Books, containing Copies of his publick Correſpondence, delivered by him to the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, purſuant to an Order for that Purpoſe.

Read, the following Extract from the ſame Book.

"Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Honourable Board.

"Honourable Sir and Sirs,

"I had the Honour to forward you, ſome Time ago, an Addreſs from Mr. Henry John Chandler, requeſting Permiſſion to reſign his Station of Aſſiſtant to the Reſident at this Court; but not having been honoured with a Reply, and the State of Mr. Chandler's Health calling for an immediate Change of Air, I have taken upon me, at his earneſt Requeſt, to yield my Conſent to his Proceeding within the Company's Provinces, where he will again addreſs the Honourable Board, and wait their Pleaſure.

"The growing Differences between the Nabob and the Two Begums, which, * if ſuffered to continue, might be productive of an irreparable Breach, and ultimately be attended with the moſt unhappy Effects to the late Nabob's Family. I have thought it the Duty of my Station, to endeavour to avert theſe Conſequences by a timely Mediation. The Honourable Board have already been minutely informed of the ſeveral Claims of the Two Begums, which, for the moſt Part, appear to me founded in Equity; and the Nabob, although formerly averſe to complying with them, has of late manifeſted ſo ſtrong a Deſire to accommodate theſe Differences, and reſtore the mutual good Underſtanding which ought to ſubſiſt between him and the Two Begums, that I am inclined to believe he would willingly give up many Points which he has hitherto refuſed, to effect this Object. I have therefore, at his Excellency's urgent Solicitations, undertaken a Viſit to Fyzabad, in the Hope that I may be able to remove thoſe ill Impreſſions which have naturally ariſen from mutual Injuries, and adjuſt the Preliminaries of a perſonal Interview, which both Parties appear equally deſirous ſhould take Place: This done, the Nabob has given me his ſolemn Promiſe, that he will immediately join me at Fyzabad; and I entertain the moſt ſanguine Expectations that it will prove the Means of removing thoſe violent Prejudices and Diſguſts which have ſo long prevailed, to the Deſtruction of almoſt every Kind of Intercourſe and Connection between them.

" I ſhall duly inform the Honourable Board of the Reſult of my Proceedings at Fyzabad, and take no Part officially in any Accommodation or freſh Agreements which may take Place between the Nabob and the Begums, without their previous Sanction and Concurrence.

" Fyzabad, I have the Honour to be, &c.
" the 14th September 1778. (Signed) Nath[l] Middleton."

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, That ſubſequent to the Date of this Letter, Mr. Middleton proceeded a Second Time to Fyzabad; they ſhould therefore next produce the Treaty which he then ſigned, and the Letter incloſing the Treaty from the Begum, which was ſent down afterwards.

The Witneſs produced Book 24, intituled, " Publick Perſian Correſpondence, Letters received from the 1ſt of January to the 31ſt of December 1779."

Read, the following Extract, being a Letter from Omut ul Zahra to Mr. Haſtings, beginning at Page 2 of the ſame Book.

" From Omut ul Zahra, the Daughter of Ameen ul Dowlah
" Iſhauk Khan, and Mother of the Vizier.

" Received 1ſt February 1779.

" I have already tranſmitted you a Letter, with a particular Relation of the late Tranſactions here, which you have, I flatter myſelf, honoured with Peruſal, and I ſhall juſt now touch on the moſt material of them.

" As you wrote me that the Ships were ready, and that I might ſet off whenever I pleaſed, relying with the greateſt Confidence on this agreeable Intimation, I was more than ever anxious to proſe-
* Sic in Orig. cute my Pilgrimage to Kerbella *, and was preparing to take with me the Corps of the late bleſſed Nabob, and to begin my Journey, when the Nabob Kukkun ul Dowlah, Mr. Middleton coming here, forbad me to take any Meaſures for that Purpoſe, for the Term of 20 Months longer, after which I ſhould meet with no Obſtruction in the Proſecution of my Deſign. I was accordingly under the Neceſſity of ſuſpending my Journey. After the Period had elapſed, Mr. Middleton came to Fyzabad the firſt Time the latter End of Shabaun, and informed me, in the Courſe of a Converſation we held together, that the Settlement of all Matters depended on the Preſence of the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah. Notwithſtanding the Diſpleaſure I had conceived againſt my Son, yet, at Mr. Middleton's Requeſt, I wrote him an Invitation to Fyzabad, and he came accordingly. Two or Three Days were paſſed in the Duties of Hoſpitality and reciprocal Acts of Affection. After which my ſaid Son ſet all the Buſineſs aſide in the moſt unkind Manner, and ſent me a Meſſage to exchange ſeveral Places, and to change the former Engagements between us. Notwithſtanding I highly diſapproved of the Changes propoſed, becauſe the forming Engagements and changing them, ever tends to remove all Confidence and Security in the moſt ſolemn Acts, yet, for the Satisfaction of Mr. Middleton, and from a Deſire to put an End to all Diſputes, I found no other Means but that of ſubmitting in Silence. Akbur Ally Khan was an Eye-witneſs of the whole Tranſaction from firſt to laſt. By him I ſend you Copies of the new Engagements; and beg Leave to refer you to him for the full Particulars.

" I ſwear by all the Saints, that I have no Hopes of obtaining the Accompliſhment of my Wiſhes but in you.—The World affords me no other Protector. If you approve of the aforeſaid Treaties, be pleaſed to affix your own Seal thereto, that I may be freed from all Apprehenſions, and receive full Confidence and Satisfaction; for without your Seal I cannot place the ſmalleſt Reliance on them. It is neceſſary that you favour me with a Letter to the Gentlemen reſiding here, to afford their Support to my Affairs on all Occaſions, that ſo I may have nothing to do with any other Perſons, nor they with me; and through your Friendſhip to me, may paſs the ſhort Remainder of my Life in Peace and Tranquillity.——How long is the Corps of the late bleſſed Nabob to continue here in the Nature of a Depoſit?

" I am hopeful that you will ſend hither Perſons of Credit, that I may diſpatch the Body with a proper Eſcort under their Charge to your Quarter; from which, you will cauſe it to be tranſ-† Sic in Orig. ported to Kerbella †."

" Incloſures in the Above.

" Copies of the ſeveral Treaties concluded by the Nabob Vizier with his Mother and Mr. Briſtow, &c. as Guarantee to them. Theſe having been before tranſlated and entered, it ſeems unneceſſary to enter any at preſent, except the laſt; to which Mr. Middleton ſet his Hand and Seal as Guarantee, as follows.

" Copy of a Treaty, bearing Date the 11th Ramzaun 1192 Hejeree, 3d October 1778, to which Mr. Middleton affixed his Seal.

" The Vizier of the Empire, the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah Yeyah Khan Huzzebur Jung Bahadre, having given me as Guarantee to the following Treaty concluded with her Highneſs,

I,

I, on the Part of the Engliſh Chiefs, deliver this Writing; to wit, That his Highneſs ſhall faithfully perform all the Articles of the following Treaty which he has entered into with her Highneſs the Bhegum. The Engliſh Chiefs and myſelf are Guarantees for the due Performance of it.

" Whenever her Highneſs chuſes to proſecute her Journey to Kerbella, ſhe is at Liberty to do ſo, and to go either by Land or Sea, as ſhe thinks proper.

" His Highneſs ſhall, without fail, diſcharge the Tunkas of the ſmall Mahals, and ſhall fix and pay a ſuitable Allowance for the Support of the Children of the late bleſſed Nabob.

" Her Highneſs, the ſuperior Bhegum, (the Vizier's Grandmother), and her Highneſs the Vizier's Mother, ſhall, with the Approbation of his Highneſs, contract Alliances for the Marriage of the Sons and Daughters of the late bleſſed Nabob, with whomſoever they judge proper. Should her Highneſs, the ſuperior Bhegum, proceed on a Pilgrimage to Kerbella and the Holy Places, her Highneſs is the Miſtreſs to form the Alliances herſelf, and to conclude the Marriages, with the Approbation of his Highneſs. The neceſſary Expences attendant on the Celebration of the Nuptials of the Sons and Daughters of the late bleſſed Nabob ſhall be paid by his Highneſs from his own Treaſury. Her Highneſs, the ſuperior Bhegum, and her Highneſs, are the Miſtreſſes to contract Alliances for the Sons and Daughters of the late bleſſed Nabob, with the Approbation of his Highneſs; but in all other Matters, excluſive of the Nuptials, his Highneſs is the Maſter.

" Her Highneſs ſhall never be moleſted in the Enjoyment of the Mahals and Jaghiers in the ſubjoined Liſt; viz.

Sullore,	1 Mahal Tellore,	1 Mahal.
Dutwa,	1 D° Khalis, with the Syer Adawlut,	1 D°.
Perſeddepore,	1 D°,	1 D°.
Sumideah,	1 D° Khorah,	1 D°.
Rutth,	1 D° Taunnah,	1 D°.

" Nabob Gunge, &c. Places mentioned in the following Liſt are to be put into his Highneſs's Poſſeſſion, and, in Lieu thereof, his Highneſs ſhall deliver to her Highneſs Places equal to the Amount thereof, in one Spot, to remain in her Highneſs's Poſſeſſion. From this Agreement his Highneſs ſhall in no-wiſe deviate.

Nabob Gunge, with the Villages on the other Side of the Kauhra,
Gulla Daug,
Mints of Owde and Fyzabad,
Bhegum Gunge and Gola Gaut,
Garden of Hurry Sing in Oude,
Rowſa Ghaut in Lucknow,
Bhegum Bazar, in D°,
Garden of Bhara Mull,
Vizier Gunge,
Garden of Noor Uſhaun, Large Rumnah,
Iſmael Gunge, Three Coſs on this Side Lucknow, Iſmael Gunge at Lucknow,
Gorukpore Houſe,
Bazar of the Houſe of Mahomed Buſheer Khan at Fyzabad.

" The Sum of 83,700 Rupees on Account of the Mutiny of the Sepoys, which Mirza Huſſein Reza Khan, &c. engaged ſhould be diſcharged by his Highneſs, his Highneſs engages to pay in Six Months.

" The Jungle of Khaukra, on the other Side of the River, is in her Highneſs's Poſſeſſion.—Should any Diſturbance ariſe therein, his Highneſs will deliver to her Highneſs ſome other Place, to the ſame Amount, in lieu of the ſaid Jungle.

" The Tunkas of Beney Kanim Sahiba and Nowazuſh Ally Khan, commonly called Okka Ally Khan, ſhall be continued by his Highneſs on the former Footing, and paid Monthly.—His Highneſs will likewiſe make regular monthly Payments of Maellage Khan's Tunka.

" His Highneſs has given up the Jaghier Villages of Hikmut Hoſſein Khan, and ſhall not interfere or moleſt the ſaid Jaghier; he ſhall likewiſe pay monthly the Tunkas of the Attendants on the late Nabob's Tomb.

" Moreover, her Highneſs is the Miſtreſs of the Attendants, and returnal Servants, &c. People dependant on her own Sirkar. His Highneſs has no Right of Interference with them on the Plea of Accounts, &c. Further, his Highneſs ſhall never, at any future Period, deſire of her Highneſs to exchange the Places now included in the Jaghier granted to her.

" Moreover, his Highneſs ſhall not, at any future Period, make demand of a Loan, or any other Demand, from her Highneſs. Further, his Highneſs ſhall not, at any future Time, deſire from her Highneſs the Exchange of any Places of the old or new Jaghiers; which old and new Jaghiers were fixed to her Highneſs in the Exchange lately made by the Nabob.

Moreover, his Highneſs has given the illuſtrious Engliſh Chiefs, as Guarantees for the due Performance of the above Stipulations, as long as her Highneſs lives.

I, therefore, on the Part of the illuſtrious Engliſh Chiefs, deliver this written Engagement, that there be no Room for a Change or Failure in the Articles above recited."

" Draft

" Draft of a Declaration on the Part of the Governor General, to be affixed to the Treaty before recited, requeſted by the Begum.

" The Vizier of the Empire of Hindoſtan, the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah Yeyah Khan Bahadre Huzzebur Jung, having called on Mr. Middleton to become Guarantee to a Treaty, he has concluded with her Highneſs the Begum, and that Gentleman having entered into an Engagement conformable thereto, as Guarantee to the ſaid Treaty on the Part of the Engliſh Chiefs; I likewiſe, for the Purpoſe of giving complete Confidence and Satisfaction to her Highneſs the Bhegum, deliver this Engagement under my Hand and Seal, that the Nabob Vizier of the Empire will abide by all the following Stipulations he has entered into with her Highneſs. I am Guarantee thereto; and no Room is left for the *Deviation from the Articles hereafter recited."

* Sic in Orig.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Did you ſign or execute that Treaty?
A. I did.

Q. What Authority had you for ſigning and executing that Treaty?
A. It appeared to me to be ſo conformable to the former Treaty, to which the Engliſh were Guarantee, I conceived the diſcretionary Power of my Office warranted me in giving my Signature to it.

Q. Had you any expreſs Authority beſides what your Diſcretion prompted you to take?
A. I recollect a Letter from the Governor General and Council mentioning that it was the Duty of my Office to interfere upon all Occaſions between the Nabob and the Begum, where his Excellency ſhould attempt to infringe upon any of the Conditions of the former Agreement guaranteed by the Eaſt India Company. The Letter is dated the 23d of March 1778, and I beg Leave to refer to it.

Q. Did you underſtand that Letter as prohibiting you from executing any Guarantee to the Elder Begum?
A. To pledge the Faith of the Company, I certainly did. I conſidered it as a Prohibition to pledge the Faith of the Company to any Agreement with the Elder Begum.

Q. Upon what Authority then did you ſign the Treaty, or do any Thing that ſhould tend towards pledging the Faith of the Company.—How do you diſtinguiſh between pledging the Faith of the Company, and ſigning the Treaty as Reſident and Guarantee from the Company at Lucknow, pledging the Faith of the Company?
A. In one Inſtance the Company would be particularly mentioned; in the other I ſhould only ſign the Treaty, and engage to uſe my Influence, as far as I could, in Support of the Begum, to prevent any Infringement of the Agreement, whatever it ſhould be.

Q. You ſay, that in point of Fact you did underſtand yourſelf to be prohibited from pledging the Faith of the Company, but you did not ſuppoſe you was prohibited from ſigning the Guarantee; and if the Nabob attempted to infringe it, then you, as Reſident, were to take the moſt active Part you could for ſupporting the Begums?
A. Yes.

Q. Is any ſuch Diſtinction made in this Treaty which you ſigned?
A. In the Treaty juſt read?

Q. In the Treaty juſt read, do you obſerve that it makes any Diſtinction between the Two Caſes you have put; the One, of the Faith of the Company being directly and effectually pledged; the other, of the Reſident of the Company, by his Signature, being pledged to prevent any Infringement of the Agreement?
A. I do not obſerve by the Treaty, there is any expreſs Diſtinction.

Q. Then are we to underſtand, that the Elder Begum had exactly the ſame Security, as far as your Signature went, as the Younger Begum?

The Houſe obſerved, That by the Language the Witneſs had made uſe of, he ſeemed to think, there was a Diſtinction between the Faith of the Company being pledged, in expreſs Words, and the Treaty being ſigned by him; which would pledge him, as Reſident, to make all the Terms of it good.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That no ſuch Diſtinction was made in the Treaty; that the Witneſs admitted the Faith of the Company was pledged, by his Signature, to the Younger Begum; and that there was no Diſtinction in the Treaty made with the Elder Begum.

Then the Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Did you underſtand the Faith of the Company to be more pledged to the Younger Begum than to the Elder Begum, by Means of that Treaty?

A. As

A. As far as the Elder Begum was concerned in that Treaty, I conceive the Faith of the Company to be pledged.

Q. As far as the Elder Begum was concerned in that Treaty, you conſidered the Faith of the Company to be pledged to her?

A. Yes.

Q. I have underſtood you hitherto—you did not underſtand the Faith of the Company to be ſo directly pledged by your Signature, as if they themſelves had made an expreſs Engagement for it?

A. That is, in the Treaty with the Elder Begum, to which I have put my Signature.

Q. What do you mean by the Company being more pledged to the Younger than they were to the Elder Begum? In what Senſe did you underſtand theſe Words?

A. In that Treaty they were pledged to both equally; I conſidered the Articles as of no Conſequence. If you advert to thoſe Articles reſpecting the Elder Begum, they are of no Conſequence.

Q. The Queſtion is upon the Treaty previous to this. Why did you conſider the Company to be leſs engaged to the Elder Begum by that Treaty, than by this of the 3d of October?

A. As far as I recollect that Treaty, it was nothing more than a Signature in my individual Capacity as Reſident in the Vizier's Court, to uſe my Influence upon all Occaſions to prevent the Nabob from interfering with the Rights of the Elder Begum. I have already declared to your Lordſhips I have no Sort of Recollection of ſigning that Treaty; I ſpeak now of what, probably, was the Motive to induce me to ſign it, if I did ſign it.

Q. To prevent the Vizier from interfering, with what did you ſay?

A. With the Elder Begum.

Q. With the Rights of the Elder Begum?

A. With the Claims of the Elder Begum.

Q. Did you ſay any Thing more than that?

A. No.

Q. You had no Recollection of ſigning that?

A. No poſitive Recollection.

Q. Have you any Recollection?

A. I have none. I have no Recollection of ſigning it.

Q. If you do not recollect you ſigned that Treaty in Fact, how do you recollect the Diſtinction between the Authority of the Two Treaties?

A. I have only ſuppoſed I did ſign the Treaty, and ſigned it in the Manner I have now explained it to your Lordſhips.

Q. It is upon that Suppoſition?

A. Upon that Suppoſition only. I have not a ſufficient Recollection; indeed, I have no Recollection of it: But I take it for granted it was ſigned, as it appears ſo upon the Face of it.

The Managers for the Commons deſired, that the following Paſſage in the Defendant's Anſwer, delivered in at the Bar of the Houſe of Lords, might be read to the Witneſs (a).

The ſame was accordingly read.

"And that the Governor General and Council, the ſaid Warren Haſtings being then Governor General, did thereupon direct the ſaid Mr. Middleton to make ſuch Repreſentation to the Nabob as is ſtated in the ſaid Article: And the ſaid Warren Haſtings does not know or believe, that any other Interferences, Powers, or Authorities, were made, given, granted, or confirmed by the ſaid Governor General, and the ſaid Council, for the Purpoſe aforeſaid; and he denies that any Guarantee of the Britiſh Nation, or any Guarantee of any Kind whatſoever, was, by the Reſident, under the Authority of the ſaid Warren Haſtings, ever pledged to the ſaid Elder Begum for her Protection."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether you furniſhed Mr. Haſtings with any Minute to that Effect, in aſſiſting him to make his Defence to this Article of the Charge?

A. I cannot ſay I remember the particular Minutes I furniſhed Mr. Haſtings with; they were in general ſuch Information as occurred to me upon the Affairs of Oude.

Q. But do you recollect whether you furniſhed him with that particular Minute or not?
A. I do not.

Q. Did you receive, after executing this Treaty, any Sanction or Approbation of that Meaſure from Mr. Haſtings?
A. I received a Letter from Mr. Haſtings by Ackbur Ali Cawn, which I beg leave to ſtate to your Lordſhips. It is a Letter, dated the 29th of March 1779.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they would read the Letter immediately: They only wiſhed firſt to aſk,

Q. Whether the Witneſs knew who Ackbur Ali Cawn was?
A. I cannot ſay I remember his Perſon; but I underſtood him to be an Agent of the Younger Begum, and to have gone down from the Younger Begum as Agent to the Governor General.

Q. But whether he was in her Service, or in what Capacity, you do not know?
A. I do hot know.

Then a Book, intituled, "Letters from the Board, from 1775 to 1782," marked C, was delivered in.
Read, the following Extract, being a Letter from the Defendant, dated, Fort William, 29th March 1779, to Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Court of the Vizier.

"To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Court of the Vizier.

"Sir,

"This ſerves to introduce to you Akber Aly Khan, diſpatched to me with Letters by the Bahoo Bhegum, for whom I deſire your Civilities and Attention.

"From the Bhegum's Letters, and the Papers of which ſhe has ſent me Copies, I am ſurprized to obſerve, that although the Nabob has repeatedly entered into ſolemn Engagements with her, and the Name of the Company pledged for the Performance of them, yet none of them have been obſerved any longer than the Nabob thought proper.—Such Inſtances of Breach of Faith bring our Name, as well as the Nabob's, into Diſcredit. The Bhegum informs me, that ſhe ſhall reſt ſatisfied with the laſt Engagement contracted with her by her Son, to which you have ſet your Seal on the Part of the Company as Guarantee, provided ſhe can be aſſured it will be obſerved.

"I muſt therefore deſire that you will make uſe of your Influence with the Nabob, to prevent his attempting any Act contrary to theſe Engagements; and that if he ſhould at any Time ſo far forget himſelf as to make it neceſſary, you declare to him peremptorily in my Name, and on the Part of the Council, that we will pay all due Attention to the Bhegum, and afford her Aſſiſtance in all Matters when ſhe may have Occaſion to require it, and which have a Relation to theſe Engagements.

"I am, Sir,

"Fort William, the 29th March 1779.

Your moſt obedient Servant,
(Signed) Warren Haſtings."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. Did you underſtand that Letter to be a full, compleat, and perfect Sanction and Approbation of the Treaty which you had ſo ſigned?
A. I did.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they had no further Queſtions to put to the Witneſs upon the Subject of the Treaty.

Q. (Croſs examined.) The Witneſs has ſaid, he conſidered that Letter as a full Sanction and Approbation of the Treaty he had ſigned. I wiſh him to be aſked, what Treaty he refers to, and with whom made?
A. The Treaty with the Bhow Begum.

Q. Of what Date?
A. The Date is the 3d of October 1778.

Q. Did you underſtand that Sanction and Approbation as relating to that Treaty only?
A. To that Treaty only; certainly.

Q. (from a Lord.) If I miſtook not, in hearing the Letter read, there are theſe Words, "and all the other Engagements;" if theſe Words appear upon the Face of the Treaty, I would wiſh to know what you underſtood by them?
A. I underſtood, all the other Engagements with the Bhow Begum. I underſtood the Letter to refer ſolely to the Engagements with the Bhow Begum.

Q. Did

Q. Did you underſtand the Treaty as referring ſolely to the Bhow Begum?
A. I have obſerved there were ſome Clauſes in it reſpecting the Elder Begum.

Q. Can you tell upon what Foundation you underſtood the Letter to refer not to thoſe Clauſes reſpecting the Elder Begum, but to thoſe reſpecting the Bhow Begum only?
A. To the whole Treaty I underſtood it to refer.

Then the following Queſtions, and Anſwers of the Witneſs thereto, were read by the Clerk.

Q. Did not the Nabob, at the Time of executing the Treaty of 1775, give her a Coolnama as a Pledge upon that Occaſion?
A. I underſtood he did.

Q. Was that Coolnama tranſmitted to Calcutta, or any Copy of it?
A. I was not at Lucknow at that Time.

Then the Witneſs was aſked:

Q. (from a Lord.) Was that Coolnama, which you underſtood to be granted in the Year 1775 by the Nabob to the Bhow Begum, ſigned by you?
A. No: I was not there at the Time.

Q. You ſay you did not ſign the Coolnama, as you know of?
A. Not that I know of.

Q. Do you remember ſigning any Coolnama, if you did not ſign that in the Year 1775?
A. The One that has been read To-day.

Q. You call that a Coolnama?
A. I call that a Coolnama.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether you ever tranſmitted to Mr. Haſtings, or to the Board, that Treaty which was entered into in October 1778, or the Inſtrument, whatever it was?
A. I do not remember whether I did or not.

Q. Recollect, if you can, whether you did or did not?
A. I ſhould rather think I did not, as I do not underſtand that it appears upon the Correſpondence.

Q. Whether you underſtood, that the Board knew or received any Account of the Tranſaction, till the Time the Younger Begum ſent down her Agent to the Board with an Account of it?
A. I ſhould apprehend not.

Q. Then I ſhould be glad to know, if that Account had not been ſent down, and the Board had no Knowledge of that Tranſaction, whether your Signature and Guarantee would have bound the Company's Faith?
A. If any Cauſe had ariſen in which I ſhould have had Occaſion to recur to the Powers of that Guarantee, I muſt of Neceſſity have made a Reference to the Governor General and Council.—I ſhould conceive it would.

Q. You conceive the Government would have been bound, though they had not given any poſitive or ſpecifick Sanction to it?
A. I ſhould conceive they would, becauſe I conceive this Coolnama to be very little or nothing more than a Confirmation of the former Coolnama, which had been ſanctified by the Approbation of the Governor General and Council.

Q. (from a Lord.) I ſhould be very glad to know for what Reaſon it was, that you did not ſend an Account of this material Tranſaction, either to the Governor, or the Board?
A. I could have had no other Reaſon, than not conſidering it as a new Tranſaction, but merely a Confirmation of the former Coolnama of 1775.

Q. I ſhould be glad to know then, now the Treaty has been read to you, whether, by comparing it with the former, you are ready, upon your own Obſervation, to ſay they are preciſely the ſame?
A. They are not preciſely the ſame; there are ſome Exchanges of Conditions propoſed and agreed to by the Nabob and the Begum mutually.

Q. Whether there is not a Clauſe, whereby the Nabob binds himſelf to demand no Loan of the Elder Begum?
A. No; I do not recollect it.

The following Paſſage of the ſaid Treaty was read.

" Moreover, his Highneſs ſhall not, at any future Period, make Demand of a Loan, or any other Demand, from her Highneſs. Further; his Highneſs ſhall not, at any future Time, deſire ſire from her Highneſs the Exchange of any Places of the old or new Jaghires:" Which old and new Jaghires were fixed to her Highneſs in the Exchange lately made by the Nabob.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. In what Light did you conſider the Guarantee, in reſpect of the Jaghires: Did you underſtand it to protect the ſpecifick Property guaranteed, or to allow a Reſumption of it, in Conſideration of an Equivalent? Did you underſtand the Eſtate in the Jaghire to be ſecured, or only the Rent and Value of it?

A. That is Matter of Opinion; which I could wiſh your Lordſhips would excuſe my ſpeaking to.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Why did you omit to inform the Board of this Treaty which you ſigned upon the 3d of October 1778?

A. I can aſſign no Reaſon for it.

Q. I underſtood you to ſay, when the Queſtion was put to you before, that you looked upon the Articles to be but ſmall Changes from what was contained in the Treaty of 1775?

A. Yes; I did ſay ſo.

Q. Was that your Reaſon; or had you no Reaſon?

A. I have no Reaſon that I can at this Time recollect.

Q. At the Time you ſigned any of thoſe Treaties as Guarantee, or as a Reſident, did you produce to the Begums, or to the Nabob, any Authority for doing ſo?

A. I do not recollect producing any Authority; it is probable, that having ſuch Authority, I ſhould mention it to them.

Q. (from a Lord.) When you ſigned any Treaty, guaranteeing the Company, how were the Nabob, or the Begums, to know that the Treaty, by which they bound themſelves, was, or was not, actually guaranteed by the Company, unleſs your Authority was produced to them conſtantly?

The Witneſs deſired the Queſtion to be repeated.

The Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Did you explain to the Nabob, or to the Begum, or had they any Means in the World of knowing, when you ſigned the Treaty, whether they had, or had not, to depend upon the Company for the Performance of it?

A. It is moſt probable I did explain to the Begum the Authority upon which I acted;—I could not produce the Authority of the Board, becauſe it would not have been intelligible to the Begum.

Q. By the Anſwers you have made, there is a Difference in your Account of the Tranſactions with thoſe Princeſſes, between a Treaty ſigned under the expreſs Guarantee of the Company, and a Treaty only ſigned by yourſelf as Reſident;—the Queſtion propoſed to you is this;—whether, according to your Knowledge and Belief, they were appriſed of that Diſtinction, or not?

A. I ſhould apprehend that the Bhow Begum was appriſed I had Authority to guarantee her Treaty; the Elder Begum could not have underſtood any Thing of that Kind, as I certainly had no expreſs Authority for it.

Q. See whether I make myſelf underſtood by you. You have ſtated this Sort of Difference: That the Company was bound, where they were expreſsly named Parties, and where they gave Authority and Ratification to what was done: But you think they were not bound by the ſimple Act of your Signature, as Reſident. The Queſtion propoſed to you is this; Did the Begums, or did they not, know of the Diſtinction that you make between the different Modes of Guarantee?

A. They probably did: I have no Doubt but they did.

Q. (from a Lord). You have ſaid, in Anſwer to a former Queſtion, that you thought the Company were bound by your Signature; which you afterwards explained to be only, becauſe it was a Confirmation of a former Treaty. I wiſh to know, how the Begums, or the Nabob, could poſſibly know that ſuch a Diſtinction exiſted, which made the Guarantee void or valid?

A. I muſt certainly have explained to the Bhow Begum, what the Extent of my Authority was, what the diſcretionary Powers of my Office were: I do conceive, and I have no Doubt, I informed her at the Time, that I conſidered the Act I did, by confirming the Agreement between her and the Nabob, as nothing more than the Confirmation of the former Coolnama: I have no Doubt I informed her ſo at the Time.

Q. Attend to the Queſtion: You make a Difference between a Treaty authoriſed by, and afterwards expreſsly ratified by the Company, and a Treaty ſimply ſigned by the Reſident, without ſuch previous Authority, or ſubſequent Ratification. The ſingle Queſtion now put is; How you ſuppoſe the Princes of that Country ſhould be appriſed of that Diſtinction: Did you ever make that Diſtinction known to them?

A. I don't recollect that I did.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether you conſider your Signature as pledging the Faith of the Company, though you might be culpable yourſelf for doing it without Authority?

A. No; I do not conceive it would in all Caſes.

Q. According to your Opinion of the Tranſaction, do you ſuppoſe the Nabob would be bound upon the one Side, if your Signature would not bind the Company upon the other: Have you formed any Opinion upon it or not?

A. No, I have not.

Q. (from a Lord.) The Queſtion is, whether the Nabob, or the Princeſſes, or either of them, did or did not underſtand the Treaty to be binding upon the Company by Means of your Signature only?

A. It would ſeem the Begum did not, as ſhe ſent down her Agent to Calcutta expreſsly to get a Confirmation of it from the Governor General and Council.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether upon the following Queſtion being aſked, upon a former Examination, "Do you know, from your Reſidence in that Country, whether by the Uſage of Indoſtan, and according to the Opinion of the People of that Country, the Atteſtation of a Perſon of the Rank of Sir Robert Barker is conſidered as a Guarantee"—You did not anſwer—"I think it is?"

The Managers for the Commons were informed, That the proper Queſtion to be put was, whether the Witneſs conſidered the Atteſtation of Sir Robert Barker, in the Situation in which he was, as a Guarantee binding upon the Engliſh Nation?

A. The Queſtion was not aſked, What I conſidered, but what the Parties contracting would conſider. I did ſuppoſe, from the high Situation in which Sir Robert Barker ſtood, the Nabob Fyzoola Cawn would conſider it as pledging the Faith of the Company.

Q. What was Sir Robert Barker's Situation?

A. He was Commander in Chief of the Britiſh Army, with conſiderable Powers, as I underſtood, of Negotiation.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether the Signature of the Reſident employed by the Company to treat with the Nabob, or any other Prince, would not be of as much Conſequence, and whether the Company would not be as much bound by it, as they would by the Atteſtation of Sir Robert Barker in the Situation in which he ſtood?

The Witneſs deſired the Queſtion to be repeated.

Q. You have ſaid you had ſome Knowledge of the Situation in which Sir Robert Barker was, and it is a Compariſon between Sir Robert Barker's Situation and yours as Reſident at Lucknow: The Queſtion is, Whether, upon that Compariſon, as well as you are able to make it, you think that the Signature of the Reſident at Lucknow would not be as effectual to bind the Company, as the Atteſtation of Sir Robert Barker to a Treaty?

A. It would be much the ſame, I ſhould conceive.

Q. (from a Lord.) Had you any written Credentials given you by the Company to be preſented to the Vizier at Lucknow, when you went to reſide there, explaining the Nature and Extent of your Powers?

A. To the beſt of my Memory I had a Letter from the Governor General to the Nabob, informing him generally of my Appointment to reſide at his Court.

Q. That Letter was preſented?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you make any other Repreſentation to the Nabob, beſides what that Letter contained, of the Extent of the Powers with which you were charged?

A. No; I do not think I did.

Q. Do you know whether the Bhow Begum received from Mr. Haſtings any other Account of your Authority there, beſides what the Letter of Credence gave her?

A. No; I do not know that ſhe did.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, They would now read a Paſſage to the Witneſs from his own Book, to which he had been daily recurring, in order to refreſh his Memory.

Then Book 109, intituled, " Bengal Perſian Correſpondence," was delivered in.

Read, Extract of a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to the Mother of the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah, beginning at Page 287 of the ſame Book. Written the 18th December.

" ——Mr. Middleton is going on my Part to reſide with the Vizier. I have recommended to his ſtricteſt Attention whatever you may wiſh to have effected. I beg you will regard whatever he may repreſent to you as coming from myſelf; and I do not doubt, but that by his good Offices he will be able to accompliſh what I have greatly at Heart—the Re-eſtabliſhment of Confidence and Affection between you and the Vizier your Son."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. Did you conſider that as a Letter of Credence to the Bhow Begum?
A. Yes, I did; but I beg Leave to obſerve, that this is not one of my Books: I applied repeatedly this Morning for a Sight of it to refreſh my Memory, with reſpect to the Treaty that has been read, without being able to obtain a Peruſal of it.

Q. Did you, or not, remember that Letter, at the Time you gave the former Anſwer?
A. I never ſaw that Letter before, nor knew of it.

Q. Was you the Bearer of that Letter yourſelf?
A. Not as I remember; I do not remember carrying any Letter to the Begum whatever.

Q. From all you recollect in the Correſpondence, do you recollect any other Letter from Mr. Haſtings to the Bhow Begum, which credited you to her?
A. Not at this Moment.

Q. The Witneſs has ſaid, he never heard or read this Letter before; I would aſk, Whether he was not in Court, the other Day, within a few Yards from where he now ſtands, when that Letter was read here?
A. I do not remember ever hearing the Letter before.

Q. (from a Lord). Whether you mean to ſay, you never ſaw that Letter at any Time, according to your Memory; or only, that you have never ſeen it ſince you came to England?
A. I never recollect to have ſeen it at any Time.

Q. Whether it is the Cuſtom of the Reſident's Office to keep, in the Office, Tranſlations of all Perſian Letters; and to ſend thoſe Tranſlations, together with the original Letters themſelves, to Calcutta?
A. I do not underſtand it to be a general Cuſtom: In ſome Caſes, no Doubt, it may be ſo.

Q. Do you remember this—Whether a Copy of that Letter which Mr. Haſtings wrote to the Begum, was ſent to you as the Reſident?
A. I do not remember that any Copy was ſent; I do not recollect the leaſt about it.

Q. (from a Lord). I wiſh to know, whether Mr. Haſtings, in any Converſation previous to your going to the Reſidentſhip, expreſſed to you, that he had ſent the Begum Word, you were to be conſidered by her as the confidential Agent, or Miniſter, between him and the Begum; and to take care of her Concerns?
A. I cannot charge my Memory with any ſuch Converſation: But I take it for granted, Mr. Haſtings would inform me, he ſhould write to the Begum of my Appointment; and that he would inform the Begum of my Appointment.

Q. (from the Managers.) Whether in the Intercourſe between the Britiſh Governor and any of the Princes of India, the Authority of a Reſident to tranſact with them, has ever been doubted?
A. I recollect One Inſtance, in the Caſe of the Nabob Fyzoola Cawn.

Q. Would a Doubt, ſuggeſted in that Manner by One of the Indian Princes, be looked upon as diſreſpectful to the Government, or to the Reſident who repreſented that Government?
A. I did look upon it in that Light.

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired an Extract of a Letter from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Barwell, dated 20th April 1778, might be read.

Read, the following Extract from Book 77, already delivered in, beginning at Page 210 of the ſame Book.

" To Mr. Daniel Barwell.

" As I conſider the Doubts and Suſpicions Fyzoolah Khan has thought proper to manifeſt, and indeed to declare, of my being duly authoriſed to act in this Buſineſs, as a perſonal Inſult to myſelf, and as the higheſt Indignity to the Authority I have the Honour to repreſent; it is therefore therefore incumbent upon me, as well in Juſtice to my own Feelings, as in Support of the publick Authority veſted in me, to inſiſt upon his receiving the Guarantee in the Form, and under the Sanction, it has been tranſmitted to him, or upon your putting a Stop to all further Negociation with him, and immediately withdrawing yourſelf from his Court. I cannot, conſiſtently with my Duty, and the Dignity of my Employers, aſſent to any other Alternative; for, to gratify Fyzoolah Khan in his preſent Demand, would not only be to deviate from an invariable Practice of the Service, and tacitly to ſubmit to the Inſult he has offered to my publick Character, but would alſo be admitting a Precedent which might, and certainly would, be fraught with Conſequences entirely deſtructive of that deciſive Conduct on many Occaſions expected from me, as well as allowing him to dictate to the Honourable Board, and, in Fact, to arrogate to himſelf the Right of preſcribing the Terms of their Indulgence."

[Signed, at the End of the Letter]

" Lucknow,
20th April 1778.

Nathaniel Middleton,
Reſident at the Vizier's Court."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. Whether, if either of the Begums had doubted your Authority to become a Guarantee, you would not have made them an Anſwer ſimilar to that?

A. If the Bhow Begum had done it, I certainly ſhould.

Q. Why not, if the Elder Begum had?

A. Becauſe I had no Authority for any Agreement with the Elder Begum.

Q. The Queſtion is a general one: Whether if any Perſon, with whom you pretended to have an Authority to treat, had doubted the Fact of your having ſuch Authority, you would not have treated their Doubt in the Manner you treated this of Fyzoola Cawn?

A. I think I ſhould.

Q. Did you ever tell the Elder Begum, that you had no Authority to pledge the Faith of the Company?

A. I cannot charge my Memory with ſuch a Communication to her. I am pretty certain I never told her that I had ſuch an Authority.

Q. In your Tranſactions with the Elder Begum, do you ſuppoſe ſhe would have concluded you had ſuch Authority, unleſs you had told her negatively, you had not?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay what might have been her Judgment.

Q. Was there any Thing in your Tranſactions with her, that would have given her to apprehend you had ſuch Authority, unleſs you had expreſsly denied having ſuch Authority?

A. I fancy not.

Q. Did you, or not, think your Authority was general at that Court, that you had a ſufficient Authority to tranſact any Thing there?

A. I did not conceive the general Authority of my Situation to be of that Extent.

Q. You are deſired to recollect yourſelf; and ſay, whether, according to your Memory, as far as you were concerned in it, the Governor General was left in total Ignorance of the Tranſaction of the 3d of October 1778, till Acbar Ali Cawn carried thoſe Inſtruments to him?

A. I have no Knowledge which induces me to think the contrary.

Q. (from a Lord.) An Extract of a Letter from the Witneſs has been read, in which he promiſes to give an Account of the Succeſs of his different Negociations, and of the Steps he is to take: I would aſk, whether any, and what Notice, was taken of that Letter by the Board or by the Governor General; whether they ever obſerved upon his total Silence from the Time that he made that Promiſe, in which he expreſsly ſays, that he ſhall give them an Account of his Succeſs? Do you recollect the Letter that has been read, in which you promiſed to give the Government an Account of the Succeſs of your Tranſactions?

A. Yes.

Q. Then the Queſtion put to you is, Whether any Notice was ever taken by the Government of that Letter, or of your not having given an Account of thoſe Tranſactions in Conformity to it?

A. No: I do not recollect any Notice was taken.

Q. (from a Lord.) I underſtand the Witneſs to have ſaid, that he made Application this Morning to the Managers upon the Part of the Commons, for Leave to inſpect certain Books in their Cuſtody, in order to refreſh his Memory, and that ſuch Permiſſion was refuſed.—I wiſh to aſk, to whom did he make ſuch Application, and who it was that ſo refuſed him?

A. I hope I have not been underſtood to have made any ſuch Charge againſt the Honourable Managers. I came down here early this Morning, under an Aſſurance that I ſhould be allowed to ſee my own Books, as well as a Book of Perſian Correſpondence, which I wiſhed to refer to for the Peruſal of that Treaty which has been juſt read to your Lordſhips. I had Acceſs to my own Books, which were in the Cuſtody of Mr. White, who, I believe, is Clerk to the Committee of the Honourable Managers.—But this other Book of the Perſian Correſpondence, not belonging to me, I could not get Acceſs to it.

Peruſal

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, that the Book of Perſian Correſpondence was in the Cuſtody of the Houſe, for the Purpoſe of the Evidence delivered on a former Day being printed.

Then the Managers for the Commons ſtated, they had done entirely upon the Head of the Treaties. They ſhould proceed therefore to aſk a few Queſtions of the Witneſs, relative to the intimate and confidential Connection between him and Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Whether you conſidered yourſelf as in a peculiar Degree of Confidence with Mr. Haſtings while you were Reſident at Lucknow?

A. I did conſider myſelf as poſſeſſing a conſiderable Share of Mr. Haſtings's Confidence.

Q. Whether you had not frequently ſeparate Communications with Mr. Haſtings upon Publick Affairs;—Communications which were not addreſſed to, nor made to the Board?

A. It is poſſible I might, upon ſome Occaſions, communicate with Mr. Haſtings ſeparately from the reſt of the Board:—Poſſibly I might.

Q. Private Letters?

A. Private Letters.

Q. I do not aſk "poſſibly," but did you, or did you not?

A. I did.

Q. Did you ever conſider Mr. Haſtings's ſeparate Direction to you as a ſufficient Authority to you to act? Did you receive from Mr. Haſtings any ſeparate Directions, not purporting to be Orders from the Board?

A. Not till Mr. Haſtings came up to Chunar, inveſted with the Whole Authority of the Board. I was then inſtructed to conſider him and his ſingle Authority as the Authority of the Board.

Q. Then, before Mr. Haſtings came up to Chunar, you do not remember to have received any Inſtructions from him, which did not purport to be the Inſtructions of the Board?

A. No; no Inſtructions upon which I could take any official Step.

Q. Whether you can take upon you to ſay, you never acted in a publick Manner upon the Direction which you underſtood to be Mr. Haſtings's ſeparate Direction, apart from the Reſt of the Board?

A. Previous to that?

Q. Previous to Mr. Haſtings's Arrival at Chunar?

A. I cannot ſay I can call to my Mind any Inſtance where I did take any official Step upon a private Intimation from Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Whether you conſidered your Publick Correſpondence as a Matter addreſſed to the Board, and over which the Board at large had the Controul?

A. Certainly I did.

Q. Whether you ever, at any Time, delivered any Part of your publick Correſpondence to Mr. Haſtings, by the private Order of Mr. Haſtings, and without any Order from the Board?

A. I muſt beg Leave to enter into an Explanation upon this Subject. When I firſt went up to the Court of the Vizier Sujah ul Dowlah, my Appointment was that of Agent to Mr. Haſtings; I was directed to correſpond with him alone, upon every Matter that ſhould come within my Department. I did ſo; and, upon the Appointment of the new Government, they were pleaſed to call upon me for all my Correſpondence with Mr. Haſtings, during the Period I had reſided at the Court of Sujah ul Dowlah: But conceiving myſelf to have acted in that Court by the ſole Authority of Mr. Haſtings, and myſelf to be amenable to him for all my Acts there, I did not conſider myſelf as warranted in giving up that Correſpondence to any Authority but his; and I therefore did refuſe it to the Government, when they demanded it of me; and it was afterwards delivered up to Mr. Haſtings, at his Requiſition.

Q. Did not that Correſpondence relate to publick Matters?

A. It belonged to both publick and private; to perſonal Matters.

Q. Was not the Time you are ſpeaking of, long prior to the Treaty of Chunar, and the new Government? How long before the Appointment of the new Government, had you been appointed Agent under Mr. Haſtings?

A. I think it was in the Year 1774, I was appointed there.

Q. Did you underſtand yourſelf as the private Agent of Mr. Haſtings down to the Year 1781?

A. No.

Q. When

Q. When did your private Agency with Mr. Haſtings determine?
A. Upon my Recall by the New Government.

Q. When was that?
A. About the End of the Year 1774.

Q. I thought your Firſt Appointment had been in the Year 1774?
A. In the Beginning of the Year 1774.

Q. Do you recollect when you was recalled?
A. I was recalled in October 1774.

Q. Therefore your private Agency with Mr. Haſtings was from the Beginning of the Year 1774 till October 1774, when you was recalled by the new Government?
A. Yes.

Q. Was you his private Agent at Lucknow at any other Time but that?
A. No.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether after the Period of your Recall in 1774, you ever delivered up any Part of your Correſpondence to Mr. Haſtings? When was it, in Fact, that you delivered up the Correſpondence to Mr. Haſtings that you refuſed to the Government?
A. I do not recollect the exact Period when I delivered it up to him.

Q. Did you ever withhold, or refuſe to deliver up, any of your Correſpondence at any other Time than that?
A. Never, any other Correſpondence.

Q. Did you ever propoſe, after you ceaſed to be Mr. Haſtings's private Agent, to write any publick Letters in ſuch Form as Mr. Haſtings himſelf ſhould preſcribe, different from the Letters you had wrote to him before?
A. I do recollect an Inſtance in Anſwer to a publick Letter from Mr. Haſtings, mentioning to him in a private Letter, that if I had miſunderſtood his Directions, and acted upon Principles that he did not wiſh; if I had acted upon miſtaken Principles, I was willing to correct the Letter, and to make it conformable to his Wiſhes: I have a Recollection of ſuch an Inſtance.

Q. Do you mean that theſe Letters were to be ſubſtituted in the Place of Letters which had been actually written?
A. It was in Anſwer to a Letter written by himſelf: At this Time Mr. Haſtings was up the Country, and had all the Powers of Government veſted in himſelf.

Q. Was your Propoſal to write to him another Letter upon the ſame Subject, upon which you had written him a former Letter, to be ſubſtituted in the Place of that former Letter, and that the former one was to be withdrawn?
A. The private Letter, which I have juſt mentioned, accompanied a publick Letter, and, in the private Letter, I declared myſelf to the Purpoſe I have juſt now mentioned.

The Letter was ordered to be read.

The ſame was accordingly read, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 203 of the ſame Book.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, 30th December 1781.

" I have this Day anſwered your publick Letter in the Form you ſeemed to expect. I hope there is nothing in it that may to you appear too pointed. If you wiſh the Matter to be otherwiſe underſtood than I have taken up and ſtated it, I need not ſay I ſhall be ready to conform to whatever you may preſcribe, and to take upon myſelf the Share of the Blame of the (hitherto) Non-performance of the Stipulations made on Behalf of the Nabob; though I do aſſure you, I myſelf repreſented to his Excellency and the Miniſters, conceiving it to be your Deſire, that the apparent Aſſumption of the Reins of his Government (for in that Light he undoubtedly conſidered it at the firſt View,) as ſpecified in the Agreement executed by him, was not meant to be fully and literally enforced; but that it was neceſſary you ſhould have ſomething to ſhew on your Side, as the Company were deprived of a Benefit, without a Requital; and, upon the Faith of this Aſſurance alone, I believe I may ſafely affirm his Excellency's Objections to ſigning the Treaty were given up. If I have underſtood the Matter wrong, or miſconceived your Deſign, I am truely ſorry for it; however it is not too late to correct the Error; and I am ready to undertake, and, God willing, to carry through whatever you may, on Receipt of my Publick Letter, tell me is your final Reſolve.

" If you determine, at all Events, that the Meaſure of reducing the Nabob's Army, &c. ſhall be immediately undertaken, I ſhall take it as a particular Favour if you will indulge me with a Line at Fyzabad, that I may make the neceſſary previous Arrangements with reſpect to the Diſpoſal of my Family, which I would not wish to retain here, in the Event either of a Rupture with the Nabob, or the Neceſſity of employing our Forces on the Reduction of his Aumils and Troops. This done, I can begin the Work in Three Days after my Return from Fayzabad.

"I am, &c. &c.

"Nath. Middleton (a)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether this Letter was not written at the Time the Negociations and Tranſactions were going on reſpecting the depriving the Begums of their Treaſures and Jaghires?

A. It was.

Q. Whether you had not a Publick and Private diſtinct Correſpondence going on with Mr. Haſtings during the Whole of the Tranſactions reſpecting the Jaghires?

A. I was in Correſpondence with Mr. Haſtings the whole Time, both publickly and privately, as appears from the Letters on Record.

Q. Have all your private Letters upon that Subject appeared, or were they afterwards delivered up by you to Mr. Haſtings?

A. None were delivered up by me to Mr. Haſtings. I believe they all appeared upon that Subject.

Q. It is a Miſtake in putting the Queſtion: The Queſtion is, Whether they were afterwards delivered up by Mr. Haſtings?

A. No.

Q. All the private Letters were not delivered up by Mr. Haſtings?

A. All the Letters that paſſed upon this Subject, both publick and private, I believe are upon Record. I delivered none up to Mr. Haſtings, nor did he deliver up any to me.

Q. Whether all the Letters you wrote to Mr. Haſtings, or which you wrote to any other Perſon, in order to be communicated to Mr. Haſtings, upon that publick Buſineſs reſpecting the Begums, were delivered up, and whether they are all upon Record?

A. I believe they are.

Q. Have you looked to the Records wherein this Correſpondence is entered?

A. I have ſeen the Books that have been publiſhed upon this Buſineſs.

Q. Do you believe thoſe Books contain all the Letters you wrote upon that Subject?

A. They contain all, that I have the leaſt Recollection of, upon the Subject.

Q. Had you any private Correſpondence with Sir Elijah Impey to be communicated to Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject?

A. I had.

Q. Do thoſe appear upon Record?

A. They do.

Q. Upon what Records?

A. Upon the Proceedings of the Committee of the Houſe of Commons.

Q. I underſtood you, by Records, to mean the Tranſactions of the Government at Calcutta?

A. No; they do not appear upon the Record there.

Q. You had a Letter read to you juſt now: I do not know whether I perfectly underſtand the Effect of it. Did you mean, in that Letter, to make Mr. Haſtings an Offer of withdrawing the Letter you had actually written to him upon a publick Subject, and to ſubſtitute any other Letter in the Place of it in a different Form?

A. If it is not taking up too much of your Lordſhips' Time, I wiſh the Letter and my Anſwer to be read.—Your Lordſhips will then ſee there is ſome Difference of Sentiment and Opinion between me and Mr. Haſtings, and I wiſhed to make it palatable to him. I was fearful I might have expreſſed myſelf with too much Warmth.

Q. The Suggeſtion that aroſe in my Mind, upon reading that Letter, was this, that you meant to make an Offer to Mr. Haſtings, of withdrawing the Letter you had written?

A. Of altering that Letter, if I had expreſſed myſelf in Terms offenſive to him: Of withdrawing that Letter, and writing another more conformable to his Wiſhes.

Q. Did you mean to alter that Letter in any other Reſpect, than with regard to perſonal Expreſſions to Mr. Haſtings: Did you mean to alter it with reſpect to any publick Tranſaction?

A. No.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 514.

Read,

Read, the following Extracts from Book 82 before delivered in, beginning at Page 188 of the ſame Book.

" Appendix to Conſultations, 12th June 1783.

" Mr. Nathaniel Middleton, Reſident at the Vizier's Court,
" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c. &c.

" Sir,

" The ſolemn Call you have made upon me, in your Commands of the 26th inſtant, with which I was honoured Yeſterday, demands from me the moſt unreſerved and decided Reply: And that I might not advance any Thing haſtily, I took all Yeſterday to deliberate upon my Reply. For the Sake of Perſpicuity, I have thought it beſt to recapitulate the ſeveral Paragraphs of your Letter, and arrange my Anſwers to them reſpectively in the ſame Order.

" 1ſt. My Mind has been, for ſome Days, ſuſpended between Two oppoſite Impulſes; One ariſing from the Neceſſity of my Return to Calcutta; the other, from the Apprehenſion of my Preſence being more immediately and more urgently wanted at Lucknow. Your Anſwer to this ſhall decide my Choice.

" To this Paragraph I freely anſwer, that your Preſence is in no Shape neceſſary here, but, on the contrary, could not fail of being of conſiderable Retardment to the Collections; becauſe, in theſe Countries, the Motions of Governors are looked upon to imply great intended Exertions, and, with them, great Changes; conſequently, all Agents in publick Stations, from the higheſt to the meaneſt, put an immediate Stop to all their Avocations, and gaze motionleſs for the Reſult. This is the Height of the Kheriff Collection; and any Impediment now thrown in the Way loſes the Produce of the Crop. The encloſed Statement ſhews what I have received, and what I have diſburſed. It will, at firſt Sight, evince the Importance of realizing every immediate Reſource. The current Diſburſements of the Second Brigade have not been made good: and the Arrears due from the Nabob to the late temporary Brigade and Cavalry, agreeably to Stipulations, have not yet been liquidated.

" 2d. I have waited thus long in Hopes of hearing that ſome Progreſs has been made in the Execution of the Plan which I concluded with the Nabob in September laſt. I do not find that any Step towards it has yet been taken, though Three Months are elapſed; and little more than that Period did appear to me requiſite to have accompliſhed the moſt eſſential Parts of it, and to have brought the Whole into Train. This Tardineſs, and the Oppoſition prepared to the only decided Act yet undertaken, have a bad Appearance.

" In Reply to the Second Paragraph, I beg Leave to refer you to my former Letters, ſtating the turbulent State of the Country. Three Months is a Period in which the Changes you allude to probably might have been effected in Times of perfect Tranquillity; but when all the Diſtricts acroſs the Gogra were in Arms, and all the Jagheerdars (a very numerous and powerful Body) were very little ſhort of the ſame State in every Diſtrict, and for the regulating and Reduction of whom, the Aumils were principally to be applied to, could a general Change, or Attack upon thoſe Aumils, with Eaſe have been undertaken? I think not;—but I put this Argument of the Practicability or Impracticability out of the Queſtion, as it was not that Conſideration which prevented me from enforcing the Meaſures recommended by you to the Nabob in the Treaty. The Fact is this; I did not underſtand, at the Period of executing the Agreement between you and the Vizier, that your Intention was, that the Whole of the Reform propoſed was, in its fulleſt Extent, to take place this Year; nor, indeed, at all, if the Company's Debt became liquidated. I conceived your Interference in the Nabob's Government tended ſolely to eſtabliſh the Means of the moſt ſpeedy Payment poſſibly of the Company's Debt, and that whenever this ſhould be accompliſhed, every Shadow of Interference was to be deſiſted from, which I ſtated to the Nabob and the Miniſters; and I believe upon the Faith of that Aſſurance principally was his Excellency's Acquieſcence obtained. For the Proſecution of theſe Meaſures, I looked to the occaſional Aſſiſtance of the Regiments of the Subſidiary Brigade as permitted in the Treaty, and your ſubſequent Inſtructions, and intended employing the Aumils and their Sebundy, in the firſt Inſtance, for the Reduction of the Jagheerdars, that I might not have the whole Country to attack at once. This Mode of Proceeding threatened no Interruption to the Collections, but an immediate Increaſe of Means in hand to defray the Charges of the Troops, without which previous Point even our own Army muſt be uſeleſs. The Meaſure of reſuming the Jagheers involved many, and ſome very powerful Intereſts, ſubject to much Odium, from the Diſappointment of the Parties, deprived of their Means of Subſiſtence; and in ſuch extenſive Dominions, under a Government ſo irregular in its Conſtitution, and ſo ſhaken as this is, it could not be effectually accompliſhed in a Day. However it is now effected nearly throughout (with the Nabob's Sanction, which, at the Point of Execution, there was the moſt alarming Difficulty to obtain), and in a very few Days I truſt it will be enforced; and bad as the Appearance of Oppoſition may be, I truſt to be able to execute the whole Reform, without Delay, upon the Grounds I ſhall ſtate in my Anſwer to your Paragraphs ſucceſſively.

" 3d. I approve the Nabob's Reſolution to deprive the Begums of their ill employed Treaſures. In both Services it muſt be your Care to prevent an Abuſe of the Power given to thoſe that are employed in them. You yourſelf ought to be perſonally preſent. You muſt not allow any Negociation or Forbearance, but muſt proſecute both Services until the Begums are at the entire Mercy of the Nabob, their Jagheers in the quiet Poſſeſſion of his Aumils, and their Wealth in ſuch Charge as may ſecure it againſt private Embezzlement. You will have a Force more than ſufficient to effect both theſe Purpoſes.

" To the 3d Paragraph I ſhall only ſay, that I march To-morrow with the Nabob to enforce both the Services you exact in it; and if I ſucceed, as I have the ſtrongeſt Reaſons to hope, in obtaining large ready Money Reſources towards liquidating the Arrears to the Troops, which form a large Proportion of the Debt to the Company, I have not a Doubt of accompliſhing every End you have now declared you look to the inſtant Performance of: But as Troops alone can do it, their Aſſiſtance cannot be depended upon without previous Pay, or the Poſſeſſion of certain Means in hand for that Purpoſe, as it follows that an immediate Stop to all Collections muſt enſue, from any general Military Exertion.

" 4th. The Reformation of his Army, and the New Settlement of his Revenues, are alſo Points of immediate Concern, and ought to be immediately concluded.—Has any Thing been done in either?

" To the 4th, I anſwer that nothing has been done, for the Reaſons aſſigned in my Anſwer to the Second Paragraph.—If I erred in the Judgment I had formed of your Intentions, I can ſay no more, as it is paſſed, than that the Inſtant the Fyzabad Buſineſs is finiſhed ſucceſſfully, which cannot take more than One Fortnight from the Day of marching there, I ſhall take ſuch Steps as the Means in my Power will admit of, towards procuring from the Nabob the Orders to each Aumil to pay his Groſs Revenue to the Miniſters, and to receive the Pay of their Troops, being reduced into regular muſtered Eſtabliſhments, from the general Treaſury; and ſhould he refuſe I will iſſue my own, together with thoſe of the Miniſters to that Pur-

" 5th. I now demand, and require you moſt ſolemnly to anſwer me: Are you confident in your own Ability to accompliſh all theſe Purpoſes, and the other Points of my Inſtructions? If you reply that you are, I will depart with a quiet and aſſured Mind to the Preſidency; but leave you a dreadful Reſponſibility if you diſappoint me.—If you tell me that you cannot rely upon your Power, and the other Means which you poſſeſs, for performing theſe Services, I will free you from the Charge. I will proceed myſelf to Lucknow, and I will myſelf undertake them; and, in that Caſe, I deſire, that you will immediately order Bearers to be ſtationed for myſelf and Two other Gentlemen between Lucknow and Illahabad; and I will ſet out from hence in Three Days after the Receipt of your Letters.

" 6th. I am ſorry that I am under the Neceſſity of writing in this preſſing Manner. I truſt implicitly to your Integrity. I am certain of your Attachment to myſelf; and I know that your Capacity is equal to any Service. But I muſt expreſs my Doubts of your Firmneſs and Activity; and, above all, of your Recollection of my Inſtructions, and of their Importance.

" 7th. My Conduct in the late Arrangements will be arraigned with all the Rancour of Diſappointment and Rapacity; and my Reputation and Influence will ſuffer a mortal Wound from the Failure of them. They have already failed in a Degree; ſince no Part of them has yet taken place, but the Removal of our Forces from the Doaub and Whitcund, and of Britiſh Officers and Penſioners from the Service of the Nabob; and the Expence of the former thrown, without any Compenſation, on the Company.

poſe; as I did in a former Inſtance, when the Nabob refuſed his Perwannahs for the Reſumption of the Jagheers, and ſhall further enforce the Execution againſt each diſobeying Aumil, by marching againſt him and diſplacing him.—Theſe Three Points complete the Heads of your Recommendations to the Nabob; the Fourth Article, which was the Separation and Limitation of his own Diſburſements to the Medium of his Receipts for the laſt Three Years, having already taken Place; and then no Aſſignments will remain upon the Country, but thoſe of the Company, as expreſſed in the Treaty.

" To the 5th, I confidently reply, that I am fully competent to undertake and effect the Completion of the Reform upon the Grounds ſtated in my Anſwer to the 4th Paragraph; and therefore again repeat, that your coming here is unneceſſary; and that, as far as regards the Duties of my Station towards the Execution of your Orders, you may depart in Conviction, that neither Activity or Firmneſs ſhall be wanting in the Exertion of every Means within my Power. And thoſe Means I can foreſee no Deficiency in, upon the Permiſſion I have of calling upon Colonel Morgan for Aid, and the Receipt of Aſſets at Fyzabad. For theſe Reaſons, therefore, I have not thought it neceſſary to lay the Bearers that you conditionally ordered.

" In Reply to the 6th Paragraph, nothing need be offered by me, by * my Acknowledgement, for the Juſtice you do to my Sentiments towards your Perſon and Government.

* Sic in Orig.

" To the 7th. If your Conduct ſhould be arraigned, as you ſuſpect, I can at all Times teſtify, that upon the Plan of the foregoing Years, the Receipts from the Nabob were only a Deception; and not an Advantage, but even an Injury to the Company; for by the accumulating Increaſe of the Demands upon him, and the proportionate Decreaſe of his Means, only his Debt to the Company encreaſed, with a Diminution of Proſpect of its Liquidation; while the Company's actual Money or Aſſets went to the Payment of the Troops, ſuppoſed to † maintained ſolely at the Vizier's Expence.

or about 20,00,000 of Current; which never yet has been the Caſe from the annual Jaidads, or current Collections; conſequently, the Plan was a Fallacy: For the Difference between this Amount and the Remittances to the Preſidency, was an actual Loſs that the Company annually ſuſtained, inſtead of a ſuppoſed Advantage of a Brigade of Infantry and Cavalry being totally defrayed by the Nabob. From this, therefore, I may ſafely conclude, that the Remiſſion to the Nabob of this inſufferable Burthen, was a Profit to the Company, whenever the extra Troops, paid by the Nabob, ſhall be diſbanded, or quartered upon other Neighbours who are protected by our Power, and the Debt put into a probable State of ſpeedy Liquidation.

" 8th. I expect a Supply of Money equal to the Diſcharge of all the Nabob's Arrears, and am much diſappointed and mortified that I am not now able to return with it.

" To the 8th Paragraph—If the Supply expected at Fyzabad ſhall prove adequate to the Diſcharge of all Arrears due to the Troops, and afford an adequate Fund for a Liquidation of the Company's Debt, it will remain at your Option to employ it as a Remittance to the Preſidency, or the future Payment of the Troops you may ſtill think neceſſary to keep up, to regulate the Nabob's internal Government, in regard to which I ſhall hope for your Determination when I can inform you of what Means I poſſeſs.

" 9th. Give me an immediate Anſwer to the Queſtion which I have herein propoſed, that I may loſe no more Time in fruitleſs Inaction.

" To the laſt Paragraph I truſt you will find all my Anſwers as explicit and deciſive as you could wiſh them; and that they will enable you to determine upon yielding with Confidence to the Impulſe ariſing from the Neceſſity of your Preſence at the Preſidency.

Reſident at the Vizier's Court (a)."

" Lucknow,
" the 30th December 1781.

Q. Is this the Whole of the Letter and the Anſwer?
A. Yes.

Q. Was there a private Letter which went with this beſides?
A. There was.

Q. Where is the private Letter?
A. It has been juſt read.

Q. Would you wiſh to have your private Letter read again?
A. No.

Q. Then what is the Explanation which you give of the Terms of that private Letter beyond what you have given?

A. In this Letter which has juſt been read, I give my Opinion of the Object and the Intention of Mr. Haſtings's Agreement with the Nabob at Chunar:—It appears I miſunderſtood him; that I had not taken it up in the ſame Point of View that he had, and, therefore, that I had not performed what he expected immediately upon my Arrival at Lucknow. I conſidered the Treaty to aim only at the Payment of the Company's Debt: If there was any Proſpect to accompliſh that without the direct Interference which the Treaty warranted, that I was to avoid that Interference. Mr. Haſtings in his Letter to me did not conceive it in that Light: No Meaſures of Conſequence had been taken upon that Treaty. I was therefore willing, if he ſhould diſapprove of the Terms in which I had expreſſed myſelf to him, to have borne any Share of the Blame in not executing his Orders. I was willing to have adopted his Sentiments upon the Nature and Extent of the Chunar Treaty, and to take upon myſelf the Blame of not having carried his Orders into ſpeedier Execution.

Q. What did you mean by this Propoſition to Mr. Haſtings, " If you wiſh to have the Matter otherwiſe underſtood, I am ready to conform to your Wiſhes."—Did you, or did you not, mean to withdraw

withdraw that Letter you then wrote, and to ſubſtitute another Letter, containing a Difference of the Tranſactions?

A. Of the Tranſactions to come, for nothing had paſſed.

Q. Do you mean now to ſay, that you meant only to tell him you would entertain other Purpoſes, and purſue them, and ſubſtitute a Second Letter in Place of the Firſt?

A. No, I cannot ſay I meant that.

Q. Did you mean to ſubſtitute a Second Letter in Place of the Firſt at all?

A. I meant, if I had expreſſed myſelf contrary to his Wiſhes, certainly I meant to have altered the Letter.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether you meant to have expreſſed yourſelf differently as to the Matter, or only in Point of Form?

A. In ſome Reſpects as to the Subject Matter of it. I meant to leave out thoſe Parts where I had ſo much miſunderſtood his Intentions: I meant to have left them out altogether.

Q. How did you know that you had miſunderſtood his Intentions?

A. I knew from his Letter that my Sentiments upon the Nature and immediate Purport of the Chunar Treaty and his, were very much different; we differed very widely.

Q. That is what you meant: You conceive by that Letter that you expreſſed yourſelf as having been of a different Opinion?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you know it otherwiſe than from that Letter?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Do you not ſtate in that Letter, that the Nabob had refuſed to ſign the Treaty of Chunar, but upon the Explanation which you had given to the Nabob?

A. I believe I ſtated in that Letter, that I did conceive my Arguments with the Nabob principally influenced him to ſign the Treaty.

Q. Did you mean to deny thoſe Arguments, and that Conſtruction, as Mr. Haſtings ſhould pleaſe, and to give a different Repreſentation of them?

A. If I had found they were offenſive to Mr. Haſtings, I probably ſhould have left them out altogether;—I ſhould not have expreſſed myſelf ſo.

Q. Whether you meant that the publick Letter you actually wrote ſhould have been upon Record, if it had been contrary to Mr. Haſtings's Wiſh that it ſhould have been ſo?

A. It reſted with Mr. Haſtings to put it upon Record or not, as he thought proper; the whole Power and the Government were veſted in him at this Time; and I was directed to correſpond with him only, upon the Subject of my Office.

Q. Did not that Letter contain Statements of Facts, with reſpect to the Situation of the Country?

A. It did.

Q. Did it not contain an Opinion of yours to this Purpoſe, that the Receipts of the Nabob were a Deception, and not of Advantage, but even an Injury to the Company?

A. It did.

Q. Did you mean to alter the Statement of thoſe Facts and Opinions, according as Mr. Haſtings ſhould deſire?

A. Not of that: I fancy Mr. Haſtings was of the ſame Opinion. I did not mean to alter that certainly.—What I meant to have altered, was chiefly to have left out what I had ſaid upon my Conduct, reſpecting the Execution of the Chunar Treaty.

Q. What did you mean by the Expreſſion, "if you wiſh the Matter to be otherwiſe underſtood, I ſhall conform to whatever you will preſcribe?"

A. I meant, in general, that if he wiſhed it ſhould be underſtood that the Treaty of Chunar was to be carried into immediate Effect, in all its Clauſes, that I ſhould not offer any Opinion upon that, or declare the Part that I had taken to influence the Nabob to give his Signature to it.

Q. That is, you were to withdraw the Letter you had actually written, and to write another Letter, omitting the Opinions, and the Tranſactions with the Nabob?

A. Yes.

Q. Were there any other Inſtances in which your Correſpondence with Mr. Haſtings was ſent to him, upon the Terms that he might alter them if he pleaſed?

A. No; I do not recollect any other Inſtance.

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired a Paſſage from a Letter might be read to the Witneſs.

Read,

Read, the following Extract of a Letter from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Haſtings, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 90 of the ſame Book.

" My dear Sir, " Lucknow, 12th October 1781.

" Incloſed I take the Liberty of tranſmitting Copies of the ſeveral Papers you ſigned previous to my Departure from Chunar.—The original Agreement between you and the Nabob I am afraid to truſt to the preſent Uncertainty of the Dauks: It ſhall however be forwarded the Moment you deſire it, and an authentic Copy may, in the mean Time, anſwer your immediate Purpoſe.—Theſe Papers I have put under a ſealed Cover, that you may not have them opened and entered, before you wiſh them to become publick.

[Signed at the End of the Letter]

" Nath'. Middleton."

Q. What were thoſe Papers which you put under a ſealed Cover, that they might not be opened and entered, till Mr. Haſtings wiſhed them to become publick?

A. They were all the Papers connected with the Treaty of Chunar.—Mr. Shee's Recall; the Meaſure of recalling all the Officers belonging to the Company in the Vizier's Service; in ſhort, all the Papers connected with the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. What was your Motive for ſending the Papers in that Form to Mr. Haſtings?

A. At the Time the Papers were ſent, the Meaſure of recalling the Britiſh Eſtabliſhment from the Nabob of Oude, and the Temporary Brigade, had not been publiſhed; it was not my Province to judge how far it would be proper to publiſh thoſe Papers, before Mr. Haſtings had made his neceſſary Arrangements.

Q. Do you remember whether the Treaty of Chunar was with theſe Papers?

A. I fancy it was; I cannot poſitively ſay; I take it for granted it was.

Q. Who had at that Time the original Treaty of Chunar; and where did thoſe Papers come from?

A. From Lucknow.

Q. In whoſe Poſſeſſion were they, at that Time?

A. I believe the Treaty of Chunar was carried, by Miſtake, to Lucknow by me: I think, that, with ſome other Papers, was carried by Miſtake.

Q. Do you remember whether Mr. Haſtings applied to you, while at Lucknow, after the Treaty of Chunar, for a Copy of the original Treaty?

A. I remember an Application by Mr. Haſtings for the Papers, generally, which I had carried to Lucknow.

Q. But you do not recollect any Application, particularly, for a Copy of the Treaty?

A. Not particularly for the Treaty: but a general Application for all the Papers I had carried to Lucknow.

Q. Then this Letter, with the original Treaty between you and the Nabob, in which you ſay, " I am afraid of truſting to the Uncertainty of the Dawks:" Do you recollect when you forwarded that? Do you recollect how long after it was, that you forwarded the original Treaty, or the Copy, to Mr. Haſtings: Did you ſend an authentic Copy with thoſe other Papers mentioned in the Letter of the 12th of October 1781?

A. I believe I did. The Original remained, and was forwarded, I think, about Six Weeks afterwards.

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired that a Letter from the Witneſs to the Court of Directors, relative to the Production of his Correſpondence, dated the 31ſt of May 1786, might be read.

The ſame was delivered in, and read.

" Thomas Morton Eſquire, Secretary to the Court of Directors of the Honourable the United Eaſt India Company.

" Sir,

" I have had the Honour to receive your Letter of Yeſterday's Date, encloſing Copy of an Order of the Honourable Houſe of Commons for the Production of " ſuch Part of the Correſpondence which paſſed between Warren Haſtings Eſquire and myſelf, in our official Capacity, during my Reſidence at the Court of the Vizier, in the Year 1774, as may not already have been laid before the Court of Directors; together with all Papers and Documents relating to the publick Service, tranſmitted in the Courſe of that Correſpondence; and alſo any Diary or Minutes relating to publick Affairs, which I might have kept during that Period;" and ſignifying to me the Commands of the Court of Directors, that I forthwith tranſmit to them all ſuch Correſpondence as is deſcribed in the ſaid Order, to enable them to comply therewith.

" In Reply to the above, I beg Leave, through you, Sir, to teſtify my utmoſt Reſpect for the Commands of the Honourable Court of Directors, and my Readineſs, on all Occaſions, to yield implicit Obedience to them; but, in the preſent Caſe, I am unfortunately precluded from a Compliance with their Requiſition; having, many Years ſince, delivered up to Mr. Haſtings, by his peremptory Order, the Whole of my Correſpondence with him during the Period alluded to, containing his own original Letters, and Copies of mine, together with every other Paper or Document appertaining to that Correſpondence; and I beg Leave to aſſure the Honourable Court of Directors, that I am not poſſeſſed of a ſingle Letter, either Original or Copy, or of any other Paper whatever, belonging to it, or relative to the publick Affairs in which I was then employed.

" In Reply to the laſt Part of the Order, it will, I hope, ſuffice to aſſure the Honourable Court of Directors, that I never kept any Diary, Minutes, or other Document, of my Proceedings at the Vizier's Court, than was contained in my Correſpondence; not, as I recollect, being bound to it by any Inſtructions from the Governor, under whoſe ſole Orders I acted, nor holding it to be a Rule of cuſtomary Obſervance in the Service.

" I have the Honour to be, Sir,
your moſt obedient humble Servant,

" Harley Street, the 31ſt May 1786. Nath. Middleton."

Then the following Extract of General Inſtructions to the Governor General and Council, dated the 29th of March 1774, before delivered in, beginning at the Second Paragraph, was read.

" We direct that you aſſemble in Council Twice every Week, and that all the Members be duly ſummoned; that the Correſpondence with the Princes, or Country Powers in India, be carried on by the Governor General only; but that all Letters ſent by him be firſt approved in Council, and that he lay before the Council at their next Meeting, all Letters received by him in the Courſe of ſuch Correſpondence, for their Information: We likewiſe direct, that a Copy of ſuch Parts of the Country Correſpondence be communicated to our Board of Trade, (to be conſtituted as herein-after mentioned), as may any Ways relate to the Buſineſs of their Department."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether you are aware of that Part of the General Orders of the Court of Directors to their Servants in India? Was you apprized of it?

A. No; I cannot recollect that I have heard it before.

Q. (by the Counſel.) Whether you did, after writing the Publick and Private Letters of the 30th of December 1781, ever withdraw the Publick Letter, and ſubſtitute any other in its Room?

A. No.

Q. Whether you was ever deſired by Mr. Haſtings, after writing that Letter of 1781, to do ſo? Did Mr. Haſtings ever deſire you to do ſo?

A. No, he did not.

Q. (from a Lord.) In the Letter juſt read, you ſpeak of a peremptory Order of Mr. Haſtings, in Conſequence of which, you delivered up the Whole of your Correſpondence to him; in what Manner was that Order communicated to you?

A. By Letter.

Q. What was the Date of that Letter?

A. I cannot exactly tell the Date.

Q. Do you, or do you not, recollect the general Purport of that Letter; the Reaſons aſſigned, if any were aſſigned, for the total Surrender of the whole Correſpondence?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection no Reaſon was aſſigned; but I was ordered, as ſoon as poſſible after the Receipt of that Letter, to deliver up the Whole of that Correſpondence.

Q. Did you receive that Letter in England, or in India?

A. In India.

Q. (from a Lord.) Can you bring to your Memory how long it was before Mr. Haſtings left India that you received that Letter?

A. It muſt have been ſeveral Years; I cannot ſpeak with any Preciſion.

Q. Was it before or after the new Government?

A. After the new Government.

Q. (from a Lord.) Do you know what is become of that Letter?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Have you any Copy of it?

A. Not as I know of.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would now proceed to a new Head of Evidence, to ſhew the real Motives which, they conceived, exiſted in Mr. Haſtings's Mind, for taking the Journey to Oude when he left Calcutta in the Year 1781. As to the Illegality of the Powers he then aſſumed, it was already in Evidence before the Houſe, upon the Benares Charge, and therefore it was unneceſſary for them to enter into it again upon this Article.

Then Mr. Robert Hudſon was called in again, and produced Book 35, intituled, "Bengal Secret Council, from 2d April to 14th June 1781."

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 21ſt May 1781, beginning at Page 1298 of the ſame Book.

"Fort William, 21ſt May 1781.

"At a Council; Preſent,
The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident; and Edward Wheler Eſquire;
Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, K. B. abſent on Command at the Preſidency of Fort Saint George.

"The Governor General delivers in the following Minute.

"The Province of Oud having fallen into a State of great Diſorder and Confuſion, its Reſources being in an extraordinary Degree diminiſhed, and the Nabob Aſoph ul Doulah having earneſtly intreated the Preſence of the Governor General, and declared, that unleſs ſome effectual Meaſures are taken for his Relief, he muſt be under the Neceſſity of leaving his Country, and coming down to Calcutta, to repreſent his Situation to this Government; the Governor General therefore propoſes, with the Concurrence of Mr. Wheler, to viſit the Province of Oude, as ſpeedily as the Affairs of the Preſidency will admit, in Hopes that from a minute and perſonal Obſervation of the Circumſtances of that Country, the Syſtem of Management which has been adopted, and the Characters and Conduct of the Perſons employed, he may poſſibly be able to concert and eſtabliſh ſome Plan, by which the Province of Oude may, in Time, be reſtored to its former State of Affluence, good Order, and Propriety.

"In remedying Evils which have grown to ſo great a Height, Exertions will be required more powerful and immediate in their Application than can be made through the delegated Authority of the Servants of the Company now in that Province. The Undertaking is arduous and difficult, and the Governor General is far from being ſanguine in his Expectations, that even his Endeavours will be attended with much Succeſs, as the Time which he can ſpare will, he fears, be too ſhort for accompliſhing the Ends propoſed. The Object however is of Importance, and the Attempt at leaſt deſerves to be made.

"The preſent Time affords the moſt favourable Opportunity for the Governor General's Viſit. The Ships of the Seaſon for Europe are all diſpatched. The Buſineſs of the Revenues is put into an eaſy Channel, and will not require much of the Board's Attention; and nothing of any Conſequence can happen, after the ſetting in of the Rains, that can materially affect the Tranquillity of the Country, or the general Syſtem of Politicks. But what chiefly renders the preſent Opportunity favourable, is the mutual Confidence which, after a Period of ſo many Years, is at Length happily reſtored between the Members of this Adminiſtration, which enables the Governor General to leave Calcutta, with the fulleſt Reliance that the Affairs of the Preſidency, under the Charge of Mr. Wheler, will ſuffer no Detriment from his Abſence, and he is thoroughly convinced, that ſuch a confidential Communication will ſubſiſt between them, that the Buſineſs in which he and Mr. Wheler may be reſpectively engaged, will meet with the Concurrence and Approbation of both.

"It is hoped that the Governor General's Viſit to Owde will alſo afford him an Opportunity of negociating effectually with the Berar Government, and fixing Modagee Bhoſelah to act decidedly and openly in our Favour. Dewagur Pundit, his Miniſter, who has long dictated the Politicks of the Court of Nagpore, has often profeſſed an Intention of meeting the Governor General to concert Meaſures with him for the mutual Benefit and Safety of the Governments of Bengal and Berar. But whilſt nothing is done to fix his Intentions to a particular Period and Place, they might be poſtponed from Time to Time, and never carried into Execution. When he is informed of the Governor General's Deſign of proceeding to Owde, and that One of the Objects of this Journey is to give him a Meeting at Benares, it is probable that he will ſurmount thoſe Obſtacles and Difficulties which have hitherto retarded, and might otherwiſe ſtill continue to retard him from carrying his Intentions into Execution.

"The Governor General thinks, that about the 15th of July he will be ready to leave the Preſidency."

"Mr. Wheler.—The Governor General's Repreſentation of the preſent State of the Province of Owde, I believe to be but too well founded; and am convinced, that it will require his utmoſt Abilities

lities and Powers, applied and exercised on the Spot, to restore it to its former good Order and Affluence.

" I admit the Force of the Governor General's Arguments, proving the present Season to be the most favourable for his leaving the Presidency; and the more readily agree to them, from the Opportunity it will afford of negociating effectually with the Berar Government: But notwithstanding the Greatness of the Objects, which may, and I trust will be attained by the proposed Expedition, I am persuaded that nothing but the Harmony and good Understanding which at this Time prevails in the Council, could induce the Governor General to withdraw his Attention from the Affairs of the Presidency at a Crisis like the present; and unless convinced that I was so fortunate as to possess his entire Confidence, and that I might rely upon receiving his Support and Sanction to the Measures I might deem proper to pursue in his Absence, I should, at this Time, accept with Reluctance so weighty a Charge. For although it may not be difficult to provide for the usual Occurrences of this Government, yet such others may, during his Absence, intervene, and demand immediate Decision, as are not within the Reach of human Foresight; and, in such Instances, I should not be able to exert myself, under the Influence of Distrust or Restraint."

Then the Witness produced Book 36, intituled, " Bengal Secret Consultations."

Read, the following Extract of a Consultation of the 3d of July 1781, beginning at Page 44 of the same Book.

" Fort William, 3d July 1781.

" At a Council; Present,
The Honourable Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, President; and Edward Wheler Esquire.
Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote absent on Service at Fort St. George.

Secret Dept. Tuesday.

" In my Minute, which I laid before the Board on 1st May, I expressed the Satisfaction with which I could at this Juncture leave the Presidency, from the mutual Confidence which was happily established between Mr. Wheler and me. I now readily repeat that Sentiment, and observe with Pleasure that Mr. Wheler confirms it. Before my Departure, it is probable that we shall, in Concert, have provided at the Board for almost every important Circumstance that can eventually happen during my Absence. But if any should occur, for which no previous Provision shall have been made in the Resolution of the Board, Mr. Wheler may act with immediate Decision, and with the fullest Confidence of my Support. In all such Emergencies, as well as in conducting the ordinary Business of the Presidency, and, in general, in all Matters of this Government, excepting those which may specially or generally be intrusted to me, Mr. Wheler, during my Absence, may consider himself as possessed of the full Powers of the Governor General and Council of this Government, as in Effect he is by the Constitution, and he may be assured, that so far as my Sanction and Concurrence shall be, or be deemed necessary to the Confirmation of his Measures, he shall receive them."

Governor General's Minute.

" Resolved, That the following Credentials be given to the Governor General.

" Whereas it has been resolved, that the Governor General shall proceed to Benares and Lucknow, for the Purpose of obtaining an Interview with the Nabob Vizier and Duwager Pundit, the Duwan of the Rajah of Berar, and for the other consequent Purposes, which are expressed in the Minute of the Board passed to this Effect on 21st May last: And whereas, besides the said Purposes, others may occur which may require the immediate Presence of the Governor General, with an effective and complete Authority for their Execution; it is hereby resolved, That the Governor General shall be, and is invested with full Powers and Authority to form such Arrangements with the Rajah of Benares, for the better Government and Management of his Zemindarry, and to perform such Acts for the Improvement of the Interest which the Honourable Company possesses in it, as he shall think fit and consonant to the mutual and actual Engagements subsisting between the Company and the Rajah; to assist the Nabob Vizier in forming such Regulations as may be necessary for the Peace and Order of his Government, the Improvement of his Revenue, and the Adjustment of the mutual Concerns subsisting between him and the Company, with such Authority to enforce the same, as the Governor General and Council might or could exercise in Occasions in which they would be warranted to exercise the same, by the Claims which the Honourable Company hold or may have on the Revenues of the Dominions of the said Nabob, and to form and conclude such several Engagements or Treaties with the Nabob Vizier, the Government of Berar, and with any other of the Chiefs or Powers of Hindostan, as he shall judge expedient and necessary, whether for the Termination or more effectual Prosecution of the War with the Marratta State, or for the Advancement of the Interests of the Honourable Company, or for the strict and permanent Establishment and Confirmation of the Alliances which do at present subsist, or which he shall judge it necessary to form with the said Chiefs and Powers respectively; and it is hereby declared, that all such Acts, and all such Engagements or Treaties, made as aforesaid, shall be binding on the Governor General and Council, in the same Manner, and as effectually, as if they had been passed and done by the ſpecial and immediate Concurrence and actual Sanction of the Governor General and Council, in Council aſſembled.

" Given in Fort William under the Seal of the Honourable Company, and under the Hands of the Governor General and Council, this 3d Day of July, in the Year of our Lord 1781.

" The Time approaching for the Governor General's Departure, the Board think it neceſſary to communicate the following Reſolutions to the Commander in Chief, to be publiſhed in general Orders.

" The Governor General intending to viſit the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier, it is therefore ordered, That all ſuch Orders as he ſhall, from this Time, think it proper to iſſue to the Troops ſtationed beyond the Provinces, as well in the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier as thoſe which are ſituated beyond them, ſhall be obeyed, and that his ſingle Authority ſhall be conſidered and received as of the ſame Force as that of the Governor General and Council collectively, until this Order ſhall be revoked.

" Agreed and ordered, That the Military Power veſted in the Honourable Warren Haſtings, as Governor and Commander in Chief of the Garriſon and Fortreſs of Fort William, and Town of Calcutta, be exerciſed by Edward Wheler Eſquire, during the Abſence of the Honourable the Governor General.

" Reſolved, That the following circular Letter be written to Colonel James Morgan, &c.

" Sir,

Circular Letter to Colonel James Morgan.

" The Governor General intending to viſit the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier, we therefore direct you to obey all ſuch Orders and Inſtructions as he may from this Time think proper to iſſue to you, and to the Troops under your Command, in his own Name, and in all Reſpects to conſider his ſingle Authority as of the ſame Force, until this Order ſhall be revoked, as that of the Governor General and Council collectively. We are, &c."

" Ordered, That the Secretary do immediately prepare the above Papers; but that they be not iſſued, until the Governor General ſhall have taken Leave of the Board.

" The Governor General reports to the Board, That he has made every Preparation for his Departure, and has no Impediment to his ſetting off immediately but the Neceſſity of waiting for the Swallow's Diſpatches."

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, that having conducted the Evidence to the Time Mr. Haſtings was upon the Point of leaving Calcutta to proceed to Oude, they ſhould next ſhew, that in the private Communications which he made at that Time, and in which he mentions the Diſaffection of the Rajah Cheyt Sing, he never throws out the ſmalleſt Hint or Suſpicion againſt the Begums.

between us; and that he beſpoke my Support of the Meaſures which he intended to purſue towards him. I recollect, that the Governor General thought the Rajah's Offences were ſuch, as to require early Puniſhment; and as his Wealth was great, and the Company's Exigencies preſſing, it was thought a Meaſure of Policy and Juſtice, to exact from him a large Pecuniary Mulct for their Relief: The Sum, to which the Governor declared his Reſolution to extend the Fine, was Forty or Fifty Lacks; his Ability to pay it was ſtated as a Fact that could not admit of a Doubt; and the two Alternatives, on which the Governor declared himſelf to have reſolved, if Cheit Sing refuſed to comply with the Requiſition, were, to the beſt of my Recollection, either a Removal from his Zemeedary entirely; or, by taking immediate Poſſeſſion of all his Forts, to obtain out of the Treaſure depoſited in them, the above Sum for the Company (a)."

"William Palmer, Major in the Service of the Honourable the Eaſt India Company in Bengal, maketh Oath, and ſaith, That about the latter End of the Month of June laſt, the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire, Governor General of Bengal, diſcourſing with this Deponent on the Subject of his intended Journey to Banaris and Lucknow, declared one of the principal Objects of it to be, to exact, from Rajah Cheit Sing, a Fine or Contribution of Fifty Lacks of Rupees, as a Puniſhment for Breach of Engagements with the Government of Bengal, and for Acts of Miſconduct in his Zemeedary. The Governor General further declared to this Deponent, that he knew the Ability of the Rajah to contribute ſuch a Sum to the Exigencies of Government; and that he (the Governor General) was determined to convert the Faults committed by the Rajah into a publick Benefit. The Governor General further declared to this Deponent, in the ſame Converſation, that an Offer from the Rajah, but indirectly, had been made to him of Twenty Lacks of Rupees for the publick Service, as a Retribution for his Failure of Engagements; but that he (the Governor General) was reſolved to inſiſt upon the firſt mentioned Sum of Fifty Lacks of Rupees; and if the Rajah ſhould abſolutely refuſe the Demand, that he (the Governor General) would deprive him of his Zemeedary, or transfer the Sovereignty thereof to the Nabob Vizeer.

"To the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire.

"Honourable Sir,

"In Obedience to your Commands, conveyed to me through Major Palmer, I ſhall endeavour to repeat, as well as I can remember, the Purport of what you were pleaſed to inform me, before your Departure from Calcutta, of your Intentions regarding Cheit Sing; but as ſo long an Interval has ſince elapſed, my Recollection, which has never been ſtrengthened by a Communication, muſt neceſſarily be ſomewhat imperfect.

"After enumerating ſome of the Reſources which you expected to find up the Country, for the Relief of the Company's Exigencies, you mentioned to me the Conduct of Cheit Sing.

"You obſerved, that he owed his Elevation to the Company; that he was allowed to enjoy a very conſiderable Income, the Revenue exacted from him being much inferior to the Produce of his Diſtricts; and that his Territories were maintained and defended by the Engliſh Army: That, on thoſe Conſiderations, it had been reckoned equitable, that he ſhould contribute, on an Emergency, to the Support of Wars carried on by that Government, under which he held his Zemeedary, and to which he was indebted for its Protection. Accordingly you mentioned, that a Sum had been demanded from him; that, after ſome Difficulties, he had agreed to pay it at a certain Period; that, truſting to his Promiſes, you had made an Aſſignment on him for the Uſe of Colonel Camac's Detachment; and that Colonel Camac, relying on his Punctuality, had returned a Bill for a leſs Sum, which had been ſent to him by Mr. Middleton; but that this Confidence had nearly proved fatal to the Detachment, and actually did prove the Cauſe of retarding the Expedition; that Cheit Sing, in ſpite of all the Repreſentations which were made to him, delayed ſo long the promiſed Payment, that the Officers of the Detachment were reduced to the Neceſſity of ſelling their Plate: That you therefore determined to call him to an Account, and oblige him to make an Atonement for his Conduct in this Inſtance, and the Want of Attachment he had in general ſhewn to our Government, by paying a conſiderable Sum of Money to the Relief of the Company's Exigencies; that, if he conſented, you were deſirous of eſtabliſhing his Poſſeſſion on the moſt permanent and eligible Footing, but, if he refuſed, you had in your Power to raiſe a large Sum for the Company, by accepting of an Offer which had been made for his Diſtrict by the Vizeer. You minuted the Particulars of Cheit Sing's Conduct, in an Account which you drew up in Calcutta, of the State of the different Powers of Hindoſtan; though I do not believe that, in that Paper, you expreſſed the Intentions you had formed; and I remember you told me, that you had communicated to Mr. Wheler your Intentions regarding Cheit Sing; and I believe (though I cannot poſitively recollect) you ſaid he had concurred in them.

" It has occurred to me, as a Queſtion, which might naturally ariſe out of the Subject, Why the Begums ſhould have entertained ſo vehement a Hatred as that by which I have deſcribed them to have been actuated againſt the Engliſh Government and Nation? The Anſwer is obvious to thoſe who know the Hiſtory of our Connection with the Nabob of Oude. The Begums regarded us as the Oppreſſors of their Houſe, and the Uſurpers of its Inheritance; nor was their Reſentment confined to the Engliſh. The Nabob himſelf had his Share in it, for the Sacrifice which he had made of the Province of Benares, againſt the united Oppoſition of his Family; and the Nabob Salar Jung, the Brother of Bhow Begum, avowed to me himſelf, that he had from that Time, withheld himſelf from all Concern in the Nabob's Councils, and aſſigned that as the Reaſon for it. I am ſorry that I muſt in Truth add, that a Part of the Reſentment of the Begums, was as I had too much Reaſon to ſuſpect, directed to myſelf perſonally. The Incidents which gave riſe to it, are too light to be mixed with the profeſſed Subject and Occaſion of this Detail, and, as they want the Authenticity of recorded Evidence, I could lay no Claim to Credit in my Relation of them. At ſome Period I may be induced to offer them to the World, my ultimate and unerring Judges, both of that and of every other Trait in my political Character (d)."

" Extract of a Letter from Mr. Purling to Warren Haſtings Eſquire, Governor General, &c. Members of Council, dated Lucknow, the 19th November 1779.

" I have in vain urged him on the glaring Impropriety of refuſing Tuncaws upon the ſame Diſtricts as laſt Year, and giving them to his own Troops, without Diſcipline to ſupport his Government, and always ready to plunder every Country to which they have been ſent. His Anſwer has been invariably, that while he had the Means of providing for the Demands of the Company, he has never refuſed it; but he is now deprived of that Ability, by the Drought which has obliged him to give Deductions to the Amount of Twenty-five Lacks of Rupees; and even now the Aumils are deſirous of being releaſed from their Engagements upon the Plea of Inability to comply with them. His Family, and that of his Father and Grandfather, after repeated Promiſes made to them and broken, are ſtill unprovided for; that he did not believe the Council meant to ſeize the Expences of his Table and Houſehold, which was all that was now left him. When I quitted him, I declared I did not imagine the Governor and Council would ever conſent to the Reform of the new Brigade, and the other preſent Eſtabliſhments for his Collections; that, if they were not diſmiſſed, they muſt be paid, and from the Sources of that Country for the Protection of which they were raiſed. That I would have him for the Preſent to conſider the Means of granting the Supplies, in the Hope of an Anſwer more likely to be pleaſing to our Government. A Day or two after I received a Letter from him, a Tranſlate of which, No. 3. I think it neceſſary to lay before you. As I have never been able to induce his Excellency to adopt any other Sentiments than thoſe he firſt declared, and have received another Letter from him, expreſſing much Diſſatisfaction at my Urgency on a Point he had determined on, and would not give up, unleſs he ſhould be compelled by the Governor and Council, I have thought it needleſs to preſs him further at preſent, but at his Requeſt have tranſmitted a Letter from him to the Governor General, ſetting forth his Diſtreſs.

" In this Situation, it only remains for me to lay before you the following Extract of Mr. Nathaniel Middleton's Letter of the 5th inſtant, the Day on which Charge was delivered to me.

" When I have of late preſſed his Excellency for further Aſſignments, he has pleaded Inability ' to anſwer the very heavy Demands which will this Year fall upon him, on account of the ' Drought which has unfortunately happened, to the almoſt total Deſtruction of the Khurreff Har- ' veſt, and the conſequent Diminution of his Revenue: I am concerned to confeſs there are but ' too good Grounds for this Plea. The Misfortune has been general throughout the Whole of the ' Vizier's Dominions, obvious to every Body; and ſo very fatal have been its Conſequences, that ' no Perſon of either Credit or Character would enter into Engagements with Government for ' farming the Country, without a very heavy Direction * in the laſt Year's Jumma, which his Ex- ' cellency has been compelled to allow to all who have hitherto been appointed to Farms; and ' ſome who have engaged even under theſe Circumſtances, have to my Knowledge made moſt ur- ' gent Applications to the Nabob and his Miniſters to be releaſed from their Obligations, and al- ' lowed to relinquiſh their Farms, which they found they could not hold but at a certain Loſs to ' themſelves. You will ſoon be convinced by undoubted Teſtimony, and loud Complaints from ' every Quarter, of the Reality of this Misfortune, which has neceſſarily been the Means of delay- ' ing the general Settlement of the Country, and of preventing my hitherto getting Aſſignments ' for more than Rupees 68,82,000; but how far its Operation and Effects preclude the Nabob ' from anſwering the Demands upon him on public Accounts, you will be the beſt able to judge ' from the Statements you will obtain of his eſtimated Revenue."

* Sic in Orig.

" As it appears from the Whole of this Extract, that Mr. Middleton had met with Obſtacles, from a Reaſon aſſigned which no human Foreſight could prevent, I hope your Honourable Board will not imagine I have been remiſs or inattentive; nothing but a compulſive Order from me upon an undefined Right could obtain the Collection of a Rupee more than I have Tuncaws for; and nothing but a deciſive and ſpeedy Inſtruction from you, when the Time elapſed, may not occaſion a material Loſs in the Revenue, can poſſibly procure the Grants neceſſary for the current Diſburſements from my Treaſury.

" Upon this Principle, it is needleſs to add, that no Bill from the Preſidency can poſſibly be anſwered, ſince the Demands on the Treaſury upon the preſent Eſtabliſhment exceed the expected Income; and the laſt Drafts of the Honourable Board, and their Order, for the Payment of Two Lacks and a Half of Rupees to Captain Popham, which has been complied with, have ſo effectually drained the Treaſury, that I have not yet been able to pay the Firſt Brigade for October (a).

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would not here read the Vizier's Letter again, already in Evidence before the Houſe (a), but proceed to a Minute of Mr. Haſtings, upon the Repreſentation made by the Vizier in that Letter of the Diſtreſs and Famine at Oude.

Read, the following Extract from the ſame Book, beginning at Page 905.

" Governor General.—I underſtand the Subſtance of the Vizier's Letter to be a peremptory Refuſal to grant Aſſignments but for the Expence of the regular Brigade ſtationed at Cawnpore; a Demand for the Recall, or Reduction of the Troops ſtationed at Rohilcund for his Service in that Diſtrict, and his new acquired Dominions in the Doaub; and for the Diſmiſſion of the Corps eſtabliſhed in his own immediate Service, under the Command of Britiſh Officers; viz. Thoſe ſeverally commanded by Major Hannay, Captain Oſburne, and the Body Guard under Captain Mordaunt, for the Purpoſe of ſubſtituting additional Eſtabliſhments of Horſe and Foot, under his immediate Command, for the Service of the Revenues. Theſe Demands, the Tone in which they are aſſerted, and the Seaſon in which they are made, are all equally alarming, and appear to me to require an adequate Degree of Firmneſs in this Board, in Oppoſition to them. Without further Comment, I ſhall proceed to recommend the following Draft of a Letter to be written to Mr. Purling, which, if agreed to, may ſerve as the Subſtance of One to be written on the ſame Subject to the Nabob (b)."

To prove the Nabob's Situation in 1780, the Year before Mr. Haſtings met him at Chunar, Read, Extract of a Letter from the Nabob Vizier to Mr. Haſtings—received 24th of February 1780, from Book 116, beginning at Page 136 of the ſame Book.

" From the Nabob Vizier. Received 24th February. 1780.

" I have received your Letter, and underſtand the Contents. I cannot deſcribe the Solidity of your Friendſhip and brotherly Affection which ſubſiſted between you and my late Father. From the Friendſhip of the Company he received numberleſs Advantages; and I, notwithſtanding I was left an Orphan, from your Favour and that of the Company, was perfectly at Eaſe, being ſatisfied that every Thing would be well, and that I ſhould continue in the ſame Security that I was during my Father's Lifetime, from your Protection. I accordingly, from the Day of his Death, have never omitted to cultivate your Favour, and the Protection of the Company; and whatever was the Deſire and Directions of the Council at that Time, I have ever ſince conformed to, and obeyed with Readineſs. Thanks be given to God, that I have never as yet been backward in performing the Will of the Engliſh Company, of the Council, and of you, and have always been from my Heart ready to obey them; and have never given you any Trouble from my Difficulties or Wiſhes. This I have done ſimply from my Knowledge of your Favour towards me, and from my being certain that you would learn the Particulars of my Diſtreſſes and Difficulties from other Quarters, and would then ſhew your Friendſhip and Good-will in whatever was for my Advantage: but when the Knife had penetrated to the Bone, and I was ſurrounded with ſuch heavy Diſtreſſes that I could no longer live in Expectations, I then wrote an Account of my Difficulties.—The Anſwer which I have received to it is ſuch, that it has given me inexpreſſible Grief and Affliction. I never had the leaſt Idea or Expectation from you and the Council, that you would ever have given your Orders in ſo afflicting a Manner, in which you never before wrote, and which I could not have imagined. As I am reſolved to obey the Orders and Directions of the Council without any Delay, as long as I live, I have, agreeable to thoſe Orders, delivered up all my private Papers to him, that when he ſhall have examined my Receipts and Expences, he may take whatever remains. As I know it to be my Duty to ſatisfy you, the Company and Council, I have not failed to obey in any Inſtance; but requeſted of him that it might be done ſo as not to diſtreſs me in my neceſſary Expences. There being no other Funds but thoſe for the Expences of my Muteſeddies, Houſehold Expences, and Servants, &c. he demanded theſe in ſuch a Manner, that, being remedileſs, I was obliged to comply with what he required. He has accordingly ſtopped the Penſions of my old Servants of 30 Years, whether Sepoys, Muteſeddies, or Houſehold Servants, and the Expences of my Family and Kitchen, together with the Jaghiers of my Grandmother, Mother, and Aunts, and of my Brothers and Dependents, which were for their Support. I had raiſed 1500 Horſe and 3 Battalions of Sepoys, to attend upon me; but as I have no Reſources to ſupport them, I have been obliged to remove the People ſtationed in the Mahals, and to ſend his People into the Mahals; ſo that I have not now One ſingle Servant about me. Should I mention what further Difficulties I have been reduced to, it would lay me open to Contempt. Although I have willingly aſſented to this, which brings ſuch Diſtreſs on me, and have in a Manner altogether ruined myſelf, yet I failed not to do it; for this Reaſon, becauſe it was for your Satisfaction and that of the Council; and I am patient and even thankful in this Condition: but I cannot imagine from what Cauſe you have conceived Diſpleaſure againſt me.—From the Commencement of my Adminiſtration, in every Circumſtance I received Strength and Security from your Favour and that of the Council; and in every Inſtance you and the Council have ſhewn your Friendſhip and Affection for me: but at preſent, that you have ſent theſe Orders, I am greatly perplexed.

"Sir, I was in Hopes, from your Friendſhip, that if, which God forbid, any Diſpleaſure ſhould ariſe in your Mind, you would have firſt given me your Advice on it, in ſuch a Manner as is uſual to Perſons of Diſtinction, and where I ſhould have learnt it, were it true, I ſhould be the more abaſhed by it; and having explained and reconciled it to you, whatever might be your Wiſh and that of the Council, which might have been for my Advantage, it ſhould be complied with; or if it had been falſe, I ſhould have written ſo to you, that it might be explained to you fully. At preſent, aſſenting to every Thing which is required of me, I have executed your Orders; but am in Hopes of your Favour, that I may ſome Time or other have a Meeting with you, in which I may make known to you all my Diſtreſſes, and after that perform whatever may be your Will. I ſhall not trouble you with long Accounts of my Loſſes reſpecting my Affairs; for all my Concerns and Dignity depend on you and the Council, and you will perform every Thing which is for my Advantage and Intereſt, and for the Honour and Credit of the Company and of you.—This is not delayed by my Requeſts. As you and my late Father were like Brothers, I am in the ſame Degree as your Nephew. I am therefore confident, that you will direct whatever may appear to you adviſeable for me. I am only wiſhing for a Meeting with you; and I hope from your Friendſhip, that whatever you may determine upon for this Buſineſs, or whatever Place you can come to from Calcutta, you will inform me of it; or ſhould you have no Leiſure for it, I will repair to Calcutta. It is neceſſary you write all theſe Circumſtances to me.—Sir, if from your Friendſhip you ſhould write your Aſſent to this, it is well; I will come with great Satisfaction and Pleaſure; and although you ſhould forbid my coming, I will not put it off, but ſhall be the more deſirous of it, ſince I have not One ſingle Perſon near me who could make much Preparations neceſſary for the Journey, not even one Attendant. I ſhall, however, travel alone to your Quarter with great Pleaſure. My Situation abſolutely requires it, as I cannot at preſent remain here by any Means. If I have once an Interview with you, I ſhall have my Heart at Eaſe; after that, whatever your Orders and thoſe of the Council may be, they ſhall be obeyed. At preſent, that it is difficult for me to ſupport myſelf alive, by the Bleſſing of God, you who are prudent can remove my Griefs, and are favourably inclined to me, and will perceive, that when I am reduced to that State, that all my Servants are diſmiſſed, and my Houſehold Expences, and even my Kitchen, ſtopped, how can I ſupport it, or remain alive? I am ready and reſolved to preſerve the Friendſhip and Good-will of you and the Council to the utmoſt of my Life and Property, and have continually obeyed whatever has been your Orders and thoſe of the Council. What the People of Diſtinction of every Nation deſire, that their Name, Honour, and a Sufficiency for their unavoidable Expences, may be preſerved to them, I have no other Wiſh. If, which God forbid, this ſhould not take Place, it will be difficult for me to live One Inſtant.

"I am therefore hopeful, that you will favour me with an Anſwer to this Letter, agreeable to my Requeſt. My ſole Strength and Security is from your Favour and that of the Council. Further Particulars will be made known to you by Rajah Govind Ram."

To prove, that Mr. Haſtings, in conſequence of the above Repreſentation of the Nabob, removed ſeveral Engliſh Gentlemen from his Court;

Read, the following Extract from Appendix to the Benares Narrative, Page 7.

"With reſpect to the Removal of the Company's Servants, Civil and Military, from the Court and Service of the Vizier, I was actuated ſolely by Motives of Juſtice to him, and a Regard to the Honour of our national Character. In removing thoſe Gentlemen I diminiſh my own Influence as well as that of my Colleagues, by narrowing the Line of Patronage, and I expoſe myſelf to Obloquy and Reſentment from thoſe who are immediately affected by the Arrangement, and the long Train of their Friends and powerful Patrons. But their Numbers, their Influence, and the enormous Amount of their Salaries, Penſions, and Emoluments, were an intolerable Burthen on the Revenues and Authority of the Vizeer, and expoſed us to the Reſentment of the whole Country, by excluding the native Servants and Adherents of the Vizeer from the Rewards of their Services and Attachment (a)."

To prove a further Repreſentation by the Nabob, with reſpect to the Expences of the Engliſh Gentlemen at his Court, after the above Removal;

" With reſpect to the Expences of the Gentlemen who are here, I have before written in a covered Manner, I now write plainly, that I have no Ability to give Money to the Gentlemen, becauſe I am indebted many Lacks of Rupees to the Bankers for the Payment of the Company's Debt. At the Time of Mr. Haſtings's Departure I repreſented to him that I had no Reſources for the Expences of the Gentlemen. Mr. Haſtings having aſcertained my diſtreſſed Situation, told me, that after his Arrival in Calcutta he would conſult with the Council, and remove from hence the Expences of the Gentlemen, and recall every Perſon, except the Gentlemen in Office here. At this Time that all the Concerns are dependent upon you, and you have in every Point given Eaſe to my Mind, according to Mr. Haſtings's Agreement, I hope that the Expences of the Gentlemen may be removed from me, and that you may recall every Perſon reſiding here, beyond the Gentlemen in Office. Although Major Palmer does not at this Time demand any Thing for the Gentlemen, and I have no Ability to give them any Thing, yet the Cuſtom of the Engliſh Gentlemen is, when they remain here, they will in the End aſk for ſomething. This is beſt, that they ſhould be recalled (a)."

" But the Year 1180, from unforeſeen Events, was already began ere the Treaty was ſigned, and theſe large Bodies could not be removed without ſome previous Notice. Between Two and Three Months were aſſigned them for Preparation, in which Time it was ſuppoſed ſufficient Funds would have been forthcoming for their Diſcharge. The paying them off, involved another Balance of Arrears to them reſpectively, not included in the Balance of 1187 and 1188 to the Company. Theſe Arrears further ſwelled in their Amount, becauſe the Monthly Collections to the Period of their Diſcharge were not equal to their Pay and Arrears, and a Proviſion for the other indiſpenſible Diſburſements of my Office, which obliged me to deviſe other Means of liquidating them; accordingly, after long Negociation, attended with much Difficulty, I accompliſhed a Loan, at the Beginning of the Year, on my own Credit, of 10 Lacks; without which Exertion, the Reſources of the whole Year would have been clogged with the encreaſing Amount of theſe Arrears. While the Effect of my Negociation was yet in Suſpence, another Balance before we heard of, amounting to upwards of 26 Lacks, was ſent up from the Preſidency. Why this Balance was unknown t o the Reſident, to the Governor General, and conſequently not included at the ſigning of the Treaty, will be ſhewn in its proper Place. I had pledged myſelf to the Governor General for realizing the Company's Balance, which of courſe meant the Balance in Agitation before us at the ſigning of the Treaty, which had this for its declared Object (b)."

" To the Honourable the Secret Committee of the Honourable Court of Directors.

" Honourable Sirs,

" While the Nabob Vizier was at Chunar, an Offer of a very conſiderable Sum of Money was made to me, both on his Part, and on that of his Miniſters, as a Preſent. I accepted it without Heſitation, and gladly, being entirely deſtitute both of Means and Credit, whether for your Service, or the Relief of my own Neceſſities. This Donation was not made in Specie, but in Bills, which have been in Part only, and tardily realized, being drawn on the Houſe of Gopaul Daſs, who was at the Time a Priſoner in the Hands of Cheit Sing. The Remainder is in Courſe of Payment, and I make no doubt of its being paid. What I have received has been laid out in the Publick Service. The Reſt ſhall be applied to the ſame Account. The nominal Sum is Ten Lacks of Rupees, of the Currency of Oude. As ſoon as the Whole is completed, I will tranſmit to you a faithful Account of it, reſigning the Diſpoſal of it entirely to the Pleaſure of Your Honourable Court. If you ſhall adjudge the Depoſit to me, I ſhall conſider it as the moſt honourable Approbation and Reward of my Labours; and I wiſh to owe my Fortune to your Bounty.

" I am now in the Fiftieth Year of my Life, I have paſſed Thirty-one Years in the Service of the Company, and the greateſt Part of that Time, in Employments of the higheſt Truſt. My Conſcience allows me boldly to claim the Merit of Zeal and Integrity; nor has Fortune been unpropitious to their Exertions. To theſe Qualities I bound my Pretenſions. I ſhall not repine, if you ſhall deem otherwiſe of my Services; nor ought your Deciſion, however it may diſappoint my Hope of a Retreat, adequate to the Conſequence and Elevation of the Office which I now poſſeſs, to leſſen my Gratitude for having been ſo long permitted to hold it; ſince it has, at leaſt, enabled me to lay up a Proviſion, with which I can be contented in a more humble Station.

" I have the Honour to be,
" Honourable Sirs,
" Your moſt faithful, and moſt
" Obedient Servant,
" Warren Haſtings."

Then NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Eſquire was again called in.

Q. Did you negotiate any Loan for the Nabob in the Year 1781?
A. I did negociate a Loan for the Nabob; I do not exactly remember the Time.

Q. How near to the Year 1781 was it, according to your Recollection?
A. I think it muſt have been the End of the Year 1781.

Q. You recollected it very accurately Yeſterday?
A. It was the End of 1781.

Q. Was it before you joined Mr. Haſtings at Chunar?
A. No; it was afterwards. In my Examination before the Committee laſt Night, I made a Miſtake of Dates; it certainly was after I ſaw Mr. Haſtings at Chunar.

Q. Before what Committee do you mean?
A. The Committee of the Honourable Managers.

Q. Had you any Profit or Advantage upon that Loan?
A. None.

Q. Why did the Nabob apply to you to borrow that Sum of Money?
A. I do not recollect that the Nabob applied particularly to borrow the Money; the Intention of borrowing the Money was to pay off the Eſtabliſhments that were diſmiſſed from the Nabob's Service in conſequence of the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. You ſaid you negociated a Loan for the Nabob; did he or not apply to you for that Purpoſe?

A. I don't recollect any expreſs Application for that Purpoſe; it muſt have been in Concert with the Miniſter.

Q. Did any of the Miniſters apply to you for that Purpoſe?
A. I apprehend they did.

Q. Then the Queſtion is, Do you know upon what Account it was that the Nabob or his Miniſters made an Application to you to negociate that Loan?
A. Becauſe the Money was wanted; and I do not apprehend the Nabob could have borrowed it without I had given him Aſſiſtance at that Time.

Q. I underſtand you, that the Nabob had not Credit from the Bankers at Lucknow without your Security. Did you give any Security for the Money?
A. No, I did not.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that the Nabob would not have had Credit, without your interpoſing to give him Credit by negociating the Loan?
A. I apprehend he would not.

Q. Did you give any Security?
A. No, no Security; but I promiſed to repay the Money out of the firſt Funds I ſhould become poſſeſſed of: I gave no Security.

Q. What were thoſe Funds?
A. The Nabob's Funds.

Q. How were you to be in Poſſeſſion of them?
A. By the Aſſignments I had upon the Country:—From the Produce of the Aſſignments I was in Poſſeſſion of.

Q. Were

Q. Were thoſe Aſſignments made for the Purpoſe of repaying this Sum?
A. They were given for the publick Service in general; not expreſsly for this Purpoſe. If it is not waſting your Lordſhips' Time, I beg that Part of my Defence may be read from which this is taken; where it will appear for what Purpoſe this Money was taken up.

Read, the following Extract of Mr. Middleton's Defence, from Book 81, already delivered in, beginning at Page 59.

" When I took Charge of the Office of Collector of the Vizier's Aſſignments to the Company, this Balance upon the Reſident's Book, cloſed to the End of the Fuſſullee Year 1187, was 32 Lacks, excluſive of 10½ Lacks Army Donation. In the Year 1188, it encreaſed 12 Lacks, making 44 Lacks, when the Governor General arrived at Benares, the Beginning of 1189. To diſcharge ſo much of this Balance as was due to the Company, therefore, was the Object of the Treaty; and to enſure the Accompliſhment of it in the ſhorteſt Time poſſible, a Plan was laid down, one Part of which was, the Suſpenſion of ſundry current Claims upon the Nabob, ſuch as Mr. Wombwell's Office, and the Temporary and Cavalry Brigadeers; which together amounted to ſo heavy an Expence, that, with the Continuance of them, even the current annual Claim could not be anſwered, much leſs the abovementioned Balance liquidated. But the Year 1180, from unforeſeen Events, was already begun ere the Treaty was ſigned, and theſe large Bodies could not be removed without ſome previous Notice: Between two and three Months were aſſigned them for Preparation, in which Time, it was ſuppoſed, ſufficient Funds would have been forthcoming for their Diſcharge. The paying them off involved another Balance of Arrears to them reſpectively, not included in the Balance of 1187 and 1188, to the Company. Theſe Arrears further ſwelled in their Amount, becauſe the monthly Collections, to the Period of their Diſcharge, were not equal to their Pay and Arrears, and a Proviſion for the other indiſpenſible Diſburſements of my Office, which obliged me to deviſe other Means of liquidating them. Accordingly, after long Negotiation, attended with much Difficulty, I accompliſhed a Loan at the Beginning of the Year, on my own Credit, of 10 Lacks; without which Exertion, the Reſources of the whole Year would have been clogged with the increaſing Amount of theſe Arrears (a)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. What was the Amount of the Loan you negociated?
A. Ten Lacks.

Q. Do you think the Nabob could not have obtained it from Goopal Daſs, at Benares?
A. I do not apprehend he could at that Time.

Q. Did you ever, at any Time, know the Nabob to be in greater Diſtreſs, than he was at the Time he left Lucknow, to join Mr. Haſtings at Chunar?
A. No: I believe he was in as great Diſtreſs as at any Time I had known him. It was at the Beginning of the Year, before the Collections of the Country came in; conſequently, he was left very much without Reſources.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings inform you, that the Nabob, immediately upon his Arrival at Chunar, had given him a Preſent of One hundred thouſand Pounds?
A. He did not.

Q. Did you leave Lucknow with the Nabob?
A. Yes.

Q. Did Haſſein Reza Cawn, and Hyder Beg Cawn, accompany you and the Nabob to Chunar?
A. Haſſein Reza Cawn did; Hyder Beg Cawn, I believe, went on the Day before, and arrived at Chunar before the Nabob.

Q. Did you ſend, or cauſe to be ſent, any Sum of Money from Lucknow to Benares, during the Troubles at that Time at Benares?
A. I do recollect a Sum of Money being remitted, by Means of Major Roberts, who commanded a Company of Sepoys; and he eſcorted the Treaſure down to Chunar.

Q. By whoſe Order?
A. By Mr. Haſtings's Order.

Q. To what Purpoſe did you underſtand the Money to be deſtined?
A. I underſtood it was deſtined for the Payment of the Troops at Chunar.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings at that Time expreſs himſelf to you as under great Apprehenſion for want of Money to pay the Troops?
A. As I recollect, the Order of Mr. Haſtings for the Remittance of this Money was by Letter, before I had joined him at Chunar.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XLIV.

Q. But

Q. But after you had joined him at Chunar, did Mr. Haſtings expreſs himſelf under any Apprehenſion for Want of Money to pay the Troops?

A. I do not recollect that he expreſſed himſelf to me particularly; but I have heard he was much diſtreſſed for Money to pay the Troops, and under Apprehenſion for the Conſequences; but I cannot ſay he ever expreſſed himſelf in that Way to me.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings ever make any Mention to you, while at Chunar, of his having received this Preſent of Ten Lacks, or £. 100,000?

A. No.

Q. When did you firſt hear Mr. Haſtings had taken the Preſent?

A. I am not certain I heard of it before my Arrival in England. It is poſſible I might, but I cannot charge my Memory with it. I think the firſt Time I heard of it was after my Arrival in England.

Q. Was not you at that Time confidentially employed by Mr. Haſtings in negociating the Treaty of Chunar with the Nabob, or his Miniſtry, or with both?

A. I was in Mr. Haſtings' Confidence very much at that Time, as I conceived, and was employed between him and the Nabob in ſuch Negociations with the Nabob as Mr. Haſtings himſelf did not perſonally engage in.

Q. Had you not at that Time a Knowledge of the State of the Nabob's Treaſury, and alſo of all his Reſources?

A. No; I cannot ſay I had an intimate Knowledge of it.

Q. What Degree of Knowledge had you of them; becauſe you ſaid juſt now you thought he never was poorer?

A. I did conceive he was in very poor Circumſtances at that Time with reſpect to Treaſure.

Q. Had you any, and what Sort of Knowledge of the State of his Treaſures, or of the State of his Reſources?

A. I had no poſitive Knowledge of the State of his Treaſures, it was only from my own Belief, and his own Complaints.

Q. Do you think Mr. Haſtings could have entirely concealed the Receipt of this Preſent from you, who were confidentially employed by him in the Negociation between him and the Nabob, without a conſiderable Degree of Care and Management?

A. I conceive that ſome Care muſt certainly have been uſed to conceal it, or I ſhould probably have come to the Knowledge of it.

Q. Do you conceive the Preſent was made in Money or Bills; or do you know in what Manner the Money was paid?

A. I ſhould imagine it muſt have been made in Bills: I do not ſpeak from any poſitive Knowledge of the Fact.

Q. Have you any Reaſon to know it was made in Bills?

A. No other, than that I conceive ſo large a Sum of Money could not have been tranſported without my being acquainted with it.

Q. Had you not yourſelf conſiderable Tranſactions with all the great Bankers with whom the Nabob had Dealings or Connections?

A. Yes: I conceive I had Tranſactions with moſt of them.

Q. Had you Connections with Gopaul Doſs of Benares?

A. Gopaul Doſs had an Agent at Lucknow, with whom a great Part of the Company's Buſineſs was managed.

Q. And conſequently you had Tranſactions with him?

A. Yes.

Q. When you firſt heard of this Preſent being given to Mr. Haſtings, in what Manner did you underſtand it was made?

A. I cannot recollect in what Manner it was communicated to me; I rather think the firſt I heard of it was from the Papers publiſhed from the Reports of the Committee.

Q. Did you not hear it was in Bills from Gopaul Doſs?

A. Yes, from thoſe Papers; but I knew nothing of it in India.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to this as any Evidence.

Q. Whether you know any Circumſtances which would have enabled the Nabob to borrow Ten Lacks from Gopaul Doſs for the Purpoſe of making Mr. Haſtings a Preſent, when he could not borrow any Sum for the Purpoſe of paying his own Troops, or for any other Purpoſe?

A. No, I do not know how he could have tranſacted it.

Q. Do you know whether he had Credit with Gopaul Doſs, or had you any Means of knowing it?

A. No, I had no Means of knowing it poſitively.

Q. Had you, or not, any Means of knowing the Extent of the Nabob's Credit with Gopaul Doſs?

A. No certain Means: When I ſaid, the Nabob, I ſuppoſed, would not have had Credit to have borrowed the Sum of Money I aſſiſted him in borrowing, I did not mean to ſay, he might not have Reſources within himſelf to pay it; he had Reſources probably within himſelf, that I was not acquainted with.

Q. But when he wanted Money, you ſaid, you thought your Interpoſition was neceſſary to raiſe that Money?

A. Yes.

Q. And that is from your Obſervation of his Circumſtances?

A. Yes.

Q. Would not thoſe Ten Lacks, which you ſtate to have been given to Mr. Haſtings at Chunar, have anſwered the Purpoſe for which the Nabob borrowed the Ten Lacks from you?—What was the Difference in Point of Time?

A. I imagine about Six Weeks or Two Months after my Arrival.

Q. Need he have borrowed Ten Lacks more, if he had had that which was given to Mr. Haſtings?

A. No, he would have had no Occaſion for it.

Then the following Letter from Mr. Palmer to Mr. Middleton was read, from Mr. Middleton's Letter-Book, marked C.

" To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire.

" Sir,

" The Governor General deſires, that you will pleaſe to order an Eſcort for ſuch Treaſure, as the Gomaſtah of Gopaul Doſs has to tranſport from Lucknow to Benares, for the publick Service, from Time to Time.

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient, humble Servant,

" Benares,
" 24th October 1781. (Signed) William Palmer, Military Secretary."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Was it uſual for you to receive Orders through Major Palmer, reſpecting the publick Treaſures?

A. This is the only one I recollect to have received.

Q. Whether you have any Reaſon to know or believe, that the Treaſure afterwards taken from the Begum, enabled the Nabob to diſcharge thoſe Bills upon Gopaul Doſs, that were given to Mr. Haſtings?—Do you know any Thing of the Diſcharge of thoſe Bills?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Do you know any Thing of the Application of the Treaſure which was raiſed from the Begums?

A. It was paid to the Reſident, upon the Company's Account.

Q. The Queſtion is, Whether you know if the Application of any Part of that Treaſure went to Gopaul Doſs, to pay thoſe Bills?

A. I believe not.

Q. From what other Fund do you think the Nabob paid thoſe Bills, at the Time Mr. Haſtings ſtates them to have been realized?—Do you know any Thing of the Manner in which Gopaul Doſs was reimburſed for his Advances to Mr. Haſtings?

A. No, I do not; I apprehend it muſt have been from the Revenues of the Nabob's Country.

Q. Do you know at what Time Gopaul Doſs was reimburſed for the Advance he made for the Nabob to Mr. Haſtings?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Had you not in January 1782, at the Time of ſeizing the Begum's Treaſures, Aſſignments and Claims which covered all the Revenues of the Country that were at the Nabob's Diſpoſal?

The Queſtion repeated at the Deſire of the Witneſs.

A. No, certainly not.

The

The Managers for the Commons being aſked, What they meant by the Word "Claims" made Anſwer, "Demands on the Part of the Company."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether the Aſſignments you actually had, and the Claims you were at that Time preſſing for, taking them together, would not have covered the whole Revenues of the Country?

A. As I underſtand the Queſtion now, I muſt anſwer it in a different Manner: As I underſtood it before, it was, whether I had Aſſignments covering the whole Revenue of the Country; to which I anſwered, I certainly had not;—but if the publick Claims were alſo added, and Aſſignments obtained for the Whole, they clearly would have covered all the Revenue the Nabob had to diſpoſe of.

Q. Then, could the Nabob have found Means of paying this Preſent in January 1782, without holding back from the Company ſome Part of that Property upon which you had Aſſignments for, and which you were preſſing for Aſſignments upon?

A. No; I do not know any Reſources he had.

Q. From what Funds or Reſources do you believe the Nabob offered a Second Preſent of 100,000l. to Mr. Haſtings, after receiving the Treaſure of the Begums? Do you know of any Second Preſent being offered to Mr. Haſtings?

A. I hope your Lordſhips will excuſe my anſwering that Queſtion, as I conceive it may criminate myſelf.

Here the Clerk read over the Queſtion to the Witneſs, and the Anſwer.

Q. Do you know of a Second Preſent being offered Mr. Haſtings?

A. I hope your Lordſhips will excuſe my anſwering that Queſtion, as I conceive it may criminate myſelf.

Q. Do you know of a Preſent being offered through any other Medium than yourſelf?

A. No.

Q. The Queſtion then is, Did the Nabob offer a Preſent through you to Mr. Haſtings?

Queſtion objected to.

Q. Whether you conceive yourſelf to have been ſuſpected and charged by Mr. Haſtings with having received a Sum of Money yourſelf upon Account of the Treaty of Chunar?

A. No; I was not charged; but I received a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, which I conſidered as an Implication of taking Money.

Q. What Reply did you make to that Implication?

A. I made a moſt ſolemn Diſavowal of it, and of every Imputation of the Kind that it was in my Power to make, offering at the ſame Time to confirm upon Oath what I then wrote to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Did Mr. Johnſon, the Aſſiſtant Reſident, make the ſame Diſavowal? Was he charged alſo?

A. The Imputation ſeemed to be directed to us Two.

Q. Do you know any Thing of Mr. Johnſon's having made ſuch Avowal?

A. We made a joint Diſavowal.

Q. Did you never hear from Mr. Johnſon, or from Hyder Beg Cawn, any Mention whatever, at any Time while he was in India, of this Preſent?

A. No; I don't recollect that I ever did.

Q. Do you know from what Fund the Eaſt India Company's Forces were paid, from the Time of the Troubles downwards till the 20th of January 1782?

A. No; I do not know of any other than the Remittance I have ſtated, made from Lucknow. That, I take it for granted, went in part Payment of the Army; but it could only make a ſmall Part.

Q. What was the Amount of that Remittance?

A. Only One Lack of Rupees.

Q. That was the Remittance under the Eſcort of Major Roberts?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know what the Pay of the Army at Chunar would amount to at the Period I have mentioned?

A. I do not know what that Army conſiſted of.

Q. Do

Q. Do you know whether Mr. Haſtings ſupplied the Army with Money during that Time, or any Part of that Time, borrowed upon his own private Credit, or how otherwiſe?
A. I have no Knowledge of it.

Q. Whether, prior to the Time of the Vizier's Departure from Lucknow to Chunar, in December 1781, he had his uſual Train of Attendants and Servants about him, and whether he lived in his uſual State?
A. I obſerved no Difference whatſoever.

Q. Was the uſual State of the Vizier that of a very conſiderable Prince, ſplendid and expenſive, or do you know what it was?
A. It muſt have been very expenſive, his Attendants were very numerous.

Q. And as great as any other Indian Prince?
A. It was the greateſt I ever ſaw in Point of Splendour and Appearance.

Q. Do you not know, that after the Treaty of Chunar, and after the Arrangements that took Place upon it, the Sum of 40 Lacks, or 400,000 l. a Year, was ſet apart for the private Expences of the Vizier?
A. I do not recollect the exact Sum, but between 30 and 40 Lacks.

Q. Whether in ſaying as you did juſt now, that the Aſſignments and Claims of the Company would have covered the Whole of the Revenues, you meant to include thoſe 40 Lacks, or only the Remainder of the Revenues, after deducting the 30 or 40 Lacks that were ſet apart for his own private Eſtabliſhment?
A. I believe it would not have left the 40 Lacks free.

Q. Do you know what was the actual Amount of the Aſſignments?
A. I do not at this Time recollect the Amount.

Q. Have you any Knowledge of the Amount of the Claims, or the Aſſignments you had?
A. I cannot from Memory ſtate it.

Q. Have you any Knowledge of the Extent of the Nabob's Revenues One Year with another?
A. I recollect the Groſs Revenue of the Nabob's Country was about Two Crores and 25 Lacks, happening to look into my Defence this Morning, where it is mentioned, and, I ſuppoſe, upon good Authority.

Q. Have you any Notion what the net Revenue was?
A. I cannot venture to ſpeak with any Accuracy as to that.

Q. Do Two Crores and 25 Lacks amount to 2,250,000 l. Sterling Money?
A. Yes.

Q. Whether the Troops aſſembled with Mr. Haſtings, at Chunar, at the Time you came down to Chunar from Lucknow, were not very conſiderably in Arrear in their Pay?
A. I underſtood they were conſiderably in Arrear.

Q. Do you know how many Months Pay were due to them at that Time?
A. I cannot ſay how many Months they were in Arrear: I underſtood they were very conſiderably in Arrear.

Q. Whether you apprehend it might have been very dangerous to the Britiſh Intereſt in India, and conſidering the Situation of the Provinces at that Time, that the Troops ſhould be left conſiderably in Arrear?
A. It muſt depend a good Deal upon how much they were in Arrear; the Troops in India are uſed to be in Arrear, therefore I conceive if they were not much in Arrear they would not.

Q. Do you know of the Forces under Captain Williams and Major Macdonald deſerting, and turning their Arms againſt them, for Want of their Pay?
A. I do not know the Fact of my own Knowledge; but I heard that very conſiderable Bodies of Troops did leave their Officers, particularly Captain Williams; and thoſe of Major Macdonald I have heard did.

Q. (by the Managers). Whether you do not know that it is one of the Charges againſt the Begums, that they excited the Troops to deſert their Officers?
A. It appears ſo, upon the Affidavits that were taken reſpecting that Buſineſs.

Q. Is the long Want of Pay alledged, in any Part of that Charge, as the Cauſe of that Mutiny?
A. I do not recollect it is.

Q. What Situation was Mr. Johnſon in?
A. Mr. Johnſon, here mentioned, was, no Doubt, my Aſſiſtant at Lucknow.

Q. Was

Q. Was he left to ſupply your Place in your Abſence?
A. He was.

Read, the following Extract of Appendix to a Conſultation of 12 June 1783, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 182 of the ſame Book.

" Extract of a Letter from Mr. Johnſon, to the Governor General at Benares, dated at Lucknow, 28 December 1781.

" Your Letter of the 24th is juſt arrived, ordering the temporary Brigade to be again put on the Vizier's Liſt, which the late Treaty had juſt eaſed him of. Nothing leſs than Blows can effect this; for he is not even able to pay off the Arrears ſtill due to it for the laſt Year, which, with the 2½ Months ſtipulated by the Treaty, amount to 9 Lacks, by Mr. Day's Statement. Upwards of 12 Lacks have been paid to Mr. Wombwell, beſides Remittances made to the 2d Brigade and Colonel Muir; and ſcarce 6 Lacks have yet been collected; a hard Strain of private Credit alone has made theſe large extra Payments; and total Ruin muſt inevitably be the Conſequence of any Interruption in the Recovery of the Money advanced. However, this is merely a private Conſideration, and therefore cannot weigh in publick Meaſures but in a publick Light. The Troops being all in Arrears, and no Poſſibility of preſent Payment, ſo large a Body aſſembled here without any Means in Hand to check or controul them, nothing but Diſorder could follow.

" As one Proof that the Nabob is as badly off for Funds as we are, I may inform you that his Cavalry roſe this Day upon him, and went all armed to the Palace to demand from 13 to 18 Months Arrears due to them; and with great Difficulty * perſuaded to retire, which was probably more effected by a Body of Troops getting under Arms to go againſt them, than any other Conſideration (a)."

* Sic in Orig.

Read, the following Extract from Mr. Middleton's Defence, from Book 81, Page 73.

" Let me here be permitted to obſerve, that had the whole Claims and Expectations of the Year been perſiſted in, they would have amounted to near Double the Nabob's Net Revenue, viz.

Current Claims — — —	76,00,000
Chunar Balance, including Donation —	55,00,000
Further Balance, to April 1779 — —	26,00,000
Ditto, April 1780 — —	14,00,000
Major Palmer's Claims — —	82,00,000
	2,53,00,000

Upwards of Two Crores and a Half, beſides Arrears to Troops recalled and Failures above explained, for which the Miniſter raiſed 25 or 26 Lacks more. The Nabob's net Revenue, to my Knowledge, never exceeded a Crore and a Half, but generally fell very ſhort of that Sum (b)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. You ſaid, you had looked at ſome Book this Morning; is that the Book you looked at?
A. Yes, it is.

Q. Does that furniſh you with the Account you gave, that the Nabob's groſs Revenue was Two Crore Twenty-five Lacks?
A. It does.

Q. (from a Lord.) What were the Army Donations?
A. A Sum of Money engaged by Sujah Dowlah, the late Vizier, for the Company's Troops employed in the Rohilla Campaign.

Q. Is it diſtinct from the ordinary Pay?
A. Yes.

Q. You were underſtood to ſay, there were Four Lacks of Rupees ſent from Lucknow to Chunar; did you mean to ſay there were Four Lacks ſent, or that there was only One?
A. Only One.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XLV.

(b) Vide Appendix, N° XLVI.

Die Mercurij, 30° Aprilis 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would now proceed to ſubmit to their Conſideration further Evidence reſpecting the Preſent received by Mr. Haſtings at Chunar; namely, Mr. Haſtings's own Account of that Tranſaction; his Acknowledgment of it to the Court of Directors, when, as he himſelf ſtates, it could be no longer concealed; and his Application to the Company to have it allowed to himſelf.

Then Mr. ROBERT HUDSON was called in, and produced a Paper indorſed as follows:

"Letter from Warren Haſtings Eſquire, in Anſwer to the Court's Letter to Bengal, by the Surprize, reſpecting Preſents received by him in Bengal; read in Court 13th Ditto." "Cheltenham, 11th July 1785.

The ſame was delivered to the Counſel for the Defendant, and by them ſhewn to the Defendant, who acknowledged the Signature to be his Hand Writing.

Read, the ſame, as follows:

"William Devaynes Eſquire, Chairman of the Honourable the Court of Directors.

"Sir,

"The Honourable Court of Directors, in their General Letter to Bengal by the Surpriſe, dated the 16th March 1784, were pleaſed to expreſs their Deſire, that I ſhould inform them of the Periods when each Sum of the Preſents mentioned in my Addreſs of the 22d May 1782, was received; what were my Motives for withholding the ſeveral Receipts from the Knowledge of the Council, or of the Court of Directors; and what were my Reaſons for taking Bonds for Part of theſe Sums, and for paying other Sums into the Treaſury as Depoſits on my own Account.

"I have been kindly apprized, that the Information required as above is yet expected from me. I hope that the Circumſtances of my paſt Situation, when conſidered, will plead my Excuſe for having thus long withheld it. The Fact is, that I was not at the Preſidency when the Surpriſe arrived; and when I returned to it, my Time and Attention were ſo entirely engroſſed to the Day of my final Departure from it, by a Variety of other more important Occupations, of which, Sir, I may ſafely appeal to your Teſtimony, grounded on the large Portion contributed by myſelf, of the Volumes which compoſe our Conſultations of that Period, that the Submiſſion, which my Reſpect would have enjoined me to pay to the Command impoſed on me, was loſt to my Recollection, perhaps from the ſtronger Impreſſion which the firſt and diſtant Peruſal of it had left on my Mind, that it was rather intended as a Reprehenſion, for ſomething which had given Offence in my Report of the original Tranſaction, than as expreſſive of any Want of a further Elucidation of it.

"I will now endeavour to reply to the different Queſtions which have been ſtated to me, in as explicit a Manner as I am able. To ſuch Information as I can give, the Honourable Court is fully entitled; and where that ſhall prove defective, I will point out the eaſy Means by which it may be rendered more complete.

"Firſt, I believe I can affirm with Certainty, that the ſeveral Sums mentioned in the Account tranſmitted with my Letter above mentioned, were received at, or within a very few Days of the Dates which are prefixed to them in the Accounts. But as this contains only the groſs Sums, and each of theſe was received in different Payments, though at no great Diſtance of Time,

Time, I cannot therefore assign a greater Degree of Accuracy to the Account. Perhaps the Honourable Court will judge this sufficient for any Purpose to which their Inquiry was directed; but if it should not be so, I will beg leave to refer for a more minute Information, and for the Means of making any Investigation which they may think it proper to direct, respecting the Particulars of this Transaction, to Mr. Larkins your Accountant General, who was privy to every Process of it, and possessed, as I believe, the original Paper which contained the only Account that I ever kept of it. In this each Receipt was, as I recollect, specifically inserted with the Name of the Person by whom it was made; and I shall write to him to desire that he will furnish you with the Paper itself, if it is still in Being, and in his Hands, or with whatever he can distinctly recollect concerning it.

" For my Motives for with-holding the several Receipts from the Knowledge of the Council, or of the Court of Directors, and for taking Bonds for Part of these Sums, and paying others into the Treasury as Deposits on my own Account, I have generally accounted in my Letter to the Honourable the Court of Directors, of the 22d May 1782; namely, that ' I either chose to conceal ' the first Receipts from publick Curiosity, by receiving Bonds for the Amount; or possibly acted ' without any studied Design which my Memory, at that Distance of Time, could verify; and that ' I did not think it worth my Care, to observe the same Means with the rest.' It will not be expected, that I should be able to give a more correct Explanation of my Intentions, after a Lapse of Three Years, having declared at the Time that many Particulars had escaped my Remembrance; neither shall I attempt to add more than the clearer Affirmation of the Facts implied in that Report of them, and such Inferences as necessarily, or with a strong Probability, follow them. I have said, that the Three first Sums of the Account were paid into the Company's Treasury without passing through my Hands. The Second of these was forced into Notice by its Destination and Application to the Expence of a Detachment, which was formed and employed against Mahdajee Scintia, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Carnac, as I particularly apprised the Court of Directors, in my Letter of the 29th December 1780. The other Two were certainly not intended, when I received them, to be made publick, though intended for publick Service, and actually applied to it. The Exigencies of the Government were at that Time my own, and every Pressure upon it rested with its full Weight upon my Mind. Wherever I could find allowable Means of relieving those Wants, I eagerly seized them; but neither could it occur to me as necessary, to state on our Proceedings every little Aid which I could thus procure, nor do I know how I could have stated it, without appearing to court Favour by an Ostentation which I disdained, nor without the Chance of exciting the Jealousy of my Colleagues by the constructive Assertion of a separate and unparticipated Merit derived from the Influence of my Station, to which they might have laid an equal Claim: I should have deemed it particularly dishonourable to receive, for my own Use, Money tendered by Men of a certain Class, from whom I had interdicted the Receipt of Presents to my Inferiors, and bound them by Oath not to receive them: I was therefore more than ordinarily cautious to avoid the Suspicion of it, which would scarcely have failed to light upon me had I suffered the Money to be brought directly to my own House, or to that of any Person known to be in Trust for me; for these Reasons I caused it to be transported immediately to the Treasury. There I well know, Sir, it could not be received without being passed to some Credit, and this could only be done by entering it as a Loan, or as a Deposit. The first was the least liable to Reflection, and therefore I had obviously Recourse to it. Why the Second Sum was intended as a Deposit, I am utterly ignorant. Possibly it was done without any special Direction from me; possibly because it was the simplest Mode of Entry, and therefore preferred, as the Transaction itself did not require Concealment, having been already avowed.

" Although I am firmly persuaded that these were my Sentiments on the Occasion, yet I will not affirm that they were. Though I feel their Impression as the Remains of a Series of Thoughts retained on my Memory, I am not certain that they may not have been produced by subsequent Reflection on the principal Fact, combining with it the probable Motives of it. Of this I am certain, that it was my Design originally to have concealed the Receipt of all the Sums, except the Second, even from the Knowledge of the Court of Directors. They had answered my Purpose of publick Utility; and I had almost totally dismissed them from my Remembrance. But when Fortune threw a Sum in my Way of a Magnitude which could not be concealed, and the peculiar Delicacy of my Situation at the Time in which I received it, made me more circumspect of Appearances, I chose to apprise my Employers of it, which I did hastily and generally; hastily, perhaps, to prevent the Vigilance and Activity of secret Calumny; and generally, because I knew not the exact Amount of the Sum of which I was in the Receipt, but not in the full Possession: I promised to acquaint them with the Result as soon as I should be in Possession of it; and in the Performance of my Promise I thought it consistent with it, to add to the Account all the former Appropriations of the same Kind; my good Genius then suggesting to me, with a Spirit of Caution, which might have spared me the Trouble of this Apology, had I universally attended to it, that if I had suppressed them, and they were afterwards known, I might be asked, what were my Motives for with-holding Part of these Receipts from the Knowledge of the Court of Directors, and informing them of the rest.

" It being my Wish to clear up every Doubt upon this Transaction which either my own Mind could suggest, or which may have been suggested by others; I beg Leave to suppose another

Queſtion, and to ſtate the Terms of it in my Reply, by informing you that the Indorſement on the Bonds was made about the Period of my leaving the Preſidency in the Middle of the Year 1781, in order to guard againſt their becoming a Claim on the Company as Part of my Eſtate, in the Event of my Death occurring in the Courſe of the Service on which I was then entering.

" This, Sir, is the plain Hiſtory of the Tranſaction. I ſhould be aſhamed to requeſt that you would communicate it to the Honourable Court of Directors, whoſe Time is too valuable for the Intruſion of a Subject ſo unintereſting, but that it is become a Point of indiſpenſable Duty; I muſt therefore requeſt the Favour of you to lay it at a convenient Time before them. In addreſſing it to you perſonally, I yield to my own Feelings of the Reſpect which is due to them as a Body, and to the Aſſurances which I derive from your experienced Civilities, that you will kindly overlook the Trouble impoſed by it.

" I have the Honour to be,
Sir,
Your very humble, and Moſt obedient Servant,
" Warren Haſtings."

" Num. 127.

" To Edward Wheler, Eſquire.

" Sir,

" I beg Leave to introduce, through you, to the Notice of the Board, an Inſtance of Zeal and Attachment to our Government, which, from the peculiar Circumſtances under which it was exhibited, merits both a Place in our Records, and a publick and warm Acknowledgement.

" It will be remembered, that a principal Object of my Journey to theſe Provinces was to obtain and facilitate an Interview at Banaris with Dewaugur Pundit, the Miniſter of Rajah Moodajee Booſlah, for the Purpoſe of effecting a final Adjuſtment of the political Concerns of our Government, and that of Berar. The Death of Dewaugur Pundit, the News of which reached me Two Days before my Arrival at Banaris, and which I regret with the moſt ſenſible Concern, diſappointed all the Hopes which I had conceived of forming by his Means a ſolid and laſting Alliance with the Court of Berar.

" I was attended in my Journey from Calcutta by Beneram Pundit, the Vakeel of Moodajee Booſla, with his Brother Biſſumber Pundit. The Vakeel, during his long Reſidence with me in that Capacity, had given me conſtant Proofs of a ſincere Diſpoſition to promote the Intereſts of our Government, whilſt he exerted himſelf to advance thoſe of his Maſter.

" When I retreated from Banaris, Beneram Pundit and his Brother, on the firſt Intelligence of my Departure, followed, and, unattended by a ſingle Servant, joined me in the March, reſiſting all my Intreaties, and even Injunctions, to return to Banaris, where their whole Family reſided, and where they might have remained in perfect Eaſe and Security.

" On my Arrival at Chunar I found myſelf in great and irremediable Diſtreſs for Want of Money. The Troops were ſome Four, and others Five Months in Arrears, and as Cheit Sing had the Country on all Sides at his Devotion, I had not the ſmalleſt Proſpect of obtaining Supplies, until the Motion of our Troops from different Quarters ſhould open a Communication. It was with Difficulty that I found Means to raiſe ſo ſmall a Sum as 2,500 Rupees, to diſtribute among the Sepoys for their preſſing Neceſſities. I muſt add, though foreign from my immediate Subject, that the Sepoys bore their Diſtreſſes without expreſſing the leaſt Impatience under them.

" Being accuſtomed, from my Experience of the Intereſt which Beneram Pundit had always taken in the Succeſs of our Affairs, and as a Kind of Acknowledgment of it, to treat him with a greater Freedom of Communication than other Perſons in his Situation, I occaſionally mentioned to him, without any Expectation or Thought of obtaining any Relief from him, the Difficulties under which I laboured for the Want of preſent Subſiſtence. He inſtantly, and with ſome Eagerneſs, neſs, replied, That his Family at Barlaris were in Poſſeſſion of a Lack of Rupees, collected in Specie, of which he made me the inſtant Offer, propoſing that a Battalion of Sepoys ſhould be ſent to bring it away; his Brother at the ſame Time offering to accompany the Eſcort, and to deliver the Money. I thankfully accepted the Offer, and ſhould have adopted the Mode they recommended for bringing away the Money, had I not been fearful of expoſing their Family to the Vengeance of Cheit Sing; and as my Dewan had been left at Banaris, I hoped by his Means to procure the Treaſure to be tranſported to Chunar, and I received their Orders for the Delivery of it to him. But in this Expedient I was diſappointed, for the Dewan was ſo concealed, that my Letter could not reach him, and Gopaul Doſs, the Banker, through whoſe Agency the intended Plan was to be effected, was about the ſame Time apprehended and carried a Priſoner to Lutteefpoor, where the Rajah reſided; neither could I at that Time deviſe any other Contrivance to avail myſelf of the Aſſiſtance which had been thus generouſly preſſed upon me. When I returned to Banaris, Beneram Pundit renewed the ſame Tender; and although my Diſtreſs for Money was not then equal in any Degree to that which had before prompted him to make it, I agreed to accept it, willing to furniſh an incontrovertible Proof of his Sincerity in the Firſt Offer, and ſtrengthen the Teſtimony which I have herein given of his ſteady Attachment to our Government. The whole Sum, amounting to One Lack of Banaris Sicca Rupees, was received between the 30th of September and 1ſt of October: I have granted to Beneram Pundit a Bond for the ſame, at the uſual Rate of Intereſt, and in the uſual Form, except that it has only my Signature to it. I hope and requeſt that the Board will be pleaſed to confirm it.

Then the Witneſs produced Book 20, intituled, " Bengal Letters, received 10th April 1782 to 13th April 1783."

Read, a Letter to the Honourable the Secret Committee of the Honourable Court of Directors, ſigned Warren Haſtings, and dated Fort William, 22d May 1782.

" To the Honourable the Secret Committee of the Honourable Court of Directors.

" Honourable Sirs, Fort William, 22d May 1782.

" In a Letter which I have had the Honour to addreſs you in Duplicate, and of which a Triplicate accompanies this, dated 20 January 1782, I informed you that I had received the Offer of a Sum of Money from the Nabob Vizier and his Miniſters, to the nominal Amount of 10 Lacks of Lucknow Siccas, and that Bills on the Houſe of Gopaul Doſs had been actually given me for the Amount, which I had accepted for the Uſe of the Honourable Company, and I promiſed to account with you for the ſame, as ſoon as it ſhould be in my Power after the whole Sum had come into my Poſſeſſion. This Promiſe I now perform, and deeming it conſiſtent with the Spirit of it, I have added ſuch other Sums as have been occaſionally converted to the Company's Property through my Means, and in conſequence of the like original Deſtination. Of the Second of theſe you have been already adviſed in a Letter, which I had the Honour to addreſs the Honourable Court of Directors, dated 29th November 1780. Both this and the Third Article were paid immediately to the Treaſury, by my Order to the Sub-Treaſurer to receive them on the Company's Account, but never paſſed through my Hands. The Three Sums for which Bonds were granted were in like manner paid to the Company's Treaſury without paſſing through my Hands, but their Appropriation was not ſpecified.

" The Sum of 50,000 Current Rupees was received while I was on my Journey to Benaris, and applied as expreſſed in the Account.

" As to the Manner in which theſe Sums have been expended, the Reference which I have made of it in the accompanying Account to the ſeveral Accounts in which they are credited renders any other Specification of it unneceſſary; beſides that thoſe Accounts either have or will have received a much ſtronger Authentication than any that I could give to mine.

" Why theſe Sums were taken by me; why they were, except the Second, quietly transferred to the Company's Uſe; why Bonds were taken for the Firſt, and not for the Reſt, might, were this Matter to be expoſed to the View of the Publick, furniſh a Variety of Conjectures to which it would be of little Uſe to Reply. Were your Honourable Court to queſtion me upon theſe Points, I would anſwer, that the Sums were taken for the Company's Benefit, at Times in which the Company very much needed them; that I either choſe to conceal the Firſt Receipts from publick Curioſity, by receiving Bonds for the Amount, or poſſibly acted without any ſtudied Deſign which my Memory could at this Diſtance of Time verify; and that I did not think it worth my Care to obſerve the ſame Means with the Reſt. I truſt, Honourable Sirs, to your Breaſts for a candid Interpretation of my Actions, and aſſume the Freedom to add, that I think myſelf on ſuch a Subject, on ſuch an Occaſion, entitled to it.

" I have the Honour to be,
Honourable Sirs,
Your moſt faithful, moſt obedient,
and moſt humble Servant,
Warren Haſtings."

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 226.

Read alſo, from the ſame Book, a Paper, indorſed, "Fort William, 16th December 1782. Letter from Warren Haſtings Eſquire, to the Secret Committee. Received per Lively, 24th May 1783," as follows:

"To the Honourable the Secret Committee of the Honourable Court of Directors.

"Honourable Sirs, Fort William, 16th December 1782.

"The Diſpatch of the Lively having been protracted, by various Cauſes, from Time to Time, the accompanying Addreſs, which was originally deſigned and prepared for that Diſpatch (no other Conveyance ſince occurring), has of Courſe been thus long detained. The Delay is of no publick Conſequence; but it has produced a Situation which, with Reſpect to myſelf, I regard as unfortunate; becauſe it expoſes me to the meaneſt Imputation, from the Occaſion which the late Parliamentary Inquiries have ſince furniſhed, but which were unknown when my Letter was written; and written in the neceſſary Conſequence of a Promiſe, made to that Effect in a former Letter to your Honourable Committee, dated 20th January laſt. However, to preclude the Poſſibility of ſuch Reflections from affecting me, I have deſired Mr. Larkins, who was privy to the whole Tranſactions, to affix to the Letter his Affidavit, of the Date in which it was written. I own I feel moſt ſenſibly the Mortification of being reduced to the Neceſſity of uſing ſuch Precautions to guard my Reputation from Diſhonour. If I had, at any Time, poſſeſſed that Degree of Confidence from my immediate Employers, which they never withheld from the meaneſt of my Predeceſſors, I ſhould have diſdained to uſe theſe Attentions. How I have drawn on me a different Treatment, I know not; it is ſufficient that I have not merited it. And in the Courſe of a Service of Thirty-two Years, and Ten of theſe employed in maintaining the Powers, and diſcharging the Duties of the Firſt Office of the Britiſh Government in India, that Honourable Court ought to know whether I poſſeſs the Integrity and Honour which are the firſt Requiſites of ſuch a Station. If I wanted theſe, they have afforded me but too powerful Incentives to ſuppreſs the Information which I now convey to them through you; and to appropriate to my own Uſe the Sums which I have already paſſed to their Credit, by the unworthy, and, pardon me if I add, dangerous Reflections, which they have paſſed upon me, for the firſt Communication of this Kind; and your own Experience will ſuggeſt to you, that there are Perſons who would profit by ſuch a Warning.

"Upon the Whole of theſe Tranſactions, which to you, who are accuſtomed to view Buſineſs in an official and regular Light, may appear unprecedented, if not improper, I have but a few ſhort Remarks to ſuggeſt to your Conſideration.

"If I appear in any unfavourable Light by theſe Tranſactions, I reſign the common and legal Security of thoſe who commit Crimes or Errors. I am ready to anſwer every particular Queſtion that may be put againſt myſelf, upon Honour, or upon Oath.

"The Sources from which theſe Reliefs to the publick Service have come, would never have yielded them to the Company publickly; and the Exigencies of your Service (Exigencies created by the Expoſition of your Affairs, and Faction in your Councils) required thoſe Supplies.

"I could have concealed them, had I had a wrong Motive, from your's and the publick Eye for ever; and I know that the Difficulties to which a Spirit of Injuſtice may ſubject me for my Candour and Avowal, are greater than any poſſible Inconvenience that could have attended the Concealment, except the Diſſatisfaction of my own Mind. Theſe Difficulties are but a few of thoſe which I have ſuffered in your Service. The Applauſe of my own Breaſt is my ſureſt Reward, and was the Support of my Mind in meeting them. Your Applauſe, and that of my Country, are my next Wiſh in Life.

"I have the Honour to be,
Honourable Sirs,
Your moſt faithful, moſt obedient,
And moſt humble Servant,
Warren Haſtings."

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That the Paper next about to be read contained an Account of the Produce of this Sum given to Mr. Haſtings by the Nabob.

Read, Extract of an Account, dated Fort William, 22d May 1782, and ſigned Warren Haſtings, from the ſame Book, as follows:

"An Account of Sums received, on the Account of the Honourable Company, by the Governor General, or paid to their Treaſury by his Order, and applied to their Service.

"Produce of the Sum mentioned in the Governor General's Letter to the Honourable Secret Committee, dated 20th January 1782, and credited in the Governor General's Account of Durbar Charges for April 1782,	10,30,275 : 1 : 3

"I William

" I William Larkins do make Oath and ſay, That the Letter and Account to which this Affidavit is affixed, were written by me at the Requeſt of the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire, on the 22d May 1782, from rough Draughts, written by himſelf in my Preſence: That the Cover of the Letter was ſealed up by him in my Preſence, and was then intended to have been tranſmitted to England by the Lively, when that Veſſel was firſt ordered for Diſpatch, and that it has remained cloſed until this Day, when it was opened for the expreſs Purpoſe of being accompanied by this Affidavit.

" So help me God.

Then the Witneſs produced Book 42, intituled, " Bengal Diſpatches, 1ſt January 1782, to 11th April 1783."

Read, Extract of a General Letter, from the Court of Directors, to the Governor General and Council at Fort William, dated 15th January 1783.

Par. 54. " We have received a Letter from our Governor General, dated, Patna, 20th January 1782; repreſenting, that, while the Nabob Vizier was at Chunar, an Offer of a very conſiderable Sum of Money was made to him, both on the Part of the Nabob and on that of his Miniſters, as a Preſent; which he accepted without Heſitation, being entirely deſtitute both of Means and Credit, whether for our Service, or the Relief of his own Neceſſities. The nominal Sum ſaid to be received, and in Courſe of Payment, amounts, as the Governor General has informed us, to 10 Lacks of Rupees of the Currency of Oude. It is further ſtated, that what has been already received, has been laid out on the publick Service, and that the reſt is to be applied to the ſame Account; and that as ſoon as the Whole is compleated, he will tranſmit to us a faithful Account thereof.

Par. 55. " The Governor General has ſubmitted to our Conſideration, whether we will adjudge this Depoſit to him; but as the Act of Parliament, by which the Governor General and Council were appointed, directs, 'That the Salaries to be allowed to the ſaid Governor General and Council,' as therein mentioned, 'ſhall be in Lieu of all Fees of Office, Perquiſites, Emoluments, and Advan-'tages whatſoever; and that no Fees of Office, Perquiſites, Emoluments, or Advantages what-'ſoever, ſhall be accepted, received, or taken, by ſuch Governor General and Council, or any of 'them, in any Manner, or on any Account or Pretence whatſoever:' And as the ſame Act further directs, 'That no Governor General, or any of the Council, ſhall, directly or indirectly, accept, re-'ceive, or take, of or from any Perſon or Perſons, in any Manner, or on any Account whatſoever, 'any Preſent, Gift, Donation, Gratuity, or Reward, pecuniary or otherwiſe, or any Promiſe or En-'gagement for any Preſent, Gift, Donation, Gratuity, or Reward;' we cannot, were we ſo inclined, decree the Amount of this Preſent to the Governor General. And as it is further enacted, 'That 'any ſuch Preſent, Gift, Gratuity, Donation, or Reward, accepted, taken, or received, ſhall be 'deemed and conſtrued to have been received to and for the ſole Uſe of the Company;' we approve of the Intentions of the Governor General, to appropriate the Whole of the Sum to the Publick Service; and direct, that he do ſtrictly abide by the Act of Parliament in this Caſe made and provided."

Then the Managers for the Commons defired Major Scott might be called in.

MAJOR SCOTT was accordingly called in, and examined as follows:

Q. Whether you did not receive a Letter from Mr. Haftings, mentioning his, Mr. Haftings's, having received a Prefent of Ten Lacks of Rupees from the Nabob, whilft he was at Chunar?

A. I remember it perfectly well.—I think it was in the Month of July 1782, that I received the Letter by the Nancy Packet.

Q. Where was you at that Time?

A. I was in England.

Q. To whom did you deliver that Letter?

A. I thought I was afked, whether I myfelf received that Letter.

Q. Yes: And you were underftood to anfwer, that you received it in July 1782. The Queftion upon that is, Whether you delivered it to any Perfon, and to whom?

A. Not that Letter; but with it I received another Letter, fealed, and directed to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors. That Letter I delivered immediately after I had received it, and after I had read Mr. Haftings' Letter, to Sir Henry Fletcher, who was at that Time Chairman of the Court of Directors, and I delivered it to him at the India Houfe.

Q. Did any Duplicate of that Letter, for your Infpection, accompany the Original?

A. I am not quite certain, whether a Copy, for my Infpection, came by that Ship, or whether it came by the next; but of this I am very clear, that I had delivered the original Letter to Sir Henry Fletcher before I had read the Duplicate, not conceiving there was any difcretionary Power lodged in me to withold it, upon any Pretence whatever.

Q. Recollect, if you can, whether or not the Duplicate accompanied the Letter from Mr. Haftings, or followed in another Ship?

A. I really cannot—but I can recollect what will go immediately to the Point. I am fure Mr. Haftings, in his Letter to me, mentioned, that he had received a Prefent from the Nabob, or his Minifter, and that he had fent to the Secret Committee of Directors an Account of the Receipt of that Prefent.—Of that I am clear; and that he had appropriated, or meant to appropriate, that Prefent to the Service of the Company. I think it is more than probable I received an exact Copy of the Letter to the Secret Committee.—I went through a very long Examination upon this Subject before a Committee of the Houfe of Commons; and, though I have not looked at my Evidence, yet I think I ftated, at that Time, that I had delivered the Letter almoft immediately after receiving it, and certainly before I had read the Duplicate of it, if a Duplicate was inclofed to me, which I think there was.

Q. You now think the Duplicate was encloſed to you with the original Letter?

A. I rather think it was.

Q. But you can't fay pofitively whether it came with it, or in a fubfequent Parcel?

A. I cannot. If your Lordfhips will give me Leave to mention—I did underftand the Tenor of my Examination in another Place to be intended to prove, if it could have been proved from my Evidence, that there was a difcretionary Power lodged in me to withhold the Letter or to deliver it, as the State of Parties might be at that Time in this Country: And I can fpeak pofitively, I had no Inftruction from Mr. Haftings, directly or indirectly, to withhold, under any Circumftances, that Letter from the Gentleman to whom it was directed.

Q. Have you that Letter from Mr. Haftings about you?

A. No, I have not. I did not know to what Point I fhould be examined.

Q. Have you it in your Poffeffion?

A. I think it very probable I have. If your Lordfhips think it right I fhould produce a private Letter from Mr. Haftings, in which that Paffage is inferted, I am in Submiffion to your Lordfhips Judgment, whether I fhould produce it or not: I fpeak pofitively to the Fact.

The Managers for the Commons ftated, That if it had not appeared, from the Teftimony of the Witnefs himfelf, that the Letter was upon a Publick Tranfaction, they fhould not have entered upon the Subject.

The Houfe obferved, That till the Witnefs had feen the Letter, the Enquiry did not appear quite right.

The Witnefs proceeded as follows:

I can fo far ftate pofitively, that, as far as pecuniary Tranfactions are concerned, I can have not the fmalleft Objection to produce that, or any other Letter I ever received from Mr. Haftings in my Life.

Q. Did that private Letter to you carry the Explanation further than his Letter to the Court of Directors did, with Reſpect to his Tranſaction either with the Nabob or with his Miniſter?

A. It certainly did not: Speaking from Memory, I think Mr. Haſtings, in his Letter to me, ſaid ſomething about the State of his own Fortune, and that he would not increaſe it by any Means which he could not approve; but left it to the Court of Directors, to determine whether they would adjudge that Preſent ſo received to him, or not.

Q. Do you recollect the Date of that Letter?

A. I think it was dated about the 18th, 20th, or 22d of January 1782, from Patna; and, accompanying it, Mr. Haſtings ſent to the Court of Directors a Narrative of the Inſurrections at Benares, and relative to the Proceedings in Oude. It was the firſt Diſpatch of the Year, except One. A Ship was ſent by Mr. Wheler and Mr. Macpherſon to England—it was the Swallow. I think ſhe ſailed in the Month of January 1782. Mr. Haſtings had deſired that Veſſel to be detained, till his Narrative, and thoſe Letters of which I am ſpeaking, ſhould arrive in Calcutta. But the Council, being anxious to ſend from Bengal the earlieſt Accounts of the Tranſactions in India, and particularly from Madras, where the Ship was to ſtop, the Swallow ſailed before the Narrative and thoſe Letters arrived in Calcutta—and the Nancy Packet, a Snow, was taken up expreſsly for the Purpoſe of bringing them to England; and I think the Nancy Packet arrived in leſs than a Month after the Swallow.—I think ſo.

Q. Whether the Account you mention of theſe Tranſactions was not addreſſed directly to the Board of Directors at Home from Mr. Haſtings?

A. I really do not recollect, but the Record will ſhew it: The Head of the Narrative will ſhew it of courſe.

Q. Did theſe Accounts paſs through you as a Channel of Communication between Mr. Haſtings and the Court of Directors, or did they come to them in the ordinary Mode of Communication?

A. They were brought home under the Charge of Major Fairfax, I think.

Q. You have given an Account of Mr. Haſtings being at the Time at Patna, and giving ſpecial Directions for the Tranſmiſſion of certain Articles of Intelligence, which he meant to communicate to the Court of Directors at Home; and the Queſtion put to you is, Whether that Communication to the Court of Directors was made through you, or in any other Manner?

A. Not through me—but I am not clear whether Major Fairfax was entruſted perſonally to deliver them, or whether they were ſent up by the Ship in the ordinary Courſe.

Q. Was this Part of the Account Mr. Haſtings ſent to you, either by a Letter addreſſed to you, or in any other Manner communicated?

A. If your Lordſhips will give me leave, I will ſtate how I received it. The Benares Narrative, and the other Packets, were ſent to the Court of Directors, I ſuppoſe—I believe ſo. Major Fairfax brought me a Box, containing a Duplicate Copy of the Benares Narrative; and, upon my opening that Box, I found a ſealed Letter, directed to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors. That Letter, as ſoon as I received it, and ſaw it, I immediately delivered to Sir Henry Fletcher. Why Mr. Haſtings choſe to incloſe that Letter to me, inſtead of ſending it to the Court of Directors, I really am not competent to give any Information upon.

Q. The Queſtion that was aſked you was, Whether you, in fact, made a Communication of all theſe Circumſtances to the Court of Directors, or to any of the Directors?

A. I cannot directly recollect what paſſed between Sir Henry Fletcher and me. Sir Henry Fletcher is in England, and may anſwer that Queſtion. Perhaps his Memory may be readier upon the Subject than mine; but I think I told him that Letter came incloſed to me from Mr. Haſtings, and that, immediately upon my ſeeing it, I delivered it to him: It was at the India Houſe.

Q. Has Mr. Haſtings ever given you any Reaſon why he choſe to communicate this Tranſaction through you, rather than in any other Manner?

A. He certainly has not; but I beg to obſerve, that Mr. Haſtings publickly notified to the Court of Directors when I arrived in England, that he had appointed me his Agent.

Q. Whether, as his Agent, you were not equally competent to have delivered an Account of the other Tranſactions, as the Account of this Tranſaction?

A. I think I underſtand the Queſtion; but I can perceive ſome Diſtinction. The Benares Narrative, and the Account of the other Tranſactions, came home through the Channel of the Board; and I think that may be a Reaſon why they were ſent in another Manner: But this was from Mr. Haſtings himſelf.

Q. Do you know any Reaſon why Mr. Haſtings diverted the Communication reſpecting this Tranſaction to you from the Channel of the Board, to whom he was bound to communicate all Tranſactions?

A. I really do not know; and my Ideas of a Governor General differ ſo much from thoſe of the Honourable Manager upon this Subject, that I do not conceive he was bound to communicate all Tranſactions to the Board.—I may be in an Error, but that is my Idea.

Q. The Queſtion is, Did Mr. Haſtings ever give you any Reaſon for making this Difference?
A. Not in the leaſt; I believe I ſaid ſo before.

Q. Did you ever read the general Orders of the Company to the Governor General and their Servants?
A. I believe I have read all of them.

Q. Is it upon thoſe Orders you have formed your Idea of the Duty of a Governor General?

The Houſe obſerved, that the Orders themſelves would prove whether the Opinion already given upon this Subject by the Witneſs was right or wrong.

The Witneſs ſaid,

A. I have not the leaſt Objection to anſwering any Queſtions.

Q. Whether you conceive it to be a Part of the Duty of a Governor General to obey the Orders of the Court of Directors?

The Witneſs was aſked, whether he had any Objection to anſwering this Queſtion?

A. I have no Objection to anſwer it.—I conceive it to be the Duty of a Governor General to preſerve, to the Eaſt India Company and to Great Britain, the Empire that is committed to his Charge: And I do conceive it to be the bounden Duty of the Governor General to diſobey ſuch Orders of the Court of Directors, as he ſhall think tend to endanger the Safety of that Empire committed to his Charge; but I alſo conceive that the Governor General, ſo diſobeying the poſitive Orders of the Court of Directors, makes himſelf peculiarly reſponſible to them, and to his Country, for all his Acts.

Q. With reſpect to your own Duty, Whether you conceive it to be the Duty of an Agent to obey all Orders which he receives from the Perſon who appoints him?

A. Whether Mr. Haſtings was miſtaken or not, I will not preſume to ſay; but he certainly did never give me any Thing that could bear the Conſtruction of an Order, as the Honourable Manager puts it.

Q. The Queſtion is, if you have no Objection to anſwer it, as to your general Opinion?
A. Moſt undoubtedly, as applied to any ſealed Letter that ſhould be ſent to me to deliver to any Perſon whatever.

Q. Whether you ever did receive Communications from Mr. Haſtings, reſpecting Money taken in India privately by Mr. Haſtings, which you did not immediately make publick to the Court of Directors?

A. I think I can underſtand the Point to which the Queſtion is intended to go, and will explain it, if your Lordſhips will give me Leave, in a few Words. Mr. Haſtings, in the Month of November 1780, wrote a Letter to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, I think, in which he told them, he had offered, in the preceding Month of June, the Sum of Two Lacks of Rupees, to defray the Expences of Major Camac's Detachment; he told them that the Money, by whatever Means it came into his Poſſeſſion, was not his own; that he neither could, nor would, have received it, but for their Uſe. In anſwer to this Letter, the Court of Directors wrote to Mr. Haſtings, expreſſing ſome Surprize at the Communication, and withholding their Approbation of the Tranſaction, till they had further Information from him. In a private Letter, which Mr. Haſtings wrote to me very ſoon after the Receipt of that from the Court of Directors, there was a Paſſage, which I read before the Committee of the Houſe of Commons: the Honourable Manager I ſee has the Book before him, and if he will have the Goodneſs to read it, it will be more correct than my Memory.

Q. Give, as near as your preſent Memory will go, an Account of that Tranſaction?
A. As near as my Memory goes, the Words of Mr. Haſtings, writing to me, were, "You may recollect the Two Lacks of Rupees which I received from Cheit Sing:—The Court of Directors were angry," (or ſomething to that Purpoſe, for really I am at a Loſs for the Remainder of the Words) "that I did not inform them of more Particulars."—I am not certain whether theſe are the Expreſſions:—But it is here, and I may give it in a more correct Way from the Paper.

Q. Did you then give the very Words of the Letter, from the Letter, or from your own Memory?
A. I believe the Clerk took it down from the Words of the Letter.

Q. You ſtate Mr. Haſtings to have ſaid, "You may recollect."—When was the firſt Communication made to you, upon the Subject of that Preſent, by Mr. Haſtings?
A. I can ſpeak poſitively, that Mr. Haſtings never did make any Communication to me upon the Subject of that Preſent; and Mr. Haſtings was miſtaken, when he ſaid, "You may recollect;" for I could not recollect what I never had heard.—I certainly had never heard it.

The Managers for the Commons read the following Paſſage to the Witneſs, "You may recollect the Two Lacks of Rupees I received from Cheit Sing, to defray the Expences of Major Camac's Detachment."

Then the Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Do you mean to ſay you never had any previous Communication of that Fact from Mr. Haſtings?

A. I certainly do mean to ſay ſo, fully and completely—and to add this, which Mr. Haſtings might not recollect at a ſucceeding Time, that on the 22d of June 1780, when this happened, I had left Calcutta; I had left Mr. Haſtings's Family, and was proceeding to take the Command of a Battalion of Sepoys at Chunargur; to which Command I had been appointed, by Sir Eyre Coote, a few Days before.

Q. Was this Communication made, whenever it was made, to you, in a private Letter?

A. It was; and I ſhewed General Smith, who was Chairman of the Committee, the greateſt Part of the Letter, at the Time when I gave my Evidence.

Q. At the Time you received that private Letter, was it accompanied with any publick Communication of the Tranſaction which you were to make to the Court of Directors?

A. At the Time I received that private Letter, Mr. Haſtings ſent to the Company that Account of all the Preſents, including 19,50,000 Rupees *. Both came by the ſame Diſpatch.

Q. But did you receive any Account of it, for you to communicate to the Company?

A. None at all; Mr. Haſtings, I ſuppoſe, conceiving that he had ſent a full and ſufficient Account.

Q. The Queſtion that was put to you was, Whether you received privately, from Mr. Haſtings, any Account of that Tranſaction, which you ought to have ſent to the Court of Directors?

A. None; but I believe my Anſwer will not be complete, except I refer again to the Report of that Committee. When I gave my Evidence there, I was particularly aſked, if Mr. Haſtings had told me from whom he received any of the ſeveral Sums compoſing that Nineteen Lacks and a Half? Not recollecting this Paſſage of my Letter, I think my immediate Anſwer was—No—But afterwards, recollecting this Paſſage in the Letter, and I rather think General Smith reminded me of it; upon that I produced the Letter, and the Paſſage was entered.—General Smith had ſeen that Part of the Letter before.

Q. What did you do, upon General Smith's reminding you of it, he having ſeen this Letter?

A. I gave it immediately to the Committee—I had it with me at the Time.

Q. I underſtood you had corrected ſome Account you had given to the Committee before?

A. At this Time I was examined by the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, of which Committee General Smith was Chairman. I was examined, Whether I knew from whom ſuch a Sum, or ſuch a Sum, was received, all component Parts of that Account, which Mr. Haſtings ſent to the Court of Directors? Upon being aſked theſe ſeveral Queſtions, I ſaid, No; not recollecting thoſe particular Paſſages in the Letter. General Smith, to whom I had ſhewn it (and that certainly muſt have been a Proof that I wanted to keep no Secret), reminded me of the Paſſage, he ſitting in the Chair of the Committee at the Time. I took the Letter out of my Pocket, and the Clerk inſerted the Paſſage from it.

Q. By what Means came General Smith firſt to have a Knowledge of that Letter?

A. I believe, from that Part of my Letter; but General Smith himſelf will beſt be able to tell that.

Q. The Queſtion put to you is—How did that Letter firſt come to the Knowledge of General Smith: Upon what Occaſion did you ſhew it him?

A. It happened at a Time, when the Affairs of the Company in India were in a very critical Situation: A Packet had arrived with a Number of Letters, and, amongſt the reſt, this from Mr. Haſtings. I thought it contained Information tending to inſpire us with Hopes, that we ſhould get the better of all our Difficulties; and, I believe, upon that Idea, I ſhewed the Letter, or the greateſt Part of it, to General Smith; and it contained News of the Operations of the War in the Carnatic, and the Meaſures in Bengal.

Q. Do you recollect, at what Time, before this Examination, you ſhewed that Letter to General Smith?

A. I believe not above a Day, or Two, before; becauſe the General and I were in the Habit of meeting there almoſt every Day; he, as Chairman, and I, as a Witneſs before that Committee.

---

* See Extract of this Account ſupra, Page 558, at the Bottom; and ſee the whole Account in Appendix, N° XLVIII.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, you ſhewed the Whole of the Letter to General Smith?
A. I certainly mean to ſay no ſuch Thing; for I rather think I did not.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that General Smith had no previous Knowledge of this particular Tranſaction, reſpecting the Preſent from Cheit Sing, before you communicated it to him?
A. I mean to ſay,—my firm Belief is, he had not; becauſe, in the Eleventh Report, it is ſtated, that the Committee were perfectly unapprized of that, till I told them of it: I think that a good Reaſon for ſuppoſing they did not know it before.

Q. Do you, or do you not, know, that you were the only Perſon, to whom Mr. Haſtings made this Communication, relative to the Preſents from Cheit Sing; and that, in Fact, there was no other Communication.

A. I certainly know that there was another Communication of that Preſent. Mr. Haſtings wrote a Letter to Mr. Sullivan in the Month of Auguſt 1780; it was ſent by a Daniſh Ship; and, in that Letter, he ſtates to Mr. Sullivan, that he had received it from Cheit Sing, and authorized him to make any publick Uſe he pleaſes of the Communication. Mr. Haſtings afterwards communicated to the Court of Directors, by the firſt Engliſh Ship, in November 1780, that he had received Two Lacks of Rupees; that the Money was not his own, and that he only would have received it for their Uſe; but to them he did not ſtate that it was from Cheit Sing he received it; there was that Difference in the Communication.

Q. You have ſaid, Mr. Haſtings communicated to Mr. Sullivan in a private Letter, that this Preſent came from Cheit Sing, and the Intelligence was to be uſed, as he, Mr. Sullivan, pleaſed: Was there any ſimilar Paſſage in the private Letter of Mr. Haſtings to you, that gave you a Liberty to make what Uſe of it you pleaſed?

A. No—It was mentioned collaterally to me: I can ſpeak to that from Memory exactly. Mr. Haſtings in his Letter to me, of which that Paragraph is a Part, complained very loudly of the ill Uſage he had received from the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, in the Strictures they had paſſed upon him, and from the Court of Directors: And he ſtates this as amongſt the Complaints,—that he thinks he has been very ill treated by them: it is mentioned merely by that Kind of Accident. I do not know whether I make myſelf underſtood; but in ſtating a Variety of Particulars, in which he thought himſelf ill treated, he mentions as one, that having received Two Lacks for their Benefit, and appropriating it to their Service, ſuch Strictures ſhould be paſſed upon him.

Q. When he communicated it to you in that Way, did he, or did he not, give you any Directions to make what publick or private Uſe of it you pleaſed?

A. None at all: but I had no Idea of making any Secret of it; I had no Idea that a pecuniary Tranſaction of Mr. Haſtings could or ought to be a Matter of Secrecy.

Q. Have you any Objection to the Production of the Letters?

A. I have not the ſmalleſt Objection to produce them, though they contain Opinions and Obſervations upon Men and upon Meaſures, in that Species of free Communication that there was between Mr. Haſtings and me, which, I believe, no Gentleman would wiſh to lay entirely before the Publick.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That as the Witneſs ſpoke from imperfect Recollection, and which Recollection ſeemed not to tally with his former Evidence, where he likewiſe ſpoke from Recollection of thoſe Letters in Queſtion, they could not but expreſs a Doubt of the Accuracy of ſuch Recollection, and a Wiſh therefore to ſee the Letter.

A. With reſpect to the Production of the Letters I will ſtate the Fact, and the only Reaſon why I ſhould have any Doubt upon the Matter.—In the Month of May 1782, a Reſolution was moved in the Houſe of Commons for the Recall of Mr. Haſtings from the Government of Bengal. This Reſolution was reſiſted in a Court of Proprietors, and that brought on a great Variety of Diſcuſſions, in which I certainly ſpoke my Opinion pretty plainly of ſeveral Gentlemen, and Mr. Haſtings ſpoke his as plainly in Return: And I wiſh to ſubmit, whether that is a Communication proper to be laid before the Houſe, being, as it is, intermixed with the Letter.

The Houſe obſerved, that ſuch Parts of the Letter were certainly not the Object of the preſent Enquiry; but at all Events, it would be impoſſible to purſue the Examination at this Time, as the Witneſs had not the Letter about him.

Then the Witneſs requeſted, that his former Examination, before the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, might be read from the Minutes of the Committee, as far as related to the Subject at preſent under Conſideration, that it might appear whether there was any Difference between his Evidence there and that now given by him at the Bar; and that he might explain the ſame, if any ſhould be found.

The

The Managers for the Commons being aſked, Whether they had any Objection? made anſwer, That they had none.

Accordingly the Minute Book of the Committee was ſent for; and, in the mean Time, the Examination of the Witneſs was proceeded in as follows, the Managers firſt aſſerting their Claim to call for the ſaid Letter in future, if they ſhould think proper.

Q. Whether you did not, after theſe Two Tranſactions relative to the Two Preſents, receive other Communications from Mr. Haſtings in India, relative to other Preſents, and other Matters, of Money taken by Mr. Haſtings?

A. No; I never received from Mr. Haſtings any other Accounts than theſe relative to the 19,60,000 Rupees, until the Month of September 1784, when Mr. Haſtings ſent me a Copy of an Account, which he had tranſmitted to the Court of Directors, ſtating a Sum of Money received by him, and the Mode of the Expenditure of that Sum of Money.

Q. The Queſtion put to you is, Whether the Communications you did receive from him were relative to any other Sums than thoſe you mentioned before?

A. None, except the one I have mentioned laſt, which was not included in the Nineteen Lacks: That made me make the Diſtinction.

Q. Was you not made the Channel of Communication between Mr. Larkins in India and the Court of Directors, reſpecting Money taken by Mr. Haſtings?

A. I was; and I will beg Leave to explain that Circumſtance alſo, by taking it up from the Time it originated. I think in the Month of March 1784, nearly about the Time of the Diſſolution of Parliament, a Letter was ſent from the Court of Directors to Mr. Haſtings, deſiring from him an Explanation of the ſeveral Sums that he had received: I think he was deſired to ſtate the Periods when each Sum was received, and his Reaſons for concealing that Receipt from his Council. This Letter arrived in Bengal, as I underſtood, in the Month of September 1784, when Mr. Haſtings was at Lucknow. Mr. Haſtings came down to Calcutta in November 1784, and reſigned the Government of Bengal the 1ſt February 1785. It happened, that he had not adverted to that particular Paragraph from the Court of Directors, before he left Bengal; and, upon his Arrival in England, I mentioned this Omiſſion to him: In Conſequence of that, he wrote a Letter from Cheltenham, to the Court of Directors, mentioning the Circumſtances, anſwering their Queſtions, and telling them, that, if they wanted a full and compleat Account of all the Tranſactions, he referred them to Mr. Larkins, who was acquainted with the Whole of them. I thought that the Court of Directors might be ſatisfied with the Explanation Mr. Haſtings had then given, and that neither they, nor the Board of Commiſſioners, might think it worth their While to enquire any more about it, as they had received all the Money, and it had been expended upon the Company's Account. The Event has proved, that I thought right: But I took the Liberty to mention to Mr. Haſtings, (from believing, in my Conſcience, that he never was concerned in any pecuniary Tranſaction that he would wiſh to conceal); I took the Liberty to mention to him, that he had better, himſelf, write to Mr. Larkins, and deſire he would ſend the Account to this Country, to the Chairman of the Court of Directors. In conſequence of that Letter, which Mr. Haſtings did write, Mr. Larkins ſent Mr. Haſtings a Letter, directed to the Chairman of the Court of Directors; containing the Account, a Part of which was juſt now read (a). Mr. Larkins aſſigned to Mr. Haſtings, as a Reaſon for ſending the Account under Cover to him, that, as neither he, nor the Governor General and Council, had received any Orders or Directions, from the Court of Directors, upon this Subject, he thought he could not, with Propriety, addreſs them directly; and therefore had ſent the Letter to Mr. Haſtings, to deliver himſelf. Mr. Haſtings deſired me, as I was going into the City that Day, to give it to Mr. Michie, the Chairman, tho' it was directed to Mr. Devaynes, who had been the Chairman the preceding Year: That is the Reaſon of my delivering the Letter to Mr. Michie as I did.

Q. The Queſtion is, Whether there was any Communication that paſſed through you?
A. That was the only Communication.

Q. But there was no Communication through you?
A. None, except that.

Q. That was the laſt Account of this Preſent ſent over by Mr. Larkins?
A. Yes, dated the 18th Auguſt 1786, I think; that is the Account which has juſt been read.

Q. You have ſaid, that Mr. Haſtings had not adverted, in India, to that Paragraph of the Company's Letter which called for this Account: I deſire to aſk you upon that, whether you do not know, that Mr. Haſtings had promiſed this Account before that Letter written to him by the Court of Directors arrived in India?

A. I certainly recollect, in the Month of December 1782, Mr. Haſtings wrote to the Court of Directors, that if they wanted any farther Explanation, reſpecting the Sums he had received and expended in their Service, he was ready to anſwer to any Queſtion that could be put to him, upon Honour, or upon Oath: That Letter arrived in this Country in July 1783; no Notice was taken of it until the Month of March 1784; and then the Court of Directors wrote to Mr. Haſtings, telling him, they did not mean to doubt his Integrity, but, as he had voluntarily offered to give them an Explanation, they aſked certain Queſtions. The Queſtions were, as I ſtated before; At what Periods he had received the ſeveral Sums: What was his Reaſon for concealing the Receipts from the Council, and taking Bonds for ſome of thoſe Sums, and entering others as Depoſits: I think theſe were the Queſtions. Mr. Haſtings, as he told me, had not adverted to that Paragraph.

Q. The ſingle Queſtion put to you was, Whether Mr. Haſtings had not, anterior to that Letter which he received from the Court of Directors, promiſed to give them an Account: You ſaid, He did—and ſtated the Manner in which he did it?

A. Juſt ſo.

Q. You have ſaid, in your Anſwer to a former Queſtion, that you are certain it never was Mr. Haſtings's Intention to conceal any of theſe Tranſactions, reſpecting this Money taken: I beg a ſhort Paſſage may be read to the Witneſs from Mr. Haſtings's Letter from Cheltenham, which has been read To-day.

Read, Extract of a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to William Devaynes Eſquire, Chairman of the Honourable Court of Directors, dated Cheltenham, 11th July 1785, before delivered in.

" Of this I am certain, that it was my Deſign originally to have concealed the Receipt of all the Sums, except the Second, even from the Knowledge of the Court of Directors (a)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether you have ſeen that Letter of Mr. Haſtings?

A. I am glad to have an Opportunity of explaining what might otherwiſe have appeared very extraordinary. When I ſtate " concealing," I mean that Mr. Haſtings never intended to receive the Money for his own Benefit; that he never meant to receive Fifty or an Hundred Thouſand Pounds, or even One Rupee, to the Benefit of himſelf.

Q. In your Declaration that Mr. Haſtings never meant to conceal the Preſents he had received, did you mean to ſay, that he never meant to conceal the Fact of receiving them at any Time?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſtate what Mr. Haſtings intended to do: Mr. Haſtings was at Cheltenham, and I at Tunbridge Wells, at the Time the Letter was written; ſo that I really did not advert to that Paſſage, and cannot tell what Mr. Haſtings's Intentions were at all.

Q. The Queſtion is not about what Mr. Haſtings's Intentions were, but the Senſe of the Expreſſion you made Uſe of, that you were confident Mr. Haſtings never meant to conceal the Receipt of the Preſents: Upon your making Uſe of that Expreſſion, a Paſſage of a Letter written by Mr. Haſtings from Cheltenham, was read to you; and then the Queſtion put to you was, What you meant by that general Expreſſion, that he never meant to conceal Preſents? Do you mean to ſay, that he never meant to conceal the Receipt of Preſents from any Perſon, or at any Time?

A. I conceive Mr. Haſtings to have meant, that the Preſents recorded ſhould appear only in ſo far as they appeared in the General Account, as a Sum of Money carried to the Company's Credit; but he never meant to give any particular Explanation, excepting in ſo far as they ſhould appear upon the Accounts. When he ſtates, that he meant to conceal the Receipts from the Knowledge of the Court of Directors, I fancy he meant that the Tranſaction ſhould no farther appear than it would appear by the Court of Directors finding Five, Six, or whatever the Sum of Lacks of Rupees was, carried to their Credit in the ſeveral Accounts.

Q. When you ſaid you was very confident Mr. Haſtings never meant to conceal the Preſents, did you mean Mr. Haſtings never meant to conceal them for any Time, or from any Perſon?

A. What I meant was, that he did not intend ultimately to benefit himſelf; and every Sum of Money received muſt appear, ſomehow or other, on the Company's Books.

Q. Mr. Haſtings, in his Letter from Cheltenham, ſays, " Of this I am certain, that it was ' my Deſign originally to have concealed the Receipt of all the Sums, except the Second, even ' from the Knowledge of the Court of Directors (b)." Now, how were theſe Sums to appear upon the Company's Accounts (as you have ſtated they would), if the Knowledge of them was concealed from the Court of Directors?

A. I mean any particular Explanation. I certainly underſtood it ſo; but I think there is another Part of that ſame Letter which I think will explain it.

Q. The Letter proceeds thus: 'They had anſwered my Purpoſe of publick Utility, and I 'had almoſt totally diſmiſſed them from my Remembrance; but when Fortune threw a Sum in 'my Way, of a Magnitude which could not be concealed, and the peculiar Delicacy of my Situa- 'tion, at the Time in which I received it, made me more circumſpect of Appearances, I choſe to 'apprize my Employers of it (a).' Whether you do not underſtand by this Paſſage, that Mr. Haſtings would not have diſcloſed the Receipt of that Sum, if he could have concealed it: Take the Two Paſſages together?

The Letter was ſhewn to the Witneſs.

A. Mr. Haſtings, in another Part of this Letter, ſays, 'I have ſaid, that the Three Firſt Sums 'of the Account were paid into the Company's Treaſury, without paſſing through my Hands; the 'Second of theſe' (that is, the Second of the Three Firſt Sums, Cheit Sing's) 'was forced into Notice 'by its Deſtination and Application to the Expence of a Detachment, which was formed and employ- 'ed againſt Mahdajee Scindia, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Carnac, as I particu- 'larly apprized the Court of Directors, in my Letter of the 29th of December 1780. The 'other Two were certainly not intended, when I received them, to be made publick, though in- 'tended for publick Service, and actually applied to it. The Exigencies of the Government 'were at that Time my own, and every Preſſure upon it reſted with its full Weight upon my 'Mind. Wherever I could find allowable Means of relieving thoſe Wants, I eagerly ſeized 'them; but neither could it occur to me as neceſſary to ſtate, on our Proceedings, every little 'Aid which I could thus procure; nor do I know how I could have ſtated it, without appearing 'to court favour, by an Oſtentation which I diſdained, nor without the Chance of exciting the 'Jealouſy of my Colleagues, by the conſtructive Aſſertion of a ſeparate and unparticipated Merit, 'derived from the Influence of my Station, to which they might have laid an equal Claim (b).' I conceive, that when Mr. Haſtings talks of concealing, he does not mean to conceal the Receipt of the Money; becauſe it muſt have appeared (except he had appropriated it to his own Uſe, which I am ſure he did not intend to do), either under the Head of Durbar Charges, or as a Depoſit, or Bonds: And I think Mr. Haſtings intended to have entered into no Sort of Explanation with the Court of Directors upon it, but, when he quitted the Service, merely to have delivered up the Bonds, without any further Explanation. Whether I am correct in what his Intention was, I cannot ſay; but that is my Idea.

Q. You have ſaid before, that you did not think he meant to conceal them; which you have explained by ſaying, he meant to apply them to the publick Service; which Application to the publick Service would diſcloſe them: The Queſtion now aſked is, Do you believe that he did not mean to conceal the Fact of the Receipt of the Preſents at the Time the Receipt was had?

A. At the Time the Receipt was had, certainly; but I did not underſtand the Queſtion ſo.

Q. My Meaning was, "for ever." I underſtand you to ſay, that could not have been his Intention, becauſe, though he might have concealed them at the Time, yet, meaning to apply them to publick Purpoſes, you think they muſt have appeared in the Durbar Charges, or under ſome other Head: do I underſtand you correctly?

A. Yes.

Q. Then now explain the following Paſſage, in the Letter from Mr. Haſtings to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, dated Fort William, 16th December 1782, where, ſpeaking of thoſe Sums, he ſays, "I could have concealed them, had I had a wrong Motive, from "yours and the publick Eye for ever; and I know that the Difficulties to which a Spirit of "Injuſtice may ſubject me for my Candour and Avowal are greater than any poſſible Inconve- "nience that could have attended the Concealment, except the Diſſatisfaction of my own Mind (c)." —Whether that does or does not avow a Power to have concealed thoſe Sums for ever from the publick Eye, without any Poſſibility of their being diſcovered, and only under the Diſſatisfaction of his own Mind?

A. When Mr. Haſtings ſtates the Paſſage, "I could have concealed," &c. he means, if I had intended to appropriate to my own Uſe this Sum of Money, I might have done it: I underſtand that to be the Senſe of this Paſſage.

Q. Do you know what Interval there was between Mr. Haſtings's receiving the Preſent of 100,000 l. from the Nabob at Chunar, and his firſt Confeſſion of it, under the Circumſtances ſtated by Mr. Haſtings, that it was of a Magnitude not to be concealed?

A. According to my Conception, Mr. Haſtings diſcloſed it to the Court of Directors by the firſt poſſible Opportunity: No Time was loſt.

Q. When was that?

A. Bills were granted upon the Houſe of Gopaul Doſs for the Money, 10,30,000 current Rupees about the Middle of September 1781; it muſt have been about that Time, becauſe the

Nabob

Nabob came the 11th, and quitted Chunar, I believe, the 19th September: theſe Bills were in part received in the Month of January, and the Whole was received in the Month of March.—Before one Half of the Sum had been received, Mr. Haſtings ſent to the Court of Directors an Account of all his Tranſactions at Benares, and reſpecting the Begums; and with that Account he alſo ſent the Particulars of this Preſent; that it had been made in Bills; that Part had been received; that the Part received had been appropriated to the publick Service; and that the Remainder ſhould be appropriated in like Manner as faſt as he ſhould receive it: And according to my Idea, Mr. Haſtings did ſend home that by the earlieſt poſſible Opportunity. I believe I have already mentioned, that Mr. Haſtings' Letters were too late for the Swallow; he had conceived that the Swallow would have waited until his Diſpatches reached Calcutta, but Mr. Wheler and Mr. Macpherſon thought it right to diſpatch that Ship, without waiting till they arrived; and another Veſſel, the Nancy, was taken up, and by that Ship they came.

Q. Do you not know that Mr. Haſtings wrote a great Number of Letters to Mr. Wheler and the Council at Calcutta, during the Interval between his receiving the Preſent, and the Time when he firſt diſcloſed it, in the Letter which paſſed through your Hands?

A. I dare ſay he did; I have no doubt of it.

Q. Do you not know it?

A. I have no Doubt of it; it certainly muſt have been ſo.

Q. Is this Preſent in any Way mentioned or alluded to in any one of thoſe Letters or Communications to the Council?

A. No; nor do I remember it ever was mentioned to the Council till the Intelligence of it was returned back again from England to Bengal.

Q. Do you know whether, when the Communication of this Preſent was made to the Court of Directors, Mr. Haſtings did not apply for the Whole of the Money to be given to himſelf?

A. In the Terms of the Queſtion, I do not think he did. I think he ſubmitted to the Court of Directors, Whether, in Conſideration of his long Services, and having a ſmall Fortune, they would chooſe to adjudge the Depoſit to him. The Court of Directors, who were perfectly competent to act as they pleaſed, choſe to adjudge the Depoſit to themſelves.

Q. Do you or not underſtand that to have been aſking the Court of Directors for the Money?

A. It certainly is to a Degree; it is an Application not exactly as ſtated in the Queſtion; but, to be ſure, it is ſomething very like aſking them for the Money.

Q. You call the Preſent, as Mr. Haſtings himſelf does, a Depoſit. From Mr. Haſtings's Letter, did you not underſtand that the Money had not then been expended at the Date of the Letter from Mr. Haſtings?

A. Certainly not; I underſtand the Word Depoſit to mean, that it ſhould be a Point undetermined, whether the Property ſhould be Mr. Haſtings's, the Court of Directors, or whether, as the Committee were of Opinion, it ſhould be taken in Liquidation of Part of the Nabob's Debt.

The Queſtion is, Whether the Money was not at that Time in Part expended?

A. Certainly, it was received and expended for the Publick Service.

Q. Whether the Preſent was not in Bills upon Gopaul Doſs?

A. It was in Bills, but they had been in Part realized before the 20th of January 1782.

Q. Whether Mr. Haſtings does not ſtate that his Reaſon for accepting the Preſent was to anſwer his then preſſing Exigencies, and to pay the Army?

A. The Letter will ſpeak for itſelf to that Point; I do not think exactly as the Queſtion is put that it does ſo ſtate. It ſtates he accepted it gladly, having no Fund at that Time, for the Payment of his own and the Companies Exigencies.

The Managers for the Commons deſired an Extract from a Letter to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, ſigned Warren Haſtings, and dated Patna, 20th January 1782, delivered in Yeſterday, might be read (a).

Read, the following Extract from the ſame.

"This Donation was not made in Specie, but in Bills, which have been in part only, and tardily realized, being drawn on the Houſe of Gopaul Doſs, who was at the Time a Priſoner in the Hands of Cheit Sing."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. How could Mr. Haſtings have employed that Preſent, ſo circumſtanced, to the Payment of the Troops at the Time he received it?

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 544.

A. Undoubtedly

A. Undoubtedly I conceive he could: Gopaul Doſs was only the Firſt Partner in the Houſe; the Confuſion occaſioned by the Inſurrection of Cheit Sing, had, in the Middle of September, begun to ſubſide; and though (not ſpeaking to a Day), at the Moment Mr. Haſtings got the Bills he could not turn them to Caſh undoubtedly, yet with Bills for R^{s} 10,00,000 in his Hands, upon ſuch a Houſe as that of Gopaul Doſs, which I ſuppoſe, is worth near a Million Sterling, there was no doubt but in the Courſe of a ſhort Time a Part of theſe Bills might be received; and as I believe the Troops in the Province of Benares were then Three and Four Months in Arrears, the Produce of theſe Bills, or of ſuch Parts as could be paid, might be very ſeaſonably employed towards our Preſervation in India.

Q. Whether the Houſe of Gopaul Doſs would not as readily have accepted the Security or Drafts of the Company or Governor General, as thoſe of the Nabob?

A. I think it is very likely they would: But I will put it upon what Place Mr. Haſtings could have given the Draft. At that Period, the Treaſury of Calcutta, as appears from the Minutes of Mr. Macpherſon, was empty; and a very conſiderable Remittance had been made to the Coaſt of Coromandel, to Madraſs, where the Army was on the Point of mutinying and diſbanding; and, to complete the Remittance, Mr. Wheler and Mr. Macpherſon had been obliged to ſtretch the Company's Credit as far as it would go; and under thoſe Circumſtances, I think, Rs. 10,30,000, procured from any Man or Men, under any Circumſtances, was performing a very eſſential publick Service. I believe the Company owed Gopaul Doſs 25 or 30 Lacks of Rupees at that Time, for Drafts he had given to General Goddard; they were conſiderably in his Debt at that Time I know.

Q. Whether he would have anſwered Drafts upon the Treaſury of Calcutta, if Mr. Haſtings had made them?

A. I believe, in Confidence he would; that when the Company could pay they would.

Q. Whether the Wants of the Troops of the Eaſt India Company would not have been equally well ſupplied, by receiving this Sum of Ten Lacks, in part Payment of the Nabob's Debt to the Company, as by receiving it as a Preſent to Mr. Haſtings?

A. Moſt undoubtedly and obviouſly.

The Managers for the Commons deſired the Credentials from Mr. Haſtings to the Witneſs, appointing him his Agent, might be read to him.

Read, Extract of a Letter to the Chairman of the Court of Directors, ſigned, Warren Haſtings; and dated, Fort William, January 6, 1781; from Book 29, already delivered in; beginning at Page 272 of the ſaid Book.

"To the Chairman of the Court of Directors.

"Sir,

"Having thought proper to appoint an Agent at home, for the Purpoſe of attending to my political Intereſts, and managing all my public Concerns, I take this Opportunity of acquainting you, that I have ſelected Major Scott for this Service, and have furniſhed him with ſuitable Inſtructions; and as this Gentleman is poſſeſſed of every neceſſary Information relative to the State of this Government, he will be ready to communicate with you on all Matters wherein you may think it proper to aſk his Opinion.

"It is material to me to make one Obſervation—that, in my Inſtructions to Major Scott, I have particularly provided, that I will ſuffer no Perſon whatever to perform any Act in my Name, that ſhall be conſtrued to imply a Reſignation of my Authority; proteſting againſt the Exerciſe of ſo dangerous a Power, from its having been aſſumed upon a former Occaſion, without being warranted by my Conſent, or by any previous Inſtructions that could bear the moſt diſtant Tendency to ſuch a Meaſure.

"I have the Honour to be,
Sir,
Your moſt obedient, and moſt humble Servant,
Warren Haſtings."

Fort William,
January 6th 1781.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. You ſay Mr. Haſtings had no Means of apprizing the Court of Directors, till January 1782, of the Receipt of the Preſent from the Nabob:—Did you receive any Diſpatch over Land from Mr. Haſtings, between the Middle of September 1781, and the Time of the Diſcloſure of this Preſent?

A. Not a Line over Land, nor a Line by the Swallow, nor was a Line received from Mr. Haſtings, by any Gentleman, by the Swallow, nor by the Veſſel which ſailed from Madras, the Nymph.

Q. I underſtand you to ſay, neither over Land, nor by the Swallow?
A. Yes.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they would next prove that Two Ships did ſail, by which Mr. Haſtings might have ſent this Intelligence; the Nymph Sloop in October 1781, and arrived in May 1782; and the Swallow, whoſe Diſpatches are dated the 3d December 1781, and which arrived the 3d June 1782. The Swallow was intended to carry Mr. Haſtings's Diſpatches, but ſhe ſailed before Mr. Haſtings arrived at Calcutta.

Q. Do you know any Thing about the Nymph ſailing?
A. Yes, perfectly well.

Q. Did you receive any Letter by the Nymph?
A. I did not receive a Line either from Mr. Haſtings or any Body elſe; I believe there were not leſs than 50,000 Cavalry in the Carnatic at the Time the Nymph ſailed; and the Chances were Three, Four, or Five to One againſt a Letter reaching us by Land.

Then Mr. Robert Hudſon was again called in, and, in the Preſence of the Witneſs, was aſked;

Q. When did the Nymph ſail, and when did ſhe arrive?
A. Her Diſpatches are dated, Fort William, the 16th October 1781; they were received at the India Houſe the 16th May 1782.
Major Scott. The Nymph, to my certain Knowledge, was diſpatched from Madras.

Q. Was the Nymph in Point of Fact originally diſpatched from Madras?
Mr. Hudſon. The firſt Paragraph of this Letter, by the Nymph, will, I believe, clear it up.

Read, Extract of a General Letter from the Secret Department to the Court of Directors, ſigned Edward Wheler and John Macpherſon, dated Fort William, 16th October 1781, from Book 29, already delivered in.

Par. 1. "We avail ourſelves of the Departure of His Majeſty's Sloop the Nymph for the Coaſt, to addreſs you this Letter; and we have requeſted Sir Edward Hughes to forward it by the firſt proper Conveyance."

Q. How does that clear it up? I take it, by that Paſſage, the Ship was originally diſpatched from Bengal to Madras, and that Sir Edward Hughes received Directions to forward it?
A. It went to Madras for the Chance of the Firſt Diſpatch Sir Edward Hughes ſhould ſend to England; and he did in fact ſend, about taking Trincomale, or ſome other of his Operations.

The above Paſſage was again read.

Q. When did the Swallow arrive?
A. Mr. Hudſon. Her Diſpatches were received at the India Houſe the 3d June 1782; they are dated the 29th December 1781; but when ſhe ſailed from Bengal I do not know; I believe in January.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, That the Minutes were come, if the Witneſs wiſhed to have them read.

Then a Book, intituled, "Minutes of the Eaſt India Judicature Committee 1782-3, N° 3," was delivered in.

Read, the following Extract, beginning at Page 19 of the ſaid Book.

"Martis, 1 Julii 1783.

"At the Eaſt India Judicature Committee;

"General Smith in the Chair.

"Preſent,

Mr. Long, Lord Maitland,
Mr. Burke, Mr. Elves.
Mr. Anneſley,

"Major Scott, attending according to Order, was aſked:

"Have you received any Elucidation from Mr. Haſtings concerning the Sums of Money which he ſays, in his Letter of 22d May 1782, he has credited the Company?
"I have a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, in which he mentions that he has ſent a Letter to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, mentioning the Sums which he had received and paid into their Treaſury, and deſiring me, provided it ſhould be miſrepreſented to the Publick, to publiſh

publiſh the Letters. Mr. Haſtings did not ſend me a Copy of the Letters, but he ſaid he ſuppoſed I ſhould get them at the India Houſe.

" Has he told you from whom he received the Three Lacks of Sicca Rupees, for which he applied for the Company's Bonds, in his Letter of the 5th of January 1781?

" No.

" Whether you, as Agent to Mr. Haſtings, have any Explanation to give relative to the Manner of Acquiſition of theſe Three Lacks of Rupees, or any Circumſtance concerning that Matter?

" No; I have not.

" Have you any Explanation to give to the Committee relative to the 2,38,715 Rupees, which the Governor General paid in Gold into the Company's Depoſit in November 1780, and which was carried to his Credit?

" No; I have not.

" Do you know any Thing of the Receipt of this Money, or from whom it was received?

" No; I do not.

" Do you know from whom Mr. Haſtings received Money on Account of Durbar Charges, for which he was credited on the 30th April 1781, for 2,32,000 Rupees?

" No.

" Do you know any Thing of a further Sum of 58,000 Rupees, entered under the Name of Durbar Charges, and carried to the ſame Credit in April 1782?

" No.

" Have you ever ſhewn any Letters ſince the Receipt of the laſt Advices explaining the Receipt of thoſe Sums, and from whom received?

" No. I had a long Letter from Mr. Haſtings, which I have ſhewn to ſeveral Gentlemen; but there is no Mention of the Receipt of any of thoſe Sums in it. I have ſhewn the Copies of the Governor General's Letters to the Secret Committee, which I obtained from the India Houſe.

" Have you received from the Governor General, or any official Perſon acting under his Orders, any other Elucidation upon this Subject?

" No; I have not.

" Have you got from Mr. Haſtings any Explanation of the Preſent of 10,30,275 Rupees, which is mentioned in the Governor General's Letters to the Secret Committee, of 20th January 1782?

" Nothing but a Copy of that Letter which I received by the Nancy from the Governor General.

" Did you not receive an original Letter from the Governor General to the Secret Committee, requeſting their Permiſſion to accept theſe 10 Lacks?

" Yes, and delivered it to Sir Henry Fletcher.

" Whether, when the Governor General ſent ſo important a Letter, and which was not entered upon the Minutes of the Council in India, he ſent you any Explanation concerning it, or any Inſtructions relative to it?

" I had no Inſtructions but only to deliver it, which I did immediately.

" Whether, after the Delivery of that Packet, you found any Thing in any Letter from Mr. Haſtings, inſtructing you how to proceed on the Delivery of thoſe Letters, or to act in any Circumſtance concerning them?

" No diſcretional Power of any Kind, but to deliver them immediately.

" Whether Mr. Haſtings aſſigned any Reaſon for ſending his Letter of the 20th of January 1782, to the Secret Committee, through you, inſtead of ſending it in the Packet, directed in the uſual Manner?

" No, he did not; the Letter is dated from Patna.

" Would the Governor General being at Patna make any Difference as to the Letter, whether it was tranſmitted through the Court General, or immediately through you?

" No; I do not think it would.

" Does the Receipt of this Preſent of Ten Lacks of Rupees appear upon the Conſultations in India?

" Not that I know of, not having peruſed the Conſultations.

" Have you received any Letter from the Governor General, in which Mention is made of any Preſent received by him from Cheyt Sing, late Rajah of Benares?

" There is a Paragraph in a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to me, dated 7th December 1782, in which he mentions having received Two Lacks of Rupees from Cheyt Sing, which is as follows:

'You may recollect Two Lacks of Rupees that I received from Cheyt Sing, which was ap-
'plied to defray the Charges of Major Carnac's Detachment. The Court of Directors expreſſed
'Diſapprobation of this, and charged me with a Neglect for not telling them from whom I ob'tained the Money.'

" Does Mr. Haſtings aſſign his Reaſons for not mentioning to the Court of Directors, or the Secret Committee, his having received that Sum of Money from the Rajah of Benares?

" No.

" At what Time did the Governor General receive theſe Two Lacks of Rupees from Cheyt Sing, Rajah of Benares?

" I really do not know, but I ſhould ſuppoſe it to be previous to the 26th of June 1780, becauſe the Court of Directors appear to have cenſured Mr. Haſtings for not having told them from whom he received the Two Lacks of Rupees, which he had offered to pay for the extra Expences of Colonel Carnac's Detachment.

" As Mr. Haſtings was ſenſible that he laid * under the Diſpleaſure of the Court of Directors, for not telling them for † whom he received that Money, what Reaſon did he give for communicating to you that which he had perſevered in ‡, in not communicating it to the Court of Directors, although called upon by them for that Information?

* Sic in Orig.
† Sic in Orig.
‡ Sic in Orig.

" He has not given any Reaſon to me; but I think he tells the Court of Directors, that he is ready to anſwer any Queſtion that can be put to him, either upon Honour or upon Oath.

" Did not the Court of Directors aſk of the Governor General this very Queſtion?

" I do not know; I never ſaw the Paragraph that they ſent out.

" Did Mr. Haſtings pay the 2 Lacks of Rupees which he received from the Rajah of Benares into the Company's Treaſury?

" I do not know.

" Does it appear any where on the Company's Records, that he had received this Preſent from the Rajah of Benares?

" Not that I know of; I believe not.

" Has he told you that this was the only Sum of Money that he had received from the Rajah of Benares as a Preſent at that or any other Time?

" No.

" Whether Mr. Haſtings has informed you what his Reaſons were, at the Time of his offering to defray the Expences of Lieutenant Colonel Carnac's Detachment from the Preſent which he had received from the Rajah of Benares, to ſtate in his Minute that he would take that Expence upon himſelf.

" No.

" Do you conceive that the Rajah of Benares would have refuſed Aid to the Company, and yet give it as a Preſent to the Governor General?

" Yes, I think he would: he might be induced perhaps to ſuppoſe that Mr. Haſtings, from a pecuniary Conſideration to himſelf, might relax in his Demands for the Company, though I have not the ſmalleſt Reaſon to believe that Mr. Haſtings ever gave him Cauſe to ſuppoſe it.

" Do you conceive that if the Governor General had deſired Cheit Sing to lend the Company 2 Lacks of Rupees, or even a much larger Sum, upon their Bond, that he would have denied ſuch a Requeſt?

" I think he would have evaded it, by pleading his Poverty.

" Do you think that the Company's Influence over him was ſo little, or their Credit ſo bad, that he would have hazarded the Diſpleaſure of the Court General rather than lend them Money upon a Security for Repayment?

" Yes, I think he would; and becauſe I have heard Lieutenant Colonel Upton, and many other Officers, complain of the Diſaffection of Cheyt Sing's People, and his own Unwillingneſs to oblige the Company.

" If Poverty was to be pleaded as an Excuſe, might not that have been pleaded with more Propriety when a Preſent was to be made to the Governor General, than when a Loan was to be made to the Company which was to be repaid?

" Yes, it might; but I look upon the Preſent to have been voluntary on the Part of Cheyt Sing. I think, if Mr. Haſtings had aſked Cheyt Sing to give him Two Lacks of Rupees, he would have pleaded Poverty.

" Do you conſider the Preſent made by Cheyt Sing to the Governor General as made to him, or to the Company?

" I conſider it as made to the Governor General; but I think it became the Property of the Company the Moment he received it.

" If

" If this Money ſo given to the Governor General became the Property of the Company, why did Mr. Haſtings demand Five Lacks more for the Uſe of the Company as an extraordinary Aid for that Year from the Rajah?

" It did not appear to Cheyt Sing that it was to be the Property of the Company: I think it was the Preſſure of the Company's Affairs that made him accept thoſe Two Lacks of Rupees, and enforce the Payment of the Five Lacks during the War.

" Do you conceive that any Power in India, over whom the Britiſh Influence extends, would rather give Two Lacks of Rupees to the Firſt Officer of the Government there, than lend that Sum to the Company upon their Bond?

" I think they would—ſuch are the Prejudices of the People.

" Major Scott withdraws.

" Adjourned till To-morrow."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Is there any Explanation that you wiſh to give, upon the Suggeſtion of the Difference, between the Evidence you have now given at the Bar, and the Evidence you gave before?

A. I really do not conceive that there is any Obſervation I can make, except this; that I had ſhewn the Paragraph of that Letter to General Smith: as the Sums were not particularly diſcriminated, when they were mentioned to me on the firſt Part of my Examination before the Select Committee, I was aſked, Did I know of whom ſuch a Sum, and ſuch a Sum, was received: I anſwered, No; but recollecting that Circumſtance of my Letter, I laid it before the Committee at large, as before I had ſhewn it to General Smith; for the Way by which the Committee came to know that there was a Word about a Preſent from Cheit Sing was from myſelf; I never had a Wiſh to conceal any Thing about the Preſents; I truſt the Matter very ſufficiently explains itſelf.

The Managers for the Commons were aſked, whether there was any Queſtion they wiſhed to put to the Witneſs, by way of explaining it further.

The Managers for the Commons did not put any further Queſtion.

Then the Witneſs acquainted the Houſe, that, upon the Evidence taken the Firſt Day he was examined at the Bar of the Houſe, there was a ſlight Inaccuracy, which he begged Leave to correct; and which he had mentioned to the Clerk upon firſt ſeeing it.

Then the Witneſs proceeded as follows:

A Queſtion was put to me, " What other Perſon, to your Knowledge, had ſeen the Paper called, " The Defence, before its being read in the Houſe of Commons?" The Anſwer taken down is this: " I really cannot ſtate any Gentleman, to my Knowledge, who has ſeen the Whole; but I " can ſtate thoſe who have written Parts of it (a)." Then I was deſired to name any Perſons, and, among the reſt, I mentioned Mr. Markham.—From the Manner in which it is taken down, it might be ſuppoſed Mr. Markham wrote Part of the Defence; that is not the Fact; what I meant to ſtate was, that Mr. Markham ſaw a Part of it before it was preſented at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons.

The Counſel for the Defendant deſired Two Paragraphs of a General Letter to the Court of Directors, ſigned Edward Wheler and John M'Pherſon, dated, Fort William, 19th October 1781, and indorſed, " Rec^d p^r Nymph Sloop of War, 16th May 1782," might be read.

Read, the following Extract from Book 29, already delivered in.

Par. 4. " We have likewiſe availed ourſelves of the Return of the Nymph to Fort St. George, to diſpatch a further Supply of Five Lacks of Rupees in Specie, to relieve the preſſing Exigencies of that Preſidency.

5. " We ſtill detain the Swallow, in Hopes of being able to ſend you full and ſatisfactory Information by her of the Meaſures concluded by the Governor General, and ſhall loſe no Time in diſpatching her, as ſoon as we ſhall be poſſeſſed of theſe Materials, which we expect daily."

Q. (by a Lord.) I wiſh to give the Witneſs an Opportunity of explaining one Part of his Evidence reſpecting the Nymph.—Have you any Reaſon to ſuppoſe the Diſpatches which have been read are inaccurate, in ſtating the Nymph to have ſailed from Bengal to Madras, on the 19th of October 1781?

A. No. I conceive the Fact to be this; that the Nymph was ſent from Madras to Bengal with Letters, earneſtly preſſing the Government of Bengal to ſend Supplies of Caſh, of which they were very much in want: That Mr. Wheler and Mr. Macpherſon took the Opportunity of the Departure of that Ship with Money to ſend a Letter to the Court of Directors, under the Idea that Sir Edward Hughes would find it neceſſary to diſpatch a Veſſel to Government, with Advice of the Operations of the War.—That Sir Edward Hughes, ſome Time after the Receipt of that Letter, did think proper to diſpatch this very Ship the Nymph, which was not ſuppoſed, at the Time ſhe left Bengal, to be bound for Europe.—He diſpatched this very Ship with the Account of the taking of Trinicomale.—I conceive that to be the Fact.

Read, a further Extract of the General Letter to the Court of Directors, ſigned, Edward Wheler and John Macpherſon; and dated, Fort William, October 19th 1781; above produced and delivered in (a).

" Fort William, October 16th 1781.

" Honourable Sirs,

Par. 1. " We avail ourſelves of the Departure of His Majeſty's Sloop, the Nymph, for the Coaſt, to addreſs to you this Letter; and we have requeſted Sir Edward Hughes to forward it by the firſt proper Conveyance.

Par. 2. " In a ſhort Time we propoſe to diſpatch the Swallow Packet direct for England; by her we ſhall have the Honour of communicating to you the fulleſt Information regarding your Affairs. We hope we are not too ſanguine, in expecting to tranſmit you then, very ſatisfactory Advices, and ſuch as may effectually relieve you from the Anxiety neceſſarily created, by the Accounts which you muſt have lately received from this Country."

Q. (by a Lord). Was the Letter of January 1782, that was put into a Box addreſſed to you, the ſingle Inſtance of a Communication of Mr. Haſtings, through you, to the Secret Committee?

A. I am not quite certain, but I think it was the only one. I do not ſpeak poſitively.

Q. Was Mr. Haſtings in any general Habit of tranſmitting Letters to the Secret Committee, through you?

A. Mr. Haſtings tranſmitted Letters through me to the King's Miniſters, when he wrote to them; but I think that is the only one, through me, to the Secret Committee.

Q. (by a Lord.) In Explanation of that Part of your former Evidence at the Bar of this Houſe, where you ſay, " I really cannot ſtate any Gentleman, to my Knowledge, who has ſeen the Whole, but I can ſtate thoſe who have written Parts of it;" I underſtand you now to ſay, that the Word, written, is a Miſtake; and you mean to ſay, " ſeen Parts of it?"

A. As applied to Mr. Markham only.

Q. Did Mr. Middleton write any Part of that Defence?

A. No; Mr. Middleton wrote no Part of it: But he furniſhed me with Minutes and Obſervations, which I afterwards drew up, and put into Form.

Q. Whether this Paſſage is a Part of the Defence written by Mr. Halhed, as it ſtood when it was carried by you to Mr. Haſtings, and read to him—Speaking of Cheit Sing, he ſays, " Whether or not I perſonally forgave him, is of no Conſequence: I never ſought to puniſh him, but on publick Grounds; and, had he faithfully diſcharged his Duty to the Company, he would never have heard a Syllable of my Reſentment (b);" was this Paſſage read by you to Mr. Haſtings when you carried him the Copy of that Defence, to know whether he approved of it, or not?

A. If that Paſſage is not one of thoſe Paſſages in Mr. Halhed's Hand-writing—(I have not the Defence before me now)—it certainly was; if it is a Part that is in his Hand-writing, it was not.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they ſhould next proceed to trace this Preſent through Gopaul Doſs to the Time the Begums were plundered, and ſhew that Gopaul Doſs was particularly recommended by Mr. Haſtings to Mr. Middleton.

Then the Witneſs produced a Book marked B, intituled, " Letters to the Board, from 1777 to 1782."

Read, a Letter from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Haſtings, dated Fayzabad, 15th January 1782, from the ſaid Book.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c. &c. &c.

" Sir,

" I was duly honoured with your Commands of the 12th and 22d December laſt; the former reſpecting a Seizure which had been made by Khoja Bahar Ally Cawn of ſome Cloths manufactured at Tanda on Account of Gualdaſs and Bolanaut, Merchants of Benares, under Pretext of their being the Property of Ram Laulla, who he had confined on a Charge of Debt; and the latter recommending Gopaul Daſs, in particular Terms, for his Services to our Government, and the Punctuality with which he has acquitted himſelf of all his Engagements and Tranſactions with it. To this, Sir, be aſſured I ſhall pay the moſt attentive Regard, and always give his Houſe that Preference to which it has ſo juſt a Claim, in all Remittances or Money Tranſactions which may paſs through my Office.

" Immediately on my Arrival at Fayzabad, I made a ſtrict Inquiry into the Complaint of the above mentioned Seizure, and finding, from a Variety of Evidence, the Fact preciſely as it had been ſtated to you, I cauſed the Cloths to be releaſed and delivered over to the Gomaſtah of Gual Daſs and Bolanaut, who attended here for that Purpoſe.

" It having alſo been intimated to me that Ram Laulla, a Shroff and Relation of Gopaul Daſs, had been impriſoned by Bahâr Ally Cawn, on Pretences equally vague and unjuſt, which I had Reaſon to believe was the Caſe, from my having failed in my Endeavours to procure his Enlargement near a Twelvemonth ago, although ſolicited on an Offer of the Security of Gopaul Daſs and my own, if deſired, for the Payment of whatever Sum ſhould appear due from him on an Adjuſtment of their Accounts: I determined alſo to take this Opportunity of inquiring into that Matter, and procuring the Man Juſtice; for which Purpoſe, I applied to Bahâr Ally Cawn to ſend him to me, and repeated the Offer of Security which I had before made; he however thought proper to decline or rather evade Compliance with my Demand; and to teſtify his Reſentment at the Application made for my Interference, he inſtantly doubled the Guard on his Priſoner, diſpatched an Eſcort to bring his Family from Tanda, and by every Means in his Power encreaſed the Rigour of his Confinement. In this Situation he remained until the Day after the Seizure of Bahar and Jowar Ally Cawn, when he was brought to me by my own People loaded with Irons, which I had immediately taken off, and ſetting him at large, have deſired him to deliver me a Statement of his Account with Bahâr Ally Cawn, which I ſhall take Care to ſee equitably adjuſted.

Secret Dept. Monday, 3d March.

"Extract from Mr. Middleton's Letter, dated 23d October 1782.

"I muſt beg Leave to refer you to my Correſpondence with the Honourable the Governor General, for a full Account of the Origin and Nature of my Tranſactions with the Begums at Fayzabad; and the Letters which have paſſed between me and the Officers who have ſeverally commanded there, will ſhew you the Progreſs and preſent State of that Buſineſs. The Balance due from the Bow Begum, upon her Agreement, made in January laſt, after allowing her Credit for the trifling Articles lately ſent here by Major Gilpin, will be about Five Lacks, which I apprehend may be realized, if you deem it expedient to continue the Reſtraints which have been impoſed for that Purpoſe: She had, indeed, given Major Gilpin the moſt ſatisfactory Aſſurances of an immediate Liquidation of this long depending Account, in which, I believe, ſhe was ſincere; but, probably, from an Expectation of a Change of Meaſures, upon my Removal, ſhe has lately retracted thoſe Aſſurances, and now declares her Determination to make no further Payments whatever, but upon the Certainty of her Jaghires being reſtored to her; which I could give her no Hopes of, as the Propriety of its Reſumption has been ſanctified by the Approbation of the Honourable the Governor General; who further expreſsly enjoins me, in his Inſtructions of the 27th January, to exert my Influence with the Nabob, to prevent the Concluſion of any final Settlement between him and the Begums, until I ſhould be furniſhed with Inſtructions from him or the Board on that Head. Not having, ſince the above Date, received any Directions from the Board, or the Governor General, relative to the Begums, I know not what may be their Wiſhes in regard to them; but I thought it, at all Events, my Duty, conformably to the Spirit of the Orders I had received, to retain Poſſeſſion of the Killa at Fayzabad, and the Perſons of the Bow Begum's Two principal Eunuchs, until the Sum ſhe had ſtipulated to pay was fully liquidated, or the Honourable Board ſhould notify their further Pleaſure: And in this State, Sir, I commit the Buſineſs to your future Directions, expreſſing my ſincere Wiſh, that you may find Means to effect the Recovery of this Balance; which, among other Balances, originally conſtituted a Part of the Securities made over to Gopaul Doſs, for the Repayment of his Advance to the Vizier for the Company's Uſe, and ſhould, I apprehend, if poſſible, be realized for Almaſs Ally Cawn, who has employed his own Credit upon the Faith of thoſe Funds for the immediate Satisfaction of Gopaul Doſs's Debt."

Then the Managers for the Commons informed the Houſe, That the Evidence about to be produced related to the Treaty of Chunar, and requeſted the Houſe would recollect, that in the Anſwer put in by Mr. Haſtings at the Bar, he ſtates, in Contradiction to all his former Statements upon that Subject, That upon the 19th of September, when he ſigned the Treaty, he was apprized of all the Circumſtances which he pretends ever to have known againſt the Begums.

(a) N. B. No Signature.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Firſt Letter about to be read was a Letter to Mr. Wheler, to whom Mr. Haſtings communicated all the Tranſactions he had learned reſpecting Oude, or reſpecting the Diſaffection of any Perſons he had come to the Knowledge of againſt Government; and begged the Houſe would obſerve, that in this Letter, dated 18th of September 1781, Mr. Haſtings makes no Mention whatever of having any Suſpicions even of the Begums being diſaffected to our Government.

Read, the following Extract, from Part 2d of the Appendix to the Narrative of the Inſurrections at Benares, beginning at Page 115 of the ſame Book.

" Sir,

" My laſt was the 11th. The Forces now aſſembled are the 6th, 7th, 19th, 30th, and 35th Regiments, Lieutenant Polhill's Regiment of the Body Guard, Two Companies of European Grenadiers and Light Infantry, Thirty Artillery Men, and the Rangers, and 600 of the Nabob's Horſe. Major Popham marched on the 16th; one Diviſion to Pateeta, another with Major Crabb to the Back of the Lutteefpoor. I do not expect any thing deciſive ſo ſoon as I wiſh; there muſt be Delays, and I feel them ſorely; but I thank God that I am myſelf a Witneſs of the Evils, Wants, and Errors of our Service, though I have been nearly the Victim of them, ſince it has furniſhed me with the Means, though ſlow, of correcting them. The Province of Oude has catched the Contagion; but I ſhall diſmiſs the Nabob in a few Days, and doubt not but his Troubles will be ſoon quelled. I give my ſole Attention to the preſent Object, which accompliſhed, every other will follow. Major Crawford muſt be near; I expect him hourly. Believe no Report. I have not yet received one Letter from you.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they ſhould next read the Articles of the Treaty which related particularly to the Begums, with Mr. Haſtings's Obſervations upon them.

" Num. 1. A.

" Letter to the Governor General and Council, dated the 29th of November 1781, reſpecting the Governor General's Agreement with the Vizier.

" To Edward Wheler and John Macpherſon, Eſquires, Members of the Council of Fort William.

" Gentlemen,

" I muſt have Recourſe to your Indulgence, on the Occaſion of every Report of Importance, for the Delay in tranſmitting it. Many are the Cauſes of theſe Delays, which I need not enumerate, as I am myſelf the principal Sufferer by them: Indeed I am almoſt tempted to ſay, that I find a Sufficiency for the Occupation of each Day in the Evil thereof, and in a Thouſand little Occurrences, leſs known in a regular Proceſs of Buſineſs, which exact their Share of Attention, and paſs without any ſubſtantial Effect. It was for this principal Reaſon, that I have again ſhifted my Reſidence from Banaris to this Place, where I ſhall hope for more Leiſure to bring up a long Arrears of Buſineſs, than it would have been poſſible for me to have cleared if I had continued there.

" I have now to inform you of my Tranſactions with the Nabob Vizeer, during his ſhort Stay at Chunar: Theſe are compriſed in the incloſed Papers, viz.

N° 1. Articles of Agreement concluded with the Nabob Vizeer.
1. A and B. Explanation of the above Articles.
2. Agreement of the Nabob Vizeer.
3. Reaſons for the above Agreement.
4. My Inſtructions to the Reſident.
5. Orders iſſued in conſequence of the Agreement (b)."

you. Upon the Whole, generally, I have only to obſerve further, that the Agreement was drawn up from a Series of Requiſitions preſented to me by the Nabob, to whom I was happy in the Occaſion of making ſuch a Return for the uncommon Inſtance of Fidelity and Attachment which he had recently ſhewn to our Government, by an inſtant and unqualified Aſſent to each Article. This was done verbally in his Preſence. And in like Manner I requeſted and obtained his Acquieſcence in the ſhort Condition which followed mine. I conſidered the Subjects of his Requeſts as eſſential to the Reputation of our Government, and no leſs to our Intereſt than his; and if the Reſident performs his Duty in the Execution of my Inſtructions, the Nabob's Part of the Engagement, by a ſingular Inverſion of their Purpoſes, in both Inſtances, will prove of ſtill greater Benefit to him than to our Government, on whoſe Behalf it was exacted.

" I have the Honour to be,

Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
Warren Haſtings."

" Copy of the Agreement concluded by the Governor General with the Vizeer, on the 19th of September 1781.

" The Nabob Vizeer ul Mummalick Aſſoff ud Dowlah Aſſoff Jah Yeheyah Khan Behader, having repeatedly and urgently repreſented, that he is unable to ſupport the Expences of the temporary Brigade, Cavalry, and Engliſh Officers, with their Battalions, as well as other Gentlemen, who are now paid by him under the Denomination of Sebundy, &c. &c. and having made ſundry Requeſts to that and other Purpoſes; and as the Conſtancy and Firmneſs of his Alliance with the Company entitle him to every Conſideration and Relief that may depend upon us; I Warren Haſtings Governor General, Imaud ud Dowlah Jelladit Jung Behader, &c. &c. on Behalf of the Governor General and Council, have agreed to the under-mentioned Articles, this 19th Day of September, in the Year of our Lord 1781, correſponding to the laſt Day of Ramzan 1195 of the Hidjeree.

" 1ſt. That the temporary Brigade, and Three Regiments of Cavalry, be no longer charged to the Nabob's Account for the Year Fuſſelee 1189, excepting a Term of Two and an Half Months, which is required for their paſſing the Nabob's Boundaries; and for which, together with all former Arrears, their uſual Pay and Allowances are to be made good: Alſo the Engliſh Officers, with their Sebundy Battalions, and other Gentlemen, excepting the Reſident's Office, now upon the Nabob's Liſt, be no longer at his Charge for the Year 1189; the Arrears being paid up with the Addition of Two Months Allowances. The true Meaning of this being, that no more Troops be paid for by the Nabob than the Number of European Infantry, Artillery, and Sepoys agreed for, under the Title of One Brigade, with the late Nabob Shujah ud Dowlah, now paid for at the Rate of 2,60,000 Rupees per Month; to which is now to be added, One Regiment of Sepoys of the preſent Eſtabliſhment, expreſsly allowed for the Purpoſe of protecting the Office, Treaſury, and Perſon of the Reſident at Lucknow; the Pay and Allowances of which are to commence from the 1ſt of Aughun next, at the Rate of Rupees 25,000 per Month. The Regiment to be relieved every Three Months. The Brigade to be ſtationed or moved wherever the Nabob ſhall direct, in the Mode preſcribed in the former Treaty with the Nabob Vizeer deceaſed. And finally, That whenever the Nabob Vizeer ſhall require a further Aid of Troops from the Company, the Pay and Allowances ſhall commence from the Day of their paſſing the Carumnaſſa. Alſo, ſhould the Aſſiſtance of the Nabob's Troops be required by the Company, their Pay and Allowances, as may then be agreed upon, * be allowed during the Time they may ſerve.

* Sic in Orig.

" 2d. That as great Diſtreſs has ariſen to the Nabob's Government from the Military Power and Dominion aſſumed by the Jagheerdars, he be permitted to reſume ſuch as he may find neceſſary, with a Reſerve, that all ſuch for the Amount of whoſe Jagheers the Company are Guarantees, ſhall, in the caſe of the Reſumption of their Lands, be paid the Amount of their net Collections, through the Reſident, in ready Money.

" 3d. That as Fyz-Ooalla Khan has, by his Breach of Treaty, forfeited the Protection of the Engliſh Government, and cauſes, by his Continuance in his preſent independent State, great Alarm and Detriment to the Nabob, he be permitted, when Time ſhall ſuit, to reſume his Lands, and pay him in Money, through the Reſident, the Amount ſtipulated by Treaty, after deducting the Amount and Charges of the Troops he ſtands engaged to furniſh by Treaty; which Amount ſhall be paſſed to the Account of the Company during the Continuance of the preſent War.

" 4th. That no Engliſh Reſident be appointed to Furruckabad, and the preſent one recalled.

" 5th. That the Treaties made between the Engliſh and the Nabob Shujah ud Dowlah be ratified between the preſent Parties, as far as may be conſiſtent with the above-written Articles; and that no Officers, Troops, or others, be put upon the Nabob's Eſtabliſhment, excluſive of thoſe herein ſtipulated.

" Minute of the Governor General explanatory of his Agreement with the Vizeer.

"Par. 2. The Miſchiefs to which the Nabob is expoſed, from permitting a Number of rich independent Eſtates, ſupporting a Body of military Tenants, to be maintained in the Heart of the Country, are of the ſame Nature which we have recently experienced from the enormous Wealth and Influence of Rajah Cheit Sing; and, in fact, the Nabob did experience them alſo, and at the ſame Time, and from the ſame Cauſes.

" The Jagheers, poſſeſſed by the Begums, have enabled them to give frequent Diſturbance to the Nabob's Government; and, it can be well atteſted, that they principally excited and ſupported the late Commotions in Gooruckpoor, &c. in Concert with Cheit Sing, and that they carried their Inveteracy to the Nabob and the Engliſh Nation ſo far, as to aim at our utter Extirpation. By a Deſpotiſm ſo malignant, and a Conduct ſo offenſive, and even dangerous to our Exiſtence, as have been manifeſted by the Begums, without the ſmalleſt Injury or Provocation on our Parts, they have forfeited all Claim to that Protection which we afforded them, in exacting from the Nabob, at the Time that Mr. Briſtow aſſiſted him in obtaining 30 Lacks of Rupees from them, a Promiſe to our Government, that thoſe Ladies ſhould enjoy full Poſſeſſion of their Jagheers unmoleſted. We have a Right to withdraw this Protection when they are no longer worthy of it, and to provide againſt their Machinations, by a Conceſſion of that Pledge which afforded them the Means of injuring and diſtreſſing us.

" The Begums will ſuffer no actual Loſs by the Reſumptions of the Jagheers, except of an Influence which they have invariably employed to the moſt pernicious Purpoſes, againſt one State which had conferred, and another which ſecured and protected them; ſince it is ſtipulated, that they ſhall receive the Amount of the net Collections of them, in Money, by the Hands of our Reſident.

" Theſe Arguments will apply to the Situation of all the other Jagheerdars, though they may not to their actual Conduct or Diſpoſitions; but as we are neither engaged for their Poſſeſſions, nor have any immediate Connection with them, the Nabob ſhould be left to the Exerciſe of his own Authority and Pleaſure reſpecting them (a)."

" Having on my Behalf agreed to the Requiſitions of the Nabob Vizeer, without Diminution or Reſerve, I muſt now repeat the Requeſt, which I before verbally made to him, that he will be pleaſed to attend to ſuch Propoſals as I ſhall have to make to him; and to theſe I expect his Aſſent the more readily, as they have for their ultimate Object his Intereſt alone, that of the Company being no further concerned than in the Influence which they will eventually have in the Payment of the Debt due from the Nabob to the Company. I therefore recommend to him to reduce the great Number of his Sebundy and other Troops to regular and compleat Eſtabliſhments; not to be paid by Aſſignments of Revenue, but in Money from the Treaſury; and their Number not to exceed the certain Means of paying them. But as this may be difficult, without making a Separation of the Nabob's public and private Funds, I further recommend, that he receive into his private Purſe no more than a fixed Monthly Sum for the Expences of his Perſon and Houſehold; and that the Remainder of the net Collections be left in a public Treaſury, under the Management of his public Miniſters, and the Inſpection of the Reſident, for the Diſcharge of his Military and Civil Diſburſements.

" This Advice is not meant to affect the Aſſignments actually made, and which muſt be annually renewed for the Payment of the paſt Debt, and the current Demands of the Company.

" Sir,

" Having on the 19th inſtant entered into certain Engagements with the Nabob Vizeer, tending to relieve his Finances of a Burthen they were no longer able to ſuſtain, with ſundry other Clauſes, the Execution of which is intruſted to you, I herewith incloſe an authentic Copy of the ſame, for your Guidance. The Nabob, on his Behalf, has ſubſcribed and ſealed an Agreement in your Preſence, and in the Preſence of Mr. Richard Johnſon and Hyder Beg Khan, reſpecting the better Adminiſtration of his Affairs; of which I alſo tranſmit you an authentic Copy.

" To theſe Papers, and to the Points conſequently and neceſſarily dependent on them, I think it neceſſary to add the following Inſtructions, to which I require your moſt implicit Obedience.

" I need ſcarcely inform you, that my chief Object in my Negociations with the Nabob has been to induce and aſſiſt him to bring his Government and Finances into ſuch Regularity, as to prevent his Alliance from being a Clog inſtead of an Aid to the Company, and to enable him to diſcharge his Debt in the ſhorteſt Time poſſible. To this End, the moſt eſſential Point is to limit and ſeparate his perſonal Diſburſements from the public Accounts. They muſt not, in their total annual Amount, exceed what he has received in any of the laſt Three Years. This Amount, in Twelve equal Parts, ſhould be paid him monthly out of the Firſt Receipts, and the Remainder of the net Collections placed ſeparately in a public Treaſury, from whence his Public Military and Civil Eſtabliſhment muſt be paid, under the ſole Management and Controul of the Miniſters, with your Concurrence. It is of courſe to be underſtood that this has no Connection, and is in no Shape to interfere with the Company's Aſſignments, and the Collections upon them, which are to be conducted as uſual: And as by the Addition of the Jagheer Lands, with their Revenues, to the Nabob's regular Collections, his Income will, or ought to be conſiderably increaſed, I ſhall expect that the Whole of the Exceſs be appropriated to the Diſcharge of the Nabob's Debt to the Company.

" After ſettling the Amount of the perſonal Diſburſements of the Nabob Vizeer and his Houſehold, the next Point that will require your Exertions towards the general Arrangement of the public Charges, is to reform the eſtabliſhed Muttaiena Troops, reducing them into One eſtabliſhed Corps for the whole Service. If this Corps ſhould be brought to conſiſt wholly of Cavalry, it would beſt anſwer mutual Benefit; leaving no Infantry in the Nabob's Service but what may be neceſſary for his Body Guard; and to ſupply the Deficiency, ſhould any occur from ſuch Arrangement, our Infantry may be employed where Infantry are wanted.

" The Corps reformed and eſtabliſhed, their Pay muſt be iſſued from the public Treaſury. No Aſſignments to be in future granted them, and thoſe already iſſued to be recalled. To complete this, all Numbers above what the real Service may require, or the actual net Receipts may be adequate to the full Payment of, muſt be diſbanded as faſt as their Arrears can be paid off.

" The Nabob will ſelect and appoint his own Commanders; but if he ſhould nominate improper Perſons, ſuch as Men commonly known by the Name of Orderlies, or others deriving their Influence from them, or of known Diſaffection to our Government, you are in ſuch Caſe to remonſtrate againſt it; and if the Vizeer ſhall perſiſt in his Choice, you are peremptorily, and in my Name, to oppoſe it, as a Breach of his Agreement.

" For the Management of the Collections, the Miniſters, with your Concurrence, are to chooſe all Aumils and Collectors, and in their Choice to be guided by the Reſponſibility, good Reputation, and known Ability of the Perſons they elect, that Charges may, as far as poſſible, be avoided.

" Much is to be ſaid, though little may now ſuit, upon the Subject of the Diſtribution of Juſtice in the Nabob's Dominions. For the preſent, I limit myſelf to direct you to urge the Nabob to endeavour gradually, if it cannot be done at once, to eſtabliſh Courts of Adaulut throughout his Diſtricts; the Darogahs, Mowlavies, and other Officers of which muſt be ſelected, as in the Caſe of the Aumils, by the Miniſters, with your Concurrence. The Want of theſe Courts is equally hurtful to the Revenue, Government, and Reputation of the Nabob.

« In conſequence of the Diſturbances which the rebellious Example of Rajah Cheit Sing has cauſed in the Nabob Vizeer's Country, I have inſtructed Colonel Morgan to aſſiſt you on the Requiſition of the Vizeer, communicated by you to him, or at your own ſingle Application, if any Caſe of Emergency ſhould make it needful, with ſuch Detachments as may be neceſſary, excluſive of the Regiment of Sepoys which is ſtipulated to remain with you at Lucknow. This Power you are not to exerciſe but in Caſes of the moſt urgent and manifeſt Neceſſity. It is directed, that the Regiment ordered for the immediate Protection of your Office and Perſon at Lucknow, ſhall be relieved every Three Months, and during its Stay there ſhall act ſolely and excluſively under your Orders.

« It is finally my poſitive Order, that you do not permit any Britiſh Subject, or others claiming the Name and Protection of the Company, to reſide at Lucknow, or within any Part of the Dominions of the Nabob Vizeer, except the Officers and Soldiers of the Army acting in their Duty, and ſuch Perſons as are officially appointed to remain there. And that to ſuch as are now at Lucknow, or in any other Part of his Dominions, not falling within the Deſcription of the above Exception, you give due Notice in Writing, that they quit the Country, allowing them a reaſonable Time, not exceeding Three Months, to ſettle their Affairs; and in caſe of their Refuſal, you are to inform the Nabob thereof, that he may uſe his own Authority to compel them to depart.

Die Jovis, 1° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor informed the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

Then it was moved, that Major JOHN SCOTT be called in; and being called in, he was examined as follows.

Q. You was aſked Yeſterday, whether any other Letter than the Letter ſo much in Queſtion, addreſſed to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, was ever incloſed to you by Mr. Haſtings; to which you made Anſwer, There was not. I wiſh you to explain how it happened, that that Letter was incloſed to you, inſtead of being ſent to the Court of Directors?

A. I had it not in my Power, when I had the Honour to be before your Lordſhips Yeſterday, to ſtate any Reaſon why it was ſo ſent; but I have ſince ſeen a Gentleman, who was Secretary to the Council at that Time.

The Managers for the Commons obſerved, that from what had fallen from the Witneſs, it appeared the Evidence he was going to give, was the Hearſay of a Perſon he had ſeen; and ſubmitted to the Houſe, whether it was regular for the Witneſs to give ſuch an Anſwer.

The Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Have you any Account to give of your own Knowledge?

A. No; I have no farther Account to give than that I underſtood the Letter had been ſent to the Secretary to forward; by an Accident it was not forwarded by him; I have no Knowledge of my own about it.

The Houſe obſerved, it was of no conſequence what the Witneſs underſtood; the only Matter of Conſequence being, that the Letter was there.

Q. Do you know of any Duplicate of that Letter having been ſent, and to whom?

A. Yes, a Duplicate of that Letter was ſent, and ſent not through me, but directly to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, through the uſual Channel. I underſtand that that Duplicate has been in uſe with the Court of Directors, and not the Original, which was, I believe, left before the Select Committee of the Houſe of Commons.

Q. (from the Managers). When was that Duplicate ſent?

A. I cannot exactly ſay; but it can be proved, exactly to a Day, by the Records at the India Houſe.

Q. How do you know that that Duplicate was ſent?

A. If

A. If it is proper to ſtate—I had it from Mr. Hudſon, the Gentleman who attends from the India Houſe; who told me it was at the India Houſe.

Q. Do you know when it was ſent?
A. I rather think, by the earlieſt Opportunity after the Nancy.

Q. (by a Lord). Do you know on what Day Major Fairfax delivered the Box to you?
A. I do not know the exact Day; it was one Day in July 1782; it was the Day he arrived at the India Houſe.

Q. (by the Managers). Whether, as the Agent of Mr. Haſtings, you had, at any Time, Communication with him by Expreſſes over Land?

A. Yes; I wrote repeatedly and regularly to Mr. Haſtings over Land, and received Letters from him; but I never received a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, except a Diſpatch came at the ſame Time to the Company. I wröte to him, I believe, once a Fortnight over Land.

Q. At what Time did this Species of Communication commence between you and Mr. Haſtings, and when did it ceaſe?

A. I ſent a Gentleman Expreſs to Bengal, a few Days after the Reſolution paſſed the Houſe of Commons for the Recal of Mr. Haſtings; I ſent another Gentleman Expreſs to Bengal, after the Court of Proprietors had recommended it to the Court of Directors, not to carry that Reſolution of the Houſe of Commons into Execution. I ſent Mr. Haſtings, by Way of Conſtantinople, an Account of the Death of the Marquis of Rockingham; and that the Marquis of Lanſdown was at the Head of the Treaſury.

Q. The Object of the Queſtion is a General One: How long you continued in the Habit of correſponding in the Manner you mentioned before, by Expreſſes backward and forward over Land, with Mr. Haſtings?

A. From the Month of May 1782 to the Month of May 1785, I believe; a Month before Mr. Haſtings came to England, not being certain he would come that Year.

Q. When did you come over yourſelf?
A. I arrived in England in December 1781.

Q. And you began that Kind of Correſpondence in the May following?
A. Yes.

Q. And continued it during the whole Time of his being reſident there?
A. Yes.

Q. Do you mean, by Correſpondence, to ſay, that you received Anſwers in the ſame regular Way that you ſent Expreſſes over Land; whether the Correſpondence was as regular on one Side as on the other?

A. I believe I have already ſaid, by no Means; I never received a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, except a Letter was ſent to the Company at the ſame Time.

Q. What might be the Expence of theſe Communications ſent by you, or paid by you on the Account of Mr. Haſtings in this Buſineſs?

A. I don't exactly recollect the Sum, but I think between Six and Seven thouſand Pounds. I don't ſpeak quite correctly. The great Expence was from the Gentlemen who went over. There were Three Expreſſes ſent by Gentlemen, and their Expences of courſe are always very high—and the others are expenſive too—going by Arabs acroſs the Deſert. I think between Six and Seven thouſand Pounds.

Q. Who paid that Expence?
A. Mr. Haſtings himſelf.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That the laſt Letter of Correſpondence between Mr. Haſtings and the Council at Calcutta, which was ſubmitted to the Houſe, was addreſſed to Mr. Wheler, and dated the 18th of September, upon the Day previous to the ſigning of the Treaty of Chunar; and that they ſhould now produce the Correſpondence between Mr. Haſtings and Mr. Wheler, after the ſigning of the Treaty of Chunar, down to the very Day upon which Mr. Haſtings determined to ſeize the Treaſures of the Begums, to ſhew that Mr. Haſtings there details minutely all Reports—all Circumſtances—all material Tranſactions whatever that came to his Knowledge, and never once mentions the leaſt Hint or Inſinuation againſt the Begums.

" Sir,

" I moſt heartily congratulate you on the Succeſs of our Arms in the Conqueſt of Pateeta; for the Particulars of which I refer you to the incloſed Letter from Major Popham. I underſtand that large Reinforcements, both from Lutteefpoor and Ramnagur, oppoſed him in the Field. It was intended to attack both Pateeta and Lutteefpoor at the ſame Time; and the former, by an inſtant Aſſault. Major Crabb, with a ſtrong Detachment, appointed for the latter Service, marched on the Night of the 15th by a large, and, as it has ſince appeared, ſcarce practicable Circuit, towards a Paſs which lies behind, or to the South of Lutteefpoor. A Letter received this Morning mentions his Arrival on the Plain which adjoins to the Paſs, after a March of Three Days inſtead of One, as was expected. It is the Road to Bidjeygur, and ſaid to be the Repoſitory of all the Rajah's Ammunition. Major Popham marched at Two of the ſame Night; nor did he reach his Ground with his whole Line until Ten, and then found the Place too ſtrong to attempt it, without a regular Approach and battering Cannon. It fell at Six this Morning. I regard this Victory as a deciſive Turn of our publick Influence; but the greateſt Proportion of my Joy is derived from the Conſideration that it was gained with little Bloodſhed; an Advantage which I attribute, as I expected it, to the ſuperior Skill and known Compoſure, nor leſs Humanity, of Major Popham. Major Crawford arrived here Yeſterday Morning much haraſſed, but without Loſs or Impediment on his Way.

" Sir,

" On the 20th, Major Crabb defeated and routed a Body of the Enemy on the Plain above the Paſs of Suckroot: Their Loſs was 150 Men and 3 Guns, and much Ammunition; our's ſmall. The Rajah that Evening fled from Lutteefpoor; his Men followed his Example; and Yeſterday at Noon Major Crabb took Poſſeſſion, the Place being totally deſerted. I was Yeſterday in Major Popham's Camp, and viſited the Fort of Pateeta and its Intrenchment. They are both contemptible; but, in their actual State, abſolutely impregnable againſt an Attack, had they made any Reſiſtance. The Fort, though ſmall, is of Stone, with 4 Towers; a parallel Rampart and Towers, and a Ditch of great Depth ſurrounding theſe, and the Town itſelf guarded by an Intrenchment extending far beyond it; and the Space between Hills, Rocks, and Jungle, almoſt impenetrable. At One o'Clock we had the Satisfaction to receive, by a regular Salute of 21 Guns, the inſtant Information of the Poſſeſſion of Lutteefpoor by Major Crabb. I have taken upon me to grant a Brevet Commiſſion of Major to Captain Lane, who commanded the Grenadiers of the Army, and performed diſtinguiſhed Service. I this Inſtant receive an authentic Confirmation of the above Intelligence from Major Crabb.

" Letter from Mr. Haſtings to Mr. Wheler.

" Sir,

" I have had the Honour to inform you, in various and ſucceſſive Letters, of my Tranſactions, and of the Occurrences which have befallen me ſince my Departure from Calcutta, and eſpecially ſince my Arrival at this Place, on the 14th of laſt Month. It is my Intention to employ the firſt Hours of my Leiſure in drawing up a detached Narrative of the latter for your Information. In the mean Time I ſhall continue to adviſe you, from Time to Time, of ſuch Circumſtances of Moment as occur in the Courſe of daily Buſineſs, both for your Information and for the Means of obtaining your Sentiments upon them for any Aſſiſtance and Guidance. I deem it a Misfortune that not one of your Letters, written with the Knowledge of the late Troubles, have reached me; and I much fear that many of mine may have miſcarried, for which Reaſon I ſhall cauſe to be tranſcribed Copies of all written ſince 16th of laſt Month, and ſhall tranſmit them to you.

" Leſt my Letters adviſing you of our late Succeſſes ſhould have been intercepted, I think it proper to repeat in this the Subſtance of them.

" The Arrival of the Detachment from Cawnpore under Major Crabb, of 10th inſtant, and Major Robertſon, 13th, enable Major Popham to take the Field with a conſiderable Force. It was publickly expected that his firſt Attempt would be made upon Ramnagur; but ſuch Information having been given of the State of the Two Fortreſſes of Lutteefpoor and Pateeta, as ſeemed to promiſe the certain and immediate Reduction of thoſe Places, he accordingly formed his Army into Two Detachments, one commanded by Major Crabb, conſiſting of 1ſt Battalion of 6th Regiment, the 7th Regiment, the Battalion of the Nabob's Body-guard, commanded by Lieutenant Polhill, with Six 6 Pounders, and One 5½ Inch Howitzers; and the other under his own Command, conſiſting of 19th, 30th, and 35th Regiments, Two Companies of European Infantry, the Corps of Rangers, and about 30 Artillery, with Six 6 Pounders, Two 8½ Inch Howitzers, and an 8 Inch Mortar. The Firſt Detachment marched on the Night of 15th, by a large Circuit through almoſt impracticable Ways. But the Spirit of the Officers and Men ſurmounted every Difficulty. In Places where the Guns could not be drawn by Bullocks, the Sepoys lifted them up the Rocks; and at length, in the Morning of the 20th, they arrived at the Heights, lying behind and above the Fort of Lutteefpoor, at a Place called Lora, which commands a Paſs deſcending to Lutteefpoor, and reported inacceſſible againſt Oppoſition, but from above. The profound Secreſy with which this Expedition was undertaken, and to which the Security of the Enemy in a Region ſo little frequented not a little contributed, prevented any Oppoſition to our Troops in the difficult Parts of their Route. Their Firſt Movement only, but neither their Strength nor their Deſtination, was known, till their very near Approach. At Lora they met a Body of 2000 of the Enemy, which they defeated and diſperſed, with little Loſs on our Side, but on theirs of 200 Men killed on the Spot. The next Morning they took Poſſeſſion of the Paſs, and of the Fort of Lutteefpoor, which they found evacuated.

" In the mean Time, Major Popham marched with his Part of the Forces, on the Morning of the 16th, to Pateeta, a Place inconſiderable in itſelf, being a fortified Stone Houſe, within a very high Rampart and a Ditch of very great Depth, and the Town, which is of great Extent, ſurrounded by Entrenchments. Theſe being all obſcured from Obſervation by Trees and thick Buſhes, he judged it not adviſeable to attempt an immediate Aſſault upon the Place, which fortunately proved the Cauſe of concurrent Succeſs in both Enterpriſes, almoſt in the ſame Inſtant of Time; for in the Morning of 20th, he ſtormed and took Pateeta, at the ſame Time defeating and diſperſing Two Bodies of the Enemy that made an Attempt on his Camp. And on the ſame Day, and in the ſame Hour, Major Crabb fought and gained the Battle of Lora, which was the immediate and eventual Cauſe of the Capture of Lutteefpoor.

" The News of theſe combined Succeſſes alarmed the Rajah to ſuch a Degree, that he inſtantly fled, by a diſtant Route over the Hills, from Lutteefpoor, which, till that Time, had been his capital Reſidence, regaining the Road to Bidjeygur, the only direct Way to it being through the Paſs abovementioned.

" The Conſternation of his Followers was ſo great, and its Contagion ſo rapid, that, in a few Hours, the Fort or Palace of Ramnagur, and the Fortreſs of Lutteefgur, were wholly abandoned and evacuated.

" Major Balfour marched on 22d, and took Poſſeſſion of Ramnagur.

" On the Morning of 25th, I parted from the Nabob, who ſet out on that Afternoon on his Return to his Capital. It is but Juſtice to the Nabob to declare, that on the firſt Intelligence of theſe Troubles, notwithſtanding my repeated and preſſing Injunctions to return to Lucknow, he proſecuted his March to Benares, with only a few Companies of Sepoys and 100 Horſe at that Time attending him; and has, in every other Inſtance, given the ſtrongeſt Proofs of his Fidelity and Attachment. In the Evening I departed from Chunar, and on the next Morning arrived at Ramnagur. My Stay there being unneceſſary, and it having been repreſented to me, that my Preſence at Benares would be a Means of quieting the Minds of the Inhabitants, I accordingly returned hither Yeſterday Morning, and had the Happineſs to find the City reſtored to a State of perfect Order and Tranquillity.

" I have iſſued Proclamations, offering Pardon to all who ſhall quietly return to their Obedience, excepting the Perſons of Cheyt Sing and his Brother Sujan Sing, whom their late rebellious Conduct, and their Rancour manifeſted to our Nation, in the deliberate Murder of many of our Soldiers, and even unarmed Paſſengers, who had the Misfortune to fall into their Hands, have precluded from every Title to Lenity.

" The Perſons ſtanding next in the Line of Inheritance of the Zemindary, were Ranny Golaub Koower, the Widow of Rajah Bulwant Sing, their Daughter married to Rajah Durbijey Sing, and Bauboo Myipharain, their Grandſon by the Two latter. By the Concurrence of the Two firſt Parties, and in conſequence of a written Acknowledgement made by the Ranny, of the Right of her Grandſon, Mayipnarain, I have nominated him to the Succeſſion of the Rauge; and I have appointed the Morning of To morrow for his Inveſtiture.

" I have forborne any particular Comments in this Place, reſerving them where they will be more properly introduced for my detailed Narrative; yet I cannot ſuppreſs, without a Violence to my own Feelings, the Teſtimony which is due, eſpecially from me, to the unexampled Zeal and publick Spirit of all our Officers, and the wonderful Activity with which theſe Qualities were diſplayed on the late Occaſion. I have already acknowledged the early Exertions which were made by Colonel Blair during my former ſhort calamitous Reſidence at Benares. Of Major Popham, I cannot ſay ſufficient to expreſs my Senſe of his Services. Though my Letters were every where intercepted, Colonel Morgan, with a Deciſion and Solicitude that reflect equal Credit on his Character, detached Major Crabb with his Party to my Aſſiſtance on the Firſt and inſtant Rumour of my Situation. Colonel Sir J. Cuming, with the like Alacrity, obeyed the Order of his March to Cawpore, as did Colonel Ahmuty, in the immediate Diſpatch of Major Crawford and the Troop of Cavalry. The ſame Spirit animated every Officer of every Corps, and infuſed itſelf into the Men under their Command, with an Effect ſo far exceeding the common Occurrences of human Affairs, that in the complete Space of One Month, this great and valuable Province, which had been unexpectedly and wholly loſt, was in Subſtance wholly recovered to the Britiſh Empire.

" Sir,

" My Continuance in this Quarter, and the Events which have happened, have given me an Opportunity of becoming acquainted with the Situation of the Troops beyond the Provinces; and I am concerned to ſay, that in their Equipment they are extremely defective, particularly in ſmall Arms and Accoutrements; the laſt Supplies ſent from Fort William to Chunar are entirely expended; the Indents from the Board upon the Magazine there having exceeded the whole Quantity originally ſupplied. Major Popham's Detachment is indeed amply furniſhed; but thoſe under Colonels Cumming and Muir are very deficient. I have not been informed of the Condition of Colonel Morgan's Brigade, but am afraid it is not much ſuperior to that of the others.

" I cannot aſcertain the preciſe Quantity of Arms and Artillery which may be required, nor is it material; but the Neceſſity of having in Store at Chunar ſuch a Supply as may be equal to the Demands of any probable Service on this Side of the Caramnaſſa is evident, and the immediate Want of them is preſſing: I therefore earneſtly intreat your immediate Orders for tranſporting ſuch a Proportion of ſmall Arms and Accoutrements, and of Field Artillery, 12 and 6 Pounders, as may be adapted to this Service, and can be ſpared from Fort William and the Provinces, by Water, before the Swelling of the River ſubſides.

Attachment to our Government, which, from the peculiar Circumſtances under which it was exhibited, merits both a Place in our Records, and a publick and warm Acknowledgment.

" It will be remembered, that a principal Object of my Journey to theſe Provinces was to obtain and facilitate an Interview at Banaris with Dewaugur Pundit, the Miniſter of Rajah Moodajee Booſlah, for the Purpoſe of effecting a final Adjuſtment of the political Concerns of our Government, and that of Berar. The Death of Dewaugur Pundit, the News of which reached me Two Days before my Arrival at Banaris, and which I regret with the moſt ſenſible Concern, diſappointed all the Hopes which I had conceived of forming by his Means a ſolid and laſting Alliance with the Court of Berar.

" I was attended in my Journey from Calcutta by Beneram Pundit, the Vakeel of Moodajee Booſla, with his Brother Biſſumber Pundit. The Vakeel, during his long Reſidence with me in that Capacity, had given me conſtant Proofs of a ſincere Diſpoſition to promote the Intereſts of our Government, whilſt he exerted himſelf to advance thoſe of his Maſter.

" When I retreated from Banaris, Beneram Pundit and his Brother, on the firſt Intelligence of my Departure, followed, and, unattended by a ſingle Servant, joined me in the March, reſiſting all my Intreaties, and even Injunctions, to return to Banaris, where their whole Family reſided, and where they might have remained in perfect Eaſe and Security.

" On my Arrival at Chunar, I found myſelf in great and irremediable Diſtreſs for want of Money. The Troops were ſome Four, and others Five Months in Arrears, and as Cheit Sing had the Country on all Sides at his Devotion, I had not the ſmalleſt Proſpect of obtaining Supplies, until the Motion of our Troops from different Quarters ſhould open a Communication. It was with Difficulty that I found Means to raiſe ſo ſmall a Sum as 2500 Rupees, to diſtribute among the Sepoys for their preſſing Neceſſities. I muſt add, though foreign from my immediate Subject, that the Sepoys bore their Diſtreſſes without expreſſing the leaſt Impatience under them.

" Being accuſtomed, from my Experience of the Intereſt which Beneram Pundit had always taken in the Succeſs of our Affairs, and as a Kind of Acknowledgment of it, to treat him with a greater Freedom of Communication than other Perſons in his Situation, I occaſionally mentioned to him, without any Expectation or Thought of obtaining any Relief from him, the Difficulties under which I laboured for Want of preſent Subſiſtence. He inſtantly, and with ſome Eagerneſs, replied, That his Family at Banaris were in Poſſeſſion of a Lack of Rupees, collected in Specie, of which he made me the inſtant Offer, propoſing that a Battalion of Sepoys ſhould be ſent to bring it away; his Brother at the ſame Time offering to accompany the Eſcort, and to deliver the Money. I thankfully accepted the Offer, and ſhould have adopted the Mode they recommended for bringing away the Money, had I not been fearful of expoſing their Family to the Vengeance of Cheit Sing; and as my Dewan had been left at Banaris, I hoped by his Means to procure the Treaſure to be tranſported to Chunar, and I received their Orders for the Delivery of it to him. But in this Expedient I was diſappointed, for the Dewan was ſo concealed, that my Letter could not reach him, and Gopaul Doſs, the Banker, through whoſe Agency the intended Plan was to be effected, was about the ſame Time apprehended and carried a Priſoner to Lutteefpoor, where the Rajah reſided; neither could I at that Time deviſe any other Contrivance to avail myſelf of the Aſſiſtance which had been thus generouſly preſſed upon me. When I returned to Banaris, Beneram Pundit renewed the ſame Tender; and although my Diſtreſs for Money was not then equal in any Degree to that which had before prompted him to make it, I agreed to accept it, willing to furniſh an incontrovertible Proof of his Sincerity in the Firſt Offer, and ſtrengthen the Teſtimony which I have herein given of his ſteady Attachment to our Government. The whole Sum, amounting to One Lack of Banaris Sicca Rupees, was received between the 30th of September and the 1ſt of October: I have granted to Beneram Pundit a Bond for the ſame, at the uſual Rate of Intereſt, and in the uſual Form, except that it has only my Signature to it. I hope and requeſt that the Board will be pleaſed to confirm it.

fore you a Copy of the Plan on which theſe Courts are formed. I ſhall proceed to ſubmit to you the Reaſons which have given riſe to this Plan, and flatter myſelf that they will induce you to honour it with your Concurrence and Approbation.

" The Town of Banaris has long been deficient in all thoſe Regulations which in populous Places are neceſſary for the Preſervation of Peace and good Order, and the Protection of the Property and Perſons of the Inhabitants. Whilſt, however, the Sovereignty over it was retained by the Nabob of Oude, ſome Appearance of publick Juſtice was ſtill preſerved, and the Awe of a deſpotic Prince produced Reſtraints on the Minds and Actions of Individuals, which bore a Reſemblance, however faint, to the Effects of more regular and perfect Inſtitutions. But theſe Reſtraints ceaſed with the Cauſe which produced them. By the Treaty made with the Nabob Aſſof ud-Dowlah, on the 21ſt of May 1775, the Sovereignty of Banaris was ceded to the Company, and ſoon after the Cutwallee, or Superintendance of Police, was formally made over by us to the late Rajah. From this Period the Appearance of publick Juſtice was gradually effaced, until at laſt, without any Syſtem of Police, any Courts of Judicature, or any Awe of the ſovereign Power, the Inhabitants of Banaris were guilty of Enormities and Crimes which reflected the greateſt Diſgrace on the Government to which they were ſubject. The Relations and Dependants of the Rajah, or the Merchants whoſe Credit was uſeful in the Payment of the Revenue, might violate the Rights of their Fellow Citizens with Impunity; and the ſacred Character of a Bramin, or the high Rank of the Offender, were Conſiderations which ſtamped a Pardon on the moſt flagitious Crimes.

" Such was the State in which I found the civil Government of the Town when I arrived at Banaris. All Ranks of People joined in their Repreſentations of the Neceſſity of Reformation; and this appeared the more neceſſary from a Conſideration of the Circumſtances which are peculiar to Banaris. Its Temples are held in particular Veneration by the Profeſſors of the Hindoo Religion, who flock to them on occaſional Pilgrimages from the moſt remote Parts of Hindoſtan; and many who have acquired independent Fortunes, retire to cloſe their Days in a Place ſo eminently eſteemed for its Sanctity. It may therefore rather be conſidered as the Seat of the Hindoo Religion, than the Capital of a Province. But its Inhabitants are not compoſed of Hindoos only; the former Wealth which flowed into it from the Offerings of Pilgrims, as well as from the Tranſactions of Exchange, for which its central Situation is peculiarly adapted, has alſo attracted Numbers of Mahomedans, who ſtill continue to reſide in it with their Families. Amongſt ſuch a Mixture of Perſons, moſtly without Employment, of different Countries, and of different Sects and Religions, it is obvious that every Defect of Civil Government muſt be productive of more than ordinary Evils; and theſe Evils are propagated in all Quarters of India, to the Diſcredit of our Government, and to the Hindrance and Diſcouragement of thoſe who, under more favourable Circumſtances, might wiſh to repair with their Wealth to Banaris.

" For theſe Reaſons, after my Return from Chunar, when I began to ſettle the Affairs of this Province, the Reformation of the Civil Government of the Town of Banaris was one of the firſt Objects to which I thought it neceſſary to turn my Attention. The Plan which I have formed is now ſubmitted to your Conſideration. You will obſerve, that I have eſtabliſhed Three diſtinct Departments for the Police, and the Civil and Criminal Juriſdiction; and I have put the Whole under the Regulation and Controul of One Chief Magiſtrate, who is to be ſubject to the immediate Orders of the Board. It was at firſt my Intention to have included alſo under his Authority the Collection of the Revenues and Cuſtoms of the Town; but I found that this would give great Diſcontent to the new Rajah, and might perhaps hurt his Influence in the Management of the Revenues of the reſt of the Province; I have therefore left it out; at the ſame Time I am ſenſible that it is a Defect which may occaſion ſome Inconveniencies, from the claſhing of the Authorities of the Rajah and the Chief Magiſtrate.

" The Perſon whom I have choſen to fill the important Station of the Chief Magiſtrate, is Allee Ibrahim Khan, a Man who has long been perſonally known to myſelf, and I believe to many Individuals of our Government, and whoſe Character for Moderation, Diſintereſtedneſs, and good Senſe, will bear the Teſt of the ſtricteſt Enquiry. On his good Conduct muſt doubtleſs, in a great Meaſure, depend the Succeſs of a Plan which is to take Effect at ſo remote a Diſtance from the Seat of our Government; and it is chiefly from the Reliance which I have in him perſonally, that I have ventured to delegate a Degree of Authority to him, which it would perhaps be unſafe to veſt in a Perſon of a leſs eſtabliſhed Character.

" In forming the Eſtabliſhment, I have calculated the Allowances of the Chief Magiſtrate and his Officers in Proportion to the Importance and Degree of Truſt annexed to their ſeveral Employments; and I have fixed them at ſuch Rates, as will ſet them above the Neceſſity, and I hope the Temptation, of having Recourſe for a Subſiſtence to the Practices of Corruption.

Warren Haſtings (a)."

" Copy of a Letter to the Governor General and Council, dated the 25th of November 1781, reſpecting the Appointment of Meſſrs. Anderſon and Chapman.

" To Edward Wheler, and John M'Pherſon, Eſqrs. Members of the Council of Fort William.

" Gentlemen,

" I have the Honour to tranſmit to you Copies of my Inſtructions ſeverally delivered to Mr. Anderſon and Mr. Chapman; the former deputed to Mahdajee Sindia, and the latter to Naugpoor. Both are ſo conſonant to your Wiſhes, and to the Commands of our Honourable Superiors, that they will need no Comment or Explanation; unleſs it ſhall appear, that the Miſſion of Mr. Chapman is rather oſtenſible than real, little being given him in Charge, but to preſerve the Friendſhip unimpaired between the Government to which he is deputed and ours. In effect, the Advantages propoſed by it are rather contingent, than ſuch as could be preſcribed as determined Objects; an Attention was neceſſary to an ancient and approved Friend of our Government, on the Occaſion of our availing ourſelves of a different Influence. I have judged it neceſſary to provide for a new Channel of Correſpondence with that Government itſelf, having loſt that on which I had hitherto placed a confident and effectual Reliance, in the Dewan Dewaugur Pundit. But my principal Hope from this Deputation is, that it may prove the Means of quickening the Concluſion of the Peace with the Marattah State, by making it an Object of Competition to the Two moſt powerful Members of it. It is not the profeſſed Object of Mr. Chapman's publick Credentials, and therefore not liable to any juſt Grounds of Jealouſy in Mahdajee Sindia; but from my Experience of the general Tenor of the Policy of the late Dewan, which the Veneration paid to his Judgement, eſpecially by the Rajah himſelf, will continue to make the Rule of the preſent Adminiſtration, or whatever may decidedly ſucceed to his, I have no Doubt that either the Rajah will endeavour to counteract our Endeavours to obtain a Peace, that we may ultimately have Recourſe to him for effecting it; or that he will himſelf precipitate it, if he ſees it likely to be accompliſhed by another, that he may have the ſole Merit of it, and preſerve his Conſequence with both Parties, by having been the ſucceſsful Mediator between us. You will obſerve, that I have ſufficiently guarded Mr. Chapman's Inſtructions againſt the Poſſibility of their claſhing with Mr. Anderſon's.

" I am certain that Mr. Chapman will think it no Degradation to act under the Controul of Mr. Anderſon, for whoſe Abilities he entertains a very high and deſerved Reſpect.

" Mr. Anderſon left Banaris, to proceed on his Deputation, on the 5th of this Month, and Mr. Chapman on the 17th: The former accompanied by his Brother, Lieutenant Anderſon, whom I appointed his Aſſiſtant, granting him the Allowance uſually annexed to ſuch Office; and by Tuffuzzul Hooſſain Khan, a Native of the firſt Abilities in Indoſtan, who had been employed by me under Major Palmer, during his Deputation to the Ranah of Ghode, and had rendered material Services to our Government, and who I knew would be very uſeful to Mr. Anderſon in his Negociations, from the Character which he bears throughout the Country for his Integrity and Knowledge: His Salary I fixed at a Thouſand Rupees per Month. Mr. Chapman is accompanied by Mr. John White, whom I have appointed his Aſſiſtant, with the ſame Allowance that is given to Lieutenant Anderſon; and as the Service on which he is employed is merely temporary, I ſhould hope that the Offices which he holds in Calcutta will not be conſidered as vacated by this Appointment. Mr. Anderſon is authorized by me to draw the ſame Allowances that were given Colonel Upton, when appointed to the Court of Poona; and Mr. Chapman the ſame that are given to Mr. Anderſon.

" I requeſt the Board will be pleaſed to communicate to Mr. Anderſon any Orders which they have lately ſent, or may hereafter ſend, to Brigadier General Goddard, that may be neceſſary for his Information, or any Inſtructions given to our Reſident at the Court of Hydrabad, reſpecting the Nazim's Mediation of Peace between us and the Marattahs, that the whole Subject may be completely before him.

" Colonel Muir having been unable yet to furniſh me with the Particulars of the late Negociation with Mahdajee Sindia, by reaſon, as his laſt Letters mention, of the dangerous and continued Sickneſs of Captain Ford, to whom he had committed the Execution of that Buſineſs; and having tranſmitted to me the Perſian Copy of the Treaty, I have the Honour to forward the ſame for your preſent Information.

The Governor General abſent on a Viſit to the Northern Provinces.

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote abſent on Service at Fort St. George.

" Read, the following Letter and Incloſures from the Governor General.

" To Edward Wheler Eſquire,
" &c. &c. &c. Council, Fort William.

" Gentlemen,

" I have received from the Secretary at the Preſidency the following Papers, tranſmitted to me by the Directions of Mr. Wheler, and have Pleaſure in making my Acknowledgements to Mr. Wheler for a Communication of them to me.

" Copy of a Letter from the Admiralty to the Board, dated 3d July.

" Ditto of the Board's Reply to ditto, dated 24th September.

" Ditto of a Letter from Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote to the Select Committee at Fort St. George, dated 6th July.

" Copy of a Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort St. George to the Governor General and Council, dated 29th July.

" Ditto of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort St. George to ditto, dated 30th July.

" Ditto of a Letter from Sir Eyre Coote to the Board, dated 30th July.

" Ditto of a Letter written by the Board to Mr. Turing on the 24th September.

" Ditto of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Bombay, dated 3d July, with Two Incloſures.

" Ditto of a Letter from Brigadier General Goddard, dated 5th July, with Three Incloſures.

" Copies of Letters from the Board to the Preſident and Select Committee at Bombay, and to Brigadier General Goddard, dated 24th September.

" I have great Pleaſure in adding to the Proceedings of the Board during my Abſence from it, whatever Strength may be afforded them by my general, and, I believe I may ſay, literal Approbation of their Orders upon the ſeveral Subjects of this Correſpondence; and in offering the Remarks which I deſire their Permiſſion to make on them, I am chiefly influenced by the Motive of giving them further Weight, by the Addition of ſuch Reaſons in ſupport of them as have come to my ſeparate Knowledge ſince I left Calcutta, and could not have been before the Board, when the Letters to which they reply were under their Conſideration.

" I entirely approve of the Meaſure propoſed to the Admiral, in the Board's Letter of the 24th Ultimo, for preſerving a free and open Communication between Bengal and the Ports on the Coaſt, during the next Northern Monſoon. I have the ſame Conviction of its Neceſſity, which the Board have, for the Reaſons they have expreſſed, and deem it the moſt uſeful Service to the Company on which the Fleet, or a Part of it, can be employed. If any Objection ſhould prevail with the Admiral againſt ſtationing it in the Road of Balaſore, Perſons converſant in the Navigation of theſe Seas (and of ſuch there are many Gentlemen at the Preſidency willing, and at all Times ready, to afford us the Aid of their Opinions upon theſe Subjects when deſired), could eaſily point out ſome Place contiguous to it, where Ships might lie with more Convenience, and their Services be as effectual as in the Road of Balaſore. I remember to have heard that at Coringa there is a good Road for Ships to lie in. The Situation is certainly convenient; but whether it will admit Ships of ſuch Depth in the Water as his Majeſty's large Ships of War, is a Queſtion which I am not ſufficiently Maſter of the Subject to determine.

" I have read with Satisfaction Sir Eyre Coote's Letter to the Board, of the 30th July, even thoſe Parts of it which contain an implied Cenſure of our Meaſures. The Language of it differs widely from the Terms of that of which we had ſo much Reaſon to complain of in his Letter of the 1ſt March. It is liberal, and ſuch as becomes a Man of Character and Station. I am now fixed in an Opinion which I have before entertained, if not expreſſed to the Board, that the Ground of his unpleaſant Differences with us, as apparent in the Courſe of his Correſpondence from the Time of his Arrival upon the Coaſt, is the Formation of the Military Regulations which we paſſed in the Beginning of this Year, and which he ſeems to think were framed from Motives of perſonal Hoſtility to him, and without a ſufficient Reaſon, purpoſely to overſet thoſe we had paſſed at his Recommendation in Auguſt 1779. Although I cannot ſuppoſe ſuch an Idea to exiſt with the Honourable the Court of Directors, or that they can attribute ſuch Motives to our Actions, ſince it does not appear in what Way they can affect either his Reputation or Intereſt, if regarded in a vindictive Light, and are too intereſting to our own Credit in the Conſequence, to have been undertaken without a ſtrong Conviction of their Neceſſity: Yet, as the Reaſons for the Meaſure may not have been compleatly before them, or may be lightly remembered when theſe Strictures upon them are read, I muſt beg the Board's Permiſſion to repeat in this Place, what I have before declared on our Records, and what is ſufficiently apparent to any one who will give an impartial Conſideration to the Subject; that theſe Regulations were framed to anſwer an immediate Exigency of the publick Service, and were reſolved upon in a State of Affairs, very different from that which exiſted when I gave my Conſent to paſſing thoſe which were recommended, in 1779, by Sir Eyre Coote. The Board will recollect, that when we reſolved to detach the Forces under Colonel Pearſe to the Coaſt of Coromandel, the Meaſure was founded on a particular Requeſt, made to us by the General himſelf, before he took his Departure from Bengal; and that, at the ſame Time that we well knew how ſerviceable ſuch a Reinforcement would be to his Operations on the Coaſt, the Dangers with which our own Provinces were threatened by the Neighbourhood of the Berar Army to their Borders; the Effects which the Fear of Invaſion might naturally be ſuppoſed to have upon the Minds of the timid People of Bengal; and, above all, the Conſequences that might be expected to ariſe from the Intrigues of Hyder's Agents with the Country Powers, conſiderably aſſiſted by his great Succeſs in the Carnatic; ſo large a Force could ill be ſpared from the Protection of the Company's Poſſeſſions in this Part of India. It was at the ſame Time, I believe, within the

* Sic in Orig. private Knowledge of the Members of * Board, that even our reduced Force was not actually ſuch as it appeared on the Returns; I mean to ſay, that, had we required inſtant Service for the Numbers which ſtood on the Returns, we ſhould have been greatly diſappointed—ſuch was the Practice of the Service, founded upon a very reproachful Cuſtom; and all our Efforts, in the Trial of various and repeated Expedients to ſuppreſs it, had hitherto proved ineffectual. In ſuch a Situation, it became not only abſolutely neceſſary, that new Levies ſhould be raiſed to ſupply the Loſs which we ſhould ſuffer from the March of Colonel Pearſe's Detachment to the Coaſt but that the nominal Strength of our Forces ſhould alſo be its real one. Regulations were accordingly propoſed by Brigadier General Stibbert, and reſolved on by us, to effect ſo deſirable an End: An Increaſe of Numbers adequate to the Loſs of Colonel Pearſe's Detachment was to take Place, and the Subaltern Officers of the ſeveral Companies of the Battalions, were ſeparately intruſted with the Pay and Muſter of their Corps, and, by the Duties preſcribed to them, were made, as far as the Good of the Services would allow, without intruding upon the Authority neceſſarily veſted in the Commanding Officers, a Check upon their Captains. More was yet thought politick and expedient: At the ſame Time that we reſolved upon Meaſures for maintaining a large Force fit for Duty whenever called on, and upon which we could always depend, we determined to increaſe the Number of our Battalions to a Thouſand Men; this Body was called a Regiment, and the Regiment divided into two Battalions of 500 Men in each. This Diminution of Strength in each Battalion, as it ſtood on the former Eſtabliſhment, if known, would appear of little Moment in the Eyes of the Country Powers, and an Augmentation of the Numbers of our Battalions would impreſs them with the Awe of an increaſed Army. Having admitted no private Advantage whatever, and ſomething more than the common Pay of the Rank of Captain being thought due to the Officers commanding ſo large a Corps as a Regiment of 1000 Men, we reſolved on a general Promotion, giving the Commands of the Regiments to Majors, and by affording them the Pay of that Rank, and ſome other Advantages, placing them above the Neceſſity or Deſire of taking Profits which we wiſhed to annul. I will add for myſelf, that I was influenced in giving my Concurrence in this Meaſure (and I believe Mr. Wheler was ſo likewiſe) by a Deſire of ſhewing ſome Diſtinction to a Number of deſerving Men, whoſe Exertions for the Publick Service might ſoon become peculiarly neceſſary, and who would naturally feel a greater Zeal to do Credit to their Profeſſion, when they found themſelves placed in higher and more reſponſible Situations, than if they continued undiſtinguiſhed in lower ones. This Alteration in our Eſtabliſhment, ſeparately conſidered, would of courſe be attended with ſome Increaſe of Charge; but it makes a Part only of a general Regulation, which provides a large Augmentation of Force, yet makes the Expence of the whole Army leſs than it was upon its former Footing. In aſſerting this, I am warranted by the Eſtimates delivered in to us by General Stibbert, on the 26th December laſt, when the new Regulations were under Conſideration.

" The new Regulations being in Force before Colonel Pearſe's Detachment went away, it, with the reſt of our Army, was modelled by them; it partook, with it, of the ſame general Benefit, as to nominal Strength, and indeed received ſome Increaſe of its former Numbers; for, to make the Arrangement good, we added ſome Companies, and ſent to the General's Aſſiſtance a Detachment of Five Regiments of 1000 Men, inſtead of Six Battalions of 800. If the Officers on the Madraſs Eſtabliſhment have been Sufferers by an Arrangement which the publick Service of this Country has made neceſſary, I will not cenſure them for complaining; but I muſt attribute the Cauſe to the Meaſure of breaking our Detachment, and dividing it among the Sepoy Corps of the Madraſs Eſtabliſhment, which, however neceſſary in the Judgement of the Commander in Chief, I recollect to be contrary to the Inſtructions of this Government, communicated to him when the Detachment moved from our Provinces.

" I obſerve that Sir Eyre Coote remarks on the Staff allowed to a Major of Colonel Pearſe's Detachment, and thenceforth thinks it fit to reflect on the unneceſſary Expence which we have permitted to be incurred in the Charge of that Corps. The only Major of Colonel Pearſe's Detachment that had a Staff was Major Edmondſon, expreſsly appointed Second in command of it: It has been always uſual, I believe, for the Second in Command of ſo large a Force to have the Staff which was allowed to Major Edmondſon; but it was not intended, nor was it neceſſary, that it ſhould be continued to him longer than he held that Station, and therefore when he no more was Second in Command, as would be the Caſe when a Junction was effected between the Detachment and the Main Army, he of courſe would loſe the Rights and Properties of the Office.

"I beg Leave to aſſure the Board of my entire Concurrence in their Reply of the 24th September to General Goddard's Letter of the 5th of July, and in that written by the Select Committee of the ſame Date. I have the Honour to tranſmit to them two Letters from General Goddard, bearing Date the 11th June and 6th Auguſt, which I received at Chunargur, and have not been till lately able to tranſmit to them, on Account of the great Inſecurity of the Conveyance: To theſe I have yet made no Reply, and none is now neceſſary from me, ſince the Sentiments of the Board, entirely conformable to my own, have already been expreſſed to him upon the moſt material Points of them; and, as to the Reſt, the Board are much better able to judge, than I can be at this Diſtance from the Preſidency, how far the Plan propoſed by General Goddard, in his Letter of the 11th of June, or that ſubſequently propoſed by the Preſident and Select Committee of Bombay, of which no Intimation has yet been ſent me, for ſupplying the Troops on the Malabar Coaſt with Proviſions, can be complied with, without affecting the more eſſential Claims of the Army under Sir Eyre Coote, and the Settlement at Fort St. George.

"I have been ſorry to obſerve, on a Peruſal of General Goddard's Letter to the Board of 6th Auguſt, that the General had miſtaken the Senſe and Meaning of our Orders of the 11th of June, reſpecting a Peace with the Maratta State; I judge ſo from my preſent Recollection of them, for I have not a Copy with me.—In a Minute, which the General has delivered at a Meeting of the Select Committee, and extracted in his Letter to us, he aſſerts, that one of the Events, in which the Powers which we had granted him were to be exerciſed, was the Deputation of Dewagur Pundit Moodajee Dewan to Poona, for the Purpoſe of mediating between this Government and the Marattas; whereas I believe that our Inſtructions to the General, not only provided for the Deputation of Dewagur Pundit to Poona, but of any one elſe who might be appointed to go there by the Court of Nagpoor.

"I have already expreſſed my Approbation of the Orders ſent to Bombay, and to Brigadier General Goddard, on the 24th September, againſt a Plan of offenſive Operations, and an Augmentation of the Military Eſtabliſhment on that Coaſt. The Reaſoning in favour of an Increaſe of their Army, is doubtleſs overſet, by their own Confeſſion of Inability to maintain what they have already, and we are unable to ſupply them. I have not yet ſeen the Plan of offenſive Operations recommended, but I am generally againſt it, not being able to diſcover to what uſeful Object it can tend, be it what it may. This Government has no Object but a Peace; we have acquired all that we ſought for when we were forced into the War, and we have offered a large Part of that Whole to effect a Peace. But I am influenced by ſtill further Reaſons for oppoſing of the Orders ſent to Brigadier General Goddard; and theſe I ſhall now recite; firſt making an Apology to the Board for not having before given them publick Information of the Facts on which they were grounded. I alluded to them diſtantly in an official Letter which I wrote Mr. Wheler from Chunar; but from a Fear of its being intercepted, it was expreſſed with ſo much Caution, that I fear may not exactly have been underſtood. In a private Letter, which I have ſince written to Mr. Wheler, I have been more explicit; and ſhall be obliged to him if he will be pleaſed to lay before the Board, and record upon their Proceedings, ſuch Part of it as relates to the Subject.

"I was made to underſtand by a Letter which I received from Colonel Muir, and by diſtant Advances made to me after my Firſt Arrival at this Place, that Madajee Scindia was very deſirous of a Peace. His Wiſhes coinciding with thoſe of our Government, I ſent Orders to Colonel Muir to negociate, and full Powers to conclude a ſeparate Peace with him, accompanied by Inſtructions for the Colonel's Guidance in fixing the Conditions of it. As theſe appear to be the Orders on which a Treaty has ſince been prepared, I tranſmit a Copy of them encloſed for the Information of the Board, together with a Copy of my Credentials to Colonel Muir: They were both drawn up to go in the ſmalleſt Compaſs poſſible, on Account of the Danger to the Paſſage of our Letters at that Period. Soon after I had diſpatched theſe Orders, and before they could reach Colonel Muir, I received from him a Communication of his Correſpondence with Scindia, with reſpect to the Conditions of a Peace, and was happy to find by it, that the Conditions to which Scindia would agree, were, except in very trivial Inſtances, the ſame which I had empowered Colonel Muir to yield.

"I have the Honour to tranſmit encloſed to the Board a Tranſlation of the Propoſal made to Colonel Muir by Scindia's Dewan, on the Part of his Maſter, a Copy of my Replies, and a Letter which I wrote to Colonel Muir on the 11th Ultimo.

"A Truce had been reſpectively agreed on between the Two Commanders, and my Inſtructions to Colonel Muir fortunately reached him before the limited Period of it was expired. I have been for ſome Time in hourly Expectation of hearing that the Treaty was concluded, having had the Satisfaction

Satisfaction to learn from Colonel Muir, that neither the Arts of Cheit Sing, nor the worſt State of our Affairs in this Country, even the moſt exaggerated Account of them, appear to have affected the amicable Diſpoſition of the Maratta Chief. But as it will afford the Board Pleaſure to know what Progreſs Colonel Muir has made, I have the Honour to ſubjoin an Extract of the laſt Letter which I received from him, under Date the 6th inſtant: "The Treaty is at laſt fairly made out, "and this Day tranſmitted to Scindia for his Approbation. To-morrow it will be returned; and,

to
"if approved, Captain Ford will be diſpatched for * to his Camp to ſee the Signature and Seal "affixed; after which Interview I ſhall be able to write you fully on every Part of the im- "portant Charge entruſted to my Management." To this Information I beg the Board's Permiſſion to add an Extract of a private Letter from Colonel Muir's Camp, of yet a later Date. Seſſai, dated, 11th October 1781. "The Treaty is ready, and Ford is to ſet out this Morning for "the Maratta Camp, to have it executed by the Pateel, as he has already approved of the Articles "in it."

"The Board will obſerve in Scindia's Propoſals for a ſeparate Peace, that he has promiſed his Interpoſition at Poona for effecting a general Peace with the Maratta State; and as in ſuch Event it will be neceſſary to take ſome further Steps for ſecuring Succeſs to ſo deſirable an Object, I ſhall ſoon have Occaſion to addreſs the Board again on this important Subject.

"I have the Honour to be, with great Eſteem,
"Benares, Gentlemen,
the 22d October 1781. Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
Warren Haſtings.

"P. S. Since the above Letter was copied fair, I have received the Copy of a Minute delivered to the Board by Mr. Wheler on the 4th of laſt Month; and beg Leave to offer my Acknowledgments and Thanks to that Gentleman, for the honourable Teſtimony which he has afforded in it of his Approbation of my Conduct on the Occaſion to which it alludes.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next prove that Mr. Haſtings pleaded Want of Time for not having once informed the Board of the extraordinary Circumſtance of the Diſaffection and Rebellion of the Begums: That he, during all that Time, correſponded with them upon every other Subject; and that in his Narrative he dated Letters as if they had been written at the Time dated—particularly, a Letter of the 9th of November 1781; whereas the Narrative was not finiſhed profeſſedly till the 31ſt of December 1781, and not ſent till the 20th of January following.

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote abſent on Service at Fort Saint George.

" Received Three Letters, as follows, from the Governor General.

" Gentlemen,

" I have the Honour to acknowledge my Receipt of your Letter of the 5th of laſt Month: It confirms to me the Pleaſure which I have received from the ſtrongeſt Expreſſions of your Confidence in my Zeal and Exertions for the publick Service, and makes me happy by your Approbation of the Meaſures which I had adopted and communicated to you for the early Suppreſſion of the Troubles in this Zemindary. I have completed the Narrative of my Proceedings to this Time, from that of my firſt Arrival at Benares, and ſhall do myſelf the Honour of tranſmitting it to the Board as ſoon as it is copied fair; but this, I fear, will be a Work of ſome Days, as the Papers are of conſiderable Length, and I have but few Aſſiſtants with me.

" You do me the Honour of deſiring my Opinion ' how the Government of Bombay ſhould ' be directed to act, in caſe General Meadows arrives there with the Troops under his Command; ' and whether, as General Meadows can have no direct Authority from the Company to act with ' their Troops, this Government ſhould not ſend him a ſpecial Authority.'

" In Reply to this Queſtion, I beg Leave to ſubmit to you my Opinion—That our Authority over the Company's other Preſidencies is merely negative; that even that negative Power is confined to Treaties of Alliance, and to reſtrain them from making War; and that although we may always recommend to them in what Manner to diſpoſe of the Troops ordered for their Service, we have no Right of appointing a Commander over any but our own Part of them: That General Meadows, being an Officer in His Majeſty's Service, has probably received general, though perhaps not ſpecial, Powers from His Majeſty, and ſimilar Powers from the Eaſt India Company, to act with their Forces, in the Event of his coming to India; but that, if he has not received ſuch Powers, it is particularly the Province of Sir Eyre Coote, who holds the Commiſſion of Commander in Chief, as well over the King's Troops in India as thoſe of the Company, to delegate them to him; and that, if it belonged to our Government to grant ſuch Authority, I muſt declare my Opinion, without meaning to derogate in the leaſt from the Merits of General Meadows, that the Services rendered to the Company by Brigadier General Goddard, and his local Knowledge and Reputation, would entitle him to our Preference in the Command of any Forces employed in the Weſtern Coaſt: Indeed I fear that our Influence will ſuffer by his Removal.

" The Exigencies of the Service, when the Reinforcement ſhall arrive, will beſt dictate to the Preſidency of Bombay in what Manner it ſhould be employed.—In the deſired Event of a Concluſion of the War with the Maratta State, and, if the Troops could be ſpared from the Purpoſes of Defence, I ſhould think it will be the Opinion of the Commander in Chief, that it might be uſefully employed with General Goddard's Detachment in an Invaſion of the Territories of Hyder Ally Cawn.

" Benares,

" I have the Honour, &c.
(Signed) " Warren Haſtings."

" Gentlemen,

" I have received your Letter of the 22d Ultimo, accompanied by the Copy of a Letter to the Board from the Commander in Chief, on the Diſtribution to be made of the Forces in Conſequence of the Peace with Mahdagee Sindia, and the Termination of the Troubles in this Zemindary.

" I agree entirely with General Stibbert in his Opinion of the Expediency of an Addition in Artillery to the Garriſon of Fort William, and of Native Infantry for the Benefit and Security of the Provinces; and as there is not any Appearance at preſent of Hoſtilities in the Duab, or any Part of the Nabob's Dominions, I have limited the Number of Troops for the immediate Protection and Security of his Country, to the Strength ſtipulated in the Subſidiary Treaty with the late Vizier, and my late Agreement with the preſent, allowing Four Regiments of Native Infantry to be equivalent to Six Battalions of the old Eſtabliſhment. An additional Regiment of Sepoys, attached to the Station of Cawnpore, is allowed for the Service of Lucknow, according to my late Agreement with the Nabob.

" I have ordered Five Regiments of Sepoys to be ſtationed at Chunargur for the Service of the Garriſon, and for ſecuring Peace and Order until you ſhall either confirm that Arrangement, or make ſuch Alterations in it as you ſhall think proper in this Zemindarry, upon which the Collection of the Revenue eſſentially depends.

" I would propoſe, that Four Regiments of Sepoys, and a Proportion of Goolundaaz for the Artillery, ſhould be the eſtabliſhed Force for this Service; but as the Diſtricts of Jaunpore and Gauzepoor are expoſed to the Depredations of lawleſs Zemindars in their Neighbourhood, who infeſt and plunder them whenever the Troops are withdrawn, it will be neceſſary to ſtation Detachments in them, until thoſe Zemindars are ſeized or diſabled from giving any further Moleſtation.

" The Remainder of the Troops of every Denomination beyond the Provinces, I have ordered immediately to Dinapoor, under the Command of Sir John Cumming, to whom I requeſt the Board will ſend their Orders for the final Diſtribution of the Corps which he conducts into the Provinces.

" As the Station of Dinapoor is of great Importance to the Security and Proſperity of one of our own principal Provinces, commodious for ſupplying Reinforcements to either the Upper or Lower Stations of the Army, and affords plentiful and cheap Supplies of Grain and other Proviſions to the Troops, with Returns beneficial to the publick Revenue, I beg Leave to offer to the Board's Conſideration, and the Commander in Chief, the Propriety of cantoning there Five Regiments of Sepoys, the Cavalry, and a Proportion of Artillery.

" The General has recommended that One Regiment of Cavalry ſhould be ſtationed there: I think it will be attended with conſiderable Benefit to the Service, and to the Country, to keep the whole Corps within the Provinces. It has been ſtationed at too remote a Diſtance for that Inſpection which is neceſſary to the Economy of new and untried Eſtabliſhments.

" I am entirely of Opinion with the Commander in Chief, that the Deficiencies of our European Corps is Matter of very ſerious Conſideration, particularly that of the Artillery, upon which Branch of the Military Service our Operations moſt materially depend for Succeſs. The Scantineſs and Uncertainty of Recruits from Europe affords but little Proſpect of completing the European Corps to their preſent Eſtabliſhment. In a Time of general Hoſtility it would be inexcuſable to truſt to Chance for our Supplies, when a certain Expedient can be found. All the Officers with whom I have converſed have given Teſtimony in favour of the Practicability and Advantages of training the Natives to the Artillery Service, and that the Experiment which was made, in raiſing the late Corps of Golundaaz ſucceeded beyond Expectation. I am happy to find this Teſtimony confirmed and ſtrengthened by the Opinion and Recommendation of General Stibbert.

" I have heard but one Objection made to ſuch a Corps, viz. the Danger of its becoming uſeful to an Enemy, by the great Encouragement which would be given to the Goolandaaz to deſert our Service, when perfect in their Diſcipline. This Objection is equally applicable to the other native Corps; but Experience, the beſt Teſt, has not given any Sanction to it. One European Officer, well inſtructed in the Theory and Practice of that Service, would afford more Improvements to our Enemies, in that Branch of Military Knowledge, than Ten Battalions of Golandaaz trained in our Service.

" I do

" I do not mean to anſwer or diſapprove the Regulations eſtabliſhed by Sir Eyre Coote; but as they cannot be effected, and as our Situation abſolutely requires that the Defects in our Military Service ſhould be ſupplied in the beſt Manner in our Power, I hope the Board will take into their immediate Conſideration the Re-eſtabliſhment of the Goolundaaz Corps upon the late Plan, or ſuch other as General Stibbert ſhall adviſe.

" My Situation in the late Commotions here has given me an Opportunity of obſerving further Defects in the preſent Regulations of our Army. The taking from the Sepoys Corps the Artillery formerly attached to them, is attended with Delays on every Occaſion of ſudden Service, productive of Diſappointment, and hazarding Danger and Diſgrace. The native Infantry have a Confidence in, and an Attachment to, their Artillery, which have the beſt Effects on their Conduct in Action. The Country, covered with Forts of various Extent and Strength, renders the Uſe of Ordnance of ſome Kind almoſt indiſpenſable in every Expedition; and it is well known how deſperate a Reſiſtance is generally made by the Garriſons of the Country Forts, when aſſaulted only with ſmall Arms.

" The Regiment commanded by Major Roberts could not have joined me with the ſeaſonable Supply of Money from Lucknow, if he had not obtained Two Pieces of Artillery from the Nabob's Arſenal, and Major Crawford's Regiment from Dinapoor effected his Junction with great Difficulty; and after great Delay for the Want of proper Ordnance, although he was furniſhed with Two ſmall Field Pieces from Buxar, without them his Junction would ſcarcely have been practicable.

" Another Circumſtance I have obſerved, which, although apparently of little Moment, is not unattended with ſubſtantial Conſequences. This is the Effect which has been produced upon the Minds of our Sepoys, by taking the Colours from every Company, and allowing only Two to a Regiment. This is regarded by the Sepoys as an unmerited Degradation, who made the Preſervation of them a Point of Honour. Even Prejudices ſhould be indulged where they are innocent; but the Attachment of the Sepoys to their Colours appears to be convertible to very beneficial Military Purpoſes. The ſame Obſervation may be applied to the Guns, and with a Force proportioned to their ſuperior Utility. I will treſpaſs for a Moment on the Patience of the Board, to relate an Incident which ſtrongly impreſſed me with an Opinion of the Propriety of making the Artillery as inſeparable from the Sepoys Corps as their ſmall Arms. In the Year 1777, when the Stations of the Army were to be relieved, I propoſed that all the Artillery ſhould remain unmoved, and left to be attached to the ſucceeding Corps at the reſpective Stations. Colonel Hugh Grant, who then commanded the Second Brigade, repreſented to me that the Sepoys had ſo ſtrong an Attachment to their Cannon, and to thoſe particular Pieces which had been poſted to their Battalions, that it would be a Cauſe of much Diſcontent even to exchange it; and he aſſured me that it was the Practice of the Sepoys, on their Days of religious Feſtivals, to decorate the Guns with Wreaths of Flowers, and pay a Kind of Adoration to them.

" By late Intelligence which I have received through various Channels, the Conduct of Mahdajee Scindia does not appear ſtrictly compatible with the Spirit of his Engagements in the late Treaty with us. I have therefore directed Colonel Morgan to ſuſpend the Orders for the March of the Troops into the Provinces, until he ſhall receive Aſſurances from Mr. Anderſon of Scindia's faithful Adherence to the Conditions of the Treaty, and of the Peace made with him being firmly eſtabliſhed.

" Gentlemen,

" I have the Honour to lay before you Copies of Letters which I have lately received from Mr. Anderſon and Colonel Muir, and of my Inſtructions to Mr. Anderſon, written in Reply to his Two Letters; alſo Copies of Letters written to and received from Madajee Scindia, which will acquaint you with the preſent State of the Negociation depending between the Company and that Chief.

" Received the following Letters from the Governor General.

" Gentlemen,

" I have the Honour to transmit to you Copies of a Letter from Mr. Middleton, of my Answer thereto, and of my Instructions to Colonel Morgan in Consequence.

" An early and proper Exertion of our Military Force will effectually support the Authority of the Vizier, and in all Probability prevent any dangerous Combination amongst the Jagherdars, which their Wealth and numerous Dependants might otherwise enable them to form for resisting the Resumption of their Jagheers.

" In exceeding the Number of Troops expressly demanded on this Occasion by the Vizier, I have consulted only his Security and Advantage; and I am convinced, from my own Information of the State of his Country, as well as from Mr. Middleton's Representation, that it is but anticipating a further Requisition, which if deferred until the refractory and disaffected Persons shall become formidable, will be attended with great Hazard and proportionate Expence to the Vizier.

" The Nabob having experienced from me so ready an Attention to relieve him from the constant Expence of the temporary Brigade, cannot think it unreasonable that the Subsidy for the occasional Force now to be employed for his internal Security, should be liberal and adapted to the Circumstances under which we furnish it, as well as including its actual Disbursements. It is on this Principle that I shall estimate it, after having ascertained as precisely as possible the fixed and contingent Expences.

" Upon these Grounds, I hope that I shall meet with the Approbation of the Board in the Steps which I have taken.

" The Detachment under Major Popham being sickly, and the Services for which it is formed completely executed, I have ordered it to be dissolved, and the Troops composing it to be put under the Command of Colonel Blair, for the Protection of this Country, until the final Arrangement for this Duty shall be settled by the Board.

Enclosed in the Gov. Gen. Letter of the 25th December.

" Sir,

" The Nabob Vizier having appointed an Aumil to take Charge of the Begum's Jagheers, she had, it appears, prepared a large Body of Troops, with a supposed Design to resist him. A violent and threatening Letter, which I have just received from the Begum, would seem to leave no Doubt of her Intentions to support the already declared Licentiousness of her Servants in opposing the Nabob's Orders; I have therefore been obliged to join my Solicitations to the Vizier's for obtaining a Regiment from Colonel Morgan, to support the Aumil in the Execution of his Excellency's Commands; and I may add, that unless my Judgment far misleads me, we shall be in Want of still further Aid, before the Measure of resuming the Jagheers shall be fully established, and the Country restored to that State of Tranquillity and Subordination which it enjoyed before the Contagion spread by Cheyt Sing's Machinations.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read a ſhort Letter from the Defendant to the Board at Calcutta, dated the 31ſt December 1781, when the Defendant was ſuppoſed to have ſent the Banares Narrative, and which included, for the Firſt Time, the Letter of the 29th November, laſt produced.

Read, a Letter to the Council at Fort William, ſigned Warren Haſtings, dated Banares, the 31ſt December 1781, and prefixed to the Narrative of the Inſurrection at Banares.

" To Edward Wheler and John M^cPherſon Eſquires, Members of the Council of Fort William.

" Gentlemen,

" I have now the Honour to ſend you the Narrative, which I promiſed in my Letter of the 18th October, of the Tranſactions and Events which paſſed during the Courſe of the late Inſurrection of this Province. I had begun it at the Time of the Date which is prefixed to it; but the buſy Scenes which followed, both while I was at Chunar, and after my Return to Banaris, hindered me from proſecuting it till a few Days before the Date which I have ſubjoined to it. I did not chuſe to alter the Introduction, although written at ſuch a Diſtance of Time from that in which the Body of the Work was executed, and even from the Exiſtence of the Events which are recorded in the latter, becauſe I found it not eaſy to give it a new Form, without a total Omiſſion of what had been already produced, while my Mind was animated by the recent and actual Scenes in which it was engaged, to an anxious and moſt feeling Solicitude, not more for the Iſſue of the impending Conteſt, than for its Conſequences on my own Reputation. In the Conſciouſneſs of the Rectitude of my Intentions, I had allowed myſelf to uſe an Appeal, the moſt ſolemn and moſt ſacred that could bind my Relation to Truth, or impreſs the Conviction of it on the Hearts of others; nor could I, conſiſtently with my own Senſe of its Obligation, withdraw it, or coldly place it after the Narrative already written, and written under the Check which I had impoſed upon it. I know not whether I ſhall be clearly underſtood: If I am not, yet let this Endeavour to explain a ſeeming Impropriety in the Conſtruction of this Performance be accepted for its Apology.

" I have only to add my Hope, that as I have received the moſt cordial Support in the paſt Events from you, my reſpectable and moſt reſpected Aſſociates in the Adminiſtration, and as it has been my unvaried Study to prevent your ſuffering any Embarraſſment from them, my Conduct in them may alſo receive its Firſt Reward in the Teſtimony of your Approbation.

" I have the Honour to be,
Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient, and moſt faithful Servant,
" Warren Haſtings (b)."

" Banaris,
31ſt December 1781.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they ſhould next proceed to ſhew the Progreſs of the Proceedings againſt the Begums, the Origin of the Plot, the Manner in which it was conducted, and the Manner in which it was executed before the Council had any regular Information upon that Subject; for this Purpoſe they deſired Mr. Middleton might be called in again.

NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Eſquire was called in, and examined as follows:

Q. Whether you was preſent at the ſigning of the Treaty of Chunar?
A. I was.

Q. Who were preſent beſides yourſelf at the ſigning of that Treaty?
A. Mr. Johnſon and the Nabob's Miniſter.

Q. Which of them?
A. I think both Huſſein Reza Cawn and Hyder Beg Cawn.

Q. And the Nabob of courſe?
A. He put his Seal to it, and was preſent.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 138. (b) Vide ſupra, P. 109.

Q. Was

Q. Was you employed in negociating that Treaty?

A. Not particularly; I believe I had ſome Converſation with the Nabob upon the Subject, and with his Miniſter. Mr. Haſtings was in daily Communications with the Nabob, and of courſe negociated all the Conditions of the Treaty himſelf.

Q. Am I to underſtand then that there was no ſeparate Negociation reſpecting that Treaty, or any Part of it, carried on between you and the Nabob?

A. I had ſeveral Converſations with the Nabob upon the Articles of the Treaty at different Times.

Q. The Queſtion put to you was, Whether you had any ſeparate Communication with the Nabob?

A. I have ſaid, I had.

Q. What do you mean by a ſeparate Communication with the Nabob?

A. Converſations with the Nabob, to which Mr. Haſtings was not privy.

Q. Whether this Treaty, or thoſe Treaties rather, as diſtinguiſhed by Mr. Haſtings, the one containing the Contract on the Part of the Company, the other the Contract on the Part of the Nabob, were One Deed, or Two ſeparate Inſtruments?

A. They were ſeparate Papers.

Q. When you ſpeak of Converſations to which Mr. Haſtings was not privy, do you mean that the Converſations you had with the Nabob were never communicated to Mr. Haſtings?

A. I believe, not at the Time.

Q. Nor held by his Directions?

A. No.

Q. Where were thoſe Converſations, ſo ſeparate as you have deſcribed them, held?

A. In different Places: The Nabob was encamped on the Side of the River, oppoſite Chunar.

Q. Were they all during the Time of his being in the Province of Benares?

A. Yes.

Q. At different Periods during that Time?

A. Yes, they were at different Periods during that Time, but all within the Compaſs of Time the Nabob was in the Province of Benares. The Nabob attended Mr. Haſtings occaſionally at Chunar, acroſs the River, from his Tents; I conſtantly attended him in his Viſits to Mr. Haſtings, from the other Side of the River, where I alſo reſided at the Time; and had frequent Communications with him there at his Tent, as well as at Chunar.

Q. Whether the Nabob expreſſed any Degree of Reluctance, and what, at executing his Part of the Treaty?

A. He did expreſs Reluctance; he made Objections to ſigning his Part of the Treaty.

Q. Did you endeavour to remove thoſe Objections by any, and what Arguments?

A. I did endeavour to remove thoſe Objections by ſuch Arguments as occurred to me, the principal of which was, to endeavour to aſſure his Excellency, that the Treaty was meant chiefly for his Benefit, and that the main Object of it was only to ſecure his Debt to the Eaſt India Company: That accompliſhed, I did not apprehend the Treaty was meant to be rigidly carried into Execution.

Q. What was the Nature of his Objections?

A. He thought he had made too great Conceſſions to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. In what Particulars?

A. In giving him too great an Authority in his Country.

Q. Was it upon the Faith of this Aſſurance only, that the Nabob was induced to ſign this Treaty?

A. I have Reaſon to believe, that the Nabob was principally influenced to give up his Objections, in Conſequence of the Arguments I held with him.

Q. Where was this particular Converſation, in which you gave him theſe Aſſurances, held with the Nabob?

A. It was not in one Converſation, but in many that I had with him upon the Subject of the Treaty.

Q. Whether thoſe Converſations were held with the Nabob, in his Tent on the other Side of the River, or in the Preſence of Mr. Haſtings?

A. They were not held in Preſence of Mr. Haſtings: I recollect to have had a pretty long Converſation with the Nabob, upon the Subject of the Treaty, the very Day he executed it; to the beſt of my Recollection, it was held in Mr. Haſtings's Room at Chunar; Mr. Haſtings was preſent, but it was not in his Hearing.

Q. Was

Q. Was Mr. Haſtings preſent?
A. Mr. Haſtings was in the Room; there was other Company with him.

Q. What leads you to aſcertain, that a Converſation held in his Room, and while he was preſent, was not in his Hearing?
A. I recollect very well retiring to a diſtant Part of the Room, with the Nabob and his Miniſter, where this Converſation was held; Mr. Haſtings having other Company with him at the Time in the Room.

Q. Do you recollect who the other Company were?
A. I do not particularly; they were Natives.

Q. Was the Treaty ſigned upon that Day when that Converſation was held?
A. It was ſigned upon that Day.

Q. How near to the Time of ſigning the Treaty did this Converſation in fact paſs?
A. I cannot exactly charge my Memory; perhaps an Hour or ſo, I don't imagine it could be more.

Q. Were the ſame Perſons preſent at ſigning the Treaty, who were preſent at this Converſation?
A. They were; Mr. Johnſon, and the Nabob's two Miniſters.

Q. Was the Treaty ſigned in the ſame Room where the Converſation was held?
A. It was.

Q. Were thoſe other Perſons you ſpoke of, the Natives about Mr. Haſtings, preſent at the Time the Treaty was ſigned?
A. I do not recollect; moſt probably ſome of them were.

Q. Was it at this Meeting, do you think, that the Nabob made the Offer of a Preſent of £100,000 to Mr. Haſtings?
A. I have nothing to guide me in giving an Opinion upon that Subject; I really do not know.

Q. Was you preſent when that Offer was made?
A. No, I was not.

Q. Might not the Nabob, in another Corner of the Room, have made Mr. Haſtings this Preſent of £100,000, while you and the Miniſters were negotiating this principal Article of the Treaty? Was it impoſſible for him to have made that Offer to Mr. Haſtings, at that Time, without your obſerving it?
A. I apprehend it is poſſible, but not very probable; as, to the beſt of my Recollection, the Miniſters were engaged during the whole Time I was in Converſation with the Nabob: they were Parties to the Converſation.

Q. Are you poſitive that you have no Recollection of the Perſons who were engaging Mr. Haſtings' Attention at the Time: Can you name the Perſons who were in the Room beſides the Nabob and the Two Miniſters that you have ſpoke of, yourſelf, Mr. Johnſon, and Mr. Haſtings?
A. I cannot recollect their Names: one Perſon preſent, I think, was Beneram Pundit, the Vackeel of the Berar Rajah.

Q. But you recollect no other Perſon's Name?
A. I do not.

Q. Can you recollect the Number of Perſons who were preſent?
A. I cannot: there were ſeveral, probably ſeveral of the Nabob's own Attendants; thoſe that came into the Room with the Nabob himſelf.

Q. What was your Motive for with-holding from Mr. Haſtings' Knowledge that which was the principal Inducement to the Nabob to ſign the Treaty?
A. I had no particular Motive; I conceived I was doing a Service to both Parties, in removing Objections to the ſigning of the Treaty; and I certainly did think (whether I was wrong or not, your Lordſhips will judge) that the main, the principal, and indeed the only Object of that Treaty, was to ſecure the Payment of the Company's Debt from the Nabob.

Q. Do you recollect whether it was, or was not, one of your Arguments to the Nabob to perſuade him to enter into the Treaty, that it was neceſſary Mr. Haſtings ſhould have ſomething to ſhew on his Side for the Conceſſions he had made in favour of the Nabob?
A. I believe that was one of the Arguments I uſed.

Q. Upon what Ground did you think Mr. Haſtings wanted that ſomething to ſhew?
A. I do not know that Mr. Haſtings required it; but it did appear to me neceſſary that ſomething ſhould be ſhewn.

Q. Upon what Ground did you think it neceſſary that ſomething ſhould be ſhewn?

A. As

A As great Conceſſions were made to the Nabob, I thought it right, on that Ground, that there ſhould be ſomething to ſhew on his Part; a great Portion of the Company's Troops were withdrawn from the Nabob's Service, ſome Eſtabliſhments under Britiſh Officers were alſo by the ſame Treaty aboliſhed.

Q. Were there any other Grounds for that Sort of Neceſſity you thought there was, for Mr. Haſtings to have ſomething to ſhew, as a Foundation for making the Conceſſions?

A. I do not recollect any other.

Here the Two laſt Queſtions and Anſwers were read over by the Clerk.

Q. Did you not afterwards declare to Mr. Haſtings, that you was ready to aſſert that the withdrawing thoſe Troops was an Advantage to the Company, and not a Detriment?

A. I cannot ſay whether I have ever ſaid ſo to Mr. Haſtings, or not; but my Opinion is ſo certainly, that it was an Advantage to the Company, and no Detriment; and for this Reaſon, becauſe the Nabob was abſolutely unable to pay them.

Q. Then, upon what Grounds was it that you thought that, Matter of Conceſſion, which was an Advantage to the Nabob?

A. It had that Appearance upon the Face of the Proceedings: the Reality might not be underſtood.

Q. Whether this Engagement on the Part of the Nabob, which you thought it neceſſary Mr. Haſtings ſhould have to ſhew, was that Part of the Engagement which was not to be fully and literally executed: the Part which you gave him Hopes would not be rigorouſly exacted?

A. Certainly.

Q. Whether if you had known of the Preſent of 100,000 l. then given to Mr. Haſtings, you would not have been able to have accounted for the Conceſſions made to the Nabob, without exacting from the Nabob any Treaty to ſhew?

A. As this appears to me Matter of Opinion only—I wiſh to know whether I am to ſpeak to it?

Q. Is there any Fact you know of that leads you to form any Opinion upon the Subject?

A. No.

Q. When did you firſt communicate to Mr. Haſtings that you had uſed theſe Arguments to induce the Nabob to ſign the Treaty?

A. I believe that will appear upon the Record.—If your Lordſhips will give me Leave, I will refer to the Letter. I do not recollect exactly the Date of it.

Q. Did you ever communicate it to Mr. Haſtings, otherwiſe than by the Letter, not in Converſation?

A. Certainly never.

Q. You never communicated it in Converſation to Mr. Haſtings?

A. No.

Q. What is the Date of that Letter?

A. The 30th December.

Q. That was after you left Chunar?

A. Yes.

Q. How long did you remain at Chunar after the Treaty was executed?

A. I left it, I believe, on the very next Day.

Q. Then you left it on the 20th of September?

A. I believe it muſt have been on the 20th of September.

Q. Did you ſee Mr. Haſtings between the Time you was preſent with him in the Room, when that Treaty was executed, and the Time of your leaving Chunar?

A. Yes: I did certainly.

Q. The ſame Day, or the next Day?

A. Both, I apprehend. With reſpect to the next Day, I cannot be quite certain. I rather think I did.

Q. What leads you to be certain that, during the Converſation you might have with him, either that Day or the next, you did not mention thoſe Aſſurances you had given the Nabob?

A. I think I ſhould have remembered it if I had mentioned it to him.

Q. What is the Date of that Letter?

A. It is dated the 30th December 1781.

Q. Was that the firſt Letter you wrote to Mr. Haſtings after you left Chunar?

A. No; I wrote him many Letters.

Q. But the firſt you remember in which you made any Communication of that Sort to Mr. Haſtings?
A. Yes.

Q. Upon what Occaſion did you make this Communication at laſt; what was your Inducement to make it then; do you recollect it?
A. Yes; it was in conſequence of ſome Complaints of Mr. Haſtings, of the tardy Execution of the Treaty.

Q. Did you not, after that Communication, receive Mr. Haſtings's peremptory Orders to carry the Treaty literally and fully into Effect?
A. Mr. Haſtings's Letter upon that Subject is upon Record. I hope your Lordſhips will permit me to refer to it.

Q. Did you receive any other Orders, than what are contained in that Letter?
A. I believe not; no other Orders than what are contained in the Letter upon Record.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, there were not private Letters from you to Mr. Haſtings, and from Mr. Haſtings to you, upon this Subject, which are not upon Record, and to which you paid equal Attention?
A. I believe there are no Letters from Mr. Haſtings, or from myſelf, relative to that Treaty, which are not upon Record.

Q. Did you not write private as well as publick Letters to Mr. Haſtings, during the Whole of that Tranſaction relative to the Begums?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you not receive Anſwers in the ſame Manner?
A. Yes.

Q. Where are Mr. Haſtings's private Letters upon Record; upon what Record; and where to be ſeen?
A. Upon the Records before this Court.

Q. The Queſtion was, whether, beſides thoſe Letters that are put upon Record, there were not ſome private Letters, which paſſed between Mr. Haſtings and you upon this Subject, that are not upon Record?
A. I believe not.
Q. You mean there are none ſuch?
A. Not upon the Subject of the Begums.
Q. What do you mean by being upon Record?
A. I have ſeen them in ſeveral Books; I was reading ſeveral of them in the Room, before I was called to the Bar.

Q. Do you recollect what Sort of Book it was you read them in; was it a printed Book?
A. Yes; it was a printed Book.

Q. Then, I underſtand in general, in your Language, you call that a Record which contains the Tranſmiſſion of the Correſpondence between the Reſident at Oude, for Example, and the Government at Calcutta?
A. Yes.

Q. Theſe were not put upon the Record in that Senſe of the Word: were they?
A. They were recorded by Mr. Haſtings in Calcutta.

Q. Upon what Occaſion?
A. I believe it was upon the Occaſion of the Charges made againſt me by the Governor General and Council. I believe, upon that Occaſion, theſe Letters were recorded.

Q. What was the Date of that Charge made againſt you?
A. I cannot charge my Memory with the particular Date, but it will appear from the Charge itſelf.

The Council for the Defendant acquainted the Houſe it was upon the 12th of June 1783.

Q. They were not put upon Record till then; and they were put upon Record on that Occaſion.
A. Yes.

Q. Have you ſeen your Letter Book? Do you know whether theſe Letters appear upon your own Letter Book?
A. No, they do not.

Q. How

Q. How came they not to appear upon thoſe Letter Books?
A. I never put upon Record any private Letter of Mr. Haſtings.

Q. What are thoſe Letter Books? What are they the Records of?
A. My official Correſpondence with the Government.

Q. Kept in the Office?
A. Yes, in the Office.

Q. So that they are what you call of Record?
A. Yes, the Record of my official Correſpondence with Mr. Haſtings and the Government.

Q. And you did not put theſe Letters upon thoſe Books?
A. I did not put any private Letter whatever upon thoſe Books.

Q. Did thoſe Letters relate to any Thing but public Matters——the Matters of your Miſſion?

A. I received Letters from Mr. Haſtings, from the firſt of my Appointment at Lucknow, in which publick Matters were occaſionally mixed with private Matters: The Letters that I now allude to, as having been recorded by Mr. Haſtings, ſeem to me to relate wholly to publick Matters.

Q. Had you not a Correſpondence with Sir Elijah Impey relative to the Tranſactions concerning the Begums?
A. I had.

Q. Does that Correſpondence appear upon any Record; and what?
A. It does not appear upon any Record that I know of, excepting when it was delivered by Sir Elijah Impey to the Honourable the Committee of the Houſe of Commons.

Q. Did you place any Part of that Correſpondence upon your own official Books?
A. No, certainly not.

Q. Whether Mr. Haſtings did not give you Copies of the Treaty of Chunar, or of either Part of it, before he left Chunar with the Nabob?

A. I am not quite clear whether he gave me a Copy, or not; I carried away with me the Originals of both Treaties: I have no Doubt he did give me Copies, though I do not immediately recollect it: The Originals were carried by me to Lucknow.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings give you the Originals of the Treaty, without keeping a Copy himſelf?
A. I underſtood Mr. Haſtings had no Copy of the Treaty, till I ſent it from Lucknow.

Q. Do you know how you came to have the Originals at all?
A. No; it was in the Hurry of ſetting out the next Day; they were mixed amongſt my other Papers, and I did not find out my Miſtake till I arrived at Lucknow, as I had no Opportunity of examining my Papers till I arrived there.

Q. Then do you or not know whether any Copy was preſerved by Mr. Haſtings?
A. I rather think not; I do not know for Certainty; but I rather think he had no Copy of it till afterwards when I ſent it from Lucknow.

Q. The Treaty having been ſigned on the 19th, and you leaving Chunar on the 20th, how came it ſo mixed up with your Papers that you could not readily find it; by what Accident was it, if it was an Accident?

A. I do not know by what Accident it came to be mixed with my Papers, but, in the Hurry of marching, I had no Opportunity of looking at my Papers till I arrived at Lucknow.

Q. Did you put your Papers together yourſelf, upon your Departure to Lucknow?
A. I rather think, Mr. Johnſon, who was my principal Aſſiſtant, put up the Papers.

Q. When did you firſt diſcover that you had that Original Treaty with you?
A. Very ſoon after my Arrival at Lucknow.

Q. How long was it before you ſent Mr. Haſtings a Copy of that Treaty?
A. My Letter upon that Subject will, I believe, aſcertain the Date.

Q. That was the firſt Time that you did?
A. Yes; I firſt ſent him Copies of the Treaties, and afterwards the Originals.

Q. When did you ſend the Original Treaty?
A. It muſt have been either the End of November or Beginning of December, I think; and I ſent them under the Charge of Colonel Hannay.

Q. Do you know whether that Letter appears upon Record?
A. I do not know whether it does or not; but I recollect very well ſending them by Colonel Hannay.

Q. Do you recollect to have received Letters from Mr. Haſtings, between the Time of ſending the Copies and the Originals, declaring to you, that he could not ſend his Narrative of the Tranſactions reſpecting the Begums to Calcutta, on Account of thoſe Treaties being abſent from him?

A. I recollect receiving a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, not exactly to that Purport, but declaring that he was prevented from ſending his Narrative, for Want of ſome of the Papers I had carried with me to Lucknow. I rather apprehend that meant, ſome of the Papers of the Eſtabliſhment, and other Papers that had been delivered to him at the Time the Treaty was in Negociation.

Q. Are the Letters upon Record the only Application you received from Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject?

A. I believe all the Letters I received from Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject are upon Record.

Q. Was it an authentic and atteſted Copy of the Treaty that you ſent to Mr. Haſtings, whenever you did ſend it?

A. I don't remember that it was any otherwiſe authenticated, than under my own Signature, declaring it to be a true Copy.

Q. Was the Application for the Original ſubſequent to your having ſent him a Copy?

A. Yes.

Q. For what Purpoſe, then, was the Original neceſſary when he had a Copy?

A. I did not underſtand he wanted the Treaty, but the Papers connected with the Treaty.

Q. Was there any other Reaſon why Mr. Haſtings ſhould apply to you for the Original, after having had an authenticated Copy?

A. I don't know any other Reaſon than that the Original was a Record of Office, which properly belonged to him.

Q. Before you ſent the Original, did you leave an authentic atteſted Copy of the Treaty in your Office at Lucknow?

A. It was authenticated under my own Signature as a true Copy.

Q. Was it left in your Office?

A. I have no Doubt of it.

Q. But you do not particularly remember the Circumſtance?

A. I do not particularly remember the Circumſtance, but I have no Doubt of it.

Q. Do you know what became of the Original Treaty after you ſent it?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Did you ever hear from Mr. Haſtings what became of it?

A. No; I never recollect hearing from Mr. Haſtings what he did with it; nor do I recollect ever having had an Acknowledgement from Mr. Haſtings that he had received it.

Q. You ſaid you ſent it by Colonel Hannay; did you, or did you not, wait for that Sort of Conveyance, in order to ſend it down?

A. Colonel Hannay was the firſt ſafe Opportunity that I recollect to have occurred, after Mr. Haſtings had called upon me for it.

Q. What was the Opportunity by which you ſent the Copy?

A. By the common Dawk or Poſt.

Q. Then you did not think the Opportunity by which you ſent the Copy ſafe enough for the Original?

A. No, certainly.

Q. Did you ever take any Notice to Mr. Haſtings, of his not having given you an Acknowledgment of the Receipt of that Original Treaty?

A. I did not: I took it for granted he had received it, as Colonel Hannay, who carried the Treaty, arrived ſafe at Chunar.

Q. Did you call upon him for any Acknowledgment?

A. I did not.

Q. Did you think it extraordinary, that you ſhould not have ſuch an Acknowledgment ſent?

A. No, I cannot ſay I did.

Q. Did Colonel Hannay return to Lucknow?

A. No, he did not return at that Time; but I think he returned afterwards; but I am not quite certain.

Q. Had you any Reaſon to know, of the Nabob or his Miniſter, while at Chunar, having made any Communication to Mr. Haſtings of that Part of your Converſation which was the Inducement with the Nabob to ſign the Treaty?

A. I do not know that they did, or that they did not.

Q. Had

Q. Had you any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject?
A. No, I had not. I have already ſtated that I had no Communication with Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject.

Q. Or did you converſe with the Nabob or his Miniſters afterwards upon that Subject?
A. It is very poſſible I might; I rather think I did.

Q. Did the Nabob or his Miniſter afterwards converſe with you upon the Subject of theſe Aſſurances you had given them?
A. I rather think I had Converſation upon that Subject.

Q. Was it Part of that Converſation, that it had been communicated to Mr. Haſtings?
A. No; it certainly was not: And I have no Reaſon to believe it was ever communicated to Mr. Haſtings, till my Letter upon the Subject communicated the Information to him.

Q. Are you poſitive, and have a perfect Recollection, that neither the Nabob, or his Miniſters, ever ſpoke to you, upon the Subject of thoſe Aſſurances having been communicated to Mr. Haſtings?
A. Certainly I am as clear as it is poſſible to be upon a Matter at ſuch a Diſtance of Time; I have ſpoken rather doubtfully of having had Converſation with the Nabob and his Miniſters upon the Subject; but I have no Doubt I had, becauſe I was in Converſation with them every Day upon what paſſed at Chunar; and no doubt that was a Part of the Converſation. But I am poſitive I had no Converſation with them about it, as having been communicated to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Whether, while you and the Nabob were at Chunar, the Communication between Chunar and Lucknow was cut off?
A. The Communication was very difficult; I cannot ſay it was entirely cut off, but it was very much obſtructed, and it was with great Uncertainty that any Letters could be conveyed to or from Lucknow; I mean the common Mode of Communication by the Poſt; there certainly were Means of Communication, which I myſelf had Occaſion to employ, by diſpatching private Perſons with Letters, backwards and forwards.

Q. The Queſtion is, Whether that Species of Communication was perfectly free and open, or in any Degree embarraſſed and obſtructed?
A. It certainly was very difficult; for I have been obliged to make very large Conſiderations to thoſe that carried Letters; they conſidered it as a Service at the Riſque of their Lives, and inſiſted upon being paid accordingly.

Q. What Letters from Lucknow did you receive while you was at Chunar?
A. I do not recollect all the Letters I received; I received ſeveral from Lucknow, and other Places in the Province of Oude.

Q. Have you any Letters which you received, while you was at Chunar, from the Province of Oude?
A. It is impoſſible I can ſay whether I have or not, in a Multiplicity of Papers; it is very probable I may. I recollect to have received ſeveral Letters from Colonel Hannay, but I have none of them, becauſe every one of Colonel Hannay's Letters were delivered up to him at Lucknow, to refreſh his Memory, upon making his Affidavit before Sir Elijah Impey, and it did not occur to me to get them back from him.

Q. Have you ſeen any of the other Letters lately?
A. No, I have not.

Q. Are any of thoſe Letters which you received, while you were at Chunar, from Lucknow put upon any Thing you call a Record, either your own official Book, or the Books of the Government at Calcutta?
A. I do not know that they are.

Q. Upon your Return from Chunar to Lucknow, did you or did you not find Letters from Colonel Hannay addreſſed to you at Lucknow?
A. Yes, I believe I did.

Q. Did you deliver up theſe Letters alſo to Colonel Hannay to refreſh his Memory?
A. I delivered every Letter of Colonel Hannay's I could find, and I have no Doubt theſe were among the Letters I delivered up to him.

Q. Do you remember when it was, that you delivered theſe Letters to Colonel Hannay?
A. I do not recollect exactly the Time, but it was upon that Occaſion when he was called upon to make his Depoſition before Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. Did you not make Uſe of all the Information you received in thoſe Letters of Colonel Hannay's, in a Letter from you to Mr. Haſtings, previous to your delivering up this Correſpondence?
A. I did.

Q. Can you diſtinguiſh the Letters from which you collected that Information?
A. I believe the Dates of the Letters will appear; I extracted ſuch Parts of them as I thought were to the Purpoſe, or were of Conſequence to myſelf.

Q. So that your Letter to Mr. Haſtings purports to contain Extracts of the Letters and the Dates.
A. Yes; and I believe the Dates are aſcertained.

Q. Did you return with the Nabob from Chunar to Lucknow?
A. I did; the Nabob went round by Fyzabad; I left Chunar with the Nabob, but we ſeparated upon the Road; I went ſtrait to Lucknow, and he round by way of Fyzabad.

Q. Did Hyder Beg Khan go with you or with the Nabob?
A. To the beſt of my Recollection he went with me, ſtrait to Lucknow; I am pretty certain he did.

Q. In what Manner was the Nabob attended when he left you upon the Road?
A. He went with no great Attendance; he travelled as expeditiouſly as he poſſibly could, with his uſual Guard of Horſe, but no other that I recollect.

Q. Whether you underſtood that on the 19th September, when Mr. Haſtings ſigned the Treaty of Chunar, he then poſſeſſed full and complete Information of all the Circumſtances which were afterwards alledged againſt the Begums?
A. No; I apprehend he did not; it was impoſſible he could.

Q. Why was it ſtipulated in that Treaty that the Begums ſhould have an Equivalent for the Reſumption of their Jaghires?
A. I cannot ſay what might have been Mr. Haſtings's Reaſon for that Stipulation.

Q. Do you know upon what Grounds, either on the Side of Mr. Haſtings, or of the Nabob, it was, that that Stipulation was made?
A. No: I do not.

Q. Have you ever heard any Explanation of it from Mr. Haſtings?
A. I cannot ſay that I have.

Q. At the Time of the Execution of the Treaty of Chunar, was you apprized of the Treaty with the Begums, to which the Engliſh were Guarantees?
A. Certainly.

Q. Did you think that a Reaſon?
A. That might have been the Reaſon: I will not pretend to ſay it was.

Q. Did you think it an extraordinary Circumſtance that ſuch an Equivalent ſhould be ſtipulated upon the Reſumption of the Jaghires?
A. No; I did not.

Q. Had you any Converſation with the Nabob upon that Subject?
A. I cannot fix any Converſation in my Memory upon that Part of the Subject; but I have no Doubt but I converſed with him frequently upon the whole Subject.

Q. Had you no particular Converſation with the Nabob, or his Miniſters, reſpecting the Begums, at that Time?
A. It is very probable I had, but I cannot poſitively ſay: It was certainly very probable.

Q. Then I am to underſtand, that it was not a Matter of ſuch Importance, as to have left an Impreſſion of it upon your Mind?
A. I cannot ſay that it made an Impreſſion on my Memory, more than any other Parts of the Treaty; it certainly did not make any particular Impreſſion upon my Memory.

Q. Did you keep any Memorandums of the ſeveral Converſations and other Proceedings that you had upon that Treaty?
A. No.

Q. Had you any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject of the Begums, or of the Condition they were to be left in?
A. I do not recollect any particular Converſation farther than that they were to have a full Equivalent; it was to be made fully up to them by ready Money paid them.

Q. Had you any particular Converſation with the Nabob, while you continued on the Road, before you parted, reſpecting the Begums?
A. Not particularly, that I recollect.

Q. (Croſs examined.) You have ſaid Mr. Haſtings could not have obtained full and compleat Information upon the Subject of the Begums Behaviour in the Province; do you not know that, before you left Chunar, Mr. Haſtings had a conſiderable Quantity of Information upon that Subject?
A. I underſtood he had ſome Information upon the Subject, but to what Extent I cannot ſay.

Q. Do you recollect to have communicated to Mr. Haſtings, any Information upon the Subject of the Begums Behaviour at the Time you was at Chunar?

A. I certainly communicated all the Information I received, and ſome Letters of Colonel Hannay's, which I received at Chunar, I certainly communicated to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. What other Information had you received, at the Time you was at Chunar, upon that Subject?

A. I do not recollect that I received any other particular Information; I certainly had heard many general Reports.

Q. General Reports of what?

A. Of the Conduct of the Begums, in aſſiſting the Rebellion of the Rajah Cheit Sing.

Q. Were thoſe general Reports communicated by you to Mr. Haſtings?

A. The Reports were very general. I do not recollect that I made any particular Communication to Mr. Haſtings; he, moſt undoubtedly, had the ſame Opportunity of hearing them that I had.

Q. Do you, or do you not, remember, whether thoſe Reports, and the other Intelligence you had gotten of the Behaviour of the Begums, were Part of the Subject of your Converſations with Mr. Haſtings?

A. I do not particularly recollect it, though it undoubtedly was; it certainly muſt have been; it was the common Report of the Place, and of every Body, during my Reſidence at Chunar.

Q. What was the Subject of that Report?

A. That they had encouraged the Revolt of Rajah Cheit Sing; and that they had even aſſiſted him in raiſing Troops.

Q. Was it Part of the Report, that they had aſſiſted, or had any Share in the Diſturbances in Goruckpore?

A. I believe the Letters of Colonel Hannay ſpeak to that Subject: I do not recollect, at this Time, that I had any Information reſpecting the Part they had taken in thoſe Diſturbances.

Q. Was it a prevalent Report, while you was at Chunar, that the Begums had taken an active Part in the Diſturbances?

A. It was.

Q. Had you any Reaſon, and what, to doubt the Truth of that Report?

A. No; I had no Reaſon to doubt the Truth of it.

Q. Did you yourſelf believe the Truth of thoſe Reports?

A. I thought them very probable.

Q. Were they acted upon at the Time?

A. I believe not.

Q. Had you, upon further Inquiry, Reaſon to believe that the Begums had been active in thoſe Diſturbances?

A. Certainly, I did believe it perfectly.

Q. Can you ſpecify any particular Acts, in which they were concerned?

A. I underſtood, from the Information of Colonel Hannay and others, that Troops had actually been ſent from Fyzabad to Benares, by the Begums' Eunuchs, or through their Aſſiſtance, to the Support of Rajah Cheit Sing.

Q. By whom were thoſe Troops levied and paid?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay.

Q. Did the ſame Report, which informed you they had been ſent to Benares, inform you they had been levied and paid by the Begums?

A. I believe it did: It was the Report, that Money had been advanced by the Begums to thoſe Troops.

Q. What Number of Troops were ſpecified, in that Report, to be ſent by the Begums from Fyzabad?

A. I think a Thouſand Men at one Time.

Q. Do you know what Number of Troops the Begums had at any Time in their Pay?

A. It is impoſſible to ſay with any Preciſion; their Jaghires were very extenſive, and in different Places; and they had large Bodies of Troops, employed for the Collection of their Revenues, in all thoſe Jaghires.

Q. As near as you can recollect, how many did the Number amount to, in the ſeveral Jaghires in which they were employed?

A. My Anſwer to that muſt be very doubtful: I ſhould ſuppoſe, they might altogether be able to muſter Ten Thouſand Men.

Q. Do

Q. Do you know what Force the Begums retained about themſelves at Fyzabad, where their Reſidence was, not immediately employed in the Collection of their Jaghires?
A. In general they did not keep many Troops at Fyzabad, I believe.

Q. Do you know how many; did they keep any?
A. Some; but not more than was neceſſary for the Guard of their Palace and their Perſons.

Q. What might that Number be?
A. It might be a Thouſand Men.

Q. Do you know what Number of Troops they had about Fyzabad, in the Months of Auguſt, September, and October 1781; or the greateſt Number they had at that Time?
A. I cannot ſay that I know. At the Time we went to Fyzabad to ſeize upon the Begums Treaſure, they had about 5000 Men in the Town.

Q. When was that?
A. In January 1782; but I cannot tell what Number they had in Auguſt, September, and October 1781.

Q. But had they any extraordinary Number, above the Thouſand Men you ſtated?
A. I do not know that they had.

Q. You have ſaid the Communication between Chunar and Lucknow was much obſtructed, at the Time you was at Chunar—ſtate what was the Occaſion of that Obſtruction?
A. The general Diſorder throughout the Country.

Q. What Sort of Diſorder are you ſpeaking of?
A. Inſurrections.

Q. By whom?
A. Inſurrections by the Natives of the Country, by the Zemindars; and alſo in Cheit Sing's Country, of courſe, by the Dependents of the Rajah; in the Province of Oude, by the Inſurrection of the Zemindars; and in the Province of Benares, by the Adherents of Rajah Cheit Sing.

Q. Do you know the Cauſe of the Inſurrection of the Zemindars in the Province of Oude?
A. I cannot ſay I know it of my own Knowledge: The Report was, that they had been encouraged to it by Rajah Cheit Sing; that they had received Promiſes of Sums of Money: But I ſpeak from Report, not from any Knowledge I had of the Fact.

Q. Do you know a Perſon of the Name of Shumſheer Khan?
A. I have heard of ſuch a Perſon.

Q. What was his Situation?
A. He was Phouſdar or Governor of Tanda, a Place in the Begums Jaghire.

Q. Was he an Officer under them, or under the Nabob?
A. Under the Begums.

Q. Was he employed in the Collection of their Revenue, or to manage their Concerns in that Diſtrict?
A. I underſtood him to be placed there to collect their Revenues.

Q. Was Shumſheer Khan an adopted Son of one of the Begums Miniſters?
A. I underſtood he was; he had been originally the Slave, and was afterwards adopted as the Son, of Bahar Ali Khan.

Q. Do you know of any Acts of Hoſtility committed by Shumſheer Khan, againſt any Britiſh Officer, during the Time of thoſe Diſturbances?
A. I know it only from the Information of Captain Gordon.

Q. Did you tranſmit that Information to Mr. Haſtings?
A. I think the firſt Information of the Tranſaction to which this alludes, was received at Chunar before I left it; and of courſe communicated to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Was that any Part of the Reaſons alluded to by you in your Letter of the 17th September 1781, where you ſay, 'When I had laſt the Honour of ſeeing you, I more than once urged my 'Reaſons for thinking that the Rebellion of Rajah Cheit Sing was but a Part of a larger and 'more extenſive Plan, which was, by the good Fortune of your Arrival, prematurely brought 'forward before all the Parties to it were united and properly prepared for Action (a)"?
A. I have no Doubt it was.

The Managers for the Commons informed the Houſe, that this Letter was miſprinted in the Calcutta Narrative, the 17 September for the 17 October, as appeared by the Original.

(a) Vide Narrative of the Inſurrection at Banaris, Calcutta Edit. Appendix, Part 1. P. 64,—& ſupra, P. 182.

Q. Are

Q. Are the ſeveral Facts ſuggeſted and the Information contained in this Letter true, to the beſt of your Knowledge?

A. I certainly believed them, or I ſhould not have tranſmitted them to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. How far is Tanda, the Situation of the Begums Jaghire, from Fyzabad?

A. I cannot ſpeak with any Preciſion; I ſhould imagine about 28 or 30 Miles, but I ſpeak without any poſitive Information upon the Matter.

Q. From your Knowledge of the Situation of Shumſheer Khan, and his Dependance upon the Begums, do you believe he would have engaged in any Act of Hoſtility againſt the Engliſh Intereſt, unleſs he had been authorized and encouraged in it by the Begums?

A. I ſhould apprehend, ſpeaking from Opinion, that he would not have ventured upon ſuch a Step, as I ſuppoſe he did take, without being aſſured of the Protection of the Begums.

Q. (by the Managers.) Is that your Opinion now?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. (by the Counſel.) What was your Opinion at the Time; and did you intimate to Mr. Haſtings, that your Belief was, that the Begums had uſed every Means in their Power, to promote and encourage the Rebellion of Rajah Cheit Sing?

A. I believe I have ſtated my Opinion to be ſuch, in the Letter juſt now alluded to?

Q. Was it your Opinion?

A. Certainly.

Q. Did you communicate that Opinion to Mr. Haſtings?

A. It is the Opinion communicated to Mr. Haſtings in the Letter.

Q. Is that your Opinion now?

A. It certainly is.

Q. Was that the prevalent Opinion in the Country?

A. I believe it was the univerſal Opinion.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Witneſs having, upon the Croſs Examination (a), ſpoken of Reports relative to the Conduct of the Begums, concerning which he had had Converſation with Mr. Haſtings, and having, upon his Examination in Chief, ſworn that he never had any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings reſpecting the Begums, of ſuch Importance as to leave any Impreſſion upon his Memory, they deſired the Examination in Chief of the Witneſs, as to that Point, might be read.

The ſame was read by the Clerk, as follows:

Q. "Had you no particular Converſation reſpecting the Begums with the Nabob, or his Miniſters, at that Time?

A. It is very probable I had; but I cannot poſitively ſay; it was certainly very probable.

Q. Then, am I to underſtand it was not upon any Matter of ſuch Importance as to have left an Impreſſion upon your Mind of it?

A. I cannot ſay it made an Impreſſion upon my Memory more than any other Part of the Treaty; certainly it did not make any particular Impreſſion.

Q. Did you keep any Memorandum of the ſeveral Converſations and other Proceedings which you had upon that Treaty?

A. No.

Q. Had you any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject of the Begums, or the Condition they were to be left in?

A. I do not recollect any particular Converſation, farther than that they were to have a full Equivalent; it was to be made fully up to them by ready Money paid them.

Q. Had you any particular Converſation with the Nabob, when you continued upon the Road with him, before you parted, reſpecting the Begums?

A. Not particularly, that I recollect."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. (by the Managers.) You have ſaid, you did not think it extraordinary that an Equivalent ſhould be ſtipulated for the Begums Jaghires: If you believed this Report of the Begums Behaviour, why did you not think that extraordinary?

A. The Reports, though general, were certainly not proved, and could not therefore, I conceive, be made an Objection againſt giving an Equivalent for what was taken away from them at this Time.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether thoſe Reports of Diſaffection and Hoſtility, from whatever Quarter they came, were not equally pointed againſt the Nabob and againſt Saadit Ali Khan his Brother?
A. Some of them were certainly.

Q. Whether all the Reports you heard relative to the Begums, and their Indiſpoſition, did not apply, without any Exception, both to the Nabob and to the Nabob's Brother?
A. I believe they were only contained in the Informations of Colonel Hannay and thoſe Officers that were with him; I do not recollect that it was any Part of the general Report.

Q. Do you, or do you not remember, whether the Information which Colonel Hannay ſent you, applied as well to the Nabob and the Nabob's Brother, as to the Begums?
A. It certainly did imply ſome Suſpicions of the Nabob and his Brother Saadit Ali, as well as of the Begums?

Q. The Queſtion is, Whether it applied as fully to the Nabob and his Brother, as to the Begums?
A. I believe not ſo fully; but I beg to refer to the Letters themſelves.

Q. Concerning the other Informations and Reports you mentioned, whether they did not all apply as well to the Nabob and his Brother as to the Begums?
A. I do not think they did; I do not believe they did.

Q. Have you ever read the Affidavits that were taken before Sir Elijah Impey?
A. I have read ſome, and probably all of them at different Times; but I cannot ſay I recollect the Contents of them at this Diſtance of Time.

Q. Do you recollect whether there is any One of thoſe Affidavits, that does not ſtate Reports equally ſtrong againſt the Nabob and his Brother, as againſt the Begums?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to this Queſtion, as going to the Witneſs's Recollection of what another Perſon wrote, on a Subject in which the Witneſs was not at all concerned.

Q. Did you, or did you not, receive a Letter from Capt. M'Donald while you was at Chunar?
A. I do recollect a Letter being received; it was not immediately from Capt. M'Donald; but it had been ſeized by ſome Party of Rajah Cheit Sing, and carried to him; it was an intercepted Letter.

Q. From whom, and to whom?
A. It was from Capt. M'Donald directed to myſelf, it was intercepted by ſome Party of Rajah Cheit Sing's, and carried to the Rajah, from thence it was ſent to me by an Engliſh Gentleman, a Jew, that happened to be along with Cheit Sing.

Q. It was ſent you to Chunar?
A. It was; I received it at Chunar?

Q. Was that Letter from Capt. M'Donald, in Point of Date, the firſt Information that you received upon the Subject of the Indiſpoſition of the Begums?
A. I cannot ſay whether it was the firſt or not, or whether ſome of Colonel Hannay's might not have been prior to it.

The Managers for the Commons deſired the Letter might be read to the Witneſs.

Read, the following Extract from the Appendix, Part 2, to the Benares Narrative, Num. 95, beginning at Page 117 of the ſame.

" My dear Nat.

" In ſuch critical Times as theſe, every Man has a Right to relate what he hears: A Friend ſhould and may do it without Impropriety; therefore, before Hannay leaves the Neighbourhood of Fyzabad, I write you my News and Opinion, leſt hereafter our Communication be cut off. There is certainly Villainy abroad. The Nabob, 'tis ſaid, ſet out well inclined to our Intereſt, but, ſince, he and Saadut Ally have come to a proper Underſtanding. The latter wrote him, he was wrong to give us any Aſſiſtance; that ſuch another Opportunity might never offer of ſtriking off the Yoke; as yet he need only ſtand neuter himſelf, and, under Pretence of aſſembling his Zemeedars to attack Cheit Sing, privately direct them to obſtruct the Junction of our Forces by every poſſible Means. The Begums gave the ſame Advice, and Promiſe of Money. This, Cheit Sing has already diſburſed, to a great Amount. This Plan was the Cauſe of Gordon's Diſaſter; being attacked in the Nabob's Country, while he thought himſelf amongſt Friends. My Information is from ſome Zemeedars, who I have had it in my Power to be kind to. Alſo, it is the publick Talk of Fyzabad, where my People are daily inſulted. Likewiſe Zalim (who is with 2000 Men on the other Side, and means to croſs in the Morning) boaſts that he will ſoon do for us, as the Nabob will ſend Hannay no Aſſiſtance, that he is ſure of, nor will any of the Collectors pay more Money; we ſhall, therefore, ſhortly have none to pay our Troops with—while they have Plenty. Hannay is now about Two Coſs below

Ry Ghaut, on the Oude Side, with only Two Companies, Two Guns, and (I believe) ſome diſaffected Horſe. I have written him preſſingly to croſs to this Place, for ſhould Zalim be over before him, I ſhall be hemmed up in a ſmall Fort with One Hundred and Fifty Sepoys, when Zalim will take Care Hannay does not get over to relieve me; perhaps, while attempting to paſs the Gogra, be attacked by the People of the Begums, with the Zemeedars ſet on by her. In ſuch an Event, he could not poſſibly eſcape Deſtruction: My Wauſſelaut would ſoon be ſettled after ſuch an Accident. I am apt to think this Marattah Treaty is only a Fetch to gain Time, until the Rains are over for certain, as their Horſe could not act during that Seaſon. Look to yourſelf, Nat. you may be in the Nabob's Power. Mr. Haſtings ſhould not leave Chunar, until there be Force very ſufficient at Hand, both to check his Excellency, and do for Cheit Sing, leſt he get into a worſe Scrape. A very few Days will determine it one way or other, with Regard to us Rulers over theſe. You may think me humming, but it is more than Odds we never, never meet again. God proſper You, and pray take Care, &c.

"Amore,
9th September 1781.

"Yours, &c.
J. Macdonald (a)."

Q. Do you remember this Letter?
A. I do.

Q. Did you communicate this Letter to Mr. Haſtings?
A. I delivered the Letter to him.

Q. Where?
A. At Chunar.

Q. Do you not know that Mr. Haſtings received numerous Intimations and Cautions againſt the Nabob Vizier?
A. I believe he did receive ſome.

Q. Can you tell whether they were or were not numerous?
A. I cannot tell.

Q. Did you believe the Reports, as applied to the Vizier and Saadit Ali, as well as to the Begums?
A. I certainly did not believe them, as they applied to the Vizier, with whom I happened to be at the Time; but, with reſpect to Saadit, I cannot ſpeak with the ſame Certainty.

Q. Do you believe them at this Moment, with reſpect to Saadit Ali?
A. I can only ſpeak from what is upon the Records: Mr. Haſtings acquits Saadit Ali of any Views of that kind; I cannot now form any Opinion of them.

Q. Whether thoſe general Reports, concerning the Begums, did not aſſert, that the Objects of the Begums were, as well to dethrone the Nabob, as to extirpate or injure the Engliſh?
A. I think they were, to the beſt of my Recollection.

Q. But as to the Point of dethroning him?
A. I cannot ſay ſo generally as that, but they were hoſtile to him.

Q. Whether upon your Oath you have not ſo ſtated it?
A. I do not recollect that I have.

Q. Did you not think it an extraordinary Circumſtance that the Nabob ſhould go with ſo ſmall an Attendance through Fyzabad, which was the Head Quarters of the Rebels, at the very Moment the Rebellion exiſted?
A. The Nabob's Guard at this Time was about 2000 Horſe, and I underſtood at this Time that the Diſorders of the Country had a good deal ſubſided.

Q. Whether you did, or not, think it extraordinary he ſhould go with a Guard of 2000 Horſe, under the Circumſtances you have repreſented the Country to have been in, or to have been reported, at leaſt, to be in?
A. No, I did not think it extraordinary; 2000 Horſe I ſhould think ſufficient to have repelled any Force that might be diſpoſed to obſtruct him.

Q. You ſaid the Nabob parted with you to travel as faſt as he could, round by Fyzabad, with thoſe Horſe; did you underſtand the Nabob to go to pay a Viſit to his Mother, or to ſuppreſs an Inſurrection?
A. To pay a Viſit, I underſtood.

Q. Did you remonſtrate to the Nabob upon the Danger of paying a friendly Viſit at that Time?
A. No, certainly not.

Q. Whether you did not make an Affidavit before Sir Elijah Impey?
A. I did.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 211.

Q. Does

Q. Does not that Affidavit purport to contain the Whole of the Truth which you knew reſpecting the Begums?

A. Every Thing that I know of my own Knowledge certainly.

Q. When did you ſee Colonel Hannay, after the Affair of Shumſheer Cawn's ſuppoſed ill Conduct to Captain Gordon?

A. About Two Months afterwards, to the beſt of my Recollection; the Accident to Captain Gordon happened in September, and I think I ſaw Colonel Hannay in November.

Q. Was that before Sir Elijah Impey arrived at Lucknow?

A. About that Time.

Q. Do you remember the Arrival of Sir Elijah Impey?

A. Yes.

Q. Was your Converſation with Colonel Hannay, reſpecting Captain Gordon's Affair, at the Time you delivered him up the Letters?

A. I believe it was about that Time.

Q. What Circumſtance did Colonel Hannay relate to you reſpecting Captain Gordon's Situation, and his Eſcape upon that Occaſion?

A. I cannot ſay I recollect particularly the Converſation Colonel Hannay had, further than relating the Accident he had met with, and the narrow Eſcape that he had had: He mentioned, at the ſame Time, that he had had ſome Correſpondence with the Begums upon the Subject.

Q. Did he not inform you of the Purport of that Correſpondence between him and the Begum?

A. Not in particular; he only informed me in general, that it was an amicable Correſpondence.

Q. Did you not learn from it that the Begums had in Fact reſcued Captain Gordon from the Situation he was in at Tanda?

A. I underſtood from Colonel Hannay, that the Begums had reſcued Captain Gordon, and ſent him under a protecting Guard to Colonel Hannay.

Q. Did you not depoſe upon Oath, before Sir Elijah Impey, every Circumſtance that you knew againſt the Begums?

A. I apprehend I did; I knew very little, of my own Knowledge, reſpecting the Begums, as I happened to be, during the Time of the Troubles, with Mr. Haſtings at Chunar. I aſſerted very little upon my own Knowledge.

Q. But you aſſerted all that you did know of your own Knowledge?

A. Yes.

Q. Does not that Affidavit contain alſo Aſſertions of Hearſay which came to your Knowledge?

A. I would wiſh the Affidavit to be read; I cannot ſay I can recollect, at this Time, what I did ſay then.

Then the following Paſſage of the Witneſs's Affidavit was read to him, from the Appendix to the Benares Narrative, Num. 9. A. (a)

'That he heard, at the Time, and believed, and does ſtill believe, that much Encouragement, and ſome actual Aid, in the raiſing of Troops, was given Rajah Cheyt Sing, by Bahar Ali Cawn, and Jewar Ali Cawn, the Two principal Eunuchs and Counſellors of the Vizier's Mother, at Fyzabad; and that their Conduct, as well as that of their Dependants, during the Continuance of the Diſturbances at Benares, manifeſted a ſtrong Diſaffection to the Engliſh.'

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Do you mean to ſay, you did intend to comprize in that Affidavit not only all that you knew of your perſonal Knowledge, but all that you had heard from Report?

A. Yes, in general all I had heard upon the Subject.

Q. Why then did not you depoſe to this Hiſtory that you heard from Colonel Hannay, of the Begums having delivered Captain Gordon, and ſent him under a protecting Guard?

A. The Reaſon I did not was, becauſe at the Time Colonel Hannay gave me this Hiſtory, he mentioned a Circumſtance that gave me Reaſon to pay very little Attention to what the Begums did; which was, that he conſidered Captain Gordon to be entirely at the Mercy ofthe Begums, and he thought it a Piece of Policy to temporize with the Begums, and to write them friendly Letters; and to thoſe Letters he did impute at the Time the Safety of Colonel Gordon.

Q. Was

Q. Was that the whole Reaſon you had, for not inſerting the Particulars of that Hiſtory in your Affidavit?

A. It was: I had not ſeen the Letters that paſſed between Colonel Hannay and the Begums; it was only mentioned generally by Colonel Hannay.

Q. Whatever the Begums Motives were, was not you in fact apprized that Shumſheer Cawn, inſtead of being encouraged by the Begums to diſtreſs Captain Gordon, had in fact ſaved and protected him under their Orders?

A. As far as I informed your Lordſhips, I certainly was; at the ſame Time I was not apprized that the Begums had taken any Notice of the Behaviour of Shumſheer Cawn, as it was repreſented by Captain Gordon, but that he was continued there in his Office the ſame as he was before.

Q. I underſtand you to ſay that you were then appriſed that the Begums had taken no Notice of the Behaviour of Sumſhire Cawn?

A. I was appriſed that they had not taken Notice of his Behaviour, but continued him in his Office.

Q. Was you not appriſed that the Begums upon the Firſt Intimation from Colonel Hannay that Captain Gordon was in any Danger, had ſent an Eſcort of Troops to reſcue him from that Danger?

A. I heard thatthey had.

Q. At that Time you were appriſed of it?

A. I was.

Q. Was you not appriſed that Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon, after Captain Gordon was in Safety with Colonel Hannay, had written a Letter of Thanks and Gratitude to the Begum and her Miniſters?

A. I was certainly appriſed, from what Colonel Hannay had ſaid, that he had written Letters to the Begums upon that Subject: I do not recollect that I heard, that Captain Gordon had written Letters upon that Subject.

Q. Was you appriſed of a Letter from Captain Gordon to the Begum in the following Words?

" A Copy of an Addreſs from Mr. Gordon to the Begum.

" Begum Saib, of exalted Dignity and Generoſity, whom God preſerve.

" After preſenting the uſual Profeſſions of Servitude, &c. in the cuſtomary Manner, my Addreſs is permitted.

" Your gracious Letter, in Anſwer to the Petition of your Servants from Goondah, exalted me. From the Contents, I am become unſpeakably impreſſed with the Honour it conferred. May the Almighty protect that Royal Purity, and beſtow Happineſs, Increaſe of Wealth, and Proſperity!

" The Welfare of your Servant is entirely owing to your Favour and Benevolence.

" A few Days have elapſed ſince I arrived at Goondah, with the Colonel Saib.

" This is preſented for your Highneſs's Information. I cheriſh Hopes from your Generoſity, that, conſidering me in the Light of One of your Servants, always continue to exalt and honour me with your gracious Letters.

" May the Sun of Proſperity continually ſhine."

Q. Was you apprized of Captain Gordon's having written this Letter, after he arrived in Safety to Colonel Hannay?

A. Not till I ſaw the Letter.

Q. Did you ſee the Letter at the Time?

A. Not at the Time.

Q. Do you remember when you firſt ſaw it?

A. It was towards the End of the Year 1782 that I firſt ſaw the Letter.

Q. Upon what Principle did you think yourſelf juſtified, when you were ſwearing to all you knew reſpecting the Begums, to conceal the Circumſtance you now confeſſed?

A. I have informed your Lordſhips what induced me to give it very little Credit, which was the Explanation given me by Colonel Hannay at the Time, of the Motives for his writing friendly Letters to the Begum.

Q. Whether Shumſheer Cawn was not afterwards delivered up to you by the Begums?

A. He was delivered up to the Nabob.

Q. After the Storming of Fyzabad?

A. Yes.

Q. Was

Q. Was he delivered to you, or to the Nabob?
A. He was delivered up to the Nabob certainly; but I believe he was afterwards delivered over by the Nabob to my Guard.

Q. What Charge did you then prefer againſt him, or what Means did you take to diſcover the Truth of his Conduct at Tanda?
A. At that Time, none.

Q. Was not Shumſhire Cawn almoſt immediately releaſed after he was put under your Care?
A. Very ſoon after he was put into my Care. I left Lucknow, and went on Leave of Abſence from Lucknow; and I left Mr. Johnſon in Charge of my Office, and during my Abſence he was releaſed.

Q. How long was it after the Time he was firſt committed to your Care?
A. About a Month, I believe.

Q. Was any Examination taken, or Means uſed, to diſcover the Truth of Shumſhire Cawn's Conduct?
A. No, not by me; not at all.

Q. Do you know of any being taken in your Office by Mr. Johnſon, or any Body elſe?
A. No, I do not.

Q. Where was Mr. Scott's Factory?
A. At Tanda.

Q. Where did Captain Gordon reſide while he was at Tanda?
A. I don't know; probably in Mr. Scott's Factory: But I cannot ſay.

Q. Had not Mr. Scott the Monopoly of Cloths in thoſe Provinces?
A. He carried on a conſiderable Trade there; I cannot ſay he had a Monopoly.

Q. Do you know what Monopoly means?
A. Yes.

Q. Had he the excluſive Right of trading there?
A. No, not at this Time.

Q. Had he a great Manufactory there?
A. Yes, he had.

Q. Had you any Complaint, during the Whole of the Troubles of that Time, that Shumſhire Cawn, or any other Perſon upon the Part of the Begums, had diſturbed Mr. Scott, or any other Perſons, or their Servants or Workmen, or any Engliſhman there ſettled?
A. I do not recollect that I had.

Q. Did not the Begum herſelf deliver up Shumſhire Cawn, expreſſing her Aſtoniſhment, that any ſuch Report ſhould prevail to his Diſadvantage?
A. I do not recollect that ſhe did.

Q. Did not the Begum ſend Copies of the Correſpondence between her and Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon to you, juſt previous to the delivering him up?
A. No; I do not recollect ſhe did.

Q. Do you ſay, you do not recollect it?
A. Not at that Time; about a Twelvemonth afterwards, they were brought by Major Gilpin.

Q. When Sir Elijah Impey was taking Depoſitions at Lucknow reſpecting this Affair at Tanda, did they call upon Mr. Scott to give any Information upon the Subject?
A. I really do not know whether he was, or that he was not: His Affidavit, I imagine, will appear, if he was called upon.

Q. Do you know whether he was or was not called upon?
A. I do not.

Q. Did not Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon make Depoſitions before Sir Elijah Impey?
A. They did.

Q. Did either of them mention the Circumſtance of the Begum's having reſcued Captain Gordon?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Queſtion.

Q. Was not Captain Gordon a Military Collector under Colonel Hannay?
A. He was one of the Officers under Colonel Hannay. I will not take upon myſelf to ſay in what Manner Colonel Hannay employed him.

Q. Was

Q. Was Colonel Hannay a Military Collector?
A. He was.

Q. Do you know, what the Danger that Captain Gordon fell into was owing to?
A. No, I do not: Captain Gordon has ſtated the Whole in a very long Letter.

Q. Do you know any Thing of it, beſides what is contained in that Letter?
A. No, I do not.

Q. (by the Counſel.) Do you know where Captain Gordon is at preſent?
A. I believe, in London; I ſaw him a few Days ago.

Q. Do you not know whether he is come from abroad on Purpoſe to give Evidence here?
A. I underſtand he is come from abroad for that Purpoſe, if he ſhould be called upon.

Q. Do you know what Degree of Danger Captain Gordon was in when the Begums protected him?

A. I did not underſtand he was under any Reſtraint; he remained at Tanda till they ſent the Eſcort to take him away.

Q. Whether the Force that had been under the Command of Captain Gordon had been diſperſed by Means of Shumſheer Khan and his People, before the Begum ſent to deliver him?
A. I know no more of that Tranſaction than what is recorded by Captain Gordon himſelf.

Q. (by a Lord.) Whether you preſerved or deſtroyed thoſe private Letters which you received from Time to Time from Mr. Haſtings, and which you have ſtated to relate to publick Buſineſs, in Whole or in Part?

A. I cannot ſay I preſerved them in Whole: I may have ſome of them; I have no doubt but I have ſome of them.

Q. Did you or did you not take and preſerve Copies of your Anſwers to thoſe private Letters?
A. Not entirely; of ſome undoubtedly I did.

Q. What is become of thoſe Copies?
A. I have ſome of them undoubtedly; I cannot ſay that I have complete Copies of them.

Q. Did you communicate the Circumſtance of Shumſheer Khan's not being animadverted upon by the Begums, as a Circumſtance that you gave Credit to in Proof of their Diſaffection?
A. No; I do not recollect that I made any Communication of it.

Q. If I underſtand you right, you ſay the Treaty of Chunar was in Two Parts; One diſtinctly the Conceſſions made by Mr. Haſtings, the other Part diſtinctly the Conceſſions made by the Nabob; were there Counterparts of both thoſe two Parts of the Agreement executed by the reſpective Parties?
A. Not that I know of.

Q. Were both thoſe Parts put by Accident among your Papers when you went to Lucknow?
A. They were; both of them.

Q. Then the Nabob had no original Part?
A. The Original, upon his Part, was delivered to the Nabob.

Q. How many Inſtruments were ſigned on one Side, or on the other, at the Time of the Treaty of Chunar, on the 19th of September?
A. Two.

Q. A Part, and a Counterpart?
A. Yes.

Q. Both thoſe you had in your Poſſeſſion?
A. Yes.

Q. Then what do you mean by ſaying the Nabob had the Original?
A. The Nabob had the Part the Governor General had ſigned.

Q. Then you could not have both in your Poſſeſſion?
A. For a Time I had.

Q. When was that other delivered to the Nabob?
A. The very next Day, I believe.

Q. Whether there were Duplicates of theſe Two Parts executed by Mr. Haſtings and the Nabob?
A. I believe not.

Q. Then did you carry to Lucknow the two Parts, the Part containing the Conceſſions to Mr. Haſtings, and the Part containing the Conceſſions to the Nabob?
A. I carried all the Papers relating to that Treaty.

Q. If

Q. If you were in Poſſeſſion of both thoſe Parts of the Agreement, of which there were no Duplicates executed, could the Nabob be in Poſſeſſion of either Part in the mean Time?

A. It was delivered to him as ſoon as it could be after its Execution.

Q. Where was it delivered to him?

A. I cannot ſay whether at Chunar, or the next Day when I joined him on the other Side of the River; but it certainly was delivered to him and in his Poſſeſſion, where I ſaw it frequently afterwards.

Q. I have underſtood you that both theſe Parts were found in your Poſſeſſion when you went to Lucknow?

A. No, not when I went to Lucknow.

Q. When did you find thoſe Parts in your Poſſeſſion; you are underſtood to have ſaid this,—that there were two Inſtruments ſigned, one by the Nabob, of the Contracts that he made in favour of the Company, and the other by Mr. Haſtings, of the Contracts that the Company made in favour of the Nabob: You are underſtood alſo to have ſaid, there were no Duplicates of thoſe Inſtruments executed, and that both thoſe original Inſtruments were carried by you to Lucknow?

A. Yes.

Q. Then the Nabob could not poſſibly have it?

A. I cannot ſay when it was delivered to the Nabob; but that it was delivered is certain, for it is in his Poſſeſſion now.

Q. Do you know when he was firſt put in Poſſeſſion of it?

A. I cannot ſay.

Q. What was it you delivered to Colonel Hannay to carry to Mr. Haſtings?

A. The Part of the Treaty that pledged the Nabob to certain Conditions.

Q. One Part of the Treaty only?

A. One Part of the Treaty only.

Q. Then what became of the other Part which you did not tranſmit by Colonel Hannay?

A. That Part was lodged with the Nabob certainly.

Q. I underſtand you to have ſaid, that you told the Nabob, and the Nabob's two Miniſters, that his the Nabob's Part of the Engagement was not to be literally fulfilled, and that Mr. Haſtings ſhould have ſomething to ſhew: Did you or did you not at that Time give the Nabob to underſtand that you gave ſuch Aſſurances on the Part of Mr. Haſtings, or that ſuch Aſſurances were not given on the Part of Mr. Haſtings; which was it?

A. I wiſhed him to underſtand that I ſpoke only according to my own Belief of the Tenor and Object of the Treaty; I certainly did not tell him that I had any Authority from Mr. Haſtings, nor do I believe he thought I had.

Q. Whether the Nabob, or either of his Miniſters, did or did not expreſs or intimate a Wiſh that Mr. Haſtings, who was then in the Room, ſhould confirm the Aſſurances you gave them in the Manner you did?

A. I do not recollect they did.

Q. Are you poſitive whether you ever had or had not from Mr. Haſtings either ſpecial or general Inſtructions or Permiſſion to make any Aſſurance of the Kind you have mentioned; or do you mean we ſhould underſtand that you gave thoſe Aſſurances entirely unauthoriſed by Mr. Haſtings?

A. I do not believe Mr. Haſtings ever did give me any Authority whatever for communicating ſuch Aſſurances: I communicated them only, as founded on my own Belief of what was the Object and the principal Aim of the Treaty, namely, the Recovery of the Company's Debt from the Nabob: I ſtated it ſo to the Nabob.

Q. Whether that Belief was founded upon any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings, reſpecting the Object of the Treaty?

A. I have no Doubt but it was; and even Mr. Haſtings's Inſtructions, I believe, will ſerve to confirm that Belief.

Q. Then when you gave thoſe Aſſurances to the Nabob, you thought you were giving Aſſurances conformable to Mr. Haſtings's Intention, with reſpect to the Execution of the Treaty?

A. I certainly did conceive I was.

Q. (By the Managers.) When you communicated to Mr. Haſtings this Argument, which you had uſed with the Nabob to prevail upon him to execute the Treaty, did Mr. Haſtings in any Manner diſavow it, or in any reſpect rebuke you, for having ſo pledged him to the Nabob?

A. Mr. Haſtings's Letter, in Anſwer to mine, is upon Record; I hope your Lordſhips will permit me to refer to the Letter itſelf.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings, in any other Way than by that Letter, hold that ſort of Converſation with you?

A. No; in no other Way than by that Letter, and the other Letters that are upon Record.

Q. When

Q. When the Nabob found that this Treaty was to be literally and fully carried into Execution, did he or did he not remind you of the Converſation he had with you, and your giving him Hopes that that would not happen?

A. He did.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether the Nabob would have executed that Treaty but under the Inducement of the Promiſe you made him in that Converſation: Was that his Inducement?

A. His principal Inducement: With reſpect to the Queſtion now put, I dare ſay the Nabob would not have executed the Treaty without ſome ſuch Aſſurances as I gave him, without further Reference to Mr. Haſtings. What Aſſurances he might have given him, I cannot ſay.

The Counſel for the Defendant deſired the Second Article of the Treaty of Chunar might be ſhewn to the Witneſs.

The ſame was accordingly ſhewn to him; and he was aſked,

Q. Do you remember whether that Article was wholly the Nabob's own Propoſition?

A. I underſtood the Whole of the Propoſitions were entirely the Nabob's.

Q. Whether the Nabob's Complaints were or were not confined to this Article of the Treaty reſpecting the Reſumption of the Jaghires?

A. They were made upon that Occaſion, and I believe were confined, as far as I recollect, to the Subject of reſuming the Jaghires.

Q. Can you or not recollect, whether Part of that Objection did not expreſsly point to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghires?

A. It is very poſſible it might; it was the moſt conſiderable, and the firſt Jaghire that was brought under Diſcuſſion.

Then the Second Article (a) of the Treaty of Chunar was read, as follows:

"Art. 2. That, as great Diſtreſs has ariſen to the Nabob's Government from the Military Power and Dominion aſſumed by the Jagheerders, he be permitted to reſume ſuch as he may find neceſſary; with a Reſerve, that all ſuch for the Amount of whoſe Jagheers the Company are Guarantees, ſhall, in caſe of the Reſumption of their Lands, be paid the Amount of their net Collections, through the Reſident, in ready Money."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. (By the Managers). Whether the Ground of the Nabob's Complaint was not, that Mr. Haſtings endeavoured to compel him to reſume ſuch Jaghires as he, Mr. Haſtings, and not the Nabob, thought proper?

A. It was, that Mr. Haſtings compelled him to make a general Reſumption, inſtead of making it particular.

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired a Paſſage might be read from Mr. Haſtings's Defence at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons.

Read, the following Extract from the MS. beginning at Page 237 of the ſame.

"When the Nabob ſo earneſtly deſired my Sanction for the Reſumption of the Jaghires, he certainly had in View only the Begums, and a few others of Magnitude, which he conſidered protected either by the Guarantee or Favour of the Company: He could not be ſuppoſed to aſk my Sanction to the Reſumption of Grants in which the Company's Faith was by no Means concerned; but being aware that his Excellency intended a partial Reſumption, reſerving the Jaghires for his particular Favourites, who, from their Character and Conduct, ought to be the firſt proſcribed, I determined to defeat the Deſign, by adviſing him to make the Reſumption general; and he engaged to follow my Advice. The Conſequence of this, his Excellency did not, at that Time, advert to; but when he diſcovered, that by the Spirit of the Agreement, and my determined Adherence to it, he was precluded from ſhewing any Partiality; and moreover, that the Produce of the Jagheers, when reſumed, inſtead of coming immediately into his Poſſeſſion, was to be appropriated to the Liquidation of his Debt to the Company, for which I expreſsly ſtipulated, he became indifferent, and even apparently averſe to the Reſumption."

Q. (by the Counſel.) Whether the Point of the Nabob's Complaint was not to the Reſumption of the Jaghires of his Orderlies, and not thoſe of the Begums?

A. Not particularly; I do not recollect he expreſſed any in particular; but it was my Opinion it related to the Jaghires of thoſe Orderlies.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 141.

Q. (by

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether in that Converſation he did or did not expreſsly object to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghires?

A. I believe he objected to the Meaſure altogether.

Q. Can you or not recollect whether Part of that Objection did not expreſsly point to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghires?

A. It is very poſſible it might; that was the moſt conſiderable and the Firſt Jaghire that was brought under Diſcuſſion.

Q. Did he, or did he not; or do you recollect any Thing about it?

A. I recollect his Objection was general; poſſibly the Objection was made upon the Propoſal to reſume the Begum's Jaghires.

Q. (by a Lord.) Upon Recollection, whether it was pointed to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghire?

A. I believe I have ſaid, that it was propoſed to reſume the Mother's Jaghire; that was the principal one, and upon that it aroſe.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether Captain Gordon did not apply for £. 3000, or ſome other great Sum of Money, on account of the Loſs of his Baggage, by the Means of Shumſheer Khan?

A. I recollect he did make a Claim of that Sort.

Q. Was that Claim allowed?

A. It was.

Q. (by a Lord.) I think you ſaid the Nabob was very reluctant to ſign the Treaty of Chunar; how could he be reluctant to ſign the Treaty, if every Article of it was propoſed by himſelf?

A. The Nabob's Reluctance was to ſigning his Part; thoſe Parts Mr. Haſtings ſigned had been of the Nabob's own propoſing.

Q. (by the Managers.) Was you preſent at the Time when the Nabob made the Propoſal for reſuming the Jaghires?

A. I was preſent when the Nabob delivered his Requiſitions to Mr. Haſtings, upon which the Treaty was formed.

Q. Was you preſent at the Time when he firſt delivered that Treaty, or made any original Propoſition upon the Subject?

A. I was preſent when the firſt Propoſitions were delivered in Writing to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Whether you was preſent at the firſt Propoſition made by the Nabob for the Reſumption of the Jaghires, whether in Writing or not?

A. I have before informed your Lordſhips, that I was preſent when the firſt Propoſition was made, which was in Writing.

Q. Do you know that that was the firſt Propoſition made?

A. I have Reaſon to believe it was; I have no Doubt but it was.

Q. When you ſupplied Inſtructions for making Mr. Haſtings's Defence, had you peruſed the Affidavits which were taken at Lucknow, and the Allegations of Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject, in his Narrative of this Tranſaction?

A. I cannot ſay I had juſt at that Time: I have no Doubt, in a Courſe of Years, I have peruſed all the Affidavits, as well as the whole Narrative.

Q. Was you preſent on the 11th or 12th September, in the firſt Conference between Mr. Haſtings and the Nabob, upon the Nabob's coming from Lucknow to Chunar?

A. I believe I was preſent at the firſt Meeting they had.

Q. Were you preſent at all?

A. I don't believe I was at all.

Q. When you informed Mr. Haſtings of the Nabob's Objection to the Reſumption of the Jaghires, did he, in Anſwer, appeal to your own perſonal Knowledge, of the Propoſition being originally made by the Nabob?

A. I muſt beg to refer your Lordſhips to the Letter Mr. Haſtings wrote upon that Subject.

Q. Beſides that Letter, did he ever make ſuch Repreſentation?

A. No.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Martis, 6° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe they would now proceed to lay before them the firſt Traces they could diſcover of the Conſpiracy formed againſt the Princeſſes of Oude, and the firſt Determination of Mr. Haſtings to accuſe them, in order to poſſeſs himſelf of their Treaſures; preparatory to which, they would ſhew the avowed Motives upon which Mr. Haſtings ſet out from Calcutta.

Read, the following Extract of the Benaris Narrative, Calcutta Edition, beginning at Page 12 of the ſame.

" I will ſuppoſe for a Moment that I have erred, that I have acted with an unwarranted Rigour towards Cheit Sing, and even with Injuſtice. Let my Motive be conſulted. I left Calcutta impreſſed with the Belief, that extraordinary Means were neceſſary, and thoſe exerted with a ſtrong Hand, to preſerve the Company's Intereſts from ſinking under the accumulated Weight which oppreſſed them. I ſaw a political Neceſſity for curbing the overgrown Power of a great Member of their Dominion, and making it contribute to the Relief of their preſſing Exigencies (a)."

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, P. 7.

" It was reported, that he had inherited a vaſt Maſs of Wealth from his Father Bulwant Sing, which he had ſecured in the Two ſtrong Fortreſſes of Bidjeygur and Lutteefpoor, and made yearly Additions to it (b)."

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, P. 45.

" It is credibly affirmed, that he inherited from his Father, Bulwant Sing, a complete Crore of Rupees; to which, it is believed, that he made conſiderable Additions (c)."

Read, from Book 17, already delivered in, Extract of a Letter from the Governor General to Major Popham, ſigned Warren Haſtings, and dated Chunar, 14th November 1781, beginning at Page 24 of the ſaid Book.

" The Subject on which I am now to write is a very diſagreeable and painful One to me, but indiſpenſable. I have received Information which, though private, is certainly authentic, that you have already diſtributed One Dividend of the Treaſure found in Bidjii Gur, amongſt the Officers and Troops on the Spot. If this be true, I am very ſorry for it, as, on many Conſiderations, it appears to me that ſuch Diſtribution is premature. I apprehend that it is a Propoſition not to be diſputed, that every Thing acquired by the Arms of a State belongs to the State which employed thoſe Arms. By Charters and Acts of Parliament, the ſole Right to all Conqueſts or Captures made by the Company's Arms were veſted in the Company. It was however my Intention to have uſed my utmoſt Authority and Influence to have obtained for the Troops engaged in the Service againſt Cheit Sing, the whole Booty which might be found in Bidjygur and other Places. I regarded it as the due Reward of their Services, and Recompence of their Sufferings, but I never meant that they ſhould ſeize it and ſcramble for it. Beſides, if the actual Right was in the Army, at a Time like this, when the Exigencies of the Company are ſo great, ſurely they might have expected to have benefited by the immediate Uſe of it as a Loan. I had, I muſt own, ſuch Confidence in your Diſcretion, that I did expect, if the Treaſure found in the Fort ſhould prove very conſiderable, you would not have proceeded to any Diſtribution of it, until you had reported the Amount to the Board, and obtained their Sanction for appropriating it to the Troops, or at leaſt that you would have repreſented it to me, as I am ſo near you.

[Signed at the End]

" Warren Haſtings (a)."

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired Sir Elijah Impey might be called in.

Accordingly Sir ELIJAH IMPEY was again called, and examined as follows:

Q. What Time did you ſee Mr. Haſtings after the Troubles of Benares?

A. I believe it was the latter End of October, or the Beginning of November. I am not quite ſure whether it was not late in November; the Date I am not certain of.

Q. Was it after or before the Capture of Bidjeygur?

A. Before the Capture of Bidjeygur.

Q. Where was it you ſaw Mr. Haſtings?

A. At Benares.

Q. Did you receive Inſtructions from Mr. Haſtings at that Time, relative to Depoſitions which were to be taken by you at Lucknow?

A. I do not know I ever received any Inſtructions whatever from Mr. Haſtings, about taking Affidavits.

Q. Did you receive a Letter at that Time from Mr. Haſtings, which you was to deliver to Mr. Middleton?

A. Not upon my firſt going to Benares; I believe a Week at leaſt had intervened, and I was at Chunar when I received a Copy of a Letter, which I was to carry to Mr. Middleton, the Governor having before ſent an original Letter to him.

Q. I underſtand you received this Letter at Chunar, a Week after you had been with Mr. Haſtings?

A. I believe thereabouts; I cannot be preciſe as to the Time; it might be more, it might be leſs than a Week; but I had been ſome Days with Mr. Haſtings.

Q. And at Chunar?

A. At Chunar.

Q. Was it a Duplicate of a Letter?

A. It was a Duplicate of a Letter, merely that I might know what Mr. Haſtings had written to Mr. Middleton.

Q. Do you recollect whether this was after the Capture of Bidjeygur?

A. I believe this was after the Capture of Bidjeygur; I think it was, as well as I can recollect. I was with Mr. Haſtings before the Capture of Bidjeygur; but I believe this was ſubſequent to the Capture of Bidjeygur. I arrived at Lucknow, I think, the 25th of November. I believe I was Four Days going, and I received the Letter the Day before I ſet out from Chunar; ſo that if the Date of the Capture of Bidjeygur can be fixed, that will aſcertain whether it was before or after the Capture of Bidjeygur.

Q. Then you received it about the 20th of November?

A. I fancy thereabouts; I kept no Memorandum, and therefore I am not accurate as to the Date.

Q. Was it the Day after the Letter to Major Popham was ſent?

A. The Letter had been before ſent by Mr. Haſtings; I believe the Date of the Letter to Mr. Middleton will not aſcertain the Time I received the Copy.

Q. Did you receive no Notes nor written Inſtructions from Mr. Haſtings beſides that Letter?

A. I had very ſhort Memorandums beſides that Letter, but not with reſpect to the Affidavits. They had no Relation whatever to the Affidavits.

Q. Do you mean to ſay you had no Converſation with Mr. Haſtings reſpecting thoſe Affidavits which were to be taken at Lucknow?

A. I do not mean to ſay I had no Converſation: I ſaid I had no Notes of any Thing relative to taking the Affidavits; I had Converſations with Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject.

Q. Did you ſettle the Form of a Caption for thoſe Affidavits encloſed in a Letter to Mr. Middleton?

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 284, Par. the laſt.

Q. The

A. The Form of the Caption which I ſettled was this: Such a Perſon depoſed before Sir Elijah Impey; that is, the Whole of the Caption, or Words to that Effect: That I ſuppoſe to be meant by the Caption of the Affidavits.

Q. Was that ſent in a Letter to Mr. Middleton?

A. I believe it was ſent in a Letter to Mr. Middleton, becauſe the Copy of the Letter that I had, acquainted Mr. Middleton it had been ſo ſent.

Q. Had you not Inſtructions reſpecting the Manner in which the Affidavits or Depoſitions of the native Witneſſes were to be taken?

A. None that I recollect; I rather gave Inſtructions for taking the Affidavits, than received them.

Q. In ſettling the Caption of theſe Affidavits, were theſe Words ſuggeſted by you, that they were taken before Sir Elijah Impey Knight, &c. Chief Juſtice of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal?

A. I believe they were. If that is the Caption of the Affidavits, I have no Doubt it is the Caption that was ſettled by me.

Q. Did you conſider your Juriſdiction as extending to the Province of Oude?

A. Undoubtedly not.

Q. Upon what Circumſtance did you think it a juſtifiable Meaſure for you to proceed to Lucknow to take thoſe Depoſitions?

A. I had no Idea it was an unjuſtifiable Meaſure; when it is pointed out to me how it is unjuſtifiable I will endeavour to give an Anſwer to the Queſtion.

Q. What induced you to go to Lucknow upon this Buſineſs?

A. Mr. Haſtings was about writing a Narrative of the Proceedings at Banares; I did it for the Purpoſe of authenticating to the Engliſh Nation the Facts in the Banares Narrative. I thought from my Situation, though my Juriſdiction did not extend to the Provinces, that Affidavits taken by me would have a greater Weight than Affidavits taken by any common Perſon: I thought it my Duty, both to give all the Aſſiſtance I could to the Governor General, the Perſon charged with the Engliſh Affairs, and likewiſe, as far as I could, to authenticate to the Engliſh Nation what the Situation of thoſe Affairs was; whether that is juſtifiable, or unjuſtifiable, I muſt ſubmit to the Determination of the Lords.

Q. Did the Object of your Journey to Lucknow relate only to Matters of Juſtification of paſt Events, or to lay a Ground for future Proceedings?

A. It was to authenticate paſt Events, without any View of Juſtification; it had nothing in my Mind to do with future Meaſures.

Q. What was the Subject of thoſe ſhort Notes or Memorandums which you ſay you received from Mr. Haſtings?

A. It regarded Fyzoola Cawn: and a Gentleman of the Name of Bathurſt: there was a Memorandum of a Communication that I was to make to Mr. Middleton, of what had paſſed in Converſation between Mr. Haſtings and me, relative to the Begums: that is as much as I can remember of it; but they had nothing to do with the Affidavits.

Q. Have you thoſe Memorandums?

A. I have not the Memorandums. I had a Summons from the Houſe of Commons, which I attended, and was ordered to bring all my Papers relative to the Article of Mr. Haſtings concerning the Begums, which I then produced to the Houſe of Commons: I have no Papers but what I there produced. I produced before the Houſe of Commons two ſhort Memorandums which had been delivered to me by Mr. Middleton; thoſe I believe were in anſwer to the ſhort Memorandums I carried with me to Lucknow. The Houſe of Commons thought they were not material, and delivered them back—I believe I have them now, and am ready to deliver them, if they can give any Information.

Q. You have ſaid, that one of thoſe Notes or Memorandums related to the Begums—what do you mean by related to the Begums?

A. It related to a Converſation I had with Mr. Haſtings, relative to the ſeizing of the Treaſures of the Begums.

Q. Was not that a Meaſure to be done?

A. That was a Meaſure upon which I underſtood the Nabob Vizier was to be conſulted.

Q. Did you conſider that as a future Meaſure, or as a Matter of Juſtification?

A. Undoubtedly a future Meaſure; and as far as that goes, theſe Memorandums had a Relation to future Meaſures.

Q. Then your Journey to Lucknow did relate to future Meaſures, and not ſolely to the Juſtification of the Paſt?

A. When

A. When I ſpoke of what related to future Meaſures, I meant the Affidavits; and I believe the Queſtion put to me was, whether the Affidavits related to future Meaſures; my Anſwer was meant to relate to the Affidavits, not to my Journey; my Journey undoubtedly had to do with future Meaſures; it was the chief Object of my Journey to Lucknow.

Q. As the chief Object of your Journey related to the Meaſure againſt the Begums, whether the Affidavits did not alſo relate to the Begums, and whether they were not alſo a Ground of future Proceedings—was your chief Object relative to the Begums?

A. Not the Begums only, but other Matters relative to the Treaty of Chunar. The Purport of my Intention to take the Affidavits, was ſimply to authenticate the Facts relative to the Benares Revolution. What the Affidavits contained I did not know; nor do I know at preſent, for I have never read them.

Q. I underſtood you to have ſaid, the "chief" Object of your Journey did relate to the Meaſure of ſeizing the Begums Treaſures?

Here the Evidence was read over by the Clerk, from Page 623, Line 22, ſupra.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Was the chief Object of your Journey future Meaſures?

A. If I may be permitted, I will acquaint the Houſe of the Whole of my Object, and the Cauſe of my Journey to Lucknow.

Q. Have you any Doubt about your having made that Anſwer?

A. What Anſwer?

Q. That the chief Object of your Journey was future Meaſures?

A. Of my Journey to Lucknow, undoubtedly it was.

Q. Proceed with the Explanation of the Object of your Journey to Lucknow.

A. Mr. Haſtings had acquainted me, that he was at that Time writing a Narrative of the Proceedings of the Revolution at Benares; he acquainted me with the main Circumſtances. I then told him, that, as he was a Party ſo much engaged in the Event, and the Diſpoſition of thoſe in Power at that Time in England, was not favourable to him, I doubted whether his ſingle Narrative would gain compleat Credit to the Facts which he aſſerted; I therefore adviſed him to authenticate thoſe Facts as ſtrongly as he poſſibly could. The only Means of doing it that ſuggeſted themſelves to me were, the having them verified by Affidavit. He then aſked how it was to be done, and demanded of me whether I would take ſuch Affidavits; to which I aſſented. It was at firſt propoſed, that I ſhould proceed to Illahabad, as a central Place to which the ſeveral Witneſſes might more eaſily come to me, to make their ſeveral Affidavits; but, in the Courſe of that Converſation, Mr. Haſtings having deſcribed the Begums as being in actual Rebellion, I told Mr. Haſtings that, if that was the Fact, I thought their Intervention was an Offence to the Government of the Nabob, and that he had a moſt undoubted Right of ſeizing the Treaſure of thoſe Perſons, who were employing them againſt his State. Mr. Haſtings had told me, that he thought the Welfare of the Country committed to his Charge, and his own Reputation, depended upon the Treaty of Chunar being carried ſtrictly into Execution; that he was apprehenſive the Mildneſs of Mr. Middleton's Temper would prevent him from urging the Nabob effectually to carry it into Execution; he therefore propoſed to me, inſtead of going to Illahabad, where it was firſt intended, that I ſhould go to Lucknow; and, beſides taking the Affidavits, I was to acquaint Mr. Middleton with the Converſation that had paſſed between Mr. Haſtings and me, with regard to the Begums, and urge him to ſee the Treaty of Chunar carried into Execution. That was the Occaſion of my going to Lucknow. To Lucknow I ſhould not have gone merely for the Purpoſe of taking the Affidavits; for that Purpoſe I ſhould have proceeded no further than Illahabad.

Q. Was the ſeizing of the Treaſures of the Begums any Part of the Treaty of Chunar?

A. I believe not.

Q. What Communication did you make to Mr. Middleton, reſpecting the ſeizing of the Treaſure of the Begums?

A. I related to Mr. Middleton the Converſation I had with Mr. Haſtings, and acquainted him that Mr. Haſtings was inclined to that Meaſure, and I believe deſired he would conſult the Nabob upon it.—My communicating of the Converſation between Mr. Haſtings and me was with an Intent that Mr. Middleton ſhould conſult the Nabob upon it.

Q. Did you communicate to Mr. Middleton it was Mr. Haſtings's Pleaſure, that they ſhould ſeize the Treaſure of the Begums?

A. By no Means in ſuch Terms: I did what I had undertaken to do, which was to relate to Mr. Middleton what had paſſed between Mr. Haſtings and me, for the Purpoſe of his conſulting the Nabob upon the Subject; but gave no Directions from Mr. Haſtings, that it was his Will it ſhould be ſo.

Q. Whether you was not examined before a Committee of the Houſe of Commons?
A. I was.

Q. Whether you recollect the Subſtance of your Anſwer to this Queſtion. In a Letter of the 6th of December 1781, from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Haſtings, there is this Sentence; "Your Plea-"ſure reſpecting the Begums I have learnt from Sir Elijah Impey, and the Meaſure heretofore "propoſed will ſoon follow the Reſumption of the Jaghires:" to whom do theſe Words, "heretofore "propoſed," refer?—Do you recollect the Subſtance of your Anſwer to the Houſe of Commons?
A. I really do not.

Q. Do you recollect whether your Anſwer was, "By hearing the Letter read, I referred to a Propoſal by Mr. Haſtings through me to Mr. Middleton?"
A. I certainly do remember that Anſwer; but I believe, if the Whole of my Evidence is taken together, it will appear I gave it there the ſame as I do now; that I related to Mr. Middleton what had paſſed between Mr. Haſtings and me, and that Mr. Haſtings ſeemed to aſſent to the Propoſition, that it was right the Begums Treaſure ſhould be ſeized; but I carried no Directions from Mr. Haſtings, that it was his Will to have it ſo done.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to this Mode of Examination.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that they had not waived their Right to examine the Witneſſes they called to what they had ſaid in another Place.

The Witneſs deſired the Anſwer might ſtand.

Q. Did you underſtand that you conveyed more than Mr. Haſtings's Conſent to the Nabob's reſuming of the Jaghires, namely, that you underſtood it was the Intention of Mr. Haſtings that Mr. Middleton ſhould recommend it to the Nabob as a Meaſure?
A. I ſtill think that it was Mr. Haſtings's Intention that it ſhould be recommended to the Nabob as a Meaſure, and that I meant by, his conſulting the Nabob upon the Subject: I do not make uſe of the ſame Words, but to exactly the ſame Purpoſe; I ſhould have conſidered the mere conſulting the Nabob upon the Subject, if it was not the Intention of Mr. Haſtings to recommend it, as merely nugatory.

Q. Are we to underſtand that you communicated to Mr. Middleton, in the Shape of a Converſation, or otherwiſe, that it was the Pleaſure of Mr. Haſtings, that he, Mr. Middleton, ſhould recommend this Anſwer to the Nabob?
A. I certainly meant to convey that Idea.

Q. Do you, or do you not, remember the Words that were uſed; whether the Words were, to conſult the Nabob upon the Subject, or to recommend to the Nabob the Meaſure?
A. I really do not; I underſtood it to be a Propoſal, and a Recommendation to the Nabob, undoubtedly.

The laſt Queſtion and Anſwer were read over by the Clerk.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Was it a Part of the Communication, that the Meaſure of ſeizing the Begum's Treaſure ſhould afterwards come in the Shape of an original Propoſal from the Nabob?
A. Certainly not; I would not have undertaken ſuch a Commiſſion.

Q. When did you hold that Converſation with Mr. Middleton, in Conſequence of this Direction from Mr. Haſtings?
A. I was met by a very large Party, that encamped about Twenty Miles on this Side of Lucknow, between Illahabad and Lucknow; and I proceeded in Mr. Middleton's Chariot to Lucknow: The next Morning, in that Chariot, in my Way to Lucknow, I made this Communication.

Q. How ſoon after this Communication of Mr. Haſtings's Pleaſure, that the Begum's Treaſure ſhould be ſeized, did you begin to take Affidavits and Depoſitions?
A. I went to Lucknow for the Purpoſe of taking the Affidavits, and as ſoon as any Body came to make an Affidavit, I took it immediately: I believe I diſpatched the Buſineſs as faſt as I could, to get away from it.
Q. Did not you underſtand what the Subject was, which thoſe People were depoſing to?
A. Some of them I did: By Converſation with Engliſh Gentlemen, I knew what they depoſed; what the Natives depoſed, I did not know.

Q. Who was it that told the Perſons who were making the Depoſitions, what it was they were to depoſe to, or about?
A. Nothing was told in my Preſence. I believe every Affidavit I took was drawn before I ſaw it. I believe Mr. Middleton, in conſequence of a Letter Mr. Haſtings wrote to him, had communicated

municated the Subject Matter of what they were to depoſe to: I obſerved by that Letter it was either to refute or aſcertain the Facts relative to the Benares Buſineſs.

Q. You ſay, you believe Mr. Middleton did that?

A. I believe he did; I apprehend Mr. Middleton did, becauſe the Governor General had ſent a Letter to Mr. Middleton on the Subject before; and I do not know he wrote to any Body elſe. If that Letter was read, it would aſcertain very clearly what was Mr. Haſtings's Intention with regard to taking the Affidavits.

Q. In what Manner were the Deponents brought before you?

A. I do not know they were brought at all; they appeared to me to come voluntarily: I do not know there was any Body who depoſed that could properly be ſaid to be brought, if, by the Word "brought," is meant Compulſion.

Q. The Queſtion is only in what Manner they came; you was in the Room?

A. Part of the Affidavits taken at Lucknow, I believe, were taken in the Houſe in which I lodged; in the Houſe of a Colonel Martin: Other Parts were taken in the Tent of Colonel Hannay, with whom I had dined; after Dinner I took the Affidavits of Colonel Hannay and ſome other Engliſh Gentlemen that were there.

Q. Were the Affidavits read to you, or by you, before they were ſworn to?

A. They were neither read to me, or by me, when they were ſworn to, or ſince.

Q. Were they read to the Deponents that were ſworn?

A. They were all brought by the People themſelves who ſwore them.

Q. And not read in your Preſence?

A. Not read in my Preſence.

Q. What Reaſon have you to know thoſe Affidavits were ever read by, or to, the Perſons who ſwore them?

A. Several of the Perſons, I am ſure, brought the Papers themſelves: I could not apprehend that the People who brought them had not read them.

Q. But you do not know they were read?

A. When I ſay I don't know they were read,—a great Multitude of Affidavits were taken. I remember one that was taken in French. I remember that being read, by the Circumſtance of its being a French Affidavit; ſome of them might be read, but I don't recollect particularly that any were; I took them in the ordinary Courſe in which I have ever taken Affidavits.

Q. You ſay a great Multitude of Affidavits were taken; what Number did you take at Lucknow?

A. I cannot form the moſt diſtant Gueſs. When I ſpeak of Affidavits taken at Lucknow, I mean all the Affidavits which I took relative to this Subject; I do not believe there were a great Number taken at Lucknow, as well as I can recollect; but they are in the Appendix, I underſtand, to Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, and by that it will appear what were taken at Lucknow, and what were taken at other Places. I cannot pretend to charge my Memory with it: If the Gentlemen will let me have the Book before me from which they examine, I then ſhall, from that, gueſs tolerably well what the Number was; but in a Tranſaction ſo many Years ago, if the Gentlemen Managers examine me from a Book, and expect my Memory to tally with that Book, they have a better Opinion of my Memory than I have of it myſelf; and indeed I am more cautious in my anſwering in that Manner to the Book, becauſe in my Examination before the Commons, I was led to anſwer the Gentlemen that examined, they putting the Queſtions to me that made me think the Facts were as they ought to have been, from the Queſtions put to me: I eſtimated in that Manner; for Inſtance, I was examined in the Houſe of Commons whether there was any Interpreter ſworn at the Time of taking the Affidavits at Lucknow; my Anſwer was, that I did not abſolutely remember an Interpreter being ſworn, but that I had no Doubt an Interpreter was ſworn, becauſe I was ſure I ſhould not have taken the Affidavits except he had been ſworn: The Gentleman who had the Book in his Hand knew very well that no Interpreter was ſworn, becauſe the Affidavits in fact were not interpreted: I was miſled by the Form of the Queſtion to make an Anſwer in that Manner; and ſo I may again.

Q. Do you recollect in whoſe Houſe the French Affidavit was taken?

A. As to the Affidavit, whether it was taken in French, or was tranſlated into Engliſh, I cannot tell; but a Frenchman made the Depoſition at Chunar; poſſibly the Affidavit is not in French: if I had the Book before me, I could certainly tell whether it was or was not.

Q. Whether ſome of the Perſons who depoſed before you, did not ſet their Mark, inſtead of any Signature, to their Depoſitions?

A. I have no Recollection of it, but it very probably was ſo; very few of the Natives, of the common People, do write.

Q. Had you any Reaſon to know that thoſe Perſons who could not write could read?
A. I do not know.

Q. Had you any Reaſon to ſuppoſe it?
A. I had no Reaſon to ſuppoſe that they could or that they could not.

Q. When you found they could not write, why did you not call for their Depoſitions to be read and explained to them in your Preſence, before you ſuffered them to ſwear?
A. I took them as I ſhould any Affidavits in my judicial Capacity; if brought to me by my Clerk or thoſe in whom I had Confidence, I ſhould certainly take the Affidavit without doing it.

Q. Whether you mean to aſſert that you have no Knowledge whatever of the Matter, and the Purport of theſe Affidavits, whether in Engliſh or in the native Language?
A. I mean to be underſtood, that I underſtood the Affidavits which were taken at Lucknow were upon the Subject-matter on which Mr. Haſtings had written to Mr. Middleton; but I mean likewiſe to be underſtood, that I did not know, nor do I now know, what any particular Affidavit contained.

Q. Had you any Converſation with Mr. Middleton reſpecting theſe Affidavits at the Time?
A. I very probably had; it is natural I ſhould; but I have not the leaſt Recollection whether I had or not.

Q. Had you not a Copy of Mr. Haſtings's Letter to Mr. Middleton at that Time?
A. I have ſaid that I had.

Q. Did you read that Letter?
A. I have read that Letter.

Q. Did you obſerve in it, that as to certain Perſons who were to depoſe upon Oath before you, Mr. Middleton is directed "to obtain ſuch Evidence as can be required relative to thoſe Points, "whether ſuch Evidence ſhall aſcertain, or refute, or qualify their Reality (a)."
A. I believe there was ſuch a Paſſage in the Letter.

Q. Do you remember that Paſſage?
A. Yes, I do remember it.

Q. By what Means was you to know whether theſe Affidavits tended to aſcertain, refute, or qualify the Reality of thoſe Points, if you was totally ignorant of the Contents of the Affidavits?
A. I do not know they were Inſtructions to Mr. Middleton; they were no Inſtructions to me.

Q. For what Purpoſe was the Copy of that Letter put into your Hands?
A. That I might know what Inſtructions Mr. Haſtings had given to Mr. Middleton, from whence I was to expect, that no Affidavits, no Depoſitions, would be offered to me, but what related to thoſe Matters.

Q. What do you mean by thoſe Matters?
A. The Matters contained in the Letter written to Mr. Middleton; I was by that Means to know what was the Nature of the Affidavits that were to be taken before me.

Q. Did you not conſider the Letter as a Guide, and Inſtruction for your Conduct?
A. By no Means, I never had the leaſt Idea of it.

Q. Did you not conſider the Letter as informing Mr. Middleton of the Object of your Miſſion to Lucknow?
A. I certainly did; I have ſaid ſo.

Q. Does the Letter ſtate any other Object beſides the taking of the Depoſitions reſpecting the ſuſpected Conduct of the Begums?
A. I really cannot tell; for that Purpoſe I muſt beg Leave to refer to the Letter; I rather believe it does, but I cannot ſay I recollect.

Q. Did you make any Inquiry or any Examination of any Sort reſpecting the Conduct of the Begums, further than receiving thoſe Affidavits?
A. I made myſelf no Party to the Buſineſs; I underſtood myſelf to be a mere Inſtrument to verify Facts; I made no Examination whatever.

Q. While you was at Lucknow did you make any Examination or Inquiry, to ſatisfy your own Mind, with reſpect to the Innocence or Guilt of the Begums?
A. I remember One Circumſtance, if it may be called an Examination, that having proſecuted my Journey through Illahabad, I had a Deſire, for the Purpoſe of ſeeing the Country, to return to Chunar through Fyzabad: I was told by every Body there I could not take that Route, becauſe the Country was not quieted from the Rebellion of the Begums: I do not know that I made any particular Examination; when I was at Chunar I underſtood it to be a Fact as clearly aſcertained as I believe it was in London, in the Year 1745, that there was a Rebellion in the North.

Q. Did

Q. Did Fyzabad lie in your Road from Lucknow to Benares?

A. If I returned by Illahabad it did not; but that Part of the Country which I went through is I believe the moſt diſagreeable Tract in the whole Country of Oude; I had a Deſire, being in thoſe Parts, to ſee more of the Country; it certainly would have been a larger Circuit to have returned by the Way of Fyzabad, but I believe it is by no Means an uncommon Route.

Q. Did you ſee the Nabob while you was at Lucknow?

A. I did.

Q. Had you any Converſation with the Nabob, or his Miniſters, reſpecting this Rebellion of the Begums?

A. Not a Word.

Q. Did you abſtain from ever mentioning that Circumſtance to either of them, from any Motive of Delicacy, or from what Motive?

A. I do not know that I did abſtain from it from any Motive of Delicacy; but I at preſent think I ſhould do it, if I were now in that Country, under the ſame Circumſtances.

Q. Were not thoſe Perſons who were brought to depoſe before you, brought as Perſons who were to confirm the Accuſations againſt the Begums?

A. They were not ſo introduced to me; whether it related particularly to the Begums or to the Tranſactions at Benares, I did not know.

Q. Was not the Object for which you was ſent to Lucknow, to obtain Evidence, either to confirm or to refute the Charge againſt the Begums?

A. I underſtood the Object of my going to Lucknow, ſo far as it related to the Affidavits, to be merely for the Purpoſe of verifying the Facts which were ſtated, or were to be ſtated, as Mr. Haſtings was then writing his Benares Narrative; not particularly for the Purpoſe of vindicating or impeaching the Begums.

Q. Have you not acknowledged to have read Mr. Haſtings's Inſtructions, in which it was expreſsly ſtated, the Object of your Journey was to obtain Evidence, whether it was intended to refute or confirm the Charges againſt the Begums?

A. I ſhould be extremely glad if the Letter itſelf was read; for I am now examined in the Dark. I ſtill believe, when the Letter is read, it will not be found to relate to the Begums only.

Q. The Queſtion is not, whether it was confined to the Begums only; but whether it was to collect ſuch Evidence as ſhould aſcertain or refute, or qualify, the Reality? You have now repeated, that you conſidered the Object of your Journey was the Affidavits to be taken, as a Means of Juſtification of what was to be written in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, or what you call Facts to be eſtabliſhed; and then you ſtate, that the Ground of ſeizing the Treaſures was not the only Object: Now Mr. Haſtings had not, in November, given an Account of the Tranſactions; for, till the January following, he had not written that Account; therefore, at that Time at leaſt, it was not meant to be ſo ſtated?

A. I now underſtand the Tendency of the Queſtion, and am able to give a direct Anſwer; and that is, that the Affidavits were not taken by me with any View whatever to juſtify the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſures of the Begums; they were not taken with the leaſt View towards juſtifying the ſeizing of the Treaſures of the Begums.

Q. How do you know with what View they were taken, when you never told the Deponents what they were to depoſe to, nor ever read to them the Affidavits?

A. I do not ſpeak to the View with which the Witneſſes depoſed, but to the View with which I took the Affidavits; and, if it is as I take it, to the View which I underſtood Mr. Haſtings had in having them taken; that View now, upon my Oath, I poſitively deny.

Q. Then do you remember this Paſſage in the Copy of the Letter, which contained the Inſtructions you received: "Theſe are Facts of ſuch Moment to the Publick Service, and ſo neceſſary "both to the Means which may be required for our future Preſervation, and to the Juſtification "of what has paſſed, and to what may be done to the ſame End, that I think it proper they "ſhould be verified in the moſt authentic and ſacred Manner (a)." Is not that Paſſage in the Letter?

A. I take it for granted it is in the Letter, as the Honourable Manager reads it from the Letter; and ſomething to that Purpoſe I recollect.

Q. Then were not thoſe Affidavits to be the Ground of what was to be done to the ſame End; what did you underſtand from that Paſſage?

A. I did not underſtand that Paſſage to be pointed, that they were meant as a Juſtification of the ſeizing of the Begums Treaſures; I did not then underſtand it, nor do I now underſtand it ſo. The Letter will be before your Lordſhips.

(a) Vide the Letter infra, Page 630.

Q. Did

Q. Did you ever communicate to the Begums, or any Perſons upon their Parts, the Purpoſe and Object of your Journey to Lucknow?

A. I never did, nor did it ever enter into my Mind to do ſo.

Q. Then by what Means were they to have an Opportunity of refuting the Charges againſt them?

A. I did not underſtand theſe to be Charges made againſt them, which they would have been, if they had been for a Juſtification of ſeizing their Treaſures. I underſtood it merely to be, as I have ſaid before, to authenticate the Facts in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, and I had no Idea there was any Occaſion for them to have an Opportunity of refuting them: I was not trying a Queſtion upon Affidavits, I had no Authority to do it, nor ſhould I ever have undertaken ſo to do; theſe were Affidavits meant to be ſent to England, and to be uſed only in England, and therefore could have nothing to do with the Juſtification of ſeizing the Treaſures of the Begums upon the Spot, in any judicial Proceeding there, or as Information to the Nabob.

Q. Then am I now to underſtand, that the Object of your Journey was merely to gather Matter of Accuſation in Defence of Mr. Haſtings, and not any Matter of Exculpation of the Begums?

A. I deſire to be underſtood as going to aſcertain the Facts in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, not for the Purpoſe of any Defence of him, and certainly with no Intention to collect Matter of Exculpation reſpecting the Begums, whom I did not underſtand I went to charge.

Q. You have ſtated, that you adviſed Mr. Haſtings, and thought it material, that he ſhould have Affidavits to aſcertain the Facts relative to the Benares Inſurrection; why did not you think it equally material he ſhould have the ſame Sort of Teſtimony, to aſcertain the Facts relative to the ſuppoſed Rebellion of the Begums?

A. I underſtood from Mr. Haſtings, that the Account of the Rebellion of the Begums was to form a Part of his Narrative; I therefore did think it was neceſſary Mr. Haſtings ſhould authenticate that Rebellion as well as any other Fact. I hope I have not ſaid, that I did not think it was neceſſary for Mr. Haſtings, if he had aſſerted it as a Fact, in the Benares Narrative, that the Begums were in Rebellion, that he ſhould not get the Facts verified as to that Point.

Q. Then you was aware of the Object of the Affidavits?

A. I was aware of the general Tendency, and of that Fact amongſt the reſt.

Q. I underſtand you then to ſay, you was aware that the general Tendency of the Affidavit was, to confirm the Suſpicions or Accuſations againſt the Begums?

A. I did not mean that; nor did I ſay that the general Tendency was to authenticate the Facts in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, and this Fact amongſt the reſt; that it was not the only or the principal Fact, but was one Fact amongſt many.

Q. Have you read the Narrative?

A. I have not.

Q. Then how do you know what is contained in the Narrative?

A. Becauſe Mr. Haſtings had given me an Account of what paſſed at Benares, and I believed that his Narrative would compriſe what he had told me in Converſation. Mr. Haſtings, after he had written his Narrative, gave me a Copy of it; a Gentleman of the Name of Charters, borrowed it of me the next Day, and I never ſaw it afterwards.

Q. Was not the Narrative publiſhed at Calcutta?

A. I believe it was not publiſhed; it was printed at Calcutta, I believe for Mr. Haſtings's Uſe; I do not believe they were put to Sale; they might have been, but I do not know.

Q. Whether Mr. Haſtings ſhewed you any Part of the Papers which he was writing, afterwards called his Narrative, when you ſaw him at Chunar?

A. I think I recollect Mr. Haſtings having the Papers before him, but I do not recollect his having read any to me, or put the Papers into my Hands.

Q. Did you underſtand from Mr. Haſtings, that the Accuſation againſt the Begums of Rebellion, was a Part of that Narrative?

A. At the Time he was talking of writing his Narrative, in the ſame Converſation he mentioned to me the Begums being in Rebellion; I do not recollect his ſpecifically ſaying that was Part of his Narrative, but I expected it to be Part of it, as it was conſequential of the Benares Inſurrection.

Q. I aſk as to the Fact, How did Mr. Haſtings ſtate it to you? you ſay you underſtood thoſe Affidavits to be taken to juſtify the Matters contained in the Narrative, did you underſtand the Narrative contained an Account of the Rebellion of the Begums, as well as an Account of the Benares Inſurrection?

A. That Narrative was not then completed; I did underſtand it would be included in the Narrative; and I now do not know whether it is or is not?

Q. Whether

Q. Whether this Accuſation, which you conceived was to be a Part of the Narrative, was ſo to ſtand in the Narrative, be the Event what it would, of your Journey to Lucknow?

A. No; I expected it would be in the Narrative, and till I was now informed, it was not, I thought, it had been there.

Q. If it was not to depend upon the Information that you was to receive at Lucknow, what did you comprehend or underſtand by that Part of Mr. Haſtings's Inſtructions to Mr. Middleton, that you was to take the Evidence, whether it tended to refute or eſtabliſh the Charges againſt them?

A. If I had the Letter put into my Hand, and was ſuffered to read the Whole of the Letter, I would put ſuch a Conſtruction upon it as ſtrikes me at preſent; but I really do not know what Conſtruction to put upon a Part of the Letter, without knowing the Whole, without ſeeing the Context. I believe it is neceſſary for me to read the Letter to your Lordſhips, and then I believe your Lordſhips will be able to put as good a Conſtruction upon it as I can.

The Letter was ſhewn to the Witneſs, after which he proceeded as follows:

A. I find the Letter turns out to be as I ſuſpected it was; it is not confined to the Affairs of the Begums only.

Then the Letter was delivered in, and read by the Clerk as follows:

"To Mr. Nathaniel Middleton, Lucknow.

"Sir, "Chunar, 15th Nov. 1781.

"In your Letter, dated the 17th Oct. I find it generally aſſerted, by Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, in the Extracts quoted from his Letters, and confirmed by yourſelf, that, during the late Revolt of this Province, Levies, both of Horſe and Foot, were openly made at Fyzabad, both by the Begums and by Cheyt Sing's Agents, in his Name and for hs Uſe; that theſe Levies were diſpatched to Benaris, publickly as his, One Party of 1000 Horſe and Foot, under the Command of Shake Cawn: That Jewar Ally Cawn, in the Chowk of Fyzabad, aſked every Man who bore the Appearance of a Soldier, Why he went not to Cheyt Sing for Service: That Futteh Sah, Ghunooroy, and Ajeet Mul, had croſſed to Majowley, urged to that Step by Cheyt Sing, who had ſupplied them with Money, and promiſed them great Sums, if they would but put the whole Country into Confuſion: That the principal Zemindars had all Certificates under the Seal of Cheyt Sing, that he would ſupply them with whatever Money they might require for ſubſiſting all the Troops they could raiſe; that it was the general Belief of every Man in that Part of the Country, that it was a concerted Plan for the Extirpation of the Engliſh; that the whole Country, from Goonda to Maujee, and from Fyzabad to the Benaris Diſtrict, and acroſs from the Gogra to the Ganges, was in the utmoſt Ferment; that if we met with a Check at Benaris, every Man in the Country was ready to fall on our ſcattered Parties: That the Inſurrection was not partial, but generally ſpread throughout the Whole; and if he (Colonel H.) might truſt to his Information, it was already begun, and would ſoon rage as violently in Shahjehanpoor Rohilcund, Cora, and the Doaub.

"Theſe are Facts of ſuch Moment to the publick Service, and ſo neceſſary both to the Means which may be required for our future Preſervation, and to the Juſtification of what has paſſed, and to what may be done to the ſame End, that I think it proper that they ſhould be verified in the moſt authentick and ſacred Manner; I muſt therefore requeſt and require of you, in my Name, to call upon Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, Major Macdonald, Captain Williams, and Lieutenant Gordon, and every other Perſon who may have a perſonal Knowledge or Underſtanding of theſe Facts, or of any others relating to the Rebellion of Cheyt Sing, and its Connections in the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier, ſeverally to depoſe all that they know and believe concerning the ſame, either on Oath before Sir Elijah Impey, who will inſtantly viſit Lucknow chiefly with this Intention, or that they repair to me at this Place for the ſame Purpoſe.

"Reſpecting the Levies made at Fyzabad, the March of Shake Cawn, with a Force declared for the Service of Cheyt Sing, the publick Invitations of Jewar Ally Cawn, the Certificates under the Seal of Cheyt Sing in the Poſſeſſion of the Zemindars of Goroocpoor and Barraich; his Letters to the Begums or their Miniſters; the Plan concerted for the Extirpation of the Engliſh, I muſt earneſtly recommend it to you to obtain ſuch Evidence as can be * required reſpecting each of theſe Points, whether ſuch Evidence ſhall aſcertain or refute, or qualify their Reality; and, if it be poſſible, to gain Poſſeſſion of the original Letters and Certificates, ſaid to have been written by Cheyt Sing as aboveſaid.

* Sic in Orig.

"You will be careful to aſcertain the Dates and Places of Facts, and the Names and Places and Perſons in the Depoſitions taken, that their Evidence may not be defective or ambiguous from the Want of Preciſion.

† Sic in Orig.

"Reſpecting the Murders ſaid ſaid † to have been committed at Goopeegunge, I have already written to you, and now ſend you a Duplicate of my Letter on that Subject.

"I alſo ſend you the Form of a Caption or Introduction to each Depoſition, of which you will be pleaſed to furniſh Copies to each of the Engliſh Gentlemen, who ſhall have Occaſion for the Uſe of them. The Depoſitions of the native Witneſſes muſt be written in the Language which they underſtood, and muſt be verified on Oath, and ſigned; or if they ſhall object to the Oath as contrary to their religious Tenets, they muſt be required to ſubſcribe ſuch a ſolemn Atteſtation as ſhall be equivalent to the Sanction of an Oath, and add your Signatures to it.

Uſe

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
Warren Haſtings."

Then the Witneſs proceeded as follows:

A. I am deſired to give my Conſtruction of this Paſſage, " Whether ſuch Evidence ſhall aſcertain, or refute, or qualify their Reality:" I underſtand by that, the Reality of all the Facts contained in the firſt Paragraph of the Letter, and it is not entirely confined to the Reality of the Rebellion of the Begums. I was aſked another Queſtion as to theſe Words, " theſe are Facts of ſuch Moment to the publick Service, and ſo neceſſary both to the Means which may be required for our future Preſervation, and to the Juſtification of what has paſſed, and to what may be done to the ſame End, that I think it proper that they ſhould be verified in the moſt authentick and ſacred Manner." I do not underſtand that Paſſage to relate merely to the Seizure of the Treaſures of the Begums, but to ſuch Precautions as ſhould be taken againſt Dangers that might ariſe from the Facts related in the preceding Paragraph, of which that Fact relating to the Begums is only one.

Q. The Queſtion is not, whether it related to all the Facts—but how you was to aſcertain or refute thoſe Charges, unleſs by Inquiry, or knowing the Objects to which the People were to depoſe?

A. I did not underſtand it to be my Buſineſs to refute or aſcertain.—The Honourable Manager refers to the Letter of Inſtructions to Mr. Middleton, who was to produce the Affidavits to refute or aſcertain: My Purpoſe was only to give a Sanction to thoſe Affidavits, let them contain what they would.

Q. You ſay, you do not know who drew any of thoſe Affidavits?

A. I certainly do not at preſent. It is not impoſſible I might at that Time have known; but I have not at preſent the leaſt Recollection that I then did. I have nothing to trace in my Memory from which I ſhould know who drew the Affidavits.

Q. Who introduced to you the Witneſſes that were to depoſe?

A. I believe that moſt of the Witneſſes were introduced by Mr. Middleton or Mr. Johnſon; as well as I can recollect, I had with me no Moonſhy, that is, an Interpreter, nor any Servant who could act in that Capacity.

Q. Then, when any Witneſs was brought to you, without further Queſtions you received the Paper from him, to the Truth of which that Witneſs ſwore?

A. That was, I believe, in general the Manner in which the Affidavits were taken, that Mr. Middleton, or ſome Gentleman on whom I could rely, brought the Perſon who wanted to make that Affidavit before me, and the Paper, and I took the Affidavit.

Q. What did you do with the Affidavits after you had got them all?

A. I believe I delivered them to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Where did you deliver them to him; was it at Lucknow?

A. As well as I recollect, I took the Affidavits into my Cuſtody, and delivered them afterwards to Mr. Haſtings. When the Affidavits were made, I believe I bundled them up and laid them by, and when I went to Chunar I delivered them to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Did you leave any Copies of them at Lucknow with Mr. Middleton?

A. I certainly left no Copies behind of the Affidavits; whether Mr. Middleton had taken Copies before or after, I do not know. I did no Act of leaving Copies behind; if Copies were left, I do not at preſent recollect the Circumſtance; I am pretty ſure I was not applied to for any Copy. I believe, according to the Courſe of the Country, according to their Manner, there never is an original Paper without a Copy. I believe they always make firſt a fair Draft, from whence they make the Original; but there are Gentlemen that have been in that Country, who know it better, but I believe that is the conſtant Manner of the Natives; ſo that there moſt probably were Copies left behind.

Q. Did Mr. Middleton ever expreſs himſelf to you as having ever made any material Diſcovery by theſe Affidavits?

A. I do not recollect ſuch a Circumſtance.

Q. Did either Colonel Hannay, or Captain Gordon, expreſs themſelves to that Purpoſe?

A. I believe not: In point of Fact, I believe all the Facts, or moſt of them, were known before, and that theſe Facts already known were authenticated by Affidavit. That I believe to be the Fact.

Q. Did

Q. Did Hyder Beg the Nabob's Miniſter make any Depoſition before you?
A. I believe he did; but I cannot now ſpeak poſitively, whether he did or not. I think he did, and I think he did not ſwear it; as far as I can recollect he did not ſwear it: The Muſſelmen of a certain Rank do not chuſe to ſwear.

Q. Had you any Converſation with the Nabob's Miniſter Hyder Beg, reſpecting this Rebellion of the Begums?
A. I do not recollect I had; I rather think I had not; and I believe I have before ſaid ſo.

Q. How came you, when you had been taking the Depoſitions, the main Object of which related to the Begums, never to mention the Subject to the Nabob, or to his Miniſters?
A. I had no Doubt that both the Nabob and his Miniſters knew the Fact of my taking Affidavits: With reſpect to the Nabob, I ſhould have thought it indecent to have moved a Converſation upon that Subject, unleſs he had himſelf firſt began it; with reſpect to the Miniſter, I thought if he had choſen to converſe with me upon the Subject, he would have done it: It was no Part of my Buſineſs to examine at all into the Subject; the main Purpoſe was, as I have ſaid over and over again, to authenticate ſuch Facts as the ſeveral Parties choſe to depoſe before me. I certainly made no Inquiry. I made myſelf no Party to the Buſineſs.

Q. Did the Nabob, or any of his Miniſters, never expreſs any Deſire to know the Object of your Journey to Lucknow?
A. No; and according to the Etiquette of the Manners of thoſe People, they certainly never would have made any ſuch Inquiry; they would have thought it indecent to have aſked me any ſuch Queſtion.

Q. How came you to think it not to be material, to inform them the Object of your Journey related to ſo ſerious a Rebellion as you relate to have exiſted?
A. The Object of my Journey was not ſimply that; the Object of my Journey, as I before ſaid, was to urge Mr. Middleton to the Execution of the Treaty of Chunar; through Mr. Middleton, that was communicated to the Nabob and his Miniſters; they did not converſe with me upon the Subject, and I did not think it fit to converſe with them, nor had I any Miſſion to the Nabob or his Miniſters; and the Viſits paid by me to the Nabob and his Miniſters, and by the Nabob and his Miniſters to me, were Viſits only of Ceremony, not of Buſineſs.

Q. Had you, upon your Return to Benares, any, and what, Converſation with Mr. Haſtings, reſpecting the Contents of his Affidavits?
A. I do not know that I had any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject. I delivered to him the Affidavits, and told him, I had taken them as he deſired, or ſomething to that Purpoſe: Upon the Subject Matter of the Affidavits, I am pretty confident I had no Converſation with him.

Q. Whether you did not think it extraordinary, Mr. Haſtings, who ſent you to collect Evidence to refute or aſcertain theſe Charges, ſhould never have ſpoken to you upon the Accompliſhment of your Object?
A. I do not think it at all extraordinary; becauſe if Mr. Haſtings had converſed with me upon the Subject, all I could have told him would have been, that there were the Affidavits, and what they contained I could not tell; poſſibly ſuch a Converſation might have paſſed; but I certainly could not give Mr. Haſtings, at that Time, or at this Time, any Information what thoſe Affidavits contained, whether they did or did not anſwer his Purpoſe, and I for that Reaſon did not think it extraordinary: If I had been to collect the Matter, and to ſegregate it for the Purpoſe of Mr. Haſtings's Juſtification, I ſhould have thought it extraordinary, if Mr. Haſtings had not inquired how I had done it; but as I went ſimply to give a Sanction to the Affidavits, and as the Affidavits had that Sanction, I did not think it at all extraordinary, that Mr. Haſtings ſhould make no Inquiry about them.

Q. Did you hear, when you came back, that the Rebellion at Fyzabad was over, or ſtill exiſted?
A. I cannot charge my Memory, whether I had any Converſation upon the Subject or not: I believe the Rebellion was over; but the Country was not at that Time quiet; becauſe, when I was at Lucknow, I was informed it was not. After I came down to Chunar with the Affidavits, I left Mr. Haſtings within a Day or Two, if not the next Day; very ſoon after I came down to Chunar; I do not recollect having any Converſation upon the Matter with Mr. Haſtings.

Q. You had no Converſation upon the other Rebellion?
A. I do not recollect that I had.

Q. How did you go attended to Lucknow?
A. Is the Queſtion meant to relate to my own Servants, or to the Attendants that met me upon the Road.

Q. Not to thoſe that met you—how did you go from Chunar?

A. I went attended by a Surgeon, a Mr. Murchiſon, and I had one principal Servant with me; and I do not know whether I had above Two or Three others, who are called Hircarrahs; I am not quite ſure whether I had them or not. I went with a very few People indeed. I went with great Expedition, travelling Night and Day.

Q. How came you to paſs through a Country that was in a State of Rebellion, with ſuch few Attendants?

A. I did not go through a Country that was in a State of Rebellion; I went through a Country as ſtill as from here to Brentford, perfectly quiet.

Q. How near to Fyzabad did you paſs?

A. It will appear upon the Map, I believe, a very conſiderable Diſtance indeed, as I apprehend; I do not believe I was ever within Fifty Miles of Fyzabad, or a great Deal more; I believe the Diſtance to be a great Deal more.

Q. Then what did you mean by ſaying Fyzabad was not much out of the Way?

A. What I meant to ſay was this; I was to proceed from Illahabad to Lucknow; it undoubtedly was very much out of my Way; but there is another Road, which is not uncommon, though much about, from Lucknow to Fyzabad, going no Part of the Road that I went to Lucknow.

Q. Through what Place did you mean to go in order to go by Fyzabad?

A. I cannot give an Itinerary, but I was told it was much further about, though a much pleaſanter Country, from Lucknow to Chunar by Fyzabad, than by Illahabad; it may probably be Fifty or Sixty Miles, or more, out of my Way; but I choſe to go that Way to ſee a Country which I might never have an Opportunity of ſeeing again. If I am doubted upon ſo trifling a Buſineſs as this, there are Gentlemen here that know the Fact that I did propoſe to go that Way, and the Anſwer I received.

Q. Where did you propoſe it?

A. At Lucknow, and I believe likewiſe at Chunar; at both Places, I believe. I certainly did wiſh to go that Way originally when I ſet out from Chunar: I was told I could not take that Route, for the Country was in Rebellion when I was at Chunar. I went to Lucknow; I was gone Three Days, and then I returned again to Chunar. I hope I have ſaid nothing to contradict my being at both Places.

Q. You before ſtated you was at Lucknow, and propoſed to return by Fyzabad; and it ſeemed an extraordinary Circumſtance, that as this Rebellion was of ſuch Notoriety, it ſhould never have come to your Knowledge, or you would not have propoſed to go through the Head Quarters of Rebellion: Now, you recollect you made the ſame Propoſition at Lucknow, how long was you at Lucknow that you ſuppoſed the Rebellion was quieted?

A. It is upon no freſh Recollection; I knew of the Circumſtance at the Time when I was giving my Evidence; but I was not examined as to both Places; if I had been, I ſhould have given the Anſwer I have, and I hope the Honourable Manager will refrain from throwing out Reflections againſt my Teſtimony when there is no Cauſe; my Recollection is not refreſhed; and it is the more extraordinary, that the Honourable Managers ſhould chuſe to fling out thoſe Reflections upon me, becauſe they know I ſtand in thoſe Circumſtances, that if I choſe it I might decline giving any Anſwer at all. I was not examined upon my former Examination to both Places, or otherwiſe I ſhould have given the ſame Evidence.

Q. You have ſtated, the Rebellion of the Begums to have been a Matter of as much Notoriety as the Rebellion in 1745 in London; and ſo ſtating it, you ſay, you propoſed going through Fyzabad, when you was told that it was dangerous going that Way; that you did not go there, but to Lucknow, and, after ſtaying only Three Days there, propoſed to return by Fyzabad: How do you account for that?

A. I will account for it: When I ſpoke of the Rebellion, talked of at Chunar as a Matter of as much Notoriety as the Rebellion in 1745, I talked not of an exiſting Rebellion at that Time, but of a Rebellion that had exiſted in conſequence of the Troubles in Benares. I underſtood at that Time that the Rebellion, ſuch as it was, was quelled, but that the Country was not quieted; and I believe I can give your Lordſhips further Satisfaction that this muſt have been my Meaning, becauſe I delivered in a Letter to the Houſe of Commons, dated the 6th of October, which I received from Mr. Haſtings, who then mentioned the Troubles that had been at Fyzabad; and, in that Letter, he ſays, "he hopes the Nabob, by going through Fyzabad, will quiet thoſe Troubles," ſo it was the Rebellion that was paſt: The Honourable Managers are in Poſſeſſion of that Letter, and therefore muſt have known that I did not mean a Rebellion actually exiſting.

Q. There is no Objection to your correcting your former Anſwer; but you undoubtedly did ſtate, that you underſtood at Lucknow that the Rebellion then exiſted?

A. If my Evidence is ſo, I ſhould be glad to be corrected: If I did, it was not my Intention: It could not poſſibly be my Intention. I ſhould be glad to be corrected.

Then the following Queſtion and Anſwer were read over to the Witneſs:

Q. While you was at Lucknow, did you make any Examination or Enquiry to ſatisfy your own Mind, with reſpect to the Innocence or Guilt of the Begums?

A. I remember one Circumſtance, if it may be called an Examination, that, having proſecuted my Journey through Illihabad, I had a Deſire, for the Purpoſe of ſeeing the Country, to return to Chunar through Fyzabad. I was told by every Body there I could not take that Route, becauſe the Country was not quieted from the Rebellion of the Begums: I do not know that I made any particular Examination; when I was at Chunar I underſtood it to be a Fact, as clearly aſcertained as, I believe, it was in London, in the Year 1745, that there was a Rebellion in the North.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Am I now to underſtand you, that Mr. Haſtings did not ſtate to you, when you left Chunar, that the Begums were then in actual Rebellion?

A. I do not recollect he told me ſo.

Q. Whether, in your Examination before the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, you did not make this Anſwer:—"When he communicated to me in Calcutta his Intentions with Regard to "Cheit Sing, I declined giving an Opinion at all, becauſe I could not take upon me a ſufficient "Knowledge of the Laws of the Country to adviſe whether that Act was legal or not. But with "regard to the Begums, I told him, if the Fact he ſtated were true, namely, that the Begums were "in actual Rebellion, I conſidered it to be neceſſary to the Exiſtence of the Government of the "Nabob Vizier, that he ſhould have the Power of taking from his Subjects in Rebellion thoſe "Treaſures which enabled them to ſupport their Rebellion."

A. I certainly do remember it; but I do not know, that that ties it up to the Begums being then in actual Rebellion, becauſe I take the Doctrine to be as true, that after a Rebellion has ceaſed, the Prince of the Country might as lawfully take thoſe Treaſures which had enabled the Perſons to ſupport the Rebellion; I certainly, whatever the Expreſſion may be, never did underſtand, at the Time I was at Lucknow, that the Begums were then in actual Rebellion, becauſe I had then almoſt poſitive Evidence to the contrary; and the Reports were that they had been in Rebellion, Mr. Haſtings' Letter of the 6th of October ſaying, he expected the Nabob's Journey through Fyzabad would quiet that Country, at that Time I conceived that the Rebellion had ceaſed, though not the Conſequences.

Q. When did you underſtand the Rebellion to have ceaſed, and how?

A. I do not know the preciſe Time when the Rebellion ceaſed, nor do I know how it ceaſed; but I apprehend it to have ceaſed on the Turn in Favour of the Engliſh Army.

Q. Did you ever hear of any Battle fought, or any Troops marching againſt the Begums, or of any Blows ſtruck in this Rebellion any where?

A. No, I never did: but I have heard, by Report, that they raiſed Troops for Cheit Sing.

Q. Did you hear by Report, that, at the Time they were accuſed of being in Rebellion, they had preſerved a Britiſh Officer and his Detachment?

A. I have heard it, but when, I cannot tell; I rather believe I did not hear it while I was at Chunar, but I am not ſure.

Q. Did you hear it at Lucknow?

A. I am not ſure whether I did or not, it is very probable I might hear it at Chunar; at the ſame Time, with the Conſtruction put upon the Act, I did not conceive it to be an amicable Act to the Engliſh.

Q. What was the Conſtruction you heard put upon it?

A. That it was done merely for the Purpoſe of temporizing.

Q. Did you not think it extraordinary, that Colonel Hannay, or Captain Gordon, ſhould have made no mention of it in their Depoſitions?

A. Till I heard, by the Evidence delivered at this Bar, that they had not made mention of it in their Affidavit, I did not know the Fact; and ſuch an Opinion (if I had any Opinion upon the Subject) muſt have been gathered within theſe Two or Three Days, and from exactly the ſame Materials that your Lordſhips have before you.

Q. Did you ever, directly or indirectly, diſcourſe with Mr. Middleton, Colonel Hannay, or Captain Gordon, upon the Subject Matter of their Affidavits?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection, I never had any Converſation with them upon the Subject; but it is not impoſſible but I ſhould, for, as well as I can remember, the Affidavits of Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon were taken in the Tent of Colonel Hannay, who gave a large Entertainment to me and the Gentlemen at Lucknow; it is very probable, at Dinner, there might have been ſuch Converſation, but I never had any private Converſation with them upon the Subject; I might have heard them, in common Converſation, mention what the Matter of their Affidavits were. The Honourable Managers ſeem totally to go upon different Principles from what I do: I acted merely as an Inſtrument to authenticate the Affidavits, I did not at all concern myſelf with the Subject Matter of them.

Q. Did you give any further Advice upon the Subject to Mr. Haſtings, after your Return to Chunar?

A. I do not recollect that I did; all the Advice I could give upon the Subject, I believe I had before given, when I adviſed the Affidavits to be taken upon the Subject; I do not recollect having given any further Advice.

Q. Had you no further Communication with Mr. Haſtings after your Return, reſpecting the Seizure of the Treaſure?

A. I believe no further Communication with Mr. Haſtings, than having acquainted him with what paſſed between Mr. Middleton and me, and having a Communication of a Letter or two that Mr. Middleton wrote to me upon the Subject, which I communicated to Mr. Haſtings; I think no other. Mr. Haſtings was at Chunar, I believe I might almoſt ſay without a Secretary. Mr. Anderſon, his confidential Agent, at that Time was gone to Scindia's Camp; Mr. Sullivan, his private Secretary, had left him, and returned into the Province of Bahar. I believe at that Time Mr. Haſtings had no very confidential Friend nor private Secretary with him. Mr. Davy, who afterwards became his confidential Secretary, had not been introduced to him, at that Time, a Week. Major Davy came up with me when I went to Benares, and I myſelf introduced him to Mr. Haſtings: He came from Lord Macartney, from Madraſs: Under thoſe Circumſtances, and my having Converſation with Mr. Middleton with regard to the Buſineſs of the Chunar Treaty and the Begums, Mr. Haſtings deſired me to write to Mr. Middleton, which I did.

Q. Was not Mr. Hay with Mr. Haſtings there?
A. I believe not; I do not recollect.

Q. Was not Major Palmer?

A. I think not. I doubt whether I ſaw Major Palmer during any Part of the Time I was there; and as to Mr. Hay, I did not underſtand him, if he was there, to have been the confidential Secretary of Mr. Haſtings. I believe he was in the publick Office as Secretary; but I believe he was not a particular confidential Perſon of Mr. Haſtings. I am pretty ſure Mr. Hay was not there.

Q. Did you not continue to correſpond with Mr. Middleton upon the Subject of the Begums till January following, or February.

A. I believe I did, and very probably further.

Q. Did you communicate all the Letters you received from Mr. Middleton upon the Subject to Mr. Haſtings?

A. I certainly did.

Q. Did you write Anſwers to Mr. Middleton by Mr. Haſtings's Directions?

A. I wrote nothing to Mr. Middleton upon the Subject, which I did not underſtand to be dictated by Mr. Haſtings. I do not know that I wrote them when Mr. Haſtings was preſent; but I wrote what I underſtood to be the Matter Mr. Haſtings wiſhed to have communicated to Mr. Middleton.

Q. What do you mean by this Paſſage, in a Letter dated the 1ſt of December 1781, from Chunargur: "What we talked of concerning the Begums he highly approves, and would have 'himſelf adviſed. He wiſhes it to be done immediately. I need not mention the Neceſſity of 'taking Care that the Money be applied to the Company's Uſe."—Do you remember this Paſſage?

A. I do.

Q. What was the Object of it?

A. The Object of that Paſſage I take to be the ſeizing of the Treaſures of the Begums.

Q. Did you not underſtand that when the Nabob conſented to the ſeizing of the Treaſure, it was as an Alternative in Lieu of ſeizing the Jaghires?

A. I have not the leaſt Recollection of ſuch an Alternative.

Q. Was it upon account of the ſuppoſed Rebellion of the Begums, that the Treaſures were to be ſeized.

A. I underſtood ſo.

Q. When did you firſt hear of any Attempt made to reſume the Jaghires?
A. I cannot aſcertain the Dates and Times; I have no Memorandum concerning it.

Q. Do you remember this Paſſage in a Letter from Mr. Middleton to you, dated Lucknow the 19th of December 1781.—"I think the Oppoſition the Begum has given to the Meaſure of "reſuming the Jaghire, which as far as it concerns her, bears not the Shadow of Exception, as ſhe

"is

" is to receive the Value in ready Money, will be a full Juſtification of the further Demands his " Excellency has to make upon her."—Do you know any thing of that Paſſage?

A. I believe there is ſuch a Paſſage in a Letter from Mr. Middleton to me.

Q. Do you not ſee, it is here admitted, that the Ground of ſeizing the Treaſures was the ſuppoſed Reſiſtance to giving up the Jaghires, when ſhe was to be no Sufferer by it, and there was no mention of a Rebellion?

A. In the Paſſage read there is certainly no mention of any Rebellion, and from that Paſſage it would certainly ſo appear; but that is Mr. Middleton's Senſe, and not mine.

Q. Then, did you underſtand that Mr. Middleton was ignorant of the Rebellion when he was at Lucknow?

A. I apprehend not, becauſe Mr. Middleton had mentioned the Rebellion to me, but I apprehend by this, Mr. Middleton was pointing out Two Cauſes for ſeizing the Treaſures, a Cauſe in Addition to the Rebellion.

Q. Whether you did not think the Rebellion a ſufficient Juſtification by itſelf for ſeizing the Treaſures, without any Second Cauſe?

A. I did not think the Second Cauſe had any Thing to do with it, I thought only of the Rebellion.

Q. Did you not, in Point of Fact, know there had been no Attempt to reſume the Jagheers, and conſequently no Reſiſtance to it, on the 19th of December?

A. I knew nothing but what I received by Information from Mr. Middleton; I thought his Letters contained the Truth, and that there had been an Attempt to reſume the Jagheers; if there was not that Attempt to reſume the Jagheers, I now learn it for the Firſt Time.

Q. Had you a regular Communication from Mr. Middleton reſpecting the Progreſs of the Tranſaction of ſeizing the Treaſures?

A. I believe Mr. Middleton did give me a regular Communication of the Progreſs of it, but I cannot be anſwerable for the Truth of it.

Then the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to Sir Elijah Impey, ſigned Nathaniel Middleton, was delivered in and read.

" Dear Sir Elijah, " Fazabad, the 25th January 1782.

" I have the Satisfaction to inform you that we have at Length ſo far attained the great Object of our Expedition to this Place, as to commence on the Receipt of Money, of which in the Courſe of this Day we have got about Six Lacks. I know not yet what Amount we ſhall actually realize, but I think I may ſafely venture to pronounce it will be equal to the Liquidation of the Company's Balance. It has been at once the moſt important and the moſt difficult Point of Duty which has ever occurred in my Office, and the Anxiety, the Hopes, and Fears, which have alternately agitated my Mind cannot be deſcribed or conceived but by thoſe who have been Witneſs to what has paſſed in the Courſe of this long Conteſt. The Miniſters have ſupported me nobly throughout the Buſineſs, and deſerve much Commendation; without the ſhrewd Diſcernment, and Knowledge of the Fineſſe and Tricks of the Country, which Hyder Beg Cawn poſſeſſes, I believe we ſhould have ſucceeded but indifferently; for I ſoon found that no real Advantage was to be obtained by proceeding at once to violent Extremities with the Begum, and that ſhe was only to be attacked through the Medium of her confidential Servants, who it required conſiderable Addreſs to get hold of; however, we at laſt effected it, and by uſing ſome few Severities with them we at Length came at the ſecret Hoards of this old Lady. I will write you more Particulars hereafter.

" I am ſorry to inform you my little Boy ſtill continues in a very precarious Way, though ſomewhat better than when I had laſt the Honour to addreſs you.

" My Reſpects to Lady Impey, and believe me with great Regard,
My dear Sir Elijah,
Your faithful, obliged, and
moſt affectionate humble Servant,
" Nathaniel Middleton."

" Sir E. Impey.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. From your Knowledge of the Whole of theſe Circumſtances, and your Communication with Mr. Middleton at Lucknow, to what did you attribute the Anxiety, Hopes, and Fears, which Mr. Middleton ſays had alternately agitated his Mind?

A. I can know it no otherwiſe than from what Mr. Middleton relates in this Letter. I take it thoſe Anxieties, Hopes, and Fears, had ariſen from his not being ſure he ſhould effectually ſeize the Treaſure.

Q. What did Mr. Middleton mean by theſe Words, " The Miniſters have ſupported me nobly throughout the Buſineſs?"

A. I

A. I think in ſome Part of Mr. Middleton's Correſpondence he had ſaid, the Nabob himſelf had been, averſe to the Meaſure, after having undertaken it, and the Miniſters had upheld Mr. Middleton in it; but I know nothing of it but from the Letters.

Q. Againſt the Will of the Nabob?
A. That I believe was againſt the Will of the Nabob.

Q. Do you not know yourſelf, that the Nabob was averſe to the Meaſure?
A. I certainly did not know that he was averſe to the Meaſure; and I ſhould rather have thought otherwiſe, and that at any Time, without any Pretence of Rebellion, he would have been glad to ſeize the Treaſures of the Begums: That was my Opinion. When I firſt went to Calcutta, or very ſoon afterwards, there was a large Quantity of the Effects of the Begums at Sale in the Settlement, which had been ſeized by the Nabob; and, as I then underſtood, if the Engliſh Government had not interfered, he would at that Time have ſeized the Whole of the Treaſures of the Begums; but I think it is right for me likewiſe to ſay, from whom I had that Intelligence: That Intelligence I had from Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Did you ever require any Explanation from Mr. Middleton of theſe Paſſages?
A. I believe never; I thoroughly underſtood them, and therefore did not require an Explanation.

Q. You have ſtated, that you had no Knowledge yourſelf that the Meaſure of reſuming the Jagheers had not been attempted, at the Time they reſolved to ſeize the Treaſures; the Reſiſtance to the reſuming of the Jagheers was mentioned in one Place as a Second Cauſe, and Ground for ſeizing the Treaſures; how do you underſtand the following Paſſage in a Letter from Mr. Middleton to you, dated Lucknow, the 5th December 1781: "The Meaſure reſpecting the Begums, "and the Reſumption of the Jagheers, will be inſtantly adopted. The latter has only been ſuſ-"pended for the Governor's Sentiments on the former, as the Jagheers of the Begums and their "Dependants are the moſt conſiderable, and to have attacked them, without being prepared at the "ſame Time to enter immediately on the Execution of the grand Deſign, would have been doing "Things by Halves, and poſſibly have defeated our Expectations." Now, what did you underſtand to be the grand Deſign?

A. I certainly underſtood the grand Deſign to be the ſeizing of the Begums Treaſures, and, from this Letter now read to me, I do collect that they had not before attempted to ſeize the Jagheers.

Q. Then, the Account of the ſuppoſed Reſiſtance to reſuming the Jagheers could have been no Ground for ſeizing the Treaſures?
A. Undoubtedly not, if there had been no Attack upon the Jagheers. Mr. Middleton may explain it, I cannot: Thoſe Letters were delivered in to the Houſe of Commons Twelve Months ago: It is ſo many Years ſince I received them I certainly do not carry the Contents of them in my Mind.

Q. There is another Paſſage:—"Do not, my dear Sir Elijah Impey, ſuffer this Delay to "be urged or conſidered as an Imputation of Blame upon me: I entered on the Buſineſs "the very Day after you left me, and went ſo far as to look upon the Matter as finally agreed "upon, the actual Execution only ſuſpended, until I could receive either yours or the Governor's "Sentiments upon the further Propoſal, which is certainly of far greater Conſequence than the "Reſumption of the Jagheers, as it will do at one Stroke, if we are not all groſsly miſtaken, "what the Jagheers will be at leaſt Two Years in doing." What did you underſtand was to be done at one Stroke?
A. I underſtood that to be the ſeizing of the Treaſures of the Begums; and Mr. Middleton repreſents that it would raiſe a greater Sum: It is impoſſible for me to do otherwiſe than refer to the Letters, becauſe it could not be a Matter within my Knowledge.

Q. Are you now convinced, that the ſuppoſed Oppoſition to the Reſumption of the Jagheers was not any Cauſe of ſeizing the Treaſures; were the Treaſures ſeized on Account of the Rebellion?
A. Till I hear how Mr. Middleton explains that, I certainly cannot be convinced upon the Subject; if I was to know no more than I read from this Letter, I ſhould think there had been no Attempt to ſeize the Jagheers.

The Houſe informed the Managers for the Commons, that the Opinion of the Witneſs, upon a Matter not within his own Knowledge, was no Evidence.

Q. What, to your Knowledge, were the Grounds of ſeizing the Treaſures, beſides what you collected from your Correſpondence with Mr. Middleton?
A. I never knew of any other Grounds for ſeizing the Treaſures; I certainly had read this in Mr. Middleton's Letter; but a real Ground for ſeizing the Treaſures, juſtifiable in my Mind, I never knew, except the Circumſtance of the Rebellion.

Q. Do

Q. Do you mean a Rebellion before you ſaw Mr. Haſtings at Chunar, or a Rebellion ſubſequent to that Time?

A. I do not call the Reſiſtance to ſeizing the Jaghires, if there were ſuch, a Rebellion; I mean the Rebellion at the Time I ſaw Mr. Haſtings. When I ſpeak of Rebellion, I do not mean the Reſiſtance to ſeizing the Jagheers.

Q. Did you underſtand, from Mr. Haſtings, and from the Communication you had with him upon the Subject, that that was the Ground and Cauſe of the ſeizing of the Treaſures?

A. I certainly did.

Read, from Book 29, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Letter from the Board at Calcutta to the Court of Directors, dated Fort William, 11th February 1782.

"Fort William, 11th February 1782.

"Par. 7. The juſt Grounds of Suſpicion which had been given to the Nabob, by the Begum and other principal Jaghyrdars in his Country, by the Symptoms of Diſaffection, and even Treachery diſplayed in their Conduct, made it an Object of ſerious Conſideration with him to take the firſt Opportunity which ſhould offer, conſiſtent with Juſtice, to diſpoſſeſs them of the Means of becoming injurious to his Authority; and the Neceſſities of his Government requiring extraordinary Aid, he reſolved to take this Occaſion of depriving them of thoſe extenſive Jaghyrs, which enabled them to become troubleſome, by the Revenues which they yielded, and the Number of Dependents neceſſarily retained for their Collection and Defence, and to reſume the Lands, allowing Penſions to the Jaghyrdars, in Lieu of the Revenues.

"Par. 8. As the Reſident at Lucknow had been made Guarantee to an Agreement, formerly executed between the Nabob and the Begum, in which he had engaged for a ſpecific Sum of Money, to deſiſt from all further Claims upon her, it was neceſſary for him to acquire the Sanction of this Government to his Intentions, before he could carry them into Execution, which the Infidelity of the Begum gave but too much Reaſon to grant. You will find this Meaſure provided for in the new Treaty (a), concluded with the Nabob by the Governor General, at Chunar, on the 19th September laſt.

"(a) Vide Nº. 1 & 2 of the firſt Part of the Appendix to the Governor General's Narrative."

"Par. 9. On the Firſt Attempt made by the Nabob to carry this Plan into Execution againſt the Begum, ſhe determined to reſiſt his Authority, and raiſed a Revolt by the Means of her Eunuchs, Jewer Ally Cawn and Behar Ally Cawn, who had collected a Force of about 5000 Men in Order to ſet the Nabob at Defiance. Notice of this Second Inſurrection having been tranſmitted by the Reſident, without Loſs of Time, to the Governor General at Banares, he immediately ordered a large Detachment to march from Campore, and the Nabob reſolved to go in Perſon to Fyzabad; on his Arrival there, by the Aſſiſtance of our Troops, he took Poſſeſſion of the Kella; and the Eunuchs, ſeeing it would be in vain to make a ſtand when ſuperior Forces were expected, ſurrendered themſelves Priſoners to the Nabob, and their Followers diſperſed.

"Par. 10. In Order to puniſh the Begum for this daring ill Conduct, and to put it out of her Power to apply the Treaſures which ſhe had amaſſed, to the Purpoſe of raiſing further Commotions in the Country, the Nabob reſolved to ſeize her Wealth, which by the Mahomedan Laws he was intituled to, as an Inheritance from his Father, who in the latter Years of his Life had committed his Treaſury wholly to her Charge, and it had remained with her after his Death.

(Signed at the End.)

Warren Haſtings.
Ed. Wheler.
John Macpherſon (a)."

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Whether this Account, of your own certain Knowledge, is not wholly falſe?

A. I know this, that the Reaſon aſſigned to me for ſeizing the Treaſures, was the Rebellion of the Begums; whether any other Cauſes mixed in Mr. Haſtings's Mind, I cannot tell, but he did not communicate more to me.

Q. Did you not carry Mr. Haſtings's Pleaſure, reſpecting the Seizing of the Treaſures, in November 1782, to Lucknow?

A. I certainly did.

Q. Then, could any Thing that happened in January, have been the Reaſon for the Determination of Mr. Haſtings, which you carried to Lucknow in November?

A. No; certainly not.

Q. Whether you did not ſay, in your Opinion, the Rebellion was the only juſtifiable Cauſe of the Seizure of the Begums Treaſure, or ſomething to that Effect?

A. It certainly appears to me ſo at preſent.

(a) Vide Appendix, Nº LIV.

Q. Then, if the Rebellion appeared to be the only juſtifiable Cauſe of ſeizing thoſe Treaſures, how came you to be indifferent about the Subject Matter of the Affidavits, which were to eſtabliſh and authenticate that Fact of the Rebellion, ſo much ſo as not to have read them, or cauſed them to be read to you?

A. I had no more Indifference to thoſe Affidavits, nor had I any more Cauſe to look at thoſe Affidavits, than any Affidavits that ſhould be taken before me in a judicial Capacity—and I believe ſome of your Lordſhips know it is not cuſtomary for the Perſon who authenticates an Affidavit to examine into the Contents of it—Had I been, as I ſaid before, to ſegregate Matter for Mr. Haſtings's Defence, or to accuſe the Begums, I undoubtedly ought to have ſeen what the Matters of the Affidavits were; but as I went only for the Purpoſe of giving my Signature, and tendering the Oath to the Perſon who made the Affidavit, I did not conceive myſelf then, nor do I now conceive myſelf, (and I am now upon Oath) in the leaſt intereſted whether the Matter of theſe Affidavits was true or falſe, or whether they were, or were not, relevant to Mr. Haſtings's Narrative.

Q. The Queſtion was not, whether you had any perſonal Intereſt in it, but whether you acted in a judicial Character, or in the Character of Mr. Haſtings's confidential Secretary, Friend, and Adviſer, in the Article of taking the Affidavits?

A. I certainly had no Pretence to act in a judicial Capacity; I did act as the Adviſer of Mr. Haſtings; but I muſt diſtinguiſh the Caſe, from the Act of taking the Affidavits: In the Act of taking the Affidavits, I was not the Adviſer of Mr. Haſtings, I was then the ſimple Inſtrument to authenticate them.

Q. In what Character was you the ſimple Inſtrument of authenticating the Affidavits?

A. In no official Character whatever, but as a Man known to bear a great Office, and therefore it was ſuppoſed my taking the Affidavits would give a Weight to them.

Q. Whether or no you conceive that a Man in a great Office giving an Atteſtation to Affidavits, which he never read, and which were never read to him, would give any Weight to any Juſtification?

A. I think it would give a Weight to the only Effect that I wiſhed to have the Weight given; namely, to the Fact that thoſe Affidavits had been ſworn: That was all I meant to authenticate—the Fact of ſwearing.

Q. Whether you did not adviſe the taking of thoſe Affidavits?

A. I have ſaid before that I did.

Q. For what End or Purpoſe did you deſire them to be taken?

A. I have ſaid before, and, if it is deſired, I will repeat it again: It was for the Purpoſe of authenticating the Fact of the Narrative which Mr. Haſtings was then writing.

Q. Did you not adviſe ſuch Meaſures to be taken, upon the Suppoſition of the Fact of that Rebellion?

A. If the Queſtion means the taking of the Affidavits, I certainly did not do it upon the Idea of the Rebellion exiſting, but ſimply to authenticate the Facts in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative. If the Queſtion means the Advice, if that is to be called Advice, which I delivered to Mr. Haſtings, as my Opinion concerning the ſeizing the Treaſure, that undoubtedly was upon Account of the Rebellion.

Q. Whether, when a Meaſure of ſuch Conſequence to the Publick, and to Mr. Haſtings's Fame and Character, was recommended by you, you did not think ſuch a Matter as his Juſtification required ſomething elſe, than the Atteſtation of a mere Fact, that ſome Affidavits were ſworn?

A. I apprehended the Facts that would be ſworn in the Affidavits were material, and that they would be material; and that it was material the Fact of their having been ſworn ſhould be aſcertained. If I had ſuppoſed that the Affidavits contained nothing to the Purpoſe, moſt undoubtedly the mere Fact of having ſworn the Affidavits would have been of no Conſequence; that depended upon the Subject Matter of the Affidavits.

Q. Did it not appear to you, to be your Duty, in the Office you had voluntarily undertaken, to take care that the Affidavits were not nugatory?

A. I believe I have anſwered, at leaſt Ten Times, to the Subſtance of that Queſtion already. I moſt undoubtedly did not think it any Part of my Province; I never undertook it ſo: It is a Miſ-ſtatement to ſay I undertook that.

Q. Then, if you did not undertake to ſee whether the Affidavits were nugatory or relevant, upon what Ground did you adviſe Mr. Haſtings to place them in a Defence, which was to juſtify his Conduct to the People of this Country?

A. I will again ſtate to your Lordſhips what I ſaid before, which was, that Mr. Haſtings was writing a Narrative of Facts; that in the Diſpoſition of the People of England, I doubted whether they would give Credit merely from his writing them: I therefore adviſed, that the Facts, whether material or immaterial, ſhould be authenticated by Affidavit.

Q. Did you adviſe him to place them in this Narrative?
A. I did adviſe that they ſhould be annexed to his Narrative.

Q. Do you mean to aſſert that you were indifferent, whether they were applicable to that Narrative or not, or whether they might not tend to hurt him, as well as to ſerve him?

A. I thought, and verily believed, that Mr. Haſtings, in his Narrative, meant to conform to Truth, and that Truth I wanted to be authenticated, whether it made for or againſt him; or, in Mr. Haſtings's own Words, in his Letter to Mr. Middleton, whether they realiſed or refuted the Fact.

Q. Do you conſider Mr. Haſtings's Narrative to be a mere Narrative, ſtating Facts with an Indifference as to the Effect of them, or as a Juſtification and an Apology for Mr. Haſtings?

A. I moſt undoubtedly underſtood that Mr. Haſtings was writing a Narrative which he intended for an Apology.

Q. Whether you was not examined to the following Effect in the Houſe of Commons, and whether you did not give the following Anſwer?

Then the Minutes of a Committee of the Houſe of Commons were delivered in. Read, the following Extract, beginning at Page 26 of the ſame.

"Jovis, 1° Februarii 1787.

"In a Letter, of the 6th December 1781, Page 3, from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Haſtings, there is this Sentence, 'Your Pleaſure reſpecting the Begums I have learned from Sir Elijah, and 'the Meaſure heretofore propoſed will ſoon follow the Reſumption of the Jaghiers.' To whom do the Words 'heretofore propoſed' refer?

"By hearing the Letter read, I refer it to a Propoſal made by Mr. Haſtings, through me, to Mr. Middleton.

"What was the Nature of the Propoſal?

"I take it to allude to what I have before mentioned, the Intention of Mr. Haſtings to have the Effects of the Begums confiſcated on Account of their Rebellion.

"Do you mean, by ſaying Mr. Haſtings intended to have the Begum's Effects confiſcated, that it was to grant his, Mr. Haſtings's, Conſent to the Nabob's doing it?

"I underſtood more; I underſtood it was Mr. Haſtings's Intention Mr. Middleton ſhould recommend it to the Nabob as a Meaſure."

Read, alſo, the following Extract, beginning at Page 28 of the ſaid Minutes.

"Did Mr. Middleton inform you the Begums were then actually in Rebellion?

"I will not take upon me preciſely to ſay that he informed me that the Begums were then in actual Rebellion; but that they informed me the Route by Fyzabad was unſafe on account of the State of the Country in conſequence of their Rebellion, which, to my Object of returning, was the ſame Thing.

"Did you often ſee the Nabob Vizier?

"I think I ſaw him Three or Four Times.

"Did you ever converſe with the Nabob on the Object of your Journey to Lucknow?

"There were ſeveral Objects of my Journey to Lucknow; I cannot ſay I never mentioned any of them, but I do not recollect that I did; and I am ſure I never converſed with him on the Subject of the Begums. Mr. Haſtings had never deſired me, and I ſhould have thought it impertinent and indelicate.

"Then the Nabob never mentioned to you that his Parents were in actual Rebellion againſt him?

"He certainly never did; but it is not to be inferred from thence that they were not, as we had no Converſation upon the State of the Country, of the Treaty of Benaris, or any of the preceding Tranſactions.

"Did you ever inform the Nabob that you had taken Depoſitions, while at his Court, tending to accuſe his Mother and Grandmother?

"I did not; but the Nabob muſt have known, becauſe his Miniſter made a Depoſition; I had no Doubt it was well known to the Nabob.

"What Miniſter?

"Hyder Beg Cawn.

" When did Hyder Beg Cawn make that Depoſition?

" I have not the leaſt Recollection; I believe it to have been in a Tent at Colonel Hannay's Quarters, or it might have been in the Houſe of Major Martin, where I lodged; but within the Court of the Nabob, I never took a Depoſition. I am inclined, upon Recollection, to think it was at Major Martin's.

" What became of that Depoſition?

" I do not recollect any Thing particular of that Depoſition, but believe it went with the reſt.

" Are you ſure that Depoſition ever mentioned the Begum's Name, or contains the leaſt Alluſion to it?

" I am by no Means ſure of it, for I never read it or heard it; I was not taking Depoſitions merely againſt the Begums; I do not know whether one of the Depoſitions went to the Begums; and if I had informed the Nabob, I was about taking Depoſitions againſt the Begums, I might, for what I know, have informed him falſe; for I did not know the Fact.

" Then, what do you mean by ſaying, you are convinced that the Nabob knew his Mother and Grandmother were accuſed—becauſe the Miniſter had made a Depoſition declaring it, at the ſame Time that you are wholly ignorant of the Contents of all the Depoſitions?

" If upon my Evidence I have ſaid ſo, I am glad the Queſtion has given me an Opportunity of explaining it; for I meant no ſuch Thing.—I aſk Pardon for not having obſerved the Queſtion was narrowed to Depoſitions againſt the Begums: I underſtood it went to taking Depoſitions generally."

Read, alſo, the following Extract, from Page 31 of the ſaid Minutes.

" On what Ground are you ſo confident that thoſe Depoſitions are in Print; and that the Dates, Names, and Places, are upon them; you never having read them?

" Becauſe I ſaw the Captions and Signatures of all the Affidavits, and the Dates.

" Did you never hear them read to you?

" I do not recollect that I did; ſome may have been read to me, but it was not the Courſe to read them; I took them as Juſtices of the Peace in England take Affidavits.

" Are you ſure that a conſiderable Number of them, were not deliberately read to you?

" I am by no Means ſure; very probably they were; at this Diſtance of Time I cannot recollect. I only mean, that I did not requeſt them to be read to me; if they choſe to read them to me, I probably heard them.

" Then, if they were read to you, and you heard them, muſt you not have been miſtaken in declaring, that you never had any Knowledge of the Contents of them?

" I acknowledge the Concluſion; but I have no Remembrance whether any of them were read to me; and I am ſure I do not know the Contents of them.

" Do you recollect whether or not, when the Depoſitions were in the Perſian or Hindoo Language, that they were tranſlated by Major Davy, ſigned in Engliſh, and the Contents explained to the Deponents?

" Very poſſibly it may be ſo, but I have not the leaſt Recollection of the Fact; the Explanation of the Contents might have been in my Preſence, or not; if it was expreſſed to be done in my Preſence, it undoubtedly was ſo.

" Whether you have ſet your Name to an Affidavit, purporting to be ſworn before you, the Contents being firſt explained to the Deponent, without the Contents having been explained in your Preſence?

" It requires a Knowledge of both Languages, to know whether an Interpreter explains right or no; without that Knowledge, the Interpreter muſt be credited, and I have no Doubt may; I am ſure the Interpreter was ſworn, and in that Caſe I ſhould ſo have ſigned it.

" Do you mean, you would have ſigned ſuch a Depoſition, without requiring the Interpreter to explain the Depoſition to the Deponent, at the Time he made the Affidavit?

" Certainly, upon aſking the ſworn Interpreter, whether he had interpreted the Contents truly.

" Do you think that it was a neceſſary Precaution, when a Native of the Country was to ſwear to a Depoſition, drawn up in Engliſh, that it ſhould have been interpreted to the Deponent in his own Language?

" I do.

" Was Major Davy with you at Lucknow?

" He was not.

" Who was the Interpreter upon that Occaſion?

" I do not know; but it was a ſworn Interpreter.

" Do you know his Name?

" I do not.

" Who recommended him?
" At this Diſtance of Time, I do not know; but I was ſatisfied at the Time.

" Are you abſolutely certain that he was ſuch a ſworn Interpreter?
" I am as poſitive as I can be of any common official Act. Although this was not an official Act, yet it was in the Nature of an official Act, that I would not have done it without a ſworn Interpreter, that being a Matter of Courſe.

" You having recollected the Atteſtation which you ſigned to one of the Depoſitions read to you, which there ſtates, that the Contents had been ſworn before you, the Contents being explained to the Deponent by the Interpreter, whoſe Name you do not recollect; do you recollect to have ſeen any ſuch Atteſtations to the Depoſitions you took at Lucknow?
" I have no Recollection whatſoever.

" You having ſtated that if, in the Depoſitions taken before you after your Return from Lucknow, there appears an Atteſtation, that the Contents had been firſt explained to the Deponent; do you not admit, that a ſimilar Atteſtation would have appeared, upon the Depoſitions taken at Lucknow, if the ſame Meaſures had been purſued there with reſpect to thoſe Depoſitions?
" If it had been ſo written on the Depoſitions, it certainly would ſo have appeared.

" But if the Fact had exiſted, that the Depoſitions had been ſo explained, would it not have ſo appeared?
" It ſhould have ſo appeared, and it is inaccurate, if it does not.

" Do you recollect yourſelf to have ſworn any Interpreter at Lucknow?
" I do not recollect it, but I have no doubt but I did.

" And you know no Reaſon, but attribute it to Inaccuracy, that the Depoſitions taken at Lucknow have no Atteſtation that they were firſt explained to the native Deponents, and that all the Depoſitions of the ſame Nature, taken upon your Return, have ſuch Atteſtations; and you do not remember the Name of the Interpreter, nor who recommended him?
" I did not know the Fact, and, if it is ſo, I attribute it to Inaccuracy; and I do not know the Name of the Interpreter. I hope the Committee will make Allowance for the Want of Remembrance of Tranſactions at ſuch a Diſtance of Time. There is another Thing, thoſe that are in Print are Copies; the Originals might have Atteſtations; I do not know that they have."

A. Before the Honourable Managers put any Queſtion to me—as Part of the Evidence given before the Houſe of Commons, has been given clearly for the Purpoſe of ſhewing I was inconſiſtent in that Evidence—I hope your Lordſhips will give me an Opportunity to explain that Inconſiſtency. Mr. Sheridan, one of the Honourable Managers, examined me from a Book in his Hand; he aſked me ſeveral Queſtions with reſpect to an Interpreter being ſworn at Lucknow; conceiving that Mr. Sheridan could not aſk me that Queſtion, unleſs the Subject Matter of the Examination required that there ſhould have been an Interpreter, I was miſled to ſay, that there was an Interpreter. I was then examined with reſpect to the Affidavits and Memorandums, and whether the Matters contained upon the Affidavits had been read to the Witneſſes, and then a Number of Queſtions put upon that. When I went home, imagining the Book I was examined from was the Report which contained Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, I found that there was no Affidavit taken at Lucknow which required an Interpreter, that there was not a ſingle Affidavit interpreted at Lucknow, that I took the Affidavits in Perſian, or in the Country Language, and they were ſubſequently tranſlated by Mr. Davy, a ſworn Interpreter. Under the Idea that I had an Interpreter, and that there might have been an Explanation of the Affidavits, which were to be taken in a Language that the Witneſs did not underſtand, I moſt undoubtedly ſaid I thought ſo, at the ſame Time denying that I remembered the Fact; but that I ſaid ſo, becauſe I knew it would be the Courſe of taking the Affidavits, and I am ſure I ſhould not have taken them out of the Courſe; it would have been the Courſe if the Affidavits had been tranſlated, but it could not be of Courſe, when I merely authenticated the Papers which the Witneſſes brought, by giving the Oath, and taking their Signature. This I thought neceſſary to explain to your Lordſhips, for when that is underſtood, there will appear to be no Inconſiſtency in my Evidence. This I endeavoured to explain to the Houſe of Commons; I have now by me a Paper which I delivered to Mr. Dempſter, for that Purpoſe, the very next Day: I underſtood there was no Neceſſity for my attending, and therefore I was not in the Lobby of the Houſe of Commons, or near it: I was called for there, but, as I did not appear, no Notice was taken of that Paper. I believe theſe are the Facts. I certainly delivered my Evidence in full Confidence, that the Gentleman who examined me did not intend to miſlead me; I do not accuſe that Gentleman with an Intention to miſlead me, but he undoubtedly miſled me.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs;

Q. What Book was that which you looked into, when you found this Explanation, reſpecting Affidavits not requiring an Interpreter?

A. It

A. It was one of the Reports of the Committee I looked into, for the Purpoſe of ſeeing whether I did uſe an Interpreter or not, as I found the Queſtion preſſed ſo much: I thought I had made a Miſtake, and I looked into it to correct that Miſtake, and to ſee in what Language the Affidavits were taken; it turned out I did not uſe an Interpreter, and that it was at a ſubſequent Time that they were tranſlated by Mr. Davy.

Q. What Report was it?

A. I do not know the Name of the Report, but it is the Report in which Mr. Haſtings's Narrative is ſet out.

Q. Then it was into Mr. Haſtings's Narrative that you looked?

A. I did not look into Mr. Haſtings's Narrative; I ſee I am ſuppoſed to have made a Miſtake: I have made no Miſtake; it was not neceſſary for me to read Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, or the Affidavits, for the Purpoſe. I neither read the one nor the other; I only looked to ſee whether I did or did not uſe an Interpreter at that Time. I ſhall not be caught in a Falſity.

Q. It does not appear then that you have looked ſo far into the Narrative, placed in the Appendix of the Second Report, as to ſatisfy yourſelf with reſpect to the Titles of the Affidavits, and the Fact whether there were an Interpreter preſent or not. Some of the Affidavits are tranſlated by Major Davy, a ſworn Interpreter. To ſatisfy yourſelf of that Fact, you muſt have had your Eye over thoſe Affidavits?

A. As far as Truth, to the utmoſt Extremity, I will admit: I hope nothing will be taken by Inference that goes beyond it. I did for that Purpoſe, and for that Purpoſe only, examine that Report. I did not at that Time look into Mr. Haſtings's Narrative; I did not read the Affidavits; I looked only to the Caption of the Affidavits, and the Dates of the Affidavits; and I cautiouſly avoided doing it, for this Reaſon; as I was to be examined, I would not intermix a ſubſequent Knowledge of Facts with an antecedent Knowledge of Facts, that I might not be puzzled when I came to be examined, by confounding the Times when I acquired the Knowledge; therefore I cautiouſly avoided looking into them, that my Mind might not be impreſſed with Facts, without knowing at what Time I came to the Knowledge of them.

Q. Do you mean you looked at the Top and the Bottom of the Affidavits, and cautiouſly avoided reading any Part?

A. I cautiouſly avoided reading any Part of them; I might caſually ſee ſome Lines, but I had no premeditated Purpoſe of reading them. My premeditated Purpoſe was to avoid looking into them, and, if I am to be examined again, I ſhall do exactly the ſame Thing, and for the ſame Reaſon.

Q. You have ſtated in an Anſwer lately, that you found certain of thoſe Affidavits did not require any Interpreter: How could you find that they required no ſuch Atteſtation, without having caſt your Eye upon the Matter of the Affidavits?

A. I take it, the Matter of the Affidavits had nothing to do with the Subject. If it was an Affidavit that I ſaw, ſubſequently tranſlated by Major Davy, I knew I could not have uſed an Interpreter at Lucknow: If the Affidavits were made by Engliſh Gentlemen, I knew I wanted no Interpreter, becauſe they were Engliſh.

Q. Was it upon this ſubſequent Examination of any Parts of the Affidavits (for I do not know how otherwiſe to deſcribe it) that you diſcovered that Hyder Beg had not ſworn?

A. I have not diſcovered that Hyder Beg was not ſworn; I rather ſuppoſe, from his Rank, he did not ſwear; he poſſibly may have ſworn: What I ſaid was, that Natives of high Rank decline ſwearing; and he is a Native of high Rank.

Q. The Paſſage is this: "The Account of what I have heard, and of what I ſaw, I have "truly and faithfully related. I ſwear by the Almighty, that I have truly wrote, without dimi-"niſhing or Addition, all that I heard, and all that I ſaw, and nothing but the Truth. Signed "Hyder Beg. That which is written is true: Sealed with his Seal."—Did you think yourſelf bound to abſtain from caſting your Eye upon the Paſſage when you looked at the Book?

A. I certainly did not think myſelf bound to abſtain from looking upon that or any other Paſſage; but, in the Terms the Paſſage has been read, I ſtill think Hyder Beg did not ſwear; becauſe it is only the Aſſeveration of Hyder Beg, and there is no Atteſtation that an Oath was taken. I ſtill think he did not ſwear; that is, that the Koran was not put upon his Head, in the formal Manner in which Witneſſes do ſwear; but I do not mean to ſpeak accurately to the Fact. I rather believe he did not, becauſe, being a Man of ſo high Rank, I rather think he would have avoided it.

Q. Did you, in looking at theſe Affidavits, obſerve whether Hyder Beg's Depoſition was tranſlated, or not?

A. I have no Kind of Recollection of looking at Hyder Beg's Affidavit; I take it for granted he ſwore in Perſian, and therefore it was tranſlated.

Q. Am I to underſtand, that you acquired no Knowledge of the Contents of any of thoſe Affidavits, from that ſubſequent Inſpection you made of the Appendix to the Report of the Houſe of Commons?

A. I think I may take upon myſelf ſafely to ſwear, that I acquired none. I will not ſay, that, in caſting my Eye over, and looking at the Top and Bottom of the Affidavits, and the Atteſtations and Captions, that ſomething might not have caught my Eye.

Q. Have you any Memory of any Thing that did?

A. I have not the leaſt Memory of it; I have gathered much more of the Contents of thoſe Affidavits ſince my attending at this Houſe, than I did before. I have learnt, from an Honourable Gentleman, that Hyder Beg ſaid nothing with reſpect to the Begums, but, before, I thought he had.

Q. Why did you think Hyder Beg had ſaid any Thing about the Begums before?

A. Becauſe I ſuppoſe it would be in his Knowledge, and therefore I ſuppoſe he would give an Account of what he knew.

Q. Do you then admit, that as this Rebellion, if it had exiſted, muſt have been in Hyder Beg's Knowledge, Hyder Beg's Depoſition containing no Account of it, muſt be a ſtrong Proof there was no ſuch Rebellion?

A. I am no Party to the Cauſe: I hope I ſtand an indifferent Witneſs before the Houſe. I do not mean to admit or deny it. If ſuch a Concluſion ariſes in your Lordſhips Mind, you will judge from the Affidavits. Whether it aroſe in my Mind or no, I do not aſſume enough to think it would guide your Lordſhips Determination.

Q. Did you conſider the Perſons whoſe Affidavits you took, were atteſting or ſwearing to theſe Affidavits, as expreſſive of the whole Truth, and all they knew upon the Subject?

A. I had no Reaſon to think otherwiſe; Perſons coming voluntarily to depoſe before me, I ſhould ſuppoſe would depoſe the Truth. Any Body can determine juſt as well as I can upon that Subject.

Q. Whether you had by Law Power to adminiſter an Oath in the Province of Oude?

A. I have anſwered before ſeveral Times, that undoubtedly my Juriſdiction did not extend there; that I had no legal Authority to adminiſter an Oath there is moſt certain: but I know that many Affidavits are taken by thoſe who have not legal Juriſdiction to adminiſter Oaths, in Matters, but not in Cauſes. A very high Authority has told me he has done it.

Q. I ſhould wiſh to know who the Authority is?

A. Out of Decency and Reſpect to the Perſon who told me ſo, a very high Magiſtrate, I doubt whether I ought to mention his Name; but if the Houſe think it is neceſſary to mention his Name, if that will be an Apology for me to the Noble Lord, the Magiſtrate, I have no Kind of Difficulty to name him; but this I aſſert, it is One of the higheſt Authorities in this Kingdom.

Q. (Croſs examined.) Whether the ſeveral Perſons who made the Affidavits were ſworn by you in any, and what Form?

A. The Engliſh Gentlemen were ſworn in the Manner that Affidavits are taken in England. The Mahometans, or if there were any native Hindoos, I believe they were ſworn according to what I underſtand to be the ſolemneſt Manner in which Hindoos or Muſſulmen can ſwear.

Q. Was the Queſtion put to them, whether the Contents of their Affidavits were true?

A. Either that, or ſomething to the Effect, certainly.

Q. You have ſpoke to the Notoriety of the Report of the Rebellion of the Begums, whether any Circumſtance came to your Knowledge afterwards, to induce you to diſbelieve that Report?

A. Yes, I have; and that is, that the Houſe of Commons have entertained another Opinion, and, poſſibly, have better Evidence than I have: no other Reaſon.

Q. Whether you can inform the Houſe, whether the Treaſures of Sujah ul Dowlah kept in the Zenana, became upon his Death the Property of his Succeſſor, or his Widow, or any other Perſon, by the Law of that Country?

A. I know nothing at all of that Subject, or whoſe Property it was: I do not take upon me to know any Thing of any Laws of the Country.

Then a Letter was ſhewn to the Witneſs; and the following Queſtion was put to him.

Q. You have been aſked, with reſpect to that Letter bearing Date the 19th of December 1781: is that a Letter you received from Mr. Middleton?

A. Yes; I believe it to be one of the Letters I delivered in to the Houſe of Commons, as having received from Mr. Middleton.

Then

Then the following Extract was read from the ſame:

" My dear Sir Elijah, " Lucknow, the 19th December 1781.

" I accept the Compromiſe Mr. Haſtings has offered me in reſpect to Mr. Cator, and have this Day informed him ſo. It is poſſible, as we both know the Governor is not very punctual in anſwering, or even reading Letters, that a Line from you, reminding him of the Converſation you had with him on this Subject, and preſſing his Compliance may be neceſſary; and I muſt further rely upon you, my dear Sir, to get Mr. Collinſon nominated Cator's Succeſſor at Dacca, as on that Event reſt his Hopes of getting rid of an expenſive Houſe he has there, which, excluſive of his perſonal Regard for Collinſon, I can take upon me to aſſure you is all the Intereſt he has in wiſhing him to obtain the Appointment. We have ſtrange Reports here of the Diſpoſition of our Friends Colleagues below, which might alarm a more credulous Man than I am; but I am determined to give no Ear to them until they come to me from better Authority. A Hint from you, my dear Sir, on your Arrival at the Preſidency, how Matters are going on, will be very ſatisfactory and uſeful. You may be aſſured that any Thing of this Sort you may do me the Honour to communicate in Confidence ſhall never go further. Your Friendſhip and good Offices in this particular Line, are of the greater Conſequence to me, as I have no Perſon about the Governor from whom I can expect uſeful Information, or whoſe Communications I could receive without Suſpicion.

" I think we ſhall yet have ſome active Service in fully eſtabliſhing the Meaſure of reſuming the Jagheers. The Begum has oppoſed the Aumil that was ſent to take Charge of hers, and vows Vengeance, not only againſt him and the Nabob, but againſt the whole Country, if her Jagheer is touched. Her own Words to me and the Miniſter are pretty expreſſive of her Diſpoſition. 'If my Jagheer is touched, the whole Country ſhall go with it.' She has a Number of Men in Arms, which has obliged the Nabob to call for the Aſſiſtance of another Regiment from Cawnpore. His Excellency proceeds to Fyzabad to ſettle other Matters on the 27th Inſtant; the Mohurrum, he pleads, prevents his going ſooner. I think the Oppoſition the Begum has given to the Meaſure of reſuming the Jagheer, which, as far as it concerns her, bears not the Shadow of Exception, as ſhe is to receive the Value in ready Money, will be a full Juſtification of the future Demands his Excellency has to make upon her. With ſuch a Diſpoſition as ſhe has betrayed, it would be the Exceſs of Folly to leave her in Poſſeſſion of the Means of gratifying it."

Then the following Extract of a Letter from the Board at Calcutta to the Court of Directors, dated Fort William, 11th February 1782, was read from Book 29, already delivered in.

" Honourable Sirs, Fort William, 11th February 1782.

" Par. 1. In our laſt Letter from this Department by the Swallow Packet, dated 29th December 1781, we informed you of the Detention of that Veſſel, for the Purpoſe of carrying home a complete Narrative of the Governor General's Proceedings while at Benares and Chunar, which we daily expected to receive from him. However, as the Length of this Paper, and the great Number of References annexed to it, made it impoſſible to ſend them down ſooner than he did, and we found it would require a long While to copy them after their Arrival, we determined to diſpatch the Swallow without them, judging that you would be impatient to hear from us on the Reſtoration of Peace in the Diſtricts of Benares, and to receive the lateſt Accounts from Madras of the Situation of Affairs in the Carnatic.

" 2. We determined, at the ſame Time, to diſpatch the Nancy Snow, Captain Hiffernan, with theſe Reports as ſoon as they could be prepared, and we have now the Pleaſure to tranſmit them to you, a ſeparate Number in this Packet.

" 3. The above Papers contain ſuch a full Account of all Tranſactions of the Governor General upon this Service, together with his Motives and Reaſonings upon them, that we think it would be ſuperfluous to add any Thing of our own, but to recommend them to your attentive Peruſal.

" 4. By theſe it will appear, that the Treachery and Intrigues of Cheyt Sing, ſupported by the Diſaffection and reſtleſs Diſpoſition of the Bhow Begum, Mother to the Nabob of Oude, at Fyzabad, produced Inſurrections in that Country, which till lately we were unapprized of, on account of the Communications between that Place and Benares being wholly cut off.

" 5. At the ſame Time that the firſt Information of theſe Diſturbances reached us, we were happy to hear that they had been quelled by the Accounts received there of the ſucceſsful Efforts of our Troops in Benares, and the March of Two Regiments from Cawnpore to the Relief of Colonel Hannay, whoſe Sepoys gave evident Proofs by their Deſertion that they had been tampered with, and he, with moſt of his Officers, were in great Danger of their Lives, a Detachment under Lieutenant Gordon having been actually attacked and cut off, and the Reſt of the Corps being ſurrounded by the Rabble levied under Sanction of the Begum, avowedly for the Service of Rajah Cheyt Sing.

" 6. The Circumſtance of theſe Levies is further corroborated by various Reports from Fyzabad, and by the Liſt of Cheyt Sing's Forces delivered to the Governor General at Chunar, in which the Troops, ſaid to be come from Lucknow, which formed a Part of his Strength, muſt evidently be the ſame (ſince they agree in Number) with thoſe which Colonel Hannay declares to have been raiſed, and ſent to him from Fyzabad.

(Signed at the End)

Warren Haſtings,
Edward Wheler,
John Macpherſon."

Q. (from a Lord.) To what Age does a Man continue a Minor by the Laws of Hindoſtan?
A. There are different Periods for the Hindoos and the Muſſulmen; I could not give ſuch an Anſwer upon Oath without reſorting to Memorandums to aſcertain it.

Q. Do you recollect whether they continue Minors to the Age of Twenty-one, or nearly to what Age?
A. I believe it is at an earlier Age they come to Majority.

Q. Do you know who was the Perſon mentioned in one of the Affidavits, called Rajah Muſtapha Khan?
A. I have not the leaſt Recollection of him at preſent; I might poſſibly at the Time know him, but I do not now recollect the Name.

Q. Do you recollect a Perſon deſcribed as the Rajah of Gwallior?
A. I do not.

Q. Do you recollect a Perſon who is called the Rajah Guggat Sing.
A. I have not the leaſt Recollection of him.

Q. When you took the ſolemn Declaration of the Rannee Golaub Kooer, where was that taken?
A. I believe the Queſtion means, taking the Affidavit of the Mother of Cheit Sing: That was taken at a Place called Ramnagur.

Q. When you ſpoke about the Rebellion, which was as notorious in that Country, as the Rebellion in Scotland was notorious in London in the Year 1745, did you mean to ſpeak of the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, or of the Rebellion of the Begums?
A. What I meant to ſay was this, that it was as much in Converſation, as a notorious Fact, that there was a Rebellion of the Begums, as that there was a Rebellion in 1745. I ſpoke of it as notorious from Report. I do not take upon myſelf to know any of the Facts, to prove that there was a Rebellion.

Q. Whether you recollect the Day, or nearly the Day, when you left Chunar to go to Lucknow?
A. I arrived at Lucknow, I think, the 25th of November; I remember I left Chunar upon a Saturday, and that I was detained the Sunday and the greater Part of Monday in the Neighbourhood of Illihabad at a Major Clarke's, for the Want of Bearers to go forward. I then went forward, and, as well as I can recollect, I was Two Nights between Illihabad and Lucknow. The Dates I have not.

Q. You have ſaid, that the Fact of Swearing was all you meant to authenticate?
A. Certainly.

Q. Do I underſtand you to mean by that Expreſſion, the Fact of Swearing as to the Subſtance of the Affidavit?
A. The Fact of Swearing, that that Affidavit delivered to me was true.

Q. You have ſaid, that before any Perſon was ſworn before you (I am ſpeaking of any Native) he was aſked, whether the Subſtance was true?
A. I was aſked that Queſtion, whether that was not put to them; I believe my Anſwer was, either that, or ſomething to that Effect.

Q. Who had you with you, that underſtood the Hindoſtan Language?
A. I underſtand the Hindoſtan Language, much more than for ſuch a Purpoſe; both Hindoſtan and Perſian, much more than for that Purpoſe.

Q. What additional or greater Weight do you think was given to an Oath, ſimply taken by you, and tendered in the Manner you have deſcribed, than there would have been, if taken by any other Perſon capable of adminiſtring an Oath?
A. I do not know any Perſon that was capable of adminiſtring an Oath. My Idea was, that though I was beyond my Juriſdiction, yet, as I was a public, well-known Character, it would not be doubted, if I authenticated the Fact of the Affidavits having been ſworn to; that it would gain Credit; and had Mr. Haſtings diſpatched any of the Natives, I ſhould have thought it might bring an Imputation and a Doubt, upon the Veracity and Authenticity of the Affidavits.

Q. Am

Q. Am I to underſtand, that, if you had not undertaken this Journey to Lucknow, no other Method could have been adopted, to have taken theſe Affidavits in an equally ſufficient Manner, as they were taken before you?

A. I thought that my taking them would have given more Weight: They certainly might have been taken before other Perſons; your Lordſhips will judge, whether that would have given them more or leſs Weight; according to my Apprehenſion, my taking them did give greater Weight to the Fact of their having been taken.

Q. Am I to underſtand, that it was the principal Object of your Journey into the Country?

A. It certainly was not the principal Object of my going to Lucknow; for had it been only for taking Affidavits, I ſhould not have proceeded to Lucknow; but it was the principal Object of my taking a Journey at all.

Q. Would an Equivalent have been granted for the Jaghires to the Begums, or any Terms kept with them, when the Treaty of Chunar was ſigned, if Mr. Haſtings had believed them to be in an actual State of Rebellion?

A. I never heard Mr. Haſtings ſay any Thing upon that Subject.

Q. What is the Diſtance between Chunar and Calcutta?

A. I think they reckon it to Patna about Four Hundred Miles, and I ſhould ſuppoſe, I ſpeak from Gueſs, that Chunar might be One Hundred and Fifty or Two Hundred Miles from Patna.

Q. How long was you in taking that Journey from Calcutta to Chunar?

A. From Calcutta to Chunar, I did not take my Journey direct. The Occaſion of my leaving Calcutta was this. The Governor General and Council had requeſted me to viſit the Stations where the Courts of Juſtice are kept. For that Purpoſe I ſet out from Calcutta. When I had got to Mongheer, in my Way to Patna, One of the Stations I was to viſit, I there received a ſhort Note from Mr. Haſtings, and a long Letter from Mr. Sullivan his Secretary. Mr. Haſtings, in his ſhort Note, acquainted me there had been a Revolution at Benares; but he was in ſuch Agitation, he could not write the Particulars, but referred me to Mr. Sullivan for them; and requeſted I would, as ſoon as poſſibly I could, after the Troubles were ſubſided, ſo as I might travel ſafely, come to him at Benares. I went to Patna, and the Troubles of the Country made my Miſſion to that Place, with reſpect to the Adawlut, the Courts of Juſtice, totally abortive. I then ſtaid, I believe, Four or Five Days. All the Engliſh in the Country were much alarmed, and were near quitting Patna. I was apprehenſive my quitting Patna, immediately upon coming there, would ſpread the Alarm more. I therefore remained at Patna, to give a Confidence to the People, longer than I ſhould have done if I had conſulted my own Safety. I then returned to Baglepore, at which Place I received ſeveral Letters from Mr. Haſtings, who was then confined in the Fort of Chunar. He ſent many of them by ſecret Meſſengers, ſome incloſed in Quills. The laſt Letter I received from Mr. Haſtings informed me that the Country was quiet, and preſſed me to come up; and every Letter I received from Mr. Haſtings was more and more preſſing to me to come up, on Account, as I underſtood, of the Exigencies in which he then was. During the Time that I reſided in Calcutta, as I held a very high Office, I did not think my Duties to the State always ſatisfied, ſimply by the Execution of my Office. If I could ſerve the State any otherwiſe, I thought it my Duty to do it; and there are many and many Inſtances in which I have done it. This is One of thoſe Caſes which I thought called upon me, and for that Reaſon I attended Mr. Haſtings at Benares, conceiving the Difficulty he was in was the Reaſon of his calling me there, to conſult with me what he ſhould do. That was the Occaſion of my going up to Benares, and that was the Occaſion of being a long Time upon my Journey; and though it is thrown out as degrading to me, bearing the Office of Chief Juſtice of Calcutta, that I condeſcended to be the private Secretary and Amanuenſis of Mr. Haſtings, acting from the Impreſſions I did, I felt it very differently: I felt that, in the Situation I was in, it was a Duty incumbent on me to give every Aſſiſtance I could to Mr. Haſtings, and every Aſſiſtance to the State: And with that View I attended Mr. Haſtings; with that View I went to Lucknow; with that View I took the Affidavits; and with that View I gave the Opinion I did to Mr. Haſtings: That this is not a ſolitary Action of mine, if the Annals of the Eaſt India Company are examined, will be ſeen upon them; it will be found, that in many Inſtances, and in One in particular, in which the Houſe of Commons thought that I took a particular Reſponſibility upon myſelf, I was not afraid of that Reſponſibility, when I knew I did Service to my Country.

Q. Did you hear of thoſe Troubles at Benares firſt at Calcutta?

A. I did not: I left Calcutta ſoon after Mr. Haſtings left it. I ſay ſoon; it may be a Fortnight, Three Weeks, or a Month.

Q. How far is Mongheer from Patna?

A. Mongheer from Patna, I take to be about Fourſcore Miles.

Q. I wiſh to know your Reaſon for giving the Advice you did, after taking the Affidavits: Did you conceive it to be your Duty?

A. I did not conceive it to be my Duty.

Q. Acting in the Capacity of Mr. Haſtings's Adviſer and Inſtrument, you have declared your Opinion, that the Rebellion was the only juſtifiable Ground for ſeizing their Treaſures; to ſuggeſt which to Mr. Middleton, was one of the Objects of your Journey to Lucknow?

A. I did not ſay, I acted as an Inſtrument to Mr. Haſtings.

Q. But you acted as his Adviſer?

A. I certainly did.

Q. Did you conſider it as material to you, to know the Contents of the Affidavits that were taken for the Purpoſe of verifying the Rebellion, and to judge of the Propriety of the Advice you had given, or were afterwards to give, reſpecting the Rebellion.

A. I did not. I gave my Advice hypothetically, that if the Facts are ſo, the Conſequences follow. I did not aſſume to know the Facts; I would not have taken upon myſelf the Reſponſibility of ſaying, theſe Facts are ſo, and draw the Conſequences too.

Q. (from a Lord). Whether you adviſed Mr. Haſtings to obtain Affidavits, for the Purpoſe of enabling him to ſegregate ſuch only as ſhould anſwer his Purpoſe.

A. No, I did not; it was for the Purpoſe of aſcertaining the Facts in his Narrative. My Advice was generally for him to get Affidavits to authenticate the Facts; what Uſe Mr. Haſtings would make of them afterwards I was not anſwerable for: I meant he ſhould take Affidavits of the Facts, and annex them to his Narrative.

Q. Whether you have any Means of aſcertaining, whether all the Affidavits you took are publiſhed in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative; and whether all the Contents of ſuch as are annexed to the Narrative are fully given?

A. None at all; I thought Mr. Haſtings a Man of Veracity, and that he would publiſh the Whole.

Q. In the Advice you gave Mr. Haſtings, how did you intend the Publick ſhould be ſatisfied that the Affidavits were publiſhed as they were taken?

A. I thought the Publick would give that Credit to Mr. Haſtings that he had publiſhed the Affidavits as they were brought; Credit muſt be given ſomewhere; if no Credit whatever is to be given, I do not know how any Facts can be authenticated.

Q. Whether it would not have contributed more to authenticate the Facts to the Publick, if you yourſelf had examined into the Facts, and added the Weight of your Character and Situation to the Examination?

A. No, I think not; becauſe I think it would have been a very extraordinary Tranſaction; and that I ſhould have acquired more Imputation upon myſelf than Authenticity to the Affidavits.

Q. Whether you think Mr. Middleton could not have done exactly what you did by going there?

A. I do; but Mr. Middleton was Mr. Haſtings's confidential Agent; and I ſhould doubt much whether the ſame Credit would be given to Affidavits, which he might have given his Sanction to, as would be given to Affidavits to which I gave my Sanction.

Q. Did you know, at the Time you took thoſe Affidavits, whether there was any Idea of a Proſecution commenced or intended by the Houſe of Commons againſt Mr. Haſtings?

A. As to the Idea of a Proſecution, certainly not; I thought the Revolution of Benares ſo extraordinary an Event, that it would probably be very ſtrictly inquired into; with reſpect to the Affair of the Begums, I thought it ſo clear, that no Inquiry whatſoever would be made into it.

Q. Had you at that Time heard of any Inquiry likely to be made into Mr. Haſtings's Conduct in India?

A. I am not quite ſure whether I heard it then, or whether I heard it ſoon after my Return to Calcutta; but certainly, ſomething very near the Time, it was known in India that there would be an Inquiry into the Conduct of Mr. Haſtings.

Q. If that was the Caſe, was it not particularly prudent for Mr. Haſtings, under thoſe Circumſtances, to take every legal Method to prove the Rectitude of his Conduct?

A. That Idea was very ſtrongly impreſſed upon my Mind.

Q. (by a Lord) Whether you declared that the Idea of ſeizing the Treaſure of the Begums originated with you, and was not a Meaſure propoſed by Mr. Haſtings to you, for your Opinion, before the Buſineſs; or, on the contrary, whether the Meaſure was ſuggeſted by you to Mr. Haſtings?

A. It originated in a Converſation with Mr. Haſtings; I am not certain whether the Idea originated with me or with him, but the Inclination of my Opinion has always been that the Idea originated with me; I have certainly had Reaſon, from ſubſequent Converſations, to think that I may have been miſtaken, for I underſtand that Mr. Middleton did not ſo underſtand it; I thought when I communicated it to him it was new to Mr. Middleton, but in my Converſation with Mr. Middleton, he ſeemed to think it was not new at that Time. I have had a very recent Converſation with a Gentleman very much concerned in the Affairs of Mr. Haſtings, Major Scott, and from him I am told that the original Idea came from a Man of the Name of Ibrahim Cawn, employed ployed by Mr. Haſtings at Benares after the Revolution, but I thought at the Time it originated with me, from the Manner in which Mr. Haſtings received it; and whether it was ſo or no I cannot poſitively ſay.

Q. (by the Managers.) In Mr. Haſtings's Second Defence there is this Paſſage: "The Fact undoubtedly is, that not only in conſenting to the Seizure of the Treaſures on the Nabob's firſt Requiſition to me, on the 2d of December 1781, but in ſtrenuouſly encouraging and ſupporting the Meaſure, ſo far as to deſire Sir Elijah Impey, on his leaving Chunar, in November 1781, to mention the Subject, as from me, to Mr. Middleton, for the expreſs Purpoſe of deſiring him to converſe upon it with the Nabob, and even to encourage the Nabob to make the Propoſition to me (a)." The Fact undoubtedly is ſo, ſays Mr. Haſtings. Now I wiſh to know, whether you now diſbelieve the Fact ſo averred by Mr. Haſtings?

A. I believe the Whole of it; but I cannot reconcile it to my own Mind, that there was any Propoſition to Mr. Middleton, to propoſe it coming through the Nabob. I have had Converſation with Mr. Middleton ſince upon the Subject, and Mr. Middleton has told me the Nabob was ever deſirous of ſeizing the Begums Treaſures, and, before the Rebellion, he wanted to do it. Mr. Middleton is here, and will be able to give a better Account of that. There is a Part in one of my Letters which ſeems to contradict that, becauſe I there wrote to Mr. Middleton, that what the Nabob had propoſed Mr. Haſtings highly approved, and would have himſelf adviſed. I cannot reconcile that with my having procured the Propoſition, through Mr. Middleton, from the Nabob, becauſe my Letter ſays, If the Nabob had not propoſed it, Mr. Haſtings would.

Q. Do you recollect Mr. Middleton to have ſaid in his Letter, "Your Pleaſure reſpecting the Begums I have learned through Sir Elijah Impey?"

A. Certainly.

Q. Can you doubt you took that Pleaſure from Mr. Haſtings to Mr. Middleton?

A. No: But that it was propoſed by Mr. Middleton to the Nabob, that the Nabob ſhould make the Propoſition, I do not recollect: It might have been ſo, that Mr. Middleton might have done ſo; but I do not recollect or believe that any Thing of that Kind paſſed between Mr. Middleton and me.

Q. I underſtand you then directly to contradict this undoubted Fact as ſtated by Mr. Haſtings?

A. I do not mean to contradict the Fact, or admit the Fact: I give my Evidence: If that Evidence either ſupports or contradicts it, that is in the Judgment of the Lords.

Q. You have ſtated, as a Juſtification for your going to Lucknow to take thoſe Affidavits, that you conceive a conſiderable Suſpicion would have attached upon the Circumſtance, if they were taken by Mr. Middleton as the confidential Agent of Mr. Haſtings: I wiſh to know, whether the Circumſtance of Mr. Middleton's drawing up the Affidavits, and bringing all the Witneſſes to you, did not make the Tranſaction equally liable to Suſpicion?

A. I do not know that thoſe Facts exiſted, that Mr. Middleton did draw the Affidavits, or bring the Witneſſes.

Q. That is, upon your own Evidence?

A. I hope your Lordſhips will give Leave for that to be cleared up. I have not ſaid that they were drawn up by Mr. Middleton: I beg that to be cleared up: For if I ſaid ſo, I undoubtedly did it without any Authority; becauſe I know of no Fact to lead me to underſtand that Mr. Middleton or Mr. Johnſon drew them.

Then the following Queſtion and Anſwer were read by the Clerk (b).

Q. Who introduced to you the Witneſſes that were to depoſe?

A. I believe that moſt of the Witneſſes were introduced by Mr. Middleton or Mr. Johnſon; as well as I can recollect, I had with me no Moonſhy, that is, an Interpreter, nor any Servant who could act in that Capacity.

The Managers for the Commons obſerved, that was not the Paſſage they alluded to,

The Witneſs ſaid,

A. Without your Lordſhips having the Trouble to refer to that Book again, I beg Leave to have it as Part of my Depoſition; that if I have, by Miſtake, ſaid ſo, I did not mean to ſay ſo, and had no Authority to ſay ſo; taking upon me the Chance whether I did ſay ſo or not.

Q. Did you take any Depoſition of Hoolas Roy at Benares?

A. I do not know that I did; if it appears amongſt the Affidavits I undoubtedly did: I have obſerved Hoolas Roy is a Name mentioned to me in the Memorandums, I before ſaid I had from

Mr. Middleton, therefore I recollect the Name;—" Hoolas Roy, of Fyzabad, ordered to wait upon the Governor at Chunar;"—I have that Memorandum, that is all I know of it; poſſibly I did take that Affidavit.

Q. Whether you have ever heard any Cauſe aſſigned, why that Affidavit was ſuppreſſed, and did not appear amongſt the others?

A. I do not know that it was ſuppreſſed; the Fact of taking it I am not ſure of: All I know of it is, I have a Memorandum from Mr. Middleton, that he was ordered to attend at Chunar.

The Managers for the Commons deſired, the following Paſſage from the Solemn Declaration of the Rannee Golaub Kooer, might be read; the ſame was read from the Appendix to the Benares Narrative, already delivered in.

" With Reſpect to Cheyt Sing's having, from of old, an improper Correſpondence with the Begums at Lucknow, and the Rajah of Barraitch and Gooruckpore, the Declaration of the above Rannee is as follows:

' Since two Years, on Account of the Enmity of Cheyt Sing to me, I had left Ramnagur and ' reſided in another Dwelling; and Cheyt Sing had always acted towards me with ſuch Enmity and ' Oppoſition, as cannot be deſcribed—How therefore ſhould he have acquainted me with his Cor- ' reſpondences? But I have heard, from Report, that he had in many Places improper Cor- ' reſpondences (a)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. This Teſtimony appears to be upon Interrogatories; by what Means did this Depoſition come in this Shape, and whether it was not in Anſwer to Interrogatories put to the Rannee?

A. I have not the leaſt Recollection of any Interrogatories being put to the Rannee: I remember attending at Ramnagur, and being led to a little Door with a Curtain over it, behind which ſhe ſat, and I there took the Atteſtation; I have not the leaſt Recollection that it was by Interrogatories, I ſhould rather think not.

Q. (from a Lord.) You have ſpoken of the Manner in which you think Mr. Haſtings received the Propoſition for ſeizing the Begums Treaſure; ſtate to the Court, what was the Manner in which Mr. Haſtings received the Propoſition for ſeizing the Treaſure.

A. I only recollect in general, that Mr. Haſtings did not mention it as a Thing that he had thought of before; I underſtood, in that Converſation, it was new, by his not making the Obſervation, that he had thought of this Subject before, or ſomething of that Kind.

Q. (from a Lord.) As you have ſaid, that you could not anſwer the Queſtion aſked, relative to what Age a Perſon ceaſed to be a Minor, without looking into your Memorandums; I wiſh to aſk, whether you have in your Poſſeſſion any Paper, by inſpecting which, you can give us certain Information upon the Subject?

A. If I ſaid Memorandums, I meant rather to look into Books of the Hiſtory of the Country, and Accounts of their Laws; I do not know that I have any particular Books, that other Gentlemen are not furniſhed with; I believe it is a Fact very eaſily aſcertained.

Q. You have ſtated, that the Revolution of Benares appeared to you of ſo much Conſequence, that it was very probable it might be, and would be enquired into very minutely; and you have added, that the Facts reſpecting the Begums were ſo clear, you did not expect any Inquiry was likely to take place upon that Subject: What is the Idea you entertained of the Facts reſpecting the Begums being ſo clear?

A. I meant only, that I then underſtood it was notoriouſly known, that there had been a Rebellion, and I underſtood the Propoſition, that the Prince of a State may ſeize the Effects of any Subjects that are in Rebellion, to be a very clear Propoſition; I had in my Mind alſo, no Doubt of the Rebellion.

Q. Had you any other Cauſe of Knowledge, reſpecting the Facts you now deſcribe, except the common Report of the Country?

A. I had no other Knowledge whatever but that Report; I muſt likewiſe ſay I collected that Report alſo very much from Converſation with Mr. Haſtings, with whom I converſed much more than with any other Perſon at Chunar; People continually coming in were telling of it, and all reported, in the ſame Manner, that there had been a Rebellion; I never heard it contradicted, nor the leaſt Surmiſe thrown out that the Reports were not true.

Q. What do you mean by the Word Rebellion, as applied to the Begums?

A. I applied the Word Rebellion in two Senſes: one, the direct Meaning of the Word Rebellion, the other, which has not ſo direct a Meaning: I underſtood the Begums to be in Rebellion againſt the Nabob, I underſtood them likewiſe to be in a Conſpiracy to extirpate the Engliſh; the latter probably may not be ſo properly called a Rebellion.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 246.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you did not make the following Anſwer to a Queſtion put to you upon a former Examination: "What was Mr. Haſtings's Condition at that Time?" A. "I have before ſtated to "the Committee what Mr. Haſtings had himſelf ſaid of his Situation. The Company's Affairs "were at that Time, to all Appearance, in a very ruinous Condition. To retrieve the Condition "of the Company was the profeſſed Object of Mr. Haſtings in going up the Country; his "principal Objects were Reſources from Benares and Oude: At Benares he had been defeated "of his Purpoſe, a horrid Maſſacre had taken Place there, a Revolution had taken Place at "Benares. Mr. Haſtings was lately releaſed from a Confinement in the Garriſon at Chunar; the "whole Country of Oude had been in Arms, and Part of it was ſtill ſo; he was likewiſe de-"feated in his Purpoſe of going up to Oude, having obtained Nothing for the Company; "he had incurred great Reſponſibility from the Events that had happened; that was the State "Mr. Haſtings was in, which I conceived to be that of real Diſtreſs:" I wiſh to know if that was not the Witneſs's Anſwer?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Queſtion.

Q. Tell now, according to your Memory, what was Mr. Haſtings's Condition at Chunar?

A. I certainly underſtood his Condition to be that of real Diſtreſs.—To the laſt Queſtion that was aſked me before I retired from your Lordſhips Bar, when I was here before, with reſpect to the Manner of enforcing Debts of Women, I then ſaid, I did not know officially, but I recollected afterwards that I had by me Proof of what it was; and that is likewiſe the Subject-matter of a Letter to the Secretary of State. The Manner is, if they want to enforce Debts from Women, they encloſe their Habitations with a great Number of Hircarrahs, and they ſtarve them to a Compliance.—I muſt beg Leave, before I retire from your Lordſhips Bar, to make an Obſervation with reſpect to the particular Predicament in which I ſtand, and from thence your Lordſhips will judge what Credit my Teſtimony deſerves; and I hope, by ſtating it to your Lordſhips, it will ſave the Honourable Managers a conſiderable Degree of Trouble in taking from the Force and Credit of my Teſtimony. I am at preſent charged by an Honourable Member of the Houſe of Commons with a Conſpiracy with Mr. Haſtings to murder Nunducomar; I am likewiſe charged before the Houſe of Commons with having colluſively and corruptly taken an Office; I am, which is much more material, charged before the Houſe of Commons upon the very Facts to which I have been this Day examined.—Of my Credit your Lordſhips will judge from theſe Circumſtances; but I have a Matter of Complaint to make to your Lordſhips, which I deſire to be received in the Nature of a Proteſt; and that is, that in the Impeachment againſt Mr. Haſtings, I am ſtated to have acted an odious and treacherous Part with regard to the taking of theſe Affidavits. I am not at preſent impeached before your Lordſhips, I therefore have no Opportunity to anſwer that Charge; I beg therefore it may ſtand upon the Minutes, as it does upon the Impeachment, that I make my Proteſt againſt having been charged where I cannot anſwer. This comes the more heavy upon me, becauſe it comes from a great Authority, the Managers for the Houſe of Commons.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Mercurii, 7° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that One of the Charges againſt the Princeſſes of Oude being, that they principally excited the Commotions in Baraitch and Goruckpore, they ſhould next proceed to ſhew, that thoſe Commotions exiſted long before it was pretended the Begums had ſhewn any Marks of Diſaffection, and that they were intirely owing to other Cauſes, and principally to the Conduct of thoſe who accuſed the Begums.

Read, the following Extract from the Appendix to the Benares Narrative, beginning at Page 8 of the ſame.

" By a Deſpotiſm ſo malignant, and a Conduct ſo offenſive, and even dangerous to our Exiſtence, as have been manifeſted by the Begums, without the ſmalleſt Injury or Provocation on our Parts, they have forfeited all Claim to that Protection which we afforded them, in exacting from the Nabob, at the Time that Mr. Briſtow aſſiſted him in obtaining 30 Lacks of Rupees from them, a Promiſe to our Government, that thoſe Ladies ſhould enjoy full Poſſeſſion of their Jaghires unmoleſted.—We have a Right to withdraw this Protection when they are no longer worthy of it, and to provide againſt their Machinations, by a Conceſſion of that Pledge which afforded them the Means of injuring and oppreſſing us.

" The Begums will ſuffer no actual Loſs by the Reſumptions of the Jaghires, except of an Influence which they have invariably employed to the moſt pernicious Purpoſes againſt One State which had conferred, and another which had ſecured and protected them (a)."

Then Mr. ROBERT HUDSON was called in, and produced Book 118, intituled, " Secret Governor General and Council, 13th January to 31ſt March 1777."

" Another great Abuſe which prevails is, the Contempt with which the Vizier's Authority is treated. His Orders are ill executed. His Perwannahs diſregarded, even in the neighbouring Diſtricts to the Capital, unleſs accompanied by ſimilar ones from the Perſon immediately in Charge of the Province. In ſome diſtant Parts of the Country neither his Excellency nor his Aumils are much regarded. The Gurrockpore Diſtrict particularly, can hardly be ſaid to be under the Vizier's Government, as it is held by Zemindars who pay little Obedience to the Aumils, and diſcharge their Revenues with great Irregularity.

" The Country of Gorruckpore, particularly that Part which lies contiguous to the Mountains, although not in actual Rebellion, is ſo far unſettled, as ſcarcely to be deemed a Part of the Vizier's Dominions. The Revenue of that Diſtrict is rated at 560,000 Rupees; but, from the Manner in which the Payments have hitherto been made, I do not apprehend that more than Half that Amount will be realized: And the Reaſon which the Aumul aſſigns for this Failure is, the Number of Zemindars on the Confines of the Province, who, being in Poſſeſſion of Mud Forts, withhold their Revenue, under various Pretexts, until extorted from them by Force. Under theſe Circumſtances, the Charge of the Army neceſſary to be kept up, in that one Diſtrict, is almoſt equal to the Amount of the Collections.

It is therefore neceſſary, that on the Receipt of this Letter, you march with your Battalion and croſs the River Ganges, where you will, agreeable to the Directions of Colonel Hannay, exert yourſelf for the Puniſhment of the Revolters, and the Settlement of all Matters, that the Money due to the Sirkar may be recovered. As the Commotions of Zalim Sing,&c. have already been of long Continuance, it is abſolutely neceſſary that, immediately on the Receipt of this Letter, you croſs the Ganges with the Battalion: I ſhall ſend another Army for the Affairs of Khirabad, but you are not to wait till their Arrival.

" Dear Sir,

" I am adviſed by Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, that the large Patellas, with Platforms for tranſporting Ordnance over the ſeveral Nullas in theſe Diſtricts, are his private Property, and that he intends taking them away as ſoon as it may not be attended with Inconvenience to me.—And adviſes me there are many of the ſame kind of Patellas, the Property of the Nabob, ſent from Fyzabad to croſs his Detachment at Byramgaut, to replace them; out of that Number. As I would not chuſe to interfere in any Thing the Property of the Nabob, requeſt your Advice thereon.—Since writing the above, I have ſent for the Manjy at the Gaut here, to enquire how ſoon he thinks the Serjoy will be fordable; but, to my great Aſtoniſhment, I find the Gaut Boat was taken away two Days ago. Had I had an Idea that they would have been ſo ſuddenly taken away, I moſt aſſuredly would have taken Steps to have prevented it, until others could have been provided to have replaced them.—The Serjoy and Terce are the only Nullas I have ſeen, and they will neither of them be fordable for ſome Time, ſo that, if I march, I muſt have the Mortification to be detained making Bridges: The Boats were of a ſmall Value.—I would have paid for them with Pleaſure, had I ſuſpected theſe being withdrawn before others had been provided.—Your Brother, no Doubt, acquainted you with what Readineſs I ſprung to the Aſſiſtance and Relief of Colonel Hannay; and I muſt ſay, that I have met with a different Return to what I might have expected.—I received Colonel Hannay's Letter the 7th, that he would not put me to any Inconvenience, and the Boat was taken away from the Serjoy the next Morning. The Boats could not have been of the ſmalleſt Service to me, as I am not, nor cannot be, the leaſt apprehenſive; and the Aumils will always furniſh any that may be wanted for me.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LVII.

" How

" How ſuch an Idea could have operated in the Minds of any People, that there is a Riſk of my Regiment not acting here with Safety, I cannot conceive. True it is, that if there was any Riſk, it was when I firſt came to the Relief of Colonel Hannay, when the whole Country had revolted, from one End to the other, and had collected, aſſiſted with ſeveral Pieces of Ordnance which they had with them; when Colonel Hannay's People, in Part, had laid down their Arms, and he had not the ſmalleſt Dependance on the reſt. If there was any Riſk, it was then; but ſo far to the contrary, I marched, when they were collected in the moſt formidable Body, attacked them, and gave them an Overthrow, taking their Guns, &c. &c.

" My Return from Goonda to this Place, has no Doubt encouraged Hindooput and his Adherents a good Deal; and as the whole Country are waiting impatiently for People authorized to adjuſt and collect, the ſooner the Aumils are arrived here the better, as the Year is now far advanced, and the diſaffected Rajahs, &c. are uſing Violence with the Riots all over the Country.

The Aumil Lall Monſookall is not yet arrived from Lucknow, but his Naib informs me, that he is expected the 25th or 26th, with whom I will be prepared to march.

" I am exceedingly in Arrears, and beg the Favour you will addreſs the Aumils to advance me Three Months Pay, and afterwards as it may become due; for which I will grant a Receipt.

To prove that nothing was neceſſary to re-eſtabliſh the Tranquillity of the Country, but to reſtore it to its former Confidence:

Read, from the ſame Book, another Letter from Major Naylor to Mr. Middleton, dated Camp, Pool Gout, January 8, 1782, beginning at Page 82.

" Dear Sir,

" As I am under the Neceſſity of ſending you the Account of the laſt Supply of Caſh from the Aumil for the proper Batta to be fixed, it is very little Trouble to inſert the former Sums, as you have left the Account at Lucknow, that you may adjuſt the Whole together.

" I have conſidered ſince you left me more fully the Matter that I was ſpeaking to you of Rajah Hindooput, and requeſt to refer it to your Conſideration.

' That is, as I ſeized him, and as his Family, ſince his Confinement, has been frequently de-
' ceived, and for which his Brother offers to come to me, but on no Account to the Aumil, as he ' has paid his full Balance due to the Government, and offers undoubted Security for the Per' formance

' formance of the reſt. Whether his being delivered over to me would not in ſome Meaſure be the ' Means of reſtoring that Confidence to the Nation, of the Name of an European, which has a ' good deal ſuffered, and which my aſſembling his Family (who abſolutely refuſe to go near the ' Aumil), and Securities, &c. together, may not have the wiſhed-for Effect.'

" Indeed, by this Negociation, I ſhall endeavour to call in Rajah Zallam Sing, on a Promiſe of Forgiveneſs, to join in this general Amneſty, and I have great Hopes of Succeſs.

" A Mediation of this Nature, I flatter myſelf, is much to be wiſhed for; for while theſe independent People are allowed to act as they do, which is much to be wiſhed for by the Aumils, they never want an Excuſe for a Deduction in their Rents.

" You will perceive, that I by no Means propoſe either to know or interfere with the Argument of the Terms entered into, or that I wiſh to become a Party in the Receipt or Knowledge of the Rents.

" As there is nothing contained in this more than reſtoring a little Confidence among them, and as I have been a Party from the Commencement of theſe Troubles, it will be placing me in the Point of View amongſt them that I would wiſh to appear in.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they ſhould next read a Paſſage from Mr. Haſtings's Comment upon the Treaty of Chunar; that in the Letters juſt read, the Perſons, in the Way of receiving the beſt Information upon the Subject, reſpecting the real Cauſe of the Commotions in Gooruckpoor and Barraitch, never once mentioned the Begums, or ſuppoſed they were at all concerned in it; and that the Paſſage about to be produced would ſhew, Mr. Haſtings himſelf attributes it to the real Cauſe to which it was owing, namely, the Hatred of the Natives againſt the Engliſh, which was well warranted by their Miſbehaviour.

Read, the following Extract from the Appendix to the Benares Narrative, beginning at Page 6 of the ſame.

" Notwithſtanding the great Benefit which the Company would have derived from ſuch an Augmentation of their Military Force, as theſe Troops conſtituted, ready to act on any Emergency, prepared and diſciplined without any Charge on the Company, as the Inſtitution profeſſed, until their actual Services ſhould be required, I have obſerved ſome Evils growing out of the Syſtem, which, in my Opinion, more than counterbalanced thoſe Advantages, had they been realized in their fulleſt Effect. The remote Stations of thoſe Troops, placing the commanding Officers beyond the Notice and Controul of the Board, afforded too much Opportunity and Temptation for unwarrantable Emoluments, and excited the Contagion of Peculation and Rapacity throughout the whole Army. A moſt remarkable and incontrovertible Proof of the Prevalence of this Spirit has been ſeen in the Court Martial upon Captain Erſkine, where the Court, compoſed

compoſed of Officers of Rank and reſpectable Characters, unanimouſly and honourably, moſt honourably, acquitted him upon an acknowledged Fact, which, in Times of ſtricter Diſcipline, would have been deemed a Crime deſerving the ſevereſt Puniſhment (a)."

Read, alſo, the following Extract from the ſame Appendix, beginning at Page 7.

" With reſpect to the Removal of the Company's Servants Civil and Military, from the Court and Service of the Vizier, I was actuated ſolely by Motives of Juſtice to him, and a Regard to the Honour of our national Character. In removing thoſe Gentlemen, I diminiſh my own Influence, as well as that of my Colleagues, by narrowing the Line of Patronage, and I expoſe myſelf to Obloquy and Reſentment from thoſe who are immediately affected by the Arrangement, and the long Train of their Friends and powerful Patrons. But their Numbers, their Influence, and the enormous Amount of their Salaries, Penſions, and Emoluments, were an intolerable Burthen on the Revenues and Authority of the Vizier, and expoſed us to the Envy and Reſentment of the whole Country, by excluding the native Servants and Adherents of the Vizier from the Rewards of their Services and Attachment (b)."

To prove the Confuſions that prevailed in the Vizier's Dominions in the Year 1782:

" Third Head.—Firſt their Government.

" State of the Vizier's Dominions.

" Deſpotiſm is the Principle upon which every Meaſure is founded, and the People in the interior Parts of the Country are ruled at the Diſcretion of the Aumil or Phouſdar for the Time being. They exerciſe within the Limits of their Juriſdiction, the Powers of Life and Death, and Deciſions in Civil and other Caſes in the ſame Extent as the Sovereign at the Capital. The Forms preſcribed by the ancient Inſtitutions of the Mogul Empire are unattended to, and the Will of the provincial Magiſtrate is the ſole Law of the People. The total Relaxation of the Vizier's Authority, his Inattention, and Diſlike to Buſineſs, leave the Aumils in Poſſeſſion of this dangerous Power, unawed, uncontrouled by any Apprehenſion of Retroſpection, or the Interference of Juſtice. I can hardly quote an Inſtance ſince the Vizier's Acceſſion to the Muſnud of an Aumil having been puniſhed for Oppreſſion, though the Complaints of the People, and the State of the Country, are notorious Proofs of the Violences daily committed. It is even become unſafe for Travellers to paſs except in large Bodies; Murders, Thefts, and other Enormities ſhocking to Humanity, are committed in open Day.

" Every Zemindar ſhould be conſtituted the Magiſtrate in his Zemindarry, and collect the Revenues according to certain eſtabliſhed Rates, recorded in the Cutcherry, and publiſhed throughout the Diſtrict. The Aumil ſhould be the controuling Power between the Ryot and the Zemindar, ſhould inforce the Regulations, ſee Peace and good Order preſerved in the ſeveral Zemindarries, and make the Zemindars accountable for all Tumults, Thefts, and Murder, within their Juriſdiction. In great Towns there ought to be a Cutwall or Haakum to diſtribute Juſtice.

" Such has been the Syſtem of this Government, that the Oppreſſions have generally originated with the Aumils. They have been rarely ſelected for their Abilities or Integrity, but from Favour, or the Means to advance a ſmall Sum upon being appointed to their Office. The Aumil enters upon his Truſt, ruined in Reputation and Fortune; and unleſs he accompliſhes his Engagements, which is ſeldom the Caſe, Diſgrace and Puniſhment follow. Though the Balance of Revenue may be rigorouſly demanded of him, it has not been uſual to inſtitute any Enquiry for Oppreſſion. The Zemindars, thus left at the Mercy of the Aumils, are often driven to Rebellion. The Weak are obliged to ſubmit to his Exactions, or fly the Country; and the Aumil, unable to reduce the more powerful, is compelled to enter into a diſgraceful Compromiſe. Every Zemindar looks to his Fort for Protection; and the Country is crowded with them. Almaſs Ally Cawn, thoſe are not leſs than Seven hundred in his Diſtricts: Hence it has become a general Cuſtom to ſeize the Brother, Son, or ſome near Relation, or Dependent, of the different Zemindars, as Hoſtages for Security of the Revenue. A great Aumil will ſometimes have Three or Four hundred of theſe Hoſtages, whom he is obliged to confine in Places of Security.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 140. (b) Vide ſupra, Page 141.

" A few

" A few Men like Almaſs Ally Cawn, and Coja Din ul Dun, have, from their Regularity in the Performance of pecuniary Engagements, rendered themſelves uſeful to the Vizier. A ſtrict Scrutiny into his Affairs was at all Times irkſome to his Excellency; and none of his Miniſters or Officers about his Perſon poſſeſſing the active perſevering Spirit requiſite to conduct the Detail of Engagements for a Number of ſmall Farms, it became convenient to receive a large Sum from a great Farmer, without Trouble or Deficiency. This Syſtem was followed by the moſt pernicious Conſequences: Theſe Men were above all Controul; they exacted their own Terms; and the Diſtricts they farmed were moſt cruelly oppreſſed. The Revenue of Rohilcund is reduced above a Third; and Almaſs Ally Cawn's Adminiſtration is well known to have been extremely violent.

" The foregoing Repreſentation of the State of this Government, will, I hope, ſatisfy you of the Difficulty in collecting the Revenues. A very ſtrong Military Force will be required to preſerve the Country in Peace.

" The Number for which Funds are at preſent allotted, would, in my Opinion, amply ſuffice, if it exiſted; but I ſuppoſe not Two Thirds of the Men kept upon the Books are actually entertained. The Diſcipline and proper Application of this Force will become a Matter of ſerious Conſideration. I do not mean to propoſe they ſhould be put under the Command of Britiſh Officers, as a very extraordinary Expence would attend that Meaſure, and I do not think the Service of the Collections would be ſo well executed. The Troops now in the Vizier's Service are ill paid, and ill appointed, not owing to the Want of Means, as I think. When I ſhall forward you the Statements I have been ſo long endeavouring to complete, you will judge them adequate to every Service, if not diſſipated and ſquandered away. The Evil originates in the Want of Checks upon the Diſburſements to the Army, of proper Officers and Commiſſaries, to ſee them duly appropriated.

" The ſame Inconveniencies exiſt in the Receipts of the Vizier's Revenue, and other Branches of his Government, in the general Department. Offices of Collections and Treaſury, and Courts for the Adminiſtration of Juſtice, ought doubtleſs to be eſtabliſhed. In a Duty of ſo delicate a Nature, as the Execution of your Commands on this Head, I muſt neceſſarily expoſe myſelf to the Oppoſition of Perſons intereſted in the Continuance of the Abuſes.

For ſome Facts I have the Teſtimony of ſworn Evidence, ſuch are the Tranſactions of the Rebel Zemindars of Gooruckpoor and Bareach in the Inſurrections of the laſt Year, which had for their immediate Object the Deſtruction of Colonel Hannay and the Officers of his Command, and ultimately, the Extirpation of the Engliſh Influence and Power throughout the Whole of the Nabob Vizier's Dominions. Repreſent to the Nabob, and effectually, the bad Policy of ſuffering ſuch Examples to paſs with Impunity. Obtain his Order for employing ſome ſure Means for apprehending theſe Zemindars; and if it ſhall appear, on a fair and regular Enquiry, that their Conduct towards the Nabob (I paſs over that which regards ourſelves alone) has been ſuch, as it has been reported to be, he ought, and you muſt inſiſt upon it, to puniſh them with Death; and to treat * them with the ſame Rigour every Zemindar and every Subject who ſhall be the Leader of a Rebellion againſt his Authority. Severe as this Injunction may appear at firſt Sight, it will be Mercy in its Effects, if the Nabob will adopt the Policy, by inſuring the Tranquillity of his Country, and ſaving the Blood of his People; for the Reſolution once publiſhed, and enforced in a ſingle Inſtance, will make it unneceſſary to proſecute it to a ſecond Example.

"9th. I have been informed by the late Colonel Hannay, that ſome Time before his Recal was determined, he had agreed to a Settlement of 23 Lacks of Rupees complete, and without Deductions, for the Revenue of Goroockpore and Bareach for the preſent Year, and that on his Recal a new Arrangement had taken Place, in which a Selection had been made of the moſt valuable Talooks or Portions of this Diſtrict, and that they had been diſtributed among the Domeſtics and other Favourites of the Miniſter; and that the Reſt had been farmed to One Aumil, Abdool Beig, as I recollect, and the Whole reduced to a Jumma of 18 Lacks, from which a Proviſion of future Remiſſions was made for Seebundjie Anticipations and Pimauly, or Ravages committed during the late Inſurrections. Theſe are Facts of ſuch a Kind, as will confirm themſelves by their own Evidence; and if you find them to be ſuch, it muſt be your Care to correct the Abuſe, if you can, for the preſent, or at leaſt to apply the beſt Remedy in your Power to it, and reſtore their future Jumma to its real Value. To ſhew the Vizier's Opinion of Colonel Hannay, and his Management of the Diſtricts committed to his Care, the Witneſs produced Book 46, intituled, "Perſian Correſpondence, Publick Department, N° 8."

Read, a Letter from the Vizier to the Governor General, received 15 September 1782.

"N° 37. My Country and Houſe belong to you; there is no Difference. I hope that you deſire, in your Heart, the Good of my Concerns. Colonel Hannay is inclined to requeſt your Permiſſion to be employed in the Affairs of this Quarter. If by any Means any Matter of this Country, dependant on me, ſhould be intruſted to the Colonel, I ſwear by the Holy Prophet that I will not remain here, but will go from hence to you. From your Kindneſs, let no Concern dependant on me be intruſted to the Colonel; and oblige me by a ſpeedy Anſwer, which may ſet my Mind at eaſe."

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Letter, an Abſtract of which was about to be read, was the Governor General's Anſwer to the Vizier.

The Witneſs produced Book 130, intituled, "N° 15, Perſian Correſpondence, Publick Department. Letters written in the Year 1782."

Read, Extract from the ſame, as follows.

"To the Vizier. Written the 31ſt December 1782.

myſelf remain, it will be ſufficient if they permit it to operate without Interruption; and I almoſt hope that, in the Event of a new Adminiſtration of your Affairs, which ſhall confine itſelf to the ſame Forbearance, and manifeſt no Symptoms of intended Interference, the Objects of my Arrangements will be effectually attained; for I leave them in the Charge of Agents whoſe Intereſts, Ambition, and every Proſpect of Life, are interwoven with their Succeſs, and the Hand of Heaven has viſibly bleſt the Soil with every elementary Source of progreſſive Vegetation. But if a different Policy ſhall be adopted; if new Agents are ſent into the Country, and armed with Authority for the Purpoſe of Vengeance or Corruption, to no other will they be applied; if new Demands are raiſed on the Nabob Vizier, and Accounts overcharged on one Side, with a wide Latitude taken on the other, to ſwell his Debt beyond the Means of Payment; if political Dangers are portended, to ground on them the Pleas of burthening his Country with unneceſſary Defences and enormous Subſidies; or if, even abſtaining from direct Encroachment on the Nabob's Rights, your Government ſhall ſhew but a Degree of perſonal Kindneſs to the Partizans of the late Uſurpation, or, by any conſtructive Indication of Partiality and Diſaffection, furniſh Grounds for the Expectation of an approaching Change of Syſtem, I am ſorry to ſay, that all my Labours will prove abortive; for the ſlighteſt Cauſes will be ſufficient to deject Minds ſore with the Remembrance of paſt Conflicts, and to elevate thoſe, whoſe only Dependence is placed in the Renewal of the Confuſion which I have laboured with ſuch Zeal to eradicate; and will of courſe debilitate the Authority which can alone inſure future Succeſs. I almoſt fear that this Denunciation of Effects, from Cauſes ſo incompetent as they will appear to thoſe who have not had the Experience which I have had of the quick Senſibility, which influences the Habits of Men placed in a State of Polity ſo looſe, and ſubject to the continual Variations of capricious and deſpotic Authority, will be deemed overcharged, or perhaps void of Foundation; nor, ift hey ſhould come to paſs, will it be eaſy to trace them, with any poſitive Evidence, to their Connection. Yet it is my Duty to appriſe you of what I apprehend, on Grounds which I deem of abſolute Certainty, may come to paſs; and I rely on your Candour for a fair Interpretation of my Intention.

(Signed at the End)
Warren Haſtings (a)."

To prove that the Governor General, in the preceding Letter, did not overſtate the Conſequences likely to enſue the Mal-adminiſtration of the Country of the Vizier, the Witneſs produced a Paper, indorſed, " On the Ganges, 16th November 1787, Letter from E. Cornwallis to the Court of Directors (N° 8), received per Buſbridge, 29th April 1788."

Read, the following Extract, Part of Paragraph 3, from the ſame.

☞ [" Par. 3. I was received at Allahabad, and attended to Lucknow, by the Nabob and his Miniſters, with every Mark of Friendſhip and Reſpect. I cannot, however, expreſs how much I was concerned, during my ſhort Reſidence at his Capital, and my Progreſs through his Dominions, to be Witneſs of the diſordered State of his Finances and Government, and of the deſolate Appearance of the Country: The Evils were too alarming to admit of Palliation, and I thought it my Duty to exhort him, in the moſt friendly Manner, to endeavour to apply effectual Remedies to them. He began with urging, as Apologies, that whilſt he was not certain of the Extent of our Demands upon him, he had no real Intereſt in being œconomical in his Expences; and that, while we interfered in the internal Management of his Affairs, his own Authority, and that of his Miniſters, were deſpiſed by his own Subjects. It would have been uſeleſs to diſcuſs theſe Topicks with him; but, while I repeated my former Declarations, of our being determined to give no Grounds in future for ſimilar Complaints, he gave me the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of his being reſolved to apply himſelf earneſtly to the Encouragement of Agriculture, and to endeavour to revive the Commerce of his Country.] ☜

Then the Witneſs produced a Paper, indorſed, " No. 14, on the Ganges, November 16th 1787. Letter from Earl Cornwallis to the Secret Committee, received per Buſbridge, 25th April 1788. Read in Secret Court 26th ditto."

Read, the following Extract, from Paragraph 5th of the ſame.

" Till I ſaw the Vizier's Troops, I was not without Hopes, that, upon an Emergency, he would have been able to have furniſhed us with ſome uſeful Cavalry; but I have no Reaſon to believe that he has any in his Service upon which it would be prudent to place any Dependence: And I think it right to add, that his Country appears to be in ſo ruined a State, and his Finances in ſo much Diſorder, that, even in caſe of a War, we ought not to depend upon any material Support from him.

(Signed at the End),

" Cornwallis."

To ſhew the Opinion the Country has of the Britiſh Faith, in conſequence of Mr. Haſtings's Government,

The Witneſs produced a Paper indorſed, " 1787. Fort William Secret and Political Department. Copy of a Succinct View of the State of the political Connections ſubſiſting between Mahagie Saindeah and the Britiſh Government in India, encloſed in Captain Kirkpatrick's Letter to Lord Cornwallis, dated 20th July, recorded in Conſultation 28th Auguſt, N° 8. Per Ravenſworth, 30th March 1788."

Read, the following Extract from the ſame.

" Such is the Impreſſion which our former Character and Policy have left on the Minds of the Natives, that, notwithſtanding the many Proofs, which our more recent Conduct has furniſhed, of our being at preſent directed by a very different Spirit, I am perſuaded that neither he nor any other Hindoſtan Potentate gives me Credit for Sincerity in the Declarations which we have latterly made on this Subject: Time no Doubt might ſubdue this obſtinate Incredulity, but who can certainly ſay that we ſhall adhere long enough to our preſent moderate Syſtem for the Purpoſe of inforcing this Belief (a)?"

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Houſe having now heard, from the beſt Authority, what the Opinion entertained by the Country Powers was, of the Britiſh Faith, particularly from Madajee Scindia; they ſhould next ſhew, what Mr. Haſtings offered to the Houſe of Commons, concerning that Opinion, in his Defence at the Bar of that Houſe.

Read, the following Extract of the Introduction to Mr. Haſtings's Defence, at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons, beginning at Page 5 of the Manuſcript.

" If this Honourable Houſe is deſirous of knowing, in what Eſtimation I ſtood with the Princes and Rulers of India, and with the Subjects of our own Dominion, the Opinions of both may be eaſily obtained, by Enquiry of the Witneſſes whom my Proſecutor has called to eſtabliſh his Charges againſt me; and I will anticipate their Evidence. It will ſtate, that my political Conduct was invariably regulated by Truth, Juſtice, and good Faith; that all Perſuaſions of Men were impreſſed with a ſuperſtitious Belief, that a fortunate Influence directed all my Actions to their deſtined Ends; and that my Departure was ſcarcely leſs regretted by the Inhabitants of the Provinces of my late Dependency, than it was by my own Countrymen. I believe this Houſe is in Poſſeſſion of one Teſtimony of the former, in the Letters which Mahdajee Scindia wrote to his Moſt Gracious Majeſty, and to the Company. Theſe were written many Months after my Departure, and contain much more of my Praiſe, than his own Wants or Requiſitions; unleſs the former is inſerted as an Implication of his Deſire, that others may be inſtructed to govern themſelves by my Example: And who will queſtion ſuch an Authority? (b)"

Read, the following Extract of the Defendant's Anſwer, delivered in at the Bar of the Houſe of Lords, beginning at Page 81 of the printed Copy of the ſame.

" And he begs leave further to repreſent, that Letters from ſome of the ſaid Princes, containing their Acknowledgments of his good Faith, Honour, and Integrity, have been tranſmitted to his Succeſſor in Office, and to the Court of Directors, and appear upon the publick Proceedings of the Eaſt India Company."

The

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, That having ſubmitted to them Evidence reſpecting the Proceedings in Baraitch and Goruckpore, in Refutation of the Charge againſt the Begums having been concerned therein, they ſhould next proceed to prove, that the Begums never gave the leaſt Aſſiſtance to Cheit Sing, but, on the contrary, exerted themſelves in favour of the Engliſh.

Read, the following Extract from the Second Defence, beginning at Page 2 of the ſame.

" The Begums of Fyzabad, prompted by their common Hatred to our Nation, and not much more affected to their own Sovereign, though he was their Son and Grandſon, united their Authority and Influence to extend and aggravate our Difficulties. Circular Letters were written to the Zemindars of Oude, inciting them to Rebellion; Rewards were proclaimed for the Heads of Engliſh Officers, Soldiers, and Sepoys. A general Revolt enſued, of which their Agents were the principal Leaders, in the Diſtricts of Gooruckpoor and Barrech. The Two chief Eunuchs, and confidential Servants of the younger Begum, openly levied Troops in the great Square of the City, for the avowed Service of Cheit Sing againſt the Engliſh; and theſe were ſent under the Name of Nejeebs to Cheit Sing, and actually employed in his Battles againſt us.

" Theſe Facts have been proved by the Depoſitions of Lieutenant Colonel Alexander Hannay, Major John Macdonald, Captain John Gordon, and many other Witneſſes, taken before Sir Elijah Impey at Lucknow and Chunar, within Three Months of the Time in which the Event had paſſed; and in one of the latter, namely, that of Sheikh Mahomed Aumeen Mheir, a Commandant, and the Second Officer in Command of the Service of Cheit Sing, a Liſt of the Troops which compoſed Cheit Sing's Force during his Rebellion was delivered by him upon Oath, in which were inſerted 1000 Nejeebs or Swordmen, newly entertained from Lucknow, which exactly corroborates the Teſtimony of Colonel Hannay and the other Engliſh Officers, who mention the Recruits enliſted by the Begums Authority at Fyzabad, by the Name of Nejeebs, the Deponent ſuppoſing them to have been ſent from Lucknow inſtead of Fyzabad, through an evident Miſtake of one Capital for the other. It is worth remarking, that theſe Depoſitions were all taken, to eſtabliſh a Series of Facts combined with the Rebellion of Cheit Sing; and what they have affirmed concerning the Begums was an acceſſory Subject not required for the original, though probably the moſt powerful in the Feelings and Recollections of the Deponents, and therefore more particularly noted in the Evidence delivered by them. This is certainly an additional Argument of their Authenticity (a)."

Read, the following Extract of the Appendix to the Banares Narrative, beginning at Page 181 of the ſame.

" Tranſlation of the Solemn Declaration of the Ranny Golaub Kooer, made on the 12th Day of November 1781, before Chief Juſtice Impey.

" With reſpect to Cheit Sing's having of old had an improper Correſpondence with the Begums at Lucknow, and the Rajah of Bheraich and Gooruckpoor, the Declaration of the above Ranny is as follows.

" Since Two Years, on Account of the Enmity of Cheit Sing to me, I had left Ramnagur, and reſided in another Dwelling, and Cheit Sing had always acted towards me with ſuch Enmity and Oppoſition as cannot be deſcribed; how, therefore, ſhould he have acquainted me with his Correſpondences? but I have heard from Report, that he had in many Places improper Correſpondences; however it is very plain he had an Enmity towards the Governor General, becauſe whenever he learned any Thing to the Prejudice of the Governor, from the Letters of his Vakeels, or the Reports of ill deſigning Perſons, he uſed to rejoice; this is known to all the Inhabitants of Ramnagur; accordingly, when the Governor General was lately coming from Calcutta towards this Quarter, the Rajah and his Companions uſed to ſay, 'The Governor has been diſplaced, and is making his Eſcape to Hindoſtan.' Beſides, from the Rajah's going to Buxar to meet him with the greateſt Preparations, his Intention plainly appears.

(Signed) " Ranny Golaub Kooer (b)."

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, They ſhould next proceed to read the Whole of the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Parcels of Affidavits in the Appendix to the Benares Narrative, Part 3, beginning at Page 195 of the ſame. The Counſel for the Defendant deſired, that the Liſt of the Forces of Cheit Sing, beginning at Page 43 of the Narrative, and the Third and Fifth Parcel of Affidavits in the Appendix, Part 3, beginning at Page 159 and Page 184 of the ſame, might be alſo read.

" Tranſlation of the Declaration of Hyder Beg Khan, atteſted before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 26th, 1781.

" When I arrived at the Seray of Saumee, the Gov. General, Mr. Haſtings, was in the Fort of Chunar. I was detained at the Seray by the Swelling of the River Burnau. The Vakeel of the Rajah Cheit Sing came to me, and delivered to me thus the Meſſage of the ſaid Rajah.—" I [Cheit Sing] have not been in any Manner deficient in my Obedience to the Gentlemen of high Rank [the Engliſh]—The Governor General arrived at Banaris.—At the Inſtigation of Owſan Sing, Mr. Markham brought Two Companies, and put me in Arreſt. About Twelve o'Clock my People, ſtretching forth their Hands, brought me out from thence —For the Safety of my Life I came to Ramnagur, and from thence to Lutteefpoor.—After that, a Force came from Chunar to Ramnagur.—Owſan Sing wanted to ſeize upon Ramnagur. My People ſtood upon their Defence; an Engagement followed, and the Troops of the Governor General were cut off. I am now determined not to paſs by aught which may be in my Power to execute. Do you (i. e. this Deponent) write thus to the Vizeer of the Empire, " That if Support is given to me, I will collect together an Hundred thouſand Men, I will go even to Calcutta, and I will totally annihilate the Engliſh Government." I replied to the Vakeel, ' that this Conduct, and theſe Declarations, would be productive of Evil to the Rajah.—When the Companies came to confine the Rajah, he ſhould have gone that Moment to the Governor General.—People ſay that he heſitated whether he ſhould, or not, attend the Governor. If the Governor General had had any ill Intentions towards him, he would have called together the Company's Forces, who were ſtationed in different Parts—To what Purpoſe was it to come alone to Banaris? Or he would have ſeized him upon the Road. Such Intentions on the Part of the Governor General, from this Retroſpection, are not to be conceived. If a Maſter and a Ruler exerts his Authority, ſtill there is no Cauſe for Fear and Apprehenſion. On theſe Subjects, with which you are unacquainted, I will communicate Circumſtances as they are. His Highneſs is, in his Life and in his Fortune, joined and united with the Company, and the Engliſh Gentlemen. The whole of his Dominions is from them (or is theirs), nor does he wiſh that there ſhould be any Diſtinction between his and theirs. Such Regard more eſpecially does he pay to the firm and perfect Friendſhip which always ſubſiſted between the Governor General and his Highneſs the late Nabob, that he never will be led to deviate, even the Point of a Hair, from the Sentiments and Wiſhes of the Governor. As ſoon as his Highneſs hears theſe Things, he will march immediately with his Forces to meet Mr. Haſtings. Notwithſtanding the Governor General has repeatedly written to the Vizeer to forbid him, yet his Highneſs will now come on his own Determination. The Engliſh Forces too are near at hand, they will ſpeedily arrive, and the Puniſhment will be ſevere. It is not well for the Rajah; he will be torn up by the very Roots.—To threaten alſo that which is out of his Power to execute, is improper; the Rank of the Rajah is nothing more than that of a Zemeedar; no one will pay regard to his Attempts, and a ſmall Force will be ſufficient to chaſtiſe him. Far better will it be for him to lay aſide ſuch Thoughts as theſe, to implore Pardon of the Governor General, to give up his Forts, and ſend back to him the Boats and the whole of the Baggage; or rather, it would be better that he himſelf ſhould go alone, and with his Hands bound, into the Preſence of the Governor.'

" Again he brought this Meſſage from the Rajah: " I can no longer rely with Safety on the Engliſh. If you ſay thus, do you interpoſe, obtain Pardon for my Faults, and take upon yourſelf to ſettle the Subſidy." I ſaid in Reply, ' Your Crimes have been too great; you have attacked the Troops of the Company. I cannot preſume to take upon myſelf to ſettle your Affairs, and to obtain Pardon for your Crimes. If you have actually reſolved on a Change of Conduct, return the Boats and the Baggage, and give up Ramnagur, Lutteefpoor, and Pateeta. Supported by ſuch Proofs, I will once endeavour to obtain a Pardon for you; to grant or to refuſe will reſt with the Governor General.' The Perſon who brought the Meſſage ſaid in Anſwer, ' The Intentions of the Rajah are to ſeize upon the Fort of Chunar, and to extend his Government as far as Calcutta, and you tell him to deliver up Ramnagur, Lutteefpoor, and Pateeta!' I ſaid, " Then the Rajah, it appears, aſpires to the Empire, yet his Rank is only that of a Zemeedar! theſe Attempts will draw down Deſtruction upon him; he will be extirpated in a Moment.' After this Converſation, he promiſed to return the Boats, but he never performed his Promiſe. An Animoſity to all the Engliſh plainly and evidently appeared from the Language of the Rajah's Vakeel; he repeatedly ſaid, that he would go even to Calcutta, and that he would expel the Engliſh, nor would he be deficient in aught which he had the Power to execute. When he found that he had nothing to hope from my Interpoſition, he began to act hoſtilely towards me alſo. He denied me Boats to croſs the Burna, and he directed the Tribe of Gurkbunſee to attack me in the Night. During the few Days that I continued there, we were obliged to keep ourſelves ready for Action, and be upon our Guard Day and Night. In the Neighbourhood of Jounpoor, the People of the Rajah wounded ſeveral of the Stragglers belonging to the Cavalry in his Highneſs's Service, who were coming to join me, and carried off ſome Horſes. And the People ſtationed at Azumgur, who came in to me, ſet forth, That Nadir Shah, the Son of Azum Shah, Zemeedar of Azumgur, which was formerly under the Government of Cheit Sing, had, by Directions from the the Rajah, gone to Azumgur and raiſed Diſturbances. And the Vakeel of Cheit Sing, in the Courſe of his Converſation, ſaid, that the Rajah had ſent Forces towards the Carramnaſſa, and even to the Walls of Patna; and that Letters were gone to the King, to Nujjuf Khan, and to Sindiah. Zaulim Sing, formerly expelled from Amurdeh, was at Budlapoor, in the Government of Cheit Sing: He alſo went to Amurdeh, in the Territories of the Nabob, and raiſed Diſturbances. It appears that the People of Budlapoor accompanied Zaulim Sing. Such were the Reports communicated to me by the People of that Place. Finding it impracticable to croſs the Burna, where I was, without Boats, I marched from thence, and croſſing higher up, where the River was fordable, I proceeded to join the Governor General.

"This Account of what I heard, and of what I ſaw, I have truly and faithfully related. There may be a Difference between the Idioms of the Hindoſtan and Perſian Languages, but there is none in the Senſe. I ſwear by the Almighty, that I have truly wrote, without Diminution or Addition, all that I heard and all that I ſaw, and nothing but the Truth.

"Without the Means of Eſcape, I was obliged to put on the Habit of a Fakeer, and with my Brother take ſhelter in the Hindoo Temple Arnepoorna, where I continued undiſcovered for Eight Days. At length a Fakeer, for the ſake of the Reward, went to Girdhauree Laul, the Brother of Diaram, Aumeen of Banaris, and ſaid, that for a Recompenſe he would ſeize and deliver me up. The ſaid Girdhauree Laul gave Five Rupees to the Fakeer, and ſent Five-and-twenty Peadahs along with him, who took me from the Temple, and confined me for Twenty-two Days in the Aumeen's Kutcherree. My Pen is unable to deſcribe the Ignominy and the Severities which they inflicted upon me. After that, I was confined for Four Days at Ramnagur, and at length, on the 27th of Ramzan, in the Twenty-third Year of the Reign, I was tied Hand and Foot and thrown upon a Dooly, and ſent away from Ramnagur to Lutteefpoor. On the Road, near to the Houſe of Chowdry Sewan, I ſaw a Number of Ladders made of Wood and Bamboos (about Forty or Fifty) lying on the Ground. I enquired of the Peadahs who guarded me, what thoſe Ladders were intended for. They replied, that they had been intended for the Garden of Mehadew Doſs, but it was ordained that the Engliſh Gentlemen ſhould live: They made their Eſcape, otherwiſe Bauboo Soojaun Sing would not have left one of them alive. Having heard this Reply, I remained ſilent.

"Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Hurry Ram Pundit.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, December 2d, 1781.

"The Rajah Cheit Sing, having reflected on his Conduct, determined with his confidential People, that it was neceſſary he himſelf ſhould go to meet Mr. Haſtings, but that he ſhould go from the Place where he was, with ſuch a Force, and with ſuch Preparations, as would enable him to act both by Land and by Water, and impreſs the above-mentioned Gentleman with an Idea of his ſuperior Strength; for that Mr. Haſtings had with him but a ſmall Number of Troops, and if he ſhould have entertained any ill Intentions toward him, on obſerving the Number and Force of his Followers, he would be led to reflect, that nothing could be effected, and conſequently be deterred from making the Attempt; therefore he gave Information and particular Directions to all his Soldiers and Attendants, that he was going to meet Mr. Haſtings, and that they ſhould hold themſelves in Readineſs to proceed: That he ſhould go by Water, for which Purpoſe a Fleet of Boats was prepared; for the before-mentioned Gentleman (the Governor General) would come by Water, and conſequently his Fleet of Boats would come with him; therefore it was neceſſary, that he (the Rajah) ſhould have a Fleet of Boats alſo, that his People might always be near at hand: That a Body of Cavalry moreover ſhould proceed by Land, and Tents be pitched at Two Places between Ramnagur and Buxar; for at all Events he muſt meet the Governor General. Accordingly, on the 16th of Shaubaun, the Rajah ſet out from Ramnagur, by Water, to meet Mr. Haſtings. The Jemmadars and Huzzaries, Jaafir Khan, Dillall Khan, Juttoo Khan, Zubburduſt Khan, Lulloo the Son of Kauna Mull, Rambukſh, Baulkiſhen, &c. all together near Five hundred Horſe; alſo Jemmadars of Foot, with Matchlockmen, &c. near Two thouſand, proceeded along the Southern Bank of the Ganges. And by Water, the Rajah was attended by a Fleet of Boats, in Number about a Hundred and Forty, in which were embarked Suddanund Buxey, Golaum Hooſſein Tay, Mirza Fyz-ullah Beg, Bauboo Doorgbijey Sing, Munnear Sing, Purtaub Roodur Sing, Doond Bahadre Sing, Ahlaud Miſſur, Meer Hooſſein Ally, &c. Sheakh Mahommed Aumeen, Commandant of the Sepoy Battalions, Dabee Sing, Mahommed Moraud, Dhun Sing, and Hukkoomut Sing, Soubadars, with Two Companies of Sepoys, Huzzooree Peadahs, and Matchlocks, in all about 2000 Men. " Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Jewan Ram Moonſhy, in the Service of the late Lieutenant Stalker—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, December 2d, 1781.

" After the Arrival of Mr. Markham at Shewallah, I went in and paid my Reſpects to my Maſter; who aſked me, if I knew whether Mr. Markham would come there or not? I replied, It was reported ſo, but that it depended on his Inclinations. Mr. Staeker then told me, I might go, but afterwards ordered me to ſtay. I continued there, and ſaw Doorgbijey Sing ſitting with the Rajah in the center Apartment, and Suddanund Buxey and others whiſpering to the Rajah. Shortly after, News was brought to the Three Gentlemen ſitting in the adjoining Room, that there were Diſputes without. Mr. Stalker went without the Jauli (or Firſt Wall) and aſked the Subadar Biſhun Sing, why he had ordered the Bayonets to be fixed? The Subadar replied, that Numbers of the Rajah's armed Servants had come in, and that they paid no regard to the Company's Orders. After which, Mr. Stalker advanced further out, and aſked of the younger Mowllavy and me, who amongſt thoſe People was the Chief? I anſwered Bauboo Munnear Sing. Mr. Stalker ſent for Munnear Sing, and ſtrongly enjoined him to appeaſe his People, and enquire, why they attempted to diſpute and fight with his Sepoys. Munnear Sing replied, " What Power have they, that any one of them ſhould preſume to fight? We Two, Father and Son, are deſirous to go to the Rajah." Mr. Stalker anſwered, " Very well, but you muſt ſtay here between your People and mine, that they may not come to Blows." After that a Letter arrived from the Governor to the Rajah, which Mr. Stalker, having quieted and ſoothed the People, preſented to him: The Rajah then got up, and went out of the Burradurri to the adjacent Baſtion, to perform his Devotions.

" At this Time Information was brought to Mr. Stalker, that the Rajah's People oppoſed and refuſed Admittance to another Company of Sepoys who had brought Proviſions, a Table, &c. for the Gentlemen. Mr. Stalker again went out, and calling to Suddanund Buxey, aſked the Cauſe of this Oppoſition; and told him to ſend Directions (to the Rajah's People). Suddanund ſaid he would go himſelf. Mr. Stalker replied, " No, ſend One of your Servants." While the Man was going out to ſilence the People, Mr. Stalker returned within the Jauly. Doorgbijey Sing was gone from thence no one knew whither. Cheit Ram, Mr. Markham's Chubdar, informed Mr. Stalker, that he had a Meſſage to deliver to the Rajah from the Governor General. Mr. Stalker ſaid, " Deliver it." He, the Chubdar, ſaid, " At the Place where the Rajah was at his Devotions, the Governor ſays your People want to quarrel and fight; it will be better if you forbid them, for every Sepoy is as an European, and every European is as a (or the) Company; if a Drop of their Blood is ſhed, you ſhall be plundered and deſtroyed." At this Period, there was a Report of Guns at the Gate of Shewallah; the Action was commenced. At this Time, Mr. Stalker and Cheit Ram went towards the Rajah. Munnear Sing and others cut down Cheit Ram, pulled Mr. Stalker back, and puſhing him on one Side, began the Slaughter. The Rajah eſcaped through a Window by a Rope made of Turbans, got into a Boat, and went off. His People, by the ſame Means, drew up Swords and Shields as a Bucket is drawn up from a Well, and began to engage. I ſtood near the Jauly behind my Maſter; when my Maſter was killed, I fled toward the Place where the Rajah's Victuals was dreſſed. I continued there a ſhort Time, and ſaw the Rajah's People jump from the Walls and the Trees with their Shields and Swords, and advance. After this I aſſumed the Character of one of Cheit Sing's Servants, fled with his People, and came to the Preſence. The Gentlemen after this went to Chunar, and I ſhould have arrived the next Day, but I was plundered on the Road and confined in the Fort of Pindera. Diaram took away from my Houſe Two Tangon Horſes, and placed his Seal and a Guard upon the Door. After the Flight of the Rajah, the Zemeedar of the before-mentioned Fort ſet me at Liberty. Without a Maſter, every way diſconſolate, to whom can I communicate my Diſtreſs? I now hope for Favour and Support from the Almighty, and from you.

" In the Month Phagun a Jemmadar and a Havildar, in the Service of Soojaun Sing, the Brother of Rajah Cheit Sing, came to me, and ſaid, 'Soojaun Sing has ſent for you.' I aſked, 'On what Account has he ſent for me?'—They replied, 'We do not know.'—I ſaid, 'I am a Servant to the Engliſh, I will not go to him.' They [then] ſaid, 'He has ſent for you, to take you into his Service.'—I anſwered, 'From my Youth to this Day I have been the Servant of the Engliſh; I have never gone to any Rajahs or Bauboos, nor will I go to them.' When thoſe People returned to Soojaun Sing, they ſaid, 'Doond Sing, the Commandant (i. e. this Deponent), refuſes to come.' The Rajah Futteh Saw alſo wrote to the Rajah Cheit Sing, to place a Guard over my Houſe at Banaris, in which Caſe I ſhould (be obliged to) join him with my Sepoys and Guns. This Information was given to me by the Jemmadar Chaint Sing. I ſaid, 'My Houſe, and my Wife, and my Children, may be deſtroyed.—Still I am the Servant of the Engliſh, and I am faithful and loyal. By the Bleſſing of God, in a ſhort Time we alſo ſhall go to Banaris and plunder that Rajah, and we will ſpoil the Rajah Futteh Saw alſo.' At Sukroreh I was informed that a Guard was placed at my Houſe.

" On the 19th of Ramzan the Captain * iſſued Orders to all the Subadars for marching towards Banaris, and directed them to get in Readineſs. The next Day we marched to Burragong. The Captain had mounted his Horſe to proceed, and I was in the Rear in Search of a Conveyance for my Baggage, when Five or Six Sepoy Grenadiers and others came and ſurrounded me, and demanded their Pay, in conſequence of which a great many more of the Sepoys came and clamoured for their Pay, and ill-uſed me; and they brought me down from the Bungala, and beat me ſeverely with the Butt-ends of their Pieces, and charged Bayonets even to my Breaſt, ſo that my Life was in Danger. A Hircarrah carried Information of this Affair to the Captain, who, on receiving it, turned back and arrived immediately. All the Sepoys then turned their Clamours againſt the Captain, uſing inſulting Language, and they ſurrounded him and ſaid that unleſs they received their Pay they would not ſet him at Liberty—that if I ſhould pay them, well; if not, they would carry me to Baunſy, which is near to Kunkooa; and that, when they ſhould receive the whole of their Pay from me, they would ſet me free.—They moreover placed a Guard with fixed Bayonets over the Captain, and pointed Bayonets to his Breaſt to ſtab him; and they ruſhed upon us ſeveral Times, ſo that we gave up ourſelves for loſt. In this Situation the Captain ordered them back, and gave them Three Months Pay; and then propoſed to them to march with him to Banaris. The Sepoys anſwered inſolently, that they would not on any Account go to Banaris. Without Remedy, the Captain marched from thence with the Battalion, and arrived at Gooruckpoor. He halted there a few Days, purchaſed Grain for the Sepoys, and marched from thence by the Way of Baunſy. We halted Six Days at Baunſy on account of the heavy Rains; we afterwards marched from thence, and after encountering a thouſand Diſtreſſes arrived at Buſkoreh. " Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Doond Sing, Commandant.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 26th, 1781.

"It appears from the Letter of Ram Sing Jemmadar, ſtationed at Mutcholi, that the Rajah Ajeet Mull, the Rajah Futteh Saw, and Genoo Roy, had engaged themſelves to each other by Oath to croſs the Rivers Gogra and Surjoo, for as much as they had received a Letter from the Rajah Cheit Sing, and the Sum of Fifteen thouſand Rupees, to cut off the Engliſh in the Diſtrict of Surwur, and drive them out; and Letters have arrived from Futteh Saw, to all the Zemeedars, great and ſmall, to withhold the Collections, and not to pay a ſingle Daum to the Engliſh; and the ſaid Futteth Saw ſent near Two hundred Men, with Matchlocks, into the Jungle of Burragong, and near to Kunkooa. After Three Days, the Three Rajahs croſſed the River, and encamped in the Jungle; and it was reported from all Quarters, that the Zemeedars had ſhut up all the Ghauts on the Rivers, and ſunk all the Boats; and I wrote an Account of theſe Things to Major Macdonald and Captain Williams, and told them that there were great Diſturbances in the Country, and that there were Reports alſo that the Rajahs would croſs the River. And I wrote theſe Things to Major Macdonald, that he might inform the Colonel that the Road to Banaris was ſhut up, for fear the Captain ſhould march from that Quarter towards Banaris; it was alſo reported among the People, that Three Gentlemen had been killed at Banaris. After ſome Days the Captain arrived at Kunkooa, and after a Halt of Three Days, gave Orders for marching, and directed all the Sepoys to get ready, and about Nine o'Clock in the Morning on the Sixth of September, he marched, and came to the Bank of the River Khaukhi; it then rained exceſſively. When we arrived at the Khaukhi, the Captain ordered the Troops to be croſſed over the River; agreeable to Orders, I croſſed them over. When, after a thouſand Diſtreſſes, we had croſſed the River, the Captain ſaid that there were many Rivers in the Road, and no Boats on any of them; that the Ghauts were ſhut up, and no Grain to be procured on the March for the People; how then would it be poſſible to paſs the Guns and Troops through ſuch a Country? It would be better, he ſaid, to go to Banaris by Way of Buxar; therefore we again croſſed the River Khaukhi, and encamped after marching Half a Coſs from it. He (then) gave Orders for marching toward Khunkooa. Moving from the Khaukhi the Captain with the Troops arrived at Khunkooa; he then told all the Subadars and Jemmadars, that the Rajah Futteh Saw, with his Force, was poſted on the Road, and that it was neceſſary to attack and drive him from thence; that he would halt a few Days at Nuddy Kaunoon, and then march toward Banaris. It was now known that the Sepoys of the Battalion had ſaid, 'Let them give us our Pay, and wherever they go, we will go with them;' to which the Subadars replied, 'they might take it wherever they found it.' The ſaid Subadars neither confined thoſe Sepoys, nor informed me of the Circumſtance. I received the Information from Chaint Sing Jemmadar. The Subadar of Grenadiers ſtationed a Sepoy behind his Hackery, and told him, he might either protect and convey it to his (the Subadar's) Houſe, or he might leave it to be plundered by the Country People. The Sepoy told him to ſet his Mind at Reſt, for that he would convey it ſafe to his Dwelling. At Night, after Twelve o'Clock, I made my Report to the Captain, who ordered me to go with Bukhtawur Sing, Subadar to the Sepoys, to ſatisfy and explain to them, that he would give them their Pay when they arrived at Burragong. In the Morning we marched a ſmall Diſtance toward Burragong. Firſt, a Sepoy pulled off his Coat, and drew his Bayonet on the Captain; the Subadars and Jemmadars did not interpoſe to check him; the Captain ſaid, 'I will pay this Sepoy and diſmiſs him—do you march on.' I obeyed his Orders, and marched; but the Sepoys quitted their Colours and their Guns, and aſſembled at Khunkooa. The Subadars and Jemmadars ſaid nothing (to prevent them). Seeing the Situation of Things, I directed the Jemmadar Kihaul Sing to take with him Twelve Sepoys, and go to the Captain, that he might know how Things were. After which, Orders from the Captain came, to return back and join him; I went back, and ſaw that the Sepoys had mutinied violently; that they had drawn their Bayonets, and were threatening the Captain; moreover, Three of the Sepoys loaded their Pieces to fire at him, and they demanded Four Months Pay; and moſt of the Sepoys ſaid, 'Let him pay us all our Arrears, and he may go where he pleaſes;' when the Sepoys had received their their Pay, they ſaid, one and all, 'We will not go to Burragong; we will go to the Begum at Fyzabad; if ſhe will retain us, we will ſtay; if not, we will carry the Gun (or Guns) to the Rajah Cheit Sing, and Saadut Ally Khan.' The Sepoys, after this, directed the Subadars to tell the Captain to march; the Captain replied, That the Two Companies and the Gun ſtationed at Nuchlole were coming; he would march as ſoon as they had joined; the Sepoys ſaid, 'Let the Captain march, we ſhall meet the Companies on the Road;' however, the Captain halted till the Two Companies arrived; he then ſent Hurdeaul Sing, Commandant, to the Sepoys, to tell them that the People (i. e. the Two Companies) were fatigued; that they ſhould halt One Day, that thoſe People might receive their Pay alſo; and then he would march. The Sepoys refuſed to liſten to Hurdeaul Sing. The Captain then ſent for the Two Subadars, and told them to go and perſuade the Sepoys to make one Halt, that he might give the Two Companies their Pay. The Sepoys were prevailed upon to halt by the Subadars, and the Captain paid the People.

"The next Morning the Captain ſent a Man to the Chucklahdar, and directed him to march alſo. He ſent Word, that he was collecting Cattle for the Baggage, and that he would march as ſoon as he had got them; it was afterwards heard, that the Chucklahdar had given Twelve thouſand Rupees to Futteh Saw—the ſaid Rajah demanded Twenty thouſand from the Chucklahdar, promiſing to protect him—And it was currently reported through the Country, that Saadut Ally Khan was the Nabob, and that the Engliſh Government was overthrown. After this we marched from Kunkooa; the Captain purchaſed Grain for the Sepoys; the Waters were out from the heavy Rain; and whoever loitered behind was plundered by the Villagers. When we arrived at Baunſy, we were obliged to halt Six Days on account of the Rains; after that we marched and arrived at Buſkroreh, but there were many Rivers and Nullahs in the Road.

"Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Ahlaud Sing, Subadar, ſtationed in the Fort of Gooruckpoor.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, 26th November 1781.

"I had confined under my Guard, in the Fort of Gooruckpoor, One hundred and Fifteen Burgomauls, Inhabitants of Surwaur. On the 15th of Ramzan, the Rajah of Gooruckpoor, the Zemeedars of Oulooleh, Bechouly, &c. &c. great and ſmall, likewiſe all the Inhabitants of Gooruckpoor, with Six thouſand Matchlocks, and great Numbers of Country People, armed with Clubs, at Four Gurries of the Night ſurrounded the Fort, and made an Attack by Surpriſe; but the Sepoys on Guard at the Baſtions were awake; they began to fire, and an Action immediately followed. Seeing that the Country People were in great Numbers, I went to each of the Baſtions, and encouraged the Sepoys, and called them to me into the Body of the Place, and formed them together. I left a Havildar and Ten Sepoys at the Rung Mahul, to protect the Baggage; but it was Night Time; the Country People made an Aſſault with Ladders, and entered the Fort, and both Parties fought reſolutely. At this Time they placed Ladders againſt the Inner Fort, toward the South, and entered upon the Baſtion: I ſeized an advantageous Opportunity (attacked) and killed Seventeen of the Enemy on the Baſtion, and wounded ſeveral others. About Half after Ten at Night they made an Attack upon the Weſtern Baſtion: As there was a Straw Chupper on that Baſtion, I took ſhelter under it, and threw down, with all my Force, a Part of the Brick Battlement on the Enemy, by which Four of them were killed; One other fell by a Muſquet Ball; and they retreated. A Third Time, about Three o'Clock in the Morning, the Country People raiſed a great Shout, and attacked us again: I was then engaged on the Inner Fort Baſtion: Seubunſe Havildar was poſted, with Twelve Sepoys, to guard the Burgomauls; they ruſhed upon him in a Body, and Seubunſe called out to me, with a loud Voice, that the Burgomauls had attacked him: I gave him Orders to put them all to the Sword; he inſtantly ſtruck off the Heads of Eighteen Burgomauls, and threw them out, and he wounded ſeveral others. The Morning now broke, and I entertained a Hope that the Enemy would fly, and that the People of the Town would certainly join me; but the Country People, the Fougedar, &c. were all united with the Rajah; they lifted up their Arms, and ſaid, The Doway* of the Nabob Saadut Ally Khan, and the Begum, has ſpread through the Country; for the Rajah Cheit Sing has deſtroyed all the Engliſh, and Letters have come to the Rajahs to put the Dependants of the Engliſh to the Sword, wherever they may be found: And he ſaid, "Where will they go? the Country is mine; I am a Bhonear Rajah, how long will they (be able to) oppoſe me?" In ſuch Diſcourſe Two Gurries of the Morning had paſſed away. From the Eaſtern to the Weſtern Gate, within the Mahul, they ſurrounded the Inner Fort on all Sides, and the Action was renewed We continued engaged for Five Pahr (Fifteen Hours) with the Enemy, without taſting either Food or Water. At this Time, Furhaud Beg came from the Rajah Bhonea, to make Propoſals, of which he informed me by One of my People. The Havildar Superſaud ſaid, "Perhaps the Rajah has ſent him to ſupport us; no Matter, let him be called;" ſo I ſent for him, and he came up to the Gate of the Inner Fort, and when he ſaw me, he ſaid to me, "You have no Maſters; the Engliſh are all killed, and the Colonel and Mr. Gordon are confined by the Begum." I gave him inſulting Language in Reply to this, and told him to tell this Story to the Sepoys who were with me; and he did repeat it, with a loud Voice, to the Sepoys; and ſaid to them, "You have no Maſters; give up the Burgomauls, that they may enter into the Rajah's Service, or go where they think proper." In Reply we ſaid, "The good Fortune of our Maſters is on our Side, and while we have Life we will fight; and we will not give up the Burgomauls." At this Juncture Selamut Khan Jemmadar of Grenadiers, with Nine Sepoys, unexpectedly arrived in the Town from Nerownah: My People from the Inner Fort ſaw that a Company had arrived near to the Cutwall's Chubbootre; they gave a loud Shout, and ſaid, "A Company of Grenadiers is arrived from Kunkooa;" and their Spirits were raiſed; and we opened the Gate of the Fort, and Selamut Khan joined us. The Bravery and Reſolution of Selamut Khan are not to be deſcribed. When the Enemy beheld the Arrival of Selamut Khan Jemmadar, they turned their Faces to Flight: I purſued them with my People through the Weſtern Gate, and many of the Enemy were killed and wounded, and Numbers were killed and Numbers were drowned in the River; and, by the Bleſſing of God, we obtained the Victory. I returned into the Fort, and immediately ſecured Ferhaud Beg and Fyz-oolla Beg, who had come to make Propoſals about the Burgomauls; I wrote an Account of the whole of this Affair to the Colonel, and to the Captain*. After a few Days, an Order came from the Colonel to Munnowur Khan, directing, that if the Rajah Muſtapha Khan had been put to Death, well; if not, ſtrike off his Head. Munnowur Khan ſhewed me the Order. I ſaid, "The Order is not written to me; I will write to the Colonel on the Subject." And it was underſtood from the Country People, that the Captain was marching towards Baharis, (but) that the Grenadier Sepoys had mutinied, and demanded their Pay; that the Captain gave them Three Months Pay, and propoſed to them to march with him to Banaris: The Sepoys all anſwered, that they would go to Bungulla, and deliver up their Arms at the Gate of the Begum; in conſequence of which, the Captain was obliged to give up his Intentions of going to Banaris, and return to Gooruckpoor; and he gave Orders, that the Head of Muſtapha Khan ſhould be ſtruck off; and he was beheaded accordingly; and a Proclamation was made through the Town, that thoſe who were guilty of ſuch Crimes would meet with the ſame Puniſhment. The Captain halted for ſome Days, and brought up Grain for the Sepoys. At this Time, the Brother of Soobaun Sing, Pulwaun Sing, with a thouſand Matchlocks, and others, Country People, was at Gooruckpoor; and they raiſed an Outcry, and ſaid that the Engliſh ſhould not remain in the Town, and they prepared for Action; ſo the Captain croſſed the Raubty. A Bullock Man belonging to the Artillery, who returned into the Town to buy Fodder, they put to Death. Marching from thence, in Four Days the Captain arrived at Baunſy. The Ranny of Baunſy came to ſee him, but her Son prepared for Hoſtilities; he ſaid, "They have ſtruck off the Head of our Rajah at Gooruckpoor, and I will be revenged." We marched from thence; and the Rajah of Bulrampoor, with his People, had thrown up an Intrenchment acroſs the Road; and he ſaid, "It is the Begum's Orders, that you ſhall not march by this Road." With the greateſt Hazard and Caution we marched from thence, and arrived at Koonda, and the Country People retired into the Fort.

"Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Denoo Sing, Subadar.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 26th, 1781.

"On the 16th of Ramzan, an Order came to me from the Commander of the Battalion, that a Jemmadar and Sepoys belonging to the Company of Dut Sing were coming to me; that I ſhould deliver over to him the Fort and the Gun, and the Burgomauls, and that I myſelf ſhould march and join Mr. Gordon at Taundeh. On the 13th the ſaid Jemmadar and Sepoys joined me at Dummooreah Gunge; and, being relieved on the ſame Day, on the 14th of the ſaid Month I marched towards Taundeh. The Zemeedars and Villagers ſurrounded us all the Way from Dummooreah Gunge to Ruddouly, and they ſaid, "The Government of the Colonel is at an End;" but they had not the Reſolution to attack us. They alſo ſaid, "The Rajah Cheit Sing has cut off the Engliſh Forces at Banaris; deliver up your Baggage, it is the Order of the Begum." In this Situation I replied, "The Baggage belongs to us, and we have Ammunition to defend it; if any one chooſes to attack it, let him come." We lay the whole Night on our Arms at Ruddouly. We marched the next Morning, and arrived at Buſty; but got no Intelligence of Mr. Gordon to enable us to join him. Ghuffoor Beg, Subadar of the Nabob's Artillery, told me that Bauboo Dhun Sing, with a thouſand Matchlocks, had taken poſt in the Jungle of Buſty, and that he had moreover ſunk all the Boats on the River. I halted Six Hours at Buſty, ſearching after Boats; at laſt I procured a very ſmall one, and when I was about to croſs, the Subadar Bejy Sing arrived, after a March of Twenty Coſs, in which March a Sepoy and Three Horſes were killed, and Four Sepoys wounded. Bejy Sing deſired I would ſtop for Two or Three Gurry, till his People had ate their Victuals, for they had marched Twenty Coſs. At the Time that Bejy Sing's Sepoys had untied their Cummurbunds [laid aſide their Arms], the Country People, with Bauboo Dhun Sing, came and furrounded us in the Village of Buſty; in conſequence of which, I reſolved to ſeize upon the Fort of Buſty, and take Poſt there. The Subadar of the Artillery before mentioned, and others of the People, ſaid, "Accounts have arrived from the Begum that all the Engliſh are cut off: Why will you ſeize upon the Fort and take Poſſeſſion of it?"—I deſired the ſaid Subadar to join and ſupport me; he replied, "Whoever is appointed Aumil of the Pergunnah I will join him, I will not go with you." At this Time a Man arrived, and brought News, that Mr. Gordon was at Sunjur Ghaut, in the Pergunnah of Ruddouly; ſo I marched to Meer Gunge, intending to go from thence to the ſaid Ghaut, and I ſent a Sepoy, naked, to obtain Intelligence of Mr. Gordon. The ſaid Sepoy returned, and brought Word that Mr. Gordon and the Subadars and Jemmadars were impriſoned at Taundeh by Orders from the Begum; that many of the Sepoys had deſerted, and ſeveral had been killed: When I heard this News, and that the Ghauts on the River were ſhut, and that the Rajahs, with Six thouſand Matchlocks, had ſurrounded Ahlaud Sing in the Fort of Gooruckpoor, with an Intention to ſet the Burgomauls at Liberty; I determined to march to Gooruckpoor: On the Road, News arrived that through the good Fortune of our Maſters all the Country People had been put to Flight, and that Ahlaud Sing had obtained the Victory; in conſequence of which I went to Mukhur, and there I ſaw that all the Purgunnah Aumils of that Country had taken ſhelter in the Monument of Kubbeer Daus; from them I learned, that it was the Begum's Orders to cut off all thoſe who were connected with the Engliſh in Surwar, whereever they might be found. I alſo heard that the Rajah Cheit Sing had deſtroyed all the Engliſh Troops, and that Three of the Engliſh had been killed; it was alſo reported, that the Authority of the Nabob Saadut Ally Khan and the Begum was eſtabliſhed throughout all the Country. I marched from Mukhur, and arrived at the Fort of Gooruckpoor. After this a Letter came from Bauboo Ajeet Sing to Ahlaud Sing, to this Purport; "Deliver over the Burgomauls to me, and I will cauſe you to be conducted wherever you think proper to go; or (if you think proper) enter into my Service, for you have no Maſter; why will you give yourſelves up to Deſtruction?" We and Ahlaud Sing ſent a verbal Anſwer, That the Fortune of our Maſters was on our Side; if he thought proper he might come; That while we had Life we would not give up the Burgomauls, but that we would put them all to the Sword. We wrote an Acccount of theſe Things to the Colonel, and received the following Anſwer, that we ſhould maintain our Poſt in the Fort, and that we ſhould march toward him with the Captain (when he arrived). It was now known that the Captain intended to march to Banaris by the Road of Nuddi Kaunoon; but that the Grenadiers had mutinied, and obliged him to return. It was alſo heard that Futteh Saw, and Genoo Roy, and Rajah Ajeet Mull, &c. had reſolved to attack the Captain, becauſe Letters had come from the Rajah Cheit Sing to all the Zemeedars, to this Purport, "Wherever there are Dependants of the Engliſh, kill and drive them out." It was moreover reported, that when the Captain marched to Kunkooa, on his Way to Banaris, the Grenadiers made a Diſturbance, and demanded their Pay: That he gave Three Months Pay to the Sepoys, to prevail upon them to march with him to Banaris, but that thoſe Cowards would not conſent; they ſaid, "We will not go to Banaris: We are the Servants of the Begum and Saadut Ally Khan; we will deliver up our Guns and our Arms at the Gate of the Begum."—Without Remedy, the Captain was obliged, by the Diſobedience of his Troops, to march to Gooruckpoor, where we joined him; moreover, Pulwaun Sing, the Brother of the Rajah Soobaun Sing, came with a thouſand Matchlocks, and he and the Inhabitants of Gooruckpoor raiſed a Clamour, demanding that the Captain ſhould march from thence, and they killed the Brother of the Chowdry of the Bullock Men, who went into the Town to buy Fodder. At this Time Half the Troops had croſſed the Raubty, when the foregoing Accident happened; the Captain marched by the Way of Baunſy. After our Arrival at Baunſy it rained Six Days without Intermiſſion. The Ranny of Baunſy came to ſee the Captain, but her Son ſtood prepared for Hoſtilities. After Six Days, we marched from thence to Purtaul Buckra, from thence to Dummoorea Gunge; marching from thence, we halted at Chunderdeep for Two Days; when we marched from thence the Captain went on in Front; Hurdeaul, Commandant, was in the Rear; a Skirmiſh enſued between him and the Country People; Two of them were taken Priſoners, and One was killed by a Muſket Shot. We marched from that Place to the Nullah of Attroleh, Three Coſs to the Weſtward; we marched from Attroleh, and were oppoſed, near Bulrampoor, by about Two thouſand Country People; but when the Battalion and Gun were drawn up fronting them, they gave way and fled; the Road cleared, we marched, and encamped at the Nuddy Koaubeh; we continued there One Night, and marched to Gonedeh. When we arrived at Gonedeh, the Country People quitted our Rear. This is a true Account which is written.

"The Rajah Futteh Saw, and Genoo Roy, and Ajeet Mull, united themſelves all Three together, and bound themſelves by Oath; and theſe were the improper Reſolutions which they had agreed to, That they would croſs the River Gograh, and eſtabliſh their own Authority there; for Letters had arrived from the Rajah Cheit Sing at Banaris, in which he ſaid, "All the Engliſh are cut off; the Government of the Engliſh is overturned; I have taken Poſſeſſion of the Country;

do you, the Zemeedars, eſtabliſh your Authority alſo in thoſe Diſtricts."—It was likewiſe publicly reported, that the Rajah Cheit Sing had ſent Fifteen thouſand Rupees in Specie to the ſaid Zemeedars, to raiſe Men, and kill and drive out the Dependants of the Engliſh wherever they might be. It was alſo reported that Colonel Hannay and Captain Williams were in Confinement; the Rajah Futteh Saw came to inform himſelf of this; but not obtaining any certain Intelligence, returned, and determined to go to Kunkooa, to cut off the People and plunder the Place. At this Time the Captain returned from Lucknow, and arrived at Kunkooa. I alſo arrived at Kunkooa agreeably to Orders. In the Evening he informed all the Subadars and Jemmadars and Sepoys, that they were to march towards Banaris the next Day. In conſequence of which the Sepoys went to the Subadars and ſaid, that they had no Money. The Subadars replied, their Pay was in the Sirkar, if they could get it they might take it. Early the next Morning we marched, the Companies faced to the Right. Four or Five of the foremoſt Grenadiers ſtept out, ſurrounded the Captain, and ſaid, "Give us our Pay and we will go with you;" the Captain replied, "You are only Four or Five Men, take (your Pay) and I will pay the Battalion when we arrive at Burragong," which is only Eight Coſs from Kunkooa. The Battalion had gone on about a Coſs. On hearing the above, Numbers of Sepoys returned, and loaded their Pieces, and fixed their Bayonets, and pointed them at the Captain; in conſequence of which, he recalled the whole Battalion, and told them to take their Pay and march with him to Banaris; to which they all agreed; but when the Captain had given them Three Months Pay, the Men who were the Mutineers raiſed a Clamour, (and ſaid) "we will take our Arms and the Gun to the Chuckladar, and receive our Pay from him, for the Chuckladar is a Servant of the Begum's, and we alſo are the Begum's Servants, and Saadut Ally's." The Captain ſaid to the Commandant and the Subadars, "I have paid them all, what then is the Cauſe of this improper Behaviour?" but what he ſaid had no Effect upon them; however much he urged them to march to Banaris, they ſtill refuſed, and only ſaid, that they would go to Bungulla, and attend the Begum and Saadut Ally Khan; and that if the Captain attempted to eſcape, they would put a Guard over him, and deliver him up there. Without Remedy, the Captain marched this Way. That which was true has been written.

"Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Hurdeal Sing, Commandant.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 26th, 1781.

"The Servant Hurdeal Sing, Commandant of Major Macdonald's Battalion, gives the following Account. I was ſtationed in the Pergunnah of Beelpoor, in the Diſtrict of Narrain Buttool, with Two Companies of Sepoys of Captain Williams's Battalion, Three hundred and Fifty Nejeeb and Sehbundy Men, and One Gun, and acted in the Buſineſs of the Sirkar agreeably to my Orders. From the 15th of Ramzan I received ſeveral Letters from Mahommed Shuffee Khan, the Chuckladar, and from the Captain, who were then at Kunkooa, to march ſpeedily with my Force and join them, for that the Power of the turbulent Country People and Rajahs was become exceſſive. At this Time I collected together the People who were ſtationed at different Places; and on the 19th of the ſaid Month, notwithſtanding the Waters were very much out in the Road, I marched toward Kunkooa. When I arrived at Ram Kolah, which is about Fifteen Coſs from my Situation, I heard, from the general Reports of the People, that the Rajahs Ajeet Mull, and Futteh Saw, and Genoo Roy, who had been expelled from their Zemeedaries, and reſided with the Rajah Cheit Sing in the Country of Banaris, had all Three, by Orders from Saadut Ally Khan and Rajah Cheit Sing, marched from thence, and croſſed the Gograh, and taken Poſſeſſion of their Lands; and that the Rajah Cheit Sing had aſſiſted the ſaid Rajahs with Five and twenty thouſand Rupees to drive out the Engliſh, [directing] that they ſhould drive them and all their Dependants out of their Diſtricts. When I came to the next Stage, I heard that the Grenadiers, who were with Captain Williams at Kunkooa, had mutinied, and confined the Captain, and cruelly beat his Moonſhy; that they had got their Pay, and intended to go off to the Vizeer; and that no one attended to the Orders of the Captain. As the Companies with me had been informed of theſe Circumſtances, I ſoothed and perſuaded them not to think of acting in ſuch a Manner; that Pay was never withheld or loſt in the Engliſh Service; that they would receive every Daum of that which was due to them; but that it would be improper for them, at that Time, to act as others had done. The Sepoys aſſented to what I had ſaid, and, notwithſtanding the Oppoſition of the Country People on the Road, we arrived in Safety, and with the greateſt Expedition, at Kunkooa, and attended the Captain and the Chuckladar, and I then ſaw with my own Eyes what I had before heard on the Road. The Captain ſaid, when I went to him, "You have without Doubt heard how Things are here; what are the Intentions of the People with you?" I ſaid in reply, that the People along with me, both the Sepoys, the Nujjeeb and the Sehbundy Men, had no other Intentions but thoſe of obeying his Orders; and that he might, at all Events, make himſelf eaſy as to thoſe Men. The Captain then ſaid, "It was my Intention to have taken the Grenadier Companies, and the Two Guns, and to have marched to Banaris, and joined the Governor, by the Way of the Nuddy Kaunoon; and to have chaſtiſed the three Rajahs, with whom we ſhould have fallen in on the Road; but the Grenadiers would not content to this; do you inquire of them what their Intentions are." Agreeably

ably to the Orders of the Captain, I went at Night to the Line to the Subadars and Jemmadars and Sepoy Grenadiers, and aſked what they wiſhed for and intended. The Sepoys all replied, "If the Captain reſolves to march to the Eaſtward, not one of us will go with him; moreover, we will march early To-morrow Morning to the Weſtward, to the Vizeer; whoever chuſes to go that Way may accompany us." The Two Grenadier Subadars then told me to go to my Tent, for that theſe Matters the Two Companies had already talked upon with the Captain. I again endeavoured to prevail upon the Sepoys and Subadars, and told them to continue, and ſet their Minds at Reſt; that I would go and ſpeak to the Captain; that, if he approved of it, he would take them with him, and march to the Weſtward; that, at all Events, it would be better to obey him. At laſt I ſoothed and appeaſed them, and went to the Captain and told him what had paſſed. After this, the Captain ordered me to go to Mahommed Shuffee Khan, the Chuckladar, and tell him to prepare to march. I went to the Chuckladar, and delivered the Meſſage. In anſwer, the Chuckladar, who had ſent a Perſon named Munſhan Ram, on his Part, to the Rajahs Ajeet Mull, Futteh Saw, and Genoo Roy, before mentioned, on a private Buſineſs, made the Want of Cattle for his Baggage an Excuſe; and deſired that we would halt Two or Three Days longer, and that he would then collect Beaſts of Burden, and march. The ſaid Chuckladar told me the next Day, and told the Captain alſo, that a Man of his was returned, and had brought Information, that Four Companies of Sepoys and Four Guns were come from the Rajah Cheit Sing, to the Aſſiſtance of the Rajahs Ajeet Mull, Futteh Saw, and Genoo Roy; and moreover, that they would croſs the Gograh, and join them that Day. At length, Two Days after my Arrival, our whole Force marched toward Gooruckpoor; and, notwithſtanding the Rajahs and the Country People moleſted us on all Sides on the March, and the Waters and Nullahs were out, yet in Six Days we arrived in Safety at Gooruckpoor.—There I heard from the People, that Orders from the Begum had arrived to all the Rajahs of Pergunnahs, not to permit any Engliſh Gentlemen, or any of their Dependants, to paſs in Safety through their ſeparate Diſtricts; and that they had ſurrounded Ahlaud Sing, Subadar, who was ſtationed with a few Sepoys in the Fort of Gooruckpoor; but that, through the good Fortune of our Maſters, the Enemy was repulſed, and obliged to retire; that no Engliſh Letters, or others, or Hircarrahs, were permitted to paſs; and that, if the Country People diſcovered any Engliſh Letters or others in the Hands of Hircarrahs, they ſcourged them with the greateſt Severity. In conſequence of theſe (Accounts) the Captain ſent for me, and ſaid, "The People have raiſed great Diſturbances in the Country; beyond this no Grain will arrive, therefore we muſt buy Grain here, and carry it with us." In the Space of Eight Days, Grain was procured for the March, and Bullocks got together, and in Four Days, notwithſtanding the heavy Rains, we croſſed the Raubty, and marched towards Sukroreh: From the Day that we arrived at Baunſy, for Six Days, ſuch heavy Rains fell, both Day and Night, that no one had the Power to ſtir from his Place. Without Remedy, we halted during that Time, and on the Firſt Day that the Rain ſubſided, we marched, and in Two Days arrived at Dummoorea Gunge. At that Place there was a Nullah in the Road, which was overflowed by the Rains, and ſtopt our Progreſs; and we were at laſt obliged to halt there One Day to make a Bridge, over which the Troops were paſſed. While we were croſſing, the Country People ſhowed themſelves, but were repulſed, and obliged to retreat We proceeded from thence the next Day, and March after March to Bulrampoor. As the River Kuwannah croſſed our Way at that Place, we were obliged to halt there for One Day; at laſt we paſſed that River in Safety, and by repeated Marches arrived at Sukroreh. This Account, knowing it proper, is written according to the Truth.

"Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Bejy Sing, Subadar.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 26th, 1781.

"On the 13th of Ramzan I received Orders from Mr. Williams to join Mr. Gordon at Taundeh, and to deliver over the Gun and the Burgomauls to Kaumdar Beg. Agreeably to Orders, I delivered over the Gun and the Burgomauls to Kaumdar Beg, and ſet out. When I arrived at Naurood the Hooly Rejoicings had commenced; and the Country People gathered together on all Sides, and ſurrounded me. Making an Effort, I puſhed on from thence about a Coſs; but the Enemy were now increaſed to a prodigious Number. Till Nine o'Clock at Night they continued to inſult us; and when the Moon got up, they began to fire with Matchlocks; and they ſaid, "You have ſtruck off the Head of the Rajah Juggut Sing; where will you go?—we will ſtrike off your Heads in Return. It is the Orders of the Begum, that whoever ſtrikes off and brings in the Head of an Engliſhman, ſhall receive a Reward of a Thouſand Rupees; and for the Head of a Subadar or Jemmadar a Hundred Rupees; and for every Sepoy's Head ſtruck off and brought, that a Reward of Ten Rupees ſhall be given."—The Attack continued through the Night; One Sepoy was killed, and Seven Men and Three Horſes wounded, of my Party. The Country People ſaid, "Give up your Baggage, and Arms, and Coats, and go naked where you pleaſe:" But I ſtood firm, and we fought with them, and marched on, Night by Night, to Baunſy, where we were quitted by the Enemy. Having joined "Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Merun, Moonſhy to Mr. Gordon.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 16th, 1781.

"I Merun, &c. conſidering God and the Prophet of God as preſent, do ſwear upon the ſacred Koraun to the following Facts which I give in Writing: That on the 7th of the Month of September, Mr. Gordon, with Four Companies of Sepoys, and a Hundred Horſe of the Ruſſauleh of Ruzza Beg Khan, did march from the Ghaut Jehoora for Taundeh; and at that Time, from our ſetting out till our Arrival at Taundeh, Thouſands of Country People aſſembled together, and attempted to cut off the Troops and the Baggage; ſo that there was a continued Action, both with Swords and Muſketry, all the Way.—But as the Order of March was well regulated, and the Sepoys were not deficient in Firmneſs and Reſolution, many of the Enemy were killed; and on this Side, not a ſingle Article of the Property of any one was plundered; Mr. Gordon conducting them all, together with the whole of the Baggage, in perfect Safety to the Nullah of Teerah, which runs beneath Taundeh. On our Arrival there, he intended to croſs the Nullah, and encamp at Taundeh; and he gave Directions for the Troops to paſs over. When they were about to croſs, (it appeared that) all the Boats were on the oppoſite Side of the Nullah; and the People of the Taundeh Fougedar, whoſe Name is Shumſheer Khan, ſtood Guard over the Boats, and ſaid, "It is the Orders of the Fougedar, that the Boats ſhall not paſs over to that Side."—When Mr. Gordon heard of this, he wrote a Letter to the Fougedar, and ſent it by a Hircarrah. The Contents of the Letter were: "I am a Servant of the Nabob, and am going to join the Army by his Orders; where is the Propriety of ſhutting up the Ghaut, and refuſing to permit People to paſs?"—The ſaid Hircarrah took the Letter, and went to the Ghaut, and endeavoured to get over, but the Fougedar's People would not allow him to croſs. When I ſaw that they would not permit the Hircarrah to paſs over, I gave Mr. Gordon's Letter to a Servant of the Fougedar's, who had ſwam over to our Side of the Nullah to ſee one of his Friends; and I told him to convey it, by ſome Means or other, to the Fougedar. He put the Letter in his Turban, and ſwam back acroſs the Nullah, and delivered it to the Fougedar, who read the Contents, but returned no Sort of Anſwer. At the Time when the Letter arrived, Mirza Ruzza Beg Khan, Ruſſaulehdar, who by chance had arrived alone on ſome Buſineſs, and had croſſed over before this Affair, was ſitting by Shumſheer Khan, and is an Evidence that the Letter arrived. The ſaid Mirza declared to me, and confirmed it by Oaths, that the Letter came to the Fougedar when he was preſent; and that, although he endeavoured to perſuade him, it was to no Purpoſe. At laſt he ſent for Three Guns, and ſome Tomuns of Matchlock Men, who were ſtationed at Taundeh; and he pointed the Guns acroſs the Nullah at the Troops, and ſtationed the Men at the Ghaut, and ordered them not to permit a ſingle Perſon to croſs. In conſequence thereof the Fougedar's People ſtood at the Ghaut, and uſed inſulting Language; and ſaid, that if any one attempted to croſs the River, they would fire upon him. When Mr. Gordon ſaw this, that no Anſwer to his Letter had come from the Fougedar, and that his People were inclined to Hoſtilities, he directed me to go and explain Things to Shumſheer Khan, and perſuade him to deſiſt from ſuch improper Conduct. According to the Orders I had received, I went to the Ghaut, and demanded a Boat, and ſaid that I was ſent by Mr. Gordon to the Fougedar on Buſineſs, and deſired that they would allow me to croſs over alone; but they would not liſten to me, or ſend a Boat to carry me over. Without Remedy, I returned to Mr. Gordon, and informed him of the Behaviour of the People at the Ghaut. He ſaid, "If they will not give you a Boat, it is no Matter; mount an Elephant, and ſwim him over."—I obeyed, and mounted an Elephant, and went and endeavoured to puſh the Elephant into the Nullah. The Fougedar's People at once levelled their Pieces at me, and ſaid, "Beware—if you drive the Elephant into the Nullah, we will fire upon you, and kill you." Per Force I returned to Mr. Gordon: It was now almoſt Sunſet. When the Country People ſaw this Affair, that the Fougedar of Taundeh was our Enemy alſo; that he had ſhut up the Ghaut, and would not permit us to paſs, they charged us on all Sides. Our Sepoys ſeeing Thouſands of the Country People aſſembled on one Side, the Ghaut ſhut up, and Shumſheer Khan diſpoſed to Hoſtilities on the other; and being alſo much exhauſted by the Skirmiſhing and Labour on the March, gave up their Reſolution and Firmneſs at once; and throwing aſide their Arms and their Coats, diſpoſed themſelves to Flight; and notwithſtanding Mr. Gordon uſed every Means of Perſuaſion, both to the Sepoys and the Officers, no one either heard or obeyed him, until Mr. Gordon was left with only Ten Men and the Baggage; all the reſt were fled. At this Time Cally Perſhaud, a Bengaly of Mr. Scott's, who was ſtationed at the Kooty, by a Thouſand Intreaties and Supplications, obtained an Order to ſend One Boat from the Fougedar, and ſent it over. Mr. Gordon then ſaw that none of his People had remained with him; that continuing there alone was to no Purpoſe, and therefore was obliged to croſs over. All his Baggage, and the Baggage of his Servants and Followers, was plundered; that which they carried

carried over with them when they croſſed, and delivered into the Hands of the Fougedar's People, who promiſed to protect it, was afterwards taken by them, and never returned. Some Days after, ſome Firelocks were produced from the Houſe of the Fougedar; and many of the People's Effects were ſeen there; but the Fougedar's Men did not deliver them up. In ſhort, this is the Subſtance of the Affair which happened at Taundeh; and I have wrote this Account upon Oath, that whoever reads it may know it to be true. Written with my own Hand.

" Tranſlation of the Depoſitions of Meer Ahmud Ally, Subadar in the Battalion of Captain Williams, and Doond Sing, Subadar.—The Deponents ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 26th 1781.

" We, Meer Ahmud Ally, Subadar in the Battalion of Captain Williams, and Doond Sing, Subadar of Grenadiers in the Battalion of Major Macdonald, do ſwear (one) upon the ſacred Koraun, and (the other) by the Ganges, &c. to the (Truth of the) following Depoſition, which we give in Writing: That on the 7th of the Month of September, Mr. Gordon, with Four Companies of Sepoys, and a hundred Horſe of the Raſſauleh of Ruzza Beg Khan, did march from the Ghaut of Jehoorah toward Taundeh, and we (the Deponents) were along with him. From our ſetting out, till our Arrival at Taundeh, Thouſands of Country People ſurrounded us on every Side, with Intention to cut off the Troops and the Baggage; ſo that we were continually engaged both with Swords and Small Arms the whole Way; but as the Order of March was well regulated, the Enemy could not ſucceed in their Attempts upon the Army. After ſkirmiſhing throughout the whole March, by which ſeveral of the Enemy were killed, we arrived in Safety, about Two o'Clock in the Afternoon, on the Bank of the Nullah of Teerah, which runs beneath Taundeh; after our Arrival there, Mr. Gordon wanted to croſs the Nullah, and halt in Taundeh, and he gave us Orders to croſs the Nullah. We attempted to paſs over, but the Fougedar of Taundeh, by Name Shumſheer Khan, hearing that Mr. Gordon was about to croſs the Nullah, prepared Three Guns, and Three or Four Tomuns of Matchlock Men, who were ſtationed with him, and poſted them at the Ghaut, and they pointed the Guns toward the Troops of Mr. Gordon; and the Fougedar gave Orders not to permit a ſingle Man belonging to that Gentleman to croſs. Although Mr. Gordon wrote a Letter to the ſaid Fougedar, it made no Sort of Impreſſion upon him. At laſt the Evening came. It happened that Ruzza Beg Khan had arrived alone on ſome Buſineſs, before this Affair, and croſſed over to Taundeh. The Cavalry belonging to the ſaid Ruſſaulehdar, before any one elſe, ſwam their Horſes acroſs the River, and fled. The Sepoys ſeeing Thouſands of Country People advancing, on one Side; the Ghaut ſhut up by the Fougedar Shumſheer Khan, who would allow no one to paſs, on the other; and that the Cavalry who accompanied them were diſperſed and gone, gave up at once their Steadineſs and Reſolution, and taking off their Coats, and throwing down their Arms, turned themſelves to Flight, until Mr. Gordon was left with only Ten or Eleven Men, for all the reſt had fled. At this Time Cally Perſhaud, Mr. Scott's Bengally, who reſided at the Kooty in Taundeh, by a Thouſand Supplications and Entreaties, obtained an Order from the Fougedar for One Boat, which he ſent over. Mr. Gordon was then alone on the Bank; he was forced to croſs; and all the Baggage belonging to him and his Followers was plundered.

" Tranſlation of the ſolemn Declaration of the Ranny Golaub Kooer, made on the 12th Day of November 1781, before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey.

" On the 27th of Shabaun, Sunday, the Chiefs who came to Ramnagur from Lutteefgur, appointed by Rajah Cheit Sing, were Mocundy and Ram Bukſh, Bhemun Sing, and Cullian Sing, and Baul Kiſhen Huzzarry, and Sirdar Sing, a Follower of Ramjewun, and Ram Sheweh, a Follower of Ajayb Sing, and Dildar Hooſſein Khan, and Nuzzur Aſhriff, with their own Parties. On the next Morning, which was Monday the 28th of Shabaun, the above-named Chiefs had an Engagement at Ramnagur, with the Companies which came from the Fort of Chunar; at Two Pahr and a Half of the Day (½ paſt One P. M.), thoſe Companies were defeated, and the Intelligence was immediately ſent to Lutteefgur; and at One Pahr of the Night (Nine o'Clock), Bauboo Soojaun Sing having left Lutteefgur, with Gholaum Hooſſein Khan, and Fyz-Oolla Khan, arrived that ſame Night at Ramnagur, when Two Gurries of it remained.

" Tueſday the whole Day he was employed in Preparations, and in ſtationing the above-mentioned Chiefs, and in loading Bamboo Ladders on the Boats, and Guns upon the Pinnace. And he gave Orders to the Chiefs and the Troops, that at Twelve at Night, on Wedneſday, they ſhould croſs and attack the Governor General, and the other Engliſh Gentlemen who reſided in Mehadew Daus's Garden. All the Inhabitants of Ramnagur, as well as I, ſaw and heard theſe Particulars.

« With reſpect to Cheit Sing's having, from of old, an improper Correſpondence with the Begums at Lucknow, and the Rajah of Bheraich and Gooruckpoor, the Declaration of the above Ranny is as follows:

« Since Two Years, on account of the Enmity of Cheit Sing to me, I had left Ramnagur, and reſided in another Dwelling; and Cheit Sing had always acted towards me with ſuch Enmity and Oppoſition as cannot be deſcribed; how, therefore, ſhould he have acquainted me with his Correſpondences?—but I have heard from Report, that he had in many Places improper Correſpondences. However, it is very plain that he had Enmity towards the Governor General; becauſe, whenever he learned any thing to the Prejudice of the Governor, from the Letters of his Vakeels, or the Reports of ill-deſigning Perſons, he uſed to rejoice:—This is known to all the Inhabitants of Ramnagur. Accordingly, when the Governor General was lately coming from Calcutta towards this Quarter, the Rajah and his Companions uſed to ſay, "the Governor has been diſplaced, and is making his Eſcape to Hindoſtan." Beſides, from the Rajah's going to Buxar to meet him with the greateſt Preparations, his Intention plainly appears.

« Tranſlation of the Depoſition of Gudgerauge Sing.—The Deponent ſworn before Chief Juſtice Sir Elijah Impey, November 12th, 1781.

« I Gudgerauge Sing, the ancient Kelladar of Ramnagur from the Time of the deceaſed Rajah Bulwant Sing, do declare and give in Writing without Reſerve (conſidering God to be preſent and a Witneſs) all that I have done, ſeen, or heard, to the following Effect:

« On the Day that the Engagement happened between the Forces which came from Chunar and the Troops of Rajah Cheit Sing, I was in Readineſs in the Fort of Ramnagur, with the Burkandazes with their Matches lighted. When the Chunar Army had been defeated, a Budgerow from the Weſtward came near the Ghaut of Buxey Suddanund. Having obſerved it from the Fort, I went out by the Wicket Gate, which is to the Southward, with Seven or Eight Burkandazes; the Rowers, and other People belonging to the Budgerow, on ſeeing this, leaped into the Water, and the Gentleman was killed by the Stroke of a Sword from the Men who accompanied me. About this Time I received Intelligence that the Rajah's Cavalry, who oppoſed the Chunar Army, had fled; upon this I was greatly confuſed, and was deſirous of carrying the Budgerow under the Fort, but the People of Buxey Suddanund took poſſeſſion of the Budgerow, and declared that they would keep it, as it had come to their Ghaut. Two Burkandazes brought from the Budgerow Two Muſkets and ſome Cloths, and One of my People took One Muſket, whilſt the Burkandazes took more Cloth and Arms. From thence I went to my Charge in the Fort.

« My further Depoſition is as follows:

« On the Night of the ſame Day that the Army from Chunar was defeated, about Two Ghurries of the Night remaining, Bauboo Soojaun Sing arrived from Lutteefgur at Ramnagur. I heard from ſeveral Perſons, that the ſaid Bauboo had given Orders to his Troops and Chiefs, to make a Night Attack on the Governor General and the other Gentlemen who were in Mahadew Daſs's Garden. Accordingly, he employed his Troops in bringing Bamboo Ladders, and loading them on Boats, and every one was preparing for the Attack.

« I ſwear, that whatever is written in this Paper is true.

" Affidavit of Sheakh Mahommed Aumeen Meyher.

"Depoſition of Sheakh Mahommed Aumeen Meyher, late a Commandantin the Service of Cheit Sing.—Upon his Oath ſays, He was the Servant of Cheit Sing; that he commanded a Battalion of Eleven hundred and Fifty Sepoys in his Service; that he accompanied Cheit Sing when he went to Buxar to meet the Governor General; that there was with Cheit Sing at that Time, the following armed Force: Two hundred and Twenty-eight Sepoys under the immediate Command of this Deponent, Six hundred Matchlock Men under the Command of Seuperſaud Sing, and Three hundred Peadahs, or Sword Men, called Huzzoory or Guards; that the above-mentioned Troops accompanied the Rajah in Boats; and that the ſaid Rajah Cheit Sing was alſo attended by a Body of Six hundred Cavalry, under different Leaders; that the Cavalry marched down on the Southern Bank of the Ganges, and directed their Movements by the Motion of the Fleet of Boats in which the Rajah and his Infantry were embarked: That when the Rajah Cheit Sing arrived at Ghauzipoor, he was joined by Bullum Daſs the Aumil, and the Dewan Ruggoobur Dial; and that when he proceeded on from thence, a Detachment of Cavalry and Matchlock Men (ſtationary Troops at Ghauzipoor) in Number about Five hundred, accompanied the Rajah, marching along the Northern Bank of the River in the ſame Manner as the Troops on the oppoſite Side, moving when the Fleet moved, and halting when that halted; that the Rajah arrived, and encamped on the Northern Side of the Ganges, oppoſite the Fort of Buxar; that the Governor General arrived at Buxar the next Day; that the Rajah croſſed the River, and waited upon him; that he returned to his Camp, and about Three o'Clock in the Afternoon put his People and Fleet in Motion, returning as he had went, and the Troops on the Banks of the River accompanying the Boats; that the Governor General proceeded the next Morning, and came up with the Rajah at Zemeneeah, about Twenty Coſs from Buxar; that the Rajah again waited on the Governor General on board his Boat, and that the Governor General then proceeded on before the Rajah, the Rajah following at the Diſtance of Four or Five Coſs, until they reached Banaris; that the Governor General went to the Garden of Mahadew Daſs, and the Rajah to Shewallah Ghaut, his armed People taking their Stations in their Neighbourhood; that his (the Deponent's) People did not arrive with the Rajah, but that he joined him with Fifty Sepoys, and took his Station near to Shewallah; that Two Companies of Sepoys alſo joined the Rajah from Ramnagur.—The Deponent further ſays, That on the Day that the Three Gentlemen and the Two Companies of Engliſh Sepoys came to the Rajah, and the Circumſtance of his Arreſt was known, the Rajah's People (who were then ſtationed round Shewallah), to the Number of about Four thouſand, were armed and prepared for Action; that at this Time Munnihar Sing, Seuamur Sing, and Nunkoo Sing, went to the Rajah: That the Diſturbance and Diſpute at the Gate ran high, and encreaſed every Moment: That the Huzzoories, Peadahs, and others, with their Arms, got upon the Chuppers which were erected againſt the Wall on the Outſide; that the Matchlock Men fired upon a Company who were without Shewallah; that the Deponent counted Seven Matchlocks which were fired, and ſaw a Sepoy fall by the Firſt Shot; that the Moment the Firing was heard, the Rajah's People forced their Way Sword in Hand into Shewallah, and cut the Gentlemen and Sepoys to Pieces; that the Rajah Cheit Sing eſcaped during the Conflict to Ramnagur, and from thence to Lutteefpoor.

" The Deponent further ſays, That after the Detachment from Chunar was repulſed near Ramnagur, and obliged to retreat, Soojaun Sing and the Buxey Suddanund arrived with Troops at that Place, and that by Orders from the Rajah they prepared Scaling Ladders, &c. in order to make a Night Aſſault on the Garden of Mahadew Daſs; that Boats were prepared, and Guns and Troops marched down to the Ghaut of Auſi Sungum; that the Sepoys belonging to the Deponent refuſed to croſs the River until they had obtained ſome Refreſhment, having been without Food for Two Days; that the Night paſſed away without any Thing being done, and that the Governor General on that Night quitted Banaris, and arrived at Chunar; that Soojaun Sing and Suddanund Buxey wrote a Complaint to Cheit Sing againſt the Troops under the Command of the Deponent the next Morning; and that Soojaun Sing ſent a Company of his own Sepoys to take poſſeſſion of the Garden of Mahadew Daſs; that they plundered the Property of the Gentlemen at that Place, and returned to Ramnagur.

" Depoſition of Sheakh Hoſſein Oolla, Jemmadar, relative to the Action at Shewallah Ghaut, at which Period he was Havildar and Orderly with Lieutenant Stalker.

" The Deponent upon his Oath ſays, He was one of thoſe who attended Mr. Markham and Lieutenant Stalker when they went to the Rajah Cheit Sing at Shewallah Ghaut, with about Fifty orderly Sepoys, armed with Swords only; that a ſhort Time after, Two Companies of Sepoys arrived under the Command of Lieutenants Scott and Symes; that Mr. Markham returned from the Rajah's with about Thirty of the Orderlies; that he, the Deponent, continued during the whole of the ſucceeding Tranſaction near to Lieutenant Stalker; that he ſaw Lieutenants Scott and Symes enter Shewallah with their Swords drawn, and ſhortly after obſerved Guards poſted in different Places, from which he diſcovered, for the firſt Time, that the Rajah was in Arreſt; that after the Departure of Mr. Markham there were preſent Meſſrs. Stalker, Scott, and Symes, with Seven or Eight Sepoys (Orderlies) attending juſt without the Apartment, where they were ſeated with the Rajah; that ſeveral of the Rajah's People, all armed, to the Number of Forty, were ſeated without the Purdahs; that Centries were poſted round the Building; and that the Two Companies remained without the Inner Gate; that many of the Rajah's Peons, to the Amount of about Three hundred, were aſſembled in the ſame Place; that ſeveral Notes were ſent off by Lieutenant Stalker, and One Note received by him; that about Twelve o'Clock at Noon the Rajah deſired Permiſſion to perform his Ablutions, which was refuſed, unleſs he would ſend for Water and perform them on the Spot, which he did accordingly; that before this Period, the Rajah's People between the Outer Gate and that which led immediately to the Building, made

Two different Attempts to force their Way through the Inner Gate, but were kept back by the Two Companies who were poſted there; that Lieutenant Stalker once went himſelf to the Gate, and ſtruck One of the Rajah's People, who was endeavouring to force his Way in; that the Rajah's People appeared to be highly irritated, and that the Subadars of the Companies found it neceſſary to fix Bayonets—Says, That Meſſrs. Scott and Symes accompanied Lieutenant Stalker on this Occaſion, but that he, the Deponent, continued near the Rajah with Three or Four Sepoys, by Orders from Lieutenant Stalker; that he nevertheleſs ſaw what paſſed through the Stone Lattice, which ſurrounded the Building; that at this Period the Rajah ſent his Buxey to forbid his People from making any Diſturbance, and the Affair ſubſided; that the Gentlemen returned to the Rajah. The Deponent further ſays, That after the Rajah had finiſhed his Ablutions, he retired to a Stone Pavilion, or Sort of Baſtion, to perform his Devotions; that Three or Four orderly Sepoys were directed to attend him at a ſmall Diſtance, to obſerve his Motions (the Officers continuing in their Places); that at this Period a Chubdar (named Cheit Ram) came from Mr. Markham, and delivered a Meſſage to Mr. Stalker; and that the ſaid Chubdar afterwards went to the Rajah Cheit Sing, who was ſtill at his Devotions; that he appeared, by his Manner and the Loudneſs of his Voice, to be ſpeaking inſultingly and paſſionately to the Rajah; that at this Period a Report of Matchlocks was heard, and One of the Subadars, Biſhen Sing, called out to the Officers, that they were fired upon by the Rajah's People from the Outer Wall; that the Gentlemen ſtarted from their Seats, and drew their Swords; that Lieutenant Stalker ruſhed forward toward the Gate, and that Lieutenants Scott and Symes attempted to follow him; that the Moment the Firing commenced from the Outer Wall, the Two Companies were attacked by the Three hundred Peons in the Space between the Two Walls with them; at the ſame Inſtant the Officers and their Orderlies were attacked by the Forty of the Rajah's People (ſaid to be within the Building at the Beginning of this Depoſition); that the beforementioned Subadar Biſhen Sing forced his Way through the Inner Gate, with about Twenty Sepoys, to the Aſſiſtance of the Officers; that the Paſſage was ſoon ſtopped up by the Number of Dead and Wounded in the Gateway; that after the Communication was cut off, the Action ſtill continued both within and without, the Two Companies ſtill fired upon from the Outer Wall; that the Deponent ſaw Lieutenant Stalker defend himſelf with great Reſolution with a Sword, which he had taken from One of his Sepoys; that the Deponent himſelf in a ſhort Time received ſeveral Wounds, and fell; that he fainted, and therefore has no further Knowledge of what paſſed during the Remainder of the Action, or how the Rajah made his Eſcape; that when he recovered his Senſes he ſaw Lieutenant Stalker lying dead near him, with many of the Sepoys; that he heard a Firing, which one of the Wounded told him proceeded from a Company of Sepoys, who were driving off the Rajah's Matchlock-men; that he, the Deponent, continued on the Ground the whole Night, but was removed the next Morning to the Garden of Mahadew Daſs.

"The Deponent (upon his Oath) ſays, He went with Lieutenant Stalker and Mr. Markham to Shewallah, where the Rajah Cheit Sing reſided, and that he went with them into the Preſence of the Rajah; that ſhortly after Two Companies of Sepoys arrived, with Two Gentlemen, whoſe Names the Deponent does not remember, being a newly-enliſted Sepoy; that thoſe Two Officers came in and continued with the Rajah and Lieutenant Stalker; that he the Deponent was directed by Lieutenant Stalker to attend, with Three other orderly Sepoys, in the Apartment where the Officers were ſitting with the Rajah; that the reſt of the orderly Sepoys remained without the Purdahs, which were let down in the Front of the Apartment; that he is unacquainted with what paſſed without the Gate, where the Two Companies were, or what People were there on the Part of the Rajah. The Deponent does not recollect, nor can he, he ſays, relate the Circumſtances which paſſed before the Attack commenced; but in Reply to a Queſtion put to him, Whether Mr. Markham's Chubdar, Cheit Ram, ſpoke to the Rajah? he ſays, that ſaid Chubdar brought a Note to Lieutenant Stalker at the Time when the Rajah's People without were endeavouring to enter; that he delivered the Note to Lieutenant Stalker; that at this Time the Noiſe and Confuſion at the Gateway was very great; that the Chubdar went from Lieutenant Stalker toward Cheit Sing, who was then ſitting at the Place where he performed his Devotions; that he told him to order his People to deſiſt; that he (the Chubdar) was Cheit Ram, and that the Rajah was but Cheit Sing; and that if he did not make his People deſiſt, he would confine him—Says, He was an Ear-witneſs to the foregoing; that it was at this Moment the Firing was heard, and the Attack began; that Lieutenant Stalker's Hircarrah had his Sword; that he called to this Deponent to give him his Sword, which he did, and ſtood behind Lieutenant Stalker by his Orders, with the Scabbard in his Hand, until that Officer fell; that he was ſoon after cut down himſelf; that he was deprived of Senſe, and knows nothing of what paſſed afterwards.

"Affidavit of Nathaniel Middleton Esquire.

"Nathaniel Middleton Esquire, on his Oath, saith, That he left Lucknow on the 19th August 1781, and joining the Nabob Vizeer at about Ten Cos's distant, proceeded with him towards Banaris, with an Intention to meet the Governor General, who was expected shortly at Lucknow: That about Three or Four Days after his Departure, he heard of the Disturbance at Banaris, and of the Massacre of Three European Officers, with a Number of Sepoys, at the Instigation of Rajah Cheit Sing, which prevented the Governor General's setting out for Lucknow, as he had intended; and on his Arrival at Doudnagur, on the 24th of the same Month, he received imperfect Accounts, through the Channel of the Vizeer's public Intelligence, of the Retreat of the Governor General and his Party to Chunargur; and the same Account, as well as many others, set forth, that the Rajah Cheit Sing had issued his most positive Orders to all the Zemeedars and Officers of his Government, to put every European to Death that they could lay hold of; to seize and severely punish any Natives who should be found in the Service of or connected with the English; and in general, to use every Means in their Power to promote an Insurrection throughout the Country; for which they should be liberally rewarded: That he had also written Perwannahs, or Letters, to many of the Zemeedars of the Vizeer's Country, encouraging them to raise Disturbances in their respective Districts, and to assist him with Troops; for which he promised them large Sums of Money: That this Report was made to him repeatedly, through various Channels, and implicitly credited not only by himself, but he firmly believes by the Vizeer and every Man in his Retinue: That in consequence of these Occurrences, the Vizeer, who had left Lucknow with a very small Force, determined to wait for Reinforcements before he proceeded; and accordingly, summoning his Troops from all Quarters, halted at Hussanpoor until they joined him: That on the 31st of said Month he, this Deponent, in Company with the Vizeer, left Hussanpoor, and proceeded towards Chunargur: That on his Arrival at or near the Village of Gopee Gunge, he heard from several different Persons, whose Names he does not at present recollect, that a Number of dead Bodies were seen, some in a Well situated near the Road Side, and others lying on the open Plain, partly covered with loose Earth, or Sand, that had been thrown over them: That these Bodies were supposed and generally believed to be the Bodies of Dauck Hircarrahs, and other Travellers dependant on the English, who had been seized and murdered in consequence of the aforesaid Orders of Rajah Cheit Sing: That this Deponent did not see the Bodies, but had not a Doubt of the Truth of the Story, as it was mentioned by several Persons at the Time they were passing the Place, and afterwards by others who had stopped to see them: That in a small Mud Fort and Village near the Place where the Bodies were discovered, he, this Deponent, heard from Almas Ally Khan, a principal Farmer of the Nabob Vizeer's Revenue, that there were several hundred armed Men assembled in the Service of Rajah Cheit Sing; but for what particular Purpose he did not learn: That some Days after his (this Deponent's) Arrival at Chunar, he was informed by Two Hircarrahs, who brought him an Express from the Aumil of Illahabad, that in passing through Gopee Gunge they had seen the dead Bodies of Two Europeans, who they supposed had been murdered by the Inhabitants of that Place: That he heard at the Time, and believed, and does still believe, that much Encouragement, and some actual Aid in the raising of Troops, was given Rajah Cheit Sing by Behar Ally Khan and Jewar Ally Khan, the Two principal Eunuchs and Counsellors of the Vizeer's Mother at Fyzabad; and that their Conduct, as well as that of their Dependants, during the Continuance of the Disturbances at Banaris, manifested a strong Disaffection to the English: That he further heard from his own News-writer stationed at Fyzabad, that a Vakeel, or Agent, from Rajah Cheit Sing had been received at that Place, and allowed to remain under the Protection of the said Eunuchs; but for what particular Purpose, or what was the Nature of his Commission or Negociations, this Deponent has not been able to discover.

"Affidavit of Lieutenant Colonel Alexander Hannay.

"Alexander Hannay Esquire, Lieutenant Colonel, commanding a Corps of his Excellency the Vizeer Assof-ud-Dowlah's Sepoys, on his Oath, declares, to the best of his Remembrance and Belief, the following Circumstances respecting the State of the Country he was stationed in, and the Reports that prevailed there during the Months of September and October 1781:—That, in obedience to Orders he received from his Excellency the Nabob Vizeer for that Purpose, on the 28th of August 1781, he issued Orders for forming a Detachment, consisting of One thousand

Sepoys,

Sepoys, Four Guns, and Five thouſand Horſe, from the Troops under his Command, to aſſemble at Akberpoor, on the Road leading to Jowanpoor: That Eight Companies of Sepoys, Two Guns, and about One hundred Horſe of the ſaid Detachment, were ordered to croſs the Gogra at the Chowra Ghaut, and proceed to Akberpoor: That Two Companies of Sepoys, Two Guns, and the Remainder of the Horſe, were ordered to croſs at Fyzabad, and encamp on the Rumna until the Arrival of the Deponent, who was from thence to march them to Akberpoor, the appointed Rendezvous of the Detachment: That the Deponent arrived at Fyzabad on the Evening of the 7th of September, with the Intention of purſuing his March to Akberpoor the next Morning; but was detained, from the Horſemen having been ſeduced into the Town, where they were tampered with by the Servants and Agents of the Begums to decline proceeding further with him: That the Subadars of the Two Companies of Sepoys repreſented to him, that Guards were placed (ſaid by the Authority of the Begums), to prevent the Sepoys, or any one connected with the Engliſh, from entering the Town; and upon Enquiry, it appeared that ſuch Repreſentation was true: That the Deponent learnt from various, and what he deemed Information to be depended on, that the Agents of Rajah Cheit Sing were publicly ſuffered to raiſe Troops in Fyzabad; and that the Eunuchs of both Begums encouraged the People to enter into his Service, particularly Jewar Ally Khan, who was repreſented to have gone into the Chouk for this Purpoſe: That the Deponent was credibly informed, that Two or Three Days before his Arrival at Fyzabad, a Man named Sheakh Khan had marched from thence, in order to join Rajah Cheit Sing, with about a Thouſand Horſe and Foot, and that ſeveral other Detachments had before proceeded from thence with the ſame Deſign. Theſe Tranſactions were of ſo public Notoriety, and ſo generally believed, that the Deponent deemed it his Duty to repreſent their Impropriety to the Bow Begum *, but could obtain no Anſwer. On the Evening of the 8th of September, the Deponent received a Letter from Lieutenant Gordon, who was on his March to join him at Akberpoor, informing him that he had been attacked on his March from Chowrah Ghaut by great Bodies of Men, aſſembled to oppoſe him; and that on his Arrival at Taundeh, the Conduct of Shumſheer Khan, the Begum's Aumil of that Place, had effected the Loſs of his Detachment, as appears from the following Copy of his Letter to the Deponent, relating the Circumſtances of that unhappy Diſaſter.

"Copy of a Letter from Lieutenant John Gordon to Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, dated at Taundeh, the 10th of September 1781.

"I had the Honour to write you on the 8th Inſtant, acquainting you with the Diſaſter which "happened to my Detachment; and I now beg leave to lay before you the Particulars of that "unfortunate Affair.

"When I croſſed the Gograh, on the 6th, at Chowrah, with the Four Companies of Sepoys, "and about Eighty Horſe (in all near 400), I ſaw that the Country was diſaffected: My Force, "however, I judged to be quite ſufficient to join you at Akberpoor; indeed, I did not conceive "that his Excellency's Troops, marching to join him by his Order, could meet with any "Interruption.

"On the 7th, at Day-break, I marched; and about Half a Mile from Chowrah, when croſſing "a Nullah, where I had ſent Boats Overnight, I obſerved great Bodies of Men aſſembled to "oppoſe my March: I immediately made what I judged to be the beſt Diſpoſition of my ſmall "Corps; and the Behaviour of the Men did them great Credit; for though during the whole "of the March of Eight Coſs, we were attacked, and often ſurrounded, by incredible Numbers of People, yet we conſtantly beat them off, killing and wounding many of them; and "arrived, with very little Loſs, about One o'Clock in the Afternoon, at the Teerea Nullah, "which runs by Taundeh, bringing the whole of our Bazar and Baggage in the moſt complete "Safety. I now imagined myſelf in a Friend's Country, and intended croſſing the Nullah, that "my People might halt for the Day, and refreſh after their fatiguing March: For this Purpoſe "I ordered my Bazar and Baggage to be ſent over, and Part of the Sepoys to ſtand to their "Arms: A great Number of our Enemies were ſtill in Sight; but judge of my Surpriſe, when "I was informed that the Boats were all on the other Side of the Nullah, and that none of "them were permitted to croſs. I immediately wrote to the Begum's Aumil, Shumſheer Khan, "acquainting him, that I was marching with the Vizeer's Troops, by his Orders, to join him; "that I was aſtoniſhed at his ſtopping the Ghaut, and deſired he would ſend Boats for the "Tranſport of my Detachment. To this no Anſwer was made; but immediately Three Guns "were brought near the Ghaut, and pointed to us; and a Number of Nujjeebs were poſted on "the Banks of the Nullah, who threatened to fire if anybody paſſed. It is proper to remark "here, that near the Ghaut there were a great many large Boats belonging to Mr. Scott, whoſe "Gomaſtah, notwithſtanding his moſt earneſt Entreaties, was prevented from ſending them by "Shumſheer Khan; and even the Plunder of his Factory and his Life were threatened, if he "attempted it.—When I found this to be the Caſe, I took poſſeſſion of a very ſtrong Ground, "ſurrounded on Three Sides by the River and Nullah; on the Fourth Side, where only I could "be attacked by the Country People, I ordered the Sepoys to make a Breaſt-work, by piling "up

" up Planks, of which there were a great Number; and as I had Ammunition and Proviſions, " I intended to wait there until I could procure Boats, or diſcover a Ford. While I was thus " employed, I found that Mahommed Ruzza Beg, the Jemmadar of Horſe, had ſwam acroſs " the Nullah, and procured Permiſſion for his People to follow him, which they immediately " did. No Anſwer coming from the Fougedar, I deſired my Moonſhy to go to him, and ex- " plain the Matter; he accordingly went to the Ghaut, and demanding a Paſſage, he was " refuſed, and inſulted in Terms the moſt opprobrious to the Engliſh. He returned; and telling " me this, I ordered him to take an Elephant and ſwim over; but when he attempted to enter " the Nullah with the Animal, the Nujjeebs pointed their Matchlocks at him, and obliged him " to deſiſt: The Sepoys ſeeing this, and that the Horſemen were permitted to ſwim acroſs, " naturally imagined that the Objection was to the Engliſh only, and their Adherents; they " thought it ſafeſt to abandon me, whom they muſt have concluded to be devoted, and, " throwing down their Coats and Arms, they followed the Example of the Horſemen in " ſwimming acroſs the Nullah, making a Merit with Shumſheer Khan of giving me up to my " Fate. One of the Subadars repreſented to Two others the Folly of their ſuffering for One Per- " ſon; and propoſed to them to deliver me up to Shumſheer Khan, or to the Country People; " but this Propoſal they rejected with Scorn: The Deſertion however was almoſt complete; for " in a little Time, of the Four Companies, not Twenty Men remained, including Officers. It " was now almoſt Evening, when Mr. Scott's Gomaſtah, with great Difficulty, at laſt obtained " Permiſſion from the Fougedar to ſend One Boat; but it came too late to render any effectual " Service; for with the few Sepoys who remained, Command was at an end; and, as moſt of " my Servants had gone off, my Baggage was left a Prey to the Banditti, who ſoon carried off " and deſtroyed it. Some Things, which a few of my Servants brought with them, they gave " in Charge of the Fougedar's People, to take care of them; but they reſerved them for them- " ſelves, or rather for the Fougedar; and though many of my Things were ſeen in his Houſe, " I never could recover a ſingle Article. I am ſtill in Mr. Scott's Factory, which there is every " Reaſon to think will be attacked, as Numbers of People are aſſembled in the Neighbourhood " for that Purpoſe; and as the Fougedar poſitively refuſes to grant the leaſt Aſſiſtance, God knows " what may be the Conſequence: However, as it is evident that Shumſheer Khan was the ſole " Cauſe of this Diſaſter, I hope that exemplary Puniſhment will be inflicted on him, and if I " ſurvive I doubt not but I ſhall be reimburſed for what I loſt by his Villany.

" I have the Honour to be, &c.

" J. Gordon, Lieut."

" The Deponent further ſaith, That both from Obſervation and Information, he doth believe that a general and univerſal Inſurrection took place, before the 15th of September, in all the Country to the Eaſtward of the Gogra, from Mangee to Baraitch, and on its Weſtern Banks from the Borders of the Banaris Diſtricts to the Extremity of Kheirabad; that it was created and fomented by the Agents of Rajah Cheit Sing, diſaffected People at Fyzabad, and about the Vizeer's Court; and that the Expulſion of the Engliſh was its Object. In the Diſtricts of Gooruckpoor, and indeed in all the Pergunnahs below Fyzabad, it was generally aſſerted, and the Deponent never heard the Aſſertion contradicted, that the Rajah Cheit Sing furniſhed the principal Zemeedars, particularly the Rajahs Futteh Saw, Genoo Roy, Ajeet Mull, Zalim Sing, and Perty Pall Sing, with conſiderable Sums of Money, in order to ſubſiſt the Force they collected on this Occaſion; and that he granted them oſtenſible Certificates under his Seal, engaging to diſcharge whatever Expence they might incur in the Service of the Inſurrection. Theſe Certificates and Perwannahs they received, or pretended to have received, under the Seal of the Vizeer, confirming them in their hereditary Zemeedaries; and appointing them Aumils on the Part of the Sirkar in their reſpective Pergunnahs, gained them an unbounded Influence over the Inhabitants. The Aumils of the Country in general were obliged to fly from their Stations; the Nujjeebs and Sebundy joined the Inſurgents, or diſperſed; all Ferry-boats were ſunk or deſtroyed; many of the Dauck Hircarrahs were ſlain, and the reſt obliged to fly, which effectually cut off all Correſpondence, as well as Communication, and the Country remained in a State of Diſtraction which cannot well be deſcribed, until the Beginning of October; when the News of our Succeſs at Banaris, and the Nabob's Return to Lucknow, calmed the Tumult.

" Affidavit of Major M'Donald.

" John M'Donald, Eſq; Major commanding the Nabob Aſſoff-ud-Dowlah's Third Battalion of Sepoys, on Oath ſaith, That he the Deponent was ſtationed at Amora, to aſſiſt the Aumil in collecting the Company's Tunka, alſo to protect the Subjects of his Excellency the Vizeer from the Depredations of Zalim Sing, the Rebel Rajah of the aforementioned Place Amora, alſo the Attacks of others his Adherents: That the ſaid Deponent had been detached by Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, Hannay, ſome Time in February 1780, with a Body of Horſe and Foot, in Purſuit of the abovementioned Rajah Zalim Sing, who, beſides ſequeſtering the Rents of the Pergunnah, had compelled the Inhabitants to quit the Diſtrict; and further, wantonly, and without Cauſe, murdered Two of the principal Cannoongoes of the Pergunnah aforeſaid. The Deponent could not come up with the flying Rajah, but followed him until he took to a large Jungle, that bounded the Country of the Vizeer to the Eaſtward, and is the Weſtermoſt Limit of the Zemeedary of Cheit Sing, Rajah of Banaris. Zalim Sing was there received in the moſt friendly Manner, and Protection promiſed him. On this, the Deponent ſent proper Spies to watch the Motions of Rajah Zalim Sing, and returned himſelf with the Troops to his Station at Amora: That the Deponent learned by the Spies left about Zalim Sing, that he was allowed to reſide openly under the Protection of Cheit Sing, and had Villages, alſo Lands, aſſigned for the Maintenance of himſelf and Followers.

"About the Twentieth of Auguſt laſt, the Deponent was informed, Cheit Sing had, after putting to Death Three Engliſh Officers and Two hundred and Fifty Sepoys, fled from Banaris, and openly ſet up the Standard of Rebellion, inviting all Perſons, who could procure Arms, to repair to him, and by fighting under his Banner extirpate the Fringies. The Road by which the Poſt uſually travelled from Banaris, became impaſſable from the numerous Parties, it was ſaid, Cheit Sing had ſent out, to cut off all Communication betwixt the Honourable Governor General and the different Stations of the Army. As the Deponent could not obtain any authentic Account of the State of Affairs, he thought it beſt to ſend out Perſons to all Parts for Information, that he might judge from the State of the Country how Matters ſtood at the Place of the greateſt Moment. The Country of the daring Rebel Cheit Sing, and the City of Fyzabad, ſeemed to the Deponent the moſt likely Places to furniſh the wiſhed Intelligence. In the latter Place it was reported, firſt, that the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſq; had been maſſacred at Banaris; then, that he had been cut off on his Way to Chunar; at laſt it was ſaid the Honourable Governor General was in Chunargur, but muſt ſoon fall into the Hands of the Banaris Rebel, as no Relief could poſſibly reach the Place in Time to ſave it; and that ſhortly the Deſtruction of every Engliſhman in theſe Parts would be effected. From the Banaris Diſtrict the Deponent learnt, Cheit Sing had ſummoned the Zemeedars of his Raje to join him with all the Troops they could raiſe, promiſing preſent Pay to thoſe bearing Arms, and a Remiſſion of a Year's Rent to all who repaired to his Standard. Many Rebels who had fled the Company's and Nabob's Territories, and taken Refuge in his Zemeedary, were furniſhed with Money, and joined by ſuch Zemeedars, belonging to the aforeſaid Banaris rebel, as lay too far diſtant from the principal Scene of Action, to make a Diverſion both towards the Company's Lands and thoſe Parts of his Excellency's Dominions under the Charge of Engliſh Officers, and endeavour to cut them all off, and thereby prevent any Aſſiſtance being ſent from either Gooruckpoor or Bahraich. His Excellency the Vizeer repaired to Sultanpoor about this Time, which prevented the Rebel Zalim Sing, alſo Perty Pall Sing, the Rebel of Buſty, from quitting the Jungle; but they were buſy in making the neceſſary Preparations, by raiſing of Men, with the Money ſaid to be ſent them by Cheit Sing in Fyzabad: The Khajahs * of the Vizeer's Grandmother, as well as thoſe of the Bow Begum, were raiſing Men under various Pretences, and making every Preparation that might be neceſſary either for offenſive or defenſive War. During the Time the Nabob lay encamped at Sultanpoor, the Deponent's People were inſulted and ill uſed in Fyzabad, by the Peons, Sepoys, and other Servants of Jewar Ally Khan and the Two Begums, as were all who made uſe of the Engliſh Name, or were ſuppoſed to have any Connection of the Kind; but on its being known there that his Excellency had moved towards Chunar, no one who was a Servant of the Engliſh could get Admittance into the City, but by Stealth, or in Diſguiſe; even the Duack from Lucknow was not allowed to paſs through as formerly, but obliged to make a large Circuit, and the Hircarrahs put on different Appearances to paſs unnoticed to Amora. After the Departure of the Nabob from Sultanpoor, as before mentioned, the Rebels, who had been driven from the Province of Gooruckpoor, began moving towards the Gogra. The Zemeedars of Amora, where the Deponent then reſided, alſo thoſe of the adjacent Pergunnahs, held frequent Meetings, and ſeemed big with ſome great Plan. On or about the 29th of Auguſt, the Deponent received a Letter from Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, informing him, that his Excellency the Nabob had written to him (Colonel Hannay) to join him immediately with a thouſand Sepoys, Four Guns, and Five hundred Horſe. Four hundred Sepoys of the Deponent's Battalion were ordered for this Service; alſo his Battalion Guns, and a hundred Horſe that belonged to the Amora Station, were withdrawn, to make up the Number required by his Excellency. No ſooner was this made public, than the Zemeedars abſented themſelves; and the Deponent learnt from all Parts of the Country, that every Man was getting ready his Arms, and that Cheit Sing's Name was in every Body's Mouth; that every Rajah in the Country had declared for him: That the Deponent endeavoured to get ſome Nujjeebs to ſupply the Place of the Troops called away; but all in vain; every Attempt was rendered abortive by the Machinations of the Khajahs belonging to the Two Begums at Fyzabad; and every Soul in that City ſeemed, from their Conduct and Converſation, to look upon the Engliſh as on the very Eve of Extermination, forbidding any one to ſerve the Fringies, but to repair to Cheit Sing and Saadut Ally—Nay, every Method and Way were tried to ſeduce the Sepoys from the Deponent's Battalion, which, however, did not ſucceed while remaining under his Eye, but had the deſired Effect upon the Nujjeeb and Sebundy. After the Sepoys, Guns, and Horſe had croſſed the Gogra, there was an End to all Government in that Part of the Country where the Deponent reſided. Not an Article of any Kind was to be had; and but for the Deponent's having foreſeen the Situation he ſhould be in, and provided accordingly, he would have been under the Neceſſity of leaving his Station, from the Want of Proviſions. Thus ſurrounded on all Sides by lurking Enemies (for there was no knowing who to treat otherwiſe), the Deponent knew not when or from what Quarter the Blow was to be ſtruck; but on the 8th of September it broke out in all Parts. All Out Poſts were driven into Camp; the Roads in an Inſtant ſecured by armed Parties; Hircarrahs murdered, Sepoys attacked, and the intended Deſtruction of every Engliſhman openly declared, not only throughout the Pergunnah, Towns, and Villages, but even in the City of Fyzabad. To ſuch Lengths was it carried by the People of Jewar Ally Khan, and other Khajahs belonging to the Begums, that the Women of the Deponent's Camp, that were ſent acroſs the Gogra to be out of the Way of Danger, being obnoxious from the Connection, were refuſed that Protection which the Sex in every Country meets with, but particularly in Hindoſtan claims as a Right. From the above Date, the Deponent was confined to the Limits of his Camp, nor had he any Road open but that to Rye Ghaut, oppoſite Owd, at which Place Lieutenant Colonel Hannay then lay with a very ſmall Force; while the Country around him, alſo the City of Fyzabad, ſeemed ready to commence Hoſtilities. On the 10th of September, Rajah Zalim Sing, accompanied by other rebellious Rajahs, appeared with a numerous Force on the Banks of the Gogra oppoſite to Amora. The Deponent's Spies brought him Intelligence from the Rebel's Camp, that his, the Deponent's Property, likewiſe that of all his Camp, was already divided; that the Deponent's Horſes, Camels, &c. Things worth Notice, the Rajah Zalim Sing reſerved to himſelf; the reſt was to be given up to thoſe who could get it. Moreover the Deponent ſaith, his People informed him that Rajah Zalim Sing had produced a Paper, which he, the Rajah, ſaid was a Sunnud from the Nabob, reſtoring him to his Zemeedary, appointing him Collector of the adjacent Pergunnahs, Buſty and Naggar, alſo that he had the Nabob's Directions to drive the Fringies out of his Diſtricts; that he only waited for the Site * (Boats being already provided, from Fyzabad, which the Deponent knew abſolutely to be the Caſe) to croſs the Gogra, and carry the Nabob's Orders into Execution. Further, that his Excellency had altered his Sentiments regarding the Part he was to take in the preſent Conteſt; that his Excellency ſet out with the Intent of adhering to his Treaty with the Company, but that Mirza Saadut Ally wrote him he was to blame if he gave any Aſſiſtance; that now was the Time to ſhake off the Engliſh Yoke; that it might not be prudent to declare himſelf at once; that he had only to ſtand neuter, and, under Pretence of defending themſelves, direct his Subjects to take Arms, and endeavour to prevent the Junction of the Engliſh Forces, when the Matter would work of itſelf: Further, to direct the Aumils to ſend no more Supplies of Money, which would cauſe the Sepoys to leave the Engliſh Service for want of Pay, while themſelves would have Plenty of Money. In the City of Fyzabad the ſame Language prevailed as to the Money Part, and Stoppage of the Tunka, until the Nabob Saadut Ally Khan thought proper to iſſue the Grants. During the Night of the 10th of September Rajah Zalim Sing croſſed the Gogra, and advanced within Four Coſs of the Deponent's Camp; on the Evening of the 11th the aforeſaid Rajah puſhed Three Poſts to within a Mile of the Deponent's Lines, and was to have moved from his Camp with his main Body when the Moon roſe. Thus ſituated, it was thought expedient, for the Safety of both Parties, that the Deponent ſhould join Lieutenant Colonel Hannay while yet a Paſſage was open; accordingly, about Two in the Morning of the 12th of September, the Deponent quitted his Camp at Amora, and marched to Rye Ghaut. The Deponent was ſcarcely out of his Camp, when the Rajah's People ruſhed into it, ſeizing all they could find, and murdered ſome unhappy Perſons who had neglected to move in Front of the Deponent's Party. The Deponent reached Rye Ghaut at Sunriſe of the 12th. As ſoon as it was known at Fyzabad, that Zalim Sing was in Poſſeſſion of Amora, the whole City was in an Uproar from Joy; and the Deponent heard the Report and ſaw the Smoke of Guns that were diſcharged at Fyzabad, he believes on the Occaſion. The Deponent ſaith, He believed the Reports as before related at that Time, and ſtill is of Opinion the Threats therein contained were intended to be carried into Execution had the League been ſucceſsful; nor did the Deponent then (or even at this Moment) doubt but what the Begums at Fyzabad and their Khajahs were in a League with Cheit Sing, the Banaris Rebel; and the Deponent is of Opinion that the whole of the Diſturbances that happened in the Parts where he reſided, took its riſe from the Rebellion of Rajah Cheit Sing; and the Deponent is further of Opinion, that it would not have extended itſelf ſo wide in the ſhort Time it really did, had it not been a Matter pre-concerted, and brought to light by mere Chance, ere properly ripe for Execution: And the Deponent further ſaith, That he is of Opinion, from the many Converſations he the Deponent has held with ſeveral Perſons, Inhabitants of the Rebel Cheit Sing's Country, that the Rebellion has been meditating even ſome Years; that the Deponent was informed the Matter was abſolutely debated in the Year 1779, and prevented only by the Voice of

" Affidavit of Captain David Williams.

" David Williams Eſquire, Captain of the Firſt Battalion of his Excellency the Vizier Aſſof-ud-Dowlah's Sepoys, on his Oath declares, to the beſt of his Remembrance and Belief, the following Circumſtances reſpecting the State of the Country he was ſtationed in, the Reports that prevailed there, and his own Situation in it, during the Months of September and October One thouſand Seven hundred and Eighty-one. Upon hearing that the Rebellion of Rajah Cheit Sing at Banaris had become of a very ſerious Nature, he deemed it requiſite to repair immediately to his Station at Gungowah, in the Diſtrict of Gooruckpoor; accordingly he left Lucknow, by Dauck, on the Firſt of September, and reached Sakrora the ſame Evening; on the Second, he arrived at Amora, and on the Third at Gooruckpoor. Upon the Road between Buſty and Meergunge, a Sepoy belonging to Major M'Donald's Battalion overtook him, and gave him Information that the Rebels had attacked a Poſt in the Jungle, which they had carried. On his Arrival at Gooruckpoor, the Jemmadar who commanded in the Fort acquainted him, that the Rajahs Futteh Saw, Genoo Roy, and Ajeet Mull, had received a very conſiderable Sum of Money from Rajah Cheit Sing, to enable them to commence Hoſtilities in Gooruckpoor, and in the Company's Diſtricts, and that they had croſſed the Gogra, and alſo, that they had Promiſes of conſiderable Sums of Money and Supplies of Men upon commencing their Operations. The Fourth, in the Evening, he arrived at Gungowah, and had the ſame Reports confirmed to him by his Commandant, and moſt of the People of that Place. On the Fifth and Sixth, he got all Things in Readineſs to proceed, agreeable to the following Orders from Colonel Hannay, to Ackberpoor.

" To Captain Williams, commanding at Gooruckpoor.

" Sir,

" Having received the Vizeer's Orders to join him without Delay with the greateſt Part of " the Forces acting immediately under my Authority, I have to deſire, that immediately " on Receipt of this Letter, or as ſoon after as poſſible, you do march with the Two " Grenadier Companies of your Battalion complete, and your Battalion Guns, and proceed with " all poſſible Expedition to Ackberpoor on the Road from Fyzabad to Sultanpoor, where " you will receive further Orders. You will march by the Route of Gooruckpoor, and croſs " the Gogra at Taundeh, where you will find three large Pattallies ready for your Paſſage. " The Four Companies of your Battalion ſtationed at Buſty, Dooreaparah, Dumreagunge, " and Baunſy, have alſo received Orders to march; but as the utmoſt Expedition is required, " they will proceed immediately under the Command of Lieutenant Gordon, and not wait your " Arrival. The Four Companies of your Battalion in Gooruckpoor, and with Hurdial Sing, " will remain under the Authority of Mahommed Shuffy Khan; and I have to deſire you will " particularly inſtruct the Subadars, commanding them to pay the ſtricteſt Attention to " ſuch Orders as they may receive from Mahommed Shuffy Khan during your Abſence. I " know not what Quantity of Ammunition the Four Companies at Buſty, &c. have with them; " but it will be neceſſary, if poſſible, to bring a Quantity with you ſufficient to ſupply the " whole Six Companies of your Battalion under Orders of March, with a Complement of Two " hundred Rounds a Man; and incloſed you will receive a Letter from* Mahommed Shuffy Khan, " deſiring him to yield you every Aſſiſtance in his Power, in order to procure Carriage for the " Tranſport of it. What elſe may be wanted to expedite your March, your own Prudence and " Zeal will ſuggeſt, and I have only to repeat it is neceſſary you ſhould make all poſſible Diſ- " patch.

" Alexander Hannay."

" On the Seventh he marched with Two Companies and Two Guns, having previouſly ſent Orders to the ſcattered Detachments to repair to Gongowah, there to remain under the Directions of the Aumil, agreeable to Colonel Hannay's Orders. On the Eighth continued his March; on the Evening of the ſame Day certain Accounts were brought him, that the Boats on the Rivers and Nullahs were deſtroyed, and the whole Country to the Gogra up in Arms; and having alſo received Intelligence that Futteh Saw, Genoo Roy, and Ajeet Mull, with their Banditti, were encamped on the Road to Burragong, it determined him to return immediately to Gungowah, and proceed by the Way of Burragong and Chuprah to Buxar, to join Major Crawford's Regiment with the Two Companies and Two Guns; by taking which Route, he would have had an Opportunity of driving off that Party, which would have freed the Country from the principal Rebel. On the Ninth he returned to Gungowah; and, as the Commotions in the Country ſeemed evidently evidently to increaſe, ſince the detached Parties who were directed to repair to Gungowah had been ſeverally attacked on their Way, as they came in, he ſent Orders to Hurdial Sing, Commandant ſtationed at Itchmul, to repair with all Expedition to Gungowah with Two Companies and Guns belonging to the Fougedar of that Place, and in the Evening informed the Aumil Mahommed Shuffy Khan of his Intention of proceeding by Chuprah to Banaris, and gave him Advice reſpecting the Defence of the Country during his Abſence. The Detachment was ordered to march on the Tenth. About One o'Clock in the Morning the Jemmadar attached to the Guns came and informed him that the Companies had mutinied, and would not march without having their Arrears paid them. In the Morning he went to the Parade, and ordered the Men to fall in; they paraded with Reluctance and Difficulty, particularly the Left-hand Company, commanded by Khan Mahommed Subadar. When they were got under Arms, he acquainted them that he was concerned they were not paid ſo regularly as he could have wiſhed, but if there were any of them that were diſtreſſed for Subſiſtence, he would advance them as much of his own Money as they required, as ſoon as they came to their Ground that Day; but that it was indiſpenſably neceſſary that they ſhould march with all Expedition to attack a Party of Futteh Saw, &c.'s Troops, which had taken poſſeſſion of the Ghaut in the Jerry Jungle, before they ſhould have Time to fortify themſelves. They were ſilent; he directed them to march off. When they had gone about One hundred Yards from the Parade, One of the Men ſtepped out of his File, and demanded all the Arrears of Pay due to him; he immediately ſeized the Bayonet of the Mutineer, with an Intention of putting him to Death; when Six or Seven Men turned out, fixed their Bayonets, and made the ſame Demand; the Black Officers remained ſilent and inactive; he ordered his Commandant to march on, and ordered the Mutineers to take off their Coats, as they were not worthy of being Soldiers, and that his Moonſhy would pay them their Arrears that Inſtant; many more joined them in a few Minutes, loaded their Pieces, laid hold of the Moonſhy, and were going to put him to Death. When he found that to be the Caſe, and that almoſt the whole Two Companies were engaged in the Mutiny, he ordered the Party to return, as it was in vain to proceed. A ſhort Time after, the whole Party ſurrounded him, ſome with loaded Arms and fixed Bayonets, having alſo loaded the Guns with Grape, and with one Voice demanded their Arrears might be paid off. He remonſtrated, that it was impoſſible for him to comply with their Demands, but that all the Money he had, or could get, ſhould be diſtributed amongſt them, if they would obey his Orders. For about Three Hours they behaved in the moſt licentious Manner, and were proceeding to break open the Treaſure Cheſt; at laſt, however, he prevailed upon them to receive Three Months Pay. Upon this being given them they returned to their Lines, but kept Centries at the Bungalow. After this he ſent for the Two Subadars, and deſired them to ſound the Men, and try if they could induce them, upon Promiſe of Forgiveneſs for what they had done, to return to their Duty. They came back, and reported, that they would conſent to obey upon thoſe Conditions. He went to the Parade in the Evening, and promiſed them Forgiveneſs; upon which they took an Oath to obey his Orders, upon Condition that they were not to march to Banaris; ſo that it became impracticable to proſecute the Intentions he had formed. However, in a few Hours more they again mutinied; and, to the beſt of his Recollection, they propoſed to march to Banaris, and join Cheit Sing and Saadut Ally, who, as they ſaid, would pay them their Arrears, and make them great Men; adding, that all the Europeans were cut off, and that he, meaning the Deponent, was the only Perſon left in the Country. In the Evening the Two Subadars Khan Mahommed and Buctour Sing came to him, and propoſed to carry him Priſoner to Banaris. On the Twelfth he repreſented to them, that if they did not immediately march to attack Futteh Saw, &c. who had already poſted Detachments within Sight of the Cantonments, and, as he was informed, was lying near Huſſanpoor with near Seven thouſand Men, they would be diſtreſſed for Proviſion, ſince the whole Country was in Arms. He ſent for all the Black Officers, and begged and intreated of them to uſe their Influence over the Men upon this Occaſion; but they were deaf to all he could ſay. Had they complied, he was confident of Succeſs againſt the Rebels, as Dadjoo Sing and Gobindram Miſſer had engaged to make a Diverſion in his Favour upon their Rear, whilſt he attacked them in Front. In the Evening they came to a Determination to march to Fyzabad to the Begum; who they alſo declared would pay them their Arrears, and take them into her Service; but on the Thirteenth, before they had carried theſe Intentions into Execution, he was joined by Hurdial Sing, with Two weak ſickly Companies; and having borrowed Money ſufficient to pay them the Three Months Pay which the others had received, and thereby render them upon an Equality, they remained ſtaunch, though every poſſible Means had been taken by the Mutineers to corrupt them. Shortly after this he received Information, that the Fort of Gooruckpoor had been attacked by near Six thouſand Rebels. There was a Jemmadar and about Fifty Men in the Fort, who behaved moſt gallantly. The Attack commenced near Nine o'Clock in the Evening. They carried the outward Fort, which was too extenſive; and the Party were obliged to retire to the Citadel, where there were upwards of Two hundred Priſoners confined. They endeavoured to ſeize the Sepoys; in which Attempt Nineteen of them were put to death, and many wounded. The Attack continued till near Four o'Clock in the Afternoon; when Shawmut Khan, a Jemmadar, and Nine Men, who had been ordered to march there from Puroonah, at the Beginning of the Diſturbances in the Country, arrived in the Town; the People told them to throw down their Arms, and run off to the Jungles to ſave their Lives; for it was impoſſible for them to get into the Fort, as it was ſurrounded by Six thouſand Rebels, who muſt carry it in a few Minutes. The Jemmadar, with admirable Preſence of Mind, replied, That he was only the advanced Party, and that the Captain and the Guns were cloſe after them; called out to a Man to run and bring them up, that the whole of the Rebels might be deſtroyed; and immediately fired upon the Rebels. The Report inſtantly ſpread; a Panic ſeized the whole, and they ran off in the utmoſt Confuſion. He joined the Jemmadar in the Fort with his Nine Men: They ſallied out after the Rebels, and cut off about Two hundred of them. During the Attacks, the Rebels frequently called out to the Jemmadar to deliver up the Place to them, as they had Perwannahs from the Begum, Cheit Sing, and Saadut Ally, for what they did.

"Having received Orders from Lieutenant Colonel Hannay to proceed towards him, and alſo a Letter from Lieutenant Gordon, acquainting him that it was Colonel Hannay's Wiſh he ſhould join him at Amora, informing him of the Loſs of Two Companies of his Battalion which were with Lieutenant Gordon; on the Fifteenth he marched from Gongowah with the Aumil and Fougedars of the Country, and all the Stores of his Battalion. The March proved exceedingly fatiguing, on account of the Country's being under Water, and moſt of the Nullahs unfordable, and no proper Boats upon them for croſſing. On the Twentieth arrived at Gooruckpoor, where he found Two Companies belonging to his Battalion, which were directed to join Lieutenant Gordon, but not being able to effect it, they had been under the Neceſſity of returning to Gooruckpoor, alſo a Company of Major M'Donald's Battalion, which had been obliged to retire from Buſty. On the Nineteenth received a Letter from Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, which determined him to remain at Gooruckpoor till he received further Orders, and wrote a Letter in Anſwer, propoſing to march by the Route of Mugger and Buſty, to chaſtiſe Zalim Sing at Amora, and Lieutenant Colonel Hannay ſhould advance by the Route of Mahadea to Amora, which he thought would be the moſt practicable Means of quieting the Rebellion in the Country. He was under a Neceſſity of borrowing Money to pay his Companies at Gooruckpoor, and alſo Major M'Donald's Company, and to make up the Ammunition that was damaged by the Weather, and repair the Tumbrils and Limbers: His Battalion being ill furniſhed with Arms and Ammunition, and the Draft Cattle very bad, which retarded him much during his March to Gooruckpoor. The Thirteenth received a Letter from Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, and wrote for Anſwer, that he would march for certain on the Second of October; but the Difficulty he found in procuring a ſufficient Quantity of Proviſion, and Carriage for it, as the whole Country was hoſtile, and Bodies of armed Men, to the Amount of ſeveral Thouſands, were actually in the Town; added to the heavy Rain which fell on the Fourth and Fifth, rendered it impracticable for him to march till the Sixth. During the Time he remained at Gooruckpoor, it was currently reported and given out by the rebellious Rajahs, that they acted in conformity to the Orders they had received from Cheit Sing, Saadut Ally, and the Begums, to raiſe an Inſurrection in the Country, and to deſtroy the Engliſh wherever they found them. Many Letters were Intercepted, but the neceſſary Care was not taken of them, and they were either deſtroyed or loſt. Having the Raubty and ſeveral Nullahs to croſs, he did not reach Baunſy till the Ninth, which is diſtant about Two-and-twenty computed Coſs. On the Ninth in the Evening a violent Storm of Rain began, which laſted to the Sixteenth, with ſcarcely an Hour's Intermiſſion, which rendered it totally impracticable to march during that Time, as the whole Country was overflown, and the Rivers quite full. The March from Sakrora was extremely tedious and difficult, great Delays being occaſioned by the Neceſſity he was under of making Bridges, added to the Interruptions he ſuffered from the frequent Skirmiſhes he had with the People of the different Diſtricts he paſſed through. On the 23d he arrived at Goondah, and on the Day following joined Colonel Hannay at Sakrora, with Eight Companies of his own Battalion, and a Company of Major M'Donald's Battalion. The Aumils and Fougedars of Gooruckpoor came under his Protection, and a Number of People in Office in the Collections; the Gun belonging to the Fougedary he brought with him, being the only one in the Diſtrict he commanded. During his March from Gooruckpoor to Sakrora, the Rebels who haraſſed gave out, that every Meaſure they took was in compliance with the Directions they received from the Begum, Saadut Ally, and Cheit Sing. Since the Time of his being appointed to the Command of the Battalion, in January One thouſand Seven hundred and Eighty-one, he has only received Two Months Pay, on its Account, from his Excellency the Vizeer, to the preſent Time, November the Twenty-ſeventh: His Battalion was diſperſed in ſuch a Manner, and at ſo great a Diſtance, that he hardly ever had above Two Companies with him, till they joined him by Degrees. During the Rebellion, he continually adviſed Colonel Hannay of his Situation, but it appears few of his Letters reached him, as the Communication was ſhut up.

" Affidavit of Captain John Gordon.

" John Gordon Eſquire, Captain in the Corps of Sepoys of his Excellency Aſſof-ud-Dowlah, Nabob Vizeer, on his Oath ſaith, That he croſſed the Gogra on the Sixth of September at Chowrah, with Four Companies of Sepoys, and about Eighty Horſe (in all near 400) under his Command; that he ſaw the Country was diſaffected, but judged his Force to be ſufficient to join Colonel Hannay at Akberpoor; indeed the Deponent did not conceive that his Excellency's Troops, marching to join him by his Command, could meet with any Interruption. On the 7th, at Day-break, the Deponent marched, and about Half a Mile from Chowrah, when croſſing a Nullah, he obſerved great Bodies of Men aſſembled to oppoſe his March; he immediately made what he judged to be the beſt Diſpoſition of his ſmall Corps, and the Behaviour of the Men did them great Credit; for though, during the whole of the March of Eight Coſs, they were attacked and often ſurrounded by incredible Numbers of People, yet they conſtantly beat them off, killing and wounding many of them, and arrived, with very little Loſs, about One o'Clock in the Afternoon, at the Tereea Nullah, which runs by Taundeh, bringing the whole of the Bazar and Baggage in the moſt perfect Safety; the Deponent then imagined himſelf in a Friend's Country, and intended croſſing the Nullah, that his People might halt for the Day and refreſh after their very fatiguing March; for this Purpoſe he ordered the Bazar and Baggage to be ſent over, and Part of the Sepoys to ſtand to their Arms, as great Numbers of their Enemies were ſtill in Sight; but his Surprize was extreme when he was informed, that the Boats were all on the other Side of the Nullah, and that none of them were permitted to croſs. The Deponent immediately wrote a Letter to the Begum's Aumil, Shumſheer Khan, acquainting him that he was marching with the Vizeer's Troops, by his Order, to join him; that he, the Deponent, was aſtoniſhed at his ſtopping the Ghaut; and deſiring Boats might be ſent for the Tranſport of the Detachment. To this no Anſwer was made, but immediately Three Guns were brought near the Ghaut, and pointed to the Detachment, and a Number of Matchlock Men were poſted on the Banks of the Nullah, who threatened to fire if anybody paſſed. There were then near the Ghaut a great many large Boats belonging to Mr. Scott, whoſe Gomaſtah, notwithſtanding his utmoſt Intreaties, was prevented from ſending them by Shumſheer Khan; who threatened the Plunder of his Factory, and even his Life, if he attempted it. This was told the Deponent by the ſaid Gomaſtah repeatedly, and the Deponent believes it to be true, as it correſponds entirely with every other Part of Shumſheer Khan's Conduct. The Deponent, upon being refuſed a Paſſage, took poſſeſſion of a very ſtrong Ground, ſurrounded on Three Sides by the Gogra, and the Nullah on the Fourth Side, whence only he could be attacked by the Country People; he ordered the Sepoys to make a Breaſt Work, by piling up of Planks, of which there were a great Number; and as he had Ammunition and Proviſions, he intended to wait there until he could procure Boats, or diſcover a Ford. While the Deponent was thus employed, Mahommed Ruzza Beg, the Jemmadar of Horſe, had ſwam acroſs the Nullah, and procured Permiſſion for his People to follow him, which they immediately did. No Anſwer coming from the Fougedar, the Deponent deſired his Moonſhy to go to him, and explain the Matter; he accordingly went to the Ghaut, and demanding a Paſſage, he was refuſed, and inſulted in Terms the moſt abuſive to the Engliſh. He returned, and telling this, the Deponent ordered him to take an Elephant and ſwim over; but when he attempted to enter the Nullah with the Animal, the Nujjeebs pointed their Matchlocks at him, and obliged him to deſiſt: The Sepoys ſeeing this, and that the Horſemen were permitted to ſwim acroſs, naturally imagined that the Objection was to the Engliſh only, and their Adherents; they thought it ſafeſt to abandon the Deponent, whom they muſt have concluded to be devoted, and throwing down their Coats and Arms, they followed the Example of the Horſemen, in ſwimming acroſs the Nullah, making a Merit with Shumſheer Khan, of giving the Deponent up to his Fate. One of the Subadars repreſented to Two others, the Folly of ſuffering for One Perſon; and propoſed to them to deliver up the Deponent to Shumſheer Khan or to the Country People; but the Propoſal was rejected with Scorn, and One of the Subadars reported the Behaviour of the other immediately to the Deponent: The Deſertion, however, was almoſt complete; for in a little Time, of the Four Companies, not Twenty Men remained, including Officers. It was almoſt Evening when Mr. Scott's Gomaſtah, with great Difficulty, at laſt obtained Permiſſion from Shumſheer Khan to ſend One Boat, but it came too late to render any effectual Aſſiſtance, for with the few Sepoys who remained, Command was at an end; and as moſt of the Deponent's Servants had gone off, his Baggage was left a Prey to the Banditti, who ſoon carried off and deſtroyed it. Some Things which a few of his Servants brought with them, they gave in charge to the Fougedar's People, who promiſed to take care of them, but they reſerved them for themſelves, or rather for the Fougedar; and though many of the Deponent's Things were ſeen in his Houſe, he could never recover a ſingle Article. For many Days during the Stay of the Deponent in Mr. Scott's Factory it was threatened to be attacked; and Shumſheer Khan, though often applied to by Mr. Scott's Gomaſtah, conſtantly refuſed to grant the leaſt Aſſiſtance: Notwithſtanding this, Shumſheer Khan was, and the Deponent believes is ſtill, continued in Office; and while the Deponent was at Fyzabad, Shumſheer Khan came there, and was well received by the Begum and her Miniſters: From all which Circumſtances the Deponent is convinced, that Shumſheer Khan could not have dared to act as he did, had he not been authorized rized by the Begum and her Miniſters, or at leaſt had he not known that ſuch Conduct would be agreeable to them.

" Affidavit of Jean Honore Mordelait, Private of the Company of Chaſſeurs.

" Jean Honore Mordelait, Natif de Corbell, Province de l'Iſle de France, fait Serment, et dit, Qu'étant malade à Mirzapour il fût laiſſé en arriére avec Quatorze des ſes Camarades, lui inclus, tous ſervant dans la Compagnie de Chaſſeurs, commandée par le Capitaine Doxat; lorſque le dit Capitaine marcha avec les Troupes qui compoſoient le Détachement commandé par le Capitaine Mayaffre; que lors du Départ du dit Capitaine, le Raja de l'Endroit les fit entrer en ſon Entourage pour plus de Sureté contre les Voleurs qui l'environnoient; que ſur leurs Repreſentations qu'ils n'avoient pas d'Argent pour ſe fournir des Vivre, il leur fit donner à manger chaque Jour par un Bannià, qu'il les conſola et les aſſura qu'allant voir ce qui ſe paſſoit à l'Entour de ſon terrain il chercheroit après un Moyen de les faire paſſer à Chandernagore; que des lors il ne revint point: Que le Commandement étant alors dévolu au Second, il les fit appeller le Trentiéme, et leur donna Deux Roupies à chacun pour ſervir à une Route qu'ils devoient faire de Deux Jour de Chemin; qu'il leur fit ſçavoir que c'étoit ſes Ordres de les renvoyer de là, et qu'il avoit auſſi reçu Ordre de couler tous les Batteaux paſſant par Mirzapour: Que pendant ce Temps Cinquante de ſes Gens fûrent envoyés pour s'emparer de leurs Armes, et que ces Gens prirent un Inventaire de ce qui appartenoit à la Compagnie; que le Lendemain ils fûrent contraines de ſe mettre en Route, leur Sacs placés ſur des Chameaux, ſur leſquelles ils fûrent obligés de monter à grands Coups de Fouët pour ceux qui refuſoient: Que durant leur Route ils eûrent toutes Sortes d'Indignités, qu'on leur crachoit au Viſage, qu'on les battoit. Que la ſeconde Journée un de ſes Camarades fût aſſez heureux de mourir; que le Chemin qu'ils faiſoient étoit parmi des Gorges de Montaignes, et qu'avec les Détours qu'ils firent il croit que le Trajet juſqu'à Laitiffghur, ou ils arrivérent le Deuziéme de Septembre, étoit plus de 40 Coſs: Qu'à la Fin de la primiére Journée ils s'arretérent à un petit Fort dans les Gorges, ou leur mauvais Traitement fût redoublé. Qu'arrivé a Laitiffghur ceux qui vinrent avec eux ſe diſperſerent; qu'ils fûrent entourés pendans deux Heures qu'ils y reſtérent par environ deux ou trois mille Gens qui les inſultérent groſſiérement, et particuliérement, les accuſa d'avoir aſſaſſiné le Raja de Guàlier: Qu'un de leur Camarades, nommé François, fût mené auprès du Raja lequel à ſon Retour leur declara que le Raja l'avoit aſſuré qu'en cas qu'il lui amena Compagnie Françoiſe qu'il auroit ſon Pain. Qu'aprés ils fûrent conduits hors de Laitiffghur de la même Maniére qu'auparavant ſou le Garde de quelques Sepoys, et autres Gens armés, à une petite Maiſon fortifiée au de là de Laitiffghur une Coſs ſur le Chemin de Beejahghur; que ces Gens y reſtérent pour les garder: Qu'on ne leur donna ni à manger ni à boire: Que le Lendemain, étant le troiſiéme, un Chef de Laitiffghur avec dix Sepoys et environ 40 Hommes armés les fit ſortir à une Portée de Fuſil de la Maiſon: Qu'ils liérent leurs Mains derriére leurs Dos; et qu'en cette Poſition ils leur criérent à manger, leur montrant des Vivres à quelque Diſtance dans des Corbeilles. Qu'après s'être amuſé pendant une Heure ou deux de leur Miſéres, ces Barbares tirérent leurs Sabres et commencerent le Maſſacre: Que le ſuſdit eût une Baonette paſſée du travers du Corps, et un grand Coup de Pied ſur les Reins pour la faire reſortir: Qu'en cet Etat il feignit le Mort, et deux de ſes Camarades tombant ſur lui cachérent ſa Feinte: Que le Meurtriers ſe retirant aprés ce Carnage, il eût aſſés de Force pour ſe retirer dans les Jungles à vingt Pas de là: Qu' à la Diſcretion des Tigres il paſſa toute la Nuit; qu'accablé de ſoif, le Lendemain il deſcendit à un Ruiſſeau pour boire de l'Eau; qu'il fût vit par des Campagnards, et amené à l'Endroit d'ou il étoit ſorti le Jour avant; que les Habitants le raſſurérent contre toute Crainte de ſa Vie: Que leur Chef lui donna pour lui et ſa Femme huit Pice par Jour, laquelle Subſiſtance lui fût continué par moyen d'une Garde qui montoit et étoit relevé chaque Jour de Laitiffghur: Que parmi les Gens qui étoient là, il ne reconnût aucun de ceux qui les tûerent: Que le 20, le Jour que le Raja s'enfuit de Laitiffghur, aprés que lui et ſes Troupes eûrent paſſées auprés de l'Endroit ou le ſuſdit étoit, il ſe rendit à Laitiffghur ſans Empéchement, et même fut mis au large par les Habitants: Que la Nuit du 20 ou 21 il fût obligé de ſe cacher, pour ſe mettre à l'abri des Gens qui pilloient de tous Côtés: Que le Lendemain Matin à l'Entrée du Major Crabb il fût découvert et heureuſement mis en Sûreté de toute autre Pourſuite.

" Le ſuſdit fait Serment et dit, de plus qu'il croit que le Maſſacre provenoit d'un Acte deliberé, et que ce ne pouvoit être le Réſultat d'aucune Cauſe; comme ces Camarades et lui étoient trop triſtes pour démontrer aucun Signe de Joie, s'abandonnant à la Mort d'aprés la mauvais Traitement qu'ils avoient ſubits: Qu'au contraire quant ils entendirent le Matin du Jour du Maſſacre, le Bruit des Canons et des Fuſils, ils s'entrediſoient tout doucement que leur Déſtruction ſeroit la Conſéquence infaillible en cas que les Troupes du Raja perdroient la Bataille:

Que même, lors de cette Communication d'Idées, ils n'y avoient aucuns de leurs Gardes ou autres Gens pour les écouter; que leurs Expreſſions à ce Sujet ſe paſſérent, lors du Bruit des Canons et des Fuſils, lequel étoit de grand Matin: Que leurs Meurtriers n'arrivérent de Laitiffghur qu'environ les onze Heures: Que deux Heures ſe paſſérent à leur contraindre de tirer Habits, Chapeaux, &c. Qu'au lieu du Meurtre ils fûrent conduis en Chemiſe, et qu'il étoit environ une Heure aprés Midi, quand cet Acte de Barbarité fût commiſe.

" Tranſlation of the foregoing Affidavit.

" John Honore Mordelait, Native of Corbell, a Province in the Iſle of France, declares upon Oath, That being ſick at Mirzapoor, he was left behind with Fourteen of his Comrades, himſelf included, all of whom belonged to the Company of Chaſſeurs commanded by Captain Doxar, when the ſaid Captain marched with the Troops which compoſed the Detachment commanded by Captain Mayaffre: That upon his Departure, the Rajah of the Place made them come within his own Premiſes, for the greater Safety againſt the Thieves which ſurrounded them: That on their repreſenting they had no Money to ſupply themſelves with Food, he cauſed them to be given ſomething to eat every Day by a Banian: That he comforted them, and aſſured them, that upon ſeeing what paſſed round his Seraglio, he ſought for Means to tranſport them to Chandernagore: That from that Time he did not return: That the Command having then devolved upon the Second, he had them called before him on the Thirtieth, and gave them Two Rupees each, to ſerve for the Journey of Two Days they were to take: That he let them know his Orders were to ſend them from thence; and that he had alſo received Orders to ſink all the Boats paſſing by Mirzapoor: That during this Time, Fifty of his People were ſent to ſeize their Arms; and that thoſe People took an Inventory of what belonged to the Company: That the next Day they were obliged to begin their Journey, with their Baggage placed on Camels, which they were obliged to mount; and thoſe who refuſed, received violent Blows with a Whip: That during their Route every Sort of Indignity was offered to them: That they ſpit in their Faces; and beat them ſo, that on the ſecond Day One of his Companions was ſo happy as to die: That the Road they took was through narrow Paſſes, between Mountains; and that with the Circuits they made, he believes the Journey to Laitiffghur, where they arrived the 2d of September, was more than 40 Coſs: That at the Cloſe of the firſt Day they ſtopt at a ſmall Fort in the Paſſes, where their Ill-treatment was redoubled: That being arrived at Laitiffghur, the Perſons who came with them diſperſed: That they were ſurrounded for Two Hours, and remained there, among about Two or Three thouſand People, who inſulted them groſsly; and particularly accuſed them of having aſſaſſinated the Rajah of Gwallior: That One of their Companions, named Francois, was taken before the Rajah, and declared to them, at his Return, that the Rajah had aſſured him that in caſe he brought the French Company to him, he ſhould be provided for: That afterwards they were conducted out of Laitiffghur in the ſame Manner as before, guarded by ſome Sepoys and other armed Men, to a ſmall fortified Houſe beyond Laitiffghur, One Coſs on the Road from Beejahghur: That thoſe People remained there to guard them: That they had nothing either to eat or drink given to them: That the next Day, being the Third, a Chief of Laitiffghur, with Ten Sepoys, and about Forty armed Men, made them go out to the Diſtance of a Muſket Shot from the Houſe: That they tied their Hands behind their Backs; and that in this Poſition they told them to eat; ſhewing them Proviſions in Baſkets at ſome Diſtance: That after having amuſed themſelves for an Hour or two with their Miſery, theſe Barbarians drew their Sabres and began the Maſſacre: That the Deponent had a Bayonet paſſed through his Body, and a violent Kick on the Reins to make it come out: That in this Situation he feigned Death; and Two of his Companions falling upon him covered the Deceit: That the Murderers retiring after this Carnage, he had Strength enough to retreat to the Jungles, Twenty Paces from the Place: That he paſſed the Night at the Mercy of the Tigers: That on the next Day being parched with Thirſt, he went down to a Brook to drink: That he was ſeen by ſome Country People, and carried to the Place which he had left the preceding Day: That the Inhabitants aſſured him his Life was in no Danger: That their Chief gave him Eight Pice every Day for his Wife and himſelf, which Subſiſtence was continued to him by means of a Guard, which was mounted and relieved every Day from Laitiffghur: That he did not recollect the Perſons of any of the Murderers among the People here: That on the 20th, the Day the Rajah fled from Laitiffghur after he and his Troops had paſſed near the Spot where the Deponent was, he went to Laitiffghur unmoleſted, and was even ſet at Liberty by the Inhabitants: That in the Night from the 20th to the 21ſt he was obliged to lie concealed to ſave himſelf from the People, who were pillaging on all Sides: That the next Morning, at the Entry of Major Crabb, he was diſcovered, and fortunately placed in Safety from all further Purſuit. The Deponent moreover declares upon Oath, That he believes the Maſſacre proceeded from a deliberate Act, and that it could not have been occaſioned by any Cauſe, his Companions and himſelf being too ſorrowful to ſhew any Sign of Joy, as they had had abandoned themſelves to Death after the Ill-treatment they had met with; That on the contrary, when on the Morning of the Maſſacre they heard the Report of the Cannons and Muſkets, they ſaid to each other ſoftly, that their Deſtruction would be the infallible Conſequence, in caſe the Rajah's Troops ſhould loſe the Battle: That even at this Communication of Ideas there were none of their Guards nor any other Perſons preſent to hear them: That their Converſation on this Subject paſſed when the Noiſe of the Cannons and Muſkets was heard, when it was broad Daylight: That their Murderers did not arrive from Laitiffghur till about Eleven o'Clock: That Two Hours paſſed in making them take off their Cloaths, Hats, &c.: That they were led in their Shirts to the Place where the Murders were committed; and that it was about One o'Clock in the Afternoon when this Act of Barbarity took Place.

" Affidavit of Lieutenant Colonel Hannay.

" Alexander Hannay Eſquire, Lieutenant Colonel in the Service of the Honourable United Eaſt India Company, maketh Oath, and ſaith, That in the Month of September laſt (1781) he commanded a Body of Troops (Horſe and Foot) in the Service of the Nabob Vizeer: That on the 10th of that Month, being encamped at Ryegunge, near Fyzabad, employed in tranſporting the ſaid Troops acroſs the River Gogra, in order to act againſt the Inſurgents to the Northward of that River, in the Evening he received Intimation from a Perſon living in the Zennana, that the Nabob Begum (Grandmother to the Nabob Vizeer Aſſuf-ud-Dowla) had, through her Agents, prevailed upon the principal Jemmadar of Horſe, to engage to detach himſelf from the ſaid Deponent, and to abandon him; and further warning the ſaid Deponent to attend to his own perſonal Safety, as there was an Intention of detaining him at Fyzabad: That this Intimation was given to the Deponent in the Preſence of Lieutenant Charles Middleton, to whom the Deponent did communicate it; and that, during the whole Courſe of that Day (the 10th of September) he the Deponent had not been able to prevail on any of the Horſemen to croſs the River—a Matter which he could not until then account for, but which ſerved to impreſs him ſo ſtrongly with the Belief of the Truth of the Information he had received, that he ſent for the principal Jemmadar of Horſe, circumſtantially communicated the ſaid Information to him, and, as forcibly as he was able, ſtated to him the Treachery, Diſgrace, and Infamy, inſeparable from ſo unmanly a Behaviour: That the ſaid Jemmadar of Horſe appeared much affected at the Converſation, and acknowledged that the Information was true in every Circumſtance, except that of his having acceded to the Propoſals that were made to him, which he declared he had rejected; but ſaid, they had alſo been made to the other Jemmadars of Horſe by the Agents of both the Begums (the Nabob Vizeer's Mother and Grandmother); and the Truth of this Aſſertion was afterwards affirmed to the ſaid Deponent by Two of the ſaid Jemmadars, and ſeveral of the inferior Officers and private Horſemen. The Deponent further declareth, That the above-recited Converſation paſſed in his the Deponent's Tent, to the beſt of his Recollection and Memory, on the Night of the 10th of September, in the Preſence of Lieutenant Charles Middleton; and that, as the ſaid Lieutenant Charles Middleton did not perfectly underſtand the Mooriſh Language, in which the Converſation was held, he the Deponent explained the Nature and Subject of it to him as ſoon as the Jemmadar left the Tent. The Deponent further declareth, That he is reſtrained from mentioning the Names of the Jemmadars alluded to, from an Apprehenſion that their Names becoming publick, might operate to their Prejudice, if not Ruin; but that the Facts which he hath depoſed are Truth.

The Witneſs produced a Book, marked C, intituled, " Letters from the Board, 1775 to 1782."

Read, the following Letter from the Governor General to Mr. Middleton, dated Chunar, 15th November 1781, from the ſame.

" To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire.

" Sir,

" In your Letter, dated the 17th October, I find it generally aſſerted by Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, in the Extracts quoted from his Letters, and confirmed by yourſelf, that, during the late Revolt of this Province, Levies both of Horſe and Foot were openly made at Fayzabad, both by the Begums, and by Cheit Sing's Agents, in his Name and for his Uſe; that theſe Levies were diſpatched to Benares publickly as his, one Party of a Thouſand Horſe and Foot, under the Command of Shake Cawn; that Jewar Ally Cawn, in the Chowk of Fyzabad, aſked every Man who bore the Appearance of a Soldier, why he went not to Cheit Sing for Service; that Futteh Saw, Gheenooroy, and Aject Mull, had croſſed to Manjowly, urged to that Step by Cheit Sing, who had ſupplied them with Money, and promiſed them great Sums, if they would put the whole Country into Confuſion; tthat the principal Zemindars had all Certificates under the Seal of Cheit Sing, that he would ſupply them with whatever Money they might require, for ſubſiſting all the Troops they could raiſe; that it was the general Belief of every Men* in that Part of the Country, that it was a concerted Plan for the Extirpation of the Engliſh; that the whole Country, from Goonda to Manjee, and from Fyzabad to the Benares Diſtrict, and acroſs from the Gogra to the Ganges, was in the utmoſt Ferment; that if we met with a Check at Benares, every Man in the Country was ready to fall upon our ſcattered Parties; that the Inſurrection was not partial, but generally ſpread throughout the Whole, and if he (Colonel Hannay) might truſt to his Information, it was already begun, and would ſoon rage as violently in Shahjehanpore, Rohilcund, Cora, and the Doaub.

* Sic in Orig.

" Theſe are Facts of ſuch Moment to the publick Service, and ſo neceſſary both to the Means which may be required for our future Preſervation, and to the Juſtification of what has paſſed, and of what may be done to the ſame End, that I think it proper that they ſhould be verified in the moſt authentick and ſacred Manner. I muſt therefore requeſt and require of you, in my Name, to call upon Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, Major M^c^ Donald, Captain Williams, and Lieutenant Gordon, and every other Perſon who may have a perſonal Knowledge or Underſtanding of theſe Facts, or of any others relating to the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, and its Connections, in the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier; ſeverally to depoſe all that they know and believe concerning the ſame, either on Oath before Sir Elijah Impey, who will inſtantly viſit Lucknow, chiefly with this Intention; or that they repair to me at this Place, for the ſame Purpoſe.

" Reſpecting the Levies made at Fayzabad, the March of Shake Cawn with a Force declared for the Service of Cheit Sing, the publick Invitations of Jewar Ally Cawn, the Certificates under the Seal of Cheyt Sing, in the Poſſeſſion of the Zemindars of Gorookpoor and Baraich, his Letters to the Begums or their Miniſters, the Plan concerted for the Extirpation of the Engliſh; I muſt earneſtly recommend it to you, to obtain ſuch Evidence as can be acquired, reſpecting each of theſe Points, whether ſuch Evidence ſhall aſcertain, or refute, or qualify, their Reality; and, if it be poſſible, to gain Poſſeſſion of the original Letters and Certificates ſaid to have been written by Cheyt Sing, as aboveſaid.

" You will be careful to aſcertain the Dates and Places of Facts, and the Names of Places and Perſons, in the Depoſitions taken; that their Evidence may not be defective or ambiguous, from the Want of Preciſion.

" Reſpecting the Murders, ſaid to have been committed at Gopee Gunge, I have already written to you, and now ſend you a Duplicate of my Letter on that Subject.

" I alſo ſend you the Form of a Caption, or Introduction to each Depoſition, of which you will be pleaſed to furniſh Copies, to ſuch of the Engliſh Gentlemen as ſhall have Occaſion for the Uſe of them. The Depoſitions of the native Witneſſes muſt be written in the Languages which they underſtand, and muſt be verified on Oath, and ſigned; or, if they ſhall object to the Oath as contrary to their religious Tenets, they muſt be required to ſubſcribe ſuch a ſolemn Atteſtation, as ſhall be equivalent to the Sanction of an Oath; and add your Signature to it.

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
(Signed) Warren Haſtings."

" Chunar,
15th November 1781.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read a Paſſage from the Benares Narrative, to ſhew that, by Mr. Haſtings's own Admiſſion, if any Aſſiſtance was ſent from Oude to Cheyt Sing, it moſt probably came from the Vizier at Lucknow, and not from the Begums at Fyzabad; and they ſhould afterwards ſhew, that the Thouſand Troops, ſtated by Mr. Haſtings to have been raiſed at Fyzabad, came from Lucknow.

Read,

Read, the following Extract from the Benares Narrative, beginning at Page 36 of the ſame.

" In the mean Time I had received ſeveral Intimations, imputing evil Deſigns to the Nabob, and warning me to guard myſelf againſt them; and eſpecially to be careful that I did not expoſe myſelf to the Effects of concealed Treachery, by viſiting him without a ſtrong Guard. Many Circumſtances favoured this Suſpicion. No ſooner had the Rebellion of this Zemeedary manifeſted itſelf, than its Contagion inſtantly flew to Fyzabad, and the extenſive Territory lying on the North of the River Dewa, and known by the Names of Gooruckpoor and Bareech. In the City of Fyzabad, Nawaub Allea and Jenauby Allea, the Mother and Grandmother of the Nabob, openly eſpouſed the Party of Cheit Sing, encouraging and inviting People to enliſt for his Service; and their Servants took up Arms againſt the Engliſh. Two Battalions of regular Sepoys, in the Vizier's Service, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, who had been intruſted with the Charge of that Diſtrict, were attacked and ſurrounded in various Places, many of them cut to Pieces; and Colonel Hannay himſelf, encompaſſed by Multitudes, narrowly eſcaped the ſame Fate. The Nabob Vizier was charged with being privy to the Intrigues which had produced and fomented theſe Diſturbances; and the little Account that he ſeemed to make of them, ſerved to countenance the Suſpicion. I can truly ſay for myſelf, that I never afforded it the ſlighteſt Degree of Credit; neither his Character, the Tenour of his paſt Conduct, the Expectations which I knew he entertained of Aſſiſtance and Relief from myſelf, nor his Inability to ſupport himſelf without the Protection of our Government, allowing me, for a Moment, to entertain a Thought ſo injurious to his Fidelity, and ſo contrary to Probability. Yet I was not perfectly free from Apprehenſions ſimilar to ſuch a Suggeſtion. The Nabob was ſurrounded by Men, baſe in their Characters and improvident in their Underſtandings; his Favourites, and the Companions of his looſer Hours. Theſe had every Cauſe to dread the Effects of my Influence on theirs; and both theſe, and the Relations of the Family, whoſe Views of Conſequence and Power were intercepted by our Participation in the Adminiſtration of his Affairs, entertained a mortal Hatred to our Nation, and openly avowed it. Theſe all joined in preſcribing the moſt pernicious and fatal Counſels to the Nabob, repreſenting this as the Time to deliver himſelf from what they deſcribed as the Yoke of Servitude. Although he firmly rejected all their Perſuaſions, and I was aſſured of it, yet he himſelf was at their Mercy; and it was in their Power to uſe both his Authority and his Perſon for the Perpetration of their own Deſigns; nor could I uſe any Precaution to avoid them, which would not appear to proceed from a Diſtruſt of the Nabob himſelf. I never communicated my Apprehenſions, nor acted from them, and had the Satisfaction of receiving the Nabob, of maintaining an Intercourſe with him, with every Mark of the moſt ſecure and mutual Confidence, and of parting with him with every Demonſtration of mutual Satisfaction (a)."

Read, alſo, the following Extract from the ſame Book, beginning at Page 32.

" It is proper to mention, that as ſoon as I had formed my Reſolution to leave Banaris, I ſent my Moonſhy to the Nabob Saadut Ally Khan, to inform him of it, and to recommend the wounded Sepoys to his Care; believing that the Rajah, from a Conſideration of Policy, would not chuſe to moleſt them, eſpecially as he could have no Motive or Object to it but Revenge, if he would ſhew a determined Reſolution to protect them. The ſame Requeſt I made to him in Writing after my Arrival at Chunar. I owe him the Juſtice to atteſt, that he faithfully and liberally complied with my Requeſt. He viſited them himſelf, and furniſhed them with Proviſions and with Money, and appointed native Surgeons to attend them; and as they were able to bear it, he cauſed them all to be removed to his own Quarters.

" Many Reports and Suſpicions have prevailed of his being concerned in ſome of the Deſigns which were formed againſt us. I can neither credit nor refute them. The Evil imputed to him is at beſt doubtful: The Good which he did is certain, and he is entitled to the entire Merit of it (b)."

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they would now proceed to lay before the Houſe the Account of the Tranſaction reſpecting Captain Gordon and Sadut Ally, contained in the Correſpondence between Colonel Hannay, Captain Gordon, and the Begums: Which Correſpondence was annexed to this Article of Charge, as originally preſented to the Houſe of Commons, and afterwards admitted by Mr. Haſtings in his Defence to the ſame at the Bar of that Houſe.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Production of this Evidence—the Letters not being upon the Conſultations of the Governor General and Council of Bengal, nor in any other Shape upon the Records of the Eaſt India Company, and Captain Gordon, one of the Parties to the Correſpondence, being in England.

The

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they had already given in Evidence the Defence of Mr. Haſtings at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons to this Article of the Charge as originally preſented there;—that a Part of that Defence, upon which the Commons relied, was an Admiſſion of certain Facts connected with the Letters now in queſtion;—they now tendered the Letters therefore to explain what it was that was admitted by Mr. Haſtings in that Part of his Defence, and contended, that for that Purpoſe, and under thoſe Circumſtances, the Letters as annexed to the above Article of Charge, were the beſt poſſible Evidence that could be produced.

The Houſe obſerved, the firſt Step was for the Managers for the Commons to read that Part of Mr. Haſtings's Defence, upon which they founded their Right to produce the Evidence offered;—and then the Queſtion would ariſe, whether that Right were well or ill founded.

Accordingly, Read, the following Extract from Mr. Haſtings's Defence.

"Upon the Letters of Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon, quoted by the Bow Begum in Proof of her Innocence of the Conduct imputed to her and her Servants, it is only neceſſary to obſerve, they were written at a Time and under the Impreſſion of the Begums having it very much in their Power to contribute to the Safety, or poſſibly to the Deſtruction of Colonel Hannay's Detachment, then in a very precarious Situation in the Neighbourhood of Fyzabad, and at a Time too, when our Affairs at Benares were ſuppoſed by thoſe Officers to wear an unfavourable Aſpect. The Colonel's firſt Object was to procure Safety for the Perſon of Captain Gordon, who was at the Mercy of the Begums and their Eunuchs; and for this Purpoſe he thought no Means ſo likely to ſucceed, as declaring an implicit Reliance on their Friendſhip and good Faith, and affecting to conſider himſelf under Obligations to them: Captain Gordon, however, moſt probably owed his Salvation to another Influence. Soon after he fell into their Hands, by the treacherous Conduct of Bahar Ally Cawn's Naib and adopted Son, at Tanda, the News of ſome ſucceſsful Operations of our Troops at Benares reached the Begums; and as Affairs began to promiſe a ſpeedy and deciſive Iſſue in our Favour, it is not ſurprizing that the Begums and their Agents ſhould endeavour, by Acts of Kindneſs, to efface the Impreſſion, which they muſt have been ſenſible their Conduct had made to their Diſcredit. This was the Explanation given by Colonel Hannay to Mr. Middleton of the Motives of his Conduct to the Begums at that Period; and the Letters alluded to cannot poſſibly bear any other Conſtruction, without an Imputation on the Veracity and moral Character of the late Colonel Hannay, which his Reputation and general Conduct in Life will not warrant. The Teſtimony of Colonel Hannay cannot now be had, but his Explanation to Mr. Middleton of the Motives of his Conduct to the Begums and their Agents, at that critical Conjuncture of his own and the national Affairs, that Gentleman will be ready at any Time to certify on Oath; and the Evidence of Captain Gordon may poſſibly throw further Light upon the Subject (a)."

The Counſel for the Defendant ſaid, they would not inſiſt upon their Objection.

Then the Managers for the Commons delivered in a Paper, intituled, "Articles of "Charge of High Crimes and Miſdemeanors againſt Warren Haſtings Eſquire."

Read, the following Extract, from the ſame.

"From her Excellency the Bow Begum to Mr. Briſtow, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

"There is no Neceſſity to write to you, by way of Information, a Detail of my Sufferings; from common Report, and the Intelligence of thoſe who are about you, the Account of them will have reached your Ears; I will here relate a Part of them.

"After the Death of Sujah Dowlah, moſt of his ungrateful Servants were conſtantly labouring to gratify their Enmity; but finding, from the firm and ſincere Friendſhip, which ſubſiſted between me and the Engliſh, that the Accompliſhment of their Purpoſes was fruſtrated, they formed the Deſign of occaſioning a Breach in that Alliance, to enſure their own Succeſs. I muſt acquaint you, that my Son, Aſof ul Dowlah, had formerly threatened to ſeize my Jaghire; but upon producing the Treaty ſigned by you, and ſhewing it to Mr. Middleton, he interfered, and prevented the impending Evil. The Conſpirators now framed an Accuſation againſt me, of a Conduct which I never had conceived even in Idea, of rendering Aſſiſtance to Rajah Cheyt Sing. The Particulars are as follow: My Son, Aſoph ul Dowlah, and his Miniſters, with Troops, and a Train of Artillery, accompanied by Mr. Middleton, on the 16th of the Month of Mohurum, arrived at Fyzabad, and made a Demand of a Crore of Rupees. As my Inability to pay ſo vaſt a Sum was manifeſt, I produced the Treaty you ſigned and gave me; but to no Effect; their Hearts were determined upon Violence. I offered my Son, Aſoph ul Dowlah, whoſe Will is dearer to me than all my Riches, or even Life itſelf, whatever Money and Goods I was poſſeſſed of;

but an amicable Adjuſtment ſeemed not worth accepting. He demanded the Delivering up the Fort, and the Recal of the Troops that were ſtationed for the preſerving the Peace of the City. To me Tumult and Diſcord appeared unneceſſary. I gave up theſe Points, upon which they ſeized my Head Eunuchs, Jewar Ally Cawn and Bahar Ally Cawn, and ſent them to Mr. Middleton. After having obliged them to ſign a Bond for Sixty Lacks of Rupees, they were thrown into Priſon, with Fetters about their Feet, and denied Food and Water. I, who had never, even in my Dreams, experienced ſuch an Oppreſſion, gave up all I had, to preſerve my Honour and Dignity. But this would not ſatisfy their Demands. They charged me with a Rupee and a Half Batta upon each Mohur; and on this Account they laid Claims on me to the Amount of Six Lacks ſome Thouſand Rupees, and ſent Major Gilpin to exact the Payment. Major Gilpin, according to Orders, at firſt was importunate; but being a Man of Experience, and of a benevolent Diſpoſition, when he was convinced of my Want of Means, he changed his Conduct, and was willing to apply to the Shroffs and Bankers, to lend me the Money. But with the Loſs of my Jaghire my Credit was ſunk. I could not raiſe the Sum. At laſt, feeling my helpleſs Situation, I collected my Wardrobe and Furniture, to the Amount of about Three Lacks of Rupees, beſides Fifty Thouſand Rupees which I borrowed from one Place or other, and ſent Major Gilpin with it to Lucknow. My Sufferings did not terminate here. The Diſturbances of Colonel Hannay and Mr. Gordon were made a Pretence for ſeizing my Jaghire. The State of the Matter is this. When Colonel Hannay was by Mr. Haſtings ordered to march to Benares, during the Troubles of Cheyt Sing, the Colonel, who had plundered the whole Country, was incapable of proceeding. From the Union of Thouſands of Zemindars, who had ſeized this favourable Opportunity, they haraſſed Mr. Gordon near Junivarra; and the Zemindars of that Place and Acberpore oppoſed his March from thence till he arrived near Tanda. As the Tanda Nulla, from its Overflowing, was difficult to croſs without a Boat, Mr. Gordon ſent to the Fouſdar to ſupply him. He replied, the Boats were all in the River; but would, according to Orders, aſſiſt him as ſoon as poſſible. Mr. Gordon's Situation would not admit of his waiting. He forded the Nulla upon his Elephant, and was hoſpitably entertained and protected by the Fouſdar for Six Days. In the mean Time, a Letter was received by me from Colonel Hannay, deſiring me to eſcort Mr. Gordon to Fyzabad. As my Friendſhip for the Engliſh was always ſincere, I readily complied, and ſent ſome Companies of Nejeebs to eſcort Mr. Gordon, and all his Effects, to Fyzabad; where, having provided for his Entertainment, I effected his Junction with Colonel Hannay. The Letter of Thanks I received from both theſe Gentlemen upon this Occaſion, are ſtill in my Poſſeſſion, Copies of which I gave in Charge to Major Gilpin to be delivered to Mr. Middleton, that he might forward them to the Governor General. To be brief, thoſe who have loaded me with Accuſations are now clearly convicted of Falſehood. But is it not extraordinary, that, notwithſtanding the Juſtneſs of my Cauſe, Nobody relieves my Misfortune? Why did Major Gilpin return without Effect?

" My Prayers have been conſtantly offered to Heaven for your Arrival: Report has announced it; for which Reaſon I have taken up the Pen, and requeſt you will not place implicit Confidence in my Accuſers; but weighing, in the Scale of Juſtice, their Falſehoods and my Repreſentations, you will exert your Influence, in putting a Period to the Misfortunes with which I am overwhelmed."

The Council for the Defendant requeſted the Houſe to obſerve, that they did not mean to admit the Exiſtence of the Letters now produced, but that they might be read in Evidence, as a written Paper, annexed to the Charge before the Houſe of Commons, upon which Mr. Haſtings had commented in his Defence: As explanatory therefore of his Defence, they might be read; but as Evidence of the Exiſtence of the Letters, they conceived the Managers for the Commons were not intitled to read them.

Read alſo, from the ſame Paper, the following Extracts:

" Copy of a Letter from Colonel Hannay to Jewar Ally Cawn and Bahar Ally Cawn.

" I had the Pleaſure to receive your friendly Letter, fraught with Benevolence; and whatever Favours you, my Friends, have been pleaſed to confer reſpecting Mr. Gordon, afforded me the greateſt Pleaſure.

" Placing a firm Reliance on your Friendſhip, I am in Expectation, that the aforeſaid Gentleman, with his Baggage, will arrive at Fyzabad in Safety, that the ſame may oblige and afford Satisfaction to me.

" A Letter for Mr. Gordon is incloſed to you; I am in Expectation of its being encloſed in a Cover to the Aumil of Saunda, to the End that the Aumil may forward it to the abovementioned Gentleman, and procure his Reply. Whenever the Anſwer arrives, let it be delivered to Hoolas Roy, who will forward it to me.

" Always rejoice me by a few Lines reſpecting your Health. Continue to honour me with your Correſpondence."

" Copy of a Letter from Colonel Hannay to Jewar and Bahar Ally Cawn.

" Cawn Saibury, indulgent Friends, remain under the Protection of God.

" Your friendly Letter, fraught with Kindneſs, accompanied by an honorary Letter from the Begum Saib, of exalted Dignity, and encloſed a Letter from Mr. Gordon, ſent through your Hiccarrahs, obliged and rejoiced me.

" With reſpect to what you communicate, regarding your not having received an Anſwer to your friendly Epiſtle, I became perfectly aſtoniſhed, as a Reply was written from Mohadree. It may be owing to the Danger of the Road that it never arrived, not to the ſmalleſt Neglect on my Side, or of mine.

" I now ſend two Letters to you, one by the Dawk People, and the ſecond by one of my Hircarrahs, who will preſent them to you, which you will certainly receive.

" I am extremely well contented and pleaſed with the Friendſhip you have ſhewn.

" You wrote me to remain perfectly eaſy concerning Mr. Gordon; verily from the Kindneſs of you, my indulgent Friends, my Heart is quite eaſy. You alſo obſerved and mentioned, that, as Mr. Gordon's coming with thoſe attached to him (probably his Sepoys and others) might be attended with Difficulty, if I approved, he ſhould be invited alone to Fyzabad: My Friends, I place my Expectation entirely upon your Friendſhips, and leave it to you to adopt the Manner in which the ſaid Gentleman may arrive, in Security, without Moleſtation, at Fyzabad; but at the ſame Time let the Plan be ſo managed, that it may not come to the Knowledge of any Zemindars; in this Caſe you are Men of Diſcernment. However he is to come to Fyzabad, extend your Aſſiſtance and Endeavours.

" It is probable, that the Begum Saib, of high Dignity, has received authentic Intelligence from the Camp at Benares; favour me with the Contents or Purport.

" From Mr. Gordon's Letter I underſtand, that Mirza Imaum Bakſh, whom you diſpatched thither (Saunda), has and ſtill continues to pay great Attention to that Gentleman, which affords me great Pleaſure.

" An Anſwer to the Begum's Letter is to be preſented; I alſo ſend a Letter for Mr. Gordon, which pleaſe to forward."

" An Addreſs from Colonel Hannay to the Begum.

" Begum Saib, of exalted Dignity and Generoſity, &c. whom God preſerve.

" Your exalting Letter, fraught with Grace and Benevolence, that through your unbounded Generoſity and Goodneſs, was ſent through Grace and Favour, I had the Honour to receive in a fortunate Moment; and whatever you were pleaſed to write reſpecting Mr. Gordon, ' that at this ' Time the ſhort ſighted and deluded Riots had carried their Diſturbances and Ravages beyond all ' Bounds, Mr. Gordon's coming with his whole People (or Adherents), might be attended with ' Difficulty; and therefore, if I choſe, he ſhould be invited to come alone." Now, as your Highneſs is the beſt Judge, your faithful Servant repoſeth his moſt unbounded Hopes and Expectation upon your Highneſs, that the aforeſaid Mr. Gordon may arrive at Fyzabad without any Apprehenſion or Danger, I ſhall be extremely honoured and obliged.

" Conſidering me in the Light of a Friend and faithful Servant, continue to honour and exalt me by your Letters.

" What further can I ſay?"

" Copy of an Addreſs from Mr. Gordon to the Begum.

" Begum Saib, of exalted Dignity and Generoſity, whom God preſerve.

" After preſenting the uſual Profeſſions of Servitude, &c. in the cuſtomary Manner, my Addreſs is preſented.

" Your gracious Letter, in Anſwer to the Petition of your Servant from Gooudah, exalted me. From the Contents, I became unſpeakably impreſſed with the Honour it conferred. May the Almighty protect that royal Purity, and beſtow Happineſs, Increaſe of Wealth, and Proſperity.

" The Welfare of your Servant is entirely owing to your Favour and Benevolence.

" A few Days have elapſed ſince I arrived at Gooudah with the Colonel Saib.

" This is preſented for your Highneſs's Information. I cheriſh Hopes from your Generoſity, that conſidering me in the Light of one of your Servants, always continue to exalt and honour me with your gracious Letters.

" May the Sun of Proſperity continually ſhine."

" Copy of a Letter to Mahumed Jewar Ally Cawn and Bahar Ally Cawn from Mr. Gordon.

" Sirs,

" My indulgent Friends remain under, &c. &c. &c. After Compliments, I have the Pleaſure to inform you, that Yeſterday having taken Leave of you, I paſſed the Night at Noorgunge, and next Morning about Ten or Eleven o'Clock, through your Favour and Benevolence, arrived ſafe at Gooudah. Mur Aboo Bukſh Zemindar and Mur Ruſtum Ally accompanied me.

" To what Extent can I prolong the Praiſes of you, my beneficent Friends. May the Supreme Being, for this benign compaſſionate humane Action, have you in his Keeping, and increaſe your Property, and ſpeedily grant me the Pleaſure of an Interview; until which Time continue to favour me with friendly Letters, and oblige me by any Commands in my Power to execute.

" May your Wiſhes be ever crowned with Succeſs.

" My Compliments, &c. &c. &c."

" Copy of a Letter from Colonel Hannay to Jewar Ally Cawn and Bahar Ally Cawn.

" Cawn Saib, my indulgent Friends, remain under the Protection of the Supreme Being.

" After Compliments, and ſignifying my earneſt Deſire of an Interview, I addreſs you.

" Your friendly Letter, fraught with Kindneſs, I had the Pleaſure to receive in a propitious Hour; and your inexpreſſible Kindneſs, in ſending for Mur Naſſar Ally with a Force to Taunda, for the Purpoſe of conducting Mr. Gordon with all his Baggage, who is now arrived at Fyzabad.

" This Event has afforded me the moſt exceſſive Pleaſure and Satisfaction. May the Omnipotence preſerve you, my ſtedfaſt firm Friends.

" The Pen of Friendſhip itſelf cannot ſufficiently expreſs your Generoſity and Benevolence, and that of the Begum, of high Dignity, who ſo graciouſly has intereſted herſelf in this Matter. Incloſed is an Addreſs for her, which pleaſe to forward. I hope from your Friendſhip, until we meet, you will continue to honour me with an Account of your Health and Welfare.

" What further can I write?"

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe they would next produce a Letter from the Bow Begum to Mr. Haſtings Eight Days before the ſeizing of her Treaſures, to prove that ſhe referred him to Captain Gordon, who was then with Mr. Haſtings, for any Explanation upon the Subject, and ſtated, that his Letter was entered, and admitted by Mr. Haſtings himſelf to be received at the Time it was written.

Read, the following Extract from Book 105, intituled, " Bengal Perſian Correſpondence," already delivered in.

" From the Mother of the Vizier.

" Received 6th January 1782.

" Par. 5. Our Situation is pretty well, and your good Health is conſtantly prayed for. I had ſent Behar Ally Khan to you; accordingly People invented a Falſehood, that Behar Ally Khan was gone to get the Deputyſhip of the Soubah, and ſome Perſons here were ſaying, " wherefore has ſhe ſent Behar Ally Khan to Calcutta, to the Nawab Amaud ud Dowlah; we will never permit the Affair to ſucceed:" And accordingly it has ſo happened; for they ſay that you alſo have not put your Seal to the Treaty; and the People here ſay, Why does the noble Lady correſpond with the Engliſh Gentlemen? On this Account I did not ſend a Letter at the Time when you came this Way. Now the State of Affairs here is thus: On the 27th, Zehedje Aſuph ud Dowlah Behader, without my Knowledge, ſent his own Aumils into my Jagheer. I accordingly wrote ſeveral Times to Mr. Middleton on this Buſineſs; that his Seal was to the Treaty, and Writing of Diſcharge, why did he not negociate in my Favour? Mr. Middleton replied, " The Nawab is the Maſter." I wrote frequently, but without Effect. Being helpleſs, I repreſent to you the State of my Affairs; that notwithſtanding the Exiſtence of this Treaty, I have been treated in this Manner. It is uſeleſs for me to ſtay here. Whatever is, is a Compact; whenever any one deviates from his Compact, he meets with no Credit for the Future; and the Light of mine Eyes, Aſuph ud Dowla, wrote to me, that he had ſent his own Aumils into my Jagheers, and would pay ready Money from his Treaſury. Reflect on my Security for his adhering to his future Engagements, from the Conſideration of his Conduct under his paſt Promiſes. I do not agree to his ready Money; let me have my Jagheer as formerly; otherwiſe, leaving this Place, I will wait on you at Benaris, and thence will go towards Shah Jehan Abad, becauſe he has not adhered to his Engagements. Send Letters to Aſuph ud Dowla, and to Mr. Middleton, and Huſſen Reza Khan, and Hyder Beg Khan, not to moleſt the Begum's Jagheer, and to let them remain as formerly, with the Begum's Aumils. And it is here ſuſpected of me, that my Aumil plundered the Property of Mr. John Gordon: The Caſe is this; Mr. John Gordon arrived at Tandah, a Jagheer of mine, fighting with the Zemindars of Akberpoor, which belongs to the Khalſeh. Accordingly, Mr. John Gordon having come to Tandah, my Aumil performed whatever appertained to his Duty. Afterwards Mr. John Gordon wrote to me to ſend my People, that he might come with them to Fyzabad. I ſent People accordingly to bring Mr. John Gordon, and the ſaid Gentleman arrived here in complete Safety; and Mr John Gordon is now preſent, aſk him yourſelf of theſe Matters. Mr. John Gordon will repreſent Matters in Detail; the Truth will then become known, how ill founded the Calumny is. Should you come here for a few Days, it will be very well, and if not, I will will wait on you; and your coming here is very neceſſary, that all my Affairs may become arranged; and ſend a ſpeedy Anſwer to my Letters, and Letter to Aſuph ud Dowlah and Mr. Middleton, and Huſſen Reza Khan, and Hyder Beg Khan, on the Subject of ceaſing to moleſt my Jagheers, and ſend me conſtantly News of your Health, for my Peace of Mind depends thereon."

To prove the Situation and the Reſources of the Rajah Cheyt Sing, at the Time the Begums reſcued Captain Gordon,

Read, the following Extract from the Benares Narrative, beginning at Page 44 of the ſame.

" To which are to be added, Huſbandmen and Adventurers, who took up Arms voluntarily, making the foregoing Number amount to near Forty thouſand.

" Theſe Forces were divided between Lutteefpoor, Pateeta, and Ramnagur. The beſt reputed of them were at Pateeta, and the great Maſs, compoſing the laſt Corps, with a Part of the others, at Lutteefpoor with the Rajah, who had fixed his Reſidence at that Place ſince his Flight from Shewallah Ghaut.

" Before I proceed, it may not be improper to ſtate the other Reſources on which he, not very unreaſonably, depended for lengthening the War, if not for Succeſs in the Courſe of it.

" Firſt, his Fortreſſes; of which there are many, and ſome of conſiderable Extent and Strength, erected in various Parts of the Zemeedary. Of theſe the Two Principal are Bidjeygur and Lutteefpoor. Ramnagur ſcarcely deſerves to be named with them; and Pateeta has been rendered conſiderable only by its having been a capital Scene of his Oppoſition, and of our Victories.

" Bidjeygur is a Fort erected on the ſolid Rock of a Hill, riſing to the Height of 745 perpendicular Feet from the level Ground. It lies about Fifty Miles in a South-Eaſt Direction from Chunar. It was the Depoſitory of all his and his Father's Treaſures.

" Lutteefpoor is a large Fort, built with Stone, and ſurrounded by Hills, and, either from Neglect or Deſign, obſtructed from diſtant View by Trees and thick Shrubs ſurrounding it. It lies about 14 Miles Eaſtward from Chunar.

" Pateeta is a very large Town, ſurrounded by a Rampart of Earth, extending to a great Diſtance beyond it to the Hills adjoining. The Fort itſelf is a ſmall ſquare Houſe of Stone, itſelf fortified with Four round Towers, and incloſed with a high Rampart, and a Ditch which is in moſt Parts broad and deep. Its greateſt Advantage againſt an Enemy, to whom Delay was Defeat, was that it was inviſible to its Aſſailants.

" Ramnagur has been deſcribed already. The other Forts, whatever their Conſequence under a different Train of Succeſſes might have been, are of none to the Events of this Narrative.

" His next great Reſource was his Wealth; on which he looked, and thought himſelf invincible; an Expreſſion which I borrow from one of the meaneſt of his Dependants. It is credibly affirmed, that he inherited from his Father, Bulwant Sing, a complete Crore of Rupees, to which it is believed that he made conſiderable Additions.

" The Diſtreſſes of our Government, and the Power and Number of its Enemies, may alſo be reckoned, though negative, yet amongſt his Reſources. The reſt were deluſory, which the falſe and violent Counſels of his Brother Soojaun Sing, and his Buxey Suddanund, impoſed on his Inexperience, and the Pliancy and Aptitude of his Diſpoſition."

To

To prove the Situation of Mr. Haſtings at, and after, the above mentioned Conduct of the Begums towards Captain Gordon,

Read, the following Extract from Mr. Haſtings's Second Defence.

" It is well known, that, by the Example and at the Inſtigation of Rajah Cheit Sing, the Zemindar of Benares, the Inhabitants of that Diſtrict revolted from our Government, and continued in a State of Rebellion from the 22d of Auguſt to the 22d of September 1781. During this ſhort, but important Period, I was confined to the Fortreſs and Plain of Chunar; and in a Situation which, in the Apprehenſion of many, portended certain Deſtruction to myſelf, and my ſmall Party."

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they ſhould next produce ſeveral Letters from Captain M'Donald, to the ſame Point.

Read, from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book, A. already delivered in, beginning at Page 100 of the ſame Book, the following Extract of a Letter from Major Naylor to Captain Jaques, dated Camp, Fyzabad, February 8th 1782.

" To Captain Jaques, commanding the 2d Battalion, 20th Regiment.

" Sir,

" Hoolaſs Roy, the Perſon appointed by the Nabob for tranſacting the Buſineſs for which the Troops are required here, will hold conſtant Communication and Intercourſe with you; and as he is inſtructed and acquainted with the beſt Method to accompliſh this Buſineſs, Mr. Middleton requeſts implicit Attention to be paid to what he may from Time to Time repreſent reſpecting the Priſoners, or the Buſineſs in which he is employed. In ſhort, as he is the Perſon nominated by the Nabob, he wiſhes Hoolaſs Roy to be conſidered in the ſame light as if he himſelf was preſent.

(Signed at the End) " N. Taylor,
Major, Commanding at Fazabad."

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, Page 124, Letter from Captain Jaques to Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire.

" Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" I am this inſtant honoured with your Letter of Yeſterday's Date: Immediately upon the Receipt of it, I ſent for your Agent Hooloſs Roy, who informs me, that Doondey Khawn, the Perſon you wrote about, has left Fyzabad four Days ago, and that it is ſuppoſed he has taken the Janſey Road.

" Upon my aſking him his Reaſon for not informing me of this Matter upon his firſt obtaining Knowledge of it, he gave me to underſtand, that he received no Orders from Mr. Johnſon, upon his leaving Lucknow, either to inform me of any Thing that happened, or that he knew he was to have any Intercourſe with me.

" I have thought it neceſſary to deſire Hooloſs Roy to communicate any Intelligence of Conſequence to me, from Time to Time, that he may obtain.

" I have the Honour to be,
" Sir,
" Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

" Palace, Fyzabad,
March 19th 1782,
12 o'Clock at Night.

(Signed) " Leo^d Jaques, Captain
2d Batt^n 20^th Reg^t of Sepoys."

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, Page 79, Letter from Mr. William Davy to Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire.

" Sir,

" I am directed by the Governor General to inform you that the Bearer, Hoolaus Raie, who attended here by your Orders, has been examined as to the Points on which he could give Information, and has now received Permiſſion to return.

" December 21ſt 1781, " I am, Sir,
Benares. " Your moſt obedient Servant,
(Signed) " W^m Davy,
" Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire. " P. Perſ^n Tranſl."

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Eſquire might be called; and being called in, he was examined as follows:

Q. To what Period do you confine your Idea of the Rebellion of the Begums?
A. To the latter End of September 1781.

Q. During

Q. During what Period of Time is it that you ſtate the Begums were doing what you call Acts of Rebellion?

A. From the firſt breaking out of the Inſurrection at Benares to the End of the Month of September, or nearly the End of the Month of September.

Q. Did you ſuppoſe the Rebellion to have ceaſed when you left Chunar with the Nabob?

A. I ſuppoſed it had.

Q. Do you mean that you heard of no Hoſtilities whatever upon the Part of the Begums afterwards, either againſt the Nabob or the Engliſh Government?

A. Upon the Reſumption of the Jaghires, I conceive that the Begums did commit Acts of Hoſtility, at leaſt, that they threatened Hoſtilities: I cannot ſay they actually committed any Acts of Hoſtility, but they threatened them.

Q. Did you enter in your Letter Book the Whole of the Correſpondence reſpecting this ſuppoſed Rebellion of the Begums, either with Mr. Haſtings or Colonel Hannay; or any other Perſon?

A. The Whole of my Publick Correſpondence.

Q. Did you not repeat the Subſtance of many Letters which you had received from Colonel Hannay, in a Letter of yours, dated the 19th of October, to Mr. Haſtings?

A. I recollect making Extracts of ſeveral Letters which I received from Colonel Hannay, in a Letter to Mr. Haſtings; but I cannot ſay that that was exactly the Date. I recollect making Extracts of the Letters in my Poſſeſſion from Colonel Hannay, and making it a Letter to Mr. Haſtings.

Then a Book was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he was aſked,

Q. Is this one of the Letter Books upon which you ſo entered your Publick Correſpondence?

A. Yes; this is a Letter Book in which I entered Letters that were received by me in my Publick Capacity.

Then the following Paſſage was read to the Witneſs, from Page 86 of the ſaid Book:

"I was favoured with yours of the 3d this Morning; and have the Pleaſure to repeat to you, "that every Thing is quiet in this Pergunna of Nabob Gunge."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Does that Book contain Copies of Letters you ſent?

A. No; this Book does not.

Q. Does the Letter referred to by the Expreſſion "I repeat to you," &c. appear in that Book?

A. The Letter is from Major Naylor to me: The Expreſſion is this—"I have the Pleaſure to "repeat to you every Thing is quiet in this Pergunna of Nabob Gunge."

Q. Do any of thoſe Letters from Colonel Hannay, the Contents of which you afterwards recapitulate in your Letter of the 19th of October 1781, to Mr. Haſtings, appear in your Book?

A. I believe they do not: I do not recollect they do.

Q. Why do not they appear in your Letter Book?

A. I believe they were all private Letters—familiar Letters—in which he occaſionally ſpoke of the Circumſtances relative to the Begums.

Q. Was not the Matter communicated to you by Colonel Hannay in thoſe Letters, made the Ground of the whole Proceedings againſt the Begums, in the Order received from Mr. Haſtings to ſeize the Treaſures?

A. I apprehend not: Every Thing contained in thoſe Letters was afterwards confirmed by Colonel Hannay, upon Oath, before Sir Elijah Impey—the principal Matters: I will not ſay, every Thing; but the principal Facts related in thoſe Letters, were confirmed by Colonel Hannay, upon Oath, before Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. Then the Matter contained in thoſe Letters, not depending upon the Evidence of the Letters alone, but confirmed on Oath, was made the whole Ground of your proceeding againſt the Begums?

A. Not the whole, I conceive; that muſt have been ſome Part of the Ground of the Proceedings.

Q. Had you not received Intimation from Mr. Haſtings of his Pleaſure, that the Treaſure of the Begums ſhould be ſeized, before Colonel Hannay made any ſuch Affidavit?

A. I have not a very perfect Recollection of the Time of the firſt Communication of Mr. Haſtings's Pleaſure relative to the ſeizing the Treaſures. I remember having Converſation with Sir Elijah Impey, whilſt he was at Lucknow; but certainly I never conceived that Propoſition came

came from Mr. Haſtings: My Idea was, it was a Propoſition from the Nabob, though not actually or formally made to Mr. Haſtings; and I can take upon me to affirm, it had been frequently mentioned in Converſation with the Nabob or his Miniſters, long before Sir Elijah Impey arrived in Lucknow. Upon looking over the Correſpondence, I find, that the firſt Propoſition made to Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject, was dated the 2d of December 1781; the firſt Propoſition from myſelf.

Q. The firſt Propoſition from yourſelf?
A. The firſt Propoſition from myſelf appears to be dated the 2d of December 1781.

Q. Was Mr. Haſtings's Anſwer to that Letter of the 2d of December, the firſt Communication which you received from Mr. Haſtings himſelf upon that Subject?
A. No, certainly not: I have before ſaid, I recollect very well having ſome Converſation with Sir Elijah Impey upon the Subject while he was at Lucknow, which was the End of November.

Q. Did not Sir Elijah Impey bring the Propoſition to you from Mr. Haſtings to this Effect: That the Nabob ſhould propoſe to Mr. Haſtings to ſeize the Treaſure of the Begums?
A. The Recollection I have of Sir Elijah Impey's Communication to me was this: that Mr. Haſtings conſidered the Conduct of the Begums to have forfeited their Claims to the Company's Protection; and that if the Nabob ſhould be diſpoſed to ſeize the Begums Treaſures as the Treaſures of the State, Mr. Haſtings would not obſtruct him? As far as I can charge my Memory with it, that was the Propoſition of Sir Elijah Impey's Communication.

Q. Did you ever make any Communication of any Sort reſpecting the ſeizing the Treaſures to Mr. Haſtings, prior to Sir Elijah Impey's Arrival at Lucknow?
A. No, certainly not.

Q. Was not your Letter of the 2d of December a publick Letter to Mr. Haſtings?
A. I do not recollect: I beg Leave to refer to the Letter itſelf.

Q. Do you remember when you received an Anſwer to your Letter of the 2d of December 1781?
A. I would refer to the Letter.

Then a Book was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he was aſked,

Q. When did you receive the Anſwer to that Letter, whether it was publick, or whether it was private?
A. I believe Mr. Haſtings's Anſwer was upon the 26th of December.

Q. Whether this Paſſage in your Letter of the 6th of December 1781—"Your Pleaſure reſpecting "the Begums, I have learnt from Sir Elijah Impey, and the Meaſure you propoſe ſhall ſoon "follow the Reſumption of the Jaghires," relates to the Propoſition verbally communicated to you by Sir Elijah Impey from Mr. Haſtings?
A. I have no Doubt it did.

Q. In your Letter of the 2d of December 1781, there is this Paſſage—"the Nabob writes you "himſelf upon the Subject, you have his Letter incloſed:" Did you ever ſee that Letter from the Nabob?
A. No, I do not know that I did; I believe I did not: But I underſtood the Purport of it.

Q. From whom did you receive it?
A. Either from the Nabob or his Miniſter, I cannot ſay which: probably from the Miniſter.

Q. Do you know why that Letter has never appeared?
A. I do not.

Q. Did you conſider the Reſiſtance to the Reſumption of the Jaghires as any Ground for the Determination to ſeize the Treaſures of the Begums?
A. I did not; the actual Reſiſtance to the Reſumption of the Jaghires was after the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſures had been determined upon.

Q. Had any Meaſures been taken, or any Notice given, or any Perwanna iſſued for ſeizing the Jaghires, prior to the 2d of December 1781?
A. I do not know that any Steps had actually been taken, that any poſitive Acts had been done, but no doubt the Communication had been made; it was generally known the Jaghires were to be reſumed previous to that Period.

Q. Do you mean that it was known that the Jaghires were to be reſumed before the Nabob had conſented to the Meaſure.
A. I believe it was a Meaſure which it was ſuppoſed was to take place equally, whether the Nabob agreed to it or not, whether it was conſiſtent with the Nabob's Wiſhes or not.

Then

Then a Letter, dated 6th December 1781, was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and the following Paſſage read to him.

" Finding the Nabob wavering about the Reſumption of the Jaghires, I this Day, in the Pre-
" ſence of and with the Miniſters Concurrence, ordered the neceſſary Perwannas to be written to the " ſeveral Aumils for that Purpoſe; and it was my firm Reſolution to have diſpatched them this " Evening, with proper People to ſee them punctually and implicitly carried into Execution (a)."

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Did you write that Letter?

A. Yes; I have no Doubt of it.

Q. Did you not afterwards actually iſſue your Perwanna, againſt the Nabob's Will, in order forcibly to take Poſſeſſion of the Jaghires of the Begums?

A. The Perwannas were written, but not iſſued; they were to have been accompanied by Perwannas to a ſimilar Purport from the Nabob's Miniſtry.

Read, from Book 82, Page 119, the following Extracts of Letters from Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire to Warren Haſtings Eſquire, in the Appendix to a Conſultation of 12th June 1783:

" Fort William, the 12th June 1783.

" At a Council; Preſent,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;

" The Honourable Warren Haſtings.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, 6th December 1781.

" Finding the Nabob wavering in his Determination about the Reſumption of the Jagheers, I this Day, in Preſence of, and with the Miniſters Concurrence, ordered the neceſſary Perwannahs to be written to the ſeveral Aumils for that Purpoſe; and it was my firm Reſolution to have diſpatched them this Evening, with proper People to ſee them punctually and implicitly carried into Execution; but, before they were all tranſcribed, I received a Meſſage from the Nabob, who had been informed by the Miniſter of the Reſolution I had taken, entreating that I would withhold the Perwannahs until To-morrow Morning, when he would attend me, and afford me Satisfaction on this Point. As the Loſs of a few Hours, in the Diſpatch of the Perwannahs, appeared of little Moment; and as it is poſſible the Nabob, ſeeing that the Buſineſs will at all Events be done, may make it an Act of his own, I have conſented to indulge him in his Requeſt; but be the Reſult of our Interview whatever it may, nothing ſhall prevent the Orders being iſſued To-morrow, either by him or myſelf, with the Concurrence of the Miniſters. Your Pleaſure reſpecting the Begums I have learnt from Sir Elijah, and the Meaſure heretofore propoſed will ſoon follow the Reſumption of the Jagheers; from both, or indeed from the former alone, I have no Doubt of the complete Liquidation of the Company's Balance (b).

" I am, &c.

" Nath. Middleton."

" The Honourable Warren Haſtings.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 7th December 1781.

" I had the Honour to addreſs you Yeſterday, informing you of the Steps I had taken in regard to the Reſumption of the Jagheers. This Morning the Vizier came to me, according to his Agreement, but ſeemingly without any Intention or Deſire to yield me Satisfaction on the Subject under Deſcription; for, after a great Deal of Converſation, conſiſting, on his Part, of triſling Evaſion and puerile Excuſes for withholding his Aſſent to the Meaſures, tho' at the ſame Time profeſſing the moſt implicit Submiſſion to your Wiſhes, I found myſelf without any other Reſource than the One of employing that excluſive Authority with which I conſider your Inſtructions to veſt me. I therefore declared to the Nabob, in Preſence of the Miniſter and Mr. Johnſon, who I deſired might bear Witneſs of the Converſation, that I conſtrued the Rejection of the Meaſure propoſed as a Breach of his ſolemn Promiſe to you, and an Unwillingneſs to yield that Aſſiſtance, which was evidently in his Power, towards liquidating his heavy accumulating Debt to the Company, and that I muſt in conſequence determine, in my own Juſtification, to iſſue immediately the Perwannahs, which had only been withheld in the ſanguine Hope, that he would be prevailed upon to make that his own Act, which nothing but the moſt urgent Neceſſity could force me to make mine. He left me without any Reply, but afterwards ſent for his Miniſter, and authorized him to give me Hopes that my Requiſition would be complied with, on which I expreſſed my Satisfaction, but declared that I could admit of no further Delays, and unleſs I received his Excellency's formal Acquieſcence before the Evening, I ſhould then moſt aſſuredly iſſue my Perwannahs, which I have accordingly done, not having had any Aſſurances from his Excellency that could juſtify a further Suſpenſion. I ſhall, as ſoon as poſſible, inform you of the Effect of the Perwannahs, which, in many Parts, I am apprehenſive, it will be found neceſſary to enforce with Military Aid; I am not however entirely without Hopes, that the Nabob, when he ſees the Inefficacy of further Oppoſition, may alter his Conduct, and prevent the Confuſion and diſagreeable Conſequences which would be too likely to reſult from the Proſecution of a Meaſure of ſuch Importance without his Concurrence. His Excellency talks of going to Fayzabad for the Purpoſe heretofore mentioned, in Three or Four Days; I wiſh he may be ſerious in this Intention, and you may reſt aſſured I ſhall ſpare no Pains to keep him to it.

" I am, &c.
(Signed) Nath. Middleton."

Q. Do you mean, that you did not actually iſſue your Perwannah?
A. The Perwannahs, I believe, never went further than the Miniſter's Hands. Upon reading this Letter, I have a Recollection that ſome of the Perwannahs were ſealed, and given to the Miniſter who was to diſpatch them; but they never went beyond his Hands.

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, 82, Page 125, the following Letter, from Mr. Middleton to the Governor General.

" The Honourable W. Haſtings.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 9th Dec. 1781.

" I had the Honour to addreſs you on the 7th inſtant, informing you of the Converſation which had paſſed between the Nabob and me, on the Subject of reſuming the Jagheers, and the Step I had taken in conſequence. His Excellency appeared to be very much hurt and incenſed at the Meaſure, and loudly complains of the Treachery of his Miniſters; firſt, in giving you any Hopes that ſuch a Meaſure would be adopted; and, ſecondly, in their promiſing me their whole Support in carrying it through. But, as I apprehend, rather than ſuffer it to appear that the Point had been carried in Oppoſition to his Will, he at length yielded a nominal Acquieſcence, and has this Day iſſued his own Perwannah to that Effect; declaring, however, at the ſame Time, both to me and his Miniſters, that it is an Act of Compulſion. I hope to be able, in a few Days, in conſequence of this Meaſure, to tranſmit you an Account of the actual Value and Produce of the Jagheers, oppoſed to the nominal Amount at which they ſtand rated on the Books of the Sircar.

" I have the Pleaſure to inform you, the Nabob ſtill adheres to his Reſolution of proceeding immediately to Fayzabad, for the Purpoſes already mentioned to you, and will, I believe, depart in Three Days from this Date. I entertain the moſt flattering and ſanguine Expectations from his Journey; and we ſhall not be kept long in Suſpence concerning the Reſult, as he is convinced of the Danger and Impropriety of Delay."

Then the Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Are not all theſe Parts of your private Correſpondence with Mr. Haſtings?
A. They are.

Q. Where are Mr. Haſtings's private Anſwers to thoſe Letters?
A. They are to be found in the ſame Book, I believe; If there were any Anſwers written, they are in the Books; all the Letters, to my Knowledge, received and written upon this Subject, are in thoſe Books.

Q. Look at that Book now before you, and account, if you can, why there are ſo many looſe Pages in that Book; and why there are Three Series of Pages; not as in the other Books, where the Pages are carried on from the Beginning to the End; and that upon Paper evidently of a different Sort: Firſt of all, do you obſerve any looſe Leaves?
A. Yes, there are.

Q. Do you obſerve any Interruption of the Series of the Papers?
A. Thoſe Letters are not entered regularly by any Means: The Interruption that appears in the Pages is, that the Letters were copied upon different Sections of Paper at different Times; and they are bound up, as the Sections were, without any general paging of the Whole.

Q. Do you obſerve any Difference of Paper in particular Parts of the Book?
A. Yes, there are certainly different Papers. I muſt obſerve, that I never delivered theſe Books as complete Copies of my Correſpondence; they were ſuch Copies as I happened to have in my Poſſeſſion. A great many of the Copies of Letters had been taken, in a great Hurry, upon my leaving leaving Lucknow; and I mentioned that to the Houſe of Commons at the Time they were delivered: I did not deliver them as complete Copies; but I mentioned at the Time, that I thought they would be found very defective.

Q. Do you remember when they were bound up in the Form of Books?
A. They were bound up in Calcutta.

Q. Do you mean, you carried down your Correſpondence to Calcutta, and that there that Correſpondence was copied, and then bound in thoſe Books?
A. It was bound up in Calcutta, and copied at Lucknow; ſome were copied while I ſtaid at Lucknow, and ſome of the others were ſent even long after I arrived at Calcutta.

Q. Whether any of them were copied at Calcutta?
A. The laſt Leaves ſeem to have been copied at Calcutta.

Q. (from a Lord.) Is it only in one Part of the Book where the Change of Paper is, or different Parts?
A. It is of different Kinds, in different Parts of the Book.

Q. Are we to underſtand, in point of Fact, that thoſe were not the Books in which your Correſpondence was copied at Lucknow; your Office Letter Books?
A. My Copy Books of Letters were left at Lucknow; complete Copies of my Correſpondence were left in my Office at Lucknow; thoſe are Copies I had taken for my own private Satisfaction. Compleat Copies of all my Correſpondence will be found in the Reſident's Office at Lucknow—Copies of Letters received.

Q. (from a Lord). Are thoſe Copies of Copies, or Copies of Originals?
A. Copies of Originals in ſome Inſtances, I cannot ſay in others; they are not the official Books of my Office; and the Reaſon, I apprehend, of ſeveral looſe Leaves being here is, they were Letters I received at Calcutta, after I had quitted my Office at Lucknow; and ſome even from Perſons in Calcutta.

Q. Then thoſe Books do not contain Copies of all the Correſpondence in your publick official Letter Book at Lucknow?
A. I rather apprehend they do not; they were copied in a great Hurry, and I have no doubt a great many Letters muſt have been omitted in the Hurry of copying.

Q. Who ſuperintended the Copying of thoſe Letters, and directed what ſhould be inſerted in thoſe Books, and what not?
A. It was my Wiſh to have compleat Copies of the Whole, but I had not Time to get the Whole while I ſtaid at Lucknow; many Copies of Letters were ſent to me after I quitted my Office; they are in different Hands, by ſeveral Aſſiſtants and Writers that I employed at Lucknow.

Q. Were there any Directions given for a Selection?
A. No, none.

Q. Are you ſure that you copied into thoſe Books all the Letters you received from Lucknow that were ſent down to Calcutta?
A. I believe I have, but I cannot abſolutely aſſert it as a Fact, becauſe being in looſe Leaves, ſome may have been loſt; I cannot ſay I have, or have not; I certainly meant to include in them all the Letters I received from Lucknow.

Q. Were not ſome original Letters tranſmitted to you from Lucknow?
A. After my Departure from Lucknow, ſome original Letters were written to me, undoubtedly; but no original Letters were ſent from my Office at Lucknow to me at Calcutta.

Q. Did you look over the whole Correſpondence tranſmitted to you from Lucknow before you cauſed the Letters to be bound up?
A. No, I do not believe I did; they were not bound up by me, they were bound up by Mr. Johnſon, who had a Perſon employed in binding them for ſeveral Days.

Q. Then to your own Knowledge you cannot aſſert whether any Letters were, or were not, omitted in the binding up?
A. I certainly cannot; but I have no Reaſon to believe, that any one Letter could poſſibly be withheld from Deſign.

Then a Book was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he was aſked;

Q. Whether a Number of Pages are not torn out at a very critical Part of this Correſpondence, the Pages beginning at N° 1. afterwards; the Letter Book is marked D?
A. This is in the ſame State as the others, with a Number of looſe Letters and Pages which were copied in Calcutta.

Q. The

Q. The Queſtion put to you is, whether you obſerve in that Book, that any, and what Number of Pages, ſubſequently to the binding up, have been torn out, both at the Beginning and the End?

A. It appears to be very incomplete.

Q. Do the Pages of that Book appear to go in a regular Series ſo far as is left of it?

A. They do.

Q. What is the Firſt Page mentioned there?

A. Page 1.

Q. Can you account for thoſe Leaves having been evidently torn out at the Beginning and End of that Book?

A. It is impoſſible for me to judge; I cannot take upon me to ſay any of them have been torn out.

Q. There are Pages looſe?

A. Yes.

Q. Is there any Mark upon thoſe looſe Pages, that looks as if they had been bound with the reſt?

A. No, I do not believe there is.

Q. Look at the Book, and ſay, whether it appears to you the Book has originally been a larger Book?

A. It does appear ſo.

Then the Book was brought to the Table, and inſpected by the Houſe.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether, when the Nabob aſſented to ſeizing the Treaſures, he did not aſſent to it as an Alternative, in order to be releaſed from being preſſed on the Part of the Britiſh Government to reſume the Jagheers?

A. I believe he did mention it as an Alternative. His Expreſſion was, that if it was meant to enable him to pay his Debt to the Company, it would be better effected, by taking his hereditary Treaſures from the Begums. I believe that is the Expreſſion.

Q. Did you make the Propoſition to the Nabob, or did the Nabob propoſe it to you as an Alternative?

A. The ſeizing of the Treaſures?

Q. Yes.

A. I have ſaid he did propoſe it as an Alternative.

Q. Did you acquaint Mr. Haſtings with that?

A. I wrote to Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject; but I wiſh to refer to the Letter.

Read, the following Letter from Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire to Warren Haſtings Eſquire, from the Appendix to a Conſultation of the 12th June 1783, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 108 of the ſame Book.

" Fort William, 12th June 1783.

" At a Council; Preſent,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;

Edward Wheler,
John Macpherſon,
John Stables,
} Eſquires.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 2d December 1781.

" I had Yeſterday the Honour of informing you of the Meſſage I ſent to the Nabob through the Miniſter reſpecting the Jagheers, to which his Excellency this Morning returned me a Reply, purporting, that, if the Meaſure propoſed was intended to procure the Payment of his Balance due to the Company, he could better and more expeditiouſly effect that Object, by taking from his Mother what ſhe is very able to ſpare, and what he has an undoubted Right, as he conceives, to exact from her. The preſent Debt to the Company, as he with Truth obſerves, is a great Part handed down from his Father, and the Funds from which he might have been enabled to liquidate it, it is notorious were withheld from him by the Begum on the late Nabob's Death; that, according to the Laws of the Koran, and the invariable Cuſtom of the Country, he is juſtly entitled to the whole Eſtate and Treaſures of his Father, and could legally demand their being put in his Poſſeſſion; but that the Sum he deſires to take from his Mother (about Sixty Lacks) bears no Sort of Proportion to the immenſe Wealth which fell into her Hands on the Death of his Father,

Father, nor would it bear at all hard upon her, as he knows how much her Treasures exceed that Sum. All therefore that he asks, is, not to be interrupted in recovering a Part of his hereditary Right, by which he will be enabled to discharge immediately the Whole of his Debt to the Company.

" This, my dear Sir, is a flattering Proposition; and, as to the Point of Right, admitting it to be less clear and defined than the Nabob chuses to consider it, you may possibly be of Opinion, that the Conduct of the Begums on the late Disturbances at Benares, as set forth in the several Testimonies laid before you, has forfeited any Claim they might originally have had to the Protection and Mediation of the Company; and further, that it may not be political, or yet perfectly safe, to trust them any longer with such powerful Means of promoting an Opposition to our Interests.

" For my own Part, I am so well persuaded of the Disaffection of the Begums, particularly the present Nabob's Mother, to our Cause, and of their Promptitude to unite in any Measure to distress us, that I could very easily reconcile it to my Conscience to assist the Nabob, instead of obstructing him, in wresting from them every Benefit they enjoy beyond a decent Maintenance;—however, this is only my own Opinion, and by no Means meant to influence yours. The Nabob writes you himself on this Subject, and you have his Letter inclosed. Neither he nor I expect that you should give a formal Sanction to the Measures proposed: It will be sufficient that you but hint your Opinion upon it, and enable me to inform his Excellency, whether you would, or would not, oppose his Design. Let me entreat you therefore, my dear Sir, to favour me with a Line by the Return of the Dauk, and if your Sentiments should happen to accord with my own, I doubt not but I should be able to congratulate you in a very short Space of Time upon the Remittance of a handsome Sum to the Presidency.

" I am, &c.

(Signed) Nath. Middleton.

" P. S. Whatever may be your Resolution upon the Subject of this Letter, it will be expedient to keep it secret. The Resumption of the Jagheers it is necessary to suspend until I have your Sentiments on this Letter."

Then the following Question was put to the Witness:

Q. Did you at this Time consider the English Guarantee as withdrawn from the Begums?

A. At this Time it was not formally withdrawn; I did not understand it to be formally withdrawn at this Time.

Q. Explain what you mean by formally: When was it formally withdrawn?

A. Mr. Hastings, at that Time, had not expressed his formal Acquiescence to the Nabob's Proposal.

Q. Do you know when that Acquiescence was signified?

A. Upon the Twenty-sixth of December.

Q. Did you consider that as a formal Withdrawing?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You say you consider the Letter of Mr. Hastings, of the Twenty-sixth of December, as a formal Withdrawing of it; and you did not consider it as a formal Withdrawing before that Time?

A. No, as far as I could judge I did not; Mr. Hastings's first Letter is dated the Twenty-sixth of December; in that he says, " I approve of the Nabob's Resolution to deprive the Begums of their Treasure."

Q. You do not remember any former Letter, in which he expresses the same Approbation?

A. Not before this.

Q. Did you then consider the Guarantee as in Force, when you parted from Mr. Hastings, after signing the Treaty of Chunar?

A. I did.

Q. Whether you had any Reason to believe, that Mr. Hastings considered the Guarantee as waste Paper, at the Time he signed the Treaty of Chunar?

A. If I might venture an Opinion upon the Subject, I should suppose he did not consider it in that Light intirely, or he would not have provided an Equivalent for the Jaghires, when they should be resumed.

Q. But had you any Means of knowing from him, or from any Communication made by him, in what View he did consider it at the Time?

A. No.

Then

Then the following Paſſage from Mr. Haſtings's Defence was read:

" The two diſtinct Acts, of reſuming the Jaghires, and ſeizing the Treaſures, are confounded, and improperly made to originate from one and the ſame Cauſe, viz. the Defection of the Begums in the Inſurrection at Benares. At the Time that the Reſumption of the Jaghires was reſolved on, the Conduct of the Begums, though ſtrongly ſuſpected, was not ſufficiently aſcertained, to juſtify depriving them of Jaghires held under the Pledge of the Company, without an Equivalent, and accordingly a full Compenſation was ſtipulated. Their Conduct, in openly and moſt violently oppoſing, by armed Force, the Nabob's Orders for the Reſumption of the Jaghires, though they were not to be Loſers by it; their exciting their Agents, and other Jagheerdars, to unite in forcible Reſiſtance; and, laſtly, the ſubſequent Information which was obtained, of their Zeal and Activity in ſupporting the Rebellion of Rajah Cheit Sing, ſpreading its Conſequences through the Nabob's Dominions, for the declared Purpoſe of Extirpation, were the Grounds of withdrawing the Company's Guarantee (a)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether you conſidered the Conduct of the Begums, in reſiſting the Reſumption of the Jaghires, as a Ground for determining to confiſcate their Treaſures?
A. No, I certainly did not.

Q. For what Purpoſe did you go to Fyzabad with the Nabob in January?
A. I went in Conſequence of the Nabob's Requiſition, and Mr. Haſtings's Order, to be preſent at ſeizing the Treaſures; and to aſſiſt the Nabob, if neceſſary, in wreſting from his Mother the Treaſures he conſidered as the Treaſures of his Father.

Q. Was it at that Time you obſerved a large Body of Men aſſembled, as you conceived, in order to reſiſt the Execution of that Order?
A. I underſtood there was a very large Body of Men aſſembled in the Town, for the Purpoſe of reſiſting the Nabob, if he ſhould make any Attempt upon the Begums.

Q. Was it at that Time you underſtood ſo?
A. Yes.

Q. To reſiſt any Attempts upon the Begums?
A. Yes.

Q. And, particularly, to reſiſt that Purpoſe, for which you and the Nabob went to Fyzabad?
A. I am not clear they were informed for what Purpoſe the Nabob and I went down there, till his Arrival there; upon his Arrival they certainly had a very large Body of Men aſſembled in the Town.

Q. Was it in order to puniſh the Begums for that Inſtance of Reſiſtance, that the Nabob determined to ſeize their Treaſures?
A. I cannot ſay it was for any immediate Purpoſe of that Sort: The Nabob had, for a long Time, talked of taking from the Begum the Treaſure which ſhe kept from him, and which he conſidered as his Right. I am very ſure there is no Period, during my Reſidence with him, in which he would not have done it, if he had not conſidered the Faith of the Company pledged to the Begums, and to ſtand between him and them.

Q. That is no Anſwer to the Queſtion. You ſay, the Nabob and you went down to Fyzabad for the expreſs Purpoſe of ſeizing the Treaſures: Do you mean that the Reſiſtance to the Execution of that Purpoſe was the Origin of the Nabob's Purpoſe to ſeize the Treaſures?
A. Does the Queſtion mean the Reſiſtance to the Act itſelf?

Q. Yes.
A. No, hardly.

Q. Did you conſider the Nabob's Right to the Treaſures as remaining in Force upon the 2d of December, notwithſtanding the various Treaties and Guarantees which you and others had entered into, to protect the Begums in the Poſſeſſion of them?
A. My Opinion was then, and is now, as I have often expreſſed, that the Begum, by the Part ſhe took in the Benares Inſurrection, had forfeited every Claim to the Protection of the Engliſh Government.

Q. Did you conceal from Mr. Haſtings any Arguments which the Nabob urged in Support of his Claim or Right to thoſe Treaſures?
A. I did not. I underſtood the Nabob wrote very fully to Mr. Haſtings himſelf upon this Subject.

Q. Do you not recollect to have ſtated, as the ſole Ground upon which the Nabob propoſed to proceed in reſuming the Treaſures, his Right, under the Laws of the Koran, to ſeize thoſe Treaſures?
A. I cannot ſay I can recollect the Fact: If the Letter was ſhewn me, I could.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 415, Par. the laſt.

Then the Letter was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he was aſked,

Q. You ſay, you never concealed from Mr. Haſtings any Thing the Nabob communicated to you upon the Subject: Did the Nabob ever mention their Behaviour, as one of the Grounds upon which he meant to take the Treaſures?

A. I never made any particular Communications upon that Subject to Mr. Haſtings, conceiving the Nabob's Letter would be very full upon it, which he wrote to Mr. Haſtings at the Time himſelf. I have, in my Pocket, a Letter from the Nabob upon the Subject, in the original Perſian Language: If your Lordſhips pleaſe, I am ready to ſubmit it. I believe it was written to me at the Time the Nabob wrote to Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject; and it does contain, probably, the ſame Sentiments.

Q. You have ſaid, you delivered in all the Letters you had from the Nabob, or any Body elſe: If you have concealed any Letter, you have not delivered all the Correſpondence?

A. I cannot have ſtated, that I delivered all the Correſpondence I ever had with the Nabob upon that or any other Subject. I dare ſay, I have ſome Thouſands of Perſian Letters, which I could not have thought neceſſary to deliver to the Honourable the Houſe of Commons. I have a large Cheſt of them.

Q. Whether you had, or had not, any Converſation, at the Time you wrote the Letter of the 2d December, with the Nabob, upon the ſuppoſed Miſconduct of the Begums?

A. I have no Doubt I had; but I cannot recollect all the Converſations I had with the Nabob, either upon that or any other Subject.

Q. Did you not afterwards, under the Inſtructions of Mr. Haſtings, proceed to the Reſumption of the Jaghires, after you had ſeized the Treaſures?

A. They were reſumed by the Nabob, after the Treaſures were ſeized, moſt certainly.

Q. Did you take any Share in that Reſumption?

A. Nothing more than what has been repreſented; after the Nabob iſſued his own Purwannahs, they were of courſe enforced.

Q. Do you mean to ſwear, that this Meaſure, from Beginning to End, was wholly againſt the Nabob's Inclination, and by Compulſion?

A. The Nabob did make Objections to it, as appears by the Letters that have been written, very ſtrong Objections to it; and did maintain, at the Time, that it was an Act of Compulſion. I would wiſh to ſubmit to your Lordſhips my Opinion upon that Subject. His Objections I never conceived to be to reſuming the Jaghires of his Mother and Grandmother: I muſt make the ſame Obſervation with reſpect to that as I did to the ſeizing the Treaſures, that I am very ſure there was no Period, during my Reſidence, at which he would not have done that alſo; but he would probably have given them an Equivalent. They were a perpetual Cauſe of Quarrel. He wiſhed to have reſumed them, and would have done it, unleſs we had prevented him—The Objection probably aroſe from the Reſumption of other Jaghires of Perſons to whom he was perſonally attached: That is my Opinion.

Q. You are quite ſure that what you have now ſtated is the Truth. Do you ſpeak this as a Thing that you know and are ſure of, or how?

A. I ſpeak it as a Matter of Opinion; my own Belief and Opinion.

Q. Do you mean that your Belief and Opinion was at the Time, and is, that the Nabob would not have reſiſted the Reſumption of the Jaghires of his Mother and Grandmother, if he could have ſpared the Jaghires of his Favourites?

A. I am very clear of that Opinion.

Q. Was you ſo always?

A. I always was ſo, and am at this Moment.

Q. The Managers find themſelves under ſome Degree of Difficulty upon that Anſwer; for you have certainly ſworn directly contrary upon your laſt Examination?

A. I recollect what I ſaid upon my laſt Examination: I ſaid the Objection aroſe upon the Reſumption of the Begums Jaghires, no other were then mentioned; but the Nabob was afterwards informed the Whole would be reſumed, Orderlies and all.

Then the following Queſtions and Anſwers in the Examination of the Witneſs, on Thurſday, May the 1ſt, were read over by the Clerk (a).

Q. Whether the Nabob's Complaints were or were not confined to this Article of the Treaty reſpecting the Reſumption of the Jaghires?

A. They

A. They were made upon that Occaſion, and I believe were confined, as far as I recollect, to the Subject of reſuming the Jaghires.

Q. Can you or not recollect, whether Part of that Objection did not expreſsly point to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghires?

A. It is very poſſible it might; it was the moſt conſiderable, and the firſt Jaghire that was brought under Diſcuſſion.

Then the Second Article of the Treaty of Chunar was read, as follows:

"Art. 2. That, as great Diſtreſs has ariſen to the Nabob's Government from the Military Power and Dominion aſſumed by the Jagheerders, he be permitted to reſume ſuch as he may find neceſſary; with a Reſerve, that all ſuch, for the Amount of whoſe Jagheers the Company are Guarantees, ſhall, in caſe of the Reſumption of their Lands, be paid the Amount of their net Collections, through the Reſident, in ready Money." (a)

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. (By the Managers). Whether the Ground of the Nabob's Complaint was not, that Mr. Haſtings endeavoured to compel him to reſume ſuch Jaghires as he, Mr. Haſtings, and not the Nabob, thought proper?

A. It was, that Mr. Haſtings compelled him to make a general Reſumption, inſtead of making it particular.

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired a Paſſage might be read from Mr. Haſtings's Defence at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons.

Read, the following Extract from the MS. beginning at Page 237 of the ſame.

"When the Nabob ſo earneſtly deſired my Sanction for the Reſumption of the Jaghires, he certainly had in View only the Begums, and a few others of Magnitude, which he conſidered protected either by the Guarantee, or Favour of the Company. He could not be ſuppoſed to aſk my Sanction to the Reſumption of Grants in which the Company's Faith was by no Means concerned; but being aware that his Excellency intended a partial Reſumption, reſerving the Jaggires for his particular Favourites, who, from their Character and Conduct, ought to be the firſt proſcribed, I determined to defeat the Deſign, by adviſing him to make the Reſumption general; and he engaged to follow my Advice. The Conſequence of this, his Excellency did not, at that Time, advert to; but when he diſcovered, that by the Spirit of the Agreement, and my determined Adherence to it, he was precluded from ſhewing any Partiality; and moreover, that the Produce of the Jagheers, when reſumed, inſtead of coming immediately into his Poſſeſſion, was to be appropriated to the Liquidation of his Debt to the Company, for which I expreſsly ſtipulated, he became indifferent, and even apparently averſe to the Reſumption." (b)

Q. (by the Counſel.) Whether the Point of the Nabob's Complaint was not to the Reſumption of the Jaghires of his Orderlies, and not thoſe of the Begums?

A. Not particularly; I do not recollect he expreſſed any in particular; but it was my Opinion it related to the Jaghires of thoſe Orderlies.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether in that Converſation he did, or did not, expreſsly object to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghires?

A. I believe he objected to the Meaſure altogether.

Q. Can you or not recollect whether Part of that Objection did not expreſsly point to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghires?

A. It is very poſſible it might; that was the moſt conſiderable, and the Firſt Jaghire that was brought under Diſcuſſion.

Q. Did he, or did he not; or do you recollect any Thing about it?

A. I recollect his Objection was general; poſſibly the Objection was made upon the Propoſal to reſume the Begum's Jaghires.

Q. (by a Lord.) Upon Recollection, whether it was pointed to the Reſumption of his Mother's Jaghire?

A. I believe I have ſaid, that it was propoſed to reſume the Mother's Jaghire; that was the principal one, and upon that it aroſe.

The Managers for the Commons being aſked if they had any other Queſtion to put upon that, acquainted the Houſe they did not wiſh for any further Explanation, unleſs the Witneſs choſe to go into an Explanation.

(a) Vide Appendix to the Benares Narrative, P. 4; & ſupra, P. 139.
(b) Vide ſupra, P. 416, Par. 2.

A. If

A. If I have not expreſſed myſelf as I ought to have done upon that Occaſion, I hope your Lordſhips will now give me Leave, to declare what my Intention was; I thought I had expreſſed it: it was, that the Queſtion of reſuming the Jaghires aroſe upon the Begum's, moſt certainly. I do not remember that at that Time any others were mentioned, but the Nabob was informed the Reſumptions were to be general, and not partial.

Q. Was the Nabob informed that the Reſumption was to be general?

A. If I have not ſaid ſo all along, I muſt have loſt my Senſes; for I meant to ſay, the Nabob was informed from the firſt he was not to make a partial Selection, and reſume ſuch as he thought proper, but that the Reſumption was to be general.

Q. Do you recollect the Second Article of the Treaty of Chunar?

A. I cannot ſay I do.

Read, the Second Article of the Treaty of Chunar, from the Appendix to the Benares Narrative, Page 4.

"2d. That as great Diſtreſs has ariſen to the Nabob's Government from the military Power and Dominion aſſumed by the Jagheerdars, he be permitted to reſume ſuch as he may find neceſſary, with a Reſerve that all ſuch, for the Amount of whoſe Jagheers the Company are Guarantees, ſhall, in caſe of the Reſumption of their Lands, be paid the Amount of their net Collections, through the Reſident, in ready Money (a)."

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. When was the Nabob firſt told, that that Article of the Treaty was not to be perfectly obſerved?

A. I do not know, he was ever told it was not to be perfectly obſerved.

Q. When was he told that the Expectation formed was, that he ſhould reſume all the Jaghires indiſcriminately?

A. The firſt Information I had of that was, I believe, from Sir Elijah Impey: to the beſt of my Recollection, that was the firſt Communication I had that the Whole of the Jaghires were to be reſumed, that the Whole of the Treaty was to be enforced.

Q. Whether you do not conſider ſuch Communication made to the Nabob to import that the Second Article of the Treaty was not to be obſerved?

A. No.

Q. Do you then underſtand that by the Words of the Treaty, which ſtipulated that ſuch Jaghires were to be reſumed as the Vizier thought fit, it was underſtood to compriſe all, whether he thought them fit or not?

A. I would rather wiſh Mr. Haſtings himſelf ſhould explain that Article of the Treaty; I cannot ſay; but it is a Matter of Opinion, if I offer any Thing upon it.

Q. Did you conceive, when it was propoſed to the Nabob that he ſhould reſume all the Jaghires, that Propoſition was conformable to this Article which ſays, ſuch ſhall be reſumed as he thinks fit?

A. Upon the Face of it, it appears to be irreconcileable.

Q. Then, in what Senſe was it you ſaid that the Treaty was to be rigidly executed?

A. That all the Jaghires were to be reſumed.

Q. That you juſt now ſaid was irreconcileable upon the Face of the Treaty—Did you underſtand that, conformable to that Treaty, Mr. Haſtings was at Liberty to ſay what he thought fit, inſtead of what the Nabob thought fit?

A. No, I did not, certainly.

Q. Then, what did you conceive to be the Inducement to the Nabob to be more anxious to reſume the Jaghires of his Mother and Grandmother, than thoſe of any other Perſon?

A. No other Reaſon than becauſe he was much more attached to thoſe other Perſons than he was to his Mother and Grandmother, if I may judge from his general Conduct.

Q. What Advantage of any Sort could the Nabob propoſe to himſelf, by reſuming the Jaghires of his Mother and Grandmother?

A. One Advantage is very obvious, he would derive an Addition to his Reſources; the other was, that he would remove what had long been a Cauſe of Miſunderſtanding between him and his Mother and Grandmother.

Q. You ſay he was to have an Addition to his Reſources; was it not ſtipulated in the ſame Article of the ſame Treaty, that the Begums ſhould receive, through the Hands of the Reſident, the net Collection of their Jaghires in ready Money; do you recollect the Article?

A. I recollect it.

(a) Vide Appendix to the Benares Narrative, P. 4; & ſupra, P. 139.

Q. Was it ſo ſtipulated?
A. That was the Stipulation.

Q. Was it intended to violate that Part of the Condition in Favour of the Begums at the Time of the Treaty, as well as the Stipulation in Favour of the Will of the Nabob?
A. I do not know.

Q. Then by what Means, if the Nabob was to furniſh from his own Revenues, the net Amount of the Begums Jaghires, was he to encreaſe his Reſources by ſeizing the Begums Jaghires?
A. The Jaghires were certainly to a much greater Amount than what they had been rated at to the Begums.

Q. But the Queſtion is, as to the net Amount of what they received—Suppoſe they were rated to the Begums at a different Rate than what they went for, if he was to pay the net Amount of the Collections to the Begums, how was he to be benefited in point of Reſources, by taking them into his own Hands?
A. It was only to the Bow Begum he was to pay the net Collection. The Bow Begum only was the Perſon ſecured by the Favour of the Company.

Q. How do you anſwer with reſpect to her—What Benefit was he to receive in caſe of her Jaghires being ſeized, if he was to pay the Whole of the net Collections afterwards?
A. No abſolute Benefit that I know of: But, as I ſaid before, he by that Means deſtroyed the Source of the Miſunderſtanding between him and his Mother: The Jaghires were given into the Management of the Eunuchs.

Q. You were underſtood to ſay, he would be benefited in Two Reſpects; the One in reſpect of the Reſources, the other in the Convenience of having the Adminiſtration in his own Hands—What Benefit, in reſpect of Reſources, was he to receive under the Contract to pay the net Amount of the Collection ſhe had received upon it before?
A. Certainly, no immediate Advantage that I know of.

Q. Then that was not One of his Inducements?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay what his Inducement was. I am certain he always had a Deſire to reſume the Jaghires; but what his Inducements were, I cannot take upon me to ſay.

Q. You ſaid, the Increaſe of the Reſources was One of them; Do you mean, upon Conſideration, to ſay the ſame Thing?
A. No; I do not ſee how he could immediately increaſe his Reſources, if he meant to pay an Equivalent in Money, according to the net Collections, which I believe was his Intention to do.

Q. Whether you mean to ſwear, that neither the Nabob, or his Miniſters, had any Reluctance to interfere with the Concerns of the Bow Begum?
A. I do not know they had; the Miniſter probably would not have liked to have interfered openly in it.

Q. Then why did you write Word to Mr. Haſtings, that the Reluctance of the Miniſter, and even of the Nabob himſelf, to interfere in the Affair of the Begum, was the Ground of the Oppoſition that was made, and of the Difficulty there was, in ſeizing the Treaſures?

John Stables,

" Extract of a Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Governor General, dated, Lucknow, the 27th December 1781.

" This Meaſure—the Utility, and I may ſay the abſolute Neceſſity whereof, will not be diſputed by any one who has had an Opportunity of obſerving the Conduct of the Jagheerdars in general, and particularly ſome whoſe Incomes enabled them to maintain Armies, not only ſuperior to thoſe of the Aumils of the Country (who ſhould properly be a Check upon them), but even ſufficient to reſiſt the Force of the State itſelf—has met with violent Oppoſition from the Bhow Begum, who falls particularly under the laſt Deſcription, and whoſe Power is rendered the more pernicious and dangerous; firſt, from its being wholly delegated to her Servants, who have their own Views of Ambition and Intereſt to anſwer; and, in the next Place, from the Reluctance with which the Miniſters, and even the Nabob himſelf, interfere with any Concerns of the Begum.

(Signed) " Nath. Middleton,
Reſident at the Vizier's Court (a)."

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXXVIII.

Then the following Queſtion and Anſwer were read by the Clerk (a):

Q. Whether you mean to ſwear, that neither the Nabob nor his Miniſter had any Reluctance to interfere with the Concerns of the Bhow Begum?

A. I do not know they had; the Miniſter probably would not have liked to interfere openly in it.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Did you at any, and what Time, obſerve a Reluctance in the Nabob, or his Miniſter, to interfere with the Reſumption of the Jaghires of the Bhow Begum?

A. I have ſaid, the Miniſter, I think, was rather averſe to interfere in the Concerns of the Begums.

Q. But was the Nabob himſelf?

A. The Nabob himſelf, conceiving the Begum was particularly protected by the Engliſh, certainly, upon all Occaſions, avoided as much as poſſible interfering with the Begum's Concerns.

Q. But, after the Treaty of Chunar, when the Nabob was made ſenſible the Protection of the Engliſh was taken away, what was your Opinion as to the Reluctance of the Nabob to interfere with the Concerns of the Bhow Begum, in reſpect of the Reſumption of the Jaghires?

A. I cannot ſay I recollect, after that, any declared Objection to interfering; any Oppoſition to it.

Q. Then why did you write to Mr. Haſtings that there was? How do you reconcile that Paſſage in your Letter to Mr. Haſtings, with there being no Reluctance in the Nabob to interfere with the Begums?

A. That Part of my Letter will refer more properly to Time paſt, than to any Thing that was to come; it was a general Obſervation upon the Reluctance that the Nabob and his Miniſters had to openly interfering with the Concerns of the Begums, or, in ſhort, to giving them any Offence.

Q. If you obſerved that Reluctance to be the prevailing Character of the Nabob and his Miniſters, with reſpect to the Bhow Begum, why have you ſworn, that you thought they were always willing and ready to reſume thoſe Jaghires?

A. Moſt certainly, I conceived they would always have been ready to have done it; and by a Reference to my Correſpondence with the Board, your Lordſhips will find it was a Fact, and that it was as much as the Reſident could do to prevent the Nabob attacking their Jaghires.

Q. Then in what Inſtance, and in what Reſpect, is it that you deſcribe either the Nabob, or the Miniſters, to have been reluctant?

A. In interfering upon ordinary Occaſions.

Then the Paſſage of the Letter, read ſupra, P. 713, was again read to the Witneſs, and the following Queſtion was put to him:

Q. In what Inſtance, and for what Reaſon, is it you ſuppoſe them to have been reluctant in interfering in the Concerns of the Begums, more particularly in the Reſumption of the Jaghires, when you ſay, at the ſame Time, they always were diſpoſed and ready to enter into the Meaſure of the Reſumption?

A. I muſt obſerve, that the Paſſage does not apply to the Reſumption of the Jaghires, but to the Conduct of the Begums, previous to the Treaty of Chunar?

Q. Whether, after they had ſeized the Treaſures, the Nabob did not immediately propoſe to reſtore the Jaghires to his Mother—her Jaghire, and no other?

A. I do not recollect: if I have ſaid ſo, I wiſh the Letter to be read.

Then the following Letter from the Nabob Vizier to Mr. Haſtings, of the 25th February 1782, was read, from Book 105, already delivered in:

"From the Nawab Vizier.

"(Received 25th February 1782.)

"You performed, on every Occaſion, towards me, whatever was becoming of Friendſhip. I, too, have done whatever Affection required and you commanded; and, in future alſo, whatever be your Pleaſure, there ſhall be no Deviation therefrom; becauſe, whatever you direct, is altogether for my Benefit. The Buſineſs for which I came to Fyzabad, is become ſettled by your Favour. Particulars will become known to your Wiſdom, from the Writings of Mr. Middleton. I am grateful for your Favours. If in theſe Matters you ſincerely approve me, communicate it; for it will be a Comfort to me. Having appointed my own Aumils to the Jagheers of the Lady Mother, I have engaged to pay her Caſh. She has complied with my Views: Her Pleaſure is, that after receiving an Engagement, he ſhould deliver up the Jagheers. What is your Pleaſure on this Matter?—If you command, it will comfort the Lady Mother giving her back the Jageer, after I have obtained my Views; or I will have it under my own Aumils. I am obedient to your Pleaſure."

Then the Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Do you recollect that Letter?
A. No; I do not recollect it.

Q. Do you not recollect to have received Inſtructions from Mr. Haſtings, to oppoſe the Reſtitution of the Jaghires ſubſequent to that Letter?
A. I recollect to have received general Inſtructions from Mr. Haſtings, to prevent any Settlement between the Nabob and the Begum, until I ſhould receive Inſtructions from the Governor General and Council. I do not recollect there was any Thing expreſſed reſpecting the Jaghires.

Q. After ſeizing the Treaſures and the Jaghires, did you ever cauſe to be paid the Equivalent ſtipulated to the Begum for her Jaghires?
A. No, I did not: The Reaſon was, that the Sum which the Begum agreed to pay to the Nabob, was never completely paid up; at leaſt it was not when I left Lucknow.

Q. Did you not actually mortgage thoſe Jaghires, after you had ſeized the Treaſure, and while you had a Security from the Begum's Miniſters for the ſmall remaining Balance?
A. The Jaghires, I believe, were mortgaged, but the Sum that remained in Balance at the Time I left Lucknow was about Five Lacks of Rupees.

Q. Upon this Subject of the Nabob's Diſpoſition of reſuming his Mother's Jaghires, in particular I would aſk, whether you ever informed Mr. Haſtings it was with unconquerable Reluctance that the Nabob had ever given his Conſent to the Meaſure?
A. I in general informed Mr. Haſtings of the Objections the Nabob made to the Reſumption of the Jaghires. I muſt beg to refer to the Letter for what I have ſaid.

Q. If you have not a perfect Recollection of it, I would aſk you upon what Ground Mr. Haſtings afterwards in his Letter to Mr. Briſtow makes this Aſſertion, and quotes it as the Reſident's Authority, in his Letter to Major Palmer of the 6th of May 1782. 'It has been a Matter of 'equal Concern and Surprize to me, to learn by the Letters of the Reſident, that the Nabob Vizier 'was with Difficulty and an almoſt unconquerable Reluctance, induced to give his Conſent to the 'Attachment of the Treaſures depoſited by his Father, and under the Charge of the Begum his 'Mother, and to the Reſumption of her Jaghire.' Can you explain upon what Ground it is Mr. Haſtings quotes your Letter for that Information, ſuppoſing you not to have ſeen it?
A. I conceive Mr. Haſtings muſt have quoted the Letter I wrote to him upon the Nabob's Objection to the Reſumption of the Jaghires, but I do not apprehend he could have quoted any Authority of mine, for any ſuppoſed Reluctance in the Nabob to ſeizing the Treaſures.

Q. Does no Paſſage in your Letter to Mr. Haſtings expreſs the Reluctance of the Nabob to thoſe Two Meaſures.
A. To the Reſumption of the Jaghires certainly repeatedly, but I do not recollect to the ſeizing of the Treaſures.

Q. What did you mean by this Expreſſion, in your Letter of the 7th of December 1781, 'His 'Excellency talks of going to Fyzabad for the Purpoſe heretofore mentioned, in Three or Four 'Days. I wiſh he may be ſerious in that Intention, and you may be aſſured I ſhall ſpare no Pains 'to keep him to it.' Did you mean by that Paſſage to lead Mr. Haſtings to underſtand, that the Nabob was not extremely willing that the Treaſure ſhould be ſeized?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay, what Mr. Haſtings underſtood by that Paſſage. My Meaning was this, that the Nabob had no Conſiſtency either of publick or private Conduct; and I thought it very poſſible, though it was a Meaſure of his own ſuggeſting, that he might after all not put it in Execution in the Manner he declared to me.

Q. Did you think it neceſſary to take Pains to keep the Nabob to a Reſolution to which he was himſelf inclined, and to which he never ſhewed any Reluctance?
A. Certainly I did not: I did not conceive the Expreſſions go to that; I only meant to allude to the Inconſiſtency and Inconſtancy of the Nabob's Conduct and Character.

Q. Did you inform Sir Elijah Impey "that the Nabob's Miniſters had ſupported you nobly in both thoſe Tranſactions, againſt the Nabob's Inclinations?"

The

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Queſtion, as the Letter would ſpeak for itſelf.

The Managers for the Commons waived the Queſtion.

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Whether you did not procure Khelauts, or Robes of Honour, for the Miniſters, from Mr. Haſtings, upon Account of the Support they had given you?

A. I do recollect making Repreſentations of the Nature ſtated, and I believe the Conſequence was, as has been ſtated, that they did get Khelauts from Mr. Haſtings, as far as my Recollection goes.

Q. Whether, during thoſe Tranſactions reſpecting the Jagheers and the ſeizing the Treaſures, you had not a Correſpondence with the Bow Begum?

A. I had no Correſpondence with the Bow Begum, after the Nabob went to Fyzabad for the Purpoſe of ſeizing the Treaſure; before that, I had upon the Subject of reſuming the Jaghires.

Q. Did you, in any of thoſe Letters, or by any other Means, ever hint, in the ſlighteſt way, to the Begums, that there was any Doubt or Suſpicion concerning their Behaviour to the Engliſh or to the Nabob?

A. I do not recollect that I did.

Q. Did you not, on the contrary, aſſure them, that no Injury was intended them, and that they would be paid a full Equivalent for the Reſumption of their Jaghires?

A. I certainly acquainted them it was the Intention of the Nabob to allow them the full Equivalent for the Reſumption of their Jaghires.

Q. Did you ever underſtand that the Nabob had ever given any Hint, or made any Communications to the Begums, reſpecting their ſuppoſed Miſconduct to the Engliſh or himſelf?

A. I do not know that he did.

Q. Did not the Bow Begum, upon her firſt hearing of the Intention to attack her Jaghires, apply to you for Protection?

A. The Correſpondence between me and the Bow Begum is upon Record. I could wiſh to refer to it, rather than that my Memory ſhould be truſted to.

Q. Have you any Memory, whether the Bow Begum applied to you for Protection in caſe her Jaghire ſhould be attacked?

A. I believe ſhe did: I cannot ſay in what Terms; but ſhe certainly wrote to me upon firſt hearing the Intention to reſume her Jaghires.

Q. Did it not come within your Knowledge, that, to the very laſt Moment of ſeizing the Treaſures, ſhe looked to the Engliſh for Protection againſt the Reſumption of her Jaghires?

A. It was my Opinion, that ſhe did expect that the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſures, would not be carried into Execution, but be prevented by the Engliſh.

Q. Did ſhe, at that Time, expect ſhe ſhould alſo be defended in the Poſſeſſion of her Jaghires?

A. I ſhould hardly think ſhe did, becauſe I ſent her word very poſitively by Letter, that the Nabob was reſolved to reſume the Jaghires, giving her an Equivalent for it.

Q. Down to the Time of her receiving that Information from you, did ſhe look up to the Engliſh for Protection againſt her Jaghires being ſeized?

A. I have no Doubt ſhe did, from the Tenor of her Letters to me upon the Subject.

Q. Do you know whether ſhe did, or did not, ever apply to Mr. Haſtings for his Protection, after ſhe failed in her Expectations from you?

A. I do not know; I do not mean to evade the Queſtion, but I do not know.

Q. Did you not, upon the Morning or Day before the ſeizing the Treaſures, ſend a Letter to the Begum from Mr. Haſtings?

A. I ſent in a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to the Begum, during the Time of my being at Fyzabad for the Purpoſe of ſeizing the Treaſures; I cannot ſay exactly the Day.

Q. Have you any Copy of that Letter?

A. I have not, I never ſaw a Copy of it.

Q. From whom did you receive it?

A. I either received it from Mr. Haſtings himſelf, or Major Davy, his Perſian Interpreter; it was ſent to me from Mr. Haſtings, either from Benares or Chunar, to be delivered to the Begums.

Read,

Read, the following Extract of Mr. Middleton's Defence, from Book 80, already delivered in, beginning at Page 81 of the ſame Book.

" At a Council; Preſent,
The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;
Edward Wheler, } Eſquires.
John Stables, }
Mr. Macpherſon indiſpoſed.

" At a Court, where no Opportunity is loſt to throw Odium upon us, ſo favourable an Occaſion was not miſſed to perſuade the Nabob, that we inſtigated him to diſhonour his Family for our Benefit. The Impreſſions made by ſuch Suggeſtions conſtantly retarded the Progreſs, and more than once actually broke off the Buſineſs, which rendered the utmoſt Caution on my Part neceſſary, eſpecially as I had no Aſſiſtance to expect from the Miniſters, who could not openly move in the Buſineſs."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. The Buſineſs here referred to is the ſeizing the Treaſures: What do you mean by " Impreſſions made by ſuch Suggeſtions conſtantly retarded the Progreſs, and more than once actually broke off the Buſineſs?" Do you remember that Paſſage in your Defence?

A. I do, and it alludes to the Suggeſtions of the People about the Nabob, who were not well diſpoſed to us; I mean, not well diſpoſed to the Engliſh, and who endeavoured to make theſe Impreſſions upon his Mind.

Q. By what Means had it that Operation: how did it actually more than once break off the Buſineſs?

A. The Nabob would not go on with it.

Q. Then, owing to thoſe falſe and improper Suggeſtions, the Nabob did expreſs a Reluctance upon that Subject?

A. Not to me, but I underſtood from the Miniſters, thoſe were the Suggeſtions of the People about him, and it was very difficult for him to manage the Buſineſs.

Q. Do you remember, whether the Buſineſs was or not broke off more than once?

A. I underſtood, from the Miniſter, that the Nabob did make Objections more than once to carrying on the Buſineſs.

Q. Is that what you meant, by breaking off the Buſineſs?

A. Yes.

Q. Then do you or not now, upon hearing this, know there was a conſiderable Degree of Reluctance upon the Part of the Nabob?

A. I underſtood ſo from the Miniſters.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Jovis, 8° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor informed the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That not being immediately prepared to purſue their Examination of Mr. Middleton, which had been left unfiniſhed the preceding Day, they requeſted Permiſſion of the Houſe to introduce ſome further written Evidence, till ſuch Time as they were ready to proceed with the Oral Teſtimony.

The ſame was agreed to.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would, for the Preſent, proceed to prove the Negative of Mr. Haſtings's Firſt Charge againſt the Begums, in which he accuſed them of exciting the Jagheerdars of the Nabob to Reſiſtance.

For this Purpoſe they would firſt read, Part of a Letter from Sir Elijah Impey to Mr. Middleton, dated the 1ſt December 1781, which was One of thoſe Sir Elijah Impey, in his Evidence (a) at the Bar of the Houſe, had ſtated himſelf to have written under the Directions of Mr. Haſtings, and to have delivered in at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons: That there were ſome Blanks and Initials in theſe Letters, which had been filled up by Sir Elijah Impey there; and ſome of them were in his Hand-writing, but without Signatures; and if the Counſel for the Defendant had any Doubts upon the Subject of their being read, they would call Sir Elijah Impey himſelf to authenticate them, in the uſual Courſe.

The Counſel for the Defendant ſaid, they were apprized of the Letters which were entered on the Minutes of the Evidence in the Houſe of Commons, and would waive any Objection to their being read.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they particularly relied on a Part of the Letter about to be produced, which was a Copy delivered in by Sir Elijay Impey as above mentioned, and ſhould not trouble the Houſe with the reſt.

The Counſel deſired the whole Letter might be read.

The ſame was delivered in.

" Letter from Mr. Middleton to Warren Haſtings Eſquire.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings.

" My Dear Sir, Lucknow, the 2d December 1781.

" I had Yeſterday the Honour of informing you of the Meſſage I ſent to the Nabob thro' the Miniſter, reſpecting the Jagheers, to which his Excellency this Morning returned me a Reply, purporting that if the Meaſure propoſed was intended to procure the Payment of his Balance due to the Company, he could better and more expeditiouſly effect that Object, by taking from his Mother what ſhe is very able to ſpare, and what he has an undoubted Right, as he conceives, to exact from her. The preſent Debt to the Company, as he with Truth obſerves, is a great Part handed down from his Father, and the Funds from which he might have been enabled to liquidate it, it is notorious were withheld from him by the Begum on the late Nabob's Death: That, according to the Laws of the Koran, and the invariable Cuſtom of the Country, he is juſtly entitled to the whole Eſtate and Treaſures of his Father, and could legally demand their being put in his Poſſeſſion; but that the Sum he deſires to take from his Mother (about 60 Lacks) bears no Sort of Proportion to the immenſe Wealth which fell into her Hands on the Death of his Father; nor would it bear at all hard upon her, as he knows how much her Treaſures exceed that Sum. All therefore that he aſks is, not to be interrupted in recovering a Part of his hereditary Right, by which he will be enabled to diſcharge immediately the Whole of his Debt to the Company.

(a) N. B. No Signature.

" This,

" This, my dear Sir, is a flattering Propoſition, and as to the Point of Right, admitting it to be leſs clear and defined than the Nabob chuſes to conſider it, you may poſſibly be of Opinion, that the Conduct of the Begums on the late Diſturbances at Benares, as ſet forth in the ſeveral Teſtimonies laid before you, has forfeited any Claim they might originally have had to the Protection and Mediation of the Company; and further, that it may not be political, or yet perfectly ſafe, to truſt them any longer with ſuch powerful Means of promoting an Oppoſition to our Intereſts.

" For my own Part, I am ſo well perſuaded of the Diſaffection of the Begums, particularly the preſent Nabob's Mother, to our Cauſe, and of their Promptitude to unite in any Meaſure to diſtreſs us, that I could very eaſily reconcile it to my Conſcience to aſſiſt the Nabob, inſtead of obſtructing him, in wreſting from them every Benefit they enjoy beyond a decent Maintenance. However, this is only my own Opinion, and by no Means meant to influence yours. The Nabob writes you himſelf on this Subject, and you have his Letter incloſed. Neither he nor I expect that you ſhould give a formal Sanction to the Meaſure propoſed; it will be ſufficient that you but hint your Opinion upon it, and enable me to inform his Excellency whether you would or would not oppoſe his Deſign. Let me entreat you therefore, my dear Sir, to favour me with a Line, by the Return of the Dauk, and if your Sentiments ſhould happen to accord with my own, I doubt not but I ſhould be able to congratulate you in a very ſhort Space of Time, upon the Remittance of a handſome Sum to the Preſidency.

" I am, &c.

(Signed) Nathaniel Middleton.

P. S. Whatever may be your Reſolution upon the Subject of this Letter, it will be expedient to keep it ſecret. The Reſumption of the Jagheers it is neceſſary to ſuſpend, until I have your Sentiments on this Letter." (a)

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read an Extract from another of the Letters delivered in by Sir Elijah Impey at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons, dated 5th December 1781, which appeared to be Mr. Middleton's Anſwer to Sir Elijah Impey's Letter of the 1ſt of that Month.

The ſame was delivered in.

" The Meaſure reſpecting the Begums, and the Reſumption of the Jagheers, will be inſtantly adopted. The latter has only been ſuſpended for the Governor's Sentiments on the former, as the Jagheers of the Begums and their Dependents are the moſt conſiderable; and to have attacked them, without being prepared at the ſame Time to enter immediately on the Execution of the grand Deſign, would have been doing Things by Halves, and poſſibly have defeated our Expectations. Do not, my dear Sir Elijah, ſuffer this Delay to be urged, or conſidered as an Imputation of Blame upon me. I entered on the Buſineſs the very Day after you left me, and went ſo far as to look upon the Matter as finally agreed upon, the actual Execution only ſuſpended until I could receive either your's or the Governor's Sentiments upon the further Propoſal, which is certainly of far greater Conſequence than the Reſumption of the Jagheers, as it will do at one Stroke, if we are not all groſsly miſtaken, what the Jagheers will be at leaſt Two Years adoing. To-morrow Morning I am to be informed of his Excellency's intended Mode of Attack, and ſhall not fail to acquaint the Governor. In the mean Time, you may be aſſured, that whatever may be acquired by the Meaſure, ſhall be faithfully and wholly applied to the Liquidation of the Company's Debt.

" Sir Elijah Impey. (At the End)

To prove that, ſo late as the 27th December 1781, Mr. Middleton treated the Begum's Reſiſtance of the Reſumption of the Jagheers as a Thing only intended, or beginning to be executed,

"The following Letter from the Governor General, received on the 2d inſtant, is now recorded:

"Gentlemen,

"I left Benares on the 7th of this Month; the ſlow Progreſs which I have made thus far, has been occaſioned as much by purpoſed Delays, as by natural Impediments. I am now decided in my Journey, and compute to be at the Preſidency very early in the next Month.

"Since the Suppreſſion of the late Revolt of the Zemeendary of Benaris, three diſtinct Objects have engaged my Attention and Reſidence in that Quarter, not ſo much for the Purpoſe of executing ing any determinate Measures requiring my Presence, as for that of being at Hand, and ready for any immediate Occasion which might eventually demand my personal Interposition. These Objects are as follow:

"1st. The Negotiation with Madajee Scindia. You are already acquainted with my first Instructions to Mr. Anderson, and with the subsequent Orders which I thought it proper to send to him, on the Advice of Mhadagee Scindia's having expressed a Disinclination to admit Mr. Anderson's Deputation, until he should be authorized by Answers to the Letters which he had written to Poonah for that Purpose; and of his having received Cheit Sing into his Protection, with some apparent Marks of Encouragement. A few Days after, I received Letters from both Colonel Muir and Mr. Anderson, advising me, that Mhadagee Scindia had pressingly invited Mr. Anderson to proceed to him, and that he had rejected the Solicitations of Cheit Sing: On this Occasion, I wrote to Mr. Anderson to prosecute his Journey, and to pay no regard to my former Letter, requiring only the Removal of Cheit Sing from the Presence of Mhadagee Scindia, while Mr. Anderson was with him. In the mean Time, that Gentleman, having conformed to the Substance of my first Orders, had obtained from Mhadagee Scindia a formal Assurance, that he would neither accept the Solicitation of Cheit Sing, nor assist him in any way whatever, and that he would even prohibit him and his Attendants from his Durbar and Cutchirry. Mr. Anderson, satisfied with this Concession, had resolved to proceed to his Camp immediately; his last Letter upon the Subject was private, and dated the 3d Instant, from Bandere, which was about sixteen Cos's from Scindia's Camp. It contains Expressions of much Satisfaction, and so firm a Conviction of the Sincerity of that Chief, that he was preparing to send the Notification, directed in my Instructions of the 12th Ultimo, to Colonel Muir, for the Removal of the Troops to the Stations allotted them by the late Arrangements, with a Promise, that he would soon address me publickly on the same Subject.

"I have long since relinquished the Design, which I first entertained, of visiting Scindia myself, and, indeed, I see so fair and earnest a Disposition in him to become the Instrument of terminating the War yet subsisting between his Principals and our Government; his Interest is so evidently connected with it, and I have so well-grounded a Confidence in the Ability of Mr. Anderson, to contribute whatever may be required on his Part to forward this Issue of the Negociation, that I doubt whether my Interference might not rather impede than promote it, by the Loss of Time which it would necessarily occasion in transmitting the ultimate Proposals to Poonee.

"2dly. The Zemeendary of Benaris has hitherto engaged my principal Attention. I had just Grounds to apprehend, that the slightest Causes might occasion fresh Disturbances in that Country from the Novelty and Weakness of the new Administration, and could not therefore venture to leave it until I had seen that Administration firmly established, and until I had formed some Experience of the Ability of the Naib for conducting it. I have the Satisfaction to inform you, that his Authority is every where completely established, and that I have every Reason to hope for the full Performance of his Engagements. The Disposition which I have made of the Forces allotted for the Peace of this Zemeedary is sufficient to answer, with Certainty, every Purpose of internal Defence, and, at the same Time, to prove a Check on the Zemendars of the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier which border upon it, this being the most likely Scene of new Disturbances, from the natural Turbulency of the Nabob's Subjects, and their Collusion with their Neighbours in this Zemeendary. Copies of these Orders, with the other military Orders, which I have thought proper to issue for the Distribution of the Troops of that Station, will be forwarded to you as soon as they can be transcribed, after the Dispatch of this Letter.

"Extract of a Letter from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Hastings.

Dated 6th December 1781.

"Your Pleasure, respecting the Begums, I have learnt from Sir Elijah; and the Measure heretofore proposed will soon follow the Resumption of the Jagheers, from both, or, indeed, from the former alone, I have no Doubt of the complete Liquidation of the Company's Balance.

"I am, &c.

Then

Then the Managers for the Commons desired Mr. Middleton might be called in, for the Purpose of finishing his Examination of Yesterday.

Accordingly, NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Esquire was called in, and the Examination proceeded in, as follows:

Q. Whether you did not consider the English as the principal Movers in the Business of seizing the Treasures?

A. No, I did not. I had reason to believe that the Country in general did think we were the principal Movers in it.

Q. But you yourself did not?
A. I did not.

Then the following Passage was read, from Book 81 already delivered in;—Extract of Mr. Middleton's Defence, in a Consultation of the 28th July 1783, beginning at Page 79 of the same Book.

" Fort William, 28th July 1783.

" At a Council; Present,
The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President.
Edward Wheler, } Esquires.
John Stables, }
Mr. Macpherson, indisposed.

" The Nabob was Son to the Begum we were to proceed against. A Son against a Mother, must at least save Appearances in this Mode of proceeding. The Produce of his Negociation was to be received by the Company.

" Receiving a Benefit; accompanying the Nabob; withdrawing their Protection,—were Circumstances sufficient to mark the English as the principal Movers in this Business. At a Court where no Opportunity is lost to throw Odium upon us, so favourable an Occasion was not missed to persuade the Nabob, that we instigated him to dishonour his Family, for our Benefit. The Impressions made by such Suggestions, constantly retarded the Progress, and more than Once actually broke off the Business, which rendered the utmost Caution on my Part necessary, especially as I had no Assistance to expect from the Ministers, who could not openly move in the Business. In the East it is well known, that no Man, either by himself or his Troops, can enter the Walls of a Zenanâ, scarcely in the Case of acting against an open Enemy, much less of an Ally; an Ally acting against his own Mother. The outward Walls, and the Begums Agents, were all that were liable to immediate Attack. They were dealt with, and successfully, as the Event proved; I therefore confidently trust, if it shall appear to the Honourable Board, as it does to me, that the Spirit and main Object of my Orders were strictly adhered to and fulfilled, that they will not longer hold me criminal for a Deviation from the precise Letter of them (a)."

Then the following Question was put to the Witness:

Q. To what Part of the Charge brought against you by Mr. Hastings is this Passage a Reply?

A. To the best of my Recollection, it was to that of the Delay in executing his Orders respecting the Business of Fyzabad; to the best of my Recollection; but I would wish, for Accuracy, to refer to the Charge itself.

Then the Book was shewn to the Witness, who said,

A. It is the Answer to the 5th Article of the Charge.

Q. What did you mean by this Passage, " receiving a Benefit, accompanying the Nabob, withdrawing their Protection, were Circumstances sufficient to mark the English as the principal Movers in this Business?"

A. I conceived it was sufficient in the Eyes of the Publick to mark the English as the principal Movers in the Business: That they would conceive an Opinion, from those Circumstances, that the English were the principal Movers in this Business.

Q. Do you not admit, these Circumstances did, in Fact, shew that the English were the principal Movers in this Business?

A. My Opinion is, that the English were not the principal Movers; but, at the same Time, I admit, that these Circumstances were sufficient to mark them out so to the Publick.

Q. Whether Mr. Hastings was satisfied with this Answer to the Fifth Article of the Charge; or whether he declared his Orders were peremptory, and ought to have been obeyed?

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XLIII.

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question, the Declaration being in Writing.

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. Do you know of any other Declaration Mr. Hastings has made upon that Subject, but what is contained in Writing?

A. No.

Then the following Extract was read from Book 82, already delivered in, from Consultation of the 12th June 1783, beginning at Page 246 of the same Book.

" Letter from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Hastings.

" To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, &c.

" Sir,

" I have had, this Day, the Honour to receive your Commands of the 25th ultimo; and am extremely concerned that the Mode of conducting the Fayzabad Business, as set forth in my Address of the 18th January, did not meet your entire Approbation. Permit me to assure you, Sir, it is with the greatest Reluctance I ever venture to deviate from the express Letter of your Instructions; and I cannot accuse myself of having done it on any Occasion, where it did not appear to my Judgement that the Object and Spirit of them rendered it advisable, and that the apparent Necessity would justify such Latitude.

" In the present Instance, it was more in Appearance and Expression than in Fact, that any Deviation was made from your Order of the 26th December; for although I was constrained, from my strict Regard to the Accomplishment of what I considered the first Object of this Undertaking, to admit of a temporary Forbearance, for the Reasons assigned in my Address of the 18th ultimo, the Begums were at that Time to be considered as entirely at the Mercy of the Nabob; their Jagheers were in the Possession of the Aumils, their Troops dispersed, and the Kella of Fayzabad, which included also the Bhow Begum's own Habitation, under the Guard of his Excellency's and our Troops.

" It remained only to get Possession of her Wealth; and to effect this, it was then, and is still, my firm and unalterable Opinion, that it was indispensibly necessary to employ temporizing Expedients, and to work upon the Hopes and Fears of the Begum herself, and more especially upon those of her principal Agents, through whose Means alone there appeared any probable Chance of our getting Access to the hidden Treasure of the late Vizier; and when I acquaint you, that by far the greatest Part of the Treasure which has been delivered to the Nabob, was taken from the most secret Recesses in the Houses of the Two Eunuchs, whence, of course, it could not have been extracted, without the Adoption of those Means which could induce the Discovery, I shall hope for your Approbation of what I did. I must also observe, that no further Rigour than that which I exerted could have been used against Females in this Country, to whom there can be no Access. The Nabob and Salar Jung were the only Two who could enter the Zenanah: The first was a Son who was to address a Parent, and, of course, could use no Language or Action but that of earnest and reiterated Solicitation; and the other was, in all Appearance, a Traitor to our Cause. Where Force could be employed, it was not spared. The Troops of the Begum were driven away and dispersed; their Guns taken; her Fort, and the outward Walls of her House, seized and occupied by our Troops, at the Nabob's Requisition; and her chief Agents imprisoned and put in Irons: No further Step was left; and in this Situation they still remain, and are to continue (excepting only a Remission of the Irons), until the final Liquidation of the Payment; and, if then you deem it proper, no possible Means of Offence being left in her Hands or those of her Agents, all her Lands and Property having been taken, I mean, with your Sanction, to restore her House and Servants to her; and hope to be favoured with your early Reply, as I expect that a few Days will complete the final Surrender of all that is further expected from the Begum.

" I have the Honour to be, &c. &c.

" Lucknow, the 5th February 1782. " Nathaniel Middleton,
Resident at the Court of the Vizier."

Then the following Question was put to the Witness:

Q. What Answer did you receive to this Letter?

A. I do not recollect there was any particular Answer given to it.

Q. Do

Q. Do you conſider theſe Paſſages in that Letter;—" no further Rigour than that which I ex-
" erted could have been uſed againſt Females in this Country;"—nd the following Paſſage, " where
" Force could be employed it was not ſpared:"—Do you conſider theſe Paſſages as fulfilling this Direction of Mr. Haſtings, " you yourſelf ought to be perſonally preſent; you muſt not allow any
" Negociation or Forbearance, but muſt proſecute both Services, until the Begums are at the en" tire Mercy of the Nabob (a)."

A. I did conſider them as an Execution of thoſe Orders.

Q. Do you think you could have obtained Poſſeſſion of the Wealth of the Begums by any milder Means than thoſe, which you did in fact purſue?

A. It was in my Opinion the ſurer Means of obtaining them.

Q. But could you have obtained them by milder Means, according to your Apprehenſion of Things?

A. I ſhould apprehend not.

Q. Did you do any Act or Deed relative to this Buſineſs, which you did not conceive yourſelf directed to do by the Letter or Spirit of Mr. Haſtings's Inſtructions?

A. I certainly acted in a Manner that I conceived to be conformable to the general Tendency of Mr. Haſtings's Inſtructions.

Q. Was you not afterwards accuſed by Mr. Haſtings of having fallen ſhort in Point of Rigour, in the Execution of theſe Orders.

A. I beg to refer to Mr. Haſtings's Charge againſt me for the particular Words of it.

Q. Are you confident that this is an exact Statement, that " no further Rigour than that which I exerted could have been uſed againſt Females in this Country;"—that you did uſe the utmoſt Rigour that could be uſed? Do you think ſo now?

A. It was my Opinion, that the Rigour that was uſed, was as much as could be uſed againſt Women in that Situation.

Q. Could the Nabob, or his Miniſters, have uſed any Sort of Rigour in that Tranſaction?

A. They certainly uſed what was uſed.

Q. Do you mean, that the Nabob uſed all the Rigour that was uſed or could be uſed by him, or whether it was uſed by the Engliſh without the Nabob?

A. It was by the Nabob's Authority—by the Nabob's Orders.

Q. Then what do you mean by this Paſſage in the Letter juſt read to you? " The Firſt was " a Son who was to addreſs a Parent, and of courſe could uſe no Language or Action but that of
" earneſt and reiterated Solicitation;"—how do you reconcile your preſent Opinion with that Repreſentation?

A. What I mean by Rigour, was attacking and taking Poſſeſſion of the Kella which incloſed the Habitation of the Begums. I conceive that no other Force could have been uſed againſt them: for inſtance, that the Troops could not have entered the Zenana, or the private Apartments of the Women, or have taken any other Steps than what they did in ſeizing the Kella, which included their Apartment; and that being done, I conceived that much of the reſt depended upon the Nabob's perſonal Negociations with the Begum and her Agents.

Q. Could the Nabob, if left to himſelf, have uſed any Language or Action but that of Solicitation?

A. Poſſibly he might; but I do not think he would have done it. I think Solicitation would have been the Courſe he would have preferred.

Q. Upon what Account did you ſtate, that the Miniſters could not poſſibly appear at all in the Buſineſs?

A. I meant to ſtate, that the Miniſters could not openly appear in the Buſineſs.

Q. Why not?

A. It is contrary to their Station—not conſiſtent with their Situation, that they ſhould take any open Part in the Buſineſs.

Q. Why could they not?

A. They conſidered the Begums in pretty much the ſame Light as they did the Nabob himſelf, with reſpect to perſonal Forms.

Q. They had an equal Reſpect then for the Begums, as they had for the Nabob?

A. They obſerved the ſame perſonal Forms to the Begums, as to the Nabob.

Q. Then, am I to underſtand you, that it would have been an odious and diſgraceful Thing for the Miniſters to have interfered?

A. I conceive it would: That they would have thought it ſo.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXXVIII.

Q. The

Q. The Begums having been charged with being in actual Rebellion againſt the Nabob, in order to dethrone and deſtroy him, why ſhould the Nabob and his Miniſters have felt it ſuch an extremely odious Buſineſs, to deprive them of that Wealth which is ſtated to have been the Means of ſupporting the Rebellion?

A. I conceive that is Matter of Opinion.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that this was mere Matter of Argument, not Evidence of a Fact.

The Managers for the Commons made Anſwer, that it was a Queſtion of Fact: That the Witneſs had formerly ſtated, that the Begums were in actual Rebellion: That the Object of that Rebellion was to dethrone and deſtroy the Nabob; and now they wanted to know the Circumſtances which, in the Witneſs's Opinion after that Fact was known, did make the Nabob ſo extremely averſe to depriving the Begums of their Wealth.

The Houſe obſerved, that the Queſtion would then be,

Q. Whether the Circumſtance of their being in Rebellion would have diſpenſed, according to the Witneſs's Notion of the Ceremonies and Laws obſerved in that Country, with the perſonal Reſpect which the Miniſters were otherwiſe bound to pay the Begums?

A. I do not think it would; but that is mere Matter of Opinion: I believe, if the Miniſters were certainly convinced that the Begums were in actual Rebellion, they would ſtill have preſerved their perſonal Reſpect to them in point of Form.

Q. Do you mean, that the Nabob declared openly his Deſire to poſſeſs himſelf of thoſe Treaſures?

A. I am very certain the Nabob did, on many Occaſions, declare himſelf deſirous of poſſeſſing himſelf of thoſe Treaſures, which he conſidered as his own Treaſures; he conſidered them as the Treaſures of his Father which had been lodged in the Begums Cuſtody; and he thought he had a Right to the Whole of them.

Q. The Point of the Queſtion is, whether he declared in any Manner which you call an open Manner?

A. He did in Converſation with me.

Q. Who drew the Affidavits which were taken before Sir Elijah Impey, or any of them, that you know of?

A. I can only ſpeak to my own, I drew that; I do not know who drew any of the reſt.

Q. Not any of them?

A. Not any of them.

Q. Did you not receive a Letter from Mr. Haſtings dated Chunar, 15 November 1781, directing you to ſuperintend the Whole of the Tranſaction reſpecting the Affidavits?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that the Whole of this Examination was to Matters which are in Writing and upon Record; that the Letter had been produced, and the proper Courſe would be to read it.

The Managers for the Commons made Anſwer, there was nothing in Writing to indicate who drew the Affidavits.

The Houſe obſerved, that the proper Courſe was to produce the Letter, and examine the Witneſs upon it.

The Managers for the Commons ſaid, the Letter was already in Evidence (a) before the Houſe, and they deſired to aſk the Witneſs, why he diſregarded the Inſtructions contained in it?

The Witneſs ſaid,

A. I have a perfect Recollection of the Letter.

Q. Then do you mean to ſay, that you drew up your own Affidavit, but that you interfered no further with reſpect to the Affidavits of any other Perſon?

A. I did mean ſo: The Letter here referred to, is a general Inſtruction of the Points to which the Affidavits were to go: I recollect communicating to Colonel Hannay that Letter, and reading it to him: I do not know that I communicated it to any Body elſe; for moſt of the Officers, who were to make Affidavit before Sir Elijah Impey, belonged to Colonel Hannay's Corps: of Courſe, he would inſtruct them as to the Points of the Letter.

Q. Did you give Colonel Hannay a Copy of that Letter?
A. I do not recollect whether I did or not; I rather think I did not, that I only read it to him.

Q. Did you call upon no other Perſon, nor communicate with any other Perſon upon this Letter, beſides Colonel Hannay?
A. I will not ſay poſitively that I did not; but I really do not recollect it, nor do I believe that I did.

Q. This Paſſage being in the Letter of Inſtructions, namely: — "I muſt therefore requeſt and require of you, in my Name, to call upon Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, Major Macdonald, Captain Williams, and Lieutenant Gordon, and every other Perſon who may have a perſonal Knowledge or Underſtanding of theſe Facts, or of any others relating to the Rebellion of Cheyt Sing, and its Connections in the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier, ſeverally to depoſe all that they know and believe concerning the ſame, either on Oath before Sir Elijah Impey, who will inſtantly viſit Lucknow, chiefly with this Intention, or that they repair to me at this Place for the ſame Purpoſe (a);"— Are we to underſtand, that, excepting Colonel Hannay's Affidavit, and your own, all the others came to Sir Elijah Impey, without any Interference on your Part?

The Houſe obſerved, the Witneſs had not ſaid he interfered even with Colonel Hannay's Affidavit, but only that he drew his own Affidavit, and neither knew of, or directed, any other Perſon.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, you drew Colonel Hannay's Affidavit?
A. I mean to ſay, that I only drew my own, and knew nothing of the drawing of any Body's elſe; not of Colonel Hannay's.

Q. Did you do any Thing, in Conſequence of thoſe peremptory Inſtructions of Mr. Haſtings, beſides what you have already mentioned, the communicating of them to Colonel Hannay?
A. Not that I recollect: I ſpeak doubtfully of communicating it to any others; I may have communicated it to Mr. Johnſon, my Aſſiſtant; but I do not recollect I communicated it to any Body.

Q. Be poſitive, if you can, in your Recollection upon this Subject:—Do you mean to ſwear, you do not know who drew up, or ſettled, any of the Affidavits, except your own?
A. I am very certain of it, as far as a Perſon can be certain of a Fact at this Diſtance of Time, that I only drew up my own. If that is not an Anſwer, I wiſh the Queſtion may be more pointedly put.

Q. The Queſtion is, not only whether you drew up any other Affidavit; but, whether you know who drew up any of the other Affidavits?
A. I certainly do not; I take it for granted, that the Parties themſelves did draw them up, but I cannot ſpeak poſitively: I know nothing about their Affidavits, or about any Affidavits but my own, which I certainly drew up.

Q. Was it at this Time you delivered back to Colonel Hannay the Letters you had formerly received from him, reſpecting the Conduct of the Begums?
A. I cannot ſay that it was exactly at that Time; I do not recollect, but it was certainly at the Time that he was drawing up his Affidavit upon that Buſineſs.

Q. Can you inform us, why Colonel Hannay could not depoſe to Facts which had paſſed within his own Knowledge, without recurring to the Letters he had formerly written to you?
A. I cannot; it is impoſſible I can form any Opinion. The Reaſon Colonel Hannay aſſigned to me was, he wiſhed to refreſh his Memory with what he had written to me in ſeveral Letters upon that Subject.

Q. Was that the Whole of what he ſaid upon the Subject?
A. It was the Whole.

Q. Was you preſent at the taking of any other Affidavit before the Chief Juſtice, beſides your own?
A. I do not recollect that I was; but at the ſame Time I will admit the Poſſibility that I might, though I do not recollect it. I viſited him very often, and I certainly have often ſeen thoſe Gentlemen, who made Affidavits, at his Houſe. They might, at ſome of thoſe Viſits, have made Affidavits before him when I was there; but I cannot take upon me to ſay that was the Caſe.

Q. Can you give any Reaſon why the Letters you received from Colonel Hannay do not appear, either upon the Records, or in your own Letter Book?
A. They were private Letters addreſſed to myſelf in my private Capacity. I never did enter in my publick Letter Book any Letters of that Sort.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 630.

Q. Did not thoſe Letters contain the Whole of the Information you had received to the 19th of October, reſpecting the Conduct of the Begums, or had you any other Information?

A. It is impoſſible I can anſwer that Queſtion poſitively. I have no Doubt I had other. I have ſtated what Information I had. I was with Mr. Haſtings at Chunar during the greateſt Part of thoſe Troubles; and ſuch Information as I did receive I communicated to Mr. Haſtings. I cannot ſay whether Colonel Hannay's Letters contained the whole Information I received.

Q. Did you ever hear Mr. Haſtings make any Obſervation upon the Circumſtance of your Letter to him, which contained Extracts of your Correſpondence with Colonel Hannay, in conſequence of a Letter being dated the 19th of September, in the Narrative, and the 19th of October, in your Letter Book?

A. This is the firſt Time I ever heard of any Difference in the Dates, conſequently I never could have heard Mr. Haſtings make any Obſervations upon it. I never knew till this Moment that there was any Difference in the Dates.

Q. Are you quite poſitive that the Date in your Letter Book, of the 19th of October, is the right Date?

A. I am ſure it could not be the 19th of September, becauſe I was then at Chunar, and have no Doubt but the 19th of October is the right Date.

Q. Can you account for your not having mentioned this Correſpondence in the Affidavit you made before Sir Elijah Impey?

A. I can aſſign no Reaſon for it; but probably, as Colonel Hannay was going to make an Affidavit to the Subject of thoſe Letters, I might not think it neceſſary.

Q. In your Affidavit you ſtate, "that you further heard from your own News-writer ſtationed at Fyzabad, that a Vakeel or Agent from Rajah Cheit Sing had been received at that Place, and allowed to remain under the Protection of the ſaid Eunuchs; but for what particular Purpoſe, or what was the Nature of his Commiſſion or Negotiations, this Deponent has not been able to diſcover" (a)—who was that News-writer you mention to be ſtationed at Fyzabad?

A. He was the News Writer on the Part of the Reſident; he had been ſtationed at Fyzabad for ſeveral Years; he was there in the Time of Mr. Briſtow, my Predeceſſor; ſtationed there to forward the Poſt Letters, and likewiſe to communicate to the Reſident at Lucknow any Intelligence of Conſequence that he might learn there.

Q. What was his Name?

A. Hoolas Roy.

Q. Where is the Letter of Hoolas Roy, which contains the Communication you have ſworn to have received from him?

A. I really do not know; very poſſibly it is in the Office at Lucknow.

Q. How comes it not to appear upon your Book of Correſpondence?

A. It was a Perſian Letter.

Q. You have ſworn in this Affidavit, "that you heard at the Time much Encouragement, and ſome actual Aid, had been given to Cheit Sing, by Jewar Aly Cawn and Behar Aly Cawn:" (b) What do you mean by ſome actual Aid, which you heard had been given by theſe Two Perſons?

A. I heard that they had raiſed Troops; that they had aſſiſted Rajah Cheit Sing's Vackeel in raiſing Troops, and in ſending them to the Rajah's Aſſiſtance. I aſſert this, not on my own Knowledge, but upon common Report.

Q. How comes it, there is no Trace of this Correſpondence in your Letter Book?

A. I ſhould wiſh to know which Correſpondence is alluded to?

Q. Had you any Correſpondence upon that Subject, that you remember, with any Body?

A. None that I remember; I ſpeak of it as a common Report.

Q. Was it alſo from common Report that you learned, that, during the Continuance of the Diſturbances at Banares, the Begums had manifeſted a ſtrong Diſaffection to the Engliſh?

A. It was.

Q. Then I underſtand, that the only Circumſtance which you received any Information upon, in any authentick Shape, was this, "that you further heard from your own News-writer, ſtationed at Fyzabad, that a Vackeel or Agent from Rajah Cheit Sing had been received at that Place, and allowed to remain under the Protection of the ſaid Eunuchs; but for what particular Purpoſe, or what was the Nature of his Commiſſion, or Negociations, you was not able to diſcover." (c) Was that the only Communication you received from Hoolas Roy, or any one upon this Subject?

A. The only one I recollect at this Time: I do not recollect any other.

Q. You underſtand that theſe three Circumſtances are the Whole that relates to the Begums?

The Houſe obſerved, that the Witneſs had ſaid, they were the Whole he undertakes at this Time to recollect; and that if the Managers for the Commons wiſhed to aſk him

him any more Queſtions about it, it would be more proper to let the Witneſs ſee the Affidavit.

The Affidavit was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he was aſked;

Q. Did not this Affidavit contain the Whole you knew upon this Subject, on the 27th of November 1781?

A. All that I knew of my own Knowledge, I have no Doubt but it did; it could not contain all I had heard, becauſe it does not contain the Letters I received from Colonel Hannay, or any other Letters.

Q. Does the Affidavit contain any one Thing that you knew of your own Knowledge?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that this would appear by the Affidavit itſelf.

Q. Do you know any Reaſon why the Teſtimony of Hoolas Roy, who was ſent to be examined does not appear; do you know of his being ſent to be examined?

A. He was ſent: Certainly ordered to attend.

Q. Do you know, whether he was in Fact examined?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know any Reaſon, or have you heard from Mr. Haſtings, why he was not in Fact examined?

A. I have not.

Q. Did you hear from Colonel Hannay that a Thouſand Men, Nudjeebs, were ſent from Fyzabad to the Aſſiſtance of Cheit Sing?

A. I have heard it: I cannot ſay where; but I certainly have heard it.

Q. Was you apprized that Colonel Hannay mentioned it, and afterwards ſwore to it, only as a Report which he had heard?

A. I would wiſh to refer to Colonel Hannay's Affidavit; it is impoſſible I can retain in my Memory all that Colonel Hannay depoſed to.

Q. What Meaſures were taken by Mr. Haſtings upon hearing of this Rebellion at Fyzabad, and what Troops did he ſend to ſuppreſs it?

A. Is the Queſtion meant to be confined to the Period of the ſuppoſed Rebellion?

Q. The Queſtion is—Do you know when Mr. Haſtings heard of the Rebellion?

A. I take it for granted, he heard of it in September.

Q. What Meaſures did he take upon that?

A. I do not know what Meaſures he did take, or whether he took any: the Nabob himſelf was with Mr. Haſtings at that Time.

Q. Was not you with Mr. Haſtings too at that Time, at Chunar?

A. Certainly I was.

Q. What Meaſures did the Nabob take, upon hearing the Report of that Rebellion?

A. Previous to his Arrival at Chunar, the Nabob had called in all the Troops he could aſſemble; he had left Lucknow, with his ordinary Guard, which, compared with what he had afterwards, was a very ſmall one; and he ſtopped upon the Road a conſiderable Time to call in his Troops, and when he arrived at Chunar, he certainly had a very large Body of Troops with him.

Q. Did not the Nabob bring with him the Troops which he ſo collected to Chunar, or what did he do towards ſuppreſſing the Rebellion?

A. I was going to add, I do not know what Steps he took, or whether he took any, at Chunar.

Q. Whether you ever heard of any one Soldier, Horſe or Foot, having been ſent to ſuppreſs that Rebellion; whether there was any Sort of Force ever employed in the Suppreſſion of that Rebellion?

A. I did not hear that there was.

Q. Did the Nabob, upon his Return from Fyzabad to Lucknow, communicate in any Manner with you upon the Subject of that Rebellion, after his Viſit to his Mother?

A. I do not recollect that he did.

Q. When you ſtormed the Kella of the Begums, what Force had the Nabob and you with you?

A. The Nabob was there in Perſon, and had a conſiderable Force; and there was One Regiment of Engliſh. The Kella was ſtormed by a Regiment of Engliſh Sepoys, aſſiſted by ſome Troops of the Nabob.

Q. Do

Q. Do you recollect the Amount of the Nabob's Force?
A. I cannot with any Accuracy; I ſuppoſe he might have Fifteen or Twenty Thouſand Men with him.

Q. What Sort of Troops are the Nabob's Sebundy?
A. They are irregular Troops, armed and clothed after the Country Manner.

Q. Are thoſe Troops fit for any Service?
A. They are employed occaſionally in Military Services; they are certainly not good Troops, or Troops that can be much depended upon.

Q. Did not you ſtate to Mr. Haſtings, that the Nabob's Sebundy alone were ſufficient to have reduced the Jagheerdars, and to have ſeized the Treaſures?
A. I cannot ſay I recollect it; if I have ſaid ſo, it will appear upon Record.

Q. Did you ever conſider the Sebundy in any better Light than that of a uſeleſs Rabble?
A. Certainly I could not regard it in that Light, becauſe they were a principal Part of the Troops of the Nabob's Aumils for the Service of their Collections; they had no other Troops; undoubtedly they were not regular Troops, or Troops that could be much depended upon in actual Service.

Q. Could the Sebundy have ſeized the Kella, without the Aſſiſtance of this ſingle regular Regiment of Sepoys?
A. I ſhould apprehend they could not. I underſtood upon the Spot the Begums had a very conſiderable Force, and that had the Attack been made by the Nabob's Troops alone, a very ſevere Reſiſtance was determined upon.

Q. Did you not underſtand alſo, at the ſame Time, that the Begum had no Idea the Engliſh would aſſiſt the Nabob, till you informed her that it would be ſo?
A. I have already given an Anſwer to that Queſtion, that the Begum certainly had Expectations of the Interference of the Engliſh for a conſiderable Time.

Q. Down to the Time when you gave them that Information that you ſpoke of Yeſterday?
A. Yes.

Q. In reſuming the Jaghires, was there any Battle fought, Blows ſtruck, or any Blood ſhed at all upon that Account?
A. I do not recollect that there was any where. I recollect, when the Nabob firſt ſent his Aumils to take Charge of the Jaghires, that they were not able to take Charge of them, not having Force ſufficient; afterwards the Nabob ſent them with a conſiderable Force.

Q. Are you ſure that the Nabob ſent them a conſiderable Force afterwards?
A. I underſtood he ſent Force ſufficient for the Service: What it conſiſted of, I cannot ſay; but that he ſent Troops with the Aumil, who was to take Poſſeſſion of theſe Jaghires, is true.

Q. Who commanded thoſe Troops?
A. Probably the Commander was the Aumil who went to take Charge of the Jaghires: The Officers of the Troops acted under his Command.

Q. Do you recollect having any Correſpondence with Major Naylor upon this Subject?
A. I do recollect having ſome Correſpondence with him upon the Subject; to the beſt of my Recollection, he was ordered to aſſiſt the Nabob's Officers in putting him in Poſſeſſion of ſome Gunges or Markets, which the Begum had on the oppoſite Side of the River.

Q. Do you recollect Major Naylor's Communication upon that Subject?
A. I do not, at this Moment, remember it.

Q. From your general Knowledge of Major Naylor, had you any Reaſon to believe that he would communicate falſely?
A. I certainly have no Reaſon to believe that he would.

Q. Did you return any Papers from Lucknow, under a ſealed Cover, to Mr. Haſtings, in order that they might be opened when he ſhould think it expedient?
A. I did.

Q. Can you recollect what thoſe Papers were?
A. I believe One of thoſe Papers was a Copy of the Chunar Treaty, and the other Papers connected with it.

Q. Was there among thoſe Papers a Liſt of the Names of any Gentlemen, to whoſe Continuance at Lucknow the Nabob had conſented?
A. I do not recollect that there was.

Q. Did you ever ſend from Lucknow to Mr. Haſtings, before his Return to Calcutta, any ſuch Papers?
A. I do not recollect that I did.

Q. Did you receive from Mr. Haſtings, at Chunar, a Liſt of the Names of Engliſh Gentlemen allowed to continue at Lucknow?

A. I do not recollect that I did.

Q. Recollect a little carefully on this Subject.—What other Communication did you receive from Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject of Engliſh Gentlemen who were to be allowed to reſide at Lucknow?

A. Mr. Haſtings did mention, I believe, in Converſation, the Gentlemen whom the Nabob permitted to reſide at Lucknow.

Q. Are you ſure that Mr. Haſtings gave you no Paper upon that Subject, or that you took no Minutes of that Converſation?

A. I cannot be ſure.

Q. When had you this Communication or Converſation with Mr. Haſtings?

A. It was while I was with him at Chunar—I cannot exactly ſay—probably about the Time of ſigning the Treaty?

Q. Was it not expreſsly ſtipulated in the Treaty, that all the Engliſh Gentlemen, without Diſtinction, excepting only the Gentlemen of the Reſident's Office, ſhould be removed from the Nabob's Dominions?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that the Treaty would ſpeak for itſelf.

Q. Do you remember any Thing about that?

A. I have ſome Remembrance about that.

Q. Whether any one Article of the Treaty was kept with the Nabob?

A. I muſt read the Treaty, and all that has paſſed upon it, before I could venture to give an Opinion upon that Subject.

Q. Here is the Treaty: Will you point out any one Article that was kept?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected.

Q. Whether that Part of the Treaty which was ſtipulated ſhould not be carried into Execution, namely, the Nabob's Part, was not in Fact the only Part that was carried into Execution?

A. With humble Submiſſion, I beg Leave to treat that, as a Part of the other Queſtion. It is really impoſſible for me to anſwer Queſtions of this Sort.

Q. Whether you was preſent at all, or any of the Times, that the Affidavits were ſworn before Sir Elijah Impey?

A. I beg to refer to the Anſwer I gave to that Queſtion before—that I did not recollect being preſent at any of them; though I admitted, at the ſame Time, the Poſſibility that I might have been preſent when ſome were taken.

Q. Do you know that there were Affidavits made by native Indians as well as by Engliſh Gentlemen?

A. I perceive, by Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, that there were.

Q. Do you know in what Manner thoſe native Indians had Notice to make thoſe Affidavits?

A. I do not know any Thing about it.

Q. Do you know of any Communication by Mr. Haſtings, to any Perſon beſides yourſelf, for the Purpoſe of having Affidavits taken?

A. Perhaps I may not underſtand that Queſtion perfectly. I take it for granted he communicated with Sir Elijah Impey upon taking the Affidavits; but I do not know any Perſon at Lucknow whom he communicated with.

Q. Do you know any Perſon at Lucknow that he did communicate with?

A. No; I certainly do not.

Q. Do you know who the Natives were that made theſe Affidavits?

A. I underſtood they were principally native Officers, belonging to Colonel Hannay's Corps. I do not ſpeak from my own Knowledge.

Q. Do you know a Perſon called Doond Sing?

A. No; I do not.

Q. Do you know a Perſon of the Name of Denoo Sing?

A. I do not.

Q. Or Kundiall Sing?

A. No: If theſe are the Perſons that have given their Affidavits, I do not recollect I ever ſaw one of them.

Q. Then

Q. Then you do not know by what Means theſe Perſons were informed they were to make the Affidavits before Sir Elijah Impey?

A. I do not. I always ſuppoſed the Communication was made to them by their Officers, that they were to depoſe, as far as their Knowledge went, to certain Circumſtances and certain Facts, and I know no more of the Matter.

Q. Did you give any Inſtructions to any Perſon, to deſire their Officers to deſire thoſe Perſons to make Affidavits?

A. I have already informed your Lordſhips of the Extent of my Communications upon Mr. Haſtings's Letter. I do not recollect I had any Communication with any Perſon whatever, upon that Subject, but Colonel Hannay, and to him I read Mr. Haſtings's Letter.

Q. Whether you did not know that Colonel Hannay, Captain Gordon, and Lieutenant Williams, were accuſed by the Begums and others, of having robbed the whole Country, and being themſelves the Cauſe of the Inſurrection, by their Oppreſſions?

A. I have ſome Recollection of Letters to that Purport, which have been read before your Lordſhips.

Q. How came you to confide the Management of the Depoſitions, which were to authenticate the Rebellion of the Begums, to the Perſons accuſed by them?

A. I have informed your Lordſhips of the Extent of my Interference. I did conceive the Intention of Mr. Haſtings's Letter was only, that the People who were to depoſe, ſhould be informed to what they were to depoſe, and I thought I had done my Duty by communicating the Letter to Colonel Hannay, who was the Commanding Officer, and it was his Duty to communicate it to thoſe Officers immediately under him.

Q. Then you mean to ſay, that it was a Part of Military Duty to do this?

A. I hope I am not out of Order, when I beg Leave to decline anſwering that Queſtion. It is impoſſible for me to know—I am no Military Man. I thought I did my Duty in communicating the Letter to Colonel Hannay.

Q. Whether you do not know that ſome of theſe Affidavit Men ſwore in Couples? Do you know whether more than One joined in an Affidavit?

A. I have already informed your Lordſhips I know very little about the Affidavits. I muſt refer to the Affidavits themſelves. I really do not know that they did.

Q. Whether there was any Man of the Law, as profeſſed by Mahometans or by Hindoos, to ſee that the Oaths were legally and properly adminiſtered to them, according to their ſeveral religious Tenets?

A. I really do not know whether there was or not.

Q. Did you take Care that there was? Did you give any Orders or Inſtructions for any ſuch Perſon to attend?

A. Certainly not.

Q. (Croſs examined.) Do you know, in point of Fact, whether any Leaves have been torn out of any of thoſe Books that were ſhewn you Yeſterday, ſince they were bound?

A. I cannot take upon me to ſay, whether they have or not. I beg to ſtate, that thoſe are not complete Copies of my Correſpondence: The complete Copies of my Correſpondence were left in my Office at Lucknow, as my Duty obliged me to do. Theſe are Books and Papers I had an Opportunity of taking for my own private Satisfaction. I cannot ſay in what Manner they have been treated. I am not ſenſible of any Leaves having been purpoſely taken out, or added.

Q. Do you know of any Leaves having been taken out at all, or added, whether purpoſely or not?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Whether thoſe Books contain, or did ever contain, any Letters to or from Mr. Haſtings?
A. This particular Book does not.

Q. What is the Deſcription of it?
A. Letter D: It is Copies of Letters to the Officers employed in the Nabob's Service.

Q. Do you know whether it ever contained any Letters to or from Mr. Haſtings?
A. I have every Reaſon to believe it never did.

Q. You have been aſked whether Hoolas Roy ever made any Affidavit—I underſtood you to ſay, you believed he did not: Do you know whether Hoolas Roy arrived at Benares before Sir Elijah Impey left it?

A. I do not know when he arrived at Benares.

Q. Do you know at what Time Sir Elijah Impey left Benares?
A. No, I cannot aſcertain it exactly.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether the Rebellion of the Begums did not exhibit itſelf both by the Aſſiſtance given to the Inſurgents in Baraitch and Goruckpore, and alſo in the Aſſiſtance given to Cheit Sing?

A. I have no Knowledge of that Circumſtance but what I have already ſtated.

Q. In the Uſe of the Word "Rebellion," do you apply it, as well to the Inſurgency in Baraitch and Goruckpore, as to the Aſſiſtance given to Cheit Sing?

A. As far as I have any Knowledge of it, certainly.

Q. Whether the Nabob ſent any Force of any Kind at any Time to ſuppreſs any Inſurrection in Baraitch and Goruckpore?

A. Moſt certainly he did.

Q. When did he?

A. I mean the Detachment under Major Naylor; I cannot ſay exactly when that marched; it was for the Purpoſe of quelling the Diſturbances in Baraitch and Goruckpore.

Q. At what Time was that?

A. It muſt be at the latter End of the Year 1781.

Q. Did the Nabob ſend that Detachment?

A. By his Orders it went.

Q. Whether that Inſurrection of Cheit Sing, in which the Nudjiebs were aſſiſting, was not ſuppreſſed by the Britiſh Forces?

A. No doubt it was.

Q. Whether you was in the Country of Oude at or ſhortly before the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I was there a few Days before his Death; perhaps Ten or Twelve Days before his Death.

Q. Do you know where the publick Treaſures of Sujah ul Dowlah were depoſited?

A. I underſtood in the Zenana at Fyzabad, under the Care of the Bhow Begum.

Q. Do you mean that thoſe Treaſures were depoſited in the Zenana under the Charge of the Bhow Begum, as the Treaſurer of the Nabob Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I underſtood they were the Treaſures of the Nabob.

Q. But the Queſtion is, Whether ſhe was charged as Treaſurer to pay the Troops and other publick Purpoſes?

A. I underſtood ſhe had Charge of them, as the confidential publick Treaſurer; and I will mention One Reaſon for ſuppoſing ſhe was in that Situation. When the Nabob was employed againſt the Rohillas in Rohilcund, he had a Sum of Money to pay to the Eaſt India Company; the Begum happened to be with him in the Camp at that Time, and the Nabob Salar Jung, who was the Begum's Brother, was left in the Management of Affairs at Fyzabad. The Sum the Nabob had to pay the India Company was Fifteen Lacks of Rupees; he gave me an Order for Fifteen Lacks of Rupees upon Salar Jung at Fyzabad; I deputed a Gentleman of my Family to Fyzabad, for the Purpoſe of receiving the Money, and conveying it to Calcutta. However, upon his delivering the Nabob's Letter to Salar Jung at Fyzabad, a Difficulty aroſe, as there was no correſponding Order from the Begum for the Delivery of this Treaſure; and the Gentleman whom I deputed, whoſe Name is Grady, was detained there till an Order from the Begum did actually arrive, and upon the Receipt of her Order the Money was immediately paid out of the Treaſury.

Q. Do you underſtand, that the Order given by the Begum, upon that Occaſion, was an official Order, in the Character of Treaſurer to the Nabob?

A. I cannot take upon me to ſay in what Character ſhe iſſued the Order: Certain it was, that the Money was not paid till her Order was iſſued and received at Fyzabad.

Q. Do you underſtand that Order to have been given by the Begum as for the Diſpoſition of her own Property, or for the Diſpoſition of the Property of the Nabob?

A. I underſtood it to be for the Nabob's Property, for which the Nabob had previouſly given an Order himſelf.

Q. Do you know what was the Amount of the Treaſures, or, what was your beſt Information of the Amount of the Treaſures in the Zenana, at the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. It is impoſſible for me to aſcertain with any Sort of Accuracy; but it was ſuppoſed to be very conſiderable.

Q. What was the Amount of it, according to the beſt Information you could obtain upon that Subject?

A. I would wiſh your Lordſhips to underſtand it is an Opinion given very much at Random: I ſhould ſuppoſe, from the Information and Report of the People in general, that it was near two Crores of Rupees.

Q. What other Treaſures had the Nabob?
A. I do not know of any others that he had.

Q. Do you know of any other Place in which the public Treaſures of the Nabob were depoſited beſides this Zenana?
A. do not know of any other Place where any conſiderable Treaſures were depoſited: He had a nominal Treaſurer; but I do not believe he had Charge of any conſiderable Treaſure; not more than might be neceſſary for immediate Uſe. I certainly did underſtand, that the Nabob's principal Treaſure was at Fyzabad, under the Charge of the Begum.

Q. Neceſſary for immediate Uſe; what Uſe?
A. For his Expences.

Q. Expences of his Houſehold, or the Army?
A. For Expences of the Houſehold.

Q. But not for the Expences of his Civil Eſtabliſhment?
A. No, I ſhould imagine not; that would have been very conſiderable.

Q. Do you know what was the Amount of the Debt Sujah ul Dowlah owed the Company at the Time of his Death?
A. I cannot exactly ſay, but I believe it will appear in the Accounts; it was conſiderable, I know, but I cannot aſcertain the Sum.

Q. Do you recollect whether 40, 50, or 60 Lacks, or ſome ſuch large Sum?
A. It was, according to the beſt Recollection I have of it, between 40 and 50 Lacks, or thereabouts.

Q. Whether Sujah ul Dowlah had not a large Army, and what Number of Foot at the Time of his Death?
A. I do not know with any Degree of Accuracy; he had a very conſiderable Army.

Q. What is your Notion of a conſiderable Army?
A. From 50,000 to 70,000 Men.

Q. Do you know whether that Army was conſiderably in Arrear of Pay, at the Time of the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah?
A. I underſtood they were conſiderably in Arrear, many Months, near Twelve Months, I underſtood.

Q. Beſides the Arrears of Pay due from the Nabob, and beſides the Debt due to the Company, do you know whether the ſucceeding Nabob was burthened with any other Debts of his Father, owing to Individuals?
A. I believe there were ſome Debts to Individuals; but, I fancy, not conſiderable.

Q. Can you inform the Houſe, what was the aggregate Amount of all the Nabob's Debts?
A. It is impoſſible for me to give an accurate Anſwer to that Queſtion; I really do not know what his Army was in Arrear; or what the Pay of his Army was.

Q. What Difference is there, if you know it, between the Tenure of the Jaghires, and the Lands holden in Ultumgah?
A. My Idea of the Diſtinction is, that a common Jaghire is reſumable at Pleaſure; and that an Ultumgah is a Grant confirmed by the King, perpetual and hereditary.

Q. By "confirmed by the King," I underſtand you mean, confirmed at Delhi?
A. Confirmed by the Mogul: That is my Idea of it.

Q. Whether a Jaghire is in the Nature of a Rent Charge; or whether it carries with it the actual Poſſeſſion of the Land in general?
A. The Jaghiredar certainly has Poſſeſſion of the Land; but it is underſtood, that the Surplus, beyond the Sum for which the Jaghire was granted, does belong to the Prince who grants the Jaghire, if he chooſes to take it.—It is ſo underſtood.

Q. The Jaghire is granted then, as productive of a certain Sum?
A. The Jaghire is granted for a ſpecific Sum.

Q. Is it rated in the Grant as productive of a certain Sum?
A. Yes.

Q. Then, you hold that a Jaghiredar is accountable for the actual Profit he receives beyond that Sum?

A. He

A. He is accountable for it; if the Prince chooſes to call upon him, he is to account for the net Collections, and the Overplus belongs to the Prince—which is called, in the Language of the Country, Tophier.

Q. Whether you have not heard the Nabob frequently complain, prior to the Year 1781, of the Diſorders in his Country, occaſioned by the Independency of the Jagheerdars?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection, I have heard frequent Complaints.

Q. Whether the Jagheerdars do not keep a large Body of Forces, beſides what is immediately neceſſary for collecting the Revenue of their Jaghires?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay, what is neceſſary for the Collection of their Jaghires; they all certainly keep up a conſiderable Body of Troops in their reſpective Jaghires; I cannot ſay for what Purpoſe they keep them.

Q. Whether thoſe Troops, kept up upon the Jaghires, were under the Controul of the Nabob, or under the Controul of the Jaghiredars merely?

A. Entirely under the Controul of the Jaghiredars, as I underſtand.

Q. Whether the Nabob has not ſaid in Converſation with you, with reſpect to the Jaghiredars, that two Rulers were too much for one Country?

A. I cannot ſay I recollect the Expreſſion to myſelf.

Q. Whether the Nabob has not in Converſation with you complained that the Begums Servants had preſerved a total Independency, and that the Jaghiredars had beat the Officers of the Government, and refuſed Payment?

A. I do not recollect in thoſe very Terms; but I am very ſure the Nabob has frequently complained of the Begums People, and that they treated his Authority with Contempt; but I do not recollect thoſe particular Expreſſions.

Q. Whether any of the Jaghiredars in Oude have not frequently given Refuge to rebellious Zemindars, and weakened the Nabob's Authority?

A. I have heard of ſuch Inſtances.

Q. Upon the Independency of the Jaghiredars in general, has the Nabob complained to you, that they weakened his Authority?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection, the Nabob has made thoſe Complaints.

Q. Have you not Reaſon to believe, that thoſe Complaints were well founded? Specify your Reaſons, if you have any.

A. I certainly did believe the Complaints were well founded. It muſt be obvious to your Lordſhips, that large Diſtricts of Land, with conſiderable Bodies of Troops entirely unconnected and uncontrouled by the Authority of Government, muſt interfere with the Government itſelf.

The above Queſtion and Anſwer were read over by the Clerk.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether you know the Amount of the Jaghires which the Bhow Begum had at the Time of the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah; and what Increaſe was made to thoſe Jaghires, if any was made, by her Son Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I know it only from ſubſequent Converſations. I underſtood it was but very inconſiderable upon the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah; and that it was largely increaſed by the Nabob.

Q. But the Amount of either the one or the other, you do not know?

A. I cannot aſcertain exactly how much; but I think the Begums Jaghire, at the Time it was reſumed, was about Six Lacks of Rupees a Year, or more.

Q. But what it was, at the Time of the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah, you do not know?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Have you ever heard from the Vizier or Bhow Begum, what that Amount was, or what it was at the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I certainly have; but I cannot at this Moment charge my Memory with it: I do not think it was ſo much as Two Lacks of Rupees, as far as my Recollection of it goes.

Q. I underſtand you to have ſaid, according to the beſt Information you have upon the Subject, that the Jaghire of the Bhow Begum was under Two Lacks at the Time of the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah, and was increaſed to Six Lacks and upwards by Aſoph ul Dowlah: Do you know what was the Amount of her Annual Expences?

A. No, I certainly do not; and have no Means of aſcertaining it with any Sort of Accuracy.

Q. Was there any Appearance of Expence, to the Amount of her Jaghire?

A. If I might venture an Opinion, I ſhould ſuppoſe it could not have been any Thing like it; not a Fourth Part of it; but it is merely Matter of Opinion; it is mere Gueſs.

Q. Under

Q. Under whoſe particular Controul and Management were the Jaghires of the Bhow Begum?
A. Under the Management of her Two Eunuchs, Jewar and Bahar Ally Khan.

Q. Whether Jewar and Bahar Ali Khan had not, in many Inſtances, prior to the Year 1781, rendered themſelves obnoxious to the Nabob's Government?
A. I underſtood they had rendered themſelves obnoxious to the Nabob himſelf perſonally.

Q. Had they offended againſt his Government in any Manner?
A. I apprehend it muſt be in ſome Part of their Conduct in the Management of the Jaghires, that they had given the Nabob Offence; he alſo complained, to the beſt of my Recollection, that it was their View to keep him and his Mother at conſtant Variance—at conſtant Difference.

Q. Whether you remember her chief Agent Bahar Ally Khan having marched a conſiderable Force into Nabob Gunge, one of the Begum's principal Jaghires, declaring, that if any Attempt was made to reſume it, he would lay the whole Country waſte—Was Bahar Ally Khan her principal Miniſter?
A. He was.

Q. Had he made any ſuch Declarations of laying the Country waſte?
A. I would refer to the Letter.

Q. Do you know any Thing of a March into Nabob Gunge?
A. I have not a perfect Recollection of it.

Q. What were the Number of thoſe Jaghiredars in the Nabob's Country, immediately prior to the Reſumption of the Jaghires, or about the Time of the Treaty of Chunar?
A. There were a great many of theſe, Fifty or Sixty.

Q. Of what Deſcription of Perſons were the Bulk of thoſe Jaghiredars?
A. They were of all Deſcriptions.

Q. Were they People of low Condition in general, and who had done no particular Service to the Government from which they received thoſe Jaghires, or were they perſonal Favourites?
A. The Nabob's Family were included among them; there were alſo many of his Aumils and principal Officers, that were in charge of Military and Civil Offices, they alſo had Jaghires; and there were a great many of that Deſcription of People, called Orderlies, who had conſiderable Jaghires.

Q. What is an Orderly?
A. It is taken from their former Situation, in which they were before the Nabob's Acceſſion to the Muſnud; they attended his Perſon, as orderly Sepoys, Men who were always attendant upon him, they were Hindoos; upon his Acceſſion to the Muſnud he raiſed them to the Rank of Rajahs, and gave them conſiderable Jaghires.

Q. What was their Rank before he came to the Muſnud?
A. They were common Soldiers, Sepoys.

Q. Were they perſonal Favourites of the Nabob?
A. The Diſtinction with which he treated them, upon his Acceſſion to the Government, would ſeem to leave that beyond a Doubt.

Q. Were they People of low and inferior Condition prior to their Elevation by the Nabob?
A. They were in the ſame Condition as other common Sepoys.

Q. Whether you know if any, and what Sum, was realized by the Nabob, from Baraitch and Goruckpore, prior to Colonel Hannay's Appointment?
A. I believe the Sums he realized from that Country were but very inconſiderable; he was obliged to keep up a very large Force there to make the Collection, and I believe the Revenue of the Country did very little more than defray the Charge of thoſe Troops.

Q. Do you know what Sum was realized by the Nabob from the Country of Baraitch and Goruckpore, during the Time of Colonel Hannay's Command?
A. I cannot from Memory aſcertain exactly what the Sum was. The Company had a conſiderable Aſſignment on the Country upon thoſe Two Diſtricts, which was paid.

Q. Do you know nearly, within a Lack, what might be the Amount received by the Nabob annually, or in the Whole, during the Time Colonel Hannay had his Command? When were the Aſſignments given to the Company of thoſe Two Diſtricts?
A. I believe when Colonel Hannay firſt went there; they might have had Aſſignments before that.

Q. Did Colonel Hannay account to the Nabob for the Collections?
A. He did.

Q. Do

Q. Do you know what the Amount of that was? Did it pass through your Office?
A. It did not, further than the Company's Assignments: which, as far as I can charge my Memory, upon these Two Provinces, were 10 Lacks of Rupees.

Q. Were those 10 Lacks received by the Company in any One Year, or during a longer Period?
A. In One Year.

Q. Was there any other Money received by the Nabob, beyond the 10 Lacks that were received by the Company?
A. Yes; I understood there was certainly—that was not the Whole of his Collections.

Q. Have you any Idea of the Amount of the Sum received beyond the 10 Lacks?
A. I have not. I know other Assignments were given by the Nabob upon the Country, which were always paid.

Q. Do you know to what the Amount of those Assignments were?
A. I do not.

Q. Did you say any Thing about the Company's having Assignments upon Goruckpore before?
A. They had some small Assignments upon Baraitch, as I understood, before Colonel Hannay's going there. They were separate Districts, though laid together. They were under separate Governments.

Q. What became of those Assignments?
A. That was before my going up there; so that I do not know whether they were or were not paid.

Q. Whether the Sums received by the Vizier's Assignment, which came to the Hands of the Company, and the other Assignments you mentioned, were not after the Payment of the Troops employed in the Collection of those Districts?
A. That I do not know. Colonel Hannay's Troops were certainly not paid from those Collections, but from an Establishment at Lucknow; the other Troops belonging to the Nabob that were stationed in the Country, which were also considerable, were, I apprehend, paid from the Collections.

Q. So that the Collections were net, and this was their Produce, beyond the Payment of the Troops of the Nabob stationed in the Country, but not beyond the Payment of Colonel Hannay's Corps?
A. No; Colonel Hannay's Troops were paid at Lucknow.

Q. Whether you do not know, that the Establishment of Courts of Justice in Oude was proposed and recommended to the Nabob by Mr. Hastings?
A. It certainly was.

A. Whether, prior to that Recommendation by Mr. Hastings, any regular Courts of Justice had ever, as you have heard, been established at Lucknow; or whether Justice was not administered by the Foudjdars of the Country?
A. I do not know that there ever were any regular general Courts of Justice in the Country of Oude; each Foudjdar had a Jurisdiction, which he exercised I believe very much without any Controul. The Nabob was the Controuler, but he was left without Controul in the Management of his own District.

Q. What do you understand to be the Office of a Foudjdar?
A. It is a mixed Office, both civil and military.

Q. Whether you do not understand, that this Establishment of Courts of Justice, as proposed by Mr. Hastings, was defeated by the Opposition of the Nabob, and the principal People of the Country?
A. In Consequence of Mr. Hastings's Instructions, I used all the Influence I was Master of, to get Courts of Justice established at Lucknow, and throughout the Country; but it was a Measure not cordially acceded to, either by the Nabob or his Ministers; and all my Endeavours proved abortive. Some Steps had been taken towards it, though very reluctantly, by the Nabob and his Ministers, when I was recalled from my Situation at Lucknow; whether it was accomplished by my Successor, Mr. Bristow, or not, afterwards, I cannot take upon me to say.

Q. Have you, from any Communication with Mr. Hastings at the Time, Reason to believe that Mr. Hastings urged that Measure seriously and earnestly?
A. He certainly did.

Q. (by a Manager). Was the Begum in Receipt of the Revenue of the Country of Oude, during the Life-time of Sujah Dowlah?

A. The

A. The Collections, I understand, as they were received, were sent to Fyzabad, and deposited in the Zenana.

Q. Did the respective Collectors transmit them to Fyzabad as they were received?
A. Yes. The Nabob, as I said before, had a public Treasurer, but he had not the Charge of any considerable Treasure, more than what was necessary for his domestick Use.

Q. Did the several Aumils, Collectors, and Officers of the Revenue, transmit their Collections to Fyzabad to the Zenana there, or to that Treasurer you have alluded to?
A. I apprehend they transmitted the Treasure to the Nabob's Minister.

Q. Who was the Nabob's Minister?
A. Ellich Cawn.

Q. Was he the Treasurer, or what you call the Treasurer, there?
A. No, he had a Treasurer besides.

Q. After they were transmitted to Ellich Cawn, what became of them?
A. The Revenues are always remitted in Bills upon the Houses of the Shroffs at Fyzabad; the Minister, as I apprehend, realized those Bills, and deposited the Treasure in the Zenana; this I apprehend to have been the Course: Your Lordships will understand too, the Nabob, Sujah ul Dowlah, made Fyzabad his Residence at that Time; Lucknow afterwards was the Place of Government of the present Nabob.

Q. Then Sujah ul Dowlah all his Life-time resided at Fyzabad?
A. Yes, it was his Capital.

Q. You spoke of two Orders, one by which the Nabob directed the Payment of a certain Sum of Money to a Mr. Gready, a Gentleman in your Employment; that Order was disputed, did you see that Order?
A. I saw the Nabob's Order.

Q. Did you see the Order which came from the Begum, in consequence of which the Money was actually paid?
A. I do not remember I did see it; I do not recollect I did see it.

Q. Then, how do you know that the Begum drew for that Money as if it was the Nabob's Property?
A. I mentioned that as Matter of Opinion, concluding it was so, from the Nabob's having previously given an Order for the same Purpose: I never saw the Begum's Order, but I was informed of the Circumstance by Mr. Gready, who was detained at Fyzabad till it arrived.

Q. Whether the Circumstance of the Nabob's Draft not having been answered, and the Begum's Draft immediately producing the Money, did not give you a Presumption it was the Begum's Money, and not the Nabob's?
A. My Presumption was, that it was the Nabob's.

Q. Whether that is not a Circumstance that indicates the contrary?
A. It is a Matter that I cannot positively affirm one Way or the other; my Belief certainly was, it was the Nabob's?

Q. Is it your Belief now?
A. Undoubtedly.

Q. Whether you do not know, that in the Disputes respecting the Treasure in which Mr. Bristow was concerned in the Years 1775 and 1776, it was admitted by the Nabob, that all the Treasures which were in the Zenana belonged to the Begum?
A. I cannot say I remember that Circumstance; it will appear by Mr. Bristow's Letters; if it is so, I do not recollect it.

Q. Was you ever apprized of the Circumstance of the Begum's having come to Sujah ul Dowlah after the Battle of Buxar, with all the Treasures she could bring for his Relief?
A. I understood she did come to Sujah ul Dowlah, after the Battle of Buxar, and brought with her Jewels and valuable Effects; I do not know there was any Treasure, but large Sums of Money were raised from them.

Q. And with a View of raising a large Sum of Money upon them?
A. I cannot say that was the View, but that was the Consequence.

Q. Was it not generally considered, that it was in part owing to this Instance of her Affection, that the Nabob, Sujah ul Dowlah, ever after shewed her particular Deference and Attention?
A. I certainly have heard such Reports; I cannot speak particularly to the Certainty of them.

Q. Was it not generally known, that it was through the Influence which the Bhow Begum possessed with Sujah ul Dowlah, that the present Nabob, Asoph ul Dowlah, was left his Heir?

A. That

A. That is a Matter I cannot exactly ſpeak to, not having been there at the Time of Sujah Dowlah's Death.

Q. Have you never converſed with Aſoph ul Dowlah on the Subject?
A. I am pretty certain that I have heard that reported too, but I cannot trace it to any Authority.

Q. Did you ever converſe with Aſoph ul Dowlah about it?
A. No, certainly not.

Q. Nor heard him allude to it?
A. No, I do not believe I ever heard it, till within theſe very few Days.

Q. Did you never hear it mentioned as a Thing generally known, that the Bhow Begum had ſaved the Life of her Son, the preſent Nabob?
A. I have heard that as a Report too, certainly.

Q. When did you hear that?
A. A great many Years ago.

Q. Recollect what the Number of Perſons were, whom you ſtated to be dependant upon the two Begums at Fyzabad, when you viſited Fyzabad in the Year 1778; the Women and Children, the Family of the deceaſed Nabob, and his Relations?
A. I cannot recollect; I beg Leave to refer to the Letters.

Q. Whether they were 2000, more or leſs, as near as you can recollect?
A. I cannot recollect with any Accuracy; I wiſh the Letter to be read.

Q. What Fund was there for the Maintenance and Education of the Children belonging to the Zenana?
A. There were Aſſignments given upon the Nabob's Revenue for their Maintenance.

Q. Do you not know that thoſe Aſſignments were not paid, and that you ſo ſtated it? Upon what Part of the Revenue, in ſhort, were thoſe Aſſignments?
A. I do not recollect the particular Diſtricts at this Time.

Q. Were they ever paid?
A. Some certainly were paid; but they were not regularly paid, undoubtedly.

Q. Do you know the Amount of the Whole of the Aſſignments?
A. I do not.

Q. Or of the Part that was paid?
A. I cannot ſay I do. The Aſſignments were given to the Perſon in charge of the Khourd Mahl, who had the receiving of the Money from the Aumils, and he made frequent Complaints that the Payment was not regularly made.

Q. Whether, taking this Body of Women and Children altogether, in both Eſtabliſhments of the Zenana and Khourd Mahl, a very great Sum, and what Sum, was neceſſary for their Maintenance and future Proviſion?
A. It is impoſſible for me to give an Anſwer to the Queſtion, without knowing in what Sort of State they were to be maintained.

Q. Then you do not know how they were maintained?
A. I do not know at all how they were maintained, nor the Number of Women, but from Information I had upon the Spot.

Q. But, according to that Information, do you know what theſe Expences ought to have been?
A. It would certainly have required a large Sum of Money.

Q. What is your Idea of a large Sum of Money, as applied to that Subject? Have you any Conception what the annual Eſtabliſhment, and the accidental Expences of ſetting them out in Life, would amount to?
A. No; I really cannot give any Opinion upon it. I know the Expence of the Khourd Mahl, which was never paid by either of the Begums, was very inconſiderable, compared to the Number of People that it was ſuppoſed were in it. So far as I have a Recollection of the Matter, I do not believe there ever were more than 50,000 Rupees collected for the Payment of the Women and Children of the Khourd Mahl.

Q. Paid by the Year, do you mean, or in the Whole?
A. By the Year.

Q. Are you aware of the Demands which the Eſtabliſhment of the Khourd Mahl, or the Zenana, would make upon the Nabob, for the Marriage of the Children, or of any other incidental Advance?
A. No; that is a Matter upon which I cannot venture to give any Opinion.

Q. Was

Q. Was it not, becauſe there was ſo ſmall a Sum collected and paid for the Khourd Mahl; was it not upon that Account, that the Burthen of maintaining them fell to the Elder Begum?
A. I muſt beg Leave to refer to my Letter upon that Subject.

Q. What was the Amount of the Plunder taken in the Rohilla War, ſuppoſed to be lodged in the Zenana?
A. I really cannot recollect what the Amount was; but I recollect undergoing an Examination upon the Subject at the Time, which I would rather refer to. It is ſo many Years ago, I cannot poſſibly recollect.

Q. An Examination where?
A. In Calcutta.

Q. Upon the Subject of the Rohilla War?
A. Yes.

Q. Is that upon Record?
A. Yes.

Q. What was the Debt due to the Company at the Death of Sujah Dowlah, for their Aſſiſtance in extirpating the Rohillas?
A. There were other Sums due from Sujah Dowlah, beſides that Sum. I ſuppoſe the Queſtion means the Stipulation for our Aſſiſtance in the Rohilla Campaign; that was 40 Lacks of Rupees.

Q. Had any Part of thoſe 40 Lacks of Rupees been paid, in the Lifetime of Sujah Dowlah?
A. It is difficult to diſtinguiſh; the Whole was thrown together. That Sum, and what he owed to the Company on other Accounts, was all included in One Account; and he made One Payment, upon that Account, of 15 Lacks of Rupees, before his Death.

Q. What Sum, do you ſuppoſe, remained due of fair Debts to the Company at the Time of Sujah Dowlah's Death?
A. I believe I have before informed you, as far as I can recollect, that it was between 40 and 50 Lacks of Rupees.

Q. Whether, in the Settlement in the Year 1775, the Nabob did not receive 56 Lacks from the Begum?
A. I was not there at the Time: I would rather refer to the Record.

Q. Do you not know that the Elder Begum had a Jaghire that ſhe held by a Sunnud from the Mogul, of the Nature you deſcribed before, the Ultumgah?
A. I have heard that ſhe had: I cannot aſcertain the Fact.

Q. Had not the Begum the ſame Right to maintain Troops for her Jaghires, as the Nabob had to maintain Troops in any Part of his Government?
A. That is a ſpeculative Queſtion: I could wiſh to be excuſed anſwering it: They had the ſame Right the other Jaghiredars had; whether that Right was equal to the Nabob's, I cannot ſay.

Q. Was it not as eſſential to the Eſtabliſhment of the Jaghires, that the Jaghiredars ſhould maintain Troops within their Diſtricts, as that the Nabob ſhould maintain Troops within the whole Province?
A. It was eſſential to the Collection, that they ſhould have a certain Number of Troops; but what Number was neceſſary for the Collection, it is impoſſible for me to ſay.

Q. Was there any Doubt of their Right to have Troops in their Forts, for the Collection of their Jaghires. Were the Troops ſuch as they naturally had upon the Eſtates they held, or were they of any other Deſcription?
A. At Fyzabad, I underſtand, they had a conſiderable Number of Troops at the Time we went there, beſides thoſe employed in the Collection of their Jaghires.

Q. But the general Eſtabliſhment of Troops, which they had upon their Jaghires, was ſuch as naturally flowed from the Conſtitution of the Jaghires?
A. Certainly.

Q. You have ſaid that Bahar Ali Cawn and Jewar Ali Cawn had offended the Nabob; do you not recollect that the Nabob was continually endeavouring to encroach upon the Jaghires, and the Rights of the Begums?
A. Certainly there was always a very great Contention between the Nabob and the Begum; ſhe occaſionally complained very much of his ſuffering his People to infringe upon her Rights; that was One of the great Complaints of the Begum againſt the Nabob.

Q. Do you know, or not, whether that Complaint was well founded?
A. I have known an Inſtance where the Nabob has not puniſhed his Servants for interfering with the Rights of the Begum. I have heard of Inſtances which I believed at the Time.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether it was not the Duty of the Begum's Miniſters, to oppoſe thoſe Encroachments?
A. I preſume it was their Duty to execute the Charge given to them, in the beſt Manner they could.

Q. Was it to watch over any Encroachments made upon their Eſtates, and to complain?
A. I ſhould preſume it was.

Q. Whether their Want of Favour with the Nabob, is not referable to that Particular amongſt others.
A. That might have been One Cauſe, undoubtedly.

Q. Do you know any other Cauſe the Nabob had, to complain of their Behaviour?
A. I know of nothing more than what I have heard from the Nabob himſelf; his Complaints were general.

Q. You have ſaid, that the Nabob frequently complained of the Jaghiredars; whether he has not more frequently complained of the Interference of the Engliſh, and that the Engliſh Gentlemen cauſed great Diſtreſs and Confuſion in his Government?
A. I have heard of ſuch Complaints, certainly; but I believe my Information is drawn from what is now before your Lordſhips, more than from any Complaints the Nabob made to me; at the ſame Time I do not mean to ſay, that the Nabob has not in ſome Inſtances complained in the Manner ſtated in the Queſtion.

Q. Whether he did not repreſent it, in negociating with Mr. Haſtings and you about the Treaty of Chunar, as an intolerable Burthen, and the Source of all his Diſtreſſes?
A. I do not recollect he did to me; what he did to Mr. Haſtings, I cannot ſay.

Q. Did he, or not, in any Converſation with you, complain of the Interference of the Engliſh in Matters of his Government, as a Grievance to his Country?
A. He has made ſuch Complaints to me, certainly.

Q. In the Treaty of Chunar, did he ſtipulate that all the Engliſh Gentlemen ſhould be removed except the Reſident?
A. I believe that was a Stipulation in the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. Upon what Ground did he proceed to urge that Stipulation?
A. I conceive the principal Ground was, to rid himſelf of the Expences of it.

Q. Upon what Ground did he ſtipulate to remove the temporary Brigade, upon the 19th of September.
A. That was upon the ſame Ground, I preſume, to get rid of the Expence.

Q. Was it not upon the 19th of September, that you ſtated the Rebellion raged moſt in his Country?
A. It was about that Time.

Q. Can you account for the Nabob's ſtipulating, that the Britiſh Army ſhould be withdrawn from his Dominions, at the Time the Rebellion exiſted?
A. I ſhould ſuppoſe his Intention was not to have the Britiſh Army removed, till the Rebellion was quelled, and the Diſturbances of the Country had ſubſided.

Then the following Paſſage of a Letter from the Vizier to Mr. Haſtings, dated 20th May 1781, was read:

"I have frequently written to you, that I cannot ſubmit to the Authority of the Two Gentlemen."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Do you know any thing of that Tranſaction?
A. I do not recollect ever ſeeing the Letter.

Q. Did you ever hear the Nabob ſpeak upon that Subject?
A. No; I cannot ſay I have.

Q. What Two Gentlemen were there in ſuch a Situation as to have afforded that Cauſe of Complaint?
A. The Letter itſelf mentions them by Name.

Q. Do you know the Names or not?
A. Certainly, Mr. Briſtow and Mr. Middleton.

Then

Then the following Extract from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book A, already delivered in, was read:

" Letter from Mr. Davy to Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire.

" Sir,

" I am directed by the Governor General to inform you, that the Bearer Holaus Raie, who attended here by your Orders, has been examined as to the Points on which he could give Information, and has now received Permiſſion to return.

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
(Signed) W^m Davy.
P. Perſ^n Tranſl."

" December 21ſt, 1781,
Benares.

" Nath^l Middleton Eſquire.

Then the Managers for the Commons requeſted, that the Examination of the Witneſs, relative to Hoolas Roy's Teſtimony, might be read. (a)

The ſame was read by the Clerk, as follows:

" Q. Do you know any Reaſon, why the Teſtimony of Hoolas Roy, who was ſent to be examined, does not appear; do you know of his being ſent to be examined?

" A. He was ſent—certainly ordered to attend.

" Q. Do you know whether he was in fact examined?

" A. I do not.

" Q. Do you know of any Reaſon, or have you heard from Mr. Haſtings, why he was not in fact examined?

" A. I have not."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. Whether you ever heard of any Reſiſtance, or Preparations for Reſiſtance, in any other Jaghire, than in that which was called Nabob Gunge?

A. I cannot recollect at this Time; if I were to read the Letters, I might ſee; I think, in all Probability, there were other Inſtances; I had no Doubt there were other Reſiſtances.

Q. Do you remember any Inſtance of actual Reſiſtance in any other Place, beſides Nabob Gunge.

A. Not any actual Reſiſtance, but only Threats to reſiſt.

Q. What Memory have you of any Preparations to reſiſt, in any other Place but that?

A. I have a Recollection of having written upon the Subject at the Time.

Then a Letter, dated Lucknow, 27th December 1781, was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he was aſked;

Q. Is that a publick or a private Letter?

A. It appears to me a publick Letter.

Q. Do you call it a publick Letter?

A. I do.

Then the following Extract was read, from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book, A, already delivered in.

" To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Court of the Vizier.

" Sir,

" I was favoured with yours of the 3d this Morning, and have the Pleaſure to repeat to you every Thing * perfectly quiet in this Purgunnah of Nabob Gunge.

* Sic in Orig.

(Signed at the End) " F. Naylor."

Then the Witneſs was aſked;

Q. (by Counſel.) Whether, in a Letter from Sir Elijah Impey, you had this Communication from the Begum or her Miniſter,—" If my Jaghire is touched, the whole Country ſhall go with it:"—Have you ſuch Remembrance?

A. I have, and beg Leave to refer to the Letter itſelf.

Q. Whether you have now any Recollection of the Fact of Hoolas Roy having made any Affidavit, or not?

A. I really recollect nothing at all further about it, than his being ordered down; nor did I recollect, till I had heard the Letters read from Mr. Haſtings and Mr. Davy, any Thing about it. I know nothing of his having made it, but what I draw from that Letter.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 731.

Q. Did Hoolas Roy inform you he had made any Affidavit?
A. He never did; or I ſhould have remembered it.

Q. Did he ever hold any Converſation with you about it?
A. I do not recollect he ever did.

Q. Whether there were Two leſſer Zenanas, or only One?
A. Only One.

Q. Whether the Children of Sujah Dowlah, if there were any, reſided in the Khourd Mahl?
A. Certainly.

Q. Were there any Children of Sujah Dowlah not reſiding in the Khourd Mahl?
A. Yes; there were many.

Q. Were there any diſtinct Aſſignments made for thoſe Children?
A. Yes; there were.

Q. Was that Proviſion either for the Children in the Khourd Mahl, or out of it, in any Manner under the Controul or Direction of the Begum?
A. Certainly not.

Q. What was that Proviſion?—What was the Proviſion for the Children, either within or out of the Khourd Mahl?
A. I have mentioned before, that the Proviſion for the Women and the Children within the Khourd Mahl was about 50,000 Rupees; for thoſe who were out of the Zenana, one was Mirza Saadit Ally, he had a Proviſion of Three Lacks of Rupees per Annum allowed him for his Maintenance.—There were ſeveral others, but I do not recollect what their Allowance was; they had ſome Allowances always, as I underſtand.

Q. Were thoſe Allowances under the Controul of the Britiſh Reſident?
A. No; he had nothing to do with them, except Mirza Saadit Ali; when he firſt came to the Nabob's Court, his Allowance was under the Controul of the Reſident, the Reſident had the Payment of it.

Q. How long did that continue?
A. A very ſhort Time after he went to Benares, the Reſident ceaſed to have any Thing to do with that Allowance for his Maintenance.

Q. In what Year was it he went down to Benares?
A. I think it was in 1778: I think ſo.

Q. After that Time, had the Reſident the Controul over the Funds aſſigned for the Maintenance of any Part of the Nabob's Family?
A. It conſtituted no Part of the Reſident's official Duty to ſuperintend the Khourd Mahl, or the Maintenance of the younger Branches of the Family.

Q. Did not you underſtand it as mere voluntary Humanity, when you interfered to make Application to the Nabob for ſuch Allowances; did you make Application for the Allowances to any Part of the Family?
A. I have occaſionally.

Q. Did you underſtand it to be a Part of your Duty, or did you do it from any particular Attention of your own to them?
A. Not from any Senſe of Duty at all; I did not conſider it a Part of my official Duty.

Q. Had you any Inſtructions from the Government upon that Subject?
A. Not particularly, that I recollect; I believe my Inſtructions, in general, were to pay all the Attention in my Power to every Branch of the Nabob's Family.

Then, the following Extract was read from Book 26, already delivered in, from a Conſultation of the 22d June 1780, beginning at Page 524 of the ſame Book.

"That when the Nabob ſhall arrive, I (Mr. Middleton) will procure ſuitable Allowances to be made to the Ladies of the Zenana, and the Children of the late Nabob Sujah ul Dowlah, and take care that they are paid (a)."

Q. (from a Lord.) I underſtood you, in the Examination of Yeſterday, to have ſaid, that your Letter Books, now in Court, were copied at Lucknow, and bound up afterwards elſewhere; is that ſo?
A. There were ſome copied at Lucknow, and ſome at Calcutta.

Q. Where were they bound up?
A. I believe they were principally bound up at Calcutta.

Q. You ſtated Yeſterday, that the Letters were copied before they were bound into the Books;

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 461; alſo Appendix, N° XX.

was that the Caſe with reſpect to all the Books, or only with reſpect to ſome of them. Were any of the Letters copied after the Book was bound up?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay whether they were or not; it is very poſſible they might have been, but I cannot take upon me to declare, whether they were ſo or not. I would wiſh again to repeat, that I never put thoſe Books in as compleat Copies of my Correſpondence; on the contrary, when I preſented them, I mentioned it to be otherwiſe: When I was called upon by the Commons, I was frequently able to reconcile the ſeeming Deficiency in it; but, at the ſame Time, I took an Opportunity of remarking, that I ſhould not have been ſurpriſed if ſuch Deficiency appeared; becauſe I never looked upon them to be compleat Copies of my Correſpondence, nor do I believe they are ſo.

Q. I want you to explain what you ſaid Yeſterday. A Book was ſhewn you, and it appeared, as ſtated to us, that the different Leaves of the Book were not all of an equal Length. You ſtated, in Anſwer, if I recollect right, and I wiſh to know whether I do recollect right, that the Reaſon was, becauſe the Letters were copied firſt on Sheets, and bound up in the Book afterwards?

A. That is the Caſe of a great many Letters, I have no Doubt; they are copied in ſeparate Sections of Paper, and afterwards put together.

Q. Can you ſay, whether that is the Caſe with reſpect to the Book marked D; and whether the Letters in that, were copied before the Book was bound, or copied into the Book after it was bound?

A. I really cannot take upon me to ſay, whether they were, or not.

Q. I underſtood you to have ſaid Yeſterday, that Mr. Haſtings's Anſwers to you were all in thoſe Books, to your Knowledge: Is it ſo?

A. No: Not all: All my publick Correſpondence with Mr. Haſtings I did ſuppoſe to be in thoſe Books, unleſs, from the ſame Cauſe, they are not complete.

Q. You ſay, not with reſpect to the private Correſpondence, but with reſpect to publick Correſpondence, they are all in ſome of thoſe Letter Books in the Court; then you make an Exception with reſpect to Inaccuracies of thoſe which are left out. Whether you mean to ſay poſitively, or negatively, that all the publick Letters of Mr. Haſtings are in ſome of thoſe Books?

A. I have no Doubt that they are; but, from the Circumſtances I have taken the Liberty of ſtating to your Lordſhips, I cannot affirm poſitively, they are; though, to the beſt of my Belief, there is every publick Letter I wrote or received, except thoſe delivered up, as I ſtated formerly.

Then the Book D was ſhewn to the Witneſs.

Q. Open the Book at Page 114; obſerve the different Circumſtances in it; firſt, the looſe Threads that follow Page 114, alſo the Catch-word at the End of the Page 114, and the Letter which begins in Page 114, and which has no Ending; I mean, no Ending in the Page bound up in that Book?

A. Yes: I obſerve all thoſe.

Q. Whether under all thoſe Circumſtances any Leaves, have or have not, been torn out of that Book?

A. It certainly appears that they have; I cannot account for the Circumſtance; thoſe Letters are dated juſt about the Time of my leaving Lucknow, and upon Mr. Briſtow's coming up there; many of thoſe that afterwards follow, were Letters written from Calcutta, and received in Calcutta?

Q. Look at thoſe looſe Leaves, and ſay when thoſe looſe Leaves were put into that Book, when they were copied?

A. Thoſe were certainly copied in Calcutta; I know it from the Hand Writing of the Letters.

Q. Do you know when they were copied?
A. No; I cannot ſay when.

Q. Do you know when they were put into the Book?
A. No; I do not, indeed.

Q. (from a Lord.) Do you know the Year when they were copied; I mean the looſe Leaves?
A. I take it for granted they were copied in the End of 1782.

Q. But what is the lateſt Period you can be poſitive they were copied?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay; the Date of the laſt Letter here is the 24th of November 1783.

Q. (from a Lord.) Were they copied ſo late as January laſt?
A. No; certainly not.

Q. Were they copied ſo late as January 1787?
A. No; certainly not.

Q. As January 1786?
A. No; certainly not.

Q. As

Q. As January 1785?
A. I muſt recollect when I left the Country; they were copied in Calcutta—the looſe Papers were all copied in Calcutta.

Q. The laſt looſe Papers, as well as the reſt, were copied in Calcutta?
A. The looſe Papers, as well as the reſt, were copied in Calcutta.

Q. I ſpeak of looſe Papers only; aſcertain the lateſt Period ſince which you are ſure they have not been copied?
A. I can only be ſure they have not been copied ſince I left Calcutta.

Q. When did you leave Calcutta?
A. In January 1784.

Q. Do you know whether they were copied the Year before you left Calcutta, or not?
A. It is impoſſible they could be, becauſe ſome of them are dated in the End of the Year 1783.

Q. You ſay, the looſe Leaves were copied in Calcutta: Where were the other Parts of the Books copied; whether at Calcutta, Lucknow, or elſewhere—particularly Page 114?
A. That, I have no Doubt, was copied at Lucknow.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that when the ſame Letter appears by that Book and by the Leaves that were added, upon Two Leaves, namely, the Page 114, which is in the bound Book, and upon 115, which is upon the looſe Leaves: Do you mean to ſay the ſame Letter was Part of it copied at Lucknow, and Part of it at Calcutta?
A. It certainly does appear ſo.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, you ſo underſtand it?
A. I certainly do; for I know this Part of the Letter was copied at Lucknow, and this at Calcutta: I know it from the Hand-writing.

Q. Is it the ſame Hand-writing?
A. No, it is not.

Q. Can you account, then, why a Part of the ſame Letter was copied at Lucknow, and another Part of the ſame Letter copied at Calcutta?
A. I have already remarked to your Lordſhips, that I cannot account for any Deficiency in the Correſpondence, further, than that I did not conſider it to be a complete Copy of the Correſpondence; and I never delivered it as ſuch. The Copies of thoſe Letters, I take it for granted, were made under the Direction, or the Inſpection, of Mr. Johnſon, whoſe Writer, I obſerve, has copied them.

Q. Which are thoſe?
A. The looſe Leaves.

Q. (from a Lord.) You have ſaid repeatedly, thoſe Books were made for your own private Uſe; being ſo, have they been in your own Cuſtody ever ſince you have been in England?
A. They have been, ever ſince I have been in England, in my own Cuſtody, till they were taken from me by Order of the Houſe of Commons.

Q. Whether, previous to your coming to England, between the Time of your leaving Calcutta and the Time of having received thoſe Books, they were in your Cuſtody; or, if not, in whoſe Cuſtody?
A. They certainly were not in my Cuſtody the whole Time; they were a conſiderable Part of the Time in Mr. Johnſon's Cuſtody. Mr. Johnſon himſelf had Charges preferred againſt him by the Governor General and Council; and there are ſeveral Letters written in this Book to which it was neceſſary he ſhould refer; and for that Purpoſe the Letter Books were put into his Cuſtody by me; how long they remained there, I cannot pretend to ſay.

Q. Were they put into his Cuſtody by you?
A. By me.

Q. But you ſay, ever ſince you have been in England, they have always been in your Cuſtody, until they were delivered to the Houſe of Commons?
A. Yes.

Q. Whether you have had preſent Occaſion to look at it, or never to have uſed it ſince it has been in England?
A. I have looked at it occaſionally.

Q. Do you recollect to have obſerved, whether thoſe looſe Leaves were in, when you firſt looked at it?
A. I cannot ſay I have any poſitive Recollection upon the Subject, but I have no Doubt they were.

Q. I underſtand you to have ſaid, you do not recollect having been preſent when the Affidavits were ſworn to before Sir Elijah Impey; but I wiſh to aſk, Whether you ever did introduce to Sir Elijah Impey any of the Perſons who went to make Depoſitions or ſolemn Declarations before him?

A. At this Diſtance of Time, I cannot take upon me to ſay, I might not introduce ſome Gentlemen that made Affidavits. Myſelf and the reſt of the Gentlemen went Twenty Miles to meet Sir Elijah Impey; I introduced to him every Gentleman that was with me at the Time.

Q. Whether you ever carried any of them, in order to their making their Affidavits?

A. Moſt certainly not.

Q. Who is the Perſon ſtated in One of the Affidavits to be the Rajah of Gwallior? What is his Name, do you know?

A. I apprehend it is a Miſtake. It cannot be Gwallior; that is at a very conſiderable Diſtance from the Scene of Action. That is One of the Forts belonging to the Mahrattas.

Q. Do you know who is meant by that Name to the Affidavit?

A. I do not know.

Q. There is a French Affidavit of One Jean Honore Mordelait, Private of the Company of Chaſſeurs. Then there is an Engliſh Tranſlation; but the French ſays, 'qu'ils fûrent entourés 'pendans deux Heures qu'ils y reſtérent par environ deux ou trois mille Gens qui les inſultérent 'groſſiérement, et particuliérement les accuſa * d'avoir aſſaſſiné le Raja de Gualier;'(a) and, as that is tranſlated in the Engliſh, 'particularly accuſed them of having aſſaſſinated the Rajah of Gwal-'lior:'(b) do you know who is meant by this?

* Sic in Orig.

A. I do not know any Place of that Name, but the One I have mentioned.

Q. Do you know who is meant?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know of ſuch a Perſon as the Rajah Muſtapha Khan?

A. I have heard of ſuch a Perſon.

Q. Of what Country was he Rajah?

A. He was a Rajah, or had been a Rajah, either in Baraitch or Goruckpore; but in which particular Place, I cannot juſt now recollect.

Q. In what Country is the Place called Gwallior? Where is that Place? In what Country?

A. That is in the Mahratta Country.

Q. Do you know of ſuch a Perſon as the Rajah Guggat Sing?

A. No, I do not.

Then the Witneſs's Letter Book, marked A, was ſhewn him, and he was aſked,

Q. Do there appear to be any Leaves torn out at the End of that Book?

A. There are looſe Leaves in this as well as in the others. I cannot ſay whether there have been any torn out, or not. It does not appear to me there have. I muſt once for all obſerve, if I had expected ſo ſtrict an Examination concerning theſe Books, I ſhould moſt certainly have taken better Means to aſcertain the State of them.

Q. Whether there is not a looſe Thread, which ſhews ſome Leaves taken out? Does it ſo appear to you?

A. It is a Matter upon which any Body can judge as well as myſelf: It does not appear to me they have.

Q. Do you not ſuppoſe thoſe looſe Leaves did form a Part of that Book, and that they have either been torn or dropt out?

A. They do not appear ever to have been bound up with the Book, as far as my Obſervation goes?

Q. Look at the Date of the laſt Letter in that Book, and the Date of the firſt Letter among the looſe Leaves.

A. I have looked at them.

Q. Do the looſe Leaves appear to be a Continuation of the Correſpondence in the bound Part of the Book?

A. Yes; they do.

Q. Name the Dates: here are two of the 19th of October, and then comes one of the 20th of the ſame Month: What is the Date of the laſt Letter bound in the Book?

A. The 19th of October.

Q. The next is a Letter of the 19th, and the next the 20th: Is it ſo?

A. Yes; it is.

Q. Now look at the Water Mark of this Paper, and the Water Mark of the other; are they the ſame Paper?

A. They are certainly not the ſame Paper.

Then the following Letter from Major Gilpin to Mr. Middleton was read, from the ſame Book, beginning at Page 119.

" To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" The incloſed Letter from the Bow Begum is in reply to yours, which I delivered on my Return to this Place.

" She obſerves to me, that her Situation is truly pitiable, her Eſtate ſequeſtered, her Treaſury ranſacked, her Cojahs Priſoners, and her Servants deſerting daily from her for want of Subſiſtence; that ſhe has ſolicited the Loan of Money, to ſatisfy the Demands of the Company, from every Perſon that ſhe imagined would or could aſſiſt her with any; but the Opulent will not liſten to her Adverſity. She did hope the Wardrobe that was ſent to Lucknow might have ſold for at leaſt one Half of the Company's Demands on her, but even Jewelry and Gold ſhe finds (from woeful Experience) loſes its Value the Moment it is known they come from her.

" That ſhe has now ſolicited the Loan of Caſh from Almaſs Ally Cawn, and if ſhe fails in this Application, ſhe has no Hopes of ever borrowing a Sum equal to the Demand.

" She thanks you kindly for your Friendſhip towards her, and hopes you will lay the Copies of thoſe original Letters, which I gave you to read, before the Honourable the Governor General and Supreme Council, to convince them, that the Information they received reſpecting any rebellious Principles on her Part, at the Time of Cheyt Sing's, was wicked and without Foundation.

" The above, Sir, is the Subſtance of Converſation, on her Part, to the urging Arguments which I have uſed to obtain the Balance.

" I have the Honour to be,
Sir,
Your, &c. &c.
(Signed) Martin Gilpin,
Major Commandant."

" Camp, at Fyzabad,
19th October 1782.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Where are the Encloſures from Major Gilpin mentioned in that Letter; and how come they not to appear in that Book?

A. The Encloſures from Major Gilpin were Letters from Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon, of which I took Copies; at this Time I was juſt leaving Lucknow; I took Copies and left them in the Office at Lucknow; the Originals I returned.

Q. Whether, if thoſe Encloſures had been copied in that Book, they would not have immediately followed the Place in that Letter Book, inſtead of thoſe Leaves?

A. Thoſe Encloſures were Perſian Letters. If I had made Tranſlations of them, I ſhould in all Probability have let them follow the Letters themſelves; but I believe it will not be found that there is a Tranſlate of a Perſian Letter throughout the whole Book; it was not my Method to put them in.

Q. What were the Copies of the Letters you left at Lucknow, of which you ſtate you returned the Originals; in what Language?

A. In Perſian.

Q. Were the Copies left in Perſian?

A. In Perſian.

Q. Have you not conſtantly been uſed, and was it not your Duty, to tranſlate Perſian Correſpondence, and to leave the Engliſh Copies in the Office?

A. It was not the Practice of the Office.

Q. How came Major Gilpin by the Engliſh Copies of that Correſpondence?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay; Major Gilpin in all Probability may be able to inform your Lordſhips; I do not know.

Q. (by Counſel.) Where is Major Gilpin?

A. In London.

Q. (by the Managers.) By what Means did you underſtand the Contents of thoſe Letters, or how were you to lay them before the Governor General, if they were not tranſlated?

A. I conceived I was to lay the Originals themſelves before the Governor General. I imagined that was the Intention; but being removed juſt at this Time from my Situation at Lucknow, I thought I fulfilled my Duty, in taking Copies of the Letters, and leaving thoſe Copies in the Office. I believe the Letters were returned back into Major Gilpin's Hands, to be delivered to the Begum.

Q. Were thoſe the Letters you copied in Perſian?
A. Thoſe were the Letters I copied in Perſian.

Q. Do you mean to ſwear, you had no Tranſlation made of thoſe Letters?
A. I do not remember that I had, and I am pretty certain I had not; I had not Time for it.

Q. Then how did you come to the Knowledge of the Contents?
A. I underſtand the Perſian Language enough to read them and underſtand them.

Q. Did you copy them yourſelf in Perſian?
A. No, not myſelf.

Then the abovementioned Letter, from Major Gilpin to the Witneſs, dated the 19th of October, was read again.

Q. (from a Lord). There was a Letter from the Bhow Begum, encloſed together with other Letters, which were to vindicate her Conduct reſpecting her Part of the Rebellion, all to be tranſmitted to the Governor General and Council; were the Copies tranſmitted to the Governor General and Council?

A. No, they were not by me; I was juſt at that Time giving up my Situation to Mr. Briſtow at Lucknow; what I did, therefore, was to take Copies and leave them in the Office.

Q. (from a Lord). Having received ſuch an expreſs Requeſt from the Bhow Begum, to tranſmit them to the Governor and Council, had you not Leiſure enough, between the Receipt of them and your Departure from Lucknow, to have given Directions to have thoſe Copies ſent to Calcutta?

A. There certainly was, if it had occurred to me as immediately neceſſary. I took it for granted, my Succeſſor would do what was right reſpecting the Letters.

Q. Why did you not, as you yourſelf were going to Calcutta, carry theſe Papers with you?
A. It did not occur to me to do it.

Q. (from a Lord). How long was it after the Receipt of this Letter from Major Gilpin, that you left the Reſident's Office at Lucknow?
A. I cannot ſay to a Day; it was immediately upon it, almoſt.

Q. Was it a Week?
A. In leſs than a Week.

Q. Was Mr. Briſtow arrived in Lucknow before you left Lucknow?
A. Yes, he was.

Q. How long?
A. About Two Days. I ſtaid there about Two Days after his Arrival.

Q. You have ſaid, that you knew the Contents of theſe Letters, from the Knowledge you had of the Perſian Language; did Colonel Hannay, to your Knowledge, underſtand the Perſian Language?
A. I do not know that he could read it; I believe he underſtood it when it was read to him.

Q. Did Major M'Donald underſtand the Perſian Language?
A. I do not know; I rather think he did; I think that he had ſome Knowledge of it.

Q. Are you ſure of that?
A. I am not ſure.

Q. Did Captain Williams underſtand the Perſian Language?
A. I really do not know.

Q. Did Captain Gordon underſtand it?
A. Captain Gordon, I believe, did very well.

Then the following Extract of a Letter, from Mr. Haſtings to the Witneſs, dated Chunar, 15th November 1781, was read.

" Reſpecting the Levies made at Fyzabad, the March of Shake Cawn with a Force declared for the Service of Cheit Sing, the public Invitations of Jewar Ally Cawn, the Certificates under the Seal of Cheyt Sing, in the Poſſeſſion of the Zemindars of Gorookpoor and Baraick, his Letters to the Begums or their Miniſters, the Plan concerted for the Extirpation of the Engliſh, I muſt earneſtly recommend it to you to obtain ſuch Evidence as can be required reſpecting each of theſe Points, whether ſuch Evidence ſhall aſcertain or refute, or qualify their Reality; and, if it be poſſible, to gain Poſſeſſion, of the original Letters and Certificates, ſaid to have been written by Cheyt Sing, as aboveſaid.

" You will be careful to aſcertain the Dates and Places of Facts, and the Names, and Places, and Perſons, in the Depoſitions taken, that their Evidence may not be defective or ambiguous from the Want of Preciſion.

" Reſpecting the Murders ſaid * ſaid to have been committed at Gopeegunge, I have already written to you, and now ſend you a Duplicate of my Letter on that Subject. * Sic in Orig.

" I alſo ſend you the Form of a Caption, or Introduction to each Depoſition, of which you will be pleaſed to furniſh Copies to each of the Engliſh Gentlemen who ſhall have Occaſion for the Uſe of them. The Depoſitions of the native Witneſſes muſt be written in the Languages which they underſtand, and muſt be verified on Oath, and ſigned; or, if they ſhall object to the Oath as contrary to their religious Tenets, they muſt be required to ſubſcribe ſuch a ſolemn Atteſtation as ſhall be equivalent to the Sanction of an Oath, and add your Signatures to it.

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
(Signed) Warren Haſtings." (a)

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Did you not underſtand this to be a Direction to you, perſonally to be acquainted with the Purport of the Depoſitions then to be taken?

A. No, I did not underſtand it in that Extent, certainly: I underſtood it only as a general Inſtruction.

Q. Weigh your Anſwer a little. The Words are—" You will be careful to aſcertain the Dates " and Places of Facts, and the Names, and Places, and Perſons, in the Depoſitions taken, that " their Evidence may not be defective or ambiguous, from the Want of Preciſion."—Upon reading that again, do you, or not, underſtand the Duty put upon you was, to ſee that the ſeveral Depoſitions that were to be taken under that Authority, ſhould be exact in all thoſe Points?

A. It is more particularly worded, certainly, than I hitherto before underſtood it. I underſtood it only as a general Inſtruction for the Form of the Affidavits that were to be taken; and having communicated it to Colonel Hannay, who was the Commanding Officer of all the Gentlemen that were to depoſe, I thought I had fulfilled the Line of my Duty.

Q. Do you know, upon your further Recollection, or wiſh to have it underſtood, that the Whole of your Duty was performed, by only communicating the Letter to Colonel Hannay?

A. I certainly wiſh your Lordſhips to underſtand it. I wiſh to give you every Information I am capable of giving; I have informed you, to the beſt of my Recollection and Knowledge, what I did; if I have failed in my Duty, I am in the Judgment of your Lordſhips.

Q. (from a Lord). There is another Part of the Letter which ſays: " The Depoſitions of the Native Witneſſes muſt be written in the Languages which they underſtand, and muſt be verified on Oath, and ſigned; or if they ſhall object to the Oath, as contrary to their religious Tenets, they muſt be required to ſubſcribe ſuch a ſolemn Atteſtation, as ſhall be equivalent to the Sanction of an Oath; and add your Signatures to it."—Now, Colonel Hannay not underſtanding (as you ſay) the Perſian Language, ſo as to read it, how could you be made certain, through the Communication of Colonel Hannay, that any one of thoſe Witneſſes did, in fact, underſtand what they put their Names to?

A. At the Time I communicated that Letter to Colonel Hannay for his Inſtructions, I did not know whether any Natives, or who, were to make their Depoſitions upon this Subject.

Q. Do you know whether any Natives, in fact, did make Depoſitions upon that Subject?

A. I knew it only from the Narrative of Mr. Haſtings afterwards; I do not recollect that I knew, or had heard before, that any Natives made Depoſitions.

Q. You ſaid you was with Sir Elijah Impey at the Time; refer to the Affidavits, and ſee whether Seven Natives did not make Depoſitions upon the 26th of November, and you yourſelf make your own Depoſition upon the 27th of November: Were you ignorant of thoſe Seven Natives having made Depoſitions the Day before you depoſed?

A. Certainly: Sir Elijah Impey and myſelf reſided in different Houſes, he received his Viſitors without my Knowledge, or my Introduction.

Q. Did you know nothing of this going on, only except ſimply that you made your own Affidavit?

A. I knew that Colonel Hannay and his Officers were making Affidavits. At the ſame Time, I can ſay I certainly did not know who was to make Affidavits before Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. Do you remember, whether Sir Elijah Impey dined with you upon the Day you made your Affidavit?

A. I do not recollect whether he did or not.

Q. Did you underſtand that the Witneſſes prepared their own Affidavits?
A. Yes; the Britiſh Officers, I underſtood, prepared their own.

Q. As to the Natives, you know nothing of it?
A. No, I do not.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 630.

Q. You

Q. You did not know, at the Time Sir Elijah Impey was at Lucknow, that any Natives had made Affidavits?

A. I cannot ſay I poſitively knew it; I might have heard of it. I really cannot ſay I poſitively knew it, that any Native had made an Affidavit before Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. Whether, in the Execution of other Parts of your Inſtructions, you did not do the material Buſineſs yourſelf? I mean, whether, when you was inſtructed in other Points, you left it to Colonel Hannay, or any other Perſon?

A. I have occaſionally left other Parts of my Duty to another Perſon, to my Aſſiſtant, moſt certainly.

Q. Whether, in executing thoſe Parts of your Inſtructions that related to the Reſumption of the Jaghires, and the Seizure of the Begums Treaſure, you executed them yourſelf, or left them to any other Perſon?

A. As far as appears before your Lordſhips, I certainly executed them myſelf in Perſon; I did not entruſt them to any Body elſe.

Q. (by a Manager.) You have ſaid, the Originals were ſent to you, and that you made Perſian Copies of them, and left them in your Office; whether that was the Cuſtom of your Office ever to take a Perſian Copy of a Perſian Letter, or whether it was not the invariable Courſe to have a Tranſlate of all the Perſian Correſpondence, and to enter the Engliſh Copy?

A. It was not the invariable Cuſtom of my Office, and I believe it was a Cuſtom uſed in very few Inſtances indeed. From the Number of Perſian Letters the Reſident received, it was impoſſible he could tranſlate them. Such as were of Conſequence, and neceſſary to ſend down to the Governor General and Council at Calcutta, were occaſionally tranſlated.

Q. Whether all the Letters that were thought of Conſequence enough to be tranſmitted to Calcutta, were not invariably tranſlated, to be ſo tranſmitted?

A. I believe the Practice was both Ways; occaſionally a Perſian Copy, and occaſionally a Tranſlation, was ſent: The Cuſtom, in either Caſe, was not invariable.

Q. If either of thoſe Two Modes were purſued, whether your leaving Copies in the Office would not have led your Succeſſor to have imagined they had been tranſmitted to Calcutta?

A. Moſt likely not, as he would have perceived, from the Publick Correſpondence, there was no Mention of their having been ſo ſent to Calcutta.

Q. Will you poſitively ſwear, that Mr. Gilpin did not bring you Engliſh Copies with thoſe original Letters from the Begums?

A. I am as poſitive as I can be to any Circumſtance, at this Diſtance of Time: Major Gilpin is in London at this Time, and I wiſh him to be aſked. As far as my own Memory goes, moſt undoubtedly he did not.

Q. Whether the original Perſian Letters were brought to you only by Major Gilpin from the Bhow Begum?

A. To the beſt of my Memory, only the Originals.

Q. In a Letter from the Bhow Begum to Mr. Briſtow, ſhe ſays, "the Letters of Thanks "I received from both theſe Gentlemen, are ſtill in my Poſſeſſion; Copies of which I gave "in charge to Major Gilpin, to be delivered to Mr. Middleton, that he might forward them "to the Governor General. To be brief, thoſe who have loaded me with Accuſations, are "now clearly convicted of Falſehood. But is it not extraordinary that, notwithſtanding the "Juſtneſs of my Cauſe, Nobody relieves my Misfortunes. Why did Major Gilpin return with-"out Effect?"—Upon what Ground was it, that, Four or Five Days afterwards, the Begum ſhould write to Mr. Briſtow in the Manner ſhe did? How do you underſtand that Expreſſion of the Begum's—"Why did Major Gilpin return without Effect?"

A. It is impoſſible I can give any Conſtruction to it. I wiſh, for my Satisfaction, as my Teſtimony ſeems to be doubted, Major Gilpin himſelf may be aſked, whether he brought Copies or not.

Q. Whether, to the beſt of your Remembrance and Belief, you declare the Book D, to be now in the ſame State in which you received it from the Bookbinder at Calcutta?

A. To the beſt of my Belief it is. But I muſt ſtill beg an Allowance for what I have already ſtated: To the beſt of my Belief, they are in the ſame State as I received them from the Bookbinder in Calcutta, with the Addition of theſe Leaves afterwards.

Q. Did you ever receive a Book from the Bookbinder in that mutilated State, with a great Number of looſe Strings to which no Leaves were attached?

A. It will be neceſſary for me to look at ſuch Books as I may have received from the Bookbinders, before I can anſwer that Queſtion.

Q. But if, inſtead of being intire and perfect, a Bookbinder had ſent you a Book, a broken Book, and Strings out of it, would it not have occurred to you to have obſerved upon the Circumſtance?

A. Moſt certainly it would.

Q. Did

Q. Did you obſerve any ſuch Circumſtance when this Book was ſo delivered?
A. I cannot ſay I did: The Bookbinders in that Country and in this are upon a very different Footing.

Q. But if a Bookbinder in that Country had ſent you a Book with looſe Threads ſtanding out, and Part of the Contents of it, would you not have thought it a very ſlovenly Thing?
A. Certainly.

Q. Did any ſuch Thing ſtrike you, when theſe Books were received?
A. No: I cannot ſay it did; but theſe Strings may have been left for Letters to be ſubſequently copied. I cannot pretend to ſay, as I already informed your Lordſhips; I cannot give any account of the State of thoſe Books farther than I have already done.

Q. You ſtated, in a former Part of your Evidence, that you left your official Correſpondence at Lucknow in a complete State, and that you took not complete, but partial Copies, of that Correſpondence for your own Uſe. One Part of the Letter is copied at Lucknow, and the other Part at Calcutta: What I wiſh to aſk is, by what Means they had, at Calcutta, a Copy, from which to make a Tranſcript of that Part of the Letter which was copied at Calcutta, in the Book D, on the looſe Leaves?
A. It muſt have been in the Book, no Doubt.

Q. In the Book itſelf?
A. In the Book itſelf.

Q. Then it muſt have been torn out?
A. I ſuppoſe ſo: I cannot account, by any Circumſtance, in what Manner it has been torn out, or in what Manner thoſe looſe Leaves have been ſupplied.

Q. But I underſtand you to ſay, as to the Letter, which is now in Two different Shapes, that the Remainder muſt have been copied from a Letter that exiſted in the Book?
A. I ſuppoſe it muſt have been in the Book.

Q. Can you give any Account of that Letter having been torn out of the Book, in order to be tranſcribed upon the looſe Leaves?
A. I cannot: I can only declare moſt poſitively, it was not torn out by me, or with my Knowledge, or by any Body with my Conſent. The Book, as I before obſerved to your Lordſhips, was ſome Time in the Cuſtody of Mr. Johnſon and his Writers, in Calcutta.—I will farther inform your Lordſhips, I moſt firmly believe, thoſe Books contain all the publick Letters that were ever written upon that Subject. Notwithſtanding the State in which they appear, I believe there is no publick Letter whatever deſtroyed: that is my Belief.

Q. Do you make that Declaration upon a careful and accurate Peruſal of the whole Correſpondence, or upon what other Ground?
A. Upon my own Belief founded upon this, that I cannot aſſign any Motive for the Deſtruction of any one of thoſe Letters.

Q. Did you, upon your Arrival at Calcutta, communicate, either to the Council, or the Governor General, the Subſtance or Contents of the Letters which came from the Bow Begum, that were tranſmitted to you by Major Gilpin?
A. I do not recollect that I did.

Q. What Inducement had you for ſuppreſſing from the Knowledge of the Governor General and Council, that which the Bow Begum conſidered as ſo material to her Defence and Juſtification?
A. I had no Inducement or Motive whatever. When I delivered up my Office at Lucknow, I conſidered it as the Duty of my Succeſſor, Mr. Briſtow, to deliver thoſe Letters, and make what Uſe of them he thought proper.

Q. In a Letter, dated December 6th 1781, do you remember the Words "the Meaſure heretofore propoſed will ſoon follow the Reſumption of the Jaghires"—Do you remember that Paſſage in the Letter?
A. I do.

Q. What did you underſtand was the Meaſure heretofore propoſed?
A. The ſeizing of the Begum's Treaſures.

Q. What do you underſtand by, "heretofore;" was it prior or ſubſequent to the Treaty of Chunar?
A. Long after the Concluſion of the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. How do you underſtand, that in a Letter of yours, of the 6th of December, in Anſwer to the Communication made to you, by Sir Elijah Impey, in which you uſe the Words, "the Meaſure heretofore propoſed," and that "heretofore" being neceſſarily prior to the Date of the Order, communicated by Sir Elijah Impey, it could be long ſubſequent to the Treaty of Chunar?
A. The Treaty of Chunar was concluded the 19th of September, and this was in December.

Q. Repeating

Q. Repeating thoſe Orders ſo received, and mentioning this particular Meaſure, under the Deſcription of a Meaſure heretofore propoſed; how can you ſtate it to have been long ſubſequent to the Treaty of Chunar? What do you mean by the Words, "long ſubſequent to the Treaty of Chunar?"

A. I mean ſome Months.

Q. By, the Meaſure heretofore propoſed, am I to underſtand you had any Knowledge of the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſures, previous to the Communication made by Sir Elijah Impey?

A. Not from Mr. Haſtings, certainly. I have obſerved, in my former Examination upon this Subject, that I recollect having a Converſation with the Vizier, or his Miniſter, or both, upon the Subject; but from Mr. Haſtings I certainly had not.

Q. Then you mean, heretofore propoſed by the Nabob, or any other Perſon?

A. I refer it to the Propoſition of the Nabob.

Q. You ſtated, that the Nabob had repeatedly declared to you the Nabob's Opinion of his Right to take the Begum's Treaſures; did the Nabob ground his Opinion of this Right upon any Circumſtances of the Begum's ſuppoſed Rebellion to him the Nabob?

A. He did not plead that as the Foundation of his Right; but that it was his Right by the Laws and Cuſtoms of the Country.

Q. (by the Managers.) If it was uſual for the Princes of Indoſtan to demand of the Jageedars the Overplus of the Produce of the Jagheerdary beyond the Rent at which they were granted?

A. I believe it is not uſual.

Q. Whether you recollect any Inſtance of it, and what?

A. I have ſome Recollection of the Nabob's making a Claim of that Sort upon Fyzoolla Cawn.

Q. Was that Claim upon Fyzoolla Cawn a total Reſumption of the Whole, or only of the Surplus of the Produce beyond the Rent at which it was granted?

A. I believe the Nabob's Wiſh was to reſume the whole Jaghire, and to have allowed Fyzoolla Cawn the Amount for which it was originally granted in Money.

Q. If either the Perſons who copied the Letters, or the looſe Papers in the Books, are now in England?

A. I believe not; they will be found to be copied in Four or Five different Hand-writings: Some were copied by the Natives of the Country; the others by the Black Portugueſe. I do not know that either of them are in England.

Q. Is Mr. Johnſon in England?

A. No.

Q. You ſaid, if you had known you ſhould have been examined ſo ſtrictly upon this Point, you would have endeavoured to have got better Information upon the Subject. What better Information could you now get upon it?

A. I believe my Anſwer has been miſtaken; my Obſervation upon it, and my Meaning was, that if I had expected ſo ſtrict an Examination of the Papers, I ſhould have taken care they ſhould have been in a State more proper for your Lordſhips Inſpection.

Q. You have ſtated, that the Nabob claimed a Right to the Treaſures in the Poſſeſſion of the Begums; whether, after the Treaty in 1775, the Begum was underſtood to have obtained a perfect Right to thoſe Treaſures when ſhe had given up Fifty-ſix Lacks to her Son?

A. Certainly: ſhe underſtood herſelf to have a perfect Right to them, as they were guaranteed to her by her Agreement between the Nabob and the Engliſh.

Q. Was that perfect Right allowed by the Nabob?

A. I cannot ſay it was entirely; he certainly would have taken her Treaſures from her, or ſome Part of them at leaſt, if he had not conceived we ſhould have prevented him: that was my Opinion of his Diſpoſition.

Q. Then, the Nabob had never renounced his Claim to his Treaſures?

A. He certainly renounced them by his Agreement with the Begum.

Q. Whether when it is ſtated, that the Begum had a Right to all the Effects in the Zenana, that extended to all the Effects there, Treaſures, and others, or only to her perſonal Effects?

A. To the Nabob's publick Treaſure, which I underſtood to be in the Zenana.

Q. Was her Right then eſtabliſhed upon the Treaty of September 1775?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. You have ſtated, that a certain Perſon at Calcutta copied the looſe Leaves that are now in Court; if he copied them, he muſt have copied them from ſomething; from what did he copy thoſe looſe Leaves? Did you mean to ſay, that the Perſon who copied the looſe Papers, muſt have copied it from a Leaf in the Book at the Time he took the Copy?

A. I ſhould ſuppoſe it could be no otherwiſe.

Q. If

Q. If all thoſe Letters, now copied upon the looſe Leaves, were at that Time in the Book, and the Book compleat, why did you cauſe that Copy to be made upon the looſe Leaves; did you cauſe a Copy of the looſe Leaves to be made?

A. I do not recollect I did: the Letters are, by their Dates, Letters I received or wrote after I arrived in Calcutta.

Q. I underſtand you ſaid this Book was for your Uſe, was it not you who cauſed that Book to be copied?

A. Certainly, I gave Directions for it to be copied.

Q. Did you, or did you not, give any ſpecial Directions for thoſe looſe Leaves to be copied?
A. I do not recollect that I did give any ſpecial Directions about it.

Q. Who was the Perſon that copied them, do you know the Hand?
A. They are in Two different Hands, Two Black Portugueſe Writers.

Q. Who did thoſe Writers belong to, in whoſe Service?
A. The one was in Mr. Johnſon's, the other in my Pay, at Calcutta.

Q. What are the Names of thoſe Perſons?
A. I cannot recollect their Names at this Time.

Q. Are they in England?
A. No, certainly not.

Q. (by Counſel.) How ſoon after you received the Orders of the Houſe of Commons, for the Production of thoſe Books, did you comply with that Order?

A. The next Day, to the beſt of my Recollection.

Q. Whether, at any Time ſince you left Calcutta, you have, directly or indirectly, altered, or procured to be altered, or permitted or known of any Alteration being made, in any Manner whatever, in it?

A. No, certainly not.

Q. Have you known of any Alteration, ſince you left Calcutta?
A. No.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Martis, 20° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would now proceed very ſhortly to ſhew, that whatever the Circumſtances of the Danger might have been pretended to be in the Dominions of Oude, before the Time of ſigning the Treaty of Chunar, yet, after that Time, and after the Seizure of the Treaſures was determined upon, no State Neceſſity whatſoever exiſted, upon which the Defendant could pretend to juſtify that Meaſure.

NUM. 4. B.

" Copy of a Letter from the Governor General to Colonel Muir; dated Chunar, the 10th of September 1781.

" To Colonel Muir.

" Sir,

" I have lately ſent you Diſpatches in Duplicate, containing Inſtructions and full Powers for negociating and concluding a Treaty of Peace with Mahdajee Scindia, either for himſelf ſeparately, or with a Reſervation in favour of the Peaſhwa, in caſe it ſhould be agreed to include him as a Party in the Treaty. I have ſince received Intelligence that one of my Diſpatches has been intercepted, and it is not unlikely that the other may meet with the ſame Fate. I have alſo ſent a ſecond Letter, of the ſame Subſtance with the firſt, but without Credentials. As the preſent Opportunity promiſes a more ſafe Conveyance, I now ſend you a Duplicate of my laſt Letter of Inſtructions, together with a more full and regular Commiſſion than it was before in my Power to forward to you.

" I had Yeſterday the Pleaſure to receive your Letter of the 17th ultimo. The one which you mention to have written on the 13th has not reached me; I imagine it has fallen into the Hands of Cheit Sing's People. It is with great Satisfaction I obſerve, from the Deputation of Chimnajee Row, that Mahadjee Sindia has in ſome Degree anticipated the Overtures of this Government, and that the general Expreſſions of a Deſire of Peace, uſed at his firſt Interview with Mr. Ford, indicate a Diſpoſition ſo conſonant with our own. If Sindia ſhould urge the Return of your Detachment beyond the Boundaries of his Dominions, I ſee no Objection to this Condition being granted; on the contrary, I deſire it. There can be no Uſe for the Continuance of the Detachment after Peace is concluded, nor will there be any Thing in the ſmalleſt Degree diſhonourable in agreeing to its Return.

" The Objects of its Equipment were, to divert Mahdajee Sindia from the Operations on the other Side of India, or to withdraw him from the Alliance of the Miniſters of the Peaſhwa; and theſe Objects having been effected, its Return becomes a natural Conſequence.

" We are under no Engagements to protect the preſent Dominions of the King, nor thoſe of Nudjiff Khan and the Rajah of Jaynagur; and if Peace is ſettled betwixt Mahdajee Sindia and us, I do not deſire that he ſhould be reſtrained in carrying into Execution any Plans which he may have formed againſt them; at the ſame Time, I think it neceſſary to caution you againſt inſerting any Thing in the Treaty which may expreſsly mark either our Knowledge of his Views or Concurrence in them. It will be ſufficient for us (and Sindia ought to be ſatisfied with the Latitude implied in it), if he is only reſtricted in the Treaty from making Encroachments on our own Territories

tories and thoſe of our Allies, the Nabob Vizeer, the Ranah of Ghode, and Futteh Sing Guycwar: For theſe, an expreſs Proviſion muſt be made. He muſt in direct Terms engage, that he will never invade, or in any reſpect moleſt them, as we will in the ſame Manner ſtipulate with reſpect to his Territories. In my Letter of the 29th ultimo, I inſtructed you to obtain the Reſtoration of the Chundery Rajah, and to ſecure the Intereſts of the Rajah of Nurwar, and any other Chiefs who have been active in our Cauſe. This Subject I muſt now leave to your Diſcretion, as it is not in my Power to ſend you ſuch explicit Inſtructions as I could have wiſhed, not having Acceſs at preſent to your and Colonel Camac's Letters, which point out the Nature and Extent of our Connections with each of theſe Rajahs, and the Claims which their paſt Services may have given them to our Protection. In diſcuſſing their Intereſts, we muſt make a Diſtinction betwixt actual and implied Engagements. No actual Engagements whatever exiſt between us and any of theſe Rajahs: Such of them however as have taken an active Part in our Cauſe, are entitled to ſome Degree of Conſideration. You who are on the Spot can beſt judge of their ſeveral Merits, and will attend to them, as far as you may be able, without hindering the more important Objects of our Negociations.

" It ſeems probable, that few Difficulties will ariſe in ſettling a ſeparate Treaty with Mahdajee Sindia; and this is the Object which I have principally at Heart. Let it not be impeded or retarded by the Obſtacles which may occur in adjuſting the more complicated Matters remaining in Diſpute betwixt us and the Peaſhwa. A Peace with the one muſt ſoon produce a Peace with the other. Let an Opening be left for it in the Treaty with Sindia, on the Terms I have mentioned; and though theſe Terms comprehend in our Favour every Object which we could deſire, yet they are, on the Whole, ſo advantageous to the Peaſhwa, that I think his Miniſters will acquieſce in them, rather than continue a precarious and expenſive War, deprived of the Support and Aſſiſtance of Mahdajee Sindia.

" It will be neceſſary to ſtipulate, that in caſe they ſhall not accede to the propoſed Terms of Peace, Mahdajee Sindia ſhall not, directly or indirectly, aſſiſt them, or ſuffer any of his Tributaries or Subjects to aſſiſt them, with Men, or Money, or Arms, or any other Means of carrying on the War againſt us.

" This muſt be either expreſsly ſtipulated, or ſo clearly and ſtrongly implied, that no Doubt ſhall remain regarding it.

" In the Event of a Peace being ſettled with the Peaſhwa, it will perhaps be thought proper to recall General Goddard's Detachment, and their beſt Route lies through Mahdajee Sindia's Territories. With a View to ſuch an Event, you will ſtipulate with Mahdajee Sindia, that he ſhall allow them a free Paſſage, and aſſiſt them in procuring Proviſions and other Neceſſaries on the Road.

" I encloſe a Letter which I have written to Sindia, informing him of the Powers which I have delegated to you, and deſire that you will urge him to an immediate Deciſion on the Propoſitions which you have to make to him. Inform him, that any Delay or Evaſion on his Part may preclude an Accommodation for ever; and that by your Anſwers I ſhall be regulated in entering into another Plan of Connections, which will not only prove an inſuperable Bar to the Views he has at preſent formed on the Northern Provinces, but draw ſuch a powerful Attack on his own Territories as muſt infallibly end in his Expulſion and Ruin.

" If after the Concluſion and Execution of the ſeparate Treaty with Mahdajee Sindia, he ſhould deſire to promote a Peace between us and the Peaſhwa, I will appoint a Perſon with full Powers to negociate the ſame, through the Channel of his Introduction and Mediation.

" I am, &c.
Warren Haſtings." (a)

" NUM. 1. F.

" Second Minute of the Governor General, containing his Anſwers to poſſible Objections to be made againſt the ſeveral Parts of his Agreement with the Vizeer.

" To the firſt Article it may be objected;

" 2dly, That the internal Safety of the Nabob Vizeer's Dominions will not admit of our immediately withdrawing our Officers from his Service." (b)

" 2dly, This is not our Concern, if the Nabob, whoſe it is, affirms the contrary; and though it may eventually affect us, we ſhould be leſs liable to ſuffer by a remote Contingency, than by the immediate Privation or Diſſipation of our own Troops, employed in Anticipation of poſſible Evils affecting us through him, while our own Exigencies immediately demanded their Exertions. But in Truth, I much ſuſpect the Pofition; having been too much accuſtomed to the Tales of hoſtile Preparations and impending Invaſions, againſt all the Evidence of political Probability, to regard them as other than Phantoms raiſed for the Purpoſe of perpetuating or multiplying Commands. Who are the Invaders of the Doaub and Rohilcund? Not the Marattahs; they are fully occupied in the Defence of their own Territories: Not the Sicks; they are engaged with Nudjiff Khan in an unequal War: And Nudjiff Khan, with foreign Concerns, with domeſtic Intrigues, and the Habits of late-acquired Sloth, and an unwieldy, unpaid, and licentious Army, can have little Leiſure or Inclination to embroil himſelf in new Difficulties by a War with the Vizeer and the Engliſh." (a)

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read a Letter, to prove the Time when Mr. Haſtings became acquainted with the Succeſs of the Engliſh Arms in the Carnatic.

Read, from Book B, already delivered in, the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Governor General, dated the 28th of October 1781.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c. &c. &c.

" Sir,

" I have been honoured with the Receipt of your Letter under Date the 24th inſtant, incloſing Extract of a Letter from the Honourable the Governor General and Council, communicating to you the firſt Intelligence of a complete Victory obtained by the Honourable Company's Arms, under the Conduct of General Sir Eyre Coote, over Hyder Ally Cawn, and an Addreſs to the Nabob Vizier on that Subject.—Permit me, Sir, to congratulate you on this happy Effect of the Meaſures of your Adminiſtration againſt the moſt powerful Oppoſition we have yet had to encounter in Hindoſtan, which cannot fail to promote our Credit and Influence in the publick Opinion, and to eſtabliſh the Reputation of our military Character on the moſt ſolid and permanent Baſis.

" I immediately waited on the Nabob with your Letter, who expreſſed much Satisfaction at the joyful Intelligence it conveyed, and directly announced it to his Subjects by the moſt publick Proclamation in his Durbar, and a Diſcharge of his Cannon, which was alſo followed with a Royal Salute from the Guns of the Honourable Company's Regiment ſtationed at Lucknow; and I have further taken care to make it properly known to all the native Powers with whom I have any Correſpondence.

" Incloſed I have the Pleaſure to forward you his Excellency's Congratulation on this fortunate Occaſion; and am, with the greateſt Reſpect,

" Sir,

" Lucknow, Yours, &c. &c.

the 28th October 1781. (Signed) Nathaniel Middleton."

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they had now concluded this Head of the Evidence, and ſhould next proceed to ſhew the Situation in which the Nabob Vizier ſtood, with reſpect to the Britiſh Government in India:—They obſerved, it was alleged in the Charge, that the Nabob of Oude was in Subſtance and Effect, as well as in general Repute and Eſtimation, dependant upon and under the Controul of the Governor General: (b)—That this Allegation was poſitively denied by the Defendant, (c)—and therefore they ſhould now produce Evidence to prove the abject State the Nabob was in to the Government, and his uniform Submiſſion to the Will of the Governor General.

Read, the following Extract from Mr. Haſtings's Defence at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons, beginning at Page 211 of the ſame.

"Charge the Fourth.

"PRINCESSES of OUDE.

" It is certainly not true, that the Nabob of Oude was ever under the Coutroul of the Bengal Government, in the Extent ſtated in this Charge. That the Reſident, who repreſented the Council General, had an Influence at his Court, cannot be diſputed; but it is notorious that the Acts of the Nabob's Government were, on various Occaſions, remonſtrated againſt, and ineffectually oppoſed by the Reſident, as may be ſeen by the publick Correſpondence of Meſſrs. Middleton and Briſtow. It cannot, therefore, be admitted, that " the Engliſh Name and Character were concerned in every " Act of his Government, or in any not authorized by them."

" Allowing it to be true, that the Country of Oude was in a flouriſhing State before our Interference, ſurely I cannot be chargeable with the Evils reſulting from the Syſtem we eſtabliſhed, ſince I gave all the Oppoſition I could to the firſt Introduction of it. The Syſtem was undoubtedly very defective, and generally prejudicial to the Nabob's Affairs, inaſmuch, as it neceſſarily eſtabliſhed a Degree of Interference in his Government, undefined by any preciſe Rule: which, however diſcreetly uſed, would not fail to weaken his Authority, and in many Caſes to be productive of all the Evils conſequent on a divided Government." (a)

Read, the following Extract from the Paper called, " The Second Defence;" beginning at Page 1 of the ſame.

" The Nabob of Oude, by the Privation of a conſiderable Part of his Patrimonial Eſtate, and the Enlargement of his Subſidy, was reduced to great and very early Diſtreſs. This I repeatedly predicted at the Time, that the Majority which conſtituted the efficient Government of Bengal in 1775 forced from the Nabob thoſe Conditions of the Treaty concluded with him. From the ſame Cauſes his Army, which was enormous, became diſaffected, refractory, and mutinous, ſo as at Times to endanger his Perſon; becauſe he had not the Means of paying their growing Arrears, nor of ſtopping the Evil by diſbanding them. This threw him of courſe on the Engliſh Power for his Protection; and ſo far only was he dependent on it." (b)

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next ſhew Mr. Haſtings's own Account of the Origin and Progreſs of the Nabob's Vaſſalage, which they would ſubſtantiate afterwards by ſubſequent Evidence.

Read, from Book 84, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 29th September 1783, beginning at Page 282 of the ſame Book.

" Fort William, 29th September 1783.

" At a Council; Preſent,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;

Secret Dept. Monday.

John Macpherſon, and John Stables, Eſquires.

Edward Wheler Eſquire, up the Country.

" The Governor General delivered in the following Minute, containing his Obſervations on Mr. Briſtow's Letter and Defence.

" The Means by which our Government acquired this Influence, and its Right to exerciſe it, will require a previous Explanation: Both originated in our Connection with the Nabob Suja Dowla. I found him a Dependant on the Company, or rather on the Commander in Chief of the Army. Under the Authority of the Council of which I was the Preſident, in the Year 1773, I concluded a Treaty with him, which left him optionally free, but virtually dependant on our Government, by the reciprocal Obligations of it, which on our Part conſiſted in Military Aſſiſtance whenever he demanded it; and on his, the Payment of a fixed Monthly Subſidy for the Expences attending it. He remained the abſolute Sovereign of his own Dominions; and whenever he found the Preſence of our Army, or the Aſcendant of our Alliance, too powerful for his Eaſe or Dignity, he might free himſelf from both, by the Diſmiſſion of the former. But the Neceſſity of his Affairs rendered it unſafe or inconvenient to part with it, as was evinced by the Experiment of a few Months, in which the Army was remanded to our Frontier, and again recalled for his Service; and thus its Attachment to him, and the Kind of Tribute which he paid for the Uſe of it, were rendered permanent, but in ſuch a Mode, as conduced to his Intereſt and Safety, without a Diminution of Perſonal Conſequence. He was himſelf the Inſtrument of forming this Relation; he felt the Advantages of it; he experienced nothing humiliating in the Superiority of the Part aſſigned to our Government in it; and in the ſhort Interval which followed the Conſtruction of it, Two rich and extenſive Members were added to his Paternal Dominions, beſides that which he acquired with it. Let me add, without the Imputation of assuming too much Self-consequence, that my personal Behaviour to him was unvariably marked by a studied Respect. In public, I addressed him as my acknowledged Superior; in private, for only one Person was ever privy to our Conferences, I made my Demands in firm but decent Language; exacted his Compliance, by stating the Grounds of our mutual Necessities, without either Concealment or Exaggeration; and obtained, with his chearful and most willing Concession, the best Accession of a new Dominion, a Portion of the Wealth of a valuable and remote Territory, without the Burthen of its Administration. He parted from me contented; and if I may trust to those Assurances, which my Station may be suspected to have extorted from private Adulation, he publickly and frequently acknowledged the Obligations which he owed to me; and even in his last Moments recurred to them, in the Line of Conduct which he recommended to his Son and Successor, the present Nabob Assof u' Dowla.

" With his Death a new political System commenced, and Mr. Bristow was constituted the Instrument of its Formation, and Trustee for the Management of it. The Nabob Asoph ul Dowlah was deprived of a large Part of his Inheritance, I mean the Province of Benares, attached by a very feeble and precarious Tenure to our Dominions; the Army fixed to a permanent Station in a remote Line of his Frontier, with an augmented and perpetual Subsidy; a new Army, amphibiously composed of Troops in his Service and Pay, commanded by English Officers of our own Nomination, for the Defence of his new Conquests; and his own natural Troops annihilated or alienated by the Insufficiency of his Revenue for all his Disbursements, and the prior Claims of those which our Authority or Influence commanded; in a Word, he became a Vassal of the Government: But he still possessed an ostensible Sovereignty, his titular Rank of Vizier of the Empire rendered him a conspicuous Object of View to all the States and Chiefs of India; and on the Moderation and Justice with which the British Government in Bengal exercised its Influence over him, many Points most essential to its Political Strength, and to the Honour of the British Name, depended.

" This is not a Place, nor have I Room in it, to prove what I shall here content myself with affirming, that by a sacred and undeviating Observance of every Principle of Publick Faith, the British Dominion might have by this Time acquired the Means of its Extension, through a virtual Submission to its Authority, to every Region of Hindostan and Deccan. I am not sure that I should advise such a Design, were it practicable, which at this Time it certainly is not; and I very much fear that the limited Formation of such equal Alliances as might be useful to our present Condition, and conduce to its Improvement, is become liable to almost unsurmountable Difficulties. Every Power in India must wish for the Support of ours, but they all dread the Connection.

" The Subjection of Bengal, and the Deprivation of the Family of Jaffier Ally Cawn, though an Effect of inevitable Necessity, the present Usurpations of the Rights of the Nabob Wallar Jau, in the Carnatic, and the licentious Violations of the Treaty existing between the Company and the Nabob Nizam ul Dowla, though checked by the remedial Interposition of this Government, stand as terrible Precedents against us. The Effects of our Connection with the Nabob Affof o Dowla had a rapid Tendency to the same Consequences, and it has been my invariable Study to prevent it, by the Removal or Restriction of every Authority or Influence derived from our Government which interfered with his, and by the Promise of whatever Means I might possess for withdrawing that Interposition of it in the internal Management of his Affairs, which we exercised in the Assignments made of Portions of his Revenue for the Payment of the Company's Debts, whenever he should either have discharged them, or could afford a Security for their Payment. It is not unknown to the Members of the Board, who composed it in the Beginning of the Year 1781, how much it was my Wish, even then, to return on a New Commission to the Residence of the Nabob of Owd, provided I could be entrusted with Powers to make such an Accommodation, for his Finances were daily diminishing; the Presence of the Representative of our Government enfeebled that of the Nabob in its executive Acts, and all the Provinces of his Dominions were gradually sinking into Decline, the Reproach of which, even from our own Countrymen, was cast upon our Government as the Cause of it." (a)

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the House, they would next read the Treaty between the British Government and Sujah ul Dowlah in the Year 1768, to shew, before Mr. Hastings had secured and rivetted the Connexion of the Nabob, and before any other Bond or Connexion had been formed with him, that even at that Time the Court of Common Pleas thought the Governor General responsible for an Act of the Nabob's Troops, in the Case of Rafael v. Verelst and another, in Mr. Justice Blackstone's Reports, Vol. 2. P. 983 and 1055.

Preſident and Governor of Fort William, and the Council thereof, with a View to the Removal of all Cauſes of Jealouſy and Diſagreement, and the Confirmation of a good Diſpoſition on both Sides, have deputed John Cartier, Colonel Richard Smith, and Claud Ruſſell, Three Members of the Council, from Calcutta, perſonally to confer with his Highneſs aforeſaid: And whereas the aforeſaid John Cartier, Colonel Richard Smith, and Claud Ruſſell, after effecting an Interview with his Highneſs aforeſaid, have Reaſon to be ſatisfied with his ſteady Attachment to the Engliſh, they therefore, in Behalf of his Excellency the Nabob Syfect Dowlah, Subadar of Bengal, Bahar, and Orixa, and the Engliſh Company, renew and confirm the former Treaty, Letter by Letter, and Article by Article; and his Highneſs the Nabob Sujah ul Dowlah aforeſaid, doth likewiſe renew and confirm the ſaid Treaty; and moreover, out of a pure Deſire effectually to eradicate all Doubts and Jealouſies, to eſtabliſh the preſent Harmony on the moſt durable Baſis, and to confirm the former Treaty, doth conſent and agree, that the following Words ſhall be inſerted as an Explanatory Clauſe in the ſaid Treaty:—It is by the Advice and Conſent of the Preſident and Council aforeſaid, agreed that his Highneſs ſhall not entertain a Number of Forces exceeding Thirty-five thouſand Men, whether Sepoys, Cavalry, Peons, Artillery Men, Rocket Men, or Troops of any Denomination whatever; of this Number, Ten thouſand are to be Cavalry, Ten Battalions of Sepoys, including Subadars, Jemadars, Havildars, and all Ranks of Officers, not to exceed Ten thouſand Men; the Nujib Regiment conſiſting, of Five thouſand Men with Matchlocks, to remain always in its preſent Eſtabliſhment: Five hundred Men for the Artillery, and that Number never to be exceeded: The remaining Nine thouſand five hundred Men are to be Irregulars, neither to be cloathed, armed, or diſciplined after the Manner of the Engliſh Sepoys, or Nujib Regiment. And his Highneſs alſo engages to arm none of his Forces, beſides the Ten thouſand Men mentioned in this Treaty, after the Engliſh Manner; nor to train them in the Diſcipline of the Engliſh Troops. In Conſideration thereof, the ſaid John Cartier, Colonel Richard Smith, and Claud Ruſſell engage, in behalf of his Excellency the Nabob Syfut Dowlah, and the Engliſh Company aforeſaid, that whilſt his Highneſs Shujah ul Dowlah aforeſaid, and his Succeſſors, ſhall abide by the Articles of this Treaty, neither the preſent Council of Fort William, nor any future Council, ſhall hereafter introduce any new Matter relative hereto, beſides what has been formerly agreed to, and is now concluded upon; and both Parties ſhall conſider this Agreement as firm and binding. " Fort William, the 4th October 1773.

" At a Conſultation; Preſent,

Secret Dept. Monday.

The Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire, being returned, now reſumes his Seat at the Board as Preſident;

William Alderſey, Philip M. Dacres, Henry Goodwin, John Graham, } Eſquires;

George Vanſittart Eſquire, who is alſo returned with the Governor, and takes his Seat accordingly.

" The Governor delivers in to the Board the following Report of his Negociations with the Nabob Suja ul Dowla at Benaras, and of his other Proceedings during his Abſence from the Preſidency, with all the Papers referred to in the Report.

" In the Courſe of our Converſation, the Vizier frequently expreſſed the Satisfaction which he had received from our Meeting, and from the friendly and confidential Intercourſe which had taken place between us. Though ſuch Profeſſions are not always to be received in their literal Senſe, I took Occaſion from them to aſk him, whether it would be agreeable to him that a Perſon in whom I confide ſhould be appointed by me to reſide near his Perſon, for the Sake of perpetuating and ſtrengthening the good Underſtanding ſo happily begun, as well as for the Tranſaction of ſuch ordinary Affairs as might not ſuit the Formality of a Correſpondence by Letter, but which, in their Amount, are always found to be productive of important Effects? That I deſired it myſelf; but unleſs it was equally his Wiſh, I would neither propoſe nor conſent to it, as it would not, in ſuch a Caſe, be productive of the good Effects which I meant to derive from it. He declared to me, that it would be entirely pleaſing to him. I told him, that I would again addreſs him after my Return to Calcutta on the ſame Subject, when I ſhould have made Choice of a Perſon duly qualified for ſo important a Truſt. It now reſts with you, Gentlemen, to determine on the Propriety of this Appointment. I will offer it frankly as my Opinion, that if you ſhall think it proper to entruſt with me the ſole Nomination of ſuch a Reſident, and the Power of recalling him whenever I ſhall judge his Preſence to be no longer neceſſary, it may be attended with good Effects. In any other Mode, I fear the Appointment would exclude me from being any longer the Channel of Connection between this Government and the Vizier, and prevent me from availing myſelf of that Influence with him, which I have taken much Pains to eſtabliſh, and I hope not altogether unſucceſsfully." (a)

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, that the next Point they ſhould proceed to prove was, the Means which Mr. Haſtings took for the better eſtabliſhment of his Authority, upon the Re-appointment of Mr. Middleton to the Reſidentſhip at Oude, immediately upon the Death of Colonel Monſon; and in the Firſt Inſtance, by his Eſtabliſhment of the temporary Brigade, which gave him in Effect almoſt the whole Authority over the Tranſactions of the Troops ſtationed in the Dominions of the Vizier.

Read, from Book 109, already delivered in, the following Letter from the Governor General to the Nabob Vizier, beginning at Page 328 of the ſame Book.

" To the Nabob Vizier. Written 21ſt May 1777.

" 1ſt. That of the Troops now belonging to your Excellency, and commanded by Britiſh Officers, the following Corps be transferred to the Service of the Company, viz. Nine Battalions of Sepoys, Three Companies of Artillery, and Two Regiments of Horſe, one more to be added for that Purpoſe to complete the Eſtabliſhment.

" 2dly. That theſe Corps be formed into a Brigade for the Service of your Excellency entirely; but, for the Sake of maintaining Diſcipline and Subordination, be immediately ſubjected to the Authority of this Government, by which their Pay is to be iſſued, their Accounts regulated, their Expence controuled, and their Conduct ultimately directed; but they ſhall act ſolely under your Orders in all their Military Operations for the Defence of every Part of your Dominions, whilſt you retain them in your Service.

" 3dly. That an Eſtimate be formed of the Expence of this Eſtabliſhment, on the Trial of One or Two Months, which your Excellency will defray; and after that, the ſame ſhall remain a fixed Charge for ſo long a Time as you ſhall require the Corps for your Service." (b)

Engliſh Friendſhip, I aſcended, by hereditary Right, the Muſnud of my Anceſtors. It has been my moſt earneſt Deſire deeply engraved on my Mind by every Means to preſerve a ſtrict Friendſhip and Union with them, and to cultivate and improve it to the utmoſt, which would be the Means of enſuring my Stability and Intereſt. Actuated by theſe Sentiments, I intruſted my Intereſts to the Engliſh Chiefs, and have, on every Occaſion, regulated my Conduct by their Opinion and Advice, and have never in any one Inſtance acted contrary to their Pleaſure." (a)

The Managers for the Commons ſtated to the Houſe, that the Second Inſtance of the Defendant's Attempt to acquire to himſelf the Authority over the Nabob's Dominions, would appear in the Letter about to be read, by the Diſmiſſion of the Nabob's Favourites, and the Appointment of Two Miniſters recommended by himſelf.

Read, the following Letter from the Governor General to the Nabob, from Book 109, already delivered in, beginning at Page 329 of the ſame.

" To the Nabob Vizier. Written the 26th May 1777.

" The heavy Arrears which I underſtand are at this Time due to the Brigade, appointed for the Protection of your Perſon and Dominions, the Balance of your general Account with the Company, and the Pay of yur own Forces under the Command of Britiſh Officers, which muſt ultimately fall on the Company, if your Means are unequal to diſcharge it, are Circumſtances which impreſs me with the greateſt Alarm both for the Security of your Affairs, and of the Company's Property involved in them. The Ties of Alliance and Friendſhip oblige me to offer my Advice and Aſſiſtance in all Caſes in which your Intereſts may be affected.

" To theſe Obligations is ſuperadded the Safety of the Company's Intereſts intruſted to my Care; and theſe accumulated Conſiderations not only call upon me to recommend to you ſuch Meaſures as are neceſſary for the Advancement of our common Good, or the Relief of our common Difficulties, but entitle me to your Compliance with them, unleſs you can point out others more effectual. On theſe Principles I proceed to inform you, that it is in the Mouth of the whole World, that your Country is in a State of unbounded Diſorder and Want, and your Revenues ſunk and anticipated, and your Treaſury exhauſted, not on the Services of your State, but in Embezzlement and Diſſipation.

" Theſe Calamities are univerſally aſcribed to the Want of a regular Authority in the Adminiſtration of your Affairs, and to the treacherous and ungrateful Abuſe which is made of your Confidence by thoſe on whom you have unworthily placed it. At the Head of theſe is Imaumbukſh, who is notoriouſly repreſented as a Wretch, of ſo mean an Extraction, and of ſo vile a Character, that your Credit and Honour ſuffer by your Countenance of ſuch a Man. To him the World imputes the enormous Expence with which you are burthened of a Military Eſtabliſhment, conſiſting nominally of more than 50,000 Men; and the Waſte of your Collections, which are all in the Poſſeſſion and at the Mercy of his Creatures and Dependants; Men of Characters baſe, rapacious, unfaithful, and devoid of Underſtanding, like his own. Theſe Facts I could not mention to you, had I received them only from common Report; but they are of ſuch known and well atteſted Authority, that every Man, who comes from that Quarter, agrees exactly in the ſame Repreſentation; and in lamenting that a Heart, ſo benevolent as your Excellency's, ſhould beſtow its Affections on Men ſo undeſerving of it. Few who approach you will dare to inform you of the Truth, becauſe of the Danger which they muſt incur from the Reſentment of thoſe who poſſeſs your Authority; and this is another powerful Motive that I ſhould make it known to you, and appriſe you of the Dangers with which you are ſurrounded.

" But it is not enough to point out the Evils of your Situation, unleſs I likewiſe preſcribe the Remedy. It is this; and I beſeech you, by the Friendſhip which I bear for your Excellency, and by your Alliance with the Company, and may it laſt for ever! and by all your Hopes of Happineſs and encreaſing Reputation, that you will hearken to my Advice, and literally conform to it.

" 1ſt. Let Imaumbukſh be baniſhed for ever from your Preſence, and from your Dominions. This is moſt and indiſpenſably adviſeable.

" 2dly. Chuſe a Naib of Capacity, of Integrity, and of old and approved Attachment to your Family; ſuch is the Character of your preſent Naib, Imaumbukſh*: Let him be publickly and formally nominated to the Exerciſe of your Authority in the Management of all your Affairs, and let all Orders be tranſmitted through him, and regiſtered in the reſpective Affairs under his Direction, that he may be duly accountable for their Effect. Let him be invariably ſupported with your whole Authority, nor any other Influence ſuffered to be placed in Competition with his.

* Sic in Orig.

" 3dly. Let him be eſpecially inſtructed to reduce your Expences, to regulate the Accounts of them, and to place proper and practiſed Muttaſeddies in the Charge of your Revenue.

" As this is the Seaſon of the Year in which your Excellency will be leaſt liable to Interruption from foreign Concerns, and the Period is approaching for forming the new Settlement of your publick Revenues, I hope you will take theſe Counſels into your immediate Conſideration, and iſſue ſuch Orders thereon as your Wiſdom ſhall preſcribe for obtaining the Effects propoſed to be derived from them."

" My Friend. My Nature revolts at all baſe and unworthy Characters. Before the Arrival of your friendly Letter, I had expreſſed my Diſpleaſure againſt Imaum Bukſh, and driven him from my Counſels; nor did I admit any Perſon of ſuch a Character in my Preſence. I had long before that Period given the ſole Direction of all my Affairs, Civil and Military, into the Hands of Huſſein Reza Khan. It is true, that he is a Man of old and proved Attachment to my Family, and of great Capacity, Experience, and Diſcernment; and I am fully convinced of, and highly ſatisfied with, his Integrity and Fidelity; and ſince you, my Friend, have judged it adviſable that he ſhould be entruſted with the Management of the Affairs of my Government, and have given it me as your Advice accordingly, requiring no further Inducement, I have inveſted him with the Charge thereof, and given expreſs Injunctions to all my Officers implicitly to obey all my Orders iſſued by the ſaid Khan. You may rely with the utmoſt Confidence on theſe Declarations which I have made. My Deſire to comply with your Advice on every Occaſion is without Bounds." (a)

" I have received your agreeable Letter, informing me of your having been honoured by your Maſter with a Kellaat, confirming you in the Niabut, with other Particulars, which afforded me the greateſt Pleaſure.

" I congratulate you on this Appointment, and have no Doubt but you will prove yourſelf worthy of it, by a ſteady and uniform Attention to the Intereſts of your Maſter, and of the Company, which are inſeparably united. Be aſſured, that ſuch a Conduct will at the ſame time advance your own Intereſt and Honour, and preſerve to you the Friendſhip and Countenance of this Government. It gives me great Pleaſure to hear that ſo ſtrict a Friendſhip and Union ſubſiſts between you and Mr. Middleton; and I have no Doubt, but, through your joint Endeavours, the Affairs of the Nabob will put on the moſt flouriſhing Aſpect. Knowing me intereſted in your Welfare, let me frequently have the Pleaſure to hear from you.

" P. S. I cannot conſiſtently with the Rules of the Service accept of your Nuzzir, which has been preſented to me; but, for your Satisfaction, have received it for the Company, and ordered it to be carried to their Account. Your Intention I regard with equal Pleaſure, as if I had accepted it."

Mr. Middleton, 18th Auguſt.

" Honourable Sir and Sirs,

" Not being favoured with your Commands, in Reply to my Addreſs of the 26th June, and being moreover apprehenſive, that with the very large Claims which the Company now have on his Excellency, the Mode I there propoſed, of taking, in every Inſtance, Aſſignments of whole Diſtricts, where the Vizier's Power of Controul over the Aumils, on the Troops ſtationed with them, ſhould in no Reſpect be exerted, would almoſt annihilate every Appearance of his Excellency's retaining any Authority in his own Dominions; I thought it better to conſent to what the Nabob himſelf appeared willing to allow, and what, I flatter myſelf, will be deemed by the Honourable Board as adequate a Security for the Claims of the enſuing Year, as the preſent State of Affairs in this Country would admit of. His Excellency has agreed to aſſign over the Rents of the Provinces of Rohilcund and the Doaub, after deducting the Charges of Collection, the uſual ſtationaty Troops there, and the Claims for recoverable Balances of laſt Year, excluſively to the Payment of the Company's Demands; the Aumils to be either of my Appointment, or ſuch as I ſhall approve; and with whom I am at Liberty to expreſsly ſtipulate, that, except on the Accounts above mentioned, they ſhall not pay any Drafts whatever but mine, on Pain of their immediate Removal. The Diſtricts of Allahabad, Corah, Shahrah, Jugdriſpoor, &c. are to be aſſigned over to me in the ſame Manner, after deducting ſuch Part of the Jagheers of Sallar Jung and Mirſa Allee, as have always been upon thoſe Diſtricts. For the Remainders of the Company's Claims, his Excellency has ordered his Miniſters to lay before me ſuch a State of Aſſignments as ſhall, in Amount and Security, appear to me fully ſufficient, and gave me a ſolemn Aſſurance, that he would not make a Grant of a ſingle Tuncaw upon any of his Diſtricts until this be done. As the making the Bundobuſt of the Country, with the ſingle Stipulation in Favour of Bow Anny Sing, has been committed to the Miniſtry, I hope, with their Aſſiſtance, to have ſuch Aumils appointed, and ſuch an Influence over them, that I need be under no Apprehenſions, where I have even only partial Drafts on them, of their paying the Claims of others in Preference, or to the Injury of the Company's. The Nabob's Orderlies, from whom I ſhould have moſt to dread, will be excluded, unleſs it may, perhaps, be judged expedient to give ſome ſmall Diſtricts to one or two of them, who have ſome Claim to Favour, from having paid the Aſſignments on them this Year entirely, or nearly, without Balance. For a further Security to the realizing the Aſſignments given in Favour of the Honourable Company, and to obviate one of the moſt ordinary and principal Cauſes of Balances this Year, the diſorderly Behaviour of the Troops ſtationed for the Defence of the Provinces, or quartered on them for Subſiſtence, I have obtained his Excellency's Conſent to Three of his Battalions being delivered over to me, for the Purpoſe of aſſiſting the Aumils in the Maintenance of their Authority, both over the Zemindars, and againſt any Troops who may diſtreſs the Province by riotous Behaviour or oppreſſive Exactions; and alſo to ſecure the realizing of my Claims, when and wherever I may think them in Danger of being invaded or violated. Sir Eyre Coote abſent on a Viſit to the different Stations of the Army.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LXVIII.

" Received the following Letter from the Commander in Chief.

" Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

" The Day before Yeſterday I encamped near Allahabad, where the Vizier did me the Honour of a Viſit; and Yeſterday Morning, in my way hither, I returned it, and was received by his Excellency with every Mark of Reſpect and Diſtinction.

" This Morning he called here, and we had ſome general Converſation, which principally turned upon the Subject of his Attachment to the Engliſh, and his Readineſs to ſhew the Sincerity of it upon all Occaſions.

" It is to be wiſhed we had employed the Influence which ſuch favourable Sentiments muſt have given us more to the Benefit of the Country and ourſelves; but I fear the Diſtreſſes which evidently appear on the Face of the one, and the Failure of Revenues to the other, are not to be wholly aſcribed to the Vizier's Miſmanagement.

" A ſmall Remnant of Mahometaniſm was left in Rohilcund; their Country alſo, which is not leſs than a Soubah, is apparently under Aſoph ul Doulah, but the Engliſh are in Fact the Maſters of it, for Aſoph ul Doulah is abſolutely incapable of Buſineſs; thus undoubtedly there are 5 Soubahs under the Engliſh Government." " This Country of Cutthar, which formerly depended on the Rohilla States, and which I conſider as now appertaining to the Company, was very populous and flouriſhing; but ſince the Commencement of the Nabob Vizier's Government, the Farmers appointed by his Miniſters have deſolated the Country; its Situation is at preſent very ruinous; Thouſands of Villages, formerly populous, are now utterly deſerted, and no Trace is left of them. I have already written to Roy Buktawur Sing, a full Account of the Tyranny and Oppreſſion exerciſed by the Farmers, to be communicated to you. The conſtant Revenue of a Country depends on the Care of its Rulers to preſerve it in a flouriſhing State.

" I have been induced to make the Repreſentation by my Attachment to the Intereſt of the Company, for otherwiſe it is no Concern of mine.

" I before this repreſented to you the Particulars of my Situation, and my Deſire of an Interview with you. I am now anxiouſly expecting your Anſwer at preſent. I have written to Rajah Gobend Ram every Thing which the General, from his noble Diſpoſition, ſaid to me, and what I ſaid in Anſwer, with Directions to make them all known to you; which he doubtleſs has done. He has now told me, that he has Occaſion for the new Brigade, and my Houſehold Guard, to ſend them acroſs the Jumman. I do not know whether this has been demanded of me by your Directions, or from himſelf. You have given full Powers to the Gentlemen here in all my Affairs, who have done whatever they choſe, and ſtill continue to do it. I never expected that you would have brought me into ſuch Apprehenſions, and ſo weak a State, without even writing to me on any of theſe Subjects, ſince I have not the ſmalleſt Connection with any Body except yourſelf. I have no Doubt that the March of the new Brigade is in conſequence of your Orders; but I knew nothing of the Intention of it. What further may be demanded of me, who am now left without any Authority, or what I can ſay in caſe of any Demand being made, I know not. Whatever you will write to me, I will conform to. If I am left at Reſt till the Arrival of your Directions, I will then act agreeably to them; but ſhould any Thing be begun in the meanwhile, I have no Power to oppoſe, and will then inform you of what ſhall have taken place. I am in ſuch Diſtreſs, both Day and Night, that I ſee not the ſmalleſt Proſpect of Deliverance from it, ſince you are ſo diſpleaſed with me as not to honour me with a ſingle Letter."

" Num. 1. G.

" Letter of Inſtructions from the Governor General to the Reſident at the Vizeer's Court.

" To Mr. Nathaniel Middleton, Reſident at the Court of the Nabob Vizeer.

" I need ſcarcely inform you, that my chief Object in my Negociations with the Nabob has been to induce and aſſiſt him to bring his Government and Finances into ſuch Regularity, as to prevent his Alliance from being a Clog, inſtead of an Aid, to the Company; and to enable him to diſcharge his Debt in the ſhorteſt Time poſſible. To this End, the moſt eſſential Point is to limit and ſeparate his perſonal Diſburſements from the publick Accounts. They muſt not, in their total annual Amount, exceed what he has received in any of the laſt Three Years. This Amount, in Twelve equal Parts, ſhould be paid him monthly out of the Firſt Receipts, and the Remainder of the net Collections placed ſeparately in a publick Treaſury, from whence his publick Military and Civil Eſtabliſhment muſt be paid, under the ſole Management and Controul of the Miniſters, with your Concurrence. It is of courſe to be underſtood that this has no Connection, and is in no Shape to interfere with the Company's Aſſignments, and the Collections upon them, which are to be conducted as uſual: And as by the Addition of the Jagheer Lands, with their Revenues, to the Nabob's regular Collections, his Income will, or ought to be, conſiderably increaſed, I ſhall expect that the Whole of the Exceſs be appropriated to the Diſcharge of the Nabob's Debt to the Company.

" After ſettling the Amount of the perſonal Diſburſements of the Nabob Vizier and his Houſehold, the next Point that will require your Exertions towards the general Arrangement of the public Charges, is to reform the eſtabliſhed Muttaiena Troops, reducing them into One eſtabliſhed Corps for the whole Service. If this Corps ſhould be brought to conſiſt ſolely of Cavalry, it would beſt anſwer mutual Benefit; leaving no Infantry in the Nabob's Service but what may be neceſſary for his Body Guard; and to ſupply the Deficiency, ſhould any occur from ſuch Arrangement, our Infantry may be employed where Infantry are wanted.

" The Corps reformed and eſtabliſhed, their Pay muſt be iſſued from the publick Treaſury. No Aſſignments to be in future granted them, and thoſe already iſſued to be recalled. To complete this, all Numbers above what the real Service may require, or the actual net Receipts may be adequate to the full Payment of, muſt be diſbanded as faſt as their Arrears can be paid off.

" The Nabob will ſelect and appoint his own Commanders; but if he ſhould nominate improper Perſons, ſuch as Men commonly known by the Name of Orderlies, or others deriving their Influence from them, or of known Diſaffection to our Government, you are in ſuch Caſe to remonſtrate againſt it; and if the Vizeer ſhall perſiſt in his Choice, you are peremptorily, and in my Name, to oppoſe it, as a Breach of his Agreement.

" For the Management of the Collections, the Miniſters, with your Concurrence, are to chooſe all Aumils and Collectors, and in their Choice to be guided by the Reſponſibility, good Reputation, and known Ability of the Perſons they elect, that Changes may, as far as poſſible, be avoided (a).

" I have never been deficient in the Friendſhip of the Company, and Obedience to your Pleaſure. I have looked upon my Difficulties as a Cauſe of Satisfaction, and am always ready to execute your Commands. In theſe Propoſitions I am aſtoniſhed and confounded at my bad Fortune, that I ſhould have ſuch a compaſſionate Friend as your Highneſs, and be involved in ſuch a Situation. What Anſwer can I give, and how can I ſupport my Life?

" Difficulty, with your Favour, becomes eaſy; what is eaſy, by your Neglect, becomes difficult. Night and Day paſs in Grief and Affliction. Either make looſe my Difficulties, or elſe call me to your Preſence. I will reſide with your Highneſs, and whenever you ſhall give me my Diſmiſſion, with the Favours and Affection which belong to you, I ſhall return to my Country, and be releaſed from continual Afflictions."

the Affairs of the Company's Sircar, you will fulfil my Requeſts agreeably to the Paper, as the Nawab Governor's Permiſſion is arrived. With reſpect to the Two Points of which you have ſpoken, I agree to both of them, and will give for the Expences of the Company's Sircar Ten Lacks of Rupees this Year, and Six Lacks of Rupees yearly, in lieu of Regiments, upon Condition that I obtain my Requeſts and Authority. It is proper that you adjuſt my Requeſts, agreeably to the Paper upon which the Nawab Governor has given Orders, and reſtore me to the Management of every Concern."

" No. 2. Copy of a Letter from the ſame to the ſame, dated 30th Shabaun.

" In Anſwer to your Demand of a Loan of Sixty Lacks of Rupees, I repreſented and explained to you, with the greateſt Reverence, the full Particulars of my Inabilities; that in Caſes where I have Power and Ability, I am never negligent, to the Extent of my Life, in promoting the Affairs of the Company's Sircar, and in obeying the Nawab Governor's Orders. You, in my Preſence, ſpoke to me, and ſent a Meſſage to me, that if I did not give Sixty Lacks of Rupees, by way of Loan, the Nawab Governor would be highly diſpleaſed, and would quit my Friendſhip, and would alſo recall the old Brigade which is here; and beſide, the * whatever may be the Nawab Governor's Will you did not know. " Anſwer from Hyder Beg Kawn to Mr. Briſtow.

" My Power and Authority in the Sircar of his Highneſs, is the Gift of the Governor General; and I have hitherto received the Support and Aſſiſtance of the Gentlemen in Power here. Regardleſs of the Enmity of People at his Court, and contemning their Animoſity, I have continued to do my Duty; and in Return for faithful Services, I have been included in the Objects of the Governor General's Favour. From you I hoped for an Increaſe of Support, and Aſſiſtance of Credit, and of Power. It muſt have proceeded from a Change in my own Fortune, and not from any Deficiency of Favour on your Part, that my Repreſentations, by the Efforts of Enemies, have been rendered ineffectual.

" From the Moment of your Arrival, I have not, in any Manner whatever, been deficient in Obedience, but have in every Buſineſs, and without Heſitation, fulfilled your Commands, of whatever Nature they might be. As in the important Buſineſs reſpecting the Regiments at Futty Gurr, the Execution of which you were pleaſed to direct ſhould not be ſuſpended by Attention to the Nawab's Permiſſion, or by the Neceſſity of informing him thereof, in the ſame Manner in every Buſineſs whatever on which I have received your Orders, at whatever Time received, and whatever the Nature of them, I have paid the moſt implicit Obedience to thoſe Orders. On the Inſtant from my firſt Appointment to the Neabut, I have been enabled to conduct the Affairs of both Sircars, which I have ever conſidered as one and the ſame, by the Aſſiſtance and Support of the Gentlemen here, and have on all Occaſions acted in Obedience to their Directions; and thus I have repeatedly repeatedly * repreſented to you, that on Condition of Support and Aſſiſtance, I would execute all your Commands, and that in the Affairs of the Company I was ready to fulfil the Commands of the Governor General, thoſe of the Gentlemen of the Council, and your Pleaſure, without Heſitation or Evaſion, at the Hazard of my Life, in as much as I conſider my own Intereſt and Proſperity as depending thereon.

* Sic in Orig.

" When you formerly ſpoke to me reſpecting the Toorkſawars, and the Houſehold Eſtabliſhments of the Nuvvaub Vizier, I then informed you that I never had had any Concern in the Management of thoſe Eſtabliſhments. That the Circumſtance was known to the whole World, that they were under the Direction of the Vizier's own People, and that he never would voluntarily conſent to the Meaſure. You told me in reply, that the Governor General's Orders were to be obeyed, and ſo I muſt inform the Nabob.

" I, on my Part, told his Highneſs in the moſt pointed Terms, that there was a Neceſſity for his Compliance with whatever Propoſals you ſhould make by the Governor's Order for the Improvement of his Affairs. But other People, at the ſame Time, carried Meſſages from you to the Navvaub, importing that whatever his Pleaſure might be, you would act agreeably thereto; nay, you even went ſo far as to recommend in Perſon to the Nabob, that I ſhould not be employed in theſe Affairs, but that he ſhould conduct them as he thought proper himſelf. Other Expreſſions dropt from you with reſpect to me, which I know not how to repeat, for ſuch I never could have expected from you. This being the Caſe, in Juſtice conſider, that having expreſſed yourſelf as you did expreſs yourſelf, what Authority, or Influence, or Reſpectability can remain with me? The Conduct of this Buſineſs did not depend upon me, and therefore the Delay cannot have ariſen from Neglect on my Part. Several People have been employed in Conferences on this Subject with the Nabob Vizier by your Orders—now, that from Motives of Kindneſs and Favour, you have directed me to forward this Buſineſs, and added Declarations reſpecting Support and Aſſiſtance, I am, as I have always declared, ready to obey; to whatever you ſhall pleaſe to command, I ſhall never object; and I am every Way ready to obey your Orders in the Execution of Affairs, independant of the Inclinations of the Nabob Vizier, if you will aſſure me of Support and Protection in caſe of his Diſpleaſure. I have never yet objected, nor will I now object. Devoted and powerleſs as I am, the Increaſe of my Reſpectability and Influence depends upon your Favour towards me; and their Diminution proceeds from oppoſite Cauſes. Thus I have ever acted, and this I have repeatedly declared, and I now repeat, that in the Affairs of both Sircars, I am ready to obey the Orders of the Governor General and the Gentlemen of the Council, and your's, at the Hazard of my Life, and without Evaſion or Excuſe." " The Governor General deſires that his Inſtructions given to Mr. Briſtow, which were read to the Members of the Board, and minuted in Conſultation, on the 24th of October laſt, may be now entered.

" To Mr. John Briſtow.

" 4th. Immediately on your Arrival, found the Diſpoſition of Hyder Beg Cawn; his Conduct has for ſome Time paſt been highly reproachable. Till within theſe Three Months, when Mr. Johnſon aſſumed a large Portion of his Authority, he poſſeſſed, without Controul, both the unparticipated and entire Adminiſtration, with all the Powers annexed to that Government, the Nabob himſelf being, as he ever muſt be in the Hands of ſome Perſon, a mere Cypher in his, and the Sanction by which he exerciſed his Authority; yet he has dared to uſe both the Nabob's Name, and even his Seal, affixed to Letters, either dictated to the Nabob, or written from him without his Knowledge, containing very improper Demands on our Government, and ſuch as evidently tended to promote Hyder Beg's Influence and Intereſt, and even to make him aſſume a very unbecoming Tone of Refuſal, Reproach, and Reſentment, in Oppoſition to Meaſures recommended by me, and even to Acts done by my Authority, in literal Conformity to the Nabob's own and earneſt Solicitations; ſuch as the Reſumption of the Jagheers, and the Seizure of his Father's Treaſures, which had been ſo long ſuffered to remain in the Hands of the Begum his Mother, and the other Conditions of the Engagements exacted from me at Chunar. On every Occaſion of this Kind, the late Reſident has been the faithful Echo and Support of the Miniſter's Pretenſions; I muſt therefore have Recourſe to you for the Introduction of a new Syſtem in that Government; nor can I omit, while I expreſs my Reliance upon you for this Purpoſe, to repeat the Sentiments which I expreſſed in the verbal Inſtructions which I gave you at your Departure, " that there can be no Medium in the Relation between the Reſident and the Miniſter, but either the Reſident muſt be the Slave and Vaſſal of the Miniſter, or the Miniſter at the abſolute Devotion of the Reſident." Much as I am diſpleaſed at the Conduct of the Miniſter, I impute it more to the Sufferance of Mr. Middleton than to himſelf; and if he will ſubmit to hold his Office on ſuch Conditions as I require, I would certainly prefer him to any other Man who could be nominated to his Office, becauſe he poſſeſſes Abilities, and a Knowledge of Buſineſs. He exiſts by his Dependance on the Influence of our Government; and above all, becauſe a Change of Adminiſtration in a Government ſo looſe as that of Oude, where all the Parts of it are held together by the Exertion of actual Power, and not by the Springs of an eſtabliſhed Conſtitution, would be unavoidably productive of Confuſion, and Loſs of Revenue; therefore it muſt be adviſeable to try him by the Mode of Conciliation, in your final Converſation with him, at the ſame Time that it will be neceſſary to declare to him, in the plaineſt Terms, the Footing and Condition on which he ſhall be permitted to retain his Place, with the Alternative of Diſmiſſion, and a Scrutiny into his paſt Conduct, if he refuſes it. In the Firſt Place, I will not receive from the Nabob, as his, Letters dictated by the Spirit of Oppoſition; but ſhall conſider every ſuch Attempt as the Miniſter's, and as an Inſult on our Government. In the Second Place, I ſhall expect that nothing is done in his official Character but with your Knowledge and Participation; at the ſame Time, the Firſt Share of the Reſponſibility will reſt with you. The other Conditions will follow diſtinctly in their Places, becauſe I conſider you as reſponſible for them.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe they would next produce Acknowledgments from the Vizier himſelf of his own Dependance upon Mr. Haſtings, after the Time that Mr. Haſtings had entered into Engagements, the declared End of which was to free the Nabob from that Dependance.

"From the Nawab Vizier. Received 17th February 1784.

"14. Before this I was entirely guided by your Pleaſure, but now I am more ſo than ever. What you deſired regarding the Securities for the Company's Money has been done, and I have given the Teeps of the Merchants in addition to that Security: My Country and Family which are alſo yours, are ready in further Pledge. Set then your Mind perfectly at Eaſe, concerning the Payment of the Company's Demands, for my Honour and Reputation are bound with your own: I am, with my Heart and Life, ready to obſerve your Wiſhes; therefore, whatever you ſhall judge adviſeable let me know, that I may comply with it. I can have no Excuſe in my Duty and Submiſſion to yourſelf."

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, the following Extract of a Letter from the Nawab Vizier to the Governor General;—received 14th December 1784.

"No. 92. Important Events are on the Tapis; his Royal Highneſs is here, and all my Affairs are dependant upon yourſelf. Nothing can be reſolved or undertaken without your Advice by me. The Care of this Government is in every way incumbent upon you, for my Government and that of the Engliſh are one; great Events are probable, and there is no Dependances on the Conduct of the Chiefs of this Time. The Charge of all Affairs depends perſonally on you, my Friend, ſo that your coming here is every Way adviſeable. When you are here all Affairs can be ſettled in the Manner you ſhall judge adviſeable. I hope that out of Friendſhip to me, and for the Welfare of our Government, you will ſpeedily come." (b)

Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, the following Extract of a Letter from the Nabob to the Governor General, received the 23d December 1784.

"From the Vizeir. Received 23 December 1784.

"N° 95. Your Excellency's Letter, in Reply to mine, arrived. I ſhall ſend ſuch an Anſwer to his Majeſty's Shokeh, commanding me to the Sublime Preſence, as you ſignified; but the Raſhneſs of the Chiefs who are now in the Royal Preſence, and the Change of Times, are ſuch, that there is no Opportunity for Addreſſes to be conveyed, in Anſwer to the Orders and Shokehs of his Majeſty, till a Plan be formed, how will Rivals, confuſing Affairs, give Leiſure? From the News, and other Circumſtances, you will have heard of the State of Affairs. Shokehs to his Royal Highneſs, according to the Pleaſure of the Pateel Mahajee Sindia, and an Arzie from him, are arrived; Copies of which will reach you, encloſed in this. From the Contents of Mahajee Sindia's Letter, his Sentiments and Intentions concerning his Royal Highneſs will be explained. I can give no Anſwer to ſuch Points without your Directions; ſo that I beg you will communicate your Pleaſure. My Friend, now that you are at ſuch a Diſtance, much Diſtreſs affects my Mind; for all my Affairs depend on your Perſon." (c)

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired Captain Edwards might be called.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LXIV.
(b) Vide Appendix, N° LXXVII.
(c) Vide Appendix, N° LXXVIII.

CAPTAIN EDWARDS was called in, and, being ſworn, was examined as follows:

Q. How long was you in the Upper Provinces, and at Lucknow?
A. Between Seven and Eight Years.

Q. In what Capacity?
A. In ſeveral Situations: Firſt an Enſign; then a Lieutenant; and, latterly, Aid de Camp to the Nabob of Oude.

Q. When did you firſt go there?
A. I went there in the Year 1774.

Q. And when did you come away?
A. I left that Country in the Year 1783.

Q. Was you at Lucknow about the Month of Auguſt in the Year 1781?
A. I was.

Q. Did you accompany the Nabob, in his Journey at that Time from Lucknow to Chunar?
A. I did.

Q. In what Character did you accompany the Nabob?
A. Officially, as Aid de Camp.

Q. Did you hear, as you paſſed through the Country with the Nabob, from Lucknow to Chunar, of any Rebellion of the Begums then exiſting?
A. No, I never did, not at that Time: I have heard ſince.

Q. Did you arrive at Chunar, with the Nabob, at the Time the Nabob met Mr. Haſtings?
A. I did.

Q. In what Character was you then employed at Chunar?
A. I arrived at Chunar officially, as Aid de Camp to the Nabob, in conſequence of a Detachment being ſent from the Nabob of Oude's Encampment to attend upon Mr. Haſtings. I offered my Service as a Volunteer, and was, in Conſequence, appointed to the Command of that Detachment, commonly called the Reſident's Body Guard. Mr. Middleton was then Reſident at Oude.

Q. You commanded a Detachment which came from the Encampment of the Nabob, the Service of which was to attend upon Mr. Haſtings?
A. It was to attend upon Mr. Haſtings, and to obey any other Order I might receive from the Commanding Officer then ſtationed at Chunar, who was Colonel Blair; and who frequently uſed to ſend me with Military Stores from Chunar to Colonel Popham, who was then ſtationed about Ten Miles from that Place.

Q. What do you know, reſpecting the Treaty ſigned at that Time at Chunar, between the Nabob and Mr. Haſtings?
A. I know nothing very particular. I heard there was a Treaty ſigned at Chunar, but the Particulars were kept a profound Secret.

Q. According to your Obſervation, did the Nabob appear to be his own Maſter, and to act from his own free Will, or did he appear to be dependant upon the Britiſh Government; and what were the Obſervations you made?
A. I did not make any particular Remarks at that Time, but I frequently remarked he was entirely ſubſervient to the Will both of the Reſident and Miniſter in every Particular; not only regarding that Treaty, but every Thing elſe relative to the interior Part of the Management of his Revenue in general.

Q. Did the Nabob's Miniſter Hyder Beg Cawn, appear to be in a ſimilar Degree of Subſerviency to the Britiſh Government? did you make ſimilar Obſervations in reſpect of him?
A. Yes, I did; he ſeemed to be controuled entirely by the then Reſident at Lucknow.

Q. What were the Particulars you did obſerve?
A. I obſerved, that nothing material was tranſacted, either at Lucknow or in any other Part of the Nabob's Provinces, without the Sanction of the Britiſh Government; that the Miniſter always conſulted the Reſident, whoever he might be. I was there for ſeveral Years; I was there during the Reſidency of Mr. Middleton, of Mr. Briſtow, of Mr. Purling, of Mr. Hoſier, and of ſeveral others, and latterly of Mr. Palmer.

Q. What Means had you of knowing, that he conſulted the Reſident?
A. Whenever I had any Application myſelf to make, or whenever any of the Natives had any Application to make, relative to the Management or Government of the Country at large, they always were referred by the Miniſter to the then Reſident.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether, while you was at Chunar with Mr. Haſtings and the Nabob, you was applied to for any Information reſpecting the Diſturbances in Fyzabad, or in the Neighbourhood?

A. No: I never was.

Q. Did you know, or hear, of any Troops being detached from Chunar to quell any ſuppoſed Diſturbances in that Place?

A. No: I never heard there were.

Q. Was it poſſible that any Rebellion ſhould have exiſted at Fyzabad at that Time, without its coming to your Knowledge?

A. I think not.

Q. Could any general Opinion of the Diſaffection of the Begums towards the Engliſh Government have prevailed, without its coming to your Knowledge?

A. Not a general Opinion, but certainly private Opinion might have prevailed, without my hearing any thing of the Matter; bur, if it had been very general, I think it muſt have come to my Knowledge: at leaſt I think ſo; for I had Servants detached, in different Parts, and I had frequent Intercourſe with the Natives; and, I really believe, if a Rebellion had exiſted at that Period, I ſhould have known, or have heard ſomething of it, at leaſt by Report.

Q. Did you return with the Nabob from Chunar to Lucknow, when the Nabob parted with Mr. Haſtings?

A. I returned Part of the Way with his Excellency the Nabob, but not the Whole of the Way. When he came within a ſhort Diſtance of Lucknow, I recollect he ſtruck off for Fyzabad, and I immediately went for Lucknow. I think, at that Time, Mr. Middleton, who was then Reſident, and Hyder Beg Cawn, who was then Miniſter, accompanied his Excellency the Nabob to Fyzabad.

Q. Upon what Account did you ſuppoſe the Nabob went to Fyzabad, with what View?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Queſtion.

Q. Have you any Reaſon to know, why the Nabob went to Fyzabad?

A. I have no Knowledge in particular, only from common Report.

Q. Did you hear of any Rebellion at that Time, upon your Return?

A. No, not immediately at that Time, but I have heard ſince.

Q. Have you any Reaſon to know, what was the Inducement of that Journey?

A. No, I have not.

Q. Did you at that Time, when you returned, upon the Road, and before you parted with the Nabob, hear of any Rebellion exiſting, or that was paſſed, on the Part of the Begums?

A. I never did.

Q. Did you ſay, that Mr. Middleton and the Nabob went together, when they went to Fyzabad?

A. They left the Encampment together, and I underſtood they were going to Fyzabad, and that they all went to Fyzabad.

Q. What Guard did the Nabob take with him to Fyzabad?

A. I cannot exactly mention the Number, but I dare ſay, moſt of the Cavalry he had then accompanied him; but the Infantry remained in the Encampment.

Q. What Number of Cavalry?

A. I cannot ſay what Number it conſiſted of at that Time; ſome Hundred Horſe; but I cannot exactly recollect the Number.

Q. Do you think there were Two thouſand Horſe?

A. No; I do not believe there were ſo many, nor yet One thouſand Horſe. I am ſure there were not ſo many Regulars, what is generally called the Nabob's Cavalry; but there were a great Number of Horſemen belonging to his Attendants, not particularly attached to his Perſon.

Q. Do you, or do you not, know how many there were upon the Military Eſtabliſhment, and how many of another Sort?

A. I fancy there were about Five or Six hundred, called his Regulars; all of which are his Cavalry. The Mogul Cavalry are Troops attached to his Dependents, and he had a great many of them. There were undoubtedly a great many of the firſt People of that Country that attended his Excellency; there was his Uncle, and a great many other Perſons.

Q. Were there any Military, but what attended his Perſon?

A. Not Cavalry, but a great many Infantry.

Q. I thought you ſaid, there were none but Cavalry that went with him to Fyzabad?

A. None but Cavalry went with him from the Encampment to Fyzabad. He travelled ſo expeditiouſly, he could not well take the Infantry with him.

Q. Then

Q. Then the Infantry remained with you in the Encampment?
A. They did.

Q. Whether the regular Troops you ſpoke of, were well paid and well appointed Troops, and ſuch as the Nabob could have depended upon for any regular Service?

A. No; I do not believe they were; for I recollect at that Time they were a great many Months in Arrear, and very poorly clothed, and very poorly mounted, and ſeemed very much diſaffected. I have known them refuſe to go upon the Service when they were deſired to hold themſelves in Readineſs, unleſs the Miniſter paid them their Arrears of Pay, which at that Time, I believe, were very conſiderable, at leaſt by Report; they amounted to a very large Sum. I think his Horſemen at that Time were at leaſt Fifteen or Sixteen Months in Arrear. I only know thoſe Circumſtances by Report; I have no Knowledge officially.

Q. But you was there at the Time?
A. I was there at the Time.

Q. From their Behaviour and Countenance, did you look upon them as Troops that could be depended upon, or in another View?

A. I looked upon them in another View, that they could not be depended upon.

Q. What were the Number of Infantry which were left in the Encampment?
A. I really cannot mention the Number of Troops they conſiſted of, but there were a great many Battalions of Sepoys.

Q. How far was that Encampment from Fyzabad?
A. I cannot rightly mention the particular Diſtance, becauſe it was in the direct Route from Fyzabad to Chunargur, and the Diſtance I am not particularly acquainted with.

Q. How far was it from Lucknow?
A. It was about Sixty Miles from Lucknow.

Q. But the Diſtance from Fyzabad you do not know?
A. The Diſtance from Fyzabad I think muſt have been thereabouts; I recollect hearing the Nabob got to Fyzabad that Night, the ſame Day he left us encamped, and his Excellency generally travelled very expeditiouſly. I have known him travel Fifty or Sixty Miles in a Day, having relaid Elephants for that Purpoſe.

Q. Could the Cavalry get on at the ſame Rate?
A. No, they could not; they got on as faſt as they conveniently could, but they could not travel at that Rate.

Q. You conceive the Nabob muſt have arrived at Fyzabad without his Cavalry?
A. I certainly do, and I am perfectly ſure if he arrived that Day, which I am not very certain of, only by Report, he certainly muſt have arrived there without his Cavalry.

Q. Whether the Nabob, upon leaving the Country to join Mr. Haſtings, did not take with him all the Troops he could get together, in order to bring them to the Aſſiſtance of Mr. Haſtings?
A. He did.

Q. And took them with him out of the Country?
A. And took them with him; they joined him upon the Line of his March as expeditiouſly as they could, becauſe they were ſent for from different Parts of the Country.

Q. What Quantity of Troops did you carry to Chunar?
A. His Rabble and Camp-followers, and all together, amounted, I dare ſay, to 30,000.

Q. How many Regulars or Military were there?
A. Regulars but very few.—I think his Excellency had about 8,000 Regulars, but there is a great Diſtinction obſerved in that Country between the Regulars and the other Mogul Troops; the Regulars are diſciplined in the ſame Manner as the Britiſh Troops, and armed and clothed with the ſame Accoutrements; the native Troops are not; they are generally called Matchlock Men, and Peons: they go by different Names according to the Country they ſerve in.

Q. Did you hear, upon the Nabob's and Hyder Beg's Return to Lucknow, any Charge or any Thing that led you to believe, that Diſcoveries of Rebellion or Treaſon had been made by the Nabob while at Fyzabad?
A. No, I did not.

Q. When did you firſt hear of any Accuſation, or Charge of any Rebellion or Diſaffection againſt the Begums?

A. Some Time after I arrived at Lucknow; about a Fortnight after, I heard the Gentlemen in the Reſident's Family mention the different Accounts that Colonel Hannay and his Officers had ſent.

Q. Was

Q. Was the Intelligence you received upon that Subject, confined to Communications made by Colonel Hannay and his Officers to the Reſident's Office, or did you hear of any other beſides?

A. I heard that ſuch Reports prevailed at Lucknow, among the Natives, which were not generally believed, and there were a few who mentioned they had heard the Reports.

Q. The Queſtion put to you is, whether you heard of any other Inſtances than thoſe mentioned by Colonel Hannay and his Officers?

A. I heard my own Servants ſay, as they went through the Market Place, they had heard from the Reſident's Servants, that they had heard ſuch Reports did prevail.

Q. Meaning the Reports from Colonel Hannay?

A. Yes, meaning thoſe Reports.

Q. Did the Natives in general give any Credit to thoſe Reports?

A. No, I do not think they did.

Q. Did you not hear more of this Sort of Report, after the Treaſure was ſeized in January 1782?

A. I did; I heard the Treaſures were ſeized in conſequence of the Report, and the Charge and Accuſation made by Colonel Hannay, and ſome of his Officers, that the Begums had been in a State of Rebellion; and I underſtood from the Reports which I heard there, that the Treaſures were ſeized in conſequence of a Rebellion being in Exiſtence.

Q. But after the Treaſures were ſeized, did you hear more particular Circumſtances, or how?

A. I heard no more than I have juſt related.

Q. Had you an Opportunity of obſerving the general State of the Country of Oude, when you Firſt arrived there, and for Two Years afterwards?

A. No, I had not when I firſt arrived.

Q. How ſoon after your Arrival there, had you ſuch an Opportunity?

A. The only Opportunity that I had of knowing the State of that Country, was by marching and countermarching repeatedly through the different Provinces of the Nabob's Dominions; and afterwards, when I was appointed Aid-de-Camp to the Nabob, and attended his Excellency's Perſon whenever he took the Field, or went a hunting, or upon any Excurſion he might make into the interior Part of his Dominions.

Q. When was you appointed Aid-de-Camp to the Nabob?

A. I was appointed his Aid-de-Camp, I believe, in the Year 1780.

Q. Had you not an Opportunity of obſerving the general Face of the Country, in the Time of Sujah Dowlah?

A. I had.

Q. Did you remark any Difference in the general State of the Country at that Time, and the Period when you made your latter Obſervation: Did you obſerve any Difference between the Condition of the Country at that Time, and that of Sujah Dowlah in the Year 1774, the latter Period you have mentioned?

A. I did, a very material Difference.

Q. In what Reſpect?

A. In the general Aſpect that the Country bore, and the Cultivation of the Country, that it was infinitely better cultivated in 1774 than it was in 1783.

Q. You ſaid, you had no Opportunity of obſerving the State of the Country, till you was appointed Aid de Camp to the Nabob?

A. No, except by marching and countermarching. I marched in the Year 1774 through the Nabob Sujah ul Dowlah's Provinces, into Rohilcund.

Q. Had you thoſe Opportunities from the Time of your going there, in the Year 1774?

A. I had; but not ſo much as I had after being appointed Aid de Camp to the Vizier, becauſe I was always before in a ſubordinate Situation; I marched in a direct Line before with the Troops: but afterwards, when I was Aid de Camp to his Excellency, I was my own Maſter, and made frequent Excurſions into the different Parts of the Country.

Q. Had you an Opportunity of obſerving the Difference in the general Happineſs and Diſpoſition of the People?

A. I had.

Q. Did you obſerve a Difference in that Reſpect alſo, between your firſt coming and the Year 1783?

A. Yes, a very ſenſible Difference; in Sujah ul Dowlah's Time the Country was in a very flouriſhing State, in Merchandize, Cultivation, and every Article of Commerce, and the People then ſeemed to be very happy under his Government; which, latterly was not the Caſe; becauſe the Country in Reality appeared in the Year 1774 in a flouriſhing State, and in the Year 1783 it appeared comparatively forlorn and deſolate.

Q. Was the Court of Aſoph ul Dowlah, when you left India, equal in Point of Splendor to what it was in the Time of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. By no means, it was not equally ſplendid, but far inferior.

Q. Were the Dependants and Officers belonging to the Court, paid in the ſame punctual Manner?

A. No, I really cannot ſay whether they were paid more regularly in Sujah ul Dowlah's Time; only they appeared more wealthy, and more able to live in a ſplendid Stile, in his Time, than they ever have done ſince his Death.

Q. In what Situation was Colonel Hannay in thoſe Provinces?

A. I underſtand that he rented a great Part of the Nabob's Country, called Baraitch and Goruckpore.

Q. You heard ſo?

A. I heard ſo, only by Report.

Q. Do you know, what was the general Fame of the Country with reſpect to Colonel Hannay's Adminiſtration in thoſe Provinces?

A. Only, from Report.

Q. What was that Report?

A. That the Meaſures of his Government, appeared to the Natives there, very unjuſtifiable and oppreſſive.

Q. What particular Inſtance of this Injuſtice and Oppreſſion did they generally report in the Country?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to general Report of particular Facts.

Q. Did you ever ſee or know, any Fact or Circumſtance, from which you could infer in the ſame Manner?

A. When I accompanied his Excellency the Nabob into that Country, I believe it was the latter End of the Year 1779, or early in the Year 1780, the Country ſeemed to be little cultivated, and very few Inhabitants made their Appearance, and the Few that were in the Country ſeemed much diſtreſſed, and I underſtood that the Country had been better peopled, but that they had all left the Country in conſequence of Colonel Hannay's Adminiſtration.

Q. Did you ever ſee any Priſons, Forts, or Cages, which you underſtood were made uſe of by Colonel Hannay?

A. I ſaw what they called Priſons, but I ſaw no Priſoners there. I ſaw a Place that the Country People called a Priſon, but there were no Priſoners there at that Time.

Q. Deſcribe what Sort of Place that was, which they called a Priſon?

A. It was a large Place, fenced round with what they call Bamboo, a very ſtrong Reed, that grows in that Country, a Kind of Cane, and it was a Place fenced round with this Cane.

Q. Of what Circumference?

A. I take it to be about 60 Feet ſquare, but I cannot exactly mention the Circumference. I took no particular Notice of it, other than juſt ſeeing the Place; and they told me, that was the Priſon where the Natives, who had not paid their Rents regularly, were confined.

Q. Confined, by whom?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to an Examination to the Report of particular Facts.

Q. Do you know of any Body being confined?

A. No: I do not.

Q. What did the People call thoſe Forts or Cages; by what Name?

A. They were called differently; ſome called them Cages, others called them Forts, and others called them Priſons.

Q. Had not Colonel Hannay left thoſe Provinces when you ſaw thoſe Forts, Cages or Priſons, empty?

A. No, he had not, he was then in the Country.

Q. Was it in Baraitch or Goruckpore that you ſaw thoſe Priſons?

A. I really cannot diſtinctly mention the Place, whether it was in the Goruckpore Province, or the Baraitch Province; but it was at a Place called Byapore.

Q. When was it you ſaw this?

A. I cannot exactly mention the Month; however, I think it was, to the beſt of my Recollection, the latter End of the Year 1779, or early in the Year 1780.

Q. Had

Q. Had you ever ſeen ſuch Priſons in any other Province?
A. Not exactly alike; but I have ſeen ſeveral other Priſons in different Parts of the Nabob's Dominions.

Q. Whether you ever heard any Native of Credit and Authority in the Nabob's Dominions, who appeared to believe the Rebellion of the Begums?
A. No, I never did.

Q. On the contrary, have you any Reaſon to believe that the Nabob gave Credit to it?
A. I really cannot rightly preſume to ſay, whether the Nabob did, or did not; but I am apt to believe that he did not.

Q. Have you any Reaſon, and what, to form a Belief about it?
A. I have. I think, if he ſuppoſed the Rebellion ever exiſted at Fyzabad, he would have been the firſt Perſon to take, and give the Alarm to the Britiſh Troops.

Q. And no ſuch Alarm was taken, or given to the Britiſh Troops?
A. No, I think not. As I was always about his Perſon, and in the Camp, I think I certainly muſt have known it, or heard of it; but I never did.

Q. When you did hear of this Rebellion, did not you underſtand it to have been alledged, that one Object of it was to dethrone the Nabob himſelf, as well as to extirpate the Engliſh?
A. I underſtood that the Intention of the Princeſſes, the Begums, was to extirpate the Engliſh Troops out of the Country, and out of thoſe Dominions; and likewiſe to depoſe her Son, and ſet another Son, who ſeems to have been a greater Favourite of that Family, upon the Throne, in the Room of the preſent Nabob; and that Son's Name is Saadit Ally. I have only heard this from Report; I have no other Knowledge but mere Report. I underſtood from the Report, ſhe was to extirpate the Engliſh, and depoſe her Son who is now upon the Throne.

Q. Was it after, or before, the ſeizing of the Treaſures, that you heard a circumſtantial Account of the ſuppoſed Object of the Rebellion?
A. The Report was more general after the ſeizing of the Treaſures; but yet there were Reports prevailing in the Neighbourhood, that our Troops were ſent there in conſequence of the Charge that was made by Colonel Hannay and ſome of his Officers, of a Rebellion exiſting then at Fyzabad, or having exiſted, I cannot rightly ſay which.

Q. Was that Report, after the Order for the Troops to march to Fyzabad?
A. It was more general; it was very general then, when the Troops did march there; and more general after the ſeizing of the Treaſures.

Q. When did the Troops firſt march?
A. It was ſome Time in the Month of January, I believe, in the Year 1782.

Q. While you was with the Nabob, in paſſing from Lucknow to Chunar, and while you was with him or the Army, returning from Chunar, did you then, out of the whole Army, regular or irregular, ever hear of any Report of the Begums being in Rebellion?
A. No, I do not recollect I ever did.

Q. (Croſs Examination.) Do you recollect at what Time in Auguſt 1781, you left Lucknow to proceed with the Nabob to Chunar?
A. No, I cannot rightly mention the Date; all that I know is this, that I accompanied the Nabob, Mr. Middleton, and his Attendants, all the Way from Lucknow to Chunargur: I really cannot recollect; I have no Notes; and it is ſo diſtant a Time ſince, that I do not recollect the Particulars of the Month, or the Day; but I recollect perfectly, I accompanied the Nabob all the Way from Lucknow to Chunar, and returned again with him, until he ſtruck off on the Road for Fyzabad.

Q. Do you recollect at what Time you arrived at Chunar?
A. I arrived at Chunar in the Year 1780 or 1781, I really cannot particularize it; in 1781, I think.

Q. During the Time you was at Chunar, was you, or not, principally employed in the Fort?
A. No; I was employed, that is, my Detachment was ſtationed, as the Out-poſt of that Garriſon, during the Rebellion of Cheit Sing: At Night, all Night, I laid upon my Arms, as Out-poſt, and in the Day-time I ſupplied Colonel Popham's Detachment with Victuals and military Stores of all Kinds; and again, at Night, I returned to my Duty, ſtationed about Half a Mile beyond Chunar, as an Out-poſt to the Garriſon.

Q. Can you ſtate, when it was you was firſt ſent by Colonel Blair to Colonel Popham's Detachment?
A. I was ſent the following Day, after taking Charge of this Detachment, which I now ſpeak of, the Detachment I commanded, and, in conſequence of an Application, I was diſpatched the following Day.

Q. Did

Q. Did you take the Command of the Detachment the Day after your Arrival?
A. I believe I did; I took the Command immediately upon Mr. Haſtings requeſting he might have ſome Troops for his Service granted him by the Nabob. The Nabob ſent this Detachment without being commanded by any European Officer: Finding that, I offered my Service, and then I joined the Detachment, and it was employed in the Manner I have already deſcribed.

Q. Which you take to be the Day, or the Day following, after your Arrival at Chunar?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you ſerve under Colonel Popham in quelling the Rebellion of Cheit Sing?
A. No further than delivering the Military Stores which Colonel Blair detached to the Encampment; and while I was under Colonel Popham, I was amenable to all the Orders he might give me, and he frequently gave me Orders to Mr. Haſtings or Colonel Blair. Sometimes I was to deliver a Meſſage perſonally to Mr. Haſtings, ſometimes I was to deliver a Meſſage perſonally to Colonel Blair; and ſometimes he has ſent Priſoners with me, that he took in the Courſe of the Day, back to Chunargur.

Q. But you were employed in no active Service under Colonel Popham?
A. No, I was not.

Q. Do you recollect how long you were at Chunar?
A. I came there with his Excellency the Nabob, and I returned with him.

Q. Can you recollect how long that was?
A. No, I really cannot; I took no Notice at the Time; I only know this, I went with the Nabob, and I returned with the Nabob.

Q. Was you at Fyzabad, during the Month of September, or October, 1781?
A. No, I believe I was not; I do not recollect that I was.

Q. Was it not poſſible that the Begums, or their Eunuchs, might have raiſed Troops for the Aſſiſtance of Cheit Sing, without that Fact coming to your Knowledge?
A. It was poſſible.

Q. Having ſpoken to the State of the Country of Oude in the Year 1774, as being better than in the Year 1783, whether in the Years 1780, 1781 and 1782, there had not been conſiderable Droughts in Oude?
A. Only from the Nature of managing the Country, not from any other Cauſe.

Q. Whether you will take upon you to ſwear, there had not been ſuch Droughts from natural Cauſes? Do you underſtand what is meant by Drought?
A. Yes.

Q. You have referred it to the Management of the Country: Was it, or not, referable to natural Cauſes in thoſe Years?
A. I never heard of any natural Cauſes in thoſe Years having happened.

Q. The Seaſon therefore was as wet in thoſe Years, as ordinarily in other Years?
A. I can only mention that I was ſtationed in the Country; if there was any prior to the Time of my being there, I cannot give any Information, but when I went there in the Year 1774, the Seaſons after that, appeared to be as favourable as the Seaſon of that Year.

Q. But the Queſtion now is, Whether the Seaſons in the Years 1780, 1781, or 1782, were in any reſpect peculiarly unfavourable, more ſo than thoſe you met with in the Year 1774?
A. I never heard they were.

Q. You obſerved you was there from the Year 1774 to the Year 1783?
A. I was, excepting an Interval of 18 Months; I went up there in the Year 1774 the firſt Time, and then I was ſtationed in the Company's Provinces for about 18 Months; and afterwards I was appointed in the Year 1777 to the Nabob's Service, owing to a perſonal Application of his.

Q. What was the Miſmanagement to which you attributed the Drought of the Years 1781 and 1782?
A. The Miſmanagement of the Nabob's Miniſter.

Q. How did that affect the Country with Drought? I underſtood you to ſay, that the Droughts you obſerved were in the Years 1780, 1781, or 1782?
A. I never obſerved any Droughts while I was in that Country at all; only I obſerved the Country was leſs cultivated; and there was great Waſte of Land, owing more to the Miſmanagement in Oude, not from any natural Cauſe.

Q. Therefore you never obſerved any Drought at all?
A. No, I never did.

Q. (by

Q. (by Counſel). Do you mean, that from the firſt Time you went to reſide at Lucknow, down to the Period when you left it, you never obſerved any Drought whatever; that in all the Seaſons, during the ſeveral Years you were there, you never obſerved any Drought to prevail?

A. I never recollect that I did: A Drought might have happened in ſeveral Parts of the Country that I had not ſeen; but the Country I travelled through, and all the Neighbourhood, appeared as well cultivated as it has ſince; in ſhort, there was no natural Defect.

Q. Was your general Reſidence at Lucknow?

A. While Aid de Camp to his Excellency, it was; it was always my Reſidence: But, previouſly to that Appointment, I was ſtationed in different Parts of the Nabob's Dominions, in Rohillcund, Farruckabad, and other military Stations.

Q. But in all thoſe Stations, were you confined to your reſpective Station, or did your Employment carry you ſo as to traverſe the Country?

A. I was always at Liberty to travel about the Country for a few Days, by obtaining Leave of my Commanding Officer.

Q. Did you do ſo?

A. Yes, frequently.

Q. Did you make thoſe Excurſions to any conſiderable Diſtance from Lucknow, during the Time you was Aid de Camp?

A. About Sixty, Seventy, or Eighty Miles.

Q. Did the Nabob himſelf frequently go up into the Country and make Excurſions?

A. Every Year, and particularly in the Year 1780.

Q. Where did he go then?

A. I think he went either in the latter End of the Year 1779, or early in the Year 1780, to Colonel Hannay's Country?

Q. Did you attend him there?

A. I did.

Q. Did he make any other Progreſs round his Country?

A. He did not make any other Progreſs at that Period, but he frequently uſed to make Excurſions backwards and forwards, according as the Weather ſuited him.

Q. You always attended him?

A. I always attended him.

Q. What was the Number of Mogul Cavalry, that went with the Nabob to Chunar?

A. I cannot pretend to inform you; I do not know.

Q. What was the general State of Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa, when you left India in the Year 1783?

A. It was in a very flouriſhing State.

Q. Did the Natives appear to be happy, or otherwiſe?

A. They always appeared to be very happy.

Q. (from a Lord.) Does not the Cultivation of the Country depend upon the Supply of Water from Wells and Tanks, more than from the Seaſon, or Rain Water?

A. It certainly does.

Q. (from Counſel.) Have you any Reaſon whatever to believe, that the Reports of Colonel Hannay's Conduct, ſuch as they were, reached the Knowledge of Mr. Haſtings? Do you know any Thing of it?

A. No, I do not; for I really believe, that if the Reports which then prevailed had reached Mr. Haſtings' Knowledge, he would immediately have removed Colonel Hannay from his Appointment.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether the Cavalry, by whom the Nabob was attended to Chunar, were his uſual Body Guard, or in what Proportion did they exceed his common Body Guard?

A. I cannot rightly inform you of the Proportion; but, to the beſt of my Recollection, he had at this Time, when he went to Chunargur, all his Cavalry along with him; and when he only went a hunting, and made the other Excurſions, he frequently granted Furloughs to his Cavalry, and only took along with him ſuch a Number: He did not require an exact Number to accompany him.

Q. Cannot you recollect the ordinary Number?

A. No; he took more or leſs, according to his Pleaſure; but when he went to Chunargur, he took all with him he could collect: He ſent round the Country to collect thoſe who were on Leave of Abſence to join him, and they all joined him before he got to Chunar.

Q. Did the Orders come from you as Aid de Camp?

A. Never.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether the Nabob was in an equal State of Subordination to the other Reſidents, as he was to Mr. Middleton; or whether that Subordination was peculiarly to Mr. Middleton?

A. To all the Reſidents alike.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether the Priſons of which you ſpoke, which you ſaw in Baraitch and Goruckpore, were the uſual Priſons of the Country, or were they occaſionally put up for any particular and ſpecial Purpoſe?

A. I really cannot ſay, for I never had been in that Country previous to the Time I mentioned, that is, when Colonel Hannay was in Poſſeſſion of the Country.

Q. But have you ſeen any Priſons in any other Part of the Country?

A. I have.

Q. Were thoſe Priſons of the ſame Conſtruction as thoſe which you then obſerved, or of any peculiar Conſtruction?

A. They were much of the ſame Conſtruction.

Q. (from a Lord.) Was it at Lucknow that you heard the Reports concerning Colonel Hannay and his Oppreſſions?

A. It was both at Lucknow and at many other Places; it was a general Report.

Q. Whether thoſe Reports might have reached the Reſident's Ears as well as your's?

A. I have no Doubt but they did, but I really cannot ſay whether they did or did not; but I have not the leaſt Doubt of their reaching the Reſident's Ears.

Q. Were there any Arrears of Pay due to you, as Aid de Camp to the Nabob, when you attended him to Chunar?

A. There were.

Q. What Arrears?

A. About Five Months Arrears.

Q. What Orders were left for the Infantry: Were they to follow, to remain in Camp, or to return to Lucknow, at the Time of your Return from Chunar, when you ſeparated from the Nabob?

A. I cannot ſay, for immediately upon the Nabob's going from Chunar to Fyzabad expreſs, he went Poſt, I could not follow him; therefore I left his Encampment and returned to Lucknow.

Q. You ſaid, you ſuppoſed very few Troops attended the Nabob to Fyzabad; do you know that of your own Knowledge, or from Report; and what Number of Troops came in with him to Fyzabad?

A. I do not know the Number of Troops that were ordered to attend him to Fyzabad, but there were very few, or none at all, that could have followed him, when he entered Fyzabad; I ſpeak that only as a Matter of Opinion.

Q. (from a Lord.) The Mogul Horſe are an irregular Body of Cavalry, which the Dependants of the Nabob are obliged to furniſh him with, by the Nature of their Tenure?

A. The Horſe that the Dependants upon the Nabob are obliged to furniſh him with, are very irregular; but the Mogul Cavalry are ſometimes very regular; they are not always obliged to ſupply his Excellency with Mogul Cavalry, any Sort of Cavalry anſwers their Purpoſe.

Q. Were thoſe which attended the Nabob, Mogul Cavalry?

A. Not all; there were very few in compariſon with the others; the others were native Cavalry, but not Regulars; there is a Diſtinction between the native Cavalry, the Regulars, and the Mogul Cavalry.

Q. How are the irregular Cavalry armed?

A. With Sabres and Spears, and ſometimes with Matchlocks.

Q. Was you at the Battle of Buxar?

A. No; I was not.

Q. Was you ever employed in the Carnatic?

A. No, I never was.

Q. Was you acquainted with Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I was.

Q. Did you not conſider him as a Man of Abilities and Attention to Buſineſs?

A. He certainly was both.

Q. Did you look upon Aſoph ul Dowlah in the ſame Light?

A. By no Means.

Q. Did you conſider him as more addicted to Pleaſures, than attentive to the Affairs of Government?

A. I certainly did.

Q. When

Q. When the Nabob made thoſe Excurſions, did he make them, generally, to viſit and inſpect the Adminiſtration of his Provinces, or on Hunting Parties?

A. I really cannot expreſsly mention his Motive, but it was generally imagined, and called, a Hunting Party, whenever he made thoſe Excurſions.

Q. Did he go attended as if he was going a hunting?

A. They always do that: Whether they go a hunting, or upon any other Occaſion, they take Dogs, Horſes, and every Thing elſe.

Q. (from a Lord). If there had been any Diſturbance at Fyzabad, or Rebellion there, what Troops were ſtationed there, ſo as to be ready to ſuppreſs it?

A. The main Body was ſtationed at a Place called Cawnpore, about Forty Miles off; but there were ſeveral Detachments nigher: One commanded by Major Gilpin, not many Miles from Fyzabad, to the beſt of my Recollection; another Detachment, I believe, commanded by Major Naylor, in that Neighbourhood; and another commanded, I think, by Captain Jacques; but I am not very certain, I only ſpeak to the beſt of my Recollection.

Q. Were there any Troops of the Nabob nearer at Hand than thoſe, to ſuppreſs a Rebellion, if it had ariſen at Fyzabad?

A. None nearer than thoſe.

Q. His own were not near at Hand to ſuppreſs it?

A. No.

Q. (from a Lord). While you were employed between Chunar and Major Popham's Detachment, had you any Opportunity of hearing what the Strength of Cheit Sing's Force was?

A. Only from the Reports that prevailed in our Encampment.

Q. In the Statement of thoſe Reports, did you hear what Number were ſuppoſed to belong to Cheit Sing; what were the different Corps, and different Species of Strength?

A. There were different Opinions on that Head; ſome thought he had a great many Thouſands, others thought he had but few; no particular Number was ſpecified.

Q. Was Cheit Sing near Major Popham at that Time?

A. He was not.

Q. Did you at that Time hear of any Corps that had actually joined, or were expected to join, Cheit Sing from Fyzabad?

A. No, I never did, but the main Body were generally ſuppoſed to be along with Cheit Sing; there was another Body which Colonel Popham was immediately againſt at this Time, which lay about Ten Miles from Chunargur, at a Place called Pateeta; thoſe Troops, it was apprehended would eſcalade the Place; and in fact they had prepared ſcaling Ladders for that Purpoſe, and thoſe were the Troops I apprehended might moleſt me, when I was ſtationed at the Out Poſts to that Garriſon.

Then the Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then COLONEL ACHMUTY was called in, and being ſworn, was examined as follows:

Q. Where did you ſerve in the Years 1781 and 1782?

A. I went down with the Brigade I belonged to, into the Southern Part of Oriſſa, where I ſerved till June 1781, and the Brigade returned in June to our Cantonments, and then I went up to Dinapore.

Q. Was you ſtationed at Dinapore in Auguſt and September 1781?

A. I was.

Q. Was Dinapore the great high Road or Gang Way between Benares and Calcutta?

A. There are Two Roads—one is through Dinapore, and there is another Road a few Miles from it.

Q. Was the Road through Dinapore much travelled, in going from Benares to Calcutta?

A. Conſtantly by the Troops.

Q. Did you at that Time receive a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, deſiring you to detach Troops to his Aſſiſtance at Chunar?

A. Immediately upon the Troubles at Benares, having heard ſomething about them, I got a Battalion of Sepoys in Readineſs againſt I received an Order, which I did, from Mr. Haſtings, to diſpatch a Battalion of Sepoys up to him as faſt as poſſible. They marched the next Morning after I received the Order.

Q. Did

Q. Did you receive a Letter from Major Palmer, as well as from Mr. Haſtings, at that Time?
A. The publick Letter I received was from Major Palmer, in Mr. Haſtings' Name, as his Aid de Camp. I did not receive any Letter from Mr. Haſtings.

Then a Letter was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and the following Queſtion was put to him.

Q. Whether you remember to have received this Letter from Mr. Haſtings from Chunar (a)?
A. I did.

Q. What is the Date of it?
A. The 22d of September 1781. I received it about a Month poſterior to the Time when it was written.

Q. Whether you had any Reaſon to believe that the Begums were in Rebellion at that Period, againſt the Britiſh Government?
A. If you will give me Leave to premiſe, I never was in Mr. Haſtings's Confidence, and every Thing that I know of, is merely by Report; I was always with the Troops I belonged to; and every Thing that I know of publick Matters, is merely by Report.

Q. Was it reported or believed in your Camp at that Time, that the Begums were either in Rebellion, were preparing for Rebellion, or were furniſhing any Aſſiſtance to Cheit Sing?
A. I never heard that they were; but the Place at which I commanded was at a very great Diſtance from Fyzabad.

Q. Whether, in any of the Communications or Applications made to you from Benares for Aſſiſtance, there was any Mention made of ſuch a Tranſaction by the Begums?
A. No.

Q. Could the Fact of the Begums being in actual Rebellion be a Matter of general Notoriety, and not come to your Knowledge, in your Camp, at Dinapore? Might that Fact have been notorious, without your knowing it?
A. I really do not underſtand how to anſwer that Queſtion.

Q. Was your Situation ſuch, that if it had commonly been talked of, you would have heard it?
A. If I am aſked, Whether I heard that the Begum had raiſed Troops, I can anſwer it. But as to her Diſpoſition, or what ſhe really did, I cannot really ſay.

Q. Do you know any Thing of her raiſing Troops?
A. No, never.

Q. Do you believe it likely, that the Begums could have effected the Extirpation of the Engliſh, if they had attempted it?
A. I believe it was impoſſible.

Q. When did you firſt hear the Begums charged with any Rebellion, or treaſonable Practice?
A. I really cannot charge my Memory with it, I recollect hearing it in Converſation, in Company ſome Months afterwards, but nothing in particular.

Q. Do you know when their Treaſures were ſeized?
A. Yes, I believe I know within a Fortnight or Three Weeks of the Time.

Q. Was it at that Time that you heard thoſe Reports?
A. I cannot charge my Memory: What I heard was merely in Converſation from ſome Gentlemen, that there was ſuch a Report, but from no Authority; as I ſaid before, I do not know any Thing, but merely by Report. I never was employed by Mr. Haſtings upon any Publick Matter, nor was I ever in his Confidence; therefore I cannot poſſibly know any Thing for Truth.

Q. I think you ſaid it was Three or Four Months after the Application to you from Benares for Troops, that you firſt heard any Thing of the Begums being in Rebellion; was it ſooner or later?
A. I think the Troubles began at Benares about the 20th of Auguſt; I ſpeak merely from Memory; and I underſtood that the Force which I ſent to Mr. Haſtings, was in conſequence of the Rajah of Benares Diſaffection: As to the Begums Affair, I think it was in January or February following that I heard of it; but it was merely a curſory Matter in Converſation.

Q. Did you ſee Sir Elijah Impey, either upon his going to join Mr. Haſtings, or upon his Return?
A. He did me the Favour to call in the Cantonments as he was going. He ſupped one Night in the Cantonments, and ſet off next Morning.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 216.

Q. Was that upon his Return?
A. No, going; not on his Return.

Q. Did you ſee Mr. Haſtings, when he returned from theſe Provinces to go to Calcutta?
A. Yes, he did me the Favour to call in the Cantonments, and to dine with me.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings at the Dinner, or at any Time while he remained in thoſe Cantonments, inform you of the Rebellion of the Begums?
A. No.

Q. Did any Officer with Mr. Haſtings hold any Converſation upon that Subject with you?
A. None, nor had we any Converſation pro or con about publick Matters.

Q. What was the general Fame of the Country, with reſpect to Colonel Hannay's Government, in the Nabob's Dominions?
A. I know nothing of it but by Report.

Q. What have you heard about it?
A. The Report was various, the Place where he commanded was very diſtant from where I was, and we had no Sort of Communication.

Q. What was that Variety of Report?
A. If you will aſk me any Thing particular I will anſwer, but I cannot charge my Memory to anſwer in general Terms.

Q. Do you, or not, recollect any general Report, which you heard relative to Colonel Hannay?
A. I heard that the Inhabitants of Goruckpore were very much diſaffected towards Colonel Hannay.

Q. Did you not hear he had committed great Oppreſſions in the Country: In ſhort, can you recollect any Thing you heard about him?
A. What I heard about him was inimical, in reſpect to the Diſpoſition of the People; but all the Goruckpore Diſtrict are a rebellious People, and I believe were People that never paid any Revenue to the Nabob, without its being very ſeverely enforced.

Q. Did you ever hear that the Begums cauſed any Inſurrections, or inflamed this Diſpoſition?
A. Never.

Q. What was the general Opinion in the Army, with reſpect to the Cauſe of Colonel Hannay's diſaſtrous Situation in 1781?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Queſtion, as going to general Report of a particular Fact.

Q. What Circumſtances do you know with reſpect to the Conveyance of any Treaſures of Colonel Hannay's, down the Ganges to Calcutta?
A. I have repeatedly mentioned before, that every Thing I know of theſe Matters is intirely by Report.

Q. From the Means you had of obtaining a Knowledge of the Diſpoſition of the People in Fyzabad, to whom do you conceive the Begums would have applied for Aſſiſtance, if they had had any Occaſion to raiſe Troops, or had apprehended any Danger: Have you any Knowledge of the Situation of Fyzabad at all?
A. I have.

Q. Then, from the Knowledge you have of Fyzabad, where could the Begums have had Recourſe for Force, if they had wanted it?
A. Immediately to Lucknow.

Q. To whom do you think they would have applied, at Lucknow?
A. They would either have applied to Lucknow, or to the Governor General and Council.

Q. But the Queſtion is, if they had applied to Lucknow, to whom would they have applied there?
A. To the Reſident.

Q. (Croſs examined). How far is Dinapore from Fyzabad?
A. I cannot charge my Memory with the Diſtance poſitively. The India Company have a Book of the Roads, publiſhed by Authority, by Major Reynolds; if the Book was here it would aſcertain it exactly.

Q. Can you tell the Diſtance nearly?
A. I do not know.

Q. Specify within Thirty, Forty, or Fifty Miles; do you know the Diſtance?
A. Not exactly; but the Book of Roads can be eaſily reſorted to.

Q. Should you go through Benares, in order to go to Fyzabad from Dinapore?
A. There is a Road that Way, but you may go another; that is the moſt general high Road.

Q. How near is it, according to your Memory?
A. I really believe it is Three hundred Miles, if not more.

Q. Whether the Communication between Dinapore and Fyzabad was open about the Month of September?
A. I do not know.

Q. (by the Managers.) Was it open to Benares?
A. It was not open for a long Time during the Troubles; but I cannot poſitively aſcertain the Time. As ſoon as our Troops made a Junction there, and quelled them, it then began to be open; I cannot poſitively aſcertain the Time.

Q. Do you recollect, whether you gave any Reward to Meſſengers to go from Dinapore to Benares?
A. I offered a Thouſand Rupees to People that offered themſelves to go, and they undertook to go in Five Days. I advanced Fifty Rupees to the Man who promiſed to go.

Q. This was at the Time, before the Troubles at Benares were quelled?
A. Yes.

Q. Do you know of what Deſcription of Force the Troops under Cheit Sing conſiſted?
A. I do not.

Q. Did the Nudjeebs compoſe Part of the Force of Cheit Sing?
A. I never heard.

Q. Did your Situation afford you an Opportunity of knowing, of what Cheit Sing's Force conſiſted?
A. Not poſitively: Nothing but by Report. I had nothing at all to do with him, nor did I know any Thing further of him, than hearing he had a large Force always; the ſame as his Father had.

Q. Whether it was Mr. Haſtings's Cuſtom at any Time, to talk of publick Subjects at Dinner: Was it uſual for him in Company to talk about publick Affairs?
A. I believe I mentioned before, that I never was in Mr. Haſtings's Confidence; and I believe it was very unuſual for him to ſay any Thing about publick Matters.

Q. Have you had frequent Opportunities of dining, and being in Company, with Mr. Haſtings?
A. Very often.

Q. Did he uſe to talk of publick Subjects in that Sort of Society?
A. I do not recollect that he did.

Q. You have ſaid, you did not believe the Force of the Begums could be ſufficient to extirpate the Engliſh; are you acquainted ſufficiently with the Eſtabliſhments, in their ſeveral Jaghires, to know what their Force was, and whether it would not have been very conſiderable, joined to Cheit Sing's?
A. I do not know what their Force was.

Q. Whether that was not a Criſis, in which the Addition of any conſiderable Force, would have had great Effect upon the Succeſs of the Britiſh Arms?
A. I do not know how to anſwer that Queſtion; if you mean, to oppoſe the Britiſh Troops, I ſhould think they would not.

Q. Whether, from your Knowledge of Mr. Haſtings, and of the Reputation that he had in the Country, you think he would have countenanced Oppreſſion in any Body whatſoever?
A. No; I do not imagine he would.

Q. (from a Lord.) You ſaid, that on or about the 20th of Auguſt, and a Month before the ſigning the Treaty of Chunar, you heard Something about a Rebellion, which induced you to make Preparations to aſſiſt Mr. Haſtings; I wiſh to know what that Something was, and from whom you heard it?
A. I know nothing at all about the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. You ſaid, you had your Corps in Readineſs, expecting it would be called for; the Queſtion put to you is, what was the Nature of the Information you had received, and from whom you received the Information, which cauſed you to hold your Corps in Readineſs?

A. I

A. I heard the Report firſt in the Buſar or publick Market; then I received a Letter from Mr. Law at Patna, informing me there had been ſome Diſturbances at Benares, and he was afraid of the Conſequences. Upon this I took Alarm, and ordered a Battalion of Sepoys (Major Crawford's) to be got in Readineſs and ſupplied with 24 Rounds a Man.—About one o'Clock next Morning I received a publick Letter from Major Palmer, in the Governor General's Name, to detach a Battalion immediately, and they marched the next Morning.

Q. Was that, on or about the 20th of Auguſt 1781?

A. I cannot charge my Memory. The Troubles began about the 18th or 20th, and I believe it was the 21ſt. I preſume particular Days, within Two or Three Days, makes no Manner of Difference; it is all from my Memory, for I did not bring home thoſe publick Papers with me.

Q. (from a Lord.) Do you remember what Length of Time there was from your hearing that Report which made you prepare, to your actually receiving the Letter from Major Palmer?

A. Not above Thirty-ſix Hours.

Then the Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated they ſhould next read ſome Letters from Mr. Haſtings to the Vizier, to ſhew the Earneſtneſs with which Mr. Haſtings preſſed the Re-appointment of Colonel Hannay, even after he had Knowledge of his Miſconduct.

Read, the following Extracts from Book III, already delivered in.

" To the Nabob Vizier. Written 26th April 1780.

13. " I have learnt, with very great Satisfaction, that your Excellency has been pleaſed to reſtore to Major Hannay the Charge of ſuperintending the Diſtricts of Gorickpore, &c. with which you formerly inveſted him. I eſteem this a Mark of your Attention to my original Recommendation of Major Hannay; and from the Abilities, Integrity, and Zeal for your Service, which I know he poſſeſſes, I am perſuaded your Excellency will have no Cauſe to repent the Appointment you have given him. In order, however, that the Intention of this Appointment may not be defeated, and that the Major may not be deprived of the Means of accompliſhing the Services expected from him, it is indiſpenſably neceſſary that your Excellency ſhould not only give him due Authority and Support, but that you ſhould convince him, as well as the immediate Rulers of the Country he has to ſuperintend, and above all the People about your own Perſon and Court, that you place an implicit Faith and Confidence in his Zeal for your Service, and will not ſuffer any Perſon whatever to obſtruct or thwart him in the Exertion of it. This is ſo obviouſly neceſſary that I truſt it is your Excellency's firm Intention to do ſo, and it will be the certain Means of obviating theſe Difficulties and vexatious Obſtacles, which I underſtand, and have every Reaſon to believe, were oppoſed to the Major's Endeavours when he was before employed by your Excellency in that Country, to the great Detriment of your Service and Government.

" So long as your Excellency obſerves that Line of Conduct towards Major Hannay, I ſhall be very happy to hear of his Continuance in the Office wherein you have placed him, becauſe I am convinced his Labours will be attended with the moſt ſalutary Effects to your Government, and that Degree of Credit and Reputation to himſelf, which I always flattered * would reſult from my Compliance with your Excellency's firſt Requiſition of his Services. * Sic in Orig.

" It is not my Intention to force, or even to influence your Excellency's Inclinations with reſpect to employing Major Hannay; whatever may be my Wiſhes on this Head, I do not deſire they ſhould controul yours. The Term of Major Hannay's Services depend † on your Excellency's Pleaſure: All I ſhall contend for is, that while he is employed by your Excellency, he be employed in ſuch a Manner as not to bring Diſgrace on his own Character, or Diſcredit on my Recommendation. This is certainly what I have a Right to expect; and I think it neceſſary to declare to your Excellency, that unleſs it is complied with, it will become my Duty to recall Major Hannay altogether from your Service. The perſonal Regard I have for him, will not ſuffer me to continue him in any Situation where he is ſubject to unbecoming Treatments; and I think much too highly of his Abilities, to conſent to their being thrown away in an uſeleſs Purſuit. † Sic in Orig.

" Your Excellency will not conſider this Letter as written in conſequence of any Repreſentations from Major Hannay—he is not acquainted with writing it; and the Tenor of all the Letters I have received from him ſince his Re-appointment to his former Charges, would encourage me to believe your Excellency had determined to purſue that Line of Conduct towards him, which I have now taken the Liberty to recommend; but Major Hannay muſt expect to meet with powerful Oppoſition among the Dependants of your Court, who will naturally view his Appointment, and the Confidence which you may be inclined to reſort ‡ in him, with Jealouſy and Diſguſt, and their moſt artful Inſinuations will ever be employed to bias your Judgment, and betray you into their intereſted Views. This, I am perſuaded, was the principal Source of all the Vexa- ‡ Sic in Orig.

tion

tion and Disappointment which the Major experienced in his former Endeavours to promote your Excellency's Service; and it is the Desire I have to guard you against such incendiary Designs in future, that has induced me to give you this early Declaration of my Sentiments and Expectations on Major Hannay's Appointment."

" To Hyder Beg Khan. Written the 26th April 1780.

14. " Having been informed, that the Vizier has been pleased to restore Major Hannay to the Office of superintending the Districts to the Eastward of the River Gogra; I have thought it necessary to write to his Excellency, signifying my Sentiments and Expectations in regard to the Major's Appointment.

" As you have a principal Share in conducting the Affairs of the Nabob, and consequently an Influence with him, I enclose you a Copy of a Letter to his Excellency on the above Subject, that you may also be clearly informed of my Sentiments and Wishes; and as it must appear to every Man of Understanding or Discernment, that I have recommended nothing, but what tends to promote the Interests of the Nabob's Government, I do expect from you a willing and hearty Exertion of all your Endeavours to render my Recommendation effectual. You must be well acquainted with the Regard I bear Major Hannay; and you may be assured, that I shall consider every Act of Kindness to him, as a Testimony of your Attention to me."

To prove, that the Nabob's Complaints to Mr. Hastings, of the Misconduct of the English Officers in his Country, were ineffectual;

Read, from Book 119, already delivered in, the following Letter from the Nabob Vizier to the Governor General, received the 1st February 1781, beginning at Page 21 of the same.

" From the Nabob Asoph ul Dowla. Received 1st February 1781.

4. " All the Officers stationed with the Brigade at Cawnpore, Futtyghur, Darunghur, and Furrackabad, and other Places, write Purwannas, and give positive Orders to the Aumils of all these Places respecting the Grain, &c. from which Conduct the Country will become depopulate. I am hopeful from your Friendship, that you will write to all these Gentlemen not to issue Orders, &c. to the Aumils, and not to send Troops into the Mahals of the Sircar; and for whatever Quantity of Grain, &c. they may want, they will inform me and the Resident, and we will write it to the Aumils, who shall cause it to be sent them every Month, and I will deduct the Price of them from the Tuncahs. This will be agreeable both to me and to the Ryots."

" Copy of a Letter from the Nabob Vizier to Rajah Gobind Ram.

" I some Time ago wrote you the Particulars of the Conduct of the Officers, and now write them again. The Officers and Gentlemen who are at Cawnpore and Futtyghur, and Darunghur, and other Places, by different Means, act very tyrannically and oppressively towards the Aumils, and Ryots, and Inhabitants; and to whomsoever that requires a Dustuck, they give it with their own Seal affixed, and send for the Aumils and punish them. If they say any Thing, the Gentlemen make use of but Two Words; One, that is, for the Brigade, and the Second, that is, to
* Sic in Orig. administer Justice. The Particulars of it is this *, that the Bipparies will bring their Grain from all Quarters, and sell for their Livelihood. There is at present no War to occasion a Necessity for sending for it. If none comes, whatever Quantity will be necessary every Month, I will mention to the Aumils, that they may bring it for Sale; but there is no Deficiency of Grain. The Gentlemen have established Gunges for their own Advantage, called Colonel Gunge, at Darunghur, Futtyghur, &c. The Collections of the Customs from all Quarters they have stopped, and collected them at their own Gunges. Each Gunge is rented out at 30,000,—40,000, Rupees, and their Collections paid to the Gentlemen. They have established Gunges where there never were any; and where they were, those they have abolished. 30,000 or 40,000 Rupees is the Sum they are rented at. The Collections, to the Amount of a Lack of Rupees, are stopped. Major Briscoe, who is at Darunghur, has established a Gunge, which rented out for 45,000 Rupees, and has stopped the Ghauts round about the Bipparies; and Merchants coming from Cashmere, from Shaw Iehanabeid, and bringing Shauls, and other Goods and Spices, &c. from all Quarters, he orders to his Gunge, and collects the Duties from the Aumils, gives them a Chit and a Guard, who conducts them about 500 Cose. The former Duties are not collected. From the Conduct at Cawnpore, Futtyghur, Farruckabad, &c. the Duties from the Lilla of Gora, and Thlawa, are destroyed, and occasions a Loss of 3 Lacks of Rupees to the Duties; and the Losses that are sustained in Farruckabad may be ascertained by the Nabob Mozuffir Jung, to whom every Day Complaints are made; exclusive of the Aumils and Collectors, others lodge Complaints. Whatever I do, I desire no Benefit from it; I am remediless and silent. From what happens to me, I know that worse will happen in other Places. The Second Word I know is from their Mouths only: This is the Case. In this Country formerly, and even now, whatever is to be received received or paid amongſt the Zemindars, Ryotts, and Inhabitants of the Cities, and poor People, neither thoſe who can pay, or thoſe who cannot pay, ever make any Excuſe to the Shroffs, but when they could pay they did. In old Debts of 50 Years, whoever complain to the Gentlemen, they agree that they ſhall pay One-fourth, and ſend Duſtucks and Sepoys to all the Aumils, the Chowdries, and Canoongoes, and Inhabitants of all the Towns; they ſend for every Body to do them Juſtice, confine them, and ſay they will ſettle the Buſineſs. So many and numerous are theſe Calamities, that I know not how much Room it will take up to mention them. Mr. Briſcoe is at Darunghur, and the Complaints of the Aumils arrive daily. I am ſilent. Now Mr. Middleton is coming here, let the Nabob appoint him for the ſettling all theſe Affairs, that whatever he ſhall order thoſe Gentlemen they will do. From this every Thing will be ſettled, and the Particulars of this Quarter will be made known to the Nabob. I have written this, which you will deliver to the Governor, that every Thing may be ſettled, and when he has underſtood it, whatever is his Inclination, he will favour me with it. The Nabob is Maſter in this Country, and is my Friend. There is no Diſtinction. Written the 12th Zekaida."

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Mercurii, 21° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

It was moved that Major Scott might be called in.

The ſame was agreed to.

Then, MAJOR SCOTT being called in, acquainted the Houſe that he wiſhed to explain an Anſwer to a Queſtion put to him in a former Examination, which he did not underſtand at the Time, reſpecting a Communication to Mr. Larkins.

Then the following Queſtions and Anſwers were read by the Clerk.

" Q. Was you not made the Channel of Communication between Mr. Larkins in India and the Court of Directors, reſpecting Money taken by Mr. Haſtings?

" A. I was; and I will beg Leave to explain that Circumſtance alſo, by taking it up from the Time it originated. I think in the Month of March 1784, nearly about the Time of the Diſſolution of Parliament, a Letter was ſent from the Court of Directors to Mr. Haſtings, deſiring from him an Explanation of the ſeveral Sums that he had received: I think he was deſired to ſtate the Periods when each Sum was received, and his Reaſons for concealing that Receipt from his Council. This Letter arrived in Bengal, as I underſtood, in the Month of September 1784, when Mr. Haſtings was at Lucknow. Mr. Haſtings came down to Calcutta in November 1784, and reſigned the Government of Bengal the 1ſt February 1785. It happened, that he had not adverted to that particular Paragraph from the Court of Directors, before he left Bengal; and, upon his Arrival in England, I mentioned this Omiſſion to him: In Conſequence of that, he wrote a Letter from Cheltenham, to the Court of Directors, mentioning the Circumſtances, anſwering their Queſtions, and telling them, that, if they wanted a full and complete Account of all the Tranſactions, he referred them to Mr. Larkins, who was acquainted with the Whole of them. I thought that the Court of Directors might be ſatisfied with the Explanation Mr. Haſtings had then given, and that neither they, nor the Board of Commiſſioners, might think it worth their While to enquire any more about it, as they had received all the Money, and it had been expended upon the Company's Account. The Event has proved, that I thought right: But I took the Liberty to mention to Mr. Haſtings, (from believing in my Conſcience, that he never was concerned in any pecuniary Tranſactions that he would wiſh to conceal); I took the Liberty to mention to him, that he had better, himſelf, write to Mr. Larkins, and deſire he would ſend the Account to this Country, to the Chairman of the Court of Directors. In conſequence of that Letter, which Mr. Haſtings did write, Mr. Larkins ſent Mr. Haſtings a Letter, directed to the Chairman of the Court of Directors, containing the Account, a Part of which was juſt now read. Mr. Larkins aſſigned to Mr. Haſtings, as a Reaſon for ſending the Account under Cover to him, that, as neither he, nor the Governor General and Council, had received any Orders or Directions, from the Court of Directors, upon this Subject, he thought he could not, with Propriety, addreſs them directly; and therefore had ſent the Letter to Mr. Haſtings, to deliver himſelf. Mr. Haſtings deſired me, as I was going into the City that Day, to give it to Mr. Michie, the Chairman, though it was directed to Mr. Devaynes, who had been the Chairman the preceding Year: That is the Reaſon of my delivering the Letter to Mr. Michie as I did.

" Q. The Queſtion is, Whether there was any Communication that paſſed through you?

" A. That was the only Communication." (a)

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 566.

Then

Then the Witneſs ſaid;

I beg Leave, in Explanation of that Anſwer, to ſay, that I ſuppoſed the Second Queſtion to relate only to any Communication that might have been made to the Court of Directors through me from Mr. Larkins, or ſome Perſon in India; but, as it appears in the Minutes of Evidence, the Queſtion is general; and another Communication certainly did paſs through me upon the Subject of Preſents.——In the latter End of the Month of June, 1785, or early in July, I wrote a Letter to Mr. Devaynes, then the Chairman of the Court of Directors, in which I detailed to him the fulleſt Account of thoſe Preſents that it was in the Power of Mr. Haſtings to give. That was prior to the Date of Mr. Haſtings's Letter from Cheltenham.——There is another Part of my Evidence which, if your Lordſhips will give me Leave, I can now ſpeak to with more Certainty than I did before.——In conſequence of a Queſtion put to me when I was laſt examined, relative to the Departure of the Nymph, I anſwered as I thought the Fact was; and, upon Inquiry, I find it to be preciſely as I ſtated it.—The Nymph went with Sir Edward Hughes to Negapatnam, and then to Trincomale; and after the Capture of Trincomale on the 15th of January 1782, Sir Edward Hughes ſent that Ship with Diſpatches to Government; and the Letter from Fort William, dated in October 1781, came in the ſame Veſſel.

Q. (from a Lord). In the Affidavit of Ahlaud Sing, there is an Expreſſion which, perhaps, you can explain; and that is, "that, after a few Days, an Order came from the Colonel to Munnowur Khan, directing, that if the Rajah, Muſtapha Khan, had been put to Death, well—if not, ſtrike off his Head" (a): And, it was afterwards ſaid, that he was beheaded in conſequence. Do you know who the Colonel was, that is alluded to in that Affidavit?

A. I really do not know; but I ſhould ſuppoſe it was Colonel Hannay.

Q. (from the Managers.) When and where did you diſcover this Error in your former Evidence?

A. I diſcovered it at the Office of Mr. Cowper, the firſt Moment I read the Paſſage: I mentioned it to him then, as ſoon as I read it; I believe it was the Day before Yeſterday; and I ſaid, I earneſtly wiſhed to have an Opportunity of explaining it. I beg to obſerve, that it does not go to correct any one Part of the Evidence I have given; but it was an Error in ſuppoſing a Queſtion to be confined, which Queſtion, upon reading it in the Minutes of Evidence, I find to be general. A Queſtion was aſked me, Whether I was the Channel of Communication from Mr. Larkins, in India? I anſwered, pointedly and directly, how far I was the Channel of Communication. Another Queſtion was then aſked, which I ſuppoſed to have Reference to the former Queſtion; but, upon reading it in the Minutes, I find it to be general: And I certainly did write a Letter to Mr. Devaynes, upon the ſame Subject of Preſents: It is not to correct any Part of my former Evidence; but to give a direct Anſwer to a Queſtion which I did not underſtand before.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that you did not diſcover this Miſtake before it was printed?

A. Not till it was printed.—I diſcovered another Thing that I ſuppoſed to be an Error, which I found afterwards was no Error in my Evidence;—but this particular Part I did not diſcover till I read it; and the Moment I read it, I mentioned it to Mr. Cowper.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings appriſe the Court of Directors that he had received a Sum of Money as a Preſent, when he made the Offer to apply that Money to the Service of Colonel Camac's Detachment?

A. I do not recollect what is the preciſe Expreſſion of the Letter: It is in a publick Letter, and that will ſpeak better to the Point than my Recollection can.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings mention to you his having received that Sum of Money as a Preſent, at the Time he made that Order to the Board?

A. The Tranſaction happened when I was in India, in my Way from Calcutta to Chunar: It happened when I had left Mr. Haſtings's Family, therefore he never mentioned any Thing of it to me in India at all.

Q. Whether you do not know, that in Point of Fact, Mr. Haſtings never informed the Court of Directors that he had received that Preſent in any Shape, till the Court of Directors had demanded an Explanation from him upon that Head?

A. Now I underſtand the Queſtion, and will anſwer it according to my Conſtruction of the Paſſage in Mr. Haſtings's Letter, as far as I recollect it. He certainly did make a Communication, becauſe, if I am not miſtaken, the Expreſſion is this, "The Money, by whatever Means it came into my Poſſeſſion, was not my own; and I neither could, nor would, have received it but for your Uſe." Which, I think, implies clearly that it was Money received as a Preſent.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That that was directly contrary to the Fact.

The Counſel for the Defendant requeſted that the Letter might be read to the Witneſs, that he might have an Opportunity of knowing whether it were, or were not, conſiſtent with the Evidence he had juſt given.

The Managers for the Commons were aſked, if there was any Thing in the Letter, more than what the Witneſs had repeated upon that Subject.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they meant to ſpeak of the Firſt Letter, where Mr. Haſtings mentions having applied Money to the Uſe of Colonel Camac's Detachment.

The Witneſs ſaid,

That is a Letter of the 29th of November 1780, I believe. If your Lordſhips will have the Goodneſs to permit me to obſerve, that the Honourable Managers and I are ſpeaking of Two Things perfectly different.—The Honourable Managers, as I underſtand, talk of a Minute of Council:—I ſpeak of a Letter written by Mr. Haſtings to the Court of Directors, dated in November 1780, which was the Firſt Account he gave of the Preſent, and that I underſtood to be the Queſtion put to me.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Witneſs muſt have miſunderſtood the Queſtion.——They underſtood the Witneſs to have depoſed, that in Mr. Haſtings's Communication to the Court of Directors, he underſtood the Subſtance of what Mr. Haſtings ſaid, to imply that he had received a Preſent.—That might poſſibly be ſo in the Letter; but what they meant to ſhew was, that the Witneſs in ſtating that, muſt have been incorrect; becauſe, in Point of Fact he mentioned it in another View, and not in a Way to juſtify the Witneſs, or any Perſon, in ſaying that it was ſtated as a Preſent; that they referred to the Minute of Council for that Purpoſe.—As to any Letters of Dates long ſubſequent, they were not material to the Queſtion.

The Witneſs ſaid,

It is a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to the Court of Directors, dated Fort William, the 29th November 1780: In that Letter he ſays; "The Money, by whatever Means it came into my Poſſeſſion, was not my own, that I had myſelf no Right to it, nor could, or would have received it, but for the Occaſion which prompted me to avail myſelf of the accidental Means, which were at that Inſtant afforded me of accepting and converting it to the Property and Uſe of the Company." This is the Letter of which I ſpoke.

Q. That is what you applied your Explanation to?
A. Exactly.

The Managers for the Commons were aſked, if there was any other Queſtion which they wiſhed to put by way of Explanation.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Letter which they alluded to, ſent afterwards from the Court of Directors to Mr. Haſtings, was dated the 25th of January 1782; in which (alluding to this Tranſaction, of his offering to ſupply the Expence of Colonel Camac's Detachment, as appears by the Minutes of Council) they ſay,

"In regard to the Firſt of theſe Tranſactions, we readily conceive that in the then State of the Council the Governor General might be induced to temporary Secrecy reſpecting the Members of the Board, not only becauſe he might be apprehenſive of Oppoſition to the propoſed Application of the Money, but perhaps becauſe Doubts might have ariſen concerning the Propriety of appropriating it to the Company's Uſe on any account: But it does not appear to us that there could be any real Neceſſity for delaying to communicate to us immediate Information of the Channel by which the Money came into his Poſſeſſion, with a complete Illuſtration of the Cauſe or Cauſes of ſo extraordinary an Event.

"Circumſtanced as Affairs were at the Moment, it appears that the Governor General had the Meaſure much at Heart, and judged it abſolutely neceſſary. The Means propoſed of defraying the extra Expence were very extraordinary, and the Money, as we conceive, muſt have come into his Hands by an unuſual Channel; and when more complete Information comes before us, we ſhall give our Sentiments fully upon the whole Tranſaction:"——

That, in anſwer to this Letter of the 25th of January 1782, Mr. Haſtings makes a Communication that the Money was a Preſent, but conceals from whom that Preſent was taken. The Witneſs, in his former Evidence, ſtates that Mr. Haſtings did communicate

municate that he had received a Preſent when he firſt received the Money, and when he firſt made the Offer to the Board, and that he afterwards communicated to him that that Preſent was received from Cheit Sing; whereas it appears here that he did not make any Communication of the Means by which the Money came into his Hands; but, upon the Court of Directors rebuking him, and requiring an Explanation, then he made that partial and half Confeſſion that it was a Preſent, but conceals from whom. They deſired the Witneſs therefore to be aſked,

Q. Whether that Fact did not contradict his former Evidence?

A. I am perfectly clear without having the Evidence before me, or looking at it, that it is preciſely agreeable to my former Evidence, and that there is not the ſmalleſt Contradiction of any Kind; but the Word "Board" has been introduced in the Obſervations juſt made, which I never made uſe of in my former Evidence. I referred to this Letter to the Court of Directors, and never ſaid a Syllable of any Thing that paſſed at the Board about the Money. I am perfectly convinced that it will be found correct.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next proceed to a Head of Evidence, which they ſhould call Subornation of Letters, in order to ſhew, that, beſides the general Practice of ſuppreſſing Correſpondence, Mr. Haſtings and Mr. Middleton were themſelves the Fabricators of almoſt all the Letters of the Nabob, which were favourable to their Views.

"Fort William, 12th May 1781.

Secret Dept. Monday.

"At a Council; Preſent,
The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;
And Edward Wheler Eſq.
Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, K. B. abſent on Command at the Preſidency of Fort Saint George.

"From the Nabob Vizier to the Governor General. Received the 20th May.

"I have frequently written to you, that I cannot ſubmit to the Authority of Two Gentlemen, and deſiring that you would recall Mr. John Briſtow, and engage by Writing to continue Mr. Middleton for ever with me; becauſe, from the Beginning to this Time, I have never deviated from the Friendſhip of the Company and you. I have been for a long Time hopeful, that, from the encreaſed Friendſhip, I ſhall be in Peace, and relieved from all Difficulties, and particularly at this Time, when, agreeable to my Wiſhes, you have, by the Bleſſing of God, the Power. You have frequently promiſed, in Anſwer to my Requeſt, that you would ſend for me, but as yet you have never done it. The Particulars of Mr. Briſtow are as follow: He openly and publickly declares, that he is in Expectation of Orders from Europe, giving him entire Authority over the Affairs of this Quarter; and that he has ſuch Connection and Intereſt with the Gentlemen in Europe, that Orders for his Authority will moſt certainly be ſent; and that he will not give up the Point for Ten, Fifteen, or Twenty Years; that he now remains ſilent, but will at laſt receive full Powers, and will then call me to an Account for my Behaviour to him. Theſe Expreſſions there can be no Doubt of, as they are publickly ſpoken. As ſuch Declarations and Threats made uſe of by him, are an Inſult to you, and an Injury to the Adminiſtration of Affairs here; I am therefore certain you will not conſent to my ſuffering ſuch Diſtreſſes. For God's Sake do not be unfavourable in this Matter, but recall Mr. John Briſtow from hence, and grant me a written Agreement, ſpecifying that Mr. Middleton ſhall be continued for ever with me; and, to prevent his applying to Europe, ſend me, if you think proper, the Draſts of Letters which I may write to the King, the Vizier, and the Chiefs of the Company; and do you alſo write. From your Favour and Kindneſs, let this be done without Delay.

"I have frequently written to the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah, about the Recall of Mr. John Briſtow, and the Nabob promiſed he would ſoon do it; but to this Time he has not had an Opportunity of doing it. In the mean while, Mr. Briſtow reſides here, and has come twice to pay a Viſit; but I have not yet returned it, nor will I return it. He is now expecting Orders from Europe, which, he ſays, will give him ſole and entire Authority. Repreſent this to the Nabob in private. By the Bleſſing of God, you are wiſe, and acquainted with all Matters. This long Delay, after Mr. Briſtow has been told that he will be recalled to Calcutta, is a Diſgrace to both Sides. I imagine the Nabob is acting prudently, ſo as to prevent Mr. Briſtow's Attempt from reaching Europe; otherwiſe how could the Orders from Calcutta have been ſo delayed? By the Bleſſing of God, at this Time the Nabob, conformable to the Wiſhes of his Friends, has got the Power; it is therefore neceſſary for him to attend to the Concerns of his Friends, and to recall Mr. Briſtow from hence, and grant a Sunnud, in the Nature of an Engagement, for Mr. Middleton to remain here for ever. If it is proper, I will write to the King, the Vizier, and the Chief of the Company, in ſuch Manner as he ſhall direct, and in the Words which he ſhall order, that Mr. Briſtow's Views may be thwarted there. A long Time has paſſed in anxious Expectation; let him now be favourable to me, and recall Mr. Briſtow without Delay. Should any further Delay happen in this Matter, or no Anſwer be returned to my Letters, being remedileſs, I will, without the Permiſſion or Knowledge of the Nabob, leave this Place and go to the Nabob's Preſence. Why is Bahar Ally Khan ſtill in that Quarter? Do you mention it to the Nabob, and procure his Diſmiſſion from thence, that he may come to Fizeabad; and let the Nabob write to my Mother, that when he comes in Perſon to this Quarter, he will do whatever the Nature of Affairs ſhall require.

Read, from Book 120, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Letter from Rajah Gobind Raum to the Vizier, dated the 27th Auguſt, 1782.

"27. Extract of an Arzie; written from Rajah Gobind Raum to the Vizier, by the Governor General's Directions. Written the 27th Auguſt, 1782.

"This Day the Governor General ſent for me in private. After recapitulating the various Informations he had received reſpecting the Anarchy and Confuſion ſaid to reign throughout your Highneſs's Country, and Complaints that neither your Highneſs, or Hyder Beg Khan, or Mr. Middleton, or Mr. Johnſon ever wrote to him on the State of your Affairs, or if he ever received a Letter from your Preſence it always contained Aſſertions contrary to the above Informations, the Governor General proceeded as follows: That it was his Intention to have appointed Mr. David Anderſon to attend upon your Highneſs, but that he was ſtill with Scindia, and there was no Proſpect of his ſpeedy Return from his Camp; therefore, it was now his Wiſh to appoint Mr. John Briſtow, who was well experienced in Buſineſs, to Lucknow. That when Mr. Briſtow formerly held the Office of Reſident there, he was not appointed by him; and that notwithſtanding he had not ſhewn any Inſtances of Diſobedience, yet he had deemed it neceſſary to recal him, becauſe he had been patronized and appointed by Gentlemen who were in Oppoſition to him and had counteracted and thwarted all his Meaſures; that this had been his Reaſon for recalling Mr. Briſtow, that ſince Mr. Francis's Return to Europe, and the Arrival of Information there of the Death of the other Gentlemen, the King and the Company had declared their Approbation of his (the Governor General's) Conduct, and had conferred upon him the moſt ample Powers; that they had ſent out Mr. Macpherſon, who was his old and particular Friend, and that Mr. Stables, who was on his way here as a Member of the Supreme Council, was alſo his particular Friend: That Mr. Wheler had received Letters from Europe, informing him that the Members of Council were enjoined all of them to co-operate and act in Conjunction with him, in every Meaſure which ſhould be agreeable to him, and that there was no one in Council now, who was not united with him, and conſequently that his Authority was perfect and complete: That Mr. Briſtow, as it was known to me, had returned to Europe; but that during his Stay there he had never ſaid any Thing diſreſpectful of him, or endeavoured to injure him; on the contrary, he had received Accounts from Europe that Mr. Briſtow had ſpoken much in his Praiſe, ſo that Mr. Briſtow's Friends there had become his Friends: That Mr. Briſtow had lately been introduced to him by Mr. Macpherſon, had explained his paſt Conduct perfectly to his Satisfaction, and had requeſted from him the Appointment to Lucknow, and had declared, in the Event of his obtaining the Appointment, that he ſhould ſhew every Mark of Attention and Obedience to the Pleaſure of your Highneſs, and his, the Governor's, ſaying that your Highneſs was well pleaſed with him, and that he knew what you had written formerly was at the Inſtigation of Mr. Middleton. That in conſequence of the foregoing, he the Governor had determined to have appointed Mr. Briſtow to Lucknow, but had poſtponed his Diſmiſſion to his Office for the following Reaſons, (viz.) People at Lucknow might think that Mr. Briſtow had obtained his Appointment in conſequence of Orders from Europe, and contrary to the Governor's Inclination, but as the contrary was the Caſe, and as he now conſidered Mr. Briſtow as the Object of his own particular Patronage, therefore he directed me to forward Mr. Briſtow's Arzie to the Preſence, and that it was the Governor's Wiſh, that your Highneſs, on the Receipt thereof, would write a Letter to him, and, as from yourſelf, requeſt of him that Mr. Briſtow may be appointed to Lucknow, and that you would write an Anſwer to this Arzie expreſſive of your perſonal Satisfaction on the Subject. The Governor concluded with Injunctions, that until the Arrival of your Highneſs's Letter, requeſting the Appointment of Mr. Briſtow, and your Anſwer to this Arzie, that I ſhould keep the Particulars of this Converſation a profound Secret, for that the Communication of it to any Perſon whatever would not only cauſe his Diſpleaſure, but would throw Affairs at Lucknow into great Confuſion. The preceding is the Subſtance of the Governor's Directions to me. He afterwards went to Mr. Macpherſon's, and I attended him; Mr. Briſtow was there. The Governor took Mr. Briſtow's Arzie from his Hand and delivered it into mine, and thence proceeded to Council: Mr. Briſtow's Arzie and the following Particulars I tranſmit and communicate by the Governor's Directions. And I requeſt that I may be favoured with the Anſwer to this Arzie, and the Letter to the Governor, as ſoon as poſſible, as his Injunctions to me were very particular on the Subject.

" N° 1. Dated the 10th Shawal 1196 Hegeree.

" The Arzie which you have ſent is arrived. As to the Commands of Mr. Haſtings, which you write on the Subject of the Diſtraction of the Country, and the Want of Information from me, and his Wiſhes, that as Mr. John Briſtow has ſhewn ſincere Wiſhes and Attachment to Mr. Haſtings, I ſhould write for him to ſend Mr. John Briſtow; it would have been proper and neceſſary for you privately to have underſtood what were Mr. Haſtings's real Intentions. Whether the Choice of ſending Mr. John Briſtow was his own Deſire, or whether it was in Compliance with Mr. Macpherſon's, that I might then have written conformably thereto. Writings are now ſent to you for both Caſes: Having privately underſtood the Wiſhes of Mr. Haſtings, deliver which ever of the Writings he ſhall order you; for I ſtudy Mr. Haſtings's Satisfaction; whoever is his Friend is mine, and whoever is his Enemy is mine; but in both theſe Caſes my Wiſhes are the ſame, that having conſented to the Paper of Queſtions, which Major Davy carried with him, and having given me the Authority of the Country, whomever he may afterwards appoint, I am ſatisfied. I now am brought to great Diſtreſs by theſe Gentlemen who ruin me. In caſe of Conſent, I am contented with Majors Davy and Palmer. Hereafter whatever may be Mr. Haſtings's Deſire, it is beſt."

" N° 2. Dated the 13th Shawal 1196 Hegeree.

" I have ſeen your Arzie.—As to what you have written according to Mr. Haſtings's Orders, of the Repreſentation of the Gentlemen about the Diſtreſs of the Country, the Robberies by Day and Murders by Night, and the Quarrels between Families far and near, and that neither myſelf, nor Mr. Middleton, nor Hyder Beg Khan write; the Repreſentation of ſuch Matters, is as if any one ſhould ſay, " Why are you raiſing Duſt from the Water of the River?" What Anſwer ſhall I write to this? The Gentlemen having from afar ſhewn Favour to me for the Government of this Place, repreſent this Situation of the Country, and this Want of Information from all; but there is no ſuch Diſtreſs here, and I am not ignorant in ſuch a Degree as not to comprehend my own Intereſt or Prejudice. On this Pretence, it having been ſettled to ſend Mr. Briſtow, it is requeſted that I write to Mr. Haſtings for him to be ſent. Repreſent to Mr. Haſtings, that whatever Agreement was made at Chunarghar, I fully abide by it; and that it is my Hope, that he will likewiſe, from his Friendſhip, adhere to the ſame Plan of Agreement, and that there be no Deviation from it."

" N° 3. Dated the 13th Shawal 1196 Hegeree.

" Your Arzie has been ſeen.—You have written according to the Orders of Mr. Haſtings, upon the Expoſition of the Gentleman; the Diſtreſs of the Country; the Thefts and Robberies by Day, and Murders by Night; and family Quarrels; that neither myſelf, nor Mr. Middleton, nor Mr. Johnſon, nor Hyder Beg Cawn write; that it had been reſolved to ſend Mr. John Briſtow from his Attachment and Zeal for the Service of Mr. Haſtings, and that you requeſt that I ſhould write to Mr. Haſtings to ſend that Gentleman. Having circumſtantially conſidered, what ſhall I anſwer to the Expoſition of the Gentleman, of the Diſtreſs of the Country, and the Non-information from me and the others; it is like the Proverb of raiſing Duſt from the Waters of the River. The Gentlemen make all theſe Accuſations for their own Continuance and Confirmation in Authority. Having kindly intereſted themſelves in my Affairs, they thus repreſent and write to Mr Haſtings the Situation of my Country far and near. All this is the Diligence and Zeal of the Gentlemen towards me. I am not in ſuch a Degree ignorant as not to know what is, or what is not, for my Advantage. Bound Hand and Foot, I am wheeled round by the Rage of the River, and then you tell me, be wiſe, do not wet your Garment. I am aſſured that the Friendſhip which the Gentlemen here ſhew to me, is not known to Mr. Haſtings and the Gentlemen of the Council. If it were fully known, it is certain that they could not have countenanced ſuch Conduct. I am in a ſtrange Situation, that my Life is even diſagreeable to me. Mr. Johnſon has appointed Aumils, and Peſhkars, and Foujedars on his Part, and he has made me his Toſhuckjee to give the Kelets; and when Mr. Johnſon's Orders arrive, if there be any Inſtant's Delay, he is angry. I am like a Chuppagur to affix the Seal, and I am obliged to write whatever the Aumildars appointed by him wiſh, whether conformable or contrary to Cuſtom; and the Delay of a Moment is the Cauſe of Anger. As my Condition is come to this Paſs, what Pleaſure is there left in Life? Repreſent to Mr. Haſtings, that whatever be my Reaſons of Complaint or Thanks, they ariſe only from my Deſtiny, and not from any Perſon: That after the Troubles of many Years, he has favoured me, and fixed a Mode of Eaſe and Quiet: That I have paid from my Country and Houſe the Company's Money; and that he has told me, this Major Palmer, that after paying the Arrears to the End of the Year 1189, he would give me the Authority of the Country in the Year 1190: That I myſelf, making the Bundebuſt of the Country, ſhould cauſe the Brigade to be paid Month by Month; and that the Authority and Offices of the Gentlemen eſtabliſhed here ſhould ceaſe, and one Gentleman ſhould remain here. Accordingly, Mr. Davy has carried with him my Paper of Propoſitions; and it is now ordered, that Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon having neglected to give Information, Mr. Briſtow for that Cauſe has been choſen, that he may ſettle the Affairs here: That I am ſtreightened by the Authority of the Gentlemen who are here: That however what be the Intentions of Mr. Haſtings towards me? will he give the Authority of the Country to me with Honour and Credit? Or, being more than the former Degree diſhonoured, ſhall the Authority of the Gentlemen be encreaſed, that they may ruin me? That ſhould he, from his Favour, fix my Authority according to my Wiſhes, and the Paper of Propoſitions which Major Davy carried with him, my Requeſt is, that he appoint Majors W. Palmer and Davy, that remaining with me, they may receive the Money. Beſides, whomever he pleaſes let him appoint: I am a Dependant on his Satisfaction. If the Authority of the Country be not with me, what Satisfaction can I have in remaining in this Place, where I experience ſuch Diſtreſs and ill Uſage? The Country is at his Service, let him appoint whom he likes, that they may themſelves govern the Country. My Requeſt is, that going to Calcutta, I may remain with my Friend, Mr. Haſtings. I have no Remedy but his Satisfaction and my Reſpect to him."

Gentlemen

Read, from Book 120, already delivered in, the following Letter from the Governor General to Hyder Beg Khan, dated the 20th October 1782.

"38. To Hyder Beg Khan: Written 20th October 1782.

"When Mr. Briſtow lately addreſſed the Nawab, upon the Subject of my Intentions to appoint him to the Office of Reſident at the Court of the Nawab Vizier, on the Part of this Government, provided that the Nawab himſelf had no perſonal Objection to him, I directed Raja Gobind Raum to receive and forward the Letter, and to inform the Nawab, that the Appointment of Mr. Briſtow ſhould depend upon his Pleaſure, which in all Things I have made it my Study to conſult and promote; but leſt the Nawab, from the Recollection of paſt Tranſactions, might miſconſtrue my Recommendation into an oſtenſible Profeſſion, and on that Account expreſs Reluctance to aſſent to the Appointment, I deſired Raja Gobind Raum to explain very particularly to the Nawab, both that I had a very high Eſteem for Mr. Briſtow, and an entire Confidence in his Attachment and Integrity, and the Reaſons which had produced this Alteration in my Sentiments reſpecting that Gentleman; at the ſame Time I mentioned the Defection and Treachery of Almas Ali Khan, and the diſordered State to which he had abandoned the Province of Do-aub, and the other Provinces of which he had the Charge. The like Symptoms appear in the Conduct of the Aumil of Rohilkand, and the general Diſobedience and Confuſion which prevailed in every Part of the Nawab's Dominions, of which, though known to all Mankind, I never received any Information, either from the Nawab, yourſelf, or from Mr. Middleton. In Anſwer to this Letter, Raja Gobind Raum received a Perwanna from the Nawab, containing Complaints and Reproaches at my Interference in his Affairs, and his Unwillingneſs to receive any Agent from me, but without any perſonal Diſlike to Mr. Briſtow, in whoſe Appointment he ſhould acquieſce, if I choſe to make it. Theſe Sentiments, and theſe Expreſſions, are neither conſonant to the Benevolence of the Nawab's Temper, nor to the Friendſhip which I know he poſſeſſes for me, but were dictated for other Purpoſes, known to yourſelf only; they are your Sentiments, and your Expreſſions, and not the Nawab's: But my Aſtoniſhment at the other Parts of the Perwanna is not to be expreſſed, for it declares all which I had ſaid reſpecting Almas Ally Khan, and the diſordered State of the Nawab's Government, to be entirely falſe, and without Foundation, and the Inventions of incendiary People; and that the Nawab's Government enjoyed the moſt perfect Tranquillity and Peace: Either theſe Affirmations were dictated by the Nawab, or written without his Knowledge; if they were dictated by the Nawab, they were ſuch as would not admit of a Reply from me in an immediate Addreſs to himſelf, becauſe I muſt have told him that he was deceived, and kept in utter Ignorance of his own Affairs, at the ſame Time that the whole World, except himſelf, ſaw the Condition they were in, and the Deſtruction that was hanging over him; if the Letter was written in the Nawab's Name, but without his Knowledge, what muſt have been your Opinion of me, that could induce you to attempt ſo groſs a Deception upon my Underſtanding? in either Caſe your Conduct is without Excuſe;—its Object I plainly ſee: By the Authority of the Nawab Vizier, you mean your own: When you make the Nawab to complain of the Uſurpation upon that Authority, and to aſſert his Right to the uncontrouled Increaſe of it, the plain Interpretation of this is, that you yourſelf lay Claim to the Uſurpation of his Authority, and to the uncontrouled Exerciſe of it. And how has it been exerciſed? I ſhall not repeat Particulars, having already written to you fully upon them, and the Subject is unpleaſant; but I muſt tell you, that ſuch is their Notoriety, that the Report of them is echoed to me from all Parts of Hindoſtan and Decan, and the moſt alarming Apprehenſions are expreſſed by my Agents employed in the remote Affairs of this Government, leſt they ſhould attract the Hoſtilities of other Powers, and impede the Pacifications which are now, and have been for ſome Time paſt, impending.

"I write thus plainly to you from two Motives; the Firſt is, to ſhew how thin the Veil is by which you attempt to cover this Policy, and of courſe to convince you that I ſhall receive and conſtrue every ſimilar Declaration, however made to me from the Nawab, and every Letter written in his Name, tending to deſtroy or leſſen the Friendſhip ſubſiſting between us, as your Declaration, and as your Letter: The Second is, that as I do not ſo much aſcribe theſe Artifices to you, as to the evil Counſels and Encouragements which you have lately received from other Perſons, whoſe Names I need not mention, you may ſee and know on what Terms you may expect hereafter to retain my Friendſhip and Support, which I have hitherto given you. For the reſt, I refer you to Mr. Briſtow; to whom, both verbally and in Writing, I have communicated every Tittle of my Sentiments, Intentions, and Expectations upon this Subject."

Read, from Book 122, already delivered in, the following Letter from Fize Ullah Khan to his Vakeel Buktawa Sing, beginning at Page 51 of the ſame.

"Copy of a Letter from Fize Ullah Khan to his Vakeel Buktawa Sing.

"Every One of the Engliſh Gentlemen, and Officers of the Army, reſiding in this Quarter, write to me reſpecting the Buſineſs in Hand, and other Matters, as it ſeems beſt to them.—If I comply with every Thing which each of them writes or ſays to me, they are pleaſed: If I act otherwiſe they are angry; and ſhew their Reſentment by Accuſations and falſe Charges againſt me.—In this Dilemma I know not how to act: Do you repreſent theſe Matters to the Governor, and ſtate to him, that I can act under the Orders of One Perſon, but not under a Number—And write me word what Anſwer he gives.—Further, prevail on the Governor to write me a Letter, with the Name of the Gentleman I am to attend to, and ſend it to me, that I may act accordingly; and diſregarding the Orders of every one who chuſes to direct me, may not trouble myſelf whether they are angry or pleaſed.

"Mr. Middleton wrote me, that a War had broke out between the Engliſh and French, and deſired that I would ſend him a Letter agreeable to a Draft he encloſed me; and I accordingly wrote to him and the Governor, agreeable to that Draft; the Contents of which you may learn from the Copy of it.—The Caſe is, that my Horſe are ready to go any where, and upon any Service they may be deſired, and will act with Vigour and Spirit on all Occaſions; but they will not learn the Engliſh Exerciſe, or be ſubject to the Subaltern Officers of the Army, ſuch as Adjutants, &c. Make a Repreſentation of this Matter, which is highly neceſſary; for ſhould they be expected at the Time of Action to perform the Engliſh Exerciſe, it would occaſion a Diſappointment, which would be very improper."

Read, from Book 115, already delivered in, the following Letter from the Vizier to the Governor General, Mr. Macpherſon, received on the 21ſt April 1785.

"Extract of a Letter from the Vizier. Received 21ſt April 1785.

"69. I deſire nothing but your Satisfaction, and hope that ſuch Orders as relate to the Friendſhip between the Company and me, and as may be your Pleaſure, may be written in your own private Letters to me, through Major Palmer, in your Letters to the Major, that he may, in Obedience to your Orders, properly explain them to me; and whatever may be ſettled, he may firſt in Secret inform you of it, and afterwards I may write to you, having learnt your Pleaſure. In this Way, the Secrets will be known to your Mind alone, and the Advice upon all the Concerns will be given in a proper Manner." (a)

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, that the laſt Letter, and the Letter they were now about to read, were written to the Government after Mr. Haſtings had left Calcutta; but that the Purpoſe for which they produced them, was to ſhew, that, after Mr. Haſtings quitted the Government, the Nabob was deſirous to know if he ſhould continue the above mentioned Practice with his Succeſſor.

Read, from the ſame Book, the following Extract of a Letter from Hyder Beg Khan to the Governor General, Mr. Macpherſon, received the 21ſt April 1785.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LXXIX.

" No. 71. Extract of a Letter fom Hyder Beg Khan, received 21ſt April 1785.

" I hope that ſuch Orders and Commands as relate to the Friendſhip between his Highneſs's and the Company's Governments, and to your Will, may be ſent through Major Palmer in your own private Letters, or in your Letters to the Major, who is appointed from you at the Preſence of his Highneſs, that, in Obedience to your Orders, he may properly explain your Commands, and whatever Affair may be ſettled, he may firſt ſecretly inform you of it, and afterwards his Highneſs may, conformably thereto, write an Anſwer, and I alſo may repreſent it. By this Syſtem, your Pleaſure will always be fully made known to his Highneſs, and his Highneſs and we will execute whatever may be your Orders, without deviating a Hair's Breadth; and let not the Repreſentations of intereſted Perſons be approved of, becauſe his Highneſs makes no Oppoſition to your Will; and I your Servant am ready in Obedience and Service; and I make no Excuſes (a)."

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next proceed to ſhew, that beſides the general Practice of Subornation of Letters, and dictating and directing what the Nabob and his Miniſters ſhould write, Mr. Haſtings had ſuppreſſed, from the Knowledge of his Council and the Directors, the Whole of the Perſian Correſpondence, from the Year 1781 to the Year 1785; when, on his leaving the Country, ſuch Parts of it as he thought proper were left behind him, in a Box, at Calcutta.

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 19th February 1785, from Book 150, already delivered in, beginning at Page 449 of the ſame Book.

" Fort William, the 19th February 1785.

" At a Council; Preſent,

The Honourable John Macpherſon Eſquire, Governor General, Preſident; and John Stables Eſquire.

" The Perſian Tranſlator, attending in Obedience to the Board's Orders, reports, that, ſince the End of the Year 1781, there have been no Books of Correſpondence kept in his Office, becauſe, from that Time until the late Governor General's Departure, he was employed but once by the Governor General to manage the Correſpondence, during a ſhort Viſit which Major Davy, the Military Perſian Interpreter, paid, by the Governor's Orders, to Lucknow: That, during that whole Period of Three Years, he remained entirely ignorant of the Correſpondence, as he was applied to on no Occaſion except for a few Papers, ſometimes ſent to him by the Secretaries, which he always returned to them as ſoon as tranſlated.

" The Perſian Tranſlator has received from Mr. Scott, ſince the late Governor General's Departure, a Trunk, containing Engliſh Drafts and Tranſlations, and the Perſian Originals of Letters and Papers, with Three Books in the Perſian Language, containing Copies of Letters written between Auguſt 1782 and January 1785; and if the Board ſhould pleaſe to order the Secretaries of the General Department to furniſh him with Copies of all Tranſlations and Drafts recorded in their Conſultations, between the 1ſt January 1782 and 31ſt January 1785, he thinks that he ſhould be able, with what he has found in Captain Scott's Trunk, to make up the Correſpondence for that Period.

(Signed) Edward Colebrook,
Perſian Tranſlator."

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they had cloſed this Head of Evidence.—They wiſhed next to aſcertain a Fact reſpecting the Date of a Letter, in the Benares Narrative, purporting to be written on the 29th November 1781, to prove, that no ſuch Letter was written at that Time, nor received, or entered upon the Conſultations at Calcutta; for which Purpoſe they deſired Mr. Robert Hudſon might be called in.

Accordingly Mr. HUDSON was called in, and the Benares Narrative being ſhewn him, the following Queſtion was put;

Q. Have you looked at a Letter in that Book, dated Chunar, 29th November 1781, ſigned Warren Haſtings, and directed to Ed. Wheler, and John M'Pherſon, Eſquires, Members of the Council at Fort William? (b)

A. I have.

Q. Whether you have ſearched the Conſultations and Records tranſmitted from Calcutta about that Period, and whether any ſuch Letter appears upon them?

A. I examined the Correſpondence ſome Time ago for the Purpoſe, and, at that Time, I could not find it.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LXXX. (b) Vide ſupra, Page 138.

Q. Have

Q. Have you ever found it?
A. I have not. I never ſaw it, except in the Copy of the Narrative ſent from Calcutta, and in this printed Copy.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next proceed to a Correſpondence, containing an exact Narrative and Hiſtory of the Seizure of the Treaſures, previous to their calling Mr. Middleton to that Point.

Read, a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to Mr. Middleton, dated the 15th of November 1781, already delivered in (a) at the Bar, as follows.

" To Mr. Nathaniel Middleton, Lucknow.

" Sir, Chunar, 15th Nov. 1781.

" In your Letter, dated the 17th October, I find it generally aſſerted, by Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, in the Extracts quoted from his Letters, and confirmed by yourſelf, that, during the late Revolt of this Province, Levies, both of Horſe and Foot, were openly made at Fyzabad, both by the Begums and by Cheyt Sing's Agents, in his Name and for his Uſe; that theſe Levies were diſpatched to Benaris, publickly as his, One Party of 1000 Horſe and Foot, under the Command of Shake Cawn: That Jewar Ally Cawn, in the Chowk of Fyzabad, aſked every Man who bore the Appearance of a Soldier, Why he went not to Cheyt Sing for Service: That Futteh Sah, Ghunooroy, and Ajeet Mul, had croſſed to Majowley, urged to that Step by Cheyt Sing, who had ſupplied them with Money, and promiſed them great Sums, if they would but put the whole Country into Confuſion: That the principal Zemindars had all Certificates under the Seal of Cheyt Sing, that he would ſupply them with whatever Money they might require for ſubſiſting all the Troops they could raiſe; that it was the general Belief of every Man in that Part of the Country, that it was a concerted Plan for the Extirpation of the Engliſh; that the whole Country, from Goonda to Maujee, and from Fyzabad to the Benaris Diſtrict, and acroſs from the Gogra to the Ganges, was in the utmoſt Ferment; that if we met with a Check at Benaris, every Man in the Country was ready to fall on our ſcattered Parties: That the Inſurrection was not partial, but generally ſpread throughout the Whole; and if he (Colonel H.) might truſt to his Information, it was already begun, and would ſoon rage as violently in Shahjehanpoor, Rohilcund, Cora, and the Doaub.

" Theſe are Facts of ſuch Moment to the publick Service, and ſo neceſſary both to the Means which may be required for our future Preſervation, and to the Juſtification of what has paſſed, and to what may be done to the ſame End, that I think it proper that they ſhould be verified in the moſt authentick and ſacred Manner; I muſt therefore requeſt and require of you, in my Name, to call upon Lieutenant Colonel Hannay, Major Macdonald, Captain Williams, and Lieutenant Gordon, and every other Perſon who may have a perſonal Knowledge or Underſtanding of theſe Facts, or of any others relating to the Rebellion of Cheyt Sing, and its Connections in the Dominions of the Nabob Vizier, ſeverally to depoſe all that they know and believe concerning the ſame, either on Oath before Sir Elijah Impey, who will inſtantly viſit Lucknow chiefly with this Intention, or that they repair to me at this Place for the ſame Purpoſe.

" Reſpecting the Levies made at Fyzabad, the March of Shake Cawn, with a Force declared for the Service of Cheyt Sing, the publick Invitations of Jewar Ally Cawn, the Certificates under the Seal of Cheyt Sing in the Poſſeſſion of the Zemindars of Goroocpoor and Barraich; his Letters to the Begums or their Miniſters; the Plan concerted for the Extirpation of the Engliſh, I muſt earneſtly recommend it to you to obtain ſuch Evidence as can be * required reſpecting each of theſe Points, whether ſuch Evidence ſhall aſcertain or refute, or qualify their Reality; and, if it be poſſible, to gain Poſſeſſion of the original Letters and Certificates, ſaid to have been written by Cheyt Sing as aboveſaid.

* Sic in Orig.

" You will be careful to aſcertain the Dates and Places of Facts, and the Names and Places and Perſons in the Depoſitions taken, that their Evidence may not be defective or ambiguous from the Want of Preciſion.

" Reſpecting the Murders ſaid ſaid † to have been committed at Goopeegunge, I have already written to you, and now ſend you a Duplicate of my Letter on that Subject.

† Sic in Orig.

" I alſo ſend you the Form of a Caption or Introduction to each Depoſition, of which you will be pleaſed to furniſh Copies to each of the Engliſh Gentlemen, who ſhall have Occaſion for the Uſe of them. The Depoſitions of the Native Witneſſes muſt be written in the Language which they underſtood, and muſt be verified on Oath, and ſigned; or if they ſhall object to the Oath as contrary to their religious Tenets, they muſt be required to ſubſcribe ſuch a ſolemn Atteſtation as ſhall be equivalent to the Sanction of an Oath, and add your Signatures to it.

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
Warren Haſtings."

Read,

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 12th June 1783, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 103 of the ſame.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 1ſt December 1781.

" The Account of the Jagheers, in the Manner you deſire it in your Letter of the 21ſt Ultimo, is by no Means eaſy to make, with any Degree of Certainty, while they remain ſeparated and diſtinct from the Mahls of the Sircar, as every Jagheerdar finds it too much his Intereſt to conceal any Exceſs of Collections above the Amount for which the Lands are granted to him, to ſuffer an exact Valution to be taken, ſo long as he has the Means of preventing it; but as the Jagheers will now either be re-annexed to the Khalſa Lands, or made a ſeparate Aumildarry, under the Direction of a Perſon of my own Recommendation, it will not be difficult for me to obtain the Informations you require, as their Produce, whatever it may be, will be brought into the Treaſury, from whence thoſe who are entitled to the Mediation of the Company will receive their Proportions in Ready Money. I have this Day ſignified to the Miniſter my Expectation that the Whole of the Jagheers be reſumed, and their Revenue, after paying to ſuch of the Proprietors as have a Right to claim the Mediation of our Government, the Amount of their Jagheers, be applied to the Liquidation of the Nabob's Debt to the Honourable Company. I ſhall be very glad if his Excellency conſents to make this Meaſure an Act of his own, as I conceive it would be more agreeable to you, and more conſiſtent with thoſe Appearances which it may be thought expedient to preſerve with his Excellency; but if he declines it, as is by no Means improbable, I ſhall think myſelf juſtified by your Inſtructions in inſiſting on its being done even without his Concurrence.

" I expect to be informed of his Excellency's Determination on this Subject To-morrow, and ſhall loſe no Time in taking my Meaſures accordingly, and informing you thereof.

" The Miniſter informs me that Meyhipnarain has not yet ſent an Aumil to Khyragur, which cauſes great Confuſion in that Pergunnah; may I therefore, my dear Sir, beg to be informed whether it is your Intention to continue the Farm under Meyhipnarain, or reſtore it to the Authority of the Vizier?

" I am, &c.

" (Signed) Nat. Middleton."(a)

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, that, in this Stage of the Buſineſs, they meant to read the Correſpondence between Mr. Middleton and Sir Elijah Impey, where Mr. Haſtings is ſilent: That Mr. Middleton having ſtated, that he did not receive an official Anſwer from Mr. Haſtings till the 26th of December 1781, they would ſhew, that, in the mean Time, private Communications were going on between them, through Mr. Haſtings's Agent, Sir Elijah Impey.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that though theſe Letters were put in at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons, they had not yet been authenticated, by being ſo put in as Evidence at the Bar of the Houſe; and therefore they deſired, that before they were read, they might be authenticated in due Form.

The Managers for the Commons deſired Sir Elijah Impey might be called to the Bar, in order to authenticate the Letters.

Then SIR ELIJAH IMPEY was called in, and a Letter being ſhewn to him, the following Queſtion was put:

Q. Whether that is an authentic Copy of a Letter from you, of that Date, to Mr. Middleton?

A. This is my Hand-writing; it was made from a Sketch of a Letter ſent to Mr. Middleton; but I am not exactly ſure that it is in every Reſpect authentic, becauſe ſeveral Parts are ſcratched in it; but it is as authentic as I could make it from the Document.

Q. Whether there are any material Variations between that Copy and the Document itſelf?

A. I made it as exact as I could, and I believe there is no material Variance.

Then ſeveral Papers were ſhewn to the Witneſs, who having inſpected them, proceeded as follows:

A. The Papers that are before me are Letters written by myſelf to Mr. Middleton, which are in my own Hand-writing, and which I believe to be authentic. There are likewiſe Letters from Mr. Haſtings, which are in his Hand-writing, and therefore muſt be authentic. There are likewiſe Letters from Mr. Middleton to me, which are likewiſe in his Hand-writing. Theſe are the Papers which, I believe, I delivered in to the Houſe of Commons.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXXVIII.

Read, the following Letter from Sir Elijah Impey to Mr. Middleton, dated Chunargur, 1ſt December 1781, already delivered in. (a)

" Dear Middleton, Chunargur, 1ſt December 1781.

" Not knowing whether I am Time enough for the Dawke, you muſt excuſe my not acknowledging, as I ought, the Obligations I am under to you and Mrs. Middleton, for the kind Attention I received at Lucknow, and permit [me] to proceed immediately to Buſineſs, which I ſhall do by running over the Memorandum which you delivered to me.

" With regard to Fayzullah Cawn, the Events which have happened ſince your laſt Inſtructions from the Governor, have not altered the Governor's Intentions. He muſt not be attacked. Mr. Haſtings approves the Subſidy for a regular military Eſtabliſhment, ſo that the Forces raiſed be not kept in Fayzullah's Country, but ſtationed at Cawnpore, Illihabad, or any other Place not higher, [which] the Governor ſhall appoint; to be nevertheleſs ready on Demand for the Protection of Fayzullah's Country.

" What we talked of concerning the Begums he highly approves, and would have himſelf adviſed; he wiſhes it to be done immediately: I need not mention the Neceſſity of taking care that the Money be applied to the Company's Uſe.

" I did all I could in the Buſineſs of the Nabob of Furruckabad, and of Iſmael Beg: I ſtated the Debt due to the Vizier from Muzzafur Jung, and the certain Loſs of it, if the Power of recovering it was taken out of the Vizier's Hands. I found he was extremely diſpleaſed that Almaus was ſent there, and is immoveable in his Reſolution that he ſhall be recalled inſtantly. The Vaukeel had taken his Leave of Mr. Haſtings. All that I could effect, was the Governor's Promiſe to ſend for the Vaukeel, and tell him, that all that is due to the Vizier muſt be punctually paid. Mr. Haſtings ſays, he will ſend a Perſon to Furruckabad, who ſhall ſee the Balance paid. I ſolicited this the more ſtrenuouſly, becauſe I had formerly, at the Deſire of Bathurſt, introduced the Vaukeel of the Nabob to the Governor.

" I am convinced, that delaying the giving the Governor Satisfaction in this Point, will only irritate him. He conſiders the appointing a Suſſauwull a Breach of his Orders.

" Iſmael Beg, he has been told, and is inclined to believe, was arreſted to prevent him getting Acceſs to the Governor; he conſiders his own perſonal Dignity and Influence intereſted, and peremptorily requires, either that he be releaſed immediately, or a fair Account be taken; he will, if it cannot otherwiſe be done, ſend a Perſon to take the Account: This operates in his Mind to the Prejudice of the Miniſters, as much as if the Fact was actually true. I know how diſagreeable an Interference of this Nature muſt be to you and the Miniſters, and therefore much wiſh you will contrive to make that your own Act, which will otherwiſe moſt certainly become the
* Sic in Orig. Act of the Governor. In this his Pride and Jealouſy, and Senſe, perſonal Importan* is alarmed. In both theſe Points he is and will remain peremptory. He has wrote to the Board, and ſays, he will not undo what he has done.

" I find the Governor in the ſame Temper with regard to you and Johnſon, which he was in when I left him; he really wiſhes you to remain in Office at preſent, and for another Year.

" If the Governor finds Acquieſcence in the Two Points I have mentioned, and he hears within the Five Days which you promiſed, that the Vizier's Agreement is beginning to be vigorouſly put in Execution, and has your Aſſurance for the Completion, I think the Governor will not go to Lucknow; otherwiſe he moſt certainly will. He ſays he will ſee the Five Days expired before he takes his Reſolution. You will remember that I, as well as yourſelf, am pledged for the Performance of the Agreement; perform it for my Sake, for your Sake, and the Governor's; he will then ſoon return to Calcutta, where he is [much wanted.]"

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they ſhould next produce a Letter dated December 2d 1781, from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Haſtings, mentioning an Incloſure of a Letter from the Nabob, propoſing the Seizure of the Treaſure, which Incloſure, they ſtated, was ſuppreſſed.

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 12th June 1783, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 108 of the ſame.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 2d Decr 1781,

" I had Yeſterday the Honour of informing you of the Meſſage I ſent to the Nabob through the Miniſter, reſpecting the Jagheers, to which his Excellency this Morning returned me a Reply, purporting, that if the Meaſure propoſed was intended to procure the Payment of his Balance due to the Company, he could better and more expeditiouſly effect that Object, by taking from his Mother what ſhe is very able to ſpare, and what he has an undoubted Right, as he conceives, to exact from her. The preſent Debt to the Company, as he with Truth obſerves, is a great

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 719.

Part

Part handed down from his Father; and the Funds from which he might have been enabled to liquidate it, it is notorious, were withheld from him by the Begum, on the late Nabob's Death. That according to the Laws of the Koran, and the invariable Cuſtom of the Country, he is juſtly entitled to the whole Eſtate and Treaſures of his Father, and could legally demand their being put in his Poſſeſſion; but that the Sum he deſires to take from his Mother (about Sixty Lacks) bears no Sort of Proportion to the immenſe Wealth which fell into her Hands on the Death of his Father, nor would it bear at all hard upon her, as he knows how much her Treaſures exceed that Sum. All therefore that he aſks, is not to be interrupted in recovering a Part of his hereditary Right, by which he will be enabled to diſcharge immediately the Whole of his Debt to the Company.

"This, my dear Sir, is a flattering Propoſition; and as to the Point of Right, admitting it to be leſs clear and defined than the Nabob chuſes to conſider it, you may poſſibly be of Opinion that the Conduct of the Begums, on the late Diſturbances at Benares, as ſet forth in the ſeveral Teſtimonies laid before you, has forfeited any Claim they might originally have had to the Protection and Mediation of the Company; and further, that it may not be political, or yet perfectly ſafe, to truſt them any longer with ſuch powerful Means of promoting an Oppoſition to our Intereſts.

"For my own Part, I am ſo well perſuaded of the Diſaffection of the Begums, particularly the preſent Nabob's Mother, to our Cauſe, and of their Promptitude to unite in any Meaſure to diſtreſs us, that I could very eaſily reconcile it to my Conſcience to aſſiſt the Nabob, inſtead of obſtructing him, in wreſting from them every Benefit they enjoy beyond a decent Maintenance; however, this is only my own Opinion, and by no Means meant to influence yours. The Nabob writes you himſelf on this Subject, and you have his Letter incloſed. Neither he nor I expect that you ſhould give a formal Sanction to the Meaſure propoſed: It will be ſufficient that you but hint your Opinion upon it, and enable me to inform his Excellency whether you would or would not oppoſe his Deſign. Let me therefore entreat you, my dear Sir, to favour me with a Line by the Return of the Dauk; and if your Sentiments ſhould happen to accord with my own, I doubt not but I ſhould be able to congratulate you, in a very ſhort Space of Time, upon the Remittance of a handſome Sum to the Preſidency.

I am, &c.

(Signed) Nath. Middleton.

"The Honourable Warren Haſtings.

"Lucknow, the 6th December 1781.

"Finding the Nabob wavering in his Determination about the Reſumption of the Jagheers, I this Day, in Preſence of, and with the Miniſter's Concurrence, ordered the neceſſary Perwannahs to be written to the ſeveral Aumils for that Purpoſe, and it was my firm Reſolution to have diſpatched them this Evening, with proper People to ſee them punctually and implicitly carried into Execution; but before they were all tranſcribed, I received a Meſſage from the Nabob, who had been informed by the Miniſter of the Reſolution I had taken, intreating that I would withhold the Perwannahs until To-morrow Morning, when he would attend me, and afford me Satisfaction on this Point. As the Loſs of a few Hours in the Diſpatch of the Perwannahs appeared of little Moment, and as it is poſſible the Nabob, ſeeing that the Buſineſs will at all Events be done, may make it an Act of his own, I have conſented to indulge him in his Requeſt; but, be the Reſult of our Interview whatever it may, nothing ſhall prevent the Orders being iſſued To-morrow, either by him or myſelf, with the Concurrence of the Miniſters. Your Pleaſure reſpecting the Begums I have learnt from Sir Elijah; and the Meaſure heretofore propoſed, will ſoon follow the Reſumption of the Jagheers. From both, or indeed from the former alone, I have no Doubt of the complete Liquidation of the Company's Balance.

Agreement,

Agreement, but ſeemingly without any Intention or Deſire to yield me Satisfaction on the Subject under Diſcuſſion; for after a great deal of Converſation, conſiſting on his Part of trifling Evaſion and puerile Excuſes for withholding his Aſſent to the Meaſure, though at the ſame Time profeſſing the moſt implicit Submiſſion to your Wiſhes, I found myſelf without any other Reſource than the one of employing that excluſive Authority with which I conſider your Inſtructions to veſt me: I therefore declared to the Nabob, in Preſence of the Miniſter and Mr. Johnſon, who I deſired might bear Witneſs of the Converſation, that I conſtrued his Rejection of the Meaſure propoſed as a Breach of his ſolemn Promiſe to you, and an Unwillingneſs to yield that Aſſiſtance which was evidently in his Power, towards liquidating his heavy accumulated Debt to the Company, and that I muſt in conſequence determine, in my own Juſtification, to iſſue immediately the Perwannahs, which had only been withheld in the ſanguine Hope that he would be prevailed upon to make that his own Act, which nothing but the moſt urgent Neceſſity could force me to make mine. He left me without any Reply, but afterwards ſent for his Miniſter, and authorized him to give me Hopes that my Requiſition would be complied with; on which I expreſſed my Satisfaction, but declared that I could admit of no further Delays, and unleſs I received his Excellency's formal Acquieſcence before the Evening, I ſhould then moſt aſſuredly iſſue my Perwannahs, which I have accordingly done, not having had any Aſſurances from his Excellency that could juſtify a further Suſpenſion. I ſhall, as ſoon as poſſible, inform you of the Effect of the Perwannahs, which, in many Parts, I am apprehenſive it will be found neceſſary to enforce with Military Aid; I am not, however, entirely without Hopes that the Nabob, when he ſees the Inefficacy of further Oppoſition, may alter his Conduct, and prevent the Confuſion and diſagreeable Conſequences which would be too likely to reſult from the Proſecution of a Meaſure of ſuch Importance, without his Concurrence. His Excellency talks of going to Fyzabad, for the Purpoſe heretofore mentioned, in Three or Four Days; I wiſh he may be ſerious in this Intention, and you may reſt aſſured I ſhall ſpare no Pains to keep him to it.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 9th December 1781.

" I had the Honour to addreſs you on the 7th inſtant, informing you of the Converſation which had paſſed between the Nabob and me on the Subject of reſuming the Jagheers, and the Step I had taken in conſequence.—His Excellency appeared to be very much hurt and incenſed at the Meaſure, and loudly complains of the Treachery of his Miniſters; Firſt, in giving you any Hopes that ſuch a Meaſure would be adopted; and, Secondly, in their promiſing me their whole Support in carrying it through: But, as I apprehend, rather than ſuffer it to appear that the Point had been carried in Oppoſition to his Will, he at length yielded a nominal Acquieſcence, and has this Day iſſued his own Perwannahs to that Effect; declaring however, at the ſame Time, both to me and his Miniſters, that it is an Act of Compulſion.—I hope to be able, in a few Days, in conſequence of this Meaſure, to tranſmit you an Account of the actual Value and Produce of the Jagheers, oppoſed to the nominal Amount at which they ſtand rated on the Books of the Sircar.

" I have the Pleaſure to inform you, the Nabob ſtill adheres to his Reſolution of proceeding immediately to Fayzabad, for the Purpoſes already mentioned to you, and will, I believe, depart in Three Days from this Date. I entertain the moſt flattering and ſanguine Expectations from his Journey; and we ſhall not be kept long in Suſpenſe concerning the Reſult, as he is convinced of the Danger and Impropriety of Delay.

" Sir Elijah Impey has ſignified to me your final Commands reſpecting the Nabob of Furruckabad, and Iſhmael Beg; in both which Inſtances reſt aſſured they ſhall be implicitly obeyed. I wait only the Arrival of Suftulla Cawn, whom Sir Elijah informed me you had diſpatched to me, to withdraw every Shadow of Interference in the Government of Furruckabad. Iſmael Beg's Accounts with the Nabob ſhall be inveſtigated in the Manner you direct, and full Information tranſmitted you, the Moment I can ſpare Time from the Two important Objects to which you have directed my firſt Attention.

" Under this Date I have diſpatched to you, at the Nabob's Deſire, Two Elephants, with an Ambarry and Howdah, Four Horſes, a Palenquin, a Maulah Seerpeach, and Caulgah, appertaining to the Dreſs, &c. you did him the Honour to accept at Chunar.

Then the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to Sir Elijah Impey, dated the 5th December 1781, was delivered in, and an Extract from the ſame was read as follows:

"My dear Sir Elijah, Lucknow, the 5th December 1781.

"I was only this Morning favoured with your very friendly and intereſting Letter of the 1ſt inſtant; and I am only able at preſent, in Reply, to touch ſlightly on the moſt important Points of it. In the firſt Place, my dear Sir, I muſt beg your Acceptance of my moſt unfeigned Acknowledgments for the obliging and attentive Regard you have ſhewn to all my Requiſitions and Wiſhes, which are not the leſs due to you, becauſe your Endeavours have not been productive of all the Succeſs I hoped for from them. It would be impertinent, and, perhaps, not altogether decent, for me to urge any Thing further on the Subject of Muzuffer Jung and Iſmael Beg. The Governor's Expectations in regard to both muſt and ſhall be anſwered; and my only Deſire now is, that he will permit the Nabob and his Miniſters to make it appear a Meaſure of their own, and not forced upon them by his immediate Authority."

Read, alſo, a further Extract from the ſame Letter, as follows:

☞ ["The Meaſure reſpecting the Begums, and the Reſumption of the Jagheers, will be inſtantly adopted. The latter has only been ſuſpended for the Governor's Sentiments on the former, as the Jagheers of the Begums and their Dependents are the moſt conſiderable; and to have attacked them, without being prepared, at the ſame Time, to enter immediately on the Execution of the grand Deſign, would have been doing Things by Halves, and poſſibly have defeated our Expectations. Do not, my dear Sir Elijah, ſuffer this Delay to be urged or conſidered as an Imputation of Blame upon me. I entered on the Buſineſs the very Day after you left me, and went ſo far as to look upon the Matter as finally agreed upon, the actual Execution only ſuſpended until I could receive either yours or the Governor's Sentiments upon the further Propoſal, which is certainly of far greater Conſequence than the Reſumption of the Jagheers, as it will do at one Stroke, if we are not all groſsly miſtaken, what the Jagheers will be at leaſt Two Years in doing. To-morrow Morning, I am to be informed of his Excellency's intended Mode of Attack, and ſhall not fail to acquaint the Governor. In the mean Time you may be aſſured, that whatever may be acquired by the Meaſure ſhall be faithfully and wholly applied to the Liquidation of the Company's Debt."] ☜

Then a Letter from Sir Elijah Impey to Mr. Middleton, dated Buxar, 9th December 1781, was delivered in, and an Extract from the ſame was read as follows:

"With regard to the Jagheers and Begums, I have no Doubt what you ſay will be ſatisfactory. Indeed I think the whole ſo. I left the Governor, who came as far as Benares with me, on Thurſday laſt; he had, on what I aſſured him, reſolved not to go to Lucknow, but proceed, as I much wiſhed him to do, to the Preſidency. "As the Force to be thus employed, for the domeſtick Tranquillity of the Vizier's Dominions, is an Addition to the Brigade or Subſidy, and which is ordered to be in Readineſs for marching at the ſhorteſt Notice, to defend any Part of his Excellency's Territories, which a foreign Enemy might be tempted to invade during civil Commotions, the Vizier will, I make no Doubt, cheerfully conſent to pay the Expences of the Detachment, by a fixed monthly Subſidy, during the Service; and which ſhall be determined and tranſmitted to you, as ſoon as I can aſcertain the probable Diſburſements of it.

"Received the following Letters from the Governor General, dated 25th December 1781.

From the Governor General.

"Gentlemen,

"I have the Honour to tranſmit to you, Copies of a Letter from Mr. Middleton, of my Anſwer thereto, and of my Inſtructions to Colonel Morgan, in conſequence.

"An early and proper Exertion of our military Force will effectually ſupport the Authority of the Vizier, and in all Probability prevent any dangerous Combination amongſt the Jageerdars; which their Wealth and numerous Dependants might otherwiſe enable them to form for reſiſting the Reſumption of their Jagheers.

"In exceeding the Number of Troops expreſsly demanded on this Occaſion by the Vizier, I have conſulted only his Security and Advantage; and I am convinced, from my own Information of the State of his Country, as well as from Mr. Middleton's Repreſentations, that it is but anticipating a further Requiſition, which, if deferred until the refractory and diſaffected Perſons ſhall become formidable, will be attended with great Hazard and proportionate Expence to the Vizier.

"The Nabob having experienced from me ſo ready an Attention to relieve him from the conſtant Expence of the temporary Brigade, cannot think it unreaſonable that the Subſidy for the occaſional Force, now to be employed for his internal Security, ſhould be liberal and adapted to the Circumſtances under which we furniſh it, as well as including its actual Diſburſements.—It is on this Principle that I ſhall eſtimate it, after having aſcertained as preciſely as poſſible the fixed and contingent Expences.

"Upon theſe Grounds I hope that I ſhall meet with the Approbation of the Board, in the Steps which I have taken.

"The Detachment under Major Popham being ſickly, and the Services for which it is formed completely executed, I have ordered it to be diſſolved, and the Troops compoſing it to be put under the Command of Colonel Blair, for the Protection of this Country, until the final Arrangement for this Duty ſhall be ſettled by the Board.

The

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next read a Letter from Mr. Haſtings to Mr. Middleton, dated the 26th of December 1781, which was the firſt official Authority, ſuppoſed to have been received, for the Seizure of the Jagheers.

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 12th June 1783, from Book 82, already delivered in, beginning at Page 131 of the ſame.

" To Mr. Middleton.

" Sir, Benares, 26th December 1781.

" My Mind has been for ſome Days ſuſpended between Two oppoſite Impulſes; one ariſing from the Neceſſity of my Return to Calcutta; the other from the Apprehenſion of my Preſence being more neceſſary and more urgently wanted at Lucknow. Your Anſwer to this ſhall decide my Choice.

" I have waited thus long in the Hopes of hearing that ſome Progreſs had been made in the Execution of the Plan which I concluded with the Nabob in September laſt. I do not find that any Step towards it has been yet taken, though Three Months are elapſed, and little more than that Period did appear to me requiſite to have accompliſhed the moſt eſſential Parts of it, and to have brought the whole into Train. This Tardineſs, and the Oppoſition prepared to the only decided Act yet undertaken, have a bad Appearance. I approve the Nabob's Reſolutions to deprive the Begums of their ill-employed Treaſures. In both Services it muſt be your Care to prevent an Abuſe of the Powers given to thoſe that are employed in them. You yourſelf ought to be perſonally preſent. You muſt not allow any Negociations or Forbearance, but muſt proſecute both Services until the Begums are at the entire Mercy of the Nabob, their Jagheers in the quiet Poſſeſſion of his Aumils, and their Wealth in ſuch Charge as may ſecure it againſt private Embezzlement. You will have a Force more than ſufficient to effect both theſe Purpoſes.

The Reformation of his Army, and the new Settlement of his Revenues, are alſo Points of immediate Concern, and ought to be immediately concluded. Has any Thing been done in either?

I now demand and require you moſt ſolemnly to anſwer me. Are you confident in your own Ability to accompliſh all theſe Purpoſes, and the other Points of my Inſtructions? If you reply that you are, I will depart with a quiet and aſſured Mind to the Preſidency, but leave you a dreadful Reſponſibility if you diſappoint me. If you tell me that you cannot rely upon your * Power, and the other Means which you poſſeſs, for performing theſe Services, I will free you from the Charge; I will proceed myſelf to Lucknow, and I will myſelf undertake them; and in that Caſe I deſire that you will immediately order Bearers to be ſtationed, for myſelf and Two other Gentlemen, between Lucknow and Illahabad, and I will ſet out from hence in Three Days after the Receipt of your Letter.

" *A Blank is left here in the Original."

" I am ſorry that I am under the Neceſſity of writing in this preſſing Manner; I truſt implicitly to your Integrity; I am certain of your Attachment to myſelf, and I know that your Capacity is equal to any Service; but I muſt expreſs my Doubts of your Firmneſs and Activity, and above all, of your Recollection of my Inſtructions, and of their Importance. My Conduct in the late Arrangements will be arraigned with all the Rancor of diſappointed Rapacity, and my Reputation and Influence will ſuffer a mortal Wound from the Failure of them. They have already failed in a Degree, ſince no Part of them has yet taken place, but the Removal of our Forces from the Douab and Rohilcund, and of the Britiſh Officers and Penſioners from the Service of the Nabob; and the Expences of the former thrown, without any Compenſation, on the Company.

" I expect a Supply of Money equal to the Diſcharge of all the Nabob's Arrears, and am much diſappointed and mortified that I am not now able to return with it.

" Give me an immediate Anſwer to the Queſtion which I have herein propoſed, that I may loſe no more Time in fruitleſs Inaction.

I am, &c.

(Signed) Warren Haſtings." (a)

" Sir,

port of armed Force, and the Impoſſibility of ſtriking out any Medium by which theſe Evils could effectually be remedied, have induced his Excellency to reſume all the Jagheer and Marofee Lands throughout his Country, promiſing to ſuch Perſons as have juſt or equitable Claims to his Bounty, or thoſe guaranteed by the Company, for the Amount of their Jagheers, Allowances in Ready Money, equal to the Net Sum they ſhall appear to have annually realized from their Jagheers.

" This Meaſure, the Utility, and I may ſay the abſolute Neceſſity, whereof will not be diſputed by any one who has had an Opportunity of obſerving the Conduct of the Jagheerdars in general, and particularly ſome whoſe Incomes enabled them to maintain Armies, not only ſuperior to thoſe of the Aumils of the Country, who ſhould properly be a Check upon them, but even ſufficient to reſiſt the Force of the State itſelf, has met with violent Oppoſition from the Bhow Begum, who falls particularly under the laſt Deſcription, and whoſe Power is rendered the more pernicious and dangerous: Firſt, From its being wholly delegated to her Servants, who have their own Views of Ambition and Intereſts to anſwer; and in the next Place from the Reluctance with which the Miniſters, and even the Nabob himſelf, interfere with any Concerns of the Begum.

" From theſe Two Circumſtances, ſtrengthened by the immenſe Wealth in her Poſſeſſion, alſo intruſted to her Two Chief Eunuchs, Bahar and Jowar Ally Cawn, and her unreaſonable Expectations of Support from the Engliſh Government, of all which ſhe and her Servants avail themſelves to the utmoſt, ſhe is become One of the moſt ſerious internal Evils, that, among others, ſeems to bid fair to give great Diſturbance to this Country.

" The great Awe in which the Nabob, and of courſe every one under him, ſtands of her Diſpleaſure, leaves without Bounds or Reſtraint the Effects of her uncommonly violent Temper. Death and Deſtruction is the leaſt * me Menace ſhe denounces, upon the moſt trifling Oppoſition to her Caprice.

* Sic in Orig.

" By her own Conduct, and that of all her Agents and Dependants during the Benares Troubles, it may with Truth and Juſtice be affirmed, ſhe forfeited every Claim ſhe had to the Protection of the Engliſh Government, as ſhe evidently, and it is confidently ſaid avowedly, eſpouſed the Cauſe of Rajah Cheyt Sing, and united in the Idea and Plan of a general Extirpation of their Race and Power in Hindoſtan.

" Her Agent at Taunda, who is the Cheyla and adopted Son of Bahr Ally Cawn, her principal Miniſter, treacherouſly turned his Guns upon Lieut. Gordon's Detachment, and was by that Gentleman's Account the ſole Cauſe of the Loſs of it. She gave every Encouragement in her Power to the Adherents of Cheyt Sing by her Agents; aſſiſted them in raiſing Troops in the Town of Fyzabad; promiſed, and as is generally believed, actually advanced Money to the rebellious Rajahs of the Vizier's Country; raiſed Troops to ſupport them, and iſſued Perwannahs for their Operations againſt the Forts garriſoned by the Nabob's Troops under the Command of Britiſh Officers; all which is fully ſtated in the Depoſitions made by Colonel Hannay and the Gentlemen of his Corps. Notwithſtanding all theſe Facts, upon the general Reſumption of the Jagheers I made the Rents of her Lands payable to me; under an Engagement of making the Amount good to her by ſuch Inſtallments as ſhe might direct, in Return for which I have received Letters from her, containing the moſt groſs Abuſe and the wildeſt Threats that can be tranſcribed, Copies of which I have the Honour to encloſe.

" Her chief Agent, Bahar Ally Cawn, has marched a conſiderable Force into Nabob Gunge, One of her Jagheers, declaring that if any Attempt is made to reſume it, he will lay the whole Country of Goonda waſte. Theſe declared and repeated Acts of Rebellion are ſurely more than ſufficient to forfeit all Claim whatever to the Interference in her Behalf from our Government; and if ſome Stop is not immediately put to it, it appears but too certain that ſhe will light a Flame throughout theſe Provinces, which, if not difficult to extinguiſh, will at leaſt put a heavy Bar to the Company's Collections here. I cannot therefore avoid making theſe Repreſentations to you, or doubt but you will approve of the Vizier's immediately taking thoſe Steps which may be neceſſary for effectually eſtabliſhing his Government and Authority, and depriving the Begum of thoſe great Reſources which, ſhe has ſhewn, it would be extremely impolitic and unſafe to truſt longer in her Hands. On this Subject the Nabob has communicated to me his Sentiments in a long Letter, Copy whereof I have the Honour to encloſe you, in which you will obſerve he ſignifies his Intention of proſecuting his legal Claims upon her, for the Public Treaſure and Effects belonging to his Inheritance from his Father, which ſhe detains from him, and ſquanders in ſuch deſtructive Purpoſes, while he is overwhelmed by Public Debts, principally incurred by his Predeceſſor, and on account of his Inability to diſcharge which, the Company have indiſpenſably been driven to take upon themſelves the Burthen of a large Military Eſtabliſhment, hitherto entertained for their Service at the Charge of the Nabob.

" On this Head I think it unneceſſary to offer any Remark, ſince a Reference to the eſtabliſhed Laws and Cuſtoms of the Country will ſufficiently prove his Excellency's inherent Right to claim the Property of his Predeceſſor.

" I muſt alſo take the Liberty to add my Opinion, that unleſs Fyzullah Cawn, remotely ſituated as he is out of reach of Interruption, in the Centre of his own Tribe and Country, connected uninterruptedly with the other Two remaining Patan Powers, becomes included in this general Reform of the Jagheer, or ſome effectual Check impoſed upon him, the Whole may prove abortive, while, if fully enforced, may ſave this Country, and with it poſſibly much of our own Blood and Treaſure.

" I have the Honour to be, &c. &c.

" Lucknow, the 27th Dec' 1781. (Signed) " Nathaniel Middleton, Reſident at the Vizier's Court." (a)

Read, the following Extract from ſame Book, and ſame Conſultation, beginning at Page 173 of the ſame.

" My dear Sir, " Lucknow, the 28th December 1781.

" I am this Day honoured with your publick Letter of the 24th inſtant; and I do not loſe a Moment in informing you, that without a total Seizure of the Country, it is not poſſible to collect this Year a larger Sum than the Nabob has already granted, which altogether exceeds that of any other Year, at a Time when his Collections have been greatly diminiſhed by the Miſconduct of Raja Bowanny Sing, late Aumil of Bycewarrah, the Inſurrections acroſs the Gogra, and in other Parts of his Country, and laſtly the heavy Remiſſions he has been obliged to allow on the preſent Year's Rents, for the Loſſes by Drought and Hail, which fell upon the Cloſe of the laſt Harveſt. Hence, my dear Sir, you will be able to judge how far it would be in his Power to grant further Jaidads.

" If your new Demand is to be inſiſted upon, which your Letter ſeems to portend, I muſt beg your preciſe Orders upon it; as, from the Difficulties I have within theſe few Days experienced, in carrying the Points you had enjoined with the Nabob, I have the beſt Grounds for believing that he would conſider it a direct Breach of the late Agreement, and totally reject the Propoſal as ſuch; and I muſt own to you, that, in his preſent fermented State of Mind, I could expect nothing leſs than Deſpair, and a declared Rupture.

" He has by no Means been yet able to furniſh me with Means of paying off the Arrears due to the temporary Brigade, to the ſtipulated Term of its Continuance in his Service. The Funds neceſſary for paying off and diſcharging his own Military Eſtabliſhment under Britiſh Officers, and his Penſion Liſt, have been raiſed on the private Credit of Mr. Johnſon and myſelf, from the Shroffs of this Place, to whom we are at this Moment pledged for many Lacks of Rupees; and without ſuch Aid, which I freely and at all Hazards yielded, becauſe I conceived it was your anxious Deſire to relieve the Nabob, as ſoon as poſſible, of this heavy Burden, the Eſtabliſhment muſt have been at his Charge to this Time, and probably for Months to come, while his Reſources were ſtrained to the utmoſt to furniſh Jaidâds for its Maintenance to this Period. I therefore heſitate not to declare it utterly impoſſible for him, under any Circumſtances whatever, to provide Funds for the Payment of the Troops you now propoſe to ſend him.

" The wreſting Furruckabad, Kyrague, and Fyzula Cawn's Country from his Government (for in that Light, my dear Sir, I can faithfully aſſure you he views the Meaſures adopted in reſpect to thoſe Countries), together with the Reſumption of all the Jagheers, ſo much againſt his Inclination, have already brought the Nabob to a Perſuaſion that nothing leſs than his Deſtruction, or the Annihilation of every Shadow of his Power, is meant; and all my Labours to convince him to the contrary have proved abortive. A ſettled Melancholy has ſeized him, and his Health reduced beyond Conception; and I do moſt ſolemnly believe, that the March of Four Regiments of Sepoys towards Lucknow, under whatever Circumſtances it might be repreſented, would be conſidered by him as a Force ultimately to be uſed in ſecuring his Perſon. In ſhort, my dear Sir, it is a Matter of ſuch immediate Moment, and involving apparently ſuch very ſerious and important Conſequences, that I have not only taken upon me to ſuſpend the Communication of it to the Nabob, until I ſhould be honoured with your further Commands, but have alſo ventured to write the incloſed Letter to Colonel Morgan—Liberties which I confidently truſt you will excuſe, when you conſider that I can be actuated by no other Motive than a Zeal for the publick Service; and that if, after all, you determine that the Meaſure ſhall be inſiſted on, it will be only the Loſs of Six, or at moſt Eight Days, in propoſing it. But, in the laſt Event, I earneſtly entreat your Orders may be explicit and poſitive, that I may clearly know what Lengths you would wiſh me to proceed, in carrying them into Execution. I again declare it as my firm Belief, and aſſure yourſelf, my dear Mr. Haſtings, I am not influenced in this Declaration by any Conſiderations but my publick Duty, and my perſonal Attachment to you, that the enforcing the Meaſure you have propoſed would be productive of an open Rupture between us and the Nabob; nay, that the firſt neceſſary Step towards carrying it into Effect, muſt be on our Part a Declaration of Hoſtility.

" There can, I apprehend, be no Doubt but ſuch an Extremity would end in the Ruin of the Nabob, and I think he would have Senſe enough to ſee it; but, under the Circumſtances I have mentioned, and encouraged as he would be by all the Malecontents of his Court, I am perſuaded, as far as my own Reaſon and Judgment enable me to predict, that he would diſregard all future Conſequences.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXXVIII.

" I entreat you will excuſe the Freedom with which I have addreſſed you on this Subject. I have been obliged to write in great Haſte, to ſave the Dauk, and conſequently not ſo connectedly or fully as I could wiſh; but be aſſured I have given you the genuine Sentiments of my Heart; and as ſuch I am perſuaded you will receive them with Indulgence.

" I am, &c. &c.

(Signed) Nath. Middleton."

" To Colonel James Morgan, commanding in the Field.

" Sir, (Copy.)

" I was laſt Night honoured with your Letter, informing me that you had Orders from the Governor General to furniſh me with more Troops, ſhould I want them.

" I have this Day received Information from the Governor, that he has ordered a large Force to repair to Lucknow. If you have received ſuch an Order, I muſt beg you will ſuſpend the Order until I have received the Governor's Reply to the Repreſentation I have made to him upon this Subject, as ſuch a Movement at this Juncture might be productive of the moſt ſerious Conſequences. While I make this Application to you, I do not know how far it is in your Power to comply; yet I deem it my Duty to make the Repreſentation, whatever the Reſult may be.

" December 28, 1781, Lucknow.

" Your Letter of the 24th is juſt arrived, ordering the temporary Brigade to be again put on the Vizier's Liſt, which the late Treaty had juſt eaſed him of. Nothing leſs than Blows can effect this; for he is not even able to pay off the Arrears ſtill due to it for the laſt Year, which, with the 2½ Months ſtipulated by the Treaty, amount to Nine Lacks, by Mr. Day's Statement. Upwards of Twelve Lacks have been paid to Mr. Wombwell, beſides Remittances made to the Second Brigade and Colonel Muir, and ſcarce Six Lacks have yet been collected: A hard Strain of private Credit alone has made theſe large extra Payments,—and total Ruin muſt inevitably be the Conſequence of any Interruption in the Recovery of the Money advanced. However, this is merely a private Conſideration, and therefore cannot weigh in public Meaſures; but in a public Light, the Troops being all in Arrears, and no Poſſibility of preſent Payment, ſo large a Body aſſembled here, without any Means in Hand to check or controul them, nothing but Diſorder could follow. As one Proof that the Nabob is as badly off for Funds as we are, I may inform you that his Cavalry roſe this Day upon him, and went all armed to the Palace, to demand from 13 to 18 Months Arrears due to them, and * with great Difficulty perſuaded to retire, which was probably more effected by a Body of Troops getting under Arms to go againſt them, than any other Conſideration. Without troubling you with Detail of Arguments, I may venture to pledge myſelf to you, that the additional Demand you propoſe making, cannot this Year be obtained without a total Reform of his Government, which, if brought about by a Campaign againſt him (by which alone it can be done), would, at the ſame Time, ſtop at once all Reſources of Collections; ſo that, admitting Succeſs, our Situation, in point of Finance, would be worſe than before. As I feel confident of your full Credit to this Aſſertion, I ſhall add nothing further upon the Subject, excepting, that the Troops hitherto called for by the Vizier have been ſolicited, under that Article of the late Treaty which authorizes him to remove the Subſidiary Brigade where he pleaſes, with the Concurrence of the Reſident; which Power is ſtill more fully explained in the Letter of Inſtructions:—Both Papers can only allude to the Troops which they ſtipulate to remain within the Vizier's Dominions. Whenever you no longer may chuſe to permit his detaching the Brigade, he muſt then of courſe conduct his Meaſures by his own Sebundy, or be driven to make new Propoſals from himſelf for the Aid and Pay of our Regiments.

" As I have made uſe of the Name of the temporary Brigade in the Firſt Part of my Letter, it may be neceſſary to remind you that One additional Regiment is already paid by the Nabob, to which add 4 Regiments, and a Train of Artillery, now propoſed, makes Ten Battalions of 500 Men each, which is equal to Seven Battalions of 780 Men, which formed the temporary Brigade, as ſtipulated to be paid by the Nabob.

" I ſincerely hope, though I ſcarcely expect, to avoid diſpleaſing you by the Freedom of this Repreſentation. But, as it is impoſſible that you ſhould poſſeſs Facts without their being plainly ſtated; and as you cannot act upon any other Grounds, while aiming, as I know you do, to do that which is beſt, I muſt run the Riſque, or ſerve you unfaithfully, which would contradict what I ſhall ever endeavour to prove, that I am, upon all Occaſions, your truly devoted, &c. &c.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c. &c.

" Sir,

" The ſolemn Call you made upon me, in your Commands of the 26th inſtant, with which I was honoured Yeſterday, demands from me the moſt unreſerved and decided Reply; and that I might not advance any Thing haſtily, I took all Yeſterday to deliberate upon my Reply: For the Sake of Perſpicuity, I have thought it beſt to recapitulate the ſeveral Paragraphs of your Letter, and arrange my Anſwers to them reſpectively in the ſame Order.

" 1ſt. My Mind has been for ſome Days ſuſpended between Two oppoſite Impulſes; One ariſing from the Neceſſity of my Return to Calcutta, the other from the Apprehenſion of my Preſence being more immediately and more urgently wanted at Lucknow; your Anſwer to this ſhall decide my Choice.

" To this Paragraph I freely anſwer, That your Preſence is in no Shape neceſſary here, but, on the contrary, could not fail of being of conſiderable Retardment to the Collections; becauſe in theſe Countries the Motions of Governors are looked upon to imply great intended Exertions, and with them great Changes; conſequently all Agents in publick Stations, from the higheſt to the meaneſt, put an immediate Stop to all their Avocations, and gaze motionleſs for the Reſult. This is the Height of the Khereiff Collection, and any Impediments now thrown in the Way loſes * the Produce of the Crop. The encloſed Statement ſhews what I have received, and what I have diſburſed; it will at Firſt Sight evince the Importance of realizing every immediate Reſource. The current Diſburſements of the 2d Brigade have not been made good, and the Arrears due from the Nabob to the late temporary Brigade and Cavalry, agreeable to Stipulation, have not yet been liquidated.

* Sic in Orig.

" 2d. I have waited thus long, in Hopes of hearing that ſome Progreſs has been made in the Execution of the Plan which I concluded with the Nabob in September laſt; I do not find that any Step towards it has yet been taken, though Three Months are elapſed, and little more than that Period did appear to me requiſite to have accompliſhed the moſt eſſential Parts of it, and to have brought the Whole into Train. This Tardineſs, and the Oppoſition prepared to the only decided Act yet undertaken, have a bad Appearance.

" In Reply to the Second Paragraph, I beg leave to refer you to my former Letters, ſtating the turbulent State of the Country. Three Months is a Period in which the Changes you allude to probably might have been effected in Times of perfect Tranquillity; but when all the Diſtricts acroſs the Gogra were in Arms, and all the Jagheerdars (a very numerous and powerful Body) were very little ſhort of the ſame State in every Diſtrict, and for the regulating and Reduction of whom the Aumils were principally to be applied to—could a general Change or Attack upon thoſe Aumils with Eaſe have been undertaken? I think not; but I put this Argument of the Practicability or Impracticability out of the Queſtion, as it was not that Conſideration which prevented me from enforcing the Meaſures recommended by you to the Nabob in the Treaty;—the Fact is this: I did not underſtand, at the Period of executing the Agreement between you and the Vizier, that your Intention was, that the Whole of the Reform propoſed was in its fulleſt Extent to take place this Year, nor indeed at all, if the Company's Debt became liquidated; I conceived your Interference in the Nabob's Government tended ſolely to eſtabliſh the Means of the moſt ſpeedy Payment poſſible of the Company's Debt; and that whenever this ſhould be accompliſhed, every Shadow of Interference was to be deſiſted from, which I ſtated to the Nabob and the Miniſters, and I believe upon the Faith of that Aſſurance principally was his Excellency's Acquieſcence obtained. For the Proſecution of theſe Meaſures, I looked to the occaſional Aſſiſtance of the Regiments of the ſubſidiary Brigade, as permitted in the Treaty, and your ſubſequent Inſtructions, and intended employing the Aumils and their Sebundy in the Firſt Inſtance for the Reduction of the Jagheerdars, that I might not have the whole Country to attack at once. This

" 3d. I approve the Nabob's Reſolution to deprive the Begums of their ill-employed Treaſures. In both Services it muſt be your Care to prevent an Abuſe of the Powers given to thoſe that are employed in them. You yourſelf ought to be perſonally preſent.—You muſt not allow any Negociation or Forbearance, but muſt proſecute both Services until the Begums are at the entire Mercy of the Nabob, their Jagheers in the quiet Poſſeſſion of his Aumils, and their Wealth in ſuch Charge as may ſecure it againſt private Embezzlement.—You will have a Force more than ſufficient to effect both theſe Purpoſes.

" 4th. The Reformation of his Army, and the new Settlement of his Revenues, are alſo Points of immediate Concern, and ought to be immediately concluded. Has any thing been done in either?

" 5th. I now demand, and require you moſt ſolemnly to anſwer me: Are you confident in your own Ability to accompliſh all theſe Purpoſes, and the other Points of my Inſtructions? If you reply that you are, I will depart with a quiet and aſſured Mind to the Preſidency, but leave you a dreadful Reſponſibility

Mode of proceeding threatened no Interruption to the Collections, but an immediate Increaſe of Means in hand to defray the Charges of the Troops, without which previous Point even our own Army muſt be uſeleſs. The Meaſure of reſuming the Jagheers involved many and ſome very powerful Intereſts; ſubject to ſuch Odium, from the Diſappointment of the Parties, deprived of their Means of Subſiſtence, and in ſuch extenſive Dominions, under a Government ſo irregular in its Conſtitution, and ſo ſhaken as this is, it could not be effectually accompliſhed in a Day. —However, it is now effected nearly throughout with the Nabob's Sanction (which at the Point of Execution there was the moſt alarming Difficulty to obtain), and in a very few Days, I truſt, it will be completely enforced; and, bad as the Appearance of Oppoſition may be, I truſt to be able to execute the whole Reform, without Delay, upon the Grounds I ſhall ſtate in my Anſwer to your Paragraphs ſucceſſively.

" To the 3d Paragraph I ſhall only ſay, That I march To-morrow with the Nabob to enforce both the Services you exact in it; and if I ſucceed, as I have the ſtrongeſt Reaſons to hope, in obtaining large Ready Money Reſources towards liquidating the Arrears to the Troops, which form a large Proportion of the Debt to the Company, I have not a Doubt of accompliſhing every End you have now declared you look to the inſtant Performance of; but as Troops alone can do it, their Aſſiſtance cannot be depended upon without previous Pay, or the Poſſeſſion of certain Means in hand for that Purpoſe; as it follows, that an immediate Stop to all Collections muſt enſue from any general Military Exertion.

" To the 4th I anſwer, That nothing has been done, for the Reaſons aſſigned in my Anſwer to the Second Paragraph. If I erred in the Judgment I had formed of your Intentions, I can ſay no more, as it is paſſed, than that the Inſtant the Fyzabad Buſineſs is finiſhed ſucceſsfully, which cannot take more than One Fortnight from the Day of marching there, I ſhall take ſuch Steps as the Means in my Power will admit of towards procuring from the Nabob the Orders to each Aumil to pay his Groſs Revenues to the Miniſters, and to receive the Pay of their Troops, being reduced into regular muſtered Eſtabliſhments, from the general Treaſury; and ſhould he refuſe, I will iſſue my own, together with thoſe of the Miniſters, to that Purpoſe, as I did in a former Inſtance when the Nabob refuſed his Perwannahs for the Reſumption of the Jagheers; and ſhall further enforce the Execution againſt each diſobeying Aumil by marching againſt him, and diſplacing him. Theſe Three Points complete the Heads of your Recommendations to the Nabob, the Fourth Article, which was the Separation and Limitation of his own Diſburſements to the Medium of his Receipts for the laſt Three Years, having already taken place; and then no Aſſignments will remain upon the Country, but thoſe of the Company, as expreſſed in the Treaty.

" To the 5th, I confidently reply, That I am fully competent to undertake and effect the Completion of the Reform, upon the Grounds ſtated in my Anſwer to the 4th Paragraph; and therefore again repeat, that your coming here is unneceſſary; and that, as far as regards the Duties of my Station towards the Execution of your Orders, you may depart, in Conviction

Reſponſibility if you diſappoint me.—If you tell me that you cannot rely upon your Power, and the other Means which you poſſeſs, for performing theſe Services, I will free you from the Charge, I will proceed myſelf to Lucknow, and I will myſelf undertake them; and in that Caſe I deſire that you will immediately order Bearers to be ſtationed for myſelf, and Two other Gentlemen, between Lucknow and Illahabad, and I will ſet out from hence in Three Days after the Receipt of your Letters.

" 6th. I am ſorry that I am under the Neceſſity of writing in this preſſing Manner. I truſt implicitly to your Integrity, I am certain of your Attachment to myſelf, and I know that your Capacity is equal to any Service; but I muſt expreſs my Doubts of your Firmneſs and Activity, and above all of your Recollection of my Inſtructions, and of their Importance.

" 7th. My Conduct in the late Arrangements will be arraigned with all the Rancor of diſappointed Rapacity, and my Reputation and Influence will ſuffer a mortal Wound from the Failure of them. They have already failed in a Degree, ſince no Part of them has yet taken place, but the Removal of our Forces from the Doaub and Rohilchund, and of Britiſh Officers and Penſioners from the Service of the Nabob; and the Expence of the former thrown without any Compenſation on the Company.

" 8th. I expect a Supply of Money equal to the Diſcharge of all the Nabob's Arrears; and am much diſappointed and mortified, that I am not now able to return with it.

viction that neither Activity or Firmneſs ſhall be wanting in the Exertion of every Means within my Power: And thoſe Means I can foreſee no Deficiency in, upon the Permiſſion I have of calling upon Colonel Morgan for Aid, and the Receipt of Aſſets at Fyzabad.—For theſe Reaſons, therefore, I have not thought it neceſſary to lay the Bearers that you conditionally ordered.

" In Reply to the 6th Paragraph, nothing need be offered by me but my Acknowledgments for the Juſtice you do to my Sentiments towards your Perſon and Government.

" To the 7th. If your Conduct ſhould be arraigned, as you ſuſpect, I can at all Times teſtify, that upon the Plan of the foregoing Years, the Receipts from the Nabob were only a Deception, and not an Advantage, but even an Injury to the Company; for by the accumulating Encreaſe of the Demands upon him, and the proportionate Decreaſe of his Means, only his Debt to the Company encreaſed, with a Diminution of Proſpect of its Liquidation; while the Company's actual Money or Aſſets went to the Payment of the Troops ſuppoſed to be maintained ſolely at the Vizier's Expence. In Proof of this, it will ſuffice to remark, that the annual Net Remittances to the Preſidency ſhould have been the Difference of the Subſidy, and the real Expences of the Brigade; ſay, — — 12,00,000

The Money paid from the Treaſury at Calcutta, to Abdulrahman Khan	3,30,000
And the Payment made in like Manner to Mirza Sadit Ally — —	3,00,000
Beſides the full Payment of ſuch Stores as the Company occaſionally iſſued to the Nabob
Sun[t] Rup[s]	18,30,000

or about 20,00,000 of Current, which never yet has been the Caſe from the Annual Jaidads, or Current Collections—conſequently the Plan was a Fallacy; for the Difference between this Amount and the Remittances to the Preſidency, was an actual Loſs that the Company annually ſuſtained, inſtead of a ſuppoſed Advantage of a Brigade of Infantry and Cavalry being totally defrayed by the Nabob; from this, therefore, I may ſafely conclude, that the Remiſſion to the Nabob of this inſufferable Burthen, was a Profit to the Company, whenever the extra Troops, paid by the Nabob, ſhall be diſbanded or quartered upon other Neighbours, who are protected by our Power, and the Debt put into a probable State of ſpeedy Liquidation.

To the 8th Paragraph. If the Supply expected at Fyzabad ſhall prove adequate to the Diſcharge of all Arrears due to the Troops, and afford an adequate Fund for a Liquidation of the Company's Debt, it will remain at your Option to employ it as a Remittance to the Presidency, or the future Payment of the Troops you may still think necessary to keep up, to regulate the Nabob's internal Government, in regard to which I shall hope for your Determination, when I can inform you of what Means I possess.

" 9th. Give me an immediate Answer to the Question which I have herein proposed, that I may lose no more Time in fruitless Inaction.

" To the last Paragraph. I trust you will find all my Answers as explicit and decisive as you could wish them, and that they will enable you to determine upon yielding, with Confidence, to the Impulse arising from the Necessity of your Presence at the Presidency.

" My dear Sir, Lucknow, the 30th December 1781.

" I have this Day answered your publick Letter, in the Form you seemed to expect. I hope there is nothing in it that may to you appear too pointed. If you wish the Matter to be otherwise understood than I have taken up and stated it, I need not say I shall be ready to conform to whatever you may prescribe, and to take upon myself any Share of the Blame of the (hitherto) Non-performance of the Stipulations made on behalf of the Nabob; though I do assure you, I myself represented to his Excellency and the Ministers, conceiving it to be your Desire, that the apparent Assumption of the Reins of his Government (for in that Light he undoubtedly considered it at the first View), as specified in the Agreement executed by him, was not meant to be fully and literally enforced, but that it was necessary you should have something to shew on your Side, as the Company were deprived of a Benefit without a Requital; and upon the Faith of this Assurance alone, I believe I may safely affirm, his Excellency's Objections to signing the Treaty were given up. If I have understood the Matter wrong, or misconceived your Design, I am truly sorry for it; however, it is not too late to correct the Error; and I am ready to undertake, and, God willing, to carry through, whatever you may, on Receipt of my public Letter, tell me is your final Resolve.

" If you determine at all Events, that the Measure of reducing the Nabob's Army, &c. shall be immediately undertaken, I shall take it as a particular Favour if you will indulge me with a Line at Fyzabad, that I may make the necessary previous Arrangements with respect to the Disposal of my Family, which I would not wish to retain here in the Event either of a Rupture with the Nabob, or the Necessity of employing our Forces in the Reduction of his Aumils and Troops; this done, I can begin the Work in Three Days after my Return from Fyzabad.

" I am, &c. &c.

" From the Bhowe Begum to the Resident.

" The underwritten Particulars have just come to my Knowledge.—That the Nabob's Orders to Meer Mahboob Ally are arrived, directing the Resumption of Nabob Gunge on the other Side of the River, and Bene Gunge my Jagheer, and for him to take charge thereof; also that the Charge of Purgunnah Salone, my Jagheer, is given to Meer Nazir Ally; every Thing respecting myself is specified in your Caulnama. Hitherto no Interference has taken place by any one; I am at a Loss to account for the present Measure. On what Plea has the Nabob resumed my Jagheer, or what are his Intentions? While you are Resident, can such Proceedings be admitted? Express your Disapprobation, that it may not be carried into Effect. Before, Application was made through Molvie Fuzzle Azeem Khan to me, for Lowanah Talook, my Jagheer, when I wrote to Hussein Reza Khan, and Hyder Beg Khan, on the Subject, who silenced Molvie Fuzzle Azeem Khan—but now the Resumption of my Jagheer is resolved on.

" The Jagheer is not the Grant of the Nabob, that he should resume it—let those who granted resume it. The Nabob has nothing to do with me. Let me have a speedy Answer. Countermand the Order to Meer Nazir Ally for the Resumption of my Jagheer. The present State of Matters is trifling, but the Consequences shall be great."

" From the Reſident to the Bhowe Begum.

" I have received your Letter—recapitulated the Contents—The Nabob has thought proper, on account of the Inconveniencies, Loſs, and Indignities he ſuſtains from the Authority exerciſed by the Jagheerdars throughout the Country, to reſume all the Jagheers in his Dominions, in which yours is neceſſarily included; but as the Amount of your Jagheer is confirmed to you by a written Agreement between you and the Nabob, and guaranteed by Mr. Briſtow in Behalf of the Governor General and Council, it will be made good to you in ready Money. If you will therefore be pleaſed to tranſmit me an accurate Account of the Amount you realized from your ſeveral Jagheers, Gunges, Bazars, &c. as ſpecified in the Caulnâma, after deducting the Expences of Collection, Sebundee, and all other Charges, I will pledge myſelf that the ſaid Sum ſhall be regularly remitted to you at ſuch ſtated Times, and in ſuch Proportions, as you ſhall preſcribe:—As to any Thing farther, his Excellency is Maſter."

" From the Bhowe Begum to Huſſein Reza Khan.

" I find that Meer Nazir Ally has been veſted with Charge of Purgunnah Salone, my Jagheer; which to me is unaccountable. From whence proceeds his Excellency's Interference with my Jagheer? The Jagheer is not from his Grant, that he ſhould reſume it; what his Intentions may be, I am at a Loſs to form an Idea of—Note this, that if my Jagheer falls, the Country ſhall not ſtand: Remember this, and make the Nabob acquainted with it. It is not well that for a trifling Matter much Trouble ſhould be occaſioned.—Recall the Aumil, to whom the Charge of the Jagheer of Salone has been given; if not, it will not be well done. Hitherto I have been ſilent and patient, but I cannot continue ſo longer. Whence this Reſolution for the Reſumption of my Jagheer? Let me have your Anſwer ſpeedily."

" From the Bhowe Begum to the Reſident.

" The Particulars I have written you, reſpecting my Jagheers, having arrived, will be read by you. The Nabob has ſent Aumils to take Charge of them. The Caulnâma, under your Seal, is in my Poſſeſſion, in which all Interference with my Jagheers is diſclaimed, as well as all Demands on me for Money. Now the Engagements of the Nabob are diſregarded, although the Engliſh are at Hand. I ſhall, in Ten Days, the Mohrum being over, proceed to Lucknow, where, having fully explained and adjuſted Affairs, I ſhall repair to wherever my Will may direct. Your being at Lucknow will expedite the clearing and cloſing the Affair. Let there be no Interference with my Jagheer previous to my Arrival at Lucknow, neither vexatiouſly interfere with my People. I am repairing to Lucknow: Wherefore this Precipitation? You are Guarantee for the Caulnâma. Should the Country be loſt to me, it ſhall be loſt to all. I give you this Intimation.——Note it."

" From the Bhowe Begum to the Reſident.

" Having written to you particularly reſpecting my Jagheers, you are now acquainted therewith. Now the Nabob's Order to Meer Baboob Ally is arrived, directing the Reſumption of my Jagheers, Nabob Gunge, on the other Side of the River, and Bene Gunge, and their Amount Collections to be paid into the Treaſury.—Whence this Meaſure? You are acquainted with the Purport of the Caulnâma, diſclaiming all Interference with my Jagheers, and by the Bleſſing of God, are at Hand for my Benefit. Yet am I aſtoniſhed with this Proceeding. The Jagheers are not granted by the Nabob, that he ſhould reſume them. What has he reſolved againſt me? The Conſequences ſhall be Extremities. There has been a Friendſhip of long Date ſubſiſting between the Engliſh Government and me. I underſtand Aumis for other of my Jagheers are in Agitation. Interpoſe, and put a Stop to ſuch Proceedings. Application was made before by Molvie Fuzzle Azeem Khan, for Lowanah Talook, my Jagheer; on which I wrote to Huſſein Reza Khan, and Hyder Beg Cawn, who explained the Matter to the Molvie, and cauſed the Matter to be dropped. Huſſein Reza Khan and Hyder Beg Khan are my profeſſed Friends. The Buſineſs I write to them on is effected. With them I am perfectly ſatisfied. I am now convinced this Trouble is cauſed by Molvie Fuzzle Azeem Khan. Make known to him your Diſpleaſure at it, that this Affair may be relinquiſhed, forbidding him ever to enter on the Subject of my Jagheers, to prevent any further Interference of this Kind therewith."

" From the Reſident to the Bhowe Begum.

" I had the Honour to reply to your former Letter Yeſterday; to the Contents of which I muſt beg leave to refer you, as far as relates to ſecuring to you the actual Income of your Jagheers, Gungees, Bazars, &c. as ſet forth in the Caulnâma ſubſiſting between you and his Excellency the Nabob. I certainly am bound in Duty to interfere, becauſe the Faith of the Governor General and Council, my Maſters, has been pledged to you for it; and I am ready, as I before informed you, to ſettle that Point to your Satisfaction; but as to continuing the Lands, &c. in the Form you have hitherto held them, his Excellency the Nabob is the Maſter, and I cannot oppoſe his Pleaſure. It behoves you to reflect well on this Matter. I am equally the Friend of you and your Son the Nabob, and can have no Prejudices in favour of one or the other. His Excellency declares, and I have myſelf ſeen too many Proofs to doubt it, that the Authority and Dominion exerciſed by the Jagheerdars is extremely prejudicial to his Revenue and Government. A Medium, therefore, being propoſed, by which you loſe nothing, and his Excellency gains ſo much, I ſhould * you would not continue to reject it, ſince it is unqueſtionably the ſame to you, whether you receive the Income of your Jagheer through the Channel of an Aumil appointed under the Nabob's Authority, or from the Hands of your own immediate Agent. For the regular Remittance of whatever Net Income you may heretofore have received from your Jagheers, I willingly make myſelf reſponſible; but I again repeat, that in all other Reſpects the Nabob is Maſter.—What more ſhall I ſay?"

* Sic in Orig.

"From the Bhowe Begum to the Reſident.

"I underſtand, from Huſſein Reza Khan, that he has ſpoke to you concerning my Jagheers, and that you in Reply ſhould ſay that the Nabob's ſending Aumils into my Jagheers was not of any Conſequence or Prejudice. If theſe are your Sentiments, I cannot but be much aſtoniſhed. Had any other Perſon expreſſed ſuch, I ſhould not have felt it, but imputed them to his Ignorance. Since I heard that you ſhould have declared ſuch as the above, I have been in Deſpair, as I cannot think the Country any longer proper for my remaining in it, as thoſe who bound themſelves by Engagements, now diſregard them. After the Mohrum is paſt, I ſhall repair to Lucknow, and take my Leave of it to ſojourn elſewhere, as neceſſitated by the Gentlemen at Lucknow, and as my Inclinations once led me, and is now God's Decree; though, ſhould I be neceſſitated to quit the Country, God grant that no Soul may be able to remain in it in Peace. The Power of Exiſtence reſts not with you, but God. You are a Ruler of the Country, and can take to yourſelf the Jagheers of others. Many are involved in Diſtreſs. Pride is not commendable; it is not countenanced by God. How long is to be the Period of your Reign? Infamy is your Due. The Countries of Puttaghur, Owde, &c. yield Four Crore of Rupees; if they are not ſufficient to ſatisfy you, what can my Jagheers contribute towards it? And why, without my Knowledge, ſhould Aumils be ſent into them? If you mean to proceed in this Mode, ſend Aumils into Nezif Khan's Country, &c. and try the Conſequences. While I do remain in the Country, recall the Aumils from my Jagheers. Why ſo precipitate? Be aſſured I ſhall with Expedition take my Departure."

"From the Reſident to the Bhowe Begum.

"A Perſon aſſuming your Name has juſt arrived here, with a Letter under your Seal, addreſſed to me; but as I cannot believe, either from the Subject Matter or the Stile, that it can have been dictated by you, or written with your Knowledge, I enclose a Copy of it, that you may detect the Forgery, and inflict a proper exemplary Puniſhment on the Perſon who ſhall have dared thus to abuſe your Confidence, and inſult me."

"From the Nabob Vizier to the Reſident.

"I have received your Letter, covering Copies of Letters from my Mother to yourſelf—recapitulated † the Contents.—She ſays her Jagheers were not granted by me. At the Time of the late Nabob's Death, theſe Mahls were under the Charge of Jowaur Ally Khan, on the Footing of other Aumils, inſomuch that the Accounts, &c. were lodged in the Dewan's Office; theſe Accounts, as they were delivered into the Dewan's Office to the Date of the Nabob's Death, are forthcoming. After his Death, I, as a dutiful Son, made over theſe Mahls to her in Jagheer, that it could not be ſaid I left my Mother unprovided. The Buſineſs and Mahls of the Khalſa ſuffer conſiderably, and are much prejudiced by the Authority and Conduct of the Aumils of theſe Jagheers, Mahls, as alſo from the Inſolence of the Houſehold Khajah; witneſs the Conduct of Bhar Ally Khan's Naibat Tondah. My Life, Eſtate, and Dominions originate from the Friendſhip of the Engliſh Government. Yet what Knavery have not theſe Houſehold Khajahs been guilty of. As therefore it is not prudent that theſe Mahls ſhould be continued in the Charge of my Mother, or Houſehold Khajahs, I have appointed my own Aumils—receive the Amount ariſing from theſe Mahls, and pay it to my Mother, after deducting the Charges of Collections, &c. abſolute Charges. I am ready to acquieſce in any Thing for my Mother. As for the other Parts of her Letters, I truſt in God they are dictated by the Houſehold Khajahs; and that I have not cauſed Shame to myſelf from my Conduct to God or my Mother. After the Death of my Father, whatever was due from him to the Company, alſo to the Troops, I took upon myſelf; but whatever Effects there were remained with my Mother. Some Time ſince ſhe gave ſome Part to me, but it went no Way in the Diſcharge of the Claims of the Company or Troops. For theſe many Years I have endured much Inconvenience and Trouble for the Diſcharge of theſe; yet Half is not made good, and I am in daily Anxiety on this Account, from a Deſire to diſcharge all juſt Dues to the Company. It is my Intention to proceed to Fyzabad in Ten Days, the Mohrum being over, when I mean to requeſt of my Mother the Whole of my Father's Eſtate, to enable me to pay off all Debts to the Company. Agreeable to the Laws of God, all my Father's Effects are my my Right, that I may make good all Claims on him. If my Mother, from Affection, conſents, I ſhall be happy; if not, in whatever Manner ſhe may render it, I ſhall pay it towards the Adjuſtment of the Balance due to the Company. With reſpect to the Houſehold Khajahs, I ſhall confine and puniſh them, for the Knavery and Means they have uſed towards effecting a Breach between my Mother and myſelf. You will in Friendſhip cauſe this Letter to be tranſlated into Engliſh, and ſend it immediately to the Governor, deſiring him not to liſten to any one, or what my Mother may write, neither adopt her Opinion, but direct me to receive Money from her, towards the Payment of the Company's Demands. I am ready to defray and allow her for her Expences—with reſpect to the Amount Collections of her Jagheers, after deducting all neceſſary Charges of Collection; you may receive and tranſmit it to her." "From the Mother of the Vizier. Received 6th January 1782.

"5. Our Situation is pretty well, and your good Health is conſtantly prayed for. I had ſent Behar Ally Khan to you; accordingly People invented a Falſehood, that Behar Ally Khan was gone to get the Deputyſhip of the Soubah, and ſome Perſons here were ſaying, "Wherefore has ſhe ſent Behar Ally Khan to Calcutta to the Naivab Amaud ud Dowla? we will never permit the Affair to ſucceed." And accordingly it has ſo happened, for they ſay that you alſo have not put your Seal to the Treaty; and the People here ſay, Why does the Nabob Lady correſpond with the Engliſh Gentlemen? On this Account I did not ſend a Letter at the Time when you came this Way. Now the State of Affairs here is thus: On the 27th Zehedje, Aſuph ud Dowla Behader, without my Knowledge, ſent his own Aumils into my Jagheer. I accordingly wrote ſeveral Times to Mr. Middleton on this Buſineſs, that his Seal was to the Treaty and Writing of Diſcharge, why did he not negociate in my Favour? Mr. Middleton replied, "The Nawab is the Maſter." I wrote frequently, but without Effect. Being helpleſs, I repreſent to you the State of my Affairs, that notwithſtanding the Exiſtence of this Treaty, I have been treated in this Manner: It is uſeleſs for me to ſtay here. Whatever is, is a Compact; whenever any one deviates from his Compact, he meets with no Credit for the future; and the Light of mine Eyes, Aſuph ud Dowla, wrote to me, that he had ſent his own Aumils into my Jagheers, and would pay me ready Money from his Treaſury. Reflect on my Security for his adhering to his future Engagements, from the Conſideration of his Conduct under his paſt Promiſes. I do not agree to his ready Money, let me have my Jagheer, as formerly; otherwiſe, leaving this Place, I will wait on you at Benaris, and thence will go towards Shah Jehan Abad, becauſe he has not adhered to his Engagements. Send Letters to Aſuph ud Dowla, and to Mr. Middleton, and Huſſen Reza Khan, and Hyder Beg Khan, not to moleſt the Beegum's Jagheer, and to let them remain as formerly with the Beegum's Aumils; and it is here ſuſpected of me, that my Aumil plundered the Property of Mr. John Gordon. The Caſe is this: Mr. John Gordon arrived at Tandah, a Jagheer of mine, fighting with the Zemindars of Akberpoor, which belongs to the Khalſeh. Accordingly, Mr. John Gordon having come to Tandah, my Aumil performed whatever appertained to his Duty. Afterwards Mr. John Gordon wrote to me to ſend my People, that he might come with them to Fyzabad. I ſent People accordingly to bring Mr. John Gordon; and the ſaid Gentlemen arrived here in complete Safety. And Mr. John Gordon is now preſent, aſk him yourſelf of theſe Matters. Mr. John Gordon will repreſent Matters in Detail;—the Truth will then become known, how ill founded the Calumny is. Should you come here for a few Days, it will be very well; and if not, I will wait on you. And your coming here is very neceſſary, that all my Affairs may become arranged; and ſend a ſpeedy Anſwer to my Letters, and Letter to Aſuph ud Dowla, and Mr. Middleton, and Huſſen Reza Khan, and Hyder Beg Khan, on the Subject of ceaſing to moleſt my Jagheers; and ſend me conſtantly News of your Health, for my Peace of Mind depends thereon." "No. 1. From the Letters of Mr. Middleton I learn, that he had ſhewn you, as I deſired him, the Agreements entered into between us at Chunar, and that your Highneſs did not agree to, or approve of, ſeveral of the Articles. My only Deſire in giving that Gentleman that Order was, that he might aſſiſt in the Adjuſtment of thoſe Matters agreed on, becauſe theſe Regulations tend to the ſtrengthening your Highneſs's Authority, and the Advancement of the Cultivation of the Country. Your Highneſs does not approve of the Aſſiſtance propoſed; I am in doubt how to proceed; my ſole View in this Journey to Benaris was to regenerate the Friendſhip already ſubſiſting between your Highneſs and the Company, and to aſſiſt your Highneſs in forming the Bundobuſt of the Country; and I believe that that * theſe Arrangements, from the Time of our mutual Adjuſtment of them, would ere this have been accompliſhed; but it has not happened; your Highneſs has done nothing towards it; nor do I perceive, that, in the Bundobuſt which your Highneſs has conſented to, you act ſo as to bring it to a Concluſion, or that you approve of the Bundobuſt that I have pointed out. Still I am ready, with my Abilities, to aſſiſt your Highneſs, that, if your Highneſs requires it, I will repair to Lucknow, and uſe my Endeavours either either † with my Advice or my Friendſhip in your Concerns, until every Article that has been agreed between us ſhall be fulfilled. Should not your Highneſs approve of my Aſſiſtance in the Affairs of your Sircar, I do not deſire to perſiſt in it; but if in future any Loſs ſhould be ſuſtained by your Highneſs, it cannot be laid to my Charge, and whatever remains due to the Company, it is neceſſary they ſhould receive it without a Balance. Unleſs this is done, I cannot return to Calcutta. Should this Matter be adjuſted, and your Highneſs's Deſire be ſuch, that the ſettling your Bundobuſt ſhould reſt in your own Hands, I agree to it. Whatever I may wiſh, I ſhall write to Mr. Middleton, who will explain it to your Highneſs."

" Sir,

" I was this Day honoured with your Commands of the 10th inſtant, informing me of the Military Station you have eſtabliſhed at Juanpore, with the Liberty you grant the Nabob Vizier of claiming their Aid to quell any Diſturbances in the adjacent Parts of his Provinces. I have accordingly communicated it to his Excellency, who with great Juſtice was highly pleaſed with the Diſpoſition, as in Truth the Diſtricts bordering upon the Zemindary of Benares have for a long Period of Time been of all others the moſt turbulent and diſaffected, and nothing leſs than the Arrangement you have now formed, could effectually ſecure the Peace and Tranquillity in that Neighbourhood, ſo eſſential to the Proſperity of the Nabob's Government and Revenues.

" With reſpect to the Buſineſs here, I have the Honour to inform you, that Yeſterday finding that the temporizing and indeciſive Conduct of the Nabob ſeemed to promiſe an Iſſue very different * very different from that expected in your Commands of the 26th December laſt; and that the only Uſe the Two leading Eunuchs under the Bhow Begum made of the Delay was, to aſſemble and call in armed Men from all Quarters, which when united with the large Force already in the Town under their Direction, would in all Probability have brought the Matter to a much more ſevere and arduous Teſt than it at preſent could admit of; I found myſelf neceſſitated to take the moſt immediate and deciſive Interference which the Force with me was capable of, and accordingly, having the Nabob's written Requiſition, marched the 23d Regiment, under the Command of Major Naylor, with a Detachment of his Excellency's own Troops, againſt the Kella, and had the Happineſs to ſucceed in putting the Nabob's Party in Poſſeſſion of it without any Effuſion of Blood; the armed Men retiring from it on the Approach of our Troops, and drawing up with their Guns in a large broad Street before the Houſe of the old Begum, to which the Bhow Begum and her Two principal Eunuchs had retired the preceding Evening. This effected, the Nabob iſſued his peremptory Orders for the immediate Departure of all armed Men, excepting his own Troops, beyond the Precincts of the Town, threatening them with an inſtant Attack if they diſobeyed. This Order, after many Evaſions, was promiſed to be complied with; and the Two Eunuchs, Bahr and Jowar Ally Cawn, at the ſame Time coming in, and delivering themſelves into the Nabob's Cuſtody, the armed Men, amounting to between Three and Four thouſand, evacuated the Town and diſperſed. I have ſince learnt, that had the Nabob's Troops alone attempted the Seizure of the Kella, a very deſperate Reſiſtance was reſolved upon, which appeared very probable, from the State in which the armed Men were found, being the preceding Evening furniſhed with a large Store of Ammunition, and now drawn up in regular Order, with loaded Pieces, and their Matches lighted; but they were prudent enough to think themſelves unequal to the united Efforts of his Excellency's Troops, ſupported by an Engliſh Regiment, and by this Conviction much Miſchief has happily been prevented.

" Some Buſineſs of Importance, which the Reſident had to ſettle at Fyzabad, occaſioned my ſuddenly joining him there. After my Arrival, a Couple of Days paſſed in Negociation, but without Effect; and the Party in the Town collecting, and hourly gaining Strength, at length, after mature Deliberation, it was reſolved that I ſhould, with my Regiment, and Four Guns, ſtorm the Town, which I effected the 12th in the Morning. I very ſoon got Poſſeſſion of the Kellah, in which is the Palace and Zenanah; and as there were not only ſeveral Gates, but Openings in the Walls, as I entered on one Side they eſcaped at the other; but ſhortly after the Party returned again, headed by the Two principal Eunuchs, Bahr Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, and drew up oppoſite and within Sixty Yards of One of my Poſts, with Three Guns, and added the moſt aggravated † Behaviour; however, as they did not fire, or offer any other Acts of Hoſtility, and when I reflected on the Conſequence that would attend a conteſted Diſpute in the Streets of the Town; of the Zenanah, &c. being ſubject to be plundered even by themſelves, which would have been attributed to me; and being ſo ſituated, for the Safety of the Female Part of the Family on one Hand, who were under the moſt dreadful Apprehenſion, and for the Support of his Excellency's Authority on the other, who was waiting the Reſult on the Outſide of the Town, I was for a ſhort Time doubtful how to decide; however, as I had Mahomed Affrein Cawn along with me, a Perſon in high Favour with the Nabob, and well-acquainted with both Parties, I deſired to circulate lenient Advice, pointing out how fatal an Attack would be to them, and inevitable Ruin to thoſe they appeared ſo zealous to ſupport. It had the Effect; the Two Eunuchs immediately ſurrendered, their People inſtantly left the Town, and I ordered their Guns to be dragged away.

"Sir,

"I have been honoured with your Commands of the 8th and 14th inſtant; and in Reply to the Firſt, have to inform you, that having repreſented to the Nabob the improper Treatment which Dewanjee Punt met with from the Officers of Government at Allahabad, on his Way to you, ſtrict Orders have been iſſued to the Phougedar of that Province to prevent any Impediment or Moleſtation to him on his Return to the Deekan; and I alſo, in obedience to your Commands, ſignified to the Nabob's Miniſters your Sentiments and Diſapprobation of a Conduct which reflected ſo much Diſgrace on his Excellency's Government. Their Reply was, That the Waſhing Duties, or Tax levied upon all Perſons coming to bathe at the Conflux of the Rivers Ganges and Jumma, has long been an eſtabliſhed Thing, and at preſent forms a conſiderable Article of Revenue in the Tohud of the Farmer of Allahabad; that it ſhall be their Care to prevent, as much as poſſible, any Abuſe of this Privilege during the Remainder of the current Year, and at the Period of the new annual Settlement to aboliſh it altogether, if it is your Wiſh that it ſhould not exiſt.

"I had the Honour to addreſs you under Date the 13th inſtant, incloſing you the Letter from his Excellency the Vizier, for which you inform me you are waiting, and acquainting you with the Meaſures which had been taken here towards accompliſhing the Object of your Commands. I have hitherto withheld any farther Communication, in the Expectation of ſhortly being able to inform you, with Certainty, what would be the Iſſue of our Proceedings; a Subject on which I have been extremely unwilling to touch, until I could do it on ſuch Grounds as could not miſlead your Hopes or Expectations: Until Yeſterday the Buſineſs was in no Form that could enable me to pronounce, or even conjecture, what would be the Reſult.

"It very early appeared, that the Begum, with the Aſſiſtance of her Cojahs, had diſpoſed of and ſecreted her Wealth in ſuch a Manner as to elude almoſt the Poſſibility of obtaining Poſſeſſion of it by mere Force of Arms; and whatever rigorous Meaſures it might be proper for the Nabob ultimately to adopt, it ſeemed, at all Events, in the firſt Inſtance highly expedient that we ſhould purſue the Courſe which promiſed, with the greateſt Certainty, the Accompliſhment of his Firſt Object, in which the Intereſts of the Company, and your Deſires, were too much concerned for me to heſitate a Moment in giving my Concurrence to a temporary Forbearance, which I had Reaſon to believe was the moſt adviſeable, and, if it did not ſucceed, could be attended in the Iſſue with no worſe Effect than a few Days Delay in cloſing the Buſineſs.

"Your Letter to the Begum, which I had the Honour to receive and forward to her Yeſterday, having deſtroyed a Reliance, which, notwithſtanding the Part I have avowed and acted with reſpect to her, ſhe probably placed in the Support and Mediation of our Government, has given a very favourable Turn to the Buſineſs, and afforded me a well-grounded Hope that in One or Two Days more I ſhall be able to inform you of a ſatisfactory Concluſion of it.

To prove Mr. Haſtings's Diſapprobation of the Two Days of Negociation entered into by Mr. Middleton,

Read, the following Letter from the Governor General to Mr. Middleton, dated 25th January 1782, from Book C, already delivered in.

" To Mr. Nathaniel Middleton, Reſident at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" I have received your Letters of the 31ſt ultimo, the 3d, 10th, and 18th inſtant.

" The Satisfaction which I received on the firſt Advice of your Succeſs at Fyzabad, has been greatly allayed by my Diſappointment of its Effects. I am compelled to remind you of my Inſtructions contained in my Letter of the 26th December. They were the moſt poſitive, that you were not to allow any Negotiation or Forbearance, but proſecute both Services until the Begums were at the entire Mercy of the Nabob, their Jagheers in the quiet Poſſeſſion of his Aumils, and their Wealth in ſuch Charge as might ſecure it againſt private Embezzlement.

" You began by Negociation, which had the natural Effect of exciting Reſiſtance; and you now tell me, that without heſitating a Moment, you have given your Concurrence to a temporary Forbearance. It is poſſible that in this repeated Oppoſition to my Orders, you have actuated * by ſome Neceſſity; but this I can hardly ſuppoſe, as you have not even alluded to them, or aſſigned Reaſons for having deviated from them. * Sic in Orig.

" I ſhall wait anxiouſly for the Reſult of your Proceedings; after having, at the earneſt Solicitation of the Nabob in the Firſt Inſtance, and his Application to me for my Concurrence in the Second, agreed to his Reſumption of the Jagheers held by the Begums, and to the Confiſcation of their Treaſures, and thereby involved my own Name and the Credit of the Company in a Participation of both Meaſures: I have a Right to require and inſiſt on the complete Execution of them, and I look to you for their Execution, declaring that I ſhall hold you accountable for it, if they ſhall fail of the Ends propoſed, after the Attainment of the Means which the Diſmiſſion and Diſperſion of their Forces, and the Poſſeſſion of the Kellah, have afforded you for accompliſhing them beyond the apparent Poſſibility of a Diſappointment.

" I deſire that you will expreſs theſe Sentiments to the Nabob, ſo far as they relate to him, and further, repeat the Advice contained in my Letter, which, with a Copy of it, I encloſe.

" I am,

Read, the following Extract from Book 105, already delivered in.

" 8. Encloſures from Ally Ibrahim Khan.

" Received 18th January 1783.

" N° 1. Copy of a Letter from Hyder Beg Khan to Ally Ibrahim Khan.

" Your affectionate Letter arrived at Fyzabad Palace on the 24th Mohurrem; you wrote that at the Time of taking leave of his Highneſs, after what had paſſed concerning the Settlement of Affairs, and the Permanency of the Proſperity of his Highneſs, and of the Company's Well-wiſhers, it occurred to your Mind, that good Order would ſpeedily aſſume Form from his Highneſs, and from the Nawab Huſſen Reza Khan, and from me, but that as yet ſeveral Affairs were not come to Light; that it was incumbent I ſhould perform them with Expedition, otherwiſe that there would be Cauſe for my being ſpoken againſt, and my Engagements obtain no Credit. My Friend, I became greatly aſtoniſhed and affected on underſtanding theſe Things, becauſe the Nawab Huſſen Raza Khan and myſelf knew the bettering of ourſelves to be dependant on the good Order of the Affairs of his Highneſs's Sircar, and of the Company's, and from the Time of my coming here, I knew not that any Affair has been delayed, and I have executed whatever came to my Underſtanding as appertaining to Loyalty to his Highneſs's Sircar, and to the Company's Sircar, which in Truth are one and the ſame, and alſo whatever Mr. Middleton commanded. However in ſome Matters, which have not been yet treated of, perceiving the Proſperity of his Highneſs's Affairs, and good Will to the Company's Sircar therein, I came to Fyzabad with a Determination concerning them, and to the utmoſt of my Power have laboured in forwarding them; no Manner of Neglect has or ſhall take Place. But, in the Performance of ſeveral beneficial Operations, the whole Court has become adverſe to me; yet not giving any Conſideration thereto, I reſign myſelf to the Service of his Highneſs and of the Company; whatever Mr. Middleton commands becomes performed. Notwithſtanding theſe Occurrences, of which Intelligence has undoubtedly reached you, yet have you written in a friendly Manner to ſuch a Purpoſe; it has produced the Thought, that ſome Matter muſt have been neglected, which I or Mr. Middleton have not recollected; therefore, acknowledging the Errors to which Human Nature is ſubject, I requeſt Information what Buſineſs it is, of which you ſay, ſeveral Matters have not been performed: If you will write particularly I will exert myſelf therein to the Utmoſt of my Power, in as much as I am not wanting to Submiſſion and Obedience. Write to me ſpeedily a detailed Anſwer, for I labour under much Diſquiet and Anxiety; I cannot become convinced without Information. As I am perfectly certain that nothing of Mr. Middleton's Commands, have with my Knowledge been neglected, therefore ſuſpecting myſelf of ſome Error, I have requeſted Information as to what you wrote, that I ſhould make haſte in the Affairs and give Information, and ſo on Occaſion it would be remembered. " You may underſtand my Conduct from others, that Night and Day I am employed on the Affairs of his Highneſs's and the Company's Sircars, and with perfect Content of Mind. You may, on Occaſion, recal it to Remembrance, that as far as I am able, I neither have nor ſhall fail in the Buſineſs of both Sircars, which are as one and the ſame, and that conſidering the Favour of God, and the Kindneſs of Mr. Haſtings, Governor General, and turning not aſide, I will exert myſelf from my Soul, in whatever may promote the Intereſts of both Sircars."

" N° 2. Copy of a Letter from Hyder Beg Khan to Ally Ibrahim Khan.

" From the Time that your friendly Letter arrived, containing this, that ſome of the Matters which were treated of for the Benefit of the Sircars of his Highneſs and of the Company, were not yet performed, my Heart has ſuffered great Diſquietude. From the Time of my coming here I have exerted myſelf in thoſe Matters, and I know my Proſperity to be in the good Order of the Affairs of his Highneſs and of the Company; and Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon are appointed here, and whatever has occurred to me for the Benefit of both Sircars, I have repreſented to both Gentlemen, and, imploring their Aſſiſtance, I employ myſelf in the Performance thereof. In getting Poſſeſſion of the Jagheers of his Highneſs's Relations, there have been great Difficulties; but, viewing the Service of his Highneſs, I have not attended to the Diſcontent of any one; and Mr. Middleton, in Conformity to Mr. Haſtings's Directions, gives me his Aſſiſtance; I act as he commands. From that Period the Nobles of his Highneſs's Sircar are hoſtile to my Life. This Matter is not concealed; it is publick. Conſidering God's Grace, and the Favours of the Governor, I am not wanting in Service. Having determined on an Undertaking not yet communicated, which I know to be for the Service of his Highneſs and of the Company, I am come as far as Fyzabad. If it be executed conformably to my Repreſentation, you will know it when completed. Here my Loyalty has made ſuch Enemies; and if I be in your Parts ſuſpected of Negligence and Lazineſs, do me the Juſtice to conceive how great would be my Diſquietude. However, I truſt that my Efforts and good Wiſhes are not in vain; the Nawab-Governor-General is juſt and penetrating. He will afford ſome Comfort, and take me by the Hand. I am ſurpriſed that, notwithſtanding theſe Circumſtances, of which you muſt have had daily Intelligence, you

you ſhould have written that ſeveral Matters are not yet performed, and that for the future my Promiſes would not meet Credit. Alas!

" Verſe. My Eyes are as a Mill, and Tears as the Grain.

" I do not conſider ſuch Words from my Protector in a ſmall Light. Having underſtood the Cauſe thereof, write me in Detail, that my Alarms may be removed.

" Yeſterday I diſpatched an affectionate Letters * in Anſwer to your friendly Epiſtle. I trouble you again, from the Diſtreſs of my Mind, at underſtanding thoſe Circumſtances. Write a ſpeedy Anſwer, and write in Detail to me, whatever may be commanded and obſerved concerning me. It is of no Importance to write in Detail the Commands on other Buſineſs."

To prove, that Hyder Beg Cawn had rendered himſelf odious and deteſtable, by becoming Mr. Haſtings's Agent and Inſtrument in the Execution of the Meaſures reſpecting the Begums,

Read, the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Governor General, dated 11th February 1782, from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book B. already delivered in.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c. &c. &c.

" Sir,

" Incloſed I have the Honour to forward you Addreſſes from his Excellency the Vizier and his Miniſters. In Juſtice to the latter, it is incumbent upon me to inform you, that during the Progreſs of the Buſineſs at Fayzabad, I received from them the moſt willing and zealous Support; and that to their Exertions I conſider myſelf greatly indebted for the complete Succeſs which attended that Buſineſs, as well as for the Fruits of it being ſolely applied to the Liquidation of the Nabob's Debt to the Honourable Company.

" Under theſe Circumſtances it would afford me great Satisfaction, and, I conceive, tend to promote the publick Service, were they honoured with ſome Teſtimony of your Approbation and Favour, which would be particularly acceptable to them at this Period, as their Conduct in the Tranſactions at Fayzabad, and in the Reſumption of the Jagheers, has excited the inveterate Reſentment of the Begums, and many Perſons of the firſt Conſequence about the Court, whoſe Intereſts have been affected by the latter Meaſure, and created a more painful Combination againſt them than they have ever before had to oppoſe.

" In ſhort, Sir, they are conſidered not only by this Party, but by the Nabob himſelf, as the Dependants of the Engliſh Government; which they certainly are, and it is by its declared and moſt obvious Support alone that they can maintain the Authority and Influence which is indiſpenſibly neceſſary, to enable them to diſcharge the Truſt repoſed in them, either with Credit to themſelves, or Advantage to the Publick.

Sir,
Your moſt obedient and moſt humble Servant,

" Lucknow, the 11th February 1782.

To prove that Mr. Haſtings rewarded the Miniſters, by ſending them the Khelaats, or Robes of Honour,

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c. &c. &c.

" Sir,

" Having in Obedience to your Commands prepared, and in your Behalf inveſted the Miniſters with the Khelats you conſented to beſtow upon them as a Token of your Protection, I have now the Honour to forward you their Acknowledgments on that Occaſion. And am, with the moſt profound Reſpect,

Read, the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to Sir Elijah Impey, dated the 25th January 1782, already delivered in at the Bar (a).

" Dear Sir Elijah, Fayzabad, the 25th January 1782.

" I have the Satisfaction to inform you, that we have at Length ſo far attained the great Object of our Expedition to this Place, as to commence on the Receipt of Money, of which, in the

Courſe

Courſe of this Day, we have got about Six Lacks. I know not yet what Amount we ſhall actually realize, but I think I may ſafely venture to pronounce it will be equal to the Liquidation of the Company's Balance. It has been at once the moſt important and the moſt difficult Point of Duty which has ever occurred in my Office, and the Anxiety, the Hopes and Fears, which have alternately agitated my Mind, cannot be deſcribed or conceived but by thoſe who have been Witneſs to what has paſſed in the Courſe of this long Conteſt. The Miniſters have ſupported me nobly throughout the Buſineſs, and deſerve much Commendation; without the ſhrewd Diſcernment, and Knowledge of the Fineſſe and Tricks of the Country, which Hyder Beg Cawn poſſeſſes, I believe we ſhould have ſucceeded but indifferently; for I ſoon found that no real Advantage was to be obtained by proceeding at once to violent Extremities with the Begum, and that ſhe was only to be attacked through the Medium of her confidential Servants, who it required conſiderable Addreſs to get hold of; however, we at laſt effected it, and by uſing ſome few Severities with them, we at Length came at the ſecret Hoards of this old Lady. I will write you more Particulars hereafter.

" I am ſorry to inform you my little Boy ſtill continues in a very precarious Way, though ſomewhat better than when I had laſt the Honour to addreſs you.

" My Reſpects to Lady Impey; and believe me with great Regard,
My dear Sir Elijah,
Your faithful, obliged, and
moſt affectionate humble Servant,
Nathaniel Middleton."

" Sir E. Impey.

Then the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to Sir Elijah Impey, dated 27th January 1782, was delivered in, and read as follows:

" My dear Sir Elijah, Fayzabad, 27th January 1782.

" I had the Pleaſure to inform you Yeſterday of my having commenced on the Receipt of Money; this is only to tell you, that we have gone on receiving ever ſince without any material Impediment; and if we continue with the ſame Succeſs To-morrow, I flatter myſelf the great Object of our Friend will be fully accompliſhed, and I ſhall return to Lucknow very well ſatisfied with the Expedition. In the worſt Event that can now happen, it cannot be a bad Buſineſs for the Company.

" My Reſpects to Lady Impey; and believe me, with true Attachment,
My dear Sir,
Your faithful and affectionate humble Servant,
Nath. Middleton."

" My little Boy ſtill continues in a precarious Way."

Then a Letter, from Mr. Middleton to Sir Elijah Impey, dated Fayzabad, the 27th January 1782, was delivered in, and an Extract from the ſame was read, as follows:

" We have made a conſiderable Progreſs in our Receipts here; having already realized enough for the Liquidation of the Nabob's firſt Bond to the Company, and in Hopes of getting ſufficient to pay off alſo the ſecond, which is only Twelve Lacks. In ſhort, my dear Sir, the Buſineſs has anſwered the Expectations I told you, at Lucknow, I entertained of it, and cannot fail to give a conſiderable Help to the Company's Finances, at a Time they ſo much want it.

" My Accounts from my Family at Lucknow are ſomewhat more favourable then they were, but not ſuch as to remove my Apprehenſions about the Child. I beg my Reſpects to Lady Impey; and remain, with unfeigned Regard,

" My dear Sir Elijah,
your faithful, obliged, and
moſt affectionate Friend,
Nath. Middleton."

" Fayzabad, the 27th January 1782.

" Sir Elijah Impey.

Then a Letter, from Mr. Middleton to Sir Elijah Impey, dated the 5th February 1782, was delivered in, and read, as follows:

☞ [" My dear Sir Elijah, Lucknow, the 5th February 1782.

" I have the Pleaſure to inform you of my Return to Lucknow, with a Sum of Money equal to the Liquidation of the Nabob's Debt to the Company. After paying up the Arrears of the Troops in theſe Provinces, for which they have long been very preſſing, I ſhall immediately forward the Reſidue to the Preſidency; and ſhall think myſelf happy in being the Inſtrument of affording ſo ſeaſonable a Relief to the Exigencies of Government. This is all I have, at preſent, Time to trouble you with, on Buſineſs; but ſhall write you again in a Day or Two.]

§ ("I have the Satisfaction to acquaint you, that my little Boy is much better, than when I laſt " wrote you; but ſtill ſo weak, and recovering ſo ſlowly, that an immediate Change of Air is " ſtrongly recommended, and, perhaps, is the only Expedient that can promiſe to ſave his Life.

Mrs.

" Mrs. Middleton will, therefore, ſet out with him in a few Days, accompanied by Cator's Fa" mily, for Dacca, and from thence, if the Seaſon will permit, ſhe will proceed to Chittagong.
" This Meaſure, I am ſorry to ſay, is almoſt as neceſſary for her as the Child; for what with " Grief and Anxiety for him during his long Indiſpoſition, and the Effects of a violent Cold,
" which ſhe caught ſoon after you left us, her Health is very much impaired, and would, I " apprehend, not eaſily be reſtored at Lucknow.

" I am very anxious to accompany her, or at leaſt to follow her ſoon; and, for that Purpoſe,
" requeſted, through Mrs. Haſtings, ſome Time ago, the Governor's Leave of Abſence; but he " had left her, and proceeded, by Dank, to the Preſidency, before my Letter reached her, ſo that " I am diſappointed, and muſt now, my dear Sir, entreat of you this friendly Office.

" I ſhall not avail myſelf of the Indulgence I ſolicit, until all the Governor's Orders are exe" cuted, and the Buſineſs of my Office put in ſuch a Train, as to run not the ſmalleſt Riſk of " being impeded by my Abſence. The ſooner you can favour me with the Governor's Leave,
" the greater I ſhall conſider the Obligation. Mrs. Middleton joins me in beſt Reſpects to you

" My dear Sir Elijah,
your faithful, obliged, and moſt affectionate Servant,
" Nath. Middleton.") §

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 12th June 1783, beginning at Page 246 of the ſame.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c.

" Sir,

" I have had this Day the Honour to receive your Commands of the 25th ultimo, and am extremely concerned that the Mode of conducting the Fayzabad Buſineſs, as ſet forth in my Addreſs of the 18th January, did not meet your entire Approbation. Permit me to aſſure you, Sir, it is with the greateſt Reluctance I ever venture to deviate from the expreſs Letter of your Inſtructions; and I cannot accuſe myſelf of having done it on any Occaſion, where it did not appear to my Judgment that the Object and Spirit of them rendered it adviſeable, and that the apparent Neceſſity would juſtify ſuch Latitude.

" In the preſent Inſtance, it was more in Appearance and Expreſſion than in Fact, that any Deviation was made from your Orders of the 26th December; for although I was conſtrained, from my ſtrict Regard to the Accompliſhment of what I conſidered the Firſt Object of this Undertaking, to admit of a temporary Forbearance, for the Reaſons aſſigned in my Addreſs of the 18th ultimo, the Begums were at that Time to be conſidered as entirely at the Mercy of the Nabob, their Jagheers were in the Poſſeſſion of his Aumils, their Troops diſperſed, and the Kella of Fayzabad, which included alſo the Bhow Begum's own Habitation, under the Guard of his Excellency's and our Troops.

" It remained only to get Poſſeſſion of her Wealth; and, to effect this, it was then, and is ſtill, my firm and unalterable Opinion, that it was indiſpenſably neceſſary to employ temporizing Expedients, and to work upon the Hopes and Fears of the Begum herſelf, and more eſpecially upon thoſe of her principal Agents, through whoſe Means alone there appeared any probable Chance of our getting Acceſs to the hidden Treaſures of the late Vizier; and when I acquaint you that by far the greateſt Part of the Treaſure which has been delivered to the Nabob was taken from the moſt ſecret Receſſes in the Houſes of the Two Eunuchs, whence of courſe it could not have been extracted without the Adoption of thoſe Means which could induce the Diſcovery, I ſhall hope for your Approbation of what I did. I muſt alſo obſerve, that no further Rigour than that which I exerted could have been uſed againſt Females in this Country, to whom there can be no Acceſs. The Nabob and Salar Jung were the only Two who could enter the Zenanah: The Firſt was a Son, who was to addreſs a Parent, and of courſe could uſe no Language or Action but that of earneſt and reiterated Solicitation; and the other was in all Appearance a Traitor to our Cauſe: Where Force could be employed, it was not ſpared. The Troops of the Begum were driven away and diſperſed, their Guns taken, her Fort, and the outward Walls of her Houſe, ſeized, and occupied by our Troops, at the Nabob's Requiſition, and her chief Agents impriſoned and put in Irons. No further Step was left. And in this Situation they ſtill remain, and are to continue (excepting only a Remiſſion of the Irons) until the final Liquidation of the Payment; and if then you deem it proper, no poſſible Means of Offence being left in her Hands, or thoſe of her Agents, all her Lands and Property having been taken, I mean, with your Sanction, to reſtore her Houſe and Servants to her; and hope to be favoured with your early Reply, as I expect that a few Days will complete the final Surrender of all that is further expected from the Begum.

" Lucknow, the 5th February 1782.

I have the Honour to be, &c. &c.
Nath. Middleton,
Reſident at the Court of the Vizier."

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c.

" Sir,

" I had the Honour to addreſs you Yeſterday; and this Morning I was favoured with your Commands of the 27th ultimo.

" You are already apprized, by my Addreſs of Yeſterday, and my preceding Letters, of the promiſed Iſſue of the Buſineſs at Fayzabad, as well as of the State in which I left it; both which I hope will be ſatisfactory, as they ſeem to leave the Matter in that State of Suſpenſe which you wiſh it to remain, until the Board or yourſelf ſhould have been adviſed of the Amount of the Treaſure recovered from the Begums, and ſignified your further Pleaſure.

" The Nabob has concluded no Settlement whatever with the Begums, but left Fayzabad ſome Hours before me, without taking Leave of them, upon their Agents having agreed to complete the 55 Lacks, which appeared due to the Company upon the cloſing of my Accounts for the laſt Year, and the Begums declaring that this was the Extent of all their Poſſeſſions, including down to their Table Utenſils, which they have, and are ſtill delivering, and no Proof has yet been obtained of their having more. I ſhall, as you direct, uſe my Influence to diſſuade his Excellency from concluding any Settlement until I have your further Commands.

" I have the Honour to be, &c. &c.

" Lucknow, the 6th February 1782. Nath. Middleton, Reſident at the Court of the Vizier." (a)

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

(a) Vide Appendix, N. XXXVIII.

Die Jovis, 22° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

Then it was moved that CHARLES PURLING Eſquire might be called in, and being called in, he was examined as follows:

Q. (by a Lord.) Did not the Nabob of Oude write a Letter to you in 1780, in which he mentions that he had retrenched his Expences to a very conſiderable Amount?

A. I do not recollect any particular Letter.

Q. Do you know whether the Nabob, in point of Fact, retrenched his perſonal Expences to any, and what Amount, in the Year 1780?

A. At the Time the Nabob repreſented his Diſtreſſes, I heard at leaſt he had made many Retrenchments in his Expences, but I do not know to what Amount.

Q. From what you know of the Manners and Ideas of the Sovereign Princes in that Country, would they not, with great Reluctance, ſubmit to retrench their Expences?

A. I think that the Nabob of Oude would be reduced to much Diſtreſs before he would retrench his Expences.

Q. Do you ſuppoſe, that if the Nabob had had any other Means of paying the Debt to the Company, that he would have taxed the Jaghires of his Family?

A. I do not imagine he would; but he did not in my Time; though he gave the Tuncaws, no Collections were made upon the Jaghires of his Family.

Q. Whether the Tuncaws that you ſpeak of, were given upon all the Jaghires?

A. Upon all the Jaghires, including the Family of the Nabob.

Q. Whether thoſe Tuncaws, if they had been paid, muſt have been paid out of the Tuncaws aſſigned upon thoſe Jaghires?

A. There were Tuncaws aſſigned upon the Jaghires of the Begums, as well as the other Principalities of Oude, but no Collections were made upon the Jaghires of the Nabob's Family.

Q. You ſay no Part of the Payment was made out of thoſe Tuncaws aſſigned upon the Jaghires of the Nabob's Family.

A. No.

Q. None of the Tuncaws made upon thoſe Jaghires were in point of Fact paid?

A. No Collection had been made upon the Jaghires of the Nabob's Family.

Q. Why were no Collections made upon thoſe Tuncaws?

A. Becauſe the Begums would not pay them.

Q. Are there any Laws that you know of in Indoſtan reſpecting filial Obedience; do they make it a Part of the Law of the Country, in any Manner you know of?

A. I believe it is no more the Law of the Country than it is in this Nation; it is the Uſage.

Q. But according to the Uſage of the Country, is it Part of the Morality of the Country?

A. Moſt undoubtedly.

Q. Is it practiſed religiouſly?

A. As much as in any other Country.

Q. At what Time did you reſide there?

A. One Year, from November 1779 to November 1780.

Q. During

Q. During that Time, was there any Thing you obſerved in the Conduct of the Begums indicative of Diſaffection to the Engliſh Government?
A. Never.

Q. Did not the Begums always expreſs to you, that their greateſt Reliance was upon the Engliſh Government, againſt the Nabob and his Miniſters?
A. I do not know that they ever told me ſo, or ſaid any Words to that Effect; but they would certainly apply, if they thought themſelves oppreſſed by the Nabob, either to the Reſident, or to the Engliſh Government for their Interference.

Q. From the general Conduct of the Begums, are you not of Opinion they did place this Confidence in the Britiſh Government?
A. They did make Applications at different Times.

Q. Suppoſing they would be redreſſed in conſequence of thoſe Applications?
A. Yes.

Q. You have ſaid there are Books of Records in India which you call Letter Books; whether you did not enter the Treaties delivered to you by the Nabob's Miniſter in them?—The Firſt Treaty is that ſigned by Mr. Briſtow to the Elder Begum.—The Second, that ſigned by Mr. Middleton to the Bow Begum. According to the Courſe of keeping the Letter Books you alluded to, and which you called a Record, ought not thoſe Treaties to have made a Part of thoſe Books?
A. If thoſe Treaties had been completed, they would undoubtedly have been ſent to the Engliſh Government at Calcutta, of Courſe they would have been entered upon the Letter Book.

Q. The Queſtion is, Whether the Treaties in the State in which they were, ought, according to the Courſe of keeping that Letter Book as a Record, to have made a Part of it?
A. If thoſe Agreements between the Begums and the Nabob had been completed, they would have been ſent to the Britiſh Government, and of Courſe they would have been entered upon the Letter Book.

Q. But as they were?
A. I have underſtood from Mr. Middleton's Evidence they were not completed; but I took them as complete Engagements.

Q. According to your Acceptation of them, they ought to have made a Part of the Letter Book; but ſuppoſing them to be what Mr. Middleton's Evidence repreſents, they would not have been upon the Letter Book?
A. They would not have been upon the Letter Book: That is the Diſtinction.

Q. You were ordered to reſign all your Papers to Mr. Middleton; are all of them upon Record, or are any of them, to your Knowledge, ſuppreſſed?
A. You ſpeak of my Time?

Q. Yes?
A. I do not know that any One Paper, during my Time, is ſuppreſſed: I believe that the Whole of my Correſpondence is now at Lucknow: At leaſt I do not know any Thing to the contrary.

Q. Whether you ever ſaw, upon Record, the Treaty concluded by Mr. Middleton in February 1779.
A. I do not know what Treaty is alluded to. I have not ſeen any Treaty upon Record.

Q. I mean the Treaty with the Bow Begum, under the Signature of Mr. Middleton?
A. I never have ſeen it.

Q. Recollect, whether you know any Thing of the Treaty alluded to, of October 1778, between Mr. Middleton and the Bow Begum?
A. I do not recollect any Thing of the Kind; if the Purport was told me, I might recollect Something of it.

Then a Paper was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and the following Queſtion put to him:

Q. Have you looked at that Inſtrument?
A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember any Thing of the Tranſaction?
A. I do not recollect any Thing of that Treaty.

Q. What was the Cuſtom of your Office, while you was Reſident, upon the Receipt of any Perſian Correſpondence in any Matter of Conſequence?
A. It is a Cuſtom throughout the Country, and throughout the Service, that any Letters or Perſian Correſpondence which is received, that it ſhall be neceſſary to tranſmit to Government, is put under Cover in a Letter from yourſelf, and you put the Contents of it, after the Letter is tranſlated, in your own Letter Book.

Q. You have ſaid, after incloſing it, it is the Practice to put the Contents generally in your own Letter Book; whether the invariable Cuſtom was to place a Tranſlation, or the Perſian Original, in it?

A. An Engliſh Tranſlation.

Q. Whether in any Inſtance you ever cauſed an original Paper to be copied and left in Perſian in the Office?

A. Not a Perſian Paper ever in the Letter Book; the Moonſhy, who is a native Tranſlator, kept Copies of the Perſian Papers.

Q. The Moonſhy is one of the Servants of the Office?
A. Yes, one of the Servants of the Office.

Q. It was his Buſineſs to keep a Copy of the Perſian?
A. Yes, of the Perſian.

Q. And the Engliſh Reſident's Buſineſs was to keep the Engliſh Tranſlation?
A. Yes.

Q. (Croſs examined.) Whether you yourſelf ever kept any private Copies, or Letter Book for your own private Uſe?

A. Copies of publick Letters.

Q. Did you keep Copies of the Correſpondence while you was Reſident?
A. I kept certainly Copies of publick Letters ſent.

Q. But of Letters received?
A. Never.—I did not.

Q. What is it that you ſay you never kept a Copy of?
A. Of publick Letters received I never kept a Copy.—I kept the original Letters in my own Poſſeſſion.

Q. Did you keep a Letter Book for your own private Uſe, of any Part of the Correſpondence in the Office?

A. Never; I never kept a private Letter Book of publick Papers.

Q. The Queſtion was whether you kept any Copies of publick Letters for your own private Uſe; do you ſay you never did keep any Letter Book for your own private Uſe, which contained any Tranſlation of publick Correſpondence?

A. Never; I have not.

Q. Whether the Copies of the Letters received, and the Incloſures ſo received, were kept in different Books?

A. I have ſaid I kept no Copies of Letters received; I kept the Letters themſelves, the original Letters I received either from the Board, or any Individual with whom I had publick Tranſactions, and of Courſe the Incloſures were depoſited with the Letters.

Q. I underſtood you that the Practice of your Office was to keep the Original of all Letters received, the Letters themſelves and the Incloſures; and that of thoſe Letters you kept no Copy either in the Office or in private?

A. No.

Q. Then if it was neceſſary to tranſmit the Subſtance or Contents of publick Letters to Calcutta, whether the Originals were ſent, or Copies of them?

A. I beg leave to correct myſelf with reſpect to the Perſian Correſpondence; if I had Occaſion to mention any Tranſaction to the Board of Perſian Correſpondence, or Letters received from Individuals, of Courſe I entered them in my Letter Book.

Q. As Part of what you wrote?
A. As Incloſures.

Q. When you received Letters in the Courſe of your official Duty as Reſident, and had Occaſion to tranſmit them to Calcutta; did you tranſmit the Originals, or only Copies?

A. The Originals were depoſited in the Office, and Copies ſent to the Board with ſome Atteſtations.

Q. I would wiſh to know of the Witneſs whether you yourſelf ever was at Fyzabad, after you was appointed Reſident?

A. I was at Fyzabad once in my Way to Lucknow, to take Charge of my Office.

Q. Had you any Conference at that Time, or any ſubſequent Time, with the Begums themſelves?

A. My Viſit was merely complimentary, I had none but a complimentary Conference.

Q. Was

Q. Was any other Application made to you, while you were Reſident, upon any other Occaſion than that you have mentioned reſpecting the Jaghires?
A. I do not recollect any other Application.

Q. Then are we to underſtand that was the only official Tranſaction, which gave you an Opportunity of diſcovering the Sentiments entertained by the Begums, while you was Reſident, towards the Engliſh?
A. I do not know how to anſwer that Queſtion diſtinctly, but I underſtood from their having applied to Mr. Middleton, and having got Treaties and other Circumſtances, that they had courted the Protection of the Engliſh.

Q. Thoſe were Tranſactions antecedent, and not during your Time?
A. Yes.

Q. Whether it was not the Practice of the Office, when any Treaty was made with the Country Powers, in the firſt Place, that an Office Copy ſhould be kept, then, that it ſhould be numbered, and left in the Office, and the Original tranſmitted to Calcutta?
A. If the Treaty was of that Conſequence, as to require a Ratification of Government, of courſe I ſhould ſend the Original to Calcutta; if to be ratified by the Reſident, he certainly would keep the Original in his own Office, and ſend off a Copy of it to the Government of Calcutta.

Q. Do you remember the Inſtruments delivered to you by the Nabob?
A. I have already ſaid, when they were delivered to me, I took them for good Engagements; I grounded my own Conduct upon them; that is, I ſent a Copy of them to the Governor General and Council at Calcutta.

Q. Do you know the Number of the Nabob's Cavalry, during the Time you was there?
A. No, indeed I do not.

Q. Do you know nearly?
A. No, I cannot poſſibly tell.

Q. Do you recollect any Drought happening in the Country, while you reſided there?
A. There were conſtant Complaints of it the whole Year I was at Lucknow; I do not believe we had Three Days Rain.

Q. Was that a remarkable Seaſon?
A. A very remarkable Seaſon.

Q. So that there was a great natural Drought that Year?
A. Yes, very much ſo.

Q. Did the Governor General and Council at Calcutta, ever blame you for having acted upon thoſe as exiſting Treaties?
A. I have already ſaid, they did not.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would now proceed to ſome written Evidence relative to the Seizing of the Treaſures of the Begums, and the conſequent Cruelties.

Read, from Book 82, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 12th of June 1783, beginning at Page 252 of the ſame Book.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, &c.

" Sir,

" I had the Honour to addreſs you under Date the 6th inſtant, informing you of the State in which I had left the Buſineſs at Fayzabad, and the Hopes I entertained of a ſpeedy Completion of it; permit me now to acquaint you, that, of the remaining Balance engaged to be made good by the Two Eunuchs Bahr and Jowar Ally Cawn, I have this Day had Advice of the Receipt of between Five and Six Lacks, which is now on the Way to Lucknow; and the Reſidue I have every Reaſon to believe will be realized before this Letter reaches your Hands: So that I have now to repeat my Requeſt, that I may as ſoon as poſſible be honoured with your final Commands reſpecting the Conduct it is your Wiſh ſhould be purſued with the Begum and her Eunuchs.

" The Services of Major Naylor's Regiment being required to the Eaſtward of the River Gogra, as well to ſupport the Authority of the Nabob's Government in that Quarter, as to be ready to join in the Plan of Operations which may be determined on, in Obedience to your Commands, againſt Futty Saw, I have ſent One Battalion of Major Gilpin's Regiment to relieve Major Naylor at Fayzabad; which I hope you will approve.

"I have the Pleaſure to inform you, that the 8th Regiment, which I left to eſcort the Treaſure from Fayzabad, arrived this Day, and ſafely delivered its Charge. Upon its Arrival, I immediately diſpatched to Colonel Muir the Sum requiſite for the Payment of the Arrears due to his Detachment; I am now forwarding to Colonels Morgan and Sir John Cummins, the Amount for which they have called upon me, after which I ſhall loſe not a Moment in remitting the Reſidue to the Preſidency.

"In Juſtice to the latter, it is incumbent upon me to inform you, that during the Progreſs of the Buſineſs at Fyzabad, I received from them the moſt willing and zealous Support; and that to their Exertions I conſider myſelf greatly indebted for the complete Succeſs which attended that Buſineſs, as well as for the Fruits of it being ſolely applied to the Liquidation of the Nabob's Debts to the Honourable Company.

"Under theſe Circumſtances, it would afford me great Satisfaction, and, I conceive, tend to promote the publick Service, were they honoured with ſome Teſtimony of your Approbation and Favour, which would be particularly acceptable to them at this Period, as their Conduct in the Tranſactions at Fyzabad, and in the Reſumption of the Jagheers, has excited the inveterate Reſentment of the Begum, and many Perſons of the firſt Conſequence about the Court, whoſe Intereſts have been affected by the latter Meaſure, and created a far more powerful Combination againſt them, than they have ever before had to oppoſe. In ſhort, Sir, they are conſidered, not only by this Party, but by the Nabob himſelf, as the actual Dependants of the Engliſh Government; which they certainly are, and it is by its declared and moſt obvious Support alone, that they can maintain the Authority and Influence, which is indiſpenſably neceſſary to enable them to diſcharge the Truſt repoſed in them, either with Credit to themſelves or Advantage to the Publick.

"To the Vizier. Written 15th February 1782.

6. "I have received a Letter from Mr. Middleton, repreſenting to me the Oppoſition which is threatened by the Begum to your Authority, in the Reſumption of her Jagheer, and the Probability of the other Jagheerdars taking the Alarm, and, ſeparately or collectively, attempting Reſiſtance.—Beſides theſe Apprehenſions, a dangerous Spirit of Diſcontent and Rebellion, firſt excited by the Machinations of Cheyt Sing, exiſts, as Mr. Middleton informs me, amongſt your Subjects. Under theſe Appearances of the Want of Obedience and due Reſpect to your Government, I cannot but feel great Anxiety for the Safety and Tranquillity of your Country, as well as for the Maintenance of your Authority and Dignity.—Should any Acts of Violence and Reſiſtance follow theſe Appearances, it is to be feared that a foreign Enemy might be tempted by them to invade your Dominions: To obviate the Calamities of ſuch a Situation, it appears to me indiſpenſable, that the Malcontents ſhould be prevented from becoming formidable, by an immediate Application of ſuch a Force as may quell, at once, any Attempts that can be made by the diſaffected, however numerous or united.—For this Purpoſe, I have directed Colonel Morgan to ſend a ſtrong Detachment of Infantry and Artillery to Lucknow, with Orders to act as your Excellency ſhall direct, for the internal Security of your Country, and Support of your Authority.

"This Detachment you will underſtand to be no Part of the Brigade on conſtant Subſidy for the Defence of your Frontiers; it is formed from the Troops lately in your Pay, ſtationed at Futty Ghurr, and in Rohilcund, which I withdrew, to relieve your Excellency from a Burthen which you complained was too heavy for your Finances to bear; theſe Troops are at preſent an unneceſſary Expence to the Company, and would be diſbanded, but for the Dangers which at preſent threaten your Country. On theſe Conſiderations, your Excellency will allow it to be juſt and reaſonable that the Charges of the Detachment ſhould be entirely defrayed by you, and that the Company ſhould be fully indemnified for all the Contingencies of keeping up a Force, on the Probability of its being wanted for your Service; on this I ſhall form an Eſtimate, with the ſtricteſt Attention to Juſtice, for a Subſidy to be paid Monthly during the Services of the Detachment, and tranſmit it, for your Approbation, to Mr. Middleton.

" I have directed Colonel Morgan to hold the Brigades, ſtipulated by Treaty for the Defence of your Frontiers, in Readineſs to march at a Moment's Warning, and oppoſe any Attempts which may be made by a foreign Enemy.

" When I reflect on the uncommon and generous Inſtance of your Zeal for the Company, and Attachment to myſelf, manifeſted by the voluntary perſonal Aſſiſtance and Support which you afforded me at a Time of the greateſt Danger to their Intereſts, and my own Safety; I cannot, without feeling the ſtrongeſt Self Reproach of Ingratitude, diſpenſe with giving to you, in a ſimilar Situation, equal Marks of my Zeal and Attachment to your Perſon and Intereſts; and I ſhould, on this Principle alone, fly to ſhare your Danger, although it were not in my Power to remove it, eſpecially as that Danger has been incurred by my Approbation of your Deſign to reſume the Jaghires; but I have the ſtrongeſt Hopes that I ſhould be the Cauſe of facilitating a happy Termination of all the Difficulties which now oppoſe the Execution of your Meaſures, and of eſtabliſhing your Authority and the Proſperity of your Country on the moſt ſolid Baſis, by a perſonal Interview.—It was your particular Requeſt at Chunar that we might meet Once a Year; and I, with the greateſt Satisfaction, accepted your Invitation.—The preſent Conjuncture appears to make it neceſſary to commence the Performance of this Promiſe; and although my Preſence is required in Calcutta on the moſt urgent Buſineſs, I have determined to ſet out immediately by Dawk for Lucknow.

I flatter myſelf that this Interview will be productive of the moſt ſolid Benefits to the Affairs of both your Excellency and the Company; and as your Excellency is well informed of their Situation on this important Criſis, you will not ſuffer me to return to the Seat of my Government without finally obtaining the great Object of my Journey."

" Honourable Sirs,

" 1ſt. In our laſt Letters from this Department, by the Swallow Packet, dated 29th December 1781, we informed you of the Detention of that Veſſel for the Purpoſe of carrying home a complete Narrative of the Governor General's Proceedings while at Benares and Chunar, which we daily expected to receive from him; however, as the Length of this Paper, and the great Number of References annexed to it, made it impoſſible to ſend them down ſooner than he did; and we found it would require a long while to copy them after their Arrival—we determined to diſpatch the Swallow without them, judging that you would be impatient to hear from us on the Reſtoration of Peace in the Diſtricts of Benares, and to receive the lateſt Accounts from Madras of the Situation of Affairs in the Carnatic.

" 2d. We determined at the ſame Time to diſpatch the Nancy, Captain Hiffernan, with theſe Reports, as ſoon as they could be prepared; and we have now the Pleaſure to tranſmit them to you, a ſeparate Number in this Packet.

" 3d. The above Papers contain ſuch a full Account of all the Tranſactions of the Governor General upon this Service, together with his Motives and Reaſonings upon them, that we think it would be ſuperfluous to add any Thing of our own in this Place, but to recommend them to your attentive Peruſal, with our Minutes which are annexed. Conſ. 14 Jan. and 5 Feb.

" 4th. By theſe it will appear, that the Treachery and Intrigues of Cheyt Sing, ſupported by the Diſaffection and reſtleſs Diſpoſition of the Bhowe Begum, Mother of the Nabob of Owde, at Fyzabad, produced Inſurrections in that Country, which till lately we were unapprized of, on account of the Communication between that Place and Benares being wholly cut off.

" 5. At the ſame Time that the Firſt Information of theſe Diſturbances reached us, we were happy to hear that they had been quelled by the Accounts received there of the ſucceſsful Efforts of our Troops in Benares, and the March of Two Regiments from Cawnpore to the Relief of Colonel Hannay, whoſe Sepoys gave evident Proofs, by their Deſertion, that they had been tampered with, and he, with moſt of his Officers, were in great Danger of their Lives; a Detachment under Lieutenant Gordon having been actually attacked and cut off, and the reſt of the Corps being ſurrounded by the Rabble, levied under Sanction of the Begum, avowedly for the Service of Raja Cheyt Sing.

" 6. The Circumſtance of the Levies is further corroborated by various Reports from Fyzabad, and by the Liſt of Cheyt Sing's Forces, delivered to the Governor General at Chunar, in which the Troops ſaid to be come from Lucknow, which formed a Part of his Strength, muſt evidently be the ſame (ſince they agree in Number) with thoſe which Colonel Hannay declares to have been raiſed and ſent to him from Fyzabad.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXXVIII. Page 105.

" 7. The

" 7. The juſt Grounds of Suſpicion which had been given to the Nabob by the Begums and other principal Jaghyrdars in his Country, by the Symptoms of Diſaffection, and even Treachery, diſplayed in their Conduct, made it an Object of ſerious Conſideration with him to take the Firſt Opportunity which ſhould offer, conſiſtent with Juſtice, to diſpoſeſs them of the Means of becoming injurious to his Authority; and the Neceſſities of his Government requiring extraordinary Aid, he reſolved to take this Occaſion of depriving them of thoſe extenſive Jaghires which enabled them to become troubleſome, by the Revenues which they yielded, and the Number of Dependants neceſſarily retained for their Collection and Defence, and to reſume the Lands, allowing Penſions to the Jaghyrdars in lieu of the Revenues.

" 8. As the Reſident at Lucknow had been made Guarantee to an Agreement formerly executed between the Nabob and the Begum, in which he had engaged, for a ſpecific Sum of Money, to deſiſt from all further Claims upon her, it was neceſſary for him to acquire the Sanction of this Government to his Intention, before he could carry them into Execution, which the Infidelity of the Begum gave but too much Reaſon to grant.—You will find this Meaſure provided for in the new Treaty, concluded with the Nabob by the Governor General at Chunar, on the 19th of September laſt.

Vide No. 1 and 2 of the 1ſt Part of the Appendix to the Governor General's Narrative.

" 9. On the Firſt Attempt made by the Nabob to carry this Plan into Execution againſt the Begum, ſhe determined to reſiſt his Authority, and raiſed a Revolt by the Means of her Eunuchs, Jewar Ally Cawn, and Bahar Ally Cawn, who had collected a Force of about 5,000 Men, in order to ſet the Nabob at Defiance.—Notice of this Second Inſurrection having been tranſmitted by the Reſident, without Loſs of Time, to the Governor General at Benares, he immediately ordered a large Detachment to march from Cawnpore, and the Nabob reſolved to go in Perſon to Fyzabad; on his Arrival there, by the Aſſiſtance of our Troops, he took Poſſeſſion of the Kella; and the Eunuchs, ſeeing it would be in vain to make a Stand when ſuperior Forces were expected, ſurrendered themſelves Priſoners to the Nabob, and their Followers diſperſed.

" 10. In order to puniſh the Begum for this daring Ill Conduct, and to put it out of her Power to apply the Treaſures which ſhe had amaſſed to the Purpoſe of raiſing further Commotions in his Country, the Nabob reſolved to ſeize her Wealth, which by the Mahomedan Laws he was entitled to, as an Inheritance from his Father, who in the latter Years of his Life had committed his Treaſury wholly to her Charge, and it had remained with her after his Death.—This Wealth, whatever it might be, he determined to apply to the Payment of his Debt to the Company; and we have received Information from the Reſident who attended him to Fyzabab, that he had actually paid him the Sum of 55 Lacks of Rupees in ready Money, and by Draft on Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn, which would ſoon be realized." " The Governor General delivers in the following Minute, in conſequence of that of the Board, entered on the Proceedings of the $\frac{14}{24}$th * ultimo.

" The Governor General acknowledges his Obligations to the Board, for this repeated Inſtance of the liberal Manner in which they have been pleaſed to record their Judgment on his Conduct. Had it been expreſſed in the ſimple Terms of official Approbation, he ſhould have been pleaſed, and ſatisfied that it had received ſo reſpectable a Sanction; but by tracing the Sources of it, in the Motives which he has avowed; by their Examination of thoſe Motives with their relative Facts and Circumſtances; and by the Doubts which they have anticipated and ſolved, on the Propriety of ſuch Parts of his Conduct as might moſt obviouſly ſuggeſt them; they have juſtified their own Approval, and entitled him to expect the ſame favourable Sentiments in their common Superiors.

" Nor is he leſs pleaſed with the Reſerve with which the Board have declared their Satisfaction in the Arrangement concluded by him with the Nabob Vizier; becauſe he thinks it will be received as an Evidence of the Deliberation and Sincerity of their former Approval. He is willing to ſubmit the Propriety of the Meaſure to the Teſt of its Succeſs. The Reſident has already informed the Board, that he had received of the Treaſures of the late Vizier, left in the Charge of his Widow, and lately reclaimed by his Son, the Amount of the Bond granted by the latter for the Balance of the Year 1178, which ends in September 1780 of our Æra; and was in the actual Receipt of as much as would diſcharge the Balance of the laſt Year, that is, of the Year 1179.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LIV. Page 226.

The firſt of theſe Balances is 32,68,613. 11, the laſt 12,09,876. 9. 8. The Sum of both is R^{s} 44,78,490. 4. 8. Owd Siccas. The Reſident ſeems have underſtood this to be the Whole of the Nabob's Debt. There is a further Balance of 26 Lacks, which appears to have been by ſome means overlooked, or withheld from Mr. Middleton on the Transfer of his Office from Mr. Purling. A rectified Account, drawn to the lateſt Period, has been tranſmitted to Mr. Middleton, by the Accomptant General, which it is hoped will arrive in Time to prevent his ſtopping at the Receipt of the ſuppoſed Balance; and at all Events, the Profits of the reſumed Jagheers ought to yield a Fund, more than ſufficient both for the complete Liquidation of what may remain of the Nabob's preſent Debt, and to make up the Deficiency of the Aſſignments granted on his Revenue for the current Year, within the Courſe of it.

"The Governor General expects this Service from the Reſident, and relies upon his Fidelity for the Performance of it. But in the Suppoſition of the Poſſibility of a Diſappointment, he again offers his perſonal Services to proceed to Lucknow, on the firſt Symptom of ſuch a Failure; and, with the Confidence which he feels in his own Influence, aided by the powerful Support of the Board, he will venture to promiſe, that he will not return with their Object unaccompliſhed. " Fort William, the 14th January 1782.

" At a Council; Preſent, Secret Dept.

Edward Wheler,
John Macpherſon, } Eſquires.

The Governor General abſent on a Viſit to the Northern Provinces.
Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, K. B. abſent on Service at Fort Saint George.

" The Board having already paſſed their Opinion, in Terms of the fulleſt Approbation, upon the Governor General's Conduct and Management in the Suppreſſion of the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, and the Regulation of the Province and City of Banaris; they think it unneceſſary to repeat their Opinion of thoſe Meaſures. Extract Secret Conſultations, 14th Jan. 1782.

" They cannot, at the ſame Time, but remark, that the Explanations which the Governor General has given in ſome Parts of his Proceedings, during his Firſt Diſcuſſions with Cheit Sing, and ſubſequent to the Convulſion, are rather an open Avowal of the Motives that actuated his Mind, than the guarded Repreſentations of a publick Officer, ſtating to his Employers the Meaſures which an extraordinary Situation influenced, dictated, and juſtified.

" To a liberal and candid Tribunal, ſuch was the natural, and certainly the wiſeſt Appeal. The Generoſity and Juſtice of a Britiſh Tribunal looks more to the real Motives and Zeal of their Agent, than to the preconcerted Artifice of his Conduct, or the legal Diſcriminations of his Defence. Even where a publick Meaſure is unſucceſsful, the Reſponſibility riſqued by the Agent, (if riſqued upon publick Principles), is frequently his Juſtification, and in many Caſes entitles him to Applauſe.

" In theſe diſtant Dominions the ruling Servants of the State, attend more to thoſe Rules and Forms which protect from Reſponſibility, than to an ardent Purſuit of the publick Intereſt; under every private Riſque, the Hands of Adminiſtration may ſecure themſelves againſt Condemnation, even though the Country ſhould be loſt through their Miſmanagement.

" It was not by avoiding perſonal Reſponſibility that the Servants of the Publick eſtabliſhed the Britiſh Influence in Aſia; nor is it by ſuch cold Precautions that our Power is to be maintained, eſpecially at an Hour of general Hoſtility againſt us. The Board are led into theſe Obſervations, from an ingenuous Conſideration of the Difficulties in which the Governor General found himſelf involved at Benaris, and a Conviction of the Motives under which he acted. The firſt were ſurmounted with Ability and Fortitude; the latter they moſt ſincerely believe do him real Honour.

" Eaſy would be the Taſk to approve the Suppreſſion of the Rebellion, and to ſtand diſconnected with any Reſponſibility, by juſtifying thoſe Acts which certainly precipitated the Storm from the Cloud in which he had gathered; Acts which Judges at a Diſtance, Judges unoppreſſed with the actual Embarraſſments of this Government, may, with great Speciouſneſs of Argument, condemn. But the Board wiſh not, they cannot permit themſelves to proceed ſo diſingenuouſly or guardedly. They are at the ſame Time aware, that in a rigid Inveſtigation of the Whole of this Buſineſs, the following Queſtions will be aſked.

" 1ſt. Where were the Governor General's particular Inſtructions for ſuch extraordinary Demands upon Cheit Sing?

(b) Vide Appendix, N^{o} LXXXI.

" 2dly.

" 2dly. Why was that Chief put in Arreſt, when he offered to make every Conceſſion?

" 3dly. Whether there was not a Compact between him and the Company, which ſpecified, that he was only to pay them a certain annual Tribute?

" Subſequent to the Maſſacre of our Troops, and the Events that followed, no Queſtions will be aſked.

" In anſwer to the Firſt Queſtion, the Board think the Governor General was fully authorized by the general Tenor of his Inſtructions. The Governor General, having a deciding Vote, could have written out and approved more particular Inſtructions. There was a Delicacy in the Mode he preferred; and it impoſed a greater Reſponſibility.

" In regard to the Second Queſtion, it is evident, from Cheit Sing's Anſwers and Preparations, and the whole Tenor of his Conduct, before and at the Time, that nothing but Arreſt could have convinced him of the Governor General's Determination.

" That the Arreſt was not intended to proceed farther than the Payment of a proper Fine to the Company, who ſtood in the Place of his Sovereign and Benefactors, is evinced by the Governor General's Anſwer to Cheit Sing after his Confinement.

" Had a total Revolution in the Adminiſtration of the Zemeedary been intended, the Arreſt muſt have been affected with more Force, and greater Marks of Severity.

" That the Officers who went to execute this Service were convinced, that no Meaſure of determined Severity was intended againſt Cheit Sing, appears from that unfortunate Want of Precaution which coſt them and their Followers their Lives.

" The Third Queſtion involves much Argument, yet is fully anſwered by that Part of the Governor General's Narrative, which diſcuſſes the Sunnud under which Cheit Sing ruled the Provinces, and which was ſo liberally granted by the Company.

" The Correſpondence with the India States, ſhews clearly their Ideas of the Rights of Zemeedars and Rajahs protected in their Zemeedaries by a ſuperior Power. Had Cheit Sing been an Ally Sovereign Prince, who paid only a fixed Subſidy, his Military Preparations, and his inſidious Conduct, under Pretences of Poverty, in diſappointing the Expectations of the Government from the Army under Major Camac, juſtified, together with his Correſpondence with our Enemies, the ſevereſt Exaction of Aid to aſſiſt the Company in their Diſtreſſes, and atone for his Ingratitude and Treachery to a Power who protected him, and to whom he owed his Situation.

" On the Subject of the Treaty concluded on the 18th of September laſt, between the Governor General and the Nabob Vizeer, and which the Difficulties of the Communication prevented the Governor General from explaining ſo fully before, the Board have to obſerve, that the Treaty is evidently a political Expedient, which forfeits no Advantage, which promiſes the Acquiſition of many, and which, properly managed by this Government (as Events favourable, or even unfavourable, ariſe), may lead to the final and complete Arrangement of an Alliance with the Vizeer. Such an Alliance, being leſs oppreſſive to him, may be more advantageous and honourable to the Company, and may remove that too general but dangerous Impreſſion, which the different States of this Country have received from the double Character in which we have hitherto appeared in India—that of Allies and Conquerors.

If the Nabob Vizeer ſhould not be able, under the Support of the Troops of this Government ſtationed at Cawnpoor, to maintain the Tranquillity of his Dominions, and collect thoſe Reſources which are neceſſary to defray even his reduced Expences, and diſcharge his heavy Debt to the Company, a new Arrangement muſt follow; and that Arrangement neceſſarily, at the expreſs Requeſt of the Vizeer, will ſecure every Advantage that can be wiſhed or expected from his Provinces by this Government.

The Reduction of that heavy Burthen of Expence, which was once oppreſſive to the Vizeer, and of no Return to the Company (though a Source of Patronage to this Adminiſtration), the Board approve of moſt heartily; and, with a full Senſe of the Credit which a Meaſure of ſuch Difficulty and Unpleaſantneſs reflects upon the Governor General, they take this Occaſion of pledging to him and to their Employers their utmoſt Support, not only in this, but in every other Branch of publick œconomical Reformation, which he may propoſe.

" Upon the Return of the Governor General, the Board reſolve to diſcuſs with him thoſe Parts of the Treaty, which carry the Appearance of a haſty Agreement. The Diſaffection of many of the Vizeer's principal Jagheerdars, and the Steps which, from the Repreſentations of Colonel Hannay and other Officers, appear to have been rapidly taken by the Begums, to ſupport the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, were probably very early known to the Governor General, and through the Medium of all the Suſpicions that his Situation, at the Time he met the Vizeer, had naturally created.

" At ſuch a Moment, and under ſuch Suſpicions, and even while the Iſſue of the Conteſt of Cheit Sing was depending, it is not ſurprizing that ſome Parts of the Agreement between the Governor General and the Vizeer were ſpeedily adjuſted, and, as the Governor acknowledges, in Converſation at the Firſt Interview.

" A ſhort Time will ſatisfy the Board, whether the Vizeer is willing or able to fulfil his Part of the Treaty: If he is that, and the Company can recover their Debt from him in the preſent Emergency and Diſtreſs of their Affairs, the Board cannot then but agree, that the Governor General has acted in the Arrangement not only with Zeal, and the beſt publick Intentions, but with a maſterly maſterly Deciſion, that muſt entitle him to the grateful and complete Approbation of his Employers.

"It remains with the Board to concert with the Governor General, upon his Return, thoſe Meaſures that may ſecure this Government from any future Inconveniencies or Diſtreſs that can be ſuppoſed connected with the Confidence repoſed in the Vizeer, for the Adminiſtration of the Affairs of his Revenue and Military Eſtabliſhment." In my Fears for a Diſappointment in this Expectation, and in the contrary Belief, that in its actual Train the Debt is more likely to exceed the Amount at which it ſtood the laſt Year, than to be paid, I hereby apprize you, that if at the End of the Fuſſellee Year any Part of it ſhall remain in Arrears, I ſhall move the Board to call upon you publickly to account for it; and, that you may know that this Declaration is not made on light Grounds, I ſhall enter a Copy of this Letter upon the Company's Records. "When I prevailed upon the Nawab Vizier to commit the entire Charge of the Revenues and the Adminiſtration of his Finances to his Miniſters, of whom you are the acting and reſponſible Perſon, with the Concurrence of the Reſident, Mr. Middleton, I had ſo firm a Reliance on your Integrity, Diligence, and Abilities, which are univerſally known, and no leſs on the ſame Qualities of Mr. Middleton, that I departed with a Mind perfectly at Eaſe, expecting that Order would be reſtored to the Nawab's Affairs, capable and truſt-worthy Aumils appointed to the Superintendance of the Diſtricts, the Forces duly ſtationed for the Security of Peace, and the Confirmation of the Authority of the Sircar, and that the paſt and growing Debt of the Company would be completely diſcharged in the Courſe of the Year, and that I ſhould receive the Thanks of the Nawab your Maſter for the Effects of my Solicitude for the Support of his Dignity and Eaſe. The Event has proved the Reverſe of theſe Hopes, an Accumulation of Diſtreſs, Debaſement, and Diſſatisfaction to the Nawab, and of Diſappointment and Diſgrace to me. Every Meaſure which he had himſelf propoſed, and to which he had ſolicited my Aſſiſtance, has been ſo conducted as to give him Cauſe of Diſpleaſure; there are no Offices eſtabliſhed by which his Affairs could be regularly conducted; mean, incapable, and indigent Men have been appointed Aumils of the Diſtricts, without Authority, and without the Means of Perſonal Protection; ſome of them have been murdered by the Zemindars, and thoſe Zemindars, inſtead of Puniſhment, have have* been permitted to retain their Zemindaries with independent Authority; all the other Zemindars ſuffered to riſe in Rebellion, and to inſult the Authority of the Sircar, without any Attempt made to ſuppreſs them; and the Company's Debt, inſtead of being diſcharged by the Aſſignments and extraordinary Sources of Money reſerved for that Purpoſe, is likely to exceed even the Amount at which it ſtood at the Time in which the Arrangements with his Excellency were concluded. The Growth of theſe Evils was early made known to me, and their Effects foreboded in the ſame Order and Manner as they have come to paſs" (c).

The ſame were read by the Clerk, and are as follow:

"The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That as the Witneſs ſpoke from imperfect Recollection, and which Recollection ſeemed not to tally with his former Evidence, where he likewiſe ſpoke from Recollection of thoſe Letters in Queſtion, they could not but expreſs a Doubt of the Accuracy of ſuch Recollection, and a Wiſh therefore to ſee the Letter.

"Then the Witneſs requeſted, that his former Examination, before the Committee of the Houſe of Commons, might be read from the Minutes of the Committee, as far as related to the Subject at preſent under Conſideration, that it might appear whether there was any Difference between his Evidence there and that now given by him at the Bar; and that he might explain the ſame, if any ſhould be found." (a)

"Then the Managers for the Commons being aſked, Whether they had any Objection? made anſwer, That they had none." (b)

"Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, That the Minutes were come, if the Witneſs wiſhed to have them read.

"Then a Book, intituled, "Minutes of the Eaſt India Judicature Committee 1782-3, N° 3," was delivered in.

"Read, the following Extract, beginning at Page 19 of the ſaid Book." (c)

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, That they had troubled the Houſe with the above Extracts, to ſhew, that what they were about to do, was not without Precedent; and deſired the following Queſtion might be put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether you would wiſh to clear up any Contradiction there may happen to be, between the Evidence you gave before the Houſe of Commons, and the Evidence you have given at this Bar?

A. Yes, certainly.

Read, the following Extracts of the Evidence of Sir Elijah Impey, in the Houſe of Commons, taken before a Committee of the whole Houſe, on the Articles of Charge of High Crimes and Miſdemeanors preſented to the Houſe againſt Warren Haſtings Eſquire, from the Minutes of the ſaid Committee.

"Veneris, 2° Die Februarii, 1788.

"What was the Nature of the Communication you verbally made to Mr. Middleton at Lucknow?

"Mr. Haſtings gave me very ſhort Notes in Writing, relative to the Subjects he wiſhed me to mention to Mr. Middleton.—I thought I had preſerved the Paper, but after having looked for it with great Diligence, I am not able to find it: I have two Papers of ſhort Notes in Mr. Middleton's Hand, which he delivered to me when I left Lucknow. Theſe I verily believe to be on the Subjects he wiſhed me to talk on with Mr. Middleton; upon looking at them, I ſee Mr. Middleton muſt have added ſomething of his own, but the moſt material I can ſupply by Memory.

"You will underſtand that the Queſtion relates to the Subject of the Begums, and before you ſpeak from theſe Memorandums, you will anſwer the Queſtion—What was the Communication you made to Mr. Middleton at Lucknow, reſpecting the Begums, as the Pleaſure of Mr. Haſtings?

"That I conſidered as the moſt material Part of what I communicated to Mr. Middleton; but in order to make that intelligible, it will be neceſſary for me to ſtate to the Committee, what had previouſly paſſed between me and Mr. Haſtings, I think at Chunar, either at Benares or Chunar, but I think at Chunar, as it will explain to the Committee the Whole Riſe and Cauſe of the Demands made upon the Begums. Mr. Haſtings ſtated to me the Embarraſſment of his Situation, he had failed of his Object at Benares, a Revolution had ſucceeded, he was defeated, from the Inſurrections in the Country, from proceeding to Lucknow; he ſtated (the Facts I do not take upon me to verify) that the Begums were in actual Rebellion againſt the Nabob Vizier; he told me that his whole Credit depended on the Execution of the Treaty of Chunar; that he feared, from the Calmneſs of the Temper of Mr. Middleton, that he would not ſufficiently urge the Execution of that Treaty. It had been propoſed that I ſhould have proceeded as far as Illahabad, as a central Place, for the Purpoſe of taking the Depoſitions alluded to. He afterwards requeſted me, for the Purpoſe of inducing Mr. Middleton to procure the Execution of that Treaty, to proceed to Lucknow—In that Converſation this paſſed; and I will not take upon me to ſay (for I mean to give the Committee the moſt candid Information in my Power) whether the Idea of the Confiſcation of the Effects of the Begums originated from him or from me—It certainly originated in that Converſation. This I perfectly remember to have ſaid to Mr. Haſtings,—When you communicated to me in Calcutta your Intentions with regard to Cheyt Sing, I declined giving you any Opinion at all, becauſe I could not take upon me a ſufficient Knowledge of the Laws of the Country to adviſe whether that Act was legal or not.—But with regard to the Begums, I told him (and if I was wrong, I truſt to the Candour of the Houſe, that they will impute it to an Error in Judgment) that if the Facts he ſtated were true, namely, that the Begums were in actual Rebellion, I conſidered it to be neceſſary to the Exiſtence of the Government of the Nabob Vizier, that he ſhould have the Power of taking from his Subjects in Rebellion, thoſe Treaſures which enabled them to ſupport their Rebellion.—I wiſh to be underſtood, though I believe the Facts to be true, that I by no Means aſſert them to be ſo, being not a Matter within my own Knowledge.—I am now going to anſwer the Queſtion—I underſtood Mr. Haſtings to adopt the Reaſoning, and this he deſired me to communicate to Mr. Middleton, which I did—relating to him the Whole which had paſſed between Mr. Haſtings and me on that Subject, and Mr. Haſtings's Inclination to carry Meaſures into Execution for the Confiſcation of their Effects.

for

" Did this Converſation with Mr. Haſtings happen immediately preceding your going to Lucknow?

" Almoſt immediately before I went to Lucknow."

The Counſel for the Defendant deſired to enter their Proteſt againſt this Proceeding being admitted as a Precedent; it being an indirect Mode of doing what the Houſe had already declared, upon the Examination of a former Witneſs, ſhould not be done; though they had no particular Objection to it in this Inſtance.

Read, alſo, the following Extract from the ſame Minutes.

" You having ſtated to the Committee that Mr. Haſtings had informed you, previous to your ſetting out to Lucknow, that the Begums were in a State of actual Rebellion, did you find that to be the Fact upon your Arrival at Lucknow?

" The Begums did not reſide at Lucknow. At Lucknow I could no more have a perſonal Knowledge of it than at Chunar; but I was adviſed at Chunar to avoid Fyzabad in my going to Lucknow, becauſe the Begums were in Rebellion; and I was adviſed by every Body at Lucknow to avoid Fyzabad at my Return to Chunar, for the ſame Reaſon: Of my own Knowledge, I know nothing of that Fact. From thence I collect it was the Senſe of every Body at Lucknow, that the Begums were then in Rebellion; and Colonel Hannay, eſpecially, mentioned to me ſeveral Facts concerning their Rebellion."

Read, alſo, the following Extract from the ſame Minutes.

" Then the Nabob never mentioned to you, that his Parents were in actual Rebellion againſt him?

" He certainly never did; but it is not to be inferred from thence that they were not, as we had no Converſation upon the State of the Country, of the Treaty of Benares, or of any of the preceding Tranſactions."

Read, alſo, the following Extract from the ſame Minutes.

" Whether you did not adviſe Mr. Haſtings to prevail on the Nabob to reſume the Jaghire and ſeize on the Treaſures of the Begums, on a Suppoſition that the Begums were in Rebellion?

" I adviſed Mr. Haſtings to that Meaſure, if the Fact was true that the Begums were in Rebellion—how that Fact was to be aſcertained I did not pretend to adviſe. Whether public Notoriety was ſufficient according to the Laws, I was not converſant—it might. The Fact being aſcertained, I thought the Right to confiſcate followed.

" Did you not think that in giving Advice, which muſt be attended with Conſequences ſo fatal to the Fortune and Character of Perſons of that Diſtinction, you ought to have adviſed alſo remarkable Care in the Aſcertainment of the Facts?

" I gave my Opinion on an abſtract Propoſition. There is no Man of common Senſe or Juſtice but muſt think that Facts muſt be ſufficiently aſcertained before they are acted upon.

Read, alſo, the following Extract from the ſame Minutes.

" Was you bound byny Duty whatſoever to intermeddle in that Affair?

" I was

" I was not by any other Duty but the Duty of a Man; and Mr. Haſtings was then in ſuch a Situation, that I ſhould not have acted with common Humanity, if I could have given him Aſſiſtance and had refuſed it.

" What was Mr. Haſtings's Condition at that Time?

" I have before ſtated to the Committee what Mr. Haſtings had himſelf ſaid of his Situation. The Company's Affairs were at that Time to all Appearance in a very ruinous Condition: To retrieve the Condition of the Company, was the profeſſed Object of Mr. Haſtings in going up the Country; his principal Objects were Reſources from Benares and Oude. At Benares he had been defeated of his Purpoſe: a horrid Maſſacre had taken Place there—a Revolution had taken Place at Benares—Hr. Haſtings was lately releaſed from a Confinement in the Garriſon at Chunar—the whole Country of Oude had been in Arms, and Part of it was ſtill ſo—he was likewiſe defeated in his Purpoſe of going up to Oude, having obtained nothing for the Company—he had incurred great Reſponſibility from the Events that had happened.—That was the State Mr. Haſtings was in, which I conceive to be that of real Diſtreſs."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. (from the Managers.) Whether the Anſwers which have been read to you, contain an accurate Account of the Converſations you had relative to the Begums with Mr. Haſtings, and to the Part which you took in the Tranſaction, or whether you wiſh to clear up any Differences between that Acccount and the Account you have given at this Bar?

A. I believe the Converſation is accurate, with this Diſtinction only, that at the Time I delivered that Evidence, I perceive I did not make the Diſtinctions of the Time when I underſtood the Begums to be in actual Rebellion; the Propoſition that I advanced to Mr. Haſtings was exactly the ſame, whether the Begums were then in actual Rebellion, or whether they had been before in actual Rebellion; I had looked over, before I gave my Evidence in the Houſe, ſome Letters that I had received from Mr. Haſtings, and which Letters I delivered in to the Houſe of Commons; upon looking over thoſe Letters I perceived, that the Begums were not at that Time in actual Rebellion, becauſe one of Mr. Haſtings's Letters referred to Troubles at Oude, which he ſaid he hoped would be totally pacified by the Nabob's going to Fyzabad; the Nabob had then been at Fyzabad. I do not, upon Recollection, know of any other Variance in my Evidence. I have not ſeen the printed Evidence, and therefore if any is pointed out to me, I will, if I can, reconcile it; if not, I will ſay it is not to be reconciled.

Q. Whether you do not perceive, that in this Evidence you Five ſeveral Times ſtate the Begums to have been then in actual Rebellion?

A. I certainly have obſerved in hearing the Evidence now, that it does go upon the Idea of the Begums then being in actual Rebellion, but I am as certain likewiſe that that muſt have proceeded from Miſtake.

Q. How comes it to paſs, that your Memory is freſher and better on the Subject now, than it was a Twelvemonth ago?

A. I do not think my Memory much freſher upon the Subject, than it was a Twelvemonth ago; but ſome Matters have occurred to me, that make me recollect it better: One was, a Letter I received from Mr. Haſtings; the other was, my Propoſition and Intention to have gone round to Lucknow by Fyzabad, and when I was at Lucknow, enquiring whether I could return by Fyzabad: If my Idea had been, that there was an actual Rebellion at Fyzabad, it would have been impoſſible for me to have gone there, either in my Way to Lucknow, or in my Way back.

Q. Whether you did not know of the Circumſtance, of your having offered to go round by Fyzabad, when you made this Anſwer in the Houſe of Commons?—" I was adviſed at Chunar, to avoid Fyzabad, in my going to Lucknow, becauſe the Begums were in Rebellion;"—and you ſtate it as one of the Reaſons why your Memory is better upon the Subject, now that you recollect having offered to go through Fyzabad?

A. Yes; and I certainly did not, then; becauſe I did not ſee the Conſequence of making the Diſtinction between the Begums being then actually in Rebellion, and the Troubles not having totally ceaſed.

Q. Whether it is your Rule, in making an Anſwer, to conſider the Conſequences firſt, before you reply to the Fact?

A. Undoubtedly it is; but the attending to the Conſequences never has that Operation upon my Mind, that will make me depart from the Truth.

Q. Whether you have not been in an Error, with reſpect to the Fact, in theſe Five ſeveral Anſwers upon the Fact?

A. I have certainly been in verbal Error, with reſpect to them.

Q. You have ſtated Two Reaſons why your Recollection is more accurate now; the one your Recollection of having offered to go round by Fyzabad; the other Reaſon is, your having adverted to a Letter which you had received from Mr. Haſtings; whether you had not adverted to that Letter, and, in Fact, given in, that Letter to the Houſe of Commons before you made this Anſwer?

A. I

A. I certainly had delivered it, but I had not adverted to it; I had delivered it in. At the Time I received the Notice to deliver in the Letters to the Houſe of Commons, I received the Notice about Ten o'Clock the Night before I was examined; my Papers were bound up in Fourteen Volumes, and I had that Night to examine all my Papers, to ſee how they related to the Matter before the Houſe of Commons. I did look over my Papers, and I preſented them the next Day to the Houſe of Commons.

Q. How did it come to paſs, that you did not advert to the Letter while you had it, and did advert to it after it was out of your Poſſeſſion?

A. Before I was examined here, I looked into the printed Evidence of the Houſe of Commons, where theſe Letters were. I thought it right to look into it, to refreſh my Memory, before I gave my Evidence here."

Q. Whether you know that the Affidavits contained in Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, are actually the ſame Affidavits you took at Lucknow?

A. Before I anſwer that Queſtion, I would beg leave to give another Reaſon why I could not underſtand, though it was ſo expreſſed, that the Begums were actually in Rebellion; becauſe I underſtand I refer to Accounts that I received from Major Hannay, as a Reaſon why I did not go round by Fyzabad; the Accounts from Major Hannay muſt have been of a Rebellion which had paſſed, and not of One then actually exiſting; that being Major Hannay's Account with regard to the Affidavits: I can by no means take upon me to ſay, that they are the ſame Affidavits: I believe they are the ſame.

Q. Where was Colonel Hannay at the Time you received thoſe Accounts from him?

A. Colonel Hannay was then at Lucknow; they were Accounts in Converſation.

Q. Was it not competent to you to recollect thoſe Accounts in Converſation when you was examined before the Houſe of Commons, as well as afterwards?

A. It certainly was; and I ought to have altered that verbal Miſtake, undoubtedly; and, if I had adverted to it, upon that very Ground I ſhould have deſired to have had it altered.

Q. Then, in Fact, you had no written Accounts from Colonel Hannay to refer to, to refreſh your Memory?

A. I certainly had the Affidavit of Colonel Hannay, which I might have referred to at the Time I was at Lucknow; but what I refer to is a Converſation, becauſe I did not read the Affidavit of Colonel Hannay.

Q. You did not then recur to the Affidavits?

A. I certainly did not recur to the Affidavits, but I have read every Affidavit ſince I was here laſt; and the Reaſon was, that ſo many Obſervations were made upon my not having read them the laſt Time I was here: and I beg to take notice of a Circumſtance which I ſhould not have given in Evidence if I had read them, and that is, that I believe the Witneſſes had been introduced to me either by Mr. Middleton, or Mr. Johnſon; I thought that had been the Fact till I heard Mr. Middleton contradict it in his Evidence: upon looking over the Affidavits, I find that all the Affidavits of the Natives taken before me were either Affidavits of People in the Army, or of Moonſhys, or of People attached to the Officers in the Army; for which Reaſon, I now believe thoſe Perſons were either introduced to me by Colonel Hannay, or ſome of his Officers.

Q. Then, from this Anſwer, I collect, it was the Senſe of every Body at Lucknow, that the Begums were then in Rebellion; whether you, in this Anſwer, allude to the Converſation with Colonel Hannay, at Lucknow?

A. The ſame Miſtake certainly runs through the Evidence, in the Word "then;" undoubtedly it does; it was certainly a Miſtake; but I will take upon me to ſay now upon my Oath, that what I then underſtood was not an actual Rebellion at the Time, but a Rebellion which had paſſed, and I could not poſſibly have underſtood it as an actual Rebellion at the Time, if I had adverted to the Facts I have mentioned.

Q. Whether the Firſt Circumſtance that led you to advert to this Miſtake was not the being aſked why, when the Begums were in actual Rebellion, you ſhould have offered to go through Fyzabad?

A. It certainly was not.

Q. Did you ever ſhew, in the Houſe of Commons, or any where elſe, or expreſs any Conſciouſneſs of having made a Miſtake, till that Queſtion was aſked?

A. I do not recollect when that Queſtion was aſked; but now, when I came to be examined here, my Recollection certainly was ſuch as I have delivered in Evidence before the Court.

Q. How did it come to paſs that, previous to your Examination here, you recurred to the Evidence before the Houſe of Commons, to refreſh your Memory, from which you could not receive Information, and not to the Affidavit of Colonel Hannay, from which you might receive Information?

A. What I ſaid was this, that being to be examined before this Court upon the ſame ſubject Matter as I was examined upon before the Houſe of Commons, I looked to ſee what I had ſaid before the Houſe of Commons; I had not in the Houſe of Commons given any Evidence of what was in any Affidavit.

Q. What Part of your Evidence before the Houſe of Commons reminded you of this Miſtake?
A. I do not remember there was any Part of the Evidence before the Houſe of Commons that did remind me of this Miſtake.

Q. Why have you ſtated, that it was in conſequence of your recurring to the Evidence before the Houſe of Commons, that you diſcovered your Error?
A. I have not ſo ſtated; I believe I have ſtated no ſuch Thing.

Q. That is a Matter of Fact; it is unneceſſary to refer to the Queſtion. The Witneſs is poſitive he has not ſaid it?
A. I think I have not; I ſhould be glad, if I have ſaid it, to hear it read.

Then the following Queſtions and Anſwers were read by the Clerk. (a)

"Q. Whether you had not adverted to that Letter, and given in that Letter to the Houſe of Commons, before you made this Anſwer?
"A. I certainly had delivered it, but I had not adverted to it, I had delivered it in. At the Time I received the Notice to deliver in the Letters to the Houſe of Commons, I received the Notice about Ten o'Clock the Night before I was examined; my Papers were bound up in Fourteen Volumes, and I had that Night to examine all my Papers, to ſee how they related to the Matter before the Houſe of Commons. I did look over my Papers, and I preſented them the next Day to the Houſe of Commons.

"Q. How did it come to paſs that you did not advert to the Letter while you had it, and did advert to it after it was out of your Poſſeſſion?
"A. Before I was examined here, I looked into the printed Evidence of the Houſe of Commons, where theſe Letters were. I thought it right to look into it, to refreſh my Memory before I gave my Evidence here."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Then you refreſhed your Memory with it before you gave your Evidence here?
A. I have not ſaid I refreſhed my Memory from that Letter with reſpect to the Circumſtance of the Rebellion, and I do not remember that I did. I do not remember that the Circumſtance had ſtruck me. There certainly is a Variance, but it certainly did not ſtrike me when I read that Letter.

Q. You have now ſtated, you do not know that thoſe Affidavits are the ſame?
A. I cannot take upon me to ſay thoſe Affidavits are the ſame: I delivered all of them as taken, to Mr. Haſtings, but I do not recollect whether they are the ſame.

Q. Do you recollect the Number of Affidavits you took at Lucknow?
A. I do not at all recollect the Number I took at Lucknow; all I took at Lucknow, I delivered to Mr. Haſtings, and, I think, upon looking over them in the Appendix to Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, there appears to be about Eight or Nine.

Q. Then your Anſwer is, That you know nothing of the Number but from now looking over them?
A. Since I was laſt examined: At that Time I had never looked at them.

Q. You looked at the Tops and the Bottoms?
A. I certainly did; and this Gentleman was the Occaſion of my looking at the Tops and the Bottoms.

Q. I think it is worth recurring to his former Evidence; he has given the Reaſon for not looking at the Affidavits, and ſince then he ſays he has?
A. I have given the Reaſons why I did that then. I did not intend to do it, but ſo many Obſervations were made then, that I was determined, if I was called again, to do it. I know of no Reaſon why I ſhould have avoided it, and I ſhould be glad if any Thing were pointed out to the Houſe that would be a Reflection upon my Reputation for not doing it; and why I ſhould ſay I had read them, if I had not read them, I cannot conceive.

Q. But, now that you have looked them over, and do know what they contain, Do you recollect whether thoſe Affidavits which were in Perſian, or Hindoo, or the Mooriſh Language, were explained to any One of the Deponents who ſwore them?
A. If confined to Lucknow, I am prety certain they were not—there certainly were others taken at other Places, that were. The Reaſons why they were not at Lucknow, were theſe: Firſt, that the Witneſſes all brought them themſelves ready drawn; the other was, that I had no Interpreter with me: many of the Affidavits were taken at Chunar, and other Places, where the Affidavits were not firſt drawn, and I had an Interpreter.

Q. What

Q. What Witneſſes brought thoſe Affidavits ready drawn?

A. I cannot poſſibly recollect what particular Witneſſes brought the Affidavits; but, according to the beſt of my Recollection, all the Affidavits ſworn at Lucknow, were brought by the Perſons who ſwore them; there are, I believe, ſome of the Officers here, with whom I have had no Converſation. I have ſeen a Mr. Gordon, and a Mr. Williams; and it is very poſſible they may give an Account, whether they or Colonel Hannay introduced them. I ſee them preſent in Court; I have not aſked the Queſtion, and I do not know how it will turn out.

Q. Had you any Means of knowing, whether the Deponents, in the Perſian or the Hindoo Language, underſtood any Thing of the Depoſitions which they gave?

A. I certainly had no more than this, that they themſelves delivered their Affidavits.

Q. Do you mean, that they brought you the Papers, and put into your Hands; and that that was the Whole of the Ceremony that paſſed?

A. The Affidavits were ſworn, therefore there certainly muſt be more Ceremony than ſimply delivering the Papers into my Hands.

Q. Is there the Signature of any Witneſs, that they were ſworn?

A. If I look into the Book, I can tell; but I certainly either ſaw the Perſons write or make their Marks.

Q. How were the Hindoos ſworn; and by whom?

A. The common Method of ſwearing a Hindoo is, that a Bramin brings a Braſs Baſon, with the Waters of the Ganges, into which the Hindoo dips his Hand, and takes the Oath: That being the Manner in which the Hindoos are ſworn, I verily believe, every Hindoo that was ſworn before me, was ſworn in that Manner. They were ſworn before me, and I do not know of their being ſworn by any Body elſe: I have ſworn a great Number of Hindoos in my Time, and I have always ſworn them in the ſame Manner. I think I may take upon me to ſay, there was no Variation in the Solemnity; I cannot ſpeak particularly to the Solemnity; but I certainly took their Affidavits in the ſame Manner as I took them upon other Occaſions.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that, according to your Recollection, you are ſure thoſe Hindoos, who were ſworn to thoſe Affidavits, were ſworn in the Manner you deſcribe?

A. I do, and upon this Ground; that I am very certain I would not have ſworn a Hindoo in any other Manner. I do not do it from a preciſe Memory that any Hindoo was ſworn; poſſibly no Hindoo was ſworn; poſſibly that is what is meant by the Queſtion—that no Hindoo was ſworn. I will not take upon myſelf to ſay that any Hindoo was ſworn; only, that if a Hindoo was ſworn, I ſhould have ſworn them ſo.

Q. Then, with reſpect to the Fact, your Recollection is not poſitive.

A. This I mean to ſwear, and this only, that I verily believe upon the Ground that I would not have ſworn a Hindoo or a Muſſulman in any other Manner than that in which Hindoos or Muſſulmen are generally ſworn, that all the Papers which purport to be Affidavits, and which I delivered to Mr. Haſtings, were ſworn in the uſual Manner, by Perſons repreſenting themſelves to be the Perſons that ſigned the Papers.

Q. When any Deponent came before you, and made his Mark to an Affidavit, did you cauſe the Affidavit to be explained to him, or interpreted in your Preſence?

A. I am willing to give further Satisfaction upon that Subject. I have ſeveral Times anſwered that they certainly were not explained; that the Parties brought them, and bringing them themſelves, they were not explained, becauſe I ſuppoſed them to know what they brought.

Q. When you perceived a Deponent could not write, what did you do to know that he was acquainted with the Contents of his Affidavit?

A. I collected it, from the Man himſelf delivering me the Affidavit.

Q. Did you know, whether the Perſons who ſwore, were the Perſons the Affidavits ſtated them to be?

A. No; I certainly did not; I never ſaw them before; and I do not know whether I ever ſaw them ſince. As I ſaid before, they were either black Officers in the Regiment belonging to Colonel Hannay, or his Officers, or they were black Moonſhies attached to the Officers: I ſay it, from having read the Affidavits ſince I was here laſt; and that is all the Knowledge I have acquired.

Q. Do you recollect having ſworn any Witneſs more than once in One Day?

A. The Fact might happen, but I have no Recollection of it; I rather believe, upon looking over the Dates of the Affidavits, that there are ſeveral: Major Davy, for inſtance, was ſworn ſeveral Times upon ſeveral Subjects the ſame Day.

Q. I am ſpeaking of Lucknow always?

A. I do not recollect the Fact at all: It might be ſo, but I do not recollect.

Q. Do

Q. Do you recollect the remarkable Circumſtance of one Doond Sing ſwearing Three Times before you, and putting his Mark Three Times in One Day?

A. My Recollection, if any upon that Subject, is that he was; but it ariſes from having ſeen the Affidavits within theſe few Days. Twice I recollect to have ſeen his Name, it may be Three Times.

Q. How came you not to make ſome Obſervation, upon the Circumſtance of a Black Subahdar being brought before you Three Times, to make Affidavits the ſame Day?

A. It is very difficult for me to give an Anſwer to that Queſtion, becauſe, as I have ſtated, till I ſaw it in the Book, I did not remember the Circumſtance; and not remembering the Circumſtance till then, I cannot give an Anſwer why I did not make any Obſervation.

Q. Whether, in looking over the Book ſince, you have obſerved that Doond Sing ſays nothing againſt the Begums the Two Firſt Times he ſwears, but he does the Third Time?

A. I do not know: I have made no Obſervation upon it. If it is ſo, it will appear upon the Book; and if it was ſo, I ſhould not have known it at the Time; ſo no Obſervation could have ariſen to me at that Time.

Q. But ſince?

A. No.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, You were not ſtruck at the Time with the Circumſtance of a Perſon's being ſworn Three Times in One Day?

A. If it will be any Satisfaction, I took the Affidavits and read them, and made Columns for the Dates when they were ſworn, and I entered the Perſons Names who ſwore under the Date, for the Purpoſe of ſeeing what Affidavits were ſworn while I was at Lucknow, and I really do not recollect any Thing that ſtruck me upon the Subject. I do remember, now it is mentioned, there was a Man who ſwore more than once; but the chief Object of looking at the Affidavits, was to ſee which were taken at Lucknow. I was afraid I had made a Miſtake; but I am not ſure whether I have or no. I was examined as to the Time I took the Affidavit of the Rannee at Ramnagur. According to my Recollection, as I ſtood at the Bar, I ſhould have ſaid I took it in my Way to Calcutta, in my Way from Ramnagur; but I ſee now, I muſt have taken it in my Way from Benares to Ramnagur.

Q. You muſt have made a Miſtake when you ſaid you read them, and claſſed them according to Date?

A. I certainly did read them; but I did not read them with Accuracy. I think it was laſt Saturday or laſt Sunday.

Q. But you ſaid, by Miſtake, you read them at the Time?

A. I certainly meant to ſay no ſuch Thing; if I have, I am very ſorry for it, it was a very groſs Miſtake.

The following Queſtion, and Part of the Anſwer thereto, were read by the Clerk.

" Q. Do you mean to ſay, That you were not ſtruck at the Time by the Circumſtances of a Perſon being ſworn Three Times in One Day?

" A. If it will be any Satisfaction, I took the Affidavits and read them, and made Columns for the Dates when they were ſworn."

The Witneſs ſaid,

What I meant by that was, That I took the Affidavits for the Purpoſe of reading them laſt Saturday, and dividing the Columns on that Paper.

Q. Do you mean laſt Saturday you made the Columns?

A. I mean laſt Saturday.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they had aſked the Witneſs, Whether, at the Time he was at Lucknow, he was ſtruck with the Circumſtance of a Perſon ſwearing Three Times in One Day? His Anſwer to which was, That if it would be any Satisfaction, he would tell how he took them, and deſcribed the Manner; which they underſtood he ſtated with reſpect to thoſe he took at Lucknow, and that he read them at that Time.

The Witneſs ſaid,

It is impoſſible I could mean that.

The Houſe obſerved, that the Miſtake might eaſily be explained. That in the Queſtion put by the Managers, the Words " at the Time" were not inſerted, but in the Queſtion as put by the Houſe, theſe Words " at the Time" were inſerted, underſtanding derſtanding the Managers ſo to have put them. They were therefore inſerted in the Queſtion as read by the Clerk. But the Anſwer of the Witneſs, was to the Queſtion put by the Managers, and not as put by the Houſe.

Q. Whether you was not at Lucknow ſtruck with the Circumſtance of One Man being ſworn Three Times a Day?

A. To that Queſtion I think I before anſwered; I did not recollect, nor do I now recollect that I obſerved any thing upon that Circumſtance at the Time. When I was aſked whether a Perſon was ſeveral Times examined before me, I ſaid, that by putting the ſeveral Affidavits in Columns, I ſaw one Man had been examined more than Once upon One Day; that was the Whole that I meant by the Anſwer I gave.

Q. Whether, for any thing within your Knowledge, Mr. Haſtings might not have withheld and ſuppreſſed any of the Affidavits he thought proper, which you brought from Lucknow?

A. Moſt undoubtedly he might have done it.

Q. Whether, the Purpoſe of taking thoſe Affidavits by you, was not to furniſh a Ground for Mr. Haſtings's Defence, for Acts done and to be done?

A. It certainly was; I did not conceive he would ſubtract any of them. It certainly was as a Juſtification; I did not ſuppoſe him to be a Man ſo ſuſpected, that I could not truſt the Affidavits I took, to be put into his Hands; I did not ſuſpect he would ſuppreſs them, or any of them, or put any others in their Room. They certainly were for his Juſtification, and if I had ſuppoſed ſuch Suſpicions would have been entertained of Mr. Haſtings, or if I had had ſuch Suſpicions of him, I moſt undoubtedly would not have delivered them to him in that Manner.

Q. The Object of theſe Affidavits being the Juſtification of Mr. Haſtings, and undertaken by your Advice, whether you would have adviſed Mr. Haſtings to inſert in his Juſtification, Affidavits that made againſt his own Cauſe?

A. As an honeſt Man, I ſhould have adviſed Mr. Haſtings to tell the Story truly and faithfully as it was, and to inſert thoſe Affidavits that contained the Facts, whether they made for him, or againſt him.

Q. Then do you know, why Hoolas Roy's Affidavit does not appear, or his Examination?

A. I was before aſked about Hoolas Roy. I ſaw upon a Memorandum I had from Mr. Middleton, this Entry, "Hoolas Roy ordered to Chunar;" that is all I know of Hoolas Roy. Whether Hoolas Roy ever came to Chunar, whether Hoolas Roy's Affidavit was ever taken, or if Hoolas Roy's Affidavit was taken, why it was not publiſhed by Mr. Haſtings with the reſt, I do not know.

Q. Do you not admit, that the Fact of the Begum's having ſaved Captain Gordon was upon the Face of it, a Circumſtance very much in her Favour?

A. If it is any Satisfaction that I ſhould give my Opinion, that naked Circumſtance certainly was.

Q. Had you any Converſation with Captain Gordon, or Colonel Hannay, why that Fact was ſuppreſſed in their Depoſitions?

A. I do not know that Fact was ſuppreſſed, I therefore could have no Converſation with them upon the Subject, why it was ſuppreſſed: I verily believe I had Converſations with Major Hannay and Mr. Middleton, upon the Subject of their Affidavits, but not upon that particular Circumſtance. I do not know, whether at that Time I had heard that Circumſtance alluded to or no: I have not any certain Knowledge that I had Converſation with them upon the Subject, but I really believe I had, becauſe, it was natural, that I ſhould. I do not recollect any particular Converſations, but I verily believe I had Converſations; if I was obliged to ſwear one Way or other, it would be that I had Converſations; but I cannot recollect what thoſe Converſations were: In the Tent, dining with the Officers, upon the Occaſion of going to take their Affidavits, that being one Object of my coming to Lucknow, it is moſt exceedingly improbable that that ſhould not have been the Subject of Converſation.

Q. (Croſs examined.) You have been aſked your Opinion upon that Tranſaction relating to Captain Gordon: Whether you would have formed the ſame Opinion of it if you had known the Tranſaction had taken place, after the Begums were informed of the Succeſs of the Britiſh Arms againſt Cheit Sing?

A. I really am embarraſſed in giving Opinions upon Subjects, which the Houſe can give a better Opinion upon.

The Houſe obſerved it was no Evidence.

Q. (by a Manager.) In the Converſation you had with Mr. Haſtings before you left Calcutta, reſpecting his Intention againſt Cheit Sing, whether Mr. Haſtings made you any Communication of his Suſpicion of the Diſaffection or Miſconduct of the Begums?

A. The Converſation I alluded to in a Part of the Evidence before the Houſe of Commons, was a Converſation with Mr. Haſtings before he left Calcutta. I do not recollect hearing from Mr. Haſtings, or any other Perſon at that Time, that the Begums were in Rebellion.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you know, or ever knew, of any Cauſe of perſonal private Enmity between Mr. Haſtings and the Begums?

A. I never heard it ſuggeſted. I had underſtood, and all I believe that I had heard upon the Subject was, that Mr. Haſtings had protected the Begums when the Nabob had made an Attempt to ſeize their Treaſure, ſoon after I came to Calcutta.

Q. (by Counſel.) Whether you had not heard, from Report, of the Diſaffection of the Begums, prior to your going to Lucknow?

A. I cannot poſitively ſay whether I had or not; whether the Begums Names are mentioned in the Letter I received from Mr. Haſtings in going up, I cannot tell; he certainly mentions Troubles at Fyzabad; but he mentions nothing, that I know of, of the Begums. All I collected on the Subject is from that Letter I received from Mr. Haſtings.

Q. I think I heard it ſaid, the Begums were not mentioned in the Letter from Mr. Haſtings to Mr. Middleton, dated the 15th of November 1781?

A. I am alluding to a Letter I myſelf received from Mr. Haſtings before I ſaw him.

Q. I underſtood, in a former Examination, you ſaid you had been acquainted with the Contents of a Letter of the 15th of November 1781; in that Letter mention was made of Levies of Horſe and Foot openly made at Fyzabad, both by the Begums and Cheyt Sing's Agents; was that prior to your going up to Lucknow?

A. Prior to my going up to Lucknow, but not prior to my having Converſation with Mr. Haſtings.

Q. My Queſtion is, whether you had heard of it prior to your going to Lucknow?

A. There can be no doubt about it; I ſtated the Converſation.

Q. (by a Lord.) I underſtand you to have depoſed, that you founded the Opinion you gave Mr. Haſtings, of the Propriety and Legality of the Nabob's ſeizing the Treaſure of the Begums, upon the Fact of a ſuppoſed Rebellion, that either did then exiſt, or had exiſted, a Rebellion of the Begums againſt him the Nabob; have I rightly underſtood you?

A. Undoubtedly, with regard to the Nabob's Right of ſeizing the Treaſure, as there was a Rebellion againſt him, I looked upon that as attaching the Nabob's Right to ſeize them.

Q. Am I to underſtand that you conſidered the ſuppoſed Intention, or overt Acts, if there were any overt Acts, in the Begum, to aſſiſt Cheyt Sing, as an Act of Rebellion againſt him the Nabob?

A. No; but what I had likewiſe heard was, that the Begums had an Intention of taking Advantage of thoſe Troubles, for the Purpoſe of raiſing Saadit Ali to the Muſnud, inſtead of the Vizier.

Q. (by a Lord.) Did you mean that ſuch Rebellion of the Begums againſt the Vizier diſſolved the Guarantee of the Engliſh?

A. I do not recollect having ever ſaid any Thing about a Guarantee.

Q. I underſtood you to have ſaid, if the Begum was in Rebellion againſt the Nabob Vizier, the Nabob Vizier would be juſtified in ſeizing the Treaſures; whether that would abſolve the Company from their Guarantee?

A. I could mean no ſuch a Thing; for, to the beſt of my Recollection, at that Time I never had heard of a Guarantee at all.

Q. Do you know any Thing of a Guarantee now?

A. Nothing more than I have learned in the Courſe of the Proceedings againſt Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Then the Opinion you gave to Mr. Haſtings, was upon the Suppoſition that there was no Guarantee?

A. It was upon no Suppoſition of a Guarantee at all; I know nothing of a Guarantee; and therefore I had not a Guarantee in Contemplation.

Q. Do you underſtand that the Guarantee was purchaſed by the Payment of Thirty Lacks, and relinquiſhing a Debt of Twenty-five Lacks?

A. What I have heard of a Guarantee, has been from the Evidence that has been delivered before the Houſe.

Q. Then you gave that Opinion, not knowing of a Guarantee?

A. Certainly.

Q. (by the Managers.) Did Mr. Haſtings not, in ſome Stage of this Buſineſs, conſult you, with reſpect to the Legality and Propriety of the Proceedings againſt the Begums?

A. I have ſtated, in my Evidence, here, and before the Houſe of Commons, all the Converſation upon that Subject that I remember: If that is underſtood to be a Conſultation with me upon the Subject, I had that Conſultation; but I have not the leaſt Recollection of Mr. Haſtings having conſulted me upon the Subject before or after.

Q. Then,

Q. Then, at the Time Mr. Haſtings had theſe Converſations, or Conſultations, did he ever inform you of the Exiſtence of this Guarantee, or of any Guarantee?

A. I am pretty ſure Mr. Haſtings did not: The Subject Matter, poſſibly, might be a Reaſon why Mr. Haſtings did not; for I underſtood, that what is called a Rebellion, had Two Motives; the One was, to advance her Son, Saadit Ali, to the Prejudice of the Vizier; the other was, the Extirpation of the Engliſh; both thoſe Objects I underſtood.

Q. Then your Anſwer is, that Mr. Haſtings did not inform you of the Guarantee?

A. No, not as I remember.

Q. Whether you have not aſſigned one Motive of the Rebellion, to be a Deſire to raiſe her Son, Saadit Ali, to the Muſnud, in the room of the Nabob?

A. I certainly heard that Report.

Q. Did you believe it?

A. I had no Grounds not to believe it; I certainly did believe it at the Time; I heard nothing to contradict it: With regard to Saadit Ali, I have heard that Saadit Ali himſelf was diſinclined to the Engliſh: I remember this Circumſtance; Mr. Haſtings mentioned that to me; and afterwards told me, he thought Saadit Ali had purged that, by having taken Care of the wounded Priſoners that Mr. Haſtings had committed to him.

Q. Whether you ever heard, that Saadit Ali was the Son of the Begum?

A. I have heard him called the Brother of the Nabob; whether he was the Son of the Begum or not, I do not know.

Q. Do you not know that he was not the Son of the Begum?

A. I do not know that he was the Son of the Begum.

Q. Have you not heard that he was not the Son of the Begum?

A. I may have heard it.—I do not recollect I ever did.

Q. Whether you choſe to adviſe upon the State of a Family of which you knew ſo little?

A. I have not adviſed upon the State of the Family at all, nor do I know that I gave any Advice with reſpect to the State of the Family.

Q. Did you not think it of Importance with reſpect to the Credit of the Report of the Begum's Intention of ſetting up Saadit Ali, inſtead of the Vizier; whether Saadit Ali was her own Son, or whether he was only the Son of her Huſband?

A. I take it for granted Saadit Ali was not the Son of the Begum; but I really thought, till this Examination had paſſed, he was the Son of the Begum. With regard to the Credit to be given to the Report, I did not at all doubt the Report, and therefore I did not go to Circumſtances to weigh the Credibility of it.

Q. Whether Mr. Haſtings aſſigned to you in any Converſation, as a Reaſon for his having a better Opinion of Saadit Ali, the Care he took of the wounded Priſoners; whether he conſidered that as doing away the ſuppoſed Diſaffection he had to the Engliſh?

A. To the beſt of my Opinion, I believe ſomething of that Kind did paſs.

Q. I ſpeak of Mr. Haſtings's Opinion?

A. I ſpeak of Mr. Haſtings's Opinion.

Q. Do you know at what Period it was, Saadit Ali was ſuppoſed to take Care of the Priſoners?

A. I underſtood they were ſome Priſoners Mr. Haſtings could not take care of, being obliged to retire to the Fort at Chunar, and I believe it was at that Time.

Q. Was it immediately after the Affair of Benares?

A. I believe it was; becauſe within theſe Four or Five Days I have read the Benares Narative, and ſomething of that Kind is mentioned in the Benares Narrative.

Q. Whether you was informed, that Saadit Ali had purged himſelf of the Deſign of this Rebellion, which was ſuppoſed to be raiſed in his Favour, how came you not to think that the Begum was likewiſe purged from her Share of it?

A. I do not know how to give an Account, why I did not think ſo; I cannot give a Reaſon why I did not.

Q. Did you underſtand Saadit Ali had as much Treaſure as the Begums?

A. So far from having Treaſure, as I underſtood, he was provided with an annual Income from the Nabob, at the Inſtance of Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Did Mr. Middleton mention the Guarantee to you at Lucknow?

A. I have ſaid I knew nothing of it, till I heard it in the Courſe of this Buſineſs; Mr. Middleton certainly did not ſtate it.

Q. You ſtate, that One Object of your Journey to Lucknow, was to aſſiſt Mr. Middleton, or prevail upon him to be more alert in executing the Treaty of Chunar; was it ſoſtated by you?

A. Not

A. Not to aſſiſt him, but to preſs him to urge the Nabob to a complete Performance of the Treaty of Chunar, chiefly with Reference to the Reſumption of the Jaghiers.

Q. By what Means had you any Knowledge of the Articles of the Treaty of Chunar?

A. I had a Copy of the Treaty in my Poſſeſſion; and if I had not, what I did with Mr. Middleton I could have done as well without; it was ſimply to preſs him to get theſe Articles carried into Execution by the Nabob, and my Knowledge of the Treaty had nothing to do with that.

Q. Had you any Motive to abſtain from looking at the Copy of the Treaty of Chunar, which Mr. Haſtings furniſhed you with?

A. I certainly had not; I read the Treaty of Chunar before I went up to Lucknow, I believe; I believe Mr. Haſtings ſhewed it me almoſt as ſoon as I ſaw him at Benares.

Q. As you read the Treaty of Chunar, how came you not to ſee from that itſelf that there was a Guarantee to the Begums?

A. I poſſibly might know it, I do not recollect I did; I have ſome Doubts, becauſe I have no Recollection whether it is in the Treaty of Chunar. I hope you will excuſe my Defect of Memory, if, at the Diſtance of 10 Years, I do not recollect ſuch a Circumſtance in the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. It is not 10 Years ago; you ſaid you did not know of the Guarantee till the Proceedings here?

A. I do not know whether it is or is not in the Treaty of Chunar: It may make an Impreſſion upon the Houſe, that it is in the Treaty of Chunar, which Impreſſion, with reſpect to my Evidence, will go beyond the Houſe; I deſire therefore, that it may be ſeen, whether, in point of Fact, it is in the Treaty of Chunar.

Q. (from a Lord.) You have ſaid, a Bramin with Water from the Ganges, in a braſs Baſon, ſwears the Hindoos; could ſuch a Circumſtance happen without your Knowledge, when you took the Affidavits?

A. I aſk Pardón; I do not underſtand the Queſtion.

Q. The Queſtion put to you is, whether the Bramin could have attended with the Braſs Baſon, and the Ceremony have been performed at the Time, in the Manner the Hindoos are ſworn, in your Preſence, without your Knowledge?

A. I cannot take upon myſelf to ſay, it could not; I do not apprehend it could, I do not believe it.

Q. (by a Lord.) Can you recollect, whether in that Converſation with Mr. Haſtings, upon the Subject of the Right of reſuming the Jaghires or ſeizing the Treaſures, Mr. Haſtings informed you, the Begums were in actual Rebellion, or that the Rebellion had ſubſided?

A. I have not ſo accurate a Memory of the Converſation; I do not ſpeak from the Remembrance of the Words that paſſed; but I apprehend Mr. Haſtings muſt have referred to the Rebellion that had paſſed, from the Circumſtances.

Q. Suppoſing it to have ſubſided, do you mean that the Meaſure ſhould not have been put into Execution, after the Rebellion had ſo ſubſided?

A. I gave the Opinion of a Right attaching upon the Nabob, upon the Rebellion having actually exiſted, though not exiſting at that Time; and that, from the Begums having been in Rebellion, the Right attached on him.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next proceed to that Part of the Correſpondence which relates to the Cruelty, Impriſonment, and other ſevere Methods, uſed to extort Confeſſion, from the Miniſters of the Begums, of the Place where the Treaſures were concealed.

Read, the following Letter from Captain Leonard Jacques, dated, Palace, Fyzabad, 23d February 1782, to Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court, from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book, marked A, already delivered in.

" To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" The Two Priſoners under my Charge, Bahr Ally Cawn, and Jewar Ally Cawn, have repeatedly repreſented to me the Hardſhips they ſuffer by their long Confinement.

" They have this Day informed me of their being adviſed, in your Letter, of a Deficiency in the Sale of the Articles ſent to Lucknow, as Part of the ſtipulated Sum to be ſent by them.

" As the Sum deficient has not been pointed out to them, they have requeſted I would write you for that Purpoſe.

" Anxious

" Anxious to obtain their Enlargement, they have likewiſe deſired me to inform you, they will immediately, with the Aſſiſtance of their Friends, make up any Deficiency that may have ariſen.

" I have the Honour to be,

" Sir,

" Your moſt obed^{t} humble Servant,

" Palace, Fyzabad,
Feb^{y} 23d 1782.

(Signed) Leon^{d} Jaques,
Capt^{n} 2nd Batt^{n} 20th Reg^{t} of Sepoys."

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that they next propoſed to read a Letter from the printed Papers in the Houſe of Commons, viz. a Letter ſigned Richard Johnſon, dated Lucknow, 27th February 1782, and produced upon the Examination of Mr. Jaques, before the Houſe of Commons.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to any Letters, written by a Perſon who was attending and forthcoming, being read, without they were firſt authenticated in a proper Manner.

Then CAPTAIN LEONARD JAQUES was called in, and being ſworn, was examined as follows:

Q. Whether you recollect being examined by the Houſe of Commons?
A. Yes.

Then ſeveral Papers were ſhown to the Witneſs, and the following Queſtion put to him:

Q. Look at thoſe Papers, and ſay, whether they are authentic Copies?

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that the Originals ought to be produced.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Originals were ſuppreſſed, and contended, that therefore the Copies were good Evidence; that they had been ſhewn to the Witneſs, upon his Examination before the Houſe of Commons, and there authenticated, by his ſaying, they were the Letters he wrote.

The Counſel for the Defendant inſiſted, that before the Copies could be read, it was incumbent upon the Managers for the Commons to ſhew, that they had uſed due Diligence to ſearch for the Originals.

The following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. What do you know about the Originals?
A. Some Letters were read to me in the Houſe of Commons; I anſwered as well as I could, to the beſt of my Judgement, that they appeared to me to be right.

Q. Right? in what Reſpect?
A. I judged that they were the ſame Letters, as far as my Memory would ſupport me, that paſſed between Mr. Middleton, Mr. Johnſon, and me.

Q. What Knowledge had you of the original Letters?
A. During my Command at Fyzabad, while Bahar Ali Khan and Jewar Ali Khan were Priſoners, a Number of Letters were written by Mr. Middleton, and after Mr. Middleton went to Lucknow, by Mr. Johnſon, to me, reſpecting the Priſoners, directing me how to act.

Q. What became of thoſe Letters?
A. I had not an Idea of ever being called upon to ſay any thing about them, after I left India: I do not know where they are; I believe they are deſtroyed. I have none of them: the Letters that came to me I did not keep; what they did with the Letters that came to them, I cannot tell.
Q. Firſt of all, as to the Letters written to you, thoſe Letters, you ſay, were deſtroyed?
A. I did not deſtroy them, till I was about to come from India.

Q. But in regard to the Letters you wrote Mr. Middleton, or to Mr. Johnſon, what do you ſay?
A. I believe I can recollect the Tenor of all the Publick Letters I wrote reſpecting the Priſoners.

Q. But you do not know what is become of thoſe Letters.—Where is Mr. Johnſon?

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that Mr. Johnſon was at Bengal; and obſerved the Objection taken was rather extraordinary, as the Defendant had admitted the Letters, in his Defence to the Articles preſented to the Houſe of Commons, and that the Counſel had already, in the Courſe of the Trial, withdrawn a ſimilar Objection.

The Counſel for the Defendant requeſted, that the Managers would point out in what Part of the Defence the Letters in queſtion were admitted verbatim; if not, they objected to the Production of a Copy of Originals deſtroyed, unleſs proved to be an authentick Copy of ſuch Originals.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. In what Situation were you in January, February, and March, 1782?

A. I commanded the 2d Battalion of the 20th Regiment of Sepoys, Major Gilpin commanded the Regiment conſiſting of Two Battalions, which were ordered to march from Cawnpore, I think, on the 22d or 23d of December 1781. We marched to Dalmohw, about 40 Coſs, or 80 Miles. Our Route was intended to a Place called Sahlone, where, we were given to underſtand, there were Diſturbances, and we were ordered to march there to ſuppreſs them. About a Day's March after our Departure from Cawnpore, Major Gilpin received Orders to ſtrike off from the Route to Sahlone, and march to Lucknow with all poſſible Expedition. We marched to Lucknow in Two Days, and ſcarce arrived with any Men. I ſet off with about 500 Men, and marched ſo quick, the Orders being ſo preſſing, that I do not ſuppoſe I had 200 Men come up with me. Our Guns were like to have been left behind. This was in conſequence of——

Q. When was you at Fyzabad in 1782?

A. I arrived at Fyzabad the 8th of February 1782, with the 2d Battalion of Sepoys of the 20th Regiment. They relieved Major Naylor, who delivered the Priſoners Bahar Ali Cawn, and Jewar Ali Cawn, into my Charge, and another Perſon, whoſe Name I do not recollect, but, I think, it was Shumſhire Cawn; and gave me certain Inſtructions for my Conduct, directing me to receive further Inſtructions from the Reſident at Lucknow.

Q. What Inſtructions did the Reſident ſend you; were they in Writing?

A. Major Naylor gave me Inſtructions, and told me, for further Information, and any other Inſtructions I might want, I was to receive them from the Reſident at Lucknow.

Q. Did you receive Inſtructions from the Reſident at Lucknow?

A. Thoſe Letters which have been mentioned, compoſed my Inſtructions.

Q. You received them by Letter?

A. I did.

Q. Were thoſe Letters among the Papers, you ſay were deſtroyed before you left India?

A. Thoſe Letters, as I conceived they would not be wanted, I did not think it worth while to keep.

Q. They were deſtroyed?

A. They were deſtroyed.

Q. What were thoſe Inſtructions, according to your Memory?

A. One was, that Hoolas Roy was to have free Acceſs to the Priſoners, to uſe every Means that appeared to him requiſite for inducing them to pay the Balance of 12 Lacks of Rupees out of the Sum of 55 Lacks, which, I was given to underſtand, were to be paid: 43 Lacks I met upon the Road, as I was marching.

Q. That was the Inſtructions you received in thoſe Letters from the Reſident?

A. Part of the Inſtructions.

Q. Do you recollect any other Inſtructions you received, on or about the 27th of February 1782, from Mr. Johnſon?

A. I cannot charge my Memory with the Time, when Mr. Middleton left Lucknow, and Mr. Johnſon acted in his Room; but I was Four Months there, and received Inſtructions both from Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon.

Q. Did you receive particular Inſtructions from Mr. Johnſon, concerning thoſe 12 Lacks of Rupees you ſpoke of before?

A. I did.

Q. What were the Inſtructions you received from Mr. Johnſon reſpecting thoſe 12 Lacks?

A. I am not certain they were from Mr. Johnſon; I am inclined to believe it was Mr. Middleton, that wrote me Directions to put them in Irons, in conſequence of their not making good the Payment; I am not ſure whether Mr. Johnſon or Mr. Middleton, but I believe it was Mr. Middleton.

Q. Were they put in Irons in conſequence?

A. They were.

Q. Did you receive Directions from Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon, to keep them from Food: Had you any other Directions from Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon, beſides thoſe you mentioned?

A. I had many different Letters, which gave me many Parts of my Information, of which my Memory fails me now; but with regard to Food, I never had any Directions to keep it from them.

Q. Can

Q. Can you recollect what particular Inſtructions you had, with regard to the Treatment of thoſe Priſoners in all other Reſpects, beſides that of putting them in Irons?

A. I recollect after they had been in Irons ſome Time, they complained to me of being very unwell, and they deſired I would apply to the Reſident for their Irons to be taken off for a little Time, for their having taken ſome Medicine; the Reſident did not think proper they ſhould, becauſe they could have paid the Balance, and then they would have been releaſed altogether.

Q. Then the Irons were not taken off upon that Account?

A. They were not.

Q. Can you recollect any other Orders for the particular Treatment of thoſe Priſoners?

A. I believe that was the moſt particular Part; there are a Number of Things that have eſcaped my Memory.

Q. How were they fed, how lodged, how were they with Regard to Company coming to them?

A. I was not prevented from letting their Company come to them, but Hoolas Roy, who was to tranſact the Buſineſs moſtly with them, was to give me Information of any Perſon that appeared to be improper to be allowed to go to them.

Q. What Number of Servants had they to attend upon them?

A. I ſhould ſuppoſe not leſs than Forty or Fifty; a great Number.

Q. Were any Perſons prevented Acceſs to them at any Time?

A. I cannot charge my Memory that any one was prevented going to them, as none, that I recollect, appeared to me ſuſpicious: What I mean by Suſpicion was, any People that appeared in Arms, or gave me Reaſon to ſuſpect their attempting to overſet my Endeavours.

Q. You have ſtated an Application made to relieve them from the Irons: Do not you ſtate, they would be equally ſafe without their Irons as with them?

A. I have no Doubt of it.

Q. Whether there were any Directions, beſides thoſe you have ſpoken of, which were Directions for not taking off the Irons; had you any Directions for any other Severities being uſed upon them, beyond thoſe?

A. I do not recollect that I had; I have ſome ſlight Idea, very ſlight indeed, regarding more Irons, but I beg leave to decline anſwering, whether ſuch a Thing was wrote to me or not; how that Matter was, I cannot tell.

Q. Do you know whether, in point of Fact, they were charged with more Irons?

A. They were not ever to my Knowledge: Bahar Ali Cawn, and Jowar Ali Cawn, had only a Pair each; I do not know whether Shumſhire Cawn had.

Q. Had you more Irons than you uſed?

A. I ordered the Smith of the Battalion to make the Irons.

Q. You received none, then, from Mr. Johnſon; but you ordered them to be made yourſelf, in Conſequence of his Directions?

A. None.

Q. How long were they kept in this Durance?

A. Really I cannot tell; I believe, during my Time, about a Month: I was there Four Months, from February to June; near Four Months.

Q. Do you recollect any Circumſtance relating to the Priſoners being threatened with the Accuſation of their being concerned with Bulbudder Sing?

A. I was informed that the Reſident ſaid, they had been concerned with Bulbudder Sing.

Q. Were they threatened with that Imputation?

A. I told them of the Reſident's Letter, that there were ſuch Surmiſes againſt them, which they denied.

Q. What was the Situation of the Women of the Khourd Mahl, while you was at Fyzabad?

A. I have great Reaſon to believe they were greatly diſtreſſed for want of Proviſion.

Then the following Extract was read from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book A. already delivered in, beginning at Page 109 of the ſame.

" Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" The Women belonging to the Khourd Mhal, complain of their being in Want of every Neceſſary of Life, and are at laſt drove to that Deſperation, that they at Night get on the Top of the Zenanah, make a great Diſturbance, and laſt Night not only abuſed the Centinels poſted in the Gardens, but threw Dirt at them; they threaten to throw themſelves from the Walls of the Zenanah, and alſo to break out of it.

" Humanity

" Humanity obliges me to acquaint you of this Matter, and to requeſt to know, if you have any Direction to give me concerning it.

" I alſo beg Leave to acquaint you, I ſent for Letaffit Ally Cawn, the Cojah, who has the Charge of them; who informs me their Complaint is well grounded; that they have ſold every Thing they had, even to the Cloaths from their Backs, and now have no Means of exiſting.

" Encloſed I tranſmit you a Letter from Monatoll on the Subject.

" I have the Honour to be,

" Sir,

" Palace, Fyzabad,
March 6th, 1782.

Your moſt obed. hble Serv^t,
(Signed) Leo^d Jaques, Captain
2^d Batt^n 20 Reg^t of Sepoys."

" Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" I beg Leave to addreſs you again, concerning the Women in the Khourd Mhal; their Behaviour laſt Night was ſo furious, that there ſeemed the greateſt Probability of their proceeding to the utmoſt Extremities, and that they would either throw themſelves from the Walls, or force the Doors of the Zenanah.—I have made every Enquiry concerning the Cauſe of their Complaints, and find from Letaffit Ally Cawn, that they are in a ſtarving Condition, having ſold all their Cloaths and Neceſſaries, and now have not wherewithal to ſupport Nature; and, as my Inſtructions are quite ſilent on this Head, ſhould be glad to know how to proceed in caſe they were to force the Doors of the Zenanah, as I ſuſpect it will happen, ſhould no Subſiſtence be very quickly ſent to them.

" They earneſtly requeſt that the Jewels may be valued by Four or Five eminent Merchants, Muſſulmen and Hindoos, upon Oath; and that after this may be done, whatever Balance may appear againſt them, they will immediately get their Friends to advance for them.

" They have likewiſe requeſtedme to repreſent to you their diſtreſſed Situation, in being ſo long and cloſe confined, with the Hopes of your taking their Caſe into Conſideration, expediting the Matter as much as in your Power. They alſo requeſt me to inform you, the Suſpicions Mr. Johnſon ſeems to entertain of them reſpecting Bulbudder, is without Foundation; that they have no Kind of Intercourſe, either directly or indirectly, with him; and that they ſtake their Lives upon the moſt diſtant Proof of it being brought; alſo, that it would give them great Satisfaction to find he was either taken or deſtroyed.

Courſe

Courſe now diſcharge all the extraordinary People, which my Delicacy and Zeal for doing the Duty I am upon, to the Satisfaction of them who ordered me upon it, induced me to enter into. You will therefore conſider, Sir, that I cannot any longer pay Women to examine the Doolies from the Raſs and Khourd Mahls; of Courſe none will be allowed to go out till I have your further Directions how to proceed. Doolies unexamined will take out Valuables, which my Orders are poſitively againſt. Intelligence I can have none, as no Allowance will be made me for it; and ſhould any Accident happen, the Blame will not be mine, but thoſe who are ſo ſparing of a Trifle.

" I have been at ſome other trifling Expences, ſuch as a Moonſey to read, write, and explain any Letter to and from the Priſoners, to and from Jerrour Sing, the Aumil of Nabob Gunge, and the Aumil of Oude, &c. Extra Stationary, and not neceſſary, were I not on a ſeparate Command; Candles, Oil, &c. for Guards, which ſhould have no Occaſion to ſupply; were it not for my Command.

" The practiſing my People with Ball Cartridges, I am ſure, was abſolutely neceſſary; as Fifty of my Men were the utmoſt in Number who had ever fired one until I came here: And I had every Reaſon to believe, from the Caution uſed by Major Naylor, when I relieved him, that I ſhould meet with Trouble; and, being only Half his Number, and no Guns, it was ſurely my Duty to have my People in the beſt Condition to defend themſelves if Occaſion required; and I am ſure the Sum charged by me for this, is not Half what it would have coſt the Company to have ſupplied my Battalion from any of the Magazines.

" You have alſo ordered me to put the Priſoners in Irons—that I have done; yet, as I have no Buſineſs to purchaſe Fetters, or ſupply them any other Way, it is but reaſonable that you ſhould order me to be reimburſed. But why ſhould I add any Thing more? A late Commander at this Place, I am told, draws near as many Thouſands, Monthly Contingencies, as my trifling Bill is for Hundreds. However, if you cannot get my Bill paid, be ſo obliging as return it, and give me an Opportunity of declaring to the World, that I believe I am the firſt Officer in the Honourable Company's Service who has ſuffered in his Property by an independant Command.

Sir,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
(Signed) Leo^d. Jaques, Captain,
Commanding at Fyzabad."

" Palace, Fyzabad,
March 30th, 1782.

Q. Whether this Letter, ſtating you had put the Priſoners in Irons, does not mean, you had put them a Second Time in Irons. Do you recollect that Letter?

A. I do recollect it.

Q. When it ſpeaks of putting in Irons, does it mean putting a Second Time in Irons?

A. I cannot charge my Memory with their having been put in Irons before; they might be, by Major Naylor.

Q. Were they in Irons when they were delivered over to you?

A. No, not to the beſt of my Memory.

Q. What does the Examination of Doolies, in the Khourd Mahls, mentioned in this Paſſage, refer to, " You will therefore conſider, Sir, that I can no longer pay Women to examine the Doolies from the Rhaſs and Khourd Mahls:" Do you know what is meant by that Examination?

A. My Orders were to guard againſt the Treaſures being taken out of the Zenana, and carried out of the Kella; they have a Sort of Carriage that the Women are carried in, covered; I was ordered to have thoſe examined, to prevent the Money being carried out of the Zenana to the Begum, who was at her Houſe without the Gates.

Q. " Doolies unexamined will take out Valuables," you ſay—Did you, or your Soldiers, when you found the Women taking out Valuables from the Khourd Mahl, ſeize thoſe Valuables?

A. No.

Q. Were any of thoſe Carriages ſeized?

A. None, during my Command.

Q. Did you not ſurround the Khourd Mahl with Soldiers and other Perſons, to prevent their carrying the Valuables from thence?

A. Every neceſſary Care was taken to prevent any Thing extraordinary going out; Cloaths and other Things, not Valuables, were allowed to go; Jewels and Money of conſiderable Value, were not allowed to be carried out.

Q. You paid Women to examine thoſe Doolies?

A. I did.

Q. To your Knowledge, what Proceſs or Mode of Enquiry was carried on, reſpecting the ſuppoſed Treaſon of the Miniſters, while they were under your Guard?

A. Really I cannot ſay.

Q. What

Q. What did you conſider them as confined for; what were they put into your Charge for?
A. I always conſidered them to be put into my Charge, principally to make them pay the Twelve Lacks that were due; that was the principal Reaſon. Fifty-five Lacks was the Sum agreed to be paid; only Forty-three were paid; and I was given to underſtand Twelve Lacks remained due.

Q. Might not Hoolas Roy, or any of the Black Perſons you have mentioned, as having Acceſs to the Priſoners, have uſed Tortures to them without your preventing them?
A. I do not believe it poſſible: They were immediately under my Guard; there were not leſs than 20 Centinels.—The Place where they lie in hot Countries is open on one Side; the Centinels were cloſe to them, and there could be none but what was by my Directions.

Q. For what Purpoſe was Hoolas Roy permitted to have Acceſs to them?
A. To obtain Payment of the 12 Lacks and odd Rupees: There might be other Things, but that was what I underſtood was his principal Buſineſs.

Q. Was Shumſhire Cawn under your Charge?
A. He was.

Q. How long did Shumſhire Cawn remain under your Charge?
A. I delivered Bahar, and Jewar Ally Cawn, and Shumſhire Cawn, up to Major Gilpin, upon his marching with the other Battalion from Fayzabad.

Q. You received the other Two from Major Naylor; were not all the Three in your Cuſtody the whole Time?
A. I received them all together.

Q. Did you know of any Enquiry being made into the paſt Conduct of Shumſhire Cawn, while under your Charge?
A. I do not; there might be; Hoolas Roy might queſtion him about many Things; but not known to me, that I recollect.

Q. Are you quite ſure that Shumſhire Cawn was in your Charge, as well as the other Priſoners?
A. Sure of it; I have no Doubt of it.

Q. In what Manner were you directed to afford Relief to the Diſtreſs of the Women who were in a ſtarving Condition?
A. None, unleſs I had choſen to give it myſelf.—I applied to the Reſident, repreſenting the Caſe; and he wrote me Word back, it was a Buſineſs the Engliſh could have nothing to do with, directly, or indirectly.

Q. Do you underſtand it was by Authority of the Reſident, you placed a Guard round the Zenana?
A. I relieved Major Naylor the 8th of February 1782, and of courſe my People relieved the Guards where Major Naylor had placed them:—As to the Women going out ſingly, or Half a Dozen together, they might have gone out without being ſtopped.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

" To Captain Jaques,—commanding the 2d Battalion, 20th Regiment.

" Sir,

" Hoolaſs Roy, the Perſon appointed by the Nabob for tranſacting the Buſineſs for which the Troops are required here, will hold conſtant Communication and Intercourſe with you; and as he is inſtructed and acquainted with the beſt Method to accompliſh this Buſineſs, Mr. Middleton requeſts implicit Attention be paid to what he may, from Time to Time, repreſent reſpecting the Priſoners, or the Buſineſs in which he is employed. In ſhort, as he is the Perſon nominated by the Nabob, he wiſhes Hoolaſs Roy to be conſidered in the ſame Light as if he himſelf was preſent.

" One ſubaltern Officer and a complete Body of Sepoys to mount as a Guard over the Priſoners Bahar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, and direct, that all Intercourſe be ſtopped between them and their Adherents, as alſo betwixt the Begum and the Zenanah, except ſuch as is recommended by Hoolaſs Roy.

" That you publiſh to your Corps and Followers, that they are not on any Account to go upon the Tops of the Buildings within the Kellah, as they overlook the Zennanah; and you likewiſe direct, that the Sepoys or followers do not go into the Gardens of the Palace.

You may alſo mention to them, that I have reaſon to ſuſpect that the Commotions raiſed by Bulbudder has not been without their Suggeſtions and Abetment; which if proved upon them, in Addition to the probable Breach of their Agreement, will make their Situation very deſperate.

" The Ignorance they have pleaded to you of the Deficiencies in Produce of the Payments, is a vain Pretext, as not one Sicca Weight has been diſburſed, without the previous Knowledge of their Agents here.

In conſequence of your Letter dated the 28th Ultimo, I have allowed the People to paſs out from the Khourd Mhal, being firſt properly examined, by a Woman I found it neceſſary to procure for this Purpoſe.

" I have, agreeable to your Deſire, explained the Contents of your Letter to the Priſoners Bar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, as likewiſe the Account; in anſwer to which they have requeſted me to inform you, that it will be entirely out of their Power to tranſmit Caſh in the room of the Jewels already ſent, but that, when the Jewels may be ſold, and a Balance ſtruck of any Deficiency ariſing from the Sale, they will, in the Courſe of a few Days, if permitted to go about among their Frends, make up this Deficiency.

" They poſitively deny having any Hand in the Commotions raiſed by Bulbudder, or that they carrry on any Kind of Correſpondence, or have any Intercourſe with him or his Adherents; ſo far from it, they have deſired me to acquaint you, it is their ſincere Wiſh he was either taken or deſtroyed."

Then CAPTAIN LEONARD JAQUES was called in, and cross examined by the Counsel for the Defendant, as follows:

Q. (Cross examined.) You have stated that the Begum's Ministers, during the Time of their Confinement, were attended by 40 or 50 Servants. In what Place were they confined?

A. They were confined in Bahar Ally Khan's House.

Q. Whether that was not a spacious and elegant Palace, surrounded with a Garden of Seven or Eight Acres: Or what sort of a House was it?

A. It was not very elegant, but very commodious, as the Houses are made in Indostan. The Garden, I presume, might be about Forty Yards Square; then there were Out-gardens from that again, and Out-offices.

Q. What was the Amount of all the Gardens that belong to that House?

A. I must confess I never attended to any Thing, but sheerly to the Place where the Prisoners were confined, and there was a Place where their Victuals were dressed; and for other Purposes, they had several Houses.

Q. Was that House, in which they were confined, the ordinary Place of Bahar Ali Khan's Residence?

A. I was told it was; that it was a House he inhabited before he was confined.

Q. Whether any Restraint was put upon their Diet, or whether they had not a Table suitable to their Rank and Station?

A. During my Abode at Fyzabad there was nothing of the Kind; they were entirely at Liberty for their Servants to bring their Victuals, and they might have it as they pleased.

Q. Were they allowed to see Visitors?

A. Hoolas Roy was left by Major Naylor, to make me acquainted with any Persons that were improper to speak to them; but I do not recollect any one presenting themselves, to have Conversation with them, that ever was refused.

Q. Whether you recollect any Instance of their having their usual Amusements, Dancing, or any Thing of that Kind, while they were in Confinement?

A. They never had any Thing of the Kind while I was there.

Q. They were in Irons?

A. Some Time they were.

Q. Were they in Irons, or not, at the Time you were there?

A. I deposed, the last Time I was here, that I was ordered by the Resident to put them in Irons.

Q. Were they in Irons, or not?

A. They were in Irons.

Q. During the whole Time they were under your Charge, I have understood, hitherto, they were in Irons?

(a) Vide Appendix, Nº LXXXIV.

A. I was ordered to put them in Irons; I did ſo; and they continued in Irons the whole Time, till I delivered them over to Major Gilpin.

Q. Were they allowed to ſee any Body, and entertain them with Balls; were Dances exhibited before them?

A. I do not recollect whether they ever deſired to ſee any Thing of the Kind; there never was any Thing of the Kind; no Dancing.

Q. Were they, or were they not, in Irons, during the whole Time you had them in Charge?

A. They were not: I believe I might be a Month or Six Weeks, I cannot aſcertain exactly, before I received the Orders for putting them in Irons.

Q. How long had you Charge of them in all?

A. I arrived there upon the 8th of February 1782, and took Charge of them and the Kella: And afterwards Major Gilpin took the Command, in conſequence of being the ſenior Officer; I believe it was on the Firſt of June following, or within a few Days of Four Months.

Q. So that for the Firſt Six Weeks they were not in Irons?

A. I cannot exactly ſay, but it was after I marched there. I believe the Reaſon of their being ordered to be put in Irons was, in conſequence of their not having made good a written Agreement for paying a Balance of 12 Lacks out of the 55 Lacks; I believe it was in conſequence of that, I was ordered to put them in Irons.

Q. Whether, excluſive of the Circumſtance of their being confined to the Limits of the Houſe of Bahar Ali Khan, and Irons being put upon them, during Part of the Time you had them in Charge, they endured any other Hardſhip?

A. The Garden, which I obſerved was 30 or 40 Yards ſquare, they had the Liberty of walking round; and there were no other Hardſhips, as I have already declared, uſed towards them, whilſt I had the Charge of them, that I can charge my Memory with.

Q. Who had the Charge, or Superintendance of the Khourd Mahl, during the Time you was employed in this Service?

A. Lutaffit Ali Khan.

Q. Who was he employed by, do you know?

A. I underſtood he was employed immediately under the Nabob; and the laſt Day I was here, I depoſed that Mr. Middleton or Mr. Johnſon told me, we had nothing and could have nothing to do with them, it being a particular Buſineſs of the Nabob that the Engliſh could not interfere with.

Q. What was the Condition or the Situation of the People who reſided within the Khourd Mahl?

A. A little Time before Major Gilpin took the Command, the People got upon the Tops of the Houſes, and complained, and made a terrible Noiſe, ſignifying they were in great Diſtreſs for Want of Proviſions; that they had diſpoſed of the beſt Part of their Neceſſaries, and were then in a ſtarving Condition.

Q. The Queſtion is, what was the Deſcription of the People who were in the Khourd Mahl, of what Rank were they?

A. I always underſtood thoſe were the Nabob's Concubines; and that there were ſome of them who had had Children, and that they were alſo with them.—As to any Thing further it is entirely by Report; I can know nothing of that, for I never ſaw any of them.

Q. Did you underſtand they were Perſons of Rank, or Perſons of low Condition?

A. I have heard it ſaid, but it is ſheerly Hearſay, that Sujah Dowlah, when he was going any where, if he ſaw any Perſon that he thought was One he would wiſh for, his Servants were employed, and ſhe was brought to this Place where they were put. As to Rank, whether high or low, I can ſay nothing about it.

Q. Was there a Difference between the Rank and Eſtimation in which the Perſons who inhabited the Zenana were held, and thoſe who inhabited the Khourd Mahl?

A. They are both called Zenanas; One is where the married Princeſſes reſide, and the other is where the Concubines reſide.

Q. Conſequently they were in a different Eſtimation?

A. Clearly.

Q. One you conſidered in a ſuperior Light, as a Part of the Family, and the other in an inferior Light?

A. Yes, ſurely; quite ſo.

Q. By whom, or from what Fund, was the Expence of this Khourd Mahl defrayed?

A. I underſtood, both from the Reſident and from Lutaffit Ally Khan, there was a Diſtrict aſſigned for the Maintenance of the Khourd Mahl; and the Perſon who had the Management of that was backward in his Payments; and I was always given to underſtand, the Fault was entirely his, or elſe the Nabob's, for not compelling him to fulfil his Duty.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether the Begums had any Thing to do with ſupplying the Maintenance of the Khourd Mahl?

A. Really I cannot pretend to ſay; but I never heard that they did.

Q. Whether the Britiſh Reſident, or the Commander of the Troops at Fyzabad, or any other Britiſh Subjects, ever exerciſed any Interference in, or Controul over, the Khourd Mahl?

A. I have already depoſed, that the Reſident had wrote to me that the Engliſh could not interfere, directly or indirectly, with any Concern of theirs: and I never heard of their doing ſo, further than that Major Gilpin had prevailed upon the Reſident to let him advance Lutaffit Ali Khan ſome Money for their Support.

Q. Whether the Women of the Khourd Mahl were not permitted to paſs and repaſs freely from the Khourd Mahl at the Time the Guards were ſtationed near it?

A. I have already depoſed, that I hired a Woman for the Purpoſe of examining the Doolies, to ſee whether Valuables were carried out; I had no Kind of Right to ſtop them one Way or the other, any further than if they carried out Valuables.

Q. Was that Examination exerciſed over thoſe who paſſed backwards and forwards from the Khourd Mahl, as well as from the Zenana?

A. It was over all; all the Doolies were examined, to ſee if they were carrying Gold or Silver, or Valuables, out: If they were not, they were ſuffered to go.

Q. In what Building were the People kept that belonged to the Khourd Mahl?

A. It was called the Khourd Mahl.

Q. Where was it ſituated; in the ſame Place as the Zenana?

A. It was upon the left Side of the Gardens, of the Gate —— I have forgot the Name of the Gate now.

Q. Was it within the ſame Gardens?

A. On One Side of the Gardens, going from the principal Gate that went to the Kella; they were on the Left Side, and the Coſs Mahl, where the Begums reſided, was upon the Right Hand Side.

Q. So they were both in the ſame Gardens?

A. Yes, on different Sides.

Q. And the very ſame Care was taken of the Doolies, whether they went from one Place or from the other?

A. Yes, they were examined before they went out; there was a large Garden between the Two Mahls, or Two Zenanas; it was a large Place; that which was called The Palace, is a Place, I ſuppoſe, not leſs than 700 or 800 Yards one Way, and, I ſuppoſe, 400 or 500 Yards the other Way; with a large Mud Rampart round it.

Q. You ſay, the ſame Care was obſerved with reſpect to the Doolies, whether they came from the one Place or the other?

A. Yes.

Q. If a Dooly is not a cloſe covered Carriage of ſome Sort?

A. It is a Conveyance, made ſomething like a very ſmall Bedſtead, not long enough to lay extended upon, but to ſit upon; I mean the common Dooly; and it is carried with a great Stick, by Two Men before and Two Men behind, ſomething in the Manner of our Chairs, only it is carried on Mens Shoulders, with a Cloth covered over, to prevent the People within from being ſeen.

Q. A ſmall covered Chair?

A. Yes, ſomething in the Nature of a ſmall oblong Bedſtead, rather longer one Way than the other.

Q. But covered, and cloſed up?

A. Yes.

Q. Whether the ſole Purpoſe of placing the Guards round the Zenana, was not to prevent the Treaſures of the Begums from being carried away: What were your Inſtructions upon that Subject?

A. The Tenor of my Inſtructions was, to keep the Three Priſoners, Bahar, and Jewar Alli, and Sumſhire Cawn, and alſo to guard againſt the Treaſures being taken out of the Zenana, out of the Palace.

Q. Whether the placing thoſe Guards round the Zenana in any Manner cauſed or contributed to the Diſtreſſes of the Khourd Mahal?

A. I cannot conceive they could in the leaſt.

Q. Whether the Begums ever ſent the Women of the Khourd Mahl any Relief during their Diſtreſſes, or any Meſſages to you reſpecting them, while you were in the Command at Fyzabad?

A. What they might ſend it is impoſſible for me to know; they might ſend unknown to me; I never prevented People going in or out.

Q. Did

Q. Did they ever ſend you any Meſſage about it?
A. I do not recollect they did.

Q. Whether the Begums were, by the Seizure of their Treaſure, from the beſt Information you have upon the Subject, reduced to a State of great Poverty and Diſtreſs; or whether they afterwards continued to live in great Splendour and Affluence?

A. The Begums were in the ſame Situation before I went, as they were at the Time that I reſigned the Charge to Major Gilpin. As to how they were ſituated, it was impoſſible for me to know, as no Europeans ever had an Opportunity of ſeeing them; nor any other Man, except their Fathers, Brothers, and Huſbands. As to their Situation, I cannot aſcertain further than this;—I have no Reaſon to think they were in Want, except from their refuſing to make good the Payment; and I really was inclined to think, they could have paid it if they choſe.

Q. But what Eſtabliſhment, or Servants, had the Begums before you took Charge of the Palace?

A. What Servants the Begums had, I cannot pretend to ſay, that were in the Palace; without the Walls, there was a very great Number about them; but the Number it is impoſſible to aſcertain.

Q. Whether, as to all external Marks of State and Splendor, they were different from what they were before: Can you deſcribe what their Marks of Splendor were, from the Manner of living of the Begums, when you had the Charge of them?

A. They had Numbers of armed Men at their Gates, I ſaw, as I rode by the Begums Houſe.

Q. What the Nature of the Eſtabliſhment was within, you never had an Opportunity of knowing?

A. I had not.

Q. You do not know whether there were Forty Servants or more; or whether there were great Rooms or not?

A. There muſt have been a great many more than Forty; I cannot ſay how many: I had no Opportunity of knowing further than what I ſaw at the Gate.

Q. What Number of armed Men were thoſe you obſerved upon the Outſide of the Palace?

A. I really cannot aſcertain the Number; I have ſeen a very great Number at one particular Time.

Q. Were they placed in the Manner of Guards?

A. They were placed at the Gates; and would oppoſe any Perſon offering to go in, that was not agreeable to them?

Q. What Names did they go by?

A. By the Names of Peons, Spear-men, and Matchlock Men.

Q. Were there any Nudjeebs amongſt them?

A. I underſtood always, thoſe Matchlock Men were of that Quality; they bore Matchlocks, which are Guns fired with Matches.

Q. Whether a Report did not prevail among the principal Black People of Fyzabad, that the Begums and their Eunuchs had given Signs of Diſaffection during the Diſturbances at Benares?

A. I have heard thoſe Things reported by ſome of the Black People.

Q. Do you know Hoolas Roy?

A. Hoolas Roy was a Man left by Major Naylor to conduct the Buſineſs with the Priſoners.

Q. What has Hoolas Roy, himſelf, ſaid to you upon the Subject?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Queſtion.

Q. Whether Hoolas Roy was not one of the Perſons who circulated that Report which was ſaid to be general?

A. I cannot ſay who circulated the Report. I have heard Hoolas Roy mention a Circumſtance, which was corroborated by a Letter ſent to me by the Reſident, that there had been Letters intercepted between the Begums Miniſters and Cheit Sing; but how far this was the Caſe, I cannot pretend to ſay.

Q. Whether you ever underſtood from Hoolas Roy that he had in Fact ever made an Affidavit?

A. I never heard a Thing of the Kind drop from his Mouth, that I recollect.

Q. Whether, while you was at Fyzabad, you ever wrote to Mr. Haſtings, or tranſmitted any Letter to Mr. Haſtings from the Begums or their Miniſters?

A. I never did that I recollect; and I certainly ſhould have recollected it, if I had done any Thing of the Kind.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether, in all the Tranſactions at Fyzabad, you did not act entirely under the Orders of Mr. Middleton or Mr. Johnſon, or of the Military Commander, and not in conſequence of Orders received from the Governor General and Council at Calcutta, or the Governor General himſelf?

A. My Orders were immediately from the Reſident at Lucknow; whoever was Reſident, I underſtood I was to receive my Orders from him, and from no other Perſon: The commanding Officer, to whom I was to report, was alſo to receive Orders from the Reſident.

Q. I underſtood you before, that you had made your Reports, with reſpect to the Priſoners, to Mr. Johnſon and Mr. Middleton.

A. I did: They were the Two Perſons from whom I received my Orders.

Q. Becauſe you are now underſtood to ſay, you made all your Reports to your own Military Officer?

A. No: Only of the Detail of my Corps; the others I made to the Reſident.

Q. It having been ſuggeſted that Shumſhire Cawn was taken into Cuſtody for a ſhort Time, and then enlarged, and that he was not in your Cuſtody; did not Shumſhire Cawn continue in your Charge during the whole Time the Two other Priſoners were continued under your Charge, till they were turned over to Major Gilpin?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection, I received him from Major Naylor, and I delivered him over to Major Gilpin.

Q. Did you not keep him in Cuſtody the whole Time?

A. The Whole of the Time, I believe.

Q. Do you remember any Drought in the Country of Oude, or any other Part of India, in 1779, or 1780, 1781, or 1782? Was you, during thoſe Four Years, in the Country?

A. I was.

Q. Do you remember, in any of the Seaſons of thoſe Four Years, a remarkable Drought there?

A. Really I cannot anſwer exactly as to that; I recollect going to Fyzabad in 1782; it was by no Means in ſo flouriſhing a Condition as it was when I was there in 1773.

Q. Was that Decay which you obſerved in 1782, attributed to any remarkable Drought, a Defect of the Seaſon, or to what other Cauſe?

A. I cannot charge myſelf to anſwer that Queſtion.

Q. You underſtand the Word Drought?

A. I underſtand the Word very well; but I cannot charge my Memory with it.

Q. What Sort of a Decay was it? Were there fewer Houſes?

A. I obſerved it was not ſo well tilled, ſo rich, or flouriſhing; but from what Cauſe it was, I cannot pretend to ſay: The Tillage moſtly there, is Water drawn from the Wells, except cloſe to the Banks of the River.

Q. Did you obſerve whether the Want of Tillage was occaſioned by the Want of Hands and Labourers, or by the Want of Wells and Canals, where it was not carried from the Banks of the River?

A. I really cannot pretend to ſay, whether it was Want of Hands, or not; the Country ſeemed to be well filled with People, as I marched.

Q. Do you know any Thing of any regular Eſtabliſhment of the Nabob's Cavalry?

A. I do not.

Q. (by a Lord.) When you relieved Major Naylor, whether you received any other Inſtructions than thoſe, to take the Charge of the different Buildings or Encloſures of the Zenana and Khourd Mahl; becauſe it is mentioned, in a Letter from you to the Reſident, that you deſired an Allowance of Money for providing Ammunition; and, I think, it is ſaid upon Account of Inſtructions you received: What other Inſtructions did you receive from Major Naylor, when you ſucceeded to that Command?

A. Major Naylor delivered up the Charge of the Priſoners; I was ordered to take Charge of the Palace, and to ſupply the Guards that I relieved, which had been placed there by Major Naylor; and I was to receive further Inſtructions from Mr. Briſtow, as I obſerved before, regarding thoſe other Charges; my Battalion was then newly divided, it was one Battalion formerly, and at the Time I took the Command it was divided into Two; there were then about 700, but in conſequence of the Diviſion they were raiſed to a Thouſand Rank and File; the beſt Part of my People were Recruits. I had not above 50 or 60 Men that I conceived had ever fired; it was in conſequence of this I required the Ammunition.

Q. Whether you know there was any other Order than thoſe for the Care of the Zenana; can you explain why you put your Battalion into any particular Order, in conſequence of the Inſtructions you received from Major Naylor?

A. In the Letters I wrote to the Reſident, I believe I mentioned every Particular.

Q. (by

Q. (by the Managers.) You have ſtated, that you never prevented any of the Women from leaving the Zenana; that they were not confined; that any Perſon that choſe it might come out, only being ſearched, to prevent their taking out Valuables. Explain this Letter of the 21ſt February 1782.

" To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" Encloſed, I beg leave to tranſmit you a Chit ſent to me by Lattafit Ally Khawn, Head Durogah of the Kourd Mhal, who has repreſented to me that a Number of Women who went into the Zenanah to ſee their Relations, are ready to lie-in, and wiſh to come out of the Zenanah for that Purpoſe. He has applied to me to order their Releaſe; but as I do not think I am authoriſed ſo to do, from the Nature of the Inſtructions received by me from Major Naylor, I requeſt your Inſtructions, how I am to act.

" I have the Honour to be,

" Palace, Fyzabad, Sir,

February 21ſt 1782. Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

(Signed) Leo^d Jaques, Captain
2d. Batt. 20th Reg. Sepoys." (a)

By this Letter, it ſeems as if it was impoſſible for a Woman with Child to come out of the Zenana, without a particular Licence given.—Do you recollect how that is?

A. Immediately upon my going there, I was not quite ſo well acquainted with the Reſident's Wiſhes as I was afterwards; of Courſe, as to thoſe Points I was not thoroughly acquainted with, I took the earlieſt Opportunity of informing myſelf. Lettaffit Ali Cawn knew that the Doolies were examined, and moſt probably he did not wiſh that ſome of thoſe People ſhould be examined.

Q. Whether you received any Anſwer to that Letter, authoriſing you to let Perſons go in and out, and thoſe People in particular?

A. I really conceive I muſt have received a Letter in Anſwer to that; but the Spirit of my Orders was ſtrictly to prevent Treaſure and Valuables coming out: I had no Orders to keep any Body from coming out, except they were carrying Valuables.

Q. Then you now ſtate, that all the Friends of the Priſoners were allowed to have free Intercourſe?

A. If you pleaſe, I will mention one Thing that will ſet that Matter right; whoever Hoolas Roy ſaid might come in, I was authoriſed to admit.

Q. By a Liſt, or by Directions from Hoolas Roy?

A. I had no Liſt: Hoolas Roy was a Perſon left with me to direct who ſhould, and who ſhould not go in.

Q. Therefore the Liberty you mean was, a Liberty for all whom Hoolas Roy did not forbid?

A. Yes.

Q. When any Perſon applied to come in, were they ever permitted to go, without previous Application to Hoolas Roy, to know whether it was proper?

A. There were none refuſed, except they appeared to be improper Perſons to be admitted; there were many People went in and out.

Q. What was that Appearance which made you determine them to be improper Perſons?

A. If there had been any armed Men, I ſhould not have ſuffered them to go in, without conſulting Hoolas Roy; if there had been any other great Men, as I had generally People about me who had a tolerable Knowledge of the People belonging to that Place, if there had been any that ſeemed to be of high Rank and Condition, I ſhould not have admitted them, without having conſulted Hoolas Roy, whether it was proper for them to go in or not.

Q. Did he permit Letters to paſs to and from thoſe Perſons?

A. Not Letters: I ſtopped all Letters.

Q. All Letters?

A. Yes, all Letters that appeared to be of a ſuſpicious Nature.

Q. What were the Things that determined your Judgement of the Letters that were ſtopped?

A. I had a Moonſhy to read them.

Q. To read the Inſide of the Letters, as well as the Directions without?

A. To read ſufficient.

Q. To open them?

A. There are many Letters that come within an outſide Paper, ſealed, and you may eaſily draw out the Letter without breaking the Seal.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 855.

Q. Suppoſe

Q. Suppoſe a Letter had appeared to you doubtful, ſhould you have gone to Hoolas Roy about that? Did you ever apply to Hoolas Roy to know, whether you ſhould deliver any Letters that were brought there or not?

A. I believe I very often did. There was one Thing I would wiſh to mention; there were many Letters, and little Notes, on trifling Subjects, coming from one Merchant to another, and from one Servant to another; thoſe Things we were able ſufficiently to underſtand, without the Trouble of opening them.

Q. Without the Trouble of opening them?

A. Many that the People knew what might be in them.—Nothing that would militate againſt my Inſtructions.

Q. Have you a Copy of the Inſtructions that were given you?

A. I really do not know that I have any Copy of them.

Then the following Letter was read from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book A, already delivered in, beginning at Page 100 of the ſame Book.

" To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" Encloſed I beg leave to tranſmit you a Letter from the Two Priſoners, Bar Ally Khawn, and Jewar Ally Khawn, in Anſwer to One they received from you this Morning, which they would have not received had I not known it was from you, conceiving it was contrary to my Inſtructions, which are to prevent their having any Intercourſe with their Adherents.

" I have the Honour to be,

Sir,

Your moſt obedient,

humble Servant,

" Palace, Fyzabad,
February 22d 1782.

(Signed) Leo^d Jaques, Capt^n
2^d Batt^n 20^th Reg^t of Sepoys." (a)

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. What Anſwer did you receive to this Application to Mr. Johnſon?

A. I was directed in it to admit none but thoſe that Hoolas Roy approved of; I believe that was the Anſwer.

Q. Have you that Anſwer?

A. I believe I have nothing of the Kind.

Then the following Extract of a Letter from the Witneſs to Mr. Middleton, dated Fyzabad, 23d April 1782, was read from Book A, already delivered in, beginning at Page 165 of the ſame.

" Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

" Sir,

" Allow me the Honour of informing you, that the Place, the Priſoners Bar Ally Cawn, and Jewar Ally Cawn are confined in, is become ſo very unhealthy from the Number obliged to be on Duty in ſo confined a Place, at this hot Seaſon of the Year, and ſo ſituated that no Reduction can with Propriety be made from their Guard, it being at ſuch a Diſtance from the Battalion.

" I ſhall be glad of your Permiſſion to remove them to a Houſe more contiguous to the Battalion Lines, and where they will be in more Security, with One Third of the Number, than they are at preſent. (b)

(Signed at the End) " Leonard Jaques, Captain commanding at Fyzabad."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs.

Q. You have ſtated that the Priſoners were not treated with any Degree of Severity; do you remember whether you received any Anſwer to that Application?

A. I do.

Q. What was that?

A. To remove them.

Q. Where did you remove them to?

A. I removed them to Jewar Ali Cawn's Houſe; a very elegant commodious Houſe, lately built, cloſe by where I reſided myſelf, and where the Battalion was.

Q. Where was the unhealthy Place you removed them from?

A. Bahar Ali Cawn's Houſe.

Q. You have appeared to ſay, that no Severity or Hardſhips were uſed towards thoſe Priſoners; explain this Paſſage in Mr. Middleton's Letter of the 22d of May 1782, to you, toward the latter

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 855.

(b) Vide ſupra, Page 856.

End of their Confinement: "I am ſorry it is not in my Power to comply with your Propoſal of eaſing the Priſoners for a few Days, of their Fetters.—Much as my Humanity may be touched by their Sufferings, I ſhould think it inexpedient to afford them any Alleviation, while they perſiſt in a Breach of their Contract with me." (a) When Mr. Middleton expreſſes his Humanity ſo touched with their Sufferings, to what could he allude, if the Priſoners never ſuffered any Hardſhips of any Sort?

A. I have already repeated ſeveral Times, that I was ordered to put them in Irons; this you have been ſufficiently acquainted with, I preſume; and, except thoſe Particulars, I know of no Severities that were uſed towards them. I take it, that was an Application upon Account of their Sickneſs.

Q. You have talked of a ſpacious Garden which the Priſoners had the Uſe of. You ſay, in your Letter of the 18th May 1782, to Mr. Middleton, that "The Priſoners Bar and Jewar Ally Khawn, who ſeem to be very ſickly, have requeſted their Irons might be taken off for a few Days, that they might take Medicine, and walk about the Garden of the Place where they are confined, to aſſiſt the Medicine in its Operation. Now, as I am ſure they would be equally as ſecure without their Irons as with them, I think it my Duty to inform you of this Requeſt, and deſire to know your Pleaſure concerning it." (a) Did you receive any Anſwer to that Letter?

A. I did.

Q. Do you know where it is?

A. The Anſwer has, I believe, been read.

Q. Whether you ever had any Complaint of Hoolaſs Roy of his ill-uſing and beating the Servants of Bahar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn?

A. There is a Circumſtance, with reſpect to the Behaviour of Hoolas Roy, that your Lordſhips may not think ſo well to go into; it is of ſome Length; it was reſpecting the Gunge, or Market, that they had the Profit of, that Hoolas Roy had interfered in a Manner I thought was not right.

Q. The ſingle Queſtion now put is, whether you recollect any Inſtance of ill Treatment inflicted by Hoolas Roy, upon the Servants of Bahar or Jewar Ali Cawn?

A. I did not conceive it to be of beating the Servants of Bahar and Jewar Ali Cawn; there was ſomething, whether it went the Length of beating I cannot ſay: It was not within the Palace, but within the Walls of Fyzabad.

Then the following Extract of a Letter from Capt. Leonard Jaques, dated, Fyzabad, 30th May 1782, and addreſſed to Nath. Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court, was read.

"To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Vizier's Court.

"Sir,

"I have deſired Lieutenant Gawen to ſend you in his Bill, for the Expence he has been at during his Command, in which ſome Repairs to the Gun will be included; and, immediately on Major Gilpin's Arrival, I ſhall ſend you in my Bill, for every contingent Expence I have been at ſince the Firſt of April laſt. Agreeable to your Deſire, I now beg Leave to inform you of the Particulars of Hoolaſs Roy's Behaviour to me, and which are as follows: Soubah, who had been Chowdry of Begum Gunge upwards of Fifteen Years, and diſplaced by Hoolaſs Roy, came to complain, that his Mother, and ſome of his Servants, had been beat and abuſed by Hoolaſs Roy's Servants; acquainting me at the ſame Time, that their Reaſon for ſo doing, was his being much liked by the black People, who did not behave to the new Man ſo well as they had done to him; and that this occaſioned Hoolaſs Roy to ſuppoſe him acceſſary thereto. Hoolaſs Roy happening to be with me a Day or Two after, I aſked him about it; when he got very warm, obſerving, he did not expect, when he came to me, that he was to be queſtioned about every Complaint that might be preferred, and that he would write to you on the Occaſion. His Behaviour, in ſhort, was ſuch, as induced me to enquire, very minutely, into the Matter; when I found, that what the Chowdry told me, was very true, and that he had been very ill uſed by Hoolaſs Roy. In conſequence of this, I aſked Jerrour Sing (under whom the Gunge was, that this Man had been Chowdry to ſo many Years) about the Man: He told me, he was a good Man, and that his Father was then in his Employ, and that he gladly would replace him; which he did. Howlaſs Roy, nettled, I doubt not, at this, in a Day or Two after, meeting, at different Times, my Orderlies and Hircarrahs, thought proper to queſtion them about the Buſineſs I had ſent them upon, though entirely foreign to any Concern of his; and uſed threatening Language to one or two who happened to be near his Houſe of Abode. His Reaſons for ſo doing I cannot tell; but ſhall enquire, if you approve thereof.

"I have the Honour to be, Sir,

"Fyzabad, May 30, 1782. your moſt obedient humble Servant,
(Signed) Leonard Jaques,
Captain commanding at Fyzabad."

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 857.

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. You have ſtated, That, in conſequence of your Orders, you examined the Doolies that came from the Khourd Mahl; Whether you did not know that the Women confined in the Khourd Mahl, had ſome Property and Valuables of their own?

A. I do conceive they muſt have had ſomething: I can give very little Information with reſpect to what they had. I have already depoſed, that Letaffit Ali Cawn complained they had ſold almoſt every Thing that they had; and that they alſo called out from the Tops of the Houſes, they were in a ſtarving Condition.

Q. What Inſtructions or Means had you to diſtinguiſh any Goods and Valuables, carried out of the Khourd Mahl, whether they were the Property of the Begums, or of the Women of the Khourd Mahl, or of the Viſitors in the Zenana?

A. I ſhould have ſtopped Valuables, let them belong to whom they would, till I had had Mr. Middleton's further Inſtructions about them.

Q. Have you heard whether the Nabob had any Claims under the Mahommedan Law to the Property of thoſe Women of the Khourd Mahl, or to their Effects of any Sort?

A. I always underſtood, but it is ſheerly from Hearſay, that they were altogether the Nabob's Treaſures.

Q. Was you informed of any Ground or Reaſon for ſeizing the Property of the Khourd Mahl, or was any ſeized that you know of, or heard of?

A. I never found any Thing that I had Occaſion to ſtop from the Khourd Mahl.

Q. Do you know of any Body having ſtopped or ſeized any Thing, Treaſures or what elſe, from the Khourd Mahl?

A. I do not.

Q. You never ſtopped any Valuables; do I underſtand you right?

A. I never heard of any Thing found in the Khourd Mahl that was ſeized.

Q. Did you ever ſtop any Thing that came from the Khourd Mahl?

A. I do not recollect that I did; nor do I recollect ſtopping any Thing from the Coſs Mahl; for they knew my Orders pretty well, and took care accordingly.

Q. Was it frequent to ſtop the Doolies?

A. I believe, ſcarcely a Day paſſed without.—I beg to offer one Obſervation: From the Time of my writing the Letter to Mr. Middleton, till I had his Anſwer, there were no Doolies allowed to go out till I received his Inſtructions; till he choſe to pay me the Bill; I did not chuſe to pay thoſe Women any longer to examine them, till he agreed to pay my Bill.

Q. How long was that Period?

A. I ſuppoſe, about Three or Four Days.

Q. Whether you ever ſaw or heard of any Treaty with Mr. Middleton, by which the Maintenance of the Women in the Khourd Mahl was guaranteed to them by the Engliſh?

A. I have depoſed, that I was written to by Mr. Middleton or Mr. Johnſon, telling me, we could have nothing to do with the Women of the Khourd Mahl, either directly or indirectly, regarding their Maintenance.

Q. Whether you heard that the Aſſignments made for the Maintenance of theſe Women were punctually applied to that Purpoſe?

A. I have already depoſed they were not; but where the Fault lay, except between the Nabob and Collector, I do not know.

Q. Do you know the Lands out of which thoſe Aſſignments were payable?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know whether they ever were ſeized by Order of Mr. Middleton?

A. I do not.

Then the following Extract of a Letter from Major Gilpin to Mr. Johnſon, dated the 4th of July 1782, was read.

"If nothing elſe will do, Recourſe muſt be had, for which I have the Sanction, to putting a Guard upon the Palace Gates of the Elder Begum, and ſtraitening the entering of Proviſions for a Day or Two."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether any ſuch Orders were given as theſe?

A. I cannot charge my Memory with any Thing of the Kind.

Q. How came your Battalion to be reduced in the Manner you have deſcribed?

A. I ſhould have told you in about Five Minutes, if I had gone on with my Evidence. My Battalion had been Part of a Battalion of 700 Men; it was augmented, in conſequence of the Diviſion which took place, to 1000, and there were 500 to each Battalion. There were a Number of Recruits; I had not above Fifty of the old Sepoys in my Battalion.—

Q. How came they to be reduced to Fifty?

A. In conſequence of the Draughts from the Battalion, before they were formed into a Regiment, moſt of the old Sepoys had been taken away: and in the latter End of 1780, or the Beginning of 1781, it was found neceſſary to augment the Eſtabliſhment of the Army; and that which had been a Battalion of Sepoys before, was augmented to a Regiment conſiſting of Two Battalions; a great many of the old Sepoys were continually draughted to other Places, and there were a great many new Sepoys at this Place.

Q. In 1780, or 1781, you ſay there was a general Augmentation of the Army; and between that and 1782, many Draughts had been made from that Battalion ſo augmented, by which Means your Battalion was reduced—Is it ſo?

A. Yes; and in conſequence of Major Naylor having been very particular and careful, with Twice the Number of Men, and Two Guns, I concluded it my Duty to take every poſſible Means I could to get my Battalion into a defenſive Situation. I found a great deal of Powder and Lead there; and I converted the Lead into Balls, and made up Cartridges, and practiſed my Men. This is the Circumſtance I alluded to and mentioned in my Letter to Mr. Middleton, and which I thought neceſſary to have refunded.

Q. How came your Battalion to be compoſed of Recruits ſo undiſciplined?

A. The Draught had been made before the Battalion was made into a Regiment.

Q. (Croſs-examined.) Whether the Object of this Examination and Search of the Doolies was not the Detection of the Begum's Treaſure only, and not applied to the Khourd Mahl?

A. That I believe was the Object.

Q. What do you mean by the Admiſſion of proper, and the Excluſion of improper Perſons; is it with Reference to Reſcue of the Perſons under Confinement; by improper Perſons, do you only mean thoſe that would have made a Danger of a Reſcue, or do you mean any other Deſcription of Perſons whatever?

A. Thoſe that would have been dangerous in point of Reſcue, I conceived to be the moſt particular, which I ſhould attend to; but upon many other Occaſions there might be ſuch People as it might have been improper for them to conſult with.

Q. You have ſaid already, you thought you ſhould not admit any Body of Rank or Conſideration, till you had firſt of all conſulted Hoolas Roy; was that the Idea you entertained?

A. That was my Idea, and agreeable to my Inſtructions.

Q. How long did the Priſoners remain at Bahar Ali Cawn's Houſe, before they were removed to Jewar's, which was the more commodious and better Reſidence?

A. I really cannot tell; I believe it was Eight or Nine Weeks, or a little more. The Letters will aſcertain it.

Q. What was the Extent of the Garden in Jewar Ali Cawn's Houſe?

A. There were two or three Gardens, all of which opened into each other. I ſuppoſe the Length of the Gardens might extend to ſixty or ſeventy Yards, and they might be about thirty Yards deep.

Q. Do you mean all the Gardens together?

A. I reckon them all together.

Q. Whether they were, in Fact, prevented from walking about the Gardens of Jewar Ali Cawn's Houſe?

A. They were not prevented walking about with their Irons on; but I could not take their Irons off, in Conſequence of the Application.

Q. What were the Weight of their Irons?

A. I ſuppoſe they might be about Two Pounds; they were made faſt with Couplets; they could not ſtep above a Foot at a Time; they could not make a Pace of above a Foot.

Q. Do you know the Irons that are uſed in the Priſons in England; were they like thoſe?

A. I cannot charge my Memory with what they are. I can deſcribe the Irons as they were.

Q. Deſcribe the Irons.

A. There was a round Ring to go round the Leg, with a Joint in it to admit the Leg, then the other Joint was brought to, and they were rivetted together; then there was a long Link to each Iron, and a Ring at the End of the Two Irons, and One Ring for the Centre, that is, Two Links and Three Rings.

Q. (from a Lord.) Whether Shumſhire Cawn was confined in the Houſe of Bahar, and alſo of Jewar Aly Cawn: was he removed from the Houſe of Bahar Ali Cawn with the other Priſoners?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection he was; I never recollect a ſeparate Place for either of the Three;

Three; they were altogether in Bahar Ali Cawn's Houſe, till they were removed to Jewar Ali Cawn's Houſe.

Q. Was Shumſhire Cawn in Irons?
A. I believe not; I think not.

Q. Recollect whether he was, or was not, in Irons.
A. I really believe not; but the Letter which is in Evidence will aſcertain it; I think Bahar and Jewar Ali Cawn were the Two I was ordered to put in Irons.

Q. Why do you think ſo? Did your Orders apply to Bahar and Jewar Ali Cawn, excluſive of Shumſhire Cawn?
A. I never conſidered Shumſhire Cawn to be of that Conſequence as Bahar and Jewar Ali Cawn; I expected I ſhould, during my Command there, have had Authority to releaſe him.

Q. Whether he was not equally capable of eſcaping, if not put in Irons?
A. I believe it would have been very difficult, it muſt have been a Miracle, for any to eſcape.

Q. Were any Means taken to prevent the Eſcape of the One, which were not taken with reſpect to the others, except the Irons?
A. None; they were all in the ſame Place.

Q. Do you underſtand that the Irons were to prevent their Eſcape, or for any other Purpoſe?
A. Severities are mentioned in the Letter.

Q. Whether Hoolas Roy had any direct Authority over the Priſoners, but ſuch as he muſt have exerciſed through you?

A. He could not have done any Thing of the Kind without my Permiſſion: They might talk to him, or he to them.

Q. But he could not conſtrain them, or inflict any Thing upon them, but through you?
A. No.

Q. Did Hoolas Roy, in Fact, refuſe Admiſſion, or admit Perſons, without a perſonal Application to you?
A. I do not believe he did; my Sepoys would not have received any Orders but from me.

Q. I underſtood the Witneſs to have ſaid, no Perſon was ever refuſed: I underſtand him now to have ſaid, he does not imagine Hoolas Roy would have done ſo, without applying to him; but that the Sepoys might have admitted them without perſonal Application to him?
A. No, they would not.

Q. Not without applying to you?
A. There was a Subaltern Officer that mounted Guard, with ſuch a Number of Sepoys, in the Houſe with him.

Q. Do you underſtand that any Application was made to Hoolas Roy, ſo as to receive a Refuſal, without firſt coming to you?
A. I do not recollect any Applications being made that were refuſed.

Q. Whether you are quite certain that no Perſon who did apply was, in Fact, refuſed?
A. Many might apply to Hoolas Roy, and I could not be anſwerable for it; but none applied to me, that was refuſed.

Q. You ſaid, that nobody had Acceſs to the Begums, or any Means of knowing what their Treaſures were? Then what Foundation had you for ſuppoſing the Begums could have paid the whole Demand if they had been inclined to do ſo?
A. What Demand?

Q. The Demand made upon them by the Nabob of Twelve Lacks?
A. It muſt have been made through the Miniſter.

Q. The Queſtion is this; you have ſaid, you thought they could have paid that Demand if they would: Do you recollect having ſaid that?
A. Yes.

Q. Upon what Foundation did you ſay that?
A. I have always underſtood from the different black People of Fyzabad, that Bahar Ali Cawn was worth a Crore of Rupees.—Jewar Ali Cawn was looked upon to be always poor: He had expended all his Money in Building.

Q. Was that the Foundation you went upon, in ſuppoſing the Begums could have paid if they would?
A. Yes; that was One; and beſides, I have alſo underſtood that, upon the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah, there were a great many Crore of Rupees in the Zenana.

Q. In what Time could you receive Anſwers to your Letters from Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon? What Time would it take to write them and receive an Anſwer?

A. I

A. I believe in Two Days from the Night I wrote; it would arrive at Lucknow the next Night, and I ſhould have an Anſwer the Night following, I believe.

Q. What Length of Time would the Communication take up between you and them, if you thought fit to conſult the Governor General and Council at Calcutta, and to receive an Anſwer at Fyzabad?

A. I believe, within a Month.

Q. How many Miles had you marched from your Station to reach Fyzabad in the Country of Oude?

A. I was at Lucknow then.

Q. Then, did you obſerve any Symptom of Rebellion during your March from Lucknow to Fyzabad?

A. No; I did not obſerve any Thing of the Kind from Lucknow to Fyzabad. We had marched from Cawnpore, intending to go to the Jaghires; we were given to underſtand they were in Rebellion; but we turned off ſhort to Lucknow.

Q. To your Knowledge, had you, at any Period during your Reſidence in the Country, obſerved any Symptoms of Rebellion?

A. We were ordered with the 20th Regiment to march, I believe it was the 23d of December 1781; we were ordered to march to the Jaghires, where I underſtood they were in Rebellion, to ſuppreſs that Rebellion; and when we had got 7 or 8 Coſs from Dahnow, we received Orders to march for Lucknow. I could not doubt there was a Rebellion, otherwiſe the Regiment would not have been ordered for that Service.

Q. Whether, in obeying the Orders given you by Mr. Middleton and Mr. Johnſon, you did, or did not, conſider yourſelf as obeying the Orders of the Governor General and Council at Calcutta, and that they were acting under the Orders of the Government at Calcutta?

A. Surely I did.

Q. Did not your Guard command the Zenana, ſo as to be an effectual Confinement to the Women within it?

A. My Orders were to ſtop Valuables. Any ſingle Perſon, that choſe it, might have gone out?

Q. You cannot mean that, during the whole Time you were there, any Perſon might have gone out; becauſe you wrote a Letter, of the 23d of February, in which you ſay, you are not authoriſed to let any Women go out, of any Kind whatever, and deſire to receive Inſtructions upon that Head. Do you remember that Letter?

A. The poor People never were prevented; it was thoſe who went in Doolies that were examined.

Q. Attend to the Letter and the Period, and then ſay what you mean: The Queſtion is this: Did you mean to ſay, before the 23d of February, there was the ſame open Paſſage backwards and forwards, as there was afterwards, for the Women in Doolies?

A. As to the poor People, and low Dependants, they were never prevented; but the Women in a more eligible Situation, and Women of high Rank or Delicacy, would not go expoſed.

Q. Was the Confinement as eaſy before the 23d of February, as after?

A. If they had choſen to have gone out without Doolies, they might have gone out before.

Q. But if they choſe to go out in Doolies, they could not have gone out before that Letter of the 23d of February?

A. Any Women that were ſo indifferent about themſelves, as to go without being in Doolies, would never have been prevented either before or after; but thoſe who really did not chuſe to be ſeen by every body, could not go out before or after without being examined, becauſe Doolies, as it is in my Letter obſerved, might carry out Valuables.

Q. But the Queſtion is, Whether, without Examination, they could have gone out before the 23d of February?

A. Yes; there were many went out before: It was in Conſequence of Lettaffit Ali Cawn having applied to me for a Number of People to ſee their Friends, that I was doubtful of People having gone out, that probably it might not have been right to let go; and, that I might be cautious, and guard againſt doing any Thing improper, I applied to the Reſident, and the Reſident gave me Authority to let them go out.

Q. If I underſtand the Letter right, it implied, that nobody could go out before the 23d February 1782: You ſeem to expreſs yourſelf there as not authoriſed to let thoſe go out that wanted to go out; the Difficulty is, how you underſtood you were not authoriſed to let them out, if all might go out before the 23d February, ſubject only to that Examination?

A. In Conſequence of having been applied to by Lettaffit Ali Cawn, for thoſe Women going out, I thought it incumbent upon me to apply to the Reſident to know his Will concerning it. I applied, and they were let go out; but, before that, there were many that were let out and in in Doolies; thoſe who went in in Doolies, we never troubled ourſelves about; but, when any went out, I had them examined by the Women.

Q. You ſeem to ſay, that, under the Spirit of thoſe Orders, this Searching was confined to the Women of Rank: Whether Women, going out on Foot, could not have conveyed Gold and Jewels, and Valuables, from the Zenana, as well as thoſe that went in Doolies?

A. Surely they might; but my Orders did not lay me under the Neceſſity of ſtopping them.

Q. You did not ſtop thoſe?

A. No; I do not recollect ſuch a Thing as One being ſtopped, except thoſe who went in Doolies.

Q. If you thought they might carry Valuables, why not ſtop them, as well as thoſe that went out in Doolies?

A. If I conceived they had had any Thing about them, I ſhould have ſtopped them.

Q. Whether the Claim you made for contingent Expences was allowed, and paid you by the Reſident?

A. Yes; it was.

Q. You marched, as I underſtand, to a Place called Cawnpore; and, upon your Arrival there, inſtead of going on to ſuppreſs what is called the Rebellion in the Jaghires, you was ordered to Lucknow, and then to take your Station at Fyzabad; I wiſh to know whether it was not a falſe Alarm:—Whether you did not underſtand that the Cauſe of your March to the Jaghires being countermanded, was that it was a falſe Alarm, and that in fact there was no Rebellion?

A. The Station of our Regiment was under Colonel Morgan at Cawnpore; we marched Seven Coſs from Dalmow, from whence we had Orders from the Reſident to march to Lucknow, the Reſident and his Body Guard being gone to Fyzabad, that Lucknow might not be left without Troops.

Q. Did you not underſtand at that Time that the Diſturbance, whatever it was, was ſuppreſſed or over?

A. We did not conceive it ſuppreſſed.

Q. Did you hear of any Action or Battle afterwards at the Jaghires?

A. After the Reſident arrived from Fyzabad at Lucknow, I was ordered to march to relieve Major Naylor; the other Battalion of our Regiment was ordered to march into the Jaghires.

Q. Did you ſee Major Naylor upon your Return to Fyzabad?

A. I do not recollect his coming to Fyzabad, after he left it upon my taking the Command.

Q. Did you ſee any Officer that had been with Major Naylor in that March to the Jaghires?

A. It was Major Gilpin that marched into the Jaghires.

Q. Did you ſee Major Gilpin after that?

A. Many Times.

Q. Was this after, or before the ſeizing of the Treaſures?

A. I met 43 Lacks between Lucknow and Fyzabad.

Q. When was you ordered to march to aſſiſt in ſuppreſſing the ſuppoſed Rebellion upon the Reſumption of the Jaghires?

A. We were ordered, I obſerved before, in December, I believe the 23d, to march to the Jaghires, and we marched One Day's March beyond Dahnow; there we received Orders to ſtrike off to Lucknow; and, in conſequence of the Vizier's returning to Lucknow, and the Reſident and his Body Guard, or a Part of it, with him, I marched to relieve Major Naylor; he went to his Command further into the Country, and Major Gilpin, with the other Battalion of our Regiment, marched to the Jaghires from Lucknow, and ſtaid in the Jaghires till the Beginning of June, when he came to take the Command at Fyzabad.

Q. You ſaid, you did not conſider Shumſhire Cawn to be a Man of the Conſequence of Bahar and Jewar Ali Cawn; was any Money expected from Shumſhire Cawn?

A. I do not recollect having had any other Inſtructions regarding Shumſhire Cawn, but ſheerly to detain him a Priſoner; I do not know any particular Reaſon for his being confined.

Q. Do you know whether he had Money, or not?

A. No, I do not.

Q. You had no Orders to put him in Irons?

A. To the beſt of my Remembrance, I had none: But that will appear from the Letter.

Q. (by Counſel). What was the Amount of the contingent Bill that was paid to you?

A. Really I cannot now tell; I believe about 300, or 400, or 500 Rupees.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether any Proviſions were ever ſtopped from going into the Khourd Mahl?
A. None, that I ever heard of, or knew of.

Q. (from a Lord.) You ſay, while the Priſoners were under your Charge, they were under no Reſtraint in the Article of Diet; do you know whether they had any Difficulty in procuring Proviſions, ſuch as they wanted?
A. I do not conceive they had any.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, they ſhould now proceed to lay before the Houſe the Correſpondence between Mr. Middleton and Major Gilpin, previous to their calling Mr. Middleton upon that Subject.

Read, the following Extract of a Conſultation of the 28th July 1783, from Book 81, already delivered in, beginning at Page 206 of the ſame Book.

" Fort William, 28th July 1783.

" At a Council; Preſent,
The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident; Secret Dep. Monday.
Edward Wheler, } Eſquires.
John Stables, }
Mr. Macpherſon indiſpoſed.

" Sir, Baugulpoor, 27th January 1782.

" I have received your Letter of the 20th inſtant. I thank you for the good News which it contains, and for the Proſpect which it has afforded me of a complete and proſperous Termination of the Meaſures impending.

" I deſire that you will endeavour to diſſuade the Nabob from concluding any Settlement with the Begums, until the Board, or myſelf, have been adviſed of the Amount of the Treaſure recovered from them, and of the Balance due at the lateſt Period from the Nabob to the Company.

" I hope to receive from you a Report of the final Iſſue of this Buſineſs, and of a Sum realized and in your Poſſeſſion for our Relief, in time to ſend Advice of both, by the Packet now under Diſpatch; and I ſhall keep it open until the 7th of next Month, but no longer, for that Purpoſe.

" I am, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
" (True Copy.) Nath. Middleton. (Signed) Warren Haſtings." (a)

Read, the following Extract from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book A, already delivered in.

" To Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Court at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" Agreeable to your Inſtructions, I went to the Priſoners, Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn, accompanied by Hoolaſs Roy, who read the Papers reſpecting the Balance now due, &c. &c.

" In general Terms, they expreſſed Concern at not being able to diſcharge the ſame, without the Aſſiſtance of the Begum; and requeſted Indulgence to ſend a Meſſage to her on that Subject, and in the Evening they would give an Anſwer.

" I went at the Time appointed for the Anſwer, but did not receive a ſatisfactory one: In Conſequence of which, I deſired them to be ready, at the ſhorteſt Notice, to proceed to Lucknow; and explained to them every Particular contained in your Letter of the 1ſt inſtant reſpecting them.

" Yeſterday Morning I ſent for Lataffit Ally Cawn, and deſired him to go to the Bhow Begum, and deliver the Subſtance of my Inſtructions to her; which he did, and returned with the enclоſed Letter from her. From ſome Circumſtances which I have heard To-day, I am hopeful the Priſoners will ſoon think ſeriouſly of their Removal, and pay the Balance, rather than ſubmit themſelves to an inconvenient Journey to Lucknow.

" I have the Honour to be,
Sir,
" Fyzabad, Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
5th June 1782. (Signed) " M. Gilpin,
Major Com^d^."

Read, the following Extract from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book D, already delivered in.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XLIII.

" To Major Martin Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

" Sir,

" I have been favoured with your Letter of the 5th inſtant, informing me of the Steps you had taken in conſequence of my Inſtructions of the 1ſt, and covering a Letter from the Bhow Begum, which is ſo unſatisfactory that I cannot think of returning an Anſwer to it. Indeed, as all Correſpondence between the Begum and me has long been ſtopped, I requeſt you will be pleaſed to inform her, that I by no Means wiſh to reſume it, or to maintain any friendly Intercourſe with her, until ſhe has made good my Claim upon her for the Balance due.

" I have now, in Conformity to my former Inſtructions, to deſire that the Two Priſoners, Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn, may be immediately ſent under a ſufficient Guard to Lucknow, unleſs, upon your imparting to them this Intimation, either they or the Begum ſhould actually pay the Balance, or give you ſuch Aſſurances or Security for the Aſſets to be immediately forthcoming, as you think can be relied upon; in which Caſe you will of courſe ſuſpend the Execution of this Order———" (a)

The Counſel for the Defendant acquainted the Houſe, that underſtanding the Honourable Managers meant to have called Major Gilpin, they had not objected, as they might have done, to the above-mentioned Letters being read from the private Letter Book of Mr. Middleton; that Major Gilpin was attending, and might ſpeak to the Facts; but the Tranſcript of theſe Letters in the private Letter Book of Mr. Middleton was no Evidence; and they ſhould have interpoſed before, if the Managers had not intimated that they would call Major Gilpin.

The Managers for the Commons ſaid, they utterly denied having intimated to the Counſel that they intended to call Major Gilpin: As to the Letter Books not being Evidence; they had been admitted as Records throughout the Whole of the Proceedings upon this Article.

The Counſel for the Defendant obſerved, they had not renounced their Right to object to the Letter Books in queſtion, when, in their Diſcretion, they ſhould think fit ſo to do.

The Counſel for the Defendant being aſked what their Objection was, made Anſwer, that they objected to the Tranſcript of a Letter in Mr. Middleton's private Letter Book being read, without any Proof being given of the Exiſtence of the Original; and were heard in Support of the Objection.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Anſwer.

Then NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Eſquire was called in, and examined as follows:

Q. While you was Reſident at Lucknow, Major Gilpin was One of the Perſons employed under you at Fyzabad?
A. Yes.

Q. And he correſponded with you in the Courſe of that Employment?
A. Yes.

Q. What is become of the Letters he wrote to you in the Courſe of that Correſpondence?
A. They are in the Office at Lucknow.

Q. And that is the Place where they ought to be preſerved?
A. Yes.

Q. Are they all there?
A. I have no doubt they are all there.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw,

Then the Managers for the Commons propoſed to read a Letter from Mr. Middleton to Major Gilpin, dated Fyzabad, 9th June 1782, from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book D, already delivered in, beginning at Page 60 of the ſame Book.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that as to the Letter now propoſed to be read, there was clearly no Evidence that the Original ever exiſted; if it did,

(a) Vide infra, Page 874.

Major

Major Gilpin, who was attending, either had it in his Poſſeſſion, or could account for its Loſs.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Anſwer to this Objection.

The Houſe obſerved, that if the Objection was inſiſted upon, it muſt prevail.

Then the following Extract of a Letter from Major Gilpin, dated Fyzabad, 15th June 1782, and addreſſed to Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, was read.

" Sir,
" Indiſpoſition prevented me replying to your Letter of the 9th inſtant, ſooner.

Then the Managers for the Commons propoſed to read the Letter of 9th June 1782, referred to in the Extract laſt read.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Support of the Evidence offered.

Then it was moved, that Mr. MIDDLETON be again called in; and being called in, he was examined as follows:

Q. What was your Mode of taking Copies of your own official Letters, when you wrote to any of the Perſons belonging to the Government?
A. They were taken by Writers in the Office, into a Book kept in the Office.

Q. Were they taken before your Letter was tranſmitted, or from any Copy of that Letter?
A. In general, I imagine, they were taken from the fair Copy.—It was my Practice to make foul Draughts of the Letters I had Occaſion to write.—Sometimes it might happen the Copies were taken from the foul Draught; but in general they were taken from a fair Draught, before it was tranſmitted.

Q. Were they taken before the Letter was tranſmitted, or after?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay in all Caſes.—In ſome Caſes, no doubt, they were taken after the Letter was tranſmitted, from the foul Draught; but in general moſt certainly from the fair Copy, before it was tranſmitted.

Q. Are thoſe Letters in your Books the original Copies you made, or Copies of thoſe Copies?
A. Copies of thoſe Copies.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Managers for the Commons were further heard in Support of the Evidence offered.

The Houſe obſerved, that as yet the Paper produced had not been proved to be an authentic Copy; and the Objection being made, it was neceſſary to diſpoſe of it according to the Rules of Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons deſired Leave to retire for a few Minutes; and being returned, proteſted againſt there being any ſolid Objection to the Evidence offered; but waived their Right to produce it in preſent, to avoid a Diſcuſſion, which, if it ſhould be found material at any future Period, they ſhould hold themſelves at Liberty to enter into more fully.

MAJOR MARTIN GILPIN was then called in; and being ſworn, was examined as follows:

Q. Have you the Originals of the Correſpondence which paſſed between you and Mr. Middleton, at the Time you were ſtationed at Fyzabad?
A. I have.

Q. Where are they?
A. They are in the Country: They were authenticated in the Houſe of Commons; and I did not judge it of any Conſequence to bring them from the Country, after they had been publickly authenticated, otherwiſe I ſhould have had them here, and produced them before this Court.

The Counſel for the Defendant being aſked, whether they meant to inſiſt upon the Production of the original Letters, made Anſwer, That, if Major Gilpin had examined any Papers, which purported to be Copies of the Originals, and knew them to be true Copies, they would not interrupt the Progreſs of the Proceedings with any Delay upon that Account.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that they could ſhew the Witneſs the very ſame Book which had been ſhewn to him in the Houſe of Commons, and which, upon Inſpection, he ſaid, contained correct Copies of the Originals.

Then a printed Book was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and the following Queſtion put to him.

Q. Did you compare thoſe printed Copies with the original Letters?

A. They were ſent up to me, and I did examine them with my own Letter Book, and with the original Letters which I received from Mr. Middleton; and there was very little Alteration in any of them; indeed, none of any Conſequence.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Counſel for the Defendant obſerved, That the Evidence offered was not ſtrict legal Evidence; but they would not object to its being received.

Read, from the Book ſhewn to the Witneſs, intituled, "Minutes of the Evidence taken before a Committee of the whole Houſe of Commons, on the Articles of Charge of High Crimes and Miſdemeanors preſented to the Houſe againſt Warren Haſtings Eſquire, late Governor General of Bengal," the following Letter, from Mr. Middleton to Major Gilpin, dated the 9th of June 1782, beginning at Page 72, of the ſame Book:

"To Major Martin Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

"Sir,

"I have been favoured with your Letter of the 5th inſtant, informing me of the Steps you had taken in conſequence of my Inſtructions of the 1ſt, and covering a Letter from the Bhow Begum, which is ſo unſatisfactory that I cannot think of returning any Anſwer to it. Indeed, as all Correſpondence between the Begum and me has long been ſtopped, I requeſt you will be pleaſed to inform her, that I by no Means wiſh to reſume it, or to maintain any friendly Intercourſe with her, until ſhe has made good the Balance of my Claim upon her.

"I have now, in Conformity to my former Inſtructions, to deſire that the Two Priſoners, Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn, may be immediately ſent under a ſufficient Guard to Lucknow, unleſs, upon your imparting to them this Intimation, either they or the Begum ſhould actually pay the Balance, or give you ſuch Aſſurances or Security for the Aſſets to be immediately forthcoming, as you think can be relied on; in which Caſe you will, of courſe, ſuſpend the Execution of this Order.

"I wiſh you, Sir, to explain Once more to the Priſoners the Imprudence and Folly of their Conduct in forcing me to a Meaſure which muſt be attended with Conſequences ſo very ſerious to them, and that when once their Removal to Lucknow is effected, it will not be in my Power to ſhew them Mercy, or to ſtand between them and the Vengeance of the Nabob. Adviſe them to reflect ſeriouſly upon the unhappy Predicament in which they will be involved in one Caſe, and the Relief which will be in my Power to procure them in the other, and let them make their Option; but you will take care to convince them that this is the laſt Application which will be made to them. You will inform the Begum of theſe Inſtructions.

"I have nothing more to add, but that I rely greatly on your Abilities and prudent Management for a ſucceſsful Iſſue to this Buſineſs. You are already informed that my immediate Object is, the Recovery of the Balance due from the Begum, as ſtated in my Letter of the 1ſt inſtant, and notwithſtanding any Orders I may give you, I deſire you will conſider yourſelf to poſſeſs a diſcretionary Power to deviate from them as local Circumſtances may require, and, in ſhort, to purſue, unreſtricted, ſuch Meaſures as to your own Judgment ſhall appear beſt calculated to enſure the moſt certain and ſpeedy Accompliſhment of my Object.

"Lucknow, 9 June 1782. "I have the Honour to be, Sir, your, &c.
(Signed) Nath. Middleton."

Read, from the ſame Book, the following Letter from Major Gilpin to Mr. Middleton, dated the 15th of June 1782, beginning at Page 73 of the ſame.

"To N. Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Court of Lucknow.

"Sir,

"Indiſpoſition prevented my replying to your Letter of the 9th inſtant ſooner.

"I explained every Circumſtance contained in your Letter to Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn relative to them; and as I could not draw a ſatisfactory Anſwer from them, I deſired they would be ready to proceed to Lucknow on Monday Morning the 17th inſtant, and iſſued Orders for a Detachment to be in Readineſs to eſcort them.

" Since which, various Meſſages and Plans for the Payment of the Balance were offered to me, both by the Begum and the Priſoners.

" In all of which, ſuch a Length of Time was required by the Parties to diſcharge the ſame, that I could not, conformable to your Inſtructions, attend to them.

" They urged my addreſſing you on the Subject; but I aſſured them it was in vain; that I had already acquainted you they were to march on Monday, conſequently it was not in my Power to keep them here any longer.

" Yeſterday the Priſoners requeſted to ſee me, and in the Evening I went to them.

" They informed me that the Begum was very deſirous to pay the Balance, but at preſent it was not in her Power to do it in Money; but that ſhe would ranſack the Zenanah for Kemcobs, Silks, Muſlins, Cloths, &c. &c. to that Amount; and that ſhe would even admit of a Deduction from the annual Allowance that would be made her for Subſiſtence in lieu of her Jaghire.

" I deſired them to advert to the murmuriug that the Sale of Articles on a former Occaſion cauſed, which they themſelves informed me of when I firſt demanded Payment of the Balance, and to the Reply I made them, which was, that a Gem To-day might be valued at 20,000 Rupees, yet if it was requiſite to turn it into Caſh, it might not ſell for Half the Sum To-morrow; conſequently, it was of no greater Value in Payment of that Nature than the Sum it actually ſold for.

" That I was ſure of the ſame Circumſtance in the preſent Caſe, and therefore adviſed them to urge the Begum for Payment in Caſh before Monday.

" I am yet hopeful that To-morrow will be a buſy Day. In the Morning I ſhall ſend to know what Time of the Day they will ſee me, that I may bring the Officer commanding the Eſcort to take Charge of them, which will probably have the deſired Effect.

" I have the Honour, &c.

(Signed) Martin Gilpin, Major Com^dg.^"

Read, the following Letter, from Major Gilpin to Mr. Johnſon, dated 20th June 1782, from the ſame Book, beginning at Page 74 of the ſame.

" To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Act^g Reſident at the Court at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" After the moſt urgent Arguments, both to the Begum and the Priſoners, Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn, for the Payment of the Balance, I found it was in vain to expect Money from them, without uſing Severities I was not impowered to inflict.

" I therefore (conformable to Mr. Middleton's Inſtructions) ordered the Priſoners to proceed to Lucknow, under a ſtrong Guard of Two hundred Men, commanded by Lieutenant Crow; and they marched from this on Tueſday the 18th inſtant, Two Coſs out of Town.

" When they arrived at the Ground, I wrote to Lieutenant Crow, and deſired him to tell the Priſoners, if they would pay the Balance that I would order them to return; and requeſted he would explain the horrid Situation they muſt be in at Lucknow, probably for Life.

" Lieutenant Crow could obtain no other Anſwer, than it was not in their Power to do it; but they requeſted I would urge the Begum again for Payment; which I did, and had the following Anſwer:

" Releaſe my Jaghire and my Cojahs, and then I will ſell Goods to that Amount."

" Next Morning the Priſoners marched to Begum Gunge, when Lieutenant Crow begged them to conſider their Situation, and offer Terms for Payment; that he would halt until he had an Anſwer from me; but they ſtill declared their Inability.

" I ſent again to the Begum, who returned me the ſame Anſwer as before.

" A Spy (that I had placed over the Priſoners, to attend to what Meſſages might paſs between them and the Begum) informed me, that on their Arrival at Begum Gunge, they ſent to the Begum, deſiring her to conſider, that their Situation grew more and more ſerious, and urged ſtrong Arguments to induce her to pay the Balance; that if ſhe did not, they muſt, at Lucknow, divulge every Secret to ſave themſelves.

" From this Meſſage I had hopes the Buſineſs would be ſettled, and I have waited in anxious Expectations of hearing from her all Day.

" The Cojahs one Day told me, that if I would pitch the Begum's Camp Equipage, and deſire her to prepare for an immediate Journey, in all Probability ſhe would pay the Balance due; however, I would not venture to take a Step of that Kind without your Orders and Authority, which, give me Leave to aſſure you, I ſhall be happy to receive, and that I will execute them with Pleaſure.

" I have the Honour to be,

" Sir,

" I have received the Honour of your Letter of the 20th. The Priſoners arrived here this Morning. Lieutenant Crow has delivered them over to Captain Waugh, and returns to you in a Day or two.

" I think their Hint to you a very good one, and worth improving upon; was the Bhow Begum to think that ſhe muſt go to Allahabad, or any other Place, while her Palace is ſearched for the hidden Treaſure of the late Vizier, it might go further than any other Step that can be immediately taken towards procuring Payment of the Balance outſtanding.

" The Priſoners are to be threatened with Severities To-morrow, to make them diſcover where the Balance may be procurable, the Fear of which may poſſibly have a good Effect; and the Apprehenſions of the Begum, leſt they ſhould diſcover the hidden Treaſure, may induce her to make you Tenders of Payment, which you may give any reaſonable Encouragement to promote that may occur to you.

" The Jaghire cannot be releaſed to her on any other Terms, nor even to the Nabob, until the Five Lacks, for which it was granted, be paid up; and the Priſoners muſt alſo be detained until the full 55 Lacks be liquidated; conſequently, nothing but the Fear of an Increaſe of Demand upon Breach of the Firſt Engagement on her Part, will induce her to prompt Payment.

" Sir,

" This Morning I deſired my Commandant would ſend for one of the Begum's Cojahs, and enquire after her Health; that I ſuppoſe ſhe had forgot that I was here, and the Buſineſs I was ordered upon, by not hearing from her ſince the Priſoners went away.

" I deſired him, at the ſame Time, to enquire what Camp Equipage and Carriage ſhe had for it; and judging the Cojah would enquire the Cauſe of ſuch a Queſtion, I prepared him with a ſuitable Anſwer.

" The Cojah took the Alarm as I wiſhed, and deſired to know the Reaſon of ſuch Enquiry: The Commandant (of whoſe Fidelity I have had long Experience) replied, 'I do not know; I was 'with the Major this Morning, when he received an Expreſs from Lucknow, and, after reading 'his Letters, he deſired me to make Enquiry about the Begum's Camp Equipage, &c.; and he 'only added, However diſagreeable Orders might be, it was his Duty to obey them.'

" This Evening the ſame Cojah came to me, and told me, if I was at Leiſure in the Morning, he would be glad to ſpeak with me.

" From which I ſhould imagine ſhe has alſo taken the Alarm; and I acquaint you with the Particulars, that ſhould you think a Hint to Bahar Ally Cawn requiſite (from whom ſhe has Accounts daily) that Orders were ſent to me reſpecting the Begum, it might, at this Juncture, increaſe her Fears, and bring Matters to a ſpeedy Iſſue.

" It is however neceſſary to aſſure you, that I have done and ſaid every Thing that Imagination could invent or ſuggeſt to induce her to pay the Balance.

" One Day ſhe gives me Reaſon to expect a Reconciliation and Payment, the next ſhe expreſſes her Poverty and Inability without her Jaghire to mortgage for it.

" In ſhort, ſhe is the moſt obdurate of her Sex; and I fear I muſt poſt a Company of Sepoys at the Old Lady's Gate To-morrow, conformable to your Letter of the 24th inſtant.

" She has been ſo * told, that I have the Orders by me to remove her, and ſhe declares ſhe will put an End to her Exiſtence rather than ſuffer it; but theſe are Words of Courſe in her Situation. * Sic in Orig.

Read, the following Letter from Mr. Johnſon to Major Gilpin, dated the 9th July 1782, beginning at Page 76 of the ſame.

" To Major Martin Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

" Sir,

" I am honoured with your Letter of the 6th. The Lack of Rupees offered by the Begum, would be of little Conſequence, if paid upon Condition of the Reſtoration of the Priſoners, through whom alone the whole Balance can be obtained, if it is obtainable. Unleſs therefore they will pay it without ſuch Condition annexed, the Negociation is fruitleſs.

" I have this Day ſent the Priſoners Word, that as they perſiſt in declaring that they know of no ſecreted or depoſited Treaſure in the Hands of the Bhow Begum, excepting that which they have paid to the Company; and further, that they poſſeſs no Means of liquidating the Balance, which were the only Purpoſes for which I brought them from Fyzabad, and for the Fulfilment of which I would have interceded for the Remiſſion of their Crimes againſt the Company; but this being now over by their Obſtinacy, I ſhould now ſend them to Chunar Gur, of which I gave them Four Days Notice, that as they were now about to be ſeparated for ever from their Principals, they might have an Opportunity of communicating to them whatever they might have to ſay on ſuch an Occaſion.

" This Meſſage I now make you acquainted with, that you may mention their Departure from hence for Chunar in the ſame Light to the Begum. It poſſibly may have more Effect than any Reſtraint upon their Palaces at Fyzabad; for if they would give One Lack to have them returned to Fyzabad, they may poſſibly give the 6½ to ſave them from a final Separation.

" The preciſe Terms upon which they offered the Lack I do not clearly underſtand from your Letter; whether they would give it merely to have their Priſon at Fyzabad inſtead of Lucknow, or whether any Sort of Enlargement is underſtood by it. In your future Letters, when you mention the Begums, I ſhall be obliged to you to diſtinguiſh them by the Appellation of the Bhow Begum and the Elder Begum; the Firſt is the Wife of Sujah ul Dowla, the latter his Mother.

" Sir,

" Finding every Effort to obtain the Balance from the Bhow Begum fruitleſs, I reſolved on poſting a Grenadier Company at the Gate of the Elder Begum's Palace, agreeable to the Tenor of your Letter of the 4th inſtant, which I did on the 9th in the Morning, but gave them no other Orders than to maintain their Poſt in caſe of any Oppoſition, and not ſuffer armed Men to enter the Palace.

" About an Hour after, I had a Meſſage from the Elder Begum, deſiring me to go there, which I did immediately.

" I was conducted into a little Room, ſome Diſtance from the Houſe, where I ſtayed about Six Hours, endeavouring to adjuſt Matters with the Cojahs [the Conveyancers of our ſeveral Meſſages] but returned without coming to any Agreement.

" All next Day was ſpent in the ſame Manner; but in the Evening the Bhow Begum came to the following Agreement:

" That I ſhould write for the Priſoners Behar and Jewar Ally Cawn to be ſent back to Fyzabad.

" That immediately on their Arrival ſhe would deliver up all the ready Caſh ſhe had, towards the Payment of the Six Lacks and a Half.

" That what remained deficient, Goods ſhould be ſold to make good the ſame as ſoon as poſſible.

" That Mr. Johnſon ſhould nominate an Agent, who, with Behar Ally Cawn, ſhould attend the Sales, or receive the Goods in Payment by their Approvement.

" That ſhe agreed to deliver up every Thing valuable in her Poſſeſſion, to make good the ſame, which Bahar Ally Cawn only could come at.

" That the Guard ſhould be withdrawn, until Mr. Johnſon's Anſwer was obtained.

" That the Priſoners were (when the Balance was paid) to be enlarged.

" In conſequence of theſe Propoſals I withdrew the Guard laſt Night about Ten o'Clock.

" I have every Reaſon to believe the Bhow Begum will ſtand to this; and, from every Information, I do not believe we could come to a more ſpeedy Concluſion of this Buſineſs.

" Soon after I had withdrawn the Guard, I received your Letter of the 9th, and communicated the Contents to the Cojahs, which will certainly have a good Effect.

" It was the Elder Begum that offered the Lack of Rupees to be paid for the Priſoners being returned to this Place, but it was to be conſidered in Part Payment of the Six Lacks and a Half.

" Major Martin Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

" Sir,

" I am honoured with your Letter of the 11th. I have no * Objection to the Begum's Propoſals for liquidating her Engagements, than that they are indefinite in Period, and in ſome Meaſure as to the Means ſhe is willing to declare in her Poſſeſſion for the Balance, and that there is no Sort of Hold or Security for the Peformance, beyond what I have poſſeſſed theſe Six Months paſt in vain—her Agreement, ſigned and ſealed. * Sic in Orig.

" I therefore requeſt you will deliver her the following Anſwer:——That if Promiſes or Agreements, without other Security, were of any Value, the preſent Trouble and Vexation ſhe ſubmits to, and has brought upon herſelf, would have had no Exiſtence; of courſe, that before I can in any Shape alter my Plan of preſſing, by every Means in my Power, the Payment of the Balance, ſhe muſt produce ſome reſponſible Security, which is always attainable by a Depoſit of the Caſh and Goods, in the Hands of ſome truſt-worthy Shroff, or other conſiderable Perſon, who may thereby be induced to become reſponſible for the Payment.——

" This done to my Satisfaction, and a Time fixed for the final Diſpoſal, at Profit or Loſs, of the Goods, I am willing immediately to agree to and complete every other Requiſition which ſhe has made through you.

" I before underſtood that the Lack offered was in Part Payment of the Balance; all I meant to aſk, whether the Eunuchs were claimed to be enlarged upon it, or only to be returned Priſoners to Fyzabad? Read, alſo, from the ſame Book, the following Letter from Mr. Johnſon to Major Gilpin, dated the 22d July 1782, beginning at Page 79 of the ſame.

" To Major Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

" Sir,

" I am juſt honoured with a Letter from you, without Date, informing me that the Bow Begum now demands the Releaſe of her Jaghire, and of the Priſoners, as Preliminaries to the final Adjuſtment of the ready Money Balance due from her. Her altering her Terms as ſoon as ſhe perceived any Appearance of ſmoothing her own Propoſals, proves the Neceſſity of my Caution in not truſting implicitly to her Promiſes, and requiring ſome Security for Performance upon her Behalf, previous to the Accompliſhment on my Side of her Claims. However, all Negotiations ſeem now out of the Queſtion by the preſent new Demand of the previous Releaſe of her Jaghire: She and her Agents made ſo bad a Uſe of the Power and Force ſhe poſſeſſed with the Jaghires during the late Troubles, to the almoſt total Subverſion of the Nabob's Government, joined with ſo glaring an Oppoſition to the Engliſh Intereſt, that neither Party can ever again conſent to her being replaced in ſo dangerous a Situation.

" This Claim, therefore, is admiſſible in no Extremity; independent of which, the Jaghire is the only real Security I poſſeſs for the certain Collection, although in a dilatory Mode, of the Six

Six Lacks and a Half due upon the ready Money Payment, and almoſt Three Lacks and a Half upon a ſeparate Order of Five Lacks, payable from the reſumed Jaghire; and the Poſſeſſion of the Priſoners and Palace are further Securities.—Was I voluntarily to relinquiſh theſe, in Exchange for ſome more Papers or Words of the Bhow Begum's, I ſhould moſt certainly throw the Company's Aſſignments into a Riſk that I could never anſwer; and it is very little ſhort of Certainty, that Ten Lacks of the Company's Balance would, by ſuch Proceeding, be irrecoverably loſt. To theſe Preliminaries, therefore, I can by no Means aſſent; and if no ready Money is to be procured from the Bhow Begum, or her Agents, I muſt be ſatisfied to remain in Poſſeſſion of the Palace, Priſoners, and Jaghire, and continue collecting by Degrees that which cannot be more ſpeedily acquired.

" With regard to Threats of Reſiſtance, they muſt (as far as I may be able to judge at this Diſtance) conſiſt in mere Shew; if they did not think fit to reſiſt when they had between 7 and 10,000 armed Men aſſembled, and we not yet in Poſſeſſion of the Palace and Avenues, there is very little Probability of their attempting it when we are in full Occupation of the Town, Fort, and every Poſt in it, and no armed Force on their Side but what is within their Garden Walls, which certainly cannot be many, as it has been One conſtant Object of the Regiment, ſince its Poſſeſſion of the Town, to prevent the Accumulation of armed Men in or near the Town. In ſuch a Situation, it would be more than Madneſs were they to attempt the Attack of 4 Battalions; nor could the Attack, if ſucceeded in, be of any Benefit to them.

" The Propoſal of evacuating one Place, and having it ſearched, and then evacuating the next upon the ſame Principle, is apparently fair.—But it is well known, in the firſt Place, that ſunk, bricked up, or otherwiſe hidden Treaſure is not to be hit upon in a Day, without ſome Guide. I have, therefore, informed the Nabob of this Propoſal; and, if the Matter is to be reduced to a Search, he will go himſelf to ſuch People as he may poſſeſs for Information, together with the Priſoners; and when in Poſſeſſion of the Ground, by puniſhing the Priſoners, or by ſuch other Means as he may find moſt effectual, to forward a ſucceſsful Search upon the Spot, he will avail himſelf of the Propoſal made by the Bhow Begum.

" In reply to the Two Queſtions you ſtate; firſt, 'Should her Forces attack the Guard round 'the Elder Begum's Palace, muſt I enter and extirpate them, to a Man?' And ſecondly, 'If ſhe 'will not come to any Alteration of Terms, am I to withdraw the Guard, or not?'

" To both theſe I need only obſerve, That the Object of diſtreſſing the Bhow Begum, by a Guard upon her Palace Gate, is merely to obtain a ready Money Payment from her of a Balance due upon an accepted Aſſignment of the Nabob's upon his late Father's Treaſure. But this ready Money, if not paid, is recoverable in the Courſe of a few Months upon the Jaghire in my Poſſeſſion. It is therefore not worth proceeding to any Extremities, beyond the One deſcribed, upon ſo reſpectable a Family. But, in Support of the Order, if the Servants of the Bhow Begum, or any other, attempt to drive off your Guard, they muſt of Courſe be ſupported in their Stations, and the Aſſailants puniſhed, repelled, and purſued, if they take any Road but the inner Parts of the Palace. Theſe muſt remain ſacred; and nothing can warrant any Entrance into them while we are at Peace with the Nabob Vizier, and only mean to enforce a ſpeedy, inſtead of a dilatory Payment. The Aſſailants may entirely be repelled, and the Poſt maintained, without purſuing within the Walls, unleſs the Poſt is totally commanded by Embraſures through a Parapet behind the Walls. In this Caſe they may avail themſelves of their Cover to fire upon the Guard, it is adviſable to take a more diſtant and covered Station, ſo as to diſtreſs Acceſs to, and Egreſs from the Palace, which will anſwer every Purpoſe required. I muſt repeat, that no Extremity can warrant a forcible, or other Entrance, into the Palace, under the Circumſtances that cauſe the ſtationing a Regiment at Fyzabad, which are merely to retain the Fort, and to teaze the Bhow Begum, if poſſible, into Payment. And unleſs, after the above Explanations, you deem the Preſence of the 23d Regiment abſolutely and indiſpenſably neceſſary to ſupport your Guard, be pleaſed, upon Receipt of this, not to delay its March into the Provinces.

Then MAJOR GILPIN was again called in.

Q. (Croſs examined.) At what Time did you arrive at Fyzabad?
A. On or about the Firſt of June.

Q. In what Year?
A. In the Year 1782.

Q. Whether Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan were delivered over to your Cuſtody upon your Arrival at Fyzabad on the Firſt of June 1782?
A. They were.

Q. Was Shumſhire Khan delivered over alſo to you?
A. He was included.

Q. All the Three Priſoners were delivered over to you?
A. Yes.

Q. In

Q. In what Place were they confined?
A. In Jewar Ali Khan's own Houſe.

Q. What Sort of a Place is that; and in what Manner were the Priſoners treated during the Time you had them in Charge?
A. It was a very elegant Houſe, built by Jewar Ali Kawn, as I underſtood; and he had laid out a very conſiderable Sum of Money in making it as commodious and like a Palace as he poſſibly could.

Q. And in what Manner were the Priſoners treated while under your Charge?
A. With all the Delicacy and Reſpect their Situation could poſſibly require.

Q. What Extent of Garden belonged to the Houſe?
A. I cannot poſſibly ſay; it was a very extenſive one.

Q. Had they Permiſſion to go into that Garden whenever they pleaſed?
A. They had, within their own Centinels that were placed within the Garden.

Q. What Part of the Garden did that confine them to; what Scope had they within the Centinels?
A. It was a very extenſive Garden, and the Centinels were on the Outſide. They were not allowed to go out of that Garden, but to walk at Pleaſure all round it.

Q. Do you mean that the Centinels were without the Garden?
A. There were Centinels without the Wall, and ſome within the Garden; thoſe Centinels within the Garden never interrupted their walking in the Garden at all, but were placed there to prevent their going out of the Garden.

Q. (by a Lord). Then they had the whole Garden to range in?
A. Yes.

Q. (by Counſel). What Orders were given to the Centinels reſpecting their Behaviour to the Priſoners?
A. After the general Order of Security, they were directed to treat them with as much Humanity and Tenderneſs as their Situation would admit of; not to interrupt them in any of their Paſtimes, or in any innocent Amuſement whatſoever.

Q. Were they in Irons at this Time?
A. They were.

Q. Do you know whether in point of Fact they did enjoy any of their uſual Amuſements and Society in that Place?
A. I really cannot ſay: I never ſaw any Entertainment there.

Q. Did you never viſit them?
A. Frequently.

Q. Did they make any Complaints to you of their Treatment?
A. None in particular.

Q. Were there any other Reſtraints or Severities exerciſed towards them, except keeping them in Cuſtody, and the Circumſtance of their having Irons on?
A. Not while I had the Charge of them.

Q. Did you ſee them after you ceaſed to have Charge of them?
A. I releaſed them at a diſtant Period from what we are now inveſtigating; but they were ſent from me to Lucknow; afterwards they were returned to me, and then I releaſed them.

Q. How long did they continue in your Charge from the Firſt of June 1782, when you took Poſſeſſion of them?
A. They went from me, I think, about the Fifteenth of June to Lucknow.

Q. And how long was it before they were returned into your Charge again?
A. They did not return to me till about the 17th of Auguſt.

Q. When were they finally diſcharged?
A. About the 4th of December that Year.

Q. So they continued in your Cuſtody from the 17th of Auguſt to the 4th of December?
A. They did.

Q. And were treated in the ſame Manner as they were before?
A. Yes.

Q. Were they in Irons all the Time?
A. I cannot charge my Memory, but I rather think the Irons were taken off when they came from Lucknow in Auguſt.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you recollect about the 21ſt of July 1782, a Circumſtance of there being a Number of armed Men in the Begum's Palace, and the City in Arms?
A. About that Period there were.

Q. Give an Account of what you remember of that Period.
A. When I poſted the Guards over the elder Begum's Palace, they then aſſembled a great Number of Troops; I found it neceſſary to augment my Guard for ſome Time, till the Begum delivered herſelf up, and came into the Palace, and then I withdrew my Guard.

Q. What Diſtance of Time was there, between the firſt Stir that you mentioned, and the Begum's coming into the Palace.
A. Not many Days.

Q. Do you remember their having threatened to fire upon Lieutenant Crow, who commanded a Party there?
A. Lieutenant Crow reported that Circumſtance to me, and in conſequence I augmented the Guard.

Q. Where was Lieutenant Crow's Station at that Time?
A. At the Gate of the elder Begum.

Q. When was that?
A. That was in the Month of July 1782.

Q. Was that Report made to you in the Courſe of Orders, as a Military Report?
A. It was.

Q. Whether you recollect having repreſented, that you had Reaſon to ſuppoſe the elder Begum was very deſirous, and anxious to begin an Engagement?
A. I had every Reaſon to believe it.

Q. Did you repreſent that?
A. I repreſented it to the Court at Lucknow.

Q. What do you mean by beginning an Engagement?
A. To commence an Action—beginning to fire.

Q. What Forces had ſhe?
A. Some thouſands in the City.

Q. That were under her Command?
A. That were under her Command.

Q. What Number of Forces had you under your Command?
A. I had my own Regiment and Major Buchanan's, Two Regiments of Sepoys, and Four Pieces of Ordnance; about two thouſand Men in all.

Q. (by a Lord). In what Manner were the Begums Forces armed?
A. With Matchlocks and Sabres.

Q. Am I right, in ſuppoſing, that the ſole Object of all the Meaſures that were purſued againſt theſe Perſons, was to inforce the Payment of the Balance due from them?
A. It was; I underſtood it ſo.

Q. Were any ſuch Inſtructions given to you?
A. That was the Tenor of my Inſtructions.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Counſel ought not to ſtate it as a Balance due.

The Witneſs was aſked:

Q. Was it ſo called in your Inſtructions?
A. The Inſtructions ſpecified the Balance due; it was particularly ſo mentioned in my Inſtructions.

Q. Whether any Meaſures were purſued upon this Occaſion, that did not appear to you to be neceſſary for that Purpoſe?
A. I really do not comprehend the Queſtion, ſufficiently to give an Anſwer.

Q. You ſaid you kept the Begums in their Palaces, and confined them?
A. Yes.

Q. And you kept their Miniſters Jewan and Behar Ali Khan in Confinement?
A. At that Period they were at Lucknow.

Q. But

Q. But during the Whole of your Charge, while you was at Fyzabad, the Queſtion is, whether you knew of any Thing having been done with reſpect to the Begums or their Miniſters, which, according to your Judgement, was beyond what was neceſſary for compelling them to pay that Sum of Money?

A. I do not know how far it might be deemed neceſſary.—Thoſe were the Orders I received, and I executed them to the beſt of my Abilities.

Then the following Extract of a Letter from Mr. Gilpin to Mr. Johnſon, dated the 20th of June 1782, was read to the Witneſs.

" To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Acting Reſident at the Court at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" After the moſt urgent Arguments, both to the Begum and the Priſoners Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn, for the Payment of the Balance, I found it was in vain to expect Money from them, without uſing Severities I was not impowered to inflict." (a)

The Witneſs ſaid:

That was prior to the Time I am ſpeaking of.

Q. Whether you had not Reaſon to believe that the Begums could have diſcharged the Balance at once, if they choſe it.

A. I believe there was no Doubt but what the Begum might have diſcharged it, if ſhe had been inclinable ſo to do.—It is impoſſible for me to ſay for a Certainty; but I had every Reaſon to believe it.

Q. Whether, during all this Period, an Intercourſe by Letter was not kept up between the Begum and her Miniſters?

A. At that Period Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan were at Lucknow: How far ſhe might correſpond with them, while in Confinement at Lucknow, it is impoſſible for me to aſcertain.

Q. Did ſhe correſpond with them while they were under your Charge?

A. Frequently Meſſages paſſed; and, I dare ſay, Letters. I never gave any Orders to interrupt any Thing of the Kind.

Q. There is One Paſſage which has been read in your Letter of the 20th June 1782, it is repreſented in this Manner: " The Cojahs One Day told me, that if I would pitch the Begum's Camp Equipage, and deſire her to prepare for an immediate Journey, in all Probability ſhe would pay the Balance due:" (b) Whether the Cojahs did make ſuch a Repreſentation to you: Was that Repreſentation, in Fact, made to you?

A. It was made to me.

Q. By whom?

A. By the Cojahs.

Q. (by a Lord.) Who are the Cojahs?

A. The Eunuchs, Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan.

Q. Were the Cojahs in Priſon when they made this Repreſentation to you?

A. They were in the ſame Confinement they had always been in.

Q. Were they to have been releaſed upon this Demand being paid?

A. They were.

Q. (from the Managers.) Was this a Repreſentation made by the Priſoners themſelves, Bahar Ali Khan and Jewar Ali Khan?

A. I have anſwered it was.

Q. Perſonally?

A. Yes, perſonally.

Q. (by Counſel.) In that ſame Letter, dated 20th of June 1782, it is ſaid, " A Spy (that I had " placed over the Priſoners, to attend to what Meſſages might paſs between them and the Begum) " informed me, that on their Arrival at Begum Gunge, they ſent to the Begum, deſiring her to " conſider that their Situation grew more and more ſerious, and urged ſtrong Arguments to in- " duce her to pay the Balance; that if ſhe did not, they muſt at Lucknow divulge every Secret " to ſave themſelves." (c) Whether ſuch a Repreſentation as is ſtated in that Letter was made to you?

A. It was.

Q. By whom?

A. By the Spy that I had.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 875. (b) Vide ſupra, ibid. (c) Vide ſupra, Ibid.

Q. Had

Q. Had you any Means of knowing, what that Secret was, which they would divulge at Lucknow?

A. I do not know; it is impoſſible for me to ſay what it was; it ſtruck me that it might be concerning Treaſure; it might be any other Circumſtance reſpecting the Troubles, Rebellion, or any Thing elſe; it is all Conjecture; but they ſeemed to lay great Streſs on the Secret.

Q. Did the Eunuchs divulge to you any Secret while they were under your Charge, correſponding to the Idea you entertain of the Word "Secret" here.

A. They did not.

Q. In a Letter from Mr. Middleton to you of the 1ſt of June 1782, it is mentioned that there was ſent to you "a Copy of a Letter received Yeſterday from the Vizier, authorizing and urging" him, Mr. Middleton, "to uſe every Means in" his "Power to enforce their Compliance;" whether you, in Point of Fact, received ſuch a Letter from the Vizier to Mr. Middleton: Was a Copy of it tranſmitted to you?

A. I recollect ſome Incloſure ſent me by Mr. Middleton about that Period for the Purpoſes mentioned, but I cannot charge my Memory exactly with them; and I think I have them ſomewhere amongſt my Papers.

Q. Whether it has been the uſual Practice, during all the Time you have been acquainted with the Service, for the Correſpondence between the Reſident and the Officers with whom he correſponded upon Buſineſs, to be ſent to Calcutta?

A. I cannot ſay whether they did or not: I tranſmitted none to Calcutta myſelf.

Q. Do you know whether it was ever uſual for the Officers who received Letters, to tranſmit thoſe Letters, or to keep them in their own Poſſeſſion: Yourſelf, for Inſtance?

A. I kept them all myſelf.

Q. Was that the uſual Courſe of the Office?

A. I cannot ſay.

Q. Did you underſtand it to be ſo?

A. I ſhould imagine every Officer would, for his own Security, keep the Originals.

Q. How long was you in India?

A. Seventeen Years and an Half, from the Year 1768, till the Beginning of the Year 1785?

Q. Did you underſtand it to be uſual in that Country, for the Natives to conceal their Treaſures——throughout the Whole of India? What Parts of Indoſtan were you in?

A. I was employed in the Upper Provinces in general.

Q. Have you had an Opportunity of knowing what the Cuſtom inquired after was?

A. It has been underſtood to be the general Cuſtom, for the Natives to conceal their Money.

Q. Is that Cuſtom confined to the Places where the Engliſh Government prevails, or does it extend to thoſe Places where the Native Government prevails?

A. It is pretty general throughout the Country.

Q. Do you mean to repreſent, that it is more or leſs prevalent where the Engliſh Government is, or where the Native Government is?

A. It is impoſſible for me to anſwer that Queſtion. In Calcutta, poſſibly they may not be ſo cautious; but up the Country, where they are ſubject to Invaſions and to Wars, there it is always underſtood to be the Cuſtom. Calcutta is a Place of Security, and they have not that Neceſſity for doing it; but I am not able to give a diſtinct Account of it.

Q. Was you in Oude at the Time of Sujah ul Dowlah's Death?

A. I was.

Q. Whereabouts?

A. I was encamped in the Rumna, which is adjoining to the City of Fyzabad, when Sujah ul Dowlah died.

Q. Sujah ul Dowlah reſided at Fyzabad?

A. He did.

Q. Was Sujah ul Dowlah's Army conſiderably in Arrear at that Time?

A. I believe it was.

Q. Were there not Apprehenſions of an Inſurrection upon that Account?

A. So much ſo——

Q. How near was this to the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. While he was lying a Corpſe, before the Funeral. I was going to obſerve—ſo much ſo, that I, who was then a ſubaltern Officer in the Firſt Battalion of Sepoys, a Lieutenant, was ordered to be ready with Four Companies at a Moment's Warning, to quiet any Riot or Tumult there might be in the City of Fyzabad in conſequence of his Death.

Q. Do you know where Sujah ul Dowlah kept his Treafures?
A. I always underſtood they were kept in the Zenana.

Q. Do you know whether the Revenues collected from Time to Time, by the Aumils, were carried into, and depoſited in the Zenana?
A. If the Treaſury was in the Zenana, undoubtedly the Collections were carried there.

Q. But you know it only from Report?
A. I do not know it of a Certainty; I had nothing to do with the Collections.

Q. Upon the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah, did that Treaſure become the Property, by the Laws of that Country, of his Widow, or of his Succeſſor, Aſoph ul Dowlah?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay; I do not know that he made any Will, or bequeathed it to any Perſon; it came into her Poſſeſſion.

Q. It came into her Poſſeſſion?
A. It was in her Poſſeſſion, by being within the Zenana.

Q. I underſtand you, Sujah ul Dowlah made no Will: Did you underſtand he made any other Diſpoſition of his Property in his Life-time?
A. I underſtood he gave a certain Jaghire, a Tract of Land, to his Wife, the preſent Bow Begum.

Q. But do you know of any Diſpoſition having been made, by Sujah ul Dowlah, of thoſe Treaſures in the Zenana?
A. I do not.

Q. Whether the Property, not the Poſſeſſion, did, in point of Fact, belong, by the Cuſtoms of that Country, to the Succeſſor, or to the Widow of the deceaſed Sovereign?
A. I ſhould imagine his Heir-apparent had the greateſt Claim to it.

Q. But you know nothing of it yourſelf.
A. I could not.

Q. Had you any Reaſon for imagining it?
A. No other than that there were Drafts made upon that Treaſure, immediately after the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah; and the Money that came from the Zenana, was depoſited in our Camp, and embarked on Board Boats, and tranſmitted to the Preſidency at Calcutta.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that, according to your Judgement and Knowledge of the Cuſtoms of that Country, the Treaſures within the Zenana would have gone to the Nabob, and not to the Widow?
A. I ſhould rather think it would, when ſo ample a Proviſion was made for the Widow; but that is a Point of Law I am not competent to judge of.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether you was not examined before the Houſe of Commons?
A. I was.

Q. (from Counſel.) How long did you continue at Fyzabad, from your firſt going there on the Firſt of June 1782?
A. On December 7th 1782, I marched from Fyzabad.

Q. Whether the Women in the Khourd Mhal were at that Time diſtreſſed?
A. At one Period they were; but I relieved them from that Diſtreſs, by giving them a Sum of Money.

Q. Upon whom did the Maintenance of the Khourd Mhal depend? Who maintained the Khourd Mhal?
A. His Excellency the Nabob Vizier.

Q. From whom was the Maintenance furniſhed; under whoſe immediate Care was it?
A. It was under the Charge of Lettaffit Ali Khan, and he received an annual Stipend from the Foujedar of Sahlone, which, I think, to the beſt of my Recollection, amounted to Forty thouſand Rupees annually, but they had neglected by ſome Means or other paying it, and the Women became diſtreſſed in conſequence; I repreſented it to the Court at Lucknow, and I paid them Ten thouſand Rupees, for which I have now the Receipts of Lettaffit Ali Kawn for Five thouſand each.

Q. At what Time was that Relief afforded them by you?

The Witneſs delivered in Two Papers, indorſed "Lettaffit Ali Khan's Receipt for 5000 Rupees for the Uſe of the Khourd Mahl."

The ſame were read as follow:

"Fyzabad,

" Fyzabad, 19th November 1782.

" Received this Day, from Major Martin Gilpin, the Sum of Twenty Son Korah Rupees, Five thouſand, for the Uſe of the Women in the Khourd Mahl Zenanah."

Here follow, in the Original, ſome Perſic Characters.

L. S.

Q. Is the Paper in Perſian or in Engliſh?

A. I wrote one in Engliſh, and there is one in Perſian to the ſame Tenor and Effect, with their Seal to it.

Q. That is a literal Tranſlation that you read?

A. As near as poſſible.

Q. Was this Relief furniſhed by you to the Khourd Mahl, as Part of your official Duty, or from Motives of Humanity?

A. I did not conſider it as my official Duty. I thought it an Act I ought to do, ſeeing the diſtreſſed Situation that they were in.

Q. Did you do this upon the Nabob's Account?

A. I did; and received back the Sum, exactly as I had paid it, from the Nabob.

Q. Had you previous Orders from the Nabob?

A. I wrote to Mr. Briſtow. He told me he had written to the Nabob, and authoriſed me to draw upon the Engliſh Reſident for that Sum, which I did, and it was paid.

Q. Did the Nabob expreſs any Approbation, or Diſapprobation, of that Interference of yours?

A. He wrote me a very angry Letter upon the Subject, and told me, I had no Right to interfere with that Zenana.

Q. Was the Whole of that Eſtabliſhment under the Nabob and his Officers, or had the Engliſh any Concerns, and what, in it?

A. I never underſtood, the Engliſh had any Thing to do with it, at all.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Mercurij, 28° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons informed the Houſe, that, in looking over the printed Evidence, they had obſerved ſeveral material Errors. They took it for granted, thoſe Errors were unavoidable, and entirely owing to the Haſte in which the Queſtions and Anſwers were taken down; which, at a proper Time, they meant to point out to the Houſe, and take their Pleaſure, as to the Manner in which they ſhould be corrected.

Then MAJOR GILPIN was again called in.

The Counſel for the Defendant deſired the laſt Queſtion and Anſwer, with which the Croſs Examination cloſed Yeſterday, might be read.

The ſame were read, as follows:

'Q. Was the Whole of that Eſtabliſhment under the Nabob and his Officers, or had the Engliſh any Concern, and what, in it?

'A. I never underſtood the Engliſh had any Thing to do with it, at all.'

Q. The Eſtabliſhment mentioned, was the Eſtabliſhment of the Khourd Mahl; whether there was any Intercourſe between the Khourd Mahl and the Begums?

A. None that I know of.

Q. Did the Begums, in any Manner, contribute to the Support of the Khourd Mahl?

A. They never did, in the leaſt, during the Time that I commanded at Fyzabad; I can only ſpeak as to that Period.

Q. Have you any Knowledge of that Subject: Might they, or might they not, have contributed: Whether you knew it, or not?

A. I always underſtood they had an Inveteracy againſt the Women of the Khourd Mahl, even in Sujah ul Dowlah's Life-time.

Q. Whether the Seizure of the Begums Treaſures, or their Jaghires, could, in any Reſpect, contribute to the Diſtreſſes that were experienced by the Khourd Mahl?

A. I do not ſee that it could, in any Reſpect.

Q. Do you know whether any Meaſure, in which the Engliſh were at all concerned, could produce, or in any Degree contribute, to thoſe Diſtreſſes?

A. I do not think, that the Interference of the Engliſh could have effected the Eſtabliſhment of the Khourd Mahl, in any Reſpect.

Q. You mentioned Yeſterday the Diſtrict which was aſſigned for the Maintenance of the Khourd Mahl?

A. It was the Diſtrict of Sultanpore, and I apprehend that I ſhould have made a Miſtake, and called it Sahlone. Sahlone was the Begum's Jaghire, but Sultanpore is the Diſtrict that was aſſigned for the Maintenance of the Khourd Mahl.

Q. Whether that Country of Sultanpore was, in the Whole, or in Part, ever aſſigned to the Engliſh?

A. I

A. I cannot ſay that it was; all I know is, that Letaffit Ali Khan told me that Sultanpore was the Diſtrict from whence they drew their Subſiſtence; but whether the Whole of the Revenues of that Diſtrict were aſſigned for it, or whether they were to deduct 40,000 Rupees annually, I cannot ſay.

Q. What do you mean by deducting 40,000 Rupees annually? Do you mean whether the Aſſignment was of 40,000 Rupees only, or of the whole Rent?

A. What the whole Rent of the Diſtrict might be, I do not know; it might be Two or Three Lacks of Rupees; all I knew was, that they had their Subſiſtence drawn from that Diſtrict.

Q. But you ſpoke of 40,000 Rupees?

A. That was the Sum allotted them for their Maintenance; it was paid by the Foujedar of Sultanpore to Letaffit Ali Khan.

Q. The Queſtion was, whether you knew that the Country of Sultanpore was ever, in Part, or in the Whole, aſſigned over to the Engliſh?

A. I never heard of any particular Aſſignment of that Diſtrict to the Engliſh.

Q. I underſtand you to have ſaid, that the Sum of 40,000 Rupees annually was aſſigned for the Maintenance of the Khourd Mhal, paid to Letaffit Ali Khan, and by him diſtributed for that Purpoſe; whether that Sum was conſidered as ſufficient for that Purpoſe, if regularly paid?

A. Letaffit Ali Khan informed me, in the Courſe of Converſation at the Time of their Diſtreſſes, that if this ſtipulated Sum had been paid regularly, there never would have been any Cauſe of Complaint.

Q. Whether Letaffit Ali Khan was in any Reſpect ſubject to the Orders of the Begums, or either of them?

A. Not in the leaſt, that ever I underſtood.

Q. You was in the Country of Oude in 1779, 1780, 1781, and 1782?

A. The greateſt Part of them, I was.

Q. Whether you recollect any Drought in the Country in either of thoſe Years, or in all of them?

A. Yes; there was.

Q. In which?

A. In the Years 1781 and 1782.

Q. By Drought, you mean, a Defect of Rain from the Nature of the Seaſon?

A. Yes.

Q. Whether the Cultivation of the Country ſuffered conſiderably in Conſequence of that Drought?

A. Conſiderably.

Q. Whether you ever heard any Complaints, of the Engliſh Officers being ill-treated, in their Paſſage through the Country of Cheit Sing?

A. There have been many Complaints, that the People were inſolent to them, as they paſſed through the Country: I never met with any Interruption myſelf.

Q. I underſtood you was in the Country of Oude at the Time of the Inſurrection at Benares; whether, ſuppoſing the Engliſh Arms had been unſucceſsful at Pateeta, a general Inſurrection in the Country was not much to be apprehended at that Time?

The Managers for the Commons deſired the Counſel would mark the Period they alluded to at Pateeta, as there were Two Actions there.

The Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Was there ever an Attack upon Pateeta?

A. There was, by Colonel Popham.

Q. (by the Managers.) Where was you at the Time?

A. I was upon my March from the Mahratta Country, to join the Brigade under the Command of Colonel Morgan.

Q. Where was that Brigade then?

A. It was then in the Douab.

Q. (by Counſel.) Suppoſe the Britiſh Arms had been unſucceſsful in the Month of September againſt Pateeta, would it not have afforded a favourable Opportunity to their Enemies to take Advantage of it?

A. That is Matter of Opinion entirely. It would, undoubtedly, have given very great Encouragement to an Inſurrection.

Q. What did you know of the Situation of the Begum's Forces in September 1781?

A. At that Period I commanded a Detachment in the Mahratta Country of Two Regiments. The Begums had a Force in their own Diſtrict, but what Number they were, I cannot ſay.

Q. From the State of the Douab, what Effect would any Diſadvantage ſuffered in Benares have had upon that Diſtrict?

A. Upon the Diſtrict in the Douab?

Q. Yes, there was a Britiſh Force ſtationed there; would that Force in the Douab have been in Danger from a Failure at Benares?

A. Had a general Inſurrection taken place, it would have been, a very difficult Matter for the Engliſh Troops in the Douab to have extricated themſelves; but I only ſpeak of a general Inſurrection: The Troops then in the Douab could not have affected us very materially, becauſe there were very few Troops in the Douab, at that Period, but Engliſh Troops.

Q. Whether, at that Period of Time, the perſonal Safety of Mr. Haſtings was not conſidered of great Conſequence to the Protection of the Britiſh Government in India?

A. It undoubtedly was ſo much ſo, that when Major Lumſdaine came up to the Head of my Regiment on a March to Illihabad, and related the Circumſtances of ſeveral Detachments being cut off——

Q. What happened when Major Lumſdaine came to the Head of your Regiment?

A. He ſaid an Expreſs had arrived with Colonel Morgan, informing him ſeveral Detachments had been cut off. My Reply was, "If Mr. Haſtings is ſafe in Chunar, reſt aſſured he will extricate us out of our Difficulties; but, on the other Hand, if he is cut off, we ſhall very ſoon act the laſt tragick Scene, and neither you nor I ſhall live to tell the Story." Thoſe were my Sentiments of Mr. Haſtings at that critical Period. Major Lumſdaine is now in England.

Q. In what Eſtimation was Mr. Haſtings's Character in India, during the Time you reſided there?

A. He was eſteemed a Man of very great Abilities, and a Man of Humanity.

Q. Was he conſidered as a mercenary venal Man, and a corrupt Governor, or not? Had he any Drawbacks upon that Character? Was he conſidered in a bad Light?

A. Before the Act paſſed for a Governor General and Supreme Council, the publick Papers, and all the Records of the India Houſe, ſpeak highly of him as a Governor.

Q. Do you mean that this was the Character he held in India, or do you only mean to refer to what has been written from India to England, for the Foundation of what you report of him?

A. His Character was univerſally reſpected as ſuch in India; thoſe Circumſtances were related and publiſhed in England; and I mentioned the Records, not as referring your Lordſhips to them by any Means, but that all the World might ſee his general Character upon thoſe Records.

Q. (by a Lord.) Do you mean to ſpeak of the Character which he held in India down to 1773, or during the whole Time?

A. I ſpeak of the Period down to 1773, as a remarkable Inſtance of his Attention to the Intereſts of the Eaſt India Company; after that Period there were ſome little Diſputes in the Council, and various were the Opinions reſpecting them; and I can only give Matter of bare Opinion upon it.

Q. Then, generally, what was the Character which Mr. Haſtings bore during the whole Time of your being in India, in Point of Integrity, in Point of Humanity, and Attention to the Company's Affairs, throughout the Whole of his Government, and throughout all India, from the Beginning to the End, as well after 1773, as before?

A. I have anſwered that Queſtion, I think, very fully; however, I will be more explicit: I looked upon Mr. Haſtings as a very great Man, and as a Man of Integrity and Humanity.—Many Inſtances of his Generoſity have been related; none of them come within my Knowledge, as I never had the Pleaſure of his Acquaintance until I returned to England.

Q. I think you ſaid you never ſaw Mr. Haſtings till you came to England?

A. At St. Helena was the firſt Introduction, to the beſt of my Recollection, that I had to him, when Mr. Haſtings came to pay a Viſit to Colonel Muir, who lived in the ſame Quarters that I did.

Q. There were ſome Letters that were delivered by you to Mr. Middleton, can you recollect whether they were the Originals of the Letters in the Perſian Language, or Copies of them; do you remember what they were?

A. If they were the Letters given to me by the Begum from Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon, they were in Perſian. They were the original Letters, and had the Signatures of Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon affixed to them—the Initials of their Names.

Q. Were the Initials only put to thoſe Letters?
A. That was all. Never more than juſt the Initials were put to any Letter.

Q. What became of thoſe Letters?
A. Whether I returned them to the Begum again, or have them in my Poſſeſſion now, I really cannot ſay exactly.

Q. Did you receive them back from Mr. Middleton?
A. I did.

Q. How ſoon after you had delivered them?
A. A few Hours, probably a Day; I will not charge my Memory exactly with it; I think it was in the Courſe of the ſame Day. I rather believe I gave them to him in the Morning, and received them back again the ſame Day; but I will not be poſitive.

Q. But whether thoſe Letters are deſtroyed, or whether they are in your preſent Cuſtody, is more than you know?
A. I do not recollect at preſent, whether I did deliver them back to the Begum, or whether I have them now among my Perſian Papers.

Q. Whether your Letter to Mr. Middleton, of the 19th of October 1782 (a), was anſwered by his Succeſſor in Office, Mr. Briſtow?
A. I do not know whether it was anſwered by Mr. Middleton or Mr. Briſtow, I cannot charge my Memory with it; but it was about the Period of Mr. Middleton's Departure.

Then the laſt Queſtion and Anſwer were read by the Clerk.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Words "incloſing thoſe Letters," which were added by the Counſel in putting the Queſtion, after the Date of the Letter, were omitted.

The ſame were ordered to be inſerted, viz.

"Q. Whether the Letter of the 19th of October 1782, incloſing thoſe Letters, was anſwered by his Succeſſor in Office, Mr. Briſtow?
A. I do not know, whether it was anſwered by Mr. Middleton or Mr. Briſtow: I cannot charge my Memory with it, but it was about the Period of Mr. Middleton's Departure."

Q. Do you remember the Letter from the Begum to Mr. Middleton?
A. If the Honourable Managers will permit me to refreſh my Memory by looking into their Book, I will give a very direct Anſwer to it.

Then a Book was ſhewn to the Witneſs, and he proceeded as follows:

A. Mr. Middleton never did reply to that Letter of the 19th October 1782. It is a very ſingular Letter, and if it was read, your Lordſhips would perceive that it was ſo ſtrongly impreſſed upon me, that I could not make a Miſtake. Mr. Middleton never did anſwer it.

Q. That is a Letter, of the 19th October, from you to Mr. Middleton?
A. Yes.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the Queſtion put by the Counſel had led the Witneſs to a Contradiction; for he had juſt before ſaid he gave the Papers perſonally to Mr. Middleton, and the Counſel's Queſtion made it that they were encloſed.

The Witneſs ſaid,

The Letter of the 19th October, which I encloſed to Mr. Middleton, was from the Bhow Begum; for I particularly mention "The encloſed Letter from the Bow Begum is in Reply to yours "which I delivered on my Return to this Place." (b) The Papers were delivered to Mr. Middleton before that Period, when I was at Lucknow.

Q. Which Papers?
A. The Letter from Colonel Hannay, and Captain Gordon's Letter to her, I delivered to Mr. Middleton when I was at Lucknow.

Q. At what Time was that? How long before that Letter?
A. It muſt be about the Beginning of October; but I cannot exactly recollect the Date.

Q. Can you aſcertain the Time before the 19th of October 1782, when you had been at Lucknow?
A. I cannot exactly ſay, but I believe it was in the Beginning of October, or about the Middle of October.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 749, & infra, Page 896. (b) Vide ſupra, ibid. & infra, ibid.

Q. (by

Q. (by the Managers.) There is a Letter in that Book, now before you, of the 20th September, from a Place called Deriabad, (a) when you was upon your Road from Fyzabad to Lucknow, that Place is about Half Way between Fyzabad and Lucknow: Recollect only the Time it took you in travelling from Deriabad to Lucknow?

A. The Honourable Manager is exactly right; for here is my Letter dated the 20th of September 1782, at Deriabad: I felt myself some Time past indisposed with a feverish Complaint, and I was obliged to go on account of my Health: I had mistaken the Time, it was not in October, but in September.

Q. Now you find you were at Deriabad upon the 20th of September, Can you now bring it to your Memory at what Time you arrived at Lucknow?

A. I fancy I arrived the Third Day after that; I think I only made Four Days March of it.

Q. Was that the Time at which you delivered those Papers?

A. I believe it was when I was at Lucknow at that Time.

Q. Whether you received a Letter, that is entered in the Book before you, from Mr. Bristow, addressed to you, bearing Date the 4th November 1782, in which there is this Acknowledgement: "I received your Letters of the 12th, 19th, 27th, and 30th, Ultimo?" (b)

A. I dare say I did, I have not a Doubt about it; and I fancy I could produce the original Letter.

Q. Did you know the Court of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I did.

Q. Did you know the Court of Asoph ul Dowlah?

A. Yes.

Q. Was there a material Alteration in the Countenance, Figure, and Establishment of his Court, from that kept by his Father?

A. The present Nabob never did, from the Beginning, keep such a splendid Court as his Father did.

Q. Not from the Beginning?

A. Not from the Beginning. I was at Fyzabad when he was First placed upon the Musnud.

Q. From the Time of his being placed on the Musnud, subsequent to that Time, did you observe any material Alteration made in the Figure of Asoph ul Dowlah's Court?

A. None of any Consequence.

Q. (by the Managers.) You have stated, that you are not sure whether you returned those Letters, or not, to the Begum, or whether you have them now in your Possession: Recollect, whether you did not afterwards, in November, convey other Copies of those Letters from the Begum to Mr. Bristow——of Colonel Hannay's and Captain Gordon's Letters?

A. I did.

Q. Then she must have had them returned, to have sent Copies of them to Mr. Bristow?

A. I gave him Copies of them.

Q. (by a Lord.) Was it not about the Fourth of November that you gave Copies of them to Mr. Bristow?

The Managers for the Commons stated, it was about the End of October.

Q. Then those Letters must have been in your Possession at that Time?

A. They were; but whether on my taking Leave of the Court, and quitting that Station, which I did in December following, I delivered them to the Begum, or kept them, I cannot say; but I am sure I could not have delivered them to the Begum till then, if I did at that Period.

Q. Do you say, you sent the Copies to Mr. Bristow?

A. If I recollect right, I enclosed one of the Begum's Letters along with those; they were under Enclosures from me.

Q. In a Letter from the Bow Begum to Mr. Bristow, which appears to have covered Copies of those Letters from her; She says, "the Letters of Thanks I have received from both those Gentlemen [Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon], are still in my Possession; Copies of which, I gave in Charge to Major Gilpin, to be delivered to Mr. Middleton;" and then with that Letter she sends other Copies to Mr. Bristow?

A. The Mistake must have happened on her Part, for I had the Originals, and I do not despair of finding them on my Return into the Country.—She did not deliver Copies, but Originals; I dare say they are among my Persian Papers yet.—As a Proof that they were Originals, I pointed out the initial Letters to Mr. Middleton, when he suspected that they were not Originals: that there were the initial Letters of Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon to them.

Q. Do

Q. Do you mean, that you told Mr. Middleton ſo at the Time you delivered the Letters to him?
A. Yes; that I pointed that Circumſtance out to Mr. Middleton. If I can find them, I will tranſmit them with the greateſt Pleaſure; I do not wiſh to withhold any Secret whatever.

Q. Did you cauſe thoſe Letters to be tranſlated at Fyzabad, after your Return from Mr. Middleton from Lucknow?
A. I think I had a Tranſlation of them before I went there.

Q. Where, and by what Means, did you get that Tranſlation?
A. By the Aſſiſtance of my Commandant, who acted in the Capacity of Moonſhy, and the Aſſiſtance of Captain Hyde, who was a Captain in my Regiment.

Q. Where was it done?
A. At Fyzabad.

Q. Can you recollect, whether it was after your Return from Lucknow, or previouſly to your going to Lucknow, that you cauſed thoſe Letters to be tranſlated?
A. I have already ſaid, that to the beſt of my Recollection it was before I went to Lucknow.

Q. Did you omit communicating to Mr. Middleton the Circumſtance of your having Tranſlations of the Letters, or did you ſhew thoſe Tranſlations to Mr. Middleton?
A. I think I gave him the Originals; and whether I mentioned any Thing of my having the Tranſlations, I do not recollect; but it was unneceſſary to Mr. Middleton, as he underſtood the Perſian Language ſo well.

Q. Did Mr. Middleton read the Perſian Originals in your Preſence, and appear to underſtand them?
A. He read a Part of them, if not the Whole;—I cannot anſwer to the Whole: But he requeſted that I would leave them with him, that he might peruſe them at Leiſure.

Q. When was Shumſhire Cawn releaſed?
A. He was releaſed at the Time that Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan were.

Q. Do you remember what Time that was?
A. December the 4th, 1782. I enlarged them by Order of his Excellency the Nabob. I have a Memorandum of it here, which I took to refreſh my Memory.

The Witneſs read the ſame, as follows:

" 4th Dec. 1782, Camp at Fyzabad.

" His Excellency the Nabob Vizier having been pleaſed to grant the Enlargement of the Priſoners Bahar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, from their long Confinement, the Guards over the † Sic in Orig. ſaid Men is † in Conſequence withdrawn; and Liberty granted them to paſs and repaſs all Guards and Centinels, in common with other People."

Q. And Shumſhire Khan was enlarged at the ſame Time?
A. Yes, he was releaſed at the ſame Time.

Q. By whom was the Order conveyed to you?
A. It was conveyed to me by Mr. Briſtow, for the Enlargement of Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan.

Q. But, for the Enlargement of Shumſhire Khan, what Order had you?
A. I had none.

Q. Your Memorandum purports, that Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan were releaſed by Order of the Nabob, but mentions nothing of the Releaſe of Shumſhire Khan; upon what do you go in ſuppoſing that Shumſhire Khan was impriſoned down to the 4th of December?
A. When I received Orders to enlarge Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan, no Mention was made of Shumſhire Khan; I did not know what to do with him, but I ſpoke to Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan, and I aſked them whether they would be reſponſible for Shumſhire Khan if I ſhould do wrong in delivering him, ſo as to return him again into my Cuſtody to be a Priſoner, in caſe I ſhould be called to account; and, in conſequence of their Promiſe, I releaſed him, and he ſtands now in that very Predicament, and no Demand was ever made to me for Shumſhire Khan.

Q. Whether, while you had Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan and Shumſhire Khan in your Cuſtody, any Inquiry whatever was ſet on foot, in order to diſcover their ſuppoſed Treaſon and Rebellion againſt the Nabob and the Engliſh?
A. I do not recollect that there was any publick Enquiry of that Kind.

Q. Was any Enquiry at all, that you remember, ſet on foot?
A. I do not recollect any thing more than Gentlemen by accident juſt ſpeaking to them: There was no Enquiry by Authority; Converſations might have paſſed upon that Subject.

Q. For

Q. For what Purpoſe were Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan taken out of your Cuſtody, and ſent to Lucknow? And when were they ſo taken out?

The Witneſs read the following Memorandum:

"June 18th, ſent the Priſoners Jewar and Bahar Ali Khan to Lucknow, in Charge of Lieutenant Crow, with Two Companies of Sepoys."

Q. For what Purpoſe were they ſent to Lucknow?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay, for what Purpoſe; but I ſent them by Order of the Reſident.

Q. Did the Order from the Reſident convey any Thing more to you, than the mere Order for ſending them, or did it expreſs to you for what Purpoſe they were to be ſent?
A. I ſhould ſuppoſe for the Purpoſe of getting the Payment of the Balance from them.

Q. How do you collect that Senſe? Was it Part of the Order?
A. I only collect it from the general Senſe of Mr. Johnſon's Letter to me.

Q. Did not you learn from Mr. Johnſon's Letter—according to your Memory of that Letter now, that Severities had been threatened to be uſed to them in Lucknow, in order to get from them the Secret of the Place where the Treaſures were concealed at Fyzabad?
A. I do not know whether Mr. Johnſon did expreſs it in his Letter to me; I rather think he ſaid he had uſed Threats, but I do not recollect Severities being mentioned; but the Letter will ſhew it.

Q. Who commanded the Guard which eſcorted Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn to Lucknow?
A. Lieutenant Crow.

Q. You ſay, in a Letter to Mr. Johnſon, of the 23d of July 1782, that "the Elder Begum appeared at one Time very anxious to begin an Engagement" (a):——Recollect, whether you did not underſtand that Threat to be with an Intention that ſhe herſelf might be deſtroyed,—and that you underſtood it to be her Determination to die in a rebellious Blaze (b).—Do you recollect that Paſſage?
A. I do recollect it, and I believe it would ſave a great Deal of Trouble if the Reſt of my Correſpondence upon that Subject was read; particularly my Letter in Anſwer to Mr. Johnſon's laſt Letter that was read Yeſterday: Mr. Johnſon's Letter implied ſome little Miſconduct on my Part, which I anſwered fully; and I feel myſelf hurt at its not being read, becauſe my Character as a Soldier is at Stake.

Read, the following Letter from Major Gilpin to Mr. Johnſon, dated the 2d Auguſt 1782, from the printed Minutes of the Evidence taken before a Committee of the whole Houſe of Commons, on Thurſday the 18th May 1786, already delivered in, beginning at Page 83 of the ſame.

"To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at Lucknow.

"Dear Sir,

"I have to acknowledge the Receipt of your Letter of the 31ſt ult°, which makes it requiſite for me to point out clearly to you the Impracticability of maintaining the Poſt at the Elder Begum's Gate, in the Mode you preſcribe in your Letter of the 22d ult°.

"The Elder Begum had aſſembled not leſs than Four thouſand Men in the City, beſides the whole Country were in Motion to her Aſſiſtance. With ſuch a Force, was it poſſible for the Detachment to maintain the Poſt at the Gate, if they were not ſuffered to enter the ſame when fired upon, and put the Whole to Death?

"Can it be ſuppoſed that Officers and Men will ſtand tamely in a Street when fired on, through Windows, Doors, Loopholes, &c. &c. which ſurround and command them, without exerting every Ability to deſtroy that ſecreted Enemy? And can it alſo be ſuppoſed that, when fired upon, they will ſhamefully retreat, under the ſcandalous Appellation of cowardly Fellows? Epithets that might have been too juſtly applied by the Begum's People, had the Attempt been made, and God forbid that I ſhall ever live to hear ſo ſcandalous a Reflection thrown out on the Corps I command.—I have had the Honour to ſerve my King and Country near Twenty-four Years, with the conſtant Approbation of my Superiors; and can it be ſuppoſed, after ſuch a Length of Service, that I wanted wantonly to throw away a Reputation I have ſo long laboured to obtain? which muſt inevitably have been the Caſe in the Eyes of every military Man, had the Detachment been ordered by me to retire to a more diſtant Poſt when fired upon, as you preſcribe?—What did the Governor General ſay of the Attack of Ramnagur, by the late Captain Mayaffre? And did not the whole World condemn Lieutenants Stalkers, Scott, and Symes, for not putting Cheyt Sing to inſtant Death when the Attack was made on the Guard.

" Theſe were Circumſtances that required due Attention on my Part; and I do aſſure you, it did not appear poſſible to have continued that Guard an Hour longer, without an Attack from them; the Conſequence of which would, in all Probability, have been a more ſerious Rebellion than that of Cheyt Sing's was, yet not, in any reſpect, fatal to this Detachment, for the Orders I had given almoſt enſured Succeſs, in caſe of an Attack.

" Situation and Circumſtances (viſible to every Perſon here) made it requiſite to withdraw the Guard the Moment the Begum requeſted it, unleſs my Orders for extirpating every Man in Arms had been clear and poſitive, and which, from the Tenour of your Letter, I never could expect to receive, as you ſay, " it is not worth proceeding to Extremities with ſo reſpectable a Family, &c." I am very happy, the Thirty-third Regiment was here, and particularly ſo, that Major Buchannan commanded it, whoſe Length of Service and ſteady Conduct has met with general Applauſe—His Sentiments and mine coincided in every Particular.

" I have now to anſwer your Letter of the 31ſt, wherein you diſapprove of my withdrawing the Guard; a Circumſtance that you imagine has cauſed the total Failure of this Buſineſs.—In Reply to which, give me Leave to obſerve, that the only Mode of paying the Balance, without going to Extremities, is, in my humble Opinion, by that Agreement to all Appearance made permanent.

" She has promiſed, in the moſt ſacred Manner, to deliver up the Caſh, Jewels, &c. that ſhe has in her Poſſeſſion, to make good the ſame.

" Should ſhe not ſtand to this Agreement, my Promiſe to her, of viſiting the Elder Begum, is void; and ſhe of courſe becomes a State Priſoner in the Fort, where every Reſtraint that may be judged requiſite can be more eaſily enforced, than if ſhe was at the Elder Begum's in the City. I have now to requeſt, ſince you have diſapproved of the Agreement, which appeared to me the moſt eligible and ſecure, that you will draw up the Terms which are to be accepted of, and every Exertion in my Power ſhall be made to obtain them.

" I am, Dear Sir,
Your obedient humble Servant,
(Signed) M. Gilpin."

" Fyzabad,
2d Auguſt 1782.

To ſhew the Situation the Begums were in at this Time, and the Probability there was of an Engagement,

Read, the following Letters from the ſame Book, beginning at Page 80 of the ſame.

" To Richard Johnſon Eſquire, Reſident at the Court at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" The Situation of Affairs all Day Yeſterday was very precarious, ſo much ſo, that by the Encreaſe of Troops in the City, I every Moment expected the ſerious Scene to open.

" The Bhow Begum ſent no Meſſage all the Day, which confirmed me in Opinion ſhe meant an immediate Attack; and in conſequence I was prepared in every reſpect, and gave the neceſſary Inſtructions to every Poſt and Party.

" Early in the Evening, the Bhow Begum ſent to requeſt I would ſend my Commandant to her, which I readily complied with, but told him to tell her, " That aſſembling ſuch a numerous Force in the Town was needleſs; that I had given Orders, in caſe of a ſingle Shot from them, to enter the Palace, and put to Death every Man in Arms; that the Banaraſs Maſſacre was ſtill freſh in the Minds of the Officers and Sepoys; and that, notwithſtanding the Orders I had given to ſpare Women and Children, I could not expect much Delicacy would be obſerved, if once they entered; I therefore recommended her to conſider the critical Situation, and come to Terms."

" She gave me every Aſſurance that ſhe wiſhed for Peace and Quietneſs, but inſinuated as much, as that ſhe was not abſolutely Miſtreſs of her own Conduct; and I have Reaſon to ſuppoſe the Elder Begum was very deſirous and anxious to begin an Engagement; nay, I am convinced, by various corroborating Circumſtances, that ſhe was reſolutely bent, and firmly reſolved, to die as ſhe had lived, in a rebellious Blaze.

" However, about 12 o'Clock at Night the Bhow Begum agreed to give up every Thing ſhe had, to be diſpoſed of for the Payment of the Balance due, but that ſhe could not get at the Jewels and other valuable Goods, until the Arrival of the Priſoners Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn; that as ſoon as they arrived the Things ſhould be depoſited.

" It is alſo, I believe, certain, that ſhe never will agree to any other Terms while ſhe remains under the Roof of the Elder Begum.

" Finding it was abſolutely impoſſible to keep much longer from a general Engagement, and not having Orders to ſtorm the Palace, or diſarm the Troops (which, by the bye, would have been a bloody Scene) I accepted thoſe Terms, and withdrew the Guards, at the Requeſt of the Begum; and I now wait your Inſtructions and Reply to my Letter of the 21ſt.

" I have further to add, that ſhe has confirmed the Agreement by Letter this Morning, aſſuring me, be the Conſequences what they will, ſhe has no other Mode of Payment; at the ſame Time ſhe expreſſes much Satisfaction that this diſagreeable Buſineſs is ſo near adjuſted.

" The

" The Twenty-third Regiment has by this been detained only One Day, as Major Buchannan could not poſſibly have marched before the Twenty-fourth. He will now march from this the 25th.

" I have the Honour to be, Sir,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
Martin Gilpin,
Major Commanding."

" Fyzabad,
23d July 1782.

" To Major Martin Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

" Sir,

" I am honoured with your Letter of the 23d, and am much concerned that you did not wait the Anſwer to your Firſt Letter, before you withdrew the Reſtraint placed upon the Begum, with ſo ſucceſsful an Appearance. You promiſed in your Letter of the 21ſt to hold what you had got, and to remain as you were; had you abided by this Engagement, you would have found, by my ſubſequent private Letter, written the Day after my Reply to your Expreſs of the 21ſt, the certain Succeſs of the Plan which now is thrown further back than ever; for, if I underſtand your laſt, an † unlimited Amount are to be delivered up, with a poſitive Agreement to releaſe the Priſoners; whereas, before this laſt Effort on our Side (in which I do not learn that the ſame Station was occupied that was poſſeſſed on the firſt Reſtraint upon the Palace Gate) the elder Begum offered One Lack in Part Payment, for only transferring the Priſoners; and afterwards, upon ſurrounding the Palace, the Bow Begum offered One Half of the Money down, and the Remainder in Goods (much preferable to the preſent Offer) which was refuſed, becauſe ſhe would give no Security for the Performance of her Offer, to obtain which you placed the Second Reſtraint; and have now withdrawn them upon leſs favourable Terms, and ‡ what we poſſeſſed in Hand from the Reſult of the Firſt Reſtraint, and this at a Time when you had double the Force, One Half of which might have ſcoured the Town of any armed Force it could contain, while the Remainder could ſcarcely fail of maintaining its Poſt uninterruptedly round the Palace. From the Steps of Compliance immediately adopted by the Begum in her Overtures to the Shroffs at Lucknow, it is ſelf-evident (in Addition to the Conviction of her Ability, and other Arguments hazarded in my laſt) that ſhe could never mean to attempt an Attack upon your Poſt.—But, dropping all uſeleſs Diſcuſſion upon what is paſt, and of courſe remedileſs, I muſt apply ⊥ to her Offer through you, upon which you have now withdrawn the Guard; it is this, That if I refuſed the former advantageous Tenders for Want of ſome Security, I ſtill more poſitively reject this, which is neither ſo advantageous, and equally unaccompanied with the leaſt Shadow of Security, and burthened with a Demand of releaſing her Agents as ſoon as what ſhe may chuſe to depoſit ſhall be declared. This, as the Begum has dropped her Firſt Terms, I now refuſe to agree to, as I ought to have done then, when propoſed as a Condition upon the Payment: I always ſaid, that if through their Means the Company's Balance could be liquidated, it would give me an Opening to recommend them to Lenity, and an eaſy Diſcharge from the Crimes they ſtand accuſed of; but to ſtipulate ſuch an Exchange, would be indecent on my Behalf, a Circumſtance I had not before ſufficiently weighed, but which I have now an Opportunity to eſtabliſh. Upon the Whole, therefore, the following is the only Line for you to follow now: Firſt, to prohibit throughout the Town any armed Men appearing in the Streets; and after due Notice given, to order conſtant Patroles to execute it, and in caſe the Regulation is not ſpeedily and ſtrictly obeyed, to make Example of the Firſt Offenders; next to eſtabliſh ſuch Poſts, at ſuch Diſtances as you ſhall deem practicable and tenable to a Certainty, round the Palace, through which whoever ſhall pleaſe may paſs, from the Palace, but none return within it. Thus gradually, Once more, for a Third Time, re-eſtabliſhing the Firſt Reſtraint, and remaining in that Poſition, whatever may be the Reſult of it (unleſs that if § immediate full Payment or full Security, without Reſtrictions and Stipulations on our Side) until the Guards ſhall be ordered off. My Motive for ſubſcribing this ſlow and quiet Method is founded merely upon your Information of the violent Intention of the Elder Begum, which ſhe will have no Opportunity of carrying far by this Mode, as the Forces within the Palace cannot, or ought not, to be conſiderable, for the Reaſons aſſigned in my laſt, founded upon the neceſſary Precautions, that I cannot doubt has been obſerved, to prevent armed Men going into the Palace.

" I ſhall have no Objection to transfer the Confinement of the Priſoners to your Camp at Fyzabad, when the Begum may return to any Terms that can be accepted, as I know their Preſence there may be of Uſe, although I alſo know that their being here is great Subject of Alarm to the Bhow Begum.

" But I repeat, that ſhould you again be able to re-eſtabliſh yourſelf, as I hope, without any Struggle, which you muſt ſee, from this and my laſt, how much I wiſh to avoid, that you upon no Account withdraw until the Propoſals ſhall have been referred, and Time given for an Anſwer from hence, unleſs in the Caſe of full unconditional Submiſſion and Compliance from the Begum.

" It is not rational to ſuppoſe that ſhe will long ſubmit to troubleſome Reſtraint, poſſeſſing the Means, as I know ſhe does, for releaſing herſelf; I therefore place great Reliance upon the Effect of your fulfilling the Spirit of theſe Directions. The Letter muſt depend upon Circumſtances, and your own Diſcretion.

" To Nath[l] Middleton, Eſquire.

" Sir,

" I have the Pleaſure to encloſe you Ten Bills of Exchange on the Bankers at Lucknow, amounting to Fifty thouſand Rupees, on account of the Balance due from the Bhow Begum, which I received from the Priſoners Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn.

" Hoolaſs Roy is of Opinion that the Goods which I have received from the Bhow Begum are well worth Four Lacks of Rupees, even allowing that they ſell greatly under their Value.

" The Goods were to have left Fyzabad To-day, but owing to a continued Rain I have delayed them until Choppers can be made for the Hackeries.

" I have had a Paper War with the Elder Begum theſe Two Days; ſhe did promiſe to lend One Lack to be paid to me, how far I ſhall be able to ſucceed I cannot yet ſay; however, I am hopeful, even without her Aſſiſtance, that I ſhall get all together between Five and Six Lacks on Account of this Balance.

" I am under Promiſe to the Begum of viſiting Lucknow with ſuch Propoſals, that will, I hope, enſure the ſmall Balance that may remain, although the Elder Begum ſhould not aſſiſt.

" To Major Martin Gilpin, commanding at Fyzabad.

" Sir,

" I am honoured with your Letter of the 15th. As it is not poſſible I can liſten to any Terms for the Begums before the final Diſcharge of their conditional Agreement for 55 Lacks, your coming here upon ſuch an Agency can only be Loſs of Time in completing the Recovery of the Balance of 6,55,000, for which your Regiment was ſent to Fyzabad; I muſt therefore deſire you will leave no Efforts, gentle or harſh, unattempted to complete this before you move from Fyzabad, and I am very anxious that this ſhould be as ſoon as poſſible, as I want to employ your Regiment upon other emergent Service, now ſuffering by every Delay.

" Nathaniel Middleton Eſquire, Reſident at the Court at Lucknow.

" Sir,

" Imperfect Health for ſome Time paſt, with a Feveriſh Complaint, and violent Head Aches, encreaſing rather too faſt, made it abſolutely neceſſary for me to quit the unwholeſome Air of Fyzabad many Days ſooner than I either intended or was prepared for, as a Change of Air and Medical Aſſiſtance was now become neceſſary.

" I had the Pleaſure to receive your Letter of the 17th, ſince my Arrival here, the Dauk having miſſed me on the Road. I have to aſſure you there will be no Time loſt by my Journey to Lucknow, for I fancy the Balance that may remain, after the Sales of the Effects, will not be a Subject Matter to detain the Regiment from the active Service you propoſe for it; and my Preſence, on this Occaſion, is alſo requiſite at Lucknow, to provide the neceſſary Stores for a Campaign. My Stay at Lucknow will be very ſhort, if my Health will admit of an immediate Return; it is a Place I have neither Inclination to viſit, or Buſineſs to delay me long at.

" Sir,

" I have received your Letters of the 12th, 19th, 27th, and 30th ultimo.

" I communicated the Contents of that of the 30th to the Miniſter, who promiſed me to iſſue Orders for the Payment of a Sum of Money to relieve the Diſtreſs of the Khourd Mahl. I ſhall alſo forward a Bill for Ten Thouſand Rupees to you, in the Courſe of Three or Four Days; and if, in the mean Time, you may find Means to ſupply to the Amount of that Sum, I will become perſonally reſponſible to you for the Re-payment.

" I ſhall anſwer the Begum's Letter, when I may be able to ſpeak with any Certainty on the Points relative to which ſhe writes me. I hope to * this alſo, in the Courſe of Three or Four Days, and requeſt you will make my Reſpects, and inform her of my Intentions. * Sic in Orig.

" Sir,

" The repeated Cries of the Women in the Khourd Mahl Zenana, for Subſiſtence, has been truly melancholy.

" They beg moſt piteouſly for Liberty, that they may earn their daily Bread by laborious Servitude, or to be relieved from their Miſery by immediate Death.

" In conſequence of their unhappy Situation, I have this Day taken the Liberty of drawing on you in favour of Ramnarain, at Ten Days Sight, for Twenty Son Kerah Rupees Ten thouſand, which I have paid to Cojah Latafat Ally Cawn, under whoſe Charge that Zenana is.

" Sir,

" Before my Return to Fyzabad, the Bhow Begum had replied to his Excellency the Nabob Vizier's Letter; the Contents of which I imagine he would communicate to you.

" The elder Begum I underſtand (from Report only) never intends to put Pen to Paper to him again.

" What Probability there may now be of ever receiving the Balance from the Begum, you, from her Letter to the Nabob, will be beſt able to judge; but I am clearly of Opinion, that whilſt her Eunuchs, Behar and Jewar Ally Cawn, remain Priſoners, and the Battalions continue here with any Reſtraint on her, that ſhe will never agree to pay a further Sum on the Score required; and indeed it appears to me only recoverable by moderate Means. If the Priſoners were releaſed, and the Troops withdrawn from her, I fancy ſhe would, in a ſhort Period, enter into a Negociation with you; and on certain Terms be induced to pay the Sum wanted.

" Encloſed I ſend you the Copy of a Letter which I received this Morning from her. The Circumſtances of her Servants quitting her for Want of Subſiſtence, is very certain and public; and whether real or fictitious, I will not take upon me to determine; but I judge it neceſſary to make you acquainted with the Circumſtance.

As it may be ſome Days before he will arrive at Fyzabad, and the Enlargement of the Begums Eunuchs has been reſolved upon, it appears neceſſary that it ſhould be delayed; you will therefore immediately releaſe Behar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, for whom, and the Begum, I ſhall ſend you Letters by To-morrow Night's Dawk.

" You will, in the mean Time, continue your Solicitation for the Balance due to the Vizier; and ſhould you receive any Money on this Account, tranſmit it under a proper Eſcort to Lucknow.

" I received your Letters of the 15th and 18th Ultimo.

" The Vizier having thought proper to expreſs his Pleaſure, that the Begum ſhould be relieved from the Reſtraints under which her Servants have been laid, I notify the ſame to you, and inform you, there is no further Occaſion for the Services of the Troops under your Command ſtationed at Fyzabad.

" Previous to your Departure, you will deliver over Charge of the Fort of Fyzabad to Auffreen Ally Cawn, or ſuch Perſon as he may appoint to receive it, and to whom you will alſo explain any other Matters neceſſary for his Information. You will releaſe the Begum's Eunuchs, Bahar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, from Confinement, and you will deliver the Artillery, Ammunition, and Stores under your Charge, belonging to the Vizier, to Lullmun Shogul, the Aumil of Gonda, or the Agent or Agents he may appoint.

" Tranſlation of a Paper of Intelligence from Fyzabad.

" The Ladies, their Attendants and Servants, were ſtill as clamorous as laſt Night; Lataffit the Daroga went to them and remonſtrated with them on the Impropriety of their Conduct, at the ſame Time aſſuring them, that in a few Days all their Allowances would be paid; and ſhould that not be the Caſe, he would advance them Ten Days Subſiſtence, upon Condition that they returned to their Habitations. None of them, however, conſented to his Propoſal, but were ſtill intent upon making their Eſcape through the Bazar, and in conſequence formed themſelves in the following Order,—the Children in the Front, behind them the Ladies of the Seraglio, and behind them again their Attendants; but their Intentions were fruſtrated by the Oppoſition which they met with from Lataffit's Sepoys.

" The next Day Lataffit went Twice to the Women, and uſed his Endeavours to make them return into the Zenana, promiſing to advance them 10,000 Rupees, which, upon the Money being paid down, they agreed to comply with, but Night coming on, nothing tranſpired.

" On the Day following, their Clamours were more violent than uſual, Lataffit went to confer with them on the Buſineſs of yeſterday, offering the ſame Terms; depending upon the Fidelity of his Promiſes, they conſented to return to their Apartments, which they accordingly did, except Two or Three of the Ladies, and moſt of their Attendants. Lataffit then went to Hoſhmund Ally Cawn to conſult with him about what Means they ſhould take; they came to a Reſolution of driving them in by Force, and gave Orders to their Sepoys to beat any one of the Women who ſhould attempt to move forward. The Sepoys accordingly aſſembled, and each one being provided with a Bludgeon, they drove them, by Dint of Beating, into the Zenana; the Women, ſeeing the Treachery of Latafit, proceeded to throw Stones and Bricks at the Sepoys, and again attempted to get out; but, finding that impoſſible, from the Gates being ſhut, they kept up a continual Diſcharge till about Twelve o'Clock, when, finding their Situation deſperate, they returned into the Rung Mahl, and forced their Way from thence into the Palace, and diſperſed themſelves about the Houſe and Gardens. After this, they were deſirous of getting into the Begum's Apartments; but ſhe, being apprized of their Intentions, ordered the Doors to be ſhut. In the mean Time, Latafit Hoſhmund Ally Cawn poſted Juſtices to ſecure the Gates of the Leſſer Mahl. During the Whole of this Conflict, the Ladies and Women remained expoſed to the View of the Sepoys. The Begum then ſent for Latafit and Hoſhmund Ally Cawn, whom ſhe ſeverely reprimanded, and inſiſted upon knowing the Cauſe of this infamous Behaviour. They pleaded, in their Defence, the Impoſſibility of helping it, as the Treatment the Women had met with, had only been conformable to his Excellency the Vizier's Orders. The Begum alledged, that even admitting that the Nabob had given theſe Orders, they were by no Means authorized in this Manner to diſgrace the Family of Sujah Dowlah, and ſhould they not receive their Allowances for a Day or Two, it could be of no great moment; what had paſſed was now at an End, but that the Vizier ſhould certainly be acquainted with the Whole of the Affair, and that whatever he directed, ſhe ſhould implicitly comply with. The Begum then ſent for Two of the Children who were wounded in the Affray of laſt Night, and after endeavouring to ſooth them, ſhe ſent again to Latafit and Hoſmund Ally Cawn, and in the Preſence of the Children, again expreſſed her Diſapprobation of their Conduct, and the Improbability of Aſoph ul Dowlah's ſuffering the Ladies and Children of Sujah Dowlah to be diſgraced, by being expoſed to the View of the Sepoys; upon which Latafit produced the Letter from the Nabob, repreſenting, that he was amenable only to the Order of his Excellency, and that whatever he ordered, it was his Duty to obey, and that had the Ladies thought proper to have retired quietly into their Apartments, he would not have uſed the Means he had taken to compel them. The Begum again obſerved, that what had paſſed was now over. She then gave the Children 400 Rupees, and diſmiſſed them, and ſent Word by Sumrud and the other Eunuchs, that if the Ladies would peaceably retire to their Apartments, Latafit would ſupply them with 3 or 4,000 Rupees for their preſent Expences, and recommended to them not to incur any further Diſgrace; and that if they did not think proper to act agreeable to her Directions, they would do wrong. The Ladies followed her Advice, and about 10 at Night went back into the Zenana. The next Morning the Begum waited upon the Mother of Sujah Dowlah, and related to her all the Circumſtances of the Diſturbance. The Mother of Sujah Dowlah returned for Anſwer, that after there being no Accounts kept by Crores of Revenue, ſhe was not ſurpriſed that the Family of Sujah Dowlah, in their Endeavours to procure Subſiſtence, ſhould be obliged to expoſe themſelves to the meaneſt of People. After bewailing their Misfortunes, and ſhedding many Tears, the Begum took her leave and returned home.

" Major Gilpin, with One Battalion, has been ſtationed at Fyzabad for the Purpoſe of ſupporting the Vizier's Claim againſt the Begum, for the Recovery of his Patrimony, depoſited in her Charge.—I applied to the Vizier immediately upon my Arrival, for his Conſent to withdraw this Battalion, ſeeing little Prabability * that violent Meaſures would effect my further Payments.—I propoſed to him to truſt to her Generoſity for the Liquidation of the Balance, which was about Five Lacks.—The Vizier would not at that Time acquieſce in my Propoſal; but, determined on making One more Effort, previous to leaving it in her Diſcretion to prolong the Term of Payment; his Excellency accordingly addreſſed a Letter to the Begum, conveying his Senſe of her evading the Performance of her Engagements in very harſh Terms, and threatening, in caſe of Non-compliance with them, that her Eunuchs ſhould continue in Confinement, and Means be taken to recover the Money from her, as the Company would never be ſatisfied without it.—The Begum, in Reply, repreſented her Inability, having paid away all the Treaſure ever entruſted to her Charge by the late Vizier; but if the Eunuchs were enlarged, ſhe might, with their Aſſiſtance, be enabled to raiſe the Money upon Credit.—On his Excellency's receiving this Anſwer, I renewed my Solicitations for Permiſſion to withdraw the Battalion, reſting the Matter upon the Begum's Promiſe of diſcharging the Balance when her Eunuchs ſhould be releaſed.—I was induced to this Meaſure by the Repreſentations of Major Gilpin, who had been employed in the Buſineſs from the Commencement. His Opinion, aſſerting that every practicable coercive Exertion had been uſed, I beg leave to ſubmit to you in the encloſed Copy of his Letter to me on the Subject.—The Vizier at Length acquieſced in the Battalion's being withdrawn, for which I was the more anxious, as your Inſtructions to me diſapprove of Detachments, and the State of Affairs requires the Appearance of a formidable Force on the Frontiers.

Then Mr. ROBERT HUDSON was called in, and aſked;

Q. When did theſe Two Letters firſt appear upon the Conſultations? Have you looked over the Conſultations before the 3d of March, to ſee whether it has ever appeared before?

A. I believe, the firſt Time it appears is upon the 3d March 1783. The Letter juſt now read is on the Conſultation of the 12th May 1783.

Q. You have read over the Conſultations before that Time?

A. I have.

Q. Therefore you ſpeak negatively, that before that Time it does not appear upon the Conſultations?

A. It does not.

Q. (Croſs examined.) Whether the Letters are uſually entered upon the Conſultations immediately upon the Receipt of them, or whether they are not entered till ſome Conſideration is taken upon them? Do you know, what the Courſe is of doing Buſineſs at Calcutta, as to entering Letters?

A. I cannot ſpeak with any Certainty, as to the Proceedings at Calcutta; I can only obſerve how they are entered upon the Proceedings, they vary often, appear ſome Time after the Date of them.

Q. Therefore all you ſpeak to, is the Fact of their Appearance upon the Proceedings; but the Courſe of Buſineſs you know nothing of?

A. No.

Q. Does it appear to you, from obſerving the Courſe of Buſineſs as done at Calcutta, that Letters frequently appear to have been received, and to have been in the Poſſeſſion of the Government, before they are entered upon the Conſultation Minutes?

A. Very frequently.

A. I ſpeak in general.

The Governor General indisposed on the River.

" Letter from Mr. Bristow to the Board, dated Lucknow, 31st March 1783.

" Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

" I have delayed replying to your Commands of the 3d instant, regarding the Means taken to realize the Balance due from the Begum, in Hopes that I might transmit you favourable Accounts of it. Before the Recall of Major Gilpin, she promised Payment; and since that Time, she has uniformly professed an Inability, unless her Jaghyre be relinquished. In my Address of the 1st December, I represented to your Honourable Board, that every practicable coercive Exertion had been used in Support of my Representations. I submitted to your Consideration, the Copy of Major Gilpin's Letter to me on the Subject. The Begum complains, that having no Pension or Jaghire, she now subsists her Family and herself with the greatest Difficulty; and should the Vizier persist in withholding every Allowance from her, she will be distressed for the Necessaries of Life.

" The above is the Substance of the Begum's Reasons for her Refusal, as they have been communicated to me both verbally and by Letter. I am of Opinion, however, from every Information I can obtain, that she has the Means of satisfying the Honourable Company's Demands,—but seeing little Prospect of a Jaghyre or Pension, she trusts to her Hoards for Support, and would suffer the severest Restraint sooner than comply. Previous to my Arrival, her Eunuchs were kept for many Months in Confinement, and led out to corporal Punishment. Guards were also put upon her House to prevent the Treasure from being carried away. These Measures failed, and you have before you the Opinions given by Major Gilpin, the Officer who commanded the Troops, that " all that Force could do has been done." Mr. Middleton thought it very practicable to recover the Money from the Begum, by continuing the Restraints; and though I differ from that Gentleman in my Sentiments, yet I think it my Duty to transmit the Extract of his Letter to me upon the Subject, that every Information in my Power may be presented for your Decision. The Articles mentioned by Mr. Middleton I received on taking Charge of the Office. They consisted of Eight Elephants, and various Sorts of Goods, valued by the Begum at Three Lacks. For the Goods, the Merchants of Lucknow offered me Eighty-one thousand Rupees. A great Part were damaged, owing to the long Time they had been kept in the Godouns at Fyzabad. I refused to sell them, until I obtained the Begum's Consent, which she granted me, after a Correspondence of Three Months; in the Course of which I repeatedly solicited her to receive them back. They were in so bad a State, that I was obliged to give the Purchaser Six Months Credit. This Bargain I even concluded with Difficulty. There was no Mode of disposing of the Elephants, except to the Nabob, who bought them at Fifteen hundred Rupees an Elephant.

" I have, in compliance with your Orders, applied to his Excellency to call upon the Begum to pay the Balance of the Account without further Delay, and inform her that no Excuses can be admitted, she will certainly evade, and probably refuse. If you ultimately determine on enforcing the Payment, I shall be under the Necessity of applying to Colonel Morgan for Military Aid.

" Lucknow, 31st March 1783.

I have the Honour to be, &c.
(Signed) John Bristow,
Resident at the Vizier's Court."

Then MAJOR GILPIN was again called in.

Q. Whether you ever saw or heard of the Treaty between Mr. Middleton and the Elder Begum, by which a Provision for the Women and Children in the Khourd Mhal, was guaranteed by the East India Company?

A. I never saw any such Treaty, nor did I ever hear of it, until I heard of it in this House.

Q. Have you any Knowledge of the Assignment of the Forty thousand Rupees, for the Maintenance of the Khourd Mhal, or have you it only from Hearsay?

A. I had it from Lataffit Ali Khan, who received it from the Foujdar of Sultanpore.

Q. Do you know, whether that District of Sultanpore had been seized or mortgaged by Mr. Middleton?

A. I do not.

Q. What Circumstances led you to make this Distinction between Sahlone and Sultanpore, and to correct your Evidence of Yesterday, in that Respect?

A. An Error in the Answer, nothing else; just a Mistake of the Two Words; I had very near fallen into the same Error this Moment.

Q. What

Q. What did you conceive the Age of the Elder Begum to be?
A. I do not know, but I ſuppoſe ſhe was about Eighty.

Q. Had you an Opportunity, while you was at Fyzabad, of knowing the general Character of theſe Women, or of obſerving Inſtances of their Diſaffection, or Attachment to the Britiſh Government?
A. By the Converſation, that I have had with the Natives of that Place only.

Q. From thoſe Converſations, what is your Opinion with reſpect to the Conduct and Character of the Bow Begum, and of her Diſpoſition with regard to the Engliſh Government?
A. I had a ſtrong Suppoſition, from the Papers produced to me, the Letters of Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon, that from theſe Circumſtances ſhe appeared innocent: It was upon thoſe Letters that I grounded my Sentiments of her Innocence.

Q. Do you not, from all the Circumſtances you adverted to, at the Time, in forming your Judgement, and according to your preſent Belief, entirely acquit the Bow Begum of any Diſaffection to our Government?
A. It is impoſſible for me to aſcertain that, upon my Oath; I gave my Opinion in the Houſe of Commons, that I acquitted her from thoſe Circumſtances; thoſe were the Grounds upon which I formed my Ideas; and your Lordſhips will be beſt able to judge, whether I am right or not.

Q. But from your Converſation with the Natives, and others, what Judgement did you form?
A. The Natives at Fyzabad were all in her Intereſt; and, from the general Converſations I had with them, they declared ſhe was innocent: I could not confute it.

Then the following Queſtion and Anſwer were read to the Witneſs from his Evidence in the Houſe of Commons, before a Committee of the whole Houſe there.

"Q. Had you any Opportunity of knowing the Characters of the Begums, and whether they were diſaffected to our Government?
"A. I had a very good Opportunity of knowing, from the Circumſtance of my having commanded ſo long there. The elder Begum, it was generally underſtood, and I have Reaſon to believe, was diſaffected to our Government; and my Sentiments of her Conduct ſtand recorded in my Correſpondence to the Court of Lucknow to that Effect: But with reſpect to the Bow Begum, I acquit her entirely of any Diſaffection to our Government, ſo far as comes to my Knowledge. Appearances were for ſome Time againſt her; but on cool deliberate Enquiry, I found there was no Grounds, for ſuppoſing her guilty of any rebellious Principles, at the Time of Cheit Sing's Rebellion."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether that, according to your Belief, is not your preſent Opinion?
A. I think I have anſwered that very fully; that it was upon thoſe very Principles that I did form an Opinion of her Innocence; how far they are juſtifiable or right, I will not take upon me to ſay upon Oath; there was no one Circumſtance that came to my Knowledge, during my Reſidence at Fyzabad, or my Reſidence in India, that I would wiſh to withhold from your Lordſhips.

Q. You ſtate here upon cool, deliberate Enquiry; what was that cool, deliberate Enquiry?
A. That cool, deliberate Enquiry, was the Converſations I had with the Miniſters and the People of Fyzabad, and the Letters from herſelf, expreſſing her Innocence; and it appeared to me from thoſe Letters, that ſhe really was our Friend and Ally.

Q. You have ſtated, that you conceived the Engliſh had no Right or Authority whatever to interfere or meddle in any Reſpect with the Khourd Mhal; whether you do not know, that it was by Orders from the Britiſh Government, that the Khourd Mhal was ſurrounded by Soldiers, and that the Women were confined or ſearched as they came out of it?
A. I beg to know what Time is alluded to; whether during my Command, or not?

Q. Not during your Command?
A. If it was after I left Fyzabad, I cannot aſcertain. I only ſpeak to Circumſtances while I had the Command.

Q. Was not the ſame Guard ſtationed in your Time that was ſtationed in Captain Jaques's Time?
A. There was: But I underſtood it was a Matter that happened after I left that Country.

Q. Whether the Guards, that were placed round the Khourd Mahl, were not placed under the Authority of the Britiſh Government?
A. I undoubtedly placed Guards there, and gave Orders to the Sepoys.

 Q. The

Q. The Khourd Mhal was within the ſame Circle of the Garden as the Zenana?
A. Yes; it was.

Q. Much Pains have been taken to draw an Anſwer from you, which is ſuppoſed to countenance the Belief, that the Engliſh Government never interfered with reſpect to the Khourd Mahl?
A. I drew that Concluſion from the Nabob's Letter to me, who was very angry with my interfering at all.

Q. That was for relieving their Neceſſities?
A. Yes.

Q. To whom did you tranſmit the Complaints of the diſtreſſed Situation of the Women in the Khourd Mahl?
A. To Mr. Briſtow, the Reſident at the Court at Lucknow.

Q. Did not you draw upon the Britiſh Reſident for Money?
A. I did; and Yeſterday delivered in the Receipts.

Q. Deſcribe the Situation in which the Khourd Mahl and the Zenana were?
A. The Khourd Mahl was on one Side of a very ſpacious Garden, and the Begum's Palace was on the other, at a conſiderable Diſtance; I cannot ſay exactly how wide it was, but there was no kind of Connection whatever between the Two.

Q. Was there any Reſtraint put upon the Khourd Mahl peculiarly?
A. None by me; in conſequence of what Captain Jaques had done, in ſearching the Doolies as they came out, I continued that in like Manner; but I never knew any Thing that was found in any one of the Doolies.

Q. But there was a Guard ſurrounded the Khourd Mahl, and ſearched every Body that came out?
A. The Guard had nothing to do with the ſearching the Women that came out of it; there was a Woman appropriated for that Service diſtinctly; the Guards that were round the Khourd Mahl, were round the whole Palace, the whole Fort, and the whole City; nay, I had ſome ſmall Guards extended as far as Sujah ul Dowlah's Burying Place, and ſome few Miles out of the Town; ſo that, in fact, the whole City was ſurrounded by the Britiſh Troops.

Q. (by a Lord.) Could the Guards have been placed round the Zenana, ſo as to effect a Reſtraint upon the Palace, without alſo making a Conſtraint upon the Khourd Mahl?
A. As well as I can recollect, the Orders given to the Centinels were, to prevent any Men from having any Intercourſe with them, as is uſual in that Country to do where Women are kept; I believe that was the Tenor of the Orders; it was not to have any Reſtraint upon the Ladies at all.

Q. Whether it would be poſſible, by that Guard, to conſtrain the one without conſtraining the other?
A. Is it meant the Guard over the Begum's Palace?

Q. Yes.
A. That was within the City of Fyzabad, and the Khourd Mahl is within the Citadel.

Q. The Zenana I take to be within the ſame Diſtrict as the Khourd Mahl?
A. The ſame, only there is a wide Garden between them; that is all.

Q. Whether it would have been poſſible to have eſtabliſhed a Guard upon the Zenana, which would not have operated as a Conſtraint upon the Khourd Mahl alſo?
A. The Palace of Fyzabad, which I ſurrounded, is a Fort within itſelf, within that, is the Zenana; I was within the Palace with the main Body of the Troops; the Elder Begum's Palace is without that, it is in the City, more properly ſpeaking, at ſome Diſtance from the Gates; I ſuppoſe near a Quarter of a Mile from the Khourd Mahl and Zenana.

Q. Did you place Guards at the Gates of the Elder Begum's Palace?
A. Yes.

Q. Did not the Elder Begum threaten to deſtroy herſelf, if any Offer was made to remove her by Force from Fyzabad?
A. She did.

Q. Was not the Object of that Threat to remove her, to induce her to make a Diſcovery where the Treaſure was concealed?
A. I believe it was.

Q. Whether you were able to guard the Principal Zenana, without guarding the Khourd Mahl, or the Reverſe?
A. There were Guards placed about the Whole.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you could guard one of thoſe Zenanas, without guarding the other? Whether the Guard that was placed upon the Zenana could have been kept there, ſo as to be a Conſtraint upon the Zenana, without being alſo a Conſtraint upon the Khourd Mahl?

A. I do not ſee there was any Conſtraint by our Guard, upon the one, more than upon the other.

Q. Whether there was a free Paſſage from the Zenana to the Khourd Mahl, and ſo vicè verſa from the Khourd Mahl to the Zenana?

A. They might have paſſed freely.

Q. Whether by thoſe Means the Treaſure and valuable Effects might not, by ſuch a Communication, have paſſed from the Zenana without the Walls of the Palace, through the Khourd Mahl?

A. No; I do not believe they could without the Centinel ſeeing them.

Q. But the Treaſures being conveyed, ſuch as were portable, from the Zenana to the Khourd Mahl, might they not, if there had not been a Guard placed there, have been conveyed entirely out of the Palace and the Zenana?

A. They clearly might.

Q. (from a Lord.) You ſay, the Revenues of Sultanpore were never ſeized upon, that you know of; I ſuppoſe, therefore, they were left to the Management of the Foujdars? Can you aſſign any Reaſon why the Revenues were not tranſmitted as uſual from the Foujdar, for the Uſe of the Khourd Mahl?

A. I do not know.

Q. Do you know whether the Surplus of the Revenue ariſing from the Diſtrict of Sultanpore, beyond the 40,000 Rupees, annually allotted to the Khourd Mahl, was given to the Nabob, or what became of it?

A. I do not.

Q. If you had received Orders to guard ſtrictly the Zenana, and leave the Khourd Mahl free, whether you, as a profeſſional Man, think you could have executed thoſe Orders?

A. To keep it perfectly free?

Q. If you had received Orders to keep a ſtrict Guard upon the Zenana, and to leave the Khourd Mahl perfectly open and free, was it poſſible, in a Military Way, to execute thoſe Orders?

A. It would have been leaving one Side of the Palace without any Centinel or Guard at all.

Q. Would it have been conſiſtent with the Uſage of the Country, to have ſtationed Centinels between the Zenana and the Khourd Mahl, in the Garden?

A. I believe there always were Centinels poſted there, even in the Life-time of Sujah Dowlah.

Q. Then how am I to underſtand, that that would have left that Part of the Palace open, where the Treaſures were, upon the Suppoſition that the Treaſures were depoſited in what was called the Begum's Zenana: Why would not a Line of Centinels placed between the Zenana and Khourd Mahl in the Garden have effectually ſecured the Zenana, though that Part of the Palace called the Khourd Mahl ſhould have been left open and free?

A. The Garden was too ſpacious for it, and I judged it neceſſary to have Centinels on both Sides; the Guards were placed on both Sides of the Garden.

Q. Then you left Room for Intercourſe, for them to paſs and repaſs?

A. But they could not paſs between, but the Centinels muſt have ſeen them.

Q. Was there any Examination of thoſe that paſſed from the Begum's Zenana to the Khourd Mahl?

A. I do not believe there was any Body paſſed from the One to the other, while I was there.

Q. Were not the Centinels a Check both upon the Zenana and Khourd Mahl, ſo as to prevent their paſſing backwards and forwards to either?

A. No, by no Means.

Q. (from a Lord.) What Reaſons, if any, did Mr. Middleton aſſign for giving back thoſe Perſian Letters you gave to him?

A. I underſtood he had taken Copies of them, with a Deſign of tranſmitting them to the Board; at leaſt that was my Requeſt to him; and he delivered back the Originals into my Poſſeſſion.

Q. Then he aſſigned no Reaſon?

A. He did not aſſign any Reaſon in particular.

Q. I underſtood you to ſay, that, to the beſt of your Recollection, you communicated thoſe Letters to Mr. Middleton ſoon after your Arrival at Lucknow: Did you communicate thoſe Letters to Mr. Middleton ſoon after your Arrival at Lucknow?

A. I did.

Q. There

Q. There ſeems to me to be a little Inaccuracy in the Evidence of the Witneſs, which I wiſh to ſtate, becauſe his general Evidence has been ſo ſingularly accurate: In the Letter of the 19th of October 1782, (a) to Mr. Middleton, if I take it right, you ſay to Mr. Middleton, "The Begums wiſh you to tranſmit thoſe Letters which I gave you to read:" Now it does ſeem, as it ſtrikes me from the general Tenor of that Letter, that thoſe Letters alluded to in your Letter, and which the Begums deſired Mr. Middleton to tranſmit, were then in Mr. Middleton's Poſſeſſion. Do you recollect that Paſſage in the Letter of the 19th of October?

A. I think the Paſſage ſays, The Begum hopes you have tranſmitted Copies of thoſe Letters to the Board.

Q. Had the Elder Begum any particular Communication with the Inhabitants of Fyzabad?

A. She might have had any Communication ſhe pleaſed; there was no Reſtraint upon that.

Q. Had ſhe, in Fact?

A. I dare ſay ſhe had; I cannot ſpeak poſitively to the Tranſaction.

Q. Then the Elder Begum's People were at Liberty to go into the Town, without Examination, whenever they pleaſed?

A. Except during the Time the Palace was ſurrounded, when the Younger Begum was in there, ſhe had no Reſtraint whatever put upon her.

Q. Could the Begums excite the People of the Town to rebel, while they were in Confinement?

A. By their Miniſters, their Agents, and Servants, they might.

Q. But were not the Agents alſo reſtrained from communicating with the Inhabitants?

A. They were paſſing and re paſſing ſome Time before a cloſe Confinement came, which laſted only a few Hours.

Q. Could the Zenana be guarded without its being a Check alſo upon the Khourd Mhal?

A. I think it might, if the Guards were diſtinctly placed upon the Zenana, and had no Orders to guard the Khourd Mahl, becauſe they were ſeparate Buildings; I ſuppoſe there was a Space of from Fifty to an Hundred Yards between them.

Q. (by Counſel) Whether the Place where the Treaſures were ſuppoſed to be depoſited was not in the ſame Incloſure with the Khourd Mahl. Where were the Treaſures ſuppoſed to be depoſited?

A. They were ſuppoſed to be depoſited in the Begum's Zenana.

Q. Was that within the ſame Incloſure with the Khourd Mahl?

A. No. It was not in the ſame Incloſure, there was a Garden which ſeparated them.

Q. Whether any Guards were placed upon either of thoſe Places, except ſuch as were neceſſary for preventing any Treaſure being removed from the Zenana?

A. I cannot recollect, that there were any other Orders given.

Q. Whether the placing of the Guards, or any other Meaſures taken, while you were there, had any the ſmalleſt Effect in ſtraitening the free Acceſs of Proviſions, or did at all contribute to the Diſtreſs of the Khourd Mhal?

A. Not in the leaſt.

Q. You have been aſked your Opinion reſpecting the Younger Begum: What was the Diſpoſition of the Elder Begum? Whether a general Report did not prevail of the Diſaffection of both the Begums?

A. I have ſtated in my Correſpondence that there did.

Q. Did any Circumſtance come to your Knowledge afterwards, to induce you to diſbelieve that Report with reſpect to the Elder Begum?

A. It never removed my Sentiments of the Elder Begum at all, no Report that I ever heard.

Q. What were your Sentiments of the Elder Begum?

A. That ſhe was undoubtedly in Rebellion. They were my Sentiments of her, and always muſt remain ſo.

Q. Whether you did not know that there were Cauſes for the Diſſaffection of the Elder Begum to the Engliſh?

A. There were a Variety of Circumſtances mentioned, which I cannot aſcertain as Facts; but they were publick Reports of Circumſtances that gained Credit with the Engliſh, from the general Tenor of her Conduct.

Q. What were they?

A. I cannot relate any particular Circumſtances, but I believe it might be carried back to the Period of the War in 1764:—As far back as the Battle of Buxar, when ſhe expreſſed herſelf with ſome Warmth againſt the Engliſh.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 749, 890, and 896.

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that the reigning Nabob being then at War with the Engliſh, his Mother ſhewed ſome Enmity to them alſo.

Then the Witneſs proceeded, as follows:

It was related, but how far it is to be depended upon, I will not ſay upon Oath, that when her Son took Leave of her, when going to march into that Country, ſhe begged he would take care to deſtroy the Engliſh as much as lay in his Power, reſerving Twelve Officers to carry her Palanquin.

Q. Whether that Jealouſy and Diſaffection to the Engliſh continued ſubſequent to the Year 1764?

A. I cannot ſpeak as to my own Knowledge.

Q. Do you know any Thing of her Diſaffection ſince the Year 1764?
A. Nothing in particular came to my Knowledge—it was from general Converſation.

Q. But an Opinion prevailed that ſhe remained with Diſpleaſure to the Engliſh?
A. It did.

Q. Whether the Younger Begum was not very much under the Influence of the Elder?
A. I believe I have expreſſed that in my Correſpondence, and anſwered it fully.

Q. I underſtood you to ſay, that originally the Report prevailed with reſpect to both the Begums, but that you was induced to alter that Opinion with reſpect to the Younger Begum, in conſequence of Mr. Gordon's Letters, and the Intelligence from ſome of her Miniſters and other Perſons.—Were not thoſe other Perſons in the Intereſt of the Younger Begum?
A. In general, the Town of Fyzabad were in her Intereſt.

Q. In what Senſe do you mean generally in her Intereſt:—Were the Perſons you converſed with merely thoſe who were in her Service and Houſhold, or the Inhabitants of Fyzabad in general?
A. Both; I held Converſations with both her own Body Servants, and the Inhabitants of the City.

Q. Whether you conſidered the Begum to be ſerious in the Threat you have mentioned, to deſtroy herſelf, or to hold it out as a Terror?
A. I thought it held out as a Terror.

Q. If they had attempted to remove her by Force?
A. I ſuppoſe the Queſtion has ariſen from what my Letter ſays.

Q. (by Counſel.) The Object of my Examination was ſingly reſpecting that Queſtion which was put by the Honourable Managers, as to the Threat of the Begum to deſtroy herſelf if ſhe was removed.—Do you ſuppoſe that if that Threat of removing her had been ſeriouſly carried into Execution, ſhe would have deſtroyed herſelf?
A. It is impoſſible for me to anſwer that Queſtion.

Q. Did you at that Time repreſent your Opinion that theſe were Words of courſe?
A. It is Matter of Opinion, and I do not chuſe to give a Matter of Opinion upon Oath.

Q. As to the Letters which are not produced, whether you were not ſubpœna'd by the Proſecutors, to give Evidence upon this Cauſe?
A. I was; I have the Summons in my Poſſeſſion.

Q. You were aſked reſpecting your having enlarged the Priſoners, by Order of the Nabob; whether you have the Orders that you iſſued upon that Occaſion?
A. I have a Memorandum of them here.

Q. State the Orders?

The Witneſs read the following Memorandum:

"Camp, Fyzabad, 4th December 1782.

"Detachment Morning Orders, by Major Gilpin.

"His Excellency the Nabob Vizier having been pleaſed to grant the Enlargement of the Priſoners, Bahar Ally Cawn and Jewar Ally Cawn, from their long Confinement, the Guards over the ſaid Men is * in Conſequence withdrawn, and Liberty granted them to paſs and repaſs all Guards and Centinels in common with other People."

* Sic in Orig.

Thoſe were the Orders I iſſued in conſequence.

Q. What do you mean by the Word "Rebellion," as applied to the Begums. In what Senſe do you uſe it?
A. In raiſing Troops, and in other Acts of Rebellion, in the common Acceptation of the Word.

Q. Againſt whom?

A. Againſt the Nabob's Government and the Britiſh Government jointly; but I beg to know the particular Time and Circumſtance the Queſtion alludes to?

Q. I underſtand you to have ſaid, you underſtood the Elder Begum was in a conſtant State of Rebellion. In what Senſe do you uſe the Word Rebellion; did you ſay the Elder Begum was in a conſtant State of Rebellion?

A. I always underſtood her to be diſaffected to the Engliſh Government; it might not be a proper Expreſſion of mine, the Word Rebellion.

Q. Do you know of any Act of Rebellion by the Elder Begum againſt the Vizier?

A. I cannot ſtate any.

Q. Do you know of any Act, which you call Rebellion, committed by the Elder Begum againſt the Company?

A. I do not know of any particular Circumſtance; only, it was generally ſuppoſed that ſhe was diſaffected to the Company.

Q. What Acts of Diſaffection or Hoſtility towards the Engliſh do you allude to, when you ſpeak of the Converſation of the World at the Time?

A. I have anſwered that Queſtion as fully as I can; that it was nothing but Converſation; that I knew of no particular Act or Deed myſelf.

Q. Were they the Acts of the Begum's, or of any of her Servants, which you heard in Converſation?

A. It was the general Converſation, that ſhe was diſaffected intirely to the Government; but as to Acts or Deeds beyond what I have already ſtated, I cannot ſpeak.

Q. I underſtood you to ſay, that the Centinels were not placed as a Reſtraint upon the Khourd Mahl; and I underſtood you likewiſe to ſay, that the Doolies coming out of the Khourd Mahl were conſtantly examined?

A. The Centinels did not interfere with the paſſing and repaſſing; the only Reſtraint by ſearching the Doolies was, by Women appointed for the Purpoſe of ſeeing whether there was any Treaſure: There was no Reſtraint upon their paſſing or repaſſing, but merely to prevent the Removal of any Goods.

Q. I underſtood you to ſay, that the Treaſures were ſuppoſed to be in the Zenana. How did it tend to ſecure the Treaſures in the Zenana, ſearching the Doolies that came out of the Khourd Mahl?

A. There was no particular Reaſon, it was not known to an abſolute Certainty, but it was thought neceſſary to take every Precaution we could. We underſtood the Treaſures were in the Begums Palace; but it was neceſſary to take every Precaution.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then NATHANIEL MIDDLETON Eſquire was called in, and examined as follows:

Q. (by a Lord.) I wiſh you to give an Explanation of this Paſſage in your Letter to Mr. Haſtings of the 6th of December 1781, upon which you was examined when you were laſt before the Houſe, (a) namely, "the Reſumption of the Jaghires, will be followed by the Meaſure heretofore propoſed." (b) Do you remember that Paſſage in the Letter?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Then the Queſtion is, At what Time, upon what Occaſion, in what Manner, by whom, and to whom, the Meaſure thus deſcribed by you was propoſed?

A. The Meaſure I referred to, was the Seizure of the Begums Treaſures.

Q. By whom propoſed?

A. It had at this Time been propoſed by the Nabob himſelf, but previouſly mentioned in a Communication that I had with Sir Elijah Impey at Lucknow.

Q. In your former Evidence, when aſked, whether the Meaſure was prior or ſubſequent to the Treaty of Chunar? you anſwered, long ſubſequent; and explained that to mean, ſeveral Months, or ſome Months. State, as correctly as you can, upon Memory, the preciſe Time, when that Meaſure, ſo deſcribed by you, was propoſed, by whom it was propoſed, and to whom it was propoſed? You ſay the Meaſure was propoſed by the Nabob?

A. Yes; but ſubſequent to the Converſation I had had with Sir Elijah Impey at Lucknow. But I have likewiſe ſtated, and have a firm Belief, that that Meaſure was converſed upon with the

Nabob long before Sir Elijah Impey's Arrival. That is my own Belief, though I cannot positively take upon me to ſay that that is the Fact?

Q. At what Time did you firſt communicate to Mr. Haſtings this Converſation you ſpoke of between the Nabob and you, when this had been the Subject of Converſation?

A. The Letter containing the firſt Communication to Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject from Lucknow is in Evidence before your Lordſhips (a). I do not recollect the Date, but I beg it may be referred to.

Q. Before the Letter is referred to, I would aſk whether we are to underſtand that the Meaſure which you deſcribe in the Letter of the 6th of December to be a Meaſure propoſed, be or be not the Meaſure mentioned in your Letter of the Second Day of the ſame Month? Do you remember the Meaſure that was mentioned in your Letter of the 2d of December?

A. Yes: I underſtand that to be the Meaſure of ſeizing the Begums Treaſures.

Q. Then I am to underſtand, that by the Meaſure heretofore propoſed, you underſtand that Meaſure mentioned for the Firſt Time in a Letter written Four Days preceding. Was that Letter of the Second of December the Firſt Time that you made any Communication to the Governor General of the Converſation you had had about ſeizing the Treaſures?

A. Undoubtedly, to the beſt of my Recollection and Belief, that was the firſt Time it was made either by me, or any Body with my Knowledge, from Lucknow.

Q. You ſay you perfectly recollect the Expreſſion in your Letter of the 6th of December, that the Reſumption of the Jaghires would be immediately followed by the Meaſure heretofore propoſed, and that "heretofore propoſed" is your Expreſſion by which you deſcribe to Mr. Haſtings a Meaſure which was mentioned to Mr. Haſtings, for the firſt Time, in a Letter, which, when the Second Letter was penned, Mr. Haſtings probably had not even then received? Whether you think yourſelf accurate and correct in ſtating the Meaſure mentioned in the Letter of the 6th of December to be the ſame Meaſure with that which you communicated in the preceding Letter of the 2d December? Do you, upon full Recollection, ſtate that to be the Caſe?

A. I refer the Expreſſion of "the Meaſure heretofore propoſed," generally to the Seizure of the Begums Treaſures; I cannot ſay whether I confined it ſolely to that Propoſal ſent to Mr. Haſtings, in the Letter dated the 2d of December, or whether I referred it to the Converſation I had with Sir Elijah Impey upon the Subject, but to the Meaſure moſt certainly of ſeizing the Treaſures.

Q. Do you remember this Paſſage in your Letter of the 2d of December?

"I had Yeſterday the Honour of informing you of the Meſſage I ſent to the Nabob, through the Miniſter, reſpecting the Jaghires, to which his Excellency, this Morning, returned me a Reply, purporting, that, if the Meaſure propoſed was intended to procure the Payment of his Balance due to the Company, he could better and more expeditiouſly effect that Object, by taking from his Mother what ſhe is very able to ſpare, and what he has an undoubted Right, as he conceives, to exact from her. The preſent Debt to the Company, as he with Truth obſerves, is a great Part handed down from his Father; and the Funds from which he might have been enabled to liquidate it, it is notorious, were withheld from him by the Begum, on the late Nabob's Death.

"This, my dear Sir, is a flattering Propoſition, and as to the Point of Right, admitting it to be leſs clear and defined than the Nabob chuſes to conſider it, you may poſſibly be of Opinion that the Conduct of the Begums on the late Diſturbances at Benares, as ſet forth in the ſeveral Teſtimonies laid before you, has forfeited any Claim they might originally have had to the Protection and Mediation of the Company, and further that it may not be political or yet perfectly Safe to truſt them any longer with ſuch powerful Means of promoting an Oppoſition to our Intereſts."

"P. S. Whatever may be your Reſolution upon the Subject of this Letter, it will be expedient to keep it ſecret.—The Reſumption of the Jaghires it is neceſſary to ſuſpend until I have your Sentiments on this Letter." (b)

You ſee, by the Interpretation which you put upon the Letter at the Time, you do conceive that the Reſumption of the Jaghires was ſo far doubtful as to be a Meaſure not to be carried into Execution, till you knew the Governor General's Pleaſure on the Propoſal made by the Nabob, which is evidently made as an Alternative:—Therefore I aſk, How you can refer ſpeaking of the Meaſure propoſed, as following immediately the Reſumption of the Jaghires;—how you can refer that Meaſure ſo deſcribed, to a Meaſure deſcribed ſo differently in your Letter of the 2d of December; how this Meaſure deſcribed to be "a Meaſure heretofore propoſed," and which you admit to relate to the Seizure of the Treaſures following immediately the Reſumption of the Jaghires, can be that Meaſure which the Nabob propoſed as an Alternative but Four Days before?

(b) Vide ſupra, Page 720, 721.

A. It

A. It appears by the Letter, it was mentioned as an Alternative by the Nabob; I can only repeat, that I certainly did refer the Expreſſion to the Seizure of the Begums Treaſures.

Q. Do you ſtill, upon your Recollection, ſtate that your Letter of the Second of December was the Firſt Communication that you ever made to Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject of ſeizing the Treaſures?

A. I never had a Doubt about it, nor have I at this Moment, that it was the Firſt Communication I made to Mr. Haſtings, on the Subject.

Q. Had any Anſwer to your Letter of the 2d of December arrived, before you wrote your Letter of the 6th of December?

A. I believe every Letter of Mr. Haſtings, as well as every Letter from me to Mr. Haſtings, both publick and private, upon that Subject, are now before your Lordſhips; I have no Recollection of any other Letter written from him or me upon the Subject.

Q. You will recollect, that in a Letter of the 5th of December to Sir Elijah Impey, which is now in Evidence (a), you ſtate particularly, that the Treaſures will be immediately ſeized: In conſequence of what Order, did you, then the Miniſter Reſident, act, when you came to the Determination of aſſiſting the Nabob in ſeizing theſe Treaſures?

A. By Order of Mr. Haſtings, which will appear in the Letter before your Lordſhips.

Q. But I wiſh it to be particularly ſtated, when that Order was received; for you ſtate that the firſt Propoſal came from the Nabob, and conſequently, did not originate with Mr. Haſtings, but with the Nabob: Now, how is it poſſible, in the Nature of Things, that Mr. Haſtings could give any Order relative to a Propoſal originating with the Nabob; the Communication of which could not, in Point of Time, have reached Mr. Haſtings?—Did you, in conſequence of Orders received from the Governor General, propoſe directly, or inſinuate indirectly to the Nabob, that ſuch a Propoſal ſhould come from him the Nabob?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay, whether I might or not: I have no Doubt, but in conſequence of Converſation with Sir Elijah Impey, I might have told, or inſinuated to the Nabob, that if the Propoſal was made, it would not be unattended to.

Q. Can you, in ſo material a Part of your Adminiſtration, have totally forgotten, whether the Orders conveyed to you verbally from the Governor General, through Sir Elijah Impey, were or were not to endeavour, that ſuch Propoſal ſhould come from the Nabob?

A. I really cannot recollect exactly the Purport of Sir Elijah Impey's Communication, further than as I have ſtated; it was an Acquieſcence, that if the Nabob ſhould propoſe it, Mr. Haſtings would not object to it.

Q. You muſt ſee the very material Difference between Orders which purport to be a Willingneſs in the Governor General to acquieſce in that Meaſure, if the Nabob ſhould, as you ſtate the Nabob on former Occaſions had done, expreſs a Deſire to ſeize the Treaſures, and proprio motu propoſe it, and Orders of ſo different a Nature; namely, Orders to you as a Miniſter, to endeavour to get the Propoſal to come from the Nabob. Recollect therefore, under which Deſcription the Orders that you received are to be comprehended; namely, Orders of Acquieſcence that you ſhould intimate that ſuch an Intention would no longer be oppoſed, or Orders to endeavour that the Propoſal ſhould be made by the Nabob? Do you attend to the Difference between a general Order, to prevail upon the Nabob to make the Propoſition, and an Order only to intimate to him, that if he ſhould make the Propoſition it would not be rejected?

A. Certainly I underſtand the Difference.

Q. Which of theſe two were the Orders you received?

A. The Order I received from Mr. Haſtings moſt certainly is upon record. The Communication I received from Sir Elijah Impey, I did not conſider as an Order to act with the Nabob in the Buſineſs at all; I only conceived that it was a Communication upon which Mr. Haſtings wiſhed me, in all Probability, to conſult with the Nabob, and that if he ſhould make a Propoſal for the Seizure of the Treaſures, Mr. Haſtings would not oppoſe it. I cannot charge my Memory, at this Diſtance of Time, with the particular Communication from Sir Elijah Impey, upon the Subject: I give your Lordſhips, to the beſt of my Memory, the Impreſſion it made upon me at the Time, and which it has continued to make upon my Mind ever ſince.

Q. What Steps did you take in conſequence of the verbal Communication you received through Sir Elijah Impey, in order to execute thoſe Orders, whatſoever they were?

A. Is it meant of the Orders through Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. Yes?

A. I certainly did not conſider that Communication through Sir Elijah Impey, to extend to more than that I was to conſult with the Nabob upon it, and to inform him, that if a Propoſal was made by

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 721; alſo, Appendix, N° LXIII.

by him to Mr. Haſtings, it would be aſſented to; I certainly could have taken no Official Steps whatever, in conſequence of that Communication through Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. The ſame Difficulty occurs, and I muſt once more deſire an Explanation, as far as you can give it: After all this Recollection, what is the Senſe you put upon thoſe Words, "the Meaſure heretofore propoſed?"

A. I am ſorry to be obliged to repeat ſo often; it certainly is the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſures, which, I knew from the Communication of Sir Elijah Impey, would not be oppoſed, whenever the Nabob ſhould propoſe it as a Meaſure.

Q. I am to underſtand then, that that Expreſſion refers to the Senſe you put upon the Letter, which you received from Sir Elijah Impey. Do the Words "heretofore propoſed" refer to the Letter you had received from Sir Elijah Impey?

A. I received a verbal Communication from Sir Elijah Impey; it might afterwards be mentioned by Letter. I certainly refer it generally to the Meaſure, whether it was communicated to me by Sir Elijah Impey, or by the Nabob.

Q. Whether upon Recollection of all the Circumſtances that have been before you now, you do apply that Phraſe of a "Meaſure heretofore propoſed," to the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſure, conſidering that upon the Second of December the Meaſure of ſeizing the Treaſure had been ſpoken of as an Alternative to ſeizing the Jaghires?

A. Certainly I could apply it to no other Meaſure whatever.

Q. Could it have been ſo applied, unleſs you had received ſome ſubſequent Communication on the Subject from Mr. Haſtings in ſome Way or other?

A. I certainly could not have ſpoken of it in the Manner I did, unleſs I had known it would have been a Meaſure accepted by Mr. Haſtings.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Veneris, 30° Maij 1788.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed with their Evidence.

Then it was moved, That Mr. Holt be called to the Bar, to correct a Miſtake in the Minutes of his Evidence; and being called in accordingly, the following Queſtions and Anſwers were read by the Clerk.

" Q. In what Character was Colonel Hannay in that Country?
" A. I underſtood him to be the Commander of the Military Force, and to have the Collections under his Management.

" Q. From whom did he derive the Authority of collecting it?
" A. I heard it was from the Vizier, from the Nabob.

" Q. (from a Lord.) Did he farm the Revenue, or did he take it for the Vizier's Uſe?
" A. He received it for the Vizier's Uſe, as I underſtood.

" Q. He received it for the Vizier's Uſe?
" A. So I underſtand.

" Q. You know nothing of it?
" A. I know no Title for it." (a)

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Is the Expreſſion, " I know no Title for it," accurate? In what Senſe did you uſe thoſe Words?
A. I do not recollect having made uſe of the Words in that View, and cannot explain it now but as an Inaccuracy.

Q. Do you, or do you not, know any Thing of the Manner in which Colonel Hannay received that Revenue for the Vizier's Uſe?
A. Is it meant by what Authority?

Q. You were interrogated, Whether Colonel Hannay received the Revenue as a Farmer, or, as Bailiff, for the Vizier's Uſe? and you have ſaid, that he received it for the Vizier's Uſe; and when aſked, Whether you had any Knowledge of it, you anſwered, you knew no Title for it?
A. I fancy I meant, I knew of no Paper by which he was appointed, and which gave him Authority to collect the Revenue.

Then the following Queſtion and Anſwer were read to the Witneſs:

" Q. But you know he received it for the Vizier's Uſe?
" A. I know he did receive it, for I ſaw him carry it to the Vizier's Houſe." (b)

The Witneſs ſaid,

I never could have ſeen it carried to the Vizier's Houſe, becauſe the Vizier's Houſe was at the Diſtance of Eighty or Ninety Miles. I ſaw it carried to Colonel Hannay's Treaſury, and from thence it was conveyed to Lucknow.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 385.

(b) Vide ſupra, P. 385.

Then

Then the next Queſtion and Anſwer were read to the Witneſs, as follows:

" Q. There is a Doubt about your Anſwer to that Queſtion. The Queſtion put to you was, Whether you knew of his receiving them to the Vizier's Uſe, or of his bringing them to the Vizier's Account?

" A. I did not make any Anſwer to that Queſtion. I have anſwered, that I knew he did collect the Revenues of the Country, becauſe I ſaw them paid into the Treaſury. I underſtood they were for the Uſe of his Highneſs the Vizier; but I know nothing more of it." (a)

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. By Treaſury in this Anſwer, you mean Colonel Hannay's Treaſury?
A. Yes; the Place appropriated for receiving the Revenues, within his own Walls.

Then the following Queſtions and Anſwers were read to the Witneſs:

" Q. Did you ever hear that another Remiſſion of Two Lacks, beſides that which you ſtated for the Damage the Nabob might occaſion by Hunting in the Province, was demanded by Colonel Hannay?

" A. I have heard there was a ſubſequent Demand.

" Q. To what Amount?
" A. To the ſame Amount.

" Q. For what was that Remiſſion?
" A. For the Damage which the Cavalcade of the Vizier might occaſion.

" Q. That was the Occaſion ſpecified for demanding the Firſt Remiſſion?
" A. Yes.

" Q. Was the like Occaſion ſpecified upon the Second Time?
" A. Yes.

" Q. Was it for Damage actually done?
" A. Not as I heard of, but for Damage that might be done.

" Q. Were they both in the ſame Year?
" A. No.

" Q. Now, in either of the Years did you hear the Vizier went into the Province?
" A. In One Year he did.

" Q. Did he in the other Year?
" A. I do not know that he did.

" Q. Did you hear that Remiſſion was obtained?
" A. I do not know it was.

" Q. Did you hear it was not?
" A. No.

" Q. You ſaid he did come into the Province One Year; that was the Year he aſked and obtained a Remiſſion?
" A. Yes.

" Q. Did he come into the Province the Second Year?
" A. Yes."

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. Did you mean to ſay that the Vizier went in both thoſe Years into the Province, or only in One?

A. No; only in One.

Q. In which Year did he go into the Province?
A. He went into the Province the firſt Year; the ſecond Year he intended to go, but did not; and, as it ſtands here, it is a very palpable Contradiction.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 385.

The

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they had obſerved a great many Errors in the Courſe of the printed Evidence, and ſubmitted to the Houſe in what Manner they might beſt be corrected.

The Houſe informed the Managers for the Commons, that in point of Regularity, it could only be done by re-examining the Witneſſes to the Paſſages which were ſuppoſed to be erroneous.

Then Sir ELIJAH IMPEY was called in, and the following Extract of the Minutes of Evidence was read.

" Q. Whether you was not examined before a Committee of the Houſe of Commons?
" A. I was.

" Q. Whether you recollect the Subſtance of your Anſwer to this Queſtion. In a Letter of the 6th of December 1781, from Mr. Middleton to Mr. Haſtings, there is this Sentence; " Your Pleaſure reſpecting the Begums I have learnt from Sir Elijah Impey, and the Meaſure " heretofore propoſed will ſoon follow the Reſumption of the Jaghires:" to whom do theſe Words, " heretofore propoſed," refer? Do you recollect the Subſtance of your Anſwer to the Houſe of Commons?
" A. I really do not.

" Q. Do you recollect whether your Anſwer was, " By hearing the Letter read, I referred to a Propoſal by Mr. Haſtings through me to Mr. Middleton?"
" A. I certainly do remember that Anſwer; but I believe, if the Whole of my Evidence is taken together, it will appear I gave it there the ſame as I do now; that I related to Mr. Middleton what had paſſed between Mr. Haſtings and me, and that Mr. Haſtings ſeemed to aſſent to the Propoſition, that it was right the Begums Treaſure ſhould be ſeized; but I carried no Directions from Mr. Haſtings, that it was his Will to have it ſo done.

" The Counſel for the Defendant objected to this Mode of Examination.

" The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that they had not waived their Right to examine the Witneſſes they called to what they had ſaid in another Place.

" The Witneſs deſired the Anſwer might ſtand.

" Q. Did you underſtand that you conveyed more than Mr. Haſtings's Conſent to the Nabob's reſuming of the Jaghires, namely, that you underſtood it was the Intention of Mr. Haſtings that Mr. Middleton ſhould recommend it to the Nabob as a Meaſure?
" A. I ſtill think that it was Mr. Haſtings's Intention that it ſhould be recommended to the Nabob as a Meaſure, and that I meant by, his conſulting the Nabob upon the Subject: I do not make uſe of the ſame Words, but to exactly the ſame Purpoſe; I ſhould have conſidered the mere conſulting the Nabob upon the Subject, if it was not the Intention of Mr. Haſtings to recommend it, as merely nugatory." (a)

Then the Witneſs was aſked,

Q. It is apprehended that the Queſtion and Anſwer laſt read, were meant to apply to the ſeizing of the Treaſures, and not to the reſuming of the Jagheers. Have you any Memory of the Queſtion, and how do you mean your Anſwer ſhould ſtand?
A. As far as I have any Recollection upon the Subject, it applies ſimply to the Reſumption of the Treaſures; with regard to the Jagheers, I had nothing to ſay with regard to the Begums Jagheers in particular, but to all the Jagheers.

Q. Then you underſtood the Queſtion referred to the Treaſures only?
A. I underſtood it referred to the Treaſures only.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Then it was propoſed by the Counſel for the Defendant, and agreed to, that in order to ſave Time, as the Errors were very numerous, the Managers for the Commons, and the Counſel for the Defendant, ſhould meet and report to the Houſe the Errors ſigned by the Witneſſes reſpectively, and in caſe any Doubt ſhould ariſe with reſpect to any Paſſage ſuppoſed to be erroneous, the Witneſſes ſhould be re-examined thereupon at the Bar, the Whole ſubject always to the Reviſion and Determination of the Houſe.

Then the Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they would next proceed to ſome written Evidence, to ſhew that the Directors did order an Enquiry to be made in India into the Conduct of the Begums, that all the World might know the real Truth of the Case, and that Mr. Hastings did stifle that Enquiry—previous to which they would read an Extract of a Letter from the Governor General to the Board, which first led the Court of Directors to order this Enquiry to be made.

Secret Dep. Tuesday.

"At a Council; Present,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, who being returned to the Presidency takes his Seat at the Board;

Edward Wheler, John Macpherson, } Esquires.

Sir Eyre Coote on Service in the Carnatic.

"The following Letter from the Governor General, received on the 2d Instant, is now recorded.

"P. 274.—3dly. The Engagements concluded on the 19th September with the Nabob of Oude, I did hope, that on his Return to his Capital, which I had urged for that Purpose, he would immediately have entered upon the Execution of the Measures necessary for the Accomplishment of the Plan which we had mutually agreed upon, and particularly the Resumption of the Jagheers; an Act equally necessary to the Restoration of the Peace of his Country, and to the Discharge of his Debt to the Company.

"After having long waited with much Impatience for this Effect, I was apprised by the Resident's Letters, that the Nabob, from what Cause I know not, had shewn a great Reluctance to enter on this Business, notwithstanding the Warmth with which he himself originally solicited my Acquiescence in it; that he at length did resolve to carry it into Execution, and accordingly appointed an Aumil to take possession of the sequestered Jagheers; but that a powerful Opposition had been prepared by the Begums, which had obliged him to apply for the Assistance of our Troops; and that the Resident had accordingly written to Colonel Morgan to send a Regiment of Sepoys for that Service. As the Resident at the same Time expressed to me his Opinion, that a larger Force would be requisite to surmount the intended Opposition, I judged it improper to expose a Service of such Importance, either to the Hazard of a Defeat, or to the Chance of a Delay, and therefore immediately issued Orders, of which you have already been advised, for the March of Colonel Sir John Cumming, with his entire Detachment, for the Performance of it, advising the Resident of it. He in Reply expressed an Apprehension, that the Nabob Vizier would object to the Movement of so large a Force into the Heart of his Dominions, without what he would deem an adequate Occasion for it, to other Motives, which might be productive of Consequences hurtful to our Connection with him, and intreated that the Order might be revoked, assuring me, that there was no pressing Occasion for it.

"I accordingly ordered it to be suspended. In the mean Time, as I had conceived some Alarm from the Delays and Difficulties which had attended this Business, which did not appear to me of a Nature susceptible of them, I wrote to the Resident, requesting him solemnly to declare to me whether, with the Powers with which he had been invested, he was competent to carry into Execution this and the other Measures directed in my Instructions; that if he were not, I would myself proceed to Lucknow, and afford the Nabob my personal Assistance for carrying them into Execution; but that if in his Answer he should assure me that he was capable of accomplishing this Service, I would leave the Charge and Responsibility of it to him, and depart for the Presidency. I wrote a Letter to the Nabob in similar Terms. I received the Resident's Answer on the 2d of January; it contained a Declaration that my Presence was in no Shape necessary in that Quarter, and that he was fully competent to undertake and to effect the Accomplishment of all the Measures required by my Instructions, and that he should immediately march with the Nabob to Fyzabad for the Purpose of enforcing his Claims on the Begums.

"On the Receipt of this Letter, concluding that the Nabob's Answer would be to the same Effect, and that I should be sufficiently warranted by them to leave the Business in their Hands, I prepared for my Departure, allowing a sufficient Time only for the Receipt of the Nabob's Letter, which I expected at the latest to receive on the 7th. On that Day I left Benaris, but proceeded only to a short Distance below the Town. At the same Time I caused an Intimation to be given to the Nabob, that although, to prevent a further Loss of Time, I had thought it proper to begin my Journey towards Bengal, yet I should proceed by short Stages, and suspend my final Resolution until I had received his Letter in answer to mine, still retaining the Resolution of conforming to the Contents of it. If these should require me to proceed to his Presence, according to the Tenor of the Proffer, and that if I did not receive it before my Arrival at Patna, I would wait for it there. It was not till my Arrival at Patna, which was on the 19th Instant, that I did receive his Anſwer, a Tranſlation of which ſhall accompany this. As it contained only a complimentary Invitation, accompanied with an Aſſurance ſimilar to that given me by the Reſident, in relation to the impending Buſineſs, I conſidered it as intended to leave me the free Option either to accept of his Inviration on the Footing he had expreſſed it, or to return to the Preſidency. After much Heſitation, and I will confeſs with ſome Reluctance, I have reſolved on the latter. I dread the Imbecillity and Irreſolution which too much prevail in the Nabob's Council, and muſt influence in ſome Degree both the Conduct of the Reſident and the Miniſters; and I conſider the impending Meaſure of too much Conſequence to be expoſed to the Riſk of a Diſappointment; yet the preſſing Letters which I have written to the Nabob, the ſtrong Injunctions which I have repeated to the Reſident, and the poſitive Aſſurances which I have received from both, afford me every Reaſon to hope that they will be carried into Execution, without further Difficulty or Delay; and I am further confirmed in this Concluſion, by the ſubſequent Advices which I have received ſince my Departure: Theſe amount to the following Subſtance—that the Nabob Vizier arrived at Fyzabad on the 8th, the Reſident accompanying him; that on the 12th he found it neceſſary to employ a Military Force to take poſſeſſion of the Kellah, which was effected without any Effuſion of Blood. The Two Eunuchs, Bahar and Jowarhur Ally Cawn, who were the prime Movers of the late Troubles, and the active Leaders of the preſent Oppoſition, were taken into Cuſtody, and their Followers, amounting to about Three or Four Thouſand armed Men, expelled from the Town and diſperſed. I think it proper to tranſmit to you a Copy of the Reſident's Letter, and to refer you to it for the Particulars of this Event.

" It may be neceſſary in this Place to inform you, that in Addition to the former Reſolution of reſuming the Begum's Jagheers, the Nabob had declared his Reſolution of reclaiming all the Treaſures of his Family, which were in their Poſſeſſion, and to which, by the Mahometan Laws, he was entitled. This Reſolution I have ſtrenuouſly encouraged and ſupported; not ſo much for the Reaſons aſſigned by the Nabob, as becauſe I think it equally unjuſt and impolitic that they ſhould be allowed to retain the Means of which they have already made ſo pernicious a Uſe, by exciting Diſturbances in the Country, and a Revolt againſt the Nabob, their Sovereign. I am not ſanguine in my Expectations of the Reſult of theſe Proceedings, but have required and received the Nabob's Promiſe that whatever Acquiſitions ſhall be obtained from the Iſſue of them, it ſhall be primarly * applied to the Diſcharge of the Balance actually due from him to the Company.

* Sic in Orig.

" Notwithſtanding the Reſolution which I have taken to return to the Preſidency, I yet foreſee that many Events may happen which may again require my perſonal Attendance in this Quarter, but even theſe will require that I ſhould firſt concert with you the Plan of my future Conduct reſpecting them. Though the Powers which I poſſeſs are ample and ſufficient for every Purpoſe which may occur, yet as they were granted in a very different State of Affairs, it is become abſolutely neceſſary that I ſhould avail myſelf of a free and full Communication with you upon every probable Contingency, which may proceed from the Effects of the late Changes, before I can venture again, if it ſhall be at all neceſſary, to interfere with my own Authority in any of the Affairs of this Quarter.

" I have made ſuch a Proviſion for this Event that I ſhall at any Time have it in my Power to arrive at Lucknow within at leaſt Three Weeks from my Departure from the Preſidency, and there is little Cauſe to apprehend any material Change of Affairs in the ſhort Interval which muſt neceſſarily precede my Arrival there.

Read, the following Extract of a Letter from the Board at Calcutta to the Court of Directors, dated the 11th of February 1782, from Book 29, already delivered in.

" Par. 3. The above Papers contain ſuch a full Account of all the Tranſactions of the Governor General upon this Service, together with the Motives and Reaſonings upon them, that we think it would be ſuperfluous to add any Thing of our own, but to recommend them to your attentive Peruſal.

" Par. 4. By theſe it will appear that the Treachery and Intrigues of Cheyt Sing, ſupported by the Diſaffection and reſtleſs Diſpoſition of the Bhow Begum, Mother to the Nabob of Owde, at Fyzabad, produced Inſurrections in that Country, which till lately we were unapprized of, on account of the Communication between that Place and Benares being wholly cut off.

" Par. 5. At the ſame Time that the firſt Information of theſe Diſturbances reached us, we were happy to hear that they had been quelled by the Accounts received there of the ſucceſsful Efforts of our Troops in Benares, and the March of Two Regiments from Cawnpore to the Relief of Colonel Hannay, whoſe Sepoys gave evident Proofs, by their Deſertion, that they had been tampered with, and he with moſt of his Officers were in great Danger of their Lives, a Detachment under Lieutenant Gordon having been actually attacked and cut off, and the reſt of the Corps being ſurrounded by the Rabble levied under Sanction of the Begum, avowedly for the Service of Raja Cheyt Sing.

" Par. 6. The Circumſtance of theſe Levies is further corroborated by various Reports from Fyzabad, and by the Liſt of Cheyt Sing's Forces delivered to the Governor General at Chunar, in which the Troops ſaid to be come from Lucknow, which formed a Part of his Strength, muſt evidently be the ſame (ſince they agree in Number) with thoſe which Colonel Hannay declares to have been raiſed and ſent to him from Fyzabad.

Read, the following Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors to the Board at Calcutta, dated London, the 14th February 1783, from Book 42, already delivered in.

" 4. By the Second Article of the Treaty, the Nabob is permitted to reſume ſuch Jaghires as he ſhall think proper; with a Reſerve, that all ſuch Jaghiredars, for the Amount of whoſe Jaghires the Company are Guarantees, ſhall, in caſe of a Reſumption of their Lands, be paid the Amount of the net Collections through the Reſident.

" 5. We do not ſee how the Governor General could conſent to the Reſumption of ſuch Lands as the Company had engaged ſhould remain in the Hands of thoſe who poſſeſſed them previous to the Execution of the late Treaty, without ſtronger Proofs of the Begum's Defection than have been laid before us: Neither can we allow it to be good Policy to reduce the ſeveral Jaghiredars, and thus uniting the Territory, and the Troops maintained for the Protection of that Territory, under one Head, who may by that Means, at ſome future Period, become a very powerful Enemy to the Company.

" 6. With reſpect to the Reſumption of the Jaghires poſſeſſed by the Begums in particular, and the ſubſequent Seizure of the Treaſure depoſited with the Vizier's Mother, which the Governor General, in his Letter to the Board, 23 January 1782, has declared he ſtrenuouſly encouraged and ſupported, we hope and truſt, for the Honour of the Britiſh Nation, that the Meaſure appeared to be fully juſtified in the Eyes of all Hindoſtan.

" The Governor General has informed us, " That it can be well atteſted, that the Begums prin-
" cipally excited and ſupported the late Commotions; and that they carried their Inveteracy to the " Engliſh Nation ſo far, as to aim at our utter Extirpation."

" 7. It muſt have been publicly known, that in 1775 the Reſident at the Vizier's Court not only obtained from the Begum, Widow of the late Sujah Dowlah, on the Nabob's Account, Thirty Lacks of Rupees, Half of which was to be paid to the Company, but alſo the Forbearance of Twenty-ſix Lacks, for the Repayment of which ſhe had Security in Land, on the Nabob's agreeing to renounce all further Claims upon her, and that to this Agreement the Company were Guarantees.

" 8. We find that on the 21ſt of December 1775, the Begum complained of a Breach of Engagements on the Part of the Nabob; ſoliciting your Protection for herſelf, her Mother, and for all the Women belonging to the Seraglio of the late Nabob, from the Diſtreſſes to which they were reduced; in conſequence whereof it was agreed, in Conſultation 2d January 1776, to remonſtrate wi h the Vizier; the Governor General remarking, " That as the Repreſentative of our " Government has become an Agent in this Buſineſs, and has pledged the Honour and Faith of " the Company, for the punctual Obſervance of the Conditions under which the Treaty was con" cluded, you had a Right to interfere, and Juſtice demanded it, if it ſhould appear that thoſe
" Engagements have been violated." And the Board at the ſame Time reſolved, " That as ſoon
" as the Begum's Engagements with the Nabob, to which Mr. Briſtow is a Party, ſhall be fulfilled
" on her Part, this Government will think themſelves bound to protect her againſt any further
" Demand or Moleſtation."

" 9. If therefore the Diſaffection of the Begums was not a Matter of public Notoriety, we cannot but be alarmed for the Effects which theſe ſubſequent Tranſactions muſt have had on the Minds of the Natives of India. The only Conſolation we feel upon this Occaſion is, that the Amount of thoſe Jaghires for which the Company were Guarantees, is to be paid through our Reſident at the Court of the Vizier; and it very materially concerns the Credit of your Government, on no account to ſuffer ſuch Payments to be evaded.

" 10. If it ſhall hereafter be found that the Begums did not take that hoſtile Part againſt the Company which has been repreſented (as well in the Governor General's Narrative, as in ſeveral Documents therein referred to; and as it nowhere appears, from the Papers at preſent in our Poſſeſſion, that they excited any Commotion previous to the Impriſonment of Rajah Cheyt Sing), but only armed themſelves in conſequence of that Tranſaction; and as it is probable that ſuch a Conduct proceeded entirely from Motives of Self-defence, under an Apprehenſion that they themſelves might likewiſe be laid under unwarrantable Contributions, we direct that you uſe your In-

" Mr. Wheler having left the following Minute with the Secretary in conſequence of reading the General Letter of the 14th February at the laſt Meeting, in the Public Department, it is now conſidered.

" General Letter from the Court of Directors, dated the 14th February 1783.

" Mr. Wheler.—It always has been and always will be my Wiſh to conform implicitly to the Orders of the Court of Directors; and I truſt that the Opinion on * which I ſhall give upon that Part of the Court's Letter which is now before us, will not be taken up againſt its Meaning, as going to a Breach of them. The Orders at preſent under the Board's Conſideration are entirely proviſional. *Sic in Orig.

" Nothing has paſſed ſince the Concluſion of the Agreement made by the Governor General with the Vizier at Chunar, which induces me to allow the Opinion which I before held, as well from the Governor General's Reports to this Board as the Opinions which I have heard of many Individuals totally unconcerned in the Subject, that the Begums at Fuzabad did take a hoſtile Part againſt the Company during the Diſturbances in Benares; and I am impreſſed with a Conviction that this Conduct of the Begums did not proceed entirely from Motives of Self-defence. But as the Court of Directors appear to be of a different Opinion, and conceive that there ought to be ſtronger Proofs of the Defection of the Begums than have been laid before them, I think that before we decide on their Orders, the late † preſent Reſident at the Vizier's Court, and the Commanding Officers in the Vizier's Country, ought to be required to collect and lay before the Board all the Information they can obtain with reſpect to the Defection of the Begum during the Troubles in Benaras, and their preſent Diſpoſition to the Company. †Sic in Orig.

" The Governor General deſires to record the following Minute.

" The Governor General.—I think Mr. Wheler has miſconceived the Intention of the Court of Directors. I have attentively read the Fourth and ſubſequent Paragraph of the Letter of the 14th February, but find no Order expreſſed or implied in them which can warrant the Enquiry propoſed by Mr. Wheler. The Court of Directors is already in Poſſeſſion of complete and legal Evidence of the hoſtile Part taken by the Begums of Fuzabad againſt the Company. I cannot directly object to the Propoſal for collecting freſh Evidence on the ſame Charges, but I muſt be informed of the Object of it, before I can aſſent to it. I do therefore object to the Queſtion in the preſent Terms and State of it."

" Read and approved the Proceedings of the 15th Instant.

" The following Minute having been received from Mr. Stables the 18th Instant, is now recorded.

" September 9th, 1783.

" Mr. Stables.—The Court of Directors by their Letter of the 14th February 1783, seem not to be satisfied that the Disaffection of the Begums to this Government is sufficiently proved by the Evidence before them.

" I therefore think that the late and present Resident and Commanding Officers in the Vizier's Country at the Time, should be called upon to collect what further Information they can on this Subject, in which the Honour and Dignity of the Government is so materially concerned, and that such Information may be immediately transmitted to the Court of Directors.

" In the Enquiry proposed to be made, I wish it particularly to be attended to, whether any hostile Intention or Mark of Disaffection to this Government in the Conduct of the Begums appeared before the Troubles of Benaras.

" I think the Resident at the Vizier's Court should be called upon to give Information to the Board whether the Amount of the Begum's Jaghires has been paid to them, and by what Channel the Payment has been made. The Governor General desires that the Paragraphs of the Letter from the Court of Directors of the 14th February 1783, to which Mr. Stables alludes in his Minute, may be entered in this Place, because it does not appear to him that the Court of Directors had directed any Enquiry to be made, such as is now proposed; that it appears to him both too late and unnecessary at this Time to renew it, as very strong and authenticated Evidence of the Disaffection of the Begums has been collected and transmitted to the Court of Directors; and as the Reasons assigned by the Court of Directors, if these shall be transmitted with the Orders for the Enquiry, will prove in their Effect an Order collecting Evidence to the Justification and Acquittal of the Begums, not for the Investigation of the Truth of the Charges which have been preferred against them."

" The Governor General thinks it unnecessary to make any other Comment upon the Motion, or to give either his Assent or Dissent to it; but as the latter may be implied in the preceding Observations, if Evidence is to be collected, it should be collected from all Persons capable of giving it, and not confined to official Characters."

" Par. 6th. With respect to the Resumption of the Jaghires possessed by the Begums in particular, and the subsequent Seizures of the Treasure deposited with the Vizier's Mother, which the Governor General in his Letter to your Board 23d January 1782 has declared he strenuously encouraged and supported, we hope and trust, for the Honour of the British Nation, that the Measure appeared to be fully justified in the Eyes of all Indostan. The Governor General has informed us " that it can be well attested, that the Begums principally excited and " supported the late Commotions; and that they carried their Inveteracy to the English Na- " tion, so far as to aim at our utter Extirpation."

" 9th. If therefore the Disaffection of the Begums was not a Matter of public Notoriety, we cannot but be alarmed for the Effects which those subsequent Transactions must have had on the Minds of the Natives of India. The only Consolation we feel upon the Occasion is, that the Amount of those Jaghires for which the Company were Guarantees is to be paid through our Resident at the Court of the Vizier; and it very materially concerns the Credit of your Government on no Account to suffer such Payments to be evaded.

" 10th. If it shall hereafter be found, that the Begums did not take that hostile Part against the Company which has been represented as well in the Governor General's Narrative, as in several Documents therein referred to; and as it no where appears from the Papers at present in our Possession, that they excited any Commotion previous to the Imprisonment of Rajah Cheyt Sing, but only armed themselves in consequence of that Transaction; and as it is probable, that such a Conduct proceeded entirely from Motives of Self-defence, under an Apprehension that they themselves might likewise be laid under unwarranted Contributions; we direct that you use your Influence with the Vizier that their Jaghires may be restored to them; but if they should be under Apprehensions respecting the future Conduct of the Vizier, and wish our further Protection, it is our Pleasure that you afford those Ladies an Asylum within the Company's Territories, and those be paid the Amount of the net Collection of their Jaghires, agreeably to the 2d Article of the late Treaty, through the Medium of our Resident, as may be ascertained upon an Average Estimate of some Years back."

The Counſel for the Defendant requeſted Mr. Macpherſon's Minute, upon the ſame Subject, might alſo be read.

The ſame was read, as follows, from a Conſultation of the 13th October 1783, beginning at Page 681 of the ſame Book:

" entered.

" Received 8th October.

" Mr. Macpherſon. 25th September.

" I have read the General Letter from the Court of Directors of the 14th of February with " Attention. When it was firſt read in Council, I underſtood the Paragraphs about the Begums " as directing an Inveſtigation of the Grounds on which they were deprived of their Jaghires; and " that we ſhould uſe our Influence with the Vizier to put them in Poſſeſſion of the Jaghires, if " there was not ſufficient Evidence of their rebellious Conduct, during the Troubles at Benares.

" On a cloſe Attention to the Words and Spirit of the different Paragraphs upon this Sub- " ject, I do not think that we are directed to commence any new Inveſtigation of Evidence. In- " deed I do not well ſee how ſuch an Inveſtigation could be regularly undertaken, or what ſalutary " Purpoſe it could produce.

" There has been no Appeal from the Begums to this Government; and there certainly was " ſufficient Proof, at the Time that thoſe who had the Management of their Concerns, during the " Troubles of Benares, were no Friends, but real Enemies, to the Cauſe of the Engliſh.

" The Points which the Court of Directors ſeem to have moſt at Heart are, 1ſt, That the En- " gagement of the 2d Article of the Benares Treaty ſhould be faithfully fulfilled; and 2dly, To " guard againſt the future Conduct of the Vizier, if he ſhould be diſpoſed to oppreſs the Begums.

" We ſhould therefore aſcertain whether the Amount of the Jaguirs of the Begums is regu- " larly paid to them through the Company's Reſident; and give them Notice that no future De- " mands ſhall be made upon them. This the Governor General might, I think, do in a Letter " that would make the Begums ſenſible of their paſt Miſconduct, yet inform them of the Lenity " and gracious Intentions of the Company in ordering them an Aſylum in Bengal, in caſe of future " Diſtreſs. In conſequence of the foregoing Opinion from Mr. Macpherſon, the following Minute " was delivered by the Governor General.

" G. G. † Gheretty, 9 October 1783. † Sic in Orig.

" I ſhould gladly acquieſce in the Motion made by Mr. Macpherſon, if I thought it poſſible " to frame a Letter to the Begums in any Terms which ſhould at the ſame Time convey the Inti- " mation propoſed by it, and not defeat the Purpoſe of it, or be productive of Evils greater than " any which exiſt in the Conſequences of the Proceedings which have already taken place, and " which Time has almoſt obliterated. The Orders of the Court of Directors are conditional. They " require nothing but in the Event of Diſcoveries made ſubſequent to the Advices which were before " you on the 14th February laſt, in Alleviation of the former Conduct of the Begums; nothing has " ſince appeared in relation to them; but their Refuſal, or rather that of One, to fulfil her En- " gagements for the Payment of the Remainder of the Sum exacted from her by the Nabob Vizier " in the Beginning of the laſt Year. Whatever Obedience may be due to the clear and aſcertained " Spirit of the Orders of the Court of Directors, this Obligation cannot extend to Points of " which neither the Letter nor evident Spirit of their Orders apply. If I am rightly informed, the " Nabob Vizier and the Begums are on Terms of mutual Good-will. It would ill become this " Government to interpoſe its Influence by any Act which might tend to revive their Animoſities; " and a very ſlight Occaſion would be ſufficient to effect it. It will be to little Purpoſe to tell them " that their Conduct has in our Eſtimation of it been very wrong, and at the ſame Time to announce " to them the Orders of our Superiors, which more than indicate the reverſe. They will in- " ſtantly take fire on ſuch a Declaration, proclaim the Judgment of the Company in their Favour, " demand a Reparation of the Acts which they will conſtrue Wrongs ‡ which ſuch a Sentence war- " ranting that Conſtruction, and either accept the Invitation to the proclaimed Scandal of the " Vizier, which will not add to the Credit of our Government, or remain in his Dominions, but not " under his Authority, to add to his Vexations, and the Diſorder of the Country by continual In- " trigues

Minute from the Governor General.

‡ " Thus in Orig."

* Sic in Orig. " trigues and Seditions. Enough alread * exists to affect his Peace, and the Quiet of his People.
" If we cannot heal, let us not inflame the Wounds which have been inflicted.
" If the Begums think themselves aggrieved to such a Degree as to justify them in an Appeal " to foreign Jurisdiction, to appeal to it against a Man standing in the Relation of Son and
" Grandson to them, to appeal to the Justice of those who have been the Abettors and Instruments
" of their imputed Wrongs, let us at least permit them to be the Judges of their own Feelings, and " prefer their Complaints, before we offer to redress them. They will not need to be prompted.
" I hope I shall not depart from the Simplicity of official Language in saying, that the Majesty
" of Justice ought to be approached with Solicitation, not descend to provoke or invite it, much " less to debase itself by the Suggestion of Wrongs and the Promise of Redress, with the Denun" ciation of Punishment before Trial, and even before Accusation.
" (Signed) W. Hastings.

" Mr. Macpherson.—I see with the Governor General the Difficulty of writing a Letter to the " Begums, that would not, in some Degree, extenuate their past Conduct, yet convey to them a " Knowledge of the Protection tendered to them in the Event of future Distresses by the Court of " Directors.
" I wished to adopt an Expedient to shew the Company that we were ready to meet any " Wishes they had on the Subject. I only suggested the Idea, but do not move it as a Question.
" The Majesty of Justice ought certainly to be met with Solicitation, and should not descend
" to provoke or invite it; but from some Expression in the Letter of the Court of Directors, I am
" led to think they had some Complaint before them, or a different Representation from the Evi" dence sent by this Government about the Rebellion of the Begums, when they wrote their Di" rections of the 14th February last; otherwise they would either have approved or disapproved of " the Conduct of this Administration, upon the Facts stated to them, or have been silent till they " received further Advices. I agree with Mr. Stables, that the Resident at the Court of Oude
" should be called upon to state to the Board, whether the Begums have received the Amount of " their Jaghuirs.") §

Your Excellency will therefore be pleaſed to return to Lucknow; and as the ſole Object of my Journey from Calcutta to this Quarter was to have an Interview with your Excellency, by the Bleſſing of God having ſhortly puniſhed in an exemplary Manner this Rebel, I ſhall be made happy by meeting your Excellency, who in the mean while muſt not ſuffer any Apprehenſions or Doubts to exiſt reſpecting this Buſineſs.

They will ſet off on Saturday next, September the 1ſt. The Artillery, for the ſake of Expedition, is to go down by Water to Illahabad, where it is to wait for the Arrival of the Sepoys. I ſhall immediately order Three Battalions from the Detachment at Calpee to march to this Station, and One Battalion under Major Gilpin will be left for the Protection of that Place. A freſh Supply of Ammunition has been diſpatched to Lucknow for Major Roberts's Regiment.—Though I cannot but imagine, that were your Situation anyways critical or dangerous, and you ſtood in need of Military Force to aſſiſt you, I ſhould not have remained ſo long without receiving Orders from you to ſend Troops down; yet I doubt not but the Step I have taken will receive your Approbation, as there is a Poſſibility of your Orders having miſcarried, and the Conſequence of a Delay, in ſuch a Caſe, might prove ſerious and dangerous.—I ſhall order the Regiment of my Brigade that is now at Futtehgur, to march down to this Station as ſoon as poſſible.—As the quick Arrival of this Letter to your Hands is promiſed to be rewarded by you, or the Officer who receives it, I beg leave to requeſt that you may be pleaſed to order the Sepoys and Boatmen ſuch Rewards, honorary or pecuniary, as you may think equal to the Merit of their Service.

I have no Force to defend any Part of my Diſtricts, and have therefore been under the Neceſſity of calling on the Zemeedars of Sircar Sarun for their Aſſiſtance on this Occaſion, and ſome of the principal Men amongſt them are gone with their Dependants to Huſſeepoor; but I confeſs I have no great Confidence in them. Several of them are intimately connected with Cheit Sing; there are alſo ſome allied by Marriage to Doorgbijey Sing and to Owſan Sing. The Names of theſe laſt are Gopaul Narain, Serib Narain, Govind Narain, Hir-Govindſaw, Boniſſer Saw, and Ragonaut Saw. Letters to them from Doorgbijey Sing and Owſan Sing would be of infinite Service, and might in ſome Degree counteract the infamous Attempts of Cheit Sing. One Letter of his (and I have Reaſon to believe there are many in Circulation) addreſſed to Durjoo Sing, a Zemidar of the Diſtrict, at preſent employed in Huſſeepoor, was by him carried to the Aumil of that Place, who immediately ſent it to me. " It is with the greateſt Concern I ſend you the incloſed for Mr. Middleton, intercepted by the Rajah's People. There is another Letter from Major Hannay, dated Fyzabad, 10th inſtant; the Purport of which is nearly the ſame as that encloſed, to caution you againſt the ſecret Deſigns of the Nabob, and that he (Major Hannay) is much diſtreſſed and ill. The Rajah will not ſuffer me to ſend the Major's Letter to you, from ſome capricious Whim: I dare not now aſk him; but the Major ſays nothing more than I tell you. I was obliged, from ſad Neceſſity, to tell the Rajah ſome Part of the Contents of the encloſed; but I took care it ſhould be merely plauſible: I omitted ſuch Particulars as he might take the leaſt Advantage of. For Heaven's Sake, Sir, condeſcend to liſten to ſome Terms of Conciliation, while we can do it without leſſening our Dignity. Pardon me the Preſumption of adviſing you. I am, it is true, wanting in Wiſdom and the Knowledge of Politicks, but I ſee the Rajah is very (I fear too) formidable. I am greatly diſtreſſed at the Contents of the incloſed Letter. Heaven avert the impending Storm, and protect you ever!

" Sir,

" In my Letter to you, dated the 24th inſtant, I acquainted you, that as the Nabob expected his Return to his Capital would put a Stop to the Diſturbances which have lately ariſen in his Country, it was unneceſſary for you to proceed to Lucknow with your Brigade, as I at firſt directed. From a ſubſequent Converſation with the Miniſter, I find there is a Probability that the Nabob may be deceived in his Expectations, and ſtill require your Aſſiſtance; I have therefore directed Mr. Middleton, on the Nabob's Application to him in Writing for that Purpoſe, to apply to you for the Aid of ſuch a Force as the Nabob may require; which I requeſt you will be pleaſed to furniſh on Mr. Middleton's Requiſition.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire.

" Honourable Sir,

" I was honoured laſt Night with your Letters of the 24th inſtant; and beg leave to aſſure you, it is the Summit of my Ambition to merit your Approbation of my Conduct; and the Compliment you paid the Troops which I ſent you, heightened my Satisfaction with additional Pleaſure. In conſequence of your Letter of the 19th, deſiring me to halt at this Place, I immediately ordered that Part of my Brigade that had croſſed over the Jooſy, to recroſs; but in order to loſe no Time, I ſhall directly march towards Lucknow, and, agreeable to your Directions, ſhall direct Colonel Sir John Cumming to croſs immediately at Khaunpoor, and proceed to Lucknow with Two Regiments, and Four Guns, and to comply with ſuch Requiſitions as the Nabob or the Reſident make to him for Aſſiſtance, to eſtabliſh Tranquillity in his Excellency's Dominions. But I have the Pleaſure to inform you, that I learn, both by Letters written by Gentlemen at Lucknow, and from my Intelligence Writer there, that the Commotions have ſubſided, and they entertained no Alarm, but from the Situation of Chunar; and I am ready to conclude, that the Brigade's halting here operated in ſome Meaſure to produce that good Effect; and I am now concerned I ſent to you that Extract from Mr. Blane's Letter, as I apprehend it was written without a right Conſideration of Circumſtances, and cauſed you ſome unneceſſary Alarm. Captain Law will croſs the River To-morrow Morning with all the Cavalry fit to ſerve on active Service, and I have given him Inſtructions to uſe all Expedition on his Way down to Chunar. I ſhall march on this Side the Water up to Khaunpoor. I will write to Mr. Middleton to let me know if the Aſſiſtance of my Troops is wanted, and ſhall be prepared to afford him any Aid, either with my whole Force, or any Part of it, ſhould the Detachment with Colonel Sir John Cumming not prove ſufficient for quelling any Diſturbances in the Nabob's Country; but in the preſent State of the Country I make no doubt of Colonel Cumming's Force being enough. As the Exigence of Affairs does not ſeem now to be preſſing, I have left it to Colonel Cumming's Option, either to proceed with the Detachment, or to go and command at the Station of Futteh Ghur, with the Two Regiments he has left there, till further Orders from me.

" Tranſlation of a Letter found in Lutteefpoor the 6th of October, and forwarded to the Governor General by Captain Thomas Blair.

" On Thurſday, after my Arrival at Banaris from Buxar, I went to Sewallah-Ghaut with a View of repreſenting to you ſeveral Circumſtances which I had learned concerning the oppoſite Party; but as they had got in before me, I was deprived of an Opportunity of ſeeing you. I was preſent at the Place where your Friends and People were ſitting, and where they aſſembled together; and when you went into the Boat, notwithſtanding it was my earneſt Deſire to have accompanied you, yet I had no Opportunity of doing it. The enſuing Day, the Paſſage of Boats to and fro was entirely obſtructed, and I was afraid to ſend you Intelligence from this Place, leſt the Letter ſhould have fallen into the Hands of the Enemy. with a few Men, and if you had then attempted to retaliate on them, you would certainly have taken Two Pigeons in One Trap; but as all your Actions are accompanied with good Fortune, there is no Doubt but the Enemy will be ſoon overcome. For Two Days the Hircarrahs of the oppoſite Party came to my Houſe to make Enquiries; but, by the Bleſſing of God, no ill Conſequence enſued. Now that you have taken this heavy Burthen upon yourſelf, you muſt truſt entirely in God, and ſhew, on all Occaſions, the utmoſt Fortitude. The Alliance of ſeveral Chiefs, at a Time like this, is very neceſſary, and may be eaſily accompliſhed; yet you muſt avoid forming any Connection with a Chief of ſuch Conſequence as may afterwards himſelf attempt an Interference in your Affairs. Whatever Orders you give, muſt proceed from your own Deliberation. I am at preſent perfectly idle here, and I am very ſolicitous of an Interview with you, that I may in Perſon communicate to you my Opinions on ſeveral Points which have occurred to me. By a Letter from Bulwunt Row, I underſtand that you wiſh me to inform myſelf concerning the Arrival of Hyder Beg, and to write you on the Subject.

" I will aſſuredly make every neceſſary Enquiry, both about Hyder Beg and the Nabob Aſſof ud Dowlah, and communicate to you the Reſult. I have already ſent confidential Perſons to both, and whatever I may in conſequence learn, ſhall be communicated to you hereafter. Meanwhile the Matter is briefly this: You muſt never entertain Hopes of the Attachment of Hyder Beg; his whole Strength and Power depend on the oppoſite Party; yet it is proper you ſhould attempt to conciliate the Favour of the Vizeer, by telling him that you are deſirous of repreſenting ſeveral Circumſtances to him; that you wiſh to perſuade him to detach himſelf from the oppoſite Party, and to reſume his former Authority over you. Without knowing your Sentiments on this Subject, it is not in my Power to act ſo of myſelf.

" It is however at all Events adviſeable, that if the Vizeer ſhould entirely embrace the other Party, you ſhould nevertheleſs wait upon him perſonally, and repreſent to him whatever you may deem adviſeable. I beg you will believe me to be in every Reſpect firmly attached to you. Major Hannay with One Battalion has left Gooruckpoor, and Letters have been ſent to Khaunpoor for Troops from thence; you ſhould therefore retaliate on them as ſoon as poſſible. If Hyder Beg, without your Conſent, ſhould attempt to join the oppoſite Party, it is proper you ſhould ſtation a ſuitable Force on this Side of the Fort of Chunar, to prevent his croſſing the River. Yeſterday Rajah Gobind Ram and Lalla Bucheraje went and had an Interview with Hyder Beg. What more ſhall I ſay? The Object of Hyder Beg is certainly to manifeſt his Attachment to the oppoſite Party." Then

Then the Counſel for the Defendant requeſted, that as it had been ſuggeſted Yeſterday, that the Letter of the 12th of December 1782 was ſuppreſſed, Mr. Robert Hudſon might be called in

Accordingly Mr. ROBERT HUDSON was again called in, and the following Queſtion was put to him:

Q. Can you turn to a Letter from Mr. Briſtow to the Board, dated the 1ſt December 1782?
A. Yes.

The Counſel for the Defendant requeſted, that before the Letter of the 1ſt of December 1782 was produced, an Extract of a Letter from the Board to Mr. Briſtow, dated the 3d of March 1783, might be read; from a Conſultation of the ſame Date.

The ſame was read from Book 85, already delivered in, beginning at Page 310 of the ſame Book:

§ (" Fort William, 3d March 1783.

Then the Counſel for the Defendant requeſted that an Extract of the Letter abovementioned from Mr. Briſtow to the Board, dated the 1ſt December 1782, might be read.

The ſame was accordingly read from the ſame Conſultation, beginning at Page 253, of the ſame Book.

§ (" Major Gilpin, with One Battalion, has been ſtationed at Fyzabad, for the Purpoſe of ſupporting the Vizier's Claim againſt the Begum for the Recovery of his Patrimony depoſited in her " Charge. The Vizier would not at that Time acquieſce in my Propoſal, but determined on " making one more Effort previous to leaving it in her Diſcretion to prolong the Term of Payment; his Excellency accordingly addreſſed a Letter to the Begum, conveying his Senſe of her " evading the Performance of her Engagements, in very harſh Terms; and threatening in caſe of " Non-compliance with them, that her Eunuchs ſhould continue in Confinement, and Means be " taken to recover the Money from her, as the Company would never be ſatisfied without it: The " Begum in reply repreſented her Inability, having paid away all the Treaſure ever entruſted to her " Charge by the late Vizier; but if the Eunuchs were enlarged, ſhe might, with their Aſſiſtance, " be enabled to raiſe the Money upon Credit. On his Excellency's receiving this Anſwer, I renewed " my Solicitations for Permiſſion to withdraw the Battalion, reſting the Matter upon the Begum's " Promiſe of diſcharging the Balance when her Eunuchs ſhould be releaſed: I was induced to this " Meaſure by the Repreſentations of Major Gilpin, who had been employed in the Buſineſs from " the Commencement; his Opinion, aſſerting that every practicable coercive Exertion had been " uſed, I beg leave to ſubmit to you in the enclo[ſ]ed Copy of his Letter to me on the Subject. " The Vizier at length acquieſced in the Battalions being withdrawn; for which I was the more " anxious, as your Inſtructions to me diſapprove of Detachments, and the State of Affairs re" quires the Appearance of a formidable Force on the Frontiers.") The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

Read,

Read, a further Extract of the Letter of the 3d March 1783, from the Board to Mr. Briſtow; from the ſame Book, and ſame Conſultation, beginning at Page 394 of the ſame.

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired an Extract might be read from a Conſultation of the 12th of May 1783.

Read, the following Extract, from Book 80, beginning at Page 634 of the ſame Book,

" Fort William, the 12th May 1783.

" At a Council; Preſent,
The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident;

John Macpherſon, }

" The Governor General lays before the Board the following Letters from Mr. Briſtow to him, dated 12th December.

" To the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire, Governor General.

" Honourable Sir,

" Your Inſtructions of the 23d October have been the invariable Rule of my Conduct; and now I have held my Office a ſufficient Time to ſpeak with ſome Degree of Certainty to moſt Points, I ſhall enter upon an Explanation of the State of this Government.

Your Obſervation, that your new Meaſures will require a long Time to execute, is but too true. The total Want of Syſtem, and lawleſs Habits which prevail, muſt be corrected by progreſſive Means; the Peace and Security of the Country, and Regularity in the ſeveral Departments of the State, will be gradually eſtabliſhed. I beg leave to anſwer the ſeveral Heads of your Inſtructions in the ſame Order in which you have placed them.

First Head. Balance and Aſſignment.

" Immediately after my Arrival I urged the acting Miniſter to deviſe and recommend Arrangements for the complete Diſcharge of the Balance at the Concluſion of the Year. To relieve myſelf from Cenſure in caſe of Failure in this eſſential Point, it is neceſſary I ſhould explain the Tranſaction with the Bankers. The Balance at the End of laſt Year was not in fact paid, but transferred to the Bankers, and encreaſed by the Load of a very high Intereſt. There were Two diſtinct Engagements;

One for Bills immediately granted on the Preſidency for — — 26,50,000
Another for Teeps promiſing Bills, to be delivered by Inſtallments at the following Periods, and in the following Proportions, viz.

Bhaudun	—	—	1189	—	6,50,000
Cooaur	—	—	1190	—	6,50,000
Cautick	—	—	D°	—	6,50,000
Aughun	—	—	D°	—	6,50,000" (b)

Then the Managers for the Commons deſired Mr. Middleton might be called in.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° LXXXVI. (b) Vide Appendix, N° LVIII.

Then NATHANIEL MIDDLETON, Eſquire, was again called in, and examined as follows.

Q. To whom did you deliver the Priſoners Bahar and Jewar Ali Kawn, at Fyzabad?
A. I believe, to Major Naylor, but I am not quite certain.

Q. Did you give any Written Orders to Lieutenant Rutledge upon that Occaſion?
A. Certainly, Written Orders were given when the Priſoners were delivered up.

Q. Do you recollect what thoſe Orders were?
A. I do not particularly.

Q. Try to recollect them; they are very ſhort; you have been reminded of them.

The Counſel for the Defendant objected, that as the Orders were ſtated to be in Writing, the Inquiry ſhould be what was become of that Writing, before the Witneſs was aſked as to his Memory of them.

The Witneſs was aſked;

Q. Where are thoſe Orders now, do you know where they are?
A. Not the Original Orders—a Copy of them is no doubt in the Office at Lucknow.

Q. Do you know whether they are in your Letter Book?
A. I do not know whether they are.

Q. Whether this is the Purport of the Order; "Sir, when this Note is delivered to you by Hoolas Roi,———

The Counſel for the Defendant objected to the Queſtion.

Q. Can you recollect what was the Purport of your Orders?
A. Upon this Queſtion, I muſt beg Leave to throw myſelf upon your Lordſhips Indulgence: My Conduct at Fyzabad ſeems to have met with the Diſapprobation, not only of the Honourable the Houſe of Commons, but of the Perſon from whom I was deputed to conduct that Buſineſs.—I do conceive I am more particularly charged, with reſpect to the Proceedings at Fyzabad, than even Mr. Haſtings himſelf.—I ſhall therefore hope, if it ſhall ſo appear to your Lordſhips, that I may be excuſed anſwering any Queſtions with reſpect to that Buſineſs, which may tend to criminate myſelf.

Q. Whether or no you did not aſſiſt Mr. Haſtings in his Firſt Defence in the Houſe of Commons, and give him Information with reſpect to the Tranſactions at Fyzabad?
A. I have already informed your Lordſhips, how far I did aſſiſt; I certainly did give him every Information that occurred to me reſpecting the Affairs of my Department.

Q. But particularly with reſpect to the Tranſactions at Fyzabad?
A. To the Affairs of Oude, in general.

Q. (by a Lord.) Did you, or not, give him Information particularly with reſpect to the Affairs of Fyzabad?
A. No Doubt, the Information reſpecting the Affairs of Fyzabad, was one Part of the Information.

Q. Did Mr. Haſtings, when you informed him reſpecting the Affairs of the Begums, and the Miniſters, at Fyzabad, expreſs his Diſapprobation to you at that Time?
A. I do not recollect ever making any particular Communication to Mr. Haſtings upon that Subject. With reſpect to the Begums Miniſters, the Eunuchs, it is under that Conſtruction, I conceive, that I am more particularly criminal in that than in any Thing elſe, becauſe it is One of the few Inſtances in which I uſed my own Diſcretion; if there is any Criminality in that Affair, I conceive that Criminality will attach to me more than to Mr. Haſtings.

Then the following Paſſage was read, from the Preface to the Defence of Mr. Haſtings at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons.

"Before I proceed to reply to the Charges reſpecting my Conduct to the Begums, and on the Affairs of Oude, I muſt obſerve, that they contain Particulars of which I was totally ignorant, till I read them in the Charges. I am therefore very much indebted to the Aſſiſtance of Mr. Middleton, and to the Information of Gentlemen who were in Oude when the Tranſactions alluded to happened (a)."

Then the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 413.

Q. Whether,

Q. Whether, among the Circumſtances which Mr. Haſtings gathered, and for which he here thanks you, you did not inform him of the Treatment of the Eunuchs, and of the Diſtreſſes of the Women in the Khourd Mahl, and of thoſe other Particulars to which Mr. Haſtings replies in his Anſwer to the Charges?

A. I really do not recollect the Particulars of my Information to Mr. Haſtings; they certainly contained every Thing that occurred to my Mind upon the Affairs in which I had been concerned.

Q. Mr. Haſtings alſo ſays, in his Defence, "My laſt Orders therefore for its Execution, is all that I am anſwerable for; the reſt depended upon the Inſtruments which were employed in it; and ſo little on myſelf, that I was ignorant of the whole Mode of its Execution, till it was done:" (a) Recollect whether you did, or did not, conceal from Mr. Haſtings all thoſe Circumſtances, or whether you communicated them to him?

Q. (by Counſel.) Whether the Communication was in Writing?

A. It was.

Q. (by the Managers.) Do you know whether you communicated all thoſe Circumſtances?

A. I believe I did, but I cannot be certain that I did; but all the Communications I made upon that Subject were certainly in Writing.

Q. Do you mean to ſay, that all your Communications to Mr. Haſtings upon this Subject ſince you came to England have been in Writing? Have you communicated to Mr. Haſtings otherwiſe than by Writing the Paſſages reſpecting Fyzabad?

A. I do not believe I have, but it is very poſſible that in Converſation I might mention thoſe Paſſages; but I do not recollect particularly that I communicated thoſe Circumſtances, but in Writing.

Q. Mr. Haſtings, in his Reply to the Charges of the Houſe of Commons, does ſay, that ſince he has been in England, you have communicated to him ſeveral Circumſtances upon this Subject, of which he was totally ignorant before. Do you recollect having made that Communication to Mr. Haſtings, ſince you came to England?

A. Nothing further than what I have already informed your Lordſhips of.

Q. What have you informed us of?

A. Of the Informations I gave Mr. Haſtings in Writing.

Q. Was there no verbal Communication?

A. I beg leave to refer to the Anſwer I have before given to that Queſtion; I cannot pretend to ſay, that I may not have converſed with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject, though I declare, if I ever did, it is ſo ſlight, that it has entirely eſcaped my Memory: I do not recollect, ever profeſſedly converſing with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject; if I ever had any Converſation with Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject, it has been in Company, as a general Converſation, and not any Thing in particular between him and myſelf.

Q. Whether you did or did not aſſiſt Mr. Haſtings, or his Agents, in drawing up his Anſwer to the Charges of the Houſe of Commons?

A. I have already confeſſed, I did furniſh Mr. Haſtings's Agent—as he is called—Major Scott, with all the Information in my Power, upon the Affairs of Oude.

Q. Then in furniſhing him with Materials upon that Subject, did you or did you not communicate the Circumſtances in Queſtion, with reſpect to the Treatment of the Eunuchs and of the Begums?

The Queſtion was objected to.

Then the preceding Queſtion and Anſwer were read by the Clerk, and the following Queſtion was put to the Witneſs:

Q. Whether the Treatment of the Begums and the Eunuchs at Fyzabad, and the Women in the Khourd Mahl, did not make a Part of that Information which you gave to Major Scott?

A. The Treatment of the Eunuchs, I am pretty ſure, did make a Part of the Information given to Major Scott.—With reſpect to the Treatment of the Women in the Khourd Mahl, I am not ſo certain, I do not believe it did.

Q. Therefore, when you ſaid you made no Communication to Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject, you did not mean to include in it his Agents?

A. I meant to ſay, I had no particular verbal Communication either with Mr. Haſtings or his Agents.

(a) Vide ſupra, Page 417, 5th Line from the Bottom.

Q. Were

Q. Were the Communications made to Major Scott in Writing?
A. Yes.

Q. Do you mean to ſay you had no Converſation with the Agents?
A. I cannot ſay that I might not have had Converſation with them too, upon the ſame Subject; but my Communications to Major Scott were in Writing, and very full to every Point that I could give him Information upon.

Q. Whether you had not read the Charges of the Commons before you gave any Aſſiſtance to Mr. Haſtings in anſwering them?
A. No Doubt, I had.

Q. Did you omit to inform Mr. Haſtings, or his Agents, of any Tranſaction within your Knowledge, relative to the Matter of the Charge?
A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay whether my Informations to Major Scott were complete, or not. I gave him ſuch Informations as occurred to me at the Time relative to the Affairs of Oude.

Q. And not meaning to conceal any Thing?
A. Not meaning to conceal any Thing.

Q. Whether, upon the Communications made by you, Mr. Haſtings then expreſſed a Diſapprobation of any Part of thoſe Tranſactions?
A. I do not know he did; he did not to me.

Q. Then when was it you learned that you was ſo unfortunate as to have your Conduct, in that Tranſaction, diſapproved by Mr. Haſtings?
A. My Conduct at Fyzabad was One Article of the Charge, made againſt me by Mr. Haſtings and the Council at Calcutta.

Q. Whether any Part of that Charge made againſt you by Mr. Haſtings was, that you had uſed too much Severity; or, on the contrary, that you had uſed too much Lenity and Forbearance, upon that Occaſion?
A. I would wiſh to refer to the Charge itſelf, and to Mr. Haſtings's Letter upon the Subject.

Q. (by a Lord.) You are underſtood to have ſaid, you acted from yourſelf at Fyzabad, and that the Courſe of your Conduct was not communicated to Mr. Haſtings in Oude:—Do you remember particularly the Letter that you wrote to Mr. Haſtings upon the 5th of February 1782?

A. Not particularly.

Then a Paper was ſhewn to the Witneſs, who ſaid:

Yes; I recollect it certainly.

Q. Do you wiſh to correct your former Anſwer?
A. I perceive it does ſtate generally, that the Begums Miniſters had been impriſoned.

Q. You ſaid, you acted from your own Diſcretion; that your Conduct had been diſapproved, and that the Treatment of them had not been diſcloſed: Now the Information in this Letter is, that the Miniſters had been impriſoned, and in Irons?
A. The Obſervation I wiſh to make upon that Letter is, that it is a conſiderable Time after the Tranſactions, when I ſaid that I had uſed my own Diſcretion; it was at the Time of executing the Meaſures at Fyzabad. I recollect very well, writing ſeveral Letters to Mr. Haſtings on the Subject; and no Doubt, that ſome of them muſt generally have related to the Proceedings at Fyzabad.

Q. Whether, at any, and at what Time, Mr. Haſtings expreſſed his Diſapprobation of thoſe Tranſactions to you?
A. Not of the particular Tranſaction with reſpect to the Eunuchs, but of my Conduct and Proceedings in general at Fyzabad.

Q. You did not, in your Defence to that Accuſation, ſtate that "wherever Force could be uſed it had not been ſpared,"—that the Begum had been "reduced to the Mercy of the Nabob," and that "her Miniſters were in Irons." Do you remember the Tenor of your Defence to that Charge?
A. I certainly do remember that that is the Tenor; but for more Accuracy, I wiſh to refer to the Anſwer itſelf.

To ſhew that Mr. Haſtings approved of the Treatment of the Begums when it was communicated to him,

Read the following Extract from the Minutes of Major Scott's Evidence at the Bar.

"Q. After the Time of your having read that Introduction to Mr. Haſtings, do you recollect whether he added any Thing to the Defence?

" A. There is a particular Paſſage, which I am clear muſt have been added by Mr. Haſtings. The Paſſage I was going to read to your Lordſhips was added by Mr. Haſtings: 'I have conducted the Narration of the preceding Detail to its Cloſe, without chuſing to interrupt it, or to 'diſturb the Attention of my Honourable Hearers, by the concluding Obſervation which I now 'think it neceſſary to make upon it—becauſe I held the whole Series of the Acts thus connected 'ſtrictly reconcileable to Juſtice, Honour, and good Policy, whoever were the Parties concerned in 'them." (a)

Q. You ſtate you read the original Charges. Whether you gave any Authority to Major Scott to deny your having given this Order to Lieutenant Francis Rutledge:

" Sir,

" When this Note is delivered to you by Hoolas Roy, I have to deſire that you order the Two Priſoners to be put in Irons, keeping them from all Food, &c. agreeable to my Inſtructions of Yeſterday.

(Signed) " Nathaniel Middleton."

Did you give any Authority to Major Scott to deny your having iſſued any ſuch Orders?

A. I certainly gave no ſuch Authority to deny it; but I moſt humbly entreat your Lordſhips will conſider the Predicament in which I ſtand: Theſe do appear to me, to be leading Queſtions, of the ſame Tendency as the Firſt Queſtion; and I hope your Lordſhips will allow me Permiſſion to decline anſwering them.

Q. Whether Major Palmer, when he was at Lucknow, was not in conſtant Correſpondence with the Governor General?

A. I underſtood ſo.

Q. Did you know Major Davy?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Was he not at Lucknow, at the ſame Time, or the greateſt Part of the Time, Major Palmer was there?

A. He came with Major Palmer there: he ſtaid, I think, but a few Days; not many Days.

Q. In what Character did he come with Major Palmer?

A. By the Letter of Mr. Haſtings to me, or in Major Palmer's Inſtructions, he is mentioned as Major Palmer's Aſſiſtant; I knew him in no other Character at Lucknow: in one of thoſe Letters, or in Major Palmer's Inſtructions, I certainly have ſeen him mentioned as his Aſſiſtant.

Q. Did not Major Davy return again to Lucknow, after he had left it the Firſt Time?

A. I believe not, to the Beſt of my Recollection he did not.

Q. Do you think it poſſible, that any Matter of material Conſequence could have happened, reſpecting either the Begums, their Miniſters, or the Nabob's Government, without its being communicated either by you, Major Palmer, or Major Davy, to Mr. Haſtings?

A. I ſhould apprehend not; I ſhould think it moſt likely, that they would have been communicated.

Q. Was the Nabob in the City of Fyzabad, when the Kella was ſtormed, and the Eunuchs taken Priſoners?

A. He was not.

Q. Where was he at that Time?

A. He was near the Town of Fyzabad, encamped in a Place called the Rumna.

Q. To whoſe Cuſtody did Bahar Ali Khan, and Jewar Ali Khan deliver themſelves?

A. May I be permitted to aſk, if that is not a Queſtion of the ſame Tendency with the one that was firſt put to me; if not, I am ready to anſwer it.

Q. Do you know into whoſe Cuſtody they were delivered?

A. They either ſurrendered themſelves, or were delivered into the Cuſtody of the Nabob.

Q. How long did they remain in the Nabob's Cuſtody?

A. A very ſhort Time.

Q. Relate whoſe Cuſtody they came into afterwards, and by what Means?

A. I am ſorry to be obliged to recur to your Lordſhips Indulgence again upon this Subject; I beg that I may be informed, through your Lordſhips Indulgence, whether I am obliged to anſwer that Queſtion.

The

The Managers for the Commons ſtated, that they were confident the Houſe would not admit as a Reaſon for a Witneſs's declining to anſwer, his merely ſaying he conceived it would criminate himſelf.

The Witneſs ſaid,

I am juſtified in my own Opinion moſt clearly; I am clearly of Opinion, that the Eunuchs were certainly guilty of the Crime alleged againſt them: But my Conduct in another Place has not been conſidered in the ſame Light in which I conſidered it myſelf; and upon that Ground I conceive I am juſtified in making the Objection.

Q. What other Place do you allude to?
A. I mean by the Honourable Managers.

Q. Will you ſwear that, to your Knowledge and Belief, the Nabob had any Will of his own upon any Meaſure of Importance at that Period?
A. I cannot doubt but he had.

Q. Any Will that he could carry into Effect. Was he in a Situation to carry his own Purpoſes into Effect?
A. I have no Doubt but he was.

Q. Did you frequently directly contradict the Will and Inclination of the Nabob?
A. I have done it on certain Occaſions moſt undoubtedly; ſometimes with Succeſs, and ſometimes I have failed.

Q. Name an Inſtance in which you failed?
A. I could, with a very little Recollection, name a great Number of Inſtances; but in general I certainly did uſe all the Influence in my Power to prevent thoſe People, who have been diſtinguiſhed in this Houſe as the Orderlies, from having great Collections and great Commands about the Nabob, conceiving them to be very improper Perſons for ſuch a Truſt; but I never was able to ſucceed, in any One of the Inſtances in which I interfered with reſpect to thoſe People.

Q. Did you, upon any Occaſion, iſſue your own Perwannahs in the Nabob's Country?
A. In One Inſtance I did go ſome Length in iſſuing my own Perwannahs, which is in Evidence before your Lordſhips.

Q. Was that Inſtance againſt the Will of the Nabob, or with it?
A. It appeared to be againſt the Will of the Nabob.

Q. Did you think yourſelf authorized to place any Perſon upon the Nabob's Liſt, for Penſions or Gratuities after the Treaty of Chunar?
A. Upon my own Authority?

Q. Yes.
A. No; certainly not.

Q. Upon whoſe Authority did you do it?
A. Is the Fact eſtabliſhed that I did do it?

Q. Did you ever do it?
A. I do not know I did.—No; certainly I did not.

Q. It is in your own Evidence that you did do it. With reſpect to the Communication made with Mr. Haſtings reſpecting Perſons to be placed privately upon the Nabob's Penſion Liſt, you ſaid you had not received a written Order from Mr. Haſtings, but that it was a verbal Communication, that the Names were given to you verbally?
A. I recollect it; and I believe it will be found, by recurring to that Evidence, that it meant Perſons who were to ſtay at Lucknow. I do not recollect it mentions a ſingle Word about Penſions.

Q. Recollect whether you did or did not receive any Inſtruction, Direction, or Communication, from Mr. Haſtings, reſpecting any Perſons continuing to receive Penſions, or Gratuities, after the Treaty of Chunar?
A. I am very ſorry to have Occaſion to throw myſelf on your Lordſhips Indulgence again: This is a Queſtion which certainly muſt criminate myſelf; if I did receive ſuch Orders, or acted upon them; or without acting upon them, if I did not diſcloſe them to my Superiors, I was clearly criminal.

Q. The Queſtion now is, Whether you did receive any Orders to that Effect?
A. If I did receive them, and did not diſcloſe them, I believe it will be found I certainly was criminal in that reſpect.

Q. Whether you did not receive Inſtructions from the Board, whom you ſtate as your Superiors, and to whom you was bound to communicate every Thing, to obey Mr. Haſtings's Orders as clothed with the Authority of the whole Council?
A. Certainly, during his Continuance in the Upper Provinces.

Q. Then

Q. Then whether you did not receive ſuch Orders from Mr. Haſtings?
A. May I aſk what Orders?

Q. To continue any Perſons whatſoever upon Penſions, or Gratuities, after the Treaty of Chunar?
A. I really do not recollect that I received any Orders from Mr. Haſtings upon the Subject. I certainly have mentioned, that I received a Communication from Mr. Haſtings in Converſation, mentioning the Gentlemen that were to remain at Lucknow.

Q. Whether, according to the beſt of your Recollection, you have not received ſome Orders or Communications, reſpecting Perſons to continue upon Penſions or Gratuities after the Treaty of Chunar?

A. I really do not recollect I did; but I muſt again obſerve, that if I did receive them, and did not diſcloſe them, I was criminal in ſo doing; if I am not ſo, I wiſh to be informed by your Lordſhips. According to my own Conception, I am criminal in receiving ſuch Order without diſcloſing it.

Q. Did you receive the Orders or not?
A. I do not recollect I received any Orders, but I believe I have occaſionally received Recommendations from Mr. Haſtings.

Q. Whether you did not receive ſome of thoſe Recommendations before you parted with Mr. Haſtings at Chunar?
A. I rather think I did.

Q. Where was the Money, which was ſeized of the Begums Treaſure at Fyzabad, found; in what Houſes, or where dug out?
A. It was found in the Houſes of the Two Eunuchs.

Q. By whom was it found?
A. By the Nabob's Agents.

Q. Do you know who thoſe Agents were?
A. I cannot ſay at this Time that I recollect the Names of them: His principal Agent went with Major Naylor, when he went into the Town, and continued there as the Nabob's Manager or Governor of the Town for a Number of Days.

Q. To whom was the Money brought, when it was found?
A. It was brought to the Reſident.

Q. To you?
A. Yes; in conſequence of an Order from the Nabob.

Q. Whether Jewar Ali Khan had a fine Houſe and Garden at Fyzabad?
A. I do not recollect ever to have been in his Houſe, or in his Garden.

Q. Whether Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan were Men of Wealth, and great Property?
A. They were ſuppoſed to be ſo; I had no Opportunity of aſcertaining the Fact.

Q. By what Means did you know, that the Treaſures, dug out of the Miniſters Houſes, were not their Property, but the Property of the Begums?
A. I had certainly no Means of aſcertaining whoſe Property they were; I took it for granted they were the Begums Property, becauſe they ſaid ſo.

Q. To whom did they ſay ſo?
A. They pointed out the Places where the Begums Treaſures were lodged; ſuch as were under their Cuſtody, belonging to the Begums; they pointed out the Places where they were concealed.

Q. They pointed them out as the Begums Treaſures?
A. Yes.

Q. To whom did they point them out?
A. To the Nabob's Agents.

Q. Do you mean, while you were at Chunar; the Firſt Delivery of the Money?
A. No; while I was at Fyzabad.

Q. Do you mean, the Firſt Delivery of the Money?
A. It was while I was at Fyzabad.

Q. Was that the Time you are ſpeaking of, that they were pointed out as the Begums Treaſures, to the Nabob's Servants?
A. Yes.

Q. Were the Miniſters, frequently afterwards, preſſed and threatened, to oblige them to diſcover the Places where the Begums Treaſures were concealed?

A. I hope your Lordſhips will permit me to decline anſwering that Queſtion, as a Part of the former Examination.

Q. To whom was the Bond of the Begum's Miniſters for paying the Balance given. Do you know of any Bond given by the Begum's Miniſters?

A. It was given to the Nabob's Miniſters, in the Name of the Reſident, for ſo much Money to be paid to the Reſident on account of the Nabob. The Bond was taken from the Eunuchs for the Nabob's Miniſter.

Q. Who was the Obligee in the Bond; to whom did they ſtand bound by that Bond; was it in the Form of an Engliſh Bond, or any thing like it?

A. It was a Perſian Paper.

Q. To whom was the Contract made?

A. To the Reſident.

Q. To whom did you aſſign that Bond? Was it aſſigned?

A. It never was aſſigned to any Body that I know of.

Q. Was no Security received by you upon that Tranſaction, made over afterwards by you to Gopaul Doſs?

A. No, not that I recollect.

Q. Do you remember writing a Letter to Mr. Briſtow upon your leaving the Reſidentſhip?

A. Yes; I do.

Q. Do not you recollect ſtating, that Gopaul Doſs did hold ſome of the Securities you had of the Begums Miniſters?

A. I believe not; there were never any Securities given by the Begums Miniſters but what I have ſpoken of.—It might be poſſible that Gopaul Doſs might have had a Promiſe, that the Balance that remained due from Fyzabad ſhould be paid to him; I have ſome Recollection of that, and ſuppoſe that may be alluded to in my Letter, but I wiſh to refer your Lordſhips to the Letter itſelf.

Q. Was not the Balance or ſome Securities for it remaining, which the Begum made over to Gopaul Doſs. Do you remember whether the Balance, or ſome Security for it, was made over to Gopaul Doſs?

A. I have juſt ſaid, that I think the Balance due from Fyzabad was in ſome Manner or other made over as a Security to Gopaul Doſs, but that will appear more accurately by the Letter.

Q. Can you account in what Manner the Money had been advanced by Gopaul Doſs, for which he was to receive that Security?

A. That will alſo appear by the Letter.

Q. Whether any, and what Means, were taken by you, while the Miniſters were in Confinement, to inſtitute an Enquiry concerning their ſuppoſed treaſonable Practices?

A. There were none taken by me.

Q. Or any reſpecting Shumſhire Khan?

A. None. I muſt beg leave to notice, that I have been all along under a Miſtake with reſpect to the Continuance of Shumſhire Khan under Confinement at Fyzabad. When I was examined upon that Subject before the Honourable Committee of the Houſe of Commons, I expreſſed myſelf very doubtfully, but I rather thought that he had been releaſed. I was confirmed in that Idea, from never having ſeen his Name mentioned, from the Time he was put into Confinement at Fyzabad, until it was mentioned in the Houſe of Commons. It was neither mentioned in Major Gilpin's or Captain Jaques's Letters, or any other that I recollect. By never having his Name mentioned, from the Time of his being put into Confinement at Fyzabad, till it was mentioned in the Houſe of Commons, I did not find out my Miſtake till a few Days ago, on converſing with Major Gilpin, who informed me he had been releaſed by him at the ſame Time with the other Two Priſoners; and the ſame Evidence afterwards delivered by Major Gilpin at your Lordſhips Bar ſerved to confirm that I had been in that Miſtake.

Q. Whether you omitted any Means whatever to diſcover the Treaſures?

A. I apprehend not: That depended a great deal more upon the Nabob's Agents in that Buſineſs, than upon myſelf: I apprehend every Means were taken to diſcover the Treaſures.

Q. Whether you can account for ſome Leaves being torn out of your Letter Book D, exactly at the Time where that Order to Lieutenant Rutledge to take Charge of the Miniſters, and which has been read, ſhould have appeared in the Book?

A. I cannot.

Q. When you went to Fyzabad to aſſert the Nabob's pretended Right to the Treaſures in Poſſeſſion of the Begums, what Requiſition you made upon the Begums for Money?

A. I

A. I made none.

Q. What Requifition was made upon the Part of the Nabob:—Do you know?
A. I have heard that it was to a much larger Amount than was agreed for; but I have heard it only by Report: I cannot fay that I know exactly what Amount the Nabob did demand, but I have heard that it was much more than was afterwards agreed for.

Q. Do you recollect what Sum?
A. I think I have heard that the Nabob went there with a Determination to demand a Crore of Rupees; but I cannot pretend to fay that was the Fact.

Q. Do you know what Anfwer was made to that Requifition?
A. No; I do not.

Q. How came you to take fo little Concern in the Quantity of a Demand, the Whole of which, when recovered, was to be applied to the Ufe of the Company? Was the Whole of the Demand, when recovered, to be applied to the Ufe of the Company?
A. It was, unlefs it had exceeded the Amount of the Company's Claim on the Nabob.

Q. Then how came you to pay fo little Attention to the Amount of the Demand?
A. It was the Concern of the Nabob and of his Minifters more than mine certainly; I was to receive from them whatever they did recover from the Begums.

Q. Was not the Amount of that Sum a Matter of great Concern to you?
A. Not perfonally—to my Employers certainly.

Q. Recollect whether any Anfwer was made to that Requifition faid to be made by the Perfon called the Nabob?
A. I really do not recollect; if I have heard it, I certainly have forgot what the Anfwer was.

Q. If the Nabob's Demand was for a Million, as the Effects of his Father, do you know how he came to be fatisfied to receive a lefs Sum?
A. No, I do not.—It was a Matter of Agreement between the Nabob and the Begums themfelves, to which I was no Party. The Part of my Duty was only to receive from the Nabob, in behalf of the Company, whatever he fhould tender of the Begums Treafures.

Q. Was not the Begum's Bond, or that of her Eunuchs, in the Firft Inftance, given to the Refident, and not to the Nabob?
A. I have mentioned that it was given in the Name of the Refident: A fpecific Sum was agreed to be paid by the Begum to the Nabob, and the Nabob agreed that that Money fhould be paid over to the Company, in difcharge of his Debt to them.

Q. Whether the Begum's Bond was not, in the Firft Inftance, given to the Refident; and how foon after the Storming of the Kella?
A. Very foon; a few Days afterwards; I cannot fpeak to a Day; It was not a Bond of the Begums, but an Engagement of the Eunuchs, to pay fo much on account of the Begums.

Q. Where is that Bond?
A. I believe it was left in the Office at Lucknow; I am not certain.

Q. Who put it in the Office. Did you leave it in the Office?
A. I have no Doubt I did; or it might be left with the Nabob's Minifter; I cannot fay.

Q. Was that Bond ever completely difcharged?
A. Not while I ftaid there.

Q. How came you to be fo indifferent about the Difpofition of a Bond, a confiderable Balance on which was due, and which was for the Benefit of the Company?
A. Certainly, I was not; if it was left in the Office at Lucknow with my Succeffor, that was undoubtedly the proper Place for it. I take it for granted it was left there, or in the Hands of the Nabob's Minifter.

Q. Are you fure of that Alternative? Can you recollect certainly, whether it was left in one, or other, of thofe Cuftodies?
A. I cannot certainly.

Q. Then you know nothing of it with Certainty?
A. No.

Q. At what Time was the Money dug out of the Houfes of the Minifters Jewar and Bahar Ali Khan, and paid to you?
A. Very foon after they furrendered themfelves to the Nabob, a Part of it was. It was many Days in digging out, and bringing to the Rumna, where I was encamped with the Nabob.

Q. How

Q. How many Days?
A. I really cannot ſay to a Day, or even to Two Days, but ſeveral Days; poſſibly a Fortnight; I cannot ſay.

Q. Was the Bond given before the Delivery of the Treaſures, or afterwards?
A. Before, to the Beſt of my Recollection.

Q. Are you ſure of it?
A. I have no Doubt but it was: The Bond was for a certain Sum of Money; and they began paying immediately after they gave the Bond.

Q. As you received the Bond for a ſpecific Sum of Money; upon what Principle was that ſpecific Sum fixed, as the Limit of the Nabob's Demand; do you know?
A. No, I do not indeed.

Q. Whether you enquired, when the Begum's Treaſures were delivered, whether they were delivered as the Whole of the Treaſures of the late Nabob, or only as a Part?
A. I had no Means of enquiring, but from the Nabob and his Miniſters: They certainly affirmed, that the Begums declared they were the Whole of the Treaſures that they had; I know very well, that both the Nabob and his Miniſters thought otherwiſe.

Q. What Means were uſed, to make the Eunuchs deliver up this particular Treaſure?
A. With great Submiſſion, may I not treat that as a Queſtion of the former Tendency?

Q. Had you any thing to do with the Proceſs of recovering the Money?
A. Certainly, I had.

Q. Whether the Money was not paid and delivered in the Original Specie, in which it was found in the Houſes of the Miniſters?
A. It was.

Q. Was it received according to the Account of the ſeveral Years, the Value the Money ſtood at in the ſeveral Years, in which it was iſſued in Diſcharge of the Bond?—Do you underſtand the Nature of the Queſtion?
A. I believe I do. The Bond was given for a ſpecific Sum of a certain Species of Rupee, of Fyzabad Rupees, or Lucknow Sicca Rupees, I forget which, it was one of them; and the Money that was received was of a Coinage of ſeveral Years back; it could therefore only be received as Bullion, which is the uſual Way of receiving it. The new Coinage alters every Year, therefore the Batta upon the Rupees, as they were received, was calculated, and the Nabob credited for the actual Sum that they realized in the Diſcharge of the Bond.

Q. As the Treaſure was received as the ſpecific Property of the Nabob in Right of his Father, upon what Pretence did you make a Demand for ſhort Weight?—Did you make any Demand for ſhort Weight?
A. I have informed your Lordſhips what the Courſe of my Proceeding in that was, the Engagement of the Begum to the Nabob was for a ſpecific Sum of Money in a certain Rupee, either Fyzabad or Lucknow; therefore I could only give Credit for what I received according to that Rupee.

Q. How came you to take a Bond for a ſpecific Sum, to be paid according to the Shroffage of the Country, on account of the ſpecific Treaſures ſuppoſed to be lodged with them, and belonging to the Nabob?
A. I took what was given to me; the Negociation or Agreement, or whatever it was, was ſettled by the Nabob himſelf; I had nothing to do with it.

Q. Then you declare upon your Oath, that you knew nothing at all of the Tranſaction concerning this Bond, before it was put into your Hands, though made to yourſelf?—Did you or not know any Thing of the ſettling of the Quota of the Bond, before it was put into your Hands?
A. In all Probability I did; I was acquainted probably, from Time to Time, of the Progreſs of the Negociation; but I cannot be certain that I was.

Q. Recollect and ſay, whether you are not certain, that you was well acquainted with the previous Negociation which ended in giving this Bond?
A. I cannot be certain that I was.

Q. Are you certain you were not?
A. I have not a perfect Recollection about it, either one way or the other, but it is moſt likely that I was acquainted with it.

Q. What did you do with the Money which you thus received?
A. After being ſhroffed, it was appropriated to the publick Service.—Colonel Muir, who was in the Mahratta Country at that Time with the Britiſh Army, was very conſiderably in Arrears; and, as I underſtood at the Time, was ſtopped there for the Want of the Pay of his Troops:—

The Firſt Money that could be realized from this Negociation was ſent to him. There was alſo a conſiderable Sum of Money ſent to Colonel Morgan, who commanded the Britiſh Brigade at Cawnpore, which was alſo conſiderably in Arrears. There was alſo a further Sum ſent to Colonel Sir John Cumming, who commanded at Farruckabad, for the Payment of the Arrears due to his Troops.

Q. Did you ſend it to thoſe Officers as mere Bullion, upon the ſame Principle on which you received it; or did you ſend it in any other Manner of Computation?

A. I have no Doubt that ſome of it was ſent exactly in the Manner that I received it; For, as well as I recollect, it was diſpatched from Fyzabad almoſt as ſoon as it was received.

Q. Was it diſpatched, and the Paymaſters debited with it, as Money or Bullion?

A. The Rupees conſiſted of various Sorts; they were debited for the Rupees, with the Batta or Difference upon each ſpecific Rupee, to make it up equal to the Fyzabad Rupee, in which our Accounts were kept.

Q. Who was debited with the Batta?

A. The Rupee was rated in the Account with a Batta upon it.—The ſpecific Rupee was mentioned, and had the Batta aſcertained according to an Aſſay Table, which was lodged at my Office at Lucknow, for a Rule in my Tranſactions with the Vizier.

Q. Was the Officer debited with the Batta, as well as with the Bullion?

A. I am afraid I have not made myſelf perfectly underſtood:—The Mode of the Account was this; firſt of all, the ſpecific Rupee was ſtated, ſo many Rupees of ſuch a Sicca for ſuch a Year; and then the Batta according to the Aſſay was deducted, or added, and the Net Sum was then carried out into a Column: The Paymaſter of the Troops was debited for the Net Sum in Fyzabad Rupees.

Q. Was that Account kept in the ſame Manner that other Money Tranſactions, which happened in that Country, were?

A. Exactly.

Q. Whether you paid the Paymaſter and Officers of the Army in a particular Species of defective Coin, and then charged them with the Difference?

A. I paid them in ſuch Coin as I was able to get; I would rather have paid them in the beſt Coin, the Fyzabad Rupee, if I could have got it, becauſe it would have ſaved me a great deal of Diſpute, which I conſtantly had with the Officers, being obliged to ſend them Rupees of different Species.

Q. As you charge the Begums with the Difference between that Rupee, and the Rupee of the Year when you received it; Whom did you charge with the Difference when you paid it out?

A. The Nabob.

Q. Whether you did not tranſmit Part of this Money to Calcutta in Specie?

A. I believe ſo; but really I do not juſt now recollect whether it was immediately, or afterwards. I know that the Three Armies, I have mentioned, took a very large Sum of Money, poſſibly all that was immediately realized, from Fyzabad; but I do not ſpeak with any great Certainty.

Q. Whether, in fact, you did, or did not, ſend down a Part of this Money to Calcutta in Specie?

A. I really do not remember; but the Accounts upon Record, at the India Houſe, will aſcertain that.

Q. Whether you ſent any Part of it, in Specie, to Benares?

A. No; certainly not.

Q. When the Shroffage was made, according to the Aſſay Table, what Means were taken, if any were taken, to prove that it was fairly made, agreeable to that Table, to the Satisfaction of the Begums, who were charged with the Difference?

A. The Proceſs was very ſimple. The Shroffage was nothing more than to aſcertain the particular Species of Rupees: that done, the Batta was already fixed by the Aſſay Table: ſo that all the Shroffs had to do was, to aſcertain what the particular Species of the Rupees was.

Q. I am aſking, not, what Means were taken for ſatisfying the Shroffs; but, what Means were taken for ſatisfying the Begums?

A. I have no Doubt the Begums knew very well what Money was paid.—They knew the Species of Rupee that was paid by their Agents.

Q. By what Agents?

A. By the Eunuchs and their Shroffs.

Q. Where were the Eunuchs?

A. In their own Houſe, in Bahar Ali Khan's Houſe.

Q. Where was the Shroffage made?
A. I take it for granted in their Houſe too; they aſcertained the Species before they ſent them, and ſent a Liſt with them; then, of Courſe, when they were delivered over to me, they were compared with the Liſt, to ſee that they agreed.

Q. Do you ſay they were ſhroffed by Jewar and Bahar Ali Khan, before they were delivered to you?
A. I will not take upon me to ſay it was the Fact.—I have no Doubt it was.

Q. Why do you ſuppoſe it was?
A. I cannot ſuppoſe that they, who were employed to pay the Money, would deliver it without taking any Account of it.

Q. Were they not then in Irons?
A. I am pretty certain they were not.

Q. Whether there were any Means taken to produce any Treaſury Account, kept by Bahar Ali Khan, to aſcertain whether the Money delivered was the Whole of the Nabob's Treaſure, or not.—Were there any Accounts produced?
A. Not by me.

Q. Were there by any Body?
A. Not that I know of. I ſuppoſe, moſt likely, the Nabob's Miniſter would have taken Care of that; but I do not know any Thing of it.

Q. Was all that Money, which you ſtate firſt to have been ſhroffed at Fyzabad, afterwards ſhroffed over again at Lucknow, or ſome conſiderable Part of it?
A. All could not; becauſe ſome of it, as I ſtated before, a conſiderable Sum, was diſpatched to the Camps from Fyzabad; what was carried to Lucknow, in all Probability, was ſhroffed again.

Q. Why was it ſhroffed again?
A. I do not know that it was, but in all Probability it was.

Q. Do you know who was preſent at the ſhroffing Operation at Lucknow?
A. The Treaſurers, I take it for granted: it was their Buſineſs: The Treaſurers, no Doubt, were preſent.

Q. What Treaſurers?
A. The Company's Treaſurers.

Q. Were you not a Principal Company's Treaſurer? Who was the Principal Company's Treaſurer?
A. The Principal Treaſurer was the Agent of Gopaul Doſs.

Q. Were you not you yourſelf the Principal Treaſurer?
A. As far as being Reſident, and having a Controul over the Treaſury, moſt certainly; but the Management of the whole Buſineſs of the Treaſury was in the Hands of the Natives.

Q. Whether you was not, by your Office, Receiver of the Company's Aſſignments?
A. No Doubt, I was.

Q. Whether, when you received the Money originally, you received it on the Shroffage of Bahar and Jewar Ali Khan, or whether you had it ſhroffed yourſelf?
A. I certainly could not, I conceive, have received it upon the Shroffage of Bahar and Jewar Ali Cawn without examining that their Shroffage was juſt. I never heard any Complaint that my Shroffage did not agree with theirs. I have no Doubt it did agree.

Q. Did any Body ſhroff it at Fyzabad for you?
A. The Treaſurers were there.

Q. What Treaſurers?
A. I believe Gopaul Doſs's Agents.

Q. So the Whole of this Money was paid to Gopaul Doſs's Agents?
A. It is difficult for me to underſtand.

Q. Was the Money received from Jewar and Bahar Ali Khan, as the Nabob's Rights aſſigned over to you, delivered immediately to Gopaul Doſs, or his Agents?
A. Certainly it was: they were his Agents, and to them it was delivered; there were more than one Agent, there were Five or Six.

Q. Do you recollect the Names of any of them, beſides Gopaul Doſs?
A. I cannot at this Moment recollect the Names of any of them.

Q. Were there not conſiderable Effects and Jewels ſent, as Part of the Payment, to Lucknow?

A. A conſiderable Time afterwards, there were ſome Jewels, and Gold, and Effects of that Sort, ſent to Lucknow.

Q. How were they diſpoſed of?
A. They were ſold on the Begum's Account.

Q. By whom?
A. By the Company's Treaſurer, under the Direction of the Nabob's Miniſter; and at the ſame Time with the Concurrence of the Agents of the Begums themſelves, ſent from Fyzabad, accompanying thoſe Effects.

Q. Had the Reſident no Controul, Superintendance, or Inſpection, over the Sale?
A. I hardly know whether I can ſay, I had the Controul, or had not.—When theſe Effects arrived at Lucknow, the Courſe obſerved was, to get the principal Merchants of the Place, ſuch as ſhould be approved by the Nabob's Miniſter, and the Begum's own Agent, to appraiſe thoſe Effects.—They were ſo appraiſed, and ſold according to that Appraiſement.

Q. Where were they ſold?
A. At Lucknow.

Q. To whom?
A. I really do not know;—I apprehend to a great Number of Merchants, and other People.

Q. Have you not heard that Complaints were made, that they were ſold greatly under their Value?
A. I have, I think, heard Complaints, that they did not realize ſo much Money as was expected.

Q. Who was preſent at the Sale?
A. I cannot tell; I apprehend all the Treaſurers. The Five or Six I have mentioned were all employed conſtantly in the Treaſury, and I have no Doubt they were preſent at the Sale.

Q. When the Produce of this Sale was to be applied for the Uſe of the Company, how comes it that you, the Reſident, took no Concern in the Sale, in order that it might produce to the Utmoſt?
A. I took no further Concern than I have ſtated: It was the Propoſal, I apprehend, of the Begum's own Agents, that they ſhould be ſold to the different Merchants of Lucknow. After they were ſo appraiſed, they were taken by any Merchants, that choſe to purchaſe at that Appraiſement.

Q. (Croſs examined.) Whether, excluſive of your occaſional Interference, ſo far as related to Tunkaws, and Aſſignments upon the Revenue, the ordinary Adminiſtration of the civil Affairs of Oude, did not reſt with the Nabob and his Miniſters?
A. Certainly it did.

Q. Whether ſeveral of the Natives had not larger Farms, and more independant Authority, in the Province of Oude, than the Reſident would have allowed them, if it had reſted with him to have regulated that Matter?
A. I have ſtated before, that I certainly would, if I had had the Power, have prevented many People having large Emoluments, which they did get, and which I thought them unworthy of: One, in particular, I would mention to your Lordſhips, under the Name of an Orderly, who had no leſs a Collection than Forty Lacks of Rupees per Annum under his Charge—between Thirty and Forty—nearly Forty Lacks per Annum, under his Charge.

Q. Who was that?
A. His Name was Bowannee Sing; One of thoſe Perſons that had been raiſed from a menial Situation to a Rajah, upon the Nabob's Acceſſion to the Government.

Q. Did you make any Attempt to remove that Rajah from that Situation?
A. I have made many.

Q. And failed?
A. Yes, failed; as I did in every other Inſtance relative to that Claſs of People.

Q. Whether you ever attempted to controul, or in Fact did controul, the Nabob, either in the Number, Selection, or Pay, of his Houſehold Eſtabliſhment?
A. No, I did not.

Q. Did you ever, or in any Manner, interfere with, attempt to controul, or, in fact, controul, the Nabob in his private Expences?
A. No; certainly not.

Q. What Sum was appropriated for the Nabob's private Expences, or Eſtabliſhment, in virtue of the Treaty of Chunar?

A. I cannot exactly recollect; but Mr. Haſtings's Inſtructions will, I believe, aſcertain that Point.

Q. Did it not, in One Year, amount to Forty-nine Lacks, for his private Purſe, including an Allowance for the Reduction of the Jaghire?

A. I cannot recollect exactly; I wiſh to refer to the Paper itſelf.

Q. What were the Charges upon that Fund, that was ſet apart for the Nabob's particular Expences?

A. I apprehend, for all his Houſehold; his civil Expences; and ſome Part of his Military.

Q. Whether the Sum, which was ſo ſet apart for the perſonal Expences of the Vizier, if properly adminiſtered, was not ſufficient to ſuſtain him according to his Rank?

A. That is a good deal Matter of Opinion; it is a large Sum certainly, and I apprehend it might.

Q. Would it ſuſtain the Eſtabliſhment, in ſuch Manner as it had been ſuſtained from the Death of Sujah ul Dowlah?

A. I apprehend it would.

Q. Do you know upon what Subjects, beſides his Table and Dreſs, and his Eſtabliſhment of Horſes, this Sum was expended?

A. There were a Variety of Expences—the Expences of his Zenana were very conſiderable.

Q. What might the Amount of that Expence be?

A. I do not know.

Q. What Number of Servants had he about his Perſon?

A. It is impoſſible to aſcertain with any Accuracy; he had a very conſiderable Retinue of Servants, certainly.

Q. Whereabouts was the Number?

A. It is a difficult Queſtion to anſwer.

Q. Two or Three hundred, or Two or Three thouſand?

A. Two or Three thouſand, I have no doubt, of different Deſcriptions.

Q. Do you know the Number of his Horſes, or the Number of his Elephants; or do you know any of the Articles of Expence?

A. Not accurately—he had a thouſand Elephants, and perhaps twice as many Horſes.

Q. What muſt be the annual Expences of the Eſtabliſhment you have now deſcribed, of a thouſand Elephants?

A. I cannot tell.

Q. Would they amount to a Lack of Rupees?

A. They muſt be more than that, for I recollect one Elephant had a Jaghire of Twelve thouſand Rupees a Year.

Q. Whether you recollect with any Certainty, that the regular Cavalry, uſually retained by the Nabob, amounted to Two thouſand?

A. That was the Eſtabliſhment; it conſiſted of Two Regiments, that had originally been in the Britiſh Service, and upon ſome Reform had been diſmiſſed from the Company's Service, upon which the preſent Nabob's Father took them into his Pay. The Eſtabliſhment conſiſts of Two Regiments of 1,000 Men each.

Q. Was this Body of Cavalry in general well cloathed and well appointed?

A. I cannot ſay that they were ſo well cloathed and appointed, or any Thing like it, as the Troops in the Company's Service; but they were armed and cloathed after the European Manner.

Q. Were they as well cloathed and appointed as the Troops of other Native Princes in general?

A. Better than the Troops of any other Native Prince that I ever ſaw.

Q. Was the Whole of the Nabob's Cavalry collected, or ordered to attend him, when he went to Chunar; the 2,000 Cavalry?

A. The whole 2,000 were with him. I believe he ſeldom travelled any where without them.

Q. Had he any more Cavalry beſides the 2,000?

A. Yes; he had.

Q. What was the Number of them?

A. I cannot ſay; they were coming in every Day from the Country about, according to his Orders. He had a very large Eſtabliſhment with him upon his Arrival at Chunar.

Q. Were they all with him at that Point where he turned off in the Road to Lucknow, to go to Fyzabad?

A. The

A. The Two Regiments were with him, to the beſt of my Recollection, and ſome others of his Cavalry I believe a large Body of his Cavalry were left behind at Chunar, to aſſiſt in carrying on the War againſt Cheit Sing; the others were ſent back, I believe, to their different Stations.

Q. Do you mean that any of the regular Cavalry were left behind to aſſiſt in the War againſt Cheit Sing?

A. None, I believe.

Q. Then the whole regular Cavalry attended him to the Point of Separation, when he changed his Route to go to Fyzabad?

A. To the beſt of my Recollection they did, and accompanied him to Fyzabad.

Q. How far from Fyzabad was that Point of Separation?

A. I do not recollect the Place where he did turn off.

Q. Was it as far from Fyzabad, as Lucknow is from Fyzabad?

A. I ſhould apprehend not near the Diſtance.

Q. Whether the Nabob had any Bearers ſtationed on the Road to Fyzabad, to enable him to travel with greater Expedition from that Point of the Road where the Separation was?

A. I have no Knowledge of any, nor do I believe there were any.

Q. If there were no Bearers ſtationed, what ſhould hinder the regular Cavalry that were with the Nabob from getting to Fyzabad as ſoon as he?

A. I apprehend they did get to Fyzabad as ſoon as he did; that they attended his Perſon, and accompanied him through the Road to Fyzabad.

Q. Have you any Doubt about that Fact?

A. I have none.

Q. What was the particular Situation of Captain Edwards about the Perſon of the Nabob?

A. He was the Nabob's Aid de Camp.

Q. To whoſe Patronage did he owe his Appointment; who recommended him to the Nabob?

A. I cannot immediately ſay; I rather——

Q. Do you know whether it was not Mr. Haſtings?

A. I really do not know; I have heard it was Sir Elijah Impey, but I cannot ſay.

Q. Do you not know, that ſome ineffectual Applications were made by the Nabob to Mr. Haſtings, to have Captain Edwards ſent up the Country to him, which were reſiſted by Mr. Haſtings?

A. I do not.

Q. Whether there was any Drought of any conſiderable Magnitude in the Province of Oude, or its Dependencies, in 1779, 1780, 1781, or 1782?

A. In 1779 there was a very ſevere one.

Q. Whether you conceive it was owing to natural Cauſes, or to the bad Adminiſtration of the Nabob's Miniſters?

A. I mean the Failure of the Periodical Rains.

Q. Would that affect the Cultivation of the Country in a very conſiderable Degree?

A. No doubt it would.

Q. Was the impoveriſhed State of the Country, in 1779 or 1780, occaſioned by that natural Cauſe, in any, and what Degree?

A. In a conſiderable Degree, certainly; but I refer it alſo to other Cauſes; by which I mean the Miſmanagement of the Nabob's Government.

Q. In what reſpect?

A. The Appointment of improper People to the Truſts, ſuch as I have mentioned; and in general, a Supineneſs in the Nabob's Government.

Q. Whether you do not recollect to have mentioned, in a Letter to Mr. Haſtings, dated the 28th of December 1781, the heavy Remiſſions the Nabob had been obliged to allow on the preſent Year's Rents, for the Loſſes by Drought and Hail: (a) Do you remember the Fact of writing ſuch a Letter?

A. I do not at this Time.

Q. Do you recollect a Drought happening in the Years 1780 or 1781?

A. I was not in the Country in 1780 or 1781. I beg leave to correct myſelf; in 1781 I certainly was.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° XXXVIII, Page 87, Line 30.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you ever tranſmitted to Mr. Haſtings any Complaints againſt Colonel Hannay, while he remained in Command in the Country of Oude?

A. I do not recollect that I did: I believe not.

Q. What was the general Eſtimation and Character of Colonel Hannay, when he was firſt employed in that Command?

A. I believe he bore a very good Character; I have always underſtood ſo.

Q. Whether the Countries of Baraitch and Goruckpore were not always, prior to the Time of Colonel Hannay, in the Hands of ſeveral refractory Zemindars, who ſcarcely acknowledged the Authority of the Nabob?

A. The Country of Goruckpore does fall particularly under that Deſcription; I do not think that Baraitch does.

Q. Whether the Employment of a Military Force in thoſe Countries, was not abſolutely neceſſary, as well for the Purpoſes of enforcing the Civil Government, as for the Collection of the Revenues?

A. In Goruckpore certainly. The Diſtrict of Baraitch bordered upon it, but was in a very different Situation from what Goruckpore was. Goruckpore was bounded by the Mountains; it is a very rough uncultivated Country, and I believe generally, as long as I can remember any Thing about it, was very much ſubject to Diſorders, to Rebellions among the Zemindars, and People of the Country.

Q. Whether the Bamboo Cages were not uſual Places of Confinement in the Country of Oude?

A. I confeſs I never heard of the Bamboo Cages till I heard it at this Bar.

Q. Do you know whether that Sort of Impriſonment is in frequent Uſe in the Country?

A. I never heard of ſuch a Mode of Impriſonment: But of Priſons moſt certainly; the Priſons I have heard generally of, in the Country, were Mud Forts, where the Priſoners were kept.

Q. Whether from the Deſcription you have now heard of theſe Bamboo Cages, ſuch a Species of Confinement is more lenient, or more ſevere, than Confinement in Mud Forts?

A. I ſhould apprehend they muſt be much the ſame. I cannot in my own Mind make much Diſtinction.

Q. Whether you do not believe, that the Begums were always particularly jealous, and adverſe to the Britiſh Influence, in the Affairs of Oude?

A. I have heard that they were: I cannot aſſert it of my own Knowledge; I have no Fact that can lead me to give a poſitive Anſwer to that Queſtion. I certainly have heard that they were.

Q. Do you not, of your own Knowledge, know that the Jealouſy of the Begums, or either of them, was much inflamed towards us by the Ceſſion of Benares in 1775?

A. I have no poſitive Knowledge of it.

Q. Do you know, or believe, that the Begums were diſaffected? Do you know any Thing of the Conduct of the Begums in 1775, upon the Ceſſion of Benares?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Whether you do, or do not, believe that the Begums were diſaffected to the Britiſh Intereſt in 1780 or 1781?

A. In 1781 I certainly did believe them ſo.

Q. Are you ſtill of the ſame Opinion, that they were hoſtile to the Britiſh Intereſt?

A. Moſt undoubtedly I am.

Q. Whether, in keeping your private Letter Book, you did, or did not, uſually inſert in it the Incloſures contained in the Letters you received?

A. It was not my Uſe.

Q. Whether, if you have looked at your Letter Book lately, you do not know that there occur ſeveral Inſtances, Twenty or Thirty at leaſt, in your Letter Book A.? Have you looked at your Letter Book A lately?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. And have you obſerved that there are ſuch Omiſſions?

A. I do obſerve Marginal Notes referring to Incloſures, which Incloſures are not in the Book.

Q. Have you obſerved any Inſtances where Incloſures are inſerted?

A. In looking over the Book, I have not obſerved any Incloſures; probably there might be Incloſures, but I obſerved a great Number of marginal Notes of Incloſures, which are not in the Book. All I can venture to ſay is, that it was not the uſual Cuſtom to inſert Incloſures in that Book.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether you ever had any Communication with Mr. Haſtings, directly or indirectly, reſpecting your Letter Books, prior to your Diſcloſure of them at the Bar of the Houſe of Commons?

A. No; moſt certainly not.

Q. Whether you had any Communication, directly or indirectly, with Mr. Haſtings reſpecting this Book, prior to your Examination at this Bar?

A. No.

Q. Do you recollect with Certainty, whether the Originals of the Letters written by Colonel Hannay and Captain Gordon to the Begums, or Originals accompanied with Copies, were delivered to you by Major Gilpin?

A. I have before informed your Lordſhips, that to the beſt of my Memory, only the original Letters themſelves were delivered to me by Major Gilpin. I have no Reaſon to alter that Belief; I have Reaſon to think, and I am confirmed in my Belief, that only the original Letters were delivered to me by Major Gilpin.

Q. Whether it was the Uſage of your Office to tranſmit to Calcutta all the Letters you received at Lucknow, or only ſuch of them as you conceived to be important to the Tranſactions you were managing for the Company?

A. It certainly was not the Practice of the Office during my Reſidence there; and I believe it will be found it was not the Practice of my Predeceſſor, or of my Succeſſor.

Q. Whether you do not know that the Begum, the Mother of the Nabob, uſed, at the Time he paid her Viſits, to expreſs particular Diſſatisfaction to him, on account of his Connexion with the Engliſh?

A. It is impoſſible for me to ſay on what Account it was—The Elder Begum generally did expreſs great Diſlike to the Nabob, and by Marks that were very uncommon; but I cannot pretend to ſay, that it was on account of his Connexion with the Engliſh, nor have I any Reaſon to think it was.

Q. What were the Marks of Diſſatisfaction?

A. The Nabob ſtood in very great Awe of the Elder Begum; and I do not know that he ever went to ſee her without inſiſting upon my accompanying him; he uſed to leave me in the outer Apartment, while he himſelf went in to the inner Apartment to viſit the Elder Begum; and I have been told (with what Truth I do not know) that as ſoon as he retired from the Apartment where he met the Elder Begum, it was her Practice to throw away the Muſnud on which he ſat, as a Mark of her Diſlike or Contempt; but what her Motives were for it, I cannot ſay.——Will your Lordſhips give me Leave, before I go from the Bar, to correct Two other ſmall Miſtakes in my Evidence. In my Examination at your Lordſhips Bar, I was aſked particularly as to a Letter from Captain Macdonald; the Impreſſion that was upon my Mind at that Time was, that the Letter had been ſent to me at Chunar; but, upon looking into Mr. Haſtings's Narrative, I find the Letter was incloſed by Mr. Barnet, the Jew I ſpoke of before, in a Letter to Mr. Haſtings himſelf;—I wiſh to correct that Part of my Evidence which ſays, it was ſent to me perſonally; I am clear it was ſent to Mr. Haſtings, and it is mentioned as an Incloſure in Mr. Barnet's Letter. There is another Miſtake, upon a long Examination, reſpecting the Part I had in the Affidavits, taken before Sir Elijah Impey at Lucknow. I mentioned that, to the Beſt of my Recollection and Belief, I never had any Communication with any Perſon but Colonel Hannay, or took any Meaſures with any Perſon but Colonel Hannay; but, on looking at my Correſpondence, I do find a Letter from myſelf to Mr. Shee at Furrackabad, written at the ſame Time, requeſting him to furniſh me with any Information that might have come to his Knowledge reſpecting the Inſurrection at Benares. The Letter to him is dated 14th of November; his Anſwer is the 18th of the ſame Month. If your Lordſhips will give Leave, I ſhould wiſh that to be altered.

Q. You have ſtated, that you ordered the Women of the Zenana to be kept confined and guarded. Since theſe Orders came from you, and not from the Nabob, was it not your Duty likewiſe to give Directions that the Women in the Zenana and Khourd Mahl ſhould be ſupplied with Neceſſaries?

A. I apprehend it is not exactly as it is ſtated; I do not recollect that there was any Order for confining the Women in the Khourd Mahl.

Q. Were there any Orders for confining the Women in any Place?

A. I do not recollect that there were.

Q. You have ſaid in your Examination, Page 604, in Anſwer to a good many Queſtions, that you took the Originals of the Treaty of Chunar with you to Lucknow, for which Place you ſet out the Day after the Treaty was executed, and that Mr. Haſtings had no Copy of that Treaty, till you, at ſome Diſtance of Time, ſent him down a Copy by a Dawk, or common Meſſenger; and at a further Period you ſent him, by Colonel Hannay, the Original; that is the Effect of the Evidence?

A. It is.

Q. Do you wiſh, upon Recollection, to correct that Evidence?

A. I believe the Evidence is correct; but I was inaccurate in one Part, reſpecting the Chunar Treaty. I mentioned having carried them both to Lucknow. I am very clear, that the Part that the Governor General himſelf ſigned was delivered to the Nabob at Chunar, the ſame, or the very next Day: As in a Letter from Mr. Auriol, Secretary to the Council at Calcutta, written by Direction of the Council, I was applied to for that Part of that Treaty; upon that I was induced to enquire where the Treaty was, and then I ſaw it in the Nabob's Poſſeſſion. I cannot be certain as to the Time when it was delivered to him; but I apprehend it was at Chunar, or the next Day, and my Anſwer to Mr. Auriol is dated the 16th of September, where I mention having ſeen it in the Nabob's Poſſeſſion.

Q. Then, from the Inſpection of that Letter of Mr. Auriol, you think you have made one Miſtake in that Account?

A. Yes. I do.

Q. You ſeem to be miſtaken, for the Effect of your Evidence is, that you took the Treaties with you. Both Parts, according to your Evidence, were taken from Chunar to Lucknow; and the firſt Account Mr. Haſtings received was a Copy ſent by you afterwards by a Dawk. You were aſked, How long was it before you ſent Mr. Haſtings a Copy of that Treaty? You ſaid, your Letter upon that Subject would aſcertain the Date; that you firſt ſent him Copies of the Treaties, and afterwards the Originals. Now, there is a Letter from Mr. Haſtings on the 23d of September 1781, which is only Three Days after you left Chunar, in which it is ſtated thus: "having on the 19th inſtant entered into certain Engagements with the Nabob Vizeer, tending to relieve his Finances of a Burthen they were no longer able to ſuſtain, with ſundry other Clauſes, the Execution of which is intruſted to you, I herewith incloſe an authentic Copy of the ſame, for your Guidance. The Nabob, on his Behalf, has ſubſcribed and ſealed an Agreement in your Preſence, and in the Preſence of Mr. Richard Johnſon and Hyder Beg Khan, reſpecting the better Adminiſtration of his Affairs; of which I alſo tranſmit you an authentic Copy." (a) Now, conſiſtently with this Letter, it is impoſſible that your Account can be correct?

A. That Letter was written and delivered to me, or I apprehend ſo, at the Time of ſigning the Treaty: It is my Inſtructions from Mr. Haſtings upon the Treaty.

Q. Attend to this Circumſtance. The Treaty was ſigned upon the 19th of October: You left Chunar upon the 20th; it might be a prior Date to the 20th, but could not be of a Date Three Days after the 20th?

A. That Letter, I am pretty certain, was delivered to me when I left Chunar. It is poſſible there may have been a Miſtake in the Date of it, or in the Date of the Treaty; but I am very poſitive that Letter was delivered to me with the Treaty itſelf.

Q. Do you wiſh that ſhould ſtand as a Solution between the Letter and the Evidence, that this Letter was delivered to you at the Time the Treaty was ſigned?

A. I am clear it was delivered to me at the Time of the Treaty, and I cannot pretend to ſay whether the Letter or the Treaty is miſdated.

The Witneſs was directed to withdraw.

The Managers for the Commons acquainted the Houſe, they here cloſed the Evidence upon the Second Article of Charge.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

THE Lords being in their Places, the Houſe reſumed, the uſual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Managers for the Commons, they might proceed to make good their Charge.

Then Mr. Sheridan was heard to ſum up the Evidence, in Part, upon the Second Article of Charge.

Then the Houſe adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

APPENDIX

TO THE

SECOND ARTICLE of CHARGE.

APPENDIX, N° I. (a)

Extract of a Letter from Warren Haſtings Eſquire, to the Court of Directors, dated Fort William, 18th May 1775.

Honourable Sirs,

YOU will be informed by the General Letter from the Secret Department, of the Decree paſſed by the Majority on the 9th inſtant, for diſmiſſing Munny Begum from her Office of Guardian to the Nabob, and from the Charge of his Houſehold; and conferring thoſe Truſts on Rajah Coordaſs, the Son of Mahraja Nundcomar.

A Revolution ſo ſudden, ſo extraordinary, and ſo important in all its Conſequences, required the moſt wary Circumſpection in thoſe who projected it, and the moſt aſſured Conviction, both of its Juſtice and Neceſſity, before they carried it into Execution. It will naturally be concluded, that they proceeded on ſome Proofs, or ſtrong Preſumption, that the Begum had diſſipated or embezzled the Nabob's Eſtate, groſsly neglected his Education, or engaged in Projects which might injure the Peace of the Country, the Company's Intereſts, or their Connection with the Nabob; or, at leaſt, that ſhe had been concerned in Diſputes with their Government, or Encroachments on their Dewanny Privileges. [* You will expect, that in the Proceedings againſt the Begum, the ſtricteſt Regard will have been paid to her Honour; and every ſcrupulous Attention obſerved which the Delicacy of the Oriental Manners preſcribed with reſpect to her Sex, and her Rank and Character particularly demand.

(Signed, at the End of the Letter)
Warren Haſtings.]

APPENDIX, N° II.

Extract of a Letter from Warren Haſtings Eſquire, to the Court of Directors, dated Fort William, 31ſt July 1775.

THE Begum, ſince her Diſgrace, has been added to the Liſt of my Accuſers. The Manner in which this extraordinary Manœuvre was effected will be too plainly ſuggeſted, even by the Facts which appear in the abrupt and myſterious Relation of it by Mr. Goring.

[† Mr. Goring was deputed by the Board to diveſt the Begum of her Authority, to place it in the Hands of the Son of Nund Comar, to receive from the Begum the Accounts of the Nabob's Expences, and to deliver them to the Gentlemen who were, at the ſame Time, appointed to examine and report them to the Board. What private Inſtructions he received I know not; but One of his firſt Acts of Authority, after having taken Care to impreſs the Begum with a proper Idea of the Extent of his Power over her own Perſon, by apprizing her of the Order of the Board for her Removal from the Palace to a remote Houſe in the City, and that the Execution of this Order depended ſolely on his Option, was to impriſon Etwar Ally Cawn, her chief Eunuch and confidential Servant, on the Complaint of One of the Servants of the Houſehold reſpecting a private Grievance, totally foreign from the declared Purpoſes of Mr. Goring's Commiſſion. By this Species of Torture, inflicted on the Mind of a weak Woman, who had hitherto been accuſtomed to the gentleſt Treatment, and moſt reſpectful Addreſs, from all Perſons of what Rank ſoever who approached her, ſhe was compelled to deliver a Paper to Mr. Goring, containing an Account of Two Sums charged to have been paid to Mr. Middleton and myſelf, each amounting to 150,000 Rupees.] Etwar Ally was in conſequence immediately releaſed from Impriſonment, and the Begum permitted to continue in Poſſeſſion of her own Apartments.

It is remarkable, that even the obvious Precaution of introducing this ſtrange Production, with ſome Circumſtances which might mark it as the voluntary Act of the Begum, was totally diſregarded;

(a) The Parts marked with the Hands pointing, and encloſed in this Bracket [ ], are the Parts actually read by the Managers for the Commons: The Parts marked with inverted Commas and incloſed thus §()§ are the Parts actually read by the Counſel for the Defendant.

regarded; and the Begum, a Woman of the firſt Rank in the Province, made abruptly to preſent a formal Accuſation againſt the Firſt Member of the preſent, and the Two firſt Members of the laſt Adminiſtration, with the gloomy Silence of a common mercenary Informer.

The following Extracts will ſerve as a Specimen of the Oppreſſion exerciſed on the Begum and her Officers, the Mode choſen by Mr. Goring for eluding the Appeals which ſhe might be provoked to make to the Supreme Court of Juſtice, and the Deriſion with which this inſolent young Man has dared to treat her Feelings, even in a Letter written by him to the Council.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Goring to the Board, dated the 17th May 1775.

" On the Begum's hearing that Part of the Letter read relating to her being removed to Meer " Jaffier's Houſe, ſhe exclaimed againſt it; and ſaid, that if ſhe was to quit the Kella, ſhe would " go to Calcutta. I told her this was a diſcretionary Order and left to me, if I thought it neceſ- " ſary, explaining to her that Part of my Inſtructions, and aſſuring her ſhe ſhould be uſed with " the utmoſt Reſpect, according to your Orders. I beg to know, however, if you will admit of " her going to Calcutta, ſhould I find it neceſſary to remove her from the Kella, which I fear I " ſhall, from the Character of the People about her, particularly Etwar Ally Cawn, and Roy Ang- " ſing, the Head of the Hircarrahs, who have been the chief Managers ſince the Begum has had " Charge of the Nabob, and who have accumulated great Wealth, particularly the former, by " his Excellency's Account, who was raiſed from a menial Station to the One he now holds.

" As the Begum hinted that there were Courts of Juſtice at Calcutta, and that the Aggrieved " could there get Redreſs, if you think proper, all Orders for confining the Servants, who may be " or are faulty, ſhall be iſſued in the Nabob's Name, who, I apprehend, has an undoubted Right " over them."

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Goring to the Board, dated the 5th of June.

" I have only to add, that, previous to ſending the above Papers, I waited on her (the Begum) " with the Nabob and Goordaſs. On mentioning the Matter, ſhe flew into a violent Paſſion, abuſed " Goordaſs, beat herſelf, and denied the Whole."

Extract of a Letter from Nonidroy, addreſſed to the General and the Gentlemen of the Council, and entered in Conſultation of the 24th July.

" On the Second of the ſame Month, between Seven and Eight in the Morning, Rajah " Goordaſs went to Ferralang, and was received very graciouſly by Mr. Goring, who ex- " preſſed his Pleaſure at the Kindneſs of the Rajah in this Viſit: After which, they entered into " Converſation with Chyton Durr, the Behla Treaſurer, concerning the Nezeranna given to the " Governor, amounting to Two Lacks of Rupees, which were ſent to Calcutta at the Time of the " Begum's being inveſted with the Adminiſtration. At laſt, the ſaid Treaſurer mentioned ſome- " thing contrary to the Orders of the ſaid Gentleman, and was therefore put under a Guard of " Sepoys for near Two Hours; after which, he agreed that he would relate, in the Evening, " whatever he might be able to diſcover from Yatebar Ally Cawn, and from an Examination into " the Papers: On this he was releaſed. Rajah Gourdaſs, and the ſaid Treaſurer, went, in the " Evening, to Ferralang, and remained there till near Eight at Night. I underſtand that no- " thing was ſettled. Victuals being ſent to Mr. Goring from the Nabob's Sircar, according to " our eſtabliſhed Cuſtom, he ſent it back again. The Papers of the Seriſhta of the Nizamut " Behla, &c. remained open from Nine o'Clock in the Morning till Seven in the Evening."

Mr. Goring ſtill continues at the City, notwithſtanding the oſtenſible Purpoſes of his Commiſſion are, or ought to have been long ago, concluded; retaining the Begums in the moſt abſolute State of Dependance, and perſiſting in his Endeavours to extort from her further Accuſations; ſometimes practiſing on her Fears by Threats, at others tempting her by Promiſes of reſtoring her former Authority. This I learn from private Information; but I do not think it ſafe to divulge my Authority. You will judge of the Probability of it, from the Facts avowed by Mr. Goring, in his Letters, and from the general Tenor of his Commiſſion. This Treatment of the Begum has hitherto produced no other Effect, than to irritate her to ſhort Guſts of Anger, and ineffectual Reſolutions to come down to Calcutta, for an Aſylum againſt a Tyranny which ſhe could no longer ſubmit to.

Such is the State of the Perſon, whom your former Adminiſtration thought worthy of being placed in the Firſt Office of Dignity in theſe Provinces, and whom your ſubſequent Commands have ſince confirmed in that Truſt, with Expreſſions of your fulleſt Approbation; and even the moſt honourable Teſtimonies of your Applauſe beſtowed on myſelf, for the Part which I had in the Plan and Conduct of this Tranſaction.

As your Curioſity may be excited to read at large the Proceedings on the Diſmiſſion, and ſubſequent Treatment of Munny Begum, and the other Matters produced from both, I beg Leave to recommend to your Peruſal the following Conſultations of the Secret Department in which they will be found, viz. 1ſt, 5th, 9th, 10th, and 25th May; 8th and 12th June, and 24th July.

READ, the following Letters and Encloſures from the Calcutta Committee of Revenue.

To the Honourable Warren Haſtings Eſquire, Governor General, and Council of Revenue at Fort William.

Honourable Sir and Sirs,

We beg Leave to tranſmit you Copies of Five Arzees, which we have juſt received from Rajah Indenarrain of 7 Annas Tumlook, Ranee Janeckee of Myzadel, Goirn Deo Hiſhore Chund, Chowdries of Myhutty, the Zemindars of Chuckla Hidgelee, and the Zemindar of Pergunna Mahamud Ameenpore.

☞ [(a) The Arzees ſpeak ſo clearly for themſelves, they need little Comment thereon; but we muſt beg Leave to obſerve, that we think the Peons ſent by the Supreme Court to the Zemindars of 7 Annas Tumlook, have acted in a moſt unjuſtifiable Manner, not only in prohibiting his Women from Fire and Water, but particularly in entering their Apartments, which have hitherto, by all Governments, been held ſacred. We hope, Gentlemen, ſuch unwarrantable Behaviour will be taken Notice of by you in the Manner it deſerves; as ſuch Acts of Violence, and Violation of the Hindoo Laws, muſt tend not only to diſgrace us, as a national Body, with the Natives, but likewiſe to breed a Diſguſt in their Minds, that may tend to the moſt ſerious Conſequences;] ſetting aſide the inevitable Loſs it will be attended with in the Revenue, which we have Reaſon to think will be great, from the heavy Balances ſtill remaining to be collected. In ſhort, Gentlemen, what with the ſeizing the Servants of Government, and confining them in Gaol, and what with the Confuſion the Mofuſſil is thrown into, we have the moſt melancholy Proſpect before us. ☜

We have frequently troubled you on Subjects of the Nature, and we beg Leave again to repeat, that, from daily Experience, we find the Authority with which you have inveſted us is abſolutely, or very nearly, annihilated: Our Black Servants fear to do their Duty; and we know not how to compel them, from Reaſons abovementioned, and are almoſt tempted, from Deſpair of being able to conduct the Buſineſs of our Department, either to our own Credit or your Satisfaction, to requeſt your Permiſſion to reſign our ſeveral Employs in the Revenue Branch; but as we conſider ſuch a Step might ſubject us to the Cenſure of deſerting the Intereſts of our Employers, at a Time when our moſt ſtrenuous Services are required, we are determined to perſevere, in the beſt Manner we are able, in our Endeavours for their Service, relying on yours and their Juſtice not to hold us reſponſible for that Succeſs in their Affairs, which we have not Power to procure.

We are, &c.

Rajah Indenarrain, Zemindar of $\frac{7}{16}$ Pergunna Tumlock.

I never was in the Service of any Engliſh Gentleman, nor am I Pottah Holder in Calcutta, but one of the King's Zemindars; yet Gopy Nazir and Latta Perriſram have entered a Proſecution againſt me in the Supreme Court for an old Debt, and ſent after me a Warrant and Peons; they arrived while I was making a Tour of the Pergunnah, in order to look after the Buſineſs both of the Grain and Salt; the common Door was ſhut, but they climbed up the Poſt, and made their Way in; they paſſed through two Apartments, and ſeated themſelves in thoſe which contained the Women; they prohibited them Fire and Water, and began to be abuſive.

Coja Petroos had before proſecuted Perjenaut Doſs, the Naib Zemindar, for an old Debt, and ſent a Warrant; he was frightened, and abſconded, and all other Officers who tranſacted the Buſineſs of the Collections abſconded alſo: This was productive of prejudicial Conſequences to the Revenue and Salt. I am unacquainted with the Buſineſs and Nature of Courts, and ſhall not be able to ſupport my Cauſe in it. I am required to give a Pottah Holder of Calcutta for my Security. I live at a Diſtance from Calcutta, and have no one whom I can give for my Security there. An Huſtabood has been taken of my Zemindarry, and it is under Sequeſtration. I am diſtreſſed for the Means of Maintenance, much leſs can I ſupport an expenſive Suit in the Court.

Should

Should this Suit be profecuted in the Supreme Court, neither my Life nor my Zemindarry will be fecure. I beg the Caufe may be fettled either in the Khalfa or in the Zella.

I and my Officers have been profecuted for old Debts, and on various Accounts, in the Supreme Court, and Warrants have been iffued againft us, by which we are much diftreffed: One Warrant has been procured againft my Officer by Punchanand Gofe, a Refident of Midnapore, who, in the Year 1167 B. S. when Coffim Ally Khan was Nabob, was the Sherifhtadar of Meer Attah Oollah Ahdadar. At this Time he came to Myfaudil, and embezzled a confiderable Sum, after which he abfconded from the Pergunnah; but he has fince drawn out two or three Memorials, which were never compared by any of my Officers, which he has produced in the Supreme Court, and procured Warrants againft my Officers. I am required to give a Pottah Holder in Calcutta for my Security. I am poor, and all my Officers too are poor. How can I prevail upon a Pottah Holder in Calcutta to be my Security? If a Warrant is iffued upon every Complaint of this Kind, it will be Confufion to the Bufinefs of my Zemindarry: My Zemindarry has always been under your Care, and has never been fubject to the Jurifdiction of the Court. My Servants know not how to act in a Court. I therefore requeft you will order Matters, which concern my Zemindarry, to be fettled either by the Council, or the Committee, or the Gilla Adawlet.

This Petition contains almoft the fame Words as that of the Zemindars of Pergunna Mahomed Aumeenpore; but fets forth, in Addition, that Shaum Chuccerverly has taken out a Warrant againft them, which they requeft may be ftopped.

We are the King's Zemindars, and are neither in the Service of the Company or any Engliih Gentleman. We have never had any Practice in Engliih Courts, nor can we form any Idea of it: Whenever a Warrant is taken out, we are obliged to give a Pottah Holder in Calcutta for our Security. We are not Pottah Holders—why then fhould we expect a Pottah Holder will be our Security? Yet Buffunt Roy and Cundrip have entered Profecutions againft us, and procured Summonfes and Warrants, and diftreffed us beyond Meafure: We therefore requeft, that if any Man has a juft Claim againft us, he may prefer it either in the Khalfa or in the Adawlet. We will attend to anfwer it. We are terrified at the Thought of the Supreme Court.

We are the King's Zemindars, and never have been either in the Service of the Engliih Company or of Engliih Gentlemen, nor are we Pottah Holders in Calcutta, but we attend here for the Purpofe of paying the Government's Revenue, yet Warrants have been iffued againft us by the Supreme Court, in Confequence of fome old Bonds produced, which were executed by our Fathers and Grandfathers. We are unacquainted with Engliih Courts. Whenever a Warrant is iffued, we are required to give a Pottah Holder in Calcutta for our Security. We are not Pottah Holders in Calcutta, and why fhould any Calcutta Pottah Holder be our Security? The Warrants iffued againft us put us under Apprehenfions, even with Regard to our Lives. Should any One have a juft Claim upon us, he may obtain Redrefs, either by complaining in the Khalfa or to the Gilla Adawlet. We are ready to anfwer any Complaint there.

APPENDIX, N° IV.

Extract of a Conſultation of the 21ſt December 1775, from Book 78, beginning at Page 431 of the ſame Book.

Secret Dept. Thurſday.

Fort William, the 21ſt December 1775.

At a Council; Preſent,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident.
Lieutenant General John Clavering.
The Honourable George Monſon.
Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, } Eſquires.

THE Governor General lays before the Board the following Letter from Bow Begum, Mother of the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowla, received by her Servant Coja Shagoon Ally Cawn.

From the Baboo Begham, Mother of the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowla: Received the 20th December 1775.

A long Space of Time has elapſed ſince I have had the Pleaſure of a Letter from you, during which I have been continually on the Rack of Expectation. I formerly ſent you a Letter expreſſive of my Friendſhip, through the Channel of Mr. Briſtow, to which I have not yet been favoured with an Anſwer: I do not impute this to Unkindneſs, but ſuppoſe that you never received that Letter. How ſhall I repreſent you my diſtreſsful Situation! My Grief is without Bounds, and my Life a Burthen to me. Since the Deceaſe of the late bleſſed Nabob, I have bid adieu to all worldly Affairs, and with a broken Heart given myſelf up to Sorrow. I cannot bear the Reflection of my own melancholy Situation—how can I repreſent it to others? My wounded Heart is made to bleed afreſh every Inſtant, and Fortune ſeems to take Delight in tormenting me.

As my Son the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowla is entirely unexperienced in the Affairs of the World, and ignorant of what is good or bad, Murtezza Cawn has taken Advantage of his Inexperience, and turned his Thoughts to frivolous Amuſements, and has taken on himſelf the entire Management of all the Affairs of the Government, appointing his Brethren Foujedars in all the different Soubahs. My Son the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah took from me, the Firſt Time, Thirteen Lacks of Rupees for the Diſcharge of the Dues to the Engliſh Chiefs, giving me a written Engagement to repay this Sum in the Space of a Month. The Second Time he ſent Salar Jung and Murtezza Cawn to me with a Meſſage, importing, that he was in Want of Money to diſcharge his Debts to the Engliſh Chiefs. I then delivered Seven Lacks of Rupees, with Jewels. The Third Time he came to me himſelf, and informed me of the Importunity of the Engliſh Chiefs. Though I was convinced that this was a Leſſon taught him by Murtezza Cawn, I nevertheleſs delivered him Six Lacks of Rupees in Specie, together with Jewels. He gave me a written Engagement, and promiſed on Oath, that all theſe Sums ſhould be repaid me. Some Time afterwards my Son ſent Mr. Briſtow to me for further Sums. Mr. Briſtow wrote me many Letters, deſiring that I would furniſh Money, or the Nabob's Affairs would be ruined. After a long Correſpondence, Mr. Briſtow went to the Nabob, and ſoon afterwards came to my Houſe, accompanied by Sallar Jung and Murtezza Cawn, and ſent a Meſſage to me, that if I would furniſh the Sums wanted quietly, it was well; if not, he would withhold Proviſions from me, and take the Money; that he would even beat my People, and ſend Men into my Houſe to plunder whatever they found there. I returned for Anſwer, 'Do whatever is in your Power.' As Mr. Briſtow was concerned in this Affair, it was at laſt ſettled by an Agreement under that Gentleman's Seal, on the Payment of the Sum of Thirty Lacks of Rupees: Out of theſe Thirty Lacks it was agreed that Eleven Lacks ſhould be in Goods, Elephants, and Camels, and the Remainder in Specie and Jewels. I aſſented, concluding that, as Mr. Briſtow was a Party in the Affair, it would be conducted in a proper Manner; but they valued the Goods which they took at a Fourth Part of their intrinſic Worth—how then could I make good the Sum? The Amount of the ſeveral Sums taken from me by the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah, in Specie, Jewels, and Goods, is Fifty-ſix Lacks of Rupees.

He formerly gave into my Poſſeſſion for the Diſcharge of the Monies due to me, the Mahals of Acberpore, &c. but after a few Days took them from me again.

My Son and Murtezza Cawn ſent me Word, that I had written to, and received many Letters from, Mr. Haſtings; that I now ſaw of what Effect they were—ſuch ironical Anſwers did they ſend me. I did ſome Time ago write you a Letter, but mentioned therein nothing to the Diſadvantage of my Son—this you well know. Let me have a Letter in Anſwer from you, and write to the Engliſh Chiefs to afford me their Aſſiſtance and Support, and communicate to me the Subſtance of ſuch Letters, that I may apply to them in Conſequence.

Murtezza Cawn is ſtriving with all his Might for the Ruin of this antient Family, which he wiſhes utterly to deſtroy. If it is your Pleaſure that the Mother of the late bleſſed Nabob, myſelf, and his other Women, and Infant Children, ſhould be reduced to a State of Diſhonour and Diſtreſs, we muſt ſubmit; but if, on the contrary, you call to Mind the Friendſhip of the late bleſſed Nabob, you will exert yourſelf ſo effectually in Favour of us, who are helpleſs, as to remove Murtezza Cawn. He is the Author of all the Evil. I have no Diſpleaſure againſt the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah—let him be Maſter of his own Affairs. If you do not approve of my remaining at Fyzabad, ſend a Perſon here in your Name, to remove the Mother of the late Nabob, myſelf, and about Two thouſand other Women and Children of the ſaid bleſſed Nabob's, together with the Women of the Nabob Burhan ul Mulck, and thoſe of Suſdar Jung, from this City, that we may reſide with Honour and Reputation in ſome other Place—we cannot even exiſt here. Whatever Remedy occurs to your Wiſdom, let it be applied without Delay, for we are now brought to the very Brink of Diſhonour. In the Nabob's Life-time he was poſſeſſed of no more than the ſingle Soubah, and the Dues of the Engliſh Chiefs were paid out of the Revenues of it, as alſo the Expences of his Army and his own. At preſent, that the Soubah is increaſed to Three Times its former Extent, what becomes of the Revenue? No one thinks of making this Inquiry; but Sums are continually taken from us helpleſs Women. Murtezza Cawn poſſeſſes the Sole Authority in the Nabob's Family, and his Brethren are Fougedars over all the Provinces, the Revenues of which they embezzle and diſſipate.

Murtezza Cawn and Mr. Briſtow, as ſoon as they had taken 30 Lacks of Rupees from me, went to Lucknow, from whence Murtezza Cawn ſent Word, that my People were not to be admitted into the Kellah; in conſequence of which they have been prohibited going there, nor are any of my Things ſuffered to be brought out. Murtezza Cawn has alſo ſent Word, that the Things which his People took from me are the Property of the Sirkar; that they muſt not be conſidered as Part of the 30 Lacks of Rupees, but ſent to the Nabob.—A Guard has been placed on my Goods.

I one Day ſent ſome Copper Furniture to be ſold in the Buzar, but the Guard would not ſuffer them to paſs. I ſay frequently, Take the Copper Utenſils at their Value, as a Part of the Eleven Lacks of Rupees; but no one will attend to me: In a Word, I am reduced to the moſt aſtoniſhing Diſtreſs. For the Sake of God, and of your Prophet, relieve me from my Misfortunes. It is written in the Coulnama, "I have taken 56 Lacks of Rupees on Account of my "Inheritance." I ſent Word, that others had a Right to Part of the Inheritance. Murtezza Cawn replied, I have taken the Inheritance of all.—I have now given you a Detail of every Circumſtance. I ſend to your Preſence Mahomed Shagoon Ally Cawn an Eunuch, who is poſſeſſed of my Confidence. For further Particulars I muſt refer you to him.

I incloſe for your Inſpection Copies of the Coulnamas in my Poſſeſſion, under the Seals of Mr. Briſtow, the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah, and Murtezza Cawn.

☞ [(a) I went to the Nabob, when the Hour of his Death approached, and aſked him to whoſe Charge he left me? He replied, "Apply to Mr. Haſtings whenever you have Occaſion for Aſſiſt-"ance; he will befriend you when I am no more, and will comply with whatever you may deſire "of him."] The Recollection of the long Friendſhip which ſubſiſted between you has induced me ☜ to write you ſo particularly.

In the Coulnama given by Mr. Briſtow and the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah, it is written, that it is agreed 19 Lacks of Rupees out of the 30 ſhall be in Specie, and 11 Lacks in Goods, Elephants, and Camels. I accordingly paid the 19 Lacks in Specie and Jewels; and, with reſpect to the Goods, Elephants, and Camels, which I delivered on Account of the 11 Lacks of Rupees, the Nabob Aſoph ul Dowlah and Murtezzah Cawn have ſent Word that they are the Property of the Sirkar, and will not be allowed a Part of the 11 Lacks of Rupees. I wrote a full Account of theſe Circumſtances to Mr. Briſtow; who returned me for Anſwer, at the Deſire of Murtezza Cawn, that thoſe Goods, Elephants, and Camels, are the Property of the Sirkar. I returned an Anſwer to Mr. Briſtow, in which I ſaid, "From whence ſhould I procure them? all that I poſſeſs is by the Bounty of the late bleſſed Nabob:" Nobody will pay Attention to this, but they are bent at all Events to diſhonour me; they have again ſent People to diſgrace and force Money from me. I have all along placed my Reliance on you. Should the Anſwer to this Letter be delayed, my Affairs will be ruined, and I ſhall ſuffer the greateſt Diſgrace: Let me be ſpeedily favoured with a ſatisfactory Anſwer, for which I am very anxious. The Affair before mentioned was ſettled on Condition of my paying 30 Lacks of Rupees: I accordingly paid 19 Lacks in Specie and Jewels, and gave Goods, Elephants, and Camels, to the Value of 11 Lacks. When an Account of the Price of the ſeveral Goods was making, Murtezza Cawn ſent Word to have them brought without Valuation, which was accordingly done: I ſent Word of this to Mr. Briſtow, ſaying, "Is this the "Method of obſerving Engagements?" He replied, "I am told by the Nabob and others, that "the Goods you have delivered are the Property of the Sirkar." No one will pay Attention to what I ſay. Aſoph ul Dowlah and Murtezza Cawn have again ſent People to me to demand 11

Lacks

Lacks of Rupees—where ſhall I procure this Money? I am oppreſſed beyond Meaſure. Favour me with a Letter to Mr. Briſtow to the following Purport, that One Company may be ſtationed as a Guard at my Houſe to prevent my being oppreſſed; write alſo to the Engliſh Chiefs here, that whenever I have a Mind I may begin my Journey to Kerbelah, and that no One is to obſtruct or hinder me. When I am delivered from the Burthen of theſe Misfortunes, I will proceed to you. Should I be tired with remaining here, I will go to Benares or Azimabad, and ſtay there for ſome Time, or will proceed to you: Be ſo kind as to write on this Subject to the Engliſh Chiefs here, and direct, that whenever I chuſe to ſet off for Benares or Azimabad, they are to ſupply me with an Eſcort to conduct me thither in Safety. The late bleſſed Nabob called you his Brother and mine too. Exert yourſelf ſo effectually in Favour of us helpleſs Women, that Murtezza Cawn may be diſplaced, and Mahomed Elich Cawn and Mahomed Buſheer Cawn be reſtored to the Offices they held in this Soubah in the Life-time of the late bleſſed Nabob, by them the Revenues will be collected; and whatever Sums are due to the Engliſh Chiefs, I will cauſe to be paid out of the Revenues: This I will ſtrictly perform. I am induced to repreſent all theſe Matters to you, ☞ ſolely from my Regard to the Proſperity of this Family. [(a) Do you act in ſuch a Manner as to ſecure the Proſperity of this Family, by which your Name will be tranſmitted with Honour to the lateſt Poſterity, for having preſerved your Friendſhip to the late Nabob beyond the Grave.] Murtezza ☞ Cawn is ſo far from wiſhing well to this Family, that he is deſirous of its Deſtruction, that he may raiſe himſelf on its Ruin: He is in Fact at preſent poſſeſſed of abſolute Dominion.

You have doubtleſs learnt the Tranſactions of this Part from the Newſpapers. I have written nothing but the Truth: For the Reſt, you are the Maſter, to act as you think moſt proper. Favour me with an immediate Anſwer to this Letter.

The Encloſures mentioned above are the ſame as thoſe tranſmitted by Mr. Briſtow, and have been already tranſlated, and ſent in to the Council.

Agreed, that it lie for Conſideration.

APPENDIX, N° V.

Book 90.

Letter from the Governor General to the Nabob Vizier. Written 3d April 1778.

I Have received Information through a Variety of Channels of ſeveral Meaſures adopted by your Excellency reſpecting the Two Bhegums, and others of a Nature which have a Tendency to draw Reproach on your Government, and to leſſen your Credit in the Eyes of the World: Theſe have likewiſe been confirmed by Letters from Mr. Middleton, and by the general Voice of thoſe who have been in your Excellency's Dominions, who concur in reporting that the Family of the late Nabob are reduced to ſo great Diſtreſs, as to be even in Want of the common Neceſſaries of Life.

It is not without the deepeſt Regret that I find myſelf under the Neceſſity of interfering in Matters of ſo delicate a Nature; yet the Friendſhip I bear to your Excellency, and the Honour of my Employers, whoſe Connection with you is ſuch, that every Act of your Government, which either encreaſes or diminiſhes your Reputation, affects theirs in the ſame Manner, obliges me to point them out to you, and to give you my Sentiments thereon, without the leaſt Reſerve.

In the firſt Place, the Bhegum your Grandmother complains, that your Excellency has deprived her of the Allowance eſtabliſhed by the late Nabob for the Maintenance of the Family he left behind him, and have reſumed the Jaghiers and Emoluments of all her Servants and immediate Dependents: That you have made no ſuitable Proviſion for the late Nabob's Women and Children, and entirly neglected their Education: That you ſuffer your Favourites to infringe her Rights, and to inſult your Relations; and, inſtead of giving her and them Redreſs, that you appear to connive at and ſecretly encourage them in ſuch Conduct, by which Means ſhe is ſubjected to the greateſt Mortifications and Indignities.—Theſe are the Grievances complained of by the Alleah Bhegum, your Grandmother—thoſe alledged by Bow Bhegum, your Mother, are of a ſimilar Nature; of unkind Treatment from you, and of your withholding from her certain Jaghiers and Rights which ſhe is entitled to by the Gift of the late Nabob.—Another Inſtance, which I cannot omit, is what is alledged of your Conduct relative to the late Nabob Sheer Jung, who being related to your Family, and having, from his Attachment to the late Nabob Sujah ul Dowlah, been liberally ſupported by him, ſeems to have deſerved better Treatment at your Hands; yet I am informed, that, not contented with reſuming, in his Life-time, the Grants made to him by your late Father, you, on his Deceaſe, ordered his Property and private Eſtate to be ſeized, and appropriating it to your own Uſe, deprived his Family of Support; and did not even leave to his Friends the Means of conveying the Corpſe of the Deceaſed to Lucknow.

on

Although, from the Knowledge I have of the Humanity of your Excellency's Diſpoſition, I am convinced that theſe Reports have been exaggerated, yet they are of ſuch a Nature as to affect your
* Sic in Orig. Highneſs too tenderly to be ſuffered * exiſt. While Appearances remain, the World, who are guided by them, will exclaim againſt theſe as real Facts, and cenſure your Conduct.—As the Dictates of Nature are ſuppoſed to influence Relations to ſeek Support from each other in preference to Strangers, and as Women particularly look for Protection from their Relations of the other Sex, who poſſeſs the Power, it will be conceived, that no Conſideration but the Experience of the moſt unkind and mortifying Treatment could induce them to form the Reſolution of withdrawing themſelves from your Excellency's Dominions.

☞ [(a) The Duty of Children towards Parents is enjoined by all Laws, and the Breach of it condemned by all Nations; this is a general Obligation, which is binding on all Mankind; but the Bhow Bhegum, excluſive of her maternal Right, has a particular Claim to your Excellency's Affection and Kindneſs, as you owe to her Interceſſions with the late Nabob, not only your Elevation to your preſent Greatneſs, but a ſtill more valuable Bleſſing.

I need not point out to your Excellency the Example of your Father, whoſe whole Conduct to the Bhegums was not only marked with Kindneſs and Reſpect, but with Bounty, in the Eſtabliſhment of a handſome Proviſion for them. It is incumbent on your Excellency to imitate him; and by the Obſervation of ſuch a Conduct, as your Duty requires, to remove every unfavourable Imputation; to conciliate the good Opinion of the World; and, in ſhort, to conſtitute yourſelf a Pattern to others.

The Bow Bhegum has a publick Title to my Interpoſition, for the due Maintenance of all the Rights which ſhe poſſeſſes, in virtue of the Treaty executed between your Excellency and her; as Mr. Briſtow, at your Requeſt, pledged the Honour of the Company for the Performance of it. I am compelled not only to ſolicit, but to require, by Right of the Guaranty, that you do not, either directly or indirectly, deviate from the Treaty, but fulfil it in every Inſtance.] ☜

Before I conclude this Subject, permit me to ſuggeſt ſome Obſervations on the Affairs of the late Nabob Sheer Jung, which, although of a more private Nature than the preceding, yet, as the Stability of every Government depends greatly on the Attachment and Confidence impreſſed on the Subjects by the Equity and Moderation of the Ruler, I muſt recommend to your Excellency, in the ſtrongeſt Terms, to reverſe the Reſolution you have taken to the Prejudice of this Family; and to abſtain from every Act in future by which Individuals may be aggrieved, and the Affections of your Subjects alienated. I have explained myſelf more fully on theſe ſeveral Subjects to Mr. Middleton, to whom I beg Leave to refer you.

I muſt add, on my own Part, that I do expect your Compliance on all theſe Points. When I addreſs you in my own Character, I know that, conſidering me as the Friend of your Confidence, you will reply with the Frankneſs and Unreſerve of a Friend; nor ought I to be offended, if my Advice ſhall fail of its entire Effect. But the Sentiments which I now offer are not only my own; it is the collective Body of this Government which ſpeaks you through me; and your own Prudence will ſuggeſt to you, that ſuch a Voice ought not to be heard in vain.

READ, and approved, the Proceedings of the 22d inſtant.

Read, the following Letters from Mr. Briſtow.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

Encloſed, I have the Honour to tranſmit you a Copy of my Correſpondence with Major Brown, and hope the Anſwer I returned at the Requiſition of the Miniſter, in his Highneſs' Behalf, will meet with your Approbation.

(a) Vide ſupra, P. 422.

(b) The Reference to this Appendix is omitted in the Text by Miſtake: It ought to have been affixed to Major Brown's Letter of the 9th Aug. 1783, beginning in Page 422.

His Highneſs, previous to his Departure for Fyzabad, having told me that his Journey had no other Object than merely a Viſit of Ceremony, upon receiving Major Brown's Letter, I applied to the acting Miniſter to furniſh me with Copies of his Correſpondence, and ſuch Information of his Highneſs's Tranſactions as had come to his Knowledge. He aſſured me that the Reports of his Highneſs's having the leaſt Idea of ill treating the Begums were falſe and ſcandalous, and that the moſt perfect Reconciliation had taken place between them.

The Miniſter has informed me, that the Vizier was importuned to reſtore their Jagheers; but that he has no Intention of complying with ſuch Solicitations, purpoſing to grant them ſuch Allowances in Money as the State of his Finances may admit of.

I have the Honour, &c.

☞ * [Sir,

I have juſt received your Letter of the 5th Inſtant with its Incloſures.

The Evening of the 7th, at a Conference I had with Mirza Shuffee Cawn, he introduced a Subject reſpecting the Nabob Vizier, which, however diſagreeable it may be to you to know, and conſequently to me to communicate, I am under the Neceſſity of laying before you.

He told me that he had received Information from Lucknow, that, by the Advice of Hyder Beg Cawn, the Vizier had determined to bring his Grandmother, the Widow of Sufdar Jung, from Fyzabad to Lucknow, with a View of getting a further Sum of Money from her, by ſeizing on her Eunuchs, digging up the Apartments of her Houſe at Fyzabad, and putting her own Perſon under Reſtraint. This he ſaid he knew was not an Act of our Government, but the mere Advice of Hyder Beg Cawn, to which the Vizier has been induced to attend. He added, that the old Begum had reſolved rather to put herſelf to Death than ſubmit to the Diſgrace intended to be inflicted on her; that if ſuch a Circumſtance ſhould happen, there is not a Man in Hindoſtan who will attribute the Act to the Vizier, but every one will fix the Odium on the Engliſh, who might eaſily, by the Influence they ſo largely exerciſe in their own Concerns there, have prevented ſuch unnatural Conduct in the Vizier.—He therefore called on me, as the Engliſh Repreſentative in this Quarter, to inform you of this, that you may prevent a Step which will deſtroy all Confidence in the Engliſh Nation throughout Hindoſtan, and excite the bittereſt Reſentment in all thoſe who by Blood are connected with the Houſe of Sufdar Jung. He concluded by ſaying, that "if the Vizier ſo little regarded his Family and perſonal Honour, or his natural "Duty, as to wiſh to diſgrace his Father's Mother for a Sum of Money, let him plunder her of "all ſhe has, but let him ſend her ſafe up to Delhi or Agra, and, poor as I am, I will furniſh a "Subſiſtence for her, which ſhe ſhall poſſeſs with Safety and Honour, though it cannot be ade-"quate to her Rank."

This, Sir, is a moſt exact Detail of the Converſation, as far as related to that Affair, on the Part of Mirza Shuffee Cawn; on my Part I could only ſay, that I imagined the Affair was miſrepreſented, and that I ſhould write as he requeſted. Let me therefore requeſt that you will enable me to anſwer in a more effectual Manner any further Queſtions on this Subject.
